Honduras Issues 'World SOS'

CHOLOMA, Honduras (UPI) — Army troops burned the bodies of thousands of Hurricane Fifi victims today and sent out a desperate "world SOS" for help in saving survivors stranded in villages swarming with poisonous snakes.

"This is the worst moment in the nation's 150-year history," Juan Bautista Vaca, a government civil defense spokesman, told newsmen in the Honduran capital of Tegucigalpa.

5,000 Dead
The National Emergency Committee, Honduras' civil defense network, reported at least 5,000 persons dead, 50,000 homeless and more than $500 million in damages.

Officials in northern Honduras said most of the victims were in battered cities, towns and farming villages along the Caribbean coast — Choloma, La Ceiba, Progreso, Omoa, Olanchito and San Pedro Sula.

A U.S. military officer in Tegucigalpa reported 10 out of 70 Peace Corps volunteers in northern Honduras still unaccounted for.

The Mormon Church in Salt Lake City, Utah, said two of its 40 missionaries in Honduras — Robert Looole of Provo, Utah, and Earl Hansen of Lakeside, Ariz. — were missing near La Ceiba.

Burn Dead
"They found bodies and bodies and bodies — so many they could not bury them," a government rescue spokesman said. "They had to burn them."

Officials reported thousands of poisonous green and black fer-de-lance snakes swimming onto crowded rooftops to attack families seeking refuge from the churning flood waters.

Do You Know Your Constitution?
This is the last of a series of questions and answers on the Constitution of the United States.

The quiz was prepared by Mrs. James Collier of Ohio, a member of the Daughters of the American Revolution. The series has run daily during Constitution Week which ends today.

The questions are:
1 — What amendment gave Negroes the right to vote?
2 — What amendment gave women the right to vote?
3 — What amendment established the "Income Tax"?
4 — What dangers beset our Constitution today?
5 — When did the Constitution take effect?

The answers will be found on page 2

Oil-Producing Nations Given Tough Warning

DETROIT, Mich. (UPI) — Admittedly speaking in "doomsday language," President Ford today warned the Middle East oil producing nations of "disastrous consequences" if they refuse to lower prices or share their resources with dependent nations.

"Sovereign nations cannot allow their policies to be dictated, or their fate decided, by artificial rigging and distortion of world commodity markets," Ford told the World Energy Conference.

"No one can foresee the extent of the damage or the end of the disastrous consequences if nations refuse to share nature's gifts for the benefit of all mankind," he added.

Toughest Speech to Date
His remarks, his toughest on record, were a follow up to a hard hitting speech before the United Nations less than a week ago in which he denounced the use of oil as a "political weapon."

The trip was Ford's first visit to his native Michigan since he became President.

He flew here from Washington following an early breakfast at the home of Senate Majority leader Mike Mansfield, Michigan's Gov. William Milliken, Republican and Sen. Robert Griffin, R-Mich., met him at Detroit's Metropolitan Airport. Ford also arranged to meet with Coleman A. Young, Detroit's first black mayor after the speech at Cobo Hall.

Steps To Be Taken
"We will take tough steps to obtain the degree of self sufficiency necessary to avoid disruption of our economy," Ford said. "We will make sure there's heat for our homes and power for the people who work in our plants. This does not mean zero imports."

"In the immediate future," he added, "we will expand our efforts to increase our energy efficiency. This will reduce the growing dependency on foreign petroleum. Project Independence will also require us to increase the output of existing domestic energy sources."

Ford's remarks displayed growing U.S. frustration with the failure of Iran and the Arab oil producers to lower the market prices of crude oil. At its meeting in Vienna Sept. 12, the Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries (OPEC) refused to lower prices that have risen 300 per cent in the past year.

Global Strategy Needed
"A global strategy must seek to achieve fuel prices which provide a strong incentive to producers but which do not seriously disrupt the economies of the consumers," said Ford.

"We recognize the desires of the producers to earn a fair price for their oil as a means of helping to develop their own economies," he added. "But exorbitant prices can only distort the world economy, run the risk of world-wide depression and threaten the breakdown of world order and safety."

"It is difficult to discuss the energy problem without lapsing into doomsday language," Ford declared. "The danger is clear. It is severe. I am nevertheless optimistic. The advantages of co-operation are as visible as the dangers of confrontation. And that gives me hope as well as optimism."

Arab World Divided
Jordan left the Arab world sharply divided today, angrily breaking off negotiating strategy talks because of Egypt's support for the Palestinian guerrilla movement.

The Jordanian move complicated Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger's attempts to get the stalled Geneva peace conference moving toward an overall settlement in the war-torn region.

An Amman government announcement Sunday said Jordan refused to join a policy coordination conference with Egypt, Syria and the Palestine Liberation Organization to protest Egypt's recognition of the PLO as the "sole and legitimate" representative of the Palestinians.

The Amman government and the PLO have been locked in a dispute over who represents Palestinian refugees living in the Israeli-occupied West Bank and the Jordanian-controlled East Bank of the Jordan River.

Flowers For Nixon
LONG BEACH, Calif. (UPI) — Well-wishers sent flowers and telegrams to former President Richard Nixon at Long Beach Memorial Hospital Sunday even before he was to arrive today for a series of tests and treatment for phlebitis in his left leg.

The length of Nixon's stay was indefinite, but a hospital official said it would be at least three or four days.

A 10-room section was sealed off on the sixth floor and reserved for Nixon and his family, the Secret Service and other uses.

Nixon was to be treated for phlebitis, painful blood clots in his left leg which have worsened since his resignation Aug. 9, under the supervision of family physician Dr. John C. Lungren, former chief of staff at Memorial and now an internist.

Fall Starts Wintery
Today is the first day of fall, but in some areas, it seemed more like winter than autumn.

