Coal Strike Imminent

WASHINGTON (UPI) — United Mine Workers officials today walked out on what coal mine executives called the best contract offer "in any major industry" — almost assuring a strike next Tuesday that could cripple industry and cause electric shortages this winter.

No further talks were set and prospects were dim that a strike could be avoided.

Government and banking experts agree that if the union strikes when the current contract expires, it could severely curtail utilities and other key industries and put as many as 1 million persons out of work.

The contract covers 120,000 miners in 25 states who produce 70 per cent of the nation's coal.

Union president Arnold Miller led the way out of negotiations early today after talks had resumed Monday night at the urging of government negotiators.

"With this contract proposal, they've declared a strike in the coal fields," said Miller of the offer from the Bituminous Coal Operators Association. "There's not sufficient time for ratification (by Nov. 12) and the membership will not ratify what they have given us."

Guy Farmer, chief negotiator for the BCOA, called the UMW walkout "incredible."

"We gave them an offer that in my opinion has not been exceeded in any negotiations in any major industry in total scope," Farmer said. "I can't conceive that they would say we gave them provocation for a strike."

Experts predict that after one month, a strike would force disruption for electric utilities which depend heavily on coal.

That is especially true in the Southeast, where inventories are low.

Many major steel producers have less than a 20-day supply of coal on hand and some furnaces would be closed in the second week of a strike, according to industry estimates.

A prolonged strike could add 600,000 to 1 million workers to the jobless roles, driving the unemployment rate, now at a three-year high of 6.7 per cent, to 7 per cent, according to the federal Office of Emergency Preparedness.

Local Voter Turnout May Top 70 Per Cent

By SOL R. COHEN

As of noon today, six hours after the polls opened and under less than favorable conditions, a total of 8,066 Manchester voters had cast ballots in the town's 10 voting districts—for 29.6 per cent of those eligible. The polls will close at 8 p.m.

The noon total averages out to 1,344 an hour. If the same average were held to 8 p.m., a total of 18,816 or 77.3 per cent of the electorate would have voted.

However, the mid-afternoon voting hours usually are light. Heavy voting is expected again from 5 p.m. on.

70 Per Cent

Estimates by town political figures was for a 70 per cent turnout today. Our forecast was for 75 to 80 per cent.

In the 1970 gubernatorial election, the turnout in Manchester was 88.1 per cent and 8,126 had voted by noon. In the 1972 Presidential election the turnout was 87.4 per cent and 10,671 had voted by noon.

In the six voting hours today (from 6 a.m. to noon), 1,198 voted in the first hour, 1,305 in the second, 1,305 in the third, 1,508 in the fourth, 1,470 in the fifth, and 1,283 in the sixth.

Both political parties were busy on the phones, getting out the vote and offering rides to the polls.

Registration Figures

Amended figures in the registrars' office show 27,174 voters eligible to cast ballots today—a drop of 61 from previous totals. The amended total results in a last minute check of those who have moved from Manchester. The Democrats lead the Republicans by 2,217.

Two years ago, for the Presidential election, Manchester had 28,700 eligible voters. It had 23,218 in 1970, for the gubernatorial election.

Votes are being cast for governor (and lieutenant governor), secretary of the state, attorney general, state treasurer,

Shopping Center Plan Opposed Before PZC

By DOUG BEVINS

Several parents of children attending Manchester Green School told the Planning and Zoning Commission (PZC) Monday night that a proposed shopping center near the Green would aggravate already-bad traffic safety conditions.

Comments of the parents — most of them members of the Green School PTA — came during the second public hearing on a request by Louise C. and W. Harry England for a Business 3 Zone on five acres of land.

PTA Objects

Mrs. Nesbie Dupuy of 124 Constance Dr., president of the school's PTA, opposing the zone change and proposed shopping center for the site, mentioning concerns of parents for safety of their children who must walk to Green School.

Mrs. Dupuy said a telephone poll of Green School parents showed 14 opposed, 13 in favor, and 13 with no opinion on the zone change.

Others speaking against the zone change, most of them mentioning traffic safety, included Jeremy Clough of 50 Mountain Rd., Karl Prewo of 89 Mountain Rd., Arlene Hall of 58 Plymouth Lane, Ellen Buckley of 560 E. Center St., Richard MacKenzie of 15 Plymouth Lane, and Barbara Greene of 61 Dale Rd.

Opposed in 1969

Representatives of several Plymouth Lane residents also opposed the rezoning application as they did in a 1969 case and in the first hearing on the recent application last July.

The England property, which surrounds the Veterans of Foreign Wars building at E. Center St. and E. Middle Tpk., is now a mixture of zones: Residence A, Residence B, and Business 2 Zones.

The applicants are planning a shopping center with a total square footage of 48,750. Access would be via a proposed widened Cook Dr. and at E. Middle Tpk. opposite Woodbridge St.

Taken to Court

A similar rezoning application was granted by the PZC in October 1969. Plymouth Lane area residents appealed the case to the Hartford County Court of Common Pleas, which upheld the PZC's decision in 1970.

The opponents then took the case to the Election At A Glance

By United Press International

At stake in today's election:

- The House. There are 435 seats in 50 states and elections will be held for all of them. The 93rd Congress had 248 Democrats and 187 Republicans. The party that gets 218 votes will control the House; a two-thirds majority, which can override a veto, would be 290.

- The Senate. There are 100 seats and 34 are at stake this year, 20 held by Democrats and 14 by Republicans. The makeup now is 58 Democrats and 42 Republicans. Control of the Senate goes to the party with 51 votes; a two-thirds majority is 67.

- The governorships. Thirty-five states elect governors this year. There are currently 32 Democrats and 18 Republicans in the nation's state houses. Seats at stake are currently held by 23 Democrats and 12 Republicans.

Kissinger Offers Plan To End World Hunger

ROME (UPI) — Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger warned today that the world food crisis raised the possibility of global disaster and proposed an international 25-year plan to "free mankind from the scourge of hunger." He said rich oil-producing nations should finance it.

Kissinger delivered the keynote address to more than 1,000 delegates from 100 nations at the world food conference — one of his own pet projects which he called to study how to stave off mass starvation in the world.

Kissinger's five-point blueprint against hunger put him in direct conflict with U.S. Agriculture Secretary Earl L. Butz, official head of the American delegation, on the question of who should control the world food stockpile. Butz opposes any foreign control of U.S. food supplies.

Population Problem

Kissinger linked the food crisis to the population explosion and said the two problems should be solved together.

"World population is projected to double by the end of the century," Kissinger said. "It is clear that we must meet the food needs that this entails. But it is equally clear that population cannot continue to indefinitely double every generation.

"We are convinced that the world faces a challenge new in its severity, its pervasiveness and its global dimensions. Our minimum objective of the next quarter century must be to more than double food production and to improve its quality."

Five-Point Program

Kissinger said the world "may have the technical capacity to free mankind from hunger."

He listed a five-point program which called for:

- Increasing food production of the developed nations.
- Accelerating food production of the developing nations.
- Improving distribution of food throughout the world.
- Improving the quality and nutrition of food.
- Creating worldwide reserves against food crises.

Butz Disagrees

It was the last point which put him at odds with Butz.

Kissinger, who conferred with the Shah of Iran about oil prices on his current Middle East tour, said the oil-producing countries "have a special responsibility in this regard."

"Many of them have income far in excess of that needed to balance their international payments or to finance their economic development," Kissinger said.

"The continuing massive transfer of wealth and the resulting inflation have shattered the ability of the developing countries to purchase food, fertilizers and other goods."

Kissinger's keynote speech followed an opening address by U.N. Secretary General Kurt Waldheim in which he warned that "The future of all of our citizens on this planet will be affected for good or ill by our decisions" at the conference.

ROME (UPI) — Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger was scheduled to discuss his Mideast proposals today with Pope Paul VI. He conferred for an hour and a half with Greece's new foreign minister on the Cyprus crisis.

Hidden Note Surfaces

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A dramatic note was injected into the Watergate trial Monday when a long-hidden note surfaced dealing with alleged Nixon administration promises to the burglars who raided the Democratic headquarters. The trial will not be interrupted for Election Day.

Continues to Improve

LONG BEACH, Calif. (UPI) — Former President Nixon's condition continued to improve. He was permitted on Monday to take a few unassisted steps around his hospital room.

Booze War

MIAMI (UPI) — National Airlines, strikebound for 108 days until last Friday, began passing out free cocktails to economy class passengers on its Miami-New York flights Monday and touched off a "booze war" with competing Eastern Airlines.

Eastern Airlines Chairman Floyd Hall, who denounced the National Airlines action, said Eastern had no choice but to match the free drinks.

Refinery Clears Hurdle

AUGUSTA, Maine (UPI) — The New England Energy Corp. (NEECO) has cleared a major hurdle on its way to building the region's first full-scale oil refinery and the biggest industrial project in Maine history.

Following an all-day hearing, the Maine Board of Environmental Protection (BEP) voted 6-2 late Monday that NEECO had shown sufficient "little, right or interest" to the land needed for the $600 million refinery-pipeline complex proposed for Sanford.

Father Accused In Poison Death

PASADENA, Tex. (UPI) — The father of an 8-year-old boy fatally poisoned on Halloween night by a candy straw filled with cyanide today was charged with murder and held under $100,000 bond.

