New MCC President Visits Campus

Dr. Frederick Lowe Jr., right, retiring president of Manchester Community College, orients his successor, Dr. Ronald H. Denison and Mrs. Denison to the campus on Bidwell St. which Denison will take over on March 1. The Denisons are from Coon Rapids, Minn., and formerly lived in Poughkeepsie, N.Y.

Incoming MCC President Gives Views on New Job

By FLOYD LARSON

Manchester Community College will get a new "old" student March 1. That's the day Dr. Ronald H. Denison, now president of Anoka-Ramsey Community College in Coon Rapids, Minn., a suburb of St. Paul, becomes MCC's second president.

Dr. Denison, who will succeed retiring president Dr. Frederick Lowe Jr., visited the MCC campus this morning.

"We are delighted to come to Manchester, and I will be a new student, an 'old' one, I'll admit, as I learn about MCC, its students, faculty, the community of Manchester and the area served by the college.

"We were pleased to be selected as president of MCC, which is a dynamic and flexible school largely due to the fine efforts of Dr. Lowe and his fine staff.

"Our visits (during the selection process) were largely responsible for our decision to come here because MCC seems to be a part of a dynamic educational system from the state board on down to involvement by the community."

Dr. Denison gave a broad view of his concepts of community college education and the problems he sees ahead, in addition to his immediate task of learning about his new job and community.

"A community college," he said, "must work to meet the education needs of the community by offering the kinds of programs that are wanted. It must especially meet the needs of the part-time and so-called drop-out students as well as the full-time ones.

He favors the open door concept of admissions on a first come, first served basis. He expressed his conviction that the area will grow and with it the demands for an expanded community college. He cited his major objective at MCC would be to continue the effort toward permanent campus construction saying he believes a facility for 5,000 students would not be unreasonable.

Tuition increases, he said, have a depressing effect on low income student enrollments, "the very people who need the community colleges most," and hoped that some alternative means of financing would be devised.

Dr. Denison explained that he recognizes the need for the various governmental agencies to work together. He pledged that while he was committed to the state system's development as a whole, he would be a strong advocate of MCC, which he feels is the strongest in the system.

In other matters, Dr. Denison said he recognizes that the legislature has the obligation to establish budgets within broad areas; but he feels that decisions on the actual use of these funds are best left to the education administrators who have the day-to-day expertise and knowledge to make those decisions.

Dr. Lowe has had a running battle with the state Finance Commission on such expenditure decisions in the past and it was this conflict which sparked the question.

"We have to recognize that we are in a period of hard times and it may be several years before it is over," he said. "In the meantime, we must do everything we can to make the college as effective as we can within these budgetary limitations."

Because enrollments are limited by limited funds, Dr. Denison feels the legislature should be made aware of the college needs so that it can meet the needs of students now turned away.

He opposed any effort to limit enrollments by entrance tests expressing his belief that community colleges are democratic and therefore must accept students on a first come, first served basis.

Dr. Denison and his wife, Lorraine, arrived Monday and will remain until Thursday or Friday, meeting with faculty members and students. They hope to find a home in Manchester, and joining them will be their youngest son, Kent, a 10th grader. Their daughter, Laura, is a career girl and their other son, Scott, is in the service.

Dr. Denison was introduced by Mrs. Dorothy C. McNulty of West Hartford, a member of the state Board of Trustees and chairman of the presidential selection committee. She was introduced by Dr. Lowe.

Following the conference, the college hosted a coffee hour for Dr. and Mrs. Denison.

Jarvis Zone Change Denied by Town PZC

By DOUG BEVINS

A zone change which would have allowed construction of two-family housing on land off Wetherell St. was denied Monday night by Manchester's Planning and Zoning Commission (PZC).

PZC members, voting 4-1 to deny the application by Jarvis Realty Co., said a change from Rural Residence to Residence B Zone wouldn't provide for the best use of the land.

The majority of PZC members also cited bad traffic situations in voting against the rezoning, which would have affected 15 acres of land on the south side of Wetherell St.

The lone dissenter in Monday night's PZC voting was Chairman Alfred Sieffert, who contended that Residence B Zone and the expected two-family housing would be the best use of the land.

Jarvis Realty had planned to build 39 duplex homes on the tract if rezoning was approved, Atty. Laurence Rubinow, representing the applicant, said at a September public hearing.

But Town Planner J. Eric Potter, computing site requirements Monday night, told the PZC a change to Residence B Zone would permit up to 60 building lots, or provision for 120 units of duplex housing.

Many Stranded

Dozens of deaths were reported and more than 35,000 persons were left stranded today by a widespread storm that covered the area from the Midwest to the East Coast with snow. Michigan officials called the snow storm the worst since 1886. National Guard heavy equipment was mobilized in western Maryland and several communities were virtually isolated in Pennsylvania. The storm was the same in parts of Ohio, West Virginia and Virginia.

Jupiter Viewed

MOUNTAIN VIEW, Conn. — After sweeping through Jupiter's radiation belts to a point only 26,000 miles from Jupiter's cloud tops Monday night, Pioneer 11 was hurled away today for the first spacecraft look at the ringed planet Saturn. Sweeping under the South Pole and out over the North Pole, Pioneer 11 demonstrated that the planet can be used as a slingshot to toss bigger spacecraft of the future out for investigations of the outer planets. Pioneer 11 will reach Saturn September 5, 1979.

Soyuz 16

MOSCOW — Russian cosmonauts Col. Anatoly V. Filipchenko and Nikolai N. Rukavishnikov reported everything in order aboard the Soyuz 16 spacecraft today. The two are participating in a shakedown flight for next summer's joint Soviet-American space mission. News agency Tass said the mission, which began Monday, would last several days and include a simulated docking to prepare for next July's linkup with an American Apollo ship.

Griffin Wins Heisman

NEW YORK (UPI) — Archie Griffin of Ohio State, the most consistent runner in collegiate history, today was named winner of the Heisman Trophy as the outstanding player in the nation and became the first junior to win college football's most coveted award since 1963.

Griffin, who becomes the first junior since Navy's Roger Staubach in 1963 to capture the Heisman Trophy, received 483 first place votes and 1,920 points in a balloting of selected sports writers and sportscasters from across the nation to beat out Anthony Davis of Southern California.

Land Purchase Hearings Tonight

By SOL R. COHEN

Public hearings on two proposed property acquisitions head the agenda for the Manchester Board of Directors' meeting tonight at 8 in the Municipal Building Hearing Room.

The board will consider ordinances for purchasing a parcel at 1039 Tolland Tpk., the proposed site for a new Town of Manchester firehouse; and a 6.8-acre parcel off Spencer St., adjacent to the town's landfill area and the proposed site for additional landfill.

Nuclear Arms Accord May Need More Funds

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Ford said the nuclear weapons agreement with the Soviet Union "put a cap on the arms race," but the figures he released indicated that the United States must deploy more strategic weapons to reach the ceilings.

"I can say this without hesitation or qualification," Ford told Monday's news conference. "If we had not had this agreement, it would have required the United States to substantially increase its military expenditures in the strategic areas. So, we put a cap on the arms race."

The annual price tag for the 2,400 delivery systems — missiles launched either from land or submarines, plus heavy bombers — and 1,320 multiwarhead missiles will go up from $15 billion to $18 billion, Ford said much of that would be inflation.

Inflation took up the second half of Ford's two-part meeting with reporters. The President again pressured Congress to enact his legislative proposals, criticizing them for spending $1 billion more than he proposed. He predicted the United States would be without major gasoline shortages this winter, barring another Arab oil embargo.

One of Ford's legislative recommendations — a trade regulation bill — is expected to be discussed today when the President speaks to the American Conference on Trade.

Another area in which Ford has a faceoff with Congress is in the appointment of a new vice president. The nominee, Nelson A. Rockefeller, also is scheduled to meet with the President today.

Ford wore a brand new blue pin-striped suit for his fifth news conference. It was so new that he didn't want to pierce the fabric with a WIN button.

The President seemed relaxed and well prepared for the series of questions on strategic weapons. The United States has 838 MIRV-equipped missiles now. Pentagon sources say plans call for 1,286 of the hydra-headed rockets — 34 less than the limit.

