MAP's Preliminary Plans Get Unanimous Approval

MAP Associates' preliminary plans for the Comprehensive Urban Development (CUD) Zone portion of its 263-acre Backland tract were unanimously approved Monday night by the Manchester Planning and Zoning Commission (PZC).

Approval of the preliminary CUD plans—including road layout and distribution of land uses—clears the way for MAP Associates to begin detailed planning and engineering work.

MAP Associates' preliminary development plan has been under consideration by the PZC since July. In August, PZC members inspected the Backland site and suggested changes (later made by MAP) in the road system.

The land use distribution approved consists of 98 acres (70 per cent) housing, 13 acres (one per cent) dedicated public land, and 29 acres (21 per cent) open space.

Of the housing portion, 77 acres (55 per cent of the total site area) will be multi-family, single-family and duplex housing will each be allocated 10 1/2 acres, totaling the other 15 per cent of the total site area.

The number of housing units will be 1,026 multi-family, 84 duplex, and 52 single-family.

The land use distribution approved consists of 98 acres (70 per cent) housing, 13 acres (one per cent) dedicated public land, and 29 acres (21 per cent) open space.

MAP Associates, an investment-partnership led by developer Arthur M. Fischer of New York City, is planning commercial and industrial development on other portions of the 263-acre tobacco land tract at Backland.

Zone changes allowing the development, granted by the PZC in March, are being challenged in court by the Buckland Homeowners Association. Plans for a South Windsor portion of the MAP land, totaling 208 acres in that town, haven't been brought before zoning officials there yet.

OPINION

For All Of Us

As the new school year starts there are some questions that are bound to be asked again and again and particularly next spring when school boards come to grips with budgets.

Enrollments in Connecticut have apparently leveled off and in some communities have declined but costs continue to increase.

The schools are much in the same position as the rest of us in that inflation is making deep inroads into budgets. In recent months, inflation cushions, if any, allowed in budgets, have been virtually eliminated.

But one of the questions that inevitably comes up is whether inflation is the sole reason for increased educational cost.

It is, we think, rather fruitless to make comparisons of budgets with years past unless program offerings are also compared. Currently, we in Manchester, have before us the prospect of a cutback in the physical education program in the elementary schools in an effort to save funds.

This points out the difficult task of determining educational priorities. Physical education is important. Reading is important. Special education is important. Some programs are mandatory. Some are not.

Educators have a criteria that influence their judgments as to what should have top priority. Parents of the children in school have a different view than those who do not. The fixed income taxpayer has a view often more conservative than the taxpayer whose income is increasing as he attains seniority or new job responsibilities.

And overall, whether we like it or not, the tight money situation for our schools is not going to ease overnight by any federal or state assistance. Inflation appears to be several years away from solution at best.

The most important thing we as taxpayers, parents, teachers, and citizens can do in the next few months is to better inform ourselves of what our schools are doing, are trying to do, and perhaps should be doing but are not or cannot.

We must continue to watch the pennies it is true but there is more to education than what is reflected in dollars and cents.

We strongly feel that education is a community responsibility and the caliber of education offered reflects a community's willingness to weigh all the elements involved rather than look at a budget balance sheet alone.

It is a truism that when everything is going well, most of us could care less what is happening behind the classroom door and when the economy is prosperous, money isn't too hard to come by either.

But today things are not going well and money is hard to come by. It will take the intelligent and active interest of all of us to make sure we have the best educational opportunity for our youngsters that we can afford in these trying times.

It will mean some hard decisions as we evolve a criteria upon which we can establish educational priorities.

But this is a challenge which must be met if we are to retain local control over educational programs and keep public education responsive, not only to student needs, but community needs as well.

After all education is one of our major industries. If each of us would put the same thought and care we do into making a major investment, like a new car or home, into our educational investment, we could move mountains.

Clearly, we are in need of positive and intelligent community-wide participation in the problems facing our schools in these days of inflation, new educational challenges, and the continuing knowledge explosion.

Odds Favor AEC

If you live near a nuclear power plant, the chances of being killed by a reactor accident are one in 300 million.

That compares with odds of one in two million of being hit by lightning and one in 4,000 of being involved in automobile accident.

"The fact is that nuclear accident probabilities are so low that they are insignificant compared to the over-all risks due to other man-made and natural risks," according to the recently released draft report of a study commissioned by the Atomic Energy Commission.

The two-year, $3-million study is the most comprehensive ever made of nuclear power plant safety, says the AEC.

There are now about 50 commercial nuclear power plants in operation. There have been no accidents. About 100 reactors are expected to be working by 1980. On this basis, the study estimates the probability of a nuclear core melting and releasing radioactive materials as once every 175 years. But only one out of 10 potential core-melt accidents would have measurable health effects, and that would occur on the average of once every 17 centuries.

Such has been the extraordinary safety record of the nuclear industry that the two insurance pools which provide liability insurance for every utility-operated nuclear power reactor and all privately-operated research and development reactors in the United States have just made premium refunds of nearly $1.5 million.

Under the rating system used by the pools — the Nuclear Energy Liability Insurance Assn. (NELIA) — about 70 per cent of the premiums received from insureds is placed in a loss reserve fund. If these funds are not utilized to pay losses, they are returned to the insureds after a period of 10 years.

In the last eight years, NELIA and MAELU have made premium refunds of more than $6.5 million.

According to spokesmen for the pools, the latest refund is "an expression of confidence in the safety of nuclear installations."

Since the beginning of their operation in 1957, neither pool have ever received a claim arising from the operation of a nuclear reactor. This safety record, they note, is without parallel in other industries.

Hail, The Vanquished

NEW YORK CITY — We have all been hearing about the battered child syndrome, but what about the battered party syndrome? No, it isn't the Republican Party which is displaying the symptoms, but the Democratic.

The Republicans took a beating all through the Watergate hearings and trials, with every report about the misdeeds of their President and his aides. The Democrats sat by with confident anticipation, like a cannibal tribe waiting for the pot to boil before the missionary or the sinner gets thrown in. Well, the pot is boiling, and it isn't the Democrats who are officiating at the throwing-in ceremony.

