Buckland Firehouse Purchase Negotiations Given Approval

By SOL R. COHEN

A positive first step toward construction of a Town of Manchester firehouse in the Buckland area was taken Tuesday night by the Board of Directors.

It authorized the town manager to negotiate for acquiring the property at 1039 Tolland Tpk., the proposed site for the firehouse.

The parcel, just east of Buckland School and owned by Santo and Nancy Lombardo, is being offered for $32,400. The lot has 105 feet frontage and is 333 feet deep on one side and 355 feet on the other.

Estimate Costs

Preliminary plans call for constructing a 5,500-square-foot, one-story firehouse — at an estimated cost of about $300,000.

Actual acquisition of the property must be by ordinance — following a public hearing. A public hearing on the ordinance is scheduled for Dec. 3.

In a companion action Tuesday night, the board approved transfer to the town of Buckland School land — with a frontage of 60 feet and adjacent to the 1039 Tolland Tpk. parcel — for access to the proposed firehouse. It honored a request from the school board for transfer to it of the School St. firehouse site (for use as a storage facility) if and when a new firehouse is constructed in the south end of Manchester and if and when the School St. firehouse is abandoned.

Gallagher Opposed

The two actions Tuesday night were by identical 8 to 1 votes, with Hillary Gallagher voting "no."

"I'm against committing ourselves to the very large expense of a new firehouse, and I don't believe it's even needed," said Gallagher. "I see no change over the past five years which warrants the need. The cost could run as high as $350,000. I'd just as soon wait on the firehouse."

Speaking for the proposed construction were Vivian Ferguson, Phyllis Jackson, John Tani and Pascal Prignano. All said they recognize the need for a firehouse in the Buckland area.

Commented Mrs. Jackson, "The price is right, and so is the site."

Prignano said, "My main concern is the safety of the area residents. My second is that a new firehouse there will encourage commercial and industrial development in the area. The expense of a new firehouse will pay off in safety and also 10-fold in development."

Board Accepts Contracts For Firemen, Teachers

The Board of Directors Tuesday night, unanimously and without discussion, approved a two-year contract with Manchester Firefighters Local 1579.

And, this time by an 8 to 1 vote with Hillary Gallagher voting "no," it accepted as fact the two-year contract the school board negotiated with the Manchester Education Association (MEA). Actually, what was required of the directors (by state statute) was a vote to reject or not to reject.

Gallagher, in explaining his vote, said, "The Board of Directors isn't really involved in the negotiations. It was out of our bailiwick. The school board stated it can live within its budget, and that's good enough for me. I don't know why we even have to vote."

The contract with the town's 520 teachers is retroactive to July 1. It provides an 8.08 per cent salary and fringe-benefits increase in the first year, and about 8.75 per cent in the second (beginning July 1, 1975). It's a closed contract — without a reopening clause and without a cost-of-living re-negotiating clause.

Vivian Ferguson said she was voting for the contract with concern. She said she's disappointed the school board didn't stay within the 7.75 per cent guidelines recommended by the directors when they adopted the 1974-75 budget — the guidelines followed in negotiations with municipal labor groups.

The contract with the Firefighters Union also is retroactive to July 1. In addition to improved fringe benefits, it provides a 5 per cent salary increase as of July 1, 1974, a 2½ per cent increase Jan. 1, 1975, and a 7 per cent increase July 1, 1975.

The directors approved pay raises for the town's three police captains (by a unanimous vote), to conform with pay raises previously approved for middle-management personnel in other departments.

Periods of rain today and tonight with rain heavy at times this afternoon into tonight along with chance of a few thunderstorms. High today upper 40s north to upper 50s south. Low tonight in the low 40s. Thursday cloudy, windy and colder, chance of scattered showers, high in the upper 40s.

Jumbo 747 Jet Crashes

NAIROBI, Kenya (UPI) — A Lufthansa Boeing 747 airliner with 157 persons aboard faltered seconds after liftoff today and dropped tail first into a muddy field where it exploded into flames and burst apart, killing many of the passengers.

Airport authorities said the death toll was reported to be 61 and that 96 persons survived.

Most of the victims were West Germans and there were no reports any Americans were aboard.

First 747 Crash

It was the first crash of a 747 Jumbo Jet since they went into service five years ago. It is considered by pilots to be the safest passenger plane in the world and the cause was not known.

There was speculation the big jet engines lost power on takeoff for a flight to Johannesburg and that the pilot was trying to make an emergency landing.

The pilot was quoted by the Kenyan News agency as saying: "I was taking off normally...the plane broke up and was suddenly going down. I don't know what happened."

Lost Power

An airport worker said it appeared that the pilot tried to set the jetliner down as smoothly as possible in an emergency landing once he knew he had lost power.

Nairobi hospital said 21 survivors were under treatment there, some of them undergoing emergency surgery. One was reported in critical condition. Tom Lisson, manager of the Nairobi Hilton Hotel, said all 71 others, "a little grubby but in pretty good condition," had turned up at his facility.

The minister of communication, Omolo Okero, had told newsmen earlier that 97 bodies had been taken from the wreckage of the blue, yellow and silver jet which was flying from Frankfurt to Johannesburg with German tourists and businessmen.

Thunderous Noises

Witnesses and survivors said the aircraft took off in bright and windless weather and had just cleared the runway when trouble developed. The plane settled and the five-story tail smashed into the ground at around 190 miles an hour. There were thunderous noises as the giant plane ripped apart and skidded hundreds of yards through the mud, finally bursting into flames.

Survivors said the fuselage broke up like a gigantic eggshell and that they escaped the broken-up airliner through the openings and ran away. Lisson said the ones that turned up at his hotel "look like they've come in from a hectic safari."

Another survivor, who declined to give his name, said "There was a sudden dive soon after the aircraft took off. The plane hit the ground and slid for several hundred meters...I saw a sudden opening near my seat and jumped out."

Scores of fire trucks and ambulances roared to the scene and the local blood bank issued an emergency call for donors. Lufthansa officials said they were trying to determine the exact number of casualties but many of the bodies were hurled far from the airplane. Officials said they did not expect a final figure before nightfall.

The airline said the "black box" flight recorder had been found in the wreckage and that technical experts were being flown in Frankfurt to undertake an investigation into the cause of the crash.

President Jomo Kenyatta ordered that everything possible be done "to find out the cause of the tragic accident and to help alleviate the suffering of all those concerned."

In the worst air disaster in history, a Turkish airlines DC10 carrying 345 persons crashed 25 miles north of Paris on March 3, 1974, killing all aboard.

Farmland Preservation Plan Based on Conveyance Tax

HARTFORD (UPI) — A 1 per cent tax on the sale of all real estate in Connecticut was proposed today as a way to finance the preservation of farmlands and supply the state with a third of its food needs.

Charles Stroh, chairman of a special study group, recommended that the state spend a half billion dollars to buy agricultural rights from farmers to keep land in the production of food.

Suitable agricultural land is being developed so fast that within five years it would be impossible to buy up enough farmlands to make the program work, Stroh said.

Stroh estimated that based on an average of $3 billion a year in real estate sales, the 1 per cent conveyance tax would yield $30 million dollars.

Local communities would designate areas of the town suitable for agricultural preservation and landowners then would offer to sell development rights to the state, Stroh said.

Plan Described

The owner would be paid the difference between the value of his land for farming and development purposes. The figure would be established by negotiations between the farmer and a state assessor.

In view of the present tight fiscal situation in the state, Stroh said his proposed 1 per cent conveyance tax is the most realistic approach to raising the money needed for buying up the rights.

Guideline Authority

The study group recommended creation of a nine-member authority or commission to develop guidelines for the preservation of land.

Suffolk County, N.Y. has inaugurated a successful land preservation program supported by already developed areas of the suburban Long Island county, he said.

A total of 325,000 acres of land in Connecticut should be preserved for farm use at an estimated cost of $1,500 an acre, Stroh said.

"The 325,000 acres is a minimum of what must be preserved in the state to achieve any viability in the state's prime agricultural land for food production," Stroh said.

Other Recommendations

• Paying farmers for development rights in installments to reduce the tax burden.

• Placing suitable farm lands now idle

House Committee Gives Approval For Tax Relief

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The chairman of the Senate Rules Committee said today the panel will recommend Friday that Nelson A. Rockefeller be confirmed as vice president.

Chairman Howard Cannon, D-Nev., told reporters after a brief meeting of the committee that the panel's vote on Friday "will be favorable."

But Cannon said a full Senate vote will come after Thanksgiving "to give members a chance to read our report." Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield said Tuesday he hoped the vote could come before the Thanksgiving recess.

"I think the Senate will vote to confirm Mr. Rockefeller, based on what we know now," he said. "There has been nothing new that has come up to effect our decision."

He said the committee vote recommending Rockefeller may not be unanimous because "a couple of members" may not want the nomination reported favorably.

The House begins hearings on the Rockefeller nomination Thursday.

back into production to increase the state's food supply and make it more agriculturally independent.

• Encouraging agribusiness operations to service the state's farmers in machinery, fertilizer and marketing. Stroh said his task force would present a package of proposed measures for the program to the 1975 session of the legislature.

U.S.-Japanese Leaders Pledge Closer Ties

TOKYO (UPI) — Amid predictions the ruling Japanese government might fall within the week, President Ford agreed today with Prime Minister Kakuei Tanaka on the need to halt the spread of nuclear weapons and pledged closer ties between the two countries.

Ford wound up his hectic second full day in Tokyo at a banquet for Emperor Hirohito with a toast to "the government of Japan and millions and millions of Japanese."

Borrowing the words of the first Japanese envoy to the United States, Ford told Hirohito the most important lesson he had learned in his "memorable" trip to Japan was "The time has come when no nation may remain isolated and refuse to take part in the affairs of the rest of the world."

Ford began his day with a second round of talks with Tanaka, then addressed a luncheon at the Japan Press Club, watched a demonstration of martial arts and attended three cocktail parties prior to the banquet. One party was for leaders of the American community in Japan.

Tanaka and Ford issued a joint communique agreeing on the need to prevent the spread of nuclear weapons — a clear effort to appease Japanese sensitivities over recent reports that U.S. warships bearing atomic weapons have stopped in Japanese ports.

The communique also appeared to signal Japan's willingness, after initial opposition, to accept a Ford administration proposal for all oil consuming nations to cut their petroleum imports by 10 per cent.

But the agreements were shadowed by predictions from within Tanaka's own ruling Liberal Democratic party that the prime minister might be forced to resign under fire very shortly after he bids Ford a final farewell Saturday.

Strikes, New Layoffs Hit Nation's Economy

By JAMES R. KING

United Press International

Bus drivers, coal miners, shipbuilders and delivery men were on strike today, and new layoffs were announced in the auto industry.

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield predicted another great depression unless the government forges a new era of cooperation, and for the first time without qualification, President Ford today said America faces recession.

Stock Market Dips

The stock market reacted to the economic developments by dipping an average 37 cents a share Tuesday. The Dow Jones index of 30 industrials plunged nearly 11 points, closing at just below 614.

The news was not all bad, however. An administration official said sugar prices would drop next year, the House Ways and Means Committee voted a tax break for families earning less than $15,000 and a tentative settlement was reached between striking delivery men and the United Parcel Service in the New York City area.

Chrysler Cuts

The worst economic news Tuesday came from Detroit, where Chrysler announced it is closing all but one of its six U.S. auto plants and laying off almost 44,000 more workers for five weeks — from before Thanksgiving until after New Year's Day.

The latest move brings to about 150,000 the number of auto workers laid off by Chrysler, Ford and General Motors — almost a fourth of the total industry labor force.

Ratification Delayed

Striking coal miners have put off a ratification vote on a tentative settlement, and there appears little chance work in the mines could resume before December.

About 16,000 Greyhound bus drivers went on strike Monday, shutting down the nation's biggest bus company, and more than 13,000 shipbuilders struck the Ingalls Shipyard in Pascagoula, Miss. Tuesday night, threatening costly delays in Navy construction projects worth $3 billion.

But in New York City the Teamsters Union and United Parcel Service reached tentative agreement late Tuesday to end an 84-day strike by about 4,000 deliver men.

President Notes Sag

President Ford referred to the sagging world economy in a speech to the Japan Press Club.

"Like others, we suffer from inflation. Like others, we face recession," he said. In Washington, Mansfield warned of another great depression and told the Senate Democratic Policy Committee, "Rhetoric without action is not enough. What I believe is needed to break this impasse is a new spirit of cooperation — cooperation between parties, between branches and between houses of Congress," he said.

Kent State: Truth Before Punishment

There seems little doubt that had the case of the eight Ohio National Guardsmen charged in the May 4, 1970 shootings at Kent State University...

Nor is there much doubt that the decision meets with the approval of most Americans. It had always seemed a gross injustice that these eight men, out of all those who contributed to the making of the tragedy...

Even so, having come that far, it is regrettable that the trial was not permitted to run its course.

Although legally correct in finding that the prosecution had not proved willful intent on the part of the guardsmen to deprive the students of their constitutional rights...

None of the guardsmen took the stand to testify. None of their officers was questioned, nor were any of the state and local officials responsible for sending the troops onto the campus...

Peter Davies, the New York businessman whose book, "The Truth About Kent State," did so much to force the reopening of the investigation...

A Better Way Needed

We must devise a better way of choosing a vice president when that office becomes vacant than we are now seeing in the long and painful process being undergone by former New York Gov. Nelson Rockefeller.

Of course the authors of the 25th amendment to the Constitution, and the legislatures which ratified it, could not have foreseen the events which led to the resignation of former Vice President Spiro Agnew...

The process is much too long for the good of the country and it leaves the nation without a vice president at times when the national welfare makes it imperative that there be one.

