Rationing Possible

As negotiations continued between the United Mine Workers and coal companies, miners began walking off their jobs in some states and coal distributors and users were looking for ways to conserve supplies. The owner of this Richmond, Va., firm has only a 30-day supply, and says he may be forced to rationing if a strike occurs. (UPI Photo)

Poor business conditions and the tight money market are blamed for cutbacks or shutdowns at Lydall Inc., Cheney Bros., and Rogers Corp. Nearly 500 workers are affected at the three firms.

Three Local Industries Cut Back on Production

By SOL R. COHEN

Poor business conditions and the general tight money market are having their effect in Manchester.

At least three local industries have been forced to cut back on production and to shut down their plants for a week at a time.

Lydall Inc. and Colonial Board shut down their box board and fiber board plants as of last Friday, but will reopen on Monday.

Rogers Corp., which manufactures plastics and moulding materials, has cut back on production and has assigned its employees to other work. Rogers plans to shut down its Manchester plant one week in this month and one week in December.

Cheney Bros., which manufactures velvets, velours and upholstery material, was shut down Labor Day week and last week. It had reopened Monday.

Close to 300 employees were affected by the Cheney shutdowns and about 90 at Lydall and Colonial Board. About 100 will be affected at Rogers Corp.

David Clark, treasurer of Lydall Inc. and group executive of its fiber board plant, said his company has had similar cutbacks and layoffs in its Maine and Tennessee plants.

"It's painful, but business will come back," he said. "I'm optimistic. We sell materials for such basic use as in footwear, automobiles and luggage. People will need shoes and they'll need cars."

He blamed conditions on a depressed market and on high inventories by those manufacturers converting Lydall and Colonial Board products into the finished article.

"If their inventories are high, ours are high."

"Our products are needed for consumer packaging, and there will always be consumers," he said.

Walter Hayes, division manager of Rogers' Manchester plant, explained his company manufactures material for use in the printing, electronics, automotive and electrical industries.

"Their business was good for the first nine months of this year, but it's down drastically now," he explained.

Hayes blamed conditions on the general reduction of inventories, "directly caused by a cutback in buying."

He said tight mortgage money is cutting back on construction and, consequently, on those many components his company supplies to the construction industry.

He said his company manufactures components for use in telephones, "and even that is affected." Western Electric, which buys Rogers products, is selling fewer telephones, he explained, adding, "Even General Electric is laying off people."

Hayes said his company is hoping the cutbacks will be very temporary.

"We're looking forward to a pickup in the first quarter of 1975."

John Robinson, president of Cheney Bros., was another who blamed high inventories, tight money and generally poor business conditions for the situation. He said Cheney Bros. is operating at about 60 per cent of its normal capacity.

"We're doing our very best to provide as much work as possible for our people," said Robinson. "We realize they can't afford to live on anything less than five days pay a week."

Thousands Get Pink Slips

Thousands more workers were given pink slips in the auto and appliance industries Wednesday in the aftermath of an election that both parties said demonstrated unrest over crippling prices and high unemployment.

At the White House, President Ford and Senate Democratic majority leader Mike Mansfield met following the sweeping Democrat gains and promised mutual cooperation to try to solve the nation's economic ills.

General Electric said it was temporarily laying off 11,200 workers at a heavy appliance plant in Louisville, Ky., and Chrysler Corp. said it was discharging indefinitely 7,000 workers at four plants.

GE blamed the layoffs on slumping sales caused by the slowdown in housing construction. Chrysler said a poor sales performance of new 1975 cars was responsible for its new round of layoffs.

There were new warnings that thousands would be thrown out of work if a national coal strike materializes Nov. 12.

In Birmingham, Ala., a spokesman for U.S. Steel Corp. said a strike would prompt cutbacks in production and could put as many as 5,000 persons out of work at a local steelmaking plant.

The government estimates a lengthy strike would idle 600,000 to 1 million workers nationally. Gov. Arch Moore of West Virginia, a major coal-producing state, said a strike would cost the state $3 million a week in lost revenues.

Negotiations between the United Mine Workers, representing 120,000 miners, and the coal owners resumed in Washington Wednesday with the threatened strike only five days away.

Union officials doubted a settlement could be reached in time to avert a strike.

Leaders of both parties said the results of Tuesday's election reflected strong voter dissatisfaction with the state of the economy, as well as with Watergate.

Sen. Lloyd M. Bentsen Jr., an unannounced contender for the 1976 Democratic presidential nomination and a spokesman for Democrats on economic issues, called the results a repudiation of the Ford administration's tight money policy.

He proposed loosening up money to encourage growth in industries currently depressed, such as housing.

Referenda Tally Delayed

HARTFORD (UPI) — The Secretary of the State's office said today tallies on the four proposed constitutional amendments won't be completed at least until next week.

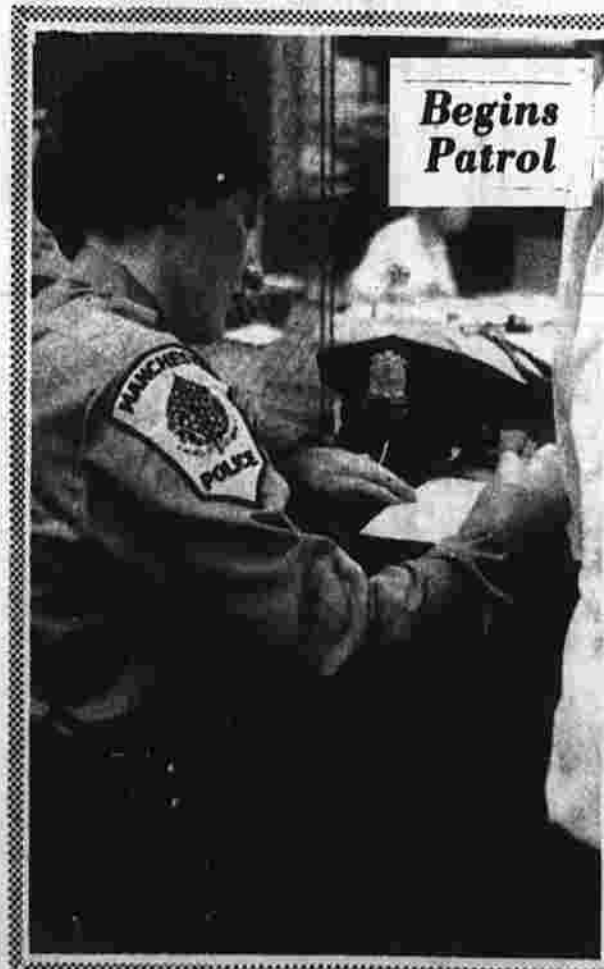

A spokesman said the final tabulation on the four questions won't be completed because of the long ballot in Tuesday's elections. The spokesman said it appeared "at a quick glance" that all four questions were approved by the voters.

Among the four were a revision to the state constitution prohibiting discrimination on the basis of sex, similar to the national Equal Rights Amendment, which Connecticut already had approved.

The national amendment, however, is still awaiting ratification by the required three-quarters majority of the states.

The other state questions included changing the method of amending the constitution, denying voting rights to convicts whether or not they were previously registered to vote, and eliminating the constitutional requirement that justices of the peace be elected.

Begins Patrol

Signing out after a hard day's work patrolling the streets of Manchester is the town's first woman patrol officer, Audrey Paradis, Miss Paradis, 21, began Monday on a fully equal status with the male officers. She asked for no concessions due to her sex and several of the officers made it clear she would not be offered any. "Audrey gets what she earns," one tough cop said. She studied law enforcement at Manchester Community College and just completed a 400-hour training program at the Municipal Police Training Academy in Meriden. Her first arrest this week was a shoplifter. (Herald photo by Barlow)

Mrs. Grasso Plans to Ease Transition

HARTFORD (UPI) — Gov.-elect Ella T. Grasso will set up a "transitional government" that will pave the way for her Democratic administration to take power in January, but not until she takes a brief respite at the family's shoredside cottage.

Mrs. Grasso's 200,000 vote avalanche Tuesday over Rep. Robert H. Steele, R-Conn., swept Democrats back into control of the Connecticut Legislature they had lost in the 1972 Nixon landslide.

The stunning victory made her the first woman in the nation to win an election for governor without succeeding her husband.

Sen. Abraham Ribicoff, D-Conn., won an even bigger victory for a third term against James R. Brannen III, a 33-year-old black airline pilot and freshman legislator from rural Colchester.

Final tallies gave Mrs. Grasso 640,746 votes to Steele's 438,983. Ribicoff, 64, trounced Brannen 688,740 to 371,871.

Mrs. Grasso, 55, earlier had announced plans for a brief vacation at her cottage in East Lyme before returning to establish a transition team to ease her into power early in January when Republican Gov. Thomas J. Meskill steps down.

Democrats also regained control of the six-member House of Representatives delegation, winning four seats, including incumbent Reps. William R. Cotter, D-

Conn., Robert N. Gialmo, D-Conn., and newcomers Christopher H. Dodd, son of the late senator, and consumer advocate Toby Moffett.

State and former National Democratic chairman John M. Bailey, who reportedly is suffering from throat cancer, turned in one of his best performances in masterminding the Grasso triumph and reuniting a badly split state party.

One Campaign Over and Another Begun

HARTFORD (UPI) — For Secretary of the State Gloria Schaffer and Republican State Chairman Vincent A. Laudone, the Tuesday elections marked the end of one campaign and the start of another.

Mrs. Schaffer, who led the Democratic underticket in votes, reportedly is seriously considering seeking the Senate nomination in 1976 and has been discussing it with a number of party leaders around the state.

Laudone, whose party was decimated in the elections, said Wednesday he also will be talking to party leaders, but with the gloomier task of trying to put the party pieces back together.

The Hartford Courant reported today that although Mrs. Schaffer will not discuss the matter publicly, she has been talking about it to a number of party leaders.

The Senate seat up for election in 1976 now is held by Sen. Lowell P. Weicker Jr., R-Conn., who two weeks ago threatened to jump the GOP and seek re-election as an independent. He said he would make a final decision in the next 60 days.

If Weicker switched the GOP nomination then would be open, perhaps to Rep. Robert H. Steele, the loser against Gov.-elect Ella T. Grasso and who is known to be interested in the Senate seat.

