Six from Town High Schools Named Merit Semi-Finalists

Six students from Manchester high schools have been named as National Merit Scholarship semi-finalists. From Manchester High School, they are Jonathan P. Adams and George K. Sweetnam.

From East Catholic High School, they are Grace Mary Belfiore, Christopher R. Foley, Mary Thiery and Steven J. Turgeon.

Adams is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Milton K. Adams of 34 Cole St. He is a staff writer and photographer for the High School World, and is a staff photographer for Somannis, the MHS yearbook. He belongs to Sock and Buskin, the school drama society.

He has a letter in swimming and one in cross-country. He received a German Book Award as a junior. He enjoys running, cycling, and Kung-Fu classes besides photography, writing and reading.

He plans to take a liberal arts course and become a lawyer.

Sweetnam is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Sweetnam of 198 Hollister St. He is a staff member of the High School World, a member of Sock and Buskin, the Announcers Club, American Field Service, National Honor Society and the Student Assembly.

He is editor-in-chief of the High School World, and president of Sock and Buskin, the Announcers Club, and the National Honor Society. He also belongs to the International Thespian Society.

Among his awards, he holds the Elmira College Key, the Harvard Book prize, and a Certificate of Honor from the Concours National de Français.

He is active in hiking, cycling, and enjoys writing, photography and playing piano and harmonica.

He was an AFS exchange student last summer and was a member of an archaeological excavation team north of Rome, Italy.

Sweetnam plans to make a return trip to Italy and Switzerland, and to attend college.

Miss Belfiore is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William E. Belfiore of 40 Forest St. She has participated in Instructors of the Handicapped, Inc. for the past three years and is president of the IOH program for the coming year. She has studied harp for six years, and has been involved in the following school activities: ECHO, the school newspaper as the news and general feature editor for three years; a three-year member of the student council; the school yearbook layout staff; and secretary of the National Honor Society.

She has received the honors "E" award for freshman year and the first honors with distinction "E" for sophomore and junior years. She has been featured in Merit's "Who's Who Among American High School Students," and was the recipient of the Yale Book Award. Miss Belfiore spent a month in France this year as a member of the Organization for Study in France and America.

Foley, the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Foley of 125 Farnstead Lane, Glastonbury, a member of Junior Achievement, was the vice-president of sales and managing for his company in junior year. He has taught religious education classes at St. Paul's parish in Glastonbury, and is a two-year member of the ECIS math team. He plans to study engineering.

Miss Thiery is the daughter of Mr. and

Kissinger Opposes Pressure on USSR

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger said today the United States will try to reach agreements with Moscow on nuclear limitations and troop reduction, but opposed using trade policy to change emigration restrictions on Soviet Jews.

"We face an opportunity that was not possible 25 years, or even a decade ago," Kissinger said in a statement prepared for a Senate Foreign Relations Committee inquiry into U.S.-U.S.S.R. detente. "If that opportunity is lost, its moment will not quickly come again."

"Indeed, it may not come at all," Kissinger outlined the origins and accomplishments of detente in a 50-page policy statement.

He also promised to strive in the coming months to complete negotiations for strategic arms limitations through 1985, finish negotiations on mutual force reductions in Central Europe, conclude a Conference of European Security and Cooperation and continue efforts to limit the spread of nuclear weapons to additional countries.

But Kissinger said cold war doctrines would be revived if the United States tried to use economic pressure to change the Soviet system, achieve a military superiority or deny benefits to the Soviet Union.

Kissinger said the United States will use maximum influence to alleviate human suffering. "But we cannot demand that the Soviet Union, in effect, suddenly reverse five decades of Soviet and centuries of Russian history," he added. In an apparent reference to congressional efforts to use trade policy as a wedge for changes in Soviet emigration policy, Kissinger said "Such an attempt would be futile and at the same time hazard all that has been achieved." "A renewal of the cold war will hardly encourage the Soviet Union to change its emigration policies or adopt a more benevolent attitude towards dissent," he said.

Kissinger said the Soviets could wreck detente if they used it as a cover to strengthen their military capacity, undermine U.S. alliances or increase world tensions through crises.

"If... we look for final results before we agree to any results, then we would be reviving the doctrines of liberation and massive retaliation of the 1950s," he said. "And we would do so at a time when Soviet physical power and influence on the world are greater than a quarter century ago when those policies were devised and failed. The futility of such a course is as certain as its danger."

Policeman Fired On In Boston Boycott

BOSTON (UPI) — A policeman was shot at but missed as he stood guard outside Jamaica Plain High School today on the sixth day of a court-ordered plan to integrate Boston's schools.

Detective Thomas M. Smith was standing in front of the school when he heard a shot. He was not injured.

It was the first shot fired during the tense week the busing plan has been in effect. Police recovered a .38-caliber bullet in a table after it passed through two doors of the school, but it was not known if the shot was fired from a passing car.

The bus and its occupants escorted out of the city. It was reported they also would be escorted out of the state.

The incidents marred an otherwise peaceful boycott of classes by whites in South Boston as police security slackened.

Authorities refused to take seriously reports that members of the Ku Klux Klan would show up in force to help fight the busing.

Acting Chamber Head

Mrs. Suzanne Flocken

Mrs. Suzanne Flocken has been named acting executive director of the Greater Manchester Chamber of Commerce by the executive board of directors, according to Burt L. Lyons, board chairman.

She will assume the executive responsibilities of Richard G. Clark who has accepted a position with the Greater Plantation, Fla., Chamber of Commerce.

Mrs. Flocken previously served as staff director of marketing services. She joined the Chamber staff in May as director of Retail and Consumer Affairs until the reassignment of her responsibilities to that of marketing services. Under her title of director of marketing services, she was responsible for membership expansion, retail affairs, consumer affairs and public relations.

Mrs. Flocken successfully completed Institute for Organizational Management at the University of Delaware in August sponsored by the U.S. Chamber of Commerce.

"Mrs. Flocken has demonstrated to us her ability and effective management of the responsibilities she has assumed since her commencement in May, Lyons said. "We are confident the chamber's effectiveness will continue during this interim period under her leadership."

Students' Ideas About the Constitution

By JUNE B. TOMPKINS

Manchester High School students have definite ideas on the Constitution of the United States as was evidenced Wednesday when several members of the junior and senior classes were spot interviewed at random during school hours.

As part of the observance of Constitution Week, the students were asked, "What is your opinion of the Constitution of the United States? How would you change it if you could?"

As each one was selected in turn from Elgin Zatursky's social studies class, the interview was held in another room across the hall.

None of the students had been forewarned or prepared in anyway for the interviews. Zatursky said most of the students had not studied anything about the Constitution in the past couple of years.

Generally speaking, the students thought the Constitution was a pretty good one.

Mary Norwood, a junior, said she didn't know "that much about the Constitution," but she didn't think the President should be so much "above everybody in the nation."

However, she thought our Constitution is the best one in the world.

If Bob Richardson, a junior, could have anything to do with changing the Constitution, he would legalize drugs.

"I think people can take drugs without hurting anyone else," he said. He did say the Constitution has "a lot of freedoms, like free speech."

After thinking a moment, he added, "And you're free." But he said the Constitution is a good one.

Concern over Nixon's pardon was expressed by several including Dave Beaulieu, a junior. He thinks the presidents, recently, have assumed more power than the Constitution meant them to have. He acknowledged President Ford's Constitutional right to pardon Nixon, but he wonders about all the others involved in Watergate.

"Although the man who wrote the Constitution did so a long time ago and in primitive times compared to today, they did a good job," he said. He didn't think it should be changed.

The Constitution is okay the way it is, thinks Erlinde Meier, a senior. But she thinks changes could be made so that "whatever people do appears as justice to all people." She feels there are many loopholes in the Constitution, "But there are always going to be loopholes in anything," she said. Compared to others, she thinks our Constitution is good.

"The authors of our Constitution were far ahead of their time and they had an insight into the future," said Mike Demers, a junior. "If people will stick with it, it will last a long time," he added. If he were to pick men from today's leaders to write a Constitution,

Do You Know Your Constitution?

The third in a series of questions and answers on the Constitution of the United States appears below.

The quiz is appearing daily in The Herald in observance of Constitution Week which extends through Monday.

The questions are:

- 1 — Why is the Constitution called a series of compromises?
- 2 — When did the Convention adopt it?
- 3 — When did the states ratify it?
- 4 — When did Connecticut ratify the Constitution?
- 5 — When did Washington first become President?

The answers will be found on page 2.

Wayne Kuehl, junior — "It's a good document, but there are some flaws."