"I intend to stay below the ceiling," Ford said. "That is the agreement, but we do have an obligation to stay up to that ceiling, and the budget that I will recommend will keep our strategic forces either up to or aimed at that objective."

Current spending, Ford acknowledged, was about $15 billion and the increase would bring it to "the ball park" figure of $18 billion. "My best judgment," he said, "is that our strategic arms cost will hold relatively the same. It will not be substantially expanded other than for any increase resulting from inflation."

Link Gaffney To Waterford Garage Lease

HARTFORD (UPI) — A construction company vice president testified today his cousin, Superior Court Judge J. Brian Gaffney, tried to influence state officials to help the firm get a state lease for a million-dollar highway garage in Waterford.

John E. Downes, vice president of Downes Construction Co., New Britain, testified Gaffney, who then was GOP state party chairman, had said in the spring or early summer of 1971 he would "see if he could talk with someone about getting another lease to make up for another one we 'lost' through condemnation procedures.

Downes, accompanied by a lawyer, was the leadoff witness as the legislative subcommittee continued its investigation into questionable state leases.

He said his father, company president Frank Downes, who is Gaffney's uncle, had told him what Gaffney said. He then proceeded to obtain options for property in Waterford and contacted sympathetic state officials to work through the deal, Downes said.

Gaffney and a lineup of other prominent Republicans were to testify on the lease later today.

A bipartisan legislative subcommittee has been investigating charges of possible corruption in Connecticut's program of leasing private property and office space, a $7.4 million yearly enterprise. Meakill's nomination to the federal court has been held up until his name is cleared in the hearings.

Terms of the lease require Connecticut to pay $64,500 yearly, or a total $967,500 through 1988, for a 12,000-square-foot garage with a 1,000-square-foot salt bin.

The state has an option to buy the garage and property, whose original costs were unavailable, for $407,777 when the lease expires or renew the rental option for another 15 years at $47,748 a year.

The board meets twice each month. At its first meeting, as the one tonight, it conducts public hearings, accepts reports and takes action on unfinished business. At its second meeting, as the one it will hold Dec. 10, it takes action on the agenda items aired at its first meeting.

The 1039 Tolland Tpk. parcel would be purchased for $32,400 from Santo and Nancy Lombardo, with funds from the Manchester, Town Fire District account. The Spencer St. parcel would be purchased for $27,500 from Leon Podrove, trustee. Funds for this purchase would come from a $1,391,000 bond issue approved by referendum March 13, 1973 — specifically, from funds set aside for leachate control in the landfill area.

The Tolland Tpk. parcel is assessed at $12,100. The Spencer St. parcel is part of a 31.8-acre parcel, totally assessed at $6,200.

Also up for public hearing tonight are two proposed allocations from revenue-sharing funds — $6,000 for emergency generators at public works facilities and $5,000 for fulfilling maintenance requirements under the federal Occupational Safety and Health Act (OSHA).

The board will be given cost estimates on Green Rd. sidewalks — requested by petition Nov. 19. And, it will receive a formal ruling on the powers of the town's Traffic Authority (Police Chief James Reardon) and the board's power (if any) to revoke his action. This opinion was requested of Acting Town Counsel Victor Moses by Director Carl Zinsler — who challenged Reardon's ruling prohibiting parking on both sides of Horace St.

Director Vivian Ferguson, who has criticized Mayor John Thompson for appointing a seven-member "Blue Ribbon" Sewer Study Committee composed of six Democrats and one unaffiliated, will offer a solution tonight although she still insists "The committee wasn't needed in the first place."

She will recommend the committee be expanded and re-formed, to permit the addition of at least three Republicans.

Crombie Heads Group On Block Grant Study

Manchester's recently created Community Development Advisory Committee, meeting for the first time Monday night, elected Peter Crombie of 170 Bush Hill Rd., chairman and split into four subcommittees to begin work.

Crombie, a Democrat, is one of 29 townpeople named to the committee by the Board of Directors Nov. 19. The committee is involved in planning disposition of $1,416,000 in federal block grants the town anticipates over the next three years.

POLICE REPORT

MANCHESTER
John R. Cible Jr., 30, of Hartford and Rhonda M. Rideout, 19, of 237 Kennedy Rd. were both arrested Monday after surrendering at Police Headquarters and were charged on Circuit Court 12 warrants with second-degree larceny.

The charges stem from the theft of a fairway Friday, Nov. 22 from the Fairway Catalogue Showroom at 81 Broad St., police said. The theft was done by switching stores, police said.

They were released on $1,000 bonds for court Dec. 16.

Robert N. Tedone, 21, of 66 Dartmouth Rd. was arrested Monday on a court warrant charging him with attempt to commit first-degree robbery. He allegedly attempted to rob the Dairy Mart Store at 361 Center St. on Nov. 24 armed with a kitchen knife and wearing a ski mask, police said. The clerk would not give him any money and he left.

Desimone was presented in court Monday where his next court date was set for Dec. 19 and he was released on his written promise to appear.

The Plaza Shopping Center on Rt. 66, Hebron Center, had extensive damage done to parts of the interior Monday morning due to heavy winds and rain. The Hebron Plaza House, owned and operated by Nick Takoutsis received the most damage. After the wind blew away a section of the roof, the water caused the suspended ceiling to collapse. The owners are not sure yet if the equipment is damaged. No estimate of damage was given.

The Plaza Package Store next door received less damage. The building is owned by Earl Darby of Manchester and James Darby of Glastonbury. Extensive damage was done to the First Congregational Church of Hebron invited anyone interested in uniting with its membership on Christmas Sunday, Dec. 8, to meet at the Rev. Stanley Eaton no later than Dec. 8, to arrange an appointment with him.

Parents Argue Busing Ban Before State School Board

VERNON
BARBARA RICHMOND
Parents of students who will no longer be bused from the Boulder Ridge area to Lake St. School presented their case at a hearing conducted by the state Board of Education Monday afternoon.

The parents appealed to the state board after a request to continue bus service for some 26 elementary school pupils was denied in a 4-3 vote by the Vernon Board of Education. The local board's transportation committee voted earlier in the school year, to terminate bus service for certain students in the area and parents requested a local board hearing which was conducted Oct. 28.

Following this hearing a motion was made by Steven Marcham, chairman of the transportation committee, "that the board deny transportation to those children from the Boulder Ridge development (off Tunnel Rd.) who live within the board's previously made mileage limits." The motion was passed in a 4-3 vote. The transportation committee was given the option to set the date of termination of the bus service. The parents immediately filed for a hearing with the state.

At Monday's hearing Bruce Wilson and George Fleming presented the case for the parents, and Anthony Tedeschi was hearing agent for the state Board of Education. Wilson listed 12 points of concern all dealing with the safety of the children. Students in the Boulder Ridge area have been allowed to ride the buses continuously for the past two years. The parents contend this "precedent and established property right should therefore not be negated since there have been no appreciable physical changes to alter or influence the original decision."

In answer to this, Marcham said the board feels no precedent was set other than an informal agreement to allow the children to ride while space was available on the buses. He also presented a letter from Vernon police Chief Herman Fritz, accompanied by a map, which Marcham said shows the board is upholding the state guidelines for walking distance. The parents contend there is still heavy construction traffic in the Boulder Ridge development; that the sidewalks are inadequate and poorly engineered in juxtaposition to Tunnel Rd. which they termed an extremely dangerous roadway.

In connection with the sidewalks, they claimed that increased traffic and congestion cause an overflow of the minor roads and dangerous highway, Tunnel Rd.

Another bone of contention cited was the wooded areas along the narrow sidewalk. Parents fear such areas could provide a refuge for potential individuals who may do harm to the young children. They further claimed that the fencing on one side of the sidewalk and Tunnel Rd. on the other side disallows any avenue of escape if a vehicle should lose control "on the narrow, windy, roadway."

The state did suggest that the town purchase more land so the walkway can be moved back. It has not been indicated that this will be done by Mayor McCoy. McCoy has instructed the Public Works Department to install the handrails along the sidewalk that abuts the road near the highway entrance but the state said it is up to the towns to take care of such installations.

William Houle, acting chairman of the Vernon Board of Education, said Mayor Frank McCoy had approached the state concerning installation of handrails along the sidewalk that abuts the road near the highway entrance but the state said it is up to the towns to take care of such installations.