The Republicans should be the sinners and penitents, riven by recriminations and scorned by the people. Yet here they are riding high, a unified party under the confident joint leadership of a new President and a new (prospective) Vice President.

The Democrats have been the moralists all the way through, with swollen voter registration rolls, a good press and every prospect of swamping the coming elections through 1976 and perhaps 1980. But here they are, still bleeding after a lethal delegate fight at what was supposed to be a harmony national party meeting at Kansas City, and stunned by the euphoria that Mr. Ford's first weeks have generated in the nation.

How account for this strange reversal? There may be a clue in the history of victorious and defeated nations. In World War II Great Britain was on the winning side and Germany and Japan were on the losing. Yet in the postwar years it was the German and Japanese economies which turned out to be the prosperous ones, and Britain's a shambles.

One might call this the vanquished nation syndrome. The defeated countries had to rebuild their ravaged cities, railroads, capital equipment, distribution systems, starting from scratch. They were able to scrap archaic methods and introduce new ones. The victors felt they didn't have to renovate and innovate, and they got stuck with the old ways. There was also a psychological factor. The defeated peoples felt they had to compensate for the shame and guilt of defeat, and they did it by redoubled skills and unified action.

The case of the Republicans and Democrats offers a parallel. The Democrats, sometimes too smugly, felt untouched by the dirt and dross of Watergate. They were the good guys. But voters who recoiled from the bad guys don't necessarily turn to the virtuous on the opposing side. In fact, most Americans were hypnotically relieved to find that Gerald Ford was a good guy.

Hail to the vanquished. They may well inherit the earth. For one thing, they have to make a greater effort, and — like the defeated nations — the Republicans have that they may show that taking a bad beating has its advantages.

It is the old story in new form. The Democrats have the majority registration and they have the virtue to warm them, but they also have a suicide imperative. The Republicans are the minority party, but they may show that taking a bad beating has its advantages.

Watergate to make them overcome their disunities. For another, they start now as the underdogs, and there will be a sympathy element which will operate for them.

But the crucial factor is the ideological one. The Republicans feel bruised and bloodied by what Nixon, Haldeman and Ehrlichman set in motion when they started their anti-Elsberg operation. Ideology has lost its appeal for them — which is why even the right wing of the party is putting up only a feeble, token opposition to Nelson Rockefeller as Vice President. The party has its standard-bearer now, and it wants to win in 1976.

The Democrats seem more bemused by ideology. The Kansas City fight, in preparation for the mini-convention to come, was between the Jackson-Humphrey-Mooney forces and the former McGovern-McCarthy forces, who want Kennedy or someone like him. The first group doesn't want to see the 1972 disaster repeated, the second doesn't want to see the 1972 convention gains for minority "quasars" lost. The second took a walk at Kansas City when it saw the first was in control.

disunities. For another, they start now as the underdogs, and there will be a sympathy element which will operate for them.
But the crucial factor is the ideological one. The Republicans feel bruised and bloodied by what Nixon, Haldeman and Ehrlichman set in motion when they started their anti-Elsberg operation. Ideology has lost its appeal for them — which is why even the right wing of the party is putting up only a feeble, token opposition to Nelson Rockefeller as Vice President. The party has its standard-bearer now, and it wants to win in 1976.

The Democrats seem more bemused by ideology. The Kansas City fight, in preparation for the mini-convention to come, was between the Jackson-Humphrey-Mooney forces and the former McGovern-McCarthy forces, who want Kennedy or someone like him. The first group doesn't want to see the 1972 disaster repeated, the second doesn't want to see the 1972 convention gains for minority "quasars" lost. The second took a walk at Kansas City when it saw the first was in control.

It is the old story in new form. The Democrats have the majority registration and they have the virtue to warm them, but they also have a suicide imperative. The Republicans are the minority party, but they may show that taking a bad beating has its advantages.

Weeping

To the editor:
It took considerable courage for President Ford to use a speaking engagement before the VFW convention to part company with his two predecessors and propose giving the Vietnam backwash of deserters and draft dodgers "a second chance."

Ford's audience was stunned and, no doubt, many other Americans were too. But Ford was not talking about indiscriminate, total amnesia. When he spoke of tempering justice with mercy, he plainly meant a compromise.

Perhaps the key sentence was "I want them to come home, if they want to work their way back."

This clearly implies something like a term of public service work at nominal pay. That doesn't equate with wartime military service, but what can't?

It doesn't even equate with peacetime military service, although that might logically be a qualifying option for some of these men.

All this is unfinished business from the most unpopular foreign war in this nation's history. By the time American troops start coming home, the German and Japanese economies will be those who led or skirted it. Legally the positions were pious apart, but morally?

The real issue is not how they left toward war, but the fact that they turned their back on their country, their family, and their neighbors in another word meaning forgiveness. Forgiveness for what? Why should we compromise with a deserter?

No matter what happened or doesn't, the fugitives are stigmatized. Even if they are given the opportunity to "come home," many will not show enough back bone to do even that.

I can understand President Ford is acting on his own humane instincts but I think he is putting up only a feeble, token effort as displayed on my Purple Heart. As I look closer, I think he is weeping.

Wants Stop Light

To the editor:
Enclosed is a letter that was sent to Chief of Police James Reardon. If I see you publish it the people of Manchester will realize the conditions and slow down to help solve this problem.

Dear Sir:
This is a plea that something be done to have a stop light installed at the intersection of Pearl and Spruce streets.

It is a common occurrence to hear metal on metal as cars crash. August 29, this all-too-familiar sound of cars crashing was heard. A parked car was hit in the rear and pushed on the sidewalk into a stone wall. If anyone had been in the car or walking on the sidewalk, they would most likely have been killed.

As the mother of three children, I am deeply concerned about their welfare and that of the other children in the neighborhood. Because we chose to live in the heart of town is no reason why we should be subjected to fear for our children and property.