Dave Beaulieu, junior — "taking more power unto themselves."

Bob Richardson, junior — "would change it so people could be a lot freer."

Erlinde Meier, senior — "too many loopholes in the Constitution."

Mary Norwood, junior — "some things about it don't seem so valid."

Mike Demers, junior — "authors were far ahead of their time."

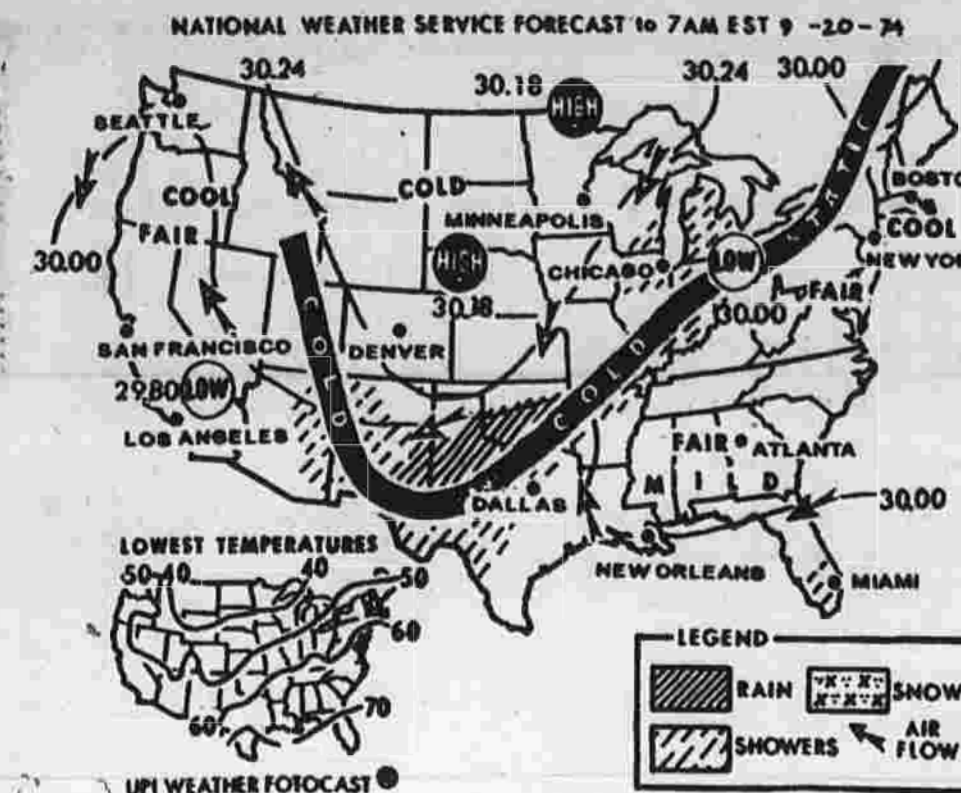

Louisa Marti, junior — "they misinterpret its aims."

Manchester Evening Herald OPINION

Must Debate Continue?

Why must the agonizing debate over the Nixon pardon, and now, conditional amnesty for Vietnam war draft evaders and deserters continue?

The act of pardoning former President Nixon is done. Whether this act will preclude the full disclosure of the extent of his involvement, directly or indirectly in the Watergate affair, is in the hands of Special Prosecutor Leon Jaworski who has powers to subpoena any and all Nixon materials he feels necessary. Granted, the former President is exempt from prosecution but we see the pardon as no barrier to a full investigation so that the Watergate affair can be fully disclosed.

Of more concern is the emotionalism surrounding the conditional amnesty offered to Vietnam draft evaders and deserters.

The act of amnesty never was a one-way street. Implied in it is the commission of an offense against the nation requiring an official decree of forgiveness or, if you prefer, forgiveness.

Thus even an unconditional amnesty is unacceptable to anyone who sincerely continues to feel no offense — in the moral sense — was committed by him.

The purpose of President Ford's amnesty, as we see it and as he stated, was reconciliation which in itself is predicated upon a retreat from previous extremes by both sides.

The amnesty proposal is not intended for those who remain unrepentant but is for those who, for whatever reason, may now have second thoughts about the decisions which led them to evade the draft or desert from military duty.

By opening the door for each such case to be evaluated under the strict-ture of compassionate understanding, the President has moved away from the former administration's extreme position of no amnesty under any condition.

The President has made his offer of reconciliation.

The next conciliatory step is up to those who now must decide whether or not to accept the amnesty offer on the terms it is being offered.

The number of those who choose to reject this offer is not the criteria upon which this act must be measured. If only one person, who evaded the draft or deserted his unit for what he considered valid moral reasons at the time, but today regrets and is willing to accept as a fair price the amnesty terms, the functions of this particular act of amnesty will have been achieved.

Obviously, neither the pardoning of Mr. Nixon nor the conditional amnesty plan has made all of the people happy or even a majority for that matter. However, we sincerely believe the power of a president to pardon or grant amnesty was never intended to be a power to be exercised to endorse public passion. Rather it's a power to counteract the potential injustice of public opinion inflamed by emotionalism which threatens to detract the public concern from the more pressing issues at hand.

This is why we ask again. Why must the agonizing debate over the Nixon pardon and now, conditional amnesty for Vietnam war draft evaders and deserters, continue?

Isn't it time we accept what is done and direct our attention and energies to the multitude of problems that will require the energy, talent and determination of all of us working together to solve?

OPEN FORUM

ANDREW TULLY

Ford Opened The Gates

WASHINGTON — The lady of this house, who seldom minces words when addressing herself to political issues, took a cynical view of her husband's report that Gerald Ford pardoned Richard Nixon because he feared the former President would commit suicide.

"I can just see Nixon grinning and rubbing his hands and telling his pals, 'Boy, that trick worked, didn't it fellows?'" Molly remarked. "I feel as if I'd been had. Now we'll never know the whole truth."

Molly may be right on one point. Those two members of Congress who talked to Nixon by telephone and reported to Ford that he sounded like a man contemplating suicide may have been misled. So might the White House aides who told Ford the same story. But there is still a good chance the truth will out.

Certain members of Congress, not all of them Democratic critics, seem determined to get all the evidence onto the record. One of them, significantly, is Senate Minority Leader Hugh Scott, R-Pa., who, while endorsing the pardon, took a stand for full disclosure. Scott demanded that all documents, tapes, grand jury transcripts, letters and other materials "bearing on Mr. Nixon's case" be made public.

At the same time, Senate Majority Leader Mike Mansfield, D-Mont., always the voice of moderation, made a pitch for

Traffic Light Suggestion

Dear Chief Reader:

I am writing to you again regarding the need for a traffic light at Pearl and Spruce streets. Since I wrote you almost a year ago, there have been more accidents at this same intersection. One woman has been killed. How many more have to give their lives before action is taken? Isn't there anyone who really cares?

Although I do not live in this section of town, I have two young nephews and a niece who do, and I am very much concerned about their safety. I myself was just seconds away from an accident which occurred at this same intersection about two months ago.

You stated to me in your letter of last November that a traffic light had been considered for this intersection under your "TOPICS" program, but that it would not be installed for at least one year. You gave no reasons for the delay. It has been almost a year now. Why can't a light be installed now before another victim is claimed. Human lives are too precious to have them sacrificed to these reckless drivers who have no regard for others, much less themselves.

Also, as the town now owns Main Street, I think serious attention should be given to the various crosswalks on Main Street, especially the one at Oak and Main. Pedestrians who have the green light with motorists coming out of Oak Street have a very difficult time crossing at this intersection. Many of the motorists already have a difficult time getting their right of way.

I sincerely believe a walk light should be placed at this particular spot in order to protect pedestrians who are crossing.

Sincerely,
Barbara Kennedy

Some Bad News... and Some Good

It's been said before: There's seldom a silver lining that doesn't have a dark cloud lurking behind it somewhere. Two current examples:

No. 1. Most 1975 American cars will be equipped with catalytic converters which at an added cost of a couple hundred dollars a unit, will change carbon monoxide and other hydrocarbons in the exhaust into harmless water and carbon dioxide. That's good.

Unfortunately, the Environmental Protection Agency has belatedly discovered that the converters will cause a pollution problem of their own. They will generate .06 grams of sulfuric acid per mile in a fine mist from exhaust systems. Cars without converters give off no sulfuric acid.

"We got into this fix," says John Moran, director of the EPA's $3.5-million study of auto emission problems, "because those of us in the research community looked only at reducing the level of pollutants already in exhaust fumes and did not look at the entire question to determine ahead of time what side effects the catalytic converters might have."

