They Will Staff New School For Emotionally Disturbed

Ms. Susan Verhulst of Willington and Mrs. Michele Leverant of 92 Norton Lane, South Windsor, are the new teacher and assistant teacher, respectively, who will staff the new Community Child Guidance Clinic, Inc. School for Young Emotionally Disturbed Children which will open Sept. 4.

The pre-school will offer a specialized opportunity for the young, primarily emotionally disturbed child to grow and learn in an atmosphere designed to help maximize his potential to the point that he can function within a public school.

Children from ages 2 through 7 may be referred by the Board of Education or a parent to the Community Child Guidance Clinic. Referrals can also be made by other agencies.

Following a regular diagnostic evaluation by the Community Child Guidance Clinic, the clinic will determine the appropriateness of the child's placement in the school. Such decision will be made on the basis of the clinic's impressions of the child's and his family's potential for benefiting from the school program.

The tuition is $2,000 per year, and covers the child's stay in school, periodic reports to the child's school and conferences with the person responsible for the child's placement in the school's special education programs in the town of the child's residence. Individual psychotherapy for child and parent counseling is not included.

Anyone desiring further information may call the pre-school at 643-2101. Miss Verhulst received a BA in psychology from Clark University, Worcester, Mass., and an MA in special education from University of Connecticut. She has taught a special class for educable mentally retarded children in the Adams-Cheshire Regional School District in Adams, Mass.

She has also served a graduate internship at Nicks Memorial School in Tolland, and done graduate work at the Dempsey Regional Center in Putnam.

Mrs. Leverant received a BA from Russell Sage College, Troy, N.Y., and did graduate work in special education at Russell Sage and Albany State Teachers College, Albany, N.Y. She was teacher of a special class for educable mentally retarded children in North Hartford, Conn., and a substitute teacher in South Windsor and Manchester for the past three years.

Highway Reconstruction In Final Design Stage

Reconstruction of the Wilbur Cross Highway in the Buckland area of Manchester is halfway through the final design stage, according to the Connecticut Department of Transportation, and advertising for bids on the new, Contract 1 is scheduled for fall 1975.

John McGill, chief of programming and scheduling for the DOT, has reported that the project may be started in late 1975 or early 1976, and the construction will take about three years.

Acquisition of land for the new Wilbur Cross right-of-way, which will include space for a proposed interchange with I-86 at Buckland, is to be finished by late 1975. A total of 45 parcels have to be acquired, he said, and the DOT has already "taken" ten parcels.

The project starts one mile north of W. Middle Tpk. and runs to one-tenth of a mile east of Slater St. The Wilbur Cross Highway reconstruction will also include relocation and widening of Tolland Tpk., and changes in several other town roads. (Related story on Page 1)

Korean First Lady Killed By Assassin

SEOUL (UPI) — A gunman today shot and killed the wife of South Korean President Park Chung-hee and a teenage schoolgirl in an unsuccessful attempt to assassinate Park as he delivered a nationally televised speech in a crowded theater.

The would-be presidential assassin, a suspected member of an anti-government youth group, was wounded by security guards and taken into custody.

Mrs. Park, 49, admired by many Koreans women as a model of true national beauty, was struck in the head by a bullet intended for her husband.

The gunman ran screaming down the aisle in the crowded theater where Park was delivering a speech commemorating Korea's liberation from Japan in World War II.

Before the eyes of the 2,500 persons in the audience and untold thousands watching on television, the gunman opened fire at the podium.

Park ducked behind the lectern and moments later his wife and the schoolgirl were killed.

Nixon Subpoenaed In Cover-up Trial

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Former President Richard M. Nixon was subpoenaed today to appear as a witness at the Watergate cover-up trial by lawyers for his former aide, John D. Ehrlichman.

The trial is scheduled to begin in U.S. District Court here Sept. 9. Ehrlichman, former domestic affairs adviser to Nixon, is one of six former advisers or associates of Nixon facing trial in the cover-up.

Ehrlichman, H.H. Haldeman and the other five are accused of conspiracy and other charges. Nixon was named an indicted co-conspirator in the case.

Nixon was subpoenaed to appear Sept. 9. The subpoena was signed by Andrew G. Hall, Ehrlichman's attorney.

Ehrlichman's action was the first legal step taken against Nixon since he resigned last week.

The subpoena came as Special Watergate prosecutor Leon Jaworski was reported to be studying the possibility of taking legal action against the former President.

Ehrlichman, Haldeman and former Attorney General John N. Mitchell have asked for a delay in the trial and a hearing is set for Monday before Federal Judge John J. Sirica.

Ehrlichman had tried to subpoena Nixon while he was still President, but at that time his lawyers argued he could not be compelled to appear while he was still in office.

Nixon's subpoena was addressed to the White House at the "presidential compound, San Clemente, Calif."

Lawyers for Haldeman contended Wednesday in asking for delay of the trial that the public has been so poisoned against him that no jury would find him innocent of Watergate crimes.

He said any prospective juror who could honestly say he knows nothing about Watergate or had formed no opinions in the case would be "so oblivious to national affairs" he would not be smart enough to serve on the jury.

Another defendant, former Nixon campaign lawyer Kenneth W. Parkinson, filed papers opposing any delay. He asked instead that he be given a separate trial and that it be moved away from Washington.

Parkinson's lawyers said he has only a "peripheral attachment" to his co-defendants, "all of whom are politicians" rather than practicing lawyers as he is, and four of whom he does not even know.

He said his case could be wrapped up at a separate trial within a month.

The trial of the "Watergate Six" also includes Robert C. Mardian and Gordon Strachan.

Haldeman also argued that Nixon's release of the crucial June 23, 1972, tape of their discussion limiting the FBI's early Watergate investigation severely damaged his case.

"With the complete impregnation of the public mind by the continuous reporting of alleged proofs of guilt on the part of this defendant, a fair trial by an intelligent jury cannot be obtained at this time," Haldeman's lawyers said.

The new task force would be composed of nine top Ford counselors and cabinet members plus a director to be appointed by the President.

It would review all areas of the economy, work with labor and management to improve collective bargaining, review federal programs and hold public hearings.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The House Banking Committee quickly approved today President Ford's request for a new cost of living task force to spotlight economic excesses and scheduled it for floor action Monday.

Turning back all attempts to go beyond the President's wishes, the committee approved 27 to 1 a bill identical to the one Ford asked for. Four liberal Democrats and three conservative Republicans voted against the bill.

Many members expressed skepticism that Ford's new task force, which would amount to a "jobbing agency," could do anything to slow inflation. Several Democrats urged that the bill not be changed because it could do neither harm nor good but Ford should be given his wish without congressional interference.

Greece Expels U.S. Troops

ATHENS (UPI) — A high government official said today that Greece has decided to expel 4,000 U.S. troops from the country and that Foreign Minister George Mavros had rejected an invitation to meet with Secretary of State Henry Kissinger in Washington.

"We mean business. This is no temporary measure," the official said.

The official said American interests in Greece, in view of Turkish attacks on Cyprus, have come "a little too late."

U.S. troops are currently stationed at air force and naval bases in Greece.

While Pentagon will not discuss where it has nuclear weapons, it is an open secret that some are located in Greece.

Greece's reported decision to refuse to confer with the United States and to force U.S. armed forces out of the country came as waves of bitter humiliation over Turkey's victories on Cyprus and of anti-American feeling washed over the nation.

Greek troops remained on a war-ready alert. Premier Constantine Karamanlis was to address the nation of television at 9 p.m. (3 p.m. EDT).

Police guards were ordered increased tenfold at the U.S. Embassy today after Greek withdrawal from NATO and because of the anti-American student demonstrations Wednesday night.

Hundreds of Greek Cypriot students rallied in front of the University of Athens, chanting rhythmically, "Kissinger—murderer" and "NATO—CIA-betrayer!"

Officials List Reasons for Water Company Purchase

By SOL R. COHEN

Tuesday, at 7 p.m. in the Municipal Building Hearing Room, the Manchester Board of Directors will conduct a public hearing on a proposal to purchase the privately owned Manchester Water Co. Recommending the purchase are Town Manager Robert Weiss and Director of Public Works Jay Giles. They list their reasons in a 17-point report.

The conclusion the directors must reach Tuesday is whether to authorize a Nov. 5 referendum — for approving or disapproving a $2.25 million bond issue for the purchase. The $2.25 million is the negotiated price only. It does not include costs for tying into the town system and for improvements.

A November referendum would mark the second time in three years Manchester voters would have been called upon to consider the purchase.

In November 1971, by a 10,127 to 4,076 count, they approved the purchase. However, the terms of the acquisition were on the condition sewage facilities of the town and Eighth Utilities District would be consolidated.

Later in November of that year, Eighth District taxpayers rejected consolidation — by a 2,016 to 631 vote. Consequently, the affirmative vote to purchase the water company was declared invalid — because all conditions hadn't been met.

The latest proposal is on an "as is" basis — with no strings attached.

The 17-point report by Weiss and Giles follows:

1. The current safe yield of the Town Water Department sources of supply is approximately 5.42 million gallons per day. This is expected to serve the system needs to about 1986, and therefore the town should immediately begin to develop additional sources of supply.

2. The current safe yield of the water company sources of supply is approximately 4.55 million gallons per day and is expected to serve the needs of that system to about the year 2005.

3. If the two above systems are combined, the estimated total safe yield of 9.97 million gallons per day is expected to supply the total system needs to about 1995, thereby delaying exploration for additional supplies in the town system by about ten years.

4. Test wells recently drilled on water company land off New State Rd. indicate that an additional 12 million gallons per day of supply may be available. Development of such a well field could mean that the combined system needs may be met through the end of this century, although that will depend on the accuracy of population projections.

5. The purchase of the water company will be beneficial to the town system from the water supply standpoint, and therefore some support of the purchase price from the Water Reserve Fund is justified. If the purchase is not made, the town should immediately begin to explore for additional supplies.