1. 1972 to Sept. 15, 1974 and one of them was a female.

As part of the presentation by the parents, Fleming presented several slides showing the area in question and noted that "the terrain within the development is not conducive to safe walking." Showing slides of the walkway, he said they demonstrate, "There is no margin for safety."

Marcham said the board is aware that there are certain dangers involved wherever children walk to school.

Following the Oct. 28 meeting, Wilson said he wrote to the state Department of Transportation (Commissioner Koch) and asked for information concerning traffic counts and radar speed checks in the area between Lake St. and Willow Stream Dr. on Tunnel Rd.

He said he was informed that according to a traffic count taken in 1973, 3,100 cars per day went through this area and that a speed check of Nov. 4 of this year, showed that 30 to 50 per cent of the vehicles traveled in excess of five miles per hour over the posted 35 m.p.h. speed limit.

Wilson also said figures obtained from the Vernon Police Department show there were 17 accidents in the area from Jan.

CHRISTMAS TREE NEW YORK (UPI) — Martin Luther some 400 years ago one clear cold Christmas eve lifted his eyes skyward. He saw thousands of stars that seemed to cling to the branches of the lofty pines by the wayside.

His first thought was to share this inspiring spectacle. That night a glittering tree blazed with star-bright candles was Luther's gift to his loved ones — and a gift to the world. That happening gets him credit for cutting the first Yule tree and covering it with lights.

Manchester Evening Herald OPINION

AT&T Suit Ill-Timed

The Department of Justice suit seeking to break up American Telephone and Telegraph Co., is against the world's largest private corporation, surpassing in size the 1911 suit, which resulted in the breakup of Standard Oil Co.

It has more than the usual interest to the public since 80 per cent of the telephone users in the country are subscribers to the services of an AT&T subsidiary, and the company makes 90 per cent of the long distance calls in the United States.

The Justice suit is also of more than ordinary interest to a great many individuals in the country. AT&T is probably the most widely held public investment, with almost 3 million shareholders.

It is also undoubtedly in the stock portfolios of a great many pension funds, since it has long been considered a real "blue chip" investment.

While the impact of the announcement by the Justice Department caused temporary suspension of trading in AT&T stock, the final outcome of the suit may not be seen for years.

An anti-trust suit filed against International Business Machines in 1969 has still not come to trial. The AT&T action could stretch on as long as a decade.

The government seeks to have the company divest itself of Western Electric Co., its equipment manufacturing division, the Long Lines division and possibly the Bell laboratories.

Justice says that a breakup of the company will result in lower telephone costs to its millions of subscribers. The company contests this saying that on the contrary it will result in higher cost, through loss of efficiency.

The telephone monopoly originally sprung from the fact that competing telephone companies, it was necessary for business firms to subscribe to as many as three telephone companies in order to receive calls.

Competing firms would not connect a call to a subscriber who took another company's services.

The language of the suit is rather indefinite and it will not be known fully what the Justice Department intends until it finally comes to court.

While we have no protest against the government filing suit to clarify the status of the telephone giant, it is unfortunate that it came at this particular time. The stock market had just undergone several days of losses at the time of the announcement.

Uncertainty about the future of AT&T will have less than a stabilizing effect on that economic barometer.

Security Bill High

While the visit of Palestine Liberation Organization chief, Yasser Arafat, seems to have contributed nothing but new problems to the question of peace in the Middle East, it has resulted in a whopping bill to the city of New York.

New York's hard working but unspectacular Mayor Abraham Beame has estimated that the four-day visit of Arafat and his cohorts cost the city $750,000 because of the special security measures which it adopted to protect their lives.

The largest part of the money went to pay overtime and regular salaries to the police officers who were marshalled to protect the Arab leaders. Additional money was spent on police helicopters, fuel, a launch and other transportation expenses.

Beame is asking President Ford and

Secretary of State Henry Kissinger to ask for a special federal fund allotment to meet this and other police expenses which the city incurs because of United Nations activities.

The Tower of Babel on the East River presents New York City with a continuing policing problem, which costs money. Scene of frequent demonstrations by national groups, it has a potential for grave international incidents which must be prevented.

A Jewish group had publicly threatened to assassinate Arafat during his stay in the city. Such an incident would have upset the Arab world and our chances of working toward peace in that unsettled area.

Mayor Beame is right in that the city should not bear the extra cost, since the UN is a national problem rather than a municipal one.

Thanks

To the editor:
The Women's Auxiliary of Manchester Midget Football Association, Inc., would like to take this opportunity to publicly thank The Manchester Evening Herald, Mr. Nathan Agostinelli, parents, coaches, Board of Directors and guests who so generously donated or purchased tickets to the Auxiliary's Annual Football Dance recently at the Manchester State Armory.

I personally would like to thank the women of the auxiliary who contributed their time and efforts to work with the dance committee and Mrs. Edward White, 45 Tracy Drive, for doing such an outstanding job as dance chairman. Her untiring cooperation helped make this dance a huge success.

Our Column

To the editor:
Thank you, Bur Lyons, for the privilege of sharing my thoughts regularly with your readers in my weekly column, "Wings of Evening."

It really isn't my column as much as our column. The "our" refers to my wife and me. Each week, after I make the first draft, we discuss it and it is rewritten. Invariably she makes wise suggestions for omissions and additions. It is literally our column, but it is her preference to have it appear under my name alone.

All through the years, since our marriage in 1935, in our service in Arlington Heights, Mass.; Springfield, Vt., and then in our nearly 30 years in this community, Betty has been a real partner. She, too, earned a B.D. degree at Union Theological Seminary in New York City where we met, fell in love, and were married. Any congregation knows how valuable it is for a church to have a dedicated, able person in the parsonage. Not only did she bring up our children but was always active in various branches of the church life. We have both felt that we are a team working together for the Kingdom.

As this is Thanksgiving time, let me also say how thankful I am to readers who have written letters and commented about "Wings of Evening." You are most kind and your suggestions are always welcome.

TODAY'S THOUGHT

"Timothy, Us, and Money"
For the rest of the days of this week in Advent, let us look honestly at what money does to us.

Year after year we bemoan the fact that Christmas is getting increasingly commercialized. To change this pattern, maybe we need to start with our own hearts. Do we know that Paul's words to Timothy (1 Timothy 6:10) are true?
THE LOVE OF MONEY IS THE ROOT OF ALL EVIL THINGS.

Today, long before we reach that swirling vortex of tinsel paper and that passing of objects back and forth in a kind of "tit for tat" which often obscures the whole message of gift-giving, let us stop and look at ourselves.

Are we measuring life and its worth in terms of things? Think of this — that God in His love for us intends that we receive a gift more wonderful than all the things in this world. The gift is life — a shared life, forgiven life, unending life.

Mondale Should Have Stayed In The Race

WASHINGTON — I am not sure I agree with Sen. Walter Mondale's reason for withdrawing from the 1976 Presidential race, to wit, that he does not "have the overwhelming desire" to be President which is essential for the kind of campaign that is required.

By withdrawing, Mondale has deprived the American people of an opportunity to consider the Presidential qualifications of a unique candidate. It would have been refreshing, interesting, and perhaps even decisive had the Minnesota Democrat announced that although he had no consuming passion for the Presidency he was going to stay in the race anyway.

That probably would not have incurred his election or even nomination, but it would have given his candidacy a rare quality. And perhaps the voters would have cottoned to a man who addressed them in words something like these:

"Look, I think I'd make a good President. I'd like to be President. But I am not going to ruin my health, drive my family to distraction and try to stir the voters into a frenzy in pursuit of the office. I am simply going to run for President as a sideline to my job as a United States senator. I'll neither die nor go crazy if I lose."

The Cap On The Bottle

Russians who shouted for equality. After the SALT I agreement an important sector of congressional and public opinion in America took up the equality cry, although a few American critics now say that American weapons are more sophisticated than those of the Russians and, therefore, superior in warheads and strike power. If not in number of missiles.

It is a manic situation. We have eaten of the tree of nuclear destructive and self-destructive power, and it has driven everyone mad who has even marginally touched the fruit.

Hence, Secretary of State Henry Kissinger's post-Vladivostok remark that the way has been cleared "to put the cap on the bottle for the next 10 years." It was a vivid metaphor, but he may have forgotten that the bottle figure has been used by nuclear historians to describe the self-destructive combat between tarantulas and other lethal creatures inside. If you cap that bottle without trying for further steps toward mutual trust, they will fight each other to the death.