But not to worry too much. The sulfuric acid won't develop into a health hazard for "at least two years" and will not affect healthy, normal people but only those with existing respiratory ailments, and then only in areas with high vehicle densities, such as freeways, city streets and shopping centers.

Leta Luck.

No. 2. The National Safety Council reports that highway fatalities in the first seven months of this year were 22 per cent lower than in the same period in 1973. That's good.

Unfortunately, says a University of Chicago transplant surgeon, this otherwise happy circumstance has brought about a shortage of donated kidneys available for transplant.

In Illinois, says Dr. J. Laurence Hill, kidneys were obtained from 38 donors in the first six months of this year, versus 43 last year. He attributes the lower number this year to reduced traffic deaths.

Many more Americans are going to be put on dialysis (kidney machine) treatment under new Social Security coverage, says Dr. Hill. But their chances of obtaining a transplant may decrease unless more donated kidneys are somehow made available.

Golf Courses Tee Off

"During the past decade, 3,900 new golf courses, including additions to existing facilities, have opened for play throughout the United States.

The number has ranged from over 500 in 1965 to 566 in 1972 — a yearly average of 390. Last year, 322 courses were opened, led by Ohio with 34; Michigan, 25; California, 23; Florida, 21; Texas, 17; Colorado, 16; Tennessee, 14; Iowa, 13, and North Carolina, 11.

As the nation's official clearinghouse on golf information, the National Golf Foundation has records on golf course growth since 1931. Each year, all new courses are added to NFG's computerized national inventory.

In 1931, there were 5,691 golf courses of all types in plan. In 1961, the total was 6,623, or a net increase of only about 16 per cent. But between 1961 and 1973, the inventory jumped to 10,670, an increase of 64 per cent in 12 years.

Between 1931 and 1973, 5,180 daily fee and municipal courses were opened, as opposed to only 877 new private courses. This tremendous growth in public courses, says the Urban Land Institute, clearly brings into focus the trend in golf course development in recent years: Golf no longer belongs to the few; it is everyman's game.

Another startling fact, says the Institute, is the great increase in golf courses associated with land development projects. In 1964, only 16.3 per cent of all golf courses built were part of land sales, new planned towns or resort and convention facilities. By 1973, the figure had soared to over 40 per cent.

So, blast it, here we go again. There will be more antideserting, more depressing headlines. But by letting Richard Nixon set the terms for his pardon, President Ford opened the gates instead of closing them.

'Positioners' Flight for a Piece of Your Mind

By Al Ries

Anybody who watches television or reads newspapers or magazines has to be aware that something is afoot in the world of advertising today.

Why suddenly are advertisers mentioning the names of their competitors? Why do Pinto commercials talk about Volkswagens? Why does 7-Up call itself the Un-Cola?

For years, advertisers talked only about their own superior virtues. Now you find ads for hairspray, shampoo, deodorants and many other products going out of their way to bad-mouth the competition. Why the sudden urge to compare themselves with the products of others?

The answer lies in a new concept called "positioning" which has drastically changed the way the ad game is played.

To understand positioning, you must understand that, one day the mind is ready, willing and even eager to absorb information. The next day it's not.

Positioning is really a new way of looking at the function of advertising. For many years, advertising people have thought that advertising was a form of "communications." Yet in many categories the quantity of material that gets communicated is surprisingly small.

What do you know about Cadillac? How long is it? What colors does it come in? What is the horsepower of an engine? What options are available?

To the average automobile prospect, General Motors has succeeded in communicating almost nothing about Cadillac — except its position as the top-of-the-line, domestic luxury automobile.

And once a brand like Cadillac is firmly entrenched in the mind, the competition must relate to its position if it hopes to make progress.

Which is why Lincoln Continental ads use comparison tests that say, "The Continentals beat the other make of luxury car again."

And Honeywell calls itself the "other computer company."

These companies are successfully positioning themselves against the leaders. The "anti-Lindbergh" position, if you will.

The classic example of the "anti" position is Avis. For 13 straight years, the company lost money. Then they ran an ad which said, "Avis is only number two in rent-a-cars, so why go with us? We try harder."

Avis has made money every year since. But many people misread the Avis story. They assume the company was successful because it tried harder.

Not at all. Avis was successful because it related itself to the position of Hertz. (If trying harder were the secret of success, Harold Stassen would have been president many times over.)

So as you read your paper, just remember that you are an eye-witness to innumerable positioning battles. And what you decide to buy or not to buy will decide who will win and who will lose.

Student En Route To Study In Ireland Praises MCC

BETTY RYDER
Women's Editor
A young Manchester man who considers himself quite fortunate will soon be en route to Ireland where he will spend a year at Shannon College of Hotel Management in Shannon, Ireland.

Paul Pryor, 20, has been selected as Manchester Community College's exchange student to Shannon College, where he will study hotel and food management.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Pryor of 34 Cottage St., Paul took cooking courses while a student at Manchester High School, and later entered the Hotel and Food Management program at MCC.

A serious-minded young man, he credits his parents and two close neighbors, Miss Katherine Giblin and Dr. Helen T. Warner, a retired psychologist, both of 46 Cottage St., with perking up his interest in the culinary arts and management.

"My parents have always encouraged me," he said. "Miss Giblin and Dr. Warner have taken me from Connecticut to Virginia to see almost every historical spot along the way. We would stop in different restaurants and compare the facilities as well as the service, food, etc."

Paul who leaves Sunday from Montreal is due to arrive in Shannon Monday and begin work on Tuesday.

"It's a wonderful opportunity, and though I know my parents will miss me, they are happy for me. While at Shannon he will study management, but basically marketing and sales for European hotels. Following his one-year course he has the option to accept a position for six months in a hotel there.

"Will he stay in Europe?" "I like New England," he says. "I'd have to come back, but maybe I'll return to Europe after a visit. It's too soon to know," he added.

The decision to continue his college career while at MCC met a few snags along the way, and Paul says it was through the efforts of some of his instructors that he was persuaded to continue.

"There were days when I was ready to quit, but the encouragement of a few of my instructors including James McKinney, Frank Lattuca and Richard E. Gill, who is now on leave of absence from MCC, made me aware of the opportunities offered at the college."

In his spare time, Paul worked part-time for Foster Furniture Service on High St. "Pete Foster was very good to me. He let me work when I could, and if for one reason or another, a class perhaps, I couldn't, he never seemed to mind."

The annual Martin-South School PTA ice cream social and bake sale will be Saturday from 1 to 3 p.m. on the South School grounds.

Brenda Costello, daughter of Mrs. Ann Costello of Sycamore Lane and a member of the Hartford Junior Ballet Co., will appear as one of the Munchkins in the "Wizard of Oz" Sept. 28 and 29 in Millard Auditorium at the University of Hartford.

There were days when after much disagreement with Mr. Gill, I'd yell at him, he'd yell back and finally, we'd sit and talk it all out.

An outgoing man, Paul won his letters in football and basketball while at Manchester High School. He was a member of St. James CVO Basketball team that went to the state finals.

He speaks highly of his dad who coaches a basketball team at St. James.

"He's the kind of a guy that the kids like. If they have a problem even though it's not related to basketball, they ask to talk it over with him."

Paul participated in the Gourmet Dinner programs at MCC and joined the efforts of "Project Reach" in which students appear at high school Career Days and explain the Hotel Food and Management Program offered at the college.

In his spare time, Paul worked part-time for Foster Furniture Service on High St. "Pete Foster was very good to me. He let me work when I could, and if for one reason or another, a class perhaps, I couldn't, he never seemed to mind."

Women's Club Plans Dessert-Card Party

The Women's Club of Manchester will present a dessert-card party with entertainment Monday at 8 p.m. at Second Congregational Church Hall, N. Main St.

Patricia Ellen Kloo, daughter of Marion Kloo of 90 Main St., South Windsor, recently enlisted in the U. S. Air Force and reported for active duty on Sept. 9. A graduate of South Windsor High School, Class of 1974, Patricia has selected a position in the aircraft maintenance career field.

While in New York, Dawne attended Hart College for eight years and now teaches piano as well as piano both to children and adults. Dawne has studied acting with the Herbert Berghof Studios in New York City.

Presently, she is rehearsing the role of Lucille in "No, No, Nanette." The production will appear at the Irving Robbins School, Farmington on Oct. 11.