6. If the rates in the existing water company service area were reduced to those of the town department, a decrease in income of approximately $15,000 would have occurred in 1973. This represents an overall decrease of about 33 per cent. The average residential water company customer would have realized a 44 per cent reduction in his or her water bill.

7. If the systems were combined and rates lowered to those of the town, the amount of funds available for debt amortization and capital improvements was estimated to be $105,729.00 in 1973. If the rates remained at water company levels, it is estimated that $28,729.00 would have been available.

8. Based on "Reproduction Cost Less Depreciation," the value of the water company facilities exclusive of land is estimated to be $4,156,091.

9. Based on a "Price Supportable from Net Earnings" with water rates reduced to town levels, the maximum purchase price that can be supported by 1973 earnings is estimated to be $1,215,000. With rates remaining at water company levels, this price amounts to an estimated $3,215,000.

10. Unless water rates in the water company service area remain at current levels, the proposed purchase price of $2,250,000 cannot be supported by net revenues without state and/or Federal grants for land purchase or monies from the town Water Reserve Fund. If no grant is received, the resulting $834,900 deficit will require that about $75,400 be transferred from the reserve fund each year, and the current capital improvement program will have to be reduced. In that case, a townwide water rate increase will be necessary within a few years if improvements are to be continued at the current level.

11. If the purchase is not made, the town should begin to search for additional water supplies immediately, and that development will also require a rate increase within a few years.

12. The town must face in the immediate future the need to upgrade the Buckingham Reservoir supply by replacing the wooden pipeline and rebuilding or replacing the Lane Street Filter Plant. This will mean an expenditure of at least $3,000,000 and a rate increase. If additional water supply can be found in the water company system, it is estimated that the Buckingham supply and that supply is sold to Glastonbury or the MDC, a large savings could result. If the purchase of the water company is made, a study to determine the need for the Buckingham supply will have to be reduced. In that case, a townwide water rate increase will be necessary within a few years if improvements are to be continued at the current level.

13. The estimated minimum amount of bond issue that will be required for the water company purchase, based on a sale date of January 1975

MIDDLEBORO, Mass. (UPI) — Police have recovered 18 paintings and two antique clocks stolen May 26 from the F. W. Woolworth estate in Monmouth, Maine.

Herman Writes Whistlin' Tunes

HOLLYWOOD — (NEA) — For the first time since "Kismet" opened, a major Broadway musical is trying out here. Called "Mack and Mabel," it shapes up as a winner.

It should, it's from the same team that created "Hello, Dolly!" Jerry Herman wrote the songs Robert Preston and Bernadette Peters sing and I'm happy to report that these are songs you whistle coming out of the theater.

"I believe in melody," Herman says. "For some strange reason, musicals are veering away from that. Songs are disappearing. I think people are starved for musicals with melodic songs."

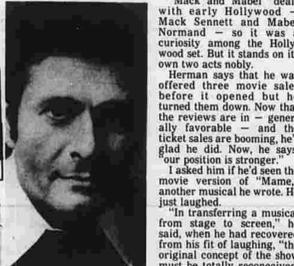

"Mack and Mabel" deals with early Hollywood — Mack Sennett and Mabel Normand — so it was a curiosity among the Hollywood set. But it stands on its own two acts nobly.

Herman says that he was offered three movie sales before it opened but he turned them down. Now that the reviews are in — generally favorable — and the ticket sales are booming, he's glad he did. Now, he says, "our position is stronger."

I asked him if he'd seen the movie version of "Mame," another musical he wrote. He just laughed.

"In transferring a musical from stage to screen," he said, when he had recovered from his fit of laughing, "the original concept of the show must be totally reconstructed. Like Bob Fosse did with 'Cabaret.'"

"Mack and Mabel" will not be done as a movie unless I have a hand in the new concept.

'That's Entertainment' Hot Dogs to Posterity

By Dick Kleiner — HOLLYWOOD — (NEA) — "That's Entertainment," the big MGM rehab of the great film musicals, is doing so well at the box office that it may bring back musicals. It was written, produced and directed by Jack Haley Jr., the son of the great film comic known, among other fine characterizations, for his role as "The Tin Man" in "The Wizard of Oz." He has come into his own with the film. For years, he was known as a fine hand with a documentary. Now, with "That's Entertainment," Haley is recognized as a major new creative force in the industry. "It's rekindled interest in musicals already," he says. "I know of several studios that have plans for musicals under way. It seems to appeal to a wide audience from teenagers to people in their 80s."

His plans are, next, to do a TV documentary about the late Samuel Goldwyn and his films. Then he hopes to go back to making movies, although there is some pressure from MGM for him to do a sequel to "That's Entertainment."

"There's enough material left," he says, "for me to do 10 more."

To put the first one together took a lot of work and a lot of time — and a lot of hot dogs.

His M.O. was to invite friends over to his house every Friday and Saturday night. He'd screen a double feature of MGM musicals both nights, serving chile and hot dogs. He saw some 200 films. And his friends ate how much of this fare without rebelling? But that's another story.

Summer Interns

Sen. Lowell Weicker welcomes Angela Kalsiak and David Jacobs of Manchester to Washington as participants to the Connecticut Summer Intern Program. They attended the fourth weekly session, in July. During the week, they attended hearings, listened to debates, and participated in seminars. They were awarded GOP scholarships by the Manchester Republican Town Committee to attend the intern program.

Bicentennial Unit Sets Hearing Date

The Bicentennial Committee of Manchester is holding a public hearing Monday, Sept. 16 at 8:15 p.m. to give townspeople a chance to help plan the town's projects for 1976.

"Mark the date," urged Mrs. Carol Kaeli, committee secretary. "And watch for the announcement of the exact school location for the hearing."

Committee co-chairmen are Nathan Agostinelli and Francis Mahoney, former Manchester mayors. They have asked for "people involvement" to assure a success here.

Boston Under the Gun

Next week may produce a confrontation that could have ramifications in our state.

The Federal Environmental Protection Agency has given 1,500 companies in Boston one week to come up with plans to cut their employee parking spaces by 25 per cent.

The order was originally issued last November to firms employing 50 or more persons to encourage car pooling and use of mass transit. The deadline for compliance was July 31. Of 3,100 employers covered by the order, 1,500 have failed to come up with desired plans.

According to Deputy EPA administrator John R. Quarles Jr. these firms must submit a plan by next Monday or be faced with notices of violation. Eventually they could be fined.

It is the first effort by EPA to enforce its controversial transportation control plans which were drawn up for most of the nation's major urban areas late last year.

If the EPA is successful in making its ruling stand, there is no doubt that once the major urban areas have been brought into compliance, the agency will move on the lesser areas such as Greater Hartford.

We in Connecticut are particularly vulnerable to this approach toward cleaning the nation's air since we are between Boston and New York City, another area involved in the same order last November.

Depending on the outcome of the issue in Boston, mass transit and car pooling in Connecticut may no longer be a personal option but a mandatory mode of transportation for many of our citizens.

If the federal EPA orders the same for the Greater Hartford area, Bridgeport and New Haven, will our employers and the state transportation department be ready?

Time is running out and the present system of commuter parking lots, while a step in the right direction, may not be adequate for the job.

Price Hikes Follow Wage Increases

Praise is due I.W. Abel, president of the United Steel Workers, for his courage in Milwaukee speech asserting that the economy "will go hell" unless labor stops asking for huge raises and management stops raising prices.

Abel seems to accept the premise that wage increases are naturally followed by price increases. Hence the raise is vitiated and the worker makes no real gains.

His economic savvy contrasts with that of AFL-CIO President George Meany who in a Chicago speech said that labor has no recourse but to seek wage increases and cost-of-living escalator clauses for members.

Meany said it was impossible for members to save money, as urged by the administration, when they could hardly meet living expenses. He may have been unaware of a recent wage settlement on the West Coast which would pay carpenters as much as $108 per day.

Of course Meany was speaking to a carpenter's convention and he may have felt that he had to give them what they wanted to hear. But it is irresponsible for a man who heads the vast labor organization which the irascible old plumber does.

He urged federal subsidy for housing. Which of course means that all taxpayers participate in paying unions high wages. He did not point to increased productivity as the only sound reason for wage boosts.

A responsible attitude such as Mr. Abel's can help lead the country out of inflation and create a new respect for labor and its leaders.

Rewarding A GOP Reject

If members of the Meskill Administration want to run for public office, it is their decision. But the taxpayers of Connecticut should not be forced to pay them for so doing.

Two department heads were forced to resign their posts because they would have been in violation of the federal Hatch Act. The Hatch Act was passed by Congress years ago to insure that those involved in the disbursement of federal funds would not become actively involved in partisan politics, thereby influencing their decisions.

Ruben Figueroa resigned as chairman of the Consumer Affairs Department to seek the Republican nomination for Congress in the First District. Edward J. Kozlowski resigned as motor vehicles commissioner to seek the GOP nomination for U.S. senator. Both failed to win the support of the convention delegates.

Figueroa has been appointed deputy commissioner in the Department of Consumer Affairs. Obviously the Meskill Administration wanted to find a spot for him at least for the remainder of the term. The Kozlowski appointment, however, was handled differently. Kozlowski was reappointed motor vehicles commissioner and Matt Koiva, who had replaced him, returned to his former job as deputy commissioner.

As far as Connecticut taxpayers are concerned, the key issue involves Kozlowski's salary. He was given a raise of $860 over his previous pay of more than $30,000 a year. Apparently the Meskill Administration wants to help Kozlowski make up the two months worth of pay that he missed because he had graduated political ambitions. There appears to be no other justification for giving a man a pay raise when he quit his job to seek political advancement, but then was rejected by the Republican party.

