Dean Cross-Examination Begins

cross-examination of John Dean, upper right, Tuesday in a Washington, D.C. federal court. Dean, a former White House counsel, is the prosecutor's first witness. (ABC-TV drawing by Freda Reiter via UPI)

WASHINGTON (UPI) — John W. Dean testified today that he took more than $15,000 in left-over campaign funds from the White House just before he was fired 18 months ago and the money is still in a suburban bank, untouched and drawing no interest.

Weathering a second day of cross-examination at the Watergate cover-up trial, Dean said he took the funds from the office safe in April, 1973, and handed them to his lawyers during his final days as White House counsel.

Dean, who also told the money in testimony before the Senate Watergate committee, admitted publicly for the first time Tuesday that he helped to hush up the Ellsberg break-in by withholding and destroying potential evidence.

The money — including his personal check for $4,850 to cover cash he borrowed to finance his honeymoon — was deposited in an escrow account in a Rockville, Md., bank jointly held by Dean and his attorney.

What happened to it? asked John J. Wilson, the chief lawyer for cover-up defendant H.R. Haldeman.

Dean said he put the money in his safe and in October, the day before his wedding, he took out $4,850. He said he hid his personal check to cover the withdrawal, but admitted he did not have enough money in his checking account to cover it at that time.

The following April, he said, he took out the remaining $10,350 in cash and wrote a substitute personal check for $4,850 and gave the money to his lawyers to set up the escrow account.

In Building Sale-Lease Deal Steele Accuses Bailey Of 'Illegal' Profits

HARTFORD (UPI) — Republican gubernatorial candidate Robert H. Steele said today Democratic party chairman John F. Bailey "illegally" profited from the sale of a downtown Hartford public utility building 13 years ago.

Steele, in a morning news conference, tried to tie the sale to Ella T. Grasso, the Democratic gubernatorial candidate. "It is the height of hypocrisy to hear Mrs. Grasso screaming about utility costs while her boss is lining his pockets like this."

Mrs. Grasso has alleged that the state's major utilities overcharged consumers by about $15 million since 1971 because the Public Utilities Commission used inaccurate data in granting rate increases. She called for abolition of the PUC as presently structured.

Steele charged that the building was purchased from HELCO "in direct violation of a state law that requires public service companies to obtain prior permission from the PUC before selling equipment or properties."

Key Word The check of the statute cited by Steele prohibits the sale of "essential" property or equipment without prior PUC approval. It puts the burden of obtaining permission on the utilities themselves but apparently requires nothing on the part of the purchaser.

PUC Chairman Howard Hausman, a Republican, noted that the "essential" clause in the law resulted in the utilities in deciding for themselves what was or was not essential. He said the commission has since "closed that loophole."

Future Action Uncertain Steele said he was not sure what course he would follow now that he had "exposed the deal" but was considering having Bailey make "recompense" to consumers or initiating legal action if the statute of limitations on the alleged violation had not expired.

Steele said he was not sure what course he would follow now that he had "exposed the deal" but was considering having Bailey make "recompense" to consumers or initiating legal action if the statute of limitations on the alleged violation had not expired.

Not Handpicked She said she had been informed by newsmen of Steele's attempt to tie her to his charges against Bailey. "I have never been a hand-picked candidate and I had to work long and hard for the nomination," she said.

Bailey Calls Steele's Charges "Nonsense" Steele accused the old HELCO building was more of a concern to his friends than his own with phibetitis.

MHA Switches Sites For Housing Project

By DOUG BEVINS The Manchester Housing Authority (MHA), weary from unsuccessful negotiations for purchase of an elderly housing site on Spencer St., has dropped that location in consideration for a 40-unit, state-funded project, MHA Chairman Pascal Mastrangelo said today.

Mastrangelo said the MHA has instructed its attorney, Dominic Squarito, to cease negotiations for a five-acre parcel at 195 Spencer St. and instead concentrate efforts on an one-acre site at Brainard Pl. and Johnson Tr.

Site Considered Ideal The Spencer St. property, owned by Wilber Little, had been considered the MHA location for the proposed elderly housing. MHA officials went as far as to apply for a zoning variance on that site, but they withdrew their zoning application last month before a scheduled Monday night hearing by the Zoning Board of Appeals.

Mastrangelo said the MHA had made an offer to Little and received no response. The MHA had been talking with Little for several months. The first price quoted when negotiations started was $200,000. He said Cimino will review the Brainard Pl. estate at the MHA's next meeting, Nov. 6 at 7:30 p.m. at the authority offices.

NEWS FOR SENIOR CITIZENS

By WALLY FORTIN

Hi! Here we go again, and the news coming up is that we are planning a trip to Suffolk Downs to enjoy a day watching the real horses run.

The trip is scheduled for Thursday, Nov. 7, and the price of $7 will include your bus ride, ticket to the track, and a grinder.

After the races we will stop at a Valle's Restaurant and the meal will be on you. That means you can choose whatever you wish.

So come Monday morning, we will start registering around 8:30, and will take two buses if we fill them.

Remember, the meal on the way home is up to you, and my advice is to set aside at least $5 just in case your luck isn't that good.

Speaking of Spain, remember there has been a big change in the departure time. You will be receiving some literature real soon explaining that to you.

Let's see, we start our action here at the center with Friday. In the morning we had our usual line turnout for our kitchen social night, and a good group for our beginner's ceramic class also.

In the afternoon we had tables for the following winners: C. Wilson, 127; Bob Conder, 129; James Conins, 127; Joseph Leary, 128; Ann Lehmann and Peter Urbanetti, 124; Alice Shorette, 123; Grace Windsor, Lou Weber, and Joseph Windsor, 122; Wilbrod Messier and Esther Gaudette, 120; Violet Dion, 118; Alexander Iyck, 116; Michael DeSimone, 115; and Sue Kerr, Elizabeth Cone, Esther Anderson, Albert Oulette all had 114.

Tomorrow morning we will be having our square dance lesson, and also our crewel embroidery class. Our hot meal will be Yankee pot roast, whipped potatoes, peas and pearl onions, roll with butter.

Women's Club Backs Policy To Curb Park Vandalism

BOLTON — Donna Holland, club correspondent, said the Bolton Junior Woman's Club unanimously endorsed the selection of Lawrence Shaw, park commissioner, in his attempt to reduce vandalism at Herrick Memorial Park in recent months.

At last night's meeting, Thomas Wolf, one of the four Democrats, asked to read into the records a statement he and a fellow Democrat had prepared concerning the construction issue. However, he agreed to having the matter tabled to the next meeting to allow other council members to digest the statement and act on the issue at the Nov. 18 meeting.

Wolf said the statement represents the collective views of the four minority members, who are, besides Wolf, Peter Humphry, John Gill, and Thomas Benoit.

Referring to a motion passed by the council, several weeks ago, that the matter of the sidewalk contract was handled properly, and that the matter closed, Wolf said this action was based on a memo from Town Attorney Abbot Schwabel.

St. & Peterson Rd., Sczesny's memo indicated an increase of 15.77 per cent for the additional distance to Regan Rd., not 25 per cent.

It further stated, "To add further to the confusion the original purchase order did specify Regan to Peterson, not South St. to Peterson." A copy of this order was attached to the statement.

The Democrats contended that 37.8 per cent more walk than was in the original bid, was installed, not 25 per cent as indicated in Atty. Schwabel's memo.

Commenting that the town sidewalk budget in the year in question was only $25,000, "and since other projects were in process or contemplated, the administration should, in our view, have reported the problems of the West Rd. project to the council, as follows:

"Project underestimated by 37.8 per cent; in addition drainage problems not foreseen will cost about $3,000, and additional town public works time and materials."

The Democrats contended the administration should then have requested the additional appropriation necessary in order to properly charge all of the expenses in connection with the project, to the sidewalk budget.

Finally, the Democrats stated, "There is no purpose to be served by continuing the discussion of this matter; it can only be hoped that exposing these facts will prevent future similar costly mistakes."

The Democrats said, "Standard practice refers to the extension of contracts where the town, at a subsequent date, decides to increase the perimeter of the contract."

"It appears clear that the $22,000 was paid to the contractor on the West Rd. sidewalk and that the original bid was $14,900. This represents an overrun of $7,100, or 47.6 per cent."

Finally, the Democrats stated, "There is no purpose to be served by continuing the discussion of this matter; it can only be hoped that exposing these facts will prevent future similar costly mistakes."

Council Passes Septic Tank Ordinance

COVENTRY — Monica Shea, 422-9495

The Town Council has unanimously passed an ordinance to regulate septic tank pumping and the septic disposal in town.

The ordinance requires that all pumping contractors operating in town have valid licenses signed by the director of health. Anyone operating such a business when their license expires may receive a temporary 90-day license providing such operator does not present an imminent health hazard.

Licenses will be good for one year and may not be transferred from one person or firm to another.

Equipment to be used by firm or person wishing to do business in town.

The council unanimously supported a resolution urging residents to vote yes on Question 5 on the November ballot which would amend the town charter to make the terms of office of Planning and Zoning Commission members comply with state statutes.

Allen Sandberg, town manager, informed the council that he and the chief of police had reviewed the proposed site on Haman Rd. for a bus turnaround and decided that this turnaround would be impractical because this is a private road.

Finally, the Democrats stated, "There is no purpose to be served by continuing the discussion of this matter; it can only be hoped that exposing these facts will prevent future similar costly mistakes."

Nelson Mitchell, Model Prisoner at 90

By PRESTON McGRAW
HUNTSVILLE, Tex. (UPI)—Nelson Mitchell's body has been punctured three times by bullets, he has been arrested 42 times, and is serving his fifth term in the Texas State Penitentiary for assault on a murder.

His convict friends call him "Big Truck" because he wears size 13 shoes. Officers call him "Nine Lives."
"I just don't like people messin' with me," Mitchell said of his previous trouble with the law.
But if he was tough on the outside, he is a model prisoner on the inside. Warden Harry Husbands gave Mitchell a cake on his birthday this year and he just about has the run of the place.
"Nine Lives" is 90 years old. He is serving four years for a shootout with a Fort Worth policeman who tried to interfere in an argument Mitchell was having with a friend in 1973. He was 89 at the time and was shot three times.

"I recovered from the wounds to stand trial and it was then that officers gave me the other nickname — 'Nine Lives,'" he said.
Mitchell is six feet three inches tall, weighs 165, and with broad shoulders and erect bearing, could pass for between 50 and 60.

Close-cropped gray hair helps his youthful image.
He takes care of the trees and flowers in the prison yard and is selling programs at the prison rodeo every Sunday in October.
Mitchell pointed with pride to a tall pecan tree in the prison yard. "I planted that just 50 years ago," he said.

Temperatures on icy roads become more slippery as the temperature rises. Your braking distance may nearly double if the temperature rises from ten degrees to thirty degrees. The Connecticut Safety Commission suggests you drive with the thermometer in mind.

The name parsley comes from the ancient Greek "petroselinon" meaning "celery growing among rocks."

Greek Junta Leaders Exiled

ATHENS (UPI)—Former dictator George Papadopoulos and four of his closest associates in the military junta have been arrested and exiled to a tiny island in the Aegean Sea for plotting to overthrow Greece's three-month-old civilian regime, the government announced today.

Minister of Public Order Solon Gikas said the deportation "served justice in punishing the main culprits" responsible for seven years of military rule in Greece. "He said the action made it impossible for them to leave the country."

The deportation came after the one-time military strongman and scores of his supporters were charged with mass murder in crushing a student rebellion last year.

Government sources said the five men who led the 1967 coup that toppled a civilian government and brought seven years of iron-fisted military rule were deported to the tiny island of Kea.

