Nixon Accused of Using Aide to Save Himself

WASHINGTON (UPI) — John D. Ehrlichman's lawyer charged today that former President Richard M. Nixon "deceived, misled, lied to and used" his former No. 2 White House aide throughout the Watergate cover-up "to save his own neck."

Attorney William S. Frates his voice booming through U.S. District Judge John J. Sirica's hushed courtroom charged that Ehrlichman was the victim of the cover-up plot and not a participant as the government has charged.

Frates' opening statement in Ehrlichman's defense confirmed speculation in recent weeks that Nixon's former aide had broken with Nixon and would accuse him of complicity in the cover-up plot.

"Richard Nixon deceived, misled, lied to and used John Ehrlichman to cover up his own knowledge and activities while publicly stating that John Ehrlichman was one of the finest public servants he had ever known," Frates told the jury which will decide the fate of Ehrlichman and four other former Nixon associates.

Saving His Own Neck
"He (Nixon) was deliberately withholding information from him—covering up to save his own neck."

Frates said the evidence—particularly the secret White House tapes—will prove that Ehrlichman "repeatedly recommended a full disclosure" of the truth about Watergate.

"The tapes may have done some people harm but they're the greatest thing that ever happened to John Ehrlichman," he said. "Contrary to obstructing justice it was everything but that and the tapes will show that chapter and verse."

He stressed that Nixon and former White House Chief of Staff H.R. Haldeman one of the co-defendants in the cover-up never told Ehrlichman about the secret taping system.

Divorced From Haldeman
He also sought to divorce Ehrlichman from Haldeman once Ehrlichman's close friend. The two of them once were the powerful men in Nixon's White House.

"Your natural inclination will be to put these defendants in one pot and frankly that's my problem," Frates said. "The government in its opening statement was always saying, 'Haldeman-Ehrlichman, Haldeman-Ehrlichman, Haldeman-Ehrlichman.' We're here to defend John Ehrlichman. We're not here to defend the other defendants nor are we here to prosecute."

John W. Dean III the former White House counsel who became Nixon's chief accuser was to be the first witness called later today after defense attorneys completed their opening statements. Sirica indictated the first of the White House tapes would be played as evidence on Wednesday.

Prosecution's Case
The prosecution Monday charged that Nixon guided the cover-up and urged his closest advisers to serve up Dean like "an hors d'oeuvre" to quell investigators' appetite for the truth.

Prosecutors also for the first time linked the name of close Nixon friend C.G. "Bebe" Rebozo to the cover-up plot, contending he furnished $25,000 that helped to pay for the silence of the Watergate burglars two years ago.

The opening arguments laid out the case the government hopes to prove at the cover-up trial of five former Nixon aides. The trial started two weeks ago before U.S. District Judge John J. Sirica, but had been devoted to jury selection until opening arguments Monday.

On trial are former Attorney General John N. Mitchell, one-time key White House aide H.R. "Bob" Haldeman and John D. Ehrlichman, and Nixon reelection campaign officials Robert C. Mardian and Kenneth W. Parkinson.

Turkish Aid Vetoed

WASHINGTON (UPI) — In his first major confrontation with Congress, President Ford has vetoed legislation to halt U.S. military aid to Turkey.

The House votes today whether to override that veto and the Senate awaited its turn to act. Opinions differed on who would win the showdown.

At stake were:

—About $6 million worth of military aid in the pipeline to Turkey.

—Continued operation of several big government agencies, including the departments of Agriculture, Labor, and Health, Education and Welfare, whose funds have become hostage in the dispute.

—Congress' own vacation, delayed since Friday. Members can't go home to start campaigning for the November elections until the aid dispute is somehow settled.

The dispute arose this way:

U.S. laws require that military aid given other countries be used only for self defense.

Liberal members of Congress were angered when Turkey used U.S. weapons in its invasion of Cyprus, and they persuaded both houses to suspend military aid to Turkey until Ford could certify substantial progress was being made toward removal of the Turkish forces.

Ford—arguing that the cutoff would weaken NATO, of which Turkey is a member, hurt the U.S. position in the Mediterranean, and wreck efforts to negotiate a Cyprus settlement—threatened to veto the measure.

A proposed compromise was rejected by the House Friday, setting the stage for a showdown.