The Vladivostok understanding seems to limit the overall number of missiles on both sides, and especially those that can be equipped with multiple warheads. There was a political advantage for both Mr. Ford and Soviet Communist Party Chairman Leonid Brezhnev in reaching it. Brezhnev's standing in the Politburo depends on the success of détente, since Russia needs American technology and credit desperately.

Mr. Ford needs stature at home as a global statesman. His press secretary's boast that Mr. Ford accomplished in three months what Nixon failed to do in five years is an obvious political ploy. If Vladivostok lays an egg Mr. Ford will be splashed by it. If the agreement has real results he will be a 1976 candidate to be reckoned with.

Camp Kennedy Volunteers Honored

David C. Moyer, right, congratulates five of the volunteer campers for Camp Kennedy for their "outstanding" work this summer during ceremonies Friday night at the Army-Navy Club dinner for the volunteers. The club's dinner is an annual event for the many camp volunteers. Moyer, finishing his second year as the camp's director, gave special praise to these five volunteers as he presented pins to them. They are, left to right, David Duff, Lynn Alemany, Stuart Flavell, Marina Moyer, and Cindy Timbrell. (Herald photo by Dunn)

Pins, Patches Awarded At 11th Annual Party

The 11th annual Camp Kennedy Awards Banquet was held Friday at the Army-Navy Club with about 75 camp personnel and friends in attendance. It was sponsored, as in the 10 previous years, by the Army-Navy Club. Camp Kennedy pins were presented to Lynn Alemany, David Duff, Stuart Flavell, Marina Moyer and Cindy Timbrell. The criteria for the pin awards were six weeks of service as volunteer counselors and extraordinary ability and enthusiasm.

Camp Kennedy patches were presented to volunteer counselors Lynn Alemany, Jan Crandall, David Duff, Stuart Flavell, Claire Garman, Lori Hite, Gary LeBrec, Also, Mala Magadini, Marina Moyer, Laura Nadano, Alida Ostrinsky, Donna Pryor, Cindy Timbrell, Robert Weiss, Diane White and Jane Zammita.

In addition to a full-course meal and the awards, the program included two films. The first, in color and with accompanying sound, depicted a typical Camp Kennedy Day and was made in 1966 by Dr. Winfield T. Moyer. The second, made by Miss Julie Collins, a camp volunteer, contained Camp Kennedy scenes of the 1974 session.

PZC Ready to Adopt Horse Keeping Rules

Seven months after a public hearing dominated by opposition, the Manchester Planning and Zoning Commission (PZC) appears ready to adopt new regulations about keeping of horses.

The original regulation proposed by Potter earlier this year would have required a minimum of one acre and keeping one or two horses, and an additional half-acre for each additional horse.

Local horse owners opposing the restrictions — which they considered too severe and probably unnecessary — suggested a half-acre for the first horse and one-quarter acre for each additional horse.

The acreage requirement was a compromise, as were many other restrictions concerning horses. Among the other rules to be adopted are provisions for storage of feed, location of stables, adequate fencing, and horse trailers.

As with other zoning regulations, there'll be a grand opening clause about keeping of horses. Those who are now keepers of horses, will not be affected by new regulations.

BETTY'S NOTEBOOK
By BETTY RYDER

We heard of some rather unique Christmas gifts for the man or woman who has everything.

If the person on your list has champagne tastes, the perfect gift is a 14-karat gold champagne swizzle stick from Tiffany's. You could probably buy a few extras just as stocking stuffers.

For the traveling gourmet, you can put some spice in his life with a pocket-pepper mill that is a mere 2 1/4 inches high and encased in black leather. Available in better jewelry stores or gourmet shops.

A set of plant quenchers keeps things green on the home front while the plant lover is on the move. The bulb-like unit automatically waters plants according to their needs for up to three weeks.

And in case you are in need of a robot in the kitchen, there's a device called an automatic pan. The battery-operated pan stirs sauces, soups, whatever, giving more time in the kitchen and more time with the guests.

For the sports-minded men (or women) in your family how about TV tennis. An electronic game simulator which attaches to your television set (17 inches or larger) and enables you to play 12 different games right on your screen ranging from tennis and football to ski and hockey.

And to see you through the cold winter without putting too much of a pinch on your budget, how about a newspaper roller (preferably after you've read it) into a fireplace log. That's one way to solve the heating problem and use up your leftover newspapers.

Sugarless Recipes

A couple of our readers responded to our plea for "sugarless" recipes: one for Pumpkin Pie, the other for Pudding Oatmeal Cookies. We'll pass them along so you can give them a try before the Christmas holidays.

Pumpkin Pie

1-1/3 cup condensed milk
Add one can plus two tablespoons water
1 1/2 cups pumpkin or one No. 2 can
1/2 teaspoon salt
5 eggs beaten
2 teaspoons cinnamon
1 tsp. ginger or 1 teaspoon cloves
Mix well all the ingredients. Pour in shell. Bake 450 degrees for 10 minutes. Reduce heat to 350 and bake for 35 minutes. This makes one large pie and one small one.

Pudding Oatmeal Cookies

1/2 cup shortening
1 egg
1 pkg. (3 1/2 oz.) of butterscotch, vanilla or chocolate pudding
1 cup flour
1/2 teaspoon baking soda
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon cream of tartar
1/2 teaspoon vanilla
1/2 teaspoon almond extract
1/2 cup chopped nuts
Cream shortening, add pudding, a little at a time. Add egg and beat well. Add flouring. Sift together flour, soda, salt and cream of tartar. Add rolled oats and nuts.
Drop by teaspoon on greased cookie sheet. Press down with a fork. Bake at 375 degrees, 12-15 minutes. Makes about 2 1/2 dozen.
Sorry, but the authors of these recipes did not include their names and addresses so we could acknowledge them.

A Happy Man

OBITUARIES Youth Hurt, Power Out In Ferguson Rd. Crash

Mrs. Catherine Brennan
Mrs. Catherine A. Tobin
Mrs. Brennan, 53, of 45 Brook Rd., Enfield died Monday at Manchester Memorial Hospital. She was the mother of Thomas D. Brennan Jr. of South Windsor.

John J. Chala
John Joseph Chala, 58, of Wethersfield died Monday at Rocky Hill Veterans Hospital. He was the brother of Mrs. David Turner and Miss Catherine Mather, both of Manchester.

It is the second power outage in the area caused by auto accidents within two weeks.

A one-car accident on Ferguson Rd. Monday at 9:30 p.m. caused a long power outage for 120 residents and sent an 18-year-old youth to the hospital with serious injuries, police report.

Philip C. Lisk, 22, of 94 Coleman Rd. was driving a car north on Ferguson Rd. south of Garth Rd. and told police he braked to avoid an oncoming vehicle, lost control of his car, struck and severed a utility pole, and continued another 76 feet sideways and backwards across sidewalks and lawns, police said.

Burial will be in St. James Cemetery, Manchester, on Tuesday at 10 a.m. Friends may call at the funeral home tonight from 7 to 9 p.m.

The family suggests that any memorial contributions may be made to the Memorial Fund of Corpus Christi Church or to the Wethersfield Volunteer Ambulance Fund.

Mrs. Bertha S. Viole
HEBROW — Mrs. Bertha Schultz Viole, 69, of Glastonbury died Monday at Hartford Hospital. She was the mother of Richard J. Viole of Hebron.

Joseph L. Csatory
Joseph L. Csatory of Manchester was employed at Hartford heating and plumbing supply business, was shot and killed Monday afternoon after apparently surprised someone prying open a vending machine at the firm.

Police said they weren't sure that the discovery of the perpetrator was the motive for the shooting.

Csatory was taken to University-McCook Hospital in Hartford after the 3 p.m. incident, and was pronounced dead on arrival.

Police said a post-mortem examination performed this morning disclosed that Csatory died from wounds from a small-caliber weapon. Police weren't sure if a pistol or rifle was used, but they found small-caliber cartridges at the scene.

Police said three investigators teams were checking out several leads in the case, including a "lot of names" of possible suspects, today.