"These men are promoting conspiracy, provoking anxiety and creating the conditions for a disturbance of the peace and calm of the people at a time when it is called to exercise its sovereign right for the completion of democratic legality," Gikas said.

He said the five were deported for plotting against the three-month-old government that came to power when the military junta resigned because of the Cyprus crisis in July.

NEWS CAPSULES

Trudeau in France
PARIS (UPI)—Canadian Prime Minister Pierre Elliott Trudeau said today that Canada's agreement for expanded economic links to France was not a privileged partnership that would hurt his country's relations with the United States.

The Canadian leader, on a two-and-a-half day official visit to France, sought to diversify Canada's international relations and get French help in tapping his nation's huge natural resources.

He told a news conference that technical and industrial agreements with France were set up to prevent Canada's daily dependence on America.

He said the five were deported for plotting against the three-month-old government that came to power when the military junta resigned because of the Cyprus crisis in July.

Kissinger Begins Tour
COPENHAGEN (UPI)—Secretary of State Henry Kissinger arrived today in Copenhagen on the first stop of a trip to Moscow and at least nine other countries in less than a month.

During the refueling stop in the Danish capital, Kissinger conferred with Danish Foreign Minister Ove Guldberg and American ambassadors to Denmark, Sweden, Norway and Finland.

Exiled with Papadopoulos were former Deputy Premier Stylianos Pattakos and Nikolas Makrezos, former Minister of Social Services Ioannis Ladas, and the former commander of the State Intelligence Service, Michael Roufoglis.

Trade, atomic weapons, oil and feeding the hungry are among the topics of major discussion on Kissinger's latest diplomatic tour.

Although Mitchell talks freely about his 42 arrests and prison terms going back half a century, he said "I am not a thief and I am a good steady worker. I can do a better job than most youngsters I have seen both in and out of prison."
He said he has seen the Texas prison system go from the worst to the best.
"The food is good, we get good treatment, and union employees are very helpful," Mitchell said. "What's more, if you do what is expected, you should have no trouble."
Mitchell said he can

Sen. Ribicoff Favors Trimming Of Fat from Defense Budget

MILFORD (UPI) — Sen. Abraham Ribicoff, D-Conn., says he favors trimming the fat from defense spending but does not consider Connecticut's basic defense industry to be in that category.

Deploring reports the consumer price index rose 12.1 per cent more than a year ago, Ribicoff also called on President Ford to reduce interest rates, restrict food exports and remove import quotas.

He also called for putting idle farm land back into production rather than subsidizing farmers not to grow foodstuffs.

Ribicoff interviewed Tuesday at the Milford Citizen during a campaign swing through the area, said he has voted for $6 billion in defense budget cuts, including reducing American armed forces overseas and eliminating cost overruns.

"You have to analyze what you cut," he said. "You don't cut such basic projects as Pratt and Whitney engines. You cut the fat. In no way will cutting the fat have an unfavorable impact on Connecticut."

Connecticut stands third in the nation behind New York and California in defense spending, said Ribicoff, who is seeking a third term.

The Democratic senator said his Republican opponent, James H. Brannen III, has engaged in a smear campaign, trying to show that he had an improper interest in a Washington real estate firm

STAMPS AND COINS

By RUSS MacKENDRICK

Today marks the release of the three Christmas stamps in New York City. There will be a red-robed angel, a Currier and Ives, and a weather vane.

This last will be something new — a self-sticker. It is a stamp having a peelable backing with superclinging underneath. Just beware of placing it stickum-side-down on any place you don't want it to stay.

We are also warned that it might be treacherous on an album page. It is a precancel (says so right on it) for use only in five postal districts. Postmaster John Bengtson has reported that Manchester has a generous allotment for collectors.

The 1968 "Annunciation" came out both ways, plus a real snag in the way of imperforate pairs variety that is listed in Scott as No. 1363b. We will ignore this and six other errors in the Christmas series because they were not in the original script and money-wise they are out of sight.

The 1969 Winter Scene in Norway, Maine has a special twist. Here you would need five; one will be tagged, the other four, untagged, but precanceled for use in New Haven and three other cities.

In 1970 there were five designs — remember the Nativity and the four toys? Each stamp will exist tagged and precanceled, making ten in all.

No further complications to date and you should be able to pick up all thirteen years (42 stamps) for under $13, to make an instructive and appealing exhibit.

Al-Anon family groups will meet tonight at 8 at the Second Congregational Church parish house, 385 N. Main St.; Thursday at 9 p.m. at the Pathfinders Club, 102 Norman St.; and Friday at 10 a.m. at the South United Methodist Church campus. Alateen for the 12- to 20-year-old children of problem drinkers will meet Thursday at 8 p.m. at the Pathfinders Club. The family groups are open to friends and relatives living with problem drinkers.

Say it where they see it... in a Classified AD

The next one, though, the Tree and the White House, was put out in two batches, one of which was tagged for test usage in the Dayton, Ohio, area. Allow an extra dollar for this. ("Tagged" means treated with a chemical that will glow in ultra-violet light and which will activate automatic canceling equipment.)

The following year there were four designs: Holly, mistletoe, poinsettia, and confetti — both tagged and plain — so you would need eight stamps, probably adding up to $5.

In 1965 there was the angel with trumpet, and in 1966 the Madonna and Child. Both stamps exist tagged and plain. In 1967 it was a Madonna in tagged form only. So just one to buy for that year.

Football Auxiliary Plans Dance Nov. 9

The Woman's Auxiliary of Manchester Midget Football Association will sponsor a dance Saturday, Nov. 9 from 7 p.m. to 1 a.m. at the Manchester State Armory.

A stringband by Genesis Caterers of East Hartford will be featured at 7 p.m. sharp followed by dancing to the music of the "Main Street Band" from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. Set-ups and ice will be available. Door prizes will be awarded.

The event is open to the public and a limited number of tickets are available. They may be obtained by contacting Mrs. Norman A. Bjarkman, 28 Franklin St., Putnam, who has received tickets by mail and asked to send their donations with their reservations to Mrs. Bjarkman by Friday, Nov. 1 or return their tickets before that date.

This football program is presently celebrating its 20th anniversary. All profits from the fund-raising dance will be used to purchase equipment and insurance for the league's five midget football teams which include: Giants, Eagles, Patriots, Chargers and Jets and their five cheerleading teams which are coached by Mrs. Bradley Parham and sponsored by the auxiliary.

Mrs. Edward White, 45 Tracy Dr. is dance chairman and Mrs. Bjarkman is ticket chairman. No tickets will be sold at the door.

Correction
In the wedding account of Robert Hill Wheeler and James Livingston McCormick which appeared recently in The Herald, the name of Miss Wheeler's parents was incomplete. It should have read, "She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth H. Wheeler of Block Island, R.I. and Staten Island, N.Y."

ENGAGED

Miss Pamela Lynn Hobby

The engagement of Miss Pamela Lynn Hobby of South Windsor and William R. Desmarais of Rockville, has been announced by her parents, James J. Brink of Atlanta and Mrs. Mildred J. Brink of Kalamazoo, Mich.

Mr. Desmarais is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Geiger of Hebron. The bride-elect is a registered nurse and holds a BS degree in nursing from the University of Maryland. She is employed as an Army nurse in intensive care at Ft. Campbell, Ky.

Her fiancé holds a BS degree in biology from Norwich University, Northfield, Vt. and is presently a helicopter pilot in the Army Medical Service Corps at Ft. Hood, Tex.

A military wedding is planned for March 15 in Clarksville, Tenn. The couple plan a June 21 wedding.

The Rev. John O'Brien of Farmington will conduct the first in an eight-session course on the Gospel of St. Mark Thursday at 7:45 p.m. at the Church of the Assumption hall. The sessions are open to the public.

Town To Observe UN Anniversary

The 29th anniversary of the founding of the United Nations will be observed Thursday at 9:30 a.m. at Center Park. Music will be provided by the Bennett Junior High School Band under the direction of Michael Orfelli and the Round Table Singers of Manchester High School led by Miss Martha White.

ON SECOND THOUGHT

By JAN WARREN

The Match Game

A continual problem at our house, and one that has me completely baffled, is that of unmatched socks. Where do they come from? How can I find their mates? What do I do with the socks when all hope of re-match is gone?

At last count there were 46 unmatched socks sitting in the sockbox on top of my clothes dryer. I blush to admit it, but a few of those socks have been there for years. I hold on to them in the fervent hope that eventually, in some old gym bag, or coat pocket or the toe of an ice skate, I'll find their mate.

Yesterday I went through the sockbox with a very critical eye and was able to reduce the number to 33.

My husband shook his finger at the children in mock seriousness. "Watch your friends tomorrow at school," he said. "Try to find a suspicious looking character wearing one pink sock."

A character named Jimmy Jones!" added John with a chuckle. "At least my women friends give the problem the attention it deserves. Last week one of them suggested that I pin pairs of socks together before putting them in the washing machine. Her idea didn't work, but it did help me to identify my problem. At our house, the socks do not come down to the laundry room two by two. They lose their mates long before that, probably sometime between the moment they leave the feet and the moment they reach the clothes hamper. My friend had another suggestion and I think this one might work. First, I'd have to throw out all the socks in the house. Then I'd go and buy everyone in the family the same stretchy one-size-fits-all socks in the same color. Violat! All the socks would be the same. We'd never have a sock without a partner.

I'm just waiting for the right moment to sell the idea to my family.

Meet Margaret Raftery, Lady Blacksmith

MACOMB, Ill. (UPI) — After working six years behind a desk, Margaret Raftery began feeling boxed in. So now the 29-year-old Chicago bookkeeper is back in school learning a new job — horseshoeing.

Mrs. Raftery is the first woman to enroll at the Midwest Horseshoeing school here, one of about 15 schools in the nation that teach the finer points of making and fitting equine hoofwear.

"It's a good business, but I would not recommend it to a girl unless she is pretty darn serious about it," she said during a break in classes.

Five days a week, Mrs. Raftery and her 11 fellow students, who come from as far away as California and Florida, study such subjects as horse anatomy, iron forging and "principles of corrective shoeing."

Then they spend hours beating hot iron bars into custom-made horseshoes and nailing them onto horses' hooves.

"Forge work was really hard for me at first," she said. "After the first day I was ready

Hindsight Crystal Ball Tells It All

WASHINGTON (UPI) — My late father, who liked to boast that he was "the world's most humble Texan," was a man of extraordinary vision.

I wish now I had paid more attention to some of the things he told me when I was growing up.

One day when I was but a mere lad my father took me upon his knee, gave my tousled head a pat and spoke unto me thusly:

"Sunny boy," he said, "if you play your cards right you can be vice president of the United States when you grow up."

I shook my head wonderingly. "How could that come to pass?" I said. "Great wealth can be a big handicap when you are running for national office."

(Because of his extreme modesty, not many people knew that my father was one of the 15 richest men in Merkle, Tex. And I, of course, would be one of his heirs.)

"Don't worry about being too rich," my father said. "You can get into politics by running for governor here in Texas. Unlike folks in the rest of the country, Texans aren't suspicious of great wealth. In fact, a lot of money can be an asset."

I was still skeptical. "But suppose after I got to be governor, I suddenly divorced my wife and married another woman? That would just about kill my chances of getting elected vice president."

My father rubbed his chin. "It could happen, I guess. I've got a hunch that it's going to happen some day to the governors of New York and Maryland. But who said anything about your getting elected vice president?"

"How else could I get to be vice president?"

My father peered off into the distance. "Well, something could happen to the man who has the job."

"You mean he might die in office?"

"No, I mean he might have to resign to avoid being sent to jail, or something of the sort."

"And then the President appoints me as his successor?"

"Hold on," my father said. "You're getting ahead of the game. The way I've got it figured, the President would appoint someone else. But the new vice president soon becomes President and then he nominates you to replace him."