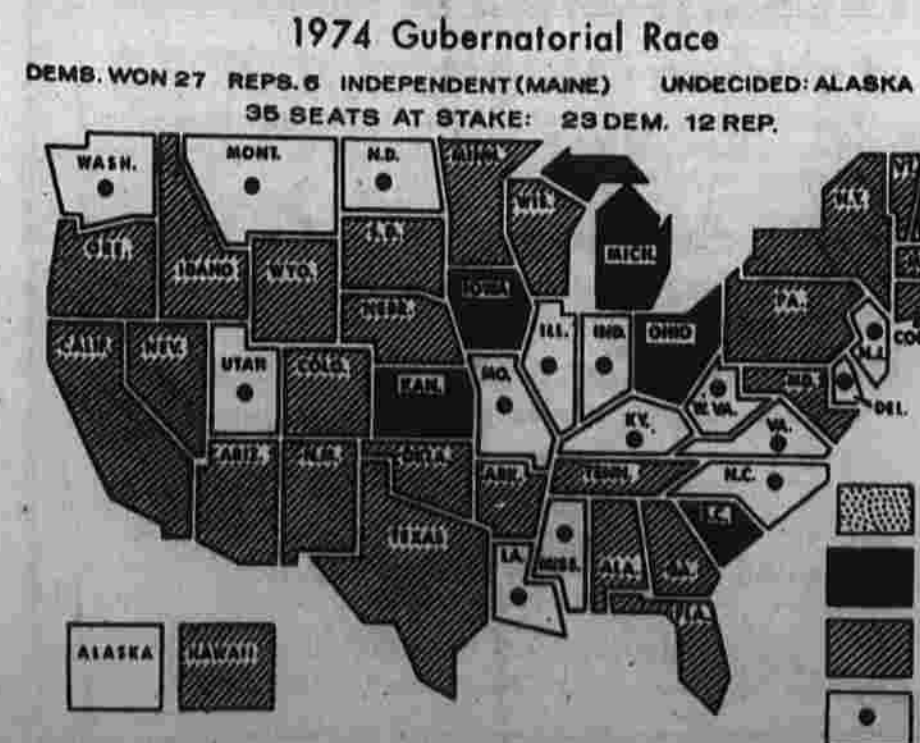

The 2nd District congressman did not go into details about his future plans when he conceded the election Tuesday, but said he would like to stay in politics.

Laudone said he first plans to talk to Reps. Stewart B. McKinney, 4th District, and Ronald N. Sarasin, 5th District, the only top Republicans to survive the Democratic onslaught.

He will then confer with legislative leaders, Weicker, Bridgeport Mayor Nicholas Panuzio, who lost his bid for the GOP gubernatorial nomination, and National GOP Committeeman John D. Alsop, Laudone said.

Laudone replaced former party chief J. Bryan Gaffney, ousted after he backed Panuzio for the gubernatorial nod.

Election Roundup

By United Press International

• Democrats have strong command of Congress and the nation's governorships as a result of Tuesday's election, capturing at least four Republican seats in the Senate and 49 in the House. Republicans won only five Democratic House seats and one in the Senate.

• The Democratic House margin was 292-143, up from 248-187, with 2 races undecided — well over the 218 seats required for control and better than a two-thirds majority of 290.

• Democrats also made major gains in the nation's statehouses, winning 27 of the 35 governor's chairs at stake to give their party a total of 36. Republicans won six contested seats, giving the GOP a total of 12 governorships. One independent won in Maine and the Alaska race is still too close to call.

• Democrats won 23 Senate seats, while Republicans won 10. The total of new seats won gave the Democrats a 63-38 lead in the Senate, up from 58-42. The North Dakota Senate race is still undecided.

Jackpot Again

NEW YORK — Lucille Ball recently concluded a taping session at Caesars Palace in Las Vegas for a TV special that will air Feb. 19 on CBS titled, "Lucy in Las Vegas."

One of the show's opening sequences involved Lucy entering the Caesars lobby and before checking in trying her luck at a slot machine. The script called for Lucy to hit the jackpot.

The hotel dispatched technicians to the lobby and while everyone waited, a quick adjustment was made on a "photogenic" machine that would cause an immediate payoff.

The job took about two minutes. Lights were cued, cameras rolled and the scene began.

State To Buy Rail Cars for Test

HARTFORD (UPI) — The state Department of Transportation says it will buy three used self-propelled rail cars to find out how many persons are willing to take a train to work.

John P. Sullivan, Deputy Commissioner for Planning, said Wednesday he hopes to have the pilot program in operation by next spring, either between Enfield and Hartford or Putnam and New London.

He said the actual running of the trains is preferable to surveys and questionnaires in determining exactly how many persons, especially commuters, would use public mass transportation and leave their cars home.

Sullivan said the cars will be bought used because they are cheaper — about $50,000 each compared to $150,000 for new ones — but the cars and the lines on which they will run will need some refurbishing.

He said studies now are under way on the traffic potential on the Putnam-New London line and Enfield-Hartford, which appears more promising because of the large number of residents in the area. I-91, which links Hartford and Enfield, has experienced persistent traffic problems and there has been local opposition to widening the four-lane highway.

Ex-POW Criticizes Deserters

STORRS (UPI) — A former prisoner of war in North Vietnam said "A hundred My Lai couldn't add up" to the atrocities committed by the North Vietnamese.

Navy Lt. Cmdr. William L. Shankel said Wednesday he was tortured for military and biographical information and forced to write apologies to the North Vietnamese people for his bombing runs.

"It took more than a week to get anything out of me," said the slender 35-year-old Shankel, now a pre-medicine student at the University of Connecticut. "A hundred My Lai couldn't add up to the atrocities committed by the North Vietnamese," he said. "The My Lai massacre involved the alleged execution of several South Vietnamese civilians by U.S. troops. Shankel was shot down in December 1965, while on a bombing mission against Hai Duong Bridge in North Vietnam. He was one of the first POWs released in early 1973. Speaking to 100 UConn Air Force ROTC cadets at a military dinner, he said the U.S. needs its Vietnam War resisters and deserters "like Carter needed a few more Indians."

Shankel said the POWs were victims of the anti-war demonstrations because the anti-war activities prolonged the Vietnam conflict. The North Vietnamese had tried to pressure him into believing the war "lies" as war critics accepted here, he said. Shankel said the Hanoi regime had violated all international agreements on the treatment of POWs because the war had not been declared officially and there was no need to follow the regulations.

Burns Fatal
ENFIELD (UPI) — An Enfield man has died as a result of burns he suffered Oct. 28 during an explosion and fire that leveled the Keller Oil Co. near the center of Enfield.

John F. Lynch, 63, who worked at the Keller firm, died Wednesday at Western Massachusetts Medical Center in Springfield, Mass.

He had received second and third degree burns over 75 percent of his body in the fire, fed by explosions of propane gas tanks stored on the site.

Keller was a fuel and propane distribution outlet, also retailing gasoline from a service station in front of its building.

Another Keller employe injured in the fire, Louis L. Boleifer, 20, also of Enfield, still is listed in serious condition.

OPINION

Oil Purchases

Secretary of the Treasury William Simon and other governmental fiscal advisors are keeping a close watch on the effect on our currency supply of the tremendous outflow of money to the oil-producing nations. And well they should.

It has been predicted that our imports of foreign oil may next year go as high as 90 billion dollars. This would be one-fourth of the total currency and bank credit in the United States.

Hence it would take out of the country such a vast amount of currency in circulation as to have a strangling effect on the domestic economy.

Oddly enough, the Arab states, which were responsible for driving up the price of oil, are not our principle suppliers of imported petroleum.

Two western-hemisphere nations supply us with 55.9 per cent of our imports. They are Canada with 24.7 per cent and Venezuela with 11.2 per cent. If we were to add in with them our imports from Nigeria of 17.5 per cent, we have a figure of 53.4 per cent of our total imports of oil coming from non-Arab nations.

Mexico has not yet become an important factor in our petroleum imports, with comparatively small amounts being now purchased from that country. However, if new fields there live up to optimistic early reports it may soon have a great impact on the international oil picture.

There is, however, little comfort in where we are buying the bulk of our oil. Other oil exporting countries were quick to follow the lead of the Arab countries.

Even Mexico, which is not sure of the amount of oil in its new discovery, has announced that it will do nothing to interfere with the pricing policies of the exporting cartel.

Most of the oil-rich countries are unable to use the vast amounts of cash which is pouring into their coffers. Their countries do not offer opportunity for investment and the amount that can be spent on social programs is finite.

Hence, they are looking to the industrialized and developed nations for places to put their surplus funds. Much of this is coming into the United States. Recently a large amount of short-term Treasury offerings were purchased for Arab buyers.

Real estate in Great Britain and elsewhere has been bought by some of the oil rich sheiks. However, large investments of oil money in this country also pose a great hazard. Interest-bearing investments mean that in addition to our oil purchase funds we will also be paying out the earnings of American business and industry to the oil producers.

This, again, dries up our supply of cash and credit in circulation and will curtail our domestic economy.

While we are not only hearing of the danger of oil-rich nations acquiring major American businesses there was a minor jolt recently when Kuwait purchased the only tourist steamer sailing to the California resort island of Avalon. Seems he needs it to ferry tourists to a new island he owns off the coast of South Carolina.

We think there are forces in play which will bring down the price of imported oil. New domestic discoveries will be stimulated by present high prices. New international finds, such as Mexico's will have an influence.

And development of other energy sources, such as coal and atomic plants, will cut into the need for oil. Conservation and the effect of higher prices to the consumer will have an effect.

But until these factors come into play — and we are convinced they will — we must not allow purchases abroad to deplete our monetary supply through great trade imbalance and the assumption of large debt loads through foreign investment.

And, although we find it basically distasteful, governmental controls of imports and exports may have to be a temporary step, as was the case in the recent curtailment of a large grain sale to Russia.

We cannot stand by complacently and allow our economy to be sucked dry by oil or other imported commodities.

The Economy

WASHINGTON — Not to pick on the guy who owns a few shares of Bethlehem Steel Corp. stock, but the corporation's earnings report for the third quarter tells us something about what is wrong with the economy.

