

Hartwell Answers Call Of the Sea with Bottles

By STEWART POWELL, MANCHESTER, N.H. (UPI) — The sea. It lures men and sparks their dreams. Allen Hartwell knows because he answered the call.

The lanky 29-year-old professional oceanographer has turned a barefoot fascination into a healthy respect. And despite the piles of charts, graphs and maps stacked around his carpeted office, the fire for the sea still burns in him.

"The important thing you get is a great respect for the sea. It is a frightening, treacherous place. The more you learn about it the more you come to respect it," he says.

"Maybe it's not as romantic as when you first get into this line of work, but then I still get that thrill pacing the deck as we head out."

Hartwell's work has put him on the receiving end of a lot of other people's dreams about the sea.

During the past two years, he has dumped about 4,000 bottles into the massive Gulf of Maine between New Hampshire and Nova Scotia to study the drift of wind, tides and water. He's been hearing from people ever since.

"Please if you can send me a little information on what you are doing, as I am very interested in my ocean," wrote Tim Clark, a Rye Beach beachcomber who found one of the soda pop sized bottles with an enclosed postcard.

Normandeau Associates, a local consulting firm conducting the offshore experiments, offers a $1 reward for the return of information about where the bottles were found. About 20 per cent of the bottles and seabird drifters used to chart undersea currents are recovered.

"I'm sure in 10 or 15 years we'll get one back from England," Hartwell says. "Many finders reject the reward in exchange for a little information. Please keep the bottle on the beach at Cape Cod, where Hartwell first became intrigued by the sea while still a boy. "I always loved the ocean. I think my summers on Cape Cod were a guiding influence for me," he said.

Not One of the Boys

Rain, Pardon Blamed for Low Turnout

MONTPELIER, Vt. (UPI) — The presidential pardon given to Richard M. Nixon and precipitation were blamed Tuesday for a low voter turnout in Vermont's primary.

"I think maybe it was the Watergate matter coming up just before the election," said Secretary of State Richard Thomas. "This might have sunk the voters back into apathy."

About 80,000 of the state's 280,000 registered voters voted, far fewer than the 100,000 Thomas had predicted.

Most of the state experienced rain during part of the day Tuesday, and Thomas said that "was also a factor."

Matthew's Ladder of 13's
13th In Walk-A-Thon

No. 13 on The Oilers

Today Friday The 13th

Is His 13th Birthday

Friday the 13th, Unlucky? Matthew Doesn't Think So

If you think you have reason to avoid ladders, murders, and black cats today —Friday the 13th—consider the plight of Matthew Gubsky of 77 Shallowbrook Lane in Manchester.

Matthew is a student at Bennett Junior High School, marks his 13th birthday today.

But that in itself isn't enough. Last summer, he played with the Oilers Little League baseball team and wore No. 13. In the charity walk-a-thon earlier this year, he placed the 13th—consider the plight of Matthew Gubsky of 77 Shallowbrook Lane in Manchester.

Whether or not Matthew makes it to the day without trouble remains to be seen. He may be leery but he's not changing his routine.

He didn't stay home from school, and he plans to participate, as usual, in Bennett's soccer program.

Adams - W. Middle Tpke. Plans Aired at Hearing

Plans for reconstruction of Adams St. W. Middle Tpke. were presented at a public hearing in the Wadsworth School on Broad St. Thursday night.

Walter R. Foss of Oriswood and Fuss Engineering Inc., contracted by the town in 1973 to design the work, made the presentation. He used slides to illustrate his talk and show the areas where work would be done.

Town Manager Robert B. Weiss conducted the hearing which was attended by about 40 people. He said statements or exhibits, in addition to those made at the hearing, may be submitted by a Sept. 23 deadline, either to the office of the town clerk in Manchester or to George Koch, deputy transportation commission, Bureau of Highways, 24 Wolcott Hill Rd., Westfield.

Widening Adams
Fuss said plans call for widening Adams St. from its intersection with Center St. to 30 feet the length of the project, which ends about 200 feet south of the bridge over the Hockanum River near Mal Tool. The road narrows now in some areas to about 25 feet.

On the Turnpike, the roadway would be widened to 46 feet. That portion of the project runs from the intersection near East Catholic High School to the west entrance of Manchester Parkade.

To Improve Traffic
Minor work would be done at Adams and Center St. to create a better circulation of traffic there, Foss said. Some trees would be removed on the west side of the street, he said, and also what limited sidewalks there are there would go. Sidewalks would run the length of the project on the east side of the street, he said.

Little work will be done near East Catholic, Foss said. Some trees would be eliminated on the north side of the Turnpike in that area and there would be sidewalks on both sides of the street.

The signline would be improved at Deerfield Dr.

Grass strips would separate sidewalks from the road all along the project, Foss said.

Man Accused of Murder

TORRINGTON (UPI) — A 19-year-old Norfolk man was arrested today for the murder of a 24-year-old woman whose body was found sprawled on the edge of a college parking lot, police said.

Police searched late Thursday found the body of Miss Mary Joan Campbell about 10 feet from the edge of a parking lot at the Torrington campus of the University of Connecticut.