Police, who had gone from door to door in a two-block area of this Houston suburb tracing the youth's trick-or-treat path, made the stunning announcement at a hastily called news conference today.

They said the father was in custody. Timothy Mark O'Bryan died late Thursday from eating just one piece of candy. His father, Robert Clark O'Bryan, told police at the time his son had begged to be allowed one treat before going to bed.

"We and the district attorney's office felt there was sufficient evidence at this time for a charge to be filed," police Captain R. E. Rhodes said. "There is no further comment at this time as we are still rounding up loose ends."

Today's Vote Making History

HARTFORD (UPI) — Connecticut voters make history today — either by electing the first woman to become governor away from the political skirts of her husband, or by choosing the youngest governor in the state's history.

Rep. Ella T. Grasso, D-Conn., was considered to hold a commanding lead over Rep. Robert H. Steele, R-Conn., who appeared unable to upset her dominance of the top campaign issue, rising utility costs.

Senate Race

Sen. Abraham Ribicoff, D-Conn., was likely to gain more votes than any other Democratic candidate in defeating Rep. James H. Brannen III, R-Colchester, the first black to receive a major party nomination to the Senate in Connecticut.

The Democrats reportedly had a good chance of winning the Second Congressional District seat in southeastern Connecticut, now held by Steele. Christopher Dodd, the son of the late Sen. Thomas Dodd, D-Conn., challenged Sen. Samuel B. Helliher, R-Mystic.

Two Republican congressmen, Stewart B. McKinney in the Fourth District around Fairfield County and the Fifth District's Ronald N. Sarasin in northwestern Connecticut, were predicted to win by thin margins over their Democratic opponents.

Other Seats

The other three congressional seats were expected to go to Democrats. They are Rep. Robert Giaimo in the Third, around New Haven; Rep. William R. Cotter in the First, around Hartford; and Anthony Moffett in the Sixth, around New Britain-Bristol, the seat now held by Mrs. Grasso.

The George Wallace and the American parties fielded candidates for most of the statewide elections, but were not expected to achieve more than a few thousand votes.

Democrats were given a strong shot at regaining control of both chambers of the state legislature, which went Republican in the 1972 Nixon landslide.

Hinges on Voter Turnout

Observers felt that for that to happen Mrs. Grasso must win by more than 50,000 votes — a likelihood by all accounts — or there, must be a very large turnout, perhaps 80 per cent of the state's 1,562,000 voters.

Most experts felt Mrs. Grasso's victory margin could reach 100,000 votes and the turnout will be between 70 and 75 per cent.

Mrs. Grasso, 55, the mother of two grown children, would be the first woman elected governor in the U.S. on her own. The other women governors followed their husbands into office.

The pardon of Richard Nixon and the turmoil that followed is another indication that Watergate lingers.

One Republican professional, devoting himself to gubernatorial races, was asked by reporters whether the pardon was hurting the GOP in state races.

The man put his finger to his head as though he was shooting himself.

There are other damaging effects:

Donors Turned Off

• The repeated guilty pleas and sentences of campaign contributors has had another damaging effect for the GOP: it has turned off the spigots of its campaign contributors. For the first time in years, Republicans have raised less money than the Democrats — $10 million compared to $22 million.

• The Republican party says it had nothing to do with the scandal. The polls say the people want to forget about Watergate, yet there are long lines every time there is a congressional hearing or a court case on the issue.

• Registration of GOP voters in some places is dramatically below Democratic levels.

• The Republicans are not fielding their best team.

Ford Fights Apathy

Ford's campaign strategy has been intended to prevent this. He says his campaigning has been to fight apathy, to get people to vote.

His trips to 20 states in the last month have not been appeals to give his party control of Congress, but to save the GOP, to save the two-party system.

Reform Role

Steele, who turned 36 Sunday, portrayed himself as the champion of campaign reform, voluntarily restricting his contributions to $100 individual gifts, and charged the Democratic platform is a blueprint for higher state taxes.

The youngest previous governor was 40 years old.

Voters who go to the polls between 6 a.m. and 8 p.m. also cast their ballots on four statewide questions, including adoption of the Equal Rights Amendment to the U.S. Constitution.

GOP registration rolls have declined by 12,671 over the past year, while Democratic ranks grew by 5,353. Democrats number 574,236, in the state, Republicans 420,531, and independents 566,531.

Guide for Watching Elections Tonight

United Press International... The battle tonight will be shown in the charts crammed with names and flickering numbers on the television screen. The best way to watch them is to go East to West and down to the bottom line. The presidency is not at stake in the 1974 mid-term elections—although President Ford put his prestige on the line in a number of races. The contest is for control of the Senate and House and for governorships in 55 states.

The bottom line now reads: Senate—58 Democrats; 42 Republicans; 51 needed to control House—246 Democrats; 187 Republicans; 218 needed to control. The current lineup of governors: 32 Democrats; 18 Republicans.

At stake in this election: Senate—34 seats, 20 Democratic and 14 Republican; House—All 435 seats; Governors—35 seats, 23 Democratic, 12 Republican.

To win control of the Senate, Republicans would have to get at least eight seats. With a vice president in office to break ties, they can control with 50 seats. To win control of the House, Republicans need to gain 31 seats.

But the predictions are for anything but Republican gains. The Democrats are favored to gain seats in both the Senate and House to firm up their industrial Midwest.

Two good tests in the border states—the Tennessee governorship election and the Kentucky Senate seat, both now Republican and both under intense pressure in an area where the GOP has made recent gains.

Kansas and North Dakota should be watched for the direction on the plains. Both have GOP Senate seats at stake and Democratic challenges that could add two to the bottom line from midwestern states once thought to be GOP by nature.

In the Rockies, the spotlight is on Colorado. A Democratic tide could sweep up both the Senate seat and the governorship.

Also worth looking at: Utah and Oklahoma, where Republicans are battling to retain Senate seats for the party—and in any "normal" year probably would be favored to do so.

California is the jewel of the West, and the Democrats hope to sweep back into the governorship. If the Republicans can retain this one, even the loss of New York would be tempered.

But the predictions in the West are for at least two Democratic pickups—California, Oregon, and possibly even Arizona and Wyoming. If they get all four, even the Democrats would be surprised.

The Republicans are supposed to make a comeback on the late show, Alaska. It may be the last contest reported, and it is supposed to produce a Republican gain of the governorship and possibly new Senate seats for the GOP.

Two to watch in the South: South Carolina, where the Democrats got fouled up in first nominating a candidate who failed to meet a residency test and may lose the governorship; Florida, where Republicans have been trying to build strength but may lose a coveted Senate seat.

Across the Appalachians, there are key governorship races in Ohio and Michigan. The Democrats hold Ohio and the Republicans Michigan. If both states go to either party, the trend may be set for the industrial Midwest.

For Period Ending 7 AM EST Wednesday, Show is forecast from the Lower Great Lakes area into northern New York changing to rain over northern New England. Rain or showers will occur in the Pacific Northwest. Showers and thunderstorms are expected over north-central Florida and along portions of the Middle Atlantic Coast.

Auditors Suggest Status Changes
HARTFORD (UPI) — State auditors have recommended 90 full-time employees of the legislature be made subject to state merit system rules, but their boss is opposing the move.

Democratic Auditor Leo V. Donohue said in a report on the legislative staff's 1973 finances issued Monday the Civil Service classification would protect the workers as well as the state.

David Ogle, Executive Director of Legislative Management, said a classified system would mean the creation of a burdensome personnel department to conduct merit examinations.

The report also reported slight irregularities uncovered during the audit, such as some directors charging the state overtime for work done at home. The auditors also said some staffers had been paid overtime on days when they had started work late and ended early.

Manchester Evening Herald OPINION Interpreting Variables

An economy that always stayed on an even keel would be considered ideal and desirable by man. Yet it is known fact that this is unattainable. There are too many uncontrollable variables for an absolute degree of steadiness to ever be within reach.

We have had fluctuations from the time of Joseph's interpretation of the dream of the seven fat years and the seven lean years. And we will continue to have them.

Our current indexes are strangely mixed. And it may well be that we are in a period of readjustment to the factors which have produced inflation and our economic disquietude.

President Ford's "Whip Inflation Now" message was greeted with very mixed reactions. Economists thought it weak and not enough and politicians seized upon the proposed 5 per cent surtax as "unrealistic."

Yet the stock market reacted favorably almost immediately and in the week following prices rose at a rate among the all-time advances of the market.

High interest rates — concededly due to inflation — and a deterrent to housing and a free flow of credit, have receded during the past week. Several major banks have come down on an 11 per cent prime rate.

Treasury offerings which a few weeks ago were paying 10 per cent are now down between 7 per cent and 8 per cent. This should slow the flow of money from savings and loan institutions, which was threatening the home mortgage market by drying up its primary source of funds.

There has been a slow down in consumer buying with the automobile industry seeing a sharp slump in new car sales. Home appliances, too, are down in sales.

Price increases in both fields may be partly responsible for the slack. Many factors have driven up the price of new cars. And not the least has been government regulations which contributed to costs.

In the appliance field the slump is most noticeable in items which would normally be sold in connection with new home construction. Hence this appears to be an offshoot of the housing problem.