Rep. Steele Asks Special Session To Restructure Utility Agency

HARTFORD (UPI) — Republican gubernatorial candidate Robert H. Steele charged today that his Democratic opponent has been engaging in demagoguery instead of producing concrete proposals to deal with high utility bills.

Steele, who outlined an 11-bill package for a special legislative session, said Mrs. Ella T. Grasso has been trying to fool the public into thinking that renaming the state Public Utilities Commission will solve the problem.

The gubernatorial contender called on the Republican legislative majority to act promptly to get the special session under way as soon as possible rather than wait until after the November elections.

Expects to Win
Steele said that although he still trails in the polls he has cut the margin in half since last June and expects to win by 20,000 votes election day.

On Mrs. Grasso's proposal to abolish the PUC and set up another utility agency Steele said, "We need a governor and not a demagogue to deal with the question."

The root of the problem, he said, is the cost of fuel in New England and not simply an allegation of overcharges.

Among the measures Steele proposed is expanding the PUC to include an executive director, five hearing examiners and an office of utility consumer advocate.

Segregate Fuel Costs
Other measures would remove fuel costs from basic rates charges by utility companies require updates of information in rate applications every six months and ban companies from passing on advertising costs to consumers.

Steele sent his proposal to Gov. Thomas J. Meskill and Republican leaders of the legislature in asking that a special session be convened as soon as possible.

The candidate said the problem is not just one of rising costs passed on to the consumer but also "lack of confidence in the PUC and its ability to handle the scope and complexity of the problems swiftly and correctly." Also internal workings of utility company operations "in terms of propriety and legality particular to any charges" and a growing financial threat to the companies and their capability to deliver adequate power at competitive prices.

Hearing Examiners
Steele proposed that non-political hearing examiners conduct hearings and issue orders instead of PUC commissioners who would tend to administrative obligations under the executive director.

Auditing and engineering staffs would be enlarged using funds left over in the current legislative account subject to Finance Advisory Committee action Steele said.

Both the Senate and House would have to approve nominees to the PUC and appointees would be subject to annual confirmation by the legislature.

He said this would end the present procedure whereby approval by only one chamber depended "on which is the politically safer chamber for confirmation."

Steele said the office of utility consumer advocate would be appointed by the Legislative Management Committee subject to legislative approval.

It would be a permanent staff of professionals with subpoena powers who would take part in hearings court cases and appeals.

Steele said the office could be started with funds from the current budget but future money would have to come from a special fund "based on a small fractional charge of all consumer bill revenues received by electric and gas public service companies."

State Consumer Office Pledged by Mrs. Grasso

BARBARA RICHMOND

Ella Grasso, Democratic candidate for governor, renewed her promise to fight to create an independent Consumer Advocate Office while speaking in Vernon at one of a series of "town meetings" she is conducting throughout the state.

Looking tired she still appeared anxious to answer questions fielded to her from an audience of some 300 persons from throughout Tolland County gathered at the Center Road School.

Gives Stand
Mrs. Grasso explained her stand on fuel adjustment overcharges, aid to education, an energy control authority, programs for the handicapped, the right-to-know law, and relief to agricultural areas.

Former Governor John Dempsey moderated the meeting and on the panel, along with Mrs. Grasso were: Atty. Gen. Robert Killian, candidate for Lt. Governor; Gloria Schaffer, candidate for reelection as secretary of state; Henry Parker, candidate for state treasurer; J. Edward Caldwell, candidate for comptroller; and Carl Ajello, candidate for attorney general.

Dempsey Introduction
In introducing Mrs. Grasso, Dempsey said, "Ella is telling it like it ought to be told, talking about the issues and talking about giving the government back to the people of Connecticut, where it belongs."

Mrs. Grasso, commenting, "We are three weeks from election in the count-down days," said she is talking with people, but more important, listening to them.

She added, "In this campaign I have tried to put an end to fear, with hope, and an end to confusion with confidence."

Consumers Overlooked
She said she has been working on the public utilities matter because she feels for too long the feelings of the consumers have been overlooked.

Commenting on practices she said led to a $19 million overcharge on the fuel adjustment clause, she said for this month alone the amount will total $1.6 million if the Public Utilities Commission (PUC) doesn't act immediately.

She charged that the PUC is not doing its job and repeated her call for its abolition and creation of a new and stronger agency, a utility control authority.