She had been missing since Tuesday night when her roommate said she left work at Union Hardware Division of Brunswick Corp.

Police said they arrested Raymond C. Ludden early today. He was ordered held on $100,000 bond.

Police said they did not think Miss Campbell was dating Ludden, but both were students at the same university.

The search began Thursday after police questioned Ludden who was at Charlotte Hungerford Hospital with injuries received in an automobile accident that morning.

Officers declined to disclose the cause of death, but a witness reported seeing blood around the young woman's head when her body was found.

CIA's Colby Defends Agency Role

WASHINGTON (UPI) — CIA Director William E. Colby defended the agency's secret activities today as essential to insure American security, lest the nation "risk subordination to possible adversaries."

In a speech prepared for a hostile symposium on the CIA, Colby acknowledged covert CIA operations as essential to here, my statement, might be used to challenge the credibility of the intelligence community," he said.

Legality Challenged
The meeting, sponsored by the National Security Studies section of the privately financed Fund for Peace, has castigated covert CIA operations as a violation of international law and the U.N. Charter.

Former officials of the CIA, State Department and Pentagon intelligence groups, authors, researchers, and journalists came with new ammunition — the disclosure through "leaks" that the CIA spent from $8 million to $11 million trying to "destabilize" the Marxist government of the late President Salvador Allende in Chile. Allende was deposed and died in a military coup last year, a victim or a suicide.

CIA Functions
Colby said the CIA's primary function was gathering information and analyzing it but the agency carried out covert activities "only when specifically authorized by the National Security Council—thus CIA covert actions reflect national policy."

"From closed sources (information) can only be obtained by secret intelligence operations, without which our country must risk subordination to possible adversaries," the director said.

Colby, a CIA veteran who became director last year, said secrecy was not unique to the agency.

"Our military forces must be responsive to our public, but our public does not demand that our war plans be published," he said. "It is even necessary for the Congress to conduct some of its business in executive (closed) session, while

More Watergate Pardons To Await Court Actions

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Ford and the Senate separately have arrived at the same policy: no pardons for Watergate defendants until they are brought to trial.

How far the understanding would go to ease the weeklong controversy over the pardon issue remains to be seen.

The circumstances of Ford's pardon of former President Nixon were still in dispute, and Ford has yet to reveal his final decision on the closely related issue of amnesty for Vietnam war draft dodgers and deserters.

Thought Long on Decision
"I thought about it a long time before making the decision," Ford said after a White House dinner Thursday night.

Asked whether Nixon's health was a factor, Ford replied, "Didn't you read my speech?" When he announced the pardon Sunday, Ford had compared Watergate allegations to a sword "threatening the health" of the former president.

His wife Betty also said, "I think he had a great deal to do with his decision."

For the third day in a row Thursday the Ford administration modified its position on pardons for Watergate defendants.

On Tuesday, White House Acting Press Secretary John W. Hushen said "the entire matter is under study." Wednesday, Hushen said Ford "never, ever planned to give mass amnesty" to these defendants but would consider individual requests.

Thursday Hushen told newsmen: "There was never any intention on our part that the Watergate defendants were about to be pardoned and especially not prior to trial."

No requests for pardons had been received, he said. "If we got one I believe (Ford) wouldn't act on it."

The statement followed a 1 1/2 hour meeting between Ford and Senate Republican leader Hugh Scott.

"I don't know of any congressman or senator who wants a blanket pardon at this time. I do not think the American people want any blanket pardons," Scott told newsmen.

Later in the day, the Senate adopted 52-24 a resolution urging Ford not to grant any future pardons in cases related to the 1972 presidential campaign until the defendants have been tried and all appeals completed.

It has no legal force, but it puts the Senate on record with an opinion.

House Judiciary Committee Chairman Peter W. Rodino Jr., D-N.J., indicated the House might adopt a similar resolution.

For the six former Nixon aides who are awaiting trial in the Watergate cover-up case, the day was a double disappointment.

Motion Denied
First they learned no pretrial pardons would come from the White House. Then U.S. District Court Judge John J. Sirica denied motions of three of them to delay or cancel their trial because of the pardon issue.

Lawyers for former Attorney General John N. Mitchell argued that by accepting pardon, Nixon implied guilt that jurors would impute this guilt to Nixon's aides and that this would deny them a fair trial.

Mitchell's brief said Ford has "further inflamed the atmosphere by publicly agonizing over whether or not further pardons are to be issued for all 'Watergate persons.'"

Asked if he thought Ford had been serious in suggesting pardons would be issued for defendants, John J. Wilson, H. R. Haldeman's lawyer, replied, "Of course I did, sure."

Boston School Buses Escorted by Police

BOSTON (UPI) — Motorcycle police provided armed escort for buses today and police broke up groups of three or more persons near schools as classes resumed for a second day in Boston under a court ordered desegregation program.

The head of the Boston chapter of the NAACP said he will go to court to get federal marshals assigned to escort black children into South Boston. "I don't want my kids used as cannon fodder," Thomas I. Atkins said.

