Highland Spring Closed

Highland Park spring on Spring St. at the foot of Case Mt. will be closed until further notice, according to Dr. Alice Tureck, town health director. Dr. Tureck said water samples taken last week by the state Department of Health show that the water quality is borderline. When this happens, Dr. Tureck said, it is necessary to close the spring while it is being sanitized. Town forces will do the sanitizing next week, she said.

NEWS FOR SENIOR CITIZENS

By WALLY FORTIN

Hello, everybody! Well, here I am back after two great weeks in God's country, and boy, it's taking me all this week to try to get back in the working groove. I sure enjoy Maine country, and like always when one returns home from a vacation they have to get rested. Well, let's get on with the happenings here at the center, and because of Labor Day, the action was at the Parkade Lanes where the senior bowling league was busy shooting for average and picking their teams for the big season ahead. There is still room for a few more bowlers, so stop thinking about it and get on down to the Parkade Lanes this Tuesday at 1 p.m. If you should need a ride, give the alleys a call as its bus may just go by your way.

Ball Game
Well, Monday morning we start registering for the Big Red Sox game on Tuesday, Oct. 2. We only have 88 tickets so you'll have to get up a little earlier than usual if you want to go. The trip consists of a bus ride to the ball park, a grinder to eat at the ball park, your reserved seat ticket, and a big delicious buffet on the way home, all this including tax and tip for $15. Like I say we start registering around 9:30 a.m., and it will be on a first come basis. Good luck!

Card Games
Wednesday rolled in, and in the morning we had 10 tables for pinocle with the following winners:
Alfreda Hallin, 608; Michael DeSimone, 607; Josephine Schuetz, 598; Clara Henningway, 579; Cx Wilson, 577; George Last, 571; Robina Carroll, 570; Lyla Steele, 565; John Derby, 541; Florence North and John Dergy, 541.

Bear Mountain
If you read Wednesday's paper you saw where we have just about filled our seventh bus for our Bear Mountain trip. This trip consists of a bus ride to New York City where we will board the Dayliner. From there we cruise up the river to Bear Mountain Inn for a delicious buffet dinner. After that we will cruise around West Point, and then head back home. We still have a few seats left, so you'd like to come along, you have until 1 p.m. to drop by and register.

Director Chosen
By the way, those going on the trip will have to get up before breakfast because the buses will leave our center at 6:30 in the morning to be able to board the boat on time. I was talking with Happy Hal Patsche, our square dance caller and organizer, and he tells me he's ready to go. The members will start stamping on Thursday morning, Sept. 19.

Here's some news for men only that may be of interest. I received a phone call from Mr. Dick Cartwright, a member of the Big Brothers of the Greater Hartford area including Manchester. The Big Brothers are going on a cruise down the Connecticut River on the Yankee Clipper this Sunday. They have room for about 50 senior men if any would like to spend a day out cruising down the river. All it would take is transportation for any man who might want to go along. Price is $1 per person, plus a small box lunch.

Meal Program
Our meal program is expected to get underway on Monday, Sept. 30, and once again meals will be served on Monday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday with our good friends the Latuccas and their boys for an exciting, interesting, and enjoyable day out.

Schedule for the Week

Manchester Evening Herald OPINION

Needed: A Mini-Miracle

The Ford Administration has started its series of mini-summits on the nation's economic woes and will climax the series with a major summit later this month.

We have been counseled by almost all economists and politicians not to expect any miracles, although we are sure such miracles would be gratefully accepted.

While it is premature to judge the outcome of the meetings, we are encouraged by the openness as well as the administration's willingness to bear all views, regardless of political labels.

As we have stated before, we believe President Ford is searching for a broad base of political consensus upon which he can recommend to the Congress, the economic community and, most important of all, to the American people; a course of action which will resolve in the long term some of our more crucial economic problems.

However, there is growing impatience as the economy continues to weaken and elections draw near.