I said, "How would the new vice president get to be President so soon?"

My father tugged at his nose reflectively. "Maybe the old President will resign to avoid being impeached."

I dismissed my father's musings as too much of a long shot and went into journalism instead. But one bit of advice now makes me think he might have been president.

"If you get to be governor," he said, "don't give any of your money away."

The two most decisive events of the Civil War, the South's failure to break the Union Army at Gettysburg and the fall of Vicksburg, occurred on two consecutive days, July 3 and 4, 1863.

Captain Boycott, an English land agent whose house stands by Lake Mask, Scotland, gave his name to the English language when tenants "boycotted" him for excessive rents during the Potato Famine.

to quit and go home, it was so hard. But now I'm toughening up and developing some muscles and I'm glad I stayed in to beat office work."

Because she was the first woman to attend the school, she said she was "a little up tight about coming here. But all the guys have been very nice. They don't pick on me for anything."

On weekends Mrs. Raftery commutes back home to Chicago to be with her husband, John, a psychiatrist.

"He thinks I'm a little peculiar — and I guess he should know," she said. "But he goes along with it."

At the end of the 12-week course, which costs $800 plus room and board, successful students are ready to take the state examination to become licensed blacksmiths.

The school says the demand for blacksmiths is greater every day because there are fewer and fewer of them around.

"I've always loved horses," Mrs. Raftery said, and this is one way I can be around a lot of them without owning them. It's hard work, but I love it."

D&L Manchester and Vernon stores open tonight to 9 P.M. turning high prices upside-down!

MANCHESTER EVENING HERALD, Manchester, Conn., Wed., Oct. 23, 1974 - PAGE SEVENTEEN

MOSCOW (UPI) — "My sister's husband told me to be careful," a woman office worker said. "I'm going home early tonight — and taking a taxi."

She was one of a growing number of Muscovites troubled by persistent rumors in the capital about a psychopathic killer stalking women in Moscow.

The murder scare is growing by word of mouth in the absence of hard news in the official media. The Soviet press virtually ignores crime news unless used to point up a moral.

Soviet sources say, however, that police have visited a number of factories, offices and schools in the capital to warn women and children not to go out alone at night.

An official spokesman said police are looking for a blond man, about 25 years old, for questioning in connection with the murder of one woman.

Soviet sources said there seems to be more than usual police activity and document checks in the capital. But a Western traveler said he noticed nothing unusual during a drive to Borodino, west of the city.

The rumors grow around the capital generally say the killer has slain at least seven women in Moscow. The stories say the murders have taken place in dark lobbies or elevators of apartment buildings.

One of the more gruesome versions says Soviet authorities found the dismembered head of one of the women victims in a Moscow pond.

The rumors tend to be vague. One says the murders have taken place in the capital's Taganka district.

GOP To Open Headquarters

HEBRON

Nancy Foote
Correspondent
228-3970

The official opening of Republican Headquarters is planned for Friday at 8 p.m. Republicans have chosen the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Gray on Main St. as headquarters.

The following local and state Republican candidates have been invited to attend: Robert Steff, candidate for governor; Nathan Agostinelli, candidate for lieutenant governor; James "Buddy" Brannan, candidate for U.S. senator; F. Mac Bushey, candidate for the U.S. House of Representatives; David Odegar, incumbent candidate for State Senate; Dorothy Miller, incumbent candidate for State Representative; Dan McKeever, candidate for sheriff of Tolland County and Edward Hinchliff, incumbent candidate for judge of probate.

The public is invited and refreshments will be served. To Meet Candidates In recognition of American Education Week Oct. 22-28 the Hebron Junior Women's Club will sponsor a meet the candidates night tomorrow at Phelps Hall, St. Peter's Church at 8 p.m.

Local candidates attending are Democrat Aloysius Ahearn, candidate in the 55th Representative District, Democrat Francis Curran, candidate for sheriff of Tolland County.

Democrat J. Stewart Stockwell, candidate for judge of probate, Republican Edward Hinchliff, candidate for judge of probate, and Republican Dan McKeever, candidate for sheriff of Tolland County. Refreshments will be served by members of the Junior Women's Club. The public is invited to attend.

Al Honored Jones-Kool-Batson Unit 95, American Legion Auxiliary received an honor ribbon at the recent party held by the Department of Connecticut at the Sheraton Motor Inn in Norwich.

The ribbon was accepted by Geraldine S. Grant, president of the unit, who attended the party with Eleanor Anderson, secretary. The award was given in recognition of the unit's having reached the membership goal established by the department for the year.

This year's goal was set at 55 members. However, the unit has already reached a membership of 59.

Ahearn Aide David Albee, a member of the Democratic Town Committee in Hebron, has been named Hebron coordinator for the Committee for Al Ahearn. Ahearn is the 55th District Democratic candidate for state representative.

Albee is a teacher at Fox Middle School in Hartford. He is chairman of the Connecticut Council for Exceptional Children.

It is not necessary to wear a Halloween costume to the party. Members of the PTO have planned a spook house, games and food, including hot dogs, sweets and drinks which will be offered for sale.

The Hebron Midget Football Association will be holding its annual tag day fund raising drive Saturday from 9 a.m. to noon, with door-to-door solicitations by the team members.

This is the association's major fund raising effort of the year with all proceeds going toward the purchase of equipment and uniforms for the three teams.

All residents contributing to the fund drive will receive a booster card and those making a donation of $2 or more will receive a Hebron Rams football pennant.

Spook Party The PTO will sponsor a spook night Friday from 6:30 to 8:30 at the Hebron Elementary School. All children attending the function must be accompanied by an adult.

An admission charge of 10 cents will be made. At 7:30 p.m. there will be a costume judging for children who wish to participate.

Vernon Public Works Contract Approved

A three-year agreement for the Vernon Public Works Department was approved by the Town Council Monday night. The contract will allow cost-of-living wage increases of five per cent at six-month intervals over the three-year period.

The allowance for meals purchased when the crews are working overtime during the winter months or during other storms, will be increased from a lump sum of $60 to $75. Part-time help will be allotted $2.25 per meal instead of the present $2.

The public works union members wished to have their retirement policy comparable to that of the police department, but the council's committee felt that the situation was entirely different and therefore did not allow earlier retirement as granted policeman. The rubbish incentive program in effect on July 1, 1974, will remain in effect throughout the life of the contract. This allows a worker to be paid for his eight-hour day even in the event the work is finished in six hours.

The workers wanted to stop work if one of a requested three-member truck crew was not on the job but agreed that if someone is sick the director will try to replace him, but that work will not stop if there is no replacement.

The contract states that winter pickup schedules will start at 7 a.m. and summer schedules at 6 a.m. and that leaves and brush will be picked up if three trucks are utilized on routes. It was also agreed that the public concerning rules and regulations on the numbers of bags of leaves, brush, cardboard, paper bags, and oversize trash cans. The cans must not be more than 30-gallon.

It was also agreed that the workers will do no backtracking on routes on the same day unless special conditions or emergencies exist.

James E. McCarthy and Donald B. Eden represented the town council in the negotiations and Gerald Daniels and Stanley Snyder, the Public Works Department.

Who said your china had to be china?

It's not that we have anything to say against china. It's that Armetale metal dinnerware has a lot to say for itself. It has the look and feel of real pewter. Makes your table look as original and as different as you are. And as you can plainly see, it coordinates with any decor. But the beauty of Armetale isn't only the beauty of it. It's delightfully practical. It won't tarnish like pewter. Or chip. Or crack. Or break. Like you-know-what. And it keeps hot foods hot. And cold drinks cold.

In a word, Armetale metal dinnerware acts as beautiful as it looks. And what can be better than that for you.

Room to Stretch

That's what one New Yorker has no lack of with a long, long park bench all to himself.

By CYRIL GUERRERA
 NEW ORLEANS (UPI) — Man's search for oil has taken him to some of the most remote deserts, mountains and swamps of the globe. But none is more hostile to oil explorers than the depths of the Gulf of Mexico or the North Sea oil fields.
 New methods of installing and operating well platforms and pipelines had to be developed for deep water operations because conventional diving procedures were limited to shallower depths.
 Taylor Diving and Salvage Co., a Belle Chasse, La., firm created just as the demand for oil industry diving was starting to increase, has pioneered a method by which men can work farther below the water's surface than ever before in the search for oil.
 Taylor Diving uses a saturation system whereby divers live in and work out of a barge mounted deck chamber that keeps them at pressure equal to the depth of the water where they're assigned. The system eliminates the long and tedious decompression procedure that was necessary after each dive made by conventional methods.
 "Surface diving is used only with the shorter, simpler jobs," says Ken W. Wallace, senior vice president of Taylor and a former master diver in charge of the Naval Experimental Diving Unit.
 "If an assignment becomes more involved, it is immeasurably safer and more effective to use the saturation system."
 "In saturation diving, the diver's body is completely saturated with the same exotic gases he breathes."
 This usually means a mixture of helium and oxygen. The divers live in a nitrogen free atmosphere because that is the gas that can cause them to suffer from "rapture of the deep."
 Taylor's system operates with the deck chamber and a submersible diving bell with a hatch between them. When the dive is made, the bell is detached from the chamber and lowered into the water — to 200, 300, 400 feet or whatever depth the work must be done on submerged oil equipment.
 Aside from inspecting existing installations on the bottom of the seas, divers are welding new pipelines and platform supports and can repair damaged ones.
 Even at relatively shallow depths — 90 or 100 feet — saturation diving can save money and time by allowing men to spend more time below, Wallace said.
 He estimates the saturation diving technique cuts the time factor in half for such jobs, but the saving increases rapidly as the depths increase.
 The deepest oil pipelines off the Gulf Coast are in 340 feet of water. But operations in the rapidly developing North Sea area commonly occur in 450 feet, and oil companies are looking to extend drilling off California to 800 or 1,000 feet in the foreseeable future, Wallace said.

Cheney Harriers Triumph, Assured of Winning Year

Assuring itself of a winning ledger in its initial campaign yesterday was the Cheney Tech cross country team with a 24-11 victory over Coventry High and a forfeit win over Windham Tech at Coventry. Coach Gerry Blanchard's Beavers now sport a 7-3 mark with a tri and dual meet remaining on the slate.

Patriot harrier Mike Fusco took top honors touring his home 2.8-mile course in 14:52. Next across the line was Cheney's Andy West, his best outing since rejoining the squad after an illness. George Trian continued his fine campaign with a third placement with Ed Dezzo and Dave Mills fifth and sixth respectively.

Beaver harrier John Matthews, a Coventry resident, had one of his best races finishing eighth. Also running were Rob Caron (11th), freshman John Kuchinsky (12th), John Scarito (13th) and freshman Ed West (15th).
Next on the calendar for Cheney is a tri-meet Thursday at Granby High with East Windsor High also competing. Results: 1. Fusco (C) 14:52, 2. West (CT), 3. Trian (CT), 4. Knapp (C), 5. Dezzo (CT), 6. Mills (CT), 7. Simmons (C), 8. Matthews (CT), 9. Loughlin (C), 10. Gankofski (C).

Howe Due Yale Double Threat

Greater Hartford hockey fans will have an opportunity to see the greatest scorer in hockey history when Gordie Howe and his AVCO Cup champion Housatonic Aeros invade the Easter States Coliseum in Springfield tonight for a date with the Whitecaps at 7:30.
The amazing 49-year-old Howe, who scored 786 goals in a 25-year career in the NHL and 31 last year with the Aeros, also holds NHL records for most seasons played (25), and most assists (1,023), and most points (1,897). Aiding the elder Howe is his two sons, Mark and Marty and the Howe family combined to stir more hockey talk than any other trio in hockey history.