Spruce Street is used as a drag strip from the corner of Bissell Street to the top of Spruce at Center Street. If you check your accident records, you will see there have been many accidents on this section of Spruce. One involved a police cruiser and one resulted in the death of a woman. There have been requests before for something to be done. Please, let us not wait until another life is taken, perhaps that of an innocent child.

Sincerely,
Mrs. Raymond Tilden

How Controls Led to Inflation

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — Usually calm President Ford reacts strongly whenever price controls are mentioned. There's a reason. New industrial surveys show just how much of our trouble today dates back to Mr. Nixon's attempt to regulate what companies could charge for their products.

Price controls at home when prices were soaring abroad led producers to sell greater quantities of scarce materials in the world market. Especially serious were exports of chemicals, aluminum, iron and steel scrap, petrochemicals, steels, copper electrical equipment, and heat exchangers.

For imported materials the situation was equally bleak. Foreign producers of zinc, manganese and other important basics naturally sold where they could get premium prices. That was not the U.S. Market.

Price controls, combined in some cases with stringent anti-pollution requirements where costs could not be passed on, reduced profits to a point where numbers of marginal firms were forced out of business, further reducing supplies. The annual smelter production of zinc dropped from 1.4 million tons a few years back to 600,000. Between 1970 and 1973, 300 small foundries went out of business. Shutdowns of aluminum, coke and glass plants have been reported.

The low profit margins, some again affected by anti-pollution regulations, led other firms to delay indefinitely expansion of their capacity. The range here reads like a roster of basic industry — caustic soda, chlorine, alloys, petrochemicals, titanium, tungsten, steel, aluminum, pulpwood, salt, soda ash, iron castings, manganese and on and on and on.

No One Of Us Can Ever See His Or Her Own Profile
Yet this week we are trying with Google to catch some reflections of our own selfhood. In all of life we probably get to know everything else better than we get to know ourselves.

Today let's take an inventory of our personal strengths. To be aware of the fact that we personally have some special skills and gifts which are valuable to others and to society is helpful in the maintaining of a strong self-image. But to keep this in perspective we must remember who gave us these lives — God. And He gave us the priceless gift also, of not taking ourselves too seriously!

The building, located at the corner of Park and School Sts., now houses administrative and business offices for the school system. It also was used for classrooms until its use for that purpose was phased out at the end of the past school year.
The younger Lawrence explained the renovation plans for the basement, first and second floors of the building, and said the third floor will not be changed, except that plans call for the installation of a smoke detection system.
He said the basement will mainly be used for maintenance and storage of some curriculum materials and will also have a new, fire-proof vault. Some of the basement area will not be rededicated.
The Board of Education, business department, and the superintendents, now have cramped office space on the first floor of the building.
With the renovations the first floor will still be used for the same offices but the space will be rearranged and rest rooms and an employees' lounge will be added.

The second floor, which was used for classrooms, will be reconfigured as office space for department heads, supervisors, and other special personnel. It will also have a Board of Education meeting room, a professional library, and rest rooms.
Because the project, if carried out, will be reimbursed 50 per cent of the cost by the state, state officials must approve the plans which must comply with state regulations.
Lawrence said in drawing up the plans the first problem that had to be solved was the fact that the building does not conform with the fire safety code of the three existing stair wells being in violation.
A solution would be to renovate the stairs on the east end of the building and place new stairs on the west side, all the way from the basement to the third floor, Lawrence explained.

An elevator must be installed to service all three floors, if the town is to receive the state aid. This requirement is in conformance with the state law requiring that public buildings provide adequately for handicapped persons and other special personnel. It will also have a Board of Education meeting room, a professional library, and rest rooms.

Lillyman Contract Revealed

HARTFORD (UPI) — City Manager Edward Curtin is proposing former Civic Center Director William B. Lillyman receive his old salary and benefits while serving as a consultant on the center.

Lillyman's salary was $313,750 weekly until he resigned about a month ago amid charges he used city funds for personal expenses and engaged in possible conflict of interest and other practices.

An independent audit cleared Lillyman of fraud but said he used poor administrative judgment in a number of areas.

Curtin Monday submitted a proposed contract to the City Council that would put Lillyman on as a consultant to the center, which is nearing completion. He would begin this week and serve until Dec. 31.

Curtin is proposing to give Lillyman his old salary plus all benefits except retirement. That includes medical and life insurance, use of a car for city business and payment of appropriate travel expenses.

Curtin said Lillyman's duties would include contract negotiations, solicitation of new events for the center and participation in planning for the opening of the $30.5 million facility Jan. 9.

The agreement calls for Lillyman to provide the city with reports on his work and accountings of exact spending.

Wolfanger Tours Vernon

Howard Wolfanger of Tolland, Republican candidate for the 35th District senate seat, campaigned in the Vernon area last week.

Wolfanger, and Donald Eden, his campaign treasurer, toured the areas in Vernon affected by the recent heavy rains and damage to town property as well as private property.

Wolfanger said he plans to meet with Mayor Frank McCoy, who is studying the situation, to find out just what assistance can be given.

He said this action saved much damage to town property as well as private property.

Referring to the school parking lot on Rt. 30 is not suitable for the bus company's purpose.

The company was granted the use of a portion of the school parking lot for this parking of commuter's cars. The permit was granted last winter with the provision that it would be reviewed when schools open again.

In a letter to Vernon Mayor Frank McCoy, Harold Collins, owner of the bus company, asked for an extension of use and noted that no complaints had been received concerning the parking of some 40 cars. The buses pick up passengers in the north driveway and exit onto West St. There is an average of 85 passengers daily.

Mayor McCoy also said, as far as he is aware, no complaints had been lodged and the bus operation had been a very efficient one.

Referring to the state-constructed lot on Rt. 30, north of the school, the mayor said this was originally built for car-pool parking and is, to some extent used for that.

"I would appreciate the board extending the authority for the use of the Middle School parking lot until such time as we can make an adequate determination of the number of cars involved in September and the capacity of the new lot and its ability to handle both car-poolers and bus commuters," the mayor said.

Board member William Houle, however, said he did not feel there was any conflict between the use of the lot by commuters and incoming student buses. He said he had no objection to continuing its use.