However, orders for heavy goods of an industrial nature, continue high and there is little slowdown in this field with shortages existing in some sectors such as casting for new car engines. Steel is scarce.

Our balance of trade deficit in September was much lower than had been anticipated which is reassuring. In that month oil imports were down 9.5 per cent over year ago and import volume for the year is down about 3.3 per cent. Of course, at the same time our dollar expenditures for the year are about twice as much as for the first nine months of 1973, the result of quadrupled prices.

Economist Paul McCracken has predicted a sharp V-type recession which would hit bottom about next July and then start to recover. He estimates that at its worst this might result in as much as a 7 per cent unemployment figure. This might not be too unacceptable, if it would help beat inflation's trend.

Perhaps it is a time to just go slowly and let the economic reactions work themselves out without too much interference from government. A favorable readjustment seems to be under way.

TODAY'S THOUGHT

An instrument is a tool, implement, or device by means of which something is done or a musical sound is produced. Today God calls us to be His instruments in the world. He desires to work through us, but cannot if we will not allow Him into our lives.

Without God we often breed fear, despair, immoral living, hate, or attempt to manipulate others for our own selfish purposes. With God we have a new power flowing through us to smash fear, uplift the heart, guide our living, radiate love, and bring forth the most beautiful music.

Now is the moment to receive Him, touch Him, and praise Him for making us His instruments because in this our life becomes worth living.

Today is Tuesday, Nov. 5, the 309th day of 1974 with 56 to follow.

The moon is approaching its last quarter.

The morning stars are Mercury, Venus, Mars and Saturn.

The evening star is Jupiter.

Those born on this date are under the sign of Scorpio.

American historian William Durant was born Nov. 5, 1865. On this day in history: In 1783, German-born publisher John Peter Zenger began printing the newspaper "The New York Weekly Journal."

In 1911, Galbraith Rogers completed the first transcontinental flight. It took him 49 days to fly from New York City to Pasadena, Calif., with frequent stops.

In 1940, President Franklin D. Roosevelt was re-elected to an unprecedented third term. In 1965, Austria opened the reconstructed Vienna State Opera House and formally celebrated its liberation from 17 years of foreign occupation.

A thought for the day: British writer William McFee said, "Responsibility is like a string that we can see only the middle of. Both ends are out of sight."

WASHINGTON — Six months ago, a "giant" size jar of applesauce sold for 59 cents. Today, the price is $1.09. Six months ago, a laundry soap called Tide sold for 79 cents. Today, the price is $1.26.

So what else is new? So the director of President Ford's new Council on Wage and Price Stability says he is opposed "at this time" even to the issuance of wage-price guidelines, never mind wage and price controls.

I worry a housewife in my, Kalamazoo, Mich., I would spend my last dollar and come to Washington to take a switch to Albert Rees, the council's director. As when William Brock, D-Mich., remarked, the council's effect on inflation is going to be about as powerful "as a butterfly's hiccup."

Good night, nurse, Rees, a Princeton economist — blast the breed — told Congress' Joint Economic Subcommittee he also sees no need to seek subpoena power for his agency, nor the power to delay or roll back inflationary price or wage increases. He added he would use "sparingly" his power to hold public hearings and marshal public opinion to such increases.

What on earth is Rees going to do? Well, he said he is now working mainly on recruiting a staff, which ultimately will comprise 40 more or less warm bodies. He's also started examining recent price increases for antirecession and sugar.

Previewing a nonconformist who is always trying to get the government to use a little common sense in its approach to inflation, warmly pointed on Rees for worrying about the price of antirecession when the price of a basic commodity like steel has gone up about 46 per cent in the past year. Rees said he hoped steel prices would come down. He was "not prepared to pass judgment" on whether the increase has been excessive.

I fear we have in Princeton's Rees another of those jokers who believe the nation of the world during the period just ahead. The lag between cause and effect will continue to prevail.

Signs of improvement are visible. Forecasts of industrial commodity supplies are beginning to look up. World market prices of one metal and another have moved down, some sharply. What the food situation will look like in 1977 depends, of course, on an assortment of factors — weather, fertilizer, water and money — as well as oil. The price of petroleum may depend on the outcome of the U.S.-Arab psychological war over prices now being waged.

India Then and Now

NEW YORK — When Secretary of State Henry Kissinger got to New Delhi on his Arabian Nights magic-carpet itinerary, he was met by a piece of cold cheer: The Americans, said Prime Minister Indira Gandhi in an interview, "have regarded India as marginal to their global strategy." As if to underscore her injured sensibility, Mrs. Gandhi found that a provincial appointment would take her out of New Delhi before Kissinger's visit was over.

The fault for the tattered relations between India and the United States is not as one-sided as Mrs. Gandhi implies. There have been stupidities and provocations in both camps. But the fact is that things have changed — in objective reality, not just in attitude.

The magic of a time past when each nation had a high stake in the other's intentions seems to have vanished beyond patching up. In its place you have two irritable governments — the Americans outraged at India's covert development of a nuclear device which may show the way for other nations, the Indians outraged at disclosures about CIA intervention in Chile.

It will be a poorer world for both if the sense of outrage continues. Americans must now recognize that India is no longer contented with the old image of morally virtuous but power-poor relation and is reaching for a new power position on her continent. Indians in turn must recognize that the particularistic image which with Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru — disciple and successor to Gandhi, world figure, father of the idea of Third World "neutrality," lambaster of the "cold war mentality" as displayed by Americans.

I talked with him several times and was taken by his charm, intellect, grace. He and I had some reservations. He was too much a politician to be a good intellectual and too much an intellectual to be a good politician.

Indira Gandhi has inherited both the political and intellectual strains from her father, and, in some ways, she is a better tactician, more adept at the day-to-day maneuvering that fascinates any student of India's political parties.

Yet things are harder for India under her leadership. The economic aid idea is played out. The notion that India's industrial direction will be followed by the whole Third World is also played out. India has thrown her military weight around and can no longer talk of "moral leadership." In Nehru's day, despite the despair about poverty, religious and language communalism and the runaway birth rate, there was a tang of hope in the air. Today India, with food and investment and technology shortages, is short of all on hope.

America, too, has scraped the bottom of the moral barrel and has been down to the depths. It is time for both nations to put the old fables behind and build a new and more modest relationship on the hard ground that is there.

Other police reports:
• Two wide-oval tires valued at $150 were stolen over the weekend from a car owned by Jerry Miles of 88 Legion Dr., Vernon from where it was parked at the rear of Miles Auto Sales on Center St.

Police determined the car belonged to Backus Motors in Stafford Springs. The owner told police the car was his sales manager's demonstrator.

At 2:35 a.m., the owner called the police back to say the demonstrator had been stolen and the car with the youth must be it.

Police are still seeking the car and the youth.

Two teen-agers, a 14-year-old boy and a 15-year-old girl, discharged fireworks Monday at 8:30 p.m. at the East Side Rec on School St., police said.

Both youths were referred to their parents. They were also referred to juvenile authorities.

Pythian Sisters Honor State Grand Chief

More than 60 guests attended a dinner and reception Saturday night at the Garden Grove given by Memorial Temple No. 33, Pythian Sisters, in honor of Mrs. Marion Keegan of 49 Ardmore Rd., newly elected grand chief of the State of Connecticut, Pythian Sisters.

Accompanying Mrs. Keegan were her associate grand officers. Guests attended from Connecticut, Michigan and New Jersey.

During the program after the dinner, Mrs. Keegan received many gifts.

Gerald Chappell was vocal soloist for the evening. He also conducted a community sing. Music for dancing was furnished by DuBaldo's Orchestra.

Mrs. Gladys Gamble was chairman of arrangements.

Gas Theft Reveals Car Theft

The investigation early this morning of a theft of gas revealed the theft of an expensive 1975 car, police said.

A youth about age 17 or 18 pulled up to the self-service pumps at Moriarty Bros. service station on Center St. at 1:35 a.m. today. He put $8.45 worth of gas in a 1975 Ford LTD.

The attendant came out to collect the money for the gas but the youth just looked at him, police said. Then he started the car and took off at a high rate of speed heading east on Center St.

Police determined the car belonged to Backus Motors in Stafford Springs. The owner told police the car was his sales manager's demonstrator.

At 2:35 a.m., the owner called the police back to say the demonstrator had been stolen and the car with the youth must be it.

Police are still seeking the car and the youth.

Take Two Aspirin And Wait Two Years

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — Let us be realistic. Increasingly, statistical data seems to indicate federal financial-economic actions taken this year will have their major effects three to four years from now.

Shorter-term solutions seem to so twist production of goods and the market for them that we pay for it later in increased inflation or depression. When dealing with major construction programs — nuclear power plant building for example — the time from the decision to build to actual operation can be eight, 10 or 12 years. Whatever appears in paper calculations, the development of new processes from conception to full-blown nationwide production great enough to affect the economy, can take 15 to 20 years or more.

I remember as a young writer asking the top experts about nuclear power plants as an important adjunct to the conventional fueled plants.

"It's 10 years down the road — only 10 years," I was told. A decade later I asked the same question. Effective nuclear power was still "10 years down the road."

The scientific problems were simple to solve; the delay was caused by engineering, political and environmental difficulties.

