Happy With His Gift

The Rev. Robert W. Eldridge Jr., associate pastor of South United Methodist Church, has just received a gift of a lection scarf from Martin Keiderling, chairman of the pastoral relations committee of South Church, while Mrs. Eldridge looks on. Other gifts included a horn of plenty which contained money. The occasion was a reception Sunday at the church for Pastor Eldridge who was recently ordained an elder. (Herald photo by Pinto)

Camp Opens for 11th Year

By SOL R. COHEN
It was exactly 10 years ago this week when Manchester's Camp Kennedy opened on a hopeful note, with nobody sure it would last out the season — let alone open again the following year.

Today, about 600 campers and 300 volunteer counselors later, it opened for its 11th consecutive year. Town officials are confident it will open again next year, and the year after, and the year after that, for as long as there are dedicated teenage volunteers and as long as there are mentally retarded youngsters who need a summer in the outdoors.

The camp's motto 10 years ago was, "Service is the Price You Pay for Space Upon This Earth." It's still its motto.

The camp opened today with about 30 campers and 40 volunteers in attendance. It will operate for three sessions of two weeks each — closing Aug.

About Town

Roger Ouellette of 25 Willard Rd. recently was re-elected for his second term as president of the Catholic Graduate Club of the Greater Hartford and was honored at a formal reception at the Carleton Room of Hotel Seneca, Hartford. He is a special education teacher in the Vernon school system.

The council on ministries of South United Methodist Church will meet tonight at 7:30 at Susannah Wesley House of the church.

NO OTHER WAGON HAS ALL THIS, OR IS LIKELY TO. NOT FOR YEARS.

Volkswagen calls it the perfect station wagon for its time. Dasher is powerful and gets about 25 miles to the gallon. It's small enough to be a cinch to park, but big enough to come with 5 doors and a special rear suspension for taking heavy loads. Along with a low loading platform so no muscle is required for loading groceries, bicycles, etc. Dasher has front-wheel drive that does some nifty road-holding, wet roads and dry. And it needs maintenance only once in 10,000 miles. If the Dasher wagon sounds ahead of its time, you're right. It is. But it's at your nearest Volkswagen dealer now.

Rham High School Bomb Damage

Troopers of the Colchester Barracks of the State Police Emergency Service Division (Bomb Squad) search for clues in hallway of Rham High School where an explosive device went off in the ceiling early today. The device was timed and another device was found and disarmed. One student, Kevin Dunn, 17, of Hebron, was injured but was released after treatment at a hospital. (Herald photo by Pinto)

Explosive Device Bursts At Rham High School

Without warning of any kind, an explosive device went off in the corridor of Rham High School in Hebron at about 9:45 a.m. injuring one student.

Kevin Dunn, 17, of Hebron was taken to Windham Memorial Hospital in Williamstown where he was treated and released. There were about 300 students in the building at the time and all were evacuated and sent home. Hebron volunteer firemen were called to assist State Police and school officials this morning in searching the large building which is off Rt. 85 near Rt. 66 in the center of Hebron.

A second "dangerous device" was found and rendered harmless by the State Police special bomb squad with their special equipment called to the scene.

Nixon Seeks End To War Danger

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Nixon headed today for his third Summit meeting in a little over two years with Soviet leaders, expressing hope his new "journey for peace" would help avoid a runaway arms race and a danger of world war.

Nixon flew first to Brussels for meetings with some of the top leaders of NATO countries — with the aim of giving "new purpose and direction" to the alliance — before going to Moscow Thursday.

In a brief departure ceremony at Andrews Air Force Base, just outside Washington, Nixon said that "as we take off on another journey for peace," his aim at the Moscow Summit was threefold:

Three Aims

— "First, we expect to strengthen the relations between the two of the strongest nations in the world.

— "Second, we hope to develop areas of cooperation to displace confrontation in other critical areas of the world that might be those places where conflict could develop between the two great powers.

— "And third, we hope to make more progress on a goal that we began to achieve and move forward toward in 1972 of limiting both the burden and also the threat of nuclear arms over our two nations and over the world generally."

The President seemed in good spirits, having apparently recovered strength from the fatiguing Mideast trip. He also showed no sign, in his public appearances on leaving the White House and at the airbase, of the limp resulting from an attack of phlebitis in the leg that occurred while he was on his way to the Mideast.

New Debate Erupts On Nuclear Pact

WASHINGTON (UPI) — As President Nixon headed for Moscow summit talks to seek more progress on nuclear arms control, a sudden debate flared at home concerning "rather startling" information that the May 28, 1972, U.S.-Soviet agreement limiting offensive missiles had been secretly reinterpreted to give the Russians more missiles and the United States less — without telling Congress.

On Monday, Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger held a 70-minute news conference mostly devoted to Jackson's charges, which Kissinger called "false in every detail."

He said he said that a secret agreement allowed the Russians to replace 70 missiles above his elderly, diesel-powered G-class submarines, which he said would allow them a total of 1,020 submarine-launched missiles instead of the 550 publicly announced on President Nixon's last visit to Moscow in 1972.