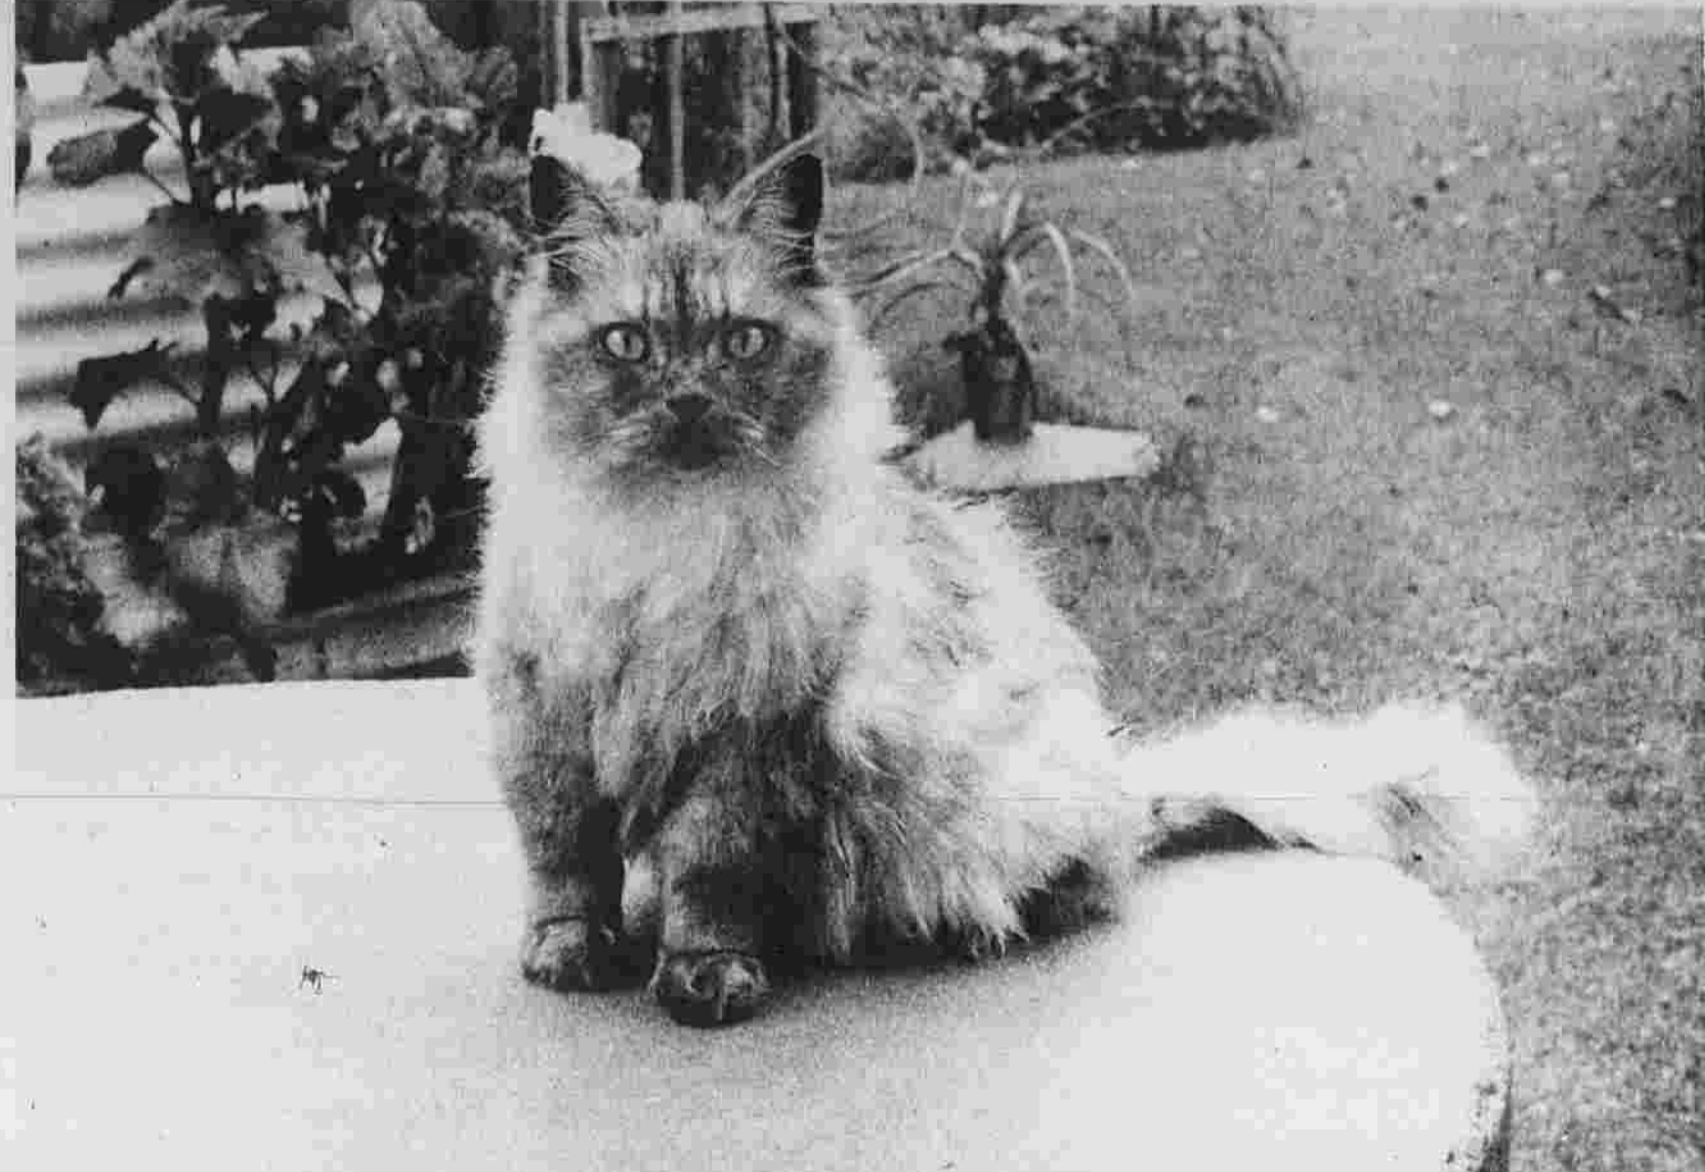

There is a growing demand from Democrats in particular for some specific and immediate action to combat rising unemployment, higher consumer costs, etc.

We are a bit skeptical that any action taken now will do much to solve anything for the remainder of this year. A Congress willing to return after elections to act on any suggestions the President may make, seems to us to be a more prudent approach.

Perhaps we, the people, can give our leaders in both parties a mini-miracle during the next five or six weeks.

This mini-miracle would be patience. Patience to wait for a full report on the causes and possible solutions to our problems. Patience to resist the lure of one-shot solutions aimed at one segment of the economy. And patience to understand that whatever action is ultimately taken, the key to success to solving any problem is the grass roots support given to it.

Our economic problems are essentially non-partisan in that they affect each of us in some way. We would hope the American people can give the leadership of this nation the mini-miracle of patience so there can be a non-partisan climate in which we and our leaders can evolve non-partisan solutions.

TODAY'S THOUGHT

Life in God's Service
Romans 12:1-3 "Good News For Modern Man"

So then, my brothers, because to God's great glory to us, I make this appeal to you: offer yourselves as a living sacrifice to God, dedicated to His service and pleasing Him. This is the true worship that you should offer. Do not conform outwardly to the standards of this world, but let God transform you inwardly by a complete change of your mind. Then you will be able to know the will of God — what is good, and is pleasing to Him, and is perfect. And because of God's gracious gift to me, I say to all of you: Do not think of yourselves more highly than you should. Instead, be modest in your thinking, and each one of you judge himself according to the amount of faith that God has given him.

Let Bolton People Vote On Library

Dear Sir:

Following a week of "sun and fun" at the Cape, I returned home and perused the accumulation of papers to find out what news had taken place in Bolton during my family's absence. Things were going well until I read that the Bolton Board of Finance had refused the request which would have allowed the citizens of Bolton to vote on the subject of additional funds for the new library.

As a former member of the Bolton Library Board, needless to say, I was much chagrined. Obviously the three members of the Finance Board who cast their votes negatively fit Oscar Wilde's description of a cynic; that being, "Those who know the price of everything but the value of nothing."

In the seven years that my family has lived in Bolton, the library has been a great source of pleasure to us, intellectually, culturally, and recreationally speaking. We have benefited from its use and will continue to do so even if a new library is not built. But the truth of the matter is that the present building is more suited to the nineteenth century than the twentieth or the twenty-first.

Libraries are special places for those that take advantage of their services. According to statistics which the late Elinor Bentley compiled several years ago, the Bolton Library received far more use than that of the national average.

In a town where the mill rate has remained stable over the past three years and where the bulk (if not all) of the money for the new building will come from federal revenue sharing funds, it seems to me that a grave error in judgment was made by the three dissenting gentlemen on the Finance Board. Even if the town must share a part of the costs, surely, the mill rate would not be affected to a great extent with long term bonding.

I urge Messrs. Silverstein, Pechham, and Riley to reconsider their decision and let the people of Bolton vote on the question.

Very truly yours,
Marilyn Breslow

Make Patience A Driving Habit

Dear editor:

I recently received a letter from Beth MacDonald of McKee Street. Beth is a ten year old girl who complained about cars going too fast causing unnecessary accidents involving small animals.