Lewis W. Foy, chairman of Bethlehem's board, announced that third-quarter net income had risen by 92.3 per cent on a sales gain of 50 per cent over the comparable 1973 figures. That's nice for people who own Bethlehem stock — in the short run anyway.

But on the same day, the Ford Motor Co. announced that its earnings for the third quarter were off 50.1 per cent from the same quarter last year. And a week before, General Motors Corp. had reported that its third-quarter income was down a whopping 94 per cent. For the first nine months, the automobile Big Three, which also includes Chrysler Corp., another loser — reported profits down 72.4 per cent, the lowest since the three companies earned $786.6-million in relatively inflationless 1961.

Steel is used to make automobiles. The Big Three has cited increased costs as the cause of its poor earnings performance this year. Bethlehem, of course, makes a lot of steel. Enghard Minerals, whose product also goes into cars and other metal products, reported record earnings for the third quarter that were 135.6 per cent higher than a year ago. Every oil company is prospering, led by Shell with a 140.6 per cent profit increase for the third quarter.

In short, some industries are coming perilously close to cutting the throats of other industries. Not necessarily because Bethlehem or the oil companies are villainously greedy (although none of them is in line for a Philanthropist of the Year Award), but because some industries have become more equal than others through a national need for the merchandise they peddle.

When this happens, the consuming industries raise prices and the result is galloping inflation. But E.M. Estes, president of General Motors, acknowledged that price increases no longer are a solution. Estes said GM had no plans to raise prices on its cars. "Part of the problem now is price," he said. "Currently we have about all the price that the market can stand."

So Estes said GM would join Ford and Chrysler in a cost-cutting program that already has led to layoffs and postponements of new products. Ford has reduced its white-collar force by 2,000 and laid off another 700, and has laid off 6,075 production workers. At this writing, Chrysler was "not optimistic" that the

MAX LERNER Recycling The Refugees

NEW YORK — At a time when the talk is about recycling everything from soda bottles to wastepaper to Communist politicians in Europe, it isn't surprising to note the recycling of the Middle East refugees. That is what the Rabat meeting of the Arab League accomplished with its decision to recognize a Palestinian state under the Palestinian Liberation Organization (PLO).

We are entering the third phase of the change of role and name for the same group of Arabs. They started as refugees from a Jewish state, then as a group of Arab politicians in Europe, then as a group of Arab politicians in the Middle East, and now as a group of Arab politicians in the Middle East.

For the Israelis, the new event is a mountainous obstacle in the path of peace. The Israeli cabinet, which came in as moderate doves, might find a formula for accepting it if the Arabs would agree to direct peace negotiations. The real problem is the government's political opponents and with the Israeli people themselves, who have had experience with the PLO as terrorists.

Just possibly the Ford-Kissinger diplomacy helped by Egyptian President Anwar Sadat and other Arab moderates, might convince the Israeli people — as well as the leaders — that they will not be thrown to the wolves as Hussein was. But unless this happens, the chances of avoiding another military round in the Middle East will trickle away like the phantom waters of a desert mirage.

There were strong forces behind the Rabat decision, so strong that Hussein had to yield to them. The key was oil. In each stage of Arab militancy there has been a cause to rally the militants. At first it was the hunger for a military victory which could heal the Arab pride. The 1973 war removed the sense of humiliation, and the coup of the jacked-up oil prices nourished further the Arab confidence about their world role and their clout.

OPEN FORUM

Proud Recently I was present at an incident involving an elderly woman who had wandered from home. She was able to remember neither her address nor the name of her family. When efforts to acquire this information failed, we telephoned the police Sgt. Joseph Brooks quickly arrived and handled the problem with professionalism, tact, and compassion. He discovered the lady's residence and she was safely escorted home.

Such occurrences are undoubtedly a normal part of a policeman's daily routine but they are not normal for the families involved. Manchester's residents can feel proud, and perhaps a bit more secure, knowing that men like Brooks are available in such instances.

the people of Manchester for their past support of the United Fund and to urge them to contribute generously to the Child & Family Services of Connecticut, Inc., a non-sectarian, voluntarily supported, private agency with an office located at 110 Main Street in Manchester, is one of the agencies that benefit from this drive. The services offered by this agency and available to any Manchester resident include family counseling, foster home care, adoption service, family day care, and aid to unwed mothers and emotionally disturbed children.

The agency receives its support from many sources. Individuals and parents who are able to pay are charged a fee according to their income and family size. Each year through special fund-raising events the Manchester Auxiliary assists the agency to realize its financial budget. However, of immeasurable help is the financial support received through the United Fund allocation to Child & Family Services.

Don't pass up this opportunity to help a child or family in your community. Please give to the United Fund. Edith M. Muse, chairman Manchester Auxiliary of Child & Family Services of Connecticut, Inc.

Club members will exhibit U.S. and foreign coins and currency, and Philatelic Numismatic Covers. There also will be a Lincoln exhibit, which has won many prizes at coin shows and conventions, and a Polish exhibit by a club member, who is considered a leading authority on Polish coins and currency.

Trophies will be awarded to first-place winners in the exhibit with the highest score will receive the "Best of Show" trophy.

Junior members of the club will exhibit with their parents with their exhibits. Each member must make up his own exhibit without help from adults. Trophies will also be awarded in the Junior Division.

Members of Campbell Council, KofC, will be in charge of a refreshment concession.

Manager Review

To comply with Sec. 3-1 of the Manchester charter, which specifies that the Board of Directors must conduct a "review of the administrative performance of the general manager" in November of even-numbered years, a meeting for that purpose has been set for Nov. 26. It will be at 7:30 a.m. in the Municipal Building Hearing Room.

The board will meet also on Nov. 12 and Nov. 19 for regular business meetings, both at 8 p.m. at 7 p.m. Nov. 12, representatives of the State Commission on Special Revenue will appear, to explain off-track betting proposals. At 7 p.m. Nov. 19, a discussion will be held concerning the needs of the elderly in Manchester and the services available to them.

Bids Due Nov. 21 On Sports Items

Bids will be opened Nov. 21 in the Municipal Building for furnishing the Manchester recreation department with 53 types of athletic supplies — of varying sizes and quantities.

The items range from basketballs to ping pong balls, from billiard balls to table tennis, from baseball bats to cue sticks, and from whistles to stop watches.

NEW YORK (UPI) — Everyone talks about conservatism, but what are we doing about it? We should educate ourselves and our children further, says a pioneer in the field of motivational research.

"The consumer often does not know his own wishes and needs," says Dr. Ernest Dichter. For instance, consumer groups and the government ordain that labels spell out ingredients, weight and chemicals in a product.

But said Dichter, "our analysis shows that relatively few women read labels" often dismissing the matter with the comment, "it's too boring for me."

"It has been agreed that mothers should avoid offering sugar-coated cereals to their children because they are bad for the digestion and their teeth," Dichter said.

"But mothers told us, 'this is true, but what shall I do with my kids?' They refuse to eat anything else. I don't have the knowledge or the patience to educate them."

"We have suggested to cereal manufacturers that they offer humorous lessons in proper nutrition on the package. Partially this was carried through... (but) it is our analysis... that it is not always the manufacturer who is the bad guy, but quite often the consumer who is

FROM YOUR NEIGHBOR'S KITCHEN

Barbara and Richard McConville moved into the house at 317 Highland Park St. about a year ago. Richard had been brought up in the house and when his parents passed away, he couldn't bear to have anyone other than the family living there.

At the time, the couple and their six children were residing in Seymour. They were actively involved in that community and the residents couldn't believe that they would move away.

Richard was a member of the Board of Selectmen of Seymour as well as of its Board of Education and serving on several committees as well. Barbara was secretary of the Planning and Zoning Commission and a member of several women's organizations. In addition, they were active Democratic party workers.

"The younger children cried when we left," said Barbara, "but they soon found out that Manchester schools are pretty good and everyone is happy now."

While Manchester was not Barbara's hometown, the McConvilles had many friends here. "My biggest adjustment was in not having enough to do because you can only clean just so long and then you have to be with people," she states.

It is obvious that Barbara enjoys being with people. When active in church work in Seymour, it was her turn to plan for refreshments for a January meeting. "I wanted it to be a happy evening. You know how January nights can be when people might just as soon stay home."

To create a cozy environment, Barbara borrowed a stone fireplace from an improvement company. "Then, we set up the bridge tables all around the fireplace. It was a very happy evening," she recalls.

She served a hot holiday punch, with a base of citrus seasoned with spices and laced with rum and apple jack. Hot 'n' Cold Holiday Punch. 4 sticks cinnamon, 1 tablespoon whole cloves, 1/4 lb. dark brown sugar, 1 tablespoon lemon juice, 2 1/2 cups cider, 1/4 fifth rum, 1/3 fifth apple jack or apple brandy, 2 quarts cider (in addition to above).

Mix first five ingredients. Simmer five minutes and let set. To serve hot, add rum, apple jack and additional cider. Heat on low. Serve in mugs with cinnamon sticks. To serve cold, add cooled mixture to punch bowl with two sticks cinnamon, six cloves, rum, apple jack and additional cider. Add ice mold. Serve in punch cups. This punch can be prepared ahead, served to guests, then returned to refrigerator for future use.

Makes almost four quarts. Note: Since cinnamon sticks are expensive, the hot version can be served without one in each mug. Barbara tries to put two or three cloves in the bottom of each mug when serving.

Barbara's family is very fond of her crescent rolls made of mashed potatoes. The recipe won her a prize at the Women's Club in Seymour.

Crescent Rolls. 2 cups flour, 2/3 cup sugar, 1/4 teaspoon salt, 2/3 cup soft shortening (half butter), 2 eggs, 1 cup mashed potatoes, 1/4 cup warm potato water, 1 package (1/2 oz.) active dry yeast, 5 1/2 cups flour.

For your family, try Barbara's. Elderly. The following menus will be served Nov. 11-15 at Mayfair Gardens and West Hill Gardens for all Manchester residents over 60. Reservations are taken in person only at the Gardens on Monday prior to the week of the luncheon. Menu is subject to change.

The Parker Street PTO will meet Nov. 13 at 7:30 p.m. in the all-purpose room. Martha Cohen, author of a handbook for parents and teachers called "Sex Role Stereotypes in Elementary Education," will speak.