BOSTON (UPI) — After living in the shadows of Dartmouth and Harvard for two years, Yale could make a double killing this season.
Not only is an Ivy League title a distinct possibility, first place in the UPI major college poll for New England is also within grasp. At the moment, the Elis have a large 17-point advantage over their nearest competitor, Harvard, as they've rolled up 57 points along with 12 first-place votes.
That's what winning four straight football games can do to a team.
In two league games to date, Yale has allowed a two-point safety to Colby in a 42-2 win. Against Brown, the Bulldogs had little trouble picking up a 24-0 win. In the first two games, Yale scored easy wins over Connecticut and Colgate.
Harvard rode a 29-point third quarter against Cornell into second place in the poll, with 50 points without a first-place vote. The Crimson have lost but one game this season, a 24-21 squeaker to Rutgers.
Boston College, after a loss to Pittsburgh, has fallen to third, with 44 points, and three first-place votes.
Behind the Eagles is the Yankee Conference-leading Massachusetts Minutemen, with 31 points. UMass used field goal kicker Greg Sprout to squeak past Rhode Island, 17-1, last week.
The University of Maine, fresh from an upset win over Connecticut, occupies fifth spot on the list with 15 points.
The balloting is done by coaches in the New England region, and points are awarded on a descending scale, with each first-place vote worth five points.

Students Protest College Runners Bow to UConn JV

HARTFORD (UPI) — Black students protesting alleged discrimination on the basketball teams today ended a nine-hour sit-in at the University of Hartford's gymnasium.
Authorities at the private school said about 85 students entered the gym about 3:30 p.m. Tuesday and met with university officials to discuss their demands. A school spokesman said the group left the gym about 12:25 a.m. after the issue was resolved, although she had no further details.
The students said blacks were being discriminated against because the team has only two black players on the 14-man roster.
Basketball Coach Gordon McCullough denied the allegations, saying he has been trying to recruit more blacks for his team but sufficient scholarship funds were not available.
The students presented the university officials with a list of five demands and said they would not leave the gym until the matter was settled. The demands included that:
—More minority students be named to the faculty-student committee that makes university athletic policy.
—Basketball players be judged on their ability and not their race.
—Black assistant coach Bobby Knight be given more authority to make decisions on athletics.
—Potential team members be given at least one week to display their ability. There are about 200 blacks at UH out of a total enrollment of 3,500, school officials said.

College Runners Bow to UConn JV

Bowing to a strong UConn JV cross country team yesterday was Manchester Community College, 16-47, at the Cougar's course. The loss drops MCC to 7-2 for the campaign.
UConn's Dick Sparkowski led the way touring the 4.8-mile course in 24:11.5. Three Husky harriers followed before Larry Woykowski could garner fifth place for the hosts.
Results: 1. Sparkowski (UC) 24:11.5, 2. Reed (UC), 3. Martin (UC), 4. Russell (UC), 5. Woykowski (MCC), 6. Beaver (UC), 7. Rivers (UC), 8. Allen (UC), 9. Arnold (UC), 10. Hintersmister (UC).

Moscow Awarded Summer Olympics

VIENNA (UPI) — Moscow, today awarded the 1980 summer Olympic Games, will be the first city in a communist country to host the Games.
The Soviet capital, which has a population of about 7.4 million, can boast some of the finest facilities in the sports world. No other city can match its 69 stadiums, 230 gymnasiums, 22 Olympic swimming pools, 110 soccer fields and so on.
But that will not be the main interest of officials or spectators or even athletes in six year's time. For the Olympics will put the Soviet bureaucracy to the stiffest test it will have faced.
Olympic rules stipulate that not only must all eligible athletes be invited, no matter what their country or religion, they also guarantee the rights for any foreign sports fan to come to Moscow to watch the Games and compete in the movement in Russia itself.
"There is little danger that the new sites will not be finished on time — a perennial scare at the Olympics.
One aspect of the Games with the Russians is that they expect to have no trouble with security, although Paploy's statement that "we shall try to provide security without being observed" was, according to one IOC member, "perhaps a little exaggerated."
There is little danger that the new sites will not be finished on time — a perennial scare at the Olympics.

Islanders Win Again

NEW YORK (UPI) — The New York Islanders refused to conform. The Islanders, formed only two years ago, were supposed to spend this season at the bottom of the National Hockey League's Division One, trailing Philadelphia, the New York Rangers and Birmingham. But things haven't quite turned out that way.
The Islanders won their first game against only one loss and a tie Tuesday night when Bob Bourne scored with 45 seconds left to spark a 2-1 triumph over the Atlanta Flames. The victory left the Islanders tied for first in Division One with Philadelphia, which is setting the Stanley Cup Champion.
Bourne was set up by Denis Borde and Gary Howatt, who broke through the Flame defense to beat goalie Phil Housley. Gerry Hart's goal gave New York a 1-0 lead but Pat Quinn tied it early in the final period.
"I split Noel Price and Pat Quinn when Price went toward Gary Howatt," said Bourne, who was obtained this year from the expansion Kansas City Scouts. "Then I was in alone and I wasn't that hard. I missed there when I was almost alone that I should have had."

'Machine Gun' Stars With Conquistadors

NEW YORK (UPI) — A three-pointer and a short jumper to pull the Sounds to within one, 107-106, with 40 seconds left, Daniels gave the Sounds, 1-2, a chance at victory when he blocked a shot to give Memphis the ball, with 23 seconds remaining but Lewis' final shot was short.
In the only other ABA game Tuesday night, the Spirits of St. Louis beat the Virginia Squires 118-112.
Johnny Neumann scored 40 for Virginia but Joe Caldwell's scoring and Tom Owens' rebounding combined to nullify Neumann's effort.
The Spirits needed a big game from Caldwell and Owens after Marvin Barnes, the talented 6-9 rookie from Providence, led the game with a sprained ankle with 11:14 left in the first half. Barnes scored 17 points and had eight rebounds before leaving. Caldwell ended up with 19 points.

Area Schoolboy Soccer Coventry Ups Standard, Rockville Battles to Tie

Having one of its poorest outings of the campaign, the Coventry High soccer team still had enough for an easy 4-1 win over Charter Oak Conference foe East Hampton High yesterday at the Patriots field.
Coach George Parker's tournament-bound Patriots received scoring punches from Rick Stevenson, Brian Whipple, Gordon Phillips and Brian Carlson in topping the Bellingers. Joe Wazniak tallied the lone goal for the visitors, booting home a loose ball after Patriot defender Billy Goodale lost control. Coventry upped its ledger to 8-2-1 with three games left on the slate.
Also in the COC, Rham High whipped Bacon Academy, 5-1, in Helox. Co-Captain Ed Gardner and Chuck Beck each had a pair of goals with Skip Massey also scoring for the 8-3-1 Saints. Rham, as well as Coventry will be in the Class C State Soccer Tournament.

Penney's JV's Blank Indians

Defense dominated as Penney High blanked Manchester, 8-0, in jayvee football action Monday.
Two Tribe penalties gave the Black Knights first down in good field position and they capitalized with the only score three minutes before the intermission.
Playing well for the locals were quarterback Bob Reault, Dave Lynn, who latched onto four passes for 80 yards, and fullback Ralph Donadio. Defensively, Mark Elliot and safety Dave Derewianski were standouts.
The Falcons opened the scoring in the first period at 9:50 with Skip Ableski scoring. The tally remained in the 2:10 mark of the third quarter as junior Greg Kelly found the range for the Eagles. The teams fought through two overtime periods without a verdict rendered.
The 6:11-Et booters continued their season Tuesday trekking to Coventry High for a clash with the Patriots.

Successful East Ends Losing Skein As Booters Tie St. Paul

Successful to date in his first season as varsity cross country coach at Manchester High is George Sulter. The latter turned out several fine squads at Hilling Junior High before taking over the Indians.
The JV squad is now 1-3-1 with its next encounter Monday at Enfield High.

Bulls Victimized In Final Seconds

Chicago Bulls players on the court during a game.

Defenders With Title-Bound Indian Booters

NEW YORK (UPI) — John McGlocklin jokingly asked somebody to go get Bill Hewitt and let him dress in the Milwaukee Bucks dressing room.
But maybe the request for the Chicago Bulls' forward wasn't made jokingly, after all.
Because Hewitt was personally victimized twice in 20 seconds and helped give the Bulls a 92-90 win over the Bulls Tuesday night. It was the first win for the Bulls in three games and the first loss for the Bucks, who have also played three.
The game was not decided until Lucius Allen made two free throws with two seconds left. But Hewitt had the opportunity to give the Bulls the game and he blew it.
Chicago led 90-86 when Bob Dandridge made a layup with 30 seconds left. Hewitt broke downcourt and was underneath the Chicago basket with nobody within 20 feet of him when Nate Thurmond lofted a perfect pass that hit Hewitt right in the hands.
But he bobbed the ball out of bounds, tried to save it but threw it back into the hands of Dandridge, and the Bucks called time out.
"I felt empty when that happened," Hewitt said. "I had a chance to lock up the game but I let it go. I was so nervous I was in too much of a hurry to get it up and I just lost it. I felt terrible."
After the time out, Dandridge took advantage of Hewitt's preoccupation with his blunder by working him into the basket and spinning for a 12-foot jump shot that he made with 10 seconds left.
The Bulls called time out and set up a play but Matt Goukas threw a bad pass which Allen intercepted. He dribbled the length of the floor and was fouled by Rick Adelman.
Allen made the two free throws giving the Bucks, who have been struggling without Kareem Abdul-Jabbar, their first win of the season.
After the game Coach Larry Costello admitted it was a "good feeling to finally win."
"Nobody came around to shake my hand last Saturday," Costello said referring to the Bulls' 87-70 decimation of the Bucks in

Quarterbacks in NFL Shift Like Chess Pieces

NEW YORK (UPI) — National Football League quarterbacks were shifted like chess pieces Tuesday as the trading deadline passed and it may have set the stage for a monumental move next season.
Three quarterbacks—all veterans—changed uniforms Tuesday and one trade course set the stage for Joe Namath's move to the West Coast next season.
In the most complex deal, the Dallas Cowboys sent Craig Morton, a 10-year veteran who repeatedly has asked to be traded after being relegated to second-string behind Roger Staubach, to the New York Giants for their No. 1 draft choice.
"He's got experience," said Giant Coach Bill Arnsparger. "He's played in big games—Super Bowls and playoffs—and that kind of experience is hard to find. He can help us reach a higher level. Snead was not able to play under the constant pressure here. He's getting old and his knees are hurting him. He would be ideal for San Francisco where he could play a quarter or a half and help their young quarterbacks."
Had's trade was the most stunning. He took a mediocre Ram club last season and led it to a 12-2 record. But he began experiencing arm pains during the off-season and had to consult Dr. Robert Kerlan, the noted orthopedic specialist.
"He told his arm was 'getting old' and prescribed a series of exercises. Had reportedly had not been through smoothly in the first five games, often hesitating in picking out receivers. He refused to comment on the trade and there was a possibility he wouldn't make any comment until he reached Green Bay."
Packer Coach Dan Devine, who has been looking for a top quarterback ever since he took over at Green Bay, was elated with Had's acquisition but said that Jack Concannon would start Sunday against Detroit since Had would not have ample time to absorb his system.
Matuszak walked out of the Oiler camp this summer and announced he had signed with the WFL Texans. He was playing a game against the then New York Stars when he was served with papers on the sideline prohibiting him from playing with anyone but the Oilers. His case has been in the courts ever since and he recently opened up a ball-bowling business in Austin, Tex.