Strict security, ordered near all schools by Mayor Kevin H. White, was evident and effective. The scene at South Boston High School and Gavin School, where hundreds of rowdy spectators gathered Thursday, was quiet and orderly today. There were no crowds and only a few neighbors looked out of windows, stood in doorways or sat on porches, as the buses passed.

Four persons, including three women, were arrested today on disorderly conduct charges near South Boston High School, the scene of widespread student boycotts and sporadic disturbances Thursday.

Strongman Takes Over
ADEIS ABABA (UPI) — American-occupied Lt. Gen. Aman Michael Andom took over as Ethiopia's military strongman today, culminating a gradual, seven-month coup that began with army unrest and ended with the ouster of Emperor Haile Selassie.

Opposition to Nixon Transition Funds Build

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Bitter, at times angry, Democratic opposition is building in Congress to an $850,000 request to pay for former President Richard M. Nixon's transition to private life.

"I don't think the country will stand for it," declared Rep. George Shipley, D-Ill.

"As one who has been pardoned from crimes, he is less worthy to be the world's president as good ones or had one but to make the transition as smoothly as possible."

Sampson received critical questioning Wednesday from a Senate appropriations subcommittee chaired by Sen. Joseph Montoya, D-N.M., who said the USA had been given a "saw job" by Nixon's aides.

Two Laws Involved
The money would be provided under two separate laws, an annual fund made available for all former presidents—including pension, offices and staff salaries—and a one-time fund for additional expenses, including assistance to screen 5 1/2 years of presidential papers.

Much of the criticism has centered on the USA's request for $110,000 to install a massive vault 12 miles from Nixon's estate in San Clemente in which the Watergate tapes and other materials will be stored under a 24-hour guard. Two keys will be needed to open the vault, one in Nixon's possession and the other kept by Sampson.

Friday the 13th, Unlucky? Maybe Yes — Maybe No

SOL R. COHEN

Did you wake up this morning thinking something was wrong? Was your head in a whirl and your heart without song? Was your razor so dull you got cuts on your face? Was the car kind of sluggish and the traffic in season? Was the orange juice warm and the coffee ice cold? Was the newspaper torn and the news a day old? Did your wife get upset when you said there's no money? Did you burp out the door when she said, "Don't get funny?" Was the car kind of sluggish and the traffic in season? Were your fights in the office without rhyme or reason? Forget it, dear friend, and don't feel unusual.

It happens to many — you'll find on personal.

It's the thirteenth, a Friday, when some people say, "If it happens, it happens — it was meant that way."

AMC Announces Price Increases

ROCHESTER, Mich. (UPI) — American Motors Wednesday announced that tentative prices for its 1975 models will average $300 more than comparable 1974 models, the smallest price increase in the industry.

The 7 1/2 per cent increase is more than $100 below those already announced by General Motors and Ford. Chrysler has said its prices will be in the same ballpark as GM and Ford.

AMC Chairman Roy D. Chapin Jr. said the increases, which will be made firm when

Beer Prices To Increase
HARTFORD (UPI) — The price of beer in Connecticut is going up 10 per cent or more for many brands beginning Oct. 1. The higher prices reflect increases in the costs of containers and ingredients for the beverages, according to Jules Hollander, head of the Brewers and Wholesalers Board of Trade. The organization sets minimum prices for consumers after notifying the state Liquor Control Commission.

Bus Times Too Tight, Board Schedules Review

COVENTRY
 Monica Shea
 Correspondent
 Tel. 742-9495

After listening to audience comments and receiving many calls about the bus schedules, the Board of Education last night called a special meeting for next Thursday to discuss the transportation problems.

Complaints have been made that drivers are speeding to their next pickups after dropping students at school because the schedules were too tight, and that children are being told by individual bus drivers that runs will start ten minutes early or later without sending written notices to the parents.

Other parents are complaining about the corners where their children have to wait for the buses, particularly children on the corner of Riley

Mountain Rd. and North River Rd., which is a particularly dangerous corner and those small children who have to wait on the corner of Springdale Ave. and Rt. 31.

Paul McCobb of the Massachusetts Bus Company said that he has issued an order that no bus driver is to exceed the limit regardless of the scheduling difficulties and that in all probability the buses getting into Coventry Grammar School will be 10 minutes later each morning. Buses at this school, which is the last to open, have been arriving anywhere from 10 to 30 minutes late.

Coventry Grammar is supposed to open at 9 a.m. but hasn't been able to start classes at that time since school opened. Some of 625 students have not arrived home until as late as 5 p.m.

Tony Felice, chairman of the transportation committee, said, "When we ran this experiment on a limited basis it seemed to be a success. One reason it was such a success was that drivers were evidently exceeding the speed limits."

McCobb said, "The schedule is just too tight. It has become a matter of the number of buses. Our drivers are rushing from one place to the other."

Felice said, "Either we change the schedule or get more equipment. Another bus will cost another $11,000 per year."

The transportation committee will meet Sunday to come up with some recommendations for next Thursday's special meeting.

The consensus of the board was that something had to be done as the safety of the children was at stake.

Andover School Menus

The following cafeteria menu will be served to students in Andover elementary school Sept. 16-20.

