President Arrives in Tokyo

TOKYO (UPI) — President Ford, protected by the tightest security seen here since World War II, arrived in Japan today on the first leg of his historic Far East tour.

Within 20 minutes after the presidential jetliner Air Force One touched down at 3:27 p.m. (1:27 a.m. EST) at Haneda airport, Ford and his party had been whisked by American helicopter to the official state guest house in central Tokyo.

A 21-gun salute boomed out across

Tokyo Bay to welcome the first American President to visit Japan, and hundreds of carefully selected airport guests waved tiny rising sun flags as the smiling, waving Ford walked to his helicopter.

But because of the security, there were no welcoming speeches.

Ford and Secretary of State Henry Kissinger walked along a red carpet through an official receiving line headed by U.S. Ambassador to Japan James D.

Hodgson and Japanese Ambassador to the U.S. Takeshi Yasukawa.

Ford, in a dark blue business suit and blue shirt, stayed at the Geihinkan, the recently renovated $33 million guest house.

He appeared somewhat tired after the long flight across the Pacific from Alaska.

The airport was sealed off to air traffic from 30 minutes before the President's arrival until 30 minutes after he had left for the guest house.

At least 25,000 police were mobilized in Tokyo, including 8,500 at the airport, to protect Ford and his party.

The massive security was ordered because of the fear of anti-American and anti-government demonstrations by leftists and extremists.

Rioting here in 1960 caused the cancellation of a visit to Japan by the late President Dwight D. Eisenhower.

Ford, who described his journey as "a quest for peace" prior to leaving the continental United States, wore no overcoat as he stepped off his plane under sunny, partially cloudy skies with temperatures in the high 60s.

Neither Emperor Hirohito nor Prime Minister Kakuei Tanaka was at the airport and Ford had no official functions scheduled for Monday night after the nearly 20-hour flight which began Sunday in Washington.

On Tuesday, the President meets the Emperor, 124th Japanese sovereign in a line founded 2,634 years ago, and also will confer with Tanaka, who is fighting a battle for his political life because of allegations of corruption.

Tanaka ordered his cabinet Monday to ensure "perfect security" for Ford and his party. The national police were mobilizing a force of 160,000 security men across the country for the five-day visit.

No Major Action Expected From Lame-Duck Congress

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The winners and the losers return to Congress today for a "lame duck" session expected to complete only a bare minimum of its unfinished business.

Upper Plate Awaits Owner

How would you like to come to work some morning and find a gleaming white upper plate staring you in the face?

That's what happened this morning to Helen Tierney, who works in the Manchester Water and Sewer Department.

The plate, described by Mrs. Tierney as "in perfect condition and expensive looking," was found during a routine cleanup operation in a sewer main on W. Center St. between Hyde St. and Waddell Rd. Foley St. sewers also empty into the main.

Mrs. Tierney said the plate "is delicate looking and appears to be a woman's." It has been cleaned thoroughly by department personnel.

If you're missing an upper plate and can identify it, you should call the water and sewer department at 649-5281, Ext. 251.

By the calendar, the 93rd Congress has seven weeks until it formally expires at noon Jan. 3, but some of the time will be taken up in holidays.

Many Democrats are inclined to put off some controversial issues until their ranks are bolstered by newly elected Democrats in the next Congress.

The House now has 248 Democrats to 187 Republicans; the Senate, 58 Democrats and 42 Republicans. As a result of the November elections, the Democrats in January will be 291-144 in the House and 61-39 in the Senate.

Nearly a fifth of the members of Congress returning today — 92 House members and 11 senators — either decided to retire at the end of this session or the voters decided to retire them.

That is not a record turnover but one of the biggest in recent years.

Democratic leaders have promised to push for final confirmation of Nelson A. Rockefeller as vice president before the session ends.

Senate Rules Committee Chairman Howard W. Cannon, D-Nev., predicted Sunday the Senate will approve the nomination by that deadline. He was less sure of the House, which does not begin hearings on Rockefeller until Thursday.

The minimum accomplishment for this session of Congress — and it may fall short of that — would be passage of appropriations bills for departments such as Labor; Health, Education and Welfare; and Agriculture.

The foreign aid appropriation may fail and have to be financed by a continuing resolution until the next Congress.

Action is likely on international trade reform and mass transit. It appears unlikely this session on national health insurance, tax reform and the bulk of President Ford's economic program.

Multi-Circuits' Request Heads Up PZC Agenda

Merrill Whiston's plans to rebuild a business structure on the site of the burned-out Sheridan Building on downtown Main St. have run afoul of Manchester zoning regulations and a variance is to be considered tonight by the Zoning Board of Appeals (ZBA).

Multi-Circuits Inc. of Manchester — of which Whiston is president and sole stockholder — is seeking a variance which would allow the Main and Pearl Sts. site to be treated as a Business 3 Zone, although it is split into Business 3 and Residence B Zones.

The Multi-Circuits request is one of five variances scheduled for public hearing tonight. Other applications include requested storing of vehicles off Vernon St., erection of a sign on Spencer St., and additions to Willie's Steak House on Henderson Rd.

The property included in the Multi-Circuits application, purchased by the firm earlier this month, is at 613-619 Main St. and 13-15 Pearl St., at the northeast corner of the intersection.

The application explains that the property is intersected by a zoning boundary. Whiston plans to build an 8,000-square-foot commercial building on the land, which was the site of the Sheridan Building, destroyed by fire in October 1971.

Other applications on tonight's ZBA agenda:

• Norman Laluppe is seeking extension of a permit to store vehicles and equipment used in connection with his excavating business on property at 780 Vernon St., Rural Residence Zone.

• Goodrich Realty Development Co. is asking for permission to continue use of a free-standing four-by-eight-foot real estate sign on the north side of Spencer St., adjacent to the K-Mart Shopping Plaza, Business 3 Zone.

• Willie's Steak House wants a variance to erect an addition to its banquet room entrance at 8-10 Henderson Rd., Business 2 Zone. The addition would be closer than allowed to the street line.

• Chad and Lee Whitesell are requesting a side yard variance to erect an addition to a dwelling at 91 Bretton Rd., Residence A Zone.

• A special exception and location approval request by Q-S Petroleum Inc. for a new gasoline service station at the Burr Corners Shopping Plaza, originally scheduled for hearing tonight, has been withdrawn. It is likely to be heard in January instead.

The ZBA public hearings are scheduled to start a 7 tonight in the Municipal Building hearing room.

Chrysler May Shut Down Plants in December

By United Press International

There was more bad news for the economy over the weekend with word that the Chrysler Corporation may shut down all its operations for the month of December.

If it happens, another 113,000 auto workers will be laid off.

A United Auto Workers spokesman said Chrysler — the nation's third largest automaker — asked union leaders to a meeting today, possibly to announce the halt of car production for a month.

Chrysler, Ford and General Motors have already laid off 92,439 workers — about one of every 13 blue collar workers.

Sales Slump

Latest figures show Chrysler sales down 34 per cent from a year ago. GM sales are down 43 per cent, and Ford showed a 28 per cent loss.

But the cars that are on the road this winter can be fueled, barring new emergencies, according to figures released Saturday by the American Petroleum Institute.

It means that car owners won't face the long gas lines they suffered a year ago and will have enough fuel to heat their homes.

Gasoline Supplies Good

API said that motor gasoline stocks as of Nov. 8 totaled 221.3 million barrels (each barrel has 42 gallons). Last year at the same time, the figure was 204.8 million barrels before the Arab oil embargo.

Coal supplies should hold up if the United Mine Workers strike ends within the next few weeks. The U.S. Bureau of Mines said utilities had an average 80-day coal supply, although individual utilities may have less.

Coal Strike

Meanwhile, the UMW declared a memorial day for slain union leader Saturday, virtually insuring the strike by 120,000 miners will drag into December.

The funeral services Tuesday for Samuel Littlefield, who was shot to death Friday after he surprised a burglar in his Washington hotel room, means the 37-member UMW bargaining council won't resume study of the 175-page contract offer until Wednesday.

Union spokesmen said it would be at least 10 days before the contract ratification is completed because of the Thanksgiving Day holiday.

Natural Gas Short

There was another dark spot in the energy situation. The Federal Power Commission warned that industrial users of natural gas would receive less than half of what they got last winter.

Deliveries from last September until next August will fall 2.3 trillion cubic feet short of demand, the FCC said. Last year's supply was only 1.3 trillion cubic feet short.

Large users can switch to other fuel supplies such as oil, which is in greater supply than last year. Individual consumers are given first priority for natural gas and probably won't feel the shortage.

The Organization of The Handicapped (OTH) marked its first anniversary Saturday night at a dinner-dance at the Student Center at Manchester Community College.