I believe Beth's concern can be echoed by many residents throughout our community. Not only are small animals endangered but also our children and anyone who goes by foot or bicycle on our streets.

I would ask our automobile operators to be especially cautious during the school year and to incorporate patience as a driving habit.

Development of any driver to exceed speed limits in Manchester. Observing the speed limits will not only make our streets safer for our children but will also assure that drivers can get from any part of town to another part of town in a reasonable period of time.

Don't Forget MIA/POWs

To the editor:

Have you forgotten our men missing-in-action from the Vietnam War? If you had a husband or brother who was listed as missing-in-action, would you feel that the issue was solved? All POWs did not return. There are some 1,200 MIA/POW Americans who are still prisoners of war or missing-in-action in Southeast Asia.

Over 50 of these men were known to have been captured and the U.S. government considers them prisoners of war. Proof of their capture has been substantiated by photographs, letters written home, and radio broadcasts.

Some MIAs are literally missing and will never be accounted for, but as long as North Vietnam and her allies refuse to account for any men, more than 1,200 MIA/POW families will continue to wonder whether their loved one could still be alive.

The MIA/POW cause has not changed since the peace treaty. Only the numbers have changed and the principle of brotherhood cannot be measured in numbers.

The only hope these men and their families have left is public pressure. You are public pressure. These are the men for whom we must all raise our voices. It's up to you. You can help.

Wear a MIA/POW bracelet as a visible display of your concern and as a means to bring the plight of the MIA/POW to the attention of others. Write your elected representatives, congressmen, senators, urging that they use every possible means, and enlist the aid of all nations, to obtain an accurate accounting. It has been proven the power of the pen and the voter's signature is strong. Don't let them be forgotten. For further information, please write to: Mrs. Patricia Mahon, Connecticut State Federation of Women's Clubs, Junior Veterans chairman, National League of VIVA (Voices in Vital America) and the National League of POW/MIA Families.

Even when there has been coordination, the loopholes have at times been ridiculous post-ponement. For example, if heavy trucks were to be exported for some other purpose, say for use in iron or mining operations, no approval was needed. But the export of these heavy trucks, in short supply, handicaps the domestic energy-development program to precisely the same degree in either case.

The federal bureaucracy has not been alone in these maneuvers. The domestic and foreign departments of several of the dominant companies building equipment for the energy industry have been working against each other, neither knowing or seemingly caring what their company policy was or should be.

Confusion Compounds Our Energy Problems

WASHINGTON—(NEA) — Overnight it seems the federal bureaucracy forgot the lessons of the wheat deal with Russia — an arrangement through which we subsidized exports, created costly scarcities at home and cheated both farmer and consumer.

A major part of the problem, it was later discovered, was that one section of the government did not know what other sections were doing. Crucial information never reached the people who needed it to make appropriate decisions.

This reporter has now learned that at the height of the gas shortage when it was apparent that there would have to be unprecedented power conservation and development efforts, when officials in concerned agencies were fighting to get all available materials to the energy industry, others, often within the same agencies, were approving major exports of those same scarce materials with direct and indirect subsidies to be paid by the American taxpayer.

Even when there has been coordination, the loopholes have at times been ridiculous post-ponement. For example, if heavy trucks were to be exported for some other purpose, say for use in iron or mining operations, no approval was needed. But the export of these heavy trucks, in short supply, handicaps the domestic energy-development program to precisely the same degree in either case.

Wings of Evening
CLIFF SIMPSON

Labor Day is past. And with its passing there is generally a change in attitude. What was yours? Just waiting for the hot days to pass? Realizing that no more relatives can visit you at the summer place? Relieved to get the children back to school? Regret that the long-awaited vacation is over? Satisfaction to be back in the fall routine?

It would be possible to list many more contrasts and changes. No doubt you could add many of your own. An over-arching question for the Christian concerns the "growth of the soul." Did your summer bring a "re-orientation" to you? Did you grow through the season? Are you still on the same plateau as in the spring? If so, perhaps the eagle should "strut up the next."

What on earth does that mean? The Bible speaks of the eagle who stretches up the nest. "My understanding is in this wise. When building a nest the eagle puts in the wisest fabric of the bottom a number of sharp thorns which are covered with soft down, feathers, and other material to give the baby eaglets security. As they grow and one by one take flight, the eagle rejoices.

But if there is one who is reluctant, who does not take flight, who much prefers the security of the nest to the uncertainties of the unknown world of the beyond, the eagle "struts up the nest." She removes the nice soft down so that the thorns stick up. Sooner or later the eaglet has to take off.