There must be a better way for the Meskill Administration to reward Republican party rejects than to force the taxpayers to pay the bill. — Waterbury Republican

Changing Of The Guard

By Lee Roderick (Special to The Herald)
WASHINGTON — In resigning his office, Richard Nixon has peculiarly united the country in a way he never was able to do as President. This city of power, bitterly divided for many months like the rest of the nation, breathed a collective sigh of relief with President Ford's inauguration. Although there are those still crying for Mr. Nixon's blood, the general mood here is one of reconciliation and not recrimination. Some cynics sneered at Mr. Ford's inaugural prayer that the former President will share the peace he effectively brought to millions. However, that surely is the tone our country needs if its deep wounds are to heal quickly.

The changing of the guard also brought out the best and the worst in Washington. Senate Majority Leader Mike Mansfield pledged that "We will continue, as Democrats to work with our Republican counterparts to make certain and to make known to all countries that our foreign policy will continue to be conducted on a bipartisan basis."

Sen. Barry Goldwater, on the other hand, testily attacked the press for its "damn lies" regarding his alleged role in the President's resignation decision. Goldwater, accompanied by applause in the Senate Visitor's Gallery, continued: "If the American people and the American press cannot start to be honest in this country, God help us. You are a rotten bunch."

Gerald R. Ford is not likely to be brilliant or particularly innovative during his presidency. But during a quarter century of public life he has proved his competency and more important in this post-Watergate climate — basic decency. Ford is a master politician in the good sense of that old term. He is adept at reconciling differences and gaining the respect and acquiescence of partisan opponents. "A politician is a man who understands government, and it takes a politician to run a government," said Harry Truman. "A statesman is a politician who has been dead 10 or 15 years."

Although, as President Ford acknowledged in his inaugural address, he is the first chief executive to gain the White House without the aid of the ballot box, that may well prove to be his greatest achievement.

The tragedy of Richard Nixon was that he was a President of remarkable ability who allowed his worst instincts to dominate his actions at crucial moments. He will be remembered poorly for that. But he will also be remembered gratefully by fair-minded citizens as a President who took historic steps to insure peace for us and our children. And that was no small achievement.

His resignation is a magnificent burden, weighing a man down as he walks between greatness and destructiveness. I think Mr. Ford will swing it as an ordinary man, but like Harry Truman he may prove an extraordinary ordinary man. He will try to restore the abandoned values — of candor and honesty, trust and belief. They have been wandering in the wilderness long enough. It is time to call them home and move on to a values synthesis, his strength rather than weakness. The secret deals that regularly have marked the American Presidency were wholly absent from his accession. His only debt is to the American people and to history. The Great Testing

NEW YORK CITY — The life history of a democracy is a succession of testings, but this was a nightmare testing. After all the tensions and turbulence, as the world watched spellbound, what emerged most impressively was that the American people and institutions had come through their ordeal whole. The actors played their roles, including Mr. Nixon as the heavy. He left his seat of power in a resignation speech that will be set in stone. It was a confidence and admiration for a good man for the new regime. There will be the vicarious presidential question, which will be settled quickly but, I trust, not hastily. Since Mr. Ford is known as a slightly right-of-center Republican and combining the old abused but still viable values with the experience of the young, without whose belief this society cannot retain its credibility. The most ominous crisis ahead is still inflation. We will not resolve it unless we see it not as a matter of external mechanics but as part of ourselves and our priorities. of resignations and nominations. Since the Town of Manchester has hired a qualified director of health services, I believe a director of public health services is not necessary. Certainly the town director of health services is responsible for "planning future programs," etc., and with her guidance, working with Mrs. Margaret Shainin, a dedicated person, the MPINA Board of Directors can once again become an effective part of the town's health services. Before Mrs. Shainin joins the agency, these duties were performed conscientiously and well by board members. Mrs. Bates was hired as a supervisor of nurses and personally chose to create the position of director for herself. It was also with her sanction and advice that the term of board members was shortened, thereby ending the service of many knowledgeable women who could have been of invaluable assistance. $46,000 More Asked for Library

The Public Building Commission will request an additional $46,000 from townpeople for construction of the Bentley Memorial Library.
Residents earlier had approved a sum not to exceed $271,000 for the project.
A letter will be sent to the selectmen asking that they call a Town Meeting at which residents may either approve or reject the additional money.

The selectmen are expected to forward the request to the Board of Finance, which has a regular meeting Monday.
If the board approves the request it will be returned to the selectmen and a Town Meeting will be called.
As well as approving a sum not to exceed $271,000 for the project, residents approved funding using revenue sharing funds, the library building fund, if necessary, the sale of bonds.
At this time the town has received a total of $135,737 in revenue sharing. The town has approximately $10,000 in the library building fund.

The difference between the $271,000 approved by townpeople and the amount available is $125,243.
If Bolton voters approve the additional $46,000 needed to complete construction of the library, $171,243 will have to be paid by townpeople through taxes.
The amount would be reduced by any future revenue sharing funds the town receives.

Tennis Courts Contract Awarded to Robinson, Inc.

Robinson, Inc. of Yalesville has been awarded the contract for construction of four tennis courts, lighting and a parking lot at Bolton High School for a total cost of $7,534.
Tennis Diversified of Bolton was awarded the equipment contract for $72.
Action by the Public Building Commission was on motion made Tuesday by member Ed Delisnore, who did the majority of the work on plans and bids for the courts. He was thanked for other PBC members.
John Roberts, board member, said he had checked the plans and that Robinson's work was excellent. He had met with the selectmen and they were given by all contacted.

A total of nine bids had been received for the tennis courts. Residents had approved an appropriation of $40,000 for the courts in April.
Following the awarding of contracts for the tennis courts the PBC began discussing the planned addition for the firehouse.
Douglas Cheney reported to the commission that he had met with Danny Rattazzi, chief of the firehouse to check the boiler. It's very old, Cheney said.
He said M & M Oil had guaranteed Rattazzi that the furnace would be able to carry the planned addition.
Cheney said that as he arrived at the firehouse earlier than Rattazzi he began looking around and was "shocked at the condition of the rear of the firehouse."
He said the paint was peeling, the gutters were rotted and the flashing wasn't in place.
Cheney recommended having aluminum siding for the entire firehouse.
He said he checked with Ar-

HARRISBURG, Pa. (UPI) — Many companies are turning down disabled job hunters because they imagine that would raise their employee compensation insurance rates, according to Pennsylvania Insurance Commissioner H. C. Denenberg. "This is not the case," Denenberg said. "Hiring handicapped persons doesn't affect compensation insurance rates in the least."

Hi, Neighbor!

My wife keeps sending instructions to me from Florida where she's visiting her mother. She wants me to commit no inebriating sins while she's away and won't allow me to make any decisions that might infringe on her constitutional right to push me around. And she won't let me play cards, look at girls, or eat in fancy restaurants. And she expects me to tell her EVERYTHING!
I'll have to advise you quickly about what we're going to do to get out of this weekend, 'cause I'm in a big hurry to go to a revival meeting. I expect there'll be some sparkling speeches to listen to and lots of hot chocolate and cookies for refreshment. My wife will be so pleased!

Dear Sir:
During my recent 3 1/2-week stay as a patient, ranging from the Intensive Care Unit through semi-private room care at Manchester Memorial Hospital, I was privileged to experience first-hand some of the kindest and most efficient professional care anyone can possibly imagine. No effort was spared to make my unhappy visit as pleasant and brief as possible.

Even though it most certainly is wholly inadequate, please understand the depth of my gratitude as I attempt to convey my thanks to all those who carried me spiritually, as well as physically, through the most agonizing and frightening experience of my life. Thanks to the compassionate efforts of the staff at Manchester Memorial Hospital it became a bearable, almost pleasant, experience.
Thank you, everyone, from the deepest region of my heart, from a person who may not even have been alive today except for your loving and concerned ministrations.
May I also express my appreciation to all the friends and relatives for their flowers and greetings of encouragement during my difficult days.
Sincerely,
Mrs. Florence R. Hein

Hodge Gets Manx

HEBRON

Nancy Foote, Correspondent

Several weeks ago 12-year-old Edward Hodge of West St. lost his Siamese cat when it was hit by a car near his home. Concerned about the safety of other pets and also small children in the neighborhood, Edward circulated a petition calling for signs to be posted in the area asking drivers to slow down for the children.

Edward's petition was signed by many West St. residents and delivered to First Selectman Aaron Field who promised to order the proper signs.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Woodstock of Columbia saw the story of Edward's work and called the Town Office Building in Hebron offering to give Edward a rare long-haired Manx cat. Wednesday night Edward met the Woodstocks for the first time and became the proud owner of "Woodstock Max the Manx."

Jessie Woodstock told Edward that he could pick a name for the cat and they would have the new name registered, and Edward was ready with his choice.

Said Edward, "I thought of the name Max this morning."

The Woodstocks have been raising long-haired Manx for three years ever since they found the father of Max in the woods. The father cat, Woodstock Binky, has won the prize as the Best Long-haired Manx in North America three years in a row.

Woodstock Binky is now residing from the show circuit and his son Woodstock Binky Jr. is expected to surpass his father in prize winning.

Mr. and Mrs. Woodstock provided the registry papers for Max. The Connecticut Crown Club, of which the Woodstocks are members, provided the fee for having the eleven-month-old cat registered.

Max, a red mackerel tabby and white Manx is expected to be as large as from 20 to 25 pounds when he is full grown.

Fire Commissioners Want Wing Cost Estimate Soon

BOLTON

Donna Holland

Correspondent

Tel. 646-1873

The fire commissioners at their meeting Tuesday discussed the planned firehouse addition. The entire board feels little progress has been made on the project since it first originated.

Robert Morra, past chairman of the commissioners, reported on his meeting with the Public Building Commission earlier this month.

At that PBC meeting Douglas Cheney, chairman PBC, was given approval by PBC members to contact Arnold Lawrence, architect, to draw preliminary plans for the addition at a cost not to exceed $1,000.

Morra said the cost estimate for the project by the next meeting of the PBC which will be Aug. 26.