Jackson at one point declared he would publicly release classified information today to prove his allegations. But later he said he would not release any information until he had more hearings on the subject until Nixon and Kissinger, who is accompanying him on the trip, get back to town, in order not to disrupt the new Moscow summit.

Representatives of the Soviet and Belgian embassies saw Nixon off at Andrews Air Force Base, Md., just outside Washington, as he, his wife and a high-level delegation led by Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger left for Brussels. He goes on to Moscow Thursday.

Sea Law Action Hinges On Procedural Decision

CARACAS (UPI) — Delegates to an international conference on maritime law are on the verge of settling the procedural dispute that has so far blocked significant action, the head of the Australian delegation said today.

"We're getting quite close to a solution on the voting issue," Australian delegation leader R.L. Harry said. "We could arrive at a solution by noon time."

The 16-week session of the third United Nations law of the sea conference, which opened last Thursday, has been unable to start drafting the new international code for the oceans because of a dispute about how voting should be carried out.

Adler Awarded Illing, Bennet School Projects

Manchester contracts will be awarded Ray Adler Inc. of Ridgefield for renovations and additions to Bennet and Illing Junior High Schools.

Town Manager Robert Weiss said today he is accepting the recommendations of the Town Building Committee (TBC) and will set a time and place for signing the contracts.

The Ridgefield company was low bidder June 10 for the Bennet work and low bidder June 18 for the Illing work. Its base price is $2,215,310 for Bennet and $2,465,000 for Illing. Three contractors submitted bids for Bennet and nine for Illing.

TBC chairman Paul Phillips said his agency is reviewing the several alternate bids accompanying the base bids and will have recommendations in about 45 days.

In a townwide referendum last November, Manchester voters approved a $5.8 million bond issue for the renovations and additions — $2,719,000 for Bennet and $2,881,000 for Illing.

Phillips said the Adler bids are favorable and leave room for architects' fees and contingencies.

Florida Law Affecting Press Ruled Invalid

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Supreme Court today unanimously struck down a Florida law granting political candidates the right to free reply space in newspapers in which they are criticized.

Mississippi is the only other state with such a law but it was believed other states might enact one if Florida's had been found valid. Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., has suggested Congress consider a federal right-to-reply law. Chief Justice Warren E. Burger, writing for the Court, said "Compelling editors or publishers to publish that which 'reason tells them should not be published' is what is at issue in this case."

Killers of U.S. Diplomats Given Virtual Freedom

CAIRO (UPI) — Eight Palestinian guerrillas whose life sentences for murdering two American diplomats and a Belgian envoy were commuted to virtual freedom arrived in Cairo early today, the semiofficial Middle East News Agency said.

Sudanese President Jaafar Numeiry commuted a court decision Monday and ordered the eight Black September September guerrillas from the Sudan to the custody of the Palestine Liberation Organization.

Virtually freed

The Middle East News Agency said the terrorists arrived "at an early hour" aboard a special plane. Arab diplomatic sources said the commandos were in effect given freedom by Numeiry's decision and were probably handed over to PLO officials in Cairo.

The guerrillas were tried for killing the three diplomats during a siege at the Saudi Arabian embassy in March, 1973. The attack and trial caused a major controversy in the Arab world.

Police, Soldiers Nab IRA Suspects

BELFAST (UPI) — Police and soldiers raided dozens of homes in West Belfast early today and arrested about 50 Irish Republican Army suspects, security sources said.

Some of those picked up in the sweeps in Andersonstown, Falls Road and the Turf Lodge districts were women, they said.

The senior class graduation ceremonies were launched in response to an accumulation of intelligence reports.

An IRA Provisional spokesman warned of new bombing attacks and a previously unknown extremist Protestant group threatened bomb-for-bomb retaliation in the Irish Republic.

MHA to Inspect Sites For Housing Project

The Manchester Housing Authority, the Board of Directors and all other agencies interested in finding a site for 40 units of housing for the elderly will assemble at 7 tonight on Brainard Rd.

They will view a 0.75 acre parcel owned by Alexander Jarvis and then will move on to Center Springs Park, to view a town-owned parcel near Lodge Dr., where an old parking lot stood.

Top Choices

The two parcels are the top choices for the 40 units.

Following the inspections, the directors will conduct a meeting with the Planning and Zoning Commission — in the Municipal Building Hearing Room. The session is for reviewing the problems of the Sewage Treatment Plant and the solutions being advanced.

Squire Village Request

A third item to be discussed tonight concerns a request Town Manager Robert Weiss has received from the residents of the Squire Village complex on Spencer St.

The request is for a summer recreation program for the estimated 400 children of the Squire Village — to be similar to town programs in the playgrounds. The complex has its own facilities for whatever program is provided.