It seems now that Mr. Rockefeller's confirmation or rejection will probably drag on into the next year and the seating of a new Congress.

With no vice president confirmed, House Speaker Carl Albert would automatically succeed to the presidency. At 66, Mr. Albert does not want the position and is very nervous that it might fall upon his shoulders...

The mall is owned by the City of New London and the developer was the New London Development Agency. It was built at a cost of $1,540,000.

At this point, it doesn't appear feasible for downtown Manchester to look at a project the size and scope of Captain's Walk.

On the other hand, the mall at New London does vividly show what could possibly be done in Manchester over perhaps a period of years on a modest scale.

As an example, Center Park could certainly be used as a model for a project of this size and scope.

STAMPS AND COINS

By RUSS MACKENDRICK

The Minkus New 1975 American Stamp Catalog is off the press and under scrutiny. It does not pretend to be the equivalent of Scott's Specialized - only 388 pages as against 755 in the 1974 Scott's.

With air cleared to this extent, we can look at some points where Minkus is one up on Scott besides the lower price ($6.50 vs $12.50).

First of all, there is some convenience in considering the regular issues apart from the commemoratives. Also you can find prices for the common sheets right along with the other stuff.

They present a dissertation on lustrous issues covering 19 pages as against Scott's few lines. (However, remember we are comparing a 1975 Minkus with a 1974 Scott's which may catch up a bit with the new edition in January.)

And speaking of lustrousness, ("tagging") here is an in for the Manchester Philatelic Society, that has the equipment for picking this up - available for loan to members.

Over-all, they give more background stories and they note when a commemorative coin came out with a stamp issued in the Ryukyus during the US occupation, and there is a tabulation of the famous people on our stamps.

Another coin club just hatched. It is away down at the base of the Connecticut's panhandle in Willim. They plan to meet every third Wednesday evening with a program and an auction.

The Manchester Philatelic Society will meet Tuesday, Nov. 26, at Minkus' Community Center, 7:30 p.m. There will be a slide show - "The Story of the Penny Black."

The 26th National Show of the American Stamp Dealers' Association will be held at Madison Square Garden Nov. 22-24. There will be a mammoth bourse, lectures, and exhibits.

Al-Anon family groups will meet tonight at 8 at the Second Congregational Church parish house, 385 N. Main St.; Thursday at 8 p.m. at the Pathfinders Club, 102 Norman St.; and Friday at 10 a.m. at the South United Methodist Church campus, Alstein for the 12- to 20-year-old children of problem drinkers will meet Thursday at 8 p.m. at the Pathfinders Club.

First Church of Christ, Scientist, will have a testimony meeting tonight at 8 at the church, 447 N. Main St. During the meeting, students of Christian Science will be invited to tell how they have solved daily problems through its application. The meeting is open to the public.

More turkey meat is available, according to producers, and the heavier supplies of beef and pork are also putting pressure on retail turkey prices.

An office cohort wonders that if and when the Equal Rights Amendment becomes the law of the land, should there be a Mr. America pageant each year? He also ponders if women's lib will outlaw girl's bicycles.

Brownie Girl Scout Katie Dressel of Andover admires Tom Stula's skill at splitting firewood with the Knotty Wood Splitter, an early Christmas gift given to the Girl Scouts of the Connecticut Trails Council by Mr. Joseph Stula of Rt. 66 in Hebron.

Log Splitter Gift To Scouts

An early Christmas gift was given to the Girl Scouts of Connecticut Trails Council. It is a log splitter and the donor is Joseph Stula of the Knotty Wood Splitter Manufacturing Company on Rt. 66 in Hebron.

Winter camping is now as popular with Girl Scouts as camping in any other season and more than 9,000 girls will enjoy the results of the log splitter. Roy Bissonette, property manager of the eight resident and day camps owned by Connecticut Trails said, "The skill of learning how to live comfortably in the outdoors depends on knowing what kinds of fires are needed for warmth or for cooking — this takes a lot of wood." Bissonette estimates that over 20 cords of wood will be used by the winter campers throughout the season.

Stula's gift is in memory of Harry Strong, the former maintenance manager at Girl Scout Camp Nippen-Wauke in Hebron. The splitter has a gas-engine motor which is attached to a power takeoff on the tractor and which is a large screw which neatly splits any firewood length of wood.

Bike Path, Ecology Station Targets Of Criticism

Opponents charged that the Town Council has rushed into the $12,000 bike path project without a bike path master plan or a town bike path ordinance.

Nancy Coffey, Main St. said that "its not even mildly realistic" to spend $12,000 for a mile of pavement without an overall plan.

Mayor Robert Smith however defended the bike path decision, stating that the path is part of a designated townwide bike route which is in the planning stage. He said the immediate benefit of the path would be to the many children in the area.

Numerous residents questioned the responsibility of maintenance of the 8-foot wide path. This, according to Mayor Smith, would be decided upon before the actual construction of the path.

The bike path has been opposed by Councilman Howard Fitz who charged that it was going "from nowhere to nowhere." However Councilman Leo Manelli defended the path construction and said that he could go ahead with the project with a completely clear conscience that the entire Pierce Rd. project was being done properly.

Church Film

"Two A Penny," a motion picture filmed entirely on location in London, will be shown at the South Windsor High School Friday, at 8 p.m.

"Two A Penny" is a 85-minute film produced by World Wide Pictures, a part of the Billy Graham organization.

The picture stars Cliff Richard, one of Britain's top rock and roll stars of the sixties, as a self-centered opportunist. Ann Holloway co-stars as his girlfriend.

The Los Angeles Times has stated that "Two A Penny" can take its place alongside any movie reflecting the problems of today's youth. According to this newspaper, "Few are willing to take such a truly comic view and, what's more, actually offer a solution."

"Two A Penny" is being presented in South Windsor by the Avery Street Christian Reformed Church. There is no admission charge. Anyone wishing to make a donation of 50 cents.

Rec Signups

The South Windsor Recreation Department will hold a final sign up session Thursday for either the Stone-Age or Youth League at the South Windsor High School at 7 p.m. Team or individual registrations will be handled.

Team or individual registrations will be handled by Bill Baber. Team entry fee is $30. The gym will be open for informal play until 10 p.m. each evening.

Story Hour Theme Is Thanksgiving

Thanksgiving will be the theme of the story hour at the Tolland Library.

In addition to the story, a special art project will be conducted. Members of the Education Committee of the Tolland Junior Woman's Club are conducting story hours twice monthly, September through May.

All resident children between the ages of four and eight are invited.

Veteran's Projects

The public affairs committee of the Tolland Junior Woman's Club will conduct a bingo party at the Rocky Hill Veterans Hospital on Nov. 25. Club members are contributing prizes.

A trim-a-tree party is also being planned for the veterans for Dec. 16, and all members are invited. Also included in the program is a carol sing. Ornaments will be donated by the club membership.

Crocheting will be the theme of the club's monthly workshop, conducted by the arts committee, to be held Nov. 28 at 8:30 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Robert Smore. Club members wishing to attend should call Smore or Sharon Kofuska.

Airstrip Decision Put Off

TOLLAND

Vivian Kenneson Correspondent

The Planning and Zoning Commission Monday refunded a $25 fee and returned an application to use a private airstrip off Browns Bridge Rd. to Francis Dureiko.

The commission recommended Dureiko decide whether to refile his application to the PZC for a change of zone, or to redirect his application to the Zoning Board of Appeals for a variance, as recommended by town council Harold Garrity.

There is not presently any specific zone which would allow use of an airstrip. The property is located in a rural residential zone.

Only one of the applicant's neighbors, David Mulholland of Grahaver Rd., spoke against the application Monday. Mulholland feels a court injunction against the airstrip, issued several years ago, should stand indefinitely.

The injunction was based on Dureiko's use of the airstrip without application to the PZC. Garrity advised the PZC that it is not necessary to reopen the injunction case.

Mulholland expressed a fear that once the application or variance was granted, use of the strip would increase through rental to a flying school, bringing planes in and out all the time.

Member Robert Hopkins noted that airstrip would come under the state Aeronautics Board and that, except for special occasions, requiring advance permission for a limited time, no aircraft would be allowed to use the strip, other than the Dureiko private plane. The only commercial use would be a two-party contract already in existence, and Dureiko told the PZC that he has none.

Hopkins suggested Dureiko engage an attorney for advice on which direction to pursue.

Lake Association Heads Hear Data on Improvement Loans

COVENTRY

Monica Shea Correspondent

742-9495

Robert Schenly of the Connecticut Bank and Trust Company spoke last night to the Lake Rehab Study Committee at a meeting attended by several presidents and vice-presidents of lake associations.

Schenly explained to the group the Connecticut Housing Finance Authority and the low interest mortgages and home improvement loans available through the authority for the upgrading of the lake area.

Schenly said, "Our bag is housing, not sewers or urban renewal."

The authority offers loans at 7.5 and 8 percent versus the 12 percent home improvement loans offered through commercial banks. It also offers the option of paying off the loan for up to ten years versus the five years offered by commercial banks.

Schenly said, "In Coventry and especially around the lake area, if people want to upgrade their property, money is available to them. Those persons with a $14,000 to $16,000 income with a family of four are eligible for the loans."

The authority issues bonds to municipalities and then takes the money raised in this manner and allocates it to lenders across the state. The authority then reviews the lenders and borrows on a case by case basis. The bank close the loan and then the authority buys them from the banks.

The authority pays .5 percent of the Federal Housing Authority for insurance and homeowners property must meet the minimum standards established by the FHA.

If Coventry Lake area residents were going to make a concerted effort to use C.H.F.A. funding, local banks would have to write to C.H.F.A. and request an allocation of funds. The Lake Rehab Study Committee would then have to act as catalyst for the loan program. The committee could also help by designating a rehabilitation area and delineating properties into areas and setting them up as Phase One, Two, Three etc. for the use of the funds.

The maximum home improvement loan allowed is $10,000 with up to ten years for repayment.

Frank Connolly, town planner, explained to the group that the problems in the lake area are coming down to land that there is no magic solution to the problems. It would take a combination of use of the new State Health Code and a revision of the zoning regulations to control growth in the area if sewers were installed.

Connolly said that there are several large parcels and a lot of smaller ones that could be developed under existing zoning regulations if sewers were installed which could amount to about 200 buildable lots if the zoning regulations were not revised. For this reason the Planning and Zoning Commission has twice voted against supporting sewers. Connolly is further studying this problem and will have recommendations to make at some future date.

The committee will meet again Dec. 17 to discuss association roads.

Hale Soccer Champs

Coventry's Capt. Nathan Hale School earned its first state championship as it defeated Windor Locks 5-1, in the Connecticut Soccer League "C" Division Tournament final last Sunday at the University of Connecticut.

The league's "C" division is made up of 50 teams at the junior high school level, 16 of which qualified for tournament play.

Coached by Peter Sturrock, the Nathan Hale "A" team compiled a regular season record of 21-1. The team's only defeat, 30 to Vernon early in the season was later avenged, 4-1, in a return match.

Coventry's finale victory followed earlier wins over Mansfield "B" 4-1, Guilford, 2-1, and Colchester in a 1-0 squeaker with the lone tally coming in the last three minutes.

Co-chairpersons will be Doug Whipple and Carolyn Marshall; secretary, Lisa Halloran and treasurer, Paul Diehl Jr.

There was a discussion regarding the club's first major raising project, a dance at the high school Dec. 6. A membership drive will also be encouraged at the dance.

The rest of the meeting was devoted to guests from the Willimantic TARS group. Ideas of the TARS, such as social doings, involvement with the community and political figures and lending a hand to the needy were discussed.

Fine Print Ruins The Good News

MIDDLETOWN (UPI) — In times of rising utility costs, it must be nice to get an electricity bill that is only half the average charge, even if it's only for one month.

Residents of the Middletown area reported receiving lower-than-average bills from the Hartford Electric Light Co. A reading of the small print showed they were for power consumption over a 30-day period, not the normal 60 days.

A HELCO spokesman said the bills now are being mailed to customers monthly rather than bi-monthly as in the past. The spokesman said some customers still are receiving bills for two months worth of service at a time, but all will be receiving monthly notices by December.

Bond Advice Sought On School Budget Shift

VERNON
BARBARA RICHMOND

A proposal to reduce the equipment allotment in the contract for the Rockville High School addition, in order to bring the contract within the $5,020,000 approved by a referendum vote, will be discussed with bond counsel.

The Vernon Board of Education, which is eager to have the contract for the high school expansion program signed as soon as possible, presented the proposal to the Town Council Monday night.

William Houle of the board, told the council the bond funds the project is some $400,000 over the allotted amount of money. He said in a special meeting, before coming to the council, the board voted to reduce the equipment portion of the budget by $377,000 thus bringing the project within the referendum constraints and allowing the Permanent Building Committee to sign the contract with the Horn Construction Co.

Meanwhile, the major mechanicals will be rebid and the two boards are making changes in the specifications to bring the costs down. Houle said, hopefully, the cuts in these items will be repaid to the equipment line item.

He added, however, if this should not be the case then the board would put a line item for equipment in its coming budget.

He said the state Department of Education has said that should the line item have to be added to the budget, as long as it is designated as equipment for the new addition, the state will reimburse half the amount.

The proposal would leave a line item in the construction budget of $23,000 for equipment. He said the board is willing to take the risk in an effort to get the project going.

Town Attorney Abbot Schwebel expressed concern about the proposal and said he felt the board would have a serious problem getting bond counsel to approve the concept.

He also explained that there could be no guarantee that the proposed line item would be approved in the upcoming budget.

Mayor Frank McCoy said the $5,020,000 approved by the referendum was supposed to

Mayor Tells Solution To Traffic Problem

VERNON

A traffic problem which last month resulted in blurb straddled one-way street signs on Park St. in Rockville, and drew comments from concerned merchants and townspeople has been resolved, Mayor Frank McCoy said Tuesday.