"I was very active when I was single. Since I'm not the sort of person who can just sit in one spot, I like to have some outlets in addition to my home. I have spent close to 15 years studying and working on my music and dance. It would be a shame to waste it. Once one gets married, you shouldn't stop all of a sudden."

What is Dawne's philosophy in teaching music to children? "I try first to be a friend - to relate to them. You can spoil it by coming down on them too hard. We play little games and try to get them to express their own creativity."

"I will give them a piece of music to take home. 'Play this as if you are running.' I will say, or 'as if you are sad' or whatever. No one wants to listen to a mechanical type of playing. There must be something of the person in it."

At what age can a child read music? "Well, a few mothers will send a child because the parents want him to learn. I had one little boy who would rather play baseball so I told his mother she was wasting her money. If a child can count to ten and knows the alphabet up to the letter 'g', he can play the piano."

Mrs. Browne Stuffs Tomatoes

Gwyneth Browne lies happily in her playpen. A gregarious baby at only five months, she is delighted to have company about her. When her mother's piano pupils come, there is no problem with baby. Gwyneth is content to watch and to listen.

Her mother, Dawne Browne, was a professional actress in New York City before her marriage. Born in London, Dawne came to New England at the age of seven. Her mother was a professional singer in Paris. By day, she worked at the Judge Advocate's office. Her father, a Marine, was stationed as a guard outside the office door. The couple were married in the mid 1940's.

"My mother has a magnificent soprano voice. She has had no training nor has my father who is a self-taught musician. He plays the mandolin and sings. In fact, his entire family are either violinists or mandolinists. I guess I'm the first on both sides of the family who has ever gone to school."

Dawne began her career with the study of ballet. Unfortunately, her first teacher put her into toe shoes too soon. When she later studied with a renowned instructor, the pains in her legs forced her to stop due to the early error.

She attended Hart College for eight years and now teaches piano as well as piano both to children and adults. Dawne has studied acting with the Herbert Berghof Studios in New York City.

Presently, she is rehearsing the role of Lucille in "No, No, Nanette." The production will appear at the Irving Robbins School, Farmington on Oct. 11.

School Bus Service Said Improved Today

SOUTH WINDSOR
JUDY KUEHNEL
Correspondent
644-1364

South Windsor's continuing problem of school bus service eased somewhat today when all drivers for the Hayes Bus Co. reported for work and only six or seven buses were late.

Today's improved school bus service followed a Wednesday bus crisis when drivers didn't report for work and hundreds of students were late for school. The crisis situation was soon as part of a mounting legal entanglement involving the South Windsor Board of Education and two bus companies: Hayes Bus Co. and the Goodwin Bus Co.

Goodwin was school bus contractor for most of the town's 5,300 students until Tuesday, when the school board relieved Goodwin of its three-year contract and awarded the pact to Hayes.

The school board has said only that the change was made

Mrs. Orlowski Named Artist of the Month

Tolland County
The Tolland County Art Association has named Barbara Orlowski of Ellington "Artist of the Month" and her work is on display in the adult reading room at the Rockville Public Library.

An acrylic painting, "Dahlia," painted by Ernest Garroli Sr. of Ellington, was selected as "Picture of the Month," and is also on display at the Rockville Library.

Absenteeism was higher than normal throughout South Windsor schools Wednesday, and administrators said the number of tardy students was phenomenal. Town and school offices were flooded with parent inquiries about the situation, which resulted in hundreds of students being kept up to three hours late for school.

In the schools, officials were attempting to smooth the crisis situation and were predicting that the bus service would be back to normal later this week. Officials have declined to discuss details surrounding the busing controversy, but school administrators have said they have substantial grounds for termination of the Goodwin contract.

Style Show
On Wednesday, Oct. 2, 1974, the Sisterhood of Temple Beth Hillel of South Windsor will present "A Touch of Fashion" at Willie's Steak House in Manchester at 7:30 p.m.

Discharged Wednesday: Joseph Mackora, East Hartford; Anna Matteson, 288 N. Main St.; Cynthia Powers, 24 Pinney St.; Ellington; Arlington Smith, Cedar Swamp Rd.; Coventry; Almond James, East Hartford; Thomas Griffin, 949 Pleasant Valley Rd.; South Windsor; Terry Beal, East Hartford; Clifford Johnson, 94 Broad St.; Dorothy Aceto, East Glastonbury.

Seven Offices Move To Lincoln Center

Monday will be moving day for five town offices of South Windsor and Tuesday for two others. All will move into the newly renovated Lincoln Center (formerly Lincoln School). They will utilize the basement and first floor of the center. The Sheltered Workshop will continue to occupy the first floor.

The five offices scheduled to move Monday will vacate the Municipal Building — public works director, engineering, building department, park department, and planning and zoning.

The two offices moving Tuesday will vacate the Transfer Block, to the west of the Central Firehouse — water and sewer department, and social services. The town-owned Trotter Block is slated for demolition.

Remaining in the Municipal Building will be the town manager's office, town clerk, town counsel, collector of revenue, assessor and judge of probate.

Moving into the Municipal Building at same future date will be the Health Department — from its quarters in the old Spruce St. Firehouse.

Separate Envoys
Byelorussia and the Ukraine, constituent republics of the USSR, have separate representation in the United Nations General Assembly. This is the result of a compromise after the Soviet Union protested against the separate admission of members of the British Commonwealth during the formative days of the UN.

Back in 1891 The Cheney Mill was going strong, and Heritage Savings was the only savings institution in town.

In 1838 the Cheney Mill began manufacturing silk. By 1891 the Cheney Mill was a thriving Manchester business of national renown.

Back then, Manchester didn't have a bank where a family could save or finance a home. That's when some local townspeople founded Heritage Savings and Loan Association (then called Manchester Building and Loan Association). Ever since, we have been specializing in savings and home financing for the people of this area.

ENGAGED

The engagement of Miss Kathleen A. Norris to Michael A. Orfelli, both of Manchester, has been announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Austin of Elmira, N.Y.

Mr. Orfelli is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Michael A. Orfelli Jr. of Village St.

The bride-elect is a graduate of Elmira (N.Y.) South Side High School, class of 1971. She also attended Houghton College and is employed as a secretary at Horace Porter School in Columbia.

Her fiancé received a bachelor's degree from Southern Connecticut State College and a master's degree in music from Northern Illinois University. He is employed as a music teacher at Bennett Junior High School.

The couple plan a Dec. 20 wedding at South United Methodist Church.

Family Life Curriculum Presented to School Board

Donna Holland, Correspondent

Marilyn Breslow, family life curriculum committee chairwoman, presented a completed proposed curriculum on family life and health education for students in kindergarten through Grade 8 to the Board of Education members at their last meeting.

She requested the curriculum be included on the agenda of the November school board meeting for action, either approval or disapproval.

She said prior to the November meeting the curriculum would be presented by members of the curriculum advisory council and it would make its recommendation to the board.

The family life committee will also make its recommendations to the board in November.

Fifteen copies of the proposed curriculum are available at Bentley Memorial Library. Due to the limited number of copies they may be borrowed for one-week only.

Mrs. Breslow said 50 copies were made with 35 going to the members of the family life committee.

Child Care Center To Open Monday

The Child Care Center, as a service to the town of South Windsor will begin its programs Monday. The center is sponsored by the Community Service Council.

The center will be open Monday through Thursday from 9 a.m. to noon at St. Peter's Episcopal Church, Sand Hill Rd.

The Child Care Center is licensed by the Connecticut State Department of Health and is a service to allow the mothers of South Windsor time to meet their needs.

Children, ages 3-4 years, may enroll in advance for permanent care. Children from 2 months to 3 years may use the center on a drop-in basis by registering each week.

Based on the Frostig Program, emphasis is placed on the five visual-perceptual abilities that appear to have the greatest relevance to academic achievement. For information or registration contact the Community Service Office.

Applications and reservations are now being accepted by contacting the Community Service Office, 644-5009 between 9 a.m. and 3 p.m.

Stolen Apple May Be Costly

SOUTH WINDSOR
Judy Kuehnel

As tempting as it may look, like farmer's apple you might like to swipe and figure he'd never miss could be the costliest apple you've ever tasted.

It could cost you as much as $500.

Theft of apples and vandalism to orchards is becoming an increasingly aggravating problem to farmers in South Windsor who have asked police to intercede.

Orchard Hills Farms has asked police to post the penalties for apple stealing and trespassing on private property, or vandalism to orchards.

Police have said the stealing of apples is considered larceny in the fourth degree and is a Class C misdemeanor resulting in the heavy fine and penalty.

