Yolla Niclas To Present New Book

Yolla Niclas, noted author-photographer, will be guest at Meet the Author Night Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. at the First Federal Savings of East Hartford.
She will present her new book, "White Tails and Green Clover," copies of which have just been received.
"White Tails and Green Clover" is a book for children, yet one which may also be enjoyed by adults, for its message is universal, says the author.
The story is about a family of little white rabbits who lived in Wickham Park in East Hartford near where Miss Niclas lives on Burnside Ave. It tells of a mother rabbit, who has five baby rabbits and risks a supreme sacrifice for the naughtiest one of the offspring.
Introduction of the book will be shared by the author's husband, Rudolf Sachs, a retired professor from Manchester Community College.
Fifty advance copies of the book will be available for purchase Tuesday night. The author will personally autograph the copies sold.
The public is invited. Entrance to the main office of the bank at 117 Main St., East Hartford, is by the rear door.

IT'S OUR POLICY

By Ray Tangany, C.I.U.
CERTIFIED INSURANCE CONSULTANT
Actual cash value - It's on your insurance policy. What does it mean?
Generally, actual value means the replacement cost of property at the time of loss, less depreciation. It does not cover increase in worth because of sentimental or historical value.
Actual cash value determines the amount of insurance you need to cover a loss. What was enough last year may no longer be adequate to replace today.
Cash value and market value are closely related, since market value takes into account the value of land in addition to an owner's government, school system, desirability, etc.
In order to get replacement costs, most homeowners policies require that you carry coverage up to at least 80% of your property's value. If you don't meet the 80% figure, you will gain actual cash value coverage, but the benefits of replacement cost coverage.
For straightforward answers bring your insurance questions to

Freeway Named For President

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich. (UPI) - The Gerald R. Ford Freeway, first public facility to be named for the President, will be dedicated Wednesday in ceremonies near his hometown.
The $105 million freeway, which extends from Grand Rapids southwest to Interstate 94 north of Benton Harbor, will be identified by large yellow and blue signs - the colors of Ford's alma mater, the University of Michigan.
The most recently completed 24-mile stretch of road, running from Grandville southwest to the existing freeway near Holland, passes through the congressional district Ford represented for 25 years.
It will be open to traffic for the first time immediately after the 11 a.m. ceremony at the 4th street interchange in Grandville.
The president will not attend the dedication. He will be represented by his three brothers, Thomas, Richard and James.

Manchester Evening Herald OPINION Off to a Good Start

We are encouraged by Gov-elect Ella Grasso's willingness to send the budget preparers for the various state agencies back to the drawing boards for another look at their figures.

Her request at the State Education Department indicates that she is determined to see that the eventual state budget contains only what can be readily justified as absolutely essential.

Delicate Diplomatic Path

President Ford's proposed visit to China in 1975 will continue the policy set by former President Nixon in his historic visit to the country which has been one of our ideological enemies since the ouster of Chiang Kai Shek and his flight to refuge in Taiwan.

There are mutual possibilities of trade existing between the two nations, even though our ideological differences remain.

We can offer China much in the way of technological progress, machine tools and other means of becoming the great nation which should be its potential.

There are other considerations, however, which may be even of more primacy. The leaders of Communist China are of advanced age. Mao Tse Tung is rarely seen these days, and it is reported that more and more his wife is developing as the philosophical leader and director of the Communist party.

Premier Chou En Lai has undergone severe surgery and is reported to have recuperated sufficiently to make an occasional public appearance.

Inevitably time will bring new rulers to China. A policy on our part that is amicable may make us friends with this new leadership as it arises.

And, of course, much of this depends on how the transition of power takes place. If it is peaceful and orderly our chances of a developing rapport will undoubtedly be enhanced.

China undoubtedly has large deposits of oil and gas and possibly uranium which may contribute to the world's energy supply.

ment or elimination of programs and projects which may have value but which the state cannot afford at this time.

If Mrs. Grasso continues in her determination to prune back budget requests and resists demands for more spending, despite pressures from within and without state government, we are confident that when the final budget is formulated it will go to the legislature and the people with at least one strike in its favor, credibility.

We are aware of the governor-elect is committed to live within the state's current sources of income. We are aware this income can be adversely affected by events over which she or any governor has no control.

This is why it is imperative that she present a no-nonsense, no-fat, state budget for the coming fiscal year.

We think she is off to an excellent start.