Several months ago the state was asked to put a traffic light in at the intersection of Park and E. Main Sts. which also intersect with the entrance to the redevelopment shopping area.

The state said originally that the plan would call for making Park St. one way when the light was installed.

The town was not aware that the one-way signs would be installed before the light was put in. Mayor McCoy gives credit to Police Chief Herman Fritz, Public Works Director Andrew Tricarico, and members of the Traffic Authority and state Department of Transportation with a cooperative effort in finding a solution to the problem.

A plan has been outlined for traffic changes and the plan is dependent upon the state's installation of the new traffic signal.

Park St. would remain open to two-way traffic. Vehicles traveling south on Park, and wishing to reach E. Main St. would be required to turn right to Park Pl., left on Elm St. and either left on E. Main, straight on W. Main or right on Union St.

Traffic heading north on W. Main St. would be allowed entry to Elm St. at the existing traffic light or a right turn onto E. Main St. However, no left turn would be permitted from Union St. to Elm St. as is now the case.

Andover Keeps Secret, Honors Hutchinsons

Donna Holland
Correspondent

646-0373

Is it possible for over 200 people to keep a secret? Yes, at least in Andover. A volunteer committee planned and held a testimonial Sunday at the Old Town Hall to honor John and Doris Hutchinson.

The entire town and many out-of-towners were invited to a surprise "This Is Your Life" testimonial for John and Doris Hutchinson and surprised they were.

They entered the Old Town Hall expecting to find a tag sale and instead found nearly 200 testimonial Sunday at the Old Town Hall to honor John and Doris Hutchinson.

John and Doris, of Hutch and Maggie as their friends call them, met at the Times Farm Camp in Andover. They were married on March 26, 1930.

They have two daughters, Bertha Farrand of Manchester and Judy Stoller of Long Island. They have five grandchildren, Robert, John and Wendy Farrand and Kristin and Trisha Stoller.

Many friends and relatives who could not attend the testimonial sent letters expressing their appreciation for having known the Hutchinsons. One letter came from as far away as Wellington, New Zealand.

Many humorous anecdotes in the lives of Maggie and Hutch were recalled by Richards.

One ex-neighbour, Harry Daggart, now of Meriden, 86 years old, attended the testimonial and said, "The country is made by people who are neighborly like Doris and John and that's what we need more of today."

Both John and Doris are members of the Andover Grange. John received his 50-year pin in 1970. Doris joined in 1931. Both have held every office possible in the grange, many several times.

John and Doris are charter members of the Andover Elementary School Parent Teacher Association.

John is a charter member of the Andover Volunteer Fire Department and Doris a charter member of the Women's Auxiliary of the AYFD.

Doris is a charter member of the mother's club. She was honored in 1961 as the member who did the most for the club since its inception in 1931.

Doris helped organize the Young At Heart group in Andover.

Both were thanked for their work for the Tolland County Agricultural Center for the past 12 years.

John was employed by the state for 26 years. Doris was head cook at the Andover Elementary School for 12 years.

The Hutchinsons are faithful followers of the University of Connecticut basketball team. They received tee shirts, personalized with their name and "Univ. of Conn."

They also received money gifts with which everyone hopes they will take a trip.

The Hutchinsons felt bad because they weren't given an opportunity to thank everyone Sunday. Everyone felt it was a day for the Hutchinsons to be thanked for their many years of involvement.

So, they say, "Thanks Everyone."

Fire Marshal Okays School

ANDOVER

The Board of Education received a report from Joseph Comerford, fire marshal, saying Andover Elementary School is in good order and completely in compliance with fire safety regulations.

Comerford said he was concerned with the boiler room and requested a dry sprinkler system be installed. He said he would get men to install it.

The school board approved the purchase and installation of such a system for the boiler room. The only cost will be for the sprinkler heads.

State Aid Higher

The Board of Education learned state aid to Andover Elementary School will be $136,800 this year, which is $17,260 more than had been anticipated.

The State Department of Education ADM (average daily membership) per pupil aid grant increased from $215 per pupil to $250 per pupil.

Student Loan Default Reported on Increase

HARTFORD (UPI) — The number of students defaulting on loans granted through the Connecticut Student Loan Foundation is increasing and the amount owed now totals $4.2 million, an auditors' report showed today.

Auditors Henry Becker and Leo Donohue said the foundation has been using the services of private collection agencies and attorneys as well as its own personnel to try to collect the defaulted loans.

The number of defaulted loans increased from 490 in June 1971 to 959 a year later and to 1,942 in June 1973.

Banking Commission figures showed defaults, which closely follow the national average, were 6 per cent in March 1972, 6.3 per cent in June 1972 and 6.65 per cent in June 1973.

"Although the number of default loans has been increasing, our test-checks indicated that the Foundation was taking reasonable action in attempting to recover monies from legally liable debtors," the auditors said.

The foundation was established in 1965 to improve educational opportunities on the college level. Undergraduates may borrow up to $1,500 during an academic year with a total of no more than $7,500. Graduate student loans are limited to $2,500 a year.

Community Thanksgiving Service Planned Sunday at South Church

The fourth annual Community Thanksgiving Service will be Sunday at 7:30 p.m. at South United Methodist Church, Main St. and Hartford Rd. This is a family service for people of all faiths and is open to the public. Senior citizens or shut-ins needing transportation may contact Mrs. Ralph Frank, 649-0746. Featured at the Thanksgiving service will be the 70-voice Round Table Singers, which will be the 70-voice Round Table Singers, directed by Miss Martha White; and a combined bell choir from Emanuel Lutheran, Center Congregational and South United Methodist Churches, directed by Melvin Lumpkin, director of music at Emanuel. Also participating in the service will be the Rev. Ronald J. Fournier, president of Manchester Conference of Churches and co-pastor of Emmanuel; the Rev. Ronald E. Halderman, perpetual deacon at St. Mary's Episcopal Church; Capt. Arthur Carlson, officer-in-charge of the Manchester Salvation Army Corps; the Rev. Felix M. Davis, pastor of Second Congregational Church; the Rev. Wayne Kendall of South United Methodist Church and the Rev. Louis Cremonese of St. James Church. Mayor John Thompson will be the official representative of the town. Cantor Israel Tabasky of Temple Beth Shalom will sing the benediction in Hebrew, and the Round Table Singers will sing the same benediction in English as a choral response. James W. McKay, director of music at North United Methodist Church, will be the organist. Programs will be distributed by members of the Happy Crafters 4-H Club, who will be dressed in colonial costumes. This annual service is being sponsored by the Manchester Area Conference of Churches and the Rev. Ronald E. Halderman, perpetual deacon at St. Mary's Episcopal Church; Capt. Arthur Carlson, murder of six persons at a New Britain bakery. Public Defender Charles Gill filed the motion Tuesday on behalf of Gary B. Schragger, 31, who, along with Roland Piskorski, 27, both of New Britain, have been questioned in the Oct. 19 slayings at the Donna Lee Bakery. Schragger has been charged with threatening, third degree assault and larceny in connection with disputes with his estranged wife, and Piskorski is charged with robbing a Berlin liquor store days before the bake shop killings. No charges have been charged in the bake shop murders. Judge Max H. Reicher Tuesday also denied Gill's motion to have Schragger's bail reduced from $10,000 because it violated his constitutional rights in view of the charges against him. Gill said the high bail constituted "preventive detention" in connection with the bake shop murders. "As everyone in the state knows, Schragger is being questioned in the bakery case."

Rep. Stevens Elected GOP House Leader

HARTFORD (UPI) — Rep. Gerald F. Stevens, R-Milford, has been elected to lead the decimated Republican forces in the 1975 House, where Democrats will outnumber them 119-33.

Stevens was elected House minority leader Tuesday during a two hour caucus in the state Capitol. In a break with tradition, Rep. Alan H. Nevas, of Westport, was elected as deputy leader. Normally deputy leaders are appointed by the minority leader. Stevens argued to be allowed to make the appointment but was overruled by the majority.

Meanwhile, Democrats, who regained control of both chambers in the Nov. 5 elections, continued to haggle over their leadership positions. Rep. James Kennedy, D-Hartford, is reported to have the inside track for speaker of the House but he is expected to be challenged by Rep. William A. O'Neill of East Hampton. The House majority leadership probably will not be settled until a speaker is chosen.

In the Senate, Sen. Joseph Lieberman, D-New Haven, is being challenged by William Straus, D-Stamford, for the majority leadership. The Democrats have scheduled a House caucus on Monday and a Senate caucus on Tuesday.

Republicans already have named Sen. Lewis B. Rome, R-Bloomfield, as minority leader, in charge of six fellow GOP lawmakers in a chamber dominated by 29 Democrats.

Revenues Exceeding Expenses

HARTFORD (UPI) — State revenues are continuing to outpace expenditures despite a $14 million decline in anticipated tax receipts, according to State Finance Commissioner Adolf V. Carlson.

Carlson said Tuesday revenue expectations have been cut from $1.379 billion to $1.365 billion after first quarter figures were gathered on sales tax revenues.

The declining revenue estimates include a $7 million drop in the sales tax, a $10 million decline in the inheritance tax and a $2 million decline in the capital gains tax. Partially offsetting the declining revenue was a $5 million increase in federal welfare grants to the state, Carlson said.

To continue the state in "surplus condition" it has enjoyed for more than three years, Thomas J. Meskill has approved keeping $15.2 million in unspent funds from state agencies for the first quarter of fiscal 1975.

To deal with the expected decline in state revenues, the Department of Finance and Control has reassume control over filling vacancies in state jobs, Carlson said. Only medical care and correction officer categories are being refilled automatically, he said.

Two Get St. George Emblem

William H. Curtis Jr. of 102 Diane Dr. and William M. Rook of 125 Colman Rd. recently were awarded the St. George emblem, the highest Catholic award in boy scouting.

The presentation was made during the recent 38th annual Scouters Dinner sponsored by the Archdiocese Catholic Committee on Scouting at DePasquale's Restaurant, Newington.

The Bronze Pelican award, given for at least five years of service by scouters to Boy Scouts of all faiths, was presented to Arthur Galvin of 35 Auburn Rd., scoutmaster of Troop 157 at St. Bridget Church; Warren Santivany of 1023 Tolland Tpk., also Troop 157; Paul J. Maloney of 166 Wells St. and Edward McKernan, of 180 Wells St. both of Troop 47 at South United Methodist Church; and John Foran of 48 Benton St., St. James Church and the institutional representative of Troop 120. He also is a committee member of the Algonquin Catholic Committee on Scouting and is chairman of the Ad Altare Dei religious instruction classes. He is active in the retreat program and the Scout Sunday breakfast.

Rook, a parishioner of St. Bartholomew's Church, is a committee member for Troop 362 and the Algonquin Catholic Committee on Scouting. He is active in the district round table of Algonquin District and assists with the First-Aid-Area, Camp-meets, and swim meets. He is a member of the retreat camping committee and assists with the Boy Scout breakfast.

Israel Mourns Its Dead

United Press International Israel mourned its dead in the frontier town of Beit Shean today and declared a "war on terror" to rid the Middle East of Arab guerrillas.

In Damascus, the Popular Democratic Front for the Liberation of Palestine took responsibility for the Beit Shean raid and vowed to "strike at the enemy until the liberation of our land from Zionist occupation."

Police sent reinforcements to the town of 13,000 near the Jordanian border to prevent demonstrations at the funeral of two men and two women killed in Tuesday's Arab commando attack.

Israel troops stormed the apartment building and killed three guerrillas holed up for three hours. Police said the commandos carried rifles, grenades, propaganda leaflets and dynamite.

Twenty-three Israelis were injured, most of them when they jumped from windows in the 12-apartment, three-story building. They were taken to a hospital in nearby Afula.

Seething with anger, a half-dozen men rushed into the apartment when the shooting stopped and threw four bodies out the window to the ground, where hundreds of enraged residents set them on fire.

The angry Israelis mistakenly burned the body of Yehuda Bebas, who lived in the apartment taken over by the guerrillas and was killed in the fighting.

The crowd shouted "Here comes another one" as the bodies were flung out the window. As they burned, onlookers shouted "Death to the terrorists." Police doused the flames and dragged away the corpses.

In Jerusalem, Defense Minister Shimon Peres told parliament Israel would hunt down "the terrorists in all corners of this land until the last one of them is eliminated."

In addition, all the measures, all the manpower, materials and methods demanded to put an end to this new wave will be mobilized in their entirety and without hesitation for the war on terror," he said.

It was the first Arab attack since guerrillas killed three Israelis in a raid on the northern coastal town of Nahariya June 24.

Military spokesmen said the guerrillas entered Beit Shean from the east and may have crossed the frontier from Jordan.

The perm of tomorrow is here today.

If you're into the new, natural look in hair fashions you probably think perms are not for you. Not true!

Redken has created a system of perming without free ammonia (and its harsh results). Formulated for today's hair fashions, the Redken Trichoperm System has protein polypeptides and a low pH (close to your hair's natural pH). The combination of a low pH, no free ammonia and protein polypeptides results in a perm that comes out better, is much more natural looking.

If you want your hairstyle to last without the frizzy, me-too look of yesterday's perms, you want The Redken Trichoperm System. Available in a formula specifically suited to your type of hair. Make an appointment for the perm of tomorrow today!