The week of Nov. 18 to 22 will feature the annual book fair. Children will go to the fair during their regularly scheduled library periods, and parents are invited to the fair during the hours of 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. The emphasis this year will be placed on soft-cover books priced below one dollar. The Parker book fair will run concurrently with the Hicks School book fair, and scheduled parent-teacher conferences.

The Campbell soup label drive to purchase school equipment will run until Dec. 8. The goal is $3,000 labels.

Among the several performances that Lynn and Edward will participate in this year are the Christmas performance at Constitution Plaza and a concert at the Bushnell with the Hartford Symphony.

High School Play
On Nov. 22 and 23 the senior class of Tolland High School will present the play "Billy Liar." The play is about a 16-year-old dreamer who finds it impossible to be honest with anyone. He continually upsets his parents with his annoying behavior.

Billy's chief problem is that he is engaged to two girls. Barbara is an uninteresting, dull and prudish girl, while Rita is a loudmouth who is angry with her parents.

Milk Production Down

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Milk production is down in 1974, and the Agriculture Department economists predicted today that prices will be going up.

A Dairy Situation Summary said milk production in 1974 now is expected to total about 114.5 billion pounds, down 1 percent from 1973. This is less of a decline than the 1.5 percent that had been predicted, but milk production this year will still fall to the lowest level since 1948 and probably will decline again next year. For consumers, the economists predicted retail prices for milk and other dairy products probably will be rising seasonally through the closing months of 1974, but not as rapidly as they rose last fall and winter. Retail prices for milk declined in September, but prices for all dairy products rose slightly. They had declined this summer for the first time in nearly two years.

CARACAS (UPI)—Venezuela has had two of the longest 20th century dictatorships in Latin America. Juan Vicente Gomez ruled Venezuela from 1908 until his death in 1935, while Marcos Perez Jimenez, now in exile in Spain, governed from 1948 until his overthrow 10 years later.

Road Deaths
HARTFORD (UPI)—The state Safety Commission says total traffic deaths for 1974 are down by 135 from last year. As of Nov. 5, 1973, the commission said, a total of 450 Connecticut residents had been killed in traffic mishaps of all kinds, including pedestrians, bicyclists and motorists.

As of the same date this year, 315 persons were killed in traffic, according to commission statistics.

membership at the high school facilities, the amount to be computed anew each year. The tuition rate will be the estimated current expense cost per pupil for the coming year, plus $200. To the estimated tuition there will be added or subtracted, as the case may be, a figure representing the difference between the estimated tuition for the previous year and the tuition cost for the previous year computed on the basis of actual cost, plus $200.

There will be a presentation by the different departments at the school.

Student schedules will be sent home before Tuesday.

Refinements will be served throughout the evening in the library by students in Mrs. Irene Tabatsky's home economics class. They will be assisted by the high school committee of the Parent Teacher Organization.

Club Election
The Tallwood Women's Club will meet Monday at 10:30 a.m. to elect officers at the Tallwood Country Club on Rt. 85 in Hebron.

All women interested in golfing are invited to attend.

Hold Party
BoMarCo (Bolton Married Couples Club) recently held a Halloween party at Herrick Memorial Park. It was attended by about 30 people. A costume prize was awarded to Mr. and Mrs. Frank Major who came dressed as Raggedy Ann and Andy.

When the club conducted a paper drive last year it received $21 per ton. Anyone who has been saving papers is asked to continue saving them as the price per ton is expected to rise. Several local organizations conduct paper drives throughout the year as a means of fund raising.

Anyone unable to store papers may bring them to Whitham's Nursery on Hop River Rd. John Whitham, owner-operator of the nursery, stores the papers for all local groups having drives.

Jaycees to Start Recycling Plan

COVENTRY
Monica Shea
Correspondent
742-9495

Starting on Saturday and continuing the second Saturday of each month, the Coventry Jaycees will be holding a glass and newspaper recycling drive at three locations in town.

Glass and paper may be dropped off at the landfill during regular operating hours. Additional centers will be set up and the second Saturday of the month from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. at the Meadowbrook Shopping Center, at the intersection of Rts. 31 and 44A, and at the old Zollo's Market on the corner of Day Rd. and Rt. 31.

Space is limited on these trips, so send your checks or money orders, payable to C.A.E.S.A.F., to Bob Pratt, Community Education Director, Capt. Nathan Hale School, Glass Co., in Dayville, and the newspapers to Colonial Board in Manchester for recycling.

Proceeds from the sale of the recycled materials will be used to help the Jaycees carry out community projects.

Residents are urged to help improve the environment and support their local civic group by planning now to save and recycle glass and newspaper.

For further information call 742-7666 or 742-9344.

Field Trips
The Coventry Community Education program is sponsoring two fall field trips for area residents. The trips will be to Boston and Plymouth Plantation.

Saturday, Nov. 16 the program will sponsor the Boston Bicentennial Tour for a walk on the Freedom Trail, one and a quarter miles, through historic Boston. The fee of $4.50 per adult and $3.50 for children under 16 includes round trip transportation from Coventry.

The second trip will take place on Sunday, Nov. 24, and will be a pilgrimage to Plymouth Plantation to visit the historic living museum and replica of the Mayflower. The fee of $6.95 per adult and $4.95 per child under 16 includes the bus transportation and admission.

Space is limited on these trips, so send your checks or money orders, payable to C.A.E.S.A.F., to Bob Pratt, Community Education Director, Capt. Nathan Hale School, Glass Co., in Dayville, and the newspapers to Colonial Board in Manchester for recycling.

Andover Church Picks Minister

Donna Holland
Correspondent

The Rev. David Reese III has unanimously been recommended as the new minister of the First Congregational Church of Andover by the pastoral committee of the church.

The Rev. Mr. Reese will preach his first sermon at the church Sunday at the 11 a.m. worship service.

The church has been without a minister for almost a year. The committee spent months studying ministerial profiles, conducting considerable correspondence and interviews and auditing sermons in far away places.

After interviewing the Rev. Mr. Reese, one committee member said, "We felt the same way about the Andover church."

He is 33 years old and married. He received his master's degree in divinity at the McCormick Theological Seminary in Chicago. He earned a master's degree in education at the University of Northern Iowa.

The Rev. Mr. Reese was ordained in 1968. He served as assistant chaplain and director of admissions at the University of Iowa. He also provided pupil supply in a number of the area's rural churches.

In 1973 he came east to work as an assistant personnel manager in industry. Until now he has also been active in the United Church of Christ in West Springfield, Mass.

The church has scheduled stunts, Jones has swam 100 miles down the Columbia River, completed 27,000 steps in one stretch and lifted 120,000 pounds over a 20-hour period.

Missing
Lisa White, 13, of Regan Rd., Rockville, has been missing from her home since last Friday night and as far as can be determined the last place she was seen was on Prospect St. in Rockville.

Lisa is a Grade 8 student at the Vernon Center Middle School.

Her mother said she received a call from an unidentified person who said her daughter had talked with Lisa at Rockville High School on Monday. Mrs. White is asking that person to call back (872-3384). She said any information given to her will be kept confidential.

When last seen Lisa was wearing a blue denim jacket and green pants. Area police and youth agencies have also been informed about the missing girl.

Miss Cody is now eligible to compete for a four-year Bausch & Lomb Science scholarship at the University of Rochester.

Hikes Set At Case Mt.

Three hikes beginning at Case Mt. are planned for November by the American Youth Hostels Inc.

The first is an all-day hike of eight miles beginning at the foot of the mountain by the spring off Spring St. at 9:30 a.m. Saturday. Hikers led by Steve Pink will pick up the Shenipit Trail in Case Mt. and follow it to Gay City State Park in Hebron.

The hike is considered an easy one over fairly easy terrain. Hikers are to bring a lunch, and dress according to the weather.

The second Case Mt. hike planned by AYH is for Sunday, Nov. 17. Hikers are to meet in the factory parking lot off Spring St. near the spring at 1:30 p.m.

Leader of this afternoon's hike to go only up the mountain is Helmut Beutel of Manchester.

The third hike is another all-day one of seven miles beginning at 10 a.m. at the foot of the mountain again Saturday, Nov. 23. Destination is Bolton Center Rd. and back.

Again, hikers are asked to bring something to eat and wear suitable clothes. Leader is Steve Pink. The public is invited.

Closing Thoughts

Did you ever notice that when Xavier High beats you on the football field they leave the impression they can be had the following year. They don't destroy you leaving the sentiment that they can be beaten. But they never are.

If any team in the state has a shot at the Middletown-based Falcons, it's Northwest Catholic and its Washbone offense. Xavier is 3-0 in the HCC this year and 7-0 overall. The Warriors are 4-0 in the conference and 7-1 in all games, the lone loss to West Haven in the season opener.

The two giants collide Friday night at 7:30 at Middletown's Palmer Field. It should be a humdinger, one true football fans won't want to miss.

Fluke Goal Eliminates Manchester Booters From CIAC Class A State Soccer Tournament

By Len Auster

What ought to be and what is reality is not always the same. Manchester High dominated yesterday's CIAC Class A Division State Soccer Tournament game at Memorial Field before 500 onlookers but didn't score. Invading FCIA member New Canaan High registered a fluke goal with 3:54 left in regulation time and that's why the 16th-ranked Rams advance into Saturday's quarterfinals with a 1-0 upset of fourth-ranked Manchester.

"Dominating a game is nice but that and five cents (now 20) will buy you a cup of coffee. Putting the ball in the net is what counts and that's why they're in and we're out," Tribe veteran Coach Dick Danielson said.

The goal was credited to the Rams' leading scorer Evan Flachsen as he was closest to the play. What transpired was that a long boot came downfield, Indian fullback Bruce Ballard had to play it and instead of his intent of sending it out of bounds he shanked it badly past netminder Ray Sullivan into the right corner of the net for the lone tally.

"Bruce had to do what he did," Danielson said, "There was a New Canaan player right on his tail and if he hadn't played it he would have picked it up and toed it past Sully. Besides the whole team has to take the blame. If we're leading 3-0 that goal means nothing. But it was the winner."