WFL Blazers' Margin At Stake With Hornet

NEW YORK (UPI) — The World Football League's Eastern Division title is in the new league's lone question mark and it will get a new complexion tonight.
That's what the Florida Blazers are in Charlotte, N.C., to face the Hornets. Florida holds a one-game edge over the Hornets, the former New York Stars, and a Charlotte victory tonight would send the teams into the final three games of the regular season in a tie.
Florida won the first meeting 17-15 in New York when rookie Tommy Reason sliced for 179 yards through torrential wind and rain. The Blazer attack was bogged down in that one quarterback Bob Davis was injured in the first half and rookie Eric Crone finished up.
But Davis, who leads the WFL in passing percentage with a .561 mark, will be at the controls again tonight. Reason

Democrats Start Thinking Again Of a Landslide

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Democratic landslide talk is starting to be heard again. After Richard Nixon resigned from the presidency, most Democrats quit predicting that they were going to clobber the Republicans badly in congressional and state elections this year. But after President Ford pardoned Nixon, Democrats and some neutral observers began seeing visions of a GOP disaster Nov. 5 once again.

While the pardon obviously had political impact (25 percent of those who answered a recent Detroit News poll said it made them so mad they

Investment Chatter

NEW YORK (UPI) — The Dines Letter, which predicted between two and five irregular rallies would set in when the Dow Jones industrial average hit 626, says "the first of these rallies has just been completed." Since the market now is in a downturn, a new and possibly big trading rally could begin shortly, the letter contends. But it warns investors these rallies are treacherous. "We think the market is going to get irregularly better for awhile, and then much worse," the letter adds.

"This market is going to head much higher, despite gloom-and-doom reports you should expect to encounter along the way," according to the Predictor, a West Hartford, Conn. firm. The worst of double-digit inflation and historically high interest rates are past, it says. The firm urges the investor to "be a buyer on any and all days."

"As in the late September and early October decline, the Dow Jones industrial average during last week's consolidation was much weaker than the overall market," says E.F. Hutton. It points out the Dow suffered a loss for the week while the Standard & Poor's and New York Stock Exchange industrial indices gained ground. Last week's performance of the major indicators suggests "the picture of a market that has not yet exhausted its near-term upside potential," the firm adds.

KENNETH FRANKLING
PROVIDENCE, R.I. (UPI) — Housepainter Edward P. Beard figures he's a shoe-in for Congress but campaigns just as hard against Republican opponent Vincent J. Rotondo as he did for the Sept. 10 primary upset of incumbent Rep. Robert O. Tierman, D-R.I.
"The Second District has been a Democratic seat since 1940. They consider it a safe district. But I don't see it that way," said the 34-year-old maintenance worker from the Rhode Island School of Design where most of the painters work on canvas, not walls.
"You have to put in a tough fight. I'm on my third pair of shoes now. They're nice looking, but they don't make them like years ago. I don't think that's going to happen," Beard said.

The only measured difference between his stunning campaign against Tierman — a low-budget, talk with the people drive — and the battle with Rotondo is that there is a bit more organization now, with Beard sticking to a schedule.
The Democratic nominee, a one-term state representative, still voices concern over campaign funding and figures he may be "in the hole" after Nov. 5 because he is getting little help. He spent about $9,000 in the Tierman fight and used a great deal of it to support his wife and two children during his full-time campaign that lasted six months. At the end, he had $40.15 in his pocket.
"The only way I could lose the election would be maybe to commit murder or something completely ridiculous. I don't think that's going to happen," Beard said.

Rotondo, Beard's senior by 20 years, is a successful Johnston businessman who said he is running "to take care of the people at home," the same basic position his opponent holds. Both men believe there should be a limit on campaign spending in congressional races, somewhere in the $20,000-$25,000 range with the funding to come from tax checkoff contributions. Like Beard, Rotondo's campaign spending is limited.
Down by 50 percent in an early poll, Rotondo admits he's the underdog but predicted a turnaround by Nov. 5.
"The people of Rhode Island deserve something more than just plain Democrats, said the underdog but predicted a turnaround by Nov. 5.
"The major difference between Beard and me is character. I think I have more character," Rotondo said, calling his opponent "arrogant, abrasive, violent."
He prompted an FBI investigation last week, saying of the helm of state government, has not met Republican challenger James W. Nugent in fact-to-face debate since an initial Sept. 30 forum in which he questioned Nugent's credibility.

Nugent continues to use a campaign pitch which says Rhode Islanders pay the highest estimated combination of taxes in the country, which Noel dismissed as "preposterous" and is unsupported by federal figures on the per capita tax burden in all 50 states.
Noel's campaign is geared toward his "record of accomplishment" in the first term while Nugent says he wants "to help people who truly can't help themselves" and reduce state spending.
A recent poll showed Noel leading Nugent by 34 percent.

By MICHAEL J. CONLON
WASHINGTON (UPI) — A tapioca shortage?

Maybe. And we're talking about the packaged pudding mix, not the raw material that makes it up.

The question arose after a reader in Texas wrote that it was impossible to buy tapioca pudding in her area — except for the already made canned variety which she doesn't care for.

"There has been none in our stores for over a year," she wrote. "The health stores tell me they order it from California but it never comes. Nor are they told why."

The Agriculture Department tells us it's news to them. Tapioca comes from the root of the cassava plant, widely grown in Thailand, Brazil and other countries.

The starch from the plant is imported into the United States as a flour. Imports have gone up and down, the department says, but they appeared to be going strong during the first six months of this year.

The supply of the basic cassava root, they add, is "practically unlimited." But a check with the Grocery Manufacturers of America turns up a slightly different story.

"There is somewhat of a shortage" of the packaged pudding, a researcher there tells us. "And it could become more so."

The reason, it turns out, is that tapioca is being diverted for use as a substitute for cornstarch. And cornstarch is in short supply for the same reason all feed grains are under pressure — one, export demands, poor weather conditions and so on.

In addition some tapioca is being used in the production of animal feed — substituting again for the more expensive usual feed grains.

At this point the shortages of packaged tapioca pudding mix appear to be isolated in a few places in the country. There are no predictions on how severe the shortages eventually will become.

The hours from midnight to dawn are best for observing most meteors. It is common to see five to 10 random meteors every morning hour. A "meteor shower" may exhibit 50 or more meteors each hour. These showers are caused by the earth's passage through streams of meteoroids left by comets whose original path orbited the sun. The World Almanac says.

BOOK REVIEWS

Dr. Frigo, by Eric Ambler. (Albany, N.Y., $8.95) The setting is a Caribbean island. The hero, Dr. Frigo, has a friend given to eccentric behavior. Late one night, without giving a particular reason, she insists on their having a swim. Dr. Frigo acquiesces reluctantly and they bathe in the pool of an adjacent hillside because of the misallocation of the hotel's North American architect.

The vignette is a good example of the deft technique of Eric Ambler, the imaginative writer of suspense stories. At once we are instructed as to the malleable character of Dr. Frigo and of the intrusion of blundering outside forces onto a tropical island.

Ambler deals in distinct people and exact places and, if, as in this latest effort, he stretches his narrative almost to the point of tedium, the story is saved by the reader's involvement with the stratagems of the gentle Dr. Frigo and his powerful antagonists.

Rockefeller's Woes Make Wilson Reel

ALBANY, N.Y. (UPI) - Nelson Rockefeller is gone, but his confirmation problems cast a long shadow over the election success of his hand-picked successor.
Rockefeller's nomination to be vice president has run into unexpected difficulty over cash gifts to former associates and because of a book extremely critical of gubernatorial foe Arthur Goldberg which was financed by brother Laurence Rockefeller.

Idealism Second In Turkish Issue

By PHIL NEWSON
UPI Foreign News Analyst
The Turks have told the United States it can take it or lump it so far as some $200 million in U.S. aid is related to further Turkish actions in Cyprus.
The American Congress passed measures restricting aid to Turkey as a result of its military invasion of Cyprus with the use of U.S.-supplied equipment. Twice President Ford vetoed the congressional action.
Finally, the measure continuing U.S. military aid to the Turks until Dec. 10 if the Turks send no more U.S.-supplied "implements of war" to Cyprus, provided a temporary solution.

And when Rockefeller takes a punch, Nelson Wilson reels. "Every time there's a new 'Rocky' headline it can't help us," one GOP leader told UPI. Wilson was Rockefeller's lieutenant governor for 15 years before taking over when his mentor resigned 10 months ago. But the polls show that Wilson, who lacks the flamboyant campaign style of Rockefeller, has fallen badly behind his Democratic opponent, Rep. Hugh L. Carey.

Both men are saying pretty much what has been said in past campaigns - Wilson charging the Democrats under Carey would spend the state into oblivion; Carey charging Wilson now is the leader of the former "Rockefeller" team he says has ruled the state too long.

And the controversy surrounding Rockefeller's confirmation is adding to the gloomy GOP picture.
Because Rockefeller is such a prominent force in the state, every new twist of the confirmation story monopolizes headlines and television time, shunting state issues to the background.
Recent reports concerning Rockefeller's more than $2 million in gifts and loans to associates while he was governor have stirred new questions about big money in politics.
In addition, the revelation that Laurence Rockefeller invested $60 million in the publication of an unflattering biography of Goldberger, Rockefeller's Democratic opponent in 1970, have dredged up the whole question of political "dirty tricks."

For the state Republicans, who had hoped the shadow of Watergate would be dispelled by the resignation of Richard M. Nixon, the Rockefeller controversy and President Ford's pardon of Nixon have hurt badly.
Another statewide race in which Watergate is a factor in

Massachusetts: GOP Hopes Dim and Dimming

By RICHARD GAINES
BOSTON (UPI) - In Massachusetts, the only state to vote for George McGovern in 1972, the bad things to be in this year are Republican or incumbent.
Gov. Francis W. Sargent is both.
Sargent doubtless will lead the GOP ticket again this fall. But it apparently won't be good enough to win.
"If Sargent could shake hands with every voter in Massachusetts," a political writer said recently, "there is no one who could beat him."

head of a well-tuned statewide organization on the potent issue of inflation, which has hit the United States hard and Massachusetts, with an unemployment rate of 8.1 per cent, harder.
Although Sargent has gone to great lengths to dissociate himself from both the Watergate scandal and from the state and national Republican organization, it seems doubtful he can make up the ground needed against his liberal challenger, Michael S. Dukakis.

Dukakis, ahead of Sargent by at least 10 per cent in every known poll, is running at the Dukakis is a veteran campaigner, a former state representative and the 1970 Democratic nominee for lieutenant governor. Perhaps fortunately for him, he has been out of the government for four years.

Sargent, aware he represents the distrusted "ins" and Dukakis the "outs," referred to the contrast in a televised debate. Dukakis, the governor said, "has been running for state office as long as I have."
"He's just been lucky enough to lose and keep himself out of trouble."
There is little difference in political philosophy. But their emphasis are different and they ask the voters to choose between social reform and economic relief as top priority.

Sargent says "this governor will not cut back" on social reforms in the prisons, delinquency, and mental health which have been the cornerstone of his 9 1/2-year incumbency, and he asserts they have not compounded the taxpayers' heavy burden. His emphasis is on the reforms.
Dukakis says he can do something about the economy or at least achieve cut efficiency in the government - while keeping faith with the social reforms of the Sargent years. His emphasis is on the economy.

Neither Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, a Democrat, nor Sen. Edward W. Brooke, a Republican, is up for reelection this year.
Plums are never picked from the tree; they either fall or are shaken to the ground which has been pulverized to a soft cushion.

They Will Be
Kids will be kids, even when they're goats, and disregarding momma's advice is not an exclusive human trait as is evident by this scene at Chicago's Brookfield Zoo. The kid attempted to scale the zoo's rocky slopes alone while a concerned mother watched he made it safely to the ground.

Maine Girds For Battle Against Worm
AUGUSTA, Maine (UPI) - Pulp and paper companies going timberlands within the Maine forestry district have pledged their support for a program that would destroy the potentially dangerous spruce budworm.