Walk-A-Thon Prize Winners

Winners in the United Cerebral Palsy Walk-A-Thon held June 5 receive their prizes from Edward Preneta, program director of the walk, as he hands a stereo component set to Terri Johnston, the participant who brought in the most money. Miss Johnston, a student at Manchester High School, raised $568 of the total $28,000 pledged. Warren Zaccaro of East Catholic High School and Cheryl Wilhelm of Illing Junior High School, each won a ten-speed bicycle. The bike winners were selected in a drawing in which all Walk-A-Thon participants were eligible.

District Has Many Candidates

The Fourth Senatorial District has eight towns — and five of them have a candidate for the Democratic State Central Committee.

Manchester delegates to the July 19-20 Democratic State Convention are from Windsor, hometown John Sullivan, a Hartford County deputy sheriff, for state central committee.

Other candidates for that post are James Testa of East Windsor, the incumbent, and Alvah Phillips, chairman of the Coventry town committee.

Testa was state central committee member from the Third Senatorial District before redistricting. He automatically became Fourth District committee member when East Windsor was placed in that district.

The candidates for state central committee are Myrtle Odum of South Windsor, the incumbent, and Estelle Flanagan of Glastonbury, who was defeated in 1972 in a try for state senator. Mrs. Odum represented the Third District before redistricting placed her town in the Fourth District.

The other three towns of the eight-town Fourth District are Bolton, Andover and Hebron.

Party Was Sad and Glad
By SOL R. COHEN
Retirement parties can be sad or glad. The one Thursday night for Miss Gertrude DeLeo was both — sad because she is retiring after 23 years as music teacher at Mansfield State Training School, glad because she made it that way with her bubbling personality.
Miss DeLeo, who lives in Manchester, has been blind since she was one year old — the result of an illness. At Mansfield, she formed the Blind Choir and coached it along to its present high standing.
Through her motivation, the Lions Clubs of Connecticut, including Manchester's, formed two units at Mansfield and, in four years, contributed over $45,000 to them.
Thursday night's retirement party was attended by about 110 persons — teachers, former associates, neighbors and friends. The master of ceremonies was Bill Nemeroff, also of Manchester and also a music instructor at Mansfield.
Gifts included a cake, shaped like a piano and with the inscription, "Good Luck Gertrude," a purse of money, and a bookcase made by Earl Robinson, director of Mansfield's Sheltered Workshop.
The bookcase is specially made to hold books in Braille and Miss DeLeo remarked, "I'm delighted. Now I can continue to be academic."
Francis Kelley, Mansfield superintendent, called Miss DeLeo's retirement, an end to an era. He said, "In my 25 years at Mansfield, I've never met a more lovable or more competent person. She'll be impossible to replace and we won't even attempt it. With her retirement, we'll have to review our program. Without her, our school will not be the same."

Miss Gertrude DeLeo receives the best wishes of Joseph Romeo, left, musical director at Mansfield State Training School, and Francis P. Kelley, superintendent of the school. The occasion was a retirement party at the Marco Polo Restaurant in East Hartford. A Manchester resident and blind since the age of one, Miss DeLeo recalled 29 years as a music teacher at Mansfield. ## It Is Your Main Street

The whole is equal to the sum of its parts.

This is one of the few things we remember from our high school math which can be readily applied to society and society's communities.

Thus the current dispute between the downtown business community and the State of Connecticut over control of Main Street has community-wide implications.

The State Department of Transportation is quite naturally and legally charged with the job of providing a smooth and safe flow of traffic through communities. We do not quarrel with this objective. However, we would like to point out that such efforts must be carried out in the context of overall impact on the community and parts of it.

Much emphasis has been stressed on the loss of parking spaces due to changing from angle to parallel parking. It isn't only the loss of parking stalls. The present parallel system is a great inconvenience to shoppers. Just ask any woman, or even a man, for that matter.

However, the real impact is long range on Main Street.

The state, in going ahead with parallel parking after several delays, acted we think, a bit hastily. After all, it took several years to get around to installing the new lights and stripe work was delayed several months so it is difficult to understand the sudden urgency now. At least the state could have waited until the St. James parking lot was available.

But whatever the outcome of the court case to be heard Thursday, now is the time for the community as a whole to make its wishes known on the issue.

The ultimate outcome of Manchester's right to have control, or at least some control over the management of Main Street, could be a precedent affecting other areas of the community in the future.

We believe there must be consideration given to the economic and social affects of DOT traffic planning just as we now demand environmental impact studies of new high highways in our state.

This is the crux of the issue. Main Street of Manchester belongs to all of us and what is done to it affects all of us. We in Manchester, off and on Main Street, should have a voice in the decisions which could change its physical, economic and social character.

We hope before the hearing Thursday the good people of Manchester will contact members of the Board of Directors, members of the State Assembly, and other town and state officials to let them know their views on management of Main Street.

We hope it will be in favor of restoring the street to town control. While today it is a Main Street issue, traffic studies tomorrow may cause the state to take over your street.