ENERGY WORLD

By EDWARD A. FULTON
DALLAS (UPI) — Leonard Keller says he would like to put Detroit out of business, and he and a Japanese businessman have taken a first step in that direction.
Keller, scientist, inventor, businessman and president of the Keller Corp. in Dallas, invented the KROV expander, a component of a Rankine-cycle engine — in simple terms, a steam engine. And he has contracted with Sung Baik Kim of New York and Asia to put it on the world market through his manufacturing plants in Japan and Taiwan.
"We'll try to put Detroit out of business if we can," Keller said. "I feel that we are on the threshold. We offered the engine to Ford, Chrysler, General Motors, and they said they didn't want it. American Motors was the only one that was a little interested, but they haven't made a decision yet."
The reaction from most of them was the same. They say they won't build it unless public opinion demands a steam car or unless Japanese imports begin to present economic disaster.
Keller said he sold Asian rights to the steam engine to Sung Baik Kim for $1, primarily because the Asian was willing to spend whatever was necessary to produce prototype motors for cars, generators, golf carts, vacuum pumps, compressors, lawn mowers, whatever, an expenditure of an estimated $1 million in six months.
Keller said the first engine — to be a replacement item for Japanese taxi internal combustion engines — should be on the market by the first of next year.
Instead of the $1 million licensing fee Keller had imagined for his machine, his corporation will receive money through royalties on each engine sold.
Sung Baik Kim was given the right to license any manufacturer in Japan, South Korea, Taiwan, China and Southeast Asia to build the machines, but Keller Corporation retained the right to license Toyota and Nissan companies in Tokyo.
Under the contract, a separate corporation was established for the two for marketing of the engines in the United States.
A key point in the contract, Keller said, was that Sun Baik Kim must give the Keller Corporation one of each machine developed for a separate use, and Keller can then use that prototype to sell the system in the United States.
The applications of the machine are wide, and its superiority to an internal combustion engine is clear, at least to those close to its development.
"The first engine will be a total replacement unit for the Japanese taxi industry," Keller said. "When their current engine wears out, they can replace it with this engine and cut their operating costs in half. That's why we waived all license fees to get this machine on the world market."
Keller said a golf cart likely would be the next key development, for use in the United States as a personnel carrier for industry. Compressors, vacuum pumps and generators likely would follow.
"Consider this," Keller said. "The generator would have a low, low operating cost in generating all of the power for a home, an office, apartments a shopping center and industry. It runs on kerosene, diesel, all of those fuels."
"This opens the way for development of a total energy package that can replace public utilities. This machine could form the basis for a solar energy package, and I expect the early customers will be hotels, motels, factories."
The KROV — Keller Roto-Oscillating Vane machine — is the basis for the Rankine-cycle engine. At the beginning of the process, fuel is burned to generate heat, a fluid is turned into gas (steam if the fluid is water) and then the steam is forced through the KROV where it expands rapidly, pushing a turning wheel and producing power. The fluid is recycled through the engine, which is self-contained, requiring virtually no lubrication. It is uniformly smaller than the internal combustion engine.

Moorhouse-Young

Robin A. Young of East Hartford and William T. Moorhouse of Manchester exchanged wedding vows Oct. 4 at St. Mary's Episcopal Church, Manchester. The bride is the daughter of Robert Young of East Hartford and Elizabeth Young of Hartford. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William A. Moorhouse of 179 Henry St.

The Rev. Stephen White performed the double-ring ceremony. The altar was decorated with floral arrangements. Eidon Coykendall of Manchester was organist. The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a satin gown designed with long puffed sleeves with light cuffs. Empire waist, A-line skirt and chapel-length attached train, all appliqued with seed pearls. Her three-tiered elbow-length veil of silk illusion was attached to a seed pearl headpiece and she carried a cascade bouquet of white carnations, yellow, red and white sweetheart roses, baby's breath and ivy.

Miss Holly Young of Manchester, was her sister's maid of honor. She wore a Nile-green halter gown with matching hooded jacket. She carried a long-stemmed red rose accented by red ribbon.

Bridesmaids were Miss Susan Moorhouse of Manchester, the bridegroom's sister; Miss Pat Marshall of Manchester; and Miss Deborah Coscutich of East Hartford. They wore gowns similar to that worn by the honor attendant except in Kelly green. They each carried a long-stemmed yellow rose accented with yellow ribbons.

James McGovern of Manchester was best man. Ushers were Stephen

ON SECOND THOUGHT

By JAN WARREN

I Get The Pick Of The Litter

My husband and I are avid anti-litterbugs. The very sight of a beer bottle in a mountain stream or a candy wrapper in a Main St. dog strike pain to our hearts.

Because of this, we tried to instill good habits in our children when they were very young. "Don't be a litterbug" was as important a lesson as "Don't play with matches" or "Don't pull the cat's tail".

In an effort to make things easy, I used to say, "don't be a litterbug, give it to mommy." Everyone (including my husband) would obey by handing me the litter, be it a soda bottle, a popsicle stick, or a partially chewed teething biscuit. I would then find a trash barrel and explain that this was the place where their litter ultimately belonged.

Sometimes, there was no trash barrel to be found. In that case, if the litter was small enough, and not too sticky, I'd put it in my pocketbook. Otherwise, I'd just carry it around with me.

Now, obviously, this was intended to be a stop-gap measure. I expected that by the time the children reached school age they'd be able to take care of things by themselves. A mother's job is to teach her children to be independent. And besides, I was tired of carrying all that stuff

She Reaches 87th Birthday

Mrs. Olive Wilson of 113 Highland St. was honored at a birthday party Sunday by her family and friends at Vito's in Bolton. The occasion marked her 87th birthday, although the actual date falls on Wednesday.

Mrs. Wilson was born in Holyoke, Mass. She makes her home with her daughter, Mrs. Walter Cooley.

She has 6 children, 12 grandchildren, 24 great-grandchildren, and 2 great-great-grandchildren.

"Look!" I said to the kids that night at supper. "I am a mother—and that object (pointing to the kitchen waste basket) is a trash barrel. Please, don't ever confuse us again!"

The kids knew from my voice that I meant business, so they learned quickly. Since that night they've been finding their own trash barrels and on one occasion they really got into the spirit and joined a litter pick-up at Case Mountain.

I had no problem reprogramming the kids! It's easy to teach young dogs new tricks. But reprogramming my husband has been a different matter. In fact, I'm about ready to concede that it's too late.

Just the other day we stopped at a drive-in restaurant. After we'd finished eating my husband carefully consolidated his litter. He put his hamburger wrapper into his French fry bag and then neatly put them both in his empty milkshake container. When this was done he reached over to the steering wheel and handed the whole business to me.

"Here you are, Mom," he said. "Take care of this for me, will you?"

DR. LAMB

Cardiogram Isn't The Only Test

By Lawrence E. Lamb, M.D.

DEAR DR. LAMB — I recently had an electrocardiogram (EKG) taken in my doctor's office. The tracings indicated "definitely abnormal curve." No medication was prescribed, and I was not advised as to the condition. I am a woman 57 years old and would appreciate your opinion and what precautions should be taken.

DEAR READER — Electrocardiographic interpretations are not the same as with all the other tests, the physical examination and your history to help the doctor make a diagnosis.

Such a nonspecific interpretation doesn't mean much. It only means that your tracing is not like the majority of known healthy people, when the test is taken under standard conditions.

Minor changes can occur from anxiety, from having eaten something before the test, or even from how the electrodes are placed on the chest.

Since your doctor did not say anything about your heart, I would presume he thought the changes were minor and not of the type that were indicative of a disease or medical problem.

So, I don't think you need to worry about this and would not have any advice to you about precautions — other than not to get too excited about the technical jargon that doctors use and to put more reliance on what he tells you. Anyone who insists that such a test means important medical problems.

DEAR DR. LAMB — My condition has been diagnosed as hypertrophic gastritis. When you please explain this condition to me? They also found that I have thickening of the lining of the walls of the stomach.

I was told to quit smoking and drinking. I smoked about a half pack of cigarettes a day and drank about eight to 10 shots of brandy a week. I'm still smoking about a half pack of cigarettes a week and drink perhaps four or five shots of brandy a week, just when I go out.

I'm not on a diet and was told to eat what I could tolerate. I have very little appetite. However, I do try to eat a balanced diet. For the past month I have lost my sense of taste. My condition is not malignant. I'm middle-aged. Would you please advise me?

DEAR READER — Gladly. Follow your doctor's advice, often wonder how people think they can get well by not following the advice they are paid to get. Your doctor's advice is sound and I suspect he also told you to quit drinking coffee, colas and tea. You had better knock off the alcohol and cigarettes completely if you want to avoid problems. Hypertrophic gastritis refers to an increase in the size of the normal folds of the lining of the stomach. We all normally have folds that resemble the surface of coral.

Senate Bill Seeks Economic Curbs

WASHINGTON (UPI) - Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield today introduced legislation that would give President Ford authority to slap controls on every major segment of the economy.

Manfield said that the measure would give Ford discretionary authority to impose controls on wages, prices, rents, profits, dividends and interest and require that the administration submit a detailed plan to Congress within 60 days.

Manfield said with employment rising, "We need a total economic program to deal with this situation. Volunteering is not the answer."

THE HERALD ANGLE

By Earl Yost Sports Editor

Notes Off the Cuff - Well into the planning stage is the Connecticut Open Golf Tournament which will be staged at the Ellington Ridge Country Club Aug. 4-5.

Repeat Performance - When Alex Ferguson guided the Giants to a second straight Midwest Football League championship in Manchester this fall, it marked the second time he turned in the feat.

Changes in Staff - Bill Guthrie of New Haven has moved up as executive sports editor of the Hartford Times. He'll handle the same role with the New Haven Register and New Haven Journal Courier sports staffs, all three under the same owner.

One Day's Pay - The five officials working the Yale-Princeton Ivy League game each received $175, plus travel, which is excellent pay for one day's work.

Getting Good Readership - Good readership results have been indicated for the Coaches' Corner, a Tuesday feature in The Herald, which contains comments from football coaches John LaFontana of East Catholic and Larry Olsen of Manchester High concerning the previous week's games.

THE GAME Still Game-of-the-Week

BOSTON (UPI) - "THE GAME" has been relegated to "the game," but it still is the game of the week. Harvard, nurturing season-long plans to derail Yale for the Ivy title, lost to Brown last week.

Harvard could be hurt if tight end Peter Curtis is unable to play. The tight end, a fine alternate receiver to McNally, suffered a shoulder injury against Brown.

Burroughs MVP in American League

NEW YORK (UPI) - Jeff Burroughs of the Texas Rangers, a protégé of Ted Williams who started the 1974 season hoping to avoid the "sophomore jinx," was voted the American League's most valuable player today by a decisive margin over a trio of the world champion Oakland A's.

"It's the greatest honor a player can get," said Burroughs when notified of his election. "And it makes it even greater being only 23 years old and in my second year of major league ball."

"My only real goal when I started the 1974 season was to avoid what they call the sophomore jinx," Burroughs said. "I had no idea that I might be a candidate for the MVP. I knew I had a decent year in 1973. I just wanted to come back and have a good season."

Six Unsung Members of Eagles' Cast - One of the reasons why the East Catholic football team has won its last three games in a row to boost its record to 5-4-1 has been the work of the offensive line.

Yale and B.C. Ranked Even

BOSTON (UPI) - Boston College is on a tear and Yale still hasn't lost. So who is the No. 1 major college team in New England? Both teams, that's who.

Crusader Defenders Big, Bulky

WORCESTER, Mass. (UPI) - Holy Cross football coach Ed Doherty probably is counting on a defensive line that averages 235 pounds to get the University of Connecticut thinking about taking to the air this weekend.

Offensive Linemen Doing Job With Rejuvenated Catholic

By Len Auster - Terminus for these members of a football team is varied. At different schools they're affectionately given monikers such as "Grunts" or "Hogs." Many times they go unnoticed unless they make a mistake which dampers a thrust toward goal.

Members are (l-r) Jim McCann, Dave Carter, Bill Leahy, John Hackett, Kevin Kehoe, John Krasheski. In the backfield he's got Jim Provost, a senior All American who leads the nation in interceptions.

Holy Cross will be seeking a victory when it hosts the Huskies to put their 4-1 season on the winning column, while for UConn a win will mean a 5-5 season.

Washington Club of Future, Lacking Only in Experience

NEW YORK (UPI) — The Washington Bullets are a "dream team," in the mold of the old Boston Celtics and the New York Knicks of several years ago. But their time has not yet come.

In the first half against New York Tuesday night, the Bullets clearly convinced the Knicks and as they worked the ball around for good shots, played splendid defense and controlled the backboards to take a 55-43 lead.

In the second half, the Knicks made some adjustments and proved to everyone that the Bullets still have some lessons to learn as they carved out a nervous 86-85 victory.

"We've got the talent," said K. C. Jones, Washington's disappointed coach. "...But we have to learn to help each other out more and to keep our attack consistent. We let up tonight and they burned us."

With one second left in the game, after 10 lead changes in the last eight minutes and the Bullets leading, 85-84, Walt Frazier leaped over the outstretched arms of Elvin Hayes for his 18th rebound of the game and then tapped in the winning basket while still in mid-air. Fouled on the play, Frazier coolly missed the free throw on purpose to let time expire.

Frazier scored 17 points. He also had six assists. Earl Monroe led the Knicks with 22 points. Hayes finished with 24 points and 16 rebounds and Phil Chenier scored 18 points for the Bullets.

In other NBA games, Buffalo, playing without Ernie DiGregorio and Jim McMillian, beat Golden State, 111-106, Atlanta downed Seattle, 122-113, Kansas City-Omaha defeated Detroit, 97-87, Milwaukee whipped Phoenix, 122-108, Houston beat Cleveland, 94-85, and Portland stopped Chicago, 98-92, in overtime. In the only ABA game, Utah beat St. Louis, 99-93.

Braves 111, Warriors 106 Buffalo, powered by Bob McAdoo's season-high 43 points, stormed back from a 17-point halftime deficit to win against Golden State. Rick Barry, the NBA's leading scorer, topped the Warriors with 31.