She gave credit to the Hartford Consumer Activists Association for battling Hartford Electric Light Co. (HELCO) and its increase.

Public Interest Protection
She said the creation of an independent Consumer Advocate Office, under the legislature, would insure the public's interest is protected.

Asked if she feels the utility rates can be lowered, Mrs. Grasso commented that she feels the problem now is to work so the rates are not escalated any further.

To a question concerning the state deficit, Parker answered that the Republicans didn't pay anything on the debt but created a "bogus" surplus of almost $100 million. He said many people believed that the state had the surplus and the debt was paid off.

Another question focused on the protection of the state's water resources.

Two From Town Get Kopplemann Grants

Two Manchester students are in college this year with help from the Kopplemann Scholarship fund established by the late First District Congressman Herman P. Kopplemann.

A member of the Hartford council at 21, Mr. Kopplemann created a trust to assist students who have had experience in newspaper or magazine circulation.

Patricia Stankiewicz and F. Julien Martin are both presently attending the University of Connecticut under this scholarship.

Miss Stankiewicz, a graduate of Manchester High School, is in her second year at UConn. While in high school, she earned a "perfect score" record in four years of carrying newspapers for The Herald.

One of nine children of the Stankiewicz family at 22 S. Adams St., she is studying to teach language, an ambition fired by a 1972 student summer in Europe.

In high school she was active in student government, a member of the National Honor Society. She also helped organize two successful "walkathons" for charity.

Martin, a member of the Class of '74 at MHS is a freshman at UConn. He was a Hartford Courier carrier for four years. He combined a career of track, cross country and ski club with work on the literary magazine and the high school newspaper.

A coin collector, his collection includes, along with rare values, dollars from his salary as chef in a chain restaurant and clerk in a retail store. Martin lives at 185 Henry St.

Applications for Kopplemann Scholarships are received in the spring from residents of Hartford County who have been accepted at an accredited

POLICE REPORT

MANCHESTER

Billy Stone, 68, of 12 Tower Rd. was arrested Monday at 3 p.m. at Stop & Shop supermarket on W. Middle Tpk. and charged with fourth-degree larceny. He allegedly took two packages of meat.

He posted a $25 cash bond for court Nov. 4.

Robert J. Dondoro, 29, of Willington was arrested Monday at 12:45 p.m. at Caldors department store on Tolland Tpk. and charged with fourth-degree larceny in connection with a shoplifting incident. She was released on her written promise to appear in court Oct. 28.

Someone broke into Manchester High School sometime between Sunday morning and this morning and smashed the glass on a trophy case, police said.

Only one of several trophy cases was broken into and only trophies were in the case, police said. Until an inventory is made, police are not sure what, if anything, is missing.

Dana and Lisa Perozziello of 75 Oak St. went to a milk store nearby on Main St. and bought two half-gallons of milk as their mother had instructed them.

But the youngsters could not carry the milk and ride their bikes.

Lisa went to call her mother while Dana watched the bikes and the milk. Dana could not wait any longer and went to see about Lisa.

The break is similar to the break over the weekend into the trophy case at East Catholic High School. However, there were stereos, radios, a camera and other valuables at ECCHS to be used for a school promotion. At MHS there were apparently only trophies won in school sports.

The Antiques store at 523 E. Middle Tpk. was broken into over the weekend. An inventory is being made now to determine any missing items.

Three girls between the ages of 12 and 14 were seen pushing down a snow fence at MHS by the soccer field Monday at 7 p.m. Police could not later find them.

No arrests were made after an investigation.

Calvary Church Services Will Emphasize Music

Rodman Stewart will sing at tonight's service. On Wednesday, the Rev. and Mrs. A. Donald Gustafson and their daughter Lyn will sing, and there will be a violin solo. The youth of Maranatha Coffee House will provide music on Friday's service.

The Rev. K. L. Claycomb, an Assemblies of God evangelist from Tallahassee, Fla., is the guest preacher, and his wife will sing at all services, which are open to the public. He will also conduct similar meetings Wednesday, Thursday and Friday at 10 a.m. at the church.

School Board to Hear Reports

The Board of Education will hear Superintendent of Schools James P. Kennedy update the enrollment figure of Manchester schools at tonight's meeting at 8 in the board room at 45 N. School St.