The original request from the fire commissioners came in November, 1973. They asked the selectmen if revenue sharing funds could be used for an addition and renovations to the firehouse.

The selectmen rejected using revenue sharing funds. They suggested the fire commissioners do a study concerning the request so requested.

figures for the project could be justified.

In February, following completion of a study, the fire commissioners presented a request to the PBC for the project.

The PBC sent the request to the selectmen who sent it to the Board of Finance. The finance board rejected the request by a 4-2 vote because of a disagreement between the selectmen and the PBC.

The selectmen stipulated that a builder or contractor supply the necessary plan data instead of an architect. The fire commissioners were in agreement with the selectmen.

Cheney alone — he had not consulted PBC members — felt that in the best interest of the town an architect should be hired.

The finance board suggested the disagreement be settled before the appropriation was again requested.

In April the request was brought to a Town Meeting where over 100 residents approved appropriating $1,000 from the capital and non-recurring budget for plans for a firehouse addition.

At the end of May, Cheney was authorized by PBC members to investigate the feasibility of having an architect draw plans for the proposed project.

In June the $1,000 was authorized by the finance board so it would be carried over to the 1974-75 budget.

On Aug. 5 Morra met with the PBC. Cheney was given approval by the PBC to contact Lawrence to see if he would be interested in drawing the preliminary plans and arriving at a cost estimate, keeping in mind that his fee could not exceed $1,000.

Elect Officers

At the meeting Tuesday, fire commissioners Raymond Soma and John Whitman were unanimously elected chairman and secretary, respectively.

Panel Okays Bill on Leases For Drilling

WASHINGTON (UPI) —

The Senate Interior Committee approved Wednesday a bill to manage a considerable speedup in the leasing of offshore lands for oil and gas drilling.

The Outer Continental Shelf Bill, in the words of Sen. Henry M. Jackson, D-Wash., "reassesses Congress' special constitutional responsibility" over the lands and also gives the Interior Department some new powers for overseeing programs for leasing.

Gentle Band Will Give Concert On Patio at Town Hall Aug. 27

644-1364

At Gentile and his orchestra of 17 musicians and 10 vocalists will appear in concert on the South Windsor Town Hall patio Tuesday, Aug. 27, at 7:30 p.m.

The Gentle Orchestra has been a favorite on the East Coast for years and has appeared in major ballrooms, theaters, radio, and television. Gentile is the producer of the show "Sentimental Journey" which recently appeared at the Oakdale Theater in Wallingford.

The orchestra, consisting of five saxophones, four trumpets, four trombones, piano, string bass and drums, plays music from the big band era and also does some contemporary music.

Some of the area performers that will appear with Gentile will be Roger Murtha, bassist; Russel Elliot, trumpeter; Roland Chirico, tromper; and Al Lepak, drummer.

Featured vocalists are Bob Tyler, a Hartford resident, and Miss Bobbi Rogers, who has appeared in major clubs around the country as well as television and radio.

The concert is sponsored by the South Windsor Recreation Department and the Cultural Arts Committee.

The public is invited and is suggested that blankets or chairs be brought along. In the event of rain, the concert will be held Thursday, Aug. 29, at the same time.

Gardens

South Windsor's community garden program, located on town-owned property off Avery St., has been highly successful, according to Town Manager Terry V. Sprenkel.

Sprenkel said that approximately 44 of the 50 parcels are being used by residents to grow "just about everything" from radishes to watermelon.

The parcels which measure 25 by 50 feet was suggested by Councilman Howard Pitts last spring as a means of providing garden space for residents without sufficient property of their own.

Classes will be Tuesday and Thursday mornings from 9:15 to 11:45 a.m. for the three-year-old group and on Monday and Wednesday mornings at the same time for the four-year-old group.

The school is licensed by the state, and non-sectarian classes are held in the educational wing of Our Savior Lutheran Church, 239 Graham Rd.

Permits

Permits for residential construction exceeded those for industry during July, according to Building Inspector Donald McLaughlin.

McLaughlin said permits were issued for seven new dwellings, valued at $24,000, while those for industrial construction, at industries on Sullivan Ave. and Guy Plourde on Strong Rd. amounted to $142,000.

Last year, permits for industry totaled $1,469,000, with permits for houses and alterations, totaling $44,163; nine swimming pools, approximate value $20,246; one boat ramp, $15,400; three garages and carports, $2,150; five tool sheds, $2,948; one fuel tank, $700; two fences $2,760.

The police union's last position called for, effective July 1, 1974, a starting patrolman's salary of $8,226, through five steps to $10,832. A starting sergeant's salary of $10,469 through five steps to $12,308.

Also included would be full paid medical insurance for employees and dependents.

Effective Jan. 1, 1975 the union's position called for a patrolman's salary of $8,171 through five steps to $11,462 and sergeant's salary starting at $11,071 to $13,015.

The total raise for a patrolman would amount to an average of 20 percent and $24 per week for sergeants.

Nursery School

The Mother Goose Nursery School still has some openings for three- and four-year-olds, for classes which begin next month.

Wetland Application

SOUTH WINDSOR

Judy Kuehnel

The South Windsor Conservation Committee recently received its first application for construction on land designated as wetlands, but delayed action until further information can be obtained.

The application — filed by the Knights of Columbus — asked that it be allowed to construct a meeting hall, parking lot, ball field and pool on a 14-acre site off Pierce Rd.

The meeting was the first held by the commission since the revision rules recommended by the federal Soil Conservation Service, limiting the use of marshes, flood plains, and soil with poor drainage was approved.

Under the revision rules, a permit, such as the one under application by the Knights of Columbus, must be obtained for any dredging, grading or building can be undertaken.

No major problems are expected with the application now under consideration, according to Mrs. Cindy Wotel, chairman of the commission.

Any applications must be received seven days prior to the meeting date to be considered.

Pat Carroll to Address Project HELP Graduates

Comedienne Pat Carroll will be a special guest at the graduation Friday of students in Project HELP at Manchester Community College (MCC). Miss Carroll will address the students and others in attendance at ceremonies that will begin at noon in the central mall of the main campus on Bowdoin St. The graduation is open to the public. Refreshments will be served.

Certificates will be given to 12 graduates of the summer session of HELP (Handicapped Earning and Living Project), bringing to 64 the total number of educationally handicapped persons who have successfully completed the program since it was begun in the spring of 1973. The students in the summer session are from Manchester, Mansfield, Vernon and Windsor.

Project HELP was designed to train individuals for employment in the food service industry as cooks' helpers, assistant bakers and salad makers, among other positions. It is sponsored jointly by the business careers division of the college, special education offices in area towns and Mansfield Training School.

The site for the training is MCC's food service laboratory kitchen and dining room which are used during the fall and spring semesters also by students in the hotel and food service management program of study. Project HELP is funded this year by the Department of Vocational Services and the State Board of Education and by the Division of Vocational Rehabilitation.

Pat Carroll presently is appearing as the star of "An Evening with WHO?" at the Coachlight Dinner Theater in East Windsor.

Plans are now in progress for the council's fall flower show Sept. 14 at St. George's Episcopal Church in Bolton. She has worked with virtually every top luncheon in the business from Jimmy Durante to Danny Thomas.

The Prayer Group of St. Mary's Episcopal Church will meet tonight at 8 in the Guild Room of the church.

FROM YOUR NEIGHBOR'S KITCHEN

Mushrooms are grown year round in Pennsylvania and elsewhere. When purchasing, look for a white smooth surface on the cap. Underneath, the gills and the caps should be close together. Refrigerate them until ready for use and use them in a day or so.

The mushroom can be frozen most successfully, fresh or cooked. To Freeze Mushrooms Drop mushrooms (preferably sliced) into boiling water for one or two minutes, drain. Seal in an airtight container or bag. Freeze. Or saute in butter, then freeze.

Remember our column of a few weeks ago...cavalier editor - buyer beware! Don't buy damaged cans. Don't buy anything that is leaking. If the leaking can is on your own shelf, throw it away. If a canned food smells odd to you or "off" what you think it should be, get rid of it.

Now about mushrooms. If you are on a diet and you love mushrooms, you're in business. They are an excellent source of nutrition, yet there are less than 100 calories in an entire pound.

The cultivated mushroom, at least in this country, is a pure beige-white in color. I consistently see mushrooms in many markets that should be thrown away. They have oxidized causing them to be discolored, brownish. They are wilted, wrinkled and you should reject them.

The following menus will be served Aug. 19-23 at Mayfair Gardens and West Hill Gardens for all Manchester residents over 60. Reservations are taken in person only at the Gardens on Monday prior to the week of the luncheons. Menu is subject to change.

Designer From Out of the West Comes East In Nostalgic Mood

Designer James Galanos, whose business is based in Los Angeles, displayed an evening trouser costume, at left, in black with a jeweled butterfly pattern in red across the bodice. Another costume shown at a recent fashion show is the scarf look, at right, that ran through the collection for fall and winter in a bulky brown and beige giant plaid with long looped scarf. (UPI photo)

dressmaking by cutting fabrics on the bias of the weave. Even the Galanos hats and the shoes, designed by David Jones, carried out the mood of the past. Most of the hats were eye-catching cloches, the millinery uniform of the '20s, and the high-heeled T-strap sandals, also standard for the era.

The loose-fitting, bloused top to dress especially for evening ran through the Galanos collection. A lot of them were done in black lace and Galanos went in heavy for black for cocktail and evening wear. The "blouse" look has been in and out of fashion since the 1920s.

He showed only one daytime cape-while the rest of U.S. ready-to-wear is loaded with cape. Galanos did one in white lace, almost sweeping the floor, worn over a shorter black and white print cocktail dress. He did no trouser costumes for day wear, but for evening they appeared in several versions—a silvery patterned costume with long cardigan coat over the pants, another with a pattern on black, still another in black with a jeweled butterfly pattern in red across the bodice.