Hawks 122, Sonics 113 John Drew scored 24 of his game-high 34 points in the second half to pace Atlanta. Aiding Drew was Dean Meminger with 26 points and Tom Van Arsdale with 21. Spencer Hayward had 33.

"I may have shot a 63 while practicing," Irwin said, "but it would have been an 83. I really wasn't counting."

Irwin had a good deal of praise for the Laguna course, which for the next four days will host 47 national teams vying for the 22nd World Cup.

"The layout of the Laguna course is magnificent, although the greens are perhaps a little slow," Irwin said. However, the respected U.S. pro reasoned that the condition of the greens was due to the recent rains which have fallen on the Caracas valley.

While Irwin and Trevino have been established as solid pre-tourney favorites, Ron Coffman of Golf World magazine, is betting on the South African team of Bobby Cole and Dale Hayes to take the Cup.

Coffman also said that the Japanese team of Jumbo Ozaki and Aoki will be strong contenders for the coveted international prize.

Other teams that figure to give the U.S. entry a run for its money included England, Ireland and the Republic of China.

England will be represented by Peter Townsend and Maurice Bembridge, while Ireland will have Christy O'Connor Jr. and Ryder Cupper Eddie Pollard. China is fielding Lu-Liang Huan and Kuo-Chie Hsing.

Also expected to do well is the Argentine team of Roberto DeVicenzo and Fidel Deluca.

DeVicenzo, who is playing in his 19th World Cup competition, won the individual title in 1962 and teamed up with Antonio Cerdà to capture the team trophy for Argentina in 1953.

Two-Year Pact

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — Tennis star Evonne Goolagong, who combined with Pittsburgh Triangles teammate Peggy Michel to win the Wimbledon women's doubles crown, has signed a new two-year contract with the World Tennis Club.

Triangles owner Frank Fuhrer, who announced the signing Tuesday, said Miss Goolagong's contract did not include the former escape clause and partial season terms of her old multiyear pact.

European Hoop League Drafts 166 Americans

NEW YORK (UPI) — The European Professional Basketball League, a concept many thought would dissolve in the planning stages, becomes official Tuesday with the drafting of 166 former U.S. professional and college stars to compete in an eight-team league beginning next Jan. 17.

Gene Moore, a 6-foot-9 center who played in both pro leagues and starred at St. Louis University, was the first player chosen in the draft while Shaler Hallimon, an ex-Utah State star who at one time was the No. 1 pick of the NBA's Philadelphia 76ers, was the second one picked. Moore was drafted by Barcelona and Hallimon went to Switzerland.

The league, which will consist of a 42-game regular season for each team and include a double-elimination championship tournament for all eight clubs, will be made up of entirely of U.S. players and include teams from Barcelona, Madrid, London, Belgium, Tel Aviv, Munich, Grenoble-Lyon (France) and Switzerland.

The league's chief administrator, Dick Davis, made it clear, however, that the EPL would in no way try and recruit players from either of the two established pro basketball leagues — the National Basketball Association or the American Basketball Association. None of the players drafted Tuesday were currently on the roster of any NBA or ABA team.

"We plan no salary war with the established U.S. professional leagues," said Davis. "We will not even draft a player who is now on an NBA or ABA roster. We will start with U.S. players and we believe we can offer European fans better basketball than they see now, make our league the top league in Europe, and then add the very best European players to our rosters in years to come."

Each team picked 30 players in Tuesday's draft. Among the former college stars selected were John Vallejo of UCLA, who will serve as player-coach of the Belgium club; Joe Ellis of San Francisco (by Belgium); Clyde Turner of Minnesota (by Munich); Luther Rackley of Xavier (by Lyon-Grenoble); Bill Chamberlain of North Carolina (by Lyon-Grenoble); and Wendell Hudson of Alabama (by London).

Lose Series

SHIZUOKA, Japan (UPI) — The Yomiuri Giants erupted for seven runs in the fifth inning Wednesday and beat the New York Mets 7-4 before 30,000 at Kusanagi Stadium to cap their 11-game series with six wins, three losses and two ties.

Yogi Berra's Mets, who arrived on Oct. 24, finished their 18-game goodwill series as guests of the Yomiuri Shinbun newspaper with a record of nine wins, seven losses and two ties. They are scheduled to depart by a chartered plane Sunday for New York.

Among the veterans in the Five Mile Road Race in Manchester Thanksgiving morning is Paul Phinney, former track and cross-country coach at Manchester High.

This year's race will be the 21st in succession for the former University of Illinois runner who once answered to the handle of Skinny Phinney.

Phinney, now semi-retired and living in Waco, Texas, on Cape Cod, has forwarded a check to Will Hadden for $21, earned for a 13-month period, Phinney was able to resume his college days at Illinois.

After 18 months of steady running, Phinney was able to win a spot with the Illinois varsity cross-country team and helped win the Big Ten title in 1947.

Phinney came to Manchester High in 1954 as track and cross-country coach, succeeding Pete Wigren, the most successful coach in Manchester history. It was a small job but as Wigren noted at the time, "He'll do a good job."

During World War II, an 88 shell fired by a German gun struck Phinney's left leg. The calf was shattered. Army physicians made a decision on Sept. 11, 1944 in a battlefield emergency hospital to amputate.

The leg would have to come off to save the young GI's life. Phinney pleaded with the surgeons and agreed to assume all responsibility if complications set in. The leg was patched up the best way possible and the rest is now history.

After six major operations and skin grafts in service hospitals in England and the United States over a 13-month period, Phinney was able to resume his college days at Illinois.

Blazers 98, Bulls 92 Sidney Wicks scored 25 points and Portland held Chicago scoreless for nearly five minutes in overtime to win. The Blazers played without center Bill Walton for the second straight game. Walton is recovering from a dislocated finger.

Stars 99, Spirits 93 Jim Ekins came off a second quarter surge that gave Utah the lead, then teamed with Ron Boone to keep the Stars in front. Boone led all scorers with 30 points, followed by 24 from Ekins. Freddie Lewis scored 21 for St. Louis.

Cold weather in Montreal didn't phase Junior Ah Oh, defensive end of the Alouettes, as he prepared for the Grey Cup championship football game against the Edmonton Eskimos. The Hawaiian lineman won't be allowed to carry his machetes into play Sunday but he vows to be ready.

Rucker reportedly was unhappy with coach Chuck Fairbanks' decision to keep him out the rest of the season but he declined to open up a feud on the team that's having enough trouble winning football battles.

"I don't want to put blame on others because I have to make my living at this game," he said. "But I'll tell you, this injury is probably more frustrating than anything I've gone through."

"I worked harder to get ready this year than I ever have in my life. And I had such a beautiful, beautiful team this year, more emotion, enthusiasm and team unity than I've ever seen. I hope they can salvage some respect for what's left. I hate to see it all go down the drain. We all worked too hard for this to happen."

So Rucker will sit out the rest of the season at home as will fellow receivers Darryl Stingley, Steve Schubert and Bob Windsor and running back Sam Cunningham.

All are out for the season with injuries and all feel like Rucker does. "All I can say for myself and the other injured guys is that we can look forward to next year. It sounds silly saying that in November but that's all we can do."

New England certainly could have used a healthy Rucker, the team's leading receiver last year, in the final games. But the fourth-year pro, by his own admission, just wasn't doing his job as well as he could have, because of the broken arm.

He was placed on the injured reserve list after last Sunday's loss to the New York Jets.

Rucker Goes Home, Pats' Hopes Fade

BOSTON (UPI) — Reggie Rucker has gone home to Maryland mumbling at the wrist cast that has treated him so badly the last six weeks.

Rucker probably will skip over to Baltimore's Memorial Stadium from his home in Silver Spring to watch his New England Patriots play the rising Colts Sunday but he won't be making my living at this game," he said. "But I'll tell you, this injury is probably more frustrating than anything I've gone through."

More Changes

DETROIT (UPI) — The Detroit Tigers are not through making changes as they attempt to avoid another last place finish in the American League East.

"We're going to make some more changes," General Manager Jim Campbell said Tuesday after discussing his acquisition of first baseman Nate Colbert from the San Diego Padres.

Whalers' Third Period Club

CHICAGO (UPI) — Ron Ryan of the New England Whalers says he coaches a third-period team. They looked like it Tuesday night.

The Whalers came from behind on two goals just a minute apart to hand the Chicago Cougars a 5-4 defeat in World Hockey Association action.

The last-period tallies by Fred O'Donnell and Tom Webster overshadowed the first hat trick by Chicago's Francois Rochon and further flustered the slumping Cougars.

"I'm sure we're in shape," Rochon said. "But we're just not getting the rebounds. We've got to look ahead and not let our two victories and 11 losses affect our attitude. I know the guys are trying hard to win and the victories will come if we just keep skating."

But Ryan wasn't confused by the Cougars' giving up the lead.

"We are a third-period club," Ryan said. "We've got three solid lines coming at you all night and we never let up."

"When you're going good, you pop it in and that's the ball game. Chicago just didn't keep the pressure on us in the last 20 minutes and we beat them."

Cougars player-coach Pat Stapleton seemed to agree with Ryan's assessment.

"We played pretty well for two periods and then we seemed to run out of gas," he said. "I know I'm supposed to know why but I confess I need a crystal ball on that."

Rochon got two of his goals in the first period and Gary MacGregor got a tally to give Chicago a 3-2 lead at the end of the period after Webster's goal by Mike Byers and Webster.

In the second period, Rochon and Larry Pleau traded goals and Webster extended O'Donnell's goal tally in the final period.

Ryan had praise for Webster. "He's a fine scorer and leads our team with 20 points, including 11 goals in the final period."

"His first goal for us tonight came on a power play."

World Cup Golf

Hale Irwin Modest After Great Round

CARACAS (UPI) — For a man who shot a sparkling seven-under-par 63 in a practice round, Hale Irwin sounded like a modest fellow on the eve of the opening of the 22nd World Cup golf championship.

The U.S. Open champion, who teams with PGA winner Lee Trevino to defend the United States' possession of the World Cup beginning on Thursday, walked off the 7,000-yard, par-70 Laguna Country Club course as if it were his home. But to hear Irwin tell it, you'd think he was golf's champion pessimist.

"I may have shot a 63 while practicing," Irwin said, "but it would have been an 83. I really wasn't counting."

Irwin had a good deal of praise for the Laguna course, which for the next four days will host 47 national teams vying for the 22nd World Cup.

"The layout of the Laguna course is magnificent, although the greens are perhaps a little slow," Irwin said. However, the respected U.S. pro reasoned that the condition of the greens was due to the recent rains which have fallen on the Caracas valley.

While Irwin and Trevino have been established as solid pre-tourney favorites, Ron Coffman of Golf World magazine, is betting on the South African team of Bobby Cole and Dale Hayes to take the Cup.

Coffman also said that the Japanese team of Jumbo Ozaki and Aoki will be strong contenders for the coveted international prize.

Other teams that figure to give the U.S. entry a run for its money included England, Ireland and the Republic of China.

England will be represented by Peter Townsend and Maurice Bembridge, while Ireland will have Christy O'Connor Jr. and Ryder Cupper Eddie Pollard. China is fielding Lu-Liang Huan and Kuo-Chie Hsing.

Also expected to do well is the Argentine team of Roberto DeVicenzo and Fidel Deluca.

DeVicenzo, who is playing in his 19th World Cup competition, won the individual title in 1962 and teamed up with Antonio Cerdà to capture the team trophy for Argentina in 1953.

Asking Price

Islanders Happy Back on Home Ice

COLUMBUS, Ohio (UPI) — There are literally dozens of advertisements in the classified sections of both local newspapers for tickets to the Ohio State-Michigan game here Saturday. But the asking price to end all asking prices was submitted by a graduate student from Venezuela.

Pablo Ko-Krompecher, 31, wants $10,000 for two tickets.

One ticket belongs to Ko-Krompecher and the other to a friend.

Ko-Krompecher says he has been deluged with calls but how many are from pranksters is another question.

"I had a call from one guy who said he was Nelson Rockefeller," said Ko-Krompecher. "The guy offered me $2,500 and I told him no way, $10,000 or nothing."

Other prices range from $100 a set to $3,000 and are advertised openly because there is no local law against scalping.

NEW YORK (UPI) — "It's very nice to go traveling," says the old song, but the New York Islanders, thank you, are just as glad to be home.

After a disastrous wireless five-game road trip that extended their losing skid to seven National Hockey League games, the Islanders returned home Tuesday night and found the partisan crowd a refreshing change.

With Ed Westfall scoring a pair of goals and assisting on a third, the Islanders beat the Pittsburgh Penguins, 4-3, giving Coach Al Arbour reason to be happy — although not yet convinced the work is over.

"We're not back to where we were," said Arbour, "but hopefully tonight was the start of the road back."

Westfall got the Islanders out in front with the game's first goal and later put them ahead, 2-1, with his second. After Bob Kelly tied it again for Pittsburgh at 8:19 of the second period, Clark Gillies put New York ahead to stay less than a minute later.

In the only other NHL games, Washington downed California, 6-4, and Vancouver beat St. Louis, 6-3. In the World Hockey Association, Houston bombed Indianapolis, 10-0, Toronto edged Cleveland, 6-5, New England beat Chicago, 5-4, and San Diego topped Vancouver, 3-2.

Cape 6, Seals 4

Like the Islanders, Washington too broke a lengthy wireless streak — 14 for the Caps. Mike Marson scored a pair of third-period goals for the Caps, who also extended California's two-year wireless streak on the road to 18 games.