If property is posted, as most orchards are, the trespasser may be charged with trespassing and fined $250 or 15 days in jail or both.

Some growers now have their own law enforcement method, giving the caught their choice of registration or a fine of $5 an apple or the choice of the police.

POLICE REPORT

MANCHESTER Arrests reported today include: Bradley Z. Wheaton, 23, of 561 Spencer St. was arrested Wednesday at 4:17 a.m. and charged with fourth-degree larceny in connection with the theft of a new, $50-tire from a car parked in the lot of Manchester Oldsmobile on Hartford Rd. Lt. Walter Cassells Jr. observed Wheaton enter a car at that time, police said. Wheaton later told police he was looking at new cars. He was released on his written promise to appear in court Sept. 30. Lt. Walter Cassells Jr. observed Wheaton enter a car at that time, police said. Wheaton later told police he was looking at new cars. He was released on his written promise to appear in court Sept. 30.

COVENTRY Coventry Police, in cooperation with agents of the Capitol Region Crime Squad, arrested three local residents Wednesday afternoon in connection with the investigation of the illegal sale of controlled drugs. Jane Desrosier, 18, of Flanders Rd. was charged with possession of a cannabish-type substance and sale of a controlled substance. She was released on a $500 non-surety bond for appearance in court Oct. 7. A resident of the N. School St. and Oakland St. area called police to report a man sleeping in a damaged car. Police then found Wrobel asleep in his car with the engine running and his feet on the brake. Extensive damage had been done to the car's left front. Police searched the area but could not determine what Wrobel's car may have hit. Police also gave Wrobel a written warning for driving after drinking. He posted a $150 non-surety bond for court Sept. 30.

Orbach to Face 33 More Charges Stand on W. Center St. (three times), a home on W. High St., a home on Lincoln St. and a home on Center St. (three times). Also, the charges stem from the thefts of tape decks from cars, of a telephone truck from Hartford Road Enterprises, and a car from a Roosevelt St. address. Orbach is also charged with smashing a front window of David's Restaurant in the Parkside in order to take tapes for tobacco. The last charge, made on Tuesday, stems from a break into Sportland Billiards on W. Middle Tpke. Policed that only the car and the truck were recovered. An adding machine was destroyed. Some of the merchandise was sold in East Hartford.

Pressure Building as Orioles Top Yankees

NEW YORK (UPI) - Ask any of the Baltimore Orioles about pressure and you get several different answers. But regardless of differences in opinion, pressure was so thick you could peel it Wednesday night as Mike Cuellar won his 20th game and Bobby Grich and Rich Coggins banged out two-run doubles in the seven-run sixth inning to lead the Orioles to an important 10-4 win over New York. It trimmed the Yankees' lead to a skimpy half-game in the American League Eastern Division. Oriole Manager Earl Weaver was aware of the pressure but that the intense pressure of the finishing weeks lies with the first place team. "I've always felt when I've been in first place that the pressure is on me. If you don't let everyone in the country will call you a loser." Third baseman Brooks Robinson wasn't too sure about that, saying the pressure is on the team challenging the leader. "I'd love to be ahead (in the race)," he said. "You don't have that much pressure when you're ahead. The pressure is here, right now."

The game was tied 2-2 until the Birds exploded for seven runs in the sixth. The two-run doubles by Coggins and Grich were the key blows. Cuellar became the eighth American League hurler this year to gain the celebrated 20-game winner status - while there are none in the National League yet. Cuellar has won 20 games or more four times in his career and he has won seven of eight decisions since Aug. 15. The three-game series ends tonight with the Orioles scheduled again at New York. In other AL games, Chicago topped Minnesota 3-1, Cleveland beat Milwaukee 6-3, Oakland edged Kansas City 5-4, Boston topped Detroit 8-5 and California won 4-1 before bowing 2-0 to Texas.

Angels 4-0, Rangers 1-2 Ferguson Jenkins failed in his bid to become the winning pitcher in the major leagues as Bruce Bochte and Joe Lahoud hit back-to-back homers in the first inning of an opener, dropping Jenkins' record to 23-12. Steve Hargan tossed a two-run single and scored on a wild throw. Tom Robertson picked up his first two major league RBIs, enabling the Rangers to split the twinnish.

A's 5, Royals 4 The A's have been in the doldrums lately but things could improve if Reggie Jackson continues to wield a hot bat. Jackson stroked a three-hit performance in a wild game, enabling the A's to win a four-inning fifth inning to pace the A's victory. White Sox 3, Twins 1 Jim Kaat reeled off four straight win over the Twins since joining the Sox. The scowled scrapper seven singles in picking up his 18th win against 13 losses. Indians 6, Brewers 3 Frank Robinson's two-run homer capped a four-run sixth inning rally that lifted the Indians over the Brewers.

Gross Nightmarish To Dodgers' Hopes THOUGHTS APLENTY BY LEN AUSTER NEW YORK (UPI) - Greg Gross has stirred up a nightmarish memory for the Dodgers. Gross, the outstanding rookie of the Houston Astros, prevented Los Angeles from gaining a full game on the Cincinnati Reds in the National League West Wednesday night when he threw out pinch-runner Rick Ankiel with the plate with the score tied in the last of the ninth inning in a game won by the Astros 3-2 in 10 innings.

Shows Encouraging Signs Showing signs of strength on defense but needing help on offense was the East Coast football team last Saturday at Rockville. The defensive platoon, led by linebacker Tom Hornat and middle guard Ed Lojeski, bottled up the Rams' offense, while the reverse also occurred to the East force. Starting quarterback Frank Driscoll didn't impress and neither did sophomore Kevin Shorey in his brief stint. The Rockville defense, spearheaded by Mark Cameron, had something to do with that however. Those who did impress were running backs Joe Desjone and Cephus Nolen. Give the latter room and he's off like a blue dart. East also unveiled the option pass with Nolen on the pitching end. It could be a weapon for further use.

UConn Gridlers Start Kicking off its 1974 football season is UConn Saturday at Memorial Stadium against Yankee Conference challenger University of Vermont. The Storrs-based Huskies are defending champs, having won the crown in Coach Larry Naviaux' initial campaign. Still up in the air is the quarterback job with senior Brad Rock apparently in the lead at the moment. Junior Harmon Sanchez and sophomore Lou Mancari are also in the running for the job. The Huskies will be young. That Naviaux made perfectly clear recently. An example of this is at defensive tackle where 6-3, 255-pound freshman Dan Rose will be the starter. Sophomore Ricky Hedgepeth will draw a berth in the starting offensive backfield. There is experience elsewhere, however, and those performers will have to show the way for UConn.

An Interesting Summer Former East Catholic football mentor Andy Baylock, now on the staff at UConn, had an interesting summer. In the first two days of practice with his Falmouth club in the Cape Cod Baseball League, he lost four performers. Southern Illinois University centerfielder Steve Shartzer was the first man lost with a hernia. The nation's leading hitter, Kevin Goodhue from the University of Maine with a .509 average, broke a finger. University of Michigan hurler Ace Adams worked out the first two days but then opted to sign with the Pittsburgh Pirates. Finally, North Carolina Central's Louis Breeden was lost because he had to go to summer school. Falmouth won 18 games and finished sixth in the league, losing 13 games by one run. "We were short on talent," Baylock said. "But we had a lot of fun."

Bits and Pieces For area soccer fans, there is an early season "crucial" confrontation Saturday morning at 11 between Charter Oaks Conference rivals Coventry and Bolton at the Bulldogs' turf. Coach Mike Landolph's Bolton eleven has won its first two clashes while Coach George Parker's Patriots are 1-1. Each is rated one of the favorites for the COC title along with Rham and Rocky Hill. Coventry has made the State Tournament the last six years while Landolph's eight-year record is 53-34-10. It should be interesting... When Coach Larry Olsen sends his Manchester High football team against South Windsor Sept. 28, the latter will have had two games under its belt. It will be the opener for the Indians. That gives the Bobcats a big advantage. Practice sessions are beneficial, but not as much as actual experience in combat.

Candlestick Left In Style by Aaron SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) - Hank Aaron left San Francisco in style. Playing in his last game ever in the home park of the Giants Wednesday, the one-time home run king of the Atlanta Braves hit the 732nd home of his career. He added an RBI single in helping the Braves to a 4-2 victory. "I've never had too much luck in Candlestick Park," said the 40-year-old Aaron, "but I left on a good note and I appreciate that." The homer was only the 11th Aaron has hit since Candlestick was opened for the start of the 1960 season and the first since 1971. "To be truthful," Aaron said, "this never has been one of my favorite parks but I still love San Francisco. Now that my career is coming to an end, it's a little hard saying goodbye to all the cities I've played in. But this is it. I'm coming to the end of the line."