Sometimes God is like that. In our security and comfort He stirs up the nest so that our souls will grow.

I could relate many stories about persons who, through the years, have moved through difficulties and found a sense of God's presence. His peace and His power. A startling example of such growth occurred during World War II in a Japanese prison camp in Thailand. Through this experience in that place of horror an indifferent, nominal Christian was transformed into a man of God. His name, "At Jesus Feet" on Radio Station WINP.

When moved to the next camp conditions were not better: "Apathy and indifference were rampant. We were like a miasmic fog. We were on the long, slow slides."

The men worked under the bayonet, the bamboo lash, slow starvation, at least too heavy even for the healthy. They were struck. Selfishness, hatred, fear increased the degradation so that the men stole from each other. They felt that even God had left—and only money, black despair remained.

Then there began a gradual turning from death to life, a mysterious stirring, a movement, a presence. They formed discussion groups, began to worship in an outdoor chapel, sought some understanding of Jesus and his teaching.

Who was suspended on a Cross saved those who were suspended over the abyss of meaninglessness. Ernest Gordon describes the changes.

"We knew personal fulfillment, love, joy, peace, wholeness, as we committed ourselves to the One who called us."

An incident near the end of the book summarizes the transformation that took place. Shunted off on a siding en route to Bangkok they were next to a train of wounded Japanese who were filthy, emaciated with mud, blood and excrement. They were waiting for death. There was a time when they might have found satisfaction in the suffering of dead enemies but now:

"Without a word most of the officers in my section unbuttoned their pants, took out their rations and a rag and tow, and with water canteens in their hands, went over to the Japanese train. 10-45 a.m. Morning Worship, Commissioning Service for Church School staff; Sermon: "The Church at Work."

How To Order Catalogue

In last week's column "Thoughts About Christmas" which appeared on the church page, the address for obtaining the Christmas catalogue referred to was inadvertently omitted.

The Alternate Christmas Catalogue is available from Alternatives, 1500 Farragut St. N.W., Washington, D.C. 20011.

Registration for all classes may be by mail, or in person Tuesday at the MHS gymnasium.

For additional information, contact Joel Chaison, director of adult basic education, at 646-3854, ext. 252.

Our poem for the week is by Edgar Guest:

"Our broken dream is the end of dreaming,
One shattered hope at the end of a day.
Beyond the storm and tempest stars are gleaming,
Still build your castles though your castles fall.
Through many dreams come tumbling in disaster,
And pain and heartache meet you down the years.
Still keep your faith, your dreams and hopes to master,
And seek to find the lesson of your tears."
A famous preacher gives us this maxim: Henry Ward Beecher wrote:

"Caution and conservatism are expected of old age, but when young men of our nation are possessed of such a spirit, when they are afraid of the noise and strife caused by the applications of truth, heaven save the land! Its funeral bell has already rung."

Our chuckle for the week comes from my own experience. Knowing that small children sometimes have confused ideas as to the difference between ministers and other people, one Sunday when they were in the church service I decided to emphasize that I was just a man like other men. When it came time for the children's sermon I stood in the pulpit and said to those in the front row — "Here I am, standing before you. What do you see?"

The answer came promptly from several directions "A minister," "He removed my robe stepped down from the platform, and faced them again, asking "Now what do you see?" One small boy replied — "A minister with his robe off."

When I was recovering from surgery a thoughtful friend gave me Dick Van Dyke's amusing book "Faith, Hope and Hilarity." As I liked I through this anecdote caught my eye.

"Recovering from surgery, a pastor in Brick Town, N.J., had mixed feelings when he received a batch of convalescence cards from the kids in his Sunday School. One card said, "Dear Pastor, get well soon. May you rest in peace."

For Middle Age, Try Religion

By DAVID E. ANDERSON

An informal and very unscientific survey taken among my "older" colleagues in the office dramatically demonstrates that the approach of their middle age is traumatic.

Help, however, is on the way for that generation forgotten between the growing militancy of the elders—senior citizens—and lessening militancy of the youngsters—youth culture—both of which seemed to have captured between them all the programs, interests, and activities of the young.

The help is in the form of a

Home Health Care Topic Of Area Red Cross Course

A course on "The A B C's of Home Health Care" will be offered free-of-charge by the Nathan Hale Branch of the American Red Cross starting Sept. 23.

The classes will run for three consecutive weeks on Monday and Wednesday nights from 7 to 9 o'clock at the Tallahassee County Agricultural Center, Rt. 30, Vernon.