Joseph Blette, OTH chairman, congratulated the membership on a successful year and reiterated the need for continued community support.

Some 23 area residents were made honorary members in recognition of their efforts on behalf of the organization.

They are: Mayor John Thompson, Town

Manager Robert Weiss, Mayor Richard Blackstone of East Hartford, Mayor Frank McCoy of Vernon, Norman Fendell, Steve Cassano, Allan Mason, June Madaris, Donald Peach, Rick Gowen, Michelle St. Marie, Debbie Durken, Andy Petterno, Marian Savistino, Kathy O'Connell, Inez Van Camp, Rita Blette, Edward Blisneak, Phillip Fries, Frank Schiuno, Dorothy Schiuno, Leo Grand, and Betty Ryder.

A buffet dinner was served followed by music for dancing.

Youth Problem Forum Tonight

Insight '74, a Greater Manchester Chamber of Commerce forum on the growing problems of youth, is scheduled this evening at 7:30 at Howell Cheney Regional Technical School.

Panelists on the forum will be Robert Digan, youth services coordinator for the Manchester schools; Patricia Graves, police youth services officer; Russell Holyfield, police community relations officer, and Police Lt. Robert Lannan and Richard Sartor.

Moderator will be Manchester Mayor John Thompson.

After presentation by the panelists on various youth problems, the forum will be opened to questions from the audience.

Chamber officials said this evening's forum was planned after sessions with law enforcement authorities and youth services workers who agreed there are youth problems in town which should be brought to the public's attention.

Connecticut Leaders Assess Economy's Future

By ED BUTLER

HARTFORD (UPI) — More workers will receive pink slips as Connecticut's economy drifts, but experts say a sturdy defense industry offers some shelter from the worsening national economic storm.

"We'll bleed a little less than the rest of the nation," industrial economist Raymond R. Bearegard said while predicting 100,000 or more Connecticut workers could be jobless before the worst is over, perhaps late next year.

The state Labor Department is expected later this week to report higher unemployment for the first two weeks of November as newspapers daily chronicle increasing layoffs around Connecticut.

Passes 55,000 Mark

The latest official report, for the final two weeks of October, had 55,833 persons lining up for unemployment benefits statewide, up 5,200 from the first two weeks of last month. One year ago in the corresponding period, 36,224 persons were reported out of work and collecting unemployment compensation insurance.

Economists and business experts interviewed by UPI said things will get worse before they get better. To a man, they believed Connecticut would fare somewhat better than the rest of the nation, mostly because of healthy defense and related industries.

"I imagine we stand a good chance of hitting in excess of 100,000 unemployed by June of 1975," said Bearegard, chief economist for Northeast Utilities.

Will Rise More

Others would not predict the jobless rate except to say unemployment surely will rise as the national recession runs its course.

The Labor Department said last February, in a little-publicized report to the federal government, the improving state employment picture of 1972-73 would darken in 1974.

The department predicted an average 1974 unemployment rate of 88,000, or 6.2 per cent of the estimated 1.45 million-member labor force. This has failed to materialize, although the year is not ended and layoffs appear on the rise.

"We expect a big pinch in January, most likely in the industrial area. Hopefully it will be only temporary. The companies seem to be furloughing," Labor Department spokesman C. Richard Ficks said.

Long Break

Some companies plan to close for the whole of Thanksgiving week rather than for the usual couple of days, Ficks said.

The highest joblessness recorded in Connecticut was 146,500 in 1971, mainly because of lagging defense contracts. The year ended with a statewide average unemployment rate of 8.7 per cent while the nation as a whole closed 1971 with an average 6.9 per cent.

The Great Depression jobless rate in Connecticut went unrecorded because unemployment insurance had not been instituted. It probably equaled the national level in which one of every four persons couldn't find work.

Connecticut, with its lopsided reliance on national defense spending, could suffer less than the rest of the nation this time.

Defense Contracts

The Pentagon recently contracted for more than $1.3 billion with General Dynamics' Electric Boat Division in Groton for the Navy's new lead submarine and missile system, the Trident. The work is expected to be completed within a decade.

United Aircraft divisions in West Hartford and Stratford recently got contracts totalling $969 million for military jet fighters and helicopters. The Avco Corp., headquartered in Greenwich, got $126.5 million in military contracts during the same period ending last June.

Experts say that while defense and some capital goods manufacturing workers are likely to hold their own, others are expected to suffer.

Metal workers in the Naugatuck Valley are being laid off because of auto industry slowdowns. Hardware workers in New Britain are out of work because of the homebuilding slump. Cutlery and handtool jobs along with the retail and wholesale sectors are reported endangered as well.

Leaders Disagree

State and business leaders believe the national recession will hurt Connecticut less than the rest of the nation but disagree over degree and when the economy will begin improving.

Dr. Eli Shapiro, chairman of the finance committee of Travelers Insurance Co., said "the strength of Connecticut's economy lies in capital goods (machines and equipment), defense and associated durable consumer goods production."

Shapiro said "there is not a lot of strength in the capital goods sector for 1975. So from this point I would think employment in capital goods would remain about the same as in 1974."

He predicted "nominal" increases in defense employment for 1975 because they have received "a fair amount of contracts."

Slow-Growth Forecast

"The service industries, particularly insurance and finance, are not likely to provide as much employment growth in 1975 as in '74," he said.

"The wholesale and retail trades are not likely to do well next year and hence will not provide any strength for those sectors in 1975," Shapiro said.

"On the assumption there is not a rapid depletion of inventory," he said, the nation should be in the worst straits during the spring and the early summer while Connecticut should experience the worst in the late fall and early winter "with a slow recovery."

"So the state economy will not have resumed momentum by the end of 1975," Shapiro said.

Bottom Next Year

Arthur Woods, director of the Connecticut Business and Industry Association, said the state economy would likely hit bottom "sometime in late winter or early spring."

He said he believed Connecticut "may not be as bad off as the rest of the nation because we have United Aircraft Corp. and Electric Boat which have substantial government contracts."

"One thing we should always consider is that these companies and others who do business with them are economic stabilizers for Connecticut," Woods said.

Edwin L. Caldwell, economist and vice president of Connecticut Bank and Trust Co., said he expected defense and capital goods production to remain "relatively strong" in 1975 because of present defense contracts and anticipated continued capital-spending nationwide.

For these reasons chiefly, Caldwell said, "It seems likely to me the state's economy might be a bit stronger than the nation's."

Better Than Nation

Northeast Utilities' Bearegard believes defense spending will help Connecticut "do a little better than the rest of the nation," but said he is concerned because "we're seeing quite a bit of cancellations of orders for capital goods."

"On the positive side," he said, "interest rates are dropping and the Federal Reserve seems to be easing its monetary policies, which might stimulate some capital goods spending."

Richard Stuart, head of the state Department of Commerce, said: "No matter what happens to the economy of the country as a whole, Connecticut will fare substantially better because of our unusually heavy dependence on defense work and the wide spectrum of other companies involved in firearms and subcontracting."

Arson Suspected in Fire
A fire Saturday in which arson is suspected, did further damage to a seven-bay garage owned by the Carlson Express trucking firm on Electric St., according to Chief Granville "Ted" Lingard of the Manchester, Eighth District Fire Department.
"We are quite sure it was set," Lingard said this morning.
The call came in at 2:02 p.m. Saturday. Over 30 firemen of the volunteer force responded and used three inch-and-a-half lines to finally stop the smoldering fire at 2:43 p.m., firemen said.
"The fire never did really break out," Lingard added. "It was a minor fire."
Since the fire is one of a series of over a dozen in that region in the last five years, Lingard as fire marshal is working with town police to investigate the fire.
"We have some hunches," he said.
The center of this old garage used to house and repair gas trucks of the Carlson Express firm, was badly damaged by another arson fire on Sept. 30. The firm had torn down this center section and apparently planned on using the two end sections.
The section that burned further on Saturday was the one to the north end of the former structure and the one farthest from Hilliard St., he said.
The most serious fire in this area occurred about two years ago and destroyed the former Bon Ami soap factory. Arson was also suspected at the time.
The Manchester, Town Fire Department was asked by Lingard to get on standby in their own stations at 2:10 p.m. Saturday in case of other district fires.
Lingard said it was difficult to tell if any further damage was done to the trucks and equipment stored in the garage.

Manohney Invites Bill Proposals
State Rep. Francis Manohney, D-13th Assembly District, is requesting those Manchester residents who have ideas for legislation by the 1975 General Assembly to submit their proposals as soon as possible. He said they may be submitted to him, at his home at 19 Hamlin St. or to any state representative or state senator. The 1975 legislative session begins Jan. 6.
"By pre-filing proposed bills," explained Manohney, "we avoid the volume of the work load on the Legislative Commission's office - as the deadline for the filing of bills ends."
Manohney thanked all who contributed their efforts and pledged to continue his policy of the past 18 years, "to serve all of the people of the town, regardless of party affiliation."