Wolff Asks Town Council To Discuss Walks Issue

VERNON

Democratic Councilman Thomas Wolff of Vernon paid to ask to have an additional item put on the agenda of the Sept. 16 Town Council meeting so that a controversy concerning installation of the West Rd. sidewalk can be "resolved and dealt with accordingly."

In a letter to fellow council members, Wolff urged them to support his motion to have the item on the agenda, "so that it may be discussed, and so that refuting evidence may be presented by anyone that wishes to."

Democratic Councilman Thomas Bennett and Wolff have attempted several times to have the matter of the sidewalk discussed at past meetings but were voted down by the Republican majority.

Bennett, after some research, claimed he found discrepancies in the footage involved in the sidewalk and the amount of money paid for the job.

In his letter to other council members, Wolff said, "I shall attempt in this letter to you to share with you what I believe to be the specific evidence of mis-spent town funds."

Wolff referred to a memo from Town Engineer Leonard Szecseny (June 13) in which he said Szecseny indicated that the total distance of the West Rd. sidewalk was 4,714 lineal feet and also indicating that the additional walk installed, which was not in the original contract, was 642 lineal feet.

Wolff said subtracting the 642 feet from the 4,714, leaves 4,072 feet which was the original contract and dividing the extension of 642 by the original contract figure, gives an increase in distance of 15.77 per cent. Wolff said the town should have agreed to pay the contractor an additional 15.77 per cent over the original contract price.

"We have had ample evidence in recent months, at the national level, of what can happen if these balances are not permitted," Wolff said.

"We have a super group of councilmen. Most of us have worked together for some period of time. Let's keep that working relationship on the highest possible plane by permitting this issue to be resolved," he concluded.

"We are the elected officials of this town who hold the purse strings," Wolff said. He added, "We should not permit any administration, Democratic or Republican, by use of whatever tactics, to bypass our right to be fully informed and to provide the appropriate checks and balances that our Town Charter provides."

At the school board meeting Monday, Rodney Mooney presented due to the personnel committee of the board.

Negotiations between the South Windsor Board of Education and the South Windsor Teachers Association (SWEA) must begin again now that the SWEA has rejected the 7.9 per cent salary increase recommended by the arbitration panel.

The recommended increase was approved by the Board of Education at Tuesday night's meeting, but was rejected by SWEA on the grounds that "the financial condition of the town is such that it should pay its teachers as much as do other towns of comparable size."

According to Mrs. Edith Doherty, president of SWEA, "pay hikes are needed particularly at the master's level." She stressed that the master's Coventry's Young Democrats will once again host the Connecticut Young Democrats' Annual Picnic tomorrow at the Miller Richardson Field on Rt. 31.

The event is scheduled to begin at noon and will last until 8 p.m.

Tickets are $3 per person with a maximum of $12 per family.

The picnic is open to the public and area residents are invited to attend.

Last year Athanson amazed picnic guests by giving away no less than 15 hits in any inning. Political sportscasters are speculating that his game may be "much improved" this year.

Teacher Appointment Under Fire By Post

Former first selectman Robert Post has called for the resignation of Mrs. Dennis Keenan as a teacher of learning disabilities at the elementary school or the resignation of her husband as a member of the Board of Education.

Post says the situation provides a clear example of why Andover needs a town charter.

He said none of the members of the school board are elected by the citizens of Andover. Once a name is placed on the ballot the person is automatically a member of the board.

GARDENING

By FRANK ATWOOD

Flower and garden shows are taking the attention of many gardeners in these early weeks of fall. After people come home from summer vacations and the children go back to school there is a chance for one last display of home-grown flowers, fruit and vegetables.

There is a one-day flower show tomorrow that involves many local people. It is presented by the East Central Council of Garden Clubs, at St. George's Episcopal Church on the Boston Turnpike (Rt. 4A) in Bolton. The hours are 12:30 to 5 p.m. and admission is free.

Miss Marie Jones of Bolton, one of the leading workers in preparing for the show, points out a religious significance in the display, titled "All This and Heaven Too."

The schedule, prepared by Miss Jones with the help of other committee members, quotes the Bible, the Prayer Book or church hymns in the titles of some of the classes.

"For Ever and Ever" is a class for arrangements of dried plant materials to stand on a window sill. "The Power and the Glory" is an arrangement class, also of dried materials, meant to stand on a pedestal. "Come All Ye" is a class for mass arrangements. Non-members were invited to make entries in this class.

Symbols of Holy Days

Miss Jones, quoting the Rev. John F. Flora III, vicar of St. George's, points out that flowers symbolize many events in the church year, such as Christmas and Easter, and that the names of many flowers and herbs have a direct, or indirect, origin in the Christian religion.

Rosemary, marigold and costmary get their names from Mary, the Mother of Jesus. Rosemary is a perennial herb. Marigold is one of the most popular of annual flowers. Costmary is grown as an herb, although unknown to most gardeners today. St. John's-wort, which honors the author of one of the Gospels, is a woody perennial plant with bright yellow flowers in late summer and early fall.

Miss Jones adds, with perhaps a touch of humor, the name of Jack-in-the-pulpit, sometimes called "The Preacher."

