Hellier also contends that this country must resolve now to balance its economic, energy and environmental needs. He said he agrees with labor leader George Meany that inflation is the greatest problem this country is facing and also agrees with Meany that inflation is more than a problem of figures and statistics.

Economists Give Ford Wide Range of Views

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Economist Walter W. Heller looked across the massive table and the President his economic ideas were narrow, old-fashioned, perhaps naive.

Ford said he wanted results, not just talk. "What we want are some right answers," he said. "We can't waste time stalling and restating the problems. The problems are obvious, painful and perplexing."

summarized the group mostly doubted Ford's projected $5.5 million cut would achieve much.

Manchester Evening Herald OPINION

As Necessary As Water

The warning that automobile antifreeze will be in short supply this season and double the price it used to be is an unpleasant reminder that the energy crisis is still very much with us.

The waiting lines may be gone at the neighborhood gas station but there is a "hidden" part of the energy crisis we are not too conscious of or how we discover a product we once took for granted is no longer available or has soared in cost.

This is the portion of the energy spectrum that concerns the small amount of the nation's oil and natural gas that is not used for fuel but as raw material for making the petrochemicals that have become so essential to modern life. How essential?

"From the time we get up in the morning and brush our teeth with the plastic toothbrush and wash our faces with manmade detergent, until we go to bed at night and pull our permanent press sheets and synthetic blankets, we are surrounded by petrochemicals."

The quote is by Richard C. Perry who is in charge of Feedstock and Energy for Union Carbide Corp.

Although the percentage of oil and natural gas that goes to make petrochemicals is extremely small compared to the amount that goes to fuel uses—about five per cent of the oil and 10 per cent of gas—our dependence upon them is much greater than we realize, says Perry.

Consider the family car. If we were to remove everything based on petrochemicals from today's automobile, gone would not only be such essentials as antifreeze but radiator hoses themselves, also tires, brake fluid, steering wheel, dashboard, upholstery and carpeting. Gone, too, would be the windshield because the resins that hold safety glass together are derived from petrochemicals. And also gone, the grille and even the paint.

In and around the home we come in contact with petrochemicals in paints and finishes for walls, furniture and appliances, vinyl wall coverings and floor tile, kitchen countertops, refrigerator and freezers.

Even the family medicine chest depends upon petrochemicals. Common aspirin is a petrochemical derivative. In the garden shed: Garbage and leaf bags, fertilizers, bug sprays, weed killers—all petrochemicals.

Okay, but do we really need all these manmade materials? Why not go back to the naturally occurring materials we used before synthetics came along?

The answer is simple, says Perry: Natural products are in extremely short supply and getting shorter. There are too many people in the world today to be supported by natural products. There aren't enough trees and we couldn't raise enough sheep.