This is the fourth year of an Individually Guided Education program conducted at Nathan Hale and Manchester Green Schools. The program emphasizes non-gradedness, multi-age grouping and team teaching. Dr. Alfred Tycheson, assistant superintendent, has made a study of the program in the two schools and will make an evaluation report tonight to the board.

The opening enrollment was 9,889 as compared to 10,066 last fall. Kennedy reported at a board meeting shortly after school opening. Although he said at that time the opening enrollment figure was not an accurate one, he also said there is a decline in the enrollment as compared to the predicted enrollment.

Bolton Bulldogs senior pony football team remains undefeated this season since crushing Newtonington 42 to 0 Sunday, said Gil Boissonne, head coach. Craig Jensen, having his best day of the season, scored three touchdowns of runs 39, 10 and 4 yards. He added two conversion points for a personal output of 22 points. Randy Fish made a two-point conversion. Paul Groves playing his usual fine game scored a 23-yard touchdown. He was on the receiving end of a 23-yard pass from Peter Ryba. Groves also threw a beautiful 53-yard pass to Brett Hussey to account for the final score.

Also highlighting the game were interceptions by Hussey and Mark Ouellette, a fumble recovery by Robert Bogner and a punt block by Joe Fontanella.

Boissonne said a lot of credit for the strong Bulldog running this season goes to the offensive line of Hussey, Hal Sarnecki, Kurt Bogner, John Varca, David Higgins, John Dzienis and Jerry Chernerka.

Boissonne said the success of his team in his opinion could be explained by a comment from the Newtonington coaching staff. "Our team has never been hit so hard."

The incident was investigated by a trooper with no arrest being made.

The alleged offender told police he shot his gun in the air to stop his dogs from barking, state police reported.

Mrs. Churchill said two teenagers were walking on Volpi Rd. when they heard dogs barking followed by what they at first thought was a firecracker. She said the youths reported a flashlight was shone in their faces and they saw a man with a gun.

They immediately went home and reported to the incident to their parents who called the state police.

The Colchester State Police barracks reported it received a shooting complaint at 10:13 p.m. Sunday.

Dial-a-Ride Planned For Senior Citizens

VERNON
Starting Oct. 25 the Vernon Recreation Department will start a dial-a-ride program for Senior Citizens in Vernon who need transportation to medical appointments, banks, the hair-dressers, shopping and such.

Donald Berger, recreation director, said rides should be arranged a week in advance, by calling the recreation office between 9 a.m. and noon. Exceptions to the week in advance notice, may be made in the case of emergencies.

Trips will be scheduled for Wednesdays and Fridays but the days may be expanded or changed, once the program gets under way.

Berger said the service is designed for those who have no means of transportation of their own, but those who can arrange for their own transportation are asked to do so to take the pressure off the new service.

Volunteers are needed to drive. Those willing to offer their service should call the recreation office.

BETTY'S NOTEBOOK

By BETTY RYDER

The breast cancer operation of Mrs. Betty Ford has prompted gynecologists and obstetricians to strive harder to keep the female public aware of the symptoms of breast and pelvic cancer.

Dr. Douglas R. Knab, a gynecologist with the National Naval Medical Center at Bethesda, Md., and a Fellow of The American College of Obstetricians and Gynecologists (ACOG), who first discovered the "relatively small lump" in Mrs. Ford's breast has pointed out the critical need for women to have frequent and regular breast examinations to avoid the more advanced stages of cancer.

"If all women had periodic breast and pelvic examinations, we could significantly reduce the current high levels of mortality from these diseases," Dr. Knab said. "Every woman should consider her gynecologic care as important as regular dental care. A complete gynecological examination should be conducted at least annually. Routine gynecological checkup should be just that — routine," he said.

"Every woman should be taught the simple technique of self examination and get into the habit of checking for lumps at least once a month," he added.

Reports indicate that breast cancer will claim 33,000 lives this year, and some 90,000 women will learn for the first time that they have breast cancer.

The American Cancer Society has published a pamphlet entitled "A Breast Check, So Simple, So Important," which explains the examination methods. For a free copy contact your local American Cancer Society office, which in Manchester is at 237 E. Center St.

Think Slim

Lois L. Lindauer, national director of The Diet Workshop, has passed on a few tips to make us all feel thinner.

A simple hair-do makes a face thinner — bushy, bouffant hair puffs it up.