Frost settled over the farmlands of the upper Midwest and the Northeast early today as the first day of fall signaled an end to the growing season.

Fall officially arrived at 5:59 a.m. EDT and frost or freeze warnings were in effect for much of the Northeast.

The warnings were issued for portions of Wisconsin, Indiana, Ohio, Pennsylvania, New York, New Jersey, Vermont, Connecticut and Massachusetts. Scattered light frost also was forecast for northern New England and northern West Virginia.

Transportation Session Tonight

Manchester's transportation needs will be the subject of an informal public meeting tonight at 7:30 on Nathan Hale School, 160 Spruce St.

The meeting, scheduled by Mayor John Thompson and Human Resources Director Alan Mason, is being held in response to interest expressed by several local organizations.

A number of local groups as diverse as the Chamber of Commerce, Board of Education, and League of Women Voters have been working independently on transportation issues, Thompson said, and the meeting is an attempt to pull everything together.

Besides coordination of efforts, the meeting will include discussion of regional transportation planning to provide Manchester input to regional decision-makers, Thompson said.

The state transportation department and Capitol Region Council of Governments will be represented at the meeting, Thompson said.

Rockefeller Gives Details on Wealth

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Nelson A. Rockefeller revealed today that his family controls more than $325 million in oil stocks, and volunteered to put his own holdings in blind trust if he is confirmed as the 41st vice president of the United States.

In a statement prepared for the opening of Senate Rules Committee hearings on his nomination, Rockefeller made public a number of long-secret details of his family's vast wealth but only hinted at the true magnitude of the Rockefeller empire.

$70 Million In Taxes
He said he has paid nearly $70 million in taxes during his lifetime, and he put his personal fortune at $178.5 million, the largest part of it in two trusts left him by his father.

Rockefeller said he would put the trusts, and his own securities worth about $13 million, into a blind trust "for the duration — should Congress request."

He did not detail the full amount of the Rockefeller family fortune, but if his personal holdings are any indication of the wealth of other members, it easily could exceed $1 billion.

Oil Wealth Disclosed
The major disclosure about the family fortune was that the descendants of John D. Rockefeller Jr., his father, own or have in trusts oil company stocks totaling $326.7 million, based on their value last Friday.

He pointed out that in no case did this constitute more than 2 per cent of the stock in any one oil company, debunking the myth that the Rockefellers still own Standard Oil, the origin of the family fortune.

The Rockefeller hearings were expected to continue into next week, and the full Senate was expected to vote on his nomination before the Oct. 11 adjournment date. The House is not planning to take up the nomination until after election day.

Potential Conflict
Rules Committee Chairman Howard Cannon, D-Nev., said Sunday the panel must consider potential conflict of interest raised by Rockefeller's "immense" financial holdings. He said however, he did not believe it would be practical to require that Rockefeller put his holdings in trust because it would be "impossible" to insulate him completely from such vast holdings.

An intensive investigation into Rockefeller's background and finances by 400 FBI agents and hundreds of auditors and accountants has been conducted since he was designated by President Ford Aug. 20.

Steele Suit Seeks Equitable Oil Supply

NEW HAVEN (UPI) — Republican gubernatorial contender Robert H. Steele today filed a suit against Federal Energy Coordinator John Sawhill to insure an equitable supply of petroleum products for Connecticut.

Steele said if Connecticut utilities had been able to buy oil to fire their generators at the average national price earlier this year they would have saved nearly $11 million dollars. Connecticut had instead to rely on costly imported fuels.

Steele filed the suit in U.S. District Court and was joined by John Pisano of Hamden.

Since the utilities passed through the added cost of fuel directly to the consumer, Steele said, the public had to pay the $11 million in extra fuel costs.

The GOP contender said utility customers in the state are suffering from skyrocketing bills and the utilities are having increasing difficulty in raising sufficient capital to expand.

In his suit, Steele asked the court to force Sawhill to allocate fuel supplies so that prices would be equalized nationally and thereby reduced in Connecticut.

"At present, Connecticut's utilities are paying higher prices for oil than are utilities outside New England," Steele said. "I believe this to be a violation of the Emergency Petroleum Allocation Act, correctable by court action." Steele also called for ending the automatic pass-through of utility costs without the close scrutiny and examination provided by public hearings.

Steele said the public had to pay the $11 million in extra fuel costs.

Two were minor scandals in his administration that did not touch Rockefeller directly, and two were political disputes.

The most agonizing of all related to the events at the Attica prison uprising that led to the loss of 43 lives," Rockefeller said.

But the most interesting was the financial data — charts of 10 years of his earnings and taxes, detailed lists of his stock holdings and an explanation of how his financial affairs are arranged.