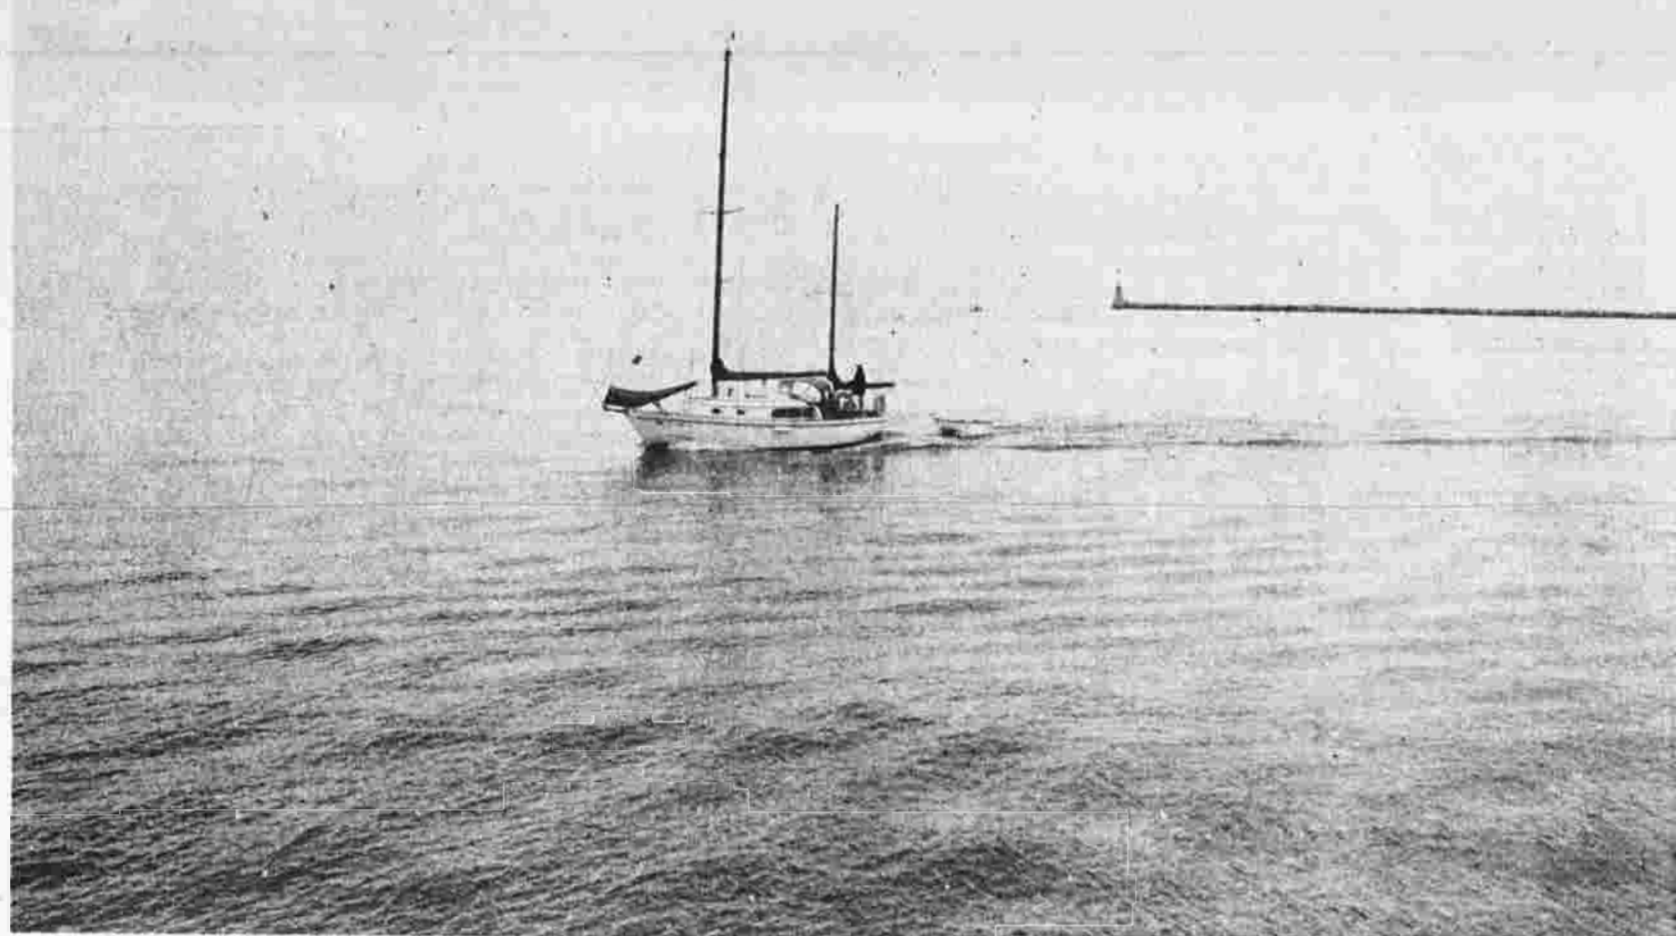

Even if natural materials were available, in many cases they cannot do the job as well or as inexpensively as synthetics with their unique properties of light weight combined with strength, wrinkle resistance, long wear, etc.

Then, too, any massive shift back to natural materials would cause severe economic dislocations. It might seem a simple matter, for instance, to go back to cotton for all the things we now make from synthetic fibers. But how do we come by the 16 to 20 million additional acres of cropland?

To add 16 million acres of cotton would mean reducing the nation's soybean crop by 30 per cent. A reduction that size in soybean production would send the cost of animal feed skyrocketing worse than it is already.

In sum, like it or not, we are dependent upon petrochemicals. From our single natural resource we get four of the fundamental needs of life: Food, through fertilizers and pesticides; shelter, through structural materials, coatings and adhesives; clothing, through fibers and health care, through drugs.

The thing that is really hard to understand is why we continue to send most of this precious natural resource up in flames.

A Living Hope
1 Peter 1:3-9 "Good News For Modern Man"

Let us give thanks to the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ! Because of His great mercy, He gave us new life by raising Jesus Christ from the dead. This fills us with a living hope, and so we look forward to possess the rich blessings that God keeps for His people. He keeps them for you in heaven, where they cannot decay or spoil or fade away. They are for you, who through faith are kept safe by God's power for the salvation which is ready to be revealed at the end of time.

Be glad about this, even though it may now be necessary for you to be sad for a while because of the many kinds of trials you suffer. Their purpose is to prove that your faith is genuine. Even gold, which you value, is tested by fire, and so your faith, which is much more precious than gold, must also be tested, that it may endure. Then you will receive praise and glory and honor on the day when Jesus Christ is revealed.

You believe Him, although you do not see Him. And so you rejoice with a great and glorious joy, which words cannot express, because you are receiving the purpose of your faith, the salvation of your souls.

Thompson Hits Steele For Platform Attack

"Bob Steele apparently can't count because he is too busy shooting from the hip," charged Manchester Mayor John W. Thompson today in the wake of the GOP gubernatorial candidate's attack on the Democratic party platform.

Mayor Thompson, a member of the Democratic Platform Committee, said the committee took great pains to avoid a strict schedule of implementation for many of the platform programs.

"The Democratic Platform seeks to identify goals and objectives," said Mayor Thompson.

"We know these programs cost money but we wanted to give the citizens of Connecticut a complete picture of the need of this state," Thompson said. "Most of the needs have been precipitated by the strangulation-type austerity program implemented by the Meskill Administration."

The Manchester mayor challenged Steele to list the programs in the Democratic platform that aren't actually needed by the state's citizenry.

"I want to hear Bob Steele tell everyone we don't need more assistance for our cities, senior citizens or young people," he said.