The paper industry volunteered to set up and operate field offices and camps for the personnel conducting the extensive aerial spraying program planned for next June, he said.

The committee will coordinate and furnish manpower needed in gathering and analyzing data necessary to develop and carry out the program.

The program, to be financed equally by the state and federal government, will be presented to the next session of the legislature.

Bulldogs Trounce Coventry

BOLTON
 Donna Holland remaining undefeated, the Bolton Bulldogs senior pony football team trounced the Coventry Panthers, 55-0, for its seventh win of the campaign Sunday at Herrick Memorial Park.

Paul Groves tallied two touchdowns on runs of four and 15 yards. Randy Fish also had two TDs on jaunts of two and 30 yards.

ABOUT TOWN

Nutmeg Forest, Tall Cedars of Lebanon, will visit Friendship Lodge of Masons Thursday and preside over Master Mason degree. The meeting at the Masonic Temple starts at 7:30. Presiding as worshipful master will be Grand Tall Donald Babbs. Officer dress is tax.

Bentley School PTA will sponsor a potluck for adults only Thursday at 7:30 p.m. in the school cafeteria. Norman Fendell will speak on the proposed Regional Occupational Training Center. Parents are reminded to bring their own silverware and a food dish to serve eight.

Tigers Deadlocked
 The Bolton Tigers Midget A-B squad tied Coventry, 6-6, Sunday at HMP.

Scott Spear scored the only touchdown for Bolton.

C Team Wins
 The Bolton Tigers midget C team won its first game of the year over Coventry Saturday at HMP.

Intercepting passes for the Bulldogs were Mark Ouellette, Hussey and Fontanella. Pouncing on fumbles were Jerry Chemerka and Brian Molde. Craig Jensen and Ryba added the conversions.

The Bulldogs have another conference tilt remaining on Sunday in Enfield. If Bolton wins, it'll face Tolland which appears to be the division champ. They will play at an as yet undetermined site Nov. 10 for the Eastern Connecticut Pony Football Conference league championship.

Junior Pony Team Ties
 The Bolton Bulldogs junior pony football team deadlocked Somers Saturday at HMP, 4-4.

Somers scored in the first half while Bolton came back in the second half with a touchdown by Joe Fontanella.

Playing well were Dennis Monahan, Brian Molde and Donny Assard.

Child Killed In Newington Shooting
 NEWINGTON, Conn. (UPI) — Police say they are waiting for the mother and stepfather of a young girl killed Monday to come out from under heavy sedation to determine what happened.

Authorities found the body of Pamela O'Neil, 9, dead on her bed at the family's apartment at the Colonial Manor complex. She had been shot twice, in the head and arm.

Her stepfather, Ronald Zdzianis, 33, was found in the living room shot in the chest. Her mother, Mrs. Barbara Zdzianis, 33, was in a neighbor's apartment with a gunshot wound in her back.

An early police report said the shooting was the result of a family squabble.

Police said they were called to the scene by frantic neighbors who heard the shots, but they surrounded the building and evacuated some nearby families before entering the Zdzianis apartment.

The extra precaution was taken, officials said, because of the murder of six persons Saturday in nearby New Britain. New Britain General Hospital reported Mr. and Mrs. Zdzianis were in serious but stable condition.

SOCIAL SECURITY QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Q. I am 61 and my former husband is 65. We were separated for a year and then divorced after 32 years of marriage. I haven't worked long enough to collect Social Security on my own record. Can I collect anything on his work record?

A. When your former husband retires you may be entitled to benefits on his account. As long as you were married 20 years or more; attained 62; not remarried; and been receiving substantial contributions from your former husband in accordance to a written agreement; or there was a court order in effect for substantial contribution to your support from your former husband.

Q. I receive Supplemental Security Income benefits. I have a foster child in my home, and receive payments from the agency which placed him here. Will these payments reduce my Supplemental Security Income checks?

A. Foster care payments will not affect your Supplemental Security Income payments if the child is not entitled to Supplemental Security Income payments himself, is living with you, and was placed in your home by a licensed public or non-profit private child placement or child care agency.

Q. My father gets monthly Supplemental Security Income payments. He recently took a job as a messenger. Is it true that he would have to pay a penalty if he doesn't report the change in his income.

A. Yes. Payments can be reduced for not reporting, or for a delay in reporting, a change in income, living arrangements, and other circumstances.

Q. If I win money in a contest, will it count against my Supplemental Security Income payments?

A. Cash prizes do not count as income.

Q. I have been supporting my grandson since his parents died two years ago. I will retire in two months. Can my grandson get payments on my work record?

A. Yes. Generally, children who are under age 18 and dependent on a grandparent for support can get Social Security payments on the grandparent's record if both the children's parents are deceased or disabled.

 NEWINGTON, Conn. (UPI) — Police say they are waiting for the mother and stepfather of a young girl killed Monday to come out from under heavy sedation to determine what happened.

Authorities found the body of Pamela O'Neil, 9, dead on her bed at the family's apartment at the Colonial Manor complex. She had been shot twice, in the head and arm.

Her stepfather, Ronald Zdzianis, 33, was found in the living room shot in the chest. Her mother, Mrs. Barbara Zdzianis, 33, was in a neighbor's apartment with a gunshot wound in her back.

An early police report said the shooting was the result of a family squabble.

Police said they were called to the scene by frantic neighbors who heard the shots, but they surrounded the building and evacuated some nearby families before entering the Zdzianis apartment.

The extra precaution was taken, officials said, because of the murder of six persons Saturday in nearby New Britain. New Britain General Hospital reported Mr. and Mrs. Zdzianis were in serious but stable condition.

AREA POLICE REPORT

ELLINGTON
 Steven Mack, 19, of Sunset Rd., Ellington, was charged with failure to grant one-half the highway and operating without a license Tuesday, in connection with the investigation of a two-car accident on Rt. 88, Ellington.

Police said Mack was also issued a warning for driving with unsafe tires.

Police said Mack was southbound on Rt. 88 and said a cat ran in front of his car causing him to swerve out of control and strike a car coming

TOLLAND
 State Police are investigating a break reported at Bancroft Cr. on Rt. 83, Tolland, Tuesday.

Police said nine cases of anti-freeze, about 34 gallons, were taken in the break. It is valued at $294.40.

Not For Money
 VILLANOVA, Pa. (UPI) — Michael Wilson, 26, insists that he is not marrying Rachel Fittler, a Rockefeller-in-law more than twice his age, just for money.

Despite that, the 78-year-old millionaire spinster had to give him the money for their engagement ring.

Wilson, who once lived in the United States for five years, said that Miss Fittler's legal and financial advisers expressed "a little opposition" to the marriage, and she had to give him about $15 for the engagement ring.

Miss Fittler, an aunt of Harry Rockefeller, the vice president-designate's wife, was a co-heir in 1943 to her mother's $2.5 million estate.

Ray Hearings In Progress
 MEMPHIS, Tenn. (UPI) — James Earl Ray, confessed assassin of Martin Luther King Jr., was calmed, warned and browbeaten into pleading guilty by his former lawyer, Ray's current attorney said.

At a federal hearing Tuesday to determine if Ray can get a new trial, attorney Bernard Fensterwald also said Ray in mail was photostated and sent to the prosecutor's office while Ray was held in a county jail before entering his guilty plea. Witnesses Tuesday confirmed Ray's mail had been copied.

At the same time, Robert I. Livingston, another attorney for Ray, said the defendant had not been given enough time to prepare his testimony and would not take the stand today.

Ray was transported to Memphis from the Nashville state penitentiary, where he is serving 99 years for the King assassination April 4, 1968, just 36 hours before he entered the courtroom of U.S. District Judge Robert M. McRae Jr. Tuesday, flanked by federal marshals.

Complete Rockefeller Audit
 WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Joint Tax Committee has completed auditing Nelson A. Rockefeller's income tax returns for six years and turned its final report over to the two committees investigating his nomination as vice president.

The confidential report was prepared by more than 40 auditors who have pored over Rockefeller's financial records for the past six weeks.

Peter W. Rodino, D-N.J., chairman of the House Judiciary Committee, cut short a campaign trip today to fly to Washington to read the report.

Disrupt Evening News
 WASHINGTON (UPI) — Two men and two women protesting the treatment of what they said were "political prisoners" in Northern Ireland made an unscheduled appearance on the ABC-TV evening news program Tuesday.

They walked in front of the cameras during a live broadcast from the Washington studio, where Howard K. Smith was delivering the news, and tried to make a statement.

"The disruption was brief while the program was switched back to New York and the program was continued from there," the network said.

The incident occurred during the 6 p.m. edition of the show.

Fitts Opposes Pierce Rd. Bicycle Path

SOUTH WINDSOR

Judy Kuehnel Correspondent 644-1364

South Windsor Councilman Howard (Happ) Fitts has issued a statement in which he said he "strongly disapproved" of the decision to construct a bicycle way along Pierce Rd. The bikeway is part of the $12,000 construction project which also involves widening of the road, reconstruction of the road bed, capped sewers and an ecology observation station overlooking the Podunk River. "The bikeway from nowhere to nowhere is a mistake," said Fitts. He said that the $20,000 to be spent for the facility would "serve a minuscule portion of our population when it could be used much more effectively."

"It is an example of the cart before the horse when we create a bikeway and have no rules, no standards, and no clear direction for the people in the community to judge," said Fitts. Mayor Robert Smith, however, said that the main consideration in the construction of the bicycle path was the Pierce Rd. residents concern for the safety of their children. "For us to take out the path doesn't make sense," said Smith. "Children would then ride and walk in a busy street."

Commended

Five seniors at South Windsor High School have been named Merit Program Commended students by the National Merit Scholarship Corporation. Principal William A. Spohn announced that Paul J. Doocy, Barbara A. Edmund, Bruce H. Myrick, Kendall J. Sabia and Jill T. Shavel have received letters of commendation for their outstanding performance on the Preliminary Scholastic Aptitude Test and the National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test.

These commended students scored among the upper two per cent of the nation's 1973 high school graduates.

List Posted The Preliminary Voting List has been posted in the South Windsor Town Hall. Any resident having moved within South Windsor must sign an affidavit received from the Registrar's Office in order to be retained on the Voter List.

Residents are asked to double check their name as soon as possible. For any questions regarding residency, please contact either Registrar Claire Gritzer, 644-8983 or Roberta Gorton, 644-1955.

Residents have until Oct. 28 to notify the Registrar's Office in writing. Coordinator Named Atty. George G. Butenkoff, the Republican candidate for the office of judge of probate for South Windsor and East Windsor District, has named Ann DeRosa as Campaign Coordinator for South Windsor.

Mrs. DeRosa has taken an active part in South Windsor politics for the past several years, having served as president of the Republican Women's Club and presently on the executive board.

She took part in the running of Republican headquarters last year and in 1971 was campaign manager for her husband, Bob, when he was elected to the Board of Education. She is a member of the 1st Testing Planned The audiovisual testing clinics will be sponsored this year by the South Windsor Young Wives Club in cooperation with the Public Health Association. The location, dates and time for the clinics will be announced at a later date.

The group will leave from Wood Memorial Library at 1:30 p.m. for the one hour tour. Admission is $1 for adults, 25 cents for children under 16 and children under 6 are free.

For reservations or further information call Mrs. Edward Walcek, 528-7107 or Mrs. John Burdiger, 228-8960. The number of reservations accepted for the tour is limited to 25.

Hostesses for the evening are Mrs. Vernon Peterson and Mrs. Martin Pandolfo.

Girl's Basketball The South Windsor Recreation Department will be starting its Girl's Basketball season, Dec. 1. Included will be two divisions in the league this year, Division I for 9, 10 and 11 year olds and Division II for 12-15 year olds.