He said he thinks the board should give the state-built lot more time to mature as there is no time element involved in use of the school lot.

Carlson said, "If by going over the lake area so thoroughly we have found more land that belongs in the wetlands classification, I wonder about the rest of the town. I don't like to see this type of detail used as another form of harassment for lake area residents."

Another resident said, "Many of the homes in the lake area were built as summer homes. The people in the lake area do have a problem but 50 per cent of the people there knew they were purchasing summer homes. We can't save the lake area problem in the next 25 years unless you do some blasting down there."

Dr. Doyle had built a summer guest house on the edge of the brook and needed leeching fields and a septic system to service the guest house.

The system is composed of a 1,000-gallon tank and 875 feet of leeching field and is located approximately 20 feet above the brook on land that is sloped away from the brook.

In a letter approving the system the conservation commission noted that the field had been designed to serve a year-round, three-bedroom house when in fact it would only be used during the summer months.

Dr. Doyle had built a summer guest house on the edge of the brook and needed leeching fields and a septic system to service the guest house.

The system is composed of a 1,000-gallon tank and 875 feet of leeching field and is located approximately 20 feet above the brook on land that is sloped away from the brook.

In a letter approving the system the conservation commission noted that the field had been designed to serve a year-round, three-bedroom house when in fact it would only be used during the summer months.

Lake Area Problems Viewed

Howard Wolfanger of Tolland, Republican candidate for the 35th District senate seat, campaigned in the Vernon area last week.

Wolfanger, and Donald Eden, his campaign treasurer, toured the areas in Vernon affected by the recent heavy rains and damage to town property as well as private property.

Wolfanger said he plans to meet with Mayor Frank McCoy, who is studying the situation, to find out just what assistance can be given.

He said this action saved much damage to town property as well as private property.

Referring to the school parking lot on Rt. 30 is not suitable for the bus company's purpose.

The company was granted the use of a portion of the school parking lot for this parking of commuter's cars. The permit was granted last winter with the provision that it would be reviewed when schools open again.

In a letter to Vernon Mayor Frank McCoy, Harold Collins, owner of the bus company, asked for an extension of use and noted that no complaints had been received concerning the parking of some 40 cars. The buses pick up passengers in the north driveway and exit onto West St. There is an average of 85 passengers daily.

Mayor McCoy also said, as far as he is aware, no complaints had been lodged and the bus operation had been a very efficient one.

Referring to the state-constructed lot on Rt. 30, north of the school, the mayor said this was originally built for car-pool parking and is, to some extent used for that.

"I would appreciate the board extending the authority for the use of the Middle School parking lot until such time as we can make an adequate determination of the number of cars involved in September and the capacity of the new lot and its ability to handle both car-poolers and bus commuters," the mayor said.

Board member William Houle, however, said he did not feel there was any conflict between the use of the lot by commuters and incoming student buses. He said he had no objection to continuing its use.

He said he thinks the board should give the state-built lot more time to mature as there is no time element involved in use of the school lot.

Carlson said, "If by going over the lake area so thoroughly we have found more land that belongs in the wetlands classification, I wonder about the rest of the town. I don't like to see this type of detail used as another form of harassment for lake area residents."

Another resident said, "Many of the homes in the lake area were built as summer homes. The people in the lake area do have a problem but 50 per cent of the people there knew they were purchasing summer homes. We can't save the lake area problem in the next 25 years unless you do some blasting down there."

BETTY'S NOTEBOOK

By BETTY RYDER

What a wonderful day it was Sunday for outdoor activities! Bright and sunny with just enough of a balmy breeze to keep one cool.

Manchester had a lot to offer especially with its Junior Horse Show on the grounds at Manchester Community College. The show, sponsored by the Manchester Jaycees and the Hilltown Leather Pioneers Club, began at 9 a.m. and ran till well after 6 p.m. with judging in both Western and English competition.

As we drove up the little dirt road leading to the show grounds just after noon, we were started to be greeted by the thundering hoofs of two runaway horses. We slowed down as per instruction from Joseph Lawler, a member of the Jaycees who was in charge of the admission booth, and held our breaths as the beautiful horses, free from their reins galloped through the tall brush, came dangerously close to our car, and sped past heading towards the main road. Lawler, in pursuit along with the owners, could not capture the runaways who had quite a head start, and we drove the car further down the road to the parking area. While we did not stay for the entire show, but returned later to pick up a fascinated daughter and her friend, we did have time to be aware of all the time and dedication these youngsters and their parents put into preparing for a show. Daily practice, grooming, to say nothing of the traveling involved in competing in various horse shows, makes for strong family ties. Mom buses herself fixing a picnic lunch on the tailgate of the station wagon while dad adjusts the horse's bridle. Other youngsters in the family lend a hand or visit old pals they met at earlier shows.

An Unusual Hobby

We were invited to join a group of unusual collectors Sunday morning and view their collections. What's so unusual? They collect beer cans and many have upwards of 3,000 cans in their collections.

They convened at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Ryder Jr., on N. Lakewood Circle, and came from as far away as Rhode Island, Indiana, Maryland, Massachusetts, etc. just to trade beer cans.

From the Chef's Diary

Arno Schmidt, executive chef at the Waldorf Astoria in New York City, dropped us a note to keep us informed of the activities in a big city hotel.

Commenting on the summer spent by some of his staff, Schmidt said that many of his cooks take vacations in faraway places such as Rio de Janeiro, Paris, Salzburg, Ponce, Washington State, where some study cooking methods, while others visit relatives or spend quiet months learning about a foreign country.

An Evening To Remember

Friends galore turned out Friday night on the occasion of Eddie Reed's birthday. The veteran pianist, who has spent over 15 years tinkling the piano keys at Cavey's Restaurant, was greeted by old and new friends.

Afraid of Tomorrow?

We have had several requests to repeat a little poem by Robert Browning which we carried several weeks ago. So here it is:

Tarbell-Zachmann

Mary Elizabeth Zachmann of Hebron and Michael L. Tarbell, also of Hebron, exchanged wedding vows Sept. 7 at St. Columba Church, Columbia. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph J. Zachmann of Hebron. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Gardner D. Tarbell of Hebron.