Thompson said, "Bob Steele is apparently more concerned with getting publicity than actually sitting down and determining the needs of the people of Connecticut."

Cummings is Democratic candidate for state representative in Manchester's 12th Assembly District.

My goal, first, is to see as many people in the district as possible in the next six or seven weeks. I'll do my best to try and persuade them to consider my candidacy on the basis of 18 years participation in our town's government—as a former two-term member of the Board of Directors, as a former member of the Board of Education, and as Democratic

Twain Testimonial Set for Hoops, Fuller

An ad hoc committee of about 15 local men is planning a testimonial Oct. 4 for two former Manchester business executives—Lyman Hoops, former manager of the Manchester-Rockville office of the Southern New England Telephone Co.; and Robert Fuller, who retired July 1 from his post as chairman of the Hoops now resides in Lyme and is manager of SNET's Old Saybrook office. Fuller resides in Andover and plans to move to Maryland soon.

Raymond E. Baldwin, former Connecticut governor, former U.S. senator and former chief justice of the State Supreme Court, will be special guest speaker. The speaker for Hoops will be W.J. Godfrey Gourley and the speaker for Fuller will be William Johnson.

Warren Howland is general chairman of the event. Judge of Probate William FitzGerald is program chairman and will serve as master of ceremonies.

The event will be at the Colony restaurant, Tauberville, with a social hour at 6 p.m. and dinner at 7. About 400 diners are expected—with about 200 tickets already sold.

Tickets, at $10 each, may be obtained at Watkins Bros. on Main St., Westown Pharmacy on Hartford Rd., and the town manager's office in the Municipal Building.

Airline Inequities

There's a little more to Pan American's desperate request to the government for an immediate $50-million subsidy and $10 million per month to avoid financial collapse than the higher prices which the airline is paying for fuel.

Our overseas airlines are operating on an unequal basis with their foreign competitors. It is a case of private enterprise competing with governmental monopolies on a totally unequal basis.

The nationals of other countries flying to the U.S. are under compulsion to fly on their country's airlines. And to return home on those same planes.

The American traveler on the contrary may fly on any line which he wishes. Some 68 per cent of the passengers flying the Atlantic last year were Americans, but only 50 per cent of the total passengers flew on American lines.

There's an illogicality to it. Most of the foreign operators are flying 747's twice a week to the United States. China has purchased a fleet of 707's for their national airline. Americans may fly them but you can bet that any Korean or Chinese flying will use their own national lines.

There are other inequities. Australia's Quantas line pays $271 for one of their Boeing 747's to land at San Francisco. Pan Am pays a landing fee of $4,200 to land at Sydney with their 747's.

The plight of Pan Am may wake us up to insisting on our lines competing on an equal basis with the foreign carriers in all ways. Otherwise they cannot continue to exist.

Mediocrity Rampant On Capitol Hill

WASHINGTON (NEA) — The problem is not the President is too strong. It is rather that Congress is too weak—not weak in power, but in ability.

Any reporter who consistently visits the Hill reads endless press releases from the men grasping for publicity. They jump at consumer protection, anti-inflation, aid for the poor, help for veterans and unemployed, not because these are worthy causes, but because they bring headlines.

Recently, a nationally prominent senator refused, through his public relations man, to see one of the ablest reporters in this town. "What can you do for my man?" was the question asked and the reason given for refusal.

If you doubt this attitude, skim the thousands of laws these men propose each year, determine how many have substance. When the energy crisis hit this nation full tilt, within days hundreds of bills were thrown into the hopper. Few had input from energy experts. Few made practical sense. Some, if adopted, would have caused less; they had "shown" constituents they were on the ball.

Few men on the hill have any idea as to the merits or demerits of much of the legislation on which they vote. In most cases, interviewing a senator or representative for insight into a national problem, whether inflation, foreign affairs, defense

New Challenge to Feller

Once again there is a controversy raging whether fireballing Nolan Ryan of the California Angels has a faster ball than Bob Feller, the Cleveland Indian who worked his way into baseball's Hall of Fame. Feller's pitch during the height of his career was clocked at better than 98 m.p.h.

Several years ago, riding from St. Louis to Cleveland and on to Boston, Feller was my right-hand neighbor on the flight. There had been many conversations at the time and much written commentary. Bob Gibson's fast ball with Feller's. New writers on the beat were unanimous that no one ever threw a ball faster than Gibson, who fastballed the Red Sox to death that afternoon that I sat with Feller. Feller had just witnessed Gibson mow down Boston in spinning a shutout.

Did Feller think Gibson was faster? "Baloney," came Rapid Robert's candid answer. "Nobody ever threw a baseball faster than I could in my day."

Now Ryan has come along and everyone in baseball agrees he's the No. 1 flame-thrower.

Ryan's best pitch will be tested shortly. The results should prove interesting. Could Ryan's fast ball travel at a speed greater than 100 m.p.h.?

The computer will have the answer.