So much for the speed with which we can achieve domestic governmental control over inflation and shortages. When one calculates the effects today of foreign demand, shortages and prices, the equation grows more complicated. Difficulties are increased immeasurably by politics and misunderstandings that can stall results for additional years.

The statistical data mentioned above suggest that whatever the Congress and Mr. Ford do, consumer prices here are going to rise between now and year's end at a rate of 11 1/2 to 12 per cent or more. Next year, because of forces sent in motion some time back, inflation may drop back to somewhere between 7 and 8 per cent.

Not until some time in 1976, the figures suggest, will inflation slide to the 6 1/2 to 7 per cent mark. Incidentally, these calculations indicate that if President Ford runs in 1976 he will not be able to honestly campaign on an "I broke the inflation platform." As outlined above, he will be the beneficiary, most likely, of a pre-set bust in the inflation bubble, a bust determined before he took office.

Only what happens from 1977 on, it would seem, will be markedly affected by what Mr. Ford, the Senate, the House, industry, agriculture and the assorted nation of the world do during the period just ahead. The lag between cause and effect will continue to prevail.

Signs of improvement are visible. Forecasts of industrial commodity supplies are beginning to look up. World market prices of one metal and another have moved down, some sharply. What the food situation will look like in 1977 depends, of course, on an assortment of factors — weather, fertilizer, water and money — as well as oil. The price of petroleum may depend on the outcome of the U.S.-Arab psychological war over prices now being waged.

Program Budget Explained For Use by School Board

COLUMBIA
Virginia Carlson
Correspondent
228-9224

To prepare for a state mandate that school districts identify their budgets by programs—either by a subject matter or grade level—a four-hour Planned Program Budgeting System (PPBS) seminar was conducted last week in the teachers' lounge at Porter School.

The seminar was approved by the school board at the request of Supt. Clarence Edmondson. Dr. Harry Hartley, dean of the College of Education at the University of Connecticut, and E.O. Smith High School superintendent, conducted the seminar. He has written numerous articles of the subject as well as a book.

Dr. Hartley gave an introduction to planning programming in budgeting system; told how to implement PPBS; told the status of the system in Connecticut and outlined specific implications of PPBS for Columbia.

Dr. Hartley said PPBS has two parts—the fiscal and curricular. The fiscal or budget section asks schools to cost out instructional programs, he said.

He said the budget should be built on the basis of curricular programs in terms of their cost. "It is a simple concept of costing out curricular programs," he said. "By doing this the public's understanding of where the money goes will be improved," he added.

"If you want to do PPBS it will cost you money," he told the group. He said 3,000 to 4,000 schools in the country have programmed budgets.

He estimated about one fourth of all the school districts in the country identify cost programs in budgets. PPBS brings together the programs with the budget.

"With the new system you will not be able to keep the public in the dark on budget items and shovel them the manner," Dr. Hartley said.

PPBS will give better data on what the programs in the school are how they are working and will give a more understandable budget, he said.

With PPBS schools can be more accountable for tax dollars they are spending, he added.

Education has suddenly become big business according to Dr. Hartley, who said it is now approaching the number one industry in the U.S. with one billion being spent this year in education.

Porter Class Size Varies

The second grade classes are among the largest with Priscilla Blake's class at 23, Suzanne Kacynski's at 24 and Margaret Russell at 22.

The other classes run from 18 to 22. The largest class in the school is grade five, with 22 students.

New Activities
A new activity period has been started in the junior high level.

These activities include sewing with faculty advisor Linda White; dramatics with Cheryl Buffam and Jane Habison; boys' sports with Michael Wallace, Dennis Harvey, John Lescoe; girls' sports with Mary Inzinga, Nancy Bertozos, Elizabeth McLaughlin; games with Ann Gordon; ceramics with Geri Hanna; photography with Robert Atherton.

There is no other additional class during activity period—dentention with Alma Lemanski in charge.

Rock Throwing
WATERBURY (UPI) — A brief rock-throwing incident marred an otherwise peaceful day at Crosby High School, but attendance was off by nearly 50 per cent Monday after rumors of faculty motivated scuffles grew from two rock-throwing sprees Friday.

Gregory Showers, 16, and Richard Lapina, 17, both of Waterbury, were charged with reckless endangerment and disorderly conduct after police said they hurled rocks at school buses on Meriden Road as students were going home. Authorities did not say whether they were students at the high school, but Deputy School Supt. Theodore Mastland said the problems were caused by "dropouts," real fringe of society bums.

Author To Speak At Book Fair

BOLTON

In conjunction with the Parent Teacher Organization sponsored annual book fair, Bruce Clements, area author, will speak tomorrow at 8 p.m. in the Bolton Elementary School all purpose room on "The Influence and Relationship Between Children and Books."

The book fair evening hours will be from 7 until 9 p.m. Clements will autograph his latest book, "I Tell a Lie Every So Often."

Clements is from Williamam, married and the father of four children.

Clements said he writes because he is intensely interested in people and because he believes in order, he said writing about someone is like exploring a whole new world. He said it is a joy to take a group of people, all different, and see how they work out their programs with each other in a way that makes sense.

Clements has written four books. He is a teacher at Eastern Connecticut State College.

Any other residents interested in hosting a visitor are asked to call Gil Boissonau, 646-4472, head coach of the Bulldogs, as soon as possible.

Boissonau said, "It was a cultural and athletic success last year when Bolton residents hosted a Chelmsford, Mass. team for the weekend."

The entire football coaching staff hopes Bolton residents will respond as well this year in welcoming guests from Everett.

Paper Drive
The Bolton Junior Women's Club conservation committee's newspaper drive will be held Saturday from 9:30 a.m. until 1 p.m.

Residents are asked to leave bundled papers and magazines at the end of their driveway by 9:30 a.m. Anyone whose papers have not been picked up by 1 p.m. is asked to call 647-9812 before Saturday for home pickup.

The truck storing the papers will be at Herrick Memorial Park. The price of newspaper has dropped to 7¢ per ton. Money earned by the committee will be used to further landscape the park.

BETTY'S NOTEBOOK

By BETTY RYDER

Now that gift-giving season is fast approaching and somehow kids and animals sort of go together, we recalled a little stranger that joined our family 13 years ago.

The kids wanted a dog — but how do you spread one dog among four children. Well it can happen.

Rather than cause any static on Christmas morning — we decided the dog should be a present to mommie. That way no one child could be heartbroken cause the other one got a dog.

Well, choosing the dog was no easy task. With a house already full who needs a big, bouncing Collie or an eager and ready to go hound dog. Just what would be suitable for a busy household already brimming at the seams with exuberant children.

The man at the kennel had the answer. When he said "Get a long little doggie" we thought he was going to burst into an old Western tune — but that's what he meant — a long, little doggie.

He showed us a miniature Daschund with a moist black nose and tail wagging as if to say "Here I am you lucky people." We looked at her and she returned the glance with big, brown eyes sparkling.

She was mighty appealing although she looked very small to be shared by four energetic boys plus the fact that her history didn't indicate that she was ever going to be a real, big girl.

Well, we bought her and now this little girl, 13-years-old and grown to full doghood, thinks she's people. She greets the guests with a sappy nose, begs for table food (none of this dog chow for her) and makes herself comfortable on every chair or sofa her little duck-like legs will get her on.

How Sweet It Is

Received a report from a leading supermarket stating that the wholesale price of 5-lb. bag of sugar has creased over 200 per cent in a year. It further stated that by using half as much sugar, a family of four can save up to $25 a year.

The reasons given are: the American sweet tooth, increased world consumption, poor crops in Europe, and the growing Arab purchase of sugar.

The solution apparently is "if we can reduce the demand, we can very likely affect the price of sugar."

The report further noted that reminder cards would be posted saying "Warning. This product contains sugar. Save money. Use sugarless products."

Among the suggestions made were: eliminating the use of sugar on fruits and cereals; frost only the tops of layer cakes, not the sides; try fresh or canned fruits for desserts; do not use a sugar bowl on the table; and make your own frozen desserts from orange juice or yogurt.

Sound advice. If we all work together we may just lick those sugar blues.

When the World Deals a Blow that you cannot disguise. You can find new strength in your children's eyes.

They boost your courage, and brighten your days. Oh, it may not be much, maybe a burnt apple pie. Or it may be a big hurt, that brings tears to your eyes. But somehow they know in such tender years.

And with a touch of a hand, they dispel any fears. With a tap on the shoulder, Or a hand on your knee. They say "I'm right here."

And of your cares you are free. Strange the years we can spend Changing diapers and such. Wiping noses, drying tears. And I guess we never thought much Of the day that might come. When our world crumbles in. And how it all gets much brighter. When young children grin.

Lost Funds Returned
Mrs. Isabelle Knofla of 93 Henry St. found $137 in small bills on the sidewalk Monday morning in front of Regal's Men's Store on Main St.

She gathered up the money and took it to the Connecticut Bank and Trust Co. next door and gave it to Noel J. Belcourt, assistant vice president in charge of the CBT branch. Belcourt gave it to Mrs. Arlene Kelleher, teller.

Soon after, John Coulin of 11 School St. came in to say he had cashed a Social Security check that morning and lost the cash somewhere.

Mrs. Coulin verified his statements and returned the cash to him.