The New Haven register said Det. Capt. Thomas McDonnell would only confirm his men were sent to question Knowles, 28, a Florida parolee being held in a county jail at Macon, Ga. on four murder charges.

However, in a story by writer reporter John Mengillo, the newspaper said it learned through other sources the questioning concerned the strangulation deaths of Mrs. Karen Wine and her 15-year-old daughter, Dawn. Their bodies were found in their rural home by another daughter, 17-year-old Cheryl Wine.

Police said Lt. Joseph Deslauries and Patrolman Donald Rouillard located the 1,000-pound engine at a sawmill site on Beaver Hill Rd., North Windham.

Armed with a search and seizure warrant, the two policemen and men from the Coventry Highway Department, dismantled the engine and returned it to Coventry.

Police Chief Robert Kjellestun said that the engine was the largest single item, other than an automobile, that he has seen recovered in nearly 18 years of police work.

Clause was released on a $2,000 non-surety bond for appearance in Circuit Court 12, Manchester, Dec. 30.

Police Reported Questioning Man On Wine Murders

NEW HAVEN (UPI) — A published report today disclosed that Connecticut State Police are in Georgia questioning Paul John Knowles, a suspect in six murders, possibly in connection with the Oct. 16 slaying of a Marlborough woman and her daughter.

The New Haven register said Det. Capt. Thomas McDonnell would only confirm his men were sent to question Knowles, 28, a Florida parolee being held in a county jail at Macon, Ga. on four murder charges.

Police Recover Diesel Engine

COVENTRY
Leonard Clause, 30, of West Windham was charged Monday with first-degree larceny in connection with the investigation of the theft of a diesel engine valued at $1,000.

The investigation was conducted by the Coventry Police Department after a local contractor reported the engine had been taken from his backhoe equipment which was left on Graves Rd. in Coventry, last May.

Clause was released on a $2,000 non-surety bond for appearance in Circuit Court 12, Manchester, Dec. 30.

Conservation To Require 'Trade-offs'

HARTFORD (UPI) — An energy consultant says there are a number of means by which Connecticut can conserve costly oil products, but some of them will mean "trade-offs" in the environment and other areas.

Peter G. Bos, a consultant with Resource Planning Associates Inc. of Massachusetts, Monday said for example the state could allow utilities to burn high sulphur coal, which is cheaper than low sulphur coal and high grade oil.

The trade-off, he said, would be that high sulphur oil pollutes the air more than better-grade fuels.

Written warnings for following too closely were issued to both Gallant and deArahamian.

THE HERALD ANGLE

Bill Irwin Unsung Hero With Race

When unsung hero awards are passed out for contributions to the success of the annual Five Mile Road Race, one must not overlook Bill Irwin. Treasurer of the sponsoring Nitzmug Forest, Tall Cedars of Lebanon, Irwin has yet to see a race in his 24 years on the committee. The reason is simple. He's in charge of displaying the awards in the gymnasium at the East Side Rec before the race, and then keeps a close watch while the race is carried out.

Rico Petrocchi, veteran Boston Red Sox third baseman, has informed Dick O'Connell, general manager, that he will not retire as he has threatened several times. Joe Whelton broke in impressively with the UConn varsity against Yale on the basketball court and is bound to get in plenty of playing time tonight at Storrs against California of Fullerton. Whelton hit five times from the floor against the Elis but his hand balling and play-setting drew raves of praise from Coach Dee Rowe.

Notes Off the Cuff

Reports have trickled in that the Manchester Midget Football League held its annual banquet recently. One reason nothing was carried, including those cited by the organization, was the fact no one forwarded the information or even alerted this department of the program. Thus, those in charge fall into the same category of the Little League baseball heads, at least for the 1974 season.

Leo Diana Elevated

Leo Diana of Manchester has been elected president of the Central Connecticut Soccer Officials Association. He had served four years as a vice president, two each as first and second previously two-year terms as second and first vice president. He succeeds Charles Wrinn, former Trinity athlete who still plays basketball with the Army & Navy Club entry in the Businessmen's League. Diana is also a member of the New England Interscholastic, Eastern Conference Athletic Conference and the National Soccer Officials' Association.

End of the Line

"Our guards are the best, but if Tom Roy doesn't do the job, we won't have a good team," Coach Lefty Driesell claims at the University of Maryland. Roy, now a senior, has yet to have the big year predicted when he went to Maryland out of South Windsor High. Don Davis of Manchester was one of nine successful candidates for membership in the Central Connecticut Board of Approved Football Officials.

Irish Fall Three Notches

Alabama maintained a secure hold on the No. 1 position in the poll ratings of the United Press International Board of Major College Football Coaches, with the top four teams remaining in the same places.

However, for the first time the American Football Coaches Association has agreed to vote again after the bowl games — so the Crimson Tide cannot claim the national championship yet.

A win over Notre Dame should clinch the top spot for Bear Bryant's gridgers, who own the only perfect record among the nation's major college teams, in the final ratings to be released Jan. 3. The two meet in the Orange Bowl at 8 p.m. New Year's Day in a rematch of the 1973 Sugar Bowl and the Tide, 11-0, after a close 17-13 win over Auburn, will be seeking revenge for their 24-23 loss to the Irish last New Year's Eve.

But Notre Dame will have its Irish up for the match as well. Leading 24-6 at the half against Southern Cal, the Irish let down their guard and were run off the field, 55-24. They'll be looking to come back from the humiliating loss—and what better way than to beat No. 1.

Dolphins Turn in Top Performance With Convincing Win over Bengals

MIAMI (UPI) — The confidence that comes with two straight Super Bowl championships showed itself Monday night, a convincing 24-3 victory over the Cincinnati Bengals.

That's the reason they played their best game of the year Monday night, a convincing 24-3 victory over the Cincinnati Bengals. The win kept Miami in a tie with Buffalo for the American Football Conference's Eastern Division lead with a 9-3 record.

"I think the Miami Dolphins play their best ball with their backs to the wall, and we certainly have our backs to the wall, don't we?" said a battered Larry Conka after he had gained 123 yards on 13 carries against the Bengals.

"I feel it was our best performance of the year," said a pleased Coach Don Shula. "Our defense played really well and offensively we got after them."

"We haven't played consistently for a long time, but we finally put four good quarters together," Shula said. The Dolphins took control immediately after taking the opening kickoff, marching 87 yards in 14 plays on a drive that took 8:39 minutes.

Mercury Morris finally scored on a four-yard pass from Bob Griese. Garo Yepremian added a 48-yard field goal in the second quarter to make it 10-0, but at the end of the half Horst Muhlmann hit a 29-yard field goal for Cincinnati after Bernard Jackson recovered a Morris fumble on the Dolphin 22.

The first time Miami got the ball in the second half, the Dolphins launched another long drive with Griese hitting tight end Jim Mandich for a score from four yards out. Miami added a meaningless touchdown in the last minute when Bennie Malton punted over from the two-yard line.

Griese, who had signed a new multi-year contract with the Dolphins earlier in the day, was at his best, hitting 11 of 13 passes for 114 yards and two touchdowns.

Griese said the Dolphins "won the way we have in the past." Instead of depending on the air game and going down to the final minute of play for the win, Miami reverted to its style of last year, grinding it out and taking control early.

Defensively, the Dolphins never let Cincinnati out of the hole. Shula said the game ball went to cornerback Curtis Johnson for playing an "exceptional game."

Johnson recovered a fumble and made key plays on three Ken Anderson passes.

"He made three plays right in a row that were really crucial," said safety Dick Anderson. "He plays that way all the time, but he's so quiet he doesn't get much attention."

The loss gives Cincinnati a 7-5 record and drops them a 1 1/2 games behind AFC Central leader Pittsburgh, whom the Bengals play in the regular season finale. If Miami and Buffalo end up tied for the Eastern Division lead, the nod would go to the Dolphins because they have won both games with the Bills this year.

Paul Warfield Sandwiched After Catching Ball

Bengals' Ken Avery (51) Goes Flying, Tackle by Ron Pritchard

Allen Miller, WFL Players Association counselor in Detroit, said a decision by the players not to take part in the World Bowl "would be the last straw for the league. It would certainly kill attendance."

Miller said he thought the walkout, described as a "power move" by one of the players, was "stupid, ill-advised and improper."

