

Cost Put At $50,000 For Parker St. Culvert

When the Manchester Board of Directors allocated $60,000 on Aug. 26 for a new culvert on Woodbridge St. over Bigelow Brook, it asked town officials for a report on a possible replacement culvert on Parker St.

The board received the report Tuesday night. Town Manager Robert Weiss estimated the replacement would cost about $50,000. He said the proposal is to add two 6-foot culverts, placed parallel.

Weiss' report took almost one minute. It was accepted without discussion. The replacement Parker St. culvert is being recommended by Jay Giles, director of public works, and Walter Senkow, town engineer.

Both agree with remarks made Aug. 26 by Kenneth Strum, whose Parker St. property abuts Bigelow Brook. Strum warned that the new culvert on Woodbridge St. would be wider than the existing one on Parker St.

"A tunnel will be created," he explained, "with the smaller end at Parker St., thus causing some flooding there. A dam will be created there, with resultant backup."

The board, Tuesday night, tabled to Sept. 10 action on two items of old business. A proposal for a new access road into Charter Oak Field and a request for sidewalks on the south side of E. Center St., from Plymouth Lane to Pitkin St.

Weiss is recommending twin entry and exit opposite Spruce St. into Charter Oak Field at an estimated cost of about $90,000. The existing road at that point is for entry only, with the exit further east, over water department land.

The tabling action is to determine the traffic effect of entry and exit at Spruce St. and to examine town finances. The request for E. Center St. sidewalks is in the form of a signature petition, citing the dangerous situation there for pedestrians, particularly children.

Senkow, who acknowledged the dangerous situation, has estimated the sidewalks (including a retaining wall) would cost about $15,000.

Town Seeks Bids On Sand Spreader Bids will be opened Sept. 16 in the Municipal Building for applying the Manchester Highway Department with a hopper-type hydraulic sand spreader and with three reversible, trip-edge snowplows.

Renovations on Schedule At Two Schools, Says TBC

The renovations and new construction at Bennet Junior High School and Iling Junior School are both going according to schedule, said Paul Phillips, chairman of the Town Building Committee.

The committee met Tuesday night at the Municipal Building with Mankey Associates, architects for Bennet, and The Lawrence Associates, architects for Iling.

Richard Mankey, representing his firm, gave a rundown on the tentative schedule of complete dates at the Bennet compound. The schedule, according to Phillips, is a revised one considering the unavailability of steel which has set the original schedule back about four months. Mankey said the Main Building at Bennet should be completed in November; the Franklin Building in March 1975, the Barnard Building in January 1976, the Arts Building (the old trade school), and the East Side Recreation Building, both September 1975, and the new building in August 1975.

"A month has been lost because of delayed starting dates," according to Phillips, "but the building is now on schedule and should hold up pretty good," he said.

Richard Lawrence, architect, told the committee the completion date at Iling should be January 1976.

At present, the primary objective is to finish converting the school's gas system from oil to gas, said Phillips. Also, workers are completing the new parking lot in front of the school on the west side of the police station so that it may be completed in a couple of weeks.

separate report on the police investigation.

Meskill said no payments were made under the lease questioned by Smith and his office did not get involved in the criminal investigation of the lease.

Smith said that a question has arisen as to whether the suspended sentence given O'Marra and his return to state employment constituted a kind of "plea bargaining" to keep Kozlowski out of the picture.

Meskill said at the time he asked Gormley to make the investigation he also asked the state police department to provide any required assistance.

When the problem was discovered by my office I immediately called for an investigation which has long since been concluded," Meskill said.

Last week Smith said a complete investigation by the government was in order to clear up the controversy surrounding state leases.

"As a governor who is not seeking re-election, you are in a position to open the windows and let the light of truth illuminate every corner of this muddled mess," Smith said.

Smith said news reports indicate that Kozlowski had gone to what was described as extraordinary lengths to expedite approval of certain leases.

Merchants Oppose Spending For More Downtown Study

Leading merchants of downtown Main St. Wednesday night strongly criticized a proposal to spend the $8,000 remaining in the budget of the Mayor's Downtown Action Committee (DAC) for a directional study to be done by DAC's consultant.

"I don't feel we've received value for the $2,000 spent already," said Louis Apter of Regal Men's Store. "Why spend another $8,000?" he asked.

Apter's comments and those of other merchants came during a joint meeting of DAC members and the Downtown Revitalization Steering Committee of the Greater Manchester Chamber of Commerce. The meeting in the Municipal Building was called to review the directional study plan of Downtown Manchester submitted to the Chamber committee by the consultant, Dennis Brown of Brown, Donald and Donald of Farmington.

William Sleith, chairman of DAC, acted as chairman of the meeting. He supported going ahead with the study.