She Delivers 11 Baby Opossums

COVENTRY
Donna Holland
Correspondent
Tel. 644-0373

Kim Munsell, 15, delivered 11 baby opossums whose mother had been killed by a passing car Sunday morning.

While walking Sunday, Kim came upon the mother opossum dead in the road. The mother had babies in its pouch.

Kim hurried home to get a box in which to put the babies, and gloves for her hands.

She stayed at the home of Mrs. Dorothy Wilmot, a neighbor, who quickly instructed her on what to do.

Mrs. Wilmot gave Kim forceps with which to remove the babies.

Kim returned to the area and immediately "delivered by cesarean" 11 baby opossums, four of whom were dead.

The seven babies living were brought to Kim's house so she could clean them up. She also rubbed the babies to get their circulation going. She was helped by Mrs. Wilmot.

One baby opossum died Monday.

Original Opera Comes to CPTV

An original opera, written especially for public television, will be presented on Connecticut Public Television Tuesday, Aug. 20 at 8:30 p.m.

"Myshkin," an opera by John Eaton with libretto by Patrick Creagh, is the tragic drama of an epileptic Russian prince, and is based on Dostoyevsky's novel, "The Idiot."

The story centers on the pure and forgiving love of Prince Myshkin for the beautiful Nastasia, and the unfortunate events which befall him because of his simple and straight-forward ways.

Chamber music and electronic instruments represent the rational and irrational and intermingled to shape the drama.

The opera will be aired on CPTV channels 24, 49, 53, 61 and 71.

Doscher Leaves Committee Drawing Up Wetland Rules

COLUMBIA
Virginia Carlson
Correspondent
228-9224

Austin Doscher is the second person to resign from the committee named by the selectmen to recommend who should draw up and enforce wetland regulations.

Last month Enn Koiva resigned.

The four-man committee, consisting of Doscher and Bruce Hyer of the Conservation Commission and Leo Goldberg and Koiva of the Planning and Zoning Commission, were unable to reach an agreement on who should be the enforcing agency.

The state deadline for towns to draw up regulations was June 30. State regulations are now imposed on the town until the town has its own.

Doscher, in his letter of resignation, suggested there should be two members of PZC, two from the CC and three members from the town at large.

Doscher said this would "create a diversified opinion" and best suit the town in dealing with problems concerning the future development and use of its wetlands and water courses.

Building Committee Selectmen have named a seven-member committee to study the possibility of constructing a town building at the town-owned property on Rt. 6 for the purpose of storing equipment.

The selectmen named themselves. First Selectman Joseph Szegda, Thomas O'Brien and Robert Tuttle, Robert Victor, Clarence Grant, Morris Kaplan and Herbert Esigler Sr.

Storage Area Mrs. Pat Murphy, recreation council beach chairwoman, has asked the selectmen to provide a storage place for the 500 feet of rope and 100 buoys used at the swimming area.

She said other equipment, such as picnic tables, swings and other items should be stored to prolong the life of them.

The Lions Club had proposed to erect an addition on the beach house for the purpose of storage but Mrs. Murphy said she received a letter from the Lions saying that zoning laws prohibit the addition.

Szegda said he did not know of any place for storage of the items.

Mrs. Murphy also complained that the grass at the beach has not been cut all summer.

Lions Barbecue The Lions Club will hold its annual chicken barbecue Aug. 18 from noon to 4 p.m. at firemen's field, rain or shine.

Tickets are $3 for adults and $1.50 for children under 12.

The event is always a tremendous success. Two years ago over 300 chickens were barbecued and last year over 400.

Reds' Manager Getting the Shakes, Move Closer to Dodgers in NL West

NEW YORK (UPI) — The Cincinnati Reds are giving their own manager the shakes so you can imagine what they're doing to the Los Angeles Dodgers.

"Look, I can hardly hold it," said Manager Sparky Anderson Wednesday night as he juggled a roast beef sandwich after the Reds pulled out a "cliffhanger" 3-2 victory over the Pittsburgh Pirates.

"The Reds' victory moved them to within 4 1/2 games of the first-place Dodgers in the National League East. The Reds were four games behind the Dodgers as late as Aug. 30 last season and still won the division crown."

"When you win one out of three and still pick up a game in the standings, it makes you feel good," added Anderson, referring to the fact that the Reds won only one game of their series with the Pirates but gained ground because the Dodgers lost their three-game series with the New York Mets.

Cesar Geronimo drove in the winning run when he doubled in Dave Concepcion with one out in the bottom of the 10th inning but Anderson's "hero" was 22-year-old lefthanded relief pitcher Will McEnaney, who entered the game with the Pirates on first and third and none out in the ninth and retired the side without allowing a run.

The East Hartford Dovesettes and New Hampshire state champs Keene Merchants also displayed something not seen everyday. It wasn't a classic but the Merchants pulled off a tripleplay, much to the delight of those who remained. Altogether, it was a most benefitting night.

American League Roundup

Vacationing Players Aiding Kansas City

NEW YORK (UPI) — One guy who spent the season on the bench and another who's spent it on the beach could make the difference for the Kansas City Royals this year.

The Oakland A's seemingly have their fourth straight Western Division title in hand with a six game lead but Kansas City Manager Jack McKeon thinks the Royals are capable of catching the A's with guys like Orlando Cepeda and Tony Solaita around.

Cepeda is now hitting .302 in 10 games for the Royals and has batted in 14 runs. But he was concerned that he hadn't hit a homer in his first nine games.

Joe Decker and Bill Campbell combined on a four-hitter to give Minnesota the victory over Cleveland. Glenn Borgman's sacrifice fly in the seventh accounted for the only run off loser Fritz Peterson.

White Sox 5, Orioles 4. Ken Henderson drove in three runs with a homer, and a single but the White Sox also needed a run-scoring single from Brian Downing in the eighth inning to edge Baltimore. Dick Allen had two hits to stretch his hitting streak to 15 games for the Sox.

Tim Johnson's pinch single in the eighth inning led Milwaukee over Texas. Doubles by George Scott and Darrell Porter tied the score before Johnson's hit won it. Cesar Tovar went 5-for-5 for the Brewers in the losing cause.

McKeon said "Cepeda means a whole lot to this ballclub. He gives us added depth, another big bat and a psychological lift. You look at most of the pennant winners in the past years and they all picked up an experienced bat for the stretch. Cepeda is ours. He's had a history of delivering in the clutch. He's the type of player who rises to the occasion."

McKeon was also pleased with Solaita's all-in performance since Mayberry is now out with a broken hand. Solaita has pitched in only 70 games but is hitting .279.

"It's the second time we've called on him this season and he's done the job for us. Mayberry was out earlier in the year and we won seven of 10 with Solaita in the lineup. He's the type of guy you have to have on your bench. He's done the job in a very major league fashion."

McKeon describes Busby quite simply "in my opinion, he's the best pitcher in baseball," McKeon said.

The Royals knocked out Fred Holdsworth during a six-run first inning that included Solaita's three-run blast and Busby was able to coast to the victory.

In the other games, Minnesota edged Cleveland 1-0, Milwaukee nipped Texas 9-5, Chicago nipped Baltimore 5-4, New York edged Oakland 4-1 and California blanked Boston 5-0.

Twins 1, Indians 0. Joe Decker and Bill Campbell combined on a four-hitter to give Minnesota the victory over Cleveland. Glenn Borgman's sacrifice fly in the seventh accounted for the only run off loser Fritz Peterson.

White Sox 5, Orioles 4. Ken Henderson drove in three runs with a homer, and a single but the White Sox also needed a run-scoring single from Brian Downing in the eighth inning to edge Baltimore. Dick Allen had two hits to stretch his hitting streak to 15 games for the Sox.

Tim Johnson's pinch single in the eighth inning led Milwaukee over Texas. Doubles by George Scott and Darrell Porter tied the score before Johnson's hit won it. Cesar Tovar went 5-for-5 for the Brewers in the losing cause.

McKeon said "Cepeda means a whole lot to this ballclub. He gives us added depth, another big bat and a psychological lift. You look at most of the pennant winners in the past years and they all picked up an experienced bat for the stretch. Cepeda is ours. He's had a history of delivering in the clutch. He's the type of player who rises to the occasion."

McKeon was also pleased with Solaita's all-in performance since Mayberry is now out with a broken hand. Solaita has pitched in only 70 games but is hitting .279.

"It's the second time we've called on him this season and he's done the job for us. Mayberry was out earlier in the year and we won seven of 10 with Solaita in the lineup. He's the type of guy you have to have on your bench. He's done the job in a very major league fashion."

GHO Starts Today Casper's Shot Unsure

WETHERSFIELD (UPI) — Billy Casper says he still is playing poorly and thinks his chances are "no good" to win for an unprecedented fifth time here as the Sammy Davis Jr. Greater Hartford Open opened today.

Casper, 43, said he had a "hot" '72 Wednesday in the pro-am warmup played with Sammy Davis Jr. on the 6,583-yard Wetherfield Country Club course.

"I'm having trouble breaking 75. I'm having trouble with every swing, every hole," said the San Diego, Calif., native whose last tour win was here in 1963.

Casper won here in 1963 and 1965 when the tournament was known as the Insurance City Open and his win last year was preceded by a 1968 victory.

The par 71 course is referred to as a "putter's course" but Casper, acknowledged as one of the best putters the game has ever had, said even his putting has gone bad.

When asked how his chances were for a fifth win, Casper said "no good." He said he four-putted the par-4 11th hole in the practice round from about 15 feet and that included a backhand attempt.

Referring to his poor showing in the PGA last week where he shot a total

297, Casper jokingly said he was "in the rough so much that I'm sending four bales of hay I cut to feed my cattle on the West Coast."

Lee Trevino, whose win in the PGA boosted him to third at $166,888 on the money list, said after a pro-am round 68 that he will take it easy after this event, "passing up Westchester to go home and rest."