Favorable trade arrangements with the United States could put us in the position of having access to it.

However desirable these goals may be, our greatest contribution in the area may be in keeping a peace and order between Russia and Manchuria.

There has been a deep cleavage in the Communist ideology between the two countries.

The choice of Vladivostok for the Ford-Brezhnev meeting was probably more than coincidental, since the Russian seaport is relatively close to the Chinese boundary.

Also the follow up visit of Secretary Kissinger to China, after the Russian meeting, was an assurance to China that our intentions towards them was equally as well motivated as those towards Russia.

We are somewhat in the position of a person who is friendly to two others who are enemies. We have to assure each that we are not taking sides against the other.

If our pursuance of this role can relax the tenseness which exists between the Russians and Chinese, it will be a project worth pursuit.

If, at the same time, it can bring about a greater flow of trade between the United States and China and the United States and Russia, it will be of world benefit.

It is a delicate diplomatic path for us to tread but the possible gains are so great that it is worthwhile.

A Sell Out

To the editor: What is going on? We the American people have now promised Japan a steady supply of food.

First Nixon sold us out to Russia, China and now Ford is selling us out to Japan.

We gave Japan scrap metal to wage war on us, now we give them food to wage starvation on us.

Again I would like to know what is going on? Welland A. Cole 49 Birch St. Manchester

Thanks To the editor: At this time of giving thanks, I'd like to thank the history, Mr. Jackson and his staff, who find these terrific and diversified books; who open to us windows on the world, new viewpoints, understanding, and sheer entertainment.

We think she is off to an excellent start.

There is much talk today about freedom. Everybody values freedom. Everybody wants to be free. Or so it seems.

There is only one true freedom, that is freedom to belong to God. In belonging to God, in giving ourselves over to Him and His Way, is the real freedom.

Think about this today; more so this tomorrow. Dr. George W. Webb South United Methodist Church

ALMANAC

By United Press International Today is Monday, Dec. 9, the 343rd day of 1974 with 22 to follow.

The moon is approaching its new phase. The morning stars are Mercury, Mars and Saturn.

The evening stars are Venus and Jupiter. Those born on this date are under the sign of Sagittarius.

English poet John Milton was born Dec. 9, 1608. This also is the birthday of crackpots Kirk Douglas (1918), Broderick Crawford (1911) and Douglas Fairbanks Jr. (1909).

On this day in history: In 1793, Noah Webster founded the American Minerva, the first daily newspaper in New York City.

NEW YORK — We are all, I fear, having a field day with the follies of Wilbur Mills. There is hardly anyone in the nation who isn't having an orgy of finger-wagging because this once sensible and self-controlled man has taken leave of his senses and shown himself something of a fool, if not a very sick man.

His fellow Democrats in Congress are understandably angry because he showed up on stage in reorganizing the Ways and Means Committee, the broad support they have given to the move to oust Mills as committee chairman.

As a case history in the rise and fall of the man of power, the Wilbur Mills story is about the building up of authority and command, and the loss of both. Mills got to the top of the congressional heap because he worked hard and knew what he was talking about, but mainly because he was playing the role of a tough and strong.

He became a legendary figure — the man who pulled all the congressional strings, the guardian of the nation's purse who held the pass against crackpots, liberals and other intruders, the Democrat who assigned other Democrats to lesser committees, the man who could bottle up a financial proposal or give it a chance to survive.

Such a man was like a general of an army in the field who clearly possessed and used command and who had an aura of authority around his head. But when a general shows himself a fool and makes a public display of his weakness, he might as well turn in his insignia. He has had it.

Command and authority are highly intangible qualities. They come not with an office but with a person. They are part of a mystique attaching to him. But the very fact that Mills had that mystique, and used it for his own power and the power of his committee, made him all the more vulnerable when he fell victim to an outbreak of human weakness and absurdity.

All congressmen are human, but some are supposed to be less so than others. Mills rode herd on Congress so hard and so long that some of the more ludicrous expressions of human weakness — like playing the role of a nightclub cowboy, getting involved in nocturnal brawls,

To Our Problems Make-Work No Answer

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — We have now reached the height of economic absurdity. To reduce demand and fight inflation, Arthur Burns and the Federal Reserve tightened the money supply so drastically that industries retrenched and huge numbers of men and women are thrown from work.

To remedy this tragedy, President Ford and Congress propose an expensive public service program and extended unemployment benefits to increase demand. This will, of course, act to keep prices up.