Mets Spoiled Trick Twice

Just for the record, the two teams leading the National League divisional standings on Labor Day since 1969 saw seven of the 10 go on to capture league laurels. The Mets trailed Chicago in the East in 1969 and St. Louis last year on Labor Day but went on to win at Old Atlanta in 1969 in the West after San Francisco faltered after holding the top spot on the September holiday. Jim Marshall, new Chicago Cub manager, is happy in his new position which he caused him to say this: "I've never enjoyed anything more. It beats sitting on the bench for seven innings and then being asked to pinchhit against Sandy Koussals or Don Drysdale or someone else like that." Lou Brock, heading for a new all-time one season stolen base record, has managed to reach base 37 per cent of the times he's faced National League pitching this season. Leading rookie-of-the-year candidates in the National League are Greg Gross of Houston, Bake McBride of St. Louis, Larry Demery of Pittsburgh and teammate Tim Lincecum. Since 1947 when the N.L. rookies were singled out some mighty fine players were named like this: 1947 - Jackie Robinson, 1948 - Alvin Dark, 1949 - Don Newcombe, 1950 - Sam Jethroe, 1951 - Willie Mays, 1952 - Joe Black, 1953 - Junior Gilliam, 1954 - Wally Moon, 1955 - Bill Virdon, 1956 - Frank Robinson, 1957 - Jack Sanford, 1958 - Orlando Cepeda, 1959 - Willie McCovey, 1960 - Frank Howard, 1961 - Billy Williams, 1962 - Ken Hubbs, 1963 - Pete Rose, 1964 - Richie Allen, 1965 Jim Lefebvre, 1966 - Tommy Helms, 1967 - Tom Seaver, 1968 - Johnny Bench, 1969 - Ted Sizemore, 1970 - Carl Morton, 1971 - Earl Williams, 1972 - John Matlack, 1973 - Gary Matthews.

Tanner-Connors Duel Looms Classic

Chris Anxious To Snap Jinx

FOREST HILLS, N. Y. (UPI) - Chris Evert has to prove herself today in the U.S. Open Tennis Championship semifinal.

Yes, she is the Wimbledon queen.

And French fellows, while at Wimbledon, EJ was ambushed by Olga Morozova and Erome lost to Melville. Chris then thumped Jance Jimmy Connors on the champions' list by breezing past the Russian girl in the final, 6-4, 6-4.

Miss Goolagong has swept through her four opponents here, not dropping a set, she wants this title badly to offset the bitter taste of being denied entry in France and playing poorly at Wimbledon.

But if Erome were the title body, Billie Jean is aching for it. Ms. King faces Julie Heldman in the final, 6-0 in the third set, and she has a score to settle. This is the fourth time she will meet Miss Goolagong on grass and she has yet to beat Erome on the surface, losing to her the third time in the Australian Open final in January - 6-0 in the third set.

There is a world of difference in Chris' play today from the brand she displayed in 1971 when, at age 16, she built her parapet on the baseline and went to the semis to the admission of the crowd. Playing every match in the stadium, serving virtually by a 1-2-3 count, she primarily swung the tight rope, until Billie Jean King slaughtered her.

In 1972, Miss Evert was stopped cold by Australia's Kerry Melville, and last year the regal Margaret Court, with her own Grand Slam, looking just outside the stadium, trimmed her 7-5, 2-6, 6-2.

But now Chris has her whole game together. She will be seeking her 56th consecutive match victory and 11th straight tournament triumph. She no longer has a mechanical serve, but her ground strokes are better than ever, and she has even been known to go to the net, an area she once shrank from approaching, fearing it might be crowding with worms.

She won Italy, France and Wimbledon. Neither Billie Jean nor Erome were in the Italian

Newcombe Ready To Face Rosewall

FOREST HILLS, N.Y. (UPI) - When Jimmy Connors won the Wimbledon title, they said he beat nobody but a tired Ken Rosewall.

The players refused to concede he was a worthy champion. "Wait till Forest Hills," was the locker room consensus.

classic, but should Connors win, it will mean nothing unless the final opponent is defending champion John Newcombe.

If it's Ken Rosewall who meets Newcombe in the other semi-then all Connors will get is $22,500 and a bag from his fiancée, Clare Evert.

But the record book will also show he won Wimbledon, Australia and South Africa in the World Series of Golf, but he doesn't expect any breaks in the West Side Club these past nine days.

Tanner and Connors will clash in the semifinals, old legs at schoolboys but a couple of young men who've met rarely as pros.

Strength vs. Strength In WFL Fight for Lead

NEW YORK (UPI) - It will be strength against strength tonight if the players have any left after playing Monday night to determine first place in the World Football League Eastern Division.

The New York Stars own the best rushing attack in the WFL and send it against the Florida Bulls tomorrow night in the 119th game of the season, the lowest figure in the league.

Both clubs are 6-3 but Florida has lost two of its last three games while New York has won six of its last seven.

Bob Gladieux is New York's top runner and comes off a 361-yard effort against Philadelphia Monday night.

Dorrance Scores Twice As Sharks Topple Bell

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (UPI) - Running back Tommy Dorrance scored two touchdowns and the injury-riddled Jacksonville defense held off a late charge Thursday night to give the Sharks a 34-30 World Football League win over the Philadelphia Bell.

The win gave Jacksonville its fourth victory against six losses before a Gator Bowl crowd of 17,851 and a national television audience. The loss dropped the Bell to a 5-9 record.

On the second play of the game, after a kickoff return by Alvin Wyatt to the Philadelphia 45, quarterback Reggie Oliver hit Edgar Scott with a 45-yard touchdown pass. The action point run by Dorrance was good and the Sharks led 10-0.