Coach Jack Gotta was called into the player meeting right to Monday's practice and informed of their decision.

"I've had some low days, but this is one of the lowest," Gotta said. "What they are trying to do is crucify football."

Decision Awaited On WFL Walkout

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (UPI) — Team owners anticipated a decision today from Birmingham Americans football players on whether they would participate in the World Football League championship game Thursday after staging a surprise walkout Monday.

The Americans' players, scheduled to meet the Florida Blazers in the first World Bowl Dec. 5, refused to practice Monday and said they would not work out again until they were paid for five previous games.

When the walkout took place the players had not reached a decision about participating in the World Bowl, but met late Monday night to discuss it.

Michigan completed its season last week, while USC made a serious bid for the national title with its whipping ring of Notre Dame, which fell from fifth to eighth.

With Ohio State and Southern Cal matched in the Rose Bowl, a Trojan victory and a Crimson Tide defeat would upset the picture considerably and could mean the title for Southern Cal. A Buckeye win and a Tide loss would likely give Woody Hayes' men the Big Ten title.

In an extremely close battle for the remaining two positions in the top 10, idle North Carolina State moved up one spot to ninth at 48 points, Texas jumped from a tie for 18th to 10th with 46 points on the strength of its 32-3 rout over Texas A&M, and Maryland was again 11th at 45 points and Baylor, a 24-3 winner over Rice en route to capturing the Southwest Conference title, moved up one spot to 12th at 45 points.

Temple Quarterback Headlines All-East

NEW YORK (UPI) — Temple quarterback Steve Joachim, the national leader in total offense, heads the UPI All-East college football team that also includes three 1,000-yard rushers and the nation's leading scorer.

Joachim, who transferred to Temple from Penn State after his sophomore year, passed for 20 touchdowns, ran for nine more and averaged 222.7 yards a game in offense this year to earn honors as UPI's Eastern Player of the Year.

He was joined in the backfield by sophomore Tony Dorsett of Pitt (1,004 yards, 11 TDs) and juniors Artie Owens of West Virginia (1,130 yards) and Keith Barnette of Boston College (1,223 touchdowns, the most in the country) and 1,099 yards.)

Penn State, the Eastern champion for the seventh time in eight years, did not have a back selected but hardly was shut out. The Lions, 9-2, and headed for a Cotton Bowl game against Southwest Conference champion Baylor, were represented by six players more than any other team.

All six were linemen—tight end Dan Nafziger, offensive guard Tom Rafferty, center Jack Baiornus, defensive linemen Greg Murphy and Mike Hartenstein and linebacker Greg Buttle. All are seniors except Rafferty and Buttle, who are juniors.

Buckeyes' Griffin Heisman Favorite

NEW YORK (UPI) — Tailback Archie Griffin of Ohio State, the most consistent runner in collegiate football history, is the favorite today to win the 40th annual Heisman Trophy and thus become the first junior since 1963 to collect the treasured prize which symbolizes the best player in the nation.

Griffin, who led the Buckeyes to the Big Ten Conference title and a berth in the Rose Bowl, will probably get some strong competition from senior tailback Anthony Davis of Southern California, who scored four touchdowns and rushed for 234 yards against Notre Dame on national television last Saturday.

But the late rash of votes probably will not be enough to swing the decision in Davis' favor. The Downtown Athletic Club, sponsors of the Heisman Trophy, had already tabulated the majority of the votes before Davis' thrilling performance last Saturday.

Technically, voters have until noon today to get their ballots in but the DAC announced it would accept only mailed ballots and telegrams, not phone calls.

Griffin, a starter since his freshman year, established an NCAA record this year by rushing for over 100 yards in 22 consecutive games—a streak that dates back to the second game of last season. The 5-foot-9 native of Columbus, Ohio, also finished second in the nation in rushing to Utah State's Louis Gramana. Griffin gained 1,620 yards rushing for an average of 147.3 per game and his 59 yards per carry was the best average in the country.

Orioles After Ken Singleton, Mets Offer Staub in Trade

NEW ORLEANS (UPI)— The Baltimore Orioles closed in on slugger Ken Singleton, the New York Mets, offering Rusty Staub, went in part in pursuit of a center fielder and the Philadelphia Phillies seemed hopeful of adding All-Star catcher Bill Freehan in a three-way nine-player swap. At the end of the first day in baseball's winter meeting "swap and shop" sessions, however, nobody got anybody of major importance. In the only trade made Monday, the opening day of the week-long meetings, former American League shortstop base king Tommy Harper went from the Boston Red Sox to the California Angels in exchange for infielder Bob Heise. That one didn't occasion any ground rumblings. But the light-hitting

Kuhn's Decision on Yankee Owner Sure to Have Many Repercussions

By MILTON RICHMAN NEW ORLEANS (UPI) — Bowie Kuhn enjoys everything connected with the baseball commissioner's office, the prestige, the money and the publicity. That last item is never lost on him. He doesn't mind seeing his picture in the newspapers at all and that's why he's always happy, even eager, to pose standing there in his best Sunday judicial posture alongside maybe the state governor, maybe some celebrated Hall of Famer like Joe DiMaggio, or somebody, say, like Frank Robinson, baseball's first black manager. Bowie Kuhn knows the right people with whom to have his picture taken, and from all I can gather, he feels he knows the right time to get his name in the papers also. Last Thursday looked like an excellent time. Why not? He was fresh back from a triumphant tour of the Orient (he never lost a single game in Japan) and with the winter baseball meetings about to begin in a few more days, what better time was there than this one to announce some earth-shaking decision? Accordingly, Bowie Kuhn broke the news he was barring owner George Steinbrenner from operating the New York Yankees the next two years. Presumably, Kuhn's action was "for the good of baseball" inasmuch as Steinbrenner pleaded guilty and was fined $15,000 this past summer for illegal political con-

Louisville Wins Opener, Freshmen Lead Friars

NEW YORK (UPI) — Louisville Coach Denny Crum's fourth-ranked Cardinals opened their 1974-75 basketball season with a last-minute 91-87 victory over the 18th-ranked Houston Cougars in their own den, Hofheinz Pavilion. It was only the Cougars' third loss since they began playing there in 1969. Junior Bridgeman, last season's Missouri Valley Conference Player of the Year, completed a three-point play with 21 seconds remaining for Louisville's winning points after the lead changed hands eight times in the frantic final three minutes. Bridgeman got credit for the go-ahead basket on a goal-tending call and also sank the ensuing free throw after being fouled on the play. Bill Bunton converted two last-second foul shots for the final margin. Seventh-ranked Alabama and No. 8 South Carolina struggled some in their season openers before scoring expected victories against lightly regarded opponents. The Crimson Tide trailed early in the second half before leading off 12 straight points for a 62-52 lead and coasted from there to a 74-57 victory over Oklahoma State. Leon Douglas had 18 points to lead the Alabama scoring, while Ricky Brown added 17 and Charles Cleveland 15. Mike Dunleavy scored 28 points and South Carolina rolled over Bucknell, 88-74, despite an extremely erratic performance.

Four Games Mark Business Openers

Opening action in the Businessmen's League last night saw Sportmart nip the B. A. Club, 58-51, and Army & Navy down the Buzzards, 85-58, at the Y. Games at Illing Junior High saw Honda Civic outdistance Second Congo, 90-52, and U.A.C. Barons outpoint Westown Pharmacy, 118-87. Mike Daley (16), Norm Davidson (14) and Dick Grant (12) hit double figures for Sportmart in his victory. Al Wyle hit a game-high 21 points for B.A. Club with Mark Kravonka and Killer Kilby netting 12 and 10 markers respectively. Tom Malin pumped in 22 points for Army & Navy with teammates Norm Burke (13), Bob Carlson (12) and Charley Wrinn (12) also contributing well. Jim Katin with 22 and Bill Kelly and Ron Sitros with 11 and 10 respectively led the Buzzards. Joe Palambizio (22), Merrill Myer (14) and Bruce McLean (14) topped Honda's output while Jim Potlak (14), Bud Banda (10) and Mike Geoffrey (8) high for Second Congo. Pumping in a game-high 39 points was Pete Brunne for U.A.C. Teammates Joe Demarco and Vic Lapik canned 29 and 18 markers respectively. For Westown, Paul Quye netted 37, Craig Phillips 27 and Paul Busnell 19.