Manchester Evening Herald OPINION

One Good Dollar Deserves Another

A familiar and effective way of bringing home the nation's economic situation is to compare the value of the dollar with what it was in some other, presumably more prosperous, year.

According to one recent analysis, for example, in the lifetime of half of the Americans—those born since 1946—the value of the dollar has shrunk by 60 cents. At this rate, the "1946 dollar" will be worth only 16 cents in another 28 years.

To put it another way, to have the same purchasing power as today's "40-cent dollar," a person making $7,200 today would have to earn $18,000 in the year 2002. A $30 pair of shoes will cost $75. The average family's weekly food budget will rise from $62 to $152, and so on.

It could happen sooner than 28 years if the present rate of inflation were to continue unchecked.

The dollar would look even more minuscule, however, if we were to compare it with its 1939 counterpart, as we used to do back when inflation was a minor, and some thought a necessary and welcome, factor in the economy.

But how many people would like to return to 1939? For all the ravages of inflation, most Americans are far better off than they were in 1939, or 1946 for that matter, the "40-cent dollar" notwithstanding.

This is not to minimize inflation, which has grown to such dimensions that, as President Ford has warned, it threatens the future of all of us. It is merely to point out the fallacy of using the shrinking dollar as the only yardstick to measure where we have been and where we seem to be going.

A television set costs more than it did 10 years ago. But it's a better and more reliable set. Thirty years ago there was no television industry at all, which has given employment to tens of thousands.

For the price of three or four modern key-start, self-propelled lawnmowers, you could have bought an automobile in 1939. But many people didn't have a yard to cut back then, if they had a pushmower, much less a house on that yard filled with all kinds of appliances. Much of what we consider necessities today were un-dreamed of luxuries not many years ago.

Again, this is not to minimize the threat of inflation. But there is no going back to the 1939 dollar or the 1946 dollar or even to the 1973 dollar.

What is important is that we take the steps needed to maintain and safeguard the nation's basic economic strength so that the 1975 dollar or the 2002 dollar, whatever they may be "worth" in terms of some other year, continue to enable more and more Americans to afford the good things of life.

Washington—New York City, of course, is a special case. In that sociological swamp, it would not be surprising to learn that public school administrators have been donating hand grenades to students who desire to overthrow Mayor Abe Beame by force of violence.

Just I suggest that a letter from a Manhattan parent reflects the concern of many, perhaps even a majority, of those adult Americans who have offspring in public schools across this rather unhappy land. Indeed, the letter might have been written from Kanawha County, W. Va., or Washington County, Va., where parents are up in arms about what passes for textbooks in tax-supported teaching factories.

At any rate, the dissenting parents in Kanawha County and Washington County are dismissed by the educational establishment and their allies in the media either as "fundamentalists" or ignorant coal miners or both. The people are warned that those who object to pornographic textbooks are threatening the "right to teach," and must be put down lest they impose a dictatorship of the unlettered.

Thus, it was not surprising to discover that one of the textbooks in the public schools of Charleston, W. Va., required students to "Recount some incidents you or those you know have experienced which illustrate how parental interference in the lives of their sons and daughters can lead to misunderstandings, broken relationships and even family tragedies."

But the times now are anything but the best and there is some evidence that suicidal tendency rates are increasing as a result. "Normally," says Harry Warren of New York City's Save a Life League, "our calls are from people worried about marriage or interpersonal problems. Lately, we've been getting more from people worried about jobs, the economy and world problems. We have this one elderly professor, for example, who has been out of work for eight months and he calls us regularly for our support."

The same increase has been noticed at the American University emergency center. Bob Axelrod there says the students still call with traditional dilemmas, but larger numbers of off-campus teachers and administrators on how to handle "handful" and discreet dissident groups, which the NEA—always ready with a convenient catchword—describes as members of the "Far Right."

Don't kid yourself. These NEA tactics are effective. Ever since Hitler, ever ultra-liberal outfit in the country has

Washington—A terribly despondent man called the office the other morning and said he was going to commit suicide. "I think so anyway," he said. Why? he was asked. "I'm sick of everything," he explained. "I got no job, I can't pay bills, the stinking world is falling apart." He was encouraged to hang on, but he hung up, concluding:

"I already been through one depression in my life and I'll be damned if I'm gonna go through one again."

The call was an unusual one for a news office, but not for the 200 or more organizations in America established to dissuade citizens from this kind of extreme action. The Suicide Prevention Center in Los Angeles receives 12,000 such calls annually. An American University emergency center in Washington receives 14-to-15,000 similar calls though it is only campus oriented. Even in the best of times many Americans think about a self-inflicted end.

But the times now are anything but the best and there is some evidence that suicidal tendency rates are increasing as a result. "Normally," says Harry Warren of New York City's Save a Life League, "our calls are from people worried about marriage or interpersonal problems. Lately, we've been getting more from people worried about jobs, the economy and world problems. We have this one elderly professor, for example, who has been out of work for eight months and he calls us regularly for our support."

Thanks to the Constitution, Americans have more rights than any nation on earth, not excluding Great Britain—where, for example, the Official Secrets Act prohibits publication of certain governmental activities relating to foreign policy. There is indeed a "right to teach." But organizations like the National Education Association apparently have revealed the right of the people, through their elected representatives, to have a voice in what is taught in schools supported by their taxes. Talk about dictatorships...

Zinsser Calls For Policy In Management of Case Mt.

Manchester Director Carl Zinsser wants the Board of Directors, "once and for all set a uniform policy in the management of Case Mt."
Consequently, he is asking Mayor John Thompson to call a meeting of all concerned, "in seeking policy and solving the problems that confront us at Case Mt." He recommends the meeting be held before Feb. 1, 1975.
He suggests the directors meet with Police Chief James Reardon, Town Fire Chief John Ernest, Town Engineer and Conservation Commission, and Robert and Wells Dennis, owners of property adjacent to town-owned land on Case Mt.
"Needless to say," states Zinsser in his letter to Thompson "that any such meeting must be open to the people and the press. It seems to me that such a meeting is long overdue and that strong action must be taken by this board before it meets." On Oct. 8, at the conclusion of its regular meeting, the directors met in executive session with Chief Reardon—to be briefed on Case Mt. problems and to explore possible solutions.
Republican and fellow Director Gallagher cast the two votes against holding the executive session. They boycotted the meeting and charged it was held illegally.
Assistant Town Counsel Victor Moses ruled the executive session was legal—citing state statutes and a court finding in a case recently before it.
Zinsser and Gallagher claimed Moses' ruling didn't completely resolve the question of legality.

Clerk Appointments on Agenda

The Vernon Town Council, at its meeting tonight at 7:30, will be asked to ratify the appointments of Arthur G. Wozniak and Phillip Chenette, to oversee two major building projects in town.
Wozniak will be clerk of the works for the Rockville High School expansion program and Chenette for the Memorial Building renovation.
The council will also act on a proposed ordinance on the purchase and operation of the Vernon Water Co. by the town. If the ordinance is approved a date will be set for a public hearing.
A proposed change in council rules of order will be discussed. The proposal was presented at the last meeting of the council with action delayed until tonight's meeting.
The change concerns procedures in adding last-minute items to the agenda. Existing rules call for a two-thirds vote before an item can be added. The proposed change would only require a majority vote for approval.
An item expected to be added to tonight's agenda is a request from the Board of Education concerning the high school addition.
The board wishes to take out of the addition budget $400,000 for equipment to bring the budget within the appropriated $5,000,000 and allow the signing of the contract.
The board then wishes to have the council approve putting the equipment post in tonight's meeting.
Other items to be discussed tonight include a hearing date on environmental impact of the waste treatment plant, the purchase of land for Grove Hill Cemetery; the extension and dental insurance plan to non-union town employees; discussion of facilities for the proposed merger of the courts of Common Pleas and Circuit Court; the Green Manor Construction project; and several resignations and appointments.

The 1974 Voter

As more and more data from the November elections is sorted out, a more complete picture of the American voter, model 1974, begins to emerge.

The salient feature is his selectivity.

This may seem a surprising statement in the face of the Democratic landslide, especially in the congressional races. And it seems to have been true that where there was little to distinguish the candidates except their party labels, voters tended to choose the Democrat. Call it the "Watergate factor."

Yet there were enough exceptions to the rule to delimit any generalization that the electorate this year was chiefly interested in punishing Republicans.

Probably the most outstanding example, and one of the few comforts for the GOP in the entire debacle, was the upset victory of Ohio Gov. James A. Rhodes over incumbent John J. Gilligan.

Here the voters clearly voted their pocketbooks. The theme Rhodes hammered on was his opponent's use of alleged misuse of taxes.