Everett J. Livsey, Chamber vice president of the Urban Affairs Division, went over the proposed study and spoke in favor of it.

The merchants present, about 10 of the 25 in the hearing room, then began asking questions. The questions became more and more sharp. Towards the end of the meeting, they were openly critical of the proposal and even of the previous efforts of Brown.

Apter said, "I don't know what we've gotten for our money. It sounds very impressive, but I don't know what he's going to accomplish. We've gotten nothing but pictures so far, and I haven't even seen it."

Marlow said, "I look down the road and this is it. When that $8,000 is gone, there you're at. I think Main St. isn't bad, I like the signs. Our signs (Regal's) would cost $12,000 to change."

People Demand Cures, Ford Tells Economists

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Ford, opening a pressurized meeting of 28 economists, said today the American people are "sick and tired of having politics played with their pocketbooks."

Ford, sitting at the center of a blue-covered 50-foot-long conference table in the East Room of the White House, urged the economists to set aside their usually conflicting views as much as possible to come up with practical, workable solutions to the "deadly enemy" of inflation.

"The people want right answers — not a long list of alternative answers," Ford said in his opening remarks. Ford said the people of America are demanding solutions to the twin and bewildering problems of inflation and unemployment.

Ford planned to go about his business today and then meet late this afternoon again with the economists to receive their suggestions and their consensus, if they are able to reach one.

On the other hand, he cautioned that the solution will not be immediate, saying there is "no quick fix" to a problem that requires the nation's will power and sacrifice.

While the burdens do not fall evenly on everyone, Ford said, the solution must be designed to share them as evenly as possible and to share the resulting prosperity as well.

Ford said during the swearing-in ceremony Wednesday that he shares Greenspan's optimistic approach to the economy.

"I like his approach," he said of Greenspan. "He is recognized as an optimist. I happen to believe that despite the problems we face we have to be optimistic about what we can do about them."

Greenspan, a highly successful business adviser, is a laissez faire economist who believes the less the government does the better. Nominated by former President Richard Nixon, he was retained by Ford and succeeded Herbert Stein.

He started out as a clarinetist and Ford said his job now would be to "stop playing the blues and start curing the blues."

There is always a chance that a government decision on a tax hike since we have been considering it some time," a government spokesman said Wednesday. "But no official decision has yet been taken."

The American oil giant, which supplies a third of U.S. petroleum imports, now charges oil companies a flat 60 percent income tax.

WEST HARTFORD (UPI) — Democratic gubernatorial candidate Rep. Ellis T. Grasso, D-Conn., today called on the legislature to close a loophole that allows the Public Utilities Commission (PUC) to sidestep petitions for public hearings.

Mrs. Grasso said that if a special legislative session is called to deal with the utility fee adjustment controversy, she would ask that the hearing loophole be plugged.

Ehrlichman Subpoenaes Many Nixon Documents

WASHINGTON (UPI) — John D. Ehrlichman has subpoenaed the Secret Service for hundreds of Nixon-era White House files to use as possible evidence in his Watergate cover-up trial.

Ehrlichman's subpoena, served on Secret Service director H.S. Knight, is the second major summons his lawyers have issued for the Sept. 30 trial.

The first was for the testimony of former President Richard Nixon, named an unindicted conspirator in the Watergate cover-up by which Ehrlichman and five other former aides stand accused of criminal charges.

This subpoena ordered Knight to turn over 14 batches of documents to U.S. District Court by 10 a.m. Sept. 16.

It was issued Aug. 29 but not made public until Wednesday. Secret Service spokesman Jack Warner confirmed it had been received. "Our legal counsel is reviewing it now," he said.

Grand Jury Indicts Seven Oil Companies

NEW YORK (UPI) — Seven major oil companies were indicted by a special state grand jury today on charges of restraining competition among themselves in the sale of gasoline to state agencies.

The indictments alleged that the companies — Exxon, Mobil, Texaco, Shell, Gulf, Sunoco and Amoco — "eliminated or attempted to eliminate price competition" by agreeing to thwart open bidding on the sale of gasoline to governmental agencies.

A separate indictment also charged Exxon, Gulf and Mobil with attempting to eliminate competition from independent gasoline stations. Innocent pleas also were entered to that indictment.

Acting after state Attorney General Louis Lefkowitz charged that four oil companies had diverted one million gallons of home-heating oil during the Arab oil embargo and sold it later at exorbitant prices.

The attorney general later asked for the subpoenaing of the special grand jury to investigate possible criminal violations of the Donnelly Act, the state's antitrust law.

CARACAS (UPI) — Venezuela is studying possible tax increases against foreign oil companies operating in the country, but has not yet reached a final decision.

LOTTERY The Connecticut lottery drawing will take place at 7:30 tonight in Bridgeport.