Light lipstick rather than dark.

Brows that follow a natural arch, with a definite shape slim a face down, heavy brows add their own heaviness. Learn to contour cheeks.

A lighter hair color around the face blurs the definition between hair and face.

No heavy, dark eye outline.

Skin toner — mave for pale faces, green or blue to cool down ruddy faces, turn "no-flight" arrow never leaves the face.

Mascara, yes; artificial lasher, no.

The simpler, the slimmer.

Toyland '74

Christmas toys this year will take on a new look. That old adage "I shot an arrow into the air, it fell to earth I know not where" will no longer ring true. An improvement on the basic bow and arrow has been introduced making the sport of archery practical for indoor-outdoor family fun.

Devin-Long

Kathleen Mary Long of Manchester and Peter Michael Devin of Woodbury, exchanged wedding vows Sept. 7 at the Church of the Assumption, Manchester.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Francis M. Long of 42 Trebbe Dr. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred G. Devin of Woodbury.

The Rev. Paul Trinkle of the Church of the Assumption celebrated the nuptial Mass and performed the double-ring ceremony. The church was decorated with white bows at the family pews and white gladioli and pink and aqua carnations on the altar.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of silk organza over taffeta designed with a bodice of English net embellished with Venice floral lace appliques, mandarin collar, sheer yoke and cap sleeves of tulle. A-line skirt extending into a chapel train all edged with matching lace.

Reports indicate that breast cancer will claim 33,000 lives this year, and some 90,000 women will learn for the first time that they have breast cancer.

'Money Man' Faces 'Forgotten Man' As World Series Resumes Tonight

OAKLAND (UPI) — Jim "Catfish" Hunter, Oakland's "money man," faces Al Downing, the Los Angeles Dodgers' "forgotten man," today in the third game of the all-California World Series with the defending World Champion A's 7-5 favorites.

Hunter is unbeaten in three World Series decisions over the last two seasons and was the man nailed down the final out in Oakland's 3-2 victory Saturday in the opening game of the 1974 classic.

Downing, who lost World Series decisions with the New York Yankees in 1963 and 1964, was the last starter on a solid Los Angeles pitching staff this past season but after a six-week rest, pitched a one-hitter against San Francisco for a key victory under the pennant stretch drive.

"You never quite get used to being calm when it comes to pitching in the World Series," said Hunter, winner of 25 games in 1974 and a leading candidate for American League Cy Young Award honors. "But once the game gets started, I expect I'll be able to shut everything else off and concentrate on pitching."

Downing, winner of only five of 11 decisions for Los Angeles this year, said the fact he pitched previously in World Series competition should help but it really doesn't mean that much.

"Sure the pressure will be there," said the 33-year-old veteran left-hander, "and anyone who says it won't doesn't know what it's all about. In my case I have to tell myself to stop worrying about going a set number of innings and just concentrate on each batter as he comes up."

The action gets under way today at 5:30 p.m. PDT with another sellout enroute to what may wind up as the richest World Series of all time. Both the first and second games in Los Angeles set attendance marks with 55,000 plus crowds and in Oakland they are expecting 49,000 plus sellouts today, Wednesday and Thursday.

With Hunter pitching for the A's, Dodger Manager Walter Alton has juggled his lineup a bit to compensate. He has benched catcher Steve Yeager and put Joe Ferguson behind the plate with Willie Crawford, a left-handed batter, taking over Ferguson's place in right field.

The A's will go with the same lineup as in the first two games except for a possible switch of Bert Campaneris and Billy North. North was Oakland's leadoff man throughout most of the season with Campaneris, a good hit-and-run man, batting behind him. However, in the first two series games in Los Angeles Campaneris was the leadoff batter.

"I may swap them around," said A's Manager Alvin Dark, "but I won't make up my mind for sure until just before the start of the third game. I think with Campy hitting second we have a better chance to play our kind of game."

Alston said he has all the confidence in the world in Downing but won't hesitate to take him out at the first sign of trouble. With the series tied at one victory each, today's game is pivotal.

"I want Downing to go as well as he can for as long as he can," said Alston. "Depending on the game situation I might bring Mike Marshall in as early as the fifth. But I wouldn't want him that early if we are behind."