Next Stop Moscow

President Nixon's five-day tour of the Middle East was a preliminary to the summit talks which he and Soviet leader Leonid I. Brezhnev will hold in Moscow, starting Thursday.

Brezhnev, at least, is very optimistic about the new summit. He predicts that he and the President will reach "good new agreements. They will make people happy in Moscow and in the United States," Brezhnev said.

Either Brezhnev was putting the best face on Mr. Nixon's success in the Middle East or he felt that it was secondary to the talks to be held in Moscow, where he seems to expect great things. Only when he said that they might visit Yalta, did American correspondents raise their eyebrows. Yalta signalled Stalin's triumph in dealing with Roosevelt and Churchill, his English-speaking allies, who permitted the partition of Germany and the isolation of Berlin which led to so much grief following the military triumphs of the Second World War.

Brezhnev seemed to realize Yalta's effect on the United States. He went on to suggest other spots in the Crimea, which might afford more to Nixon: Minsk or Volgograd. He even held out Siberia as a place the United States President might want to visit. "What he wants to see, we will show him," Brezhnev said. He didn't say so, but Mr. Nixon might want to see some of the places forbidden to western visitors for many years.

With all his Middle East triumphs, Nixon will have the confidence to deal with Brezhnev, no matter what advance he tries to take of us.

Inflation

There may not be much solace in these figures but when each of us wrestles with the monthly bills and comes to face the impact of inflation we should know things could be worse.

In Europe, according to a recent issue of U.S. News & World Report, the inflation parade of the past five years has been frightening to say the least.

The United Kingdom has had a five-year rise in consumer prices of 51 per cent; Italy 45 per cent, Sweden 43 per cent; France 40 per cent and West Germany 31 per cent, to mention a few.

And economists are predicting an annual 20 per cent increase for the next two years.

The point of the article is two-fold. We in the United States have become acutely aware of sharp increases in inflation in the past two years whereas Europeans have been struggling with it for several years. Second, inflation is world wide, and it is going to take strong measures at home and abroad if it is to be curbed.

Capital Fare

Washington — Over a cup of coffee the other day, an expert Supreme Court watcher of 20 years experience put it flatly: "I don't think you can find three members of the Court who believe they have jurisdiction in the Nixon-Jaworski squabbles."

He was addressing himself to the Court's order agreeing to consider President Nixon's plea that the Watergate grand jury had no authority to name him as an undetected conspirator in the Watergate cover-up. "Look at the language of that order," said his lawyer friend. "It strongly suggests that the Court would like to let this cup pass its lips."

Could be. One section of the order instructed opposing lawyers to discuss in their written briefs and oral arguments the question of whether U.S. District Judge

John Sirica's order compelling the President to yield more tape recordings to Prosecutor Leon Jaworski is "an appealable order." A second section told the attorneys to discuss whether the Supreme Court has the authority "to entertain and decide" Nixon's appeal of the Sirica ruling and the grand jury's action.

What the Court order was saying, of course, was that someone would have to convince its members that a judge had a legal right to get mixed up in the squabbles. And traditionally the highest bench has been loath to intervene in cases involving other branches of the government.

It's a fascinating situation. Nixon's lawyers would seem to have an arguable point in declaring that the grand jury was powerless to act against Sirica. Such action by a grand jury, they argued, exceeded its authority because only the House of Representatives, with its impeachment power, has the right to deal with criminal conduct by a President. Besides, the lawyers argued, such a decision to approve the grand jury's naming of Nixon could be interpreted to mean that a President would be subject to similar action by any grand jury throughout the United States.

Jaworski noted a number of Supreme Court rulings that a vote of a "properly constituted grand jury conclusively determines the existence of probable cause" to name any individual as a co-conspirator in a given case. The unanimous 10 to 0 grand jury vote to name Nixon was based on evidence available at the time only to the grand jury, said Jaworski, and this evidence is "indirectly relevant to the grand jury's decision to name Richard Nixon as an undetected conspirator."

On the tapes issue, Nixon's lawyers are still arguing that forcing the President to turn over the tapes would be an infringement of Executive privilege, an argument the Supreme Court usually views with favor.

In any case, if the Court ducks both issues by pleading lack of jurisdiction Nixon would have an out. He has said he would obey a "definitive" ruling by the Court. A refusal to rule might well be construed by Nixon as a less than "definitive" and cause him to defy Sirica's order for release of the tapes. Presumably, Sirica then could hold the President in contempt, but where THAT would lead my expert Supreme Court watcher refuses to venture a guess.

My inexact guess is that the squabble would wind up as a partial victory for Nixon if the Court pleads no jurisdiction. That could be a good thing for the country, not because Nixon is necessarily innocent, but because the matter then would be decided in the House through impeachment proceedings, and that's the constitutionally intended way to handle the mess. The Nixon victory would be only partial because you can be sure many members of the House would be influenced by the grand jury's naming of Nixon as a co-conspirator — and probably by his refusal to turn over the tapes. Fascinating is the word. A writer of fiction would never get away with it.