Asked about his remarks that he disliked playing in the Masters, Trevino jokingly quipped newsman, "How come I get cut up for not going to the Masters? I don't like the course," he said.

McKeon said "Cepeda means a whole lot to this ballclub. He gives us added depth, another big bat and a psychological lift. Third Batting Title For Gene Johnson

By Earl Yost
Thirteen years ago Gene Johnson decided to hang up his glove as a professional baseball player after seven seasons and join the automobile sales staff at Moriarty Brothers in Manchester.

GENE JOHNSON

The one-time farmhand with the New York Giants, Milwaukee Braves and Pittsburgh Pirates from Class A to Triple A leagues wasn't jinxed in the least, in his 13th year as a playing manager with the Gas House Gang in the Greater Hartford Twilight League. Johnson, who steered his club to the American Division championship with 17 wins in 22 starts, for the best record in either division, also walked off with his batting championship.

He is the most dominating club in the long history of the Twilight League. Signed fresh out of Manchester High in 1961, he played three years for the Giants for a $4,000 bonus, he played three years for the New York National League farm hands before going over with Pittsburgh and then to Milwaukee's farm system. Johnson has been a winner in many ways with the MB's. The third baseman has guided the locals to eight regular season titles and seven playoff diadems. Currently the MB's are shooting for an eighth playoff crown.

Since 1964, Moriarty's missed out just one season, 1968, in winning either or both the regular and post-season laurels. A six-year reign in the playoffs ended last summer. Winner once previously as the league's most valuable player, Johnson stands high on the list of eligibles and it wouldn't be the least surprising to see his name inscribed on the MVP plaque once again. His credentials for this honor are his highest.

Confronted by a talented and determined field of challengers, Steve Gates, Warren and Brad Stone each proved themselves worthy of a championship gold medal as they once again dominated their respective divisions in the giant finale of the MCC-SAM summer series of cross country races held at the Manchester Community College campus last night.

Gates accelerated strongly over the last mile of the 3.6 mile course to easily outdistance the field for the fifth time in as many races in the Open Division. Manchester Mayor John Thompson presented Gates, and the other champions, with a gold medal for his performance. Jeff Geyer of Tolland and Tom Waites of Manchester earned silver medals for their respective second, third and fourth places finishes. Art Lahan, Larry Woykovsky, Bill Gendron, Tom O'Donnell, Bruce Laube and Tony Lupacchino received bronze medals in the Open Division.

Brand rose to the challenge to outdistance his rivals and capture the gold medal in the High School Division. The Rockville youngster captured his third race with a 17:33 clocking to secure top honors. Joe Fireto, Dan Foley and Joe Noel were awarded silver medals for their second, third and fourth place finishes respectively. Brett Jones, Scott Moffat, Jay Martin, Phil Blondin, Lewis Herschfeld, Carl Blondin, Kevin Schooley, Steve Colbert and Gordon Pfeifer earned bronze medals for their performances in the five-week series.

Warren once previously as the league's most valuable player, Johnson stands high on the list of eligibles and it wouldn't be the least surprising to see his name inscribed on the MVP plaque once again. His credentials for this honor are his highest.

Warren, wearing his characteristic American Medical Association T-shirt, won both last night's race and the series' gold medal in the Masters Division. Jones dominated the success of the races. "Many more runners and many more spectators turned out for the races than we anticipated," Sheckley said. "We envision expanding this type of activity in the future. We are trying to locate sponsors to assist us with the races next year," Sheckley added.

Producing Crackerjack Players Junior Golf Program Bigger Each Season

By Earl Yost
One of the finest and least publicized youth programs in town is in its third year of operation at the Manchester Country Club and growing with leaps and bounds - junior golf.

The brainchild of Carl Mikolowsky three years ago, the program for young golfers in the 10 to 18-year-old age bracket has increased with each passing season. From an original membership of 40 in 1972, interest jumped to 65 participants a year ago and zoomed to 80 boys and girls this summer.

Overseeing the weekly Monday morning play during July and August is Tina Mikolowsky, wife of the instigator of the program. Mrs. Mikolowsky serves as chairman of the Youth Golf Committee.

Once her husband's idea was presented to the Board of Governors, and approved, the pretty housewife moved prominently into the picture. Each Monday morning for the past three years during July and August she checks in at the Country Club before 8 o'clock to see that the golfers are paired by a draw and off the tee and onto the fairways without incident.

Belligerent Talks Cooling Off

NEW YORK (UPI) - All the belligerent talk by both striking players and coaches seems to have died down and it's business as usual in the National Football League camps.

For the most part, the most outspoken coaches, like Houston's Sid Gillman and Cincinnati's Paul Brown, and the leading player spokesmen, like the Bengals' Pat Matson, toned down their threats and counterthreats and got down to the business of getting ready for the upcoming season.

Wednesday was the reporting date set by the NFL Players Association to begin a 14-day cooling off period in hopes of bringing about a contract settlement. And there were few problems as most camps reported a good number of veterans reporting to training camps at various times.

Twenty-seven striking Atlanta veterans reported and Coach Norm Van Brocklin said there would be no animosity toward the striking players and the regulars would start Saturday night's pre-season game with Cincinnati in Atlanta.

Conroy is the reigning Junior champ, an honor Scott Leone captured in the program's first year of operation in 1972. There is no fee for the young golfers but all must hold membership in the club either as juniors or with families.

"All of what has been said and done was forgotten when they walked through that door today," said Van Brocklin.

At Houston, one incident did occur as outspoken striker Fred Willis carried the ball and was met by linebacker Al Cowling, a strike breaker who reported earlier this week. Cowling's shout of "Willis, the two came face-to-face but no punches were thrown.

The honking of car horns signaled the arrival of a caravan of Minnesota Viking veterans at their training camp at Mankato State College. Thirty veterans showed up at the same time, traveling in a long string of vehicles from Minneapolis, Minn., where they had been working out daily as a unit at a high school field.

The only experienced player not in camp was all-pro tackle Alan Page, a member of the negotiating committee, who will be in Washington.

Yacht Trials Begin

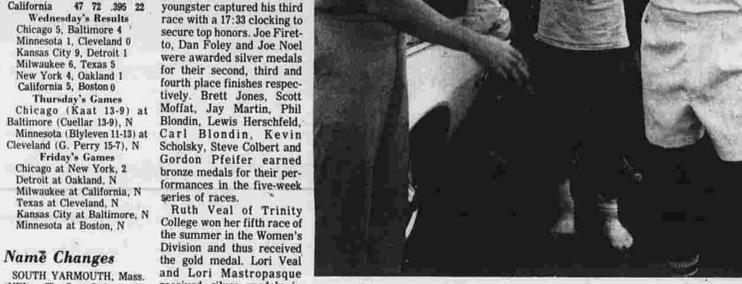

NEWPORT, R. I. (UPI) - Four contenders headed into the finals today to select a defender for yachting's premier America's Cup, with the eliminations heightened by a sudden skipper change on an aluminum-hulled Mariner.

Emphasis was on crew precision and boat speed with this was shaping up as a classic two-boat battle between early favorite Courageous and two-time winner Intrepid for the right to defend the cup against the French or Australians beginning Sept. 10.

In a random drawing paralleling those of previous trials, Courageous and Intrepid were matched in the first race with Mariner paired against Bermuda Vallant.

In a last ditch effort to better the odds for troubled Mariner, Commodore George Hinman, syndicate manager, juggled skippers with Valiant. Dennis Cooper, 1973 Congressional Cup winner, was named to Mariner's helm while Ted Turner, an Atlanta television executive, was switched to wood-hulled Vallant.

Three more teams went sent to the sidelines permanently last night as the 1974 Town Slow Pitch Double Elimination Softball Tournament continued at two sites.

MacKenzie Submits 38-Page Report

TOLLAND
Vivian Keneson
Correspondent
Tel. 875-4764

Dr. Kenneth L. MacKenzie, superintendent of schools, presented a 38-page annual report to the Board of Education, the first time that one was requested.

The eight-section report by Dr. MacKenzie and school administrators covers enrollment, special education, personnel, instructional program accomplishments, goals for the coming school year, finance, school plant, and public relations.

Board members, although in general agreement that the report was comprehensive, offered criticism to Dr. MacKenzie.

Chairman Robert Dean told the superintendent that the report has accentuated the lack of direction given by the board.

"Without specific direction, you have done a very fine job," he said.

No specific format was given the four principals for their contributions, and each of the four took a different path in reporting evaluations and goals.

Both Dean and Carolyn Kolwicz claimed no prior knowledge, before reading an evaluation in the report, of a carryover of the Individually Guided Education (IGE) program to the fifth grade, which was initiated last fall.

Dean commended Dr. MacKenzie for a report that has a "lot more meaning than anything I've seen in the last two years." Charles Mayer said that he felt the superintendent and other administrators did a "great job, second guessing what the board wanted."

Carol Duncan said she viewed the report differently than other board members, noting it was the initiative of the administrators and she didn't see her role to make critical notes.

Dr. MacKenzie said he is "very interested in giving the board the kind of information it needs to make decisions."

"Nothing was said tonight that I resent," he said.

He noted that each of the four school principals and Special Education Director Cam Vautour all contributed quite heavily in the "first report of this type from me, and acknowledged that each of the men have different styles of writing.

Dean said that copies of the report may be borrowed by residents from the School Administration Office.

A chart of enrollment for the last five years included in the report shows a continuing growth of the school system. The only decline in enrollment has been in the Parker Memorial School (Grades K-2). This is in keeping with national statistics reflecting decreasing birthrates.

"In balance, however, we must recognize that Tolland is unique in this regard," Dr. MacKenzie reports. "It has so recently been discovered to be an ideal community in which to live, that occupation of new homes has continued to affect school enrollment. Tolland still possesses large, undeveloped acres. It cannot be assumed, therefore, that declining birthrates will necessarily bring decreased enrollments within Tolland schools."