Sleith Would Back Marlow's Store Plan

William Sleith, chairman of the Mayor's Downtown Action Committee (DAC), said at its meeting at 8 o'clock this morning in the Municipal Building, he would spend his own money if necessary to help George Marlow, Marlow's Department Store, improve his store.

Sleith reported to the DAC the results of the meeting Wednesday night at which downtown merchants rejected the idea to spend the DAC's remaining $8,000 on a directional study. He noted their sharp criticisms, especially the comments of Marlow.

Marlow seemed to have a good deal more ambitious look into the future than the DAC, Sleith said.

"Marlow is ready to build a whole new store if the parking can be put in front of it instead of in back," Sleith said, recalling not only Marlow's comments at the meeting but other comments with Sleith in the past.

"I'm going to Dennis Brown (of the consultant firm, Brown, Donald and Donald of Farmington), even at my own expense, to have that part of Main St. all set back."

Sleith said he would ask Brown to propose a workable plan using Marlow's ideas. These include using the old Marlow store site for a large, U-shaped parking lot with a green space. Cars would park on an angle in it, he suggested.

"It's a courageous approach. But it appeals to those who are not entranced with Dennis Brown's proposals to paint and change a few signs," Sleith said.

"Here we have a merchant who is not stupid. He wants to do it. We ought to look at it a little further," Sleith concluded.

Other Committee Matters Other matters before the DAC this morning included:

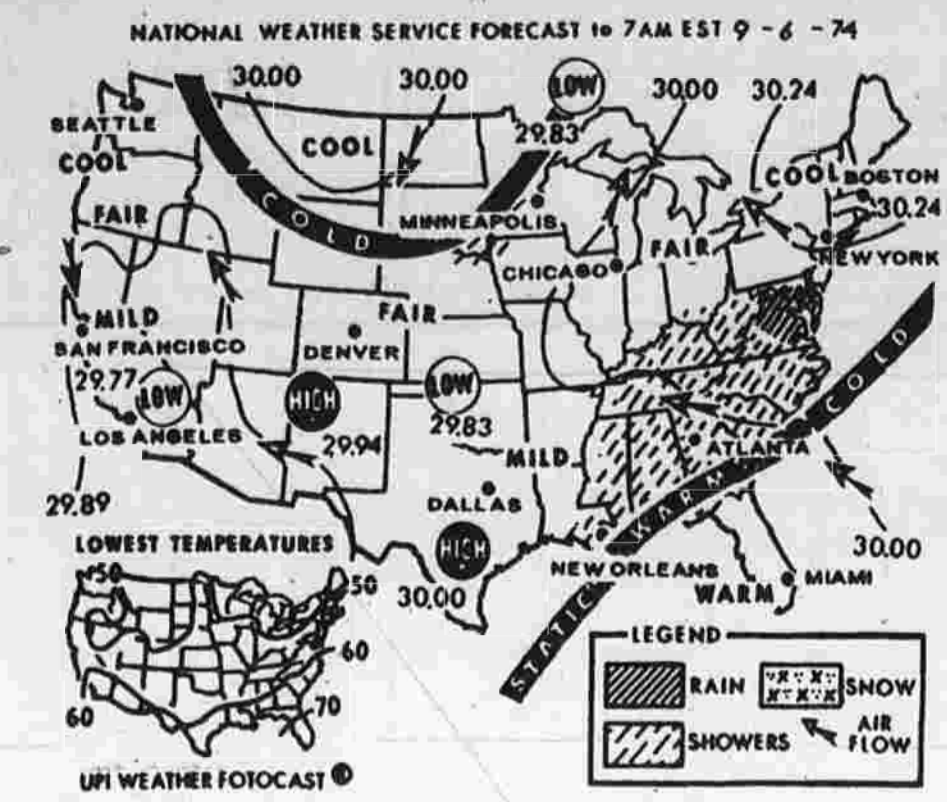

Richard Clark, president of the Greater Manchester Chamber of Commerce, spoke on the idea of enlarging the area served by the Manchester Parking Authority and also enlarging its scope.

Robert Gorman, chairman of the authority, said special downtown parking districts are positive forces in other cities. They often go beyond just parking problems to such things as promoting sales, leasing down buildings and building.

Manchester Evening Herald OPINION

One Price of Success

Here is a truly disturbing commentary on the times we live in. Top business executives, who have worked hard to achieve prominence in their fields, are now being urged to work equally hard to achieve obscurity and become just another face in the crowd.

Alerting the family to watch for and report to police any strangers in the neighborhood - in parked cars, afoot or slowly bicycling about.

Personally writing for hotel reservations without mentioning company affiliation and picking up tickets at the airport when traveling, and even then purposely arriving earlier or later than expected.