But Bell quarterback King Connor struck right back on his team's first offensive series with a 10-play touchdown drive from his 43-yard line where the Bell's Jimmy Jae has returned Guard Gauthrie's kickoff.

Backup quarterback Frank Dimaggio clinched the 53-yard drive by keeping over the right side of the line for a two-yard touchdown plunge. But the action point sweep play by John Land failed.

Jacksonville drove to the Philadelphia 32 in the first quarter from the Sharks 21-yard line after a 37-yard Jerry Warren field goal attempt was wide.

Jacksonville was stymied at the 32 and Grant Guthrie tried a field goal which was blocked at the 21-yard line after a 37-yard Jerry Warren field goal attempt was wide.

Golf World Series Berth for Nichols

AKRON, Ohio (UPI) - Bobby Nichols slipped in through the back door as an alternate in this weekend's 13th annual World Series of Golf, but he doesn't expect any breaks in the rugged Firestone Country Club course, site of the tournament, even though he is head pro of the 7,180-yard layout.

"It's one of the few courses that I have never felt comfortable playing," admitted Nichols, 38, who qualified as first alternate by winning the World Series of Golf in 1970. "I'm kind of a Canadian when it comes to golf. I've never finished better than in a tie for second in three previous World Series events and really admit the long Firestone layout is not suited to his game."

The only rookie in World Series competition is the 26-year-old Irvin, but he thinks his inexperience could work to his advantage.

"I'm thinking the first time in you'll be trying a little harder," said the former Colorado football player. "I'm kind of priming myself for it. I have played Firestone pretty well in the past and all of us have played the course enough to know what it takes."

Player has some ideas of his own about what it takes to master the hole, heavily-sand-trapped Firestone monster.

"I always spend a little bit more time with my irons there because there are so many holes that you need a two or three iron to," said the 27-year-old South African veteran.

"Another thing is you've got to have your bunker play in good shape and I think that's one of the reasons I've done well at that course." Player is a member of the Cleveland Golf and Country Club, Trevino, 34, earned another

Irish Match

BRIDGEPORT (UPI) - The international soccer match between Bridgeport University and the University of Dublin has been rescheduled for Sept. 20, instead of the originally planned date of Sept. 25. It has been announced. The Irish team, coached by Tony O'Neil, will be making its second appearance in Bridgeport in the last two years. The contest is sponsored Monday night by the Booster Club. Last year's Knights beat Dublin 5-2.

Bosox Slip to Second, Blow Seven-Game Lead

BOSTON (UPI) - The nosedive of the Boston Red Sox is complete.

The Sox, who led the American League East by seven games two weeks ago, were shot down by three blasts Thursday night and plummeted into second place, while the idle New York Yankees ascended from the wreckage into first place.

Boston's seventh straight defeat was perpetrated primarily by Milwaukee's Gorman Thomas, who traveled 3,600 miles from Sacramento in time for his first major league game of the season and his first home run. Milwaukee also got solo homers from Mike Hegan and Pedro Garcia, both in the seventh inning.

Thomas, who had rocketed 51 homers for Sacramento of the Pacific Coast League, launched a Diego Soto to propel the Brewers to a 4-2 win over the gapping Red Sox.

Yet Boston Manager Darrell Johnson found optimism in the loss, because his team scored two runs - in his 35 innings.

"At least we had some people on the sacks. It was good to see them out on the bases," said Johnson who watched three of his runners thrown out at the plate.

"At least we had chances to score, which was a good sign" after being held to eight in three shots at bat Saturday night. "The first-year manager." "It didn't turn out where we won the game but those things (winning games) are secondary at times. "Winning was the primary objective, however, to Bill Champion who grabbed his 10th win in 13 decisions and Tom Murphree who rescued his 38th game. The two sprinkled four hits, except for Cooper's hit in the sixth, wriggled out of trouble successfully.

Champion was not so lucky in his eighth inning, was surprised Boston batted so far so fast. "I thought Boston was one team that wouldn't slump. They surprised the hell out of me. They played steady ball since May."

Brewers Manager Del Crandall was more philosophical about Boston's slump. "We all go through them," he said. "Even as well as the Dodgers are playing, they lost six in a row this season, and Cincinnati had a bad slump the first part of the year."

"Slumps are a normal part of baseball. They don't come about because of pressure. That kind of thinking doesn't make sense. It's just a good reading. Managers talk about pressure, players talk about it, so do fans and writers but I just don't believe it."

"The pressure was there for young Thomas and he rose to it. "It's really different playing up here. The lighting is so much better, the fields are in better shape. Plus I'm up here in Boston which was in first place and Milwaukee is not far off (seven games back)."

"I was a little bit nervous going out into the outfield the first

One More Red Sox Out at Plate

Steve Busby's bases-loaded throwing error on a pickoff move to third base allowed two runs to score, helping the Twins over the Royals. Vic Abury had a six-hitter for Minnesota.

The loss was the Royals' eighth straight, and Busby, 19-13, missed his third attempt at his 20th victory. Abury, 6-8, allowed only one hit after the fourth inning.

Tennessee-UCLA Top Grid Schedule

NEW YORK (UPI) - Somebody at UCLA should have picked up a telephone last spring and called Joe Paterno. He could have told them what a mistake they were making.