Enrollment figures for the years 1970, 1971, 1972, 1973, and 1974 are: Parker Memorial, 729, 735, 744, 748, 705; Hicks Memorial, 464, 477, 488, 473, 487; Middle School, 778, 838, 807, 802, 826; High School, 352, 498, 574, 617, 660.

'Everyone Must Light a Candle for Himself'

DALLAS (UPI) — Ronald Byrd, 24, now a personnel specialist with the U.S. Department of Agriculture Food and Nutrition Service, because he is blind, said he has overcome whatever handicaps that combination might present because he never has suffered from blindness of the mind.

"All of the employment interviews that I went on would begin by the employer telling me things I could not do."

"I'd say, 'Don't tell me what I can't do. Tell me what you require and I'll tell you how I'll do it.' I tell the kids I work with that every person has some kind of handicap. It's a matter of coming out of your own darkness. Everyone must light a candle for himself."

"It's all right to be blind in the eyes as long as you're not blind in the mind."

Byrd graduated with honors from Bishop College in Dallas with a sociology degree after receiving an associate degree in a junior college in his hometown of Gary, Ind.

"In my job, I do career counseling for federal employees, and do some interviewing and hiring," Byrd said. "In coming here, I used that philosophy to ask the employer what he required, and to tell him how I can do it."

"One thing I think is very significant about what I've done is to show that it is possible for a blind or handicapped person to survive in the employment world without being nailed to one area."

"It's a matter of coming out of the corner. It's difficult. I had to go to 36 social agencies and 18 federal agencies before I got this job."

"I think this can be an extremely important motivational force for handicapped persons, and a force even for those who are sighted who work in the competitive world."

During his early years in Indiana, Byrd ran on the high school track team. His blindness was caused at birth. He was a premature baby and doctors said there was too much light in his incubator, producing his blindness.

Massaro Asks Review Of Rules on Election

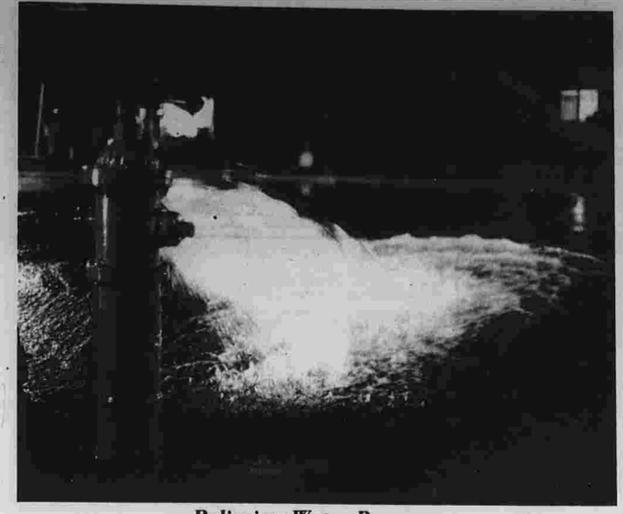

Eighth District President Michael Massaro has appointed Director Gordon Lassow to make a study of district bylaws and propose recommendations for amending the rules and regulations governing the election of officers.

Massaro acknowledged the action is because of "recent criticism of the June annual meeting by supporters of those former officers of the district defeated in the elections."

He said the review is warranted, because the existing rules and regulations only briefly describe the mechanics to be utilized.

"This process ought to be more definitely defined," he said.

"At the same time, however," added Massaro, "I am puzzled by the fact that those who are most critical of the handling of this past election, though chaired by the state's attorney (Hartford County State's Atty. John LaBelle was moderator of the

AREA POLICE REPORT

SOUTH WINDSOR
 Two South Windsor youths were charged late Wednesday night in connection with complaints received concerning vandalism of mailboxes and a speed limit sign.

William I. Wert Jr., 18, of 74 Allison Dr. was charged with third-degree assault and third-degree criminal mischief. Timothy J. Kennedy, 18, of 81 Allison Dr. was charged with breach of peace and third-degree criminal mischief.

Police said a complaint was received from residents of Scenic Rd. that the metal flags were being torn off mailboxes. A complaint was also received from Daniel Shea of Ann Rd. that a speed limit sign had been thrown on his lawn.

Police said when Shea objected, he was allegedly struck and had to be treated at Manchester Memorial Hospital for facial lacerations.

Wert and Kennedy are scheduled to appear in Circuit Court 12, East Hartford Sept. 9.

VERNON
 Dennis B. Carrier, 18, of Hebron was arrested Wednesday on a warrant issued by Circuit Court 12 charging him with third-degree criminal trespass.

Vernon Police said the original charge involved the investigation of a complaint that someone was trespassing on private, posted property on Bolton Rd. in June.

Carrier was held at the police station in lieu of posting a $100 surety bond and was to be presented in Circuit Court 12, East Hartford, today.

Myron G. Curtis Jr., 19, of Bridgeport, was arrested Wednesday on a warrant issued by Circuit Court 12 charging him with issuing a bad check, in connection with the investigation of a complaint made by a Vernon Circle supermarket.

Bill Blocks Excise Tax On Lottery

WASHINGTON (UPI) - The Senate passed a bill Tuesday to block a 10 per cent federal excise tax on state lotteries which the Internal Revenue Service said it would levy this week.

By law, the IRS must impose the tax on wagers made if a state lottery does not meet standards of an exemption granted by Congress in 1965 to aid New Hampshire, then the only state with a lottery.

The exemption, granted to lotteries where the winners are chosen by a horse race, was narrowly drawn to fit the New Hampshire situation, said Sen. Abraham A. Ribicoff, D-Conn., who introduced the bill.

The IRS delayed implementing the tax on the 12 lotteries it announced it would levy. Ribicoff said they were not enacted. If states are forced to pay the tax retroactive to the start of the lottery, Connecticut would owe the IRS $8,860,185 on its receipts for the first 15 months, Ribicoff said.

HARTFORD (UPI) - State Environmental Protection Commissioner Douglas M. Costle says converting Connecticut electric generating stations to coal will hurt future industrial development in the state.

Costle said that the state's electricity needs will be met by coal-fired plants, but that the economic, environmental and health impacts on the state would be significant, he said.

Hussein Dinner Has Mideast Significance

Foreign News Commentary
By PHIL NEWSOM

UPI Foreign News Analyst President Gerald R. Ford's state dinner for Jordan's King Hussein will be taken by foreign observers as a clear indication of the new President's priorities in foreign affairs.

Hussein and King Faisal of Saudi Arabia must rank side by side as the foremost of United States' friends among the Arab states, even in times of conflict. And the fact that Hussein turned out to be the honored guest at the first state dinner to be held by the new U.S. administration will be pleasing to both the moderate Arab states and to the Israelis.

Significance also will be attached to the unflinching continuation of U.S. foreign policy as pledged by Ford and executed by Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger in the transfer of power from former President Richard M. Nixon.

As the Nixon administration gradually became buried under the avalanche of Watergate, both the Arabs and Israelis feared the momentum toward Mideast peace would be lost. Further complicating the situation was a change of direction in the complicated negotiations looking toward a final settlement of the Arab-Israeli conflict.

After the Kissinger-engineered agreements on withdrawal of forces between Israel and the Egyptians and Syrians, it had been expected the next step would be further negotiations between Israel and Egypt.

Instead, the question of a similar withdrawal between the forces of Jordan and Israel suddenly intervened with all the possibilities of delay and a loss of momentum that both sides feared.

In the last two weeks, Kissinger and his aides have talked with Israeli and Jordanian officials. This week talks began with Egyptian Foreign Minister Ismail Fahmy.

The Egyptian talks will be double-barreled, dealing not only with Mideastern peace but also with implementation of the sweeping agreement reached in June by Egyptian President Anwar Sadat and President Nixon. That agreement included $250 million in U.S. economic aid and U.S. technological aid in Egyptian development of nuclear power for peaceful purposes.

Complicating life for Sadat is his relationship with the Palestinian guerrilla forces.

After a mid-July meeting in Cairo, Sadat and Hussein signed a communique in which Hussein agreed the Palestinian Liberation Organization would speak for Palestinians outside Jordan and he would be spokesman for those inside the country.

For Hussein, who previously had held himself to be spokesman for all Palestinians, it was a compromise that immediately was denounced by the Palestinian Liberation forces.

Israel has said it is willing to make some concessions to Jordan in any peace talks, placing such talks ahead of negotiations with Egypt. But it has warned that any agreement on territorial concessions must first go to a referendum of the Israeli people, possibly leading to new delays unwelcome to all sides.

These are some of the issues and the complications into which the new American President finds himself plunged in his first week in office.

Ford Mum on Choice For Vice President

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Ford, still keeping the nation and many of his closest allies in suspense over his choice for vice president, called Teamster President Frank Fitzsimmons for a chat today at the White House.

This was the second conference of the week by Ford with a high-level labor leader. He talked with George Meany on Tuesday. Fitzsimmons was the strongest supporter of President Richard M. Nixon in organized labor while Meany was one of Nixon's harshest critics.

On emerging from his home in Alexandria, Va.—which he will continue using until moving into the White House next week—Ford was asked this morning whether he had reached a decision on his selection for vice president.

No Decision

With a broad grin he said, "I haven't been thinking about it."

Former Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York has been prominently mentioned from the outset in speculation about vice presidential possibilities since it became apparent that Ford would be succeeding Nixon as President, and the Detroit Free Press said today Rockefeller now was by far the leading candidate.

The Free Press said Ford had been told by advisers that Rockefeller could give his administration expertise in several fields, ranging from economic matters to foreign policy experience.

The timing of the disclosure of Ford's preference was uncertain. He indicated Thursday it would come this weekend, but one close aide of the President said Ford would not unveil his choice for a few more days.

Discuss Economy

Fitzsimmons was summoned by Ford apparently to discuss the economy and the President's appeals for wage-price restraint in the battle against inflation.