Our Public Schools

Washington—New York City, of course, is a special case. In that sociological swamp, it would not be surprising to learn that public school administrators have been donating hand grenades to students who desire to overthrow Mayor Abe Beame by force of violence.

Just I suggest that a letter from a Manhattan parent reflects the concern of many, perhaps even a majority, of those adult Americans who have offspring in public schools across this rather unhappy land. Indeed, the letter might have been written from Kanawha County, W. Va., or Washington County, Va., where parents are up in arms about what passes for textbooks in tax-supported teaching factories.

At any rate, the dissenting parents in Kanawha County and Washington County are dismissed by the educational establishment and their allies in the media either as "fundamentalists" or ignorant coal miners or both. The people are warned that those who object to pornographic textbooks are threatening the "right to teach," and must be put down lest they impose a dictatorship of the unlettered.

Thus, it was not surprising to discover that one of the textbooks in the public schools of Charleston, W. Va., required students to "Recount some incidents you or those you know have experienced which illustrate how parental interference in the lives of their sons and daughters can lead to misunderstandings, broken relationships and even family tragedies."

But the times now are anything but the best and there is some evidence that suicidal tendency rates are increasing as a result. "Normally," says Harry Warren of New York City's Save a Life League, "our calls are from people worried about marriage or interpersonal problems. Lately, we've been getting more from people worried about jobs, the economy and world problems. We have this one elderly professor, for example, who has been out of work for eight months and he calls us regularly for our support."

Thanks to the Constitution, Americans have more rights than any nation on earth, not excluding Great Britain—where, for example, the Official Secrets Act prohibits publication of certain governmental activities relating to foreign policy. There is indeed a "right to teach." But organizations like the National Education Association apparently have revealed the right of the people, through their elected representatives, to have a voice in what is taught in schools supported by their taxes. Talk about dictatorships...

Suicide as Wall Street's Indicators

Washington—A terribly despondent man called the office the other morning and said he was going to commit suicide. "I think so anyway," he said. Why? he was asked. "I'm sick of everything," he explained. "I got no job, I can't pay bills, the stinking world is falling apart." He was encouraged to hang on, but he hung up, concluding:

"I already been through one depression in my life and I'll be damned if I'm gonna go through one again."

The call was an unusual one for a news office, but not for the 200 or more organizations in America established to dissuade citizens from this kind of extreme action. The Suicide Prevention Center in Los Angeles receives 12,000 such calls annually. An American University emergency center in Washington receives 14-to-15,000 similar calls though it is only campus oriented. Even in the best of times many Americans think about a self-inflicted end.

But the times now are anything but the best and there is some evidence that suicidal tendency rates are increasing as a result. "Normally," says Harry Warren of New York City's Save a Life League, "our calls are from people worried about marriage or interpersonal problems. Broken Promise

To the editor:
We have seen the first campaign promise broken less than one week after the election of Nov. 5.

Almost to a man, candidates were forced to a special legislative session to force a roll back in utility rates. Now that the election is over and seats are safely won, the same old "to hell with the voters" attitude has already set in. What was a "craving need" on Nov. 5 becomes a "it can wait until next year" on Nov. 8 and there will be no special session of the Legislature.

For one, I intend to keep a scorecard of broken campaign promises for the next two years and to remind our legislators of what they promised to do or not to do. We might all do so.

Leaf Bag Pickup Revised

SOUTH WINDSOR
Judy Kuehnler
Correspondent
644-1364

The Department of Public Works has announced a revised leaf bag pickup schedule for the weeks of Nov. 18 and 25. Because of very heavy leaf fall and recent rains, the town's highway crew is still in the process of vacuuming the Wood-Avery St. area. To allow this vacuuming procedure to be completed before picking up leaf bags in this area, the following schedule will be followed: Tuesday, Nov. 19: Area bordered by Ellington Rd. and Rt. 5; Wednesday, Nov. 20: Area bordered by Avery St. and Ellington Rd.; Thursday, Nov. 21: Area bordered by Vernon Town Line and Avery St. Monday, Nov. 25: Area bordered by Rt. 5 and Main St.; Tuesday, Nov. 26: Area bordered by Ellington Rd. and Rt. 5; Wednesday, Nov. 27: Area bordered by Avery St. and Ellington Rd.; Thursday and Friday there will be no leaf pickup because of the holiday. Monday, Dec. 2: Area bordered by Vernon Town Line and Avery St. Dec. 2 will be the last day for leaf bag pickup. The Public Works Department would also like to remind town residents that there are a limited number of plastic bags available at the town garage. As long as they have no leaf bags to pick up, they may be picked up at the town garage daily from 7 a.m. to 3:30 p.m.

Land Development Corp. will make payment to the town for the resurfacing of Tumblebrook Rd. in the amount of $5,825, as previously agreed by both parties.

The town will authorize the paving of the street upon receipt of the money, and expects the work to be completed within several weeks. Land Development Corp. seeks a resolution of the status and location of the existing cul-de-sac located at the end of Tumblebrook Rd. Upon satisfactory resolution of the cul-de-sac problem and approval by the town attorney, the town manager and town engineer will recommend acceptance of the street and release of the subdivision bond. Seeking a solution to the two items as individual problems has resulted in the agreement between the town and Land Development Corp. Cookie Sale The South Windsor Girl Scouts will conduct their annual cookie sale today through Nov. 20. Cookies will sell at $1.25 per box and will be delivered during the week of Jan. 8. Proceeds will be used to help support the Timber Trails Scout camp, camperships and allow wider opportunities for Cadette and Senior Scouts, as well as other scout activities. Andover Students Lunch With Their Principal

ANDOVER
Donna Holland
Correspondent
646-0375

Sign up for lunch with the principal? For the last two weeks David Kravet, principal, spends two days a week having lunch with six students in grade 4.

The lunches give Kravet an opportunity to meet and talk on a more individual basis with all students.

On Monday Kravet has lunch with six students in Grade 1-3.

On Fridays he lunches with six students in Grades 4-6.

The students meet the principal in his office and then proceed to the cafeteria to get their lunch. They do not eat in the cafeteria however. Kravet takes the students to the conference room for lunch.

He said the students are interested in how the school is run. He said one of the first questions he heard was, "How much money do teachers make?" Kravet told the students, who then asked how much money he made. He answered that question. The funny part was that at first, six students wanted to be teachers but when he told them how much he earned, there were six students who wanted to become principals.

Kravet said they didn't ask about the superintendent's salary and he didn't volunteer the information. Students will not be given "seconds" with the principal until all those who desire have a chance to lunch with him. Kravet meets each Tuesday with the student council. He said he brings his concerns to the students and they bring their concerns to him. One of the concerns with the younger students was, "Why is the ice cream melting?" Kravet said the concern is genuine one. He said the students are now being given the opportunity to purchase lunch and return for their ice cream. At the beginning of the school year Kravet rode each bus run to familiarize himself with talk with "the students." He was asked if he slept on the bus. He didn't.

School Board to Buy Laminating Machine

ANDOVER
Donna Holland
Correspondent
646-0375

The Board of Education has unanimously approved purchase of a laminating machine with payment for it to come from the Norton School Fund.

The Norton School Fund was set up several years ago to purchase items for the school in excess of what the town is responsible for. In the past the fund has been used to purchase a television.

The principle of the fund may not be used; only interest accumulated. The fund now has $2,312.58 in interest.

The cost of the laminating machine and 30 rolls of laminating film will be $1,285.64. The accumulated interest balance will be $1,026.94.

Parent Teacher Association
The Parent Teacher Association of the school donated $200 for the purchase of a dry mount press.

A dry mount press is two big irons that heat tissue to big laminates and protects paper items.

The teachers at the school developed and created many materials to use in classroom teaching. Because the materials were made of paper their life expectancy was not very great.

David Kravet, principal, said the teachers have pride in what they themselves developed and the items would probably be used more than purchased materials.

He said the teachers are able to individualize more in working with students with developed materials.

Now that you're all grown up you can still reach better with the book.

Now instead of needing help to reach the toothpaste, it's to reach the dentist. But it's still faster to use the telephone book. Because by the time you dial directory assistance, learn the number, then write it down, you could have already looked it up yourself, dialed and started talking.

AREA POLICE REPORT

VERNON Alexander Roy Jr., 18, and James Roy, 18, both of 116 W. Main St., Rockville, were charged Saturday night with first-degree burglary, third-degree larceny and possession of burglary tools. Police said the charges were placed against the two youths in connection with the investigation of a break into Arthur's Drug Store in the W. Main St., Shopping Plaza in Rockville. Both were held at the police station in lieu of posting $7,000 bonds. They were to be presented in Circuit Court 12, Manchester, today.