The Bruins originally were scheduled to open the football season at home against Tennessee. But when ABC came to make that contest on Saturday, the first nationally televised game of the season, the schools decided to move East to Knoxville to avoid playing in the brutal afternoon heat of Los Angeles.

Paterno, who doesn't make many mistakes, made the same one a couple of years ago, and television wasn't even involved in it.

Tennessee also won that one. That was the last regular season game lost by Penn State at Knoxville. It was played on Saturday, Sept. 29, 1971. Another game was scheduled with Tennessee to open '72. And somehow Tennessee quick-talked some folks at Penn State into playing the second game at Knoxville, too.

Interesting Night For Skins Thomas

NEW YORK (UPI) - This could be an very interesting night for Duane Thomas.

Thomas, the moody turning back who's been in and out of trouble with several clubs since starting for Dallas as a rookie four years ago, was put on waivers last week by Washington Coach George Allen after he cursed and swared a Redskins assistant coach, Charley Walter.

No National Football League club would take a chance with the incident's Texas half and Terry Bradshaw and Terry Hanratty three one each in the second to the Steelers to their sixth straight victory. Gilliam's performance earned him the No. 1 quarterback slot with Pittsburgh after being third string last season.

"It looks like we are going to have to go after Joe Gilliam," Steeler Coach Chuck Noll said after he hit 10-of-18 passes for 187 yards and completely baffled the Cowboy defense.

"We played an awfully good ball game," Noll said. "There is no doubt about it. This is a very nice way to go into the season. I'm not displeased with anybody."

The same couldn't be said for Cowboy Coach Tom Landry.

"When you stand flat-footed like we stood today, we can't play on a playoff spot in the National Conference East. Baltimore, on the other hand, isn't entertaining any playoff hopes. The Colts is still in the rebuilding stage and continue to shuffle players in and out of camp. They have won one of five pre-season games and hardly look ready to battle for a playoff spot in the National Conference East. Baltimore, on the other hand, isn't entertaining any playoff hopes. Dear Dad,
Well, it's finally time for me to go off to college. Since I'm sure you and Mom will want me to bring my dirty laundry home on weekends, I've decided I need a car. Dad, since you're such a busy man, I went ahead and saved you a lot of time and picked one out myself. I know you'll just dig it! (I've even enclosed a picture of it below) It's got bucket seats for two. And that laundry I mentioned, well, it's got so much luggage room that I will probably even be able to bring my roommates laundry home too! Just think of the money we'll save by doing our own laundry! And Dad, I'm just getting to the good part. It doesn't cost much! And gas mileage - WOW! I probably won't even need to use your credit card but once a week for gas. And boy will the chicks (I mean my buddies) really think I'm "nouveau" - as you and Mom used to say. So Dad, please hurry and pay the man for my new Datsun. His name is Carter DeCormier and you'll find him at

CARD

The trick was won by the queen which South had been careful to keep in dummy. Now he ruffed a third club, entered dummy with the ace of diamonds and set up the fourth club to ruff the last club as a winner. He discarded dummy's three of diamonds on the last spade; ruffed a diamond with dummy's last trump, discarded his last diamond on the last club and was home with the bag.

WIN AT BRIDGE

Queen makes grand entrance
By Oswald & James Jacoby

South started to make the automatic play of dummy's queen of spades at trick one. Then he stopped, saw that he just might need an extra entry to dummy and won in his own hand.

It was well that he did. As it was, dummy's entries lasted just long enough to bring the slam home.

South drew trumps with three leads and continued with the ace and five of clubs. Dummy's queen lost to East's king and a spade came back.

Pass System to Start At MMH's Cafeteria

A newly developed cafeteria pass system will go into effect at Manchester Memorial Hospital on Monday, according to Paul E. Moss, assistant administrator of the hospital. The new pass system is designed to alleviate overcrowding and long lines in the hospital cafeteria, and to allow hospital employees and staff to spend a more relaxed meal period. Visitors to hospital patients will still be allowed to use the cafeteria as pass to do so. These passes may be obtained at the information desk in the hospital lobby when the visitor informs the volunteer on duty which patient he is visiting. The visitor will then be issued a pass which will admit him to the cafeteria. If no volunteer is at the information desk, a pass may be obtained from the admitting office adjacent to the lobby. Moss said a number of employees have been forced to wait in line for service, and he hopes the pass system will correct the situation.

Gas Line is Ruptured At Bennet; No Danger

A natural gas leak caused by rupturing of a pipe by construction workers at Bennet Junior High School didn't pose any serious danger Thursday afternoon, a Connecticut Natural Gas Co. spokesman said today. The pipe, a disconnected lateral running from a Wells St. gas main into the Bennet site, was broken at about 4 p.m. by Adler Construction Co. crews digging trenches for a foundation of the school's new media center-gymnasium, architect Richard Mankey of Manchester reported today. Town of Manchester firemen, called to the scene at 4:23 p.m., temporarily stopped the gas

Saxbe to Enforce Lottery Statutes

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Attorney General William B. Saxbe told governors and lottery officials of 13 states today that he does not want to put his forces out of business, but will enforce the laws against them unless Congress enacts the necessary amendments. Saxbe called a closed meeting of officials of the states after declaring that their lottery operations were in "apparent violation of federal laws prohibiting mailing or broadcasting of lottery information, interstate movement of equipment and participation by federally-chartered banks. "Not Anti-Lottery. "At the outset I want to assure you that we have no aim or wish to put your lotteries out of business," Saxbe said in a statement prepared for the start of the meeting. "But he added, "I hope this meeting will lead to a solution for it ill-behaves any of us that Congress enacted the necessary amendments. Saxbe emphasized congressional action is needed and Justice Department officials spent the afternoon explaining pending bills. The attorney general said he would also discuss "possible courses of legal action by the department if legislative relief does not materialize."