Coaches are needed for both divisions. All league games will be held on Saturdays between 12:45 p.m. at three of the town's elementary schools. Each team will also be given one night for practice at one of the schools.

There will be two coaching clinics offered to aid people interested in coaching a girl's team. For further information call Karen Fellows at the Recreation Department, 644-2511.

Gordon Bennett, Bennett's program will include a discussion of the life of the noted educator and journalist.

In conjunction with this meeting there will be a trip to the Noah Webster House and adjoining museum in West Hartford, Sunday, Oct. 27.

SCENE FROM HERE Of Mexico's Problems

By SOL R. COHEN

In just 13 days, voters in the state's 169 towns and cities will go to the polls to elect a governor (plus an entire state ticket), a U.S. senator, six congressmen, a State Senate, a State House of Representatives, county sheriff, a host of justices of peace and, in some places (Manchester is one of them), a judge of probate.

In addition, they will consider approving or disapproving four Constitutional amendments. In Manchester, they will consider three additional referendum questions, all proposing additional appropriations.

And so, one might ask, "What kind of a campaign has this been?" To which one can only reply, "Quiet and dull."

It seems the electorate is anything but excited. It's almost as if the overwhelming majority of voters made up their minds long ago — how they will vote and, on an even more cynical note, whether they will vote.

We hope all who can get to the polls will vote. And we hope they will vote for the best candidates. There's nothing as frustrating for a candidate than to spend time and money in a sincere campaign and then lose for no other reason than apathy — apathy on the part of the voter, that is.

Since the show must go on, we'll complete this column with political tidbits, even though we aren't sure (1) whether they'll be read, (2) whether they'll change anyone's mind, (3) whether any of them will deter the candidates from sending in many more of them.

George W. Hanson Jr., Democratic candidate for Third District state senator, has been endorsed unanimously by East Hartford Local 1933, American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees, AFL-CIO.

Local 1933 represents 125 of the custodial and maintenance employees in the East Hartford school system.

The Manchester League of Women Voters will present a display of voter information materials Friday and Saturday at the Top Notch Food Store, N. Main St. The display will include information on state and local candidates, polling places, etc.

Democrat Ella Grasso and Republican Robert Steele, candidates for governor, will appear at a "Meet the Candidates" session tonight at 8 p.m. in the Hartford Insurance Group Auditorium, Asylum Ave., Hartford.

The session is sponsored by the Greater Hartford Regional Committee of the Women League of Women Voters of Connecticut. The public is invited.

Mrs. Grasso will conduct a "Town Meeting" Monday at 8 p.m. in Glastonbury, at Gideon Welles Junior High School on Neipic Rd.

The last in a series of eight "Town Meetings" by Mrs. Grasso, it is for people from all towns in Hartford County. Other state candidates also will attend.

Since the show continues to go on, pending some more political tidbits, we'll continue with some worldly observations.

Seen on a wall at the University of Berkeley, Calif.: "Truth flies like an arrow — fruit flies like a banana."

Continuing the stroll down memory lane, the following tidbit is a leftover from the 1930s:

"I lost a fortune in the stock market. My shopping bag broke in the grocery store. Or, and we'll call it quits with this one: He: "Did you hear about the new college craze?"

She: "No. What is it?" He: "The kids are now drinking Windex."

She: "Why?" He: "It keeps them from streaking."

'Wetbacks' Only One Of Mexico's Problems

By PHIL NEWSON

UPI Foreign News Analyst When President Ford and Mexico's President Luis Echeverria Alvarez divided their one-day meeting between sessions on both sides of their countries' 2,000-mile border, they were, by coincidence, on a course traveled annually by around one million "wetbacks."

"Wetback" is a derogatory term, applied originally to a Mexican worker who waded the Rio Grande River to seek work illegally in the United States. Defenseless under the law, he became a figure of exploitation and a problem to both countries.

He also was one of the subjects given top consideration by the two presidents.

Of the illegal migrants, Echeverria said in his state of the union address in September, "we know that this problem will only be fully resolved through our economic evolution when none of our countrymen has to cross the frontier for lack of a means of living here (in Mexico)."

Mexico would like an agreement permitting a fixed number of Mexican farm workers to enter the United States during the harvest season.

The American labor movement, facing unemployment of more than five per cent, opposes it.

Time limited the number of subjects to be discussed by the two presidents but others of importance were matters of trade and, of course, oil. All were related.

Mexico sends 70 per cent of its exports to the United States.

It also could go far toward reducing the deficit in the trade balance.

Echeverria has played down reports of the extent of the find and has dashed any hope that Mexico would sell its oil at bargain rates. The price, he said, will be the same as that charged by the Arab states.

Nonetheless, it could lead to a substantial increase over the 35,000 barrels presently exported daily to the United States and provide some insurance against another Arab oil boycott.

Teacher-Pupil Ratio Declines in Schools

HARTFORD (UPI) — In the past two years, the number of classroom teachers in public schools has risen while the number of students has decreased, according to the Connecticut Public Expenditure Council.

Connecticut now ranks seventh nationally and is among 11 Midwestern and Northeastern states having the lowest pupil-teacher ratios in the nation, the council said Tuesday.

While the number of teachers increased by 3.4 per cent, the council said, enrollment declined 1.6 per cent.

The percentage of elementary classrooms having 25 pupils or less has increased from 54 per cent in 1972-73 to 72 per cent in 1973-74, the council said.

The council cited a 1973 study which said that there is no correlation between achievement and the pupil-teacher staff ratio and urged that school boards review whether it is worth the cost of having a lower ratio.

"The most important factors influencing academic achievement were found to be pupil intelligence, home background, and teacher preparation," the council said.

The council said its findings apply only to full-time classroom teachers. The 11 states with fewer than 20 pupils per full-time classroom teacher are Vermont, Wyoming, Kansas, New Jersey, North Dakota, Nebraska, Connecticut, Iowa, New Hampshire, and South Dakota.

Learning Disabilities Topics for Workshops

Manchester public school teachers will convene Friday at Robertson School for the annual Teachers Convention Day.

Of the 36 different programs offered throughout the state for Connecticut's public school teachers, educators in Manchester will hear speakers and attend workshops on learning disabilities.

The keynote speaker will be Ms. Alice Ansara, consultant in reading and related language learning disabilities. She is a member of the staffs of the Harvard Graduate School of Education in Cambridge, Mass., and Loyola College in Maryland.

She is also director of reading at Mather Hall School in Cambridge. Her specialty is in the field of disabilities of adolescents, especially in English and math. She will direct her talk to the classroom teacher.

In addition to Ms. Ansara's speech, she will lead a group on learning disabilities which includes adolescents for sixth grade teachers and up. A discussion group on open education and the learning disabled child-management techniques will be conducted by Robert LaValle, learning disabilities consultant at the State Department of Education.

A workshop in curriculum modifications and techniques for the classroom teacher will be led by Ms. Jean Zurbrugg, learning disabilities consultant.

Sister Ruth Anne Brighton, also a learning disabled, is a consultant in reading and related language learning disabilities.

The Teachers Convention Day is sponsored by the Manchester Education Association and the Manchester Office of Education.

Co-chairmen of the local event are Ms. Judy Rohlf, M.E.A. Instruction and Professional Development (IPD) chairman, and Allan Chesteron, director of pupil educational services in Manchester.

Other committee chairmen are Ms. Zurbrugg, program; Ms. Thelma Gifford, M.E.A. teacher representative, publicity; and Ms. Kathleen Phelps, a discussion group member, registration.

Bloodmobile Visits Concordia on Friday

The Red Cross Bloodmobile will visit Concordia Lutheran Church, 40 Pitkin St., Friday from 12:45 to 5:30 p.m. for its monthly visit.

The Bloodmobile's quota is 150 pints per visit. For several months, the total collection has fallen below the quota.

The goal of the Red Cross blood program is that no person be in need of blood at any time, anywhere. About half of all blood collected in the entire country is contributed to Red Cross blood programs, said Mrs. Elaine Sweet, director of the Greater Manchester Area Red Cross.

Mrs. Sweet, in stressing the urgency of a blood donation, said one hour and one pint of blood may mean a lifetime to someone else.

"Your blood donations as well as your monetary donations may help someone," said Mrs. Sweet. Appointments may be made by calling 643-5111. Walk-in donors will be welcome.

The blood program is one of the programs financed by the United Way.

Says Watergate Will Hurt

NEW HAVEN (UPI) — Former U.S. Attorney General Elliot L. Richardson has predicted Watergate will damage Republicans in the November elections, but not as much as others think.

Speaking to the Connecticut Bar Association during its annual meeting Tuesday, Richardson also predicted Nelson A. Rockefeller will be confirmed as vice president, and it will be a GOP ticket of Ford-Rockefeller in 1976.

Norwich Man Shot

GROTON (UPI) — A Norwich man was reported in serious condition today at Lawrence and Memorial Hospitals in New London after he was shot in the neck, apparently from a passing vehicle.

Police said Edward Namolek Jr., 26, Tuesday slowed down for a stoplight on Rte. 194 when a compact car pulled up next to him and a shot was fired, hitting Namolek in the neck.

Namolek lost control of his vehicle and it struck a signpost, police said.

Officials said they could not determine how many shots were fired during the incident. They said the attack apparently was unprovoked.

Meskill To Be Re-Nominated

HARTFORD (UPI) — Sen. Lowell P. Weicker Jr., R-Conn., reportedly has been told by the White House Gov. Thomas J. Meskill's nomination for the federal bench will be resubmitted to the Senate.

Meskill, not seeking reelection, was nominated to the 2nd Circuit Court of Appeals by Presidents Nixon and Ford, but the Senate Judiciary Committee failed to act on the nomination before it broke for the traditional election recess and it will be automatically if it does not return in 30 days. A 31-day election recess was planned.

The Hartford Courant reported today, however, that Weicker, who proposed Meskill for the bench, was told by the White House the nomination will be resubmitted. That contradicted reports published last week that it was not certain whether Meskill would be nominated again.

Kidnaped Girl Unharmed

NORTH KINGSTOWN, R.I. (UPI) — Six-year-old Christina Kirk, daughter of a manufacturing officer, was found unharmed three hours after she was kidnaped and held for $300,000 ransom Tuesday.

Richard Gary Vivierio, 36, of New London, Conn., was arrested and charged with kidnaping. An alleged accomplice, Valerie M. Vachon, 22, of Groton, Conn., was arrested by state police Tuesday night in Connecticut on the basis of a fugitive warrant.

GOOD CORRECTIONS The KEY To Reduced Crime

Help For Alcoholic

(PART V)
As stated in last week's article, the Department of Correction's Addiction Services Division provides treatment programs for offenders with drug and alcohol problems, drawing its clients from an estimated 1900 persons incarcerated for drug and alcohol-related crimes.

Although the drug scene held greater public attention during the past few years, alcoholism continues to be a major social problem.

In Connecticut, more than 118,000 persons suffer from alcoholism—better than one in 20 Connecticut adults. This does not include the undetermined number of "hidden alcoholics" who exist in every community. Nearly one in every three highway fatalities is alcohol-related. There were approximately 1400 arrests for public intoxication and 4,000 arrests for driving under the influence in Connecticut last year—sobering facts which touch you as a citizen and a taxpayer.

Alcoholism costs Connecticut industry more than $15,000,000 every year due to absenteeism, sick pay, poor decisions, lowered performance and needed replacement of personnel. Yet the significant expense is in relation to people—the families disturbed by an alcoholic member, the citizens who bear the costs of alcoholism in the community and in the business world, and the individual himself who pays in terms of personal and social deterioration.