St. George's Church will be opened not only for this fall flower show Saturday, but will be available later for classes on Branch from a Douglas fir, with cones, was entered in the Connecticut Horticultural Society's flower show last weekend in a class for tree branches bearing fruit. the use of flowers and greens for Christmas and other holy days of the church year. Father Flora feels that working with flowers and the people who grow them is an excellent way to bring the life of the community into the church.

CHS Show Larger

Last Saturday and Sunday the Connecticut Horticultural Society filled the Pond House at Elizabeth Park, Hartford, with a garden show that some veteran members said was the best the group has ever held. The society goes back to 1887 and has held many shows over the years, but not continuously

Another was a display of bonsai plants by 12 growers who represent the Greater Hartford Bonsai Society. Robert Linton of Vernon is the president of this group, which showed Hinoki cypress, red cut-leaf maple, pine, balsam, spruce, holly, juniper, and other woody plants, grown in containers and purposely dwarfed by pruning and by judicious use of plant food and water, in the Japanese manner.

A third was an educational exhibit of gladiolus by Harry L. Hartman of Wethersfield, who displayed not only sample spikes of top quality but was willing to hunt through his garden for spikes that showed damage by insects and disease and provide typed comments on how these pests attack the plants and what can be done to control them.

There was a greatly expanded show of vegetables in both the adult and junior divisions, another indication of increased interest in home vegetable gardens during this year of inflated prices.

Open House

A "Dedication and Open House" for the renovated Cooper Hill Treatment Plant has been set for Saturday, Oct. 5 at 1 p.m. Refreshments will be served.

The 58-year-old facility, located on Cooper Hill St. between Cedar and Pine Sts., cost about $485,000 to renovate. The sum includes a $550,000 bond issue approved in a November 1972 referendum. The additional $135,000 was approved later by the Board of Directors.

The renovated treatment plant has been operating for about six months at intervals, while the equipment was being checked out.

The project included furnishing the water treatment plant with new filter beds; new pumps, piping and valves; a new electrical system, including an emergency power generator; bulk storage facilities for water-treatment chemicals; and activated charcoal-filtering equipment for the control of taste and odor in the Globe Hollow water supply.

That isn't exactly true for Connecticut residents, who may find it takes up to 15 hours to drive to the Nova Scotia border. It's worth it though. The province is a delight to photographers, fishermen, campers, racing enthusiasts, or just plain sightseers.

From the modern capital city of Halifax, to the small fishing ports, the amazing Bay of Fundy, and the backdrop villages, visitors to Nova Scotia are delighted.

The picturesque lighthouse, standing on granite shores near a tiny cove, is probably the best known feature of the province. That scene, reprinted on thousands of postcards, is repeated many times along the rocky Atlantic coast, which is never more than an hour away.

One such lighthouse — at Peggy's Cove, about half an hour from Halifax — is only part of the atmosphere that makes the small fishing village well known among artists and photographers.

Every 10 miles, there's at least one antique barn, gift shop, or local handicrafts stand. And it's hard to resist them.

Prices are good on certain things, everyone says, such as English bone china, woolen sweaters, and British Isles imports. But it takes some shopping around, as most of the gift shops on major routes are of the genre found in all places geared to the tourist trade.

Sightseeing is a lot easier. You'll never have trouble finding the attractions, even though the English and Scottish accents of some Nova Scotians pose slight problems.

In the metro Halifax area, the most well-known sight is the Halifax Citadel, a 19th century fort containing a military museum and art gallery, and the Public Gardens, an 18-acre tract of neat gravel walks and colorful flowerbeds, lily ponds, and shrubbery.

If you're shopping in Halifax, try Scotia Square, a brand new multi-level mall incorporating many specialty shops along with a major hotel and office building.

Away from the metro area, the several other towns deserve mention:

- Antigonish, on the north shore, the site of the famous Highland Games held annually in July.
- Digby, one of the most popular resorts in a two-week vacation, so it's better to limit a trip to two or three of those routes.
- Sydney (Cape Breton Island), an important seaport and center of the steel and coal industries. Harness racing is held from May to October.
- Truro, on the "Glooscap Trail" at the head of Cobequid Bay. Tidal bore of the Salmon River, resulting from 20-foot tides in the Bay of Fundy, is impressive.

Dining Out In Baltimore

Pampering one's appetite is a favorite pastime in Baltimore, where fresh seafood reigns supreme. With the beautiful resources of Chesapeake Bay close at hand, it's no wonder Baltimore is known as a seafood capital with few peers. Most restaurants and almost any tavern with as much as a grill in the back will serve a crab cake, which is why no one or two restaurants can be singled out as specializing in the whole range of seafood delicacies.

Of all these, certainly the local classic is the steamed hard crab, which, messy as it is, should be struggled with at least once by any visitor. Not until you have knocked, scraped and dug your way through half a dozen of them can you be said to be an initiate in the mysticisms and delights of Chesapeake Bay country. The two Obyrcki's restaurants are highly regarded for their steamed crabs, but there are many others, including Gordon's, Bo-Brooks and Bud's.