"It all boils down to us never doing the same thing once, or reversing what comes naturally like eating in a favorite restaurant, or being expected regularly at the club at a certain time, or taking the same route home after work," observed one business leader at an executive protection seminar in New York.

Such seminars are being conducted in major U.S. cities by Burns International Investigation Bureau, whose director, M. Fred Rayne, has testified on anti-kidnap techniques and urban guerrilla tactics before the House Committee on Internal Security.

Arms Race Between Cops and Crooks?

WASHINGTON - (NEA) - In the past when a policeman told a suspect to "halt or I'll blow your head off" he was merely parroting a figure of speech. Today, sadly, it's more than tough talk.

The Connecticut State Police is one of the latest departments to upgrade its sidearm capacity. Tests there indicate the .357 is so atomic it can shoot through an automobile engine block. The hollow nose, it has been shown, will not pass through a human being with a neat little hole, as with the "weak" old .38, but almost explode on striking so as to confine its massive damage, as a spokesman puts it, "inside the perpetrator."

Next they will want howitzers mounted on squad cars, for, God knows, a 106mm shell would really do the job more quickly and more effectively.

It would not be a hoax, admittedly, if upon hearing of new police weapons, criminals would all back off in fear. But they won't. If anything, things will get new weapons of their own. "What can result," said David Steinberg of the National Council for a Responsible Firearm Policy, "is a kind of arms race. Even non-criminals could get involved. We know that many law-abiding citizens, as spokesmen, see police as their enemies and actually arm themselves against irresponsible police. If they hear that policemen now have magnum weapons, they may get about crime except make it bloodier.

New City Advisory Vote Encouraging, Says Walsh

COVENTRY
Monica Shea
Correspondent

Robert "Skip" Walsh, Democratic candidate for state representative from the 5th District, said he is "encouraged" by the action of Coventry's Town Council in moving to place the question of a new city for Coventry on a special referendum ballot.
Walsh, who initiated a petition to place the matter on a ballot which was signed by over 200 residents, noted that "it is unfortunate that there is presently no state law which provides for citizens to make a binding decision on such questions," but promised that if he is elected to represent the 5th District he would "press for legislation that would allow every voter to become involved in the decision-making process of government."
"A major problem of government today," Walsh said, "is that the people feel left out. What I'm hoping is to be able to create a legislative climate which will encourage rather than discourage citizen participation."
"By its action in placing this question on a ballot, the Coventry Town Council has lived up to the Democratic party pledge of last year to involve people in government. I endorse this kind of action and wholeheartedly support any effort that seeks more direct means of public participation," he said.
Walsh added that he hopes every resident "will take advantage of this opportunity to let their elected and appointed officials know their feelings on this crucial issue."
"My personal opposition to the new city is well known," he said, "but I hope all Coventry citizens, regardless of their position, will vote on this question."

Lord Mayor Says His Town Run by 54-Member Council

COVENTRY
Monica Shea

In his address to the Rotary Club Wednesday night, the Lord Mayor of Coventry, England, Dennis Berry, outlined his town and its form of government.
Lord Mayor Berry informed the club that his town is approximately 20 square miles and has a population of 550,000. A 54-member council, which is elected, is responsible for the running of the town. There are 18 wards in the town and each ward has three members on the council.
Lord Mayor Berry has been a member of the council for 19 years.
The council has the right to appoint committee chairmen and Lord Mayor Berry said, "I must be frank and say that the chairmen are appointed on a political basis. We have as socialist council, 43 Social party and 12 Conservative party, so our chairmen are all Socialists."
Lord Mayor explained his Coventry's interest in international friendship since the Second World War when 75 per cent of Coventry was destroyed. We have 23 sister towns and a link with every country in Europe except Spain. We have links in America, Canada and Australia. We are very interested in getting large groups of children to visit our country and have our children visit other countries."
"Coventry, England has problems just the same as yours; we face increasing costs and the rates (taxes) keep going up."
"It must be hard for your Coventry to keep rates (taxes) down when you have no industry. You have only houses to support your schools."
His job is full-time, unlike our mayors, and he only serves for one year.
Lord Mayor Berry and his wife, the Mayoress Penny Berry, will be leaving for England on Sunday.

A MODERN PHARMACY

A recent survey by public opinion analyst Louis Harris revealed that a high proportion of Americans are much concerned about personal failings such as eating too much, being out of shape physically, not reading enough, wasting too much time. In fact, he says, worries about such personal failings beset some of the population almost all of the time. His observation was that the principal worries are college-educated, upper income professionals and executives, while the people who worry least are farmers. They are physically active, and they experience genuine, not imaginary, fatigue at the end of each day. The professional and executive groups live principally in their minds; they can't keep up with all that they want to do...