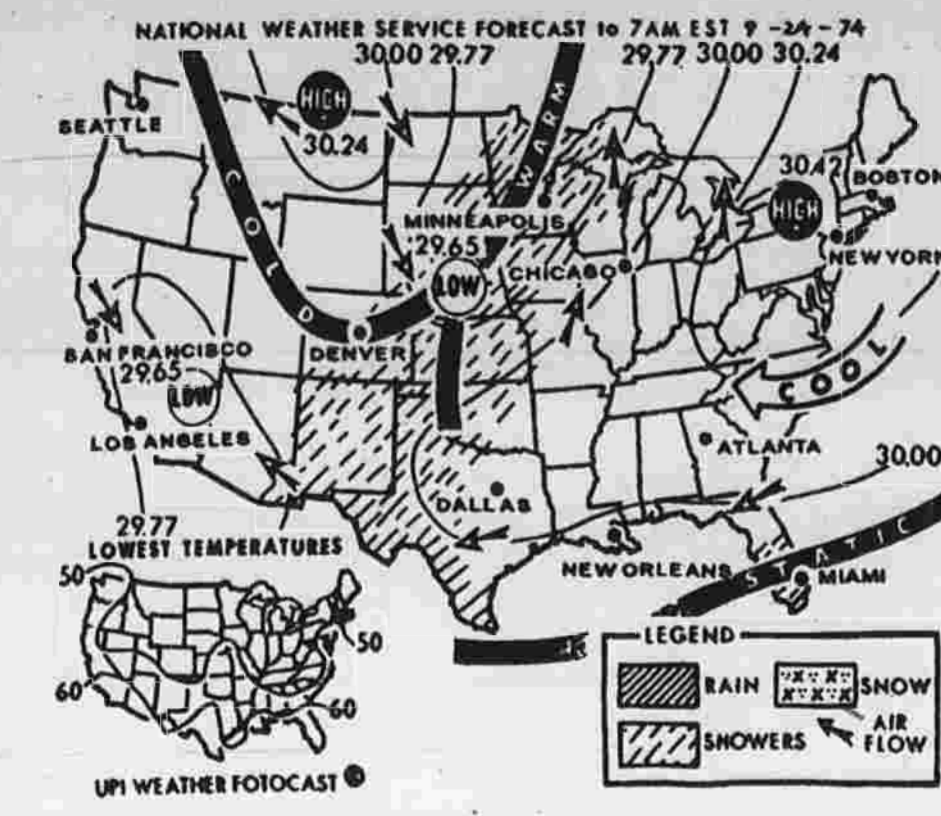

It showed that each of three generations of Rockefellers amassed fortunes of $1 billion, gave away half in philanthropic endeavors, paid considerable taxes and then rebuilt fortunes to the $1 billion figure.

1970 An Exception
—While he has paid an average of $2 million in taxes annually for the last 10 years, he paid no federal income taxes in 1970 because his $6.5 million capital gains taxes for that year were more than his $2.4 million income.

A long section on his 15-year record as governor of New York State included 10 pages of his "accomplishments," and a list of five events "that I shall always deeply regret."

Manchester Evening Herald OPINION

Inflation Treatment May Require Bitter Pills

There is no doubt that President Ford is making every effort to find a way of overcoming the problem of inflation which is the nation's overriding concern.

His meeting with labor leaders, however, was no more productive than an earlier "summit" one with economists both from outside and inside the administration.

The first meeting was almost unanimous in urging an easing of money to stimulate business and hopefully bring down interest rates.

Prior to that meeting the stock market reacted upwards in anticipation of some easing of money and credit. But it was short lived, especially in view of the opinions of Secretary of the Treasury William Simon and Federal Reserve Chairman Arthur Burns that this was not the way to go.

And we agree with them. Fighting inflation with easier money is like having a drink of the hair of the dog that bit you. It may make you feel a little better for the time being but it just puts off the inevitable day.

The labor leaders meeting sounded at times like the prelude to a contract negotiating session. They wanted maintenance of relatively full employment, lower interest rates and a looser money policy.

George Meany, AFL-CIO president, said that a tighter money policy, which would mean that people had less money to spend, would not combat inflation but would cause needless suffering.

In a statement which was less than helpful, Leonard Woodcock, president of the United Auto Workers, held that the American people would not stand for a great amount of unemployment and that hence the government would have to find some other method of fighting inflation.

Unemployment was the pivotal point in their arguments. The present rate is 5.4 per cent and it is expected that it may go to 6 per cent this year.

We have some doubts as to the validity of the unemployment statistics. We think there are a great many people listed as unemployed who are either not employable or would not take a job if it were offered to them.

Labor, as well as management, ought to face up to the question of whether it is better to have a rise in the unemployment rate of a percentage point or two, or to continue to have double digit inflation which is diluting the real value of the wages earned by those who are working.

Mr. Ford proposed a plan of federal job creation in communities where unemployment reaches an unacceptable high figure for three months.

With 16-2/3 per cent of those employed in the country now on government payrolls, this will add to the tax burden of those working as well as to the imbalance of the federal budget.

The plain truth is that there is no sugar-coated pill to overcome inflation. But we think it better that the earnings of 94 per cent of the people be protected, if it can be done by slowing the economy, even if it meant a temporary increase in the unemployed.

TODAY'S THOUGHT

The head of a soap manufacturing company who was not a Christian nor a believer in the values of religion in general was conversing with a minister. As they carefully discussed the sadly deteriorated moral and ethical state of society, the businessman rather pointedly observed: "The gospel you preach hasn't done much good, seeing there is still so much wickedness in the world."
The minister made no immediate reply, but they soon passed a child playing in the dirt, with face besmudged and clothing covered. Almost casually the preacher opined: "Soap hasn't done much good in the world, I see, for there is still much dirt and many dirty people."
"Exactly, and so it is with the gospel," was the ready answer.
The Word of God has power to lift man to a higher plain, to cleanse his heart and life, to create within him a new person—but only if it is applied.

Putting New Life Into the Old Scandal

The pardon furor has done one thing: It has shown that we were all living in a dreamworld if we thought the resignation of Richard Nixon would write an end to Watergate.
The pardon may have obviated the expected indictment of Mr. Nixon by the Watergate grand jury and spared the nation the trauma of seeing a former president facing imprisonment, but it has not nullified the subpoena he has been served with to appear at the forthcoming trial of his top associates.
While he is immune from prosecution himself, as things stand now, Mr. Nixon must still testify at the trial of H.R. Haldeman, John Ehrlichman, John Mitchell and three other former presidential aides scheduled to begin October 1, and under penalty of perjury answer questions about his role in the affair. The pardon has thus only returned Watergate to the headlines a few weeks sooner than would have been the case in any event.
Even if, as now appears more and more likely, Mr. Nixon's lawyers move to quash the subpoena on the grounds of their client's ill health, the former president will still be very much present in spirit in this, the biggest of all the Watergate trials.
President Ford has also added a new dimension to the scandal. He has made it a live political issue. It remains to be seen whether the American public will deliver a stunning rebuke to the Republican party