The Rev. Edward J. Davis officiated at the double-ring ceremony. The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown designed with roll collar, vent at neck, long full sleeves, midriff panel, full skirt extending in back to train, daisy lace appliques on collar, morrit and hem accented with pearls. She wore a long veil edged with lace and carried a cascade bouquet of white mini carnations, baby's breath, mimosa, sweetheart roses and peonies.

The groom wore a tuxedo with a white shirt and a white bow tie. He carried a white boutonniere. The bridesmaids were Miss Nancy Secor of Manchester, the bride's cousin, and Miss Carolyn Hill of Manchester, the bridegroom's sister. They wore sleeveless multi-colored crepe over green taffeta gown and a floral headpiece. They carried a single yellow chrysanthemum.

John Dukla of Acton, Mass. was best man. Ushers were Clayton Hill of Virginia Beach, Va., the bridegroom's brother, and Mark Elgert of Dover, Del., the bride's brother. A reception was held at the Manchester Country Club. The couple will reside in Bristol, Hospital, Hartford. Mr. Hill is organist and choir director at St. John's Lutheran Church in Southington. He is employed by Campus Music Shop.

What Is A Collector's Item?

Our two sons were born with their blood in their veins. Their bedrooms are fairly bursting with the items they have collected.

A collector might look down his nose at their treasures, for some of them could be defined as rare or precious. But, even collector's have to start somewhere.

When Tom was five years old he collected bottle caps. No special kind, just bottle caps in general. His goal was to amass a greater number than his five-year-old friend down the street.

The bottle caps were kept in a big carton under his bed and he counted them every night. Sometimes I would watch him dig into the box with both hands and let the caps dribble through his fingers, much as King Midas did with his gold.

John keeps his baseball cards in shoe boxes which he stores on his bedroom floor for easy referral. Part of the joy of collecting is trading off duplicates, so it's important that he know exactly where each card is located.

Jaycee Wives Plan Annual Punch Party

The Manchester Jaycee Wives will hold their traditional Champagne Punch Party Wednesday at 7:45 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Richard Lawrence, 22 Duncan Rd.

Alan Lamson, president of the Manchester Jaycees, will be guest speaker. This will be the first meeting of the season and all members are encouraged to attend.

Hill-Elgert

Gretchen Louise Elgert of West Hartford and Allen Jon Hill of Manchester were united in marriage Sept. 7 at Christ Lutheran Church in Hartford.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred J. Elgert of West Hartford. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Franklin N. Hill of 84 Alton St.

The Rev. Elmer Dreyer of Hartford celebrated the nuptial Mass. The church was decorated with flowers. Richard Roach of Rochester, N.Y. was organist.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore an ivory gown with a cathedral train and a mantilla of silk illusion. She carried a bouquet of white roses.

Miss Lois Elgert of Easthampton, Mass., was her cousin's maid of honor. She wore a sleeveless multi-colored crepe over green taffeta gown and a floral headpiece. She carried one green chrysanthemum.

Bridesmaids were Miss Nancy Secor of Manchester, the bride's cousin, and Miss Carolyn Hill of Manchester, the bridegroom's sister. They wore sleeveless multi-colored crepe over gold taffeta with floral headpieces. They carried a single yellow chrysanthemum.

John Dukla of Acton, Mass. was best man. Ushers were Clayton Hill of Virginia Beach, Va., the bridegroom's brother, and Mark Elgert of Dover, Del., the bride's brother.

A reception was held at the Manchester Country Club. The couple will reside in Bristol, Hospital, Hartford. Mr. Hill is organist and choir director at St. John's Lutheran Church in Southington. He is employed by Campus Music Shop.

Is The Mini Skirt Really Dead?

Center, Fla., who wrote beneath a photograph of a miniskirt girl "Sick" and beneath a photo of a new miniskirt length, "decent and graceful."

"The mini is the ugliest (fashion) ever foisted on women," she wrote. "No wonder there is so much rape."

The whole matter of nudity in fashion upset Max C. Samuels, of Jamaica, N.Y. He wrote his views after a column on the General Federation of Women's Clubs ongoing war on rape.

Samuels wrote in part, "If you want the number of rapes to decrease, try getting women, especially the younger element, to put some clothes on."

An anti-pantlone letter came also from Helen Mearmont, of Milford, Mass. "I have never worn a pantlone to work, there is a time and place for that kind of get-up, but not in the office. Mostly I blame management for allowing the women to dress as such, especially in the summer when they start wearing beach clothes in an office. It's outrageous."

Jim Rusher Top Pro In Open Golf Event

By Earl Yost

First off the tee in the 28th Manchester Open Golf Tournament, Professional Division, yesterday morning at 8:15 was Jim Rusher, assistant pro at Tumble Brook Country Club.

The first to finish, shortly after noon, Rusher posted a two under par 70 on the plush par 36-72 Manchester Country Club course.

Rusher's round stood up as 103 other golfers attempted to beat the score and walk home with a check for $1,000. It was not to be and the former Ellington Ridge Country Club member was a grand ricker shortly after the clock when the last contestant checked into the scorer's table.

There were 121 entrants, 17 no-shows and 18 no cards in the field of pros and assistant pros who were doing, trying to walk away from Forest Hills with their titles? Didn't they realize Billie Jean never quits, and that Jimmy needs the dough so he and Chris Evert can begin married life in an eye-coated castle instead of a bungalow?

For Jimmy, disposing of two time champion Rosewall was scarcely difficult. Connors opened at full force, racing through the first four games before a bewildered Rosewall won a game. Casting an occasional grin at Chris where she was seated in a marquee box with her mother-in-law-to-be, Jimmy wiped Ken out, 6-1 in the first set and at love in the second, allowing Rosewall less leeway than he had in his 6-1, 6-4 victory over Ken in the Wimbledon final.

In the first two sets, Rosewall gained only 25 points, and when Connors finished his mugging, Rosewall had won only 40 points in the entire match.