The Dodgers need today's game more than the A's because, in effect, they are down to two solid pitchers—Andy Messersmith, the opening game loser, and Don Sutton, the second game winner.

For the fourth game Wednesday, the A's will come back with Ken Holtzman, who went out after 13 innings of the first game and wasn't involved in the decision, while the Dodgers will counter with Messersmith.

The Dodgers were their usual calm and collected selves during a short twilight workout Monday while the A's had their daily sidework. This latest one involved slugger Reggie Jackson, who took exception to a magazine story and mimed no words in telling off the author—the highly respected Maury Olderman of NEA.

It was a loud and profane show with Reggie doing all the talking. While it had little to do with the proceedings at hand, it did provide newsmen covering the series an extra tidbit of a series already marred by an A's clubhouse fight and the usual number of complaints against management.

Yankee-Red Sox Flavor White to Speak At Sports Night

By Earl Yost

Oldest player in point of service on the New York Yankee roster, veteran outfielder Roy White will join Bob Montgomery of the Boston Red Sox as the featured co-speakers at the annual Masonic Sports Night.

The program will be held Tuesday night, Oct. 29 at the Masonic Temple, Warren DeFuria is general chairman. The night will have a definite Red Sox-Yankee flavor.

White, a solid 275 hitter in this past season, has been a regular with the American League for seven years and twice was a member of the American League All-Star team.

Hitting from Los Angeles, Calif., White now resides in Wayne, N. J. He signed as a free agent with the Yankee organization in 1962.

A switchhitter, White came up as a second baseman but was moved to the outfield and has been a

Chris Evert Tops Durr In LA Play

By Larry Olsen

Now that the smoke has cleared and we've gotten our feet back on the ground after Saturday's 3-4 whipping, we must be aware that we were beaten by a very good Conard team. We had a bad day, a very bad day, and I hope that we never see another day like that again. But it's over, it's all behind us now, and hopefully we can profit by our errors.

But I still have to write something about the game. And my feeling is still one of disbelief. We started well, forcing Conard to start right away and then on our second offensive play running the ball down to the two-yard line. But that was the end of the game for us. The procedure penalty on that play and subsequent miscellaneous penalties seemed to deflate us and we were no longer in the game. From about that point on we seemed flat and although we got very few breaks, we didn't have it in us to carry the game to Conard as we have done in previous encounters and make our own breaks. You don't win when you don't attack people and take your game to them. And that's where we failed.

One bright spot was the running of halfback John Kunz. John ran like a hard running halfback is supposed to.

Little Secret Among Oakland Players Jim Hunter Passes Along Tip to Captain Sal Bando

OAKLAND (UPI) — Everbody knows that old Army warning, never volunteer, and Gene Tenace knows it as well as anybody else, but he wants to stand up and say something anyway, in behalf of an Oakland A's team member, who has been accepted by them only to a point.

Herb Washington doesn't really qualify for full membership with the A's.

He can shiver with them, but he isn't allowed to play ball with them. As the only one of his kind in the major leagues, purely a pinch runner, and nothing more, Herb Washington is not regarded a full-blooded baseball player by his fellow players. They respect the fact he can run, that he's still the world record-holder in both the 50-and 60-yard dashes, but they have little or no regard for his baseball instinct because they feel he has none.

That feeling could only be strengthened after what happened in Los Angeles Sunday, when Washington took them out of what could've been a big inning, what could've been the ball game, in fact, after he was put in to run for Joe Rudi with one out in the ninth and he was picked off first base by Dodger reliever Mike Marshall with a move the likes of which he had never seen before.

"The thing about Herbie is that he's a tremendous person, and he has done a tremendous job for us," says Gene Tenace. "You have to remember he came to us right off the track. Put yourself in his place. You got 34 guys who regret he's even on the ball club. They know the only thing he can do is run."

"But I'll say this about him, he adjusted. He certainly did, and you have to give him credit for that. I know I do. I really like the guy. He made up his mind it didn't matter to him what people thought. He was going to do his job, and he did."

"He has gotten thrown out at times, but he still did what he was brought here to do, and he overcame a lot of obstacles to do it. When he was picked off Sunday, nobody criticized him—nobody said anything on the bench. They knew how he felt. They knew it wasn't really his fault."

Alvin Dark, the A's manager, was among those who felt compassion for the inexperienced, 23-year-old Washington after what happened to him Sunday.