"I wish it hadn't been tainted," Manchester assistant coach Doug Pearson expressed. "You have to remember, however, that even the world's best defensive players make mistakes and something like this happens to them. It's sad but it happens. But you can't blame our backs.

Attendance Dipping

ITEM — Crowd of 36,110 smallest in 12 years, turns out for the Colts-Bengals game in Baltimore.

ITEM — Chargers-Browns game in San Diego attracts just over 35,000. These are two figures from last Sunday's NFL contests. What it goes to prove is that if you turn out a bad product the fans won't waste their time or energy coming out.

"This corner, for one, hopes for the quick demise of the World Football League. Diligent talent apparently is finally becoming too unbearable for the fans and they're reacting at long last. There are some players now who wouldn't have even made the taxi squad let alone start in years past.

Give the fans a good product, however, and they'll show up in bunches. There were over 59,000 screaming fanatics in Foxboro's Sheafer Stadium for the Patriots-Bills game. People are demanding excellence, they're becoming choosier. Too many times now is a watered down version appearing on the gridiron.

Interesting Viewpoint

At the outset of the cross-country season, senior Jim Giuliatti appeared to be the top East Catholic thichead. He was, but ran into another string of illnesses which sidetracked his development.

Another factor also appeared called "staleness." Eagle Coach Dave Kelley explains. "Staleness is when someone has trained to a point where any more training will wear the body down instead of building it up. When you are in training your pulse goes down but when you go to state it goes back up."

Kelley's expertise comes from Dr. George Sheehan of the Forest Road, N.J., cited by the East mentor as one of the foremost doctors on runners in America. Kelley ran with Sheehan's son at Manhattan College.

Giuliatti did sit out some meets he could've run in. He did come back for the Eastern Sectionals Monday and led the Eagles as a team into the Class B Meet Friday in Berlin.

Oregon Hoop Coach Wants Loop Tourney

EUGENE, Ore. (UPI) — Oregon basketball coach Dick Harter says "it is time for the Pacific-8 basketball conference to hold a post-season tournament for the eight member schools, with the winner earning a berth in the NCAA playoffs."

Harter, who came west from Pennsylvania in hopes of detroning John Wooden and the UCLA Bruins, likes the Atlantic Coast Conference idea of throwing the regular season record into the ascban and playing a post-season conference tournament for the berth in the NCAA. That is one way to get another crack at Wood and the Bruins when it all falls.

"I'm not sure I buy the idea," said Oregon State's Ralph Miller, who also left a Big Ten championship team to come west.

"The NCAA has announced it will invite second-place teams to its basketball tournament in the future," Harter said. "I think that makes a post-season tournament for our conference a natural. In these times of financial problems in athletic departments, I don't see how we can turn our backs on this possibility. Such a tournament would net about $40,000 for each of the schools."

Harter said a Pacific-8 tournament would "be a great draw anywhere on the West Coast."

He mentioned the Conference Commissioner's tournament, started last season for runner-up teams in the NCAA conferences around the country.

"I don't know how much longer that tournament will continue," Harter said. "But it shouldn't create a problem for a conference tournament. In fact, it might make it possible for a third conference team to go into post-season play if someone also was invited to the National Invitational Tournament in New York."

Motta's 21st Goal Gives MCC Victory

Victorious for the 12th time on the soccer field yesterday was Manchester Community College, 2-1, over the University of Bridgeport JVs at Cougar Field. MCC is now 12-2-2 for the season with one game, Homecoming Day Saturday against Central Connecticut State College JVs, left on the slate.

Stu Slater put the visitors ahead at the 4:04 mark of the first half with a header over Cougar goalie Dave Treschuk. MCC knotted the count on Tim McConville's 10th goal of the campaign assisted by John Motta at the 21:06 mark of the first half.

MCC had 49 shots on net, seven hitting the post, but it finally got the winner when record-setting Motta notched his 21st goal of the season at the 46:53 mark of the second half on a breakaway.

Schoolboy Tournament Four Area Outfits Win Soccer Games

Meeting with success on the soccer field yesterday were all area teams involved in the 27th annual CIAC State Tournament. Ellington High won its Class B Division title while Coventry, Rham and Bolton each advanced into the quarterfinals of the Class C Division.

Fifth-ranked Ellington, the 1974 North Central Connecticut Conference champions, trailed 1-0 at the half but came storming back to tie the game in the second half to knot the count and Rich Gagne scored the winner with less than two minutes remaining in regulation. Ellington, now 12-1-2, faces top-ranked and defending Class B champion Guilford in Saturday's quarterfinals at a site to be announced.

At the friendly confines of Patriot Field, fourth-ranked Coventry High topped East Windsor, 6-2, to advance into the quarterfinals. Dick Elwell, Brian Carlson, Rick Stevenson, George Messier, Bill Whipple and Gordon Phillips tallied for the 11-2-1 winners. Coventry now faces Rham High in the quarterfinals. Rham advanced with a 4-2 win over 12th-ranked Westbrook. The eighth-ranked Sachems received scoring efforts from Jeff Sirois, Chuck Berk, Ed Gardner and Lee Massey to advance. Rham now has an 10-4-1 mark.

Bolton High, the third area member of the Charter Oak Conference, gained the quarterfinals with a 3-0 whitewashing of Parish Hill at Bulldog field. Kyle Dooman and Steve Poteer tallied in the last 10 minutes of regulation. Netminder Paul Groves registered his seventh whitewashing of the campaign for the 11-3 Bulldogs. The seventh-ranked Bulldogs face 15th-ranked and defending Class C champion Canton High in the quarterfinals Saturday.

That he did — as was witnessed by the Rangers' remarkable turnaround in '74. The 1973 club had finished last in the AL West with a 57-105 record, 37 games behind the champion A's.

Of course, Martin had some help — via a transfusion of some new players — in making Texas a winner. For one, the Rangers acquired righthander Ferguson Jenkins from the Cubs during the off-season and he proceeded to win 25 games in '74 to tie the A's' Jim Hunter as the winningest pitcher in baseball.

Martin also promoted two farmhands — Jim Sundberg and Mike Hargrove — who played big roles in the 1974 Rangers' season. Sundberg gave the Rangers' their first steady catcher in years, bating a respectable (for today's standards) 247, while Hargrove batted .323 and is a shoo-in for American League rookie of the year honors.

"I saw both Hargrove and Sundberg in the Florida-instructional league last winter," Martin said, "and I knew I wanted them on the big club. Needless to say, they both lived up to my expectations."

Martin was also instrumental in the acquisition of Jenkins, who was coming off a subpar season for the Cubs after a string of 20-win seasons. "They told me his arm was sound and that's all I wanted to know," Martin said.

Council To Study DevCo Plan

COVENTRY — Monica Shea Correspondent 742-9495

The Town Council Monday unanimously supported a motion by Councilman Jesse Braine that the finance and steering committees will hold working sessions on the proposal tonight at 7:30.

The council also voted to hold a special meeting on Monday, Nov. 18, at 7 p.m. to hear citizen response to a proposal made by Councilman Al Carilli to open the Town Hall the first Saturday of each month for a regular day of business.

Carilli claims that one fourth of the citizens of Coventry do not transact business at the Town Hall because of working schedules and that for them to do so would be a financial loss.

Carilli's proposal would allow town employees to take off the first Monday of the month so that they wouldn't have to work more than five days per week.

The council voted to reopen the bids on Coventry road equipment and how much will it cost? We must take a hard look at what this

Cavaliers Off to Finest Start

NEW YORK (UPI) — Bobby Smith was the open man on Cleveland's fast break Wednesday night and the result was a career high 41 points and a National Basketball Association victory for the Cavaliers.

Cleveland, off to its finest start in its five year history, won 21 first half points by Smith and eight more in the final two minutes of play to register a 107-99 triumph over the Washington Bullets.

Cleveland, off to its finest start in its five year history, won 21 games a year ago before winning its sixth, is now 6-4, while Washington dropped to 2-2 and leads the Cavaliers by two games in the Central Division race.

"All I have to do is box my man and keep him off the boards," explained Smith, a 6-foot 6 forward. "Then I'm off on the break. I know Dwight (Davis) and Jim (Chones) are going to get the ball off the boards."

The Cavaliers used that combination to outscore the Bullets 33-18 in the first period. Smith tossed in 13 points and teammate Austin Carr 12, as Cleveland shot a 57.1 per cent in the second period, making 14 of 22 shots.

The Detroit Pistons defeated the Kansas City-Omaha Kings 118-104, the Philadelphia 76ers beat the Chicago Bulls 105-90, the Boston Celtics downed the Portland Trailblazers 128-110, and the Buffalo Braves topped the New Orleans Jazz 110-98, in other games. Smith was continually open against Washington, scoring eight points in the second period as Cleveland increased its lead to 58-36. He had eight more in the third and 12 in the final period which helped the Cavaliers offset an effective second half foul press by the Bullets.

Pistons 118, Kansas City 104
The Pistons sank nine of their first 10 shots and were never threatened in their victory over the Kings. Dave Bing scored 30 points and Bob Lanier had 27 for the winners. White Jimmy Walker and Nate Williams each scored 17 for the Kings. 76ers 105, Bulls 90

Fred Carter scored 31 points for the 76ers in their victory over the Bulls. The 76ers twice led by 28 points in the third period and coasted to their fourth victory in nine games.

Since 1951, each Thanksgiving a number of girls have appeared in gym tops and took part, the number increasing with each year. An estimated 25 took part last November.

Hockey Roundup

Robert Paces Sabres

NEW YORK (UPI) — It was a showdown of National Hockey League division leaders and the difference was Rene Robert.

Robert scored two goals and assisted on another in leading the Division IV leading Buffalo Sabres to a 6-4 victory over the Division II leading Chicago Black Hawks.

In other NHL games, Toronto drubbed Minnesota 7-4, Detroit deadlocked 4-4 with Montreal, Atlanta edged the New York Rangers 2-1 and the New York Rangers swamped California 7-3. In the only WHA game, Quebec downed Vancouver 5-3.

Sabres 6, Black Hawks 4
Besides Robert's two goals and an assist, the Sabres, who increased their lead over idle Boston to five points in Division IV, got a big helping hand from Gil Perreault. Perreault, playing in his 300th NHL game, scored his 300th NHL point with a goal in the third period. Two of Buffalo's goals came on power plays in the first period — one by Robert and the other by Rick Martin, his seventh.