Red Cross Fails In Fund Raising

ANDOVER
Donna Holland
Correspondent
Tel. 646-6373
Dr. Ralph Wolmer announced the 1974 fund-raising campaign for the Three Town Chapter of the Columbia Red Cross was less than successful.
He said the quota to be raised was $5,000, only $1,000 was contributed.
Dr. Wolmer is acting chairman of the chapter which covers Andover, Columbia and Hebron.
He said, "The lack of response is disheartening. Only a small number of parents whose children are in the water safety program contributed. It is our largest, most expensive one and our best program."
Dr. Wolmer said it costs about $2.50 per season to water proof one child. Perhaps these parents will reconsider, he said.
"Our bank balance is slowly being depleted in spite of a sizeable contribution for the swimming program in Columbia and generous donations from two foundations," he said.
"They have prolonged the life of the chapter but it can't go on forever," he said.
The chapter pays for expenses to the blood program in which donors gave 250 pints of blood last year.
It manages the first aid and emergency medical technicians program as well as home service, disaster relief and a medical supply loan closet.

Dan Groobert's Sour Pickles

When Dan Groobert was a little boy, his mother and I, along with many other mothers, sat alongside the pool and watched. Later, there were the training sessions for a swim team and still later, golf lessons.

Dan always had a pleasant nature. If a child were upset or had an altercation with another youngster, Dan would ease the scene. If someone showed short temper, Dan understood. "Oh, he doesn't feel good today," or similar comment would be forthcoming.

His early interest in swimming has carried through. Now entering his junior year at Manchester High School, Dan is a member of the scuba diving club, the Deep Sixers. A young man of many interests, Dan hasn't yet decided what he wants to do as a life's vocation. He may become a marine biologist or still yet a moving picture cameraman or perhaps a writer.

Dan has made movies at home and has used his hobby in his school work. Last year, he made a movie concerning Roman history as a class project.

In his spare time, he plays guitar which he still studies and writes short stories of fantasy. Recent titles include "Alex in Blunderland," "Poots 'n Boots." This is one demonstration of Dan's quiet sense of humor.

The versatile young man also enjoys working with his hands. As the result of a woodworking class at high school, he has made tables for his home.

Dan is a member of the Youth Commission and of Temple Beth Shalom. He is a Manchester native, the son of Beverly Nelber Groobert and Atty. Paul Groobert. His aunt is Connie Hunt who is married to Beverly's brother, Dr. Seymour Nelber, a local dentist. He lives at 134 Ludlow Rd. Dan has a twin sister, Hilkey.

Several years ago, Dan brought me a gift. His grandfather, Herman Groobert, had been visiting the family from Florida and had made his annual batch of Jewish sour pickles.

I am a great dill-pickle lover especially if they are nice and crunchy. These were good and crisp with a marvelous flavor. I could envision myself enjoying one a day for quite some time. I place the gallon jar in our extra refrigerator.

A few days later, I opened the refrigerator to find a large dent in my pickle supply. Later in the afternoon, I discovered my son Tom dipping into what was now his favorite snack.

These pickles are so tasty that I encouraged Dan to learn his grandfather's technique. Most pickles are made today with vinegar. These secure their flavor from a natural process of fermentation. They will ripen in as little as a week in warm weather, are excellent in three weeks. The longer they are kept the more sour they will become.

This process should not be confused with a canning process which preserves foods for longer periods. You can keep the pickles for up to six months. They will not spoil after that but you may find that they are too sour. At any rate, I doubt if they will last that long.

Jewish Sour Pickles
For One Gallon
1 entire stalks fresh dill
1 tablespoon pickling spice
3 red peppers to each gallon
4 pieces garlic

Mix well four tablespoons of coarse kosher salt with some water and add to the jar. Then, fill rest of jar with plain water to cover the top of the pickles. Screw jars in place and allow to ripen about three weeks. For half-sour pickles, keep cover very loose. This same recipe may be used to pickle green tomatoes.

Connors Paces Tennis Winners, Evert-Goolagong Semi Match Set

FOREST HILLS, N.Y. (UPI) — While 20-year-old Vijay Amritraj of India played—and lost—in two doubles matches yesterday, his opponent in today's first match of the U.S. Open Tennis Championships quarterfinals, Ken Rosewall, rested his 38-year-old legs.

After a hectic Wednesday which saw Chris Evert advance to the semifinals, amid boos and insults from a small contingent in the crowd of 10,000, and thus set up a classic match against Evonne Goolagong on Friday, the stage belongs today to the men today.

Following the Amritraj-Rosewall match, Stan Smith and Roscoe Tanner face each other before Smith's archival, but seeded Jimmy Connors, takes on the tough Russian, Alex Metreveli.

Meanwhile, defending champion John Newcombe goes into battle against 1968 winner Arthur Ashe.

Smith, Connors, Metreveli all advanced on Wednesday, while Rosewall and the other three moved up on Tuesday.