South Windsor Police are investigating a break into the apartment of Joseph Langton, 123 Candlewood Dr., South Windsor Saturday. Police said entry was gained by breaking a window in a den. Some jewelry, a mink stole, and a color television were reported missing. The items were valued at $2,800 police said.

Police said the Baker car collided with one driven by Randy Stewart, 19, of 21 Fairview Ave., Ellington. No injuries were reported. Mr. Baker is scheduled to appear in Circuit Court 12, Rockville Dec. 4.

WOODBRIDGE (UPI) - Two Waterbury teenagers were killed and another injured in an automobile crash that followed a high-speed chase, police said. Darryl Baldoni, 16, and Bruce Bertrand, 18, were dead on arrival at St. Raphael's Hospital in New Haven. Gordon Shandler, 14, was listed Sunday in serious condition at the hospital. The crash occurred at about 9:20 p.m. on Rt. 99 in Woodbridge as the car, a 1967 Chevrolet Nova, was coming out of a slight curve, police said. The vehicle hit two utility poles, a stone wall and was torn to two, they said.

Unusual Situation For the first time this season, Yale trailed, when Princeton's Scott Morrison booted a 41-yard field goal. "Twice within a span of four minutes, just before the half, Yale talked to take command (its try of hard running backs, Ty Hennings, Rudy Green and Don Geicki). Yale is not a spectacular offensive team but its runners are of the old fashioned mold, content to pick up a few yards at a clip - but enough for first downs.

Great Record on Line "Beat Harvard" signs were displayed in the waning moments when it was a certainty Princeton would fall a 50th time against Yale and the white hankchiefs were waving on the home side. Saturday it could be tears in instead of hankchiefs when Yale seeks a 12th straight win over a two-year period - and ninth of 1974 and seventh in the Ivy League.

back Bill Kelleher attempted just three passes completing none and one interception. The Warriors also lost five fumbles, one setting up the Indian touchdown.

After a fast moving scoreless first period Hall got on the scoreboard six minutes before the intermission with 5-9, 170-pound senior halfback Mike Callahan galloping 73 yards to the middle for the TD. Callahan paced the Warriors' offensive thrust with 165 yards on 15 carries. Rich Chalmers led the up-rights for a 7-0 edge.

Late in the third stanza the Indians punted with Yale returning it 45 yards to the Manchester 14. Olsen and his assistants mildly protested claiming Lee had signaled for a fair catch. "It was questionable. I'll be better able to tell after I see the films," Olsen noted. Moran took it in from 13 yards out, making a nice cut to his left. Moran also added the two-point conversion making the scoreboard read 15-8.

Ostrout's passing moved Manchester twice into first-and-goal situations only to be repulsed. Hall led the verdict late in the final stanza as linebacker Bruce Robinson skyjacked a Jack Maloney halfback option toss at the Tribe 50, returned it 23 yards and lateraled to Lee who went the final two for the TD.

Ostrout, a 5-9, 163-pound junior in his first starting assignment, completed eight of 24 passes for 103 yards. Manchester added 65 yards rushing.

Third Straight Win for Eagles

Senior signal-caller Rob Tebecio engineered four touchdown drives and rolled across the end zone for two six-pointers himself as East Catholic overwhelmed St. Paul, 26-6, in a Hartford County Conference football clash before several hundred onlookers Saturday at Mt. Nebo. The victory was the Eagles' third in a row placing their record at 5-4-1.

Junior running back Cephus Nolen led the ground gainers churning out 183 yards on 18 carries and a short touchdown jaunt. Senior Co-Captain Joel Desimone lent great support rushing for 154 yards on 19 carries and scored on a four-yard run and a two-point conversion.

Most of the season East had been plagued with fumblefests which had taken its toll in some instances but "our offense has finally gelled. We felt this was an important game. Now I think we have confidence in our offense," commented Eagle mentor John LaFontana.

With 6:38 left in the first quarter, Tebecio began operations from the Eagle nine. He commanded a brilliant drive as Nolen and Desimone scalped the Falcon secondary for a combined 86 yards. Two plays later, Tebecio bulled in from the one registering the first of his two TDs. Tebecio, however, mistimed on the conversion attempt and the Eagles had a quick 6-0 advantage.

A poor Falcon punt gave the locals excellent field position and resulted in another score with Desimone steamrolling for 56 yards and Nolen plunging over for the TD with 8:23 left in the opening half. The conversion failed and East led, 12-0. St. Paul gained momentum just before the intermission as Steve Whitham was forced to punt from his own end zone and the boot took a Falcon roll blown dead at the East 26. Several plays later sophomore quarterback Scott Dumont tossed to halfback Mike DiPietro for a 26-yard scoring strike. The placement failed and East had a 12-6 spread at halftime.

At the outset of the second half the Eagles put together a well-balanced 69-yard scoring drive with Tebecio going the final five yards for the score. East put icing on the cake taking advantage of a roughing the kicker infraction which took the pigskin to the Falcon 26. Desimone went over from four yards out through a gaping hole and he added the two-point conversion for the final margin.

Defensive standouts for East included Mike Nolen, Vin Turci, Bill Poletti, Brian Foley and Whitham. "The seniors wanted a winning season and it looks like they're going to get it," LaFontana happily stated.

"They (St. Paul) had a few injuries and it hurt. It was a victory over a real tough club. We are very happy to be where we are," LaFontana concluded. St. Paul dipped to 1-3 in the conference and 4-5-1 overall with one date, Xavier, left on the slate. East, which is also 1-3 in the HCC, concludes its season Thanksgiving Day morning at Mt. Nebo against archrival South Windsor. The Eagles will be shooting for their first winning season since 1969 when they went 7-3.

Extra Effort Not Good Enough As Tribe Loses Six in Row

By Len Auster "Why couldn't we have played like this all year," lamented Manchester High senior Tri-Captain Pete McCuskey prior to the end of Saturday's football game in West Hartford. The sentiment was later echoed by Tribe Coach Larry Olsen after CCHL call-dwelling Manchester gave league-leading Hall High an all-out tussle before succumbing, 21-8, before 800 onlookers.

Now 1-6 in the league and 2-8 overall, with the setbacks in succession, Manchester closes out its 1974 campaign at home with the annual Thanksgiving Day morning clash with Windham High.

"We played a helluva good game, especially in the second half," Olsen asserted. "We had our opportunities to score and after I see the films I might be sick. Hall is a good team but they're not overworking. We really felt we could win."

Twice in the final quarter the Silk Towners penetrated within the Hall 10 yard line only to be stymied by a tenacious Warrior defense. Coach Frank Robinson's club, which is now 7-0 in league play and 7-2 overall, made the most of a controversial punt return and a pass interception in the second half - to pull out the verdict.

After grinding out 213 yards and eight first downs in the opening half, Hall mustered just 55 yards and two first downs in the closing 24 minutes. Quarterback Bill Kelleher attempted just three passes completing none and one interception. The Warriors also lost five fumbles, one setting up the Indian touchdown.

Jets' Winning Touchdown Pass
Dave Knight Goes High for Joe Namath

Interceptions, Deceptions Help to Victimize Patriots

FOXBORO, Mass. (UPI) — New England lost the game in "deceptions".

The Patriots, dropping their fourth game in five after starting the season with five straight wins, were victimized by interceptions, jets, and a pair of deceptions. Sam Cunningham was their only exception in New York's 21-16 win Sunday.

Interceptions — four of them that killed New England opportunities twice in the final quarter — included one pickoff by Romeo Word as the Patriots were driving from the Jets' 10-yard line with 1:31 remaining.

Receptions — Joe Namath connected on just eight of 20 passes, but two of them were for touchdowns of 11 yards to rookie Bob Burns and David Knight, which brings us to the ...

Deceptions — safety Prentice McCray of the Patriots was in the wrong spot on both scoring passes.

The only New England exception — Cunningham ran for 113 yards, including a 40-yard romp to set up one touchdown and an 18-yard burst to the Jet five-yard line with two minutes remaining. At this point, the Patriots lost their exception. Cunningham brushed off the Jets' defense Sunday.

"I'm real happy because our ballclub believed," Winner bubbled. "They saw a sign on the New England side of the field that said, 'We believe.' The guys came up to me, pointed to it and said, 'Coach, that sign is meant for us.' And they went out and proved it."

The Jets started making believers out of the Patriots 11:27 into the game when Coach Charley Winner, finally living up to his name after a 1-7 start, so discussed credibility and how the Jets closed the gaps.

Mann's Last Second Goal Climaxes Late Lion Rally

DETROIT (UPI) — The fans aren't the only ones who are overlooking the Detroit Lions' receivers these days — defensive backs are letting them slip by unnoticed once in a while, too.

Bill Munson and his flock of unheralded pass catchers picked apart the New York Giants' defense Sunday to set things up for Errol Mann to kick a game-winning 37-yard field goal with two seconds to play.