Maple Leafs 7, North Stars 4
Sittler completed his hat trick with 9:18 left to play, giving him seven goals for the season. Ron Ellis and George Ferguson also scored for the Leafs.

Red Wings 4, Canadiens 4
Red Berensens tipped in Jack Lynch's slap shot on a delayed penalty midway through the second period to enable the Wings to tie the Canadiens and move one point behind Montreal for second in Division III. Guy Lafleur had two goals for the Canadiens and Red Wing goalie Jim Rutherford stopped 32 shots, including a pair of breakaways by Claude LaRoche and Pete Mahovlich.

Flames 2, Islanders 1
Tom Lysiak scored the winning goal at 9:33 of the second period as Atlanta crept to within three points of the second place Islanders in Division I.

Islander goalie Billy Smith was the hero of the game, however, keeping his teammates in it with 28 stops — many of them bordering on the spectacular. Eric Vall scored the other Flame goal on a top-in of Dwight Blalows' blue line shot while Andre St. Laurent scored the only Islander marker.

Rangers 7, Seals 3
Rod Gilbert scored a hat trick and the Rangers exploded for six goals in the second period to hand the Seals their first home ice loss this season. Gilbert, who had been in a scoring slump, had two goals in the period to boost his season total to five.

Nordiques 5, Blazers 3
Three goals in the third period — including the second of the game by Rejean Houle — provided the margin of victory for Quebec. With the score tied 2-2, Houle, Pierre Gault and Serge Bernier all banged home goals. Rob Walton scored twice for Vancouver and Ron Chipperfield added the Blazers' final tally in the third period after the Quebec damage was done.

Pacer Fans Calmed By Rookie Knight

NEW YORK (UPI) — If Indiana Pacer fans were worried about the trade of long-time star Roger Brown this season, Billy Knight has calmed their fears.

Knight, a 6-foot-6 rookie from Pittsburg, scored 38 points Wednesday night to lead the Pacers to a 136-116 triumph over the Denver Nuggets. The win snapped the Nuggets' eight-game winning streak and lifted Indiana to within four games of first-place Denver in the American Basketball Association West.

While Knight took care of the offense, the Pacers pressed the Nuggets into errors to take a 15-point lead at the half and broke the game open in the final period, taking a 128-101 lead.

George McGinnis added 20 points and 11 assists for Indiana and Billy Keller had 19 points. Mack Calvin had 25 for Denver.

In other ABA action, Kentucky whipped Utah 97-85, New York blitzed St. Louis 126-100 and San Antonio stopped Virginia 111-106.

Colonels 97, Stars 85
Louis Dampier scored 12 of his 20 points in the final period to lift Kentucky over Utah. The Stars pulled to within one point when Dampier, one of the smallest players in the league at 6-0, took over. Ron Boone led Utah with 29 points and Moses Malone had 15.

Nets 126, Spirits 100
Julius Erving scored 24 points and Billy Schaefer hit 22 to lead New York over St. Louis. Erving hit a 40-foot, three-point field goal at the buzzer to give the Nets a 25-point lead at the half. Fred Lewis led the Spirits with 35.

Spirits 111, Squires 106
Rich Jones' free throw with 1:36 left and baskets by Donnie Freeman and Chuck Terry carried San Antonio over Virginia. Ex-Squire George Gervin led the Spurs with 30 points while George Irvine and Mike Jackson had 22 each for the Squires.

Ali said he would "rather drive this than light" after inspecting the luxurious but built by Custom Coach Corp. of Columbus.

Boston Celtics' Reserves Handle Bill Walton

BOSTON (UPI) — With injured all-star center Dave Cowens little more than an exceptionally tall basketball fan, lanky Bill Walton, the NBA's leading rebounder, was expected to give the Celtics fits Wednesday night.

Such was not the case, however, as the highly touted rookie of the Portland Trailblazers was neutralized by Boston's reserve centers Hank Finkel and Jim Ard, while the rest of the Celtics rolled past, 128-110.

"He's good with the ball and an excellent passer," said Ard. "He's quite quick on offense and intimidated a lot of our guys from driving in."

"For a man his size he moves very well," added Finkel. "But I'd have to say that Dave (Cowens) is quicker. His defense is great. He intimidates people which is exactly what he should do."

"They played very well," said Walton, referring to Ard and Finkel. Asked what he thought of Boston's reserve pivots in contrast to other centers he has faced in the league, he said, "I don't like to compare centers because it's rare when you really get into a one-on-one situation with another center, but I was impressed with Boston as a team."

Watching Walton's play, it appeared in the late stages of the third period that he grew tired and lost some of his edge. He was slow running between the baskets and his face seemed to reflect the wearing effects of Boston's fast moving offense.

Economy Move Ousts Derr
PINEHURST, N.C. (UPI) — Pinehurst officials have dismissed John Derr as vice president and executive director of the World Golf Hall of Fame in what they call an "economy move."

Derr said that Cary Brent, the newly-appointed president of Pinehurst, Inc., told him the job was being abolished.

"Our financial problems are nothing we can't get out of at the moment. But we've got the same cash problems as other land developers have right now. We're just trying to gear this operation to the tight money situation," said Brent.

Derr said he plans to remain in the Pinehurst area and continue his radio and television work and will reactivate a public relations firm he formerly operated.

WFL Hornets Lose Game, Uniforms to Court Order

NEW YORK (UPI) — The Charlotte Hornets lost more than the game Wednesday night. They also lost their uniforms to a court order.

All Charlotte equipment and uniforms were seized after the Shreveport Steamer's 19-14 victory in lieu of payment to a cleaning shop and a security firm that claimed the team owned them $26,000 for services provided while the club was the New York Stars.

The World Football League franchise was moved from New York to Charlotte a month ago.

Two Caddo Parish sheriff's deputies stood guard outside the Hornets' locker room to make certain the equipment stayed inside. After the players left, the room was locked for the night.

Attorneys planned to meet today in an attempt to reach a settlement. Seizure of the uniforms was the latest event indicating the financial problems of the WFL.

Jim Nance scored on a one-yard run in the fourth quarter to lift the Steamer over Charlotte. Nance's run at the end of a 74-yard, 14-play drive put Shreveport ahead for the first time in the second half.

Doug Winslow scored for the Steamer on a six-yard pass from D.C. Nobles in the third quarter and Charlie Durk kicked a 27-yard field goal. Mike Walker helped preserve the win by recovering a fumble on the Shreveport 28 with 32 seconds left.

Gary Danielson's 18-yard pass to Kreg Kapitan and Don Hahn's 11-yard run accounted for the Hornets scores.

Shreveport pushed its record to 7-11-1 while Charlotte, already assured of a playoff berth, dropped to 10-6.

In other WFL action, The Hawaiians clubbed the Southern California Sun 29-8 and the Birmingham Americans beat the Philadelphia Bell 26-23. Portland is at Florida and Chicago at Memphis tonight.

Hawaiians 29, Sun 8
Randy Johnson passed for two touchdowns to lead the playoff-hungry Hawaiians over Southern California. Johnson hit John Isenbarger on scoring passes of four and 17 yards and Al Davis and Vin Clements ran for the other two TDs to give the Hawaiians a 29-0 lead before the Western Division champions could get on the scoreboard. Kermit Johnson ran for 16 yards out midway through the final period for Southern Cal's only score.

Matthew Reed engineered four first half scoring drives as Birmingham jumped into a 26-0 halftime lead and then held on to beat the Bell. John Land's two-yard run and a 20-yard pass from King Corcoran to Land and Corcoran's one-yard TD flip to Claude Waits rallied the Bell. Art Cantrell's 22-yard run, Reed's 37-yard TD pass to Alfred Jenkins and Paul Robinson's 14-yard run sparked the Americans' first half burst.

Yale Running Away With East Laurels

BOSTON (UPI) — Somebody had better beat Yale soon or the Eli will run away with top laurels among New England major college football teams.

Yale struggled past Dartmouth, 14-9, last week to remain unbeaten in six games and the region's college football coaches rewarded the effort placing the Eli atop the weekly UPI poll for the third straight week.

Yale, which travels to Penn Saturday, grabbed off 10 of 16 first-place votes to lead the eighth weekly poll with 70 points. If Yale can whip Penn and Princeton next week, only Harvard will stand in the way of a 13-1 perfect season and New England honor.

But Harvard, 5-1, is staying close in anticipation of the Nov. 23 battle at the Stadium. The Crimson received one first-place ballot to tie Boston College for second place with 61 points.

The Eagles, who trounced West Virginia, 35-3, last weekend, were awarded five top votes among their 61 points. Things could change this week as Boston College faces Nemesis Tulane while Harvard contends with Princeton in New Jersey.

Connecticut, moving toward a second straight Yankee Conference crown, is fourth with 27 points while improving Maine is a distant fifth with eight points.

Points are awarded on a descending scale with first-place votes worth five points each.

Different Gimmicks Lets Rice 11 Relax

HOUSTON (UPI) — At a time when many major college football coaches might be looking for a job, Al Conover is looking for another inspirational gimmick.

His Rice Owls have lost five of seven games this season and likely are headed for their third straight losing season under Conover, but the round, jolly coach has brought enthusiasm to his team.

"I'm unusual, I'll tell you that," he said. "Even though we did not win, we have played fairly well. Our first two ballgames we did not play well, then LSU came back to tie us and we gave Cincinnati and Notre Dame fits."

When Rice, who Darrell Royal called the "best losing team in America," finally beat 13th ranked Texas Tech 21-7 last Saturday, Conover was named Coach of the Week by United Press International.

"God, no telling what would happen if we won two or three games," Conover said when told of the honor.

To win his second game of the season, Rice must travel to Fayetteville and beat Arkansas Saturday. That trip made Conover think back to 1972 before his Owls played Arkansas in Little Rock.

"I frankly couldn't think up any inspiring speeches so I just started throwing things," he said.

One thing was a chair and that chair went through the locker window.

After last year's losing streak, he had an assistant drive a hearse onto the practice field during a drill. Conover handed out paper and pencil, had each player write down the particular sin he had committed in the last loss and then deposit the notes in the coffin.