Five Men Charged In Rare Coin Theft
PROVIDENCE, R.I. (UPI)—Five persons have been arrested and charged in connection with the theft of ancient Greek and Roman coins valued as high as $5 million from Harvard University's Fogg Museum, federal officials announced here today.

The arrests were announced by U.S. Attorney Lincoln C. Almond, who said coins were recovered early today "from a wooded area" outside of Lincoln, R.I. He declined to further specify how or where they were taken.

Gervasi has visited Israel frequently, met its top leaders, and his research on political, social and economic questions has taken him to all the countries of Europe, Africa and the Middle East. A war correspondent during World War II, he later was the U.S. State Department Chief of Information in Rome for the Marshall Plan. He has been an associate editor of Colliers and its syndicated column has appeared in major newspapers throughout the country. His books include "The Case for Israel," "Big Government," and "To Whom Palestine?"

Locked Car Door Stops Intruder
A woman who lives on Bush Hill Rd. was driving her car alone Saturday at 7:07 p.m. and was stopped in the left lane of traffic on W. Center St. waiting for the light at McKee St. in North Manchester.

A young man then attempted to enter the car on the passenger's side.

The locked door stopped him. The scared woman drove home and called police. Police are looking for a young man in his early 20s, long brown hair in a pony tail and wearing a red bandana around his head.

Almond identified those arrested as Anthony Vigna, 50, formerly of Waltham, Mass., who was arrested in Rhode Island this morning; Louis Mahin, 48, of Cambridge, Mass.; Maria Magna, 21, of Medford, Mass.; David J. Dowdy, 34, and his wife Gladys, 25, of Abington, Mass. All were arrested early today.

All were charged with federal violations of taking stolen property across state lines. Joseph of Cumberland, R.I., and Attleboro and Cambridge, Mass. assisted the FBI in making the arrests, Almond said.

The FBI credited an unidentified Cumberland police officer with giving them information that was instrumental in recovery of the coins.

Israelis Raid Village in Lebanon

United Press International Israel said today one of its patrols crossed into neighboring Lebanon to raid an Arab village on the eve of Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger's two-day peace mission to five Middle East nations.

An army spokesman in Tel Aviv said an infantry force struck across the frontier Monday and demolished a house used by Palestinian guerrillas at Majdal Zoun, five miles north of the Israeli border settlement of Adamit.

"The house had provided accommodation for terrorists," the spokesman said. He said there were no casualties in the raid, Israel's second search-and-destroy mission into Arab lands in four days.

Prime Minister Yitzhak Rabin said Monday he has not ruled out negotiations with Arab leaders at the Rabat, Morocco, summit last week recognized the Palestine Liberation Organization as the sole representative of Palestinians and heir to any West Bank land given up by Israel.

Israel has repeatedly said it will never negotiate with a PLO leader Yasser Arafat hand of terrorists," or accept a Palestinian state on its borders. "Even after the Rabat conference, the government is consistent in its line that the Palestinian issue is to be solved through negotiations with Jordan," Rabin said.

Kissinger was scheduled to fly from Rome to Cairo tonight, Saudi Arabia and Jordan Wednesday and Syria and Israel Thursday. He was expected to discuss the effects of the Arab summit on peace in the Middle East.

PLO leader Yasser Arafat was quoted by a newspaper in Algiers Monday as warning Arab nations against accepting a U.S.-imposed solution to the Arab-Israeli conflict. Arafat said the refugee debate at the United Nations on Nov. 13 "will point up the fact that the Palestinian problem lies at the base of the Middle East conflict." In New York, thousands of pro-Israeli demonstrators rallied Monday to protest the scheduled appearance of PLO delegates at the U.N. debate.

Flimflam cost a Manchester store owner eight $100 bills yesterday.

Police said the events happened this way: One of two thieves called him a few weeks ago and said he had some anti-freeze in a metal warehouse. The price was $4 a gallon.

The merchant said he would take 200 gallons and arranged to meet the thief, who then said he had to go to his apartment at Presidential Village to get the keys to the warehouse.

At the apartment complex, the man asked for the money before he went in for the keys; the merchant gave it to him. Becoming suspicious, the merchant followed the man, who ran out the back of an apartment and got into a car with someone else who drove away.

Man Accused Of Shooting Stepdaughter
NEWINGTON (UPI)—A Newington man has been charged in the fatal shooting of his 9-year-old stepdaughter and the wounding of his wife of two months, police said.

Ronald Zdanis, 34, was arrested Monday as he left New Britain General hospital, where he had been recovering from multiple injuries.

Her mother, Barbara O'Neil Zdanis, 33, was found in a neighbor's apartment where she had fled after being shot in the back with a shotgun.

A Mother's Love

Making a futile demand on her own wasted body, a woman tries vainly to nurse her son, near death from starvation in drought-stricken Boutillimit, Mauritania. For this child, placed on emergency feedings by UNICEF, help arrived in time to save his life. The worst part of the African drought is over, but the long famine period has left a grim legacy of widespread malnutrition. Representatives of 130 countries are gathering in Rome today to discuss what could be this century's most critical concern—world hunger. (UPI photo)

Rams' Defense Factor In 15-13 Win over 49ers

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — How good are the Los Angeles Rams? It's hard to tell because their offense is spotty, but there is nothing wrong with the Rams' defense, and that's where they win ball games. Monday night, the Rams did everything nearly letter perfect and while their offense generated only 303 yards, the defense held the San Francisco 49ers to 286 for a 15-13 victory in the National Football League's nationally televised game of the week. True the Rams went into the game as 14-point favorites, which in retrospect was an outrageous overplay, even against a San Francisco team that had lost five in a row and was having quarterback problems. But James Harris, now the No. 1 quarterback with the trade of John Hadl, proved good enough for the second week in a row, doing exactly as his coach dictated while guiding the Rams to their fourth straight victory. It also was Los Angeles' ninth in a row over San Francisco and it snapped a Monday night jinx that had seen the home team win or tie for 21 consecutive weeks going back through the 1973 season. "It was as fine a team effort as I have seen," said Chuck Knox in admiration of his Rams, who now lead the NFC West by three games with six to go. "We made all the big plays when we needed them the most."

Sets New National Record

Records are made to be broken and 11-year-old Chuck Hutchinson of East Hartford, rolling in the Holiday Lanes Junior League, did just that compiling a brilliant 184 single last week. This was good enough to set a new National Duckpin Youth Assn. record. Hutchinson had seven marks, including four strikes in a row — in his last four boxes. He boasts a 104 average with the Orioles' entry in the American League. The line score: 8-17-36-46-66-85-115-145-166-184.

Browns Ready For Patriots

CLEVELAND (UPI) — Cleveland Browns' head coach Nick Skorich says he's "never taken the field to lose and I never will." And that goes for Sunday's game against New England even though the rookies will not be getting a chance to perform since the Browns, now 2-6 are out of contention for a division championship. "I'm not implying any mass changes," Skorich said Monday, adding that it's time to establish the team's backup corps. Browns owner Art Modell, after admitting "we're out of it," said the remainder of the season would be used to rebuild the team and test some new players and new techniques. He also said Skorich would stay as head coach, at least through 1974. "There will be no new coach this season," Modell said. "Maybe there never will be a new one. I don't know." When asked if Modell had talked to him since last Sunday's 36-35 loss to San Diego, Skorich said: "We just talked about the squad for a while." That included the performance of quarterback Brian Sipe, whom Skorich said "did a very good job" and would start against the Patriots because "he didn't get sacked once and he used his defense well."

With the ball back on the 32, Snead, who had taken over for rookie Tom Owen at the start of the second half, was forced to pass, and the Los Angeles defense was set for him. They put on a big rush as Robertson faked back with wide receiver Gene Washington. Forced out of the pocket, Snead hurried his throw and Robertson grabbed it in front of Washington. The 49ers never again got their hands on the ball. "I saw Gene between the linebacker (Robertson) and the defensive back," Snead said of his interception. "I tried to lob the ball over them but I got hit and knocked off balance. I knew I threw a dying quail the moment I let it go." Still, had it not been for Snead, picked up a little more than a week ago from the New York Giants, the 49ers wouldn't have been as close as they were in the final minutes. The veteran of 14 pro seasons passed the 49ers within range for Bruce Gossett to kick a 31-yard field goal with three minutes left in the third quarter and then connected with Washington on a 39-yard scoring pass with 6:53 to go to put the 49ers in position for a big upset. Harris, who completed 12-of-20 passes for 150 yards, took the Rams 80 yards in 15 plays, with Tony Baker crashing over from the one in the first quarter. Then, early in the second period, he hit tight end Bob Klein on a 25-yard throw for a 12-0 lead. David Ray tried to run over the extra point after the first TD, following a low snap from center, and was nailed short of the end zone. After the second TD, he simply nudged the kick. Those two misses could have proved disastrous, but Ray kicked a 20-yard field goal in the first minute of the final quarter that proved to be the winner. In defense of the Ram offense, Harris said he didn't see any reason for an apology. "We played well enough to win," he said. "That's all we're trying to do — win the game. We expected a tough game from the 49ers and they gave us one." The Rams play Atlanta on Sunday and the 49ers meet Dallas.