ANDREW TULLY

A Double-Barreled Question From Kennedy

WASHINGTON — Commenting on President Ford's pardon of Richard Nixon in a Los Angeles speech the other day, Sen. Teddy Kennedy asked a double-barreled question:
"Do we operate under a system of equal justice under law? Or is there one system for the average citizen and another for the high and mighty?"
Well, the timing of the Nixon pardon is certainly open to question, although it is a fact that Ford was disturbed by reports Nixon was contemplating suicide. But on the list of those eligible to throw stones at our system of justice, Teddy Kennedy must rank somewhere near the bottom.
Five years ago last July, an automobile driven by Kennedy veered off a bridge on Chappaquiddick Island in Massachusetts and landed upside down in the Atlantic tidewater. The next morning a scuba diver recovered the drowned body of Mary Jo Kopechne, 28, who with Kennedy had attended a party of Kennedy loyalists the night before.
Today, the whys and wherefores of that automobile accident still remain a mystery, and it is permissible to ask of that accident—as Teddy did of the Nixon pardon—whether there is one system of justice for the average citizen and another for political big shots. From the beginning, Kennedy has refused to clear up the details of the tragedy and the suspicion is strong that he was aided and abetted by a friendly judicial system in the Kennedy barony known as the Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

Kennedy did not report the accident until about 10 o'clock the next morning. He explained that he was suffering from head injuries and shock. Kennedy would later, Police Chief Dominick Arena in nearby Edgartown, he did so in a sparse 240-word written statement that posed more questions than answers about his involvement.
A week later, in a television "talk to the people of Massachusetts," Kennedy did a lot of talking but still offered only the skimpiest account of what had happened. His TV speech had been carefully written in November's elections as the only means it has of protesting what many feel has been the ultimate coverup, the ultimate obstruction of justice.

DON OAKLEY

And in 1976, even if all the Watergate trials are history by then, Watergate could very possibly be revived again when Gerald Ford seeks the nomination of his party—if not by fellow Republicans raising anew the question of his judgment in issuing the pardon when he did and the way he did, certainly by Democrats looking for an issue.
All our fond hopes notwithstanding, Watergate, far from being finished, seems destined to carry over into the nation's third century of independence.
Has He Suffered Enough?
A phrase frequently heard in recent days, even from many who opposed the pardoning of Richard Nixon, is that "The man has suffered enough. Why punish him further?"
The reasoning, of course, is that being forced to resign in disgrace from the highest office in the land, and perhaps the most important in the world, is a crushing enough experience. To put the ousted president on trial like a common criminal would be, as another phrase has it, like drawing and quartering the body after it has been hanged.
This assumes, however, that any man who attains to the presidency must feel a deep and abiding—and humbling—sense of the awesome responsibilities and powers that office bestows on him.

This sensibility, this humility, has never been evident in Richard M. Nixon.
His involving the American presidency in the unsavory Watergate affair in the first place, whether before or after the fact, alone demonstrated his lack of respect for the office, for the law and for the people whose chief tribune he supposedly was. The continued absence of any admission of wrongdoing on his part only fortified this harsh judgment.
True, in his acceptance of his pardon, Mr. Nixon stated that "I can see clearly now that I was wrong in not acting more decisively and more forthrightly in dealing with Watergate."
But this can mean anything. Does it mean he was wrong in lying to the American people for two years? Or does it mean he was wrong in not destroying the tapes that revealed his complicity in the coverup?
The answer is inescapable. Had it not been for the Watergate tapes, and the certainty of his impeachment and removal by Congress, Richard M. Nixon would still be president of the United States.
The man has undoubtedly suffered, but not in the way most people understand by the word, and that is the suffering one knows when his own conscience convicts him.

Three Hearings Set By PZC For Tonight

The Planning and Zoning Commission will meet tonight at 7:30 in the Board Room of the Town Hall and will have three public hearings during its regularly scheduled meeting.
The first hearing at 8 will deal with three amendments to the zoning regulations, on fee schedules, roadside shelters for school children and underground utility requirements in subdivisions.
There will be a public hearing at 9 to get opinions on the request of Arthur and Donna Kuhn for validation of an illegal three-lot subdivision on Riley Mountain Rd.
The third hearing will come under the commission which will be acting as the Inland Wetlands agency and hear the application of Richard Hines of High St. who wishes to construct a pond in a wetland.
Town Councilman Robert Keller, in remarks about the hearing on roadside shelters, said, "There are presently a number of these shelters erected near the roadside for children waiting for the school bus. Although the regulations are not enforced the shelters are not now permitted. I encourage all citizens to come to the hearing and express their views."

Proposed regulation amendments would permit these shelters.

Frank Curran, candidate for high sheriff of Tolland County, said, "I have never seen so many good candidates and all of them on the Democratic tickets."
Dave Barry said, "I am going to echo Skip's sentiments. We are working hard and come Nov. 5, Skip and I will give this area recognition in Hartford."

Bolton Teams Win 3 Lose 1

Donna Holland

Bolton football teams won three out of four games played over the weekend.

Bolton Bulldogs senior pony football team defeated the East Windsor pony team 42-0. Touchdowns were scored by Paul Groves (2), Peter Ryba (2), Craig Jensen and Randy Fish.

Gil Boissoneau, head coach, said the entire staff was pleased with the over-all defensive playing of the team. The offensive backfield of Fish, Jensen and Groves proved too strong for East Windsor as they grounded out approximately 300 yards. Boissoneau said the quarterbacking of Ryba again proved to be excellent as he controlled the offense in a very disciplined manner.