The defensive platoon, led by linebacker Tom Hornat and middle guard Ed Lojeski, bottled up the Rams' offense, while the reverse also occurred to the East force. Starting quarterback Frank Driscoll didn't impress and neither did sophomore Kevin Shorey in his brief stint. The Rockville defense, spearheaded by Mark Cameron, had something to do with that however. Those who did impress were running backs Joe Desjone and Cephus Nolen. Give the latter room and he's off like a blue dart. East also unveiled the option pass with Nolen on the pitching end. It could be a weapon for further use.

UConn Gridlers Start Kicking off its 1974 football season is UConn Saturday at Memorial Stadium against Yankee Conference challenger University of Vermont. The Storrs-based Huskies are defending champs, having won the crown in Coach Larry Naviaux' initial campaign. Still up in the air is the quarterback job with senior Brad Rock apparently in the lead at the moment. Junior Harmon Sanchez and sophomore Lou Mancari are also in the running for the job. The Huskies will be young. That Naviaux made perfectly clear recently. An example of this is at defensive tackle where 6-3, 255-pound freshman Dan Rose will be the starter. Sophomore Ricky Hedgepeth will draw a berth in the starting offensive backfield. There is experience elsewhere, however, and those performers will have to show the way for UConn.

An Interesting Summer Former East Catholic football mentor Andy Baylock, now on the staff at UConn, had an interesting summer. In the first two days of practice with his Falmouth club in the Cape Cod Baseball League, he lost four performers. Southern Illinois University centerfielder Steve Shartzer was the first man lost with a hernia. The nation's leading hitter, Kevin Goodhue from the University of Maine with a .509 average, broke a finger. University of Michigan hurler Ace Adams worked out the first two days but then opted to sign with the Pittsburgh Pirates. Finally, North Carolina Central's Louis Breeden was lost because he had to go to summer school. Falmouth won 18 games and finished sixth in the league, losing 13 games by one run. "We were short on talent," Baylock said. "But we had a lot of fun."

Bits and Pieces For area soccer fans, there is an early season "crucial" confrontation Saturday morning at 11 between Charter Oaks Conference rivals Coventry and Bolton at the Bulldogs' turf. Coach Mike Landolph's Bolton eleven has won its first two clashes while Coach George Parker's Patriots are 1-1. Each is rated one of the favorites for the COC title along with Rham and Rocky Hill. Coventry has made the State Tournament the last six years while Landolph's eight-year record is 53-34-10. It should be interesting... When Coach Larry Olsen sends his Manchester High football team against South Windsor Sept. 28, the latter will have had two games under its belt. It will be the opener for the Indians. That gives the Bobcats a big advantage. Practice sessions are beneficial, but not as much as actual experience in combat.

Candlestick Left In Style by Aaron SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) - Hank Aaron left San Francisco in style. Playing in his last game ever in the home park of the Giants Wednesday, the one-time home run king of the Atlanta Braves hit the 732nd home of his career. He added an RBI single in helping the Braves to a 4-2 victory. "I've never had too much luck in Candlestick Park," said the 40-year-old Aaron, "but I left on a good note and I appreciate that." The homer was only the 11th Aaron has hit since Candlestick was opened for the start of the 1960 season and the first since 1971. "To be truthful," Aaron said, "this never has been one of my favorite parks but I still love San Francisco. Now that my career is coming to an end, it's a little hard saying goodbye to all the cities I've played in. But this is it. I'm coming to the end of the line."

Ali Back to Old Antics

N'SELE, Zaire (UPI) — Was Muhammad Ali joking when he made an impassioned plea Wednesday for all the Zaires to "be on guard everywhere. Watch the airport. Watch out for boats that come in the dark. Keep an eye on the border. Watch those bus terminals and elephant convoys. George Foreman must stay here."

Was Foreman's handler Dick Sadler then serious when he said on Tuesday that there was no thought of leaving Zaire?
Muhammad Ali's first mass news conference in Zaire had a socko opening but the old act centered on the natives. It seems Ali lost a lot in translation.
Coming on after George Foreman's meeting with the world's press, tourists and the natives, Ali pulled a switch. Instead of starting a formal conference he domed workout clothing and went into his shadow boxing stance. He then charmed all those who had never seen him, and by the time he had finished he was leading the Zairis, who love to chant, in a rollicking rendition of "Ali boom ya-ya," which is said to mean "Ali kill him."

The master showman taunted the absence of Foreman, shouting "George in trouble... something had to happen... I wonder if that cut was deliberate... don't let George get out of this country, please don't let him go."
After punching the bag, skipping rope, exercising, all the while yelling his customary slogans, he eventually sat down to meet the press and impress the people.
The interpreter was fazed by Americans and the wittiest lines so familiar to the press felt flat when translated.
"You don't talk like us colored folk," he blatted to the beheld interpreter. "We colored folk in America created the new language you don't understand."

And it was true. At one point he went into his hilarious plea for all of Zaire to keep Foreman from escaping. The natives had lost him. But terminalists? Where would the bus be going to? Elephants? Not in N'Sele. Not in Kinshasa, except in the zoo, maybe. Strange American black man they seemed to feel. Likeable. Funny sometimes, too.

Ali seemed to sense he was going on too long, but like most hams, he found it difficult to find a place to stop. For bragadocio, he said that the fight had been held as scheduled he would have stopped Foreman in the first round and would do so when they finally meet.
Citing his ability to dance, dance, dance for 15, 10 to 15 rounds, he said he would cut George up good. "My dancing feet, my slashing fist will cut up poor old George," he claimed. He told his audience of his past triumphs, but the names meant nothing to the natives who stayed on quietly and politely watching the world press and those knowledgeable about boxing laugh time and again at allusions they did not understand.

He claimed it was great to be "home" after 400 years and brayed "the king has come home to claim his throne."
He finally got up, raised those fascinating eyes and asked the floodlights be trained on his face.
"Not even scratches," he said. For the interpreter the last one was easy and the natives howled with glee. Then, deadpan, he combed his hair, the way those Zairis do (African style). They roared with delight.
The act would have been among his best, strangely, if he had kept his mouth shut. And wouldn't that have been a switch?

Foreman, meanwhile, was abrupt in explaining when he would be able to fight.
"George Foreman decides when his eye is healed. George Foreman is the doctor. George Foreman will decide when he's well," he said.
The bout, which had been scheduled for Sept. 25, Zaire time, fell apart on Monday when Bill McMurrary's elbow nicked the eye, opening a gash that spilled blood down his face.
"I was just sparring along," Foreman said. "And the next thing I felt, was the blood and saw it. I felt his elbow graze my neck."
The title-match now has been set for Oct. 30, his both fighters insist that they will remain here until then.
"I was very discouraged when it happened," Foreman said. "A lot of things run through your mind, especially $5 million. But now I have to be content with the healing, keeping in condition and maintaining the right frame of mind."

MCC Soccer Team Wins 1974 Opener

Making a successful 1974 debut, the Manchester Community College soccer team blanked Eastern Connecticut State College's JV's, 7-0 yesterday at Cougar Field.
MCC launched 71 shots at the visitors' goal while the Cougars mustered only one shot. John Matta scored the first two goals, assisted both by Captain Greg DeNeis. Ken Johns had two markers while former East Catholic performer Tim McConville, Telmo Zavago and Ray Boyd each tallied one.
Coach Jim Dyer was pleased by the opening performance, stating, "I was exceptionally impressed with our intelligent passing, which was a total team effort."
Next on the calendar for MCC is a Saturday morning tilt at 11 against Tunxis Community College at Cougar Field.

Nicklaus Choice At 'Home Court'

KINGS MILLS, Ohio (UPI) — The advance arithmetic for the Ohio Kings Island Open, which gets underway today, all adds up to Jack Nicklaus.
Why not?
This $150,000 stop along the PGA tour is being played at Kings Mills, Ohio.
The course record of 62 is held by — yes — Jack Nicklaus. The winner of last year's tourney here was — oh, yes — Jack Nicklaus.
The only entrant from the top 12 on the money-winning list this year is — oh, yes — Mr. Nicklaus.
So with a big "home court" advantage and such Nicklaus names as Johnny Miller, Lee Trevino and Tom Weiskopf not here, he has to be tabbed as the man to beat in the race for the $30,000 first prize — up $5,000 from last year.
Nicklaus breezed to a 13 under par 271 in last year's tourney debut. His course record 62 on the third day gave him such a gigantic lead that his final day 72 was still good enough for a six stroke win over second-place Trevino.