Cannucks 6, Blues 3

Andre Boudrias scored his 400th NHL point as he assisted on one goal and hit the tying goal to lead Vancouver over St. Louis. Gerry McEahan hit what proved to be the winning goal early in the final period. The victory shaved the Canucks nine points ahead of Chicago in the NHL's Division 2.

Aeros 10, Racers 8

Mark Howe scored a three-goal hat trick to highlight the Aeros' runaway over the expansion Racers. Mark's brother Marty also was part of the Houston scoring as Larry Lund, who picked up his 15th in the Winnipeg's Bobby Hull for the WHA lead in that department.

Toros 6, Crusaders 5

Past Hickey scored a pair of goals and Frank Mahovlich assisted on both of them and scored one himself to pace the Toros' win. Hickey's second goal which proved to be the game-clincher, came on a power play six minutes into the third period.

Mariners 3, Blazers 2

Gene Peacock fired in two goals and Andre Lacroix turned in a pair of assists to provide San Diego with its victory over Vancouver.

Cage Practice

Final tryouts for Manchester's entry in the State Junior Basketball League will be Saturday afternoon at 5 o'clock at the Y. Boys in the seventh and eighth grades only are eligible. First game will be Dec. 5 at the Y, site of all home contests. Eight games will make up the circuit.

Mariners 3, Blazers 2

Gene Peacock fired in two goals and Andre Lacroix turned in a pair of assists to provide San Diego with its victory over Vancouver.

Bristol Stripped of N.E. Crown Due to Use of Ineligible Player

HARTFORD (UPI) — American Legion officials say their New England baseball championship will go unfulfilled this year because the team that won it used a player who had signed a professional contract.

Earl Petersen, director of American Legion baseball in Connecticut, said John Clark, who played for a Bristol legion team, apparently kept secret the fact that he had signed a contract with the Baltimore Orioles.

The Orioles paid for his expenses during a 1973 tryout, which he did not make.

The decision, disclosed Tuesday, rejected a bid to claim the title by a team from East Springfield, Mass., that had been beaten by Clark's team in the regional playoffs, four games to two.

Petersen said the "reluctant" decision to vacate the championship was the first such action taken in the 25 years he has been associated with the program.

The action to strip Bristol of its title came at an Oct. 29 meeting of representatives from the legion's seven districts in the state, based on a recommendation from national headquarters. The legionists had hoped to get, he returned to Connecticut to inquire further. "But there was no letter," Petersen said.

Conlan Released

PHOENIX, Ariz. (UPI) — Jocko Conlan, a retired Hall of Fame baseball umpire, is recovering at home from open heart surgery.

Conlan, who will be 78 on Dec. 10, was released from St. Joseph's Hospital Tuesday. He underwent corrective heart surgery Nov. 8.

Conlan said he felt "great" but wondered "when the doc will give me permission to swing a golf club." He retired five years ago as an umpire in 1964.

Football Game Ticket Sale

Advanced sale of tickets for the Manchester High-Widman football game will be on sale Tuesday in Manchester High from 7:30 to 8 p.m. and from 2:15 to 3:15 the same day. Also, Wednesday from noon to 1 o'clock.

Tickets are priced at $2 for adults and $1 for children.

Pro Grid War Heating Up Again

HEMPSTEAD, N.Y. (UPI) — The cold war between Ed Garvey and the National Football League is heating up again.

Garvey, the executive director of the NFL Players Association, said Tuesday he had been informed by the league that it intended to cut each roster by 11 players next season, from 47 to 36. But a spokesman for the NFL Management Council, which represents the league in negotiations, accused Garvey of misrepresentation.

Garvey met with the New York Jets for nearly 90 minutes after practice Tuesday and defensive back Steve Tannen, the club's player representative, said later that Garvey had informed the club the rosters would be cut to 36 players next year.

"I got a letter from John Thompson (head of the Management Council) dated Oct. 22 advising me that the squad limit would return to 36," said Garvey in a nearly deserted dressing room. "All player reps have been told and it will appear in our newsletter this week. The fundamental problem is not having an agreement with the owners is that you don't know exactly what they can or cannot do."

The players struck for more than 40 days this summer but returned to work and have been playing the season without a contract.

But the Management Council explained things differently.

"The constitution and by-laws of the NFL have provided ever since 1964 for a 36-man player limit," said Terry Bledsoe, director of information for the Council. "The letter Garvey refers to is one in which John Thompson reminded him that the increase in roster adapted for the 1974 season arose from a special situation brought about by the NFL players strike and is not to be considered a change in the basic active player limit per club of 36 or less."

Bledsoe said Thompson merely was advising Garvey that the current 47-man roster should not be considered a precedent.

"In 1970 the owners agreed to keep the squad at 40 players but said they had a substantial goal that wanted less," Garvey added. "Cleveland owner Art Modell argued vigorously against the union telling him how many players he could or could not keep."

Modell, when informed in Cleveland of the announcement of the roster reduction, said, "This is typical of Ed Garvey. He has everything right but the facts."

It looks like things are getting hot again for the off-season.

Russia's Little Olga Captures Audiences

BOSTON (UPI) — Tiny Olga Korbut is a phenomenon in the American sports world, even though she is regarded as just another champion in her native Soviet Union.

The 88-pound, 16-year-old pizle who captivated world-wide audiences via television from the 1972 Munich Olympics has done for gymnastics in this country what Arnold Palmer did for golf.

No American gymnast has outperformed local fan clubs in the United States. Olga does. No American gymnast is a household name in the United States like Olga is. For the past 20 years, no American athletic group has been able to promote gymnastics with much success. Olga has.

The USSR National gymnastics team is currently on a 10-city tour of the U.S., and team publicists have been prodding reporters and photographers not to overplay Olga in their coverage. But, by all appearances, the whole show is Olga's.

Advertising posters at the Boston Garden scream "Olga Korbut, Nov. 17, 18." The official program for the masterful demonstration by the five women and six men Russian gymnast plus the championship Soviet rhythmic and acrobatic performers conspicuously features Olga in a double fold-out poster.

And the fans are there for Olga, offering starting ovations, wearing Olga sweatshirts and buttons and crowding her — and only her — for autographs before and after each performance.

Olga is an aggressive, positive gymnast rather than cautious or mechanical, which makes her a delight to watch," said U.S. Women's national coach Muriel Grossfeld. "She has done things that are not particularly liked by the rest of the gymnast world, and people within the sporting world don't think like a rebel," said Ms. Grossfeld. Indeed, shortly after Olga captured the imaginations of sports fans in Munich with her gutsy uneven parallel bar and balance performances, the International Olympic Committee considered banning several of her innovative moves from future competitions. Olga injured her back the next winter, the result was eventually dropped, and many of those very moves are now showing up in other gymnasts' routines. Russian team members and knowledgeable gymnasts are quick to note that Olga is not necessarily the world's best gymnast. Teammate Ludmila Turischeva is the defending world champion and there are several even younger Russians and eastern European girls who have been consistently outperforming Olga in big meets. But it is Olga's presence that is packing in the Americans on the current tour and increasing the popularity of the sport.

Geoffrey Mason, ABC-TV director of planning for the coverage of the 1976 Olympic Games at Montreal says increasing popularity is helping to set the network's plans for air time. "Cathy Rigby (former U.S. gymnastics star now doing orange juice commercials) was the reason we slotted coverage of women's gymnastics at Mexico and Munich," said Maso. "Then Olga Korbut was the focus of all attention at Munich," he said. "The all-around beauty of gymnastics has indelibly etched the sport in the minds of many millions of TV viewers in the USA. We plan even more extensive gymnastics coverage in '76."

GOOD CORRECTIONS The KEY To Reduced Crime

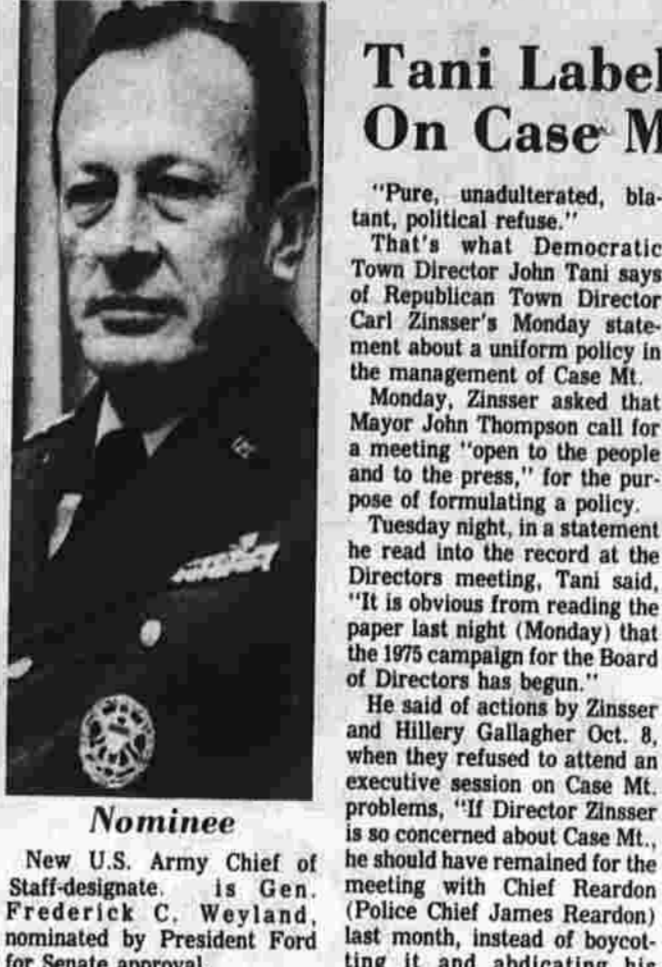

People in Corrections (PART IX) People come into Connecticut's correctional system from communities all over the state. Eventually they return to communities. What happens to them when they re-enter the community often makes the difference between their remaining there or returning to the correctional system.

Recidivism, then, is not just a matter of concern to the Department of Correction - it's also a matter of responsibility on the part of citizens. Job, housing, finances, family assistance - these are but a few of the problems the offender must cope with if he finds doors closed or fails to gain support during the reintegration process, both he and society share that failure.

Recognizing this, the Department of Correction has established a program of community-based assistance for its P/PRP program (Private/Public Resources Expansion Project). Operating with federal funds, community social service agencies and other private groups work with the Department on a contractual basis to provide services for those coming out of correctional facilities.

Since 1972 when P/PRP came into being, more than 31 statewide agencies have participated in the program. From Junior League to Four Peoples Federation, the organizations are as diversified as the services they offer to ex-offenders. P/PRP made possible the Connecticut Council of Churches, Institutional Assistance Program (CIAP) which involves Connecticut Jaycees in community corrections. Headquartered in East Hartford and administered by a full time director, CIAP offers a broad spectrum of services ranging from job-finding and bonding to citizen sponsorship for ex-offenders.

Similarly joining forces with the Department of Correction are the Poor Peoples Federation of Hartford; the Greater Hartford Council of Churches; Community Resources for Justice, Inc. of Hartford; TEAM, Inc. of Derby; New Opportunities for Waterbury, Inc. (NOW); New Haven Halfway House; Council of Churches of Greater Bridgeport; the Southeastern Council of Churches of Alcoholism and Drug Dependency; Catholic Family Services in Torrington and Hartford; Community Return of Stamford; United Way of Eastern Fairfield County; P.R.I.S.O.N., Ltd. in New Haven; the Quinlan Valley Health and Welfare Center; Putnam; and the Hill Neighborhood Corp. of New Haven.

Nominee New U.S. Army Chief of Staff-designate, is Gen. Frederick C. Weyland, nominated by President Ford for Senate approval.

Tani Labels Zinsser Statement On Case Mt. 'Political Refuse'

"Pure, unadulterated, blatant political refuse. That's what Democratic Town Director John Tani says of Republican Town Director Carl Zinsser's Monday statement about a uniform policy in the management of Case Mt.

Monday, Zinsser asked that Mayor John Thompson call for a meeting "open" to the people and to the press, "for the purpose of formulating a policy."

Tani said he doesn't support Zinsser's proposal for involving numerous people and agencies in a policy for Case Mt.

He concluded, "I also find it inconsistent that Mr. Zinsser has become the Don Quixote of open meetings, when less than four years ago, as a member of the then-Republican majority, he was part of secret budget meetings that excluded the

Student Teaching Explained

COLUMBIA
Virginia Carlson
Correspondent
225-9224

Student teaching provides an opportunity to work with children under supervision in an actual classroom situation. Dr. Sophie Jenkins, director of student teaching at Eastern Connecticut State College, told that to the school board recently.

First-hand experiences in student teaching provide the best guarantee for success as a full-time teacher, she said.

Dr. Jenkins said before coming into student teaching the student has had many different experiences. She added that student teachers should attend at least one school board meeting because they should know how a school board operates and what it means to be a board member.

She explained the student spends one full semester student teaching.

The first eight weeks of the semester are spent half in the classroom and half taking methods courses in reading and math. The second eight weeks the student takes science, social studies and language arts.

There are 18 student teachers at Porter School, thirteen are in the elementary classes, four early childhood and one in the intermediate grades.

Special Education
The school board has directed Supt. Clarence Edmondson to investigate further the possibility of teaching all special education students here.

The board and administration have been discussing for several months placement of special education students. There are five secondary educable mentally retarded students over age six, according to Edmondson. Three are enrolled at Rham and two are yet to be placed.

Edmondson asked the board if it should work on a curriculum.

"A program of this type would be heavily based on pre-vocational and vocational training," he said. "We would have to hire a teacher for this and equipment would have to be purchased," he added.

Edmondson explained the teacher would make contacts in the community or surrounding communities to find places that would accept educable mentally retarded children.

The employer would have to be trained to work more effectively with the student.