SCENE FROM HERE

I Can Quit...and I Did!

I see by the papers a "Stop-Smoking" course will be offered next week in Manchester. Calling its method "The Easy Way to Quit Smoking," the New Jersey-based organization claims its aid. "You will stop smoking on Oct. 15th." Well — I remember when I said it, everyone insisted I couldn't do it. In fact, they laughed everytime I said, "I can quit smoking anytime I want." I believed it and I meant it. I didn't try to prove it because I just wasn't interested in quitting smoking too much. In one week it will be four years to the day since I quit — and I haven't smoked even one cigarette, or cigar, or pipe, or whatever, since.
What I'm trying to say is that I, a three-pack-a-day smoker for thirteen years, haven't smoked in four years.
Nobody was inspired and there was no danger of explosion because of the ruptured line of the gas company spokesman said, explaining that the broken pipe was a disconnected "sub" with low pressure service.
Mankey said the lateral was probably nearly 100 years old and had a disconnected gas line at the center-gymnasium, architect Richard Mankey of Manchester reported today.
Town of Manchester firemen, called to the scene at 4:23 p.m., temporarily stopped the gas

Housing Authority Adopts New Grievance Procedures

The Manchester Housing Authority (MHA), which controls 276 units of housing for the elderly, has adopted a grievance procedure for tenants and appointed a neutral arbitrator to hear appeals from tenants unsatisfied with MHA decisions.
The brand new grievance procedure was adopted and the Rev. Ronald J. Fourmier, pastor of Manchester's Emmanuel Evangelical Lutheran Church, was named arbitrator in unanimous MHA actions Wednesday night.
Copies of the five-page grievance procedure document will be made available to tenants soon, MHA Chairman Pascal Mastrangelo said, explaining the new procedure.
Under the new rules, tenants with complaints first go to MHA Executive Director Leon Enderlin. If a tenant is unhappy with Enderlin's decision, the tenant may ask for a hearing before the five-member, politically appointed MHA. If a tenant is still unsatisfied after the MHA hearing, the case will go before the Rev. Mr. Fourmier.
In other business Wednesday night, the MHA opened bids for heating oil for a one-year period starting Oct. 1.
Apprent low bidder for No. 2 oil was the Hudson Oil Co. Division of Fuelpower, Inc., West Hartford, at 31.45 cents per gallon. There were five other bidders for No. 2 oil.
Apprent low bidder for No. 4 oil was the W. C. Mason Co. of Glastonbury, at 28.4 cents per gallon. There were four other bidders for No. 4 oil.
Gordinier said contracts for the heating oil will be awarded this month.
There has been no formal grievance procedure in the past, Mastrangelo said, adding that there have been no major problems with tenant complaints, either.

Sen. Weicker Explains Vote On Energy Bill

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Lowell P. Weicker Jr., R-Conn., said he voted against the Energy Transportation Security Act Thursday because it will raise oil prices for U.S. consumers and may reduce supplies.
Weicker said the measure would have required the use of oil from all oil imported to the U.S. by June 30, 1977, he carried in U.S.-owned tankers.
He said the higher cost of oil for such vessels would have increased the ultimate cost to consumers, according to some estimates by as much as $383 million by 1985.
Beyond its inflationary implications, this act could reduce the supply of petroleum imports to this country," Weicker said.
"Foreign countries faced with restrictions imposed by this act may counter with restrictions of their own exports."

Bank Envelope Lost

Roger Landon of 146 Center St. lost a Manchester State Bank envelope containing $146 sometime Tuesday. Landon, who is physically handicapped, conducts a car wash at the Amoco Station on Main St.
He said he withdrew the money from the bank on Tuesday about 1:30 p.m., returned to the station where he remained until about 4 p.m., and then went to visit a friend on Birch St. He noticed the envelope was missing.
Landon, who rides a three-wheel bicycle to get around town, desperately needs the money to meet his monthly rent payment.
Anyone having any information regarding the missing envelope is asked to contact the Manchester Police Department.

Knievel Jumps Sunday
TWIN FALLS, Idaho (UPI) — A milling carnival of thousands of thrill seekers jammed southwestern Idaho today to see an edgy Evel Knievel, master stuntman and self-proclaimed, rocket over the Snake River Canyon.

Review Board Planned
The Twin Falls County sheriff's office estimated that 10,000 persons had crowded into the area for Sunday's launch, with more arriving by the hour, and said all hotel and motel rooms were booked for at least 50 miles in all directions. Thousands more were camped at the jumpsite or elsewhere.

Rockefeller Role Emerging

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Nelson A. Rockefeller reportedly will play a major foreign policy role in the Ford administration, it is confirmed by Congress as vice president.