Not since the U.S. championships began back in 1881 had a finalist been destroyed so badly. But it was no discredit to Rosewall, who won here in 1954, and again 16 years later, in 1970.

Denied his shot at the Grand Slam, Jimmy wants to take on Rod Laver, who won the Slam twice, and who has said some not-so-nice things about Jimmy.

Laver passed up this year's tournament here, but for a winner-take-all $50,000 or $100,000 might be persuaded to meet Connors in Madison Square Garden in November.

Leading Pro Jimmy Rusher

Afternoon. Now a resident of Canton, Rusher played Manchester just once last year and turned in a 76 score. He three-putted just one green and missed the 18th but recovered for a par.

The course was in excellent shape and many golfers were high in praise of the work done by Greens Supt. Ken Keilher and his staff.

Muscular Notre Dame Spoiled Homecoming

ATLANTA (UPI) — It wasn't much of a homecoming for Pepper Rodgers.

The former UCLA coach made his debut as head coach at his alma mater, Georgia Tech, Monday night and stalked gleefully along the sidelines while muscular Notre Dame manhandled his team 31-7.

Due to an injury, the mismatch was nationally televised.

"They're too good for us," said Rodgers, "I didn't schedule them, I never would have."

You wouldn't have known that Georgia Tech was a top-side underdog by its play through the first half of the first period.

The Yellow Jackets marched 68 yards to a touchdown after the opening kickoff and forced the Irish to punt the first time they had the ball.

But after Tech lost the ball on a fumble at its 12-yard line nine minutes into the game, the Irish made a life with a vengeance.

Fresh Kid, Old Lady Share Net Laurels

FOREST HILLS, N.Y. (UPI) — The fresh kid owns his side of the block, but the Old Lady still runs her side of the tennis street.

That's the way the U.S. Open tennis championships opened Monday, with Jimmy Connors picking on a poor old man of 39, his own 22-year-old legs and brutal power kicking Ken Rosewall off his turf in a 6-1, 6-0, 6-1 rout, and Billie Jean King, at age 30, barely maintaining her supremacy over Evonne Goolagong, 3-6, 6-3, 7-5.

What did these Australians think they were doing, trying to walk away from Forest Hills with their titles? Didn't they realize Billie Jean never quits, and that Jimmy needs the dough so he and Chris Evert can begin married life in an eye-coated castle instead of a bungalow?

'Mex' Applied Big Pressure

AKRON, Ohio (UPI) — Lee Trevino is a fellow who believes that if you've got a chance to put the pressure on, you had better take it.

The "Merry Mex" left his first putt some three feet short on the second playoff for the $50,000 first prize in the World Series of Golf here Monday. His sudden death rattle for top money, Gary Player, hit his tee shot into the sand and came out some 15 feet from the cup.

"I wasn't able to let him putt before I putted my three-footer," said Lee. "If I make mine, it makes his a lot tougher. But if he makes his first, it would have made mine longer."

As it was, the option taken by Trevino proved the right one for him. The PGA champion sank the putt. Player missed his and Trevino finally conquered the 7,180-yard Firestone Country Club course which in the past he had insisted he could not play.

The victory definitely would help his outlook toward the Firestone "Monster" layout, said Trevino, "especially since the PGA will be here next year."

The tournament, which annually brings together the winners of the Masters, the U.S. Open, the PGA and the British Open, went into overtime Sunday with Player and Trevino tied after the 36 regulation holes with one-under-par 138.

Host pro Bobby Nichols, who got into the Series by virtue of his win in the alternate Canadian Open and Player's victories in both the Masters and British Open, finished third with a 148. U.S. Open champ Hale Irwin trailed the field with a 146.

Trevino and Player each had matched par for five extra holes Sunday when tournament officials decided to carry over the marathon until Monday because of darkness. Player began Monday with both players carding birdies on the 40-yard par-four 14th hole and ended with Trevino's par-three on the 230-yard 15th.

Law of Averages Was With Yankees

BOSTON (UPI) — The law of averages was with the New York Yankees. But then so was the Boston Red Sox defense.

The visiting Yankees had lost 11 straight games in Fenway Park and 20 of 21 when they went out on the enemy field Monday night in a contest with first place in the American League East at stake.

Mario Guerrero rolled out the red carpet for the Yankees by bobbing Roy White's grounder to start the game. While quickly stole second and flew into third as Bob Montgomery's throw went into center-field when no one covered second. He scored on Elliott Maddox' single and the Yankees were on their way to a 6-3 win that put them one game ahead of Boston and Baltimore.

"Errors give you opportunities," said New York Manager Bill Virdon of Boston's three miscues. "We've been pretty good with opportunities lately, the last month anyway."

Chris Chambliss, who homered in the second inning and singled in another run in the fourth, said Guerrero's error "showed us we could win the game. Our past record in this ballpark doesn't mean a thing now; we're going for a pennant."

No one had to remind Doc Medich the Yankees needed the victory to stay in first place.

"I was nervous all day," Medich said. "I stayed in my room and played gin rummy with Cecil Upshaw. My hands were sweating, my stomach was upset; I was really keyed up."

The Red Sox were more keyed up once the game started while Medich calmed down on the mound for his 18th win against 12 losses.

"The first inning was very important," Medich explained. "I was able to get through just on good velocity despite giving up two hits. And I think errors early in the game basically make a team more aggressive, a little looser at the plate."

The Yankees bats certainly were active against starter and loser Roger Moret, 7-9, and reliever Reggie Cleveland. New York had 13 hits and a runner on base in every inning.

Yet Boston, coming off a horrible team batting slump, had 10 hits and multiple opportunities to score. The Sox frittered those chances except for solo homers by Dwight Evans and Carl Yastrzemski and a run scored on a double play ball by Evans.

"We have to play consistent defense from here on out if we want to win the pennant," said Yastrzemski, referring to the errors and several other poor plays in the field. "We won't win any pennants the way we played tonight. Ten hits is usually enough to win a ballgame but we blew it tonight by playing badly in the field."