The net result is that hundreds of thousands of men and women are being removed from work aimed at turning out goods needed to end the scarcities which cause inflation and are forced to be non-producing consumers, destroying their self respect.

A multimillion dollar public service program will inevitably be a monstrous bureaucratic boondoggle like the WPA of depression we would like to forget. Administration officials speak confidently of recent experiments with small-scale public service projects. They forget small-scale models usually succeed because of the special attention they receive and the dedication of those running the trial.

In this regard, note that half of those unemployed in any one month today are employed the next month. The average length of unemployment is around 10 weeks.

Curiously, President Ford and Congress are ignoring the obvious approach. Hundreds of thousands of jobs are now going begging because there's a shortage of men and women with the required training, because the jobs are in one state and the qualified job hunter in another or because the man or woman looking for work has not heard of the opening. Note also that a man or woman skilled in one occupation in one state may be in another or because the man or woman looking for work has not heard of the opening.

That may have been Mills problem. Somewhere after the midway of his life he must have found that, power over others isn't enough to build a life on. He had done very little self-exploring and too much repression of the strong human drives. When he discovered another world, very different from his power world — one which other men have been able to handle — he found himself overwhelmed by it.

We will do ill to bound him too hard. He cannot exercise the high responsibilities of great power, but he is a man of gifts and talents who can in time find himself and become well again.

showing up publicly at stripper joints — were fatal to him. We must grant every man and woman — including every congressman — a right to lead his own life and the right to go to heaven or hell in his own way. But if he chooses a very public way, shows atrocious judgment and makes an idiot of himself, his fellow congressmen have a right to step in because the credibility of Congress with the people is imperiled. If you have spent your life building up power and believing in it, you have to take the consequences of what happens when the personality behind the power crumbles.

That may have been Mills problem. Somewhere after the midway of his life he must have found that, power over others isn't enough to build a life on. He had done very little self-exploring and too much repression of the strong human drives. When he discovered another world, very different from his power world — one which other men have been able to handle — he found himself overwhelmed by it.

We will do ill to bound him too hard. He cannot exercise the high responsibilities of great power, but he is a man of gifts and talents who can in time find himself and become well again.

So we don't know where we are or where we are going.

Coed's Weekend Campaigning Wins Seat in House

By PETER A. BROWN SOUTH HADLY, Mass. (UPI) — Weekend travels are traditional for New England college students, but not the type that led Katie Hanna down the campaign trail to the New Hampshire legislature and a victory over two incumbents, one her high school principal.

Actually, Ms. Hanna, 21, a senior at Mt. Holyoke College, one of the academically prestigious Seven Sisters, is used to it. Last year, while her classmates were off on social visits, she made weekly treks home in a longshot campaign that saw her beat Keene, N.H.'s mayor for a delegate spot to the state constitutional convention.

Before that she was a delegate to the 1972 Democratic National Convention. Nevertheless, when the state House of Representatives convened in January, she'll look like everyone's little sister among a group of older men.

A liberal Democrat in a staunchly conservative GOP state, she apparently won by taking her cue from Sens. George S. McGovern D-S.D. and Eugene McCarthy D-Minn., who scored impressively in the 1972 and 1968 presidential primaries respectively through grassroots campaigning.

New Hampshire, with the largest legislature in the Western Hemisphere, and the smallest legislative districts, may be one of the few places where she was able to meet her campaign goal of knocking over seven voters' doors.

"The original plan was for me to run as the good kid down the block and win on my smile," she said. "After a while, however, I couldn't stand it so I started talking issues."

Ms. Hanna, who stressed land use planning and tax relief for the elderly in the only state in the nation without sales or income levies, said that most voters didn't want to talk issues. Others, she said, only wanted to discuss her age and sex.

It was at the constitutional convention, to which she was sent by a 5-1 margin over Keene Mayor James A. Mastiello, that she argued successfully for an 18-year-old age requirement for gubernatorial candidates.

The resulting publicity, plus that given the nation's second youngest 1972 Democratic convention delegate, made some constituents wary, she said. She dealt with the problem by stressing the contributions a young woman could make in a male dominated body whose members averaged 67 years of age during the last session.

"People just kept telling me politics was a dirty business and wanted to know when I was going to get married and settle down," she said. "A lot of them seemed amused by me."