Private Property Misconception

To the editor:

The following is in rebuttal to the Open Forum letter of June 18 which was captioned "Private Property Concept." Where have you been Robert Bynes? Is it possible that your life has been so unfulfilling until now? Has man ever been capable of owning himself or the fruits of his labor? Man, being the ever changing being that he is, has never been truly able to be in such a position. Love of self, disregard and greed has existed since the beginning of man. Thus, man himself created the need for laws.

In early times, the Bible came to light and in it certain "laws" and procedures were disclosed to aid man in structuring his life. In past times, this may have sufficed. But now, man has developed far beyond this way of life.

Because we find ourselves monitored with laws involving our many needs we must not become embittered. Laws are created for the good of all people. In having such, we are assured of a good life. We must all abide by laws — laws for which we all should be grateful for the protection they bring. In reality, our laws are filled with an abundance of rewards.

In Coventry and in most towns in the United States of America, local laws exist in order to protect its people. There are only a few towns left without zoning laws. If any man wants the right to do with his land as he wishes, he should seek out a zoning town to abide in. Then, when a pig sty suddenly appears beside his castle, he will respect and value the need of local laws.

To feel it is "fascism" we have grossly mislabeled and a most improper coloring of our laws. I thank God for the intelligence of man to create laws for the good of all men.

And, whether the land owner by John Doe or DevCo, the laws cannot and should not be changed to meet each man's needs.

Investment Property

To the editor: I would like to take issue with you on your editorial, "Beef Prices Backfire," in the June 17 Herald.

First, the 53 cents per pound of choice beef, I believe was more than satisfactory for the majority of beef producers. What caused them to withhold cattle from the market was the threat of a consumer boycott and of government controlled prices. Anything that threatens to disrupt an already fluctuating market sends chills up and down the spines of producers. They did not turn out a shortage but rather to protect their investment.

Second, the reason for the present low prices is (a.) Because the livestock producers have held true to Secretary Butz's promise of a larger supply of meat, and (b.) The import policy of this country which allows meat imports to soften the impact of high food prices on the American consumer.

Today's livestock producers hate to pay anywhere from 25 per cent to 300 per cent more for the input cost of raw materials to produce food, thereby supplying these consumers with income, since about one-third of the working population is employed in agricultural related industries and then having them turn around and buy food from foreign countries with the federal government's blessings.

Area Profile

Council Decision Due Soon On Road Reconstruction

SOUTH WINDSOR
Judy Kuehnel
Correspondent
Tel. 644-1364

A decision on proposed reconstruction of Pierce Rd. faces the Town Council in light of large opposition expressed by townspeople at a public hearing last week. The project, which would cost an estimated $325,000, would include the widening of Pierce Rd. to a paved surface of 30 feet as opposed to the present width of 18 to 22 feet. The project also calls for installation of a new base and reconstruction of an existing bridge near Strong Rd. The council is reportedly in favor of the construction of a bicycle and pedestrian path adjoining the road. The bicycle path would wind around trees, rather than travel a straight route.

Residents opposing the project last week felt widening of the road would result in excessive speeding along an area already the scene of speeding violations and accidents. Some opposed the bicycle path on the basis that under the town's sidewalk ordinance, abutting residents are responsible of possible extension and students of Ellington Rd. from Clark St. to Wapping Center.

New business will include acceptance of the incinerator at the treatment plant and release of retainage to Dorro-Oliver. Also to be considered will be a petition for sewer service to Palmer Dr., Scott Dr. and other streets.

The South Windsor Senior Citizens will meet Wednesday at 7:30 a.m. in the parking lot of St. Peter's Episcopal Church, Sand Hill Rd.

The group will then proceed to Gillette Castle by bus for the trip and wishes to do so may contact Mr. Snow at the Town Hall.

Veterans Memorial Park was scheduled to open for the summer season today, the South Windsor recreation department reported.

Public swimming hours at the park are noon to 7 p.m. every day until Labor Day.

Season passes for families can be purchased at the reception desk of the Town Hall.

The committee, composed of high school students, divided into subcommittees and each subcommittee included its findings and recommendations in the total report.

In a report from the school nurses it was noted that dismissals from the nurses' office had decreased in direct proportion to the increased student population.

They attributed this, in part, to a concerted effort to make student and parent more aware of the responsibility they have concerning school attendance.

Public swimming hours at the park are noon to 7 p.m. every day until Labor Day.

Season passes for families can be purchased at the reception desk of the Town Hall.

Citizenship Awards Given To Four Hebron Students

At a recent assembly program at Hebron's Gleed Hill School, Geraldine Grant, president of the Jones-Keefer Legion Auxiliary, presented citizenship awards to four students.

Post Commander, Malcolm Parker, had been scheduled to make the presentation but was unable to attend.

First prize winners were Chris Akerrind and Lisa Nigro. Second prize winners were Lane Branner and Emily Sklodowsky.