The hearse drove off and the players relaxed.

"Sometimes those things we do, they just kind of develop," he said. "I'm not sure what might happen at Arkansas."

The win over Texas Tech was only Conover's 11th as a head coach.

State Firm Hikes Price Of Newsprint

OLD GREENWICH (UPI) — Bowater Paper Sales Co. has announced a $5 increase in the price of newsprint effective Jan. 1. The Bowater hike will push the price of 30-pound newsprint to $270 a ton in 1975.

Most other major companies have announced price raises for 30-pound newsprint of $25 to around $280 a ton effective Jan. 1.

President B.R. Pryde said Bowater Paper Sales had delayed announcing its increase until its four mills in North America had completed their manufacturing cost estimates for 1975. He said these calculations pointed to a manufacturing cost increase of at least $15 a ton.

Land Use Linked To Energy Plans

State Energy Administrator Lynn Alan Brooks says land use will be a major issue facing Connecticut when it considers long-range energy planning.

and land use planning has been largely ignored in the past but must be considered now and in the future in terms of energy policy development and implementation, Brooks said.

The Connecticut Energy Advisory Board is developing a report on long-range energy supply and demand projections. A final document, covering state energy forecasts over the next 20 years, is to be presented to the governor and General Assembly by Jan. 15.

Sketch of New Ward Plant

Architect's rendering shows new 26,000-square-foot production facility under construction on Adams St. by the Ward Manufacturing Co.

Ward Plans New Facility

The Ward Manufacturing Co., Inc., of Manchester has started construction of a new production facility on a 5.4-acre site across the street from its main plant at 249 Adams St.

Work started Sept. 23 on the 26,000-square foot, steel and brick building, which is scheduled for occupancy Feb. 15. When completed, the value of the building and equipment is expected to be more than $600,000.

Financing of the project was approved by the Connecticut Development Commission through industrial revenue bonding.

Ward Manufacturing is a subcontractor specializing in sheet metal work, welded fabrications, and precision machining.

The new facility, according to company officials, will provide for another 20 persons when the new plant is finished.

Increased space, and efficiency gained by consolidating Ward's other Manchester and Kennington plants in the new facility, will provide a substantial improvement in production capacity, officials said.

Founded in 1951, Ward Manufacturing was acquired in July 1968 by Howard Miller and James Melo. At that time, the company employed 15 persons and had an annual sales volume of $240,000.

In September 1973, Ward acquired Fabco Machine Co., and that firm's owner, Mario Facchini, became a shareholder in Ward Fabco, at the time of the acquisition, employed 10 persons and had sales of $160,000.

Ward Manufacturing now does $2.5 million in sales and has 70 employees, officials said. The company expects to hire another 20 persons when the new plant is finished.

"Our people have been behind our growth," Miller said, "and they've grown with us. This new facility will provide the space needed to continue our present rate of growth."

Sugar Prices Hurt Connecticut Bakers

WALLINGFORD (UPI) — Connecticut bakers Wednesday discussed a problem that is putting some of them out of business — the rising price of sugar.

Payson Hurwitz, vice president of the Connecticut Bakers Association, said, "We are desperate. Nobody seems to care what the price of sugar is doing to us."

Hurwitz owns Harvest Bakery in Bristol. He said the price of sugar this week is $56 for a 100-pound bag. Two weeks ago the price was $44 and a year ago it was only $9, he said.

Hurwitz said he uses 800 to 1,000 bags of sugar each week. "Though we've raised prices to a level where people think twice about buying," he said, "it's come to a point where we're actually being forced out of business."

Hurwitz said bakers feel the government and manufacturers are responsible for the heavy increase in prices, but that small bakers lack hard information on the cause of the threatening rise.

TRAINING SESSIONS The Better Business Bureau of Greater Hartford has scheduled two training sessions for volunteers who have expressed interest in becoming members of the bureau's new Consumer Arbitration Board.

The sessions are scheduled Nov. 12 from 8:30 to 10 p.m. and Nov. 13 from 1:30 to 5 p.m. They'll be conducted at offices of the Greater Hartford Chamber of Commerce, 250 Constitution Plaza, Hartford.

The sessions will be open to the public.

Electric Facility Reopens

A major source of electric power for Connecticut and western Massachusetts returned to service this week with earlier-than-expected completion of refueling, maintenance and repair activity at Unit No. 1 of the Millstone Nuclear Power Station in Waterford.

Startup procedures at Millstone commenced Nov. 1, 14 days ahead of schedule, according to Lelan F. Sillin Jr., chairman and president of northeast Utilities, which operates the 600,000-kilowatt facility. Such startup procedures normally extend over a period of days and are continuing at this time.

Each day of full operation, each day's production would mean a $300,000 saving in power costs," Sillin said. Sillin said the saving would contribute to a reduction in fuel adjustment charges, which he said are abnormally high when high-priced foreign oil is used at conventional power plants to offset the loss of electric production at a nuclear plant.

When Millstone is back in operation, nuclear-generated electricity is expected to provide about 30 per cent of all electric power used by Northeast Utilities' customers in 1974. Oil-fired plants will contribute some 65 per cent, and other sources (mostly hydroelectric and gas turbines) will be responsible for the remaining 5 per cent.

CATV Seeks Substitution Of Channels

Greater Hartford CATV Inc., the cable television operator in Manchester and four other Capitol Region towns, have requested the Federal Communications Commission to substitute New York's WNEW-TV (Channel 5) to its system and delete New York's WPIX-TV (Channel 11).

Both New York City stations are independents, not affiliated with any major television network. News, motion pictures, and syndicated shows make up the bulk of each station's programming.

Greater Hartford CATV, which hopes to begin its Manchester operation by early spring, had announced it would carry Connecticut Channels 3, 8, 18, 20, 24, and 30; New York Channels 9 and 11; and Springfield Channels 28, 48, and 57; plus locally originated channels for government, education, public access, news, sports, and weather.

Company Sues IBM

BOSTON (UPI) — Memory Technology of Wayland has filed a suit seeking $18 million damages from International Business Machines Corp. (IBM).

The U.S. District Court suit said IBM has attempted to destroy competition by designing its central computers in such a way as to make it difficult to plug in memory units made by other firms.

Businessmen Accept the New Consumerism

NEW YORK (UPI) — The survey, conducted by Frederick E. Webster Jr., professor of business at Dartmouth College for the American Marketing Association, polled the attitudes of 447 corporate marketing professionals.

Webster concludes businessmen "see consumerism as a healthy, positive, and permanent development (and) find business response to consumerism somewhat tardy and incomplete."

At the same time, he said, the survey indicates the businessmen "strongly support recent initiatives in such areas as product safety, packaging more compatible with environmental quality, dealer service and advertising regulations." Respondents in the survey nonetheless remained skeptical about what Webster called "self-appointed consumer advocates."

The managers surveyed expressed mild agreement with these statements: "In general, I distrust consumer advocates who claim to speak in the public interest."

"Business understands consumer wants better than consumer advocates do." "The consumer movement has cried 'wolf' on too many occasions when it didn't have its facts."

The survey showed less conclusive attitudes toward government involvement in business. "Respondents' attitudes could not be characterized as either pro-government or anti-government," Webster said.

There was strong agreement with the statement: "Increased business social responsibility is the only way to avoid more government regulation." But there was mixed response to other questions about government activity.

BARBARA RICHMOND
Jean Long of Simsbury has been hired to fill the new position of service coordinator for the Rockham Valley Community Services Council. Her job will be to coordinate and utilize the various health and social services offered in the towns of Vernon, Ellington, and Tolland.

Jean Long

The services center was founded in 1972 and its basic concept was to be a unique umbrella agency under which various types of helping services could be offered.

Ms. Long expressed the hope that those needing help will come to the office personally. She said while telephone calls are welcome, she doesn't want the counseling to be just by phone.

During 1973-74 the council gave help to 276 families, 403 children, 61 persons with marital problems and 45 persons with individual personality problems.

Nixon's Taping System Sophisticated, Primitive

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Five of Nixon's former aides are charged with conspiracy in the taping system. It was activated by a voice-activated system so sophisticated it could be activated by a voice—but only when the former President, himself, was present, according to the testimony of an expert at the Watergate cover-up trial.

Richard M. Nixon's taping system was so sophisticated it could be activated by a voice—but only when the former President, himself, was present, according to the testimony of an expert at the Watergate cover-up trial.

But the system was also so primitive that the reels had to be changed manually—resulting in two-to-three-minute gaps in recorded conversation, another expert testified. The two were among four technical witnesses who laid out the foundation of the Nixon Court Wednesday for the eventual submission of 26 of Nixon's taped conversations as evidence at the Watergate cover-up trial.

John Langren, Nixon's physician, said the former President had pneumonia in a small area of the right lung and is running a slight temperature, but is making "slow but gradual improvement" in the Long Beach, Calif. hospital.

When he was in a room where microphones were located—the Oval Office, his Executive Office Building hallway or the Lincoln Sitting Room—the FBI electronics technician Randy Nelson said an electronic locator was used to pinpoint Nixon's location.