Rockefeller met for more than an hour Friday with Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger and Soviet Ambassador Anatoly Dobrynin. Following that session he conferred with Ford and the White House and a spokesman said the meeting was on foreign policy.

Rockefeller would not comment on what transpired at the meetings when he talked with reporters.

Simon Optimistic

DALLAS (UPI) — Treasury Secretary William E. Simon, scoffing at "gloom and doom forecasts" for the U.S. economy, Friday said the country's financial life won't worsen into a depression.

"The fear of massive bank insolvency is not supported by the facts," Simon told a Southern Methodist University audience.

He said there was no danger of mass bank insolvency because the Federal Deposit Insurance Corp. has $6 billion to pay off depositors and can borrow an additional $3 billion if necessary.

Ford Pledges Conquest Of Inflation by 1976

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — Surrounded by the symbols of the colonists' struggle for independence, President Gerald R. Ford promised Friday night to conquer inflation by the country's 200th birthday.

The speech was the centerpiece of a series of events marking the bicentennial of the signing of the Declaration of Independence.

The band played "America" and "The Battle Hymn of the Republic." The speeches were filled with Founding Fathers.

"I have decided to make the first priority of my month-old administration an all-out war against inflation," Ford said.

"Like the other patriots who met here 200 years ago, we may see to move cautiously and not deliberately, but I have no one who will underestimate the fighting ability of Americans today the way they did in 1774."

"I warn you, as did Ben Franklin during the American Revolution, that if we do not hang together, we will all hang separately."

The early patriots, Ford said, were "inflation fighters," meeting to discuss economic interests against Britain before

Hurricane Carmen Pushes Northward

NEW ORLEANS (UPI) — Rejuvenated hurricane Carmen picked up speed and strength today, building winds of 150 miles an hour in a northward push through the Gulf of Mexico toward the mouth of the Mississippi River.

The National Weather Service issued hurricane warnings from Grand Isle, La., to Mobile, Ala., and a hurricane watch from Morgan City, La., to Panama City, Fla.

"The present track of Carmen will take the center into extreme southeastern Louisiana by or before midnight tonight," the NWS said.

Prepare to Evacuate
Thousands of persons prepared to evacuate coastal cities ahead of the dangerous storm, which already has caused four deaths.

Early today Carmen was located at latitude 26.3 north and longitude 90.3 west, or about 230 miles south of New Orleans.

The hurricane's forward speed increased from 10 m.p.h. to 12.5 m.p.h. Hurricane force winds extended 50 miles from the center of the storm.

The NWS said Carmen would produce tides of at least 10-feet when it hit the coastline.

Residents of Grand Isle, one of Louisiana's southernmost coastal points, were advised to prepare to join offshore oil rig personnel in an evacuation.

Boats Moved
Mississippi coastal residents, shattered by Hurricane Camille five years ago, moved small boats to inland bays and streams, while housewives stocked up on canned goods, flashlights and other storm supplies.

The Red Cross began moving workers into place in Louisiana, Alabama, Mississippi and Florida and preparing to open shelters for persons fleeing the storm.

The Naval Air Station at Pensacola, Fla., flew 147 of its planes inland and the aircraft carrier USS Lexington moved out to sea from Pensacola to ride out the storm.

In Alabama, Mobile-area hardware stores reported a run on emergency lighting equipment and plywood, but preparations were proceeding in a calm, orderly fashion.

PZC Faces Heavy Agenda Monday

A number of apparently controversial proposals to change the city's zoning regulations and liberalized liquor regulations for restaurants — appear on the Monday night agenda of the Manchester Planning and Zoning Commission (PZC).

The PZC will start public hearings at 7 p.m. in the Municipal Building Hearing Room.

Leading the hearing agenda is a zone change requested by E. Steve Pearl of 132 Hollister St., which would be granted a variance by the Zoning Board of Appeals allowing use of the 40-foot-wide strip as access to rear land at the site. That board's action, proposed by several Woodland St. residents at a May public hearing, cleared the way for rezoning application to the PZC.

Pearl is asking for a change from Residence B to Residence M Zone on the parcel, which is only 40 feet of frontage on Woodland St. In June, Pearl was granted a variance by the Zoning Board of Appeals allowing use of the 40-foot-wide strip as access to rear land at the site. That board's action, proposed by several Woodland St. residents at a May public hearing, cleared the way for rezoning application to the PZC.

Buckley Running Dual Campaign In Attempt to Unseat Cotter

By SOL R. COHEN
At 4:59 p.m. on a Friday afternoon just seven weeks ago, F. Mac Buckley of Newington was a special district attorney, in charge of the Federal Drug Strike Force for Connecticut.

At 5 p.m. he quit his job. Less than 24 hours later, he was the Republican candidate for First District congressman.

For weeks, Robert Figueroa, a state legislator, has been campaigning in the length and breadth of the district in his gauzy van, lettered, "Figueroa for Congress." He had quit his job as commissioner for the state Department of Community Affairs for the GOP nomination.

Surprise Candidate
Still, it wasn't too much of a surprise that Figueroa didn't make it. It was a well-known fact that Republican leaders were seeking another candidate. What was a surprise was that 32-year-old Buckley was that candidate.

Buckley, however, minimizes the surprise factor. He says he was approached