But that only begins the seafood temptations that await the visitor. The oyster — from raw on the half shell through stew, fried, scalloped, stuffed with crab meat and on to such fancy dishes as oysters Rockefeller — is always pleasing. So is the soft crab. And then there are the many forms of crab meat, of which should be mentioned the crab Imperial, deviled crab, crab meat Norfolk with Smithfield

One almost surefire way to spot a tourist is by his camera. Hardly anyone goes anywhere these days without at least one.

Last year, an estimated 1.5 million Americans donned scuba gear to discover the ever changing wonders of the underwater world. Countless others went exploring just below the surface with mask and snorkel.

More and more are reported to be taking along cameras. For contrary to popular opinion, underwater photography is not exclusively for the professional lensman.

WEEKEND CRUISE
VINA DEL MAR, Chile (UPI) — Chileans and foreign tourists who want to enjoy the monotonous of Chile's nightly curfew can do so by taking a weekend ocean cruise.

The InterOcean Tour company of Vina del Mar offers a weekend on the high seas with dancing until dawn, water skiing, casino, sauna baths, deck games, two orchestras and a show. Cost for the trip (including food, is $49.95.

THE HERALD ANGLE

By Earl Yost Sports Editor

N.L. Minus 20-Game Winner

What's happened to that once imposing list of potential 20-game pitching winners in the major leagues? At last glance, the National League did not have one member with Cincinnati's Dick Billingham the biggest winner with 18. The American League numbered four, Jim Hunter of Oakland, Ferguson Jenkins of Texas, Luis Tiant of Boston and Wilbur Wood of Chicago. Also, what's happened to the potential 400 average batters? Atlanta's Ralph Garr at 354 and Rod Carew of Minnesota with 360 head their respective circuits. Evel Knievel's unsuccessful attempt to leap Idaho's Snake River Canyon in a steam-powered skycycle will be featured on ABC's Wide World of Sports Saturday between 5 and 6:30. It's little wonder many golf pros who were regular participants in the Manchester Open passed up play this year to take part in the New England Open at Mt. Snow, Vt. The latter purse is $15,000 while the pros sought some of the $3,500 here. Ernie Uhlmann is the latest addition to the Vernon Tennis Forum as a teaching pro. Ray McKenna has been named winner of the first East Hartford Sports Personality-of-the-Year Award. A dinner is planned Oct. 18. McKenna richly deserves the salute for keeping independent softball and basketball alive for more than a quarter century.

Schedule Changes

Two schedule changes have been announced by the New York Yankees. Games scheduled Sept. 18 against Baltimore and Sept. 25 against Boston have been shifted to night dates. Baseball writers who score major league baseball games daily receive $40, or $90 for doubleheaders. Phil Hyde, interim tennis coach at Manchester High last spring, will not be back next year. Hyde was prevailed to take over when the position was vacant and no one in the system interested. Hyde coached the team previously for a number of years and was one of the men responsible for the growth and popularity of the sport in Manchester in recent years. Just one man's opinion, schools that draw their coaches from the physical education staff for the three major sports - baseball, basketball and football - have an advantage over classroom teachers who are called to coach. Ice Capades will be at the Springfield Coliseum Oct. 16-27. Fred Williamson, the new face and figure on the Monday night NFL telecasts has been drawing nothing but poor notices. The former pro grinder is not Don Meredith but is happy in the six figure salary bracket. Doug "Honest" Dumas, local used car dealer and sports buff, is wearing a Red Sox batting helmet these days and hoping his team can recover and beat out New York and Baltimore. Alex Hackney, Country Club pro, reports approximately 25 per cent of golfers using the Manchester course facilities use golf carts.

Amateur Golfers In Open Saturday

Early Saturday morning, phase two of the two-part Manchester Open Golf Tournament will be staged at the Country Club with an expected 200 amateurs shooting to better Jim Rusher's two under par round of 70. Rusher, assistant at Tumbler, paced 109 professionals in last Monday's competition. Although assured of the first prize of $1,000, an amateur who can better 70 will be declared champion of the 28th Stik Town Open which was dubbed "Connecticut's Finest" years ago. If an amateur comes out on top, it won't be a first. The trick has been turned in three times previously, the last by Don Parson (now a pro) in 1967. Allan Breed and Alex Sott were the only winners in the 28th Stik Town Open which was dubbed "Connecticut's Finest" years ago. If an amateur comes out on top, it won't be a first. Several withdrawals due to the week's postponement due to the weather last Saturday and this resulted in several openings. Besides topping Rusher's score, the amateurs will be shooting for approximately $1,000 in merchandise.

Yanks Celebrate, Birds Optimistic

BALTIMORE (UPI) - While the New York Yankees celebrated their winning two out of three games in the series with Baltimore, Orioles Manager Earl Weaver remained optimistic and saw his club's situation as "far from hopeless."

"I wanted to win this series with the Yankees with at least a 2-1 edge," Weaver admitted, "but I think we'll be in real good shape if we can win two games Friday night from Cleveland. The Yankees go to Detroit. I think we're due for some pleasant surprises from there this weekend."