Amritraj lost a mixed doubles match with Kathy May, a men's doubles with his brother Anand yesterday, while Newcombe won with pal, Tony Roche, to gain the semis of the men's doubles. Like Rosewall, Ashe was completely idle Wednesday.

Tanner had the scariest escape of all in Wednesday's finest match. The 22-year-old again went five sets, this time against Egypt's Ismail El Shafie, losing two of three tiebreaks but winning the most important one in the fifth set to post a 6-3, 6-7, 7-5, 6-7, 7-6.

Tanner had put out Ilie Nastase after being two sets down, and earlier, again two sets down, had whipped Britain's Roger Taylor. It seems too much to ask of the young man to handle Smith, whom he has never beaten, in such a pressure match as he faces today.

Southern Golf Open Green, Snead Choices

COLUMBUS, Ga. (UPI) — Hubert Green, the No. 3 money winner, and J.C. Snead, who came in second in the first Tournament Players' Championship last Monday, were rated solid threats today in the fifth annual Southern Open golf tournament.

Green, however, has never scored well here, failing to make the cut two of the past three years. Snead shot 14-under-par to wind up second in the Southern Open golf tournament.

Connors turned livid in post match interviews when he heard Miss Evert grate and won every one of them, the last being in the final of the Australian Open in January. Miss Goolagong was coming into top form in a good workout win over Kerry Melville, 6-4, 7-5. She looks extremely fit.

Green, who has banked $183,415 this year and has won three tournaments, putting Courtney and Jim Wiechers, who have not won a PGA event since 1969, shot 65 and 68, respectively, in Wednesday's pro-am tuneup and could be considered among the favorites.

Most of the big names, including 1971 winner Johnny Miller, the tour's leading money winner, and defending champion Gary Player, passed this one up.

But Bruce Crampton, who finished third in the TPC, Bob Murphy and Brian Allin, high on the list, are in the field which tackles the 6,791-yard, par-70 Green Island Country Club course.

Connors turned livid in post match interviews when he heard Miss Evert grate and won every one of them, the last being in the final of the Australian Open in January. Miss Goolagong was coming into top form in a good workout win over Kerry Melville, 6-4, 7-5. She looks extremely fit.

For Miss Evert, this is her fourth Forest Hills semi final in 1971, to Miss Melville in 1972 and to champion Margaret Court last year.

Mrs. King advanced routinely with her usual over-pal Rosemary Casals, 6-1, 7-6, and will face Julie Heldman in the semis, much to her delight.

Miss Heldman, it will be remembered, beat Mrs. King here a year ago when she collapsed in the blazing heat. Miss Heldman at that time called the umpire's attention to the fact that the time period for changing court was up and Mrs. King had to continue play or retire.

Mrs. King looked at her and said, "If you want it that bad, you can have it."

Settle on QB Steelers' Goal

IRVING, Tex. (UPI) — Hoping to register their first exhibition campaign ever and still trying to settle on a No. 1 quarterback, the Pittsburgh Steelers met Dallas tonight in a nationally televised preview to the regular season.

With the opening games only a week away—Pittsburgh will entertain Baltimore Sept. 15 and Dallas will visit Atlanta—both clubs are less than secure at quarterback.

The Steelers have plenty to choose from. It's just a question of which one Coach Chuck Noll will select as his No. 1 man—Joe Gilliam or Terry Bradshaw.

Cowboy Coach Tom Landry, who has a lot of experience choosing between two quarterbacks, knows perfectly well who his No. 1 signal caller is. The only trouble is that the man Landry has chosen, Roger Staubach, will be sitting on the bench tonight for the second straight game with two cracked ribs.

"We are going to play Roger as soon as we can," Landry said. "He is throwing well now without pain and I think he will get a lot of work in next week."

Craig Morton, therefore, will start for Dallas while Gilliam and Bradshaw are expected to share the work for Pittsburgh.

Noll has not decided Wednesday which quarterback will play in the first half. The performance of Bradshaw and Gilliam against the rugged Dallas defense will be the final criteria Noll can use to choose his starting quarterback against Baltimore.

Pittsburgh's starting offensive guards—Sam Davis and Bruce Van Dyke—will miss the game and free safety Gene Edwards is also doubtful with a knee injury.

Other than Staubach, the normal Cowboy starting lineup should be complete. The teams are not scheduled to meet during the regular season.

"Pittsburgh has great team speed and they are very aggressive," Landry said. "They are as aggressive as any team we will see all year. And, of course, they have very talented people. They have great confidence in their passing game."

Gilliam, who has started three games for Pittsburgh, has completed 69 per cent of his passes this year for 988 yards and nine touchdowns. The Cowboys have set one of their goals this season to improve their pass defense and they have done that thus far.