The awards, limited to sixth graders, were based on overall accomplishments in the area of academic achievement, citizenship, service, Americanism and leadership qualities.

Second Grade News
The top salesman in the recent geranium sale Chris Mand, Jill Gardner, Michael McGee and Laura Desruisseaux, presented a check for $100 to Margaret Gilman, librarian on behalf of their teacher and classmates. The money is for the purchase of library books for the school.

The donation was part of the money realized from the sale of some 600 plants. The remaining money will be used to purchase materials for their classroom.

Ladies Day
The following women were winners at last week's "Nine Hole Ladies Day" at Tallwood Country Club; criers: Louisa McCarthy $2-30-22, A. Thornton $3-20; low gross—K. Johnson $3.

Board Approves List of Faculty

COLUMBIA
Virginia Carlson
Correspondent
Tel. 228-9224

The Columbia Board of Education has approved the faculty list as presented by the superintendent, with the exception of the Spanish-French position.

The issue of whether foreign language should be full-time or half-time is still under consideration by the board.

Elizabeth McLaughlin, Spanish-French teacher, is aware of the issue and spoke before the board recently concerning the program.

Kindergarten teachers remain the same with Cheryl Gouin and Elizabeth Horberg teaching again next year. There is no change in grade 1 with Victoria Wallace, Janice Wilcox and Eileen Williams continuing.

Prescilla Blake moves from grade 3 to grade 2 and continuing in grade 2 are Suzanne Kaczynski and Margaret Russell. Continuing in grade 3 are Deborah Campbell, Gail Gagnon and Alice Levesque.

Alan Habernern moves from grade 3 to grade 4. Continuing in grade 4 will be Deborah Elmhorn and Barbara Hein. A vacancy also exists on this level.

Alan Howland moves from grade 7 to grade 5. Sandra Streeter moves from grade 8 to grade 5. Dorothy Taggart and Anita Ramo continue in this grade.

SWHS Graduation

South Windsor High School graduation ceremonies will be held Wednesday at 8 p.m. in the Wapping Bowl behind the Wapping School.

In case of rain, the ceremonies will be conducted Thursday at the same time and location. If it rains Thursday, graduation exercises will be shifted to the High Greer Gymnasium at the high school the same day.

Announcement for postponement or site change will be made on Radio Stations WTIC, WDRB, and WINF during the afternoon of the scheduled graduation days.

No tickets are required unless the exercises are conducted in the gymnasium. Persons attending the outdoor ceremony should bring their own chairs.

development because some teachers were taken out of the general meeting.

A general meeting was held on Monday, June 17, at the Board of Education. The sum of $8,177 was appropriated from surplus to the Board of Education budget for the 1973-74 fiscal year, as approved by the Board.

Board Chairman Bill Henaghan had prepared the facts and figures for questions, but few questions were asked.

Katharine Sibun was selected to serve on the Regional Board of Education for a three-year term, July 1, 1974 to June 30, 1975 for the improvement and maintenance of town roads.

Steps Outlined To Curtail Absenteeism and Class Cutting

VERNON
BARBARA RICHMOND
A lengthy list of problems involving discipline, absenteeism, class cutting and such were outlined for the Board of Education Monday night by the Rockville High School principal and assistant principals and a list of long-term recommendations included one for an Alternate Learning Center.

The lengthy report was prepared by a committee appointed last winter by Martin Fagan, principal of the high school and he and John Murphy and Edward Masker, assistant principals answered questions of the board concerning the report.

Murphy said he felt the most important part of the report was the recommendation that a study be made concerning establishment of an Alternate Learning Center which would focus on the needs, interests and abilities of the minority in the student body who appear to be alienated by the traditional high school setting.

The recommendation was made in connection with a study of attendance problems at the school and the committee appointed by Fagan noted it recognizes that an attendance policy which is appropriate for the majority of the student body may be ineffective for a small minority.

The committee said such a policy would be ineffective in terms of reversing the attendance pattern for this minority and perhaps prove counterproductive in that enforcement would produce further discipline problems among the group.

In recommending the study the committee said it feels it would identify more specifically the characteristics of the minority; their relative numbers in the student body; their educational needs; and ways in which an alternative approach might meet their needs.

In his report Principal Fagan listed as one of the problems adjustment to double sessions by ninth and tenth graders. He also said it was the first year for both classes as part of the high school building itself. As ninth graders the tenth graders were housed at the Sykes School and isolated from the rest of the high school classes. The new school authorities have recommended to adjacent property owners that they call the police if the students continue to trespass on their property.

In the way of long-term recommendations, besides the Alternate Learning Center, Fagan also suggested that a summer workshop be conducted for the remainder of the school year to study the marking system and the requirements for graduation.

He also recommended that the board employ a full-time outdoor, non-uniformed security person with authority to make arrests. He said this is the only way that the loitering by students and non-students can be stopped outside the school building.