With the 20-19 victory, the Lions now have won five of their last six games to even their record at 5-5, and all the victories have been by four points or less. The Giants fell to 2-8.

"People said last year our receivers were bad," said Munson, who has thrown for 1,839 yards on 161 completions this season. "We had a lot of dropped passes but a lot of those were to our backs. But I like all our receivers — and of them I like Charlie (tight end Sanders) best."

The Detroit quarterback completed for 200 yards with 19 completions out of 29 attempts, including 5-of-9 for 60 yards when he put the Lions into their two-minute drill to win the game.

Ron Jessie grabbed a 19-yard punt on fourth down and four at Detroit's 26-yard line and Sanders, who caught five passes for 54 yards, made an important leaping catch for 15 yards. He followed with a nine-yard catch that put the ball on the Giants' 20 and Mann did the rest.

Sanders now has 30 catches this season, Jessie has 22, and Larry Walton, who did not play in the game, has 27.

Rookie Bob Pickard, Walton's replacement, caught a seven-yard pass by Munson for his first pro touchdown with 5:22 left to narrow it to 19-17 after the Giants dominated most of the second half to overcome a 10-3 Lions lead.

"If we had played the whole game like we played the second half, we'd have been okay," Coach Bill Arnsparger of New York said.

"We were sleepwalking in the first half," Spider Lockhart of the Giants said. "We make a couple of good plays and then we mess up."

Brown's Triumph Best in 20 Years

BOSTON (UPI) — Coach John Anderson called it Brown's "biggest win in 20 years." It also was the biggest win of the season for Yale.

"It was Brown 10, Harvard 7 and 'it' meant that Yale, which beat Princeton, can do no worse than share the Ivy League championship this season."

Yale's 19-3 win gave the Elis an 8-0 record and a 6-0 mark in the Ivies. Harvard's loss was its second in eight games and left the Crimson 5-1 in the league. Harvard must beat Yale at the Stadium next Saturday to earn a share of the crown.

Harvard coach Joe Restic refused to say his team was looking ahead to the "title" game but did admit "we couldn't get untracked."

"We couldn't have had more breaks than what we had in the game, especially at the end," when Harvard was at the Brown 12 with 35 seconds remaining — only to be intercepted. "But when you don't capitalize on anything, you don't deserve to win."

"I don't want to take anything away from Brown, though, it was a super effort."

Anderson acknowledged his team had a great game and singled out the defense as "unbelievable." This win has to be good for our program. The program is on its way up.

Brown's win also was a boost for Yale's captain, as evidenced by Eli captain Rudy Green's remark when told of the Brown-Harvard final. "Harvard lost? I can't believe it," he yelled in the Yale locker room.

The dressing room, quiet after the machine-like win over stubborn Princeton, exploded after learning Harvard lost.

"It doesn't matter," Green said after everyone calmed down. "I want it (the Ivy title) outright."

Massachusetts, unable to cop the Yankee Conference title outright, settled for half a loaf Saturday by whipping New Hampshire, 27-17, on a 26-yard punt return by Ron Harris late in the game. The Minutemen share the crown with Maine ... but not with Connecticut, which lost its chance along with a 14-13 decision to Rhode Island.

Vermont finished its final football season in poor fashion, dropping a 41-15 struggle to Springfield. Boston University finished with its first winning season of the '70s despite a 6-0 loss at Rutgers. The Terriers closed at 5-4-1.

WFL Revises Schedule

MEMPHIS (UPI) — The fledgling World Football League revised its playoff schedule a third time Sunday and opted for six teams, an official said.

Terry Lee, information director for the Memphis Southern, said the quarterfinals will see Hawaii at Southern California Wednesday and Philadelphia at Florida Thursday.

The Birmingham Americans will take on the Hawaiians-Southern Cal winner Nov. 27. The Philadelphia-Florida winner will be pitted against the Central Division leader Memphis Southern in semifinal action Nov. 29.

The World Bowl will be held Dec. 5. The only games not nationally televised will be the Hawaii-Southern Cal and the winner of that game against Birmingham.

Lee also said, however, the confusion in Southern California management had initiated the chain of events resulting in both weekend changes.

Sun General Manager Curly Morrison sent a telex to WFL teams Saturday, urging cancellation of the playoffs, because "We know the playoffs are going to lose us money."

But Sun owners objected within hours after Saturday's executive committee decision, saying Morrison had no authority to speak for the team.

Saturday's change had called for Memphis to play in the World Bowl at Memphis Nov. 29 against the winner of a Birmingham-Florida semifinal game.

Lee said in a prepared statement.

Dolphins on Top After 10 Weeks

NEW YORK (UPI) — It took 10 weeks but the Miami Dolphins are back on top.

The World Champions moved into first place for the first time this season Sunday and they did it with a mixture of old stars and new faces as they erupted in the final minute of a thrilling 35-28 victory over the Buffalo Bills. Miami and Buffalo entered the game tied for first in the American Conference East and now the Dolphins lead by one game with four to go.

The old heroes were quarterback Bob Griese, wide receiver Paul Warfield and fullback Larry Conka and the new star was reserve fullback Don Nottingham.

Griese completed 11-of-18 passes for 237 yards, four of them going to Warfield for 139 yards, including a 49-yard touchdown pass. Conka, playing on a painful swollen ankle, blasted for TD runs of two and six yards and Nottingham, the "Human Bowling Bowl" ran for two last period scores to win the game for Miami.

Nottingham, a squat 5-foot-10, 210-pounder called on when Conka couldn't continue, ran 11 yards for one TD to give Miami a 28-21 lead and after Buffalo tied the score on Gary Marangi's five-yard TD pass to Bob Chandler, he ripped 23 yards up the middle with 19 seconds left for the winning score.

"It's the makings of the men involved," said Miami Coach Don Shula, who has held his club together this season despite numerous injuries. "Griese's tremendous poise, Warfield's skill, the tenacity of the offensive line."

Griese took over at the Miami 19 with 51 seconds left and marched the Dolphins to the winning touchdown in just four plays. He threw 31 yards to Warfield and Jim Kick put together runs of 12 and 15 yards to the Bills' 23. Nottingham roared up the middle on a draw play and scored untouched.

"I don't get surprised by holes like that any more," Nottingham said. "You get used to seeing that kind of daylight with the offensive line we have."

Rookie Tom Owen threw two TD passes and ran for another as San Francisco snapped a seven-game losing streak by beating Chicago. Owen threw 68 yards to Terry Beasley and 20 to Ted Kwalick. The Bears have not scored a TD in 19 quarters.

Maryland Awaits Liberty Foe

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (UPI) — Either Tennessee or Kentucky will meet the University of Maryland in the 18th annual Liberty Bowl Classic, officials announced Sunday night.

Tennessee, 5-3-1, beat Ole Miss 20-17 in Memphis and Kentucky, 6-4, defeated Florida 41-24 at Lexington last Saturday.

SAVE ABOUT $680 OPERATING COSTS. '75 CHEVY PICKUP VS. COMPARABLE '74.*

Based on GM Proving Grounds mileage tests and extended maintenance intervals for Chevy's best-selling 1975 pickup—projected through 50,000 miles.

Chevy is serious about truck economy. For 1975, Chevrolet has made meaningful advances designed to lower the costs of operating this C10 Pickup. Based on GM Proving Grounds mileage tests and new extended maintenance intervals, projected through 50,000 miles of driving, savings in operating costs can be as much as $680 compared to last year's comparably-equipped model.

More miles per gallon definitely helps lower the cost of ownership.

Comparing this 1975 Chevy C10 Half-Ton Pickup* with its 1974 counterpart in the GM Proving Grounds City/Suburban Driving Schedule, the '75 Half-Ton, using unleaded gasoline, showed about a 14% reduction in fuel consumption over the '74 model using leaded fuel. As detailed in the box below, this would amount to net savings of $343 in 50,000 miles. Again, these savings will vary depending on equipment, loads, operating conditions and the price of gasoline.

New extended maintenance intervals help reduce operating costs.

Compare maintenance costs for the same two pickups. Following the Maintenance Schedule for recommended service, this '75 C10 Half-Ton Pickup, using unleaded fuel, could save about $337 on parts, lubricants and labor over the comparable '74 model, using leaded fuel, projected through 50,000 miles of driving. That's because this new '75 C10 model has a catalytic converter and High Energy Ignition and needs fewer scheduled changes for spark plugs, oil, and filters, needs fewer chassis lube, and has no points or ignition condensers to replace.

Year in, year out, more Chevy trucks are on the road than any other make.

And that's a fact, according to R. L. Polk & Co.'s industry statistics. An important fact to consider, along with lower operating costs, when you're ready to buy.