Many more, however, apparently were impressed. She won handily, getting almost twice the votes of one incumbent, who also won election from the two-delegate district, and burying a three-term lawmaker who was her high school principal when she got her political start as student government president.

Part of the explanation, she said, lies in the Granite State's politics and its voters. "Some people said that even though they didn't agree with my views on some things, I deserved the job because of the work I put in," she said.

Town Welcomes First Federal

Despite rainy weather, a large crowd turned out Saturday for the grand opening of the first Manchester office of First Federal Savings and Loan Association of East Hartford. Bank business was good on the first day, local manager Robert Bonner said, and about 150 to 200 persons opened savings accounts at the branch at 344 W. Middle Tpk.

Nuclear Stations May Be Approved

WASHINGTON (UPI) - The Atomic Energy Commission (AEC) has decided a construction permit for the Public Service Co. of New Hampshire to build two nuclear power stations in Seabrook, N.H., could be issued, with certain conditions. The AEC's directorate of licensing said its environmental statement on the nuclear power stations was not a final licensing action. The AEC board must first conduct a public hearing on environmental, health and safety matters. The conditions stipulated include a provision for natural draft towers to cool condenser water discharges, in case the cooling system doesn't meet the standards of the federal water pollution control act. Steam from the proposed nuclear generator will be cooled by water taken and returned from the Gulf of Maine.

Backdrop for the opening events was the St. Patrick's Pipe Band of Manchester, which marched through the office playing a number of songs. Another highlight of the celebration was a "live" broadcast by Radio Station WINF from the branch lobby. WINF's Jeff Jacobs was on the air as sportscaster George Ehrlich talked sports with the crowd.

Short Flights Doomed?

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (UPI) - An aeronautics expert at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology says that fuel shortages may force the nation's air transportation system into making major changes, including the virtual abandonment of short-haul air service. Joseph V. Vittek Jr., an assistant professor of aeronautics and astronautics, says fuel savings through new technology might cut U.S. airline fuel needs in half by the year 2000. But he warned that the government's major technological efforts in the near future will most likely be directed at fuel savings for automobiles. And if the investment in aircraft technology isn't made, energy shortages may eventually hurt the industry, Vittek said. The air system "as we know it today will change and short-haul service will be virtually eliminated," he said. "Only with adequate planning will viable short-haul alternatives be available and the long-haul air system preserved."

Antitrust Suit Names Polaroid

BOSTON (UPI) - Avant Inc. of Lincoln, Mass., has filed a federal antitrust suit against Polaroid Corp., seeking to force the film company to give up its instant photo identification card business.

Avant, which claims to be Polaroid's only competitor in the instant I.D. field, also asked the U. S. District Court to force Polaroid to pay damages estimated at $5 million to $10 million, and to order mandatory industry-wide, royalty-free licensing of all Polaroid's instant film patents and know-how in order to enable manufacture of instant film by other manufacturers. The suit charged Polaroid with monopolizing the field by using profits from its patented instant film to sell its I.D. film and manufacturing equipment at below cost, thereby cornering 98 per cent of the market.

Caldor Gains

Caldor Inc., a Norwalk-based chain of 33 department stores, has reported a 92.3 per cent gain in net income for the third quarter ended Oct. 26. Sales during the quarter went ahead 17 per cent.

Income for the three-month period totaled $89,651 (26 cents per share), compared to last year's $82,361 (21 cents per share). Sales for the third quarter of 1974 were about $46.4 million, compared to about $39.8 million in the third quarter of 1973.

During the last five weeks, Caldor has opened new stores at Yacktown, N.Y., Trumbull, Conn., and Methuen and Burlington, Mass.

House Considers Job Legislation

WASHINGTON (UPI) - Legislation went to the House today to extend unemployment compensation benefits an additional 13 weeks for workers in areas hard-hit by layoffs caused by recession and double-digit inflation. The measure would put an estimated $1 billion into the hands of the jobless who have exhausted their current unemployment benefits. The House also will consider an emergency bill later this week that would create a $4 billion public service jobs program. President Ford has proposed his own $2.5 billion temporary job program.

The Senate has yet to begin consideration of either measure, but both are expected to pass before Congress adjourns. The House will also debate compromise legislation designed to force strip mine operators to restore the land after it is mined; a Senate-passed bill authorizing $2.7 billion in economic aid to U.S. allies and a bill to exempt from taxation the first $500 of interest earned by depositors in bank and savings and loan accounts. The Senate is expected to vote Tuesday to confirm

Heads Chapter

James N. Britton of 74 Timber Trail, Manchester, has been elected president of the New York chapter of the National Association of Service Managers.