"But this should be a pretty good test for our secondary," Landry said.

College Season Kicks Off UCLA Meets Vols Highlighting Slate

NEW YORK (UPI) — Dick Crum has one hell of an act to follow.

Crum begins his first season as head football coach of Miami of Ohio Saturday when the Redskins entertain Eastern Michigan and all he is doing is taking over a team which compiled an 11-0 record last year, including a win in the Tangerine Bowl, while ranking first nationally in both total defense and rushing defense.

Fortunately, for Crum, he was the main architect of that defense, serving as assistant coach to Bill Mallory the last four years during which time Miami never finished lower than sixth nationally in defense.

Crum stepped up to his present job when Mallory quit to become head coach at Colorado, thus joining a long list of other coaches who first gained prominence at Miami and then moved on to bigger and better things. The list includes, among others, Woody Hayes (Ohio State), John Pont (Northwestern), Ara Parseghian (Notre Dame), Bob Schenckler (Michigan), and Sid Gillman (Houston Oilers).

Miami-Eastern Michigan is one of about a dozen games that kick off the collegiate football season with probably the best matchup set for Knoxville, Tenn., where UCLA and Tennessee meet in a nationally televised battle.

Miami, known with good reason as the "Cradle of Coaches," and Penn State currently possess the longest major college winning streaks and the Redskins will get first crack at No. 13 since the Nittany Lions don't begin their season until Sept. 14.

In addition to UCLA and Tennessee, both ranked in the pre-season top 20, other major clashes include Mississippi at Tulane, Houston at Arizona State, Oregon State at Syracuse, Villanova at Richmond, North Carolina State at Wake Forest, New Mexico State at Wichita State, Memphis State at Louisville and Santa Clara at San Jose State.

UCLA was 9-2 last year and again will set its sights on trying to beat arch rival Southern California for Pacific 8 honors. The game will mark the debut of Dick Vermeil as head coach of the Bruins. Vermeil replaced Pepper Rodgers, who got tired of playing second fiddle to USC's John McKay and took over as head coach of Georgia Tech.

Rodgers has the dubious honor of guiding the Yellow Jackets when they take the field Monday night on national television against Notre Dame.

Matuszek Fighting Entire Oiler Club

HOUSTON (UPI) — John Matuszak faces the entire NFL Houston Oiler team and coaching staff today trying to prove his right to defect to the WFL Houston Texans.

It's really up to the Oilers to show cause before State District Judge Arthur C. Leshner why the 6-foot-8, 285-pound defensive tackle should be held to his four-year Oiler contract.

Matuszak was served with a temporary restraining order last week in the middle of the Texas-New York Stars game. Leshner must decide whether to continue that order as a temporary injunction, thus preventing Matuszak from playing for the Texans until the Oiler contract can be tried later on its merits.

It's possible Matuszak could be allowed to play for the Texans until the trial. During that trial, the Oilers could seek return of monetary damages from his changing teams.

The Texans have subpoenaed the entire Oiler team, management and coaching staff to give testimony regarding their contracts. They believe Matuszak has a loophole in his contract which legally allows him to jump from the Oilers to the Texans and validates the reported $1 million contract with the WFL team he signed last week.

The Oilers contend his four-year plus one option year contract — reportedly worth $190,000 a year—is valid and Matuszak shouldn't be allowed to play for any other team until it expires in 1977.

Texas Coach Jim Garrett said he isn't going to court.

Lab Technicians Graduate

Four graduates of Manchester Community College became certified medical laboratory technicians Tuesday in the main conference room at Manchester Memorial Hospital. Dr. Frederick P. Becker, chief of pathology, presented the certificates.

This year's graduates are Sandra Szcziel, 110 Lyness St.; Joann Rinaldi, New Britain; Renee Feckto, 655 Mt. Vernon Dr.; Vernon, and Robert A. Dixon, 10 W. Middle Tpke.

Dixon will join the hospital laboratory staff.

The two-year program completed by the four graduates consists of one year of academic courses at Manchester Community College followed by 50 weeks of practical application in the Manchester Memorial Hospital laboratory.

The two-year program, which leads to both a degree as associate in science and to certification as a medical laboratory technician, has been in existence at the hospital since July 1967, and has been approved by the American Society of Clinical Pathologists as an accredited educational program.

Some of the areas in which the student technicians have served during their training are bacteriology, biochemistry, blood bank, and hematology, where they actively participated in many of the 140,000 laboratory tests and analyses performed each year.

Apartment Expansion Approved

The Planning and Zoning Commission has approved a zone change for the addition of 80 one-bedroom apartments to the Norwegian Woods Apartments on Rt. 155.

The change from Residential A to Multiple Family for the 10.9 acre was granted by developer Gardner Chapman. A public hearing was held July 1 on the zone change, at which time Chapman's attorney noted that plans called for only half the density allowed under the current regulations. Norwegian Woods now has 84 units.