The program could be financially advantageous, according to Edmondson, who pointed to a substantial amount of tuition now being paid to Rham — about $5,000, he said.

There are two other trainable students being taught in Hebron for another $2,800 per student, he added.

Edmondson feels a vocational program here would cost a minimum of $15,000 which would be two-thirds reimbursable by the state.

Custodian Resigns

ANDOVER

The Board of Education has accepted the resignation of Robert DeMastro as custodian. He was hired last month.

The school board appointed Frank Williams as custodian for a probationary period of 30 days at a salary of $2.50 per hour. At the end of the probation period, if Williams remains, his salary will increase to $3 per hour.

Committee Formed
The staff at Andover Elementary School has organized into six committees which are: reviewing report cards, sunshine, library, curriculum, in-service and administrator's advisory.

In fairness to all of our customers, we reserve the right to limit sales to three packages of any item except where otherwise noted. Items offered for sale not available in case lots, or to other retail dealers or wholesalers. Most items specially sale priced, some at our everyday low prices.

No Repricing at Stop & Shop on merchandise already marked on our shelves!

One of your greatest concerns has been repricing of items already on the shelf. So when there's an increase, we won't increase the price on present shelf stock. We'll put new merchandise at the rear of the shelf and post a new unit price tag showing the new, higher price. (Unit price tags with both the old and new prices are being prepared.) Other than specials, the only evidence of price re-marking will be on items repriced prior to now. It may be several weeks before we find an item with more than one price, we'll charge the lowest price. This policy is just part of our commitment to giving you your Stop & Shopsworth!

Vocation Aptitude Tests Set

BOLTON
Donna Holland

Sophomores and juniors at Bolton High School will be given the Armed Services Vocational Aptitude battery of tests Friday at the high school. Freshmen and senior students who desire to may take the tests.

ASVAB is a group of tests that can show vocational aptitude. The test will give a readout on vocational aptitude which can easily be correlated against other students in the area and across the nation.

The test results will not mean a student will like or do well in a particular job. They will mean the student has talent for a particular job.

During the 1973-1974 school year the battery was administered on a volunteer basis to six students.

Douglas Ramsdell, cooperative work experience program director, said there are two major reasons for administering the test.

First of all the test will not cost taxpayers any money, and secondly, it is an extremely definitive test that can easily be correlated against other students in the area and across the nation.

Ramsdell said other similar tests cost between $500 and $1,000. Ramsdell emphatically wishes parents to know there is absolutely no obligation to the military services for any students taking the tests.

The tests are offered by the military services because it has many jobs similar to civilian occupations.

The testing takes approximately 3 1/2 hours. It will be administered Friday beginning at 8 a.m.

There are nine parts to the battery: Coding speed which is a test of clerical speed and accuracy; word knowledge; arithmetic reasoning; tool knowledge; space perception; mechanical comprehension; shop information which is a test about shop practices and the use of tools; automatic information; and electronics information.

In all tests included in the battery, speed is not important.

Honor Standards
The existing honor roll standards for students in Grades 7 and 8 were reviewed by an honor roll advisory committee made up of parents, students and teachers.

The alternatives and options discussed by the committee included a quality point system, weighing minor subjects with more or less emphasis and whether or not to eliminate physical education, music, art, industrial arts and French for consideration.

The following standards were recommended by the committee and were accepted by the school administration.

To be placed on the A honor roll a student must have A's in all major subjects and no more than one B in a minor subject and no less than B's for effort and citizenship in all subjects.

To be placed on the B honor roll a student must have B's in all major subjects and no more than one C in a minor subject and no less than B's for effort and citizenship in all subjects.

Major subjects are language arts, math, science and social studies. Minor subjects are French, physical education, art, industrial arts and music.

The committee is presently attempting to define specific citizenship standards that are meaningful.

Attends Dinner
Dr. Joseph Castagna, former superintendent of Bolton schools, attended the 11th annual dinner for capitol region school administrators.

Dr. Mard Shedd, commissioner of education, State of Connecticut, spoke on "New Directions in In-Service Education."

Dr. Castagna responded to remarks made by Dr. Irving Starr, University of Hartford dean of education.

Dr. Castagna is presently president of Hartford area school officials. He is assistant superintendent of schools in Southington.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

Selfish Barber

When Harry bought out Joe's barber shop, he insisted that Joe make him a special promise: to stay out of the barbering trade for the next four years.

At first, Joe managed to keep busy with other work. But finally, loneliness for the old way of life, he opened a barber shop in another part of town.

Harry lost no time in suing him for violating their agreement. But at the hearing, Joe was able to prove that none of his old customers were coming to the new shop — and that they were not likely to come in the future either.

Finding that Harry was being unreasonably selfish, the court ruled that Joe could continue to snip and clip in his new location. Agreements not-to-compete are common when one person sells his business to another. Generally speaking, they are considered a lawful means of protecting the buyer from having his customers lured away by the seller.

But, as Harry discovered, courts are reluctant to enforce an agreement that reaches beyond the buyer's legitimate needs. Obviously, it is a matter of degree. In another case a baker promised, in selling out, not to open another bakery within a five-block radius during the next three years.

At this time, when the baker tried to go back into business close by, a court held him to his promise. The court said this moderate amount of protection was no more than the new owner of the bakery really needed to safeguard his investment.

Roughly the same rules apply to the sale of a professional practice. A small-town doctor sold his practice to a younger man, promising not to open another office in the same community. When he later tried to do just that, the local court blocked him with an injunction.

As another court noted, a doctor could justify a good price in selling his practice only by "guaranteeing the genuineness of his retirement."

A public service feature of the American Bar Association and the Connecticut Bar Association. Written by Will Bernard.

Social Security

Q. I am enrolled in both parts of Medicare and I need new dentures. Will Medicare pay for them?

A. No. Medicare does not cover such items as dentures, hearing aids or eye glasses.

Q. My mother, who was 88 years old, died last month. Since I paid some of her doctor bills, could I receive any payment from Medicare for these bills?

A. You could receive partial reimbursement. You should ask the doctor for a receipt showing you paid the bills in full and the date, place, charges for, and descriptions of each service.

Q. I recently had an operation and needed two pints of blood. I thought Medicare took care of all my bills after the first 94, but the hospital told me I have to pay for blood. Is this right?

A. Yes, the cost of the first three pints of blood received in each benefit period in a hospital is not covered by Medicare. Most blood programs, however, have provisions where they do not charge for blood if replaced by someone in the name of the recipient.

Q. I am 66 and enrolled in Medicare. After spending a week in a hospital, I was told that I must transfer to a nursing home for the skilled nursing care I need, and Medicare would still help pay the bills. How much of my bills will Medicare pay?

A. If you are found eligible for Medicare benefits while you are in a specially qualified kind of skilled nursing home that is called an extended care facility, the program will pay for all covered services for the first 20 days. For the next 80 days, Medicare will pay for all the covered services except $10.50 a day.

Q. When I became 66 recently, I signed up for Medicare hospital and medical insurance. Can I use this coverage for all doctors and hospitals?

A. You can of course go to any physician of your choice. Most hospitals participate in Medicare, but not all. Any Social Security office can tell you whether a hospital participates in Medicare.

Vernon Plans Direct Purchase Of Water Firm

BARBARA RICHMOND
A plan for the town of Vernon to establish a water district to buy the Vernon Water Company has been dropped in favor of the town purchasing the company outright through revenue bonds.

The council agreed to purchase the privately-owned facility a few weeks ago and asked Town Attorney Abbot Schwebel to draw up an ordinance. Monday night the council gave approval to present it to a public hearing on Dec. 2 at 7:30 p.m. in the Administration Building.

The purchase price is $175,000 and the cost will be borne solely by the users. Because the money will not be paid through taxation, it is not necessary to go to a referendum or a special town meeting.

However, two public hearings are necessary. The first to discuss the ordinance and the second to establish rates for the some 900 customers of the company.

Atty. Schwebel noted that the way in which the ordinance is drawn up eliminates any possibility of paying for the company from general taxes.

Prior to making its decision to purchase the company, which belongs to the estate of the late Barney Moses, Mayor Frank McCoy appointed a study committee to research all of the aspects of the purchase. The committee was headed by Morgan Campbell.

The committee, in its report, recommended that the town purchase and operate the company. It noted that the wells, pumps, tanks and pipes are 15 years old and appear to be in good condition and that the sale

Bolton Waits Dump Data

Donna Holland

Bolton selectmen have not yet heard from Andover about the dump situation. The selectmen said it was interesting to note that Andover residents at a recent town meeting considered forming a dump study committee. They said Bolton has been asking for such a committee for years.

They also noted the suggestion of stickers for cars using the dump. Bolton has had such stickers for years as a direct result of a meeting between Richard Morra, Bolton first selectman, and Percy Cook, Andover selectman.

The Bolton selectmen sent a letter to the Andover selectmen asking for a formal accounting of money not accounted for in the Andover town report.

Bolton requested an auditor go through the statements of expenditures for the dump. Bolton asked that an auditor, either Bolton's or Andover's, make a cost estimate for a complete audit of the dump and Club will meet Thursday at 8 p.m. at St. George's Episcopal Church.

Club members will hear Mrs. Andrew Pinto speak on "Foods and Flowers of Christmas." The November meeting of the club is Neighbor's Night, and area clubs have been invited. Club members may also invite a guest.

Club members are reminded to bring a canned food item that will be distributed locally for a family's Thanksgiving dinner. Members are reminded to bring two items that can be sold at the annual children's Christmas store on Dec. 15 and one handmade item that can sell for $3 or under at the Christmas County Store which will be held in conjunction with the children's store.

Fifth 'Holiday at Homestead' Set Dec. 8

The fifth annual "Holiday at the Homestead" will be at the Cheney Homestead at 108 Hartford Rd. on Sunday, Dec. 8 from noon until 4 p.m.

This year in addition to the traditional craft exhibits, Christmas decorations and refreshments there will be a special showing of the works of artist Seth Cheney, one of the eight original Cheney brothers.

The Homestead was built around 1780 by Timothy Cheney, farmer, miller and clock maker and grandfather of the Cheney brothers of silk fame. Over the years additional rooms have been added so today the rambling farm house comprises 14 rooms, three of which are occupied by the residents, Mr. and Mrs. Royal Isham.

Nine rooms are open for tours two days weekly, the buttery is in process of restoration, and a summer kitchen is now used as a boiler room and entrance to the attached woodshed. The woodshed has been converted to a library and meeting room for Manchester Historical Society committee.

One of the third floor rooms has been decorated as a studio and here will be seen numerous unframed sketches by Seth Cheney and a marble bust of the artist which was sculptured in Florence, Italy by Gould in 1876. Framed portraits by Seth Cheney are used throughout the rooms of the homestead and for this special festival photographic reproductions of many of his other works will be displayed in the library-meeting room.

Preparations for the holiday are being made by committees headed by following chairman under the direction of Mrs. Stuart Segar, co-chairman of the Cheney Homestead committee.

Miss Ellen Buckley, decorations; Miss Hazel Lutz and Miss Catherine Shea, Seth Cheney exhibit; Mrs. Frank Knight, hostess; Mrs. Thomas Rollason, cookies; Mrs. Wells Demmon, mulled cider; Mr. Thomas Rollason, Christmas tree and Mrs. Earl Bissell and Miss Buckley, tree trimming; Mrs. Pierre Marteney, crafts; Frank Knight, security.

For this special event admission will be $1 for adults with members of the Manchester Historical Society and Cheney families admitted free. Youths 16 years or under will also be admitted free when with parents.

Energy Program Launched

BOSTON (UPI) - Some 5,000 businesses in New England are being asked to participate in a national energy conservation program.

The national program was unveiled by the Federal Energy Administration in Washington earlier this week. It is aimed at reducing energy use by 25 percent at an estimated annual saving of $1 billion.

Robert Philpott, FEA energy conservation and resource development director for New England, said "conserving energy in business and industry is particularly important in helping to alleviate several regional problems."

In addition to conserving energy, this effort would also assist slowing down the increasing demand for electricity generating capacity and meeting peak demand during the winter during air conditioning seasons," he added.

The energy conservation program calls for reducing lighting levels in hallways and work areas, setting heating thermostats at 68 degrees and placing air conditioning thermostats at 78 degrees.

A test of the conservation procedures recommended by FEA at the John F. Kennedy Building in Boston during the past year resulted in an energy use reduction of 24 percent, in dollars and cents, the savings amounted to $113,000, Philpott said.

Philpott said his office will telephone 5,000 target firms in the region that employ more than 100 persons.

Sidewalk Controversy Flares Up Again

VERNON

The West Road sidewalk installation, a subject of controversy between the Democrats and the Republicans on the Vernon Town Council for some six months, developed into another heated discussion at Monday's Town Council meeting.

The question of the cost of the installation which went over the original bid price, was originally raised by Democratic councilman Thomas Benoit.

Benoit, and the other Democrats on the council, said the mayor should have kept the contract was going over the bid price and should have asked for the additional appropriation rather than transferring funds from other accounts.

Last month Thomas Wolf, also a Democrat, presented a statement concerning the actions taken and ended it by saying, "There is no purpose to be served by continuing the discussion on this matter. It can only be hoped that exposing these facts will prevent future administrations from making similar costly mistakes."

Morgan Campbell, a Republican and chairman of the sidewalk subcommittee, said more money had to be spent because of problems with installation and demands made by the state. He said the work was done at the same bid price but there was an error of 647 lineal feet in the original bid figures.

Wolf said his memo essentially agreed with Campbell's explanation. He said, however, the council was entitled to know what was going on, noting that the original bid was $14,900 and the amount paid was $23,200.

"When that much more is paid over the original cost, it shouldn't be buried in another budget," he said.