Britton, also a member of the association's national board of directors, previously served as vice president of the chapter. He is employed by Stanadyne Corp. as service manager and is responsible for all service of its diesel engine products.

The National Association of Service Managers was organized to raise the level of product service management and to provide a forum for professional managers in the field, through national conferences and regional seminars.

The New York chapter, one of ten chapters in the U.S., has more than 90 members in the Northeast.

Promoted

Hartford National Bank and Trust Co. has named Bruce L. MacLean commercial banking manager of its East Hartford office, 1055 Main St.

MacLean came to HNB as a management trainee in 1969 and was an officer's assistant at the First Manchester office until he became manager of HNB's Silver Lane office in East Hartford in 1972.

A 1967 graduate of Bowdoin College, he is now attending the Williams College School of Banking.

A former Manchester resident, MacLean now lives in East Hartford.

Andover Gets First Bank As SBM Opens 10th Branch

The tenth office of The Savings Bank of Manchester opened Saturday morning in the Andover Shopping Center, on Rt. 6. The opening marks the first time banking services have been made available in Andover.

First Selectman David Yeomans performed the traditional ribbon-cutting at 9 a.m. Officers, directors and staff welcomed visitors to the new office.

The opening celebration, which will continue through Dec. 24, will be highlighted by a daily drawing at noon for an AM/PM portable radio. On Saturday, Dec. 21, a Grand Prize Drawing for a RCA Color TV will be held.

First-day visitors to the new banking office received free gifts. Depositors to new accounts will also receive a choice of free gifts during the opening celebration.

The Andover Office will be open Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, and Friday from noon to 6 p.m. Thursday hours will be from noon to 8 p.m. On Saturdays, the bank will be open from 9 a.m. to noon.

Carol Houghton, an Andover resident, who is assistant treasurer of the bank, will also serve as branch manager. She will be assisted by Ruth Hutchinson and Bonnie Eells, both of Andover.

Mrs. Houghton, who joined the bank full time in 1965, is a graduate of Windham High School. She has completed the AIB course in home lending mortgages and is presently attending the Connecticut School of Savings Banking. She is a member of the Republican Town Committee of Andover and served as treasurer of the PTO of Rhom High School. She and her family live on Pine Ridge Dr., Andover.

Everett J. Livesey, president of The Savings Bank of Manchester, said, "We are very happy to be able to offer residents of the Andover area the bank's complete savings and lending services. We have designed the hours of this new office to accommodate shoppers and those people who commute to Hartford each day. We look forward to getting to know our new friends personally and invite everyone to come in and register for our prize drawings."

The bank has six offices in Manchester. Other offices serve East Hartford, South Windsor and Bolton.

Robert Fuller, an Andover resident and a director of the Savings Bank of Manchester, took out the first account in the bank's Andover branch when it opened Saturday morning. Assisting him is Carol Houghton, also an Andover resident and manager of the new branch. (Herald photo by Dunn)

Town Offices To Be Filled

The terms of members of various boards and commissions will expire within the next month and persons will have to be reappointed or appointed to the Conservation Commission, Board of Health, Board of Welfare, Recreation Commission and the Pension Board.

Any persons who would like to be reappointed may contact his respective town committee; the corresponding secretary of the Town Council, Al Corilli; or the town clerk, Elizabeth Ryching.

While nominations will be received from the political town committees, unaffiliated voters or any interested persons may contact the council or the town clerk directly.

Two members of the Zoning Board of Appeals, Charles Popple, Democrat and Marilyn Richardson, Republican, have sent letters of resignation to the town clerk.

Popple was recently elected to the position of Probate Judge and Mrs. Richardson was appointed to the Planning and Zoning Commission as an alternate member.

Section 2-5 of the Town Charter provides that when a person vacating an office has been elected to a member of a political party the vacancy must be filled by the appointment of a person of the same political party.

A group of high school parents and students met recently at the high school to discuss issues of concern. Joseph Fleming, principal, and Michael Landolph, athletic director, were also at the meeting.

The group reviewed how the smoking situation is being handled. They discussed a proposal by the students of allowing seniors to use the smoking area during their study halls.

Fleming will recommend to the Board of Education that seniors be allowed to use the smoking area during their study hall periods.