Weaver got a surprise Thursday from Philadelphia Phillie Phanatic Mike Wallace, the Yankee outfielder who hurled 7-13 innings of shutout ball in his first American League start. Combined with the relief talents of Uthman as a teaching pro. Ray McKenna has been named winner of the first East Hartford Sports Personality-of-the-Year Award. A dinner is planned Oct. 18. McKenna richly deserves the salute for keeping independent softball and basketball alive for more than a quarter century.

Robinson to Tribe, Managerial Material

CLEVELAND (UPI) - Cleveland Indians General Manager Phil Seghi said the team acquired Frank Robinson Thursday with the expectation that he will continue as a player beyond this season.

"Frank is very pleased to be coming to Cleveland," Seghi said. "He said that he could help us at first base if we needed him there. He is coming to us more than merely to finish this season. We fully expect him to play several more years for us."

But Robinson, the only player ever to win the Most Valuable Player Award in both major leagues, had 39 last month. There had been frequent speculation that he will become the first black candidate for first black manager in Coach Larry Doby, and there were other complications associated with the Robinson deal.

Dodgers Prepared For Red Invasion

NEW YORK (UPI) - It was easy to tell the Los Angeles Dodgers were getting ready for a big series. They even gave Mike Marshall a day off.

The Dodgers and the Cincinnati Reds open a three-game series—the final three games between the two teams this season—in Los Angeles tonight and the two teams don't have to be told how important they are.

Cincinnati swept a doubleheader from Atlanta 9-6 and 6-2 Thursday before flying to the West Coast while the Dodgers won 11-0 in San Francisco in a night game. That Cincinnati 3½ games behind the Dodgers and four back in the loss column. It means Cincinnati should win at least two of the three games if it is going to stay close to the Dodgers down the stretch. Both clubs had easy times warming up for the series. The Dodgers were able to rest Marshall although Walt Alton has often brought him in this year in lopsided games—because Al Downing coasted on a two-hitter. It was the first complete game in more than a year for Downing, who was touched only for singles by Dave Rader in the third and Bobby Bonds in the fourth. Bill Russell drove in four of the Los Angeles runs on three singles and an infield out while Ron Cey and Steve Garvey had two RBIs each as the Dodgers pitched 15 hits off five San Francisco batters.

McAuliffe Sox Hero

CLEVELAND (UPI) - A fellow who started playing professional baseball when most of his teammates were just starting school led the Boston Red Sox out of the doldrums Thursday night.

Dick McAuliffe doubled home the first run, scored the second and hit a sacrifice that scored Carl Yastrzemski with the winning run in the eighth inning to give the Red Sox a 3-2 victory over the Cleveland Indians.

"I like to hit in this ball park. I hit well against Jim Perry. He was the first pitcher I faced when I started my first major league game. I remember it well because I got three hits."

Bill Lee was just as tough on the mound as McAuliffe was at bat as he scattered 10 hits. The Indians grabbed a 1-0 lead in the first on a run-scoring single by John Ellis and Charley Spikes drilled his 21st homer for the final Cleveland run in the sixth.

Lee and Perry matched pitches for seven innings before Yastrzemski led off the Boston eighth with a double and took third on Deron Johnson's sacrifice. Perry walked Bernie Carbo and Rico Petrocelli to fill the bases. Tom Buskey came in and McAuliffe lifted his game-winning fly ball to give Lee his 18th win against 12 losses.

It was also a single by Petrocelli, McAuliffe's double and a run-scoring single by Tommy Harper that gave Boston a pair of runs in the fifth.

"We played well but they played better," said Cleveland Manager Alvin Karpis after watching Perry utter his 11th defeat against 15 victories. "Perry pitched well and Lee deserves a lot of credit for pitching a great game. Frank Robinson could have fit in well in a pinch-hitting role tonight but we won't see him until Friday in Baltimore."

The Indians, who trail the New York Yankees in the Eastern Division by six games, traveled to Baltimore today to begin a 10-game road trip. The Red Sox, who moved into second place with their fifth victory in their last 19 games, moved into Milwaukee tonight for a three-game series.

Tom Verzer's first major league homer with one and one out in the 10th inning enabled John Hiller to set an AL record of 17 victories by a relief pitcher. Hiller allowed one hit in three innings in raising his record to 17-0 for the Tigers. Erny Facer set the major league record of 18 wins by a reliever for Pittsburgh 12-1953.

As 2 Twins 1 Ken Holtzman pitched a four-hitter for his 18th win and Sal Bando drove in both runs for the A's with a single in the first inning and a sacrifice fly in the eighth. Bert Blyleven struck out 10 batters, including six in a row during one stretch, but lost his 18th decision against 15 wins.

White Sox 2, Rangers 2 Ken Henderson homered in the bottom of the sixth producing a 2-2 tie just over a heavy rain forced the White Sox-Rangers game to be terminated. It will be replayed in its entirety during the week of Sept. 23 when the White Sox will be in Texas.

'No Soft Spot'—Houk DETROIT (UPI) - Ralph Houk may still have a soft spot in his heart for the New York Yankees, but if he was ever ought to see the thickness of the ceiling deposit around it.

"I'd give an arm, a leg, and half my salary just to beat those guys this weekend," Houk said Thursday after his Detroit Yankees had knocked off the Milwaukee Brewers 9-7 in 10 innings.