49er Quarterback Smothered Tom Owen Displays Ball After Sack

Buckeyes' Greene Back-of-the-Week

COLUMBUS, Ohio (UPI) — Ohio State Assistant Coach George Champ admits he may be biased in his glowing praise of the Buckeyes' junior quarterback Cornelius Greene. After all, Champ is his other quarterback in the country, said Champ. "He has a strong arm, a good release and the awareness to do the right thing at the right time. He is like Kern in he has the ability to bail you out with the broken play. He is the premier quarterback in the country." The improvement in Greene's passing statistics from a year ago to this season are hard to believe. Last season, in seven games, he had an 87.7 percentage of 87.7 for 725 yards and nine touchdowns. He also has 638 yards rushing in 106 carries and has scored eight TDs. In his last four games, against Wisconsin, Indiana, Northwestern and Illinois, Greene has hit on 26 of 35 for 498 yards and seven touchdowns. Why the big improvement? "Hard work and preparation, not taking any game lightly," says Greene, who stays in Columbus last summer and worked out almost daily. Greene credits the confidence gained by winning the MVP in the Rose Bowl for his success this season. "That was really the start of it," he said. "When we came back in the spring, I knew I could do it."

College Football Poll

Logjam Develops For Second Spot

NEW YORK (UPI) — Woody Hayes' Ohio State gridders remained the No. 1 choice for the United Press International College Football Ratings Board, but a logjam developed right behind them. Michigan, which has been trailing second right behind the Buckeyes, now has company in another place as Alabama received an equal number of votes with the Wolverines. On Saturday Michigan defeated Indiana by the modest score of 21-7, while Alabama shut out previously 15th-ranked Mississippi State, 35-0. Going into the game with the Crimson Tide, the Bulldogs had been the SEC leader in total offense, but Alabama permitted them only 167 yards. The Buckeyes, meanwhile, rolled up seven touchdowns while disposing of Illinois, 49-7, and received 34 of the 35 first place votes and 349 points, one shy of a perfect score. Florida's win over Auburn and Southern California's 15-15 tie with California helped to rearrange the rest of the top 10. Auburn, which lost to the Gators 25-14, dropped from fourth to ninth, while Florida jumped from 10th to seventh. The Trojans, meanwhile, probably feel that a tie worse than losing "kissing your sister" as the non-winning dropped them from sixth to 11th.

Private Grid Practice

COLUMBUS, Ohio (UPI) — There will be three weeks of peace and quiet for Ohio State's No. 1 ranked football team. Coach Woody Hayes, perhaps trying to go one up on Michigan Coach Bo Schembechler, announced Monday that all Buckeye practices the rest of the season would be closed. A year ago, Schembechler closed Wolverine practice sessions two weeks prior to the annual Ohio State-Michigan game. Hayes' action comes three weeks before the No. 22 game between the current two top teams in the nation. "I'm really sorry to have to do it," Hayes said Monday, "but this is the time of season when teams do add certain things to their offense and all you have to do is let one fellow in who knows what he's looking for and you prejudice your chances of winning."

Steelers Prep For Bengals

PITTSBURGH (UP) — Pittsburgh Steeler Coach Chuck Noll says the Cincinnati Bengals have been reliving their passing game lately but against the Steelers, the Bengals will be running. Noll said Monday the Steelers would be ready for Cincinnati — running or passing — because of the consistency Pittsburgh displayed in its 27-0 win over the Philadelphia Eagles. "Our consistency is much better," Noll said Monday. "He defined 'consistency' as making few mistakes and said it was the hardest thing to achieve and retain. "It's a week-to-week thing, you're never over the hump," he said. "There's only one way to do it — let one fellow in who knows what he's looking for and you prejudice your chances of winning."

UConn's Sinay Honored For Field Goal Show

STORRS, (UPI) — The University of Connecticut's Greg Sinay has been selected the Yankee Conference's football offensive player of the week for his three field goal performance in last Saturday's 9-7 win over Rutgers. Sinay, a 5'11" sophomore from Norwich, Conn., booted field goals of 22, 37 and 27 yards, the last one in the fourth quarter to give the Huskies the lead. Sinay and Jeff Theodoss, a junior safety from Southbridge, Mass., also won Eastern College Athletic Conference honors for their play last week. Theodoss intercepted a Rutgers aerial and ran it back 64 yards to set up Sinay's final kick. He also had six tackles, assisted in two others and deflected one pass. New Hampshire's Dave Teggart, who also kicked three field goals in a 28-14 victory Saturday over Rhode Island, shared the kicking honors with Sinay. The Yankee Conference's defensive award went to Maine safety Steve Vance, who knocked down a pass in the end zone to preserve a 12-7 victory. New Hampshire's Jeff Allen, a freshman from Seymour, Conn., won the rookie of the year award by leading his team to a 28-14 victory over Rhode Island.

COACHES' CORNER

By John LaFontana
East Catholic High

Last Saturday's 22-19 game was an especially important victory for us. Besides being our third win of the season, it was a success over a very tough opponent, East Hartford, and it was a come-from-behind decision. It answered a couple of questions about our ability, whether we could win over a tough physical team and also if we could come from behind which is a sign of a good team, plus hustle and character. There were some great individual performances, including, of course the 64 yards rushing and the game-winning touchdown by Joel Desimore. In addition, other old reliables had good days. Steve Whittam kept the enemy at bay with five punts for 156 yards. Mike Nolen played a fantastic game on defense, making many tackles and coming up with three interceptions. Cophus Nolen only gained 31 yards but scored our second touchdown on a three-yard run that was simply a display of desire when he broke three tackles and dove backward into the end zone for the score. The big play that set the tempo for the whole game was the spectacular 85-yard kickoff return which opened play by Brian Foley. Another great play, which was important to our win, was the 48-yard pass play from Bob Tebeccio to tight end Jim McCann which took us down to the 10-yard line and put us in position for the winning touchdown. There were many others who contributed to the victory on offense and defense.

East Catholic Harriers Qualify

Lemieux Indians' Qualifier

Placing third in the Medium School run (Class B) in the Eastern Sectionals yesterday at UConn was the East Catholic cross country team. The Eagles therefore qualify for the Class B Meet Friday at Berlin's Timberlin golf course. In the Class A run, Manchester High did not qualify, the top six teams do, but senior Dave Lemieux made the grade for the Class A Meet with a 10th place finish. The Indians were 12th out of 24 teams entered. Cheney Tech in the Class C run didn't qualify for further competition placing, however, a highly respectable ninth. Sophomores George Trian finished 26th out of approximately 130 thirdinals in the bracket. Senior Jim Guillett topped the Eagles' performance with an 11th placement. Senior Mark Dana (18th) and juniors Mark Shehan (20th), Joe Stamp (55th) and Joe Durinkas (40th) rounded out the Eagles scoring. Other Manchester harrier placements were M(W) Wallace (40th), Scott Moffat (62nd), Glenn Floodor (68th), Bob Lyon (82nd), Jeff Orbach (87th) and Jay Martin (92nd).

Long Silence Ends On Disputed Catch

COOPERSTOWN, N.Y. (UPI) — Sam Rice has posthumously ended a half-century of silence about his controversial catch in the third game of the 1925 World Series. The Baseball Hall of Fame has released the Rice's own account of the catch, kept in a sealed envelope for the last nine years. Rice, the Washington Senators' Hall of Fame right fielder, caught a drive by the Pittsburgh Pirates' catcher, Earl Smith, and stumbled into the low bleacher seat among the cheering home fans at the Senators' Griffith Stadium. Beginning his protest, he displayed the ball triumphantly as umpire Cy Rigler called the batter out. The Pirates feared that Rice had dropped the ball when he fell and that a fan stuck it back in his glove. Umpire Rigler, if he is still alive, can breathe a sigh of relief. Rice claimed in the sealed letter that he never lost possession of the ball. Rice penned his report of the incident in 1965, sealed it and entrusted the document to Paul S. Kerr, president of the National Baseball Hall of Fame and Museum. Following Rice's death at 84 in October, Kerr opened the envelope before witnesses. It was made public Monday night. The letter read: "It was a cold and windy day the right field bleachers were crowded with people overcoats and wrapped in blankets, the ball was a line drive headed for the bleachers towards right center. I turned slightly to my right and had the ball in view all the way, going at top speed and about 15 feet from bleachers (sic) jumped as high as I could and caught handed and the ball hit the center of pocket in glove (I had a death grip on it). I hit the ground about five feet from a barrier about four feet high in front of bleachers with all my brakes on but couldn't stop so I tried to jump it to land in the crowd but my feet hit the barrier about a foot from top and I toppled over on my stomach into first row of bleachers. I hit my Adams apple on something which sort of knocked me out for a few seconds but McNehey arrived about that time and grabbed me by the shirt and pulled me out. I remember trotting back towards the infield still carrying the ball for about halfway and then tossed it towards the pitchers mound. (How I have wished many times I had kept it.) At no time did I lose possession of the ball." Rice never said during his lifetime whether he had caught the ball. Kenesaw M. Landis, then baseball commissioner, got Rice's standard reply: "The umpire called him out."

Coventry Students Make Dolls

Monica Shea Correspondent 742-9495

The fourth grade class of Eva Kingsbury at Coventry Grammar School recently spent two afternoons under the direction of Mrs. Carolyn Hollister making corn husk dolls.