"As we were getting our luggage, Alvin came and patted me on the back," says the A's spirit specialist. "and when he does that, I get a certain feeling, a good feeling, like 'Don't worry, Herbie, we'll get it back.'"

Purely Pinch Runner, That's Washington

By John LaFontana

Last Saturday we lost another football game (29-12) but unlike the previous Saturday we really made good our opponent work for their victory. We came back from a 14-0 deficit and ended the half, 14-12. It was our inability to generate another scoring drive at the start of the second half after we received the kickoff that made the difference.

The momentum left us and St. Bernard began to run the ball out of a Power! formation and killed us on the off-tackle play. They organized a nice scoring drive at the beginning of the fourth period to tie the score at 21-12 and then finished up by taking one in after we failed to convert a fourth down deep in our own territory.

After waiting for players in certain areas to come about after a few games' experience, we now have to face the hard facts of why we are losing. While the offense has not played perfectly, the defense has just not been able to stop the running game and that is due to a lack of size, experience or agility in our defensive line. Our biggest priority in the weeks to come will be the improvement of the defensive line play.

There were several players who did well Saturday. Cephus Nolen, with 10

Three Bruins On Sidelines

BOSTON (UPI) — The Boston Bruins, already saddled with an injury to Gregg Sheppard, may be minus Ken Hodge and Gilles Gilbert in Wednesday night's game against the Chicago Black Hawks.

Goalie Gilbert is bothered by a crossed nerve on the base of his index finger on his left (catching) hand. The spot is extremely painful, and Gilbert may have to undergo minor surgery to remedy the situation.

Hodge suffers by hyperextension of his right elbow in Sunday's 2-2 tie against Toronto, and is a question mark for Wednesday.

Sheppard is still suffering from a wrenched nerve in his back, sustained Thursday in Boston's 9-5 loss to the Buffalo Sabres. He is also a question mark for the Chicago game.

Sunday's tie, as Boston was generally pleased after Hodge suffered a sprained knee, while Mark Herron and Andy Johnson have ankle injuries. Safety San- Doug Favell with a flurry of shots early in the game only to have Favell save them all.

"If we play like we played tonight (Sunday) we won't lose many," he said.

FOXBORO, Mass. (UPI) — The injury was only one of several suffered by members of the unbeaten New England Patriots receiver Darryl Stingley suffered a broken left arm in Sunday's 24-0 rout of the New York Jets, doctors reported Monday after taking X-rays.

Stingley definitely will miss Sunday's game, and it is doubtful future status was in doubt, a team official said.

COACHES' CORNER At Head of Poll

NEW YORK (UPI) — There's the same old names at the top of the United Press International Board of Coaches' poll, but there's a brand, new one in the No. 10 spot.

Ohio State continues to lead the nation's football teams, but Arizona made it to the top 10 for the first time in the school's history.

The Wildcats have ripped off five straight victories to start the season as Coach Jim Young continues the remarkable job begun last year.

Young's first squad last year was an overwhelming choice to finish dead last in the Western Athletic Conference, but instead tied Arizona State for the title and finished with an 8-3 mark.

The Wildcats this season are tied for fifth in the nation in total offense, 12th in scoring offense and ninth in rushing offense.

Quarterback Bruce Hill is fifth in total offense and his favorite target "T" Bell is seventh in receptions.

But the Wildcats face their toughest task yet when they travel to Texas Tech Saturday.

Ohio State collected 33 of the 34 first-place ballots cast, with No. 2 Michigan receiving the other one.

A pair of undefeated Southeastern Conference teams, Alabama and Auburn, were third and fourth respectively.

Fans Cheer Lions And Fans React

Detroit (UPI) — The crowd was on its feet yelling "Dee-fense" at Detroit for the first time in a long while—and for the first time in quite a spell the Lions were playing it.

"The referees told us to raise our hands up and quiet the crowd," defensive end Ernie Price of the Lions said. "We said, 'You crazy, man? We haven't heard this in a long time.'"

That third quarter goal line struggle was the turning point as Detroit came right back with a touchdown to cement its first victory, a 17-13 decision over the San Francisco 49ers.

Rookie Wilbur Jackson had just sped 64 yards to the Detroit two for his longest gain of a 91-yard night and it looked like the Lions were headed for their fifth loss. The 49ers are now 2-3 while all of Detroit's losses have come by a total of 14 points.