In a brief discussion of the Red Rock CUD application, PZC members seemed reluctant to make any decisions until they get more information on recent reports that the town's sanitary sewer system might not be able to handle further development.

An update on the agenda for tonight's joint meeting of the PZC and the town's Board of Directors.

The Red Rock CUD application seeks rezoning of 106 acres of land—most of it now the Red Rock Golf Course—from Rural Residence and Industrial Zones to CUD Zone. Achenbach is planning a five-year development of a 1,300-unit residential complex, with single-family, duplex, and multi-family housing.

The Red Rock site, north of I-86 and abutting the South Windsor town line, abuts tobacco land and is currently being developed by MAP Associates, an investment partnership led by developer Arthur M. Fischer of New York City.

The PZC has already granted zone changes for the MAP Associates 280-acre development, but those changes are being challenged in court by nearby property owners.

In other business Monday night, the PZC:

- Reviewed approved plans for the Crockett Road and Autumn Heights subdivision on three lots on Ashworth St., five lots on Grandview St. and 13 lots on E. Eldridge St. and in plan 13.
- DuBeau asked for more factual report. "This report is 10 or 15 pages of short declarative sentences," he said.
- Marcham said he would like to get at the root causes of why there is truancy. "I would like to see some concrete proposals on how to keep them in school in the first place," he said.

School Board Asks More Data On Problems with Discipline

BARBARA RICHMOND
A 32-member committee appointed by Rockville High School principal Martin Fagan, to study school discipline, met Monday night. At the board asked that the lengthy report be refined and brought back before the school board starts next September.

The committee, composed of high school students, divided into subcommittees and each subcommittee included its findings and recommendations in the total report.

In a report from the school nurses it was noted that dismissals from the nurses' office had decreased in direct proportion to the increased student population.

They attributed this, in part, to a concerted effort to make student and parent more aware of the responsibility they have concerning school attendance.

Public swimming hours at the park are noon to 7 p.m. every day until Labor Day.

Season passes for families can be purchased at the reception desk of the Town Hall.

regular attendance in school is required by state law and that every effort should be made by parents and students to see that absences are limited to personal illness. "Excessive absences or irregular attendance are often the direct cause of a student's academic failure," the committee stated.

It recommends the use of key punched cards to take attendance in all first-period classes and that the teacher record "un-accounted" on a special list to be turned into the office at the close of the session or picked up last period.

It was suggested that this un-accounted list be checked the following day but some board members said they felt these names should be checked on immediately.

Robber Abandons High Heels

NEW HAVEN (UPI)—Men's high-beeled shoes apparently aren't suitable wear for robbing banks.

Police said a man in his late 20's went into the Second New Haven Bank Monday and tried to cash a bond, but was refused by a teller. The man then reached over the counter and grabbed about $1,000 in cash.

Police said he kicked off his high-beeled clogs, apparently to see some concrete proposal on how to keep them in school in the first place," he said.

PZC Delays Red Rock Vote For Data and Water, Sewer

By DOUGLAS BEVINS
The Manchester Planning and Zoning Commission (PZC) Monday night decided it needs more information on provisions for public water and sanitary sewer systems before it takes action on Achenbach Realty Co.'s Red Rock CUD (Comprehensive Urban Development) application.

PZC members agreed Monday night they'll ask the applicant for an extension of the 60-day statutory deadline in which the commission has to act on the zone change petition. The 65 days started June 3, after the PZC conducted a public hearing on the project, and will run out in August, but the PZC doesn't meet in August.

Local Power Over Funds Requested

HARTFORD (UPI)—A group of municipal officials has called Gov. Thomas J. Meserole for greater authority over federal funds earmarked for manpower programs in the state.

The Connecticut Conference of Mayors and Municipalities asked Meserole to appoint municipal officials to two council positions. The request is part of a 1973 federal manpower law.

New Haven Mayor Bartholomew Guida, conference president, said the Comprehensive Employment and Training Act of 1973 "presents an important opportunity for state and local governments to provide and manage needed manpower programs."

"Since local governments are closest to the people and are most familiar with their needs, they should be heavily represented" in the executive councils, Guida said.

PZC Approves Zone Changes

The Planning and Zoning Commission Monday night approved amendments to the zoning regulations.

Compatible recreational facilities will be allowed as accessory uses to a golf club. The commission also approved with amendments the bond and ID card to allow building on rear lots. The commission did not act on the amendments to the commercial zone or to home occupations.

The commission held an informal discussion with Russell Weigold and Raymond Roman to explain the regulations as they apply to an application for zone change. Weigold and Roman will both be submitting formal applications for zone changes in their respective areas.

Weigold who owns seven acres on Bread and Milk St. would like to apply for an expansion of a commercial zone to allow him to build a 30-foot by 60 foot building to house a showroom for his pump and plumbing business.

This building would be attached to an existing barn which is 30 feet by 100 feet. The barn would be used as a warehouse and possibly for future offices.

Weigold is on 823 feet of frontage on Bread and Milk St. and almost sits an existing commercial zone.