Ford also had on his schedule a meeting with King Hussein of Jordan to review the Middle East situation. Hussein was the first head of state to visit Washington since Ford became President a week ago today.

As he has every day since taking office, Ford also conferred with Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger—with an ear attuned to an apparent new reduction of fighting on the island of Cyprus—as well as with White House Chief of Staff Alexander M. Haig.

A spokesman for the President reiterated Thursday that Ford had asked Haig to stay on in spite of some reported misgivings on the part of some longtime advisers that Rockefeller could give his administration expertise in several fields, ranging from economic matters to foreign policy experience.

The timing of the disclosure of Ford's preference was uncertain. He indicated Thursday it would come this weekend, but one close aide of the President said Ford would not unveil his choice for a few more days.

New Counsel

The first major staff change at the White House came Thursday when J. Fred Buzhardt was replaced as counsel by Ford's one-time law partner, Philip A. Bucher.

While continuing to ponder the vice presidential nomination—called by his aides "the most important decision" so far in his young administration—Ford scheduled an afternoon meeting with budget officials.

As part of his announced intention of reducing federal spending wherever feasible, Ford vetoed two bills as inflationary and threatened to veto a third while Congress moved quickly to give him an inflation-monitoring task force he wants.

Both the House and Senate Banking Committees quickly approved Ford's request for the "jawboning" agency Thursday, and both houses are tentatively scheduled to consider the bill Monday.

The President vetoed a bill Thursday to spend $47 million on animal research programs, saying it was inflationary. His first veto, for the same reason, was against pay increases for U.S. marshals misgivings on the part of some longtime

Ford, Jaworski Block Nixon Tape Transfer

WASHINGTON (UPI) — An angry President Ford and Special Prosecutor Leon Jaworski have blocked a move by Richard M. Nixon's lawyers to turn over the White House tapes to the former President.

White House officials, who declined to be identified for publication, indicated that Ford became upset when he learned that the lawyers, without Jaworski's approval, had ruled the tapes belonged to Nixon.

Puts Foot Down

The officials said Ford fretted that his administration "was becoming tarnished" by the tapes issue and so, "he put his foot down and said 'I'm not going to have it.'"

Thus, in quick succession Thursday: —President Secretary J. F. Terrell announced that Nixon's White House counsel, J. Fred Buzhardt, who had participated in the informal ruling that the tapes belonged to Nixon, had tendered his resignation and Ford accepted.

Placed In Vault

—Jaworski's office said in a terse announcement that the White House had agreed to hold the remaining Nixon tapes and documents in its vaults while the issue was reviewed.

On Wednesday, Nixon's chief Watergate attorney, James St. Clair, who resigned that day, and Buzhardt ruled that the Nixon materials not yet subpoenaed and or made public were his own property, presumably to dispose of as Nixon wished.

That announcement, channeled through the White House press office, erroneously said the decision had the endorsement of the special prosecutor and the Justice Department.

Jaworski's Thursday announcement indicated this was not the case, and White House officials suggested privately that Ford had been angered by "all this revival of the tapes issue."

Buzhardt Dismissed

Ford instructed chief of staff Alexander M. Haig, himself a holdover, to get

Buzhardt's resignation, the sources said, because Ford could no longer rely for legal advice on "Watergate holdovers who are just not believable anymore."

He also ordered the White House to consult with Jaworski and the ensuing statement, issued by Jaworski's office, said: —Representatives of the White House and the special prosecutor met today to discuss the status of the tapes and documents of the administration of former President Nixon. "It has been agreed that none of the files will be moved further discussion and the special prosecutor's office is satisfied with these arrangements."

Greek Cypriots Flew

Thousands of Greek Cypriots streamed southward from the area of Turkish conquest, the northern third of Cyprus along what the Turks call the "Attilla Line" stretching from the smoking port city of Famagusta on the east coast to the Lefka area in the west.

The capital of Nicosia was deserted by all but the last remnants of the outnumbered Greek Cypriot defenders. The Turkish forces, covered by tremendous tanks and artillery batteries, were advancing toward the airport four miles west of Nicosia. Canadian U.N. forces there were in danger of being cut off in what could bring a new confrontation between Turkey and the world body.

Russian Trade Bill Compromise Attained

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Ford Thursday moved closer to achieving one foreign policy goal that eluded former President Nixon — better trade relations with the Soviet Union — as settlement of the Jewish emigration question.

It would come through a compromise with members of Congress, led by Sen. Henry M. Jackson, D-Wash., who insisted that the Russians change their emigration policy toward Jews before Congress would grant the most-favored-nation status necessary for improving trade.

Internal Problem

The Russians have been trying to fight a wave of Jewish emigrants, many of them well educated and leaders in scientific and the conditions laid down by coastal states with straits through which the navies of the two superpowers must pass.

One key delegate told UPI the softened U.S. position on the economic zone was presented in a working paper at one of the commissions at the 148-nation conference. He said the paper shows the U.S. moving closer to the demands of developing nations for broad control over all activities out to 200 miles.

Open To Compromise

The United States recognizes that there are some things about the position of the developing countries with which it can live," the delegate said.

The developing nations at the 16-week conference have insisted on virtual sovereignty over a 200-mile sea while the major maritime powers, led by the United States, favored a 12-mile territorial sea plus a 188-mile economic zone. The United States had conditioned its support of the economic zone on access for fishing and scientific research.

China's Ling Ching has accused the United States and Russia of "emasculating" the economic zone concept by placing so many conditions on acceptance.

Conference Ends Aug. 29

The conference, which ends Aug. 29, was called to draft a new treaty to replace the 17th century sea code outdated by technological advances and the birth of new nations. Besides the question of territorial seas, the conference is also discussing such matters as sea bed exploitation and pollution control.

The United States had rejected a compromise proposal put forward by Canada and eight other nations because it made no mention of free passage of shipping through the more than 100 straits in the world. Now, however, the two superpowers were said to be willing to accept a number of conditions proposed by the coastal states as long and this did not imply the actual stopping of their vessels.

Turkish Troops Split Up Cyprus

By United Press International

The Turkish General Staff Command announced today its armored columns would air and naval support had smashed through Greek Cypriot lines and reached the west coast of Cyprus, thus completing the drive to slice off the upper third of the island. It said the Turkish offensive would end at noon EDT.

The three-day war between Turkey and Greece lessened today with assurances by Greek Premier Constantine Karamanlis that he would invade Cyprus and official Turkish statements that Turkey would heed the fourth United Nations call for a cease-fire.

The Greek Defense Minister Hasan Eaat said the triumphant Turks would halt their offensive "in a matter of hours."

The Premier Bulent Ecevit told newsmen in Istanbul that the Turkish military operation will end at 7 p.m. (noon EDT). He made the announcement after a cabinet meeting.

autonomous Greek and Turkish Cypriots united in a federation. Greece had bitterly opposed this.

The crisis was triggered on July 15 when the Greek Cypriot national guard led by Greek officers overthrew President Archbishop Makarios in a coup Turkey feared would lead to enosis, union of Cyprus with Greece. It was a move that backfired. Greece's military junta fell and on July 20 Turkey invaded Cyprus.

Letter Carriers May Take 'Job Action'

SEATTLE, Wash. (UPI) — The National Association of Letter Carriers Thursday threatened "job action," including a possible illegal strike, if the Postal Service goes through with proposed changes in job requirements for those delivering mail.

The association, at its annual convention, said it was unhappy because of a James Haldemacher, national president of the letter carriers, said he would go to Washington, D.C., Monday to confer with his executive council on possible "job action" protests. He said that, if Congress does not vote the association the right to strike by the time the present contract runs out July 20, 1975, he "would accept" (the Postal Service) doesn't back down. A strike would be illegal, but they can't throw 200,000 men in jail, although it's not impossible national officers could be jailed.

J. Stanley Lewis, executive vice president of the letter carriers, said a "job action" to protest the possible job changes could include such moves as "working only according to the rules" or possible hit-and-run strikes.

Nixon Subpoenaed In Ehrlichman Case

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A U.S. District Court has sent a check for $302 in "witness and mileage" fees along with a subpoena commanding Richard M. Nixon, private citizen, to testify in court about his actions as president.

The subpoena, issued by lawyers for John D. Ehrlichman, once Nixon's No. 2 aide and now a Watergate cover-up defendant, was addressed to "Presidential Compound, San Clemente, Calif.," it tells Nixon, "You are hereby commanded to appear" in court the morning of Sept. 9 for the start of the trial.

There was no word from Nixon's aides whether he would fight the subpoena now that he has no executive privilege, but Nixon probably won't have to address the question by Sept. 9.

Agree To Delay

Special Prosecutor Leon Jaworski Thursday agreed with requests by four of the six defendants for a delay in the trial, and U.S. District Court Judge John J. Sirica scheduled a hearing on the issue for Monday. Sirica has previously indicated he would like the trial to go on as scheduled.

Former Assistant Attorney General Robert C. Mardian Thursday became the fourth defendant to ask for a delay on grounds of recent publicity. The others are Ehrlichman, former Nixon chief of staff H.R. Haldeman and former Attorney General John N. Mitchell.

The delay in the pre-trial proceedings, Jaworski agreed that a "reasonable" delay is warranted. He said, however, that publicity is not the factor, but that "intervening circumstances affecting the trial preparation of all parties" warrant postponement.

Those intervening circumstances, Jaworski said, were Nixon's surrender of 55 more of his Watergate tapes under order of the Supreme Court.

Jaworski said his staff needs time to study them once they are received from the court.

"It seems only fair that the defendants be afforded a reasonable opportunity to listen to the tapes, verify the accuracy of the government's transcripts and integrate this new material into their trial strategy," Jaworski said. "Defendant Kenneth Wells Parkinson, former lawyer for the Committee to Re-elect the President, has opposed any delay and wants a separate trial. The sixth defendant, Gordon C. Strachan, who was Haldeman's political liaison with CRP, has not yet taken any position.