The course is open to residents of Vernon, Tolland and Coventry who wish to learn about maintaining health, basic emergency treatment and medicines, caring of the ill and other related topics.

Mrs. Lois S. Barlow, director of the nursing services, said the program is an updated one featuring the latest methods in home health, and patient care. Participants successfully completing the course will receive the Red Cross Home Nursing Certificate.

For Middle Age, Try Religion

By DAVID E. ANDERSON

An informal and very unscientific survey taken among my "older" colleagues in the office dramatically demonstrates that the approach of their middle age is traumatic.

Help, however, is on the way for that generation forgotten between the growing militancy of the elders—senior citizens—and lessening militancy of the youngsters—youth culture—both of which seemed to have captured between them all the programs, interests, and activities of the young.

Baltimore Pitchers Set Record Hurling Five Straight Shutouts

NEW YORK (UPI) — The Baltimore Oriole pitching staff doesn't ask for much. But then again, it doesn't need much. The Orioles, thanks to shutout performances from Dave McNally and Mike Cuellar, beat the Cleveland Indians 2-0 and 1-0 Friday night to run their winning streak to nine games...

Dodger-Red Battle Anything But Over

NEW YORK (UPI) — The Los Angeles Dodgers won a major battle Friday night but every indication is that their war with the Cincinnati Reds is far from over. The Dodgers boosted their advantage to 3½ games over Cincinnati in the NL West by defeating the Reds 3-1 at Riverfront Stadium...

Steve Garvey staked the Dodgers to a 3-0 lead with a three-run homer in the first inning but that was the last offensive threat Los Angeles mounted against loser Don Gullett and two relievers...

When you win that first game in foreign park, that's the big thing," said the excited Garvey. "It's a psychological lift. I hit a good fastball for the homer, down in it. It's the kind of pitch I hit real well. After I swung I looked at (leftfielder) Pete Rose. He turned around and I said to myself 'that's a good sign.'"

Ed Kirkpatrick's bases-empty homer in the second inning provided Dock Ellis with the run he needed to defeat Montreal for the Pirates' 12th win in their last 14 games...

Rookie Greg Gross scored one run and drove in another to pace the Astros' triumph over the Padres. Gross tripled and scored in the first inning and singled home a run in the second to help James Rodney Richard to his second win in three decisions...

Rookie John D'Acquisto allowed only four hits while recording his first major league pitching victory in the Red Sox victory over the Braves. The 22-year-old right-hander allowed only two hits over the first eight innings and pitched out of his only jam in the ninth to win his 11th game in 23 decisions.

Dick Ruthven scattered eight hits and Dave Cash drove in one run and scored another to give the Phillies victory over the Cubs. The loss was the fifth in a row for the Cubs.

Three Veterans With Boston R Sox Can't Explain Long Losing Streak

BOSTON (UPI) — The course of events over the last two weeks has raised just one question; just who do you blame? And at once, the answer is both nobody and everybody. Three major league veterans on the Boston Red Sox declare they've never seen a slump quite like this one...

Aside from McNally, Cuellar, Ross Grimsley and Jim Palmer, the only Oriole pitcher to see action since Aug. 25 has been Grant Jackson who worked 1-13 innings in relief on Aug. 31.

Enos Cabell's first homer of the year and second of his major league career snapped a scoreless tie in the seventh inning of the first game while Rich Coggins doubled home Mark Belanger in the eighth inning with the only run of the nightcap.

Elsewhere in the AL, New York beat Detroit 6-2 in the first game of a scheduled doubleheader that all its runs in the seventh inning because of rain. Milwaukee blanked Boston 2-0, Texas edged Oakland 5-4 in 11 innings and California beat Chicago 4-2, Minnesota and Kansas City were idle.

Yanks Slept Well Resting Atop Pack

Scoreboard table showing game results for American League and National League.

NEW YORK (UPI) — Assured of another night's sleep as a first-place manager, Bill Virdon announced to one and all "I am not a genius."

Virton hedged when asked whether he was just guessing by inserting Vezel into the lineup and called it, "a calculated hunch."

With two more left-handers, Woody Fryman and Luke Walker, scheduled to face the Yanks in today's doubleheader, Virdon might hunch Vezel right back into the lineup again.

ST. LOUIS (UPI) — Lou Brock has lowered his magic number to three — he's just three stolen bases away from Murray Wilk's record of 104 steals in a season.

Brock stole his 100th and 101st bases Friday night and also tripled to drive in one run and scored another in the St. Louis Cardinals' 3-1 victory over the New York Mets.