Action on an application for a zone change on 10 acres to allow the development of condominiums on Baxter St. was postponed until Sept. 16.

Plans for a 96-acre, 78-lot subdivision "The Natural Estates," will be worked out by PZC member Douglas Hatch and engineers Grunwald & Pass. G&P recommends the plan go back to the developers, Lee & Lamont Realty, for revision on drainage and road layout.

Approval for a savings and loan bank was granted to Eldredge Vost for the shopping center on Rt. 195.

The commission accepted the resignation of its clerk, Judy Dean, effective Oct. 1.

Soil Test Results Good On SNETCO Property

Clarence Wely were satisfactory. Harkins said, both for a building proper and sewage disposal. He has also looked at other possible future sites for a town hall on the opposite side of the Green and on Old Post Rd. Selectman Stuart Joslin took Harkins to task for overlooking his authorization. Joslin said, "I am concerned that you went further than authorized to see if SNETCO property was available, charging that money was spent for testing and that Harkins also looked at other property."

Harkins and other board members took the attitude that the town could not seriously express an interest in a piece of property without knowing whether it could be built upon. Harkins said that SNETCO is not putting pressure on the town to decide and that an Aug. 30 option has been extended.

A report from the space study committee should be forthcoming within a month.

Other Action
Other action taken by the Board of Selectmen Tuesday: A $5,000 appropriation from the General Fund was approved, to be financed by a state grant, for the Emergency Employment Act. Harkins reported that an unemployed veteran has been hired for nine months under the grant. The payroll is submitted to the Capital Region Council of Governments and is reimbursed monthly. The town pays a portion of Social Security plus any fringe benefits being offered regular employees.

The board designated the town counsel as acting manager in the absence of the town manager.

A $16,000 appropriation was approved, to be financed by borrowing in anticipation of taxes, for improvements to the Industrial Park. Harkins reported that the anticipated move of Rockville Scrap Co. to the park has fallen through due to general light money. The sale of land to that company was to have financed the improvements, which include installation of two culverts. The board approved the appropriation for two reasons: it will provide access to rear property and open land there, and the fill and gravel to be excavated will be used in several other town projects, including dump fill.

Appointments: Mary McNally was appointed for a five-year term on the Economic and Development Commission; Alexander Tobasson was appointed to the Board of Building Appeals for a term ending November 1975; Marvin Harris was appointed to the Tolland Health Council for a three-year term.

Oakwood Lane and Pinegrove Dr. were accepted upon receipt of a maintenance bond from the developer.

The selectmen ratified action at a town meeting which will put the construction of a $197,000 fire station on Gehring Rd. on a referendum in the Nov. 5 election.

John Harkins, town manager, reported to the Board of Selectmen Tuesday that he has had a soils and foundation expert conduct tests at the SNETCO property on Old Stamford, Bald Hill, and Dunn Hill Rds.

The property, offered to the town at a price of $50,000, was approved as a possible site for a town hall by the Planning and Zoning Commission. Harkins had tests done because of a lot of complaints concerning the rocky terrain.

Firemen Asking Cakes for Fair

ELLINGTON
The Ellington Volunteer Fire Department, keeping a feature it started several years ago, is again out delivering cake boxes to all Ellington homes.

Baking cakes for the firemen's Lawn Party is a tradition in Ellington and this booth has been one of the most popular features of the fair which will be Thursday, Friday, and Saturday next to the firehouse on Main St.

All of the proceeds from the cake booth, which continues to be one of the biggest sources of income at the fair, and the proceeds from many other attractions, are used to purchase equipment for the department. It is the one money-raising affair the department has during the year.

The cakes may be baked for any of the three nights and either be brought directly to the booth or to the firehouse, a person wishes to take a cake but cannot deliver it one of the firemen will pick it up by calling 675-888 or 675-124.

Another feature of the fair is the parade scheduled for Saturday at 6:15 p.m. in the center of town, with fire departments, bands, and groups from other area towns participating.

Hellier Answers Critics Of His Oil Refinery Views

Responding to criticism of his views on oil refinery construction in Eastern Connecticut, Sam Hellier, Republican candidate for Second District Congressman, commented, "New England's urgent energy needs are bigger than one man, one town or one oil refinery."

Hellier, who is presently serving as a state senator from District 18, said citizens of the six-state New England region, are just now beginning to realize the high level of cooperation necessary to solving New England's energy problems.

While he has called for moratorium on the type of refinery proposals already put together all the elements of the refinery and economic needs.

Hellier also contends that this country must resolve now to balance its economic, energy and environmental needs.

Hellier said this is the position he has advocated since announcing last April he wanted to run for Congress.