Boissoneau said next Sunday will be the game of the year when the Bulldogs go against Cromwell senior pony team.

Junior Pony Wins
Bolton Bulldogs junior pony team defeated the East Windsor junior pony team 14-0. Steve Naravage, head coach, cited Joe Fontanella as the outstanding player of the game. He had blocked one punt attempt and made two pass interceptions, one of which was run back for a touchdown.

Midget Wins
Bolton Tigers midget A-B football team defeated the Colchester Cougars 14-6. Touchdowns were made by Mike Ouellette on a pass from Chris Hopper and Mark Jensen on a run.

Midget C Loses
Bolton Tigers midget C football team lost its first game of the season 14-6.

THE CANDIDATES ARE SAYING

Westbrook: Wants Utilities Audit

Judy Kuehnel
State Representative G. Warren Westbrook (R-14th District) has called for a state audit of the records of all public utilities.

Westbrook cited the fact that the utility bills of some of his constituents have doubled. According to Westbrook, it appears that the entire fuel cost, rather than just the price adjustment is being passed on to the consumer.

"We all realize that the cost of fuel has almost doubled in the past year," Westbrook said. "However, fuel is just one of the cost items involved. Other costs of the utility companies are materials, equipment, labor, etc. You can be sure that the lineman's salary hasn't doubled since last summer."

Westbrook noted that the audit to substantiate actual cost increases would be in keeping with the sound principle that "government should do for the people what they cannot do for themselves."

"The private citizen has no choice except to pay the bill he receives no matter how unreasonable it appears to him," Westbrook added. "The state government must provide the protection it needs in this case by varying what the actual cost increase to the utilities has been."

Glassman: Tech Schools Lack Space

Judy Kuehnel
Abraham Glassman, candidate for the 14th Assembly District, has expressed concern over the increasing space problems now being experienced at the state's technical schools.

According to Glassman the present seven programs are inadequate at a time when "there is a need for trained persons in areas of dental assistance and heating repairs, small appliance and small engine repairs."

"We must train our people for the jobs that exist," said Glassman, "and by 1990 it is believed that 7 out of 10 jobs will not require a college education."

"It is unfair for persons wishing to attend trade-vocational schools to be shut out because of limited facilities."

Supervisor Dr. Raymond Ramsdell, will explain the act which prohibits smoking in public buildings, on request of Mayor Frank McCoy who has posted such signs in various town buildings.

A report will be given by Peter Ramsdell, principal of Sykes School, and Miss Lucille Kelly, science supervisor, on the Bermuda Science trip for students from the Middle School and the high school. Board Chairman Maurice Miller will name committee members for the coming year.

The board will be asked to act on the resignation of Walter Mattoson, industrial arts teacher at the Middle School.

Students Damaging Bus Seats

VERNON

Dr. Raymond Ramsdell, superintendent of schools, has said that pupils are already damaging newly padded bus seats and he wishes to remind parents that pupils will be held responsible for any malicious damage to school buses.

During the past summer all bus seats were padded at considerable expense to the bus company. Dr. Ramsdell said this was necessary because of a law passed by the last General Assembly, requiring that all buses be padded for the protection of the children.

With the notice from the bus company that the padding is already being damaged, Dr. Ramsdell said he feels he should reiterate something he announced prior to schools opening earlier this month, that the students will be held responsible for damage.

He said all precautions are being taken to detect the students who are causing this damage and once they are detected, he or their parents will be required to reimburse the contractor for the cost of repairs. Parents are urged to emphasize this rule to their children.

Finast will no longer increase prices of Food Once Placed on Our Shelves: On Wednesday, July 24, 1974, all Finast Supermarkets began a new pricing policy on Grocery, Meat and Produce items.

1. When Finast is forced to make a price increase, cans and packages already price marked on the shelves will be sold at the old lower price.

2. Weekly specials or "sale items" are priced lower than regular prices. Any remaining after the sale event, will be repriced upward.

3. As regular prices go down, Finast will immediately reduce the price on shelf stock, and the lower price will always be honored at the register. When a can or package shows more than one price, the customer pays the lowest price for that can or package.

4. Baby food and items controlled by state laws are exempt from this new pricing policy.

5. Until current stocks are sold there will be some items of our many thousands with more than one price marking on the can or package. Please bear with us during this transition.

Murcer Finally Finds Home Run Stroke As Yankees Hold Game Lead over Birds

NEW YORK (UPI) — It hasn't been the best of seasons for Bobby Murcer but with the campaign dwindling down to the last few days, things are picking up.

The 28-year-old Murcer, earning over $100,000 for his slugging ability, belted only his 10th homer Sunday but, along with the combined four-hit pitching of Pat Dobson and Sparky Lyle, it was enough to carry the Yankees to a hard earned 2-1 victory over the Cleveland Indians.

The triumph kept New York in sole possession of first place in the American League East, one game ahead of Baltimore with eight games left for each team.

Murcer's homer, with two out in the sixth, snapped a tie and was his second in as many days. His home runs Saturday and Sunday represent his entire output for the season at Shea Stadium, the Yankees' first 76 home games.

"If your gonna hit 'em, now's the time to hit 'em," said Dobson in reference to Murcer's inability to hit a home run at Shea Stadium in the Yankees' first 76 home games.

"I was beginning to wonder if I had lost my power. But in hitting practice I was hitting the ball out so I knew I hadn't lost it. I also started changing my stance and shouldn't have done that."

Prior to Murcer's homer, New York was limited to only a pair of singles by rookie southpaw Bruce Ellingsen, who was making his first major league start.

However, the Yankees, who fell behind in the first inning when Cleveland scored an unearned run on an error by Dobson, tied it in the fourth and notching his seventh win in his last eight decisions. However, he needed last out relief help from Sparky Lyle when the Indians had runners on first and third and Oscar Gamble due to bat.