"We didn't play a good normal defensive game," said Boston Manager Darrell Johnson. "We made a lot of mistakes and the Yankees deserved to win the ballgame. We violated a lot of fundamentals."

No Stolen Base This Time for Lou Brock Cardinal Speedster Tagged Out by Phillies Dave Cash

Cards Collared By Jim Lonborg

NEW YORK (UPI) — Lou Brock may be a terror on the baseballs but the heart of the St. Louis lineup was what struck fear in the heart of Jim Lonborg.

Brock failed in his bid to gain headway on Maury Wills' major league record for stolen bases Monday night as Lonborg hurled a two-hitter and Mike Anderson and rookie Jerry Martin knocked in runs to lead the Philadelphia Phillies to a 2-0 triumph over the Cardinals.

Brock, with 103 stolen bases, needed one more to tie Wills' record but was thwarted when he stumbled on a steal attempt in the sixth.

"I saw him stumble and thought 'oh boy, we've got a shot at him now,'" said second baseman Dave Cash who applied the tag. "I tagged him high but Dick (umpire Dick Stello) knew I had him and Brock knew he was out too."

Lonborg played Brock everything to Brock—and it worked.

"I've tried to read everything he's been quoted on," Lonborg said. "You learn an awful lot about a player that way. I read that Brock thinks it's harder to steal on a pitcher who varies his count so I did that—and it worked."

Lonborg, pitching superbly, allowed only two singles—one to Mike Tyson in the third and another by Bake

McBride in the eighth—to win his 15th game against 11 losses.

Dodgers 8, Braves 1 The Dodgers maintained their 3½-game lead over the second place Reds in the West by downing the Braves as Tom Cey stroked a three-run homer and Steve Garvey added a two-run shot to pace the win. Geoff Zahn, in his first major league start, went the distance and checked the Braves on four hits.

Reds 8, Padres 3 The Reds didn't lose ground in their attempt to tie the Dodgers as they blasted their way over the Padres. Dave Concepcion hit a two-run homer and Tony Perez chipped in with a solo shot to lead the Cincinnati attack.

Mets 7, Expos 1 Dave Schneck's bases-loaded single triggered a four-run fifth inning rally that propelled the Mets over the Expos. Ray Sadecki won his fourth straight game as he recorded his eighth win in 15 decisions.

Cubs 9, Pirates 4 The Pirates had a six-game winning streak snapped as the Cubs rattled five pitchers for 14 hits. Home runs by Jose Cardenal and Andy Thornton helped power the Cubs' victory which sent the Pirates to only their third defeat in the last 17 games.

Twins 3, White Sox 1 Pinch-hitter Harmon Killebrew and Steve Braun homered in the eighth inning to give the Twins a triumph over Chicago. Killebrew's homer, his 12th this season and No. 558 lifetime, came with a man on base and was followed by Braun's seventh homer. Dave Goltz went the distance for the first eight innings in completing his first game since no-hitting Oakland on July 19. Ed Brinkman homered for Detroit's only run.

Angels 4-3, Rangers 1-5 Chuck Dobson recorded his third win in three years with a seven-hitter in the opener as the Angels beat the Rangers. Bruce Boche singled home a pair of runs to highlight the Angels' attack. Rookie Roy Howell's first major league homer triggered a three-run fourth inning that enabled the Rangers to gain a split.

Ys 3-7, Royals 0-4 Vida Blue snapped a personal five-game losing streak with a two-hitter in pitching the A's over the Royals in the opener. Gene Tenace's two-run homer provided Blue with the only runs he needed in outdueling Steve Busby, who missed for the fourth straight time in trying to win No. 20. Jim Hunter had a four-hitter for Oakland in the second game as his 23rd win, tops in the majors, while Joe Rudi and Sal Bando provided the offense with homers.

Williams, which spoiled Amherst's perfect season with a 30-14 final game victory, was fourth with 52 points. Williams received three first-place votes while Amherst garnered two from New England coaches.

Murphy stepped out of an assistant post at East Stroudsburg last winter and into the head spot at the University of Bridgeport, which happens to be the choice of the region's coaches as the best College Division team, according to a UPI preseason poll released today.

The Purple Knights, 92-11, including an NCAA Cup season berth in 1973, received 12 of 25 first-place votes for 91 points.

Central Connecticut State College, whose only loss in a 9-1 season last year was inflicted by Bridgeport, received four top votes among 64 points to place second.

Orioles One Game Back

NEW YORK (UPI) — Baltimore nipped Milwaukee 6-5 in 11 innings, Cleveland whipped Detroit 7-1, Minnesota beat Chicago 3-1, California topped Texas 4-1 then lost 5-3 and Oakland swept Kansas City 3-0 and 7-0 in American League play.

Orioles 6, Brewers 5 Bobby Grich scored the winning run on a wild pitch by ace reliever Tom Murphy with two outs in the 11th and centerfielder Paul Blair saved the game with a leaping catch in the bottom of the inning to lead the Orioles over the Brewers. Blair, who homered earlier, leaped against the fence and crashed through the bullpen gate to snare George Scott's drive with the bases loaded and two out in the 11th. Darrell Porter hit a pinch-hit grand slam homer to tie the score for Milwaukee in the ninth. Don Baylor also homered for Baltimore, which remained one game behind New York.

Twins 3, White Sox 1 Dick Bosman tossed a three-hitter and Oscar Gamble hit a seven-run homer to spark the Indians over the Tigers. Bosman did not allow a runner to reach second base over the first eight innings in completing his first game since no-hitting Oakland on July 19. Ed Brinkman homered for Detroit's only run.

THE HERALD ANGLE

By Earl Yost Sports Editor

Started at Ellington Ridge Although he didn't win the Manchester Open Golf Tournament yet officially, Jim Rusher is a $1,000 richer today after he paced a field of 190 pros in yesterday's play at the Country Club. A dozen years ago the 28-year-old assistant pro at Tumble Brook had the distinction of being the first golfer to play from scratch in the Ellington Ridge Country Club membership.