The site for which Roman would be seeking a zone change is on the corner of Armstrong Rd. and Rt. 31. This area is presently zoned light industrial and Roman will be seeking a zone change to commercial.

The land in question is on the lake and does experience high ground water during certain times of the year.

Town Meeting
There will be a special town meeting tonight at 8 p.m. in the Coventry High School to act on the disbursements of the Revenue Sharing funds for the 1974-74 fiscal year.

Other items on the agenda will be to appropriate additional funds for those budgets that are overexpended in this fiscal year.

Historical Society
The Historical Society will meet tonight at 8 in the Society's house on South St. Refreshments will be served. Members and other interested persons are invited to attend.

The program for the evening will be "show and tell". Members are requested to bring one or more items of historical interest to show to the group and describe from a personal or historic point of view.

Items pertaining to Coventry will be particularly appropriate.

There will be last regular meeting in the first half of the calendar year. Meetings will not be held in July or August.

The next meeting will be the annual meeting of the membership in September. A notice of the date, time and two restaurants have been shown an interest in locating there.

Roman is proposing to keep the rural atmosphere of the Fashion editors attending the 'Montreal Mode' weekend at the Chateau Champlain in Montreal, Canada...

The 'Montreal Mode' is only three years old, but has been well received by the American and Canadian fashion press...

The presentations, made at the Chateau Bonaventure just across the street from our hotel, included the creations of some 22 of Montreal's most inventive and imaginative designers...

Canadian fashions included the big top and the big skirt - the big coat and the big sweater. Long, flaring capes, tailored suits with fine detailing and stitching, below the knee hemlines, all set the scene for fall and winter...

For relaxation, after several hours of viewing the fashions, our hosts took us on a bus tour of Montreal, up to beautiful Mount Royal in the center of the city...

Later, in casual attire, we enjoyed an unusual dining and entertainment experience at 'Le Festin Du Gouverneur', which is The Old Fort on St. Helen's Island...

Barbara Fee of 80 Helaine Rd., is a summer intern with WRC/AM-FM (NBC's Washington affiliate). She will be working in public affairs. Miss Fee is a communication major at The American University.

Another morning of fashion presentations, followed by a luncheon at the Government House on St. Helen's, and we were preparing to depart for the airport for our flight back to New York City.

But time ran out, and our three-hoof entourage was escorted with much haste by 10 motorcycle policemen as we literally raced to the airport. Sirens were blaring and angry drivers glaring, as the policemen stopped them from entering the highway as they came up the ramps. We made it through customs and security with a bare seven minutes to spare.

Nothing Beats A Bargain

Yesterday I got a bargain. A sensational bargain - a $100 dress for $21! Believe it or not, it was a soul satisfying experience. Everyone knows the feeling. I was casually flipping through a discount dress rack, not looking for anything in particular, when my hand touched a material that felt expensive. I pulled the dress off the rack for close inspection and "designer" stood out all over it.

It was a glorious shade of blue, it was my size, and miracle of miracles when I tried it on in the dressing room, it fit me in all the right (and wrong) places.

Now, when you're getting a BIG markdown you expect some irregularities. I examined the dress very carefully, inside and out. There were two small holes. The first hole was in the front of the dress, but it was placed so that I could cover it with a pin. The second hole was in the skirt, not ideal, but I figured that when I was sitting down I could put my hand over it, and when I was standing up,

Nothing Beats A Bargain. Yesterday I got a bargain. A sensational bargain - a $100 dress for $21! Believe it or not, it was a soul satisfying experience.

It was a glorious shade of blue, it was my size, and miracle of miracles when I tried it on in the dressing room, it fit me in all the right (and wrong) places.

Now, when you're getting a BIG markdown you expect some irregularities. I examined the dress very carefully, inside and out.

ATTENTION: Parents of Manchester

The Board of Education and the Manchester Education Association have been engaged in negotiations to upgrade extra-curricular activities and athletic programs in the Manchester school system.

The M.E.A. has conducted an extensive evaluation of the current extra-curricular program, and has presented to the Board, in negotiations, a new and upgraded salary schedule for coaches and extra-curricular personnel.

The Board has rejected the M.E.A. proposal and has decided to initiate drastic cuts in the existing program, beginning in September.

Some of the cuts include the elimination of after-school sports at the elementary level, the elimination of all seventh grade athletics and the elimination of several non-athletic activities on the secondary level.

The Board has also proposed the reduction in salaries of several other extra-curricular advisors, and has maintained their discriminatory policy in the salary schedule of female coaches.

The M.E.A. is concerned that these proposed cuts would jeopardize the total educational program in the Manchester school system. Athletic teams, clubs and other activities represent an essential part of your child's development.

In light of these developments, the vast majority of coaches and advisors have agreed that they would not initiate or conduct their sport or activity until the Board of Education begins negotiating in good faith.

If you share our concern, we strongly urge that you contact members of the Manchester Board of Education or local school administrators as soon as possible.