"I feel the crowd yelling 'defense' helped the team," Coach Rick Forzano said, savoring his first pro head coaching win. "I was kind of yelling 'defense' myself on the sidelines."

"What was the mood in the huddle?" linebacker Paul Naumoff repeated a question. "Well, I was kind of tired. I had just run 60-some yards trying to catch a guy I was never going to catch."

"I saw him taking off like that and I passed, completed 17 and totaled 171 yards with them. But that last left, by Laslavie on the Lions' six, was most costly."

"I didn't start going to my backs early enough in the game," Morrison said. "I was thinking downfield but my receivers were covered there so I should have just dropped it off."

Surgery

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (UPI) — Running back Ken Willard of the St. Louis Cardinals will undergo surgery for a knee injury Tuesday, it was announced Monday.

The Cardinals said Willard, the team's leading rusher, could be back later this season if the surgery is successful.

Deal Completed

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (UPI) — Minor League pitcher Dan Larson Monday was sent by the St. Louis Cardinals to the Houston Astros, completing an Aug. 15 deal.

The earlier trade sent veteran Claude Osteen to the Cards for pitcher Ron Selak. Larson was assigned to the Astros' Denver farm team.

Penguins

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — Delemon Dave Burrows and Steve Durban of the Pittsburgh Penguins, both of whom missed the first two season games, have returned to the NHL club's lineup and will see action against the Stanley Cup champion Philadelphia Flyers here Saturday.

Burrows had been sidelined with an ankle injury, while Durban was serving a two-game suspension imposed by the league as a result of a fight in a preseason game with the WHA Cleveland Crusaders.

The Penguins also announced that left wing Wayne Bianchini, who sustained a broken neck in a surfing accident in Hawaii in May, had rejoined the team.

Debut Criticized

DENVER (UPI) — Denver Bronco fans, considered to be among the most highly spirited in the nation, weren't too happy about Jane Chastain's first national television appearance as sportscaster for the Bronco-New Orleans Saints game Sunday.

"Get that woman out of the announcers' booth," said one irate caller to KMGH-TV, the local CBS affiliate.

"Tell that babe to take up cooking," said another. "She sure as hell can't announce football."

KMGH officials said the station's lone switchboard operator received 600 calls during the game, all negative.

Other comments were: "We believe in women's lib up to a point, but we do not enjoy this lady coming on TV. Football is a man's game" and "That woman's inaccuracies are unbelievable."

Mrs. Chastain, who teamed up with Don Criqui and Irv Cross to report the game, began sportscasting 12 years ago in Atlanta. She is the only fulltime woman network sportscaster.

Veteran Cut

NEW ORLEANS (UPI) — Wide receiver Earl McCullough, former NFL Rookie of the Year, has been cut by the New Orleans Saints and replaced by a cutoff from the Pittsburgh Steelers.

McCullough, a seven-year veteran from Southern California, played his first six seasons with the Detroit Lions before he was cut this summer and claimed by the Saints.

Watergate Jury Given Last Defense Statement

WASHINGTON (UPI) - John N. Mitchell denounced his aide John Stuart Magruder as "a damned liar" for alerting a Nixon campaign lawyer in July 1972 to Mitchell's involvement in Watergate, a defense lawyer claimed today.

But on July 13, 1972, he said Parkinson met with Magruder the deputy campaign director who told him that Mitchell - the former attorney general and Nixon's campaign manager who was also a defendant in the cover-up - was "involved in this burglary."

Two days later he said Parkinson destroyed the notes he took of his meeting with Magruder because "he was fearful someone would get hold of this and it would be a great embarrassment."

Curtailed Bus Schedule Protested to Board

The Board of Education's budget cuts which have reflected in a trimmed busing schedule brought protesting parents and students to Tuesday night's board meeting.

Parents of children in the Brookfield and Benton St. area requested bus service for their 17 children who are presently walking to and from Buckley School.

Reasons stated for requesting the late bus to be put back in service were: (1) Attendance and participation in sports activities would be affected; (2) Grades would be affected because students who stay after school for make-up work would not have a way home; (3) Students assigned to detention would skip it because there would be no assurance of a ride home on a late bus; (4) Parents would be pick up students which would be an excessive use of gas.