Rusher's two-under-par 70 round stood up throughout the day and by sunset the first name on the scoreboard so capably handled by Tony Pietrantono and Dick Tarca showed the total was the lowest posted.

The latest pro to walk off with the top money prize is a graduate of the University of Tennessee after spending two years at another golf-oriented college, the University of Houston.

"I played fairly well," the good looking blond and a two-year assistant pro at the West Hartford club said after his winning effort.

Yesterday's visit was only the first this season to Manchester for the one-time 1961 New England junior champ. As a 16-year

Finance Board Refuses Funds

Within a 30-minute period the Board of Finance at a meeting Monday by a tie vote rejected three different requests from the Public Building Commission for additional money needed to construct a new town library.

Al Ahearn, chairman of the finance board, explained that according to Board's Rules of Law, a dissenting member must bring the motion on the floor or it couldn't be voted on again.

Ahearn was referring to the last finance board meeting when members rejected a request by the PBC for an additional $46,000 to completely construct the library.

When Ahearn said a motion was in order he was met by silence from the three dissenting members.

The PBC and selectmen immediately met and decided to request $27,000, the amount needed to complete construction. The request was rejected by a tie vote.

The PBC and selectmen then requested $13,000, their final request, as it was the absolute bottom amount necessary to construct the facility. The request was rejected by a tie vote.

Dissenting members of the finance board were William Riley, Roy Peckham and Mort 14 residents attended the meeting including members of the PBC, the selectmen and members of the Library Board.

Douglas Cheney, chairman of the PBC and Alan Wiedie, architect, reviewed the specific changes that were made in order to cut additional money needed to a minimum.

Robert Gorton, chairman of the library board, said the changes made no immediate difference to the library as some of the equipment eliminated wouldn't be needed for several years and a parking area along with a paved parking lot.

Marilyn Breslow said it seemed reasonable to her to revenue sharing money for something that would benefit all townpeople.

Richard Morra, first selectman, asked the finance board to consider the space needed by town offices that would be gained if the new library were built. He also asked it to reconsider in order to let townpeople make the final decision.

Cheney said the lowest request was the minimum amount absolutely needed to construct the building. He said it would be the original plan but it would be quite usable.

John Roberts, a member of the PBC, said his commission worked very hard to get the cost down. He said that were supposed to do, he said, "I'm not sure if it's a good idea to have the library, it should now have a chance to decide on additional money needed to construct the building."

Gertrude Vogel, who had submitted a request for $109 persons she thought the signatures proved townspeople wanted the opportunity to say yes or no.

Maureen Houle, a member of the library board, asked the finance board what the town had had to do. Why? Riley replied that the town has other projects to consider, there is no guarantee of revenue sharing and it is too simple to bond.

Earlier reference has been made to a state statute 11-36 that says 50 people may petition to have a library vote at a municipal election.

Correction
The article which appears in the issue of Monday, Sept. 16, 1974, under the heading "The correct girl scout meeting dates follow" is incorrect.

Junior Troop 668 will begin meeting Tuesday from 8:30 until 9:30 at St. George's Episcopal Church. All girls are requested to bring their $2 registration fee to the meeting.

Junior Troop 669 will begin meeting Thursday from 8:30 until 9:30 at the Town Hall. All girls are requested to bring their $2 registration fee to the meeting.

Gertrude Vogel, who had submitted a request for $109 persons she thought the signatures proved townspeople wanted the opportunity to say yes or no.

Maureen Houle, a member of the library board, asked the finance board what the town had had to do. Why? Riley replied that the town has other projects to consider, there is no guarantee of revenue sharing and it is too simple to bond.

Silverstein said that revenue sharing funds were not forthcoming, the town has had large surpluses in the past but who knew about the future, and there were other things to spend the money on. He also said it was an unnecessary building.

Peckham said townspeople originally thought the library would be free, revenue sharing would pay for it. He said he does not feel the priorities of the town as such that it should spend extra money. He said even as it stands now if the library could be built for $271,000 the town will have to pay because revenue sharing will not cover the approved appropriation of $271,000.

Morra asked if a board of finance member (referring to Silverstein) realized the town needed more space. Silverstein replied yes.

Cheney said that revenue sharing would pay for it. He said he does not feel the priorities of the town as such that it should spend extra money. He said even as it stands now if the library could be built for $271,000 the town will have to pay because revenue sharing will not cover the approved appropriation of $271,000.

Morra asked how Silverstein said the town could build a new town hall or a combination town hall and library.

The general idea seemed to be that the finance board might approve the request for an additional $27,000 as it was close to the sum the town still has to pay the architect even if the library is not built, $24,244.

$2 Delongue said the finance board would work the money for the library instead of just getting a receipt from the architect. Silverstein asked if the PBC didn't get the money did it mean it wouldn't build the library.

Cheney said there was no way the present plan could be built without the additional money. James Norris, PBC member, said the PBC did everything that could legally do without the money.

Riley said he felt the PBC changed the building plan as it was compared to the original specifications.

DeSiguere said neither the PBC, the selectmen and members of the Library Board, Douglas Cheney, chairman of the PBC and Alan Wiedie, architect, reviewed the specific changes that were made in order to cut additional money needed to a minimum.

Robert Gorton, chairman of the library board, said the changes made no immediate difference to the library as some of the equipment eliminated wouldn't be needed for several years and a parking area along with a paved parking lot.

Marilyn Breslow said it seemed reasonable to her to revenue sharing money for something that would benefit all townpeople.

If you were planning on buying plastic bags from the town this fall—forget it. The town has abandoned all plans for getting them—at least for this year. You'll have to buy them elsewhere. It appears now that an action by the Board of Directors Aug. 26—when it waived bids so the town could purchase the plastic bags from Mobil Oil—was premature.

Director of Public Works Jay Giles said today the town had the wrong information about the bags and had received the wrong information from the wrong representative.

The town was told the bags were in stock and were available.

Actually, the right information, received from the right representative, was that the bags weren't in stock and weren't even in production. The best estimate was they'd be in production in two to three months.

So, if you want plastic bags this year, make your own plans.