ST. LOUIS (UPI) — "What he did is none of our business as baseball players and he has always treated us fairly," said the speaker was New York Yankee catcher Thurman Munson and he was referring to club owner George Steinbrenner who announced Friday that he would step down from active participation in the Yankee organization...

ST. LOUIS (UPI) — "I tried it once in 1965 but went back to third when the pitcher threw the ball," Brock said. "But there isn't and I've gone to it three times this week as he approaches the former Los Angeles Dodger's record."

Manager Bill Virdon felt sure that Steinbrenner, "will stay in contact with the club. Maybe he won't be in the clubhouse or in the office or talking to me, but he'll certainly be following the team."

They played bad, but we're not playing bad ball. We're just not hitting." "Tant, who was victimized for again by non-support, sympathized with his mates, but expressed frustration at the same time. "You can't really blame anyone," he said. "The guys are trying hard. But you can't win without hits. It's just a slump, and listen, when things go bad, they really go bad. We had a couple of outs that should've been hits. But that's the game."

Bob Oliver doubled in one run and Bob Helms's squeeze bunt drove in another as California scored all its runs in the fourth inning to defeat Chicago. Rookie Frank Tanana, with relief help from Orlando Pena, beat veteran Wilbur Wood to end Chicago's 10-game winning streak.

Virton hedged when asked whether he was just guessing by inserting Vezel into the lineup and called it, "a calculated hunch."

With two more left-handers, Woody Fryman and Luke Walker, scheduled to face the Yanks in today's doubleheader, Virdon might hunch Vezel right back into the lineup again.

Playoffs Decided Eight Golf Opens

figure will again be the main attraction for the pro Monday. Playoffs seemed to run in strings. The first was in 1954 when Fred Wampler took time off from the PGA tour to beat Harry Weitzelblatt in a one-hole sudden-death playoff.

Familiar Name

One familiar name in the field of golf professionals entered in the Manchester Open Monday is that of Boris.

Jay Boros, son of Julius Boros, one of the sport's all-time greats, has entered for the first time PGA tour pro, Jay is now an assistant pro at the Hickory Ridge Country Club in Amherst, Mass., under Tom Toole.

Bad bid calls for good play

A reader from Winnipeg asks: "How bad was my seven spade bid? It turned out to be very expensive since my partner was one down, but he would have made it if either spades or diamonds had broken."

As a matter of general use of the Blackwood convention, North should not have bid seven spades. The bid was also bad from the result standpoint, but if South had stood up on his toes the grand slam should have been made.

It really wasn't too tough a hand if South had just tried to count to 13 tricks. He could count 10 tricks in top cards. He could ruff to get a 13th trick would be to set up a fifth diamond and it was possible to do all this provided diamonds

South should lead a trump at trick two and another back to his hand at trick three. Then he should ruff a heart, cash dummy's ace and king of diamonds, ruff a diamond, ruff his last low heart, ruff a fourth diamond, discard dummy's two small clubs on the last trump and cash the high heart remaining in his hand, and make the last two tricks with dummy's ace of clubs and fifth spade (NORTH ENTERPRISES ASSN.)

Meskill Judgeship Hearing Date Set

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Senate Judiciary Committee hearings will begin Sept. 17 on the nomination of Connecticut Gov. Thomas J. Meskill to be a judge on the Second Circuit Court of Appeals.

The announcement of the hearing date came after both Meskill, a first-term Republican governor who decided against seeking re-election this year, and Sen. Lowell P. Weicker, R-Conn., paid a "courtesy call" Friday on Sen. James T. Eastland, D-Miss., chairman of the committee.

Experience Questioned
President Ford resubmitted Meskill's nomination, originally made by former President Nixon, although the American Bar Association has said Meskill lacks experience on the bench. Meskill has previously served as a congressman and a mayor in his native New Britain, Conn.

Meskill was in Washington at the invitation of Attorney General William B. Saxbe. The nation's top law enforcement official has threatened 13 states with possible court proceedings because their lotteries currently violate old federal laws.

Meskill was one of two governors attending the morning closed-door meeting with Saxbe. He also attended a briefing later in the day at which it was announced no prosecution against the states would take place for 90 days while Congress considers whether to resolve the lottery problem.

Meskill, Weicker and Eastland met for about 15 minutes in the chairman's office. Meskill said there was no discussion of how many days the hearings would take. There is opposition to the Meskill nomination.