Landolph asked if the school could hold three sports nights during the year to recognize all students who participate in school sports.

Petition Suggests Plaza As Community Center Site

And you thought Plum Guiley Park was over with?

Not if the South Windsor Town Council can be convinced that a local man's petition to convert the Sullivan Ave. Shopping Plaza into a Community Center and Library is feasible.

While town officials believe that the shopping plaza is not for sale, they must still satisfy the question of the feasibility of a petition presented by Stephen F. Cooney, 121 Maskel Rd. at the council's last meeting.

Even if the shopping center is for sale, and even if it would serve as a Plum Guiley Park in dispute, next to be determined is if the costs of the purchase and renovation of the plaza exceed the $1.3 million referendum which was defeated last June 15.

In that referendum, which called for a library, and community center to be erected on town-owned property, voters defeated the issue by almost 200 votes.

The Town Council's Capital Improvements Committee will study the aspects of Cooney's petition, and report to council Dec. 16.

Mayor Robert J. Smith said that Cooney's question about the plaza was one the mayor himself had discussed with other council members earlier this year. However, while the mayor did not go into detail on his discoveries surrounding the feasibility, he implied the project could cost more than last summer's referendum.

The council is still bound to study a petition presented to it, even if the matter is one that has been discussed in the past.

Road Closed

Pierce Rd. in South Windsor will be closed to through traffic for the next three weeks, due to the reconstruction of the Podunk River Bridge.

The reconstruction will involve excavation of the roadway's full width, therefore prohibiting passage to all traffic.

Past experience has indicated that some motorists ignore road closing signs and therefore Pierce Rd. will be well marked and protected by mounds of dirt on both sides, officials said.

The reconstruction is part of the total reconstruction of Pierce Rd. from Ellington to Strong Rd.

South Windsor Sewer Commission will meet Tuesday at 8 p.m. in the Town Hall.

Play

South Windsor Eli Terry School sixth graders will present their production of "The Littlest Angel" Thursday, Dec. 19 at 7 p.m. in the school auditorium. Santa Claus will also visit with children in the audience.

Throughout this month the Hartford Stage Co. will present "The Clown's Corner" to school children in South Windsor the play is sponsored by the local Cultural Arts Committee.

The state company will perform for second, third and fourth graders.

Jaycee Wives To Give Party For New Year

VERNON
The Greater Vernon Jaycee Wives will sponsor a New Year's Eve party at the Armory on West St., Rockville, starting at 9 p.m.

The evening will feature a buffet and dancing to the music of the Irene Paul Orchestra. The donation will be $25 a couple with all proceeds to go to local charities.

Anyone wishing to make reservations or having questions concerning the affair should call Mrs. Anne Marie Caposeta, 872-2925, Mrs. Helen Cote, 872-4707, or Mrs. Carol Tedoldi, 872-2263.

Auxiliary Party

The auxiliary of Deborah-Labac-Hansen Unit 14, American Legion, will hold its Christmas party and gift exchange, Dec. 18 at 8 p.m. at the Post Home, West St., Rockville.

Chamber Meeting

The Board of Directors of the Rockville Area Chamber of Commerce will meet Dec. 11 at noon at Steve & Tom's, West Rd. Shopping Plaza.

Anyone interested in becoming a candidate in this election should contact either Richard Barry, chairman of the nominating committee, 648-4364.

People who have never held an office in town before should not hesitate to call. The prime motive for becoming a candidate in the upcoming or other election is an interest in town and community affairs.

Football Banquet

The junior and senior boys football banquet will be held Dec. 18 at 8:30 p.m. at the Bolton Congregational Church educational building.

For the potluck supper each family involved will be asked to bring a dish to serve eight people and to make a donation of $2 to cover expenses.

Chairman of the banquet is Betty Jensen.

For the first time in the history of football in Bolton, the banquet will have as its master of ceremonies Bulldog player Randall Flah.

Championship jackets will be awarded to members of the undefeated Bulldogs.

Guests expected at the banquet include Marshall Taylor, commissioner of the Eastern Conference; Michael Pory, Football League; Randall Flah, deputy commissioner; and Larry Navaux, University of Connecticut head football coach.

Contracts for all equipment were awarded to Industrial Safety Supply. A breakdown of prices follows: four pairs of boots at $34.76 a pair, four coats at $66.25 each, and $120 for the hose for a total of $404.04.