The children were also assisted by several parents, Mrs. Cheryl Allen, Mrs. Margie Lazzarini, Mrs. Olive Peterson, and Mrs. Rita Fitch.

The dolls were made out of corn cobs donated by a local farmer.

The children stripped the corn very carefully and then let it dry to a golden color. They then separated the tassels and dried them. After choosing and setting aside the perfect wide husks for the outer skirts and covering the children rolled other husks into heads and bodies.

These were then covered with the better husks to form the skirts and aprons. The tassels were used to make the doll's hair. The finished products were exhibited at the school's open house last week.

Mrs. Kingsbury said the doll project was done in relation to the Social Study Curriculum where the children are studying the period in history from 1790 to 1840. During this time Colonial children had to make all the toys that they played with because toys were just not commercially produced.

In conjunction with the social studies the fourth graders also toured Old Sturbridge Village to give them a better understanding and appreciation of that era.

Mrs. Hollister learned the art of making the corn husk dolls at the Tolland County Agriculture Extension Service last year.

Mrs. Sible Roethke, principal at Coventry Grammar School, commented on the adult volunteer program at the school.

"Our adult volunteer program was put into operation at the school last year and it proved to be very successful. We felt that there were many adults in the community which have talents and skills that would be beneficial to our students."

"In the past community adults have come in to teach the students gardening, and wool spinning and other arts and crafts. Other parents are planning on coming in this year to teach their skills to the students."

Other adults in the community who have particular skills or talents who would be willing to share these with the students are invited to contact Mrs. Roethke at 742-7313 during school hours.

Club Seeks Ideal Girl

VERNON

The Vernon Junior Women's Club has started its search for the ideal high school senior girl.

The local contest is part of a nationwide program to honor the country's leading high school girls for their achievement in scholastics, creative talents and community betterment.

Vernon girls can enter the contest by registering with Mrs. Errol Alexander, chairman of the club's education committee. They should do so as soon as possible.

The winner in Vernon will represent the town in the state Junior Miss Pageant in Hartford competing with other Connecticut high school girls for the many scholarship awards and a chance to participate in the America Junior Miss Pageant in Mobile, Ala.

Mrs. Alexander said, "Our Junior Miss will be more than just a pretty girl. Our winner will be determined on the basis of scholastic achievement, character, youth, fitness, poise, personality, and creative abilities."

Mrs. Alexander explained that the nature of the Junior Miss program, the high ideals established and maintained throughout its 18 years, has earned the pageant approval of educators and civic leaders throughout the country.

The program was instituted in 1958 and involved 18 states with just 50 girls participating. The program has grown steadily and now the 50 states participate involving thousands of girls.

More than $700,000 in college scholarships, savings bonds, and other awards will be offered to local, state, and national winners. A total of $55,000 in scholarships, topped by a $10,000 prize to the 1975 national winner, will be awarded at the national pageant in May.

The contest is sponsored by Eastman Kodak Co., John H. Breck and Co., and Kraft Foods.

HARTFORD (UPI) — Judge James H. Kinsella of Hartford needs only one vote today to win reelection to his fourth consecutive four-year term in the Hartford Probate District.

Kinsella, former mayor of Hartford, is the Democratic nominee and he has been endorsed by the Republicans. He served a two-year interim term from 1969 to 1982 before being elected to a full term.

Soccer Tournament The Bolton Bulldogs high school soccer team will play its first tournament game Wednesday at 2:15 p.m. at the high school field.

Visit Renovated Whiton Library

State Senior Citizens Elect Ward to Office

Hugh F. Ward of Evergreen Rd. has been elected second vice president of the Connecticut Council of Senior Citizens. His election was Oct. 24 at the council's Eighth Constitutional Convention, held in New Haven.

The council's president is Walter A. Adams of Southington. The first vice president is Mrs. Martha Stengel of Torrington.

Resolutions approved at the convention backed housing for the elderly, mobile home parks, legal services, provisions for the care of elderly parents, posting of prescription prices, reducing the state sales tax to three per cent, and extending no-fault insurance to cover property damage.

An additional resolution called for the creation of the position of full-time paid commissioner of the aging.

Ward, a Manchester resident for 29 years, was a quality assurance leader at Pratt & Whitney, East Hartford, until his retirement. He resided in Stafford before coming to Manchester.

Federal Agency Assists Town In Evaluating Water Quality

The Town of Manchester is enlisting the services of a federal agency to assist it in evaluating the effectiveness of its water quality. Aiding in the evaluation will be the Federal Center for Disease Control in Atlanta.

The action follows a meeting of interested persons Oct. 21, called by Health Director Dr. Alice Turck to review numerous complaints received by her department.

Attending the meeting, in addition to Dr. Turck and other town officials, were State Health Department personnel; Barbara Goldrick, nurse epidemiologist at Manchester Memorial Hospital; and Florence Austin of the Public Health Nursing Association.

Questions raised at the meeting centered on the effectiveness of chlorination without prior treatment of the water.

supply (coagulation, flocculation, settling and filtration). All of the town water is chlorinated, but part of the supply isn't filtered, and a mechanical connection (such as a water hose connected to a faucet) with the other end in dirty sink water) must be in place at that moment.

It was the consensus it is highly unlikely the necessary conditions for cross-contaminations would occur. However, it was agreed planning should begin to locate such connections since corrections usually are very simple (for example, a $2 vacuum breaker could be the answer).

Bank Receives Plaque

James M. Troy, president of the Vernon National Bank, is presented with a plaque of appreciation from three "Squirrels" of the Vernon Youth Hockey Association. The award recognizes contributions by the bank to the game of hockey. Making the presentation are (l-r) David Tomkins, Timothy Heaney and Robert Martin, all of Vernon.

SALESMAN AWARD Roger A. Dion of Manchester, vice president of Hartford Federal Savings, has been named salesman-of-the-month.

Third quarter sales were $524 million, an increase of 29 per cent over $407 million in the 1973 quarter. Gross revenues for the first nine months, also a record, were $523 million, an increase of 25 per cent over $442 million in the 1973 period. The third quarter gross was $201 million, or 24 per cent over $165 million in the 1973 third quarter. Gross revenues include sales by company-owned restaurants, rental income, service fees, initial location and license fees, gains on sales of company-owned restaurant businesses and other income.

for October by the Greater Hartford Chamber of Commerce. Dion achieved top honors in competition with 31 Greater Hartford business executives who are volunteers in the Action Team Membership Campaign of the Chamber of Commerce. For his efforts, Dion was awarded the Pewter Tankard, the highest tribute to a member of the Chamber of Commerce. The cost of the Tankard is $100. Dion is the treasurer of the Connecticut Council of the National Remodelers Association and is a past president of Frannam.

Dion and his wife and their three children reside at 391 Woodland St.

RECORD SALES McDonald's Corp. reported record earnings, revenues and sales for both the 10 months and third quarter which ended Sept. 30, 1974.

Earnings for the first nine months of 1974 totaled $51.3 million, up 30 per cent over $39.4 million in the 1973 period. Earnings per share increased 30 per cent to $1.29 from 99 cents a year ago.

Per share earnings were 46 cents in the recent quarter, up 31 per cent over 35 cents in the 1973 quarter. Third quarter earnings increased 29 per cent to $1.40 million from $1.08 million in the 1973 period.

Fred L. Turner, president of the chain, said record sales are the result of the company's aggressive expansion and licensed restaurants totaling $1.4 billion for the nine months, up 30 per cent over $1.09 billion in the first three quarters of 1973.

Graham, 43, a native of Greenwich, Conn., and retired Navy officer, went to California about 15 years ago where he met and married his wife, Laverne. He lived in San Diego the past 10 years.

Federal agents arrested one of the two persons aboard, Stephanie Stearns, who now is in prison on $20,000 bail on a charge of stealing the boat.

But a man identified as Buck St. John, 40, managed to escape by diving into the Ala Wai boat harbor. He is currently the United Way Gets BUSINESS 86% of Goal Here

The results of the United Way campaign in Manchester at the end of the drive Oct. 31 were $70,874, or 86.74 per cent of the total goal for 1974, said Gary Paterno, Manchester's United Way campaign chairman.

Paterno said many of the teams had reached only 50 per cent of their goals so far. Although the United Way drive officially ended, the returns are still coming in. Paterno said he receives mail daily with donations. The Greater Hartford United Way drive went over the top of its drive for $5 million. Manchester's quota was $83,688.

Anyone who has not donated to the United Way and still wishes to do so may send their contributions to Gary Paterno, assistant branch manager, Connecticut Bank & Trust Co., Manchester Parkade, Manchester, or United Way, 68 S. Main St., West Hartford, Conn., 06107.

Dr. Kristan Will Speak At UConn Smoking Program

Dr. Joseph Kristan, Vernon's health officer, will be one of the panel of speakers at a special program "Smoking for Health Professionals in Training," Nov. 18 at the University of Connecticut.

The program will be for students, nurses, medical and dental students, and those studying in schools of public health, respiratory therapy and other allied health professions.

It will examine the role of the various health professionals in both as a smoking exemplar and in relation to the management of smokers.