Knicks' Reed Retires, End Was No Surprise

NEW YORK (UPI) — In the end, there was no surprise, no shock in Willis Reed's announcement that he was retiring as a player for the New York Knicks, just a touch of sadness about the big man's frustration.
Reed, a second-round draft choice from Grambling in 1964, was almost Russell's physical opposite on the court. Russell, never much of a shooter, was lanky, a great jumper and, of course, the best defensive center in history. Reed was stockier, stronger and could shoot soft jump shots from 20-feet on in.

But the thing Reed most admired about Russell was his sense of team play and that was what he brought to the Knicks. Together with Walt Frazier, Dave DeBussche, Bill Bradley and Coach Red Holzman, Reed helped mold one of the most cohesive basketball units ever to play the game.
In 1969-70 Reed led the Knicks to their first championship with his finest season as a pro when he won the Most Valuable Player Award in the All-Star game, the regular season and the playoffs. Playing in 81 games that year, Reed averaged 21.7 points and 13.9 rebounds per game.

His greatest triumph, though, came three years later when, after suffering through a pain-racked regular season, he overcame his knee troubles to carry New York past Los Angeles for another NBA championship and again earn the playoffs' MVP award.
One thinks of Reed in those moments, battered, trooper who seems to be crying inside while walking away like Bill Russell did. But I guess, if I didn't go out the way I wanted, on the court, playing my final game and walking away like Bill Russell did, I guess I would be best for my health and that's most important."
It was only natural that Reed mentored Russell, the former Celtic great and his childhood hero, when it came time to assess his career. Years ago, when Russell was near the end of his own fabulous career and Reed had the chance to play against him, he called it "an honor and a thrill."

Russell, never much of a shooter, was lanky, a great jumper and, of course, the best defensive center in history. Reed was stockier, stronger and could shoot soft jump shots from 20-feet on in.
There never really was any alternative for Reed, a brutish, powerful man who usually handled himself gracefully on the court and off. He could shoot from an outside with the best of the giant pivots and he could rumble under the boards with the toughest.
But in the end, it was not risk or becoming a cripple for life. That was what doctors told him everywhere he turned. His arthritis, which had been on and off since he was finally damaged beyond repair and he had known that bitter truth for months.

Trio Has Served 20 Years In Midget Football Program

With the kickoff in the first game of the doubleheader Friday night at Mt. Neo, the Manchester Midget Football League will mark the start of its 20th season.
Three men who have served two decades with the program are Alex Ferguson, Bill Shaw and Denny Carlin. Ferguson guided the Giants to the crown last year. Shaw is an assistant coach with the Patriots and Carlin is an equipment manager.
Friday night's opening game at 6:30, following brief ceremonies, will pit the Giants against the Patriots with the Chargers and Eagles tangling in the nightcap under the lights. The Jets are idle.
President Anthony Papa, in his first year in this office, notes that no less than 15 have been or still are closely associated with the program and boast at least 10 years of service.

Davis Leads Blazers

NEW YORK (UPI) — Bob Davis is becoming the master of the last-minute rally.
Davis, who has pulled out two or three games this season in the final moments, did his thing again Wednesday night as he threw a 21-yard touchdown pass to Greg Latta with 17 seconds left to rally the Florida Blazers to a 24-21 victory over the Philadelphia Bell. The win assured the Blazers of remaining in first place in the World Football League Eastern Division.
Davis' TD pass came less than a minute after the Bell had gone ahead 21-17 on Claude Waits' 15-yard run.
"When you play them, you expect the unexpected," said Blazer Coach Jack Pardee. "Our team needed this win very badly. We finally came from behind to win."
The Blazers got a big lift from their defense, which intercepted King Corcoran four times, including two by veteran Miller Farr.
"The way we won is important," said Pardee. "Philadelphia is a good ball club that is very well coached. They have some new faces and some excellent new players."
Corcoran hit 18-of-24 passes for 216 yards and Davis, just recovering from a knee injury, hit 14-of-23 for 146 yards and the touchdowns.
Blazer rookie Tommy Reamon rushed for 124 yards, including a 55-yard burst on the first play from scrimmage to set up Jim Strong's one-yard TD on a crowd of 10,417 in Orlando, Fla.
In other WFL action Wednesday night, the Memphis Southern beat the Fire 25-7 before 28,878 in Chicago. The Southern California Sun downed the Detroit Wheels 29-24 before 22,143 in Anaheim. The Portland Storm edged the Sharks 19-17 before 16,041 in Jacksonville and the Hawaiians upset the New York Stars 17-14 before 12,169 in Honolulu. Houston, which will move to Shreveport, La., next week, is at Birmingham tonight.

UConn Defends Crown

NEW YORK (UPI) — The University of Connecticut begins defense of its Yankee Conference title Saturday when it hosts Vermont to highlight the first major week of college football in Connecticut.
UConn head coach Larry Naviaux is undecided on a quarterback but leans to senior Brad Rock of Hauppauge, N.Y., while sophomore Bernie Palmer, nursing a neck problem and shin splints, and Lou Mancari, who "isn't ready," will be on the sidelines.
The Calatumps, 3-6 last year, will have Bob Bateman, the Darten, Conn., junior who will pose the biggest threat from the quarter back slot from an otherwise inexperienced team.
Naviaux has rated Bateman as tough as Kim McQuillen, the signal-caller from Delaware, one of the two victors over UConn last year.
Naviaux, whose 8-2-1 premier season last year won the best in UConn history, believes the Huskies must repeat their 26-14 victory last year over Vermont in order to have a successful season.
In other action, Wesleyan, 35, last year, will play its opener at Southern Connecticut, which started its season last week with the 12-0 shutout against the Coast Guard.
The Cadets, with new head coach Otto Graham, will lead to even their record against RPI in a night contest at New London.
Bridgeport, under new head coach Ray Murphy, will host AIC in an effort to get back on the winning track after their opening 3-0 loss at West Chester, Pa.
The University of New Haven will be looking for its first win since entering varsity status last year. The Chargers, who lost eight straight last year, dropped their opener last week, dropped to Bridgewater, the Massachusetts school that will host Western Connecticut's opener Saturday.
In another game out of state, Central Connecticut, which lost 29-27 to Northeastern last week, will travel to Springfield.

Recycled Paper Realized $3,294

Over 250,000 pounds of miscellaneous paper, newspaper and magazines were recycled in South Windsor during the 1973-74 year, representing a total of $3,294 in funds received.

Plans for the next year include additional repairs to the trailer landing crank bracket, replacement of the door locking cam, roof repairs along with other minor items.

The South Windsor Women's Club invites all women in the town to join together in making the Thrift Shop a community.

Shop hours are Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. and Saturdays from 1 p.m. to 4 p.m.

It is hoped that senior citizens, along with other groups in town, will join in this community project, so that the

Bicentennial Events Under Consideration

TOLLAND
Vivian Kennesson
 Correspondent
 Tolland's observation of the 176th Bicentennial celebration will feature the period from the Indian War of 1783 to the adoption of the constitution in 1789. Donald Morganson is chairman of the committee; Kathy Kusmin, vice-chairman; David White, treasurer; and Ruth Smore, secretary.

In the process of creating committees, the Bicentennial Committee will call on local organizations. Many of the Bicentennial Committee members also were members of the town's 250th anniversary celebration committee in 1965.

White, who is chairman of Tolland Historical Society, and Helen Needham, curator of the Old Jail Museum, are co-chairmen of the historical committee. Carol Duncan and Don Dese, both teachers, are co-chairmen of the education committee. Kathy Kusmin, vice president of Arts of Tolland, and Jeanne Febelakis are co-chairmen of the art committee. Bette Quatrate is the publicity chairman.

The committee is collecting ideas for activities for the celebration and discussing long-range projects. An ordinance establishing a Tolland Bicentennial Committee for the celebration of the 200th anniversary of the United States of America has been prepared for action by the Board of Selectmen at its Oct. 1 meeting.

Tim Early Named A Merit Scholar

BOLTON

Timothy Early, Bolton High School senior, has been named a 1975 National Merit Scholarship semi-finalist. Early is one of 15,000 seniors in the nation who will compete for some 3,400 scholarships. The semi-finalists represent the top one-half of one per cent of the nation's most academically talented young people.

Tim is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Early of Hebron Rd. Although he does not yet have any definite plans he does intend to go to college and eventually become a science fiction writer.