Right-handed hitting Charlie Spikes pinch-hit for Gamble against the southpaw Lyle but ended the game by topping the ball back to the Yankee reliever.

"Gamble was coming up and he hits me pretty good," said Dobson, who claimed he didn't mind not getting a chance to finish the game.

Powell Delivers Again As Orioles Down Red Sox

BOSTON (UPI) — Boog Powell understood why he was benched as the Baltimore Orioles won 10 straight games recently to move back into the American League East title race.

New Enos Cabell, Powell's first base replacement, will have to understand.

Powell homered and singled twice to drive in three runs Sunday and pace the Orioles to a 7-2 win over the Boston Red Sox that kept Baltimore one game behind the New York Yankees.

Powell's homer also hit a game-winning homer Friday night in the first game of the series and sat out as the Orioles lost a 10-inning game Saturday.

"I don't begrudge anybody because I'm benched," said Powell. "Matter of fact, I think the (Manager Earl Weaver) was right. When you have a 10-game winning streak, you leave the other guy in."

"But it's difficult, very difficult sitting on the bench. I'll never get used to it. I'm a nervous wreck."

Powell was much calmer in the game, singling home one of three first inning runs, lacing his 11th homer in the third and singling in another in the fifth.

"Hitting is a matter of timing with me," said the big first baseman who currently is hitting one point above his career average of .286 after early season troubles. "I've got a good swing but I need to stay in the lineup."

While Powell rediscovered his batting groove, winning pitcher Mike Cuellar struggled to find his pitching rhythm. Cuellar, 21-10, had more problems with his control than with the Red Sox.

"My control not too good," said the 37-year-old Cuban, who walked four while scattering eight hits. "All my pitches were working but I couldn't get the ball where I wanted it. Cuellar got his pitches across when he needed, leaving 11 runners on base.

Pirates Stopped By Mets

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — Every day is a crisis for the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Now a 1½ games behind St. Louis, leader of the National League East, the Pirates and the Cardinals met today in the opener of a four-game series.

The New York Mets beat the Pirates 4-0 Sunday while the Cardinals boosted their division lead by edging the Chicago Cubs 6-5.

Jon Matlack threw a three-hitter and drove in two runs Sunday to pace the Mets over the Pirates. In nothing his 13th victory, Matlack permitted only three infield singles and gained his first win over the Pirates this year after they beat him three times.

Pirate Manager Danny Murtaugh, assessing Matlack's performance, said "he could easily have had a no-hitter. It's going to be tough for us when we play the Mets three games during the weekend. They have pitchers who can give us trouble."

Sad Scene at Fenway: Orioles Have Bases Loaded

Reliefer Segui Walks to Mound as Manager Johnson Waits

NEW YORK (UPI) — Suddenly both the National League's divisional races may be entering their final hours.

The Los Angeles Dodgers have the Cincinnati Reds virtually down for the count and the St. Louis Cardinals have the Pittsburgh Pirates reeling on the ropes.

As Yogi Berra, that famous baseball philosopher says, "you're not out until you're out," yet the mathematics of the standings are beginning to apply enormous pressure on the Reds and Pirates.

The Dodgers took a 4½-game lead in the West Sunday when they defeated the San Diego Padres, 6-5, and the Reds lost to the San Francisco Giants, 6-0.

The Cardinals' magic number is five—meaning that five wins in their last nine games will give them the Western title even if the Reds win all eight of their remaining games.

The Cardinals went a game and a half ahead of the Pirates Sunday when they beat the Chicago Cubs, 6-5, and the Pirates dropped a 4-0 decision to the New York Mets.

The Cardinals don't have a realistic "magic number," like the Dodgers, but the fact is that the Pirates have lost eight of their last 12 games and don't look like they can stage a strong rally in their remaining 10 games.

Ferguson Notches 24th

Rangers 1, Royals 3
Ferguson Jenkins equaled his best single season winning total in the majors by capturing his 24th victory as he pitched the Rangers over Kansas City.

The Rangers managed to win the game in the sixth inning, but it was a costly victory for Ferguson as he pitched a three-run sixth inning that broke up a 1-1 game.

Jenkins, who has lost 12, also won 24 games as well as the Cy Young award in 1971 with the Chicago Cubs. He gave up seven hits, walked one and struck out five.

While Sox 3, 's 1
Veteran southpaw Jim Kaat, walking one and striking out 10, picked up his fifth consecutive win by hurling the White Sox over the A's with a sparkling five-hitter.

Kaat, who earned his 18th win against 13 losses, moved to within one of the 2,000 strikeout mark with his season's high. It marked the first time since June, 1972 that the Sox were able to capture a season series from Oakland.

Reggie Sanders drove in four runs to lead the Tigers over Milwaukee. Sanders doubled home the Tigers' first run in the sixth, walked one and struck out five.

Mythical Joe Namath Cost Chicago Victory

CHICAGO (UPI)—The real and the mythical Joe Namath cost the Chicago Bears a win over the New York Jets Sunday, the Bears generally agreed today.

First Namath's reputation had the Bears "in awe" of him, resulting in a bad first half in which the Jets rolled to a 20-0 lead.

Then Namath, according to Bears Coach AbeGibron, "conned" the officials into letting the clock run for 50 seconds in the last minute without running a play due to crowd noise.

Namath's play, if it was that, so aggravated Gibron that he charged onto the field to protest to officials that the Bears had been deprived of a chance to win by the running clock.

In the first half Namath was completely in charge.

"He's very rough," Chicago defensive back Alan Ellis said. "He gets rid of the ball so fast, you get a little bit ahead. You think pass too much. Sometimes you get a little awed and worry about getting caught deep. We were a little nervous."