Let's look at this specific model the popular C10 Half-Ton V8 Pickup:

This is Chevy's best-selling pickup and it offers outstanding potential for lower costs of operation. Projected savings based on GM Proving Grounds tests are shown in the box at the bottom of this advertisement. These savings, of course, will vary depending on equipment, loads, operating conditions, driving habits and the price of gasoline.

Comparisons are based on the following 1975 Chevrolet Half-Ton Pickup and its comparable 1974 model: C10 350 V8 Fleetside Pickup, 8-foot box, under 6,001 GVW, equipped to comply with Federal emission standards, with Turbo Hydra-matic 3-speed transmission, 3.40:1 axle ratio, and 17.5:1 tires. Mileage tests were conducted in the GM Proving Grounds City/Suburban Driving Schedule at average speeds of 24 mph with 1.6 stops per mile. Test averages from three production '75 models were compared with test averages from three production '74 models. Test weights were 4,649 pounds for the '75s and 4,570 pounds for the '74s.

As tested in GM Proving Grounds City/Suburban Driving Schedule, this 1975 Chevy C10, using unleaded fuel, shows about a 14% reduction in fuel consumption over a comparable '74 model using leaded fuel. Cost figures could vary, depending on the price of leaded and unleaded fuel in local areas; however, at a price of $64 per gallon for leaded and $54 per gallon for unleaded, allowing a one cent per gallon increase over leaded fuel as permitted by Federal regulations, this would represent a net savings of ...

Yale Still Needs Win At Harvard for Title

HARTFORD (UPI) — If unbeaten, untied Yale loses to Harvard Saturday, it will merely tie the Crimson for the Ivy League crown. Only a win in Cambridge, even after the Eli's sensational eight-win season, will do the trick.

Yale obviously wants it all.

Saturday's 19-4 win over Princeton at the Bowl, combined with Brown's simultaneous 10-7 win over Harvard, came a week after Harvard ran 34-17 over the Tigers.

Princeton coach Bob Casella called Yale "a very fine and extremely strong football team" and "a quick, tough bunch of kids" but declined to pick a winner in the Yale-Harvard match.

The guarded elation at Yale Bowl was paralleled by the feelings of Trinity's Bantams, who won their seventh in a row 21-6 over Wesleyan at Middletown, to make them a strong contender in the unofficial New England small college ratings.

In contrast, Connecticut's 14-13 heartbreaker to Rhode Island spoiled the Huskies' chance to tie for the Yankee Conference title. Connecticut, 4-5 for the year and 3-3 in conference play, meets Holy Cross Saturday.

In other games, Bridgewater's 28-10 finale at Springfield made the difference in a 6-winning season for the Purple Knights. The Chiefs wound up with a 4-6 season.

Coast Guard's 14-12 loss to King's Point left the Cadets with a 4-4-1 record.

Central Connecticut's 19-16 decision over Southern Connecticut rested Central's claim at 4-5-1 and sends Southern, now 4-5, against Trenton State Saturday.

Losing 20-14 to Trenton, Western Connecticut closed out with a 4-5 season.

New Haven lost 35-6 to Boston State, ending a difficult season completely defeated at 0-9 and having lost 17 straight games in two football seasons.

Yale captain Rudy Green got two touchdowns in 40 seconds at the end of the second period, and linebacker John Cahill made a fumble recovery in the fourth period at the Tiger's 18 which was turned into another score two weeks later by halfback Tyrrell Hennings.

Yale's defense maintained its supremacy in the nation against scoring, and Princeton's Casella said the defense would be its biggest asset against Harvard.

Trinity's fate is in the hands and heads of coaches evaluating New England and small college teams.

"It's a matter of how they vote," said coach Don Miller after the win over Wesleyan. "We were tops last week and I don't see how it could change. Williams beat us in the first game, but we've won seven in a row."

Williams beat Amherst Saturday to win the Little Three title and its season 7-1 in a tie with Trinity.

Connecticut is 3-3 in Yankee Conference games, and the best it can do Saturday against Holy Cross is even out its overall record 5-5.

"Last year we had it," quarterback Lou Mancari said. "This year we don't. Last year we were making the great clutch plays, this year we've been stopping ourselves."

Baylor Handles Jazz But Results the Same

NEW YORK (UPI) — Elgin Baylor took over the coaching duties of the New Orleans Jazz for one game Sunday and picked up right where fired Coach Scotty Robertson left off: explaining why the Jazz lost again.

Jazz President Fred Rosenfeld, disappointed over his team's 1-15 record, will name a permanent replacement today for Robertson, whom he fired Sunday.

A successful coach at Louisiana Tech, Robertson seemed to have difficulty adjusting to the pro game and relating to his players.

Baylor, a superstar for the Lakers for many years, apparently does not want the responsibility of a head coaching assignment, yet Rosenfeld said he will name a coach "not presently in the Jazz organization and someone who has coached professional basketball."

Several names fit that description such as Alex Hannum, Butch van Bredehoff, Jack McCloskey and Roy Rubin — all fired from head coaching positions last year. Rod Thorn, an excellent assistant coach for the New York Nets of the ABA, has also been looking for a head coaching job.

Meanwhile, Baylor was left in the New Orleans locker room following Friday's 99-85 loss to the Detroit Pistons, trying to explain why the team lost again.

"We ran our offense well in the first half," Baylor said, "but couldn't hit the open shot."

In the second half, our offense broke down completely.

If nothing else, Baylor is succinct.

Bob Lanier contributed 26 points and 17 rebounds for Detroit while Pete Maravich led the Jazz with 24 points.

In the only other NBA game Sunday, Chicago whipped Los Angeles 96-79 and Golden State edged Phoenix 106-105.

Bulls 96, Lakers 76

Chet Walker scored 23 points and John Block added 21 as Chicago held the Lakers to their lowest point total in the 15 years they've been in Los Angeles. Block, the most traded active player in the NBA with his seventh team in nine seasons, hit 11 points in the first quarter.

NEW YORK (UPI) — With the kind of night Mike Walton enjoyed in Quebec, he could be headed for a second straight World Hockey Association scoring championship.

Walton had two goals and three assists to power the Minnesota Fighting Saints to a 7-1 rout of the Nordiques Sunday night and lift his total to 20 points for 12 games. John Garrett was just as impressive in the Minnesota net, stopping 38 shots. He lost his shutout bid when Alain Caron scored on a power play late in the second period.

Making the most of its opportunities, Rockville High topped Simsbury High 14-6, in Central Valley Conference football action Saturday at the losers' field. Also in the CV, Windsor Locks bested South Windsor, 13-3.

Scoring for Rockville were Ken Hoke on a one-yard plunge and linebacker Bob O'Rand on a 65-yard pass interception return. The Rams were held to 58 yards total offense, 50 rushing, but their defensive unit intercepted four aerials and recovered one fumble to stop Trojan drives. Rockville con-

Bowl Groups Embarrassed

NEW YORK (UPI) — A few of those premature bowl invitations are beginning to look awfully embarrassing to the hosts. The Sugar Bowl committee, for example, was ecstatic a couple of weeks ago when it announced it had invited Florida and Nebraska to compete in the New Year's Eve classic at New Orleans. At the time it looked like a sweet matchup as both teams were ranked high in the top 10, but now the committee is a bit deflated.

The reason is the sudden demise of eighth-ranked Florida, which has lost two games in a row — the latest a 41-24 whipping by Kentucky Saturday.

The Fiesta Bowl is another which may have acted a bit hastily in setting its pairings. The committee invited Oklahoma State two weeks ago and the Cowboys might be lucky to escape the season with a winning record. Colorado dealt Oklahoma State a 37-20 beating Saturday and the Cowboys are now only 5-4 with games against Iowa State and unbeaten Oklahoma remaining.

Another bowl invite, Texas Tech, also was beaten Saturday as Baylor handed the Red Raiders a 17-10 loss. Texas Tech, now 6-3-1, will be meeting Vanderbilt in the Peach Bowl at Atlanta on Dec. 3.

There are still seven spots open in the 11 major post-season bowl games and all but two berths should be filled by next weekend.

End the SHAME and TEARS of BED WETTING

PACIFIC INTERNATIONAL HAS ENDED BEDWETTING FOR HUNDREDS OF THOUSANDS IN THE PAST TWENTY YEARS

When children discover that a playmate wets his bed, the result can be merciless teasing and serious psychological problems. The entire family can be effected. The cost and work of taking care of a bed-wetting child can cause friction and irritability among parents.

It is quite possible that your child will eventually outgrow bedwetting, but what happens until that time comes? Medical authorities have stated that a bedwetting child feels that he is a disgrace to his family. Statistics prove that bedwetting child achieves below his real ability in school. And the child is embarrassed and ashamed.