But Houk's thoughts turned quickly to the three-game weekend series with the first place Yankees, a team of rejects hearing little or no resemblance to the New York team he turned his back on at the end of last season. Houk lined up three left-handers—Wooie Fryman (5-8), Mickey Lolich (16-18) and Luke Walker left 5-0—to go against a team whose best hitters had left: Bobby Murcer, Chris Chambliss, Ron Blomberg and Graig Nettles.

East Catholic Visits Rockville Inexperienced Claim Of Saturday's Foes

Inexperience is the word highlighted when discussions of the East Catholic and Rockville High football teams are initiated. Boston College will be trying for an upset but the Eagles—who were 7-4 last year with losses to teams like Tulane and Syracuse—aren't quite in Texas' class.

Another team which expected an easy road opener was second-ranked Alabama, which scheduled Maryland as an easy tuneup. The Terps are trying to become the best in basketball but their football program has been in decline for years.

Coach Bear Bryant, who began his career at Maryland 29 years ago, admitted he scheduled Maryland as a "sightseeing trip."

But now he adds, "we're going up there to play a football game."

Under Coach Jerry Claiborne, who has revitalized the school football program, Maryland is in the makings.

U. S. Holds 2-0 Margin Against Aussie Yacht

NEWPORT, R.I. (UPI) - With the United States leading 2-0, it sent its defending yacht, Courageous, out today for a third race against Australia's Southern Cross, 22nd challenger and most recent victory in the 1970 Hartford Open.

Both sides hoped that today's encounter would be devoid of the controversy that marked Thursday's racing when both yachts fled protests against each other on the maneuvering that proceeded the race. The protests were considered by an international jury of three, none of whom had ties to the countries involved in the race and they disqualified them.

Tennis Boom for Real, Fastest Growing Sport

NEW YORK (UPI) - The tennis boom is for real. The latest Louis Harris Sports Survey indicates tennis is the fastest-growing spectator sport in the nation, although hardly ready to challenge football as No. 1.

The survey found the number of people who say they "follow" tennis has risen dramatically over the past year from 17 per cent to 26. Football, meanwhile, tops the survey list of 12 sports with 63 per cent of the 1,384 persons polled classifying themselves as fans of the sport. However, that represents a continued slip in popularity from football's highest rating of 67 per cent in 1972.

Aside from tennis, horse racing was the only other sport to show a gain in fans, its following increasing from 18 per cent to 20 in the wake of Secretariat's 1973 triumphs. Tennis has moved from last place in the 1971 survey to fourth in this year's. The three main reasons given for the surge in tennis' popularity are increased coverage, a sizeable increase in the sport's participants and the emergence of charismatic young stars such as Bjorn Borg, Chris Evert and Jimmy Connors.

The survey also found tennis to have just about as much appeal among blacks as whites nationwide, despite the sport's all-white, country club past. Baseball was the second most popular sport with 56 per cent of those polled identifying themselves as fans and basketball third with 44 per cent.

Boston College To Test Texas 19th HOLE

NEW YORK (UPI) - The University of Texas football team, which likes to play most of the time deep in the heart of Texas, shouldn't be taking too much of a chance Saturday night when it takes one of its rare out-of-state road trips.

Since 1950, the Texas team has played only one game outside of the state of Texas—the 1964 Orange Bowl—in even numbered years. In odd numbered years, it plays at least one out of state game—Arkansas.

The Longhorns, who were upset at Miami in their opener last year, should have an easier time Saturday night when they travel to Boston College.

Even without Roosevelt Leaks, the Longhorns — ranked eighth in the nation in the UPI pre-season ratings — are listed as 17-point favorites over BC.

With Mike Esposito leading the ground attack, Boston College will be trying for an upset but the Eagles—who were 7-4 last year with losses to teams like Tulane and Syracuse—aren't quite in Texas' class.

Another team which expected an easy road opener was second-ranked Alabama, which scheduled Maryland as an easy tuneup. The Terps are trying to become the best in basketball but their football program has been in decline for years.

Pro Football Roundup Dolphins Choice To Realize Goal

NEW YORK (UPI) - Don Shula and his Miami Dolphins begin their run at history Sunday as the National Football League, finally free from the players strike, opens its 55th season.

Shula's goal is to become the first coach ever to win three Super Bowls and he's two-thirds of the way there. The Dolphins, who have lost only two games in the last two years, are the preseason favorites to make it three titles in a row.

They should have little trouble getting started Sunday as they open at Foxboro, Mass., against the New England Patriots, who are still in a rebuilding program under second-year coach Chuck Fairbanks.

The Dolphins, who will host stars Larry Conley, Pat Warfield and Jim Kick to the World Football League next season, are 14-point favorites.

Miami will send the same lineup that beat Minnesota in the Super Bowl against New England with two replacements. Doug Crusan, an 14-point favorite.

Play is expected to be more open this season, with new rules changes designed to provide more offensive action.

WIN AT BRIDGE... Aces and kings are honored... Here is another hand to illustrate the use of the rule of the ace and the king... South would have held a very sound one-spade response without the ace of hearts. Hence, when North jumps to three spades, South makes a mild slam try with his bid of four hearts.