"I kept looking at what he was doing and how he was doing it," Bear quarterback Gary Huff said. "He controlled the game. He just stayed in there calm and laid the ball in there."

In the second half Huff followed Namath's example but the turnaround came too late.

"In the first half," Huff said, "we were missing the pass routes and blocking assignments. At the half, we gathered our wits about us and decided we did not want to lose the game."

They almost didn't. Huff passed for 175 yards, including touchdown tosses of 11 yards to Carl Garrett and four to Bob Parsons, and set up a one-yard plunge for another score by Jim Harrison.

But Bobby Howfield's 39-yard field goal with 6:30 left in the game put the decision out of reach by giving the Jets a 23-14 lead. Earlier, Namath passed to Rich Carter for 30 yards for a touchdown and hit John Riggins on a 32-yard pass play which turned into a TD when Jazz Jackson picked up Riggins' fumble and went 24 yards for a score. Emerson Boozer also scored on a three-yard run in the first half.

"We played a good first half," Jets Coach Charley Winner said after gaining his first victory as New York's head coach. "I was disappointed in the second half. We suffered a little letdown, I guess."

"We're trying to have a more balanced offense and we tried some different things in the second half but it didn't work too well. We were more conservative."

"It was two different halves," Namath said. "Their pass rush in the third down turned things around for them in the second half. The important thing for them was they made a couple of big third down plays and cut our marches short."

Dolphins Appear Headed to Top

NEW YORK (UPI) — Mercury Morris claims that the Dolphins are headed to the top.

The Dolphins, embarrassed by an opening game upset at the hands of New England last week, beat Buffalo 24-16 Sunday to spoil the Bills' hopes for two straight major upsets.

Bob Griese threw a pair of short touchdown passes and Murray Morris, who didn't play, burst 17 yards for another score as the Dolphins surged to a 21-7 lead and then held off the Bills.

"Last week was a stepping-stone," Morris said. "We came up here to Buffalo and knew we had to do a job. We got it done. That's the difference between champions and the others."

Buffalo, which upset Oakland Monday night with a pair of TDs in the last two minutes, looked like it was picking up right where it left off as John Leypold kicked a 23-yard field goal in the second quarter.

Room for Little Man

NEW HAVEN — Professional basketball is a game for giants and pro football finds the rosters make up almost entirely by big, hulking, mobile characters but there is still room for the little guy with exceptional ability.

The New York Giants found that out yesterday at the Yale Bowl before a crowd of 49,267 when Mini Mack Herron, all of five feet, five and 170 pounds, ran around and through the defense to spike a New England Patriot come-from-behind 28-20 triumph.

By virtue of the win, coming on the heels of an upset opening success against the Miami Dolphins the previous week, the Patriots are now No. 1 in the AFC Eastern Division. The Giants are winless in two starts.

Herron, who started for three years in Canadian football before getting a shot with the Pats last year, carried the pigskin 13 times for 74 yards and tallied two touchdowns.

The first score came on the receiving end of a 12-yard down-the-middle pass from Jim Plunkett, one of three the latter tossed. The little man who seemed almost out of place standing aside his teammates, also rambled into the end zone from three yards out.

No Flash in Pan

Herron is no flash in the pan. Last year he led the NFL in kickoff return yardage. His longest punt return was for 62 yards while a brilliant 94-yard kickoff fumble was nullified by a clipping penalty.

The pint-sized running back, the darling of Patriot fans, and there were hundreds who traveled down from Boston and had no trouble getting end zone seats, has to be the most exciting runner ever to wear a Patriot uniform.

Herron is a threat every time his number is called. He just seems to get lost behind the mammoth blockers and suddenly he's out in daylight, as Giant defenders found out on a brilliant, sunny September afternoon.

It was obvious that the Pats had a good defense, a top-flight passer in Plunkett and two good running backs in Herron and Sam Cunningham. On the other side of the coin, the Giant defense was adequate, Norm Snead had a great game at quarterback and didn't deserve any of the blame from the Giant followers, and the running game was again missing.

The Giants' top ball carriers, Ron Johnson, Joe Dawkins and Doug Kotar, picked up just a combined total of 54 yards against the rock-ribbed Pat defense. The latter came up with a great goal line stand late in the second period stopping the Giants on a first down on the four.

Great Goal-Line Stand

"Our goal line stand gave us the momentum," a happy Coach Chuck Fairbanks of the winners said.

The Pats trailed 7-0, and 14-7 before knotting the count after the second TD on Herron's 61-yard rambly kickoff and then Plunkett's long aerial to Randy Vataha who outraced the secondary to make a circus catch and reach paydirt. It was a picture play of the bomb and took just 20 seconds after the Giant score.

From this point on, the Pats were in command, more so after the goal-line stand just before the first half time expired.

With the Pats leading 28-20, the Giant chances for a comeback dissipated when Bob Grim couldn't find the handle on the snap back after the TD and Pete Gogolak had no chance to record the 21st point.

"Our ground game is the big difference in our team this year," Plunkett said, "and Mack Herron is just a super athlete with great speed and balance."

CHICAGO (UPI)—The real and the mythical Joe Namath cost the Chicago Bears a win over the New York Jets Sunday, the Bears generally agreed today.

First Namath's reputation had the Bears "in awe" of him, resulting in a bad first half in which the Jets rolled to a 20-0 lead.

How? is nitty-gritty question

Oswald: "Our code word ARHC should be a must for all bridge players. 'A' for Analyze the lead, 'R' for Review the bidding and 'C' for Count your winners and losers are important, but the nitty-gritty is the 'H' for How can I make the contract?"

Jim: "South thinks his three notrump contract should be in the bag until he sees the opening lead and the dummy. The fact that the ace-king-queen of hearts only represent two stoppers and that hearts were opened leaves the contract in considerable jeopardy."