Reynolds Leaving

ANAHEIM (UPI) — Bob Reynolds, who co-founded the California Angels with Gene Autry in 1960, has stepped down as president and a member of the American League team's board of directors. Reynolds, 60, resigned Monday after a "great deal of thought" in order "to devote more time to other business and to my family." Reynolds, 60, was president of the Angels since 1972. An Angel spokesman said his successor will be announced next spring. According to Reynolds' announcement, he is selling his ownership of 20 percent of Angels' stock to the Golden West Broadcasting Co. The Autry-owned firm which Reynolds also helped found contract which expires at the end of the next season.

Harry Agganis Award To Harvard's McNally

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (UPI) — Wide receiver Pat McNally of Harvard Monday was named winner of the Harry Agganis award, symbolic of the top football player in New England. McNally, named to the Golden All America and the UPI All East team, caught 46 passes for 655 yards and eight touchdowns this season as Harvard took a share of the Ivy League crown with a 7-3 record. He also put 15 of 46 kickoffs into or out of the end zone and punted for 3 yards.

Cozza and Miller Honored For Fine Coaching Records

BOSTON (UPI) — Even a loss to Harvard failed to dim Yale coach Carmen Cozza's image around New England. Cozza, who led the Elis through eight undefeated games this season before a final-game heartbreaker at Harvard, has been honored by New England coaches for the second time as UPI Major Coach of the Year. The 1952 graduate of Miami of Ohio, "the cradle of coaches," put together the "most balanced Yale team in my 10 years." The Elis led the nation in scoring defense for much of the season with a 5.8 points-against average, before dropping to third with 7.4 points. Cozza, who also won UPI New England Coach of the Year in 1967, has compiled a 62-27-1 record in 10 seasons at New Haven. The 44-year-old Cozza began his coaching career as a freshman backfield assistant at Miami, after starting for three years as a quarterback and defensive back and pitcher and outfielder at the Ohio school. He signed a major league baseball contract with the Cleveland Indians upon graduation and played in the minor leagues for Cleveland and the Chicago White Sox. His first head coaching job came in 1955 at Cleveland's

Canadiens in Shutout

MONTREAL (UPI) — Montreal defenseman Larry Robinson scored the only goals in the Canadiens' 2-0 victory over the Atlanta Flames Monday night, but was more interested in discussing defense. "I was really concentrating on goals against, not on goals for. We've cut down on our goals against. It makes a difference when the forwards come back and check."

New Partnership Seeking Business

Manchester's newest investment partnership — which has been in business just two weeks — is already getting requests for loans and has placed its first second mortgage, according to the group's secretary.

The secretary, David A. Golas of Manchester, declined to reveal financial details of the partnership, but described the venture as a vehicle for investors to pool their money to get a better return.

Formation of the group — which consists of 30 persons, mostly Realtors and businessmen — began several months ago, Golas said. The formation became official last week with the filing of a trade name, Ho Mar Co., with the Manchester town clerk.

Other officers of the company are Anthony F. Pietrantonio, chairman, and Roger M. Negro, treasurer. Pietrantonio, a former town director, runs a printing business. Negro is town treasurer. Golas is an attorney.

Golas said the group is private and is not soliciting for other partners. Each partner in the company is an equal, he said, although each can invest as much as he wants to.

"The whole idea is to provide an opportunity for someone with limited funds to make a better investment than he could by putting money in the bank," Golas said.

Golas said an investment partnership isn't a new idea: There are already a few others in Manchester. Ho Mar Co. is primarily local — just two or three partners are from out of town, he said.

Other partners in the company are Joseph and Ruth Macri, John E. Hilditch, Richard H. Barry, Nicholas and Phyllis Jackson, Daniel P. Roark, John DiDonato, Robert F. Lauritsma.

Also, Elmer and Patricia Frechette, Rodrick and Theresa Frechette, Arthur H. Rovetti, Lucille H. Simon, Jerome I. Baskin, Robert B. Price, Robert W. Taylor, Dennis J. Mozer.

Also, Robert J. Tyska, William Mozer, Barbara Davidson, Stephen Cavallaro Jr., Joan Weiss, Francis J. Spiecki, and Joseph H. Tully.

Pioneer Reports A Loss

Pioneer Systems Inc. of Manchester (AMEX) has listed a net loss of $31,000 for the nine months ended Aug. 31, according to Pioneer President David Abrams interim report to stockholders.

For the same period of 1973, Pioneer showed net income of $29,000.

Abrams said net sales for the nine months of 1974 totaled $31,519,000, compared to $22,261,000 in the first nine months of 1973.

After provision for federal income tax ($980,000), a minority interest in subsidiaries ($260,000), and a $282,000 loss on a discontinued manufacturing operation, Pioneer chalked up the $31,000 loss.

The nine-month loss amounts to about one cent per share. Average number of shares outstanding in 1974 was 2,982,903. In 1973, the nine-month income amounted to 18 cents per share, on an average 2,878,000 shares outstanding.

The discontinued operations, Abrams said, involved the company's Dux-Set Processing subsidiary in Connecticut, which stopped operation in September.

This small plant had operated unprofitably for a number of months and conditions throughout the related local processing industry did not warrant further efforts or expenditures in this area," Abrams said.

Abrams said an inordinate tax burden which has adversely affected Pioneer's profit performance this year has been partially alleviated due to revision of corporate procedures.

State Offers Adults Toy Safety Booklet

By State Department Of Consumer Protection
"What You Should Know About Toys," a handbook for concerned adults, is available without charge and may be obtained from the State Consumer Protection Department.

The free booklet, written in both English and Spanish, describes federal and state government efforts to promote safety in connection with toys and contains a 15-point toy safety checklist.

The booklet gives guidelines for choosing holiday gifts for children. If you are buying for an infant or small child, make sure the toy you buy does not have detachable small parts that can lodge in the windpipe, ears or nostrils and does not have sharp edges or points or parts that can pinch fingers or toes or catch hair. Toys with parts that break easily or that have been put together with straight pins, sharp wires or nails should also be rejected.

Types of toys recommended by age groupings are listed under "Normally Safe, Sensible Selections" and hints are given for protecting children from other hazards in the home. The pamphlet includes notes about baby furniture, child car seats and a warning about lead poisoning from paint.

A sufficient supply of the booklets is on hand for individuals, organizations, clubs and libraries, upon request.

Address requests to "Toys," Department of Consumer Protection, State Office Building, Hartford 06115.

Questions concerning toy safety may be directed to the U.S. Consumer Product Safety Commission, Washington, D.C. 20507 by mail or by using their Safety Hot Line 1-800-638-2665 (toll-free).

Consumer information may be obtained from the state by dialing toll-free 1-800-842-2649.

B&M Railroad Shows a Profit

BOSTON (UPI) — The Boston and Maine Corp. reported net income — before extraordinary credits — of $158,689 for October, the fourth consecutive month the railroad has showed a profit, according to reorganization trustees.

Robert W. Meserve and Benjamin H. Lacy said the net income after credits of extraordinary items, such as outstanding local taxes, amounted to $3,194,546.

Can Be Harmful SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) - Hang the mistletoe high, out of the reach of children and pets, doctors at the University of California warned Sunday. The traditional holiday decoration has many medicinal qualities, but there is evidence that either or both leaves and berries can be harmful if eaten in quantity, according to medical experts. The parasitic mistletoe is found on a number of trees, including oak, elm, hickory, apple, pear and beeches.