But, now, bedwetting, when not caused by organic defect or disease, can be ended. Safely. Permanently.

Our method is endorsed by many doctors. Read their statements on the enclosed page brochure: "Is There A Solution?" Also read what other people say who have had the same problem. Send this coupon for your free copy. No cost or obligation.

Auto Spokesmen Issue Depression Warning

By RICHARD HUGHES

As autos go so goes the U.S. economy. And the auto industry is on the verge of a 1930s-type depression, according to top executives and union executives and the mayor of beleaguered Detroit.

General Motors and Ford Motor Co., as well as Chrysler, anticipate idling thousands more in the next few weeks. The industry has a record 86-day supply of unsold cars. Chrysler has twice that.

Fire Damages Vacant House

A two-alarm fire severely damaged a vacant dwelling at 111 Walnut St. this morning. The blaze, contained by Manchester Town Fire Department firemen in about 15 minutes, is under investigation.

The single-family, 2 1/2-story frame structure is owned by Mr. and Mrs. Tracy Cole of 84 Main St. Firemen said the blaze has made the house unfit for occupancy.

Flames originated in a second-floor bedroom at the rear of the house, firemen said, and spread through the floor to the lower level and through the ceiling to the attic.

Close proximity of the burning structure to adjacent houses concerned firemen when they arrived. Deputy Fire Chief Roy Stratton said, but firefighters were able to control the fire within 15 minutes.

They remained at the scene another hour, however, for mop-up operations and to be sure the flames were extinguished. No one was hurt in the blaze.

The initial alarm was turned in to fire headquarters via a box alarm at 6:09 a.m. At 6:14 a.m., headquarters sounded a second alarm to call in off-duty firemen. A total of about 25 men responded to the call.

Stratton was reluctant to describe the fire as suspicious, but he said, "We can find no reason why it should have started accidentally."

Firehouse Site Purchase Before Directors Tonight

By SOL R. COHEN

The Board of Directors may take a giant step forward tonight toward a new town of Manchester firehouse in the Buckland area. The board appears ready to authorize acquiring property at 1039 Tolland Tpk. for the firehouse site.

The property would be bought for $32,400 from Santo and Nancy Lombardo. Added to the 106-foot frontage would be a parcel with 60-foot frontage, now part of Buckland School property but to be transferred to the town for firehouse use.

Tentative plans call for a 5,300-square-foot, one-story firehouse on the Tolland Tpk. site, at a projected cost of about $300,000. Estimates are it could be completed in about a year.

Also tonight, the board is likely to approve a two-year contract with the Firefighters Union, Local 1979, and to give its backing to a two-year contract the Board of Education has negotiated with the Manchester Education Association.

PZC Approves Request For Zoning Variance

By DOUG BEVINS

Only the second new commercial building planned in downtown Manchester in several years got a green light from the town's Zoning Board of Appeals (ZBA) Monday night.

After a short public hearing and business meeting, the ZBA unanimously granted a zoning variance sought by Multi-Circuits Inc., which is planning a one-story, 4,800-square-foot retail building at Main and Pearl Sts.

The school board and the MEA already have approved the plan. In addition, the board has indicated it will approve pay raises for three police captains, to conform with pay raises previously given middle-management personnel in other town departments.

The board has vacancies on 16 boards, agencies and commission (for terms expiring this month and with most to be re-appointments) to fill and will re-activate the Citizens Advisory Committee. The CAC will become involved in planning the disposition of the $1,410,000 Community Development Block Grant anticipated by Manchester in the next three years ($470,000 each year).

Also on tonight's agenda are expected actions on additional appropriations and allocations and on an amendment to the Pension Ordinance. The amendment will provide a three per cent across-the-board, cost-of-living increase to the town's pensioners.

Meeting Planned
The council agreed to send a delegation from MCC to meet with former Finance Commissioner George J. Conking, who is representing Gov.-elect Ella Grasso in budget deliberations. The group will seek to get favorable consideration of a new budget request of $1 million for an additional 1,800 students anticipated in the community college system next year. This would be in addition to the basic budget request made in September.

"We have a great feeling of frustration," he concluded.
Russ Holyfield
"So what?" is the attitude the youth here have toward all authority and efforts to help and deal with youth, began Russell Holyfield, for eight months the community relations officer of the local force.

Holyfield has spoken to over 7,000 Manchester people in recent talks, most of them young people.
"On the whole, they are a very intelligent group of kids. No one is going to fool them. The juvenile justice system is a revolving door."
"The system does not help them but merely shuffles them around."
"There isn't enough money, enough manpower, and the caseloads of such people as probation officers are too heavy."
He called for reform of the system by lawmakers.

Pat Graves
Miss Pat Graves, member of the local force since 1966 and youth officer since 1972, spoke of attempts to overcome the red tape of the juvenile justice system.
"The court is indeed overburdened."
"A juvenile case may not be heard for two months. Cases are dismissed without a warning due to a quota system."
"We cannot allow a backlog system that makes a mockery of justice."
She cited the "Adams St. gang" as an example. (See Page Twelve)

President Visits Japanese Emperor

TOKYO (UPI) - Emperor Hirohito today welcomed President Ford as the first U.S. chief of state to visit Japan and said it was "regrettable" that the two nations fought in World War II.

Ford, dining at the ancient Imperial Palace in a ceremony telecast throughout Japan and in the United States, got a promise from Hirohito that the emperor would visit America next year.

Ford's first official day in Japan was mostly ceremony although he did visit with Prime Minister Kakuei Tanaka about issues ranging from the energy crisis and superpower arms negotiations to controversial charges that U.S. nuclear weapons have been taken into Japan.

The only discordant note came when Tokyo's left-wing mayor, Ryokichi Minobe, complained in a news conference that Ford had refused to discuss the nuclear weapons issue with him during an official courtesy call.

The symbolic nature of Ford's visit - designed to underline the mutual friendship of the two countries, rather than to produce major new treaties - was clearly visible in the state banquet given by Hirohito.

"It think it was regrettable that, in spite of the friendly relations we had between the two nations, there was an unfortunate period," Hirohito said in his toast.
"However, since the end of the war Japan has striven for constructive development of this country."
Hirohito thanked the United States for help extended to Japan during the 150 years of diplomatic relations between the two countries.

Ford responded by saying "the United States is determined to perpetuate the unique ties that link our two nations for the common good."
The ceremony took place in the Imperial Palace, the grounds of which were laid out in 1868, far from the spot where Hirohito yielded to pressure from Japan's military rulers in 1941 and approved a declaration of war against the United States.

Heavy security precautions prevailed everywhere Ford went. But despite fears to the contrary, the President spent his first full day in the Land of the Rising Sun without seeing a single demonstrator.

Abortion Counseling
The center's counseling policy concerning pregnant students came under criticism from council member John V. Carmody, East Hartford, who expressed concern that the center in giving advice concerning abortion would damage the college's image in the community.

Ms. Borders, Dr. Lowe and Dr. Herbert Bander, director of administrative affairs, strongly defended the right and obligation of the center to provide information on abortions to those women who have decided to terminate their pregnancies. They stressed the center does not initiate or promote such decisions but feels that if the decision has been made, it should direct the woman to a licensed hospital where further counseling is available. (See Page Twelve)

Mrs. Beck was gloomy about the state budget because of the wide gap between requests and revenues and stressed the need to get the community college needs before key legislative leaders as well. She pointed out that an early January meeting with key legislators is vital since these people will have little time later in the session to meet with groups seeking funds.

Await Caucuses
The council agreed and James Nakos, chairman, said arrangements to meet with Conking and the legislative leaders would be set up after the party caucuses determine committee assignments. The Democrats, who will be in control of the new legislature, will caucus Monday and Tuesday.

Dr. Frederick W. Lowe Jr., president, reported to the council that the Board of Trustees Monday had accepted his amended resignation as president. Dr. Lowe, who originally had intended to step down from the presidency into a teaching position, will retire at the end of February under provisions of a law permitting earlier retirement. His plans are in-

Community College Council To Support Budget Requests

By FLOYD LARSON

Faced with bleak reports that preliminary state budget requests exceed estimated state revenues by as much as $200 million, the Manchester Community College Regional Council Monday night made plans to meet with key budget-making officials and key legislators.

The zoning variance granted Monday night allows Multi-Circuits to use all of the site of Multi-Circuits' planned building - which will house two retail subsidiaries of the firm - in the burned-out Sheridan Block at 613-619 Main St. and 13-15 Pearl St.

Multi-Circuits bought the property - which has been vacant since an October 1971 fire - for $135,000 earlier this month. Merrill Whitson, the firm's president and sole stockholder, said he plans to move his Groman's Sport Shop (now at 56 Cottage St.) and Embassy Travel Service (now at East Hartford) to the proposed building.