His interests include music, electronics and reading, mostly science fiction. He is a member of the Bolton Pilgrim Fellowship and secretary of the Tolland and Associated Pilgrim Fellowship.

It's Our ANNIVERSARY

LARRY SCRANTON

TOM SCRANTON

In 1952, I started the automobile dealership known as Scranton Motors. Today, we have completed 22 years of business! And are looking forward to another great 22 years. Continued good service is assured with both my son Tom and I in our new, modern facility. We invite you to come into our showroom and see our complete line of 1975 Cadillacs, Pontiacs and Oldsmobiles. We will welcome your visit.

Larry Scranton

OUR BIGGER AND BETTER FACILITIES ON ROUTE 83, VERNON

- Our new facility is 5 times larger than the 1952 facility.
- We have grown from 3 employees to 30 employees.
- We have grown from 1 acre of area to 13 acres now.
- We started with Oldsmobile in 1952. In June 1957, we were appointed the Cadillac dealer for the entire area. In June 1958, we were appointed the Pontiac dealer for the area.
- We have the most modern facility in the state. This particular building was a result of years of study by General Motors as to what constitutes a good dealership.
- Our trained personnel in the service department use the most modern equipment available today. This enables us to solve all your problems quickly, from the most complex electronic problem in your car to a small tender dent.
- Come on in and see for yourself.

It Was a Chamber Double Salute

People gathered around the piano last night at The Colony to pay recognition to Richard G. Clark, second from right, who is leaving the chief executive position with the Greater Manchester Chamber of Commerce next week for a post in Florida. Also honored was Helen Warrington, left, for her 13 years of service to the Chamber as financial secretary. She was presented with a vase and Clark

Linwood Sewers Item Put on Agenda Again

Proposed sanitary sewers on Linwood Dr., rejected last month, will be considered again by the Manchester Board of Directors Oct. 1, at 8 p.m. meeting in the Municipal Building Hearing Room.

The proposal was defeated Aug. 20 on three consecutive 3 to 5 votes. Needed to approve were five affirmative votes. The new consideration is in reply to a new petition for the sewers from five Linwood Dr. property owners.

The board will conduct a public hearing on the proposal Oct. 1 — on a proposed $25,000 appropriation, to be financed by temporary notes which, in turn, would be paid from anticipated income from sewer assessments. Involved are seven parcels.

The last time the proposal was considered, three Democrats on the board abstained, two because they

Town Must Determine Priorities For Better Communities Funding

By DOUG BEVINS
Manchester's dormant Citizens Advisory Committee, an agency created by ordinance several years ago, may be reactivated in a revised form to determine priorities for spending $1.88 million in federal funds expected to be received in the next four years.

The town has to prepare an initial three-year plan for using the annual $470,000 federal allocation, Weiss said, and update the plan each year. There are very few limitations on how the money can be spent, Weiss said, but the federal Department of Housing and Urban Development will review the spending each year.

Barry Says His Worth Is $70,000
David M. Barry, Democratic candidate for Fourth District state senator, today disclosed that his total assets come to about $70,000.

Hospital, Union Study Proposals

Manchester Memorial Hospital officials met on Monday with representatives of Local 1199 of the Drug and Alcohol Hospital Union, AFL-CIO, and presented initial proposals for a new contract.

Andre Marmen, director of public relations and development for the hospital, said the two-hour meeting was a very cordial one. He said hospital officials had been studying a list of initial demands presented by the union at a meeting last Thursday.

Plumbing Problem Cuts Hot Lunches

Suspension of Bennett Junior High School's hot lunch program today was caused by a complicated plumbing problem in the school's kitchen, according to Manchester School Supt. James P. Kennedy.

which "was related to construction work under way at the school, apparently involves a solid obstruction somewhere in the building between the Franklin Building cafeteria drains and the sewer lines in School St. Plumbers were working on the problem today, Kennedy said, but were finding the repair job difficult because of a lack of diagrams of the old school's plumbing system.

Guest Artist Visits Group

Mrs. Dorothy Palmer of Wethersfield will be guest artist and demonstrator at the Manchester Art Association's first meeting of the season Friday at 7:30 p.m. at the Whittier Memorial Library.

In the meantime, Bennett students have been asked to bring lunches from home. The school is providing sandwiches for students who don't bring lunches. The cafeteria problem doesn't affect facilities elsewhere in the Bennett Complex, Kennedy said.

27 New Voters Now on Rolls

Manchester voting officials signed up 27 new voters Wednesday, in sessions they held at five local convalescent homes.

Of the 27 new voters, 7 are Republicans, 5 are Democrats, and 15 are unaffiliated. Voter-making sessions have been scheduled for Monday, from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m., on the Bidwell St. campus of Manchester Community College, and Wednesday, from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m., in the student lounge at East Catholic High School.

State Labor Group Ponders Inflation

NEW HAVEN (UPI) — With galloping inflation its main concern, the 165,000-member Connecticut State Labor Council, AFL-CIO, was to hear from congressional candidates today at its three-day convention.

John J. Driscoll, council president, said the main goal of the convention which began Thursday will be to adopt legislative programs to stop inflation, and to that end, the 60 delegates will vote on whether to endorse candidates in the November election.

Enforcements May Be Illegal
Endorsements could be considered "donations" to candidates and banned under the state's new and strict election laws when they are made by groups not registered with the secretary of the state's office of political organizations.

Three Make Pitch
Three gubernatorial candidates spoke at the convention Thursday and sought the members' support. They were Rep. Ella T. Grasso, D-Conn., Rep. Robert H. Sileo, R-Conn., and Thomas Pallone of Shelton, the George Wallace Party candidate.

James H. Brannen, the GOP Senate candidate, spoke at the afternoon session and Sen. Abraham A. Ribicoff, D-Conn., was scheduled to speak today.

Mrs. Grasso told delegates the Democratic party platform "outlines a blueprint of how the needs of the state should be filled within the limits of state finances."

She rejected as "untrue," repeated claims by her opponent that her party's platform will require a state income tax and she repeated her strong stand against such a tax.

Meskill Criticized
Mrs. Grasso criticized the Republican administration of Thomas Meskill for being irresponsible for "a documented budget shortfall next year of $150 million."

Driscoll said after the scheduled speech today at Ribicoff's convention will break up into congressional districts to hear from those candidates. The endorsements will come up for votes in the afternoon session.

Ford Pinpoints Areas Of Budget Restraint

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Declaring that budget restraint remains a "crucial factor" in the battle against inflation, President Ford today asked Congress to cut back or postpone about $20 billion in long-range government spending.

$24 Billion Goal
Budget Director Roy L. Ash told reporters Thursday that another request for cuts or delays in spending of $4 billion will be sent to Congress in the next few days. He said the two requests totaling about $24 billion will cover some 100 budget items.

The President's message said that Congress follows his proposal for a $20 billion deferral in these long-range expenditures. Federal spending will increase by nearly $600 billion in the current fiscal year.

Waste Treatment Grants
Grants totaling $9 billion for waste treatment plant construction. He said release of all these funds would be highly inflationary.

Food Prices Up
The rise in the index was the largest since February and the increase was unusual for August, a month when prices of meat and fresh fruit prices went up at a time when they normally go down.

Woman Admits Arson
ST. JOSEPH, Mo. (UPI) — A 22-year-old woman admitted today to police Thursday that she set a nursing home fire that killed seven persons because of a grudge against the owners.

HEW Funds
Various programs of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare totaling $28.4 million. Pending enactment of the 1975 appropriations, HEW funds are being provided under a continuing resolution and amounts available under the continuing resolution above the budget request are deferred.

Crucial Factor
"Budgetary restraint remains a crucial factor in our efforts to bring inflation under control," Ford said. "In today's environment we cannot allow federal spending to stimulate demand in a way that exerts further pressures on prices. And we cannot expect others to exercise necessary restraint unless the government itself does so."

Extra Care Necessary
"Current economic conditions require extra care to assure the federal spending is held to the minimum levels necessary."

Consumer Price Index Goes Up 1.3 Per Cent
WASHINGTON (UPI) — Consumer prices rose 1.3 per cent in August on the crest of high costs for mortgage interests, clothes, meats and medical services, the Labor Department said today.

Sen. Weicker Optimistic On Meskill Nomination
WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Lowell P. Weicker Jr., R-Conn., says Senate Judiciary Committee members are not lined up against Gov. Thomas J. Meskill's nomination as a federal judge.

Medical Services Up
Medical services rose sharply and charges for such things as automobile repairs, hair cuts, dry cleaning, funeral services and bank services also increased.