Congress Overrides Veterans Bill Veto

WASHINGTON (UPI) - As even President Ford had anticipated, Congress has enacted over his veto a bill increasing Vietnam era veterans' educational benefits by nearly 23 per cent. Ford's veto was overridden Tuesday by overwhelming margins - 294-10 in the House and 90-1 in the Senate - despite his complaint the increase would be inflationary. He said he would have supported an 18 1/2 per cent boost in educational grants. Adds to Deficit In vetoing the measure before Thanksgiving, Ford realistically acknowledged that Congress would override him, but rejected the measure anyway to underscore his opposition to inflationary government spending. He said the bill would add more than half a billion to the federal deficit. Charges were traded, meanwhile, between the White House and Congress on who is guilty of inaction. On Monday Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., said Ford should have let Force One in its hangar and spend more time on domestic problems. President Press Secretary Ron Nessen replied Tuesday that members of Congress should "put their air travel card in mothballs" and enact Ford's economic program. In other congressional actions: -House and Senate negotiators broke a deadlock threatened to kill a bill regulating strip mining. The measure had been sought by environmentalists for four years, but a coal industry spokesman predicted the compromise would increase electric utility fuel costs by 55 per cent. -The House gave final legislative approval to a bill to set federal safety standards for household drinking water. It would give the Environmental Protection Agency power to assure compliance with the standards if state and local governments fail to act. The House accepted a Senate amendment to allow private citizens to file court suits against local water utilities. Expand Committee -House Democrats, meeting in caucus to organize for the 94th Congress, voted to expand the Ways and Means Committee from 25 to 37 members - assuring liberals a bigger voice on tax, trade, welfare, Social Security matters. The veterans' education bill which now becomes law increased benefits for an unmarried veteran from $220 to $270 a month, for a married veteran with no children from $261 to $321 and proportionately for those with children.

Lack of Operating Funds May Close Hope Manor

By ALICE EVANS

New Hope Manor, which has received an "overwhelming" response from the public since its financial problems were first reported on Oct. 17 in The Herald, may still be forced to close because of lack of operating expenses.

As of today, New Hope can meet its payroll Friday, but has no operating funds, and unless the state comes through with more money or some miracle happens, New Hope may be forced to close, according to Mrs. Mary Patterson, president of its board of directors.

Budget Explained New Hope, with a budget of $10,000 a month, will receive about $4,300 a month from the state Department of Mental Health, but will have to raise the remaining $5,700 by fees, and private and business donations, which is impossible.

Robert Berman, director of the rehabilitation center, said. The December check from the state department has not arrived, and New Hope has about $4,000 in back bills to pay as well as meet its current operating expenses, which have been cut to the bone, Berman said.

Discrimination Alleged The state Department of Children and Youth Services says that New Hope discriminates, and will not allocate funds for the rehabilitation center unless it expands from its present 15 residents to 25, and wants it to be co-educational such as the Adolescent Drug Rehabilitation Unit in Meriden.

"We have a very successful program for girls, and the Meriden unit has had up to eight runaways in one day," Mrs. Patterson said. "We can't expand or go co-ed in our present building. We don't have money to operate to say nothing of expanding, and there is no agreement from the state that funds will be provided if New Hope expands or goes co-ed," she said.

Licensing Paper Work -New Hope has asked for educational support from the state, but the application for a state license is bogged down in paper work, and we have not had a site visit by the state to see our program. "To receive funds from the Welfare Department, we need to lease a fire alarm system which is connected directly to the fire department. This costs $900 plus a maintenance fee of $35, which we don't have. We have applied to the Hartford (See Page Eighteen)

Six Youths Charged In Csatory Slaying

Hartford Police have arrested six youths in connection with the Monday afternoon slaying of a Manchester man at a city heating and plumbing supply company.

Michael Bailey, 16, and Edward Haugabook, 17, both of Hartford, are being held on $10,000 bonds each in the case. Four other males - all juveniles from Hartford - have been referred to juvenile authorities. Names of the four, all under age 16, were not disclosed.

All six are charged with murder, first-degree robbery, and conspiracy. The charges stem from a 3 p.m. incident Monday in which Joseph Csatory, 56, of Manchester, was shot and killed.

The six youths were taken into custody by Hartford Police Tuesday afternoon and evening. Bailey and Haugabook were arraigned in court this morning. Hartford Police said they were able to make arrests in the case rapidly because of considerable overtime work and tough interrogation of several suspects. "We got right on it," one officer said, "so the leads didn't get cold."

Csatory, a 27-year employe of Pilemont and Hills Corp. at 151 Earle St. in Hartford, was shot and killed as he apparently surprised one of the youths trying to pry open a vending machine at the business. Csatory was found in a stock aisle by a fellow employe and was dead on arrival at University-McCook Hospital. Police said he died from wounds from a small caliber weapon.

Police said the slaying came as part of a conspiracy to rob the firm. The shooting incident apparently ended the robbery attempt and nothing was taken. (See Page Eighteen)

Miss Graves Promoted

Miss Patricia Graves, youth services officer for the Manchester Police Department since July 1972, today was reclassified a sergeant in charge of both youth services and police-community relations. Police Chief James Reardon, making the announcement this morning, said Miss Graves will continue to work within the department's detective bureau. She has been receiving sergeant's pay since 1972 and no increase was made.

Miss Graves, 37, of 119 N. Elm St., joined the department as its first policewoman in May 1968. A native of Dresden, Ohio, she came to Manchester in 1962. She is a graduate of Connecticut's Municipal Police Training Academy, the law enforcement school at Manchester Community College, and the federal Bureau of Narcotics and Dangerous Drugs training school.

Miss Graves is past president of the Policewoman's Association of Connecticut. She has been active in local drug counseling and child guidance service programs. Reclassification of Miss Graves as head of a combined youth services and community relations division is expected to be the start of police expansion of both programs, although Reardon said today he wasn't sure of future programs.

This was the scene at the rear of the Scuffly Pet Center at the Manchester Shopping Parkade Tuesday night after police surprised two men trying to steal a safe (foreground) and exchanged gunfire with the burglars. Manchester forces, aided by State Police, mounted a three-hour search but the men escaped.

Police Exchange Fire With Burglary Suspects

By DOUG BEVINS

Two men attempting a burglary at the Manchester Shopping Parkade Tuesday night exchanged gunfire with police but managed to escape on foot despite a lengthy search by local and State Police. Manchester Police Chief James Reardon said today his men are following up several leads in the incident and are seeking a black male and a white male in connection with the shooting.

Windshield Shattered The windshield of a police cruiser was shattered by a shotgun blast and Patrolman Phillip Robertson was the target of other handgun fire in the 11 p.m. incident, police said. Robertson was not injured in the shooting; he later reported a nicked finger.

Reardon described the incident as follows: Robertson was on routine patrol at the shopping center at about 11 p.m. and was checking the rear of stores in the Broad St. Parkade section.

As Robertson drove around the corner of the buildings, he saw a black male bending down near the back door of the Scuffly Pet Center, 230 Broad St., who was apparently carrying something.

Object Dropped The black man dropped the object, came up with a shotgun, and fired at Robertson's cruiser, shattering the windshield. Robertson got out of his car, dropped to the ground, and saw a white male emerge from the pet shop. Both men then ran across a brook toward St. James Cemetery.

Robertson alerted Police Headquarters by radio and then gave chase. As the officer followed, the black man turned and attempted to fire his shotgun at Robertson. Police recovered the shotgun and a safe from the pet shop which the two men were apparently trying to remove. It wasn't known whether anything was stolen from the store.

Partly sunny today with highs in the high 20s and low 30s. Northwesterly winds 15 to 20 mph. Clear and cold tonight with lows 5 to 10 and northwesterly winds 10 mph. Thursday fair followed by increasing cloudiness and continued cold with highs in the upper 20s to 30s. Chance of rain near zero through Thursday.

Manchester Police Detective Robert Hennequin examines police cruiser windshield shattered by shotgun blast in Tuesday night's incident at Manchester Shopping Parkade. Patrolman Phillip Robertson, who was on routine patrol in the car when he spotted suspicious activity, wasn't hurt. (Burkamp photo)

You may be working for a Connecticut insurance company without even knowing it.

Apart from the 47,500 Connecticut people whose paychecks are being signed by an insurance company, tens of thousands of other people owe at least part of their salaries to the fact that Connecticut's insurance industry spends so much money on goods and services throughout the State.

For instance, our purchases in just one business, Connecticut's printing industry, account for one out of every ten jobs in that business. And, when it comes to services like banking, real estate, and the professions, Connecticut's Insurance Companies are responsible for four out of every ten salaries. It all adds up to the fact that about 115,000 people - roughly 10% of the State's working force - are being supported by jobs linked, one way or another, to the insurance industry.

This very significant stabilizing influence we bring to our State's employment picture is proof, once again, that the Insurance Companies of Connecticut are doing a lot more for the people of our State than just selling insurance.

IAC INSURANCE ASSOCIATION OF CONNECTICUT 60 Washington Street, Hartford, Connecticut 06106