Dr. Kristan will outline the office procedure of a private practitioner in management of the smoker. Dr. Nathan Seriff, a member of the American Lung Association's committee on smoking and health, will speak on "Cigarette Smoking: An American Tragedy"; Dr. Robert Bernatta of Hartford, a lung surgeon will speak on "Smoking and Oral Health"; Dr. Lynn Davis of Meriden, an ophthalmologist, will discuss the effects of cigarette smoking on the eyes; Dorothy Sexton, a registered nurse, will outline the duties of the nurse as anti-smoking counselor to the patient.

Richard P. Fredericks, Bristol hospital administrator, will discuss the role of the community hospital in dealing with smokers and smoking. Dr. Thomas Godar, chief of the pulmonary disease section at St. Francis Hospital, will be guest moderator of the program.

Funds for the program were furnished by the Department of Health Education and Welfare.

Members interested in participating should notify the chamber office or Steve Diana, the chamber's public relations officer.

The chamber also is establishing a schedule of "Get Acquainted" breakfasts under the direction of Lee Higgins, chairman of the entertainment committee.

The next one will be Nov. 19 at 8 a.m. at Bradford House, 100 State St. Breakfast will consist of juice, scrambled eggs, sausage, toast, and coffee, tea, or milk. It will be held at the Chamber of Commerce.

Those planning to attend the breakfast should notify the chamber office by Nov. 14.

The Lighter Side

De-Voiding the Fly-By

By DICK WEST
WASHINGTON (UPI) — Here's a rule I would like to see adopted:

When people suggest an energy-saving measure, they must also propose a substitute to replace whatever it is we are supposed to give up.

Otherwise the overall conservation program is going to create a great many national voids.

Any country, particularly one as strong as America, can withstand a few national voids. But when the national fabric begins to resemble Swiss cheese, we must ask ourselves whether the empty spaces being created aren't more undesirable than the energy wastage.

A prime example of calling for cutbacks without proposing alternatives was Sen. William Proxmire's recent denouncement of Air Force fly-bys. Proxmire complained the Air Force was needlessly burning jet fuel by having formations of planes fly by during retirement ceremonies for high brass.

Then he subsequently reported that the Air Force had acted to limit fly-bys to "very unusual circumstances."

Well, sure, this will save a certain amount of fuel. But what about the void it creates in the retirement program?

Proxmire offered nothing in the way of a suggestion for compensating for the loss of that thrilling moment when the jets swoop out of the wild blue yonder.

It's like foregoing the presentation of the gold watch with the engraving on the back at the retirement of an insurance executive.

If the senator had been obliged to think the matter through, there are a number of suitable substitutes he might have proposed—things that use less energy but retain some of the tradition and excitement of the fly-by.

One thing the Air Force might consider is the acquisition of a couple of old circus catapults used in human cannonball acts.

At the climax of a retirement ceremony, after the troops have passed in review and the general has had the Distinguished Service Medal pinned to his chest, the cannon would be fired and John Wayne would zoom past the reviewing stand into a waiting net.

Admittedly, the cannon smacks a bit of the field artillery. But the commanding figure of John Wayne, hero of so many aerial combat movies, hurling overhead in Air Force all the way.

What general is going to miss a few jets with a spectacle like that in his honor?

If Wayne isn't available, maybe the Air Force could book Evel Knievel to cap its retirement ceremonies by jumping his motorcycle over a row of mothballed B-29s.

Admittedly, part of the military flavor would be lost. But as long as Knievel remained airborne for a few seconds, the fly-by symbolism would still be there.

October Construction Shows Drop in Value

The estimated value of October construction in Manchester showed a 67 per cent drop from that of a year ago, a report by the building inspector's office indicates.

The figures are $522,386 for October of this year and $1,604,093 for October 1973.

Contributing to the 1973 total were permits totaling $529,000 for 48 apartment units on Homestead St., a $216,000 permit for an industrial building on Progress Dr., and a $180,000 permit for additions to a shopping area on Spencer St.

The largest permit this October was $60,000, for a restaurant (the Islander) on Tolland Tpke.

Permits were issued last month for 3 single-family and 2 two-family dwellings, 1 garage, 11 tool sheds, 5 signs, 8 swimming pools, 7 demolitions, 86 alterations and additions, 149 electrical-plumbing-heating permits, 5 abandoned-car removals, 2 greenhouses, 1 radio-transmitting antenna, 1 horse-barn and 1 clay tennis court.

Legal Notice

PUBLIC NOTICE OF PROPOSED ISSUANCE OF A PERMIT FOR THE FOLLOWING NEW DISCHARGE INTO THE WATERS OF THE STATE OF CONNECTICUT

Applicant Information Name and Mailing Address
First Hartford Realty Corporation (Somerville Manufacturing Co.) 685 Parker Street, Manchester, Connecticut 06040.

Location of Discharge
Setico Road 650' west from Maple Street, Town of Somers.

The First Hartford Realty Corporation (Somerville Manufacturing Co.) proposes to discharge treated sanitary sewage from a warehouse.

The permit application is for one (1) new discharge of 1,400 gallons per day to the groundwaters in the Town of Somers.

The permit will require that all wastes be treated to meet the applicable effluent limitations.

Notice is hereby given that the above discharger has applied for a permit to discharge into the waters of the State of Connecticut. The Commissioner of Environmental Protection, acting through the Director, Water Compliance and Hazardous Substances Division (hereinafter "the Director"), is authorized to issue such permits pursuant to Section 25-54i of Chapter 474a, of the Connecticut General Statutes.

On the basis of preliminary review by members of his staff, in accordance with applicable state law, the Director proposes to issue a permit to such discharger subject to certain effluent limitations and other terms and conditions. These proposed determinations are tentative.

A public hearing will be held on the proposed issuance of such a permit on November 15, 1974 at 10:00 A.M. at the State Office Building, Room 129, Hartford, Connecticut in accordance with Section 22a-5-2, Rules of Practice and Procedures, Department of Environmental Protection. Interested persons are invited to participate.

In addition, interested persons wishing to comment upon a project to the issuance of such permits are invited to submit same in writing to the Director at the above address no later than November 15, 1974. All written comments or objections received prior to November 15, 1974 will be considered by the Director in his formulation of a determination regarding the issuance of the subject permit. The application proposed permit, and other terms and conditions, comments received, and other information on file with the Department of Environmental Protection may be inspected and copied in the offices of Department at the above address, at any time between 8:30 a.m. and 4:30 p.m., Monday through Friday.

The proposed permit may be obtained by writing to the Director at the same address. Please bring the foregoing to the attention of persons you know who would be interested in this matter.

Lions to Hear Kiwi Speaker

Shirley Chandler of the Kiwi Club will be guest speaker tonight at the Manchester Lions Club meeting at the Steak Out on Tolland Tpke. near Vernon Circle.

The Kiwi Club is an international organization of retired American Airlines stewardesses. The Kiwi bird of New Zealand has wings but cannot fly. The Kiwis of American Airlines are named for the legendary bird since they, too, are "grounded."

Mrs. Chandler lives at 292A Green Rd.

A social hour will begin at 6:30 before dinner.

Gibbons Assembly Plans Card Party

Gibbons Assembly, Ladies of Columbus, will sponsor a military whist and setback card party Friday at 7:45 p.m. at St. Bridget school hall.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed McKeever will conduct the games. Door prizes will be awarded and refreshments will be served. Proceeds from the card party will benefit the group's community and charitable activities.

Donations will be $1 per person. Tickets will be available at the door.

Town Will Buy Bunton Mowers

Bids will be opened Nov. 15 in the Municipal Building for furnishing the Manchester Cemetery Department with 10 mowers, specified to be 18-inch Bunton, Goodall Duzmore Trimmer-Edgers.

To be given in trade are 10 used 18-inch Bunton mowers.

HOLIDAY MONEY

PAY IT BACK NEXT YEAR

PAY 1/3 IN JANUARY
PAY 1/3 IN FEBRUARY
PAY 1/3 IN MARCH

1. WHAT IS E.S.A.?

A special plan effective from October 19 to December 31, designed to help your budget over the difficult buying period before and after Christmas.

2. HOW DOES IT WORK?

You apply for "Holiday Money", up to $300 worth as you need it, from the date of E.S.A. approval through the entire month of December. It will be billed on your EARLY SHOPPERS ACCOUNT to pay back next year. The Holiday Money is good thru January 31.

3. THAT MEANS?

Better budgeting for you on your shopping before and after Christmas with NO BILL from us until January, 1975. Then you pay 1/3 in January, 1/3 in February, 1/3 in March.

4. NO FINANCE CHARGE*

How about that? No FINANCE CHARGE. All you have to do is pay 1/3 each month starting in January. NO FINANCE CHARGE IF YOU PAY ON THIS SCHEDULE. If there is an unpaid balance in your E.S.A. account on March 31st, it will be transferred to your regular charge account and the normal finance charge will be assessed.

5. OTHER E.S.A. BENEFITS

You draw the money, as needed, which makes for better budgeting. And you spend it like cash so there's no waiting for credit checks. You have up to December 31 to draw your $300 allotment, but you can use it thru January. Thus, you can take advantage of all after-Christmas sales, White Sale, Corset Sale, etc. And, at any time, we'll credit any surplus Holiday Money you have to your Early Shopper's Account. With all these benefits, how can you lose?

*Finance charges, if any, computed by a periodic rate of 1% per month which is an annual percentage rate of 12% after deducting current payments and/or credits.