To often, while stereotyping the alcoholic as a "skid-row bum," the public tends to dismiss his counterparts, the businessman who "overdoes it" at neighborhood cocktail parties or the secretary/housewife who "needs a pick-me-up" several times a day. Only about five per cent of known alcoholics fit the "skid-row" description. More commonly, they're people like yourself—members of the community who hold jobs, raise families and otherwise contribute to most social responsibilities.

As with those addicted to drugs, what sets "community alcoholics" apart from those in correctional facilities is that word "arrest." Two friends may leave for home after a party—one makes it to his garage door; the other adds another name to the highway fatality list and ends up in the correctional system.

While many citizens look askance at the convicted alcoholic, they should bear in mind that conviction can bring hope and rehabilitation for the alcoholic. Each of the Department of Correction's facilities has addiction rehabilitation programs.

For those with alcohol problems, the greatest help comes through in-hospital Alcoholics Anonymous (AA) groups which tie in with local community AA chapters. Members of community chapters meet weekly with offenders at institutional AA meetings and also work with them and their families individually. This activity is backed up by counseling services from the Department's professional staff and peer group support from fellow offenders in the program.

While recent legislation look public intoxication out of the realm of a criminal offense and in his re-education and the alcoholism program, the Department of Correction is currently augmenting its present services for alcoholic offenders through Project ACT (Alcohol Counseling and Treatment).

Federal funds coupled with a grant from the Governor's Advisory Council on Alcoholism enable the Department to 1) improve the process of identifying alcoholics as they enter the correctional system; 2) divert alcoholics to community-based treatment facilities whenever possible; 3) develop and broaden existing treatment services within correctional facilities; and 4) provide adequate follow-up services to alcoholics upon their release.

While a program of this scope points up responsibilities assumed by federal and state agencies, the key to its success lies in the area of community/citizen responsibility. Offenders ready to become productive members of society need to find doors open to them.

Whatever your role in the community—banker, employer, landowner, remember that alcoholism is a disease which can be cured, as evidenced by Dick van Dyke. Sen. Harold Hughes, and the hundreds of ex-alcoholic offenders who currently function productively in Connecticut.

Keep in mind that an offender who has successfully undertaken an alcoholic rehabilitation program is probably better equipped for responsible citizenship than the "good" citizen who continues to hide behind a facade of "social drinker with a problem."

Next time an ex-alcoholic or ex-drug offender approaches you for help in re-establishing himself in the community, think twice about it. First, think of the personal strength it's taken for this person to recognize his problem and abandon his former lifestyle; secondly, think how that strength can be an asset to your business and to your community.

Then offer the ex-addict offender all the help you can.

Maine Campaigners Use Shoes, Campers, Planes

By ARTHUR FREDERICK AUGUSTA, Maine (UPI) — Rep. William S. Cohen and congressional hopeful David Emery have been looking for one of the best Democratic vote-getters in the state.

The race for governor has, for the most part, been dull and colorless. A poll released by the Bangor Daily News Saturday showed Democratic State Committee member George Mitchell, a former aide to Sen. Edmund S. Muskie, leading Republican James Erwin, a former legislator and attorney general, by 7 percentage points.

This is Mitchell's first try at big-time politics. It's Erwin's third attempt at the Blaine House. Mitchell has stressed good housing and adequate jobs; Erwin has talked mostly about cutting the cost of government.

"No Maine citizen should have to choose between a decent job and a decent place to live," Mitchell has said. "We are entitled to both."

Erwin says the state is getting six times the amount of taxes from citizens now as it did in 1960. "Maine's relentless tax increases have got to stop," he has said. " Taxes reflect the cost of government, and the cost of Maine government is becoming too high."

Neither Mitchell nor Erwin, nor the three independents, Leen, Longley, or William Hughes, have really managed to put together an imaginative, lively campaign, and even their appearances contribute to the boredom. Mitchell looks like an accountant, Erwin somehow appears to have been up all night and Longley, the strongest independent, comes off like an insurance salesman—which he is.

If any of the gubernatorial candidates have been fun to watch, it's been independents Leen and Hughes.

Leen, a wealthy businessman, has been campaigning by filling about the state in his own airplane, and seems oblivious to snubs. Last month, he had trouble getting into a restaurant because Mitchell, Erwin and Longley were there appearing before the Maine Oil Dealers Association. Leen hadn't been invited.

"I'm not the least bit concerned about not being invited," Leen said after finally finishing his meal. "After I'm elected governor I won't have to go speak to groups like that."

Hughes, a professional and frequent candidate who is Cumberland County registrar of probate, got the most publicity of his campaign when he was arrested during the summer for assaulting a police officer who had come to settle a domestic squabble at Hughes' home.

Hughes was fined $100 and ordered to participate in a program for alcoholics. He has appeared before the state's highest court, the Maine Supreme Judicial Court, to argue that he should be allowed to remain in the state.

TOP ARCHER
Archer enthusiasts will "hit a bulls-eye" at the Caldor Discount Department Store, Burr Corners, Friday.

Sam Chorches of Churches Motors, Inc., of Oakland St., is actually being hit with a high-speed bow and arrow.

Kronway, a certified instructor in the Professional Archers Association who has shot four "300 perfect scores" in competition, will actually shoot with bow and arrow at a target set up in Caldor's sports department. He will give pointers to archery fans on proper bow handling and hunting techniques - and also select several shoppers for an on-the-spot target lesson.

All shoppers are eligible to win a Cougar Laminated 35-Pound Draw Weight Hunting Bow, retail value $42.99, which will be awarded to Billy Kronway's demonstration. No purchase is necessary to enter the drawing.

Kronway is a member of the Pope & Young Bowhunters Club and is on the advisory staff of the Ben Pearson Archery Clinic, a subsidiary of the Brunswick Corp.

Escaped Sought For Murder

YONKERS, N.Y. (UPI) - An escaped mental patient was being sought today in connection with the strangulation murder of a Yonkers psychologist who once treated him.

Yonkers Police Tuesday issued a warrant for the arrest of Ricardo Caputo, 26, in the death of Dr. Judith Becker, 26, daughter of Henry F. Becker, first selectman of Bridgewater, Conn.

Caputo, who police said was missing since Friday from Manhattan State Hospital on Wards Island in New York City, is an Argentine national who came to the U.S. in 1970.

According to police, before being transferred to Manhattan State, Caputo was a patient at the Putnam Correctional Facility in Beacon, N.Y., a hospital for the criminally insane where Miss Becker worked.

Police said Caputo was confined to Facility 1971 after he was charged with the murder of a 20-year-old girlfriend, Natalie Brown, of Roslyn, L.I., and a Nassau county judge ruled him incompetent to stand trial.

The nude body of Miss Becker was found Monday in her Yonkers apartment by her parents.

The Beckers said they were concerned when they did not reach their daughter by telephone over the weekend and went to her three-room apartment at 486 Odell Ave.

Economist Says Nation In Recession

BOSTON (UPI) - Nobel Prize winning economist Prof. Paul Samuelson Tuesday said the nation was in a recession and predicted the current inflationary period would last a long time.

Speaking before the 10th anniversary meeting of the Service Corps of Retired Executives (SCORE), the MIT professor said he wished he could bring them "good tidings" and "a comfortable message."

But he said, "We are in a recession. The inflation we are in is not over, nor near being over. It is serious."

Noting that prices are rising at a rate of about 12 per cent annually while unemployment increased from 5.4 per cent to 8 per cent in one month, Samuelson predicted the economy will continue to decline.

"Don't hold your breath waiting for the Consumer Price Index to go down," he said. "If the situation gets worse than it has been, the nation, out of desperation, will probably turn to another bout of wage and price controls."

Samuelson also said the only class of persons hurt by inflation is the elderly. "They are good at it, not near being good at it," he said.

"The one protection against inflation for the elderly is the escalator clause in Social Security, which we now have," he said.

He warned that investing in the stock market is no longer a good barrier against rising prices. He said he has received "pitiful letters" from other investors who have discovered that common stocks have not been a good hedge against inflation.

Samuelson wasn't impressed by the nation's economic experts either.

"Economists don't hit 100, but like Ted Williams, they are good at it, they hit 400. Usually, they agree the forecast they made six months ago is wrong. Economists are like eight Etonians in one bed. The only thing you can be sure of is they are all going to turn over together."

Sam Chorches was recently elected secretary of the New England Dodge Dealers Advertising Association.

Town To Draft Ordinance Creating Water Authority

VERNON

As the first step toward a possible decision to purchase the Vernon Water Company, the Town Council, Monday night, voted to ask the town attorney to draw up an ordinance to appoint an "authority" with an eye toward establishing a water district.

The privately owned Vernon Water Company has been for sale for some time. The Rockville Water & Aqueduct Company had applied to the Public Utilities Commission for purchase but had to withdraw the request because it also had filed for rate increases.

If Rockville Water Co. did purchase the Vernon company any rate increases granted would also apply to the Vernon company's customers.

The asking price for the facility is $175,000 and council members have indicated they are generally in favor of the purchase. Setting up an "authority" to run the company would mean the money to pay for the purchase would come from money paid by the users and not from general tax money.

When Town Attorney Abbot Schwebel draws up the ordnance the Town Council will set a date for a public hearing. If the town purchases the company, it will not have to go to the PUC to set the rates.

Councilman Peter Humphry asked if the town could apply for federal or state funds for the company, should any be available for expansion at any time.

Atty. Schwebel said he saw no reason why the town couldn't apply for the funds, if they were available. Mayor Frank McCoy said he had contacted the office of Congressman Robert Steele to see if any Open Space money is available as the water company property has land with it. He said he was told there is no money available at the present time.

He suggested that the council go via the water district route, with an authority.

While the company would be run as a separate entity, Atty. Schwebel explained there would be certain obligations the town can't avoid. He said they would be to set and establish the rates and to make certain the obligation of paying off the bonds is met, but that there will be no town budget money used.

Meanwhile, the committee, headed by Morgan Campbell, will negotiate as to what the interest rate should be on the bonds. The date for the public hearing will be set at the Nov. 18 meeting of the council. The council has canceled its Nov. 4 meeting because the following day is election day.

Benoit Urges Seeking Funds To Replace Old Storm Sewers

VERNON

Councilman Thomas Benoit made a plea to the Vernon Town Council Monday night to apply for "available" funding and to replace worn out storm sewers in the Rockville section of town.

Benoit brought up the suggestion in connection with a report concerning a repair program for sidewalks in Rockville.

He said it is his observation that it is useless to construct the new sidewalks without also replacing the "worn out storm sewers and inferior curbs, particularly in view of the fact that dollars can be made available to us for this very purpose."

Benoit said $100,000 in funding is available, through the 1974 Housing and Community Development Act, for replacement of outdated storm sewers. The town has been without a Town Planner for almost a year now and Benoit said if the town had a planner, the availability of funds would be made known to the town.

"We should, in light of the absence of a town planner, hire the services of a consultant planning agency to research these available funds and to work with the director of administration and town engineer in completing the necessary application forms to obtain these funds by April 1975," he said.

He added, "Then on a priority basis rather than on a crisis basis, we should start replacing the old stone storm sewers and out-dated eight-inch piping and at the same time, rebuild the sidewalks which have already been approved."

Benoit said he had been contacted by several property owners regarding poor sanitary conditions. He said the general areas brought to his attention were: Snipsic, Lawrence, Village, Union, Franklin, Park, Prospect, School, Elm, Cottage, Orchard, Taylor, and E. Main Streets; and Box Mountain Dr., Windsor Ave., and Reagan, Burke, Worcester and Thrall Roads.

Benoit also said, "It is hard for the troubled taxpayers, owning properties on these affected streets, to conceive that the almost $200,000 surplus from last year's budget even occurred when there is such a definite need for improvements in this area of public works."