BIA To Aid Scholarship Foundation

The committee planning this year's Manchester BIA (Brotherhood In Action) program looks over the record of past successful programs, dating back to 1967. From the left are Bruce Remold, representing Friendship Lodge of Masons; Edward M. Chas, chairman of the committee; and representing Charter Oak Lodge of B'nai B'rith; John O. Nelson of Manchester Lodge of Masons and John E. Luby of Campbell Council, Knights of Columbus. This year's program will benefit the Manchester Scholarship Foundation. A roast beef buffet-dinner fund-raiser will be held Nov. 16 at the K of C Home, Main St. Previous programs have benefitted Mansfield Training School, the Manchester Teen Center, the Senior Citizens Center, Manchester Memorial Hospital and the Newtoning Children's Home. POLICE REPORT

MANCHESTER
Gary Babcock, 25, of no certain address was arrested Wednesday night by State Police in Hartford on a Circuit Court 12 warrant sought by Manchester detectives charging him with risk of injury to a minor child, local police said.
The charge involves an incident Oct. 25 in Manchester involving a teenage girl, police said.
State Police turned Babcock over to Manchester Police who kept him in a jail cell at headquarters here overnight on a $10,000 bond.
The FBI informed police this morning that Babcock is wanted in Hartford on four warrants involving burglaries, in Vermont for forgery, and in Florida for escape from a prison on chain gang.
Manchester Police said the $10,000 bond on Babcock might rise higher due to the other charges against him after he appears in court today in Manchester.
• William C. Moir Jr., 34, and Cathie J. Pugliese, 25, both of Hartford, were arrested Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. and each charged with fourth-degree larceny, police said.
The charges stem from a shoplifting incident at Shoe Town on Spencer St. Both were released on $50 surety bonds on court Nov. 25.
• William B. Salmoraghi, 22, of Plainville was arrested Wednesday at 8:56 p.m. and charged with operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of alcohol or drugs. He was released on a written promise to appear in court Nov. 18.
Thrifts reported recently include:
• About $125 worth of items were stolen from the apartment of Russell White of 281 Center St. Wednesday between 5:30 a.m. and 9 p.m., police said.
• A tape deck, stereo tapes, and a tape container valued altogether at $145 were stolen from Richard J. Leist, 28, of 87E Rachel Rd. was taken by ambulance to Manchester Memorial Hospital after a two-car collision Wednesday at 12:27 a.m. on Bissell St. at Hill St., police said.
At MEMH he was treated for a sprained ankle and discharged, a hospital spokesman said.
The other car was driven by Alexander F. Jaskulski, 24, of 150 Birch St. He was not injured. Both cars were towed from the scene.
Leist was charged with failure to obey stop sign. Court is Nov. 25.

Judge Orders Acquittal In Kent State Trial

CLEVELAND, Ohio (UPI) — U.S. District Court Judge Frank Battisti today ordered a verdict of acquittal in the case of eight former Ohio National Guardsmen on trial in the Kent State University shootings in which four students died and nine were wounded.
Battisti said the prosecution did not

Kissinger Reassures Israelis

TEL AVIV (UPI) — Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger reassured Israel today that there had been no change in U.S. policy on the Palestinian question and said both countries were in agreement on the course of future Middle East progress to peace.
Then he took off for Tunis, the last scheduled stop on a two-week long diplomatic swing of three continents before returning home to Washington sometime Saturday. At the same time, the PLO raised the possibility that Egypt might negotiate with Israel on the fate of the occupied West Bank of Jordan.

Three Doctors To Examine Richard Nixon

WASHINGTON (UPI) — U.S. District Judge John J. Sirica, acting on a request of defendant John D. Ehrlichman, today agreed to appoint three doctors to examine former President Richard M. Nixon to determine if he is too sick to testify in the Watergate cover-up trial.
Sirica granted the motion one day after Nixon's lawyers submitted a medical report saying their client could not undergo questioning for at least two to three months without a "serious risk to his health."
Former Nixon campaign aide Powell A. Moore meanwhile began his second day on the witness stand in the trial of the "silent majority" newspaper Al Berman and four other former Nixon aides. Ehrlichman's attorney, William S. Frates, asked Sirica to name three "really great doctors" to examine Nixon. Frates said he did not doubt the medical reports sent from Nixon's bedside in California, but wanted to "clarify the whole situation," Sirica replied. "I hope to be able to do it by next week," he said.
In Long Beach, Calif., hospital officials reported Nixon was recovering from surgery 10 days ago to relieve a phlebitis condition in his left leg. But the former president's personal physician, Dr. John Lungen, said Nixon is still in serious condition.

Transpo Advisory Group Appointed by Weiss

Town Manager Robert Weiss has named a seven-member Transportation Advisory Committee to study Manchester's transportation needs in an attempt to get town action within six months.
Named chairman of the advisory committee is William A. Massett of 202 S. Main St., assistant director of public safety at the University of Connecticut (Storrs). Massett was largely responsible for establishment of UConn's minibus system at the Storrs campus.
Also named to the committee are Nicholas Lefas of 61 S. Hawthorne St., Katherine Giblin of 46 Cottage St., Dean Herbert Bandes of Manchester Community College, William O'Neill of 22 Kane Rd., Jane Curtis of 262 Ferguson Rd., and Ruth Cavin of 18 Denver Rd.
First Meeting Set
The first meeting of the committee is scheduled Nov. 26 at 8 p.m. in Weiss' office at the Municipal Building.
In announcing the appointments, Weiss said he hopes the committee's work will progress quickly so officials can determine what action the town can take within six months.
"There are no particular guidelines that can be established for the committee other than the general parameters of investigating the transportation needs of Manchester and making recommendations as to what feasible approaches can be taken to meet those needs," Weiss said.
Few Limitations
"The report could cover a very broad spectrum or be very narrow," he said. "It could be positive or it could be negative. It could limit itself to the needs for the elderly and handicapped or it could go as far as a loop system for the general public."
Creation of an advisory committee stems from a Sept. 23 public meeting in which townspeople, special transit interest groups, and local officials discussed possible solutions to transportation problems within Manchester.
No solutions were decided, but it was agreed at that time there should be a committee to coordinate efforts on transportation.

P&W Union Workers Authorize Strike

HARTFORD (UPI) — Union workers at Pratt & Whitney Aircraft plants in Connecticut have authorized a strike on Dec. 1 if negotiators have not agreed on a new labor contract by then.
A spokesman for Local 91, International Association of Machinists, said Thursday the members had voted nearly 2-to-1 to empower union leaders to call the walkout.
The present contract, which expires at midnight Nov. 30, covers some 17,000 employees at the Pratt and Whitney plants in East Hartford, Middletown and Southington. P&W is a division of United Aircraft Corp.
The union spokesman said negotiators for both sides have been meeting two or three times a week, but there has not been much progress in recent talks. "There's no encouragement. It's going to be tough," the spokesman said.
The spokesman said the issue being negotiated is cost of living adjustments in salary. The union is seeking unlimited cost of living increases every four months, plus improvements in the health and pension contract language, he said.
The union estimated the average wage at the three plants is $4.35 an hour.

Brief Coal Strike Seems Inevitable

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Coal miners could win a new contract before this weekend is over, but a brief strike is still considered inevitable.
"We are now moving into another stage of our negotiations," a management spokesman said Thursday.
The UMW has a "no contract, no work" rule, and the current contract would expire Nov. 15 before a new contract could be ratified — even if tentative agreement were reached this weekend. The ratification process takes 10 days.
The 1,200 mines and 120,000 workers involved produce about 70 per cent of the nation's coal.
During a breathing spell in the talks Thursday Guy Farmer, chief negotiator for the Bituminous Coal Operators Association, was asked if he anticipated a long strike. "I don't," he said. "I don't think anyone wants one."

Potential Firehouse Site
Tuesday, the Manchester Board of Directors will consider the purchase of a site for a new firehouse next to the Buckland School, left background. If purchased, the apartment building, (Herald photo by Pinto) right, would be removed to make way for construction of the firehouse.

Buckland Firehouse Site Tops Directors' Agenda

The property is just east of Buckland School playground at 1039 Tolland Tpk. It is owned by Santo and Nancy Lombardo.
On the agenda under new business is an item asking for approval of the purchase for $32,400.
The board will be asked to approve an application for a $32,015 grant, under the federal Comprehensive Manpower Program Public Employment Act.
The grant would fund the $19,515 estimated salaries and fringe benefits to June 30, 1975 for three of the five additional maintenance men requested by the sewer department for the town's sewage treatment plant.
Management Analyst
The remaining $12,500 would pay for an additional management analyst — $10,000 for an annual salary and $2,500 in fringe benefits. The person filling this position would assist in planning the disposition of the $470,000 Community Development Block Grant anticipated by the town, and would plan and coordinate activities relating to the acquisition of Cable Television in Manchester.
The town manager is recommending that the Citizens Advisory Committee be re-activated and that it too become involved in planning the disposition of the $470,000 Community Development Block Grant.

Dental Issue Resolved In Teacher Contract

Included in the agreement was the $7,000 dental rider which had been opposed earlier by the school board. Members of the MEA have been working since July 1 without a contract.
Deakin said the teachers had agreed to drop the dental rider because the Board of Directors had indicated it would not accept the dental rider recommendation if it were included.
The dental rider was to go into effect the second year of the proposed two-year contract.
Increase Broken Down
In the 8.08 per cent salary and fringe benefit increase are included a 5.22 per cent straight salary raise, a 2.4 per cent increment hike, a .16 per cent extra-curricular increase and a .3 per cent miscellaneous fringe increase.
Deakin said acceptance of the 8.08 package will cost the school board about $500,000 per year.
Since last January, the MEA has been negotiating for contract agreement. After six months of talks, the school board last March, the contract went to arbitration, and finally a three-man arbitration team recommended the 8.08 per cent contract proposal in September.

Weicker Inheriting Control Of State Republican Party

HARTFORD (UPI) — Sen. Lowell P. Weicker Jr. wasn't even running in Tuesday's election but he may have won something — control of the Republican party in Connecticut.
With Weicker's high national recognition, the state GOP could be a spring board for other campaigns, perhaps a national "run" by the national GOP.
Weicker however has used strong words to put down such plans.
"I hope you know him intimately," said Weicker, 45, has an acute political compass which guided him to eight victories in nine elections. He went from First Selectman of affluent Greenwich on Connecticut's "commuter belt" to senator in eight years.
Appears in Command
After Tuesday's elections, Weicker, who was roundly booed at the GOP gubernatorial convention in July, appears to be in complete command of the party reins.
Second District Rep. Robert Steele, often mentioned as a possible challenger to Weicker for the GOP Senate nomination in 1976, was swept under by Mrs. Grasso's landslide.
"It's obviously an important piece of input" in his thinking about leaving the GOP.
Party Assessed
On Thursday, GOP leaders assessing the party's rousing state of affairs urged the 6-foot-6 tennis ball to stay in the party fold and announced the establishment of a policy committee to propose widespread reform.
Weicker, a participant in the 2 1/2-hour meeting, said he was "deeply appreciative" of the support shown him and said of the reforms: "It's obviously an important piece of input" in his thinking about leaving the GOP.
State Chairman Vincent A. Laudone of Norwich, to be named before Dec. 1, will work to "expand the base of the party," and probably will hold hearings to get public opinions into the movement.