"It's another example of the mayor taking things in his own hands. We've been trying to bring this matter to a vote, but he's been trying to get it done. I don't think it was irresponsible but I'll take the consequences if the people don't like the walk there."

At that point, Republican councilman Donald Eden brought it to "move the question," and Wolf said, "you mean to end debate?" The motion passed 8-4 in straight party lines and the original motion, to accept Campbell's report was passed in the reverse party line vote with the Republican's voting yes and the Democrats voting no.

This led Wolf to rise to a point of order, concerning a proposal made by Eden to change the council's rules of order.

Eden proposed, at the last meeting of the council, that any councilman who wishes to request the addition of any item of business to the current agenda for the purpose of information, discussion, or vote, request it at the start of the meeting.

Eden further said the matter should then be considered after all other items on that agenda have been acted upon and then the council would decide, by a simple majority vote, if the request should be approved or denied.

Wolf said when the proposal was discussed that night, brief-ly, three of the Republicans said they would not support a rule that would cut off necessary or intelligent debate. He added, "Thank you for your motion to cut off debate tonight."

Eden reminded him that there is still a provision to amend the rules.

Democrat Peter Humphry said, "I think this is to stifle debate, particularly by the minority. You've got the eight votes, go ahead and put your change through and get on with the meeting."

Eden questioned how the change would stifle the minority.

Humphry said, "The only time items are added at the last minute are by the administration. Anytime 'we' want something added you've voted it down."

The motion was then passed in an 8-4 vote.

Hilliard Pond Acquisition Top Conservation Priority

By DOUG BEVINS

"My first reaction to the place was that it's an impossible situation," Conservation Commission member Jay Stager said Monday night describing Hilliard Pond off W. Middle Tpk. "It ruined, there's no way to ever restore it," he said. "It's hemmed in by development. "But after thinking about it," Stager said, "it's a valuable natural resource. It's the only place in the whole area which has the potential for beauty." Stager's comments came during a conservation discussion on what has apparently become the group's top priority: Town acquisition of the pond, a 24-acre parcel across from the Parkside Apartments.

Town purchase of the pond, now owned by Richard and Morris Bezzini of East Hartford, isn't a new idea. Several years ago an ad-hoc committee of area residents pushed for such acquisition, but the Conservation Commission had given Case Mountain priority and the Hilliard Pond issue became dormant.

Monday night, Conservation Commission members mentioned the possibility of using federal Housing and Community Development funding for purchase of the pond area, which commission members say could be linked with the Hockanum River Linear Park.

Federal funding would also be possible for Hickey's Grove, commission members agreed. They plan to attend public meetings later this month to suggest use of the block grants for land acquisition.

Spaulding Wants 11 On Conservation Unit

At least one member of the Manchester Conservation Commission thinks his group is overworked and needs more members to adequately do its job.

So that member, Dr. Frederick Spaulding, suggested Monday night that the town's Board of Directors consider expanding the commission's membership from seven to 11 persons.

"We just haven't got enough people," Dr. Spaulding said. "Just look at the work we're called upon to do - it's increasing more and more every year." He said the backlog of projects of the commission is growing and is also complicated by the regular absence of a few commission members. No names were mentioned, but the four members attending Monday night's meeting agreed that a couple of appointees haven't done their job.

The Conservation Commission was created by the Board of Directors in 1963 under state statute which allowed creation of such agencies with at least three members and up to seven members.

Public Act 73-293, passed by the state General Assembly in 1973, changed the makeup of conservation commissions to allow up to 11 members.

Makeup of each municipality's conservation commission is decided by the town legislative body, and appointments are made by the chief executive officer (in Manchester, Town Manager Robert Weiss).

Aron Epidemic

BOSTON (UPI) - An insurance industry spokesman says an "aron epidemic is sweeping the entire nation." "Public apathy must be shaken and replaced by an awareness of this menacing problem," Eugene L. Lecomte, general manager of the Massachusetts Property Insurance Underwriting Association, said Tuesday. Lecomte told a seminar of insurance executives and state and local fire officials that the number of fires deliberately set has increased by more than 200 per cent over the past 10 years. He said the rise has been sharpest in the suburbs.

Nuclear Safeguards Needed

WASHINGTON (UPI) - Inadequate safeguards against terrorists and saboteurs may prove to be the "Achilles heel" of the nuclear power industry, according to Sen. Abraham Ribicoff, D-Conn. Ribicoff Tuesday released a General Accounting Office report which stated as few as two or three armed persons could take over a nuclear generator and threaten thousands of lives. "Such a takeover, particularly of a nuclear power plant near a large metropolitan area, could threaten public health and safety, if radioactive materials were released to the environment," Ribicoff quoted the report. The GAO study, submitted to the Atomic Energy Commission, also noted used-fuel storage facilities could be even more vulnerable to sabotage than reactors themselves.

Funding Inadequate

WASHINGTON (UPI) - Although he voted in favor of it, Sen. Lowell P. Weicker, R-Conn., has said an $11.8 billion appropriation for urban mass transit systems is "totally inadequate" to meet soaring costs. The measure would provide Connecticut's three largest cities with about $36 million during the next six years. Bridgeport would receive $11.4 million, Hartford $14.3 million and New Haven $10.3 million. Weicker said he voted for the appropriation Tuesday only after he was assured Congress will be able to increase the funds - now scheduled to be doled out over six years - if inflation continues to take its toll.

State Sells Bonds

HARTFORD (UPI) - The state has sold 75 million dollars worth of tax anticipation notes at an average net interest rate of 4.59 per cent, according to State Treasurer Alden A. Ives. Ives said Tuesday competitive bids were submitted for the entire amount.

Hartford National Bank and Trust Co., in association with a group of banks led by Bankers Trust Co. of New York, bought $74.5 million worth of notes at 4.60 per cent. The New Haven Savings Bank bought $500,000 worth at 4.53 per cent.

Town Population Up 14% in '60s, Says Fact Book

Manchester's population has increased by 14.6 per cent from 1960 to 1970 while Hartford County increased by 18.4 per cent and Connecticut by 19.8 per cent.

That's one of the highlights of the population of Manchester in a new fact book entitled "The Population of Connecticut, Town and County Fact Book, 1970" by Dr. Thomas E. Steahr, assistant professor of rural sociology at the University of Connecticut.

The 108-page book can be obtained at a nominal price. Further information will be sent on request to Storrs Agricultural Experiment Station, Box U-96, University of Connecticut, Storrs 06268. The station is the research division within UConn's College of Agriculture and Natural Resources. Dr. Steahr noted that "the bulletin contains similar population characteristics in 24 separate tables for Manchester and all other townships in Connecticut." The data were based on the most recent 1970 Census. He presents here some other interesting population characteristics about Manchester compared to Hartford County and Connecticut as a whole. Manchester's population is slightly older than the rest of Hartford County, with an average of 30.5 years as compared to 29.5 years for the state.

Showing Their Concern for Shoplifting

Mrs. Suzanne Flocken, acting executive director of the Greater Manchester Chamber of Commerce, shows brochures on shoplifting which were available to about 200 people attending a shoplifting seminar this morning at the U.S. Theatre East. Ronald Catania, security director for Sage Allen, was the main speaker. Two films were shown. A group of 25 distributive education students from the Cooperative Educational Occupational Program at Manchester High School, accompanied by their teacher, Mrs. Nancy Grassilli, also attended. The seminar was another in a series of programs arranged by the Chamber as a service to the retailers of the community. (Herald photo by Pinto)

HRC Will Push Again For Group Homes Law

By ALICE EVANS

The Manchester Human Relations Commission will continue its efforts to have a group homes ordinance drafted and presented to the Board of Directors for action. The commission is now a dead duck, but I think we should do something about it," he added. Alan Mason, director of human resources, advised the commission to consider the purpose of the ordinance, and what it covers — all kinds of group homes or just one type. He also suggested that the commission weigh the amount of time concerned in the effort against other things the commission might wish to spend more time. Commissioners Robert Blechman and Judy Demnitz will work with Keefe on the proposed ordinance. Norman Fendell, director of special education for the Manchester school system, will be invited to speak on the existing group homes for the retarded of the next commission meeting. The commission, which has pleaded with the city to conduct a racism seminar similar to one it had last year, discussed making the anti-racism training available to as many people as possible. To do this, it was suggested that a lecture plus film would reach more people than a weekend workshop, and be more acceptable. No decision was reached on action on the seminar was tabled until all members of the commission were present.

Keefe reported that he receives about four to five calls a month from tenants complaining that landlords have raised their rent. There is nothing the commission can do about such complaints since the terms of the Fair Rent Act he said. Leo Ann Gudmundsen was named chairman of a committee to look into landlord-tenant relations. Commissioner Naomi Peck reported that Dr. Alfred Tychsen, assistant superintendent of curriculum for Manchester schools, said that there was no great change in the curriculum since he talked to the commission, but expects more qualified black teachers will be hired. Mrs. Peck also told of a black family which has been harassed apparently for the number of years. The family will be asked to attend a commission meeting, as no action can be taken until the commission has more information. Charles McCarthy Jr., assistant town manager, in a letter to the commission, said that a town has no black or Puerto Rican employees. He said that a number of conditions conspire to produce this result. Two of the reasons he cited were the minimal public transportation available from Hartford to Manchester and the extremely low minority population of the town. "We are presently taking measures to determine why there are no blacks in the town," he said. He also said he was anxious to discuss this matter with the commission.

Robert Robinson, 22, of 7 Clark Rd., Bolton was arrested today just past midnight at the rear of King's store in the Parkside by Patrolman Gary Schwartz and charged with third-degree larceny. The charge stems from Robinson's alleged attempt to steal two steers from the rear loading dock, police said.

Robinson was released on a $500 non-surety bond for appearance in Circuit Court 12 on Dec. 9.

Mortgage Holder Seeks Pilgrim Mills Property

Central Bank for Savings of Meriden is the apparent high bidder for purchase of Pilgrim Mills property at 434 Oakland St. in Manchester, according to Atty. Robert Nathan of Hartford, who handled the mortgage foreclosure auction for Hartford County Superior Court. Nathan said Central Bank, which held the first mortgage on the Pilgrim Mills complex, submitted a bid of $500,000 at a public auction last Friday. The transaction must be approved by the court before it is complete, Nathan said. The auctioned property includes the 16,000-square-foot Pilgrim Mills retail store building, a vacant 15,000-square-foot building, a paved parking lot for nearly 100 cars, and a foundation for a third retail building. The property totals about six acres and has about 430 feet of frontage on Oakland St.

Pilgrim Mills filed a voluntary petition in bankruptcy in U.S. District Court last April. Company President George Shenkman reportedly indicated earlier this month that the textile business had showed signs of recovery and he intended to keep the retail outlet open. Repeated attempts by The Herald to contact Shenkman have been unsuccessful.

A 48-Month Car Loan?

By DOUG BEVINS

A relatively new wrinkle in automobile financing — the 48-month car loan — doesn't appear to have aroused much interest in Manchester.

Only one of the five banks in town says it is granting the extended financing and customers aren't going for it in large numbers.

Some of the country's largest banks — First National City Bank of New York, for instance — have been pushing the 48-month new car loan because some say the traditional 36-month loan is another victim of inflation.

The idea hasn't caught on everywhere, though, largely because bankers feel less secure about a 48-month loan and there's a serious question whether a new car would survive the life of the loan.

That's the concern expressed by one local banker, Richard Carter of the Savings Bank of Manchester, who likened the situation to "paying for a dead horse."

Carter said his bank hasn't seriously considered offering 48-month car loans, but he doesn't think such a move would be prudent under most circumstances.

"It would have to be an exceptional case," Carter said. Connecticut Bank & Trust Co. is apparently the only local bank openly offering a 48-month loan. A spokesman at the Manchester office said, however, that just one in eight car buyers has chosen the longer financing period.

CBT continues to encourage the 36-month loan instead. At Hartford National Bank & Trust Co.'s Manchester office, Manager William Moorhouse admitted he has approved 48-month car loans in "isolated cases," but the bank isn't advertising the service.

Comments by Richard Lozier, vice president of the Manchester State Bank, were similar to opinions expressed at the Savings Bank of Manchester.

"With depreciation of a new car," Lozier said, "you may find a car is worth less than the loan balance in the fourth year of the loan."

Lozier also said it would be hard for a bank to make money on a 48-month car loan unless the bank had a high volume of new car loans.

The idea behind extended financing isn't new, according to its advocates. Immediately after World War II, the standard car loan period was 18 months. When a 24-month loan was introduced it also had critics.

Current annual percentage rates quoted by local banks are in the 12 per cent range, although most bankers agreed rates may be on the way down.

Savings Bank of Manchester listed an annual rate of 11½ to 12 per cent, depending on the length of the loan and the status of the car buyer.

Connecticut Bank & Trust quoted a 13 per cent annual rate, with an explanation that the rate had been 11 per cent up until three months ago.

Manchester State Bank listed an 11½ per cent annual rate.

Hartford National quoted a 12 per cent rate.

Gets Award

Herbert A. Bengston of Manchester, a property administrator with the Defense Contract Administration Services Office at Hamilton Standard, Windsor Locks, has received a cash award for his part in suggesting a cost-saving item.

Bengston and Eldridge Craig of Ludlow, Mass., proposed a way to re-use a container which protects an electrical harness for a jet fuel control. Initial savings of more than $500 resulted.

Bengston and Craig split a $60 award.

FIRST HALF RESULTS
First Connecticut Small Business Investment Co. (AMEX) of Bridgeport has reported higher dollar earnings for the first half ended Sept. 30 but lower per-share earnings because of more shares outstanding.

Net realized income for the period was $606,837 (62 cents per share), compared to $526,327 (71 cents per share) a year ago.

Average shares outstanding this year totaled 973,612. Last year the figure was 744,940.