Ned Coll of the Hartford-based Revitalization Corps traveled to Washington earlier this year to protest Meskill's nomination. A demonstration took place outside of the Old Senate Office Building where Weicker, who recommended Meskill for the judgeship, has his office.

She is survived by one step-niece, Mrs. Chauncey Osborne of West Rutland.

Calling hours at the Holmes Funeral Home, 400 Main St. will be Sunday from 7 to 9 p.m. with a funeral service at 7:30 p.m. Sunday.

Burial will be in Evergreen Cemetery, Center, Vt.

Frank W. Billings
Frank William Billings, 82, formerly of 12L Bluefield Dr., died Friday in a South Windsor convalescent home.

He was born in New Britain on Oct. 12, 1891, and had lived most of his life in the Manchester-South Windsor area.

He was a retired carpenter, and had worked for Hartman Tobacco Co.

Vernon Men Badly Hurt In Multi-Vehicle Accident

Two older Vernon men on their way home from work at 12:16 a.m. today were badly injured in a multi-truck and multi-car accident on I-86 near Caldor's shopping center.

State Police of the Hartford Barracks reported the accident was quite a mess but had no other information ready for release this morning.

Men of Manchester Ambulance who responded with two ambulances and two crews to the scene said, "These (two) guys are very fortunate to be alive."

The men are Vernon L. Hardy, 59, of 90 Gerald Dr., Rockville, the driver of a car involved, and David Stone, 61, of 55 Hillside Moor Ave., Vernon, his passenger.

They were taken to Manchester Memorial Hospital's emergency room. Stone was reported in the special care unit of the hospital and his condition was termed serious by a hospital spokesman. Hardy was also admitted to MMH and was in the intermediate section in fair condition.

The accident involved a house trailer, a tractor trailer, several cars and possibly more vehicles, according to unofficial observers.

Cars and trucks were backed up for miles in the eastbound lanes, they said. Ambulance and police work appeared to be hampered by the lanes of traffic lined up four abreast. It was raining steadily and visibility was poor.

State Police are still investigating the crash.

Mini Page Scouts a Summer Camp For ...

Super-ready Football Players

"Who hit you the hardest last year?" a camper asks running back Willie Burden who is playing for the Detroit Lions. As an extra treat, a pro super-star is usually brought into camp to work with the kids and, of course, sign autographs.

"In one week of camp, you pick-up as much as you could learn in 10 years of ordinary football ... and the food's pretty good," one camper told The Mini Page.

Young players who wanted to be super-ready for the fall season flocked to camps on college campuses this summer. These camps were run by college coaches.

The campers learned the basics. These are "no contact" camps. No uniforms or even helmets are allowed. Touch football is the only kind that can be played.

Now that the regular football season has started, many of the campers are showing their teammates what they learned this summer. In this way, they can help make the whole team better.

"Maybe, if I look mean, they'll fumble," might be what this player is thinking as he demonstrates a four-point stance.

"Let's walk through that hand-off again," says this quarterback to the running back as he puts the ball in his "basket."

"Did I do it right, Coach?"

"Time out."

A Book About Football

"How to Play Better Football," by C. Paul Jackson, illustrated by Leonard Kessler, published by Thomas T. Crowell Company, 1972. 233 pages.

This is a book for the beginning player and fan from the fifth grade and up.

It gives the basic fundamentals. Included is information about football's history, equipment, playing field, rules and plays. There are chapters about the different positions and how to play them. The book is illustrated with cartoons.

There is a good glossary of football terms. The author has written books for beginners about basketball and baseball.

World Football League

The founding of the World Football League is one of the biggest stories in sports!

Gary L. Davidson, a lawyer, started it. He thought that the timing was right for starting a new league. Pro-football is popular. Many good players were looking for jobs. The National Football League was troubled by player strikes.

Davidson also started the American Basketball Association and the World Hockey League.

The new league got its biggest boost when Larry Csonka, Jim Kiick and Paul Warfield of the NFL champion Miami Dolphins signed WFL contracts. They will play for Miami for another year before going to play with the Memphis Southmen in 1975.

The league has 12 teams with three divisions. The season opened July 10.

Paul Warfield is an outstanding pass receiver for the world champion Miami Dolphins. He will be playing for the Memphis Southmen of the World Football League next year.

Paul grew up in Warren, Ohio. By the time he had graduated from high school, 70 colleges had offered him scholarships. He went to Ohio State and later played for the Cleveland Browns. In 1970 he was traded to the Dolphins.

Paul is a very quick runner who can change his running pattern in a flash. He describes himself as a "loner."