Oswald: "He tries to count to nine tricks. If he can score five diamonds that will be fine but that requires a 3-3 suit break and the odds are against it. Five club tricks are likely to be there. Suits break 3-2 about 68 per cent of the time, but five clubs plus two hearts and a spade only come to eight."

Jim: "Then he finds his best chance. He wins the heart in dummy and leads a diamond. East wins and clears the hearts. Now he abandons the diamonds; leads a club and ducks. East wins and clears the hearts but the clubs come in for the game."

Town Plans Outlined To Aid Handicapped

By BETTY RYDER
Facilities proposed by the Town of Manchester to aid the handicapped were outlined at a meeting in the town manager's office this morning. The meeting was initiated when members of the Organization of the Handicapped picketed in front of the Town Hall and Lincoln Center to make the public aware of the difficulties facing the handicapped especially as regards the accessibility to public buildings. The picketing was short lived when Town Manager Robert Weiss, Mayor John Thompson, Herbert Stevenson, Democratic registrar of voters, and Joseph Blette, chairman of the OTH, conferred on the specific problems. Stevenson said he had been working on methods to get ramps making it possible for the handicapped to enter voting places. He said he had planned to keep clear two or three parking places so that those being driven to voting places could enter and depart with little difficulty. "The registrar's office is going to coordinate its efforts to assist with transportation for those handicapped who cannot get to the voting places by other means. We also intend to work with the State of Connecticut to immediately study modification of the voting machines so that they will be easier for the handicapped to use," Stevenson said. Speaking on a broader scale of the problems facing the handicapped, Weiss said, "The town has been working in association with OTH since its inception. We have given them office space at the Mayfair Gardens, rent free, and we pick up the telephone and light bills. "The one formal request made by OTH was for ramps on Main St. We have just recently put in the ramps, and feel we have taken the lead in pioneering such efforts. We hope OTH is pleased with the results," he said. "The particular reason they (OTH) were picketing today was concern over the accessibility to the Town Hall and Lincoln Center. The organization was not aware that the town had been working on the problems. We hope within 90 days to have specific plans and estimates for ramps to the Town Hall and Lincoln Center, as well as the building across from the Town Hall which is now the Finance Department but which will be the Health and Human Resources office soon. We also hope to put ramps in at the library. "The Better Community Act which the president signed a month ago provides some $470,000 a year for the next few years and includes authorization to provide facilities for the handicapped within reason." Mayor Thompson, who had to leave the meeting due to a previous commitment, had expressed concern for the handicapped. "The mayor is as concerned as I am," Weiss said. You'll recall last spring during 'Awareness Day' when both the mayor and I spent part of the day in a wheelchair. That was quite an awakening for both of us and since that time we have been making every effort to make the public more aware of the problems of the handicapped." Stevenson said he would like Blette to come before the spring meeting of the Connecticut Registrars of Voters and speak to the assemblage about some of the current difficulties. "We are sorry we had to picket the Town Hall," Blette said. "It wasn't against the town, but just our way of showing the public some of our needs." At the conclusion of the meeting, Weiss and Blette, walked outside and conversed briefly with the picketers explaining to them that the town was making every effort to alleviate any further problems where possible.

8.08 Raise Proposed In Teacher Salaries

Gets Grant

The three-member arbitration panel studying a contract dispute between the Manchester Education Association (MEA) and the Board of Education has recommended an 8.08 per cent increase in economic compensation for public school teachers. An 11-page "Decision of the Panel of Arbitration," filed in the town clerk's office today and sent to State Education Commissioner Mark Shedd, stated that the 8.08 per cent increase for 1974-1975 shall include not only teacher salary increases, but also include salary increments based on length of service (2.4 per cent of the total), and the costs of increased fringe benefits. The three-member arbitration panel was unanimous in its recommendation. The panel's decision, which makes recommendations on a number of non-economic issues as well as the salaries and fringe benefits, is not binding on either the school board or the MEA. If either party rejects the arbitrators' decision, negotiations will have to be reopened. The contract dispute—which started when negotiations for a new teacher contract broke down in May—has been in the hands of the arbitrators for about two months. Normally, arbitration decisions are received within ten days of hearings (which in this case were conducted in mid-July), but the delay was apparently the result of an attempt to get a unanimous decision. The arbitrators were Atty. Michael Boyle of Hartford (appointed by the MEA), school administrator Neil Macy of Hartford (appointed by the school board), and UConn law professor Peter Adomeit (a neutral arbitrator agreed to by both sides). In their decision, the arbitrators said, "This award constitutes a fair and equitable settlement of the dispute. "We believe we have an award that is fair to the teachers, to the board, and to the citizens of Manchester, who, through their taxes, support the schools." The school board had been offering economic increases totaling 5 1/2 per cent. The MEA had demanded increases of about 14 per cent.

Noted Actor Mourned By Friends

OXNARD, Calif. (UPI) — Friends and colleagues are mourning the death of actor Walter Brennan, whose portrayal of scruffy but tender-hearted characters won the hearts of millions during his 55 years in the movie and television industries. Brennan died Saturday at St. John's Hospital, where he had been receiving treatment for emphysema that was aggravated by smog at his Simi Valley ranch north of Los Angeles. He entered the hospital on July 25, his 80th birthday. James Stewart, who made pictures with Brennan more than 30 years ago, described him as "the ideal motion picture character actor."

THE WAY WE WERE
The year was 1921 and Watkins introduced Manchester's first motor hearse. Friends kidded us and competition derided us but this new fangled equipment proved us to be in tune with community's needs. Our vehicles have changed quite a bit from this early motor hearse, but one thing hasn't changed...Our friendliness, sincerity and dedication...and that's the way we'll stay.