The equipment is expected in about three months.

Lawrence Shaw, fire chief, is checking into various types of helmets and glasses needed by the volunteers. He is also checking the price of gloves.

Rattazzi picked up two spare Scott air tank packs for the department.

Shaw, fire commissioner, is checking into the cost of three 7 1/2-volt hand lights and 200 feet of electrical cord with a dozen spare sockets and plugs.

New locks for doors at the firehouse have been purchased.

Siren Out of Order

Rattazzi reported to the commissioners that the siren on West St. is out of order. Raymond Soman, fire commissioner chairman, is checking into having it repaired.

Dog Warden Fees Set

The Board of Selectmen has established a fee schedule for the town dog warden, effective Dec. 3, but postponed a decision on the door-to-door dog survey required by the state.

Selectmen rescinded a previous motion charging dog owners a boarding fee of $3 a day in addition to redemption fee of $5. Twenty-four hours after a dog is advertised or the owner is notified of a dog's boarding fees is charged in addition to the $5 redemption fee, the board decided.

The town will reimburse Dog Warden Walter Kokoszka $35 a month rent for the pound on his property. Selectmen also voted to pay $5 for every complaint and $5 to take an animal to the veterinarian. They also voted to eliminate the $10.50 a month for gas.

Selectmen said the dog warden was sent a budget request form before the annual town meeting on the dog warden's behalf. However he requested no increase.

Kokoszka told the selectmen last month he would resign if they did not set a fee schedule. He has been dog warden since 1960.

Lionel Jean, a member of the Citizens Advisory Group that worked with DevCo during the planning process for DevCo's proposed new community, spoke against the new community at a press conference held on Saturday by the Anti-DevCo coalition.

Jean said, "It is too big. It would upset the whole area. Not only Coventry but the surrounding towns as well. If we grow ten thousand in the next ten years we won't be able to keep up with it. We would have to have sewers, roads and schools. In the last 15 years we have grown by 2,000 people. We have had our problems but we have been barely able to solve them. How can we provide services for the new community? I haven't talked to one person that favors this."

In speaking of the Citizens Advisory Group Jean said, "We were listened to but if it made any difference or not I don't know. I don't know what Process' motives were in coming to Coventry. I know there are advantages in every thing but the advantages of this new community didn't outweigh the disadvantages. I don't see any advantage of putting a large group of people in one area. We don't have the highways to move all these people from Point A to Point B.

"One of my other concerns is that if we build this new community we would lose the sense of community that we presently have. When you have a small community you have that need to work together."

Robert (Skip) Walsh, representative-elect from the 3rd District, said that he is sending a letter to Gov.-Elect

The Planning and Zoning Commission will decide tonight whether to hire additional consultants to help in the review of the DevCo proposed addition to the zoning regulations which would allow a Planned Community Zone.

Other items on the agenda include the zone change request of Albert Lindsay for his property on the corner of Rt. 31 and 44A, and impact statement requirements and the roadside shelters.

The Conservation Commission will meet at 7:30 p.m. tonight and will devote the first portion of its meeting to a discussion, input or complaints from residents.

The commission will also discuss the proposed DevCo new community regulations.

To Fill Vacancy

The Democratic Town Committee will meet tomorrow night at 8 p.m. in the Board Room of the Town Hall to fill a vacancy on the town committee and to select the candidate to be recommended to the Board of Education to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of Robert (Skip) Walsh.

The committee must also select candidates to recommend to the Town Council for appointment to the Board of Health and the Sewer Commission.

Fuel Price Violations Alleged by Sen. Ribicoff

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A federal report has found violations of the Federal Energy Administration's price policies that amounted to as much as $2 billion at the oil refinery level alone, according to Sen. Abraham A. Ribicoff, D-Conn.

Ribicoff said Sunday the report by the General Accounting Office, which he requested, showed major problems with the FEA's enforcement of oil price regulations.

Ribicoff is chairman of the Senate subcommittee on reorganization, research and international organizations, which scheduled a hearing for Wednesday on the GAO findings of price violations at all levels of the oil industry.

"In these times of skyrocketing oil prices and industry profits, there is no excuse for the public being subjected to illegal overcharges by the oil industry," Ribicoff said.

He had concluded from the report that government cannot assure consumers they are not being overcharged for gasoline, home heating fuel and other oil products, Ribicoff said.

The GAO said it could not arrive at a complete estimate of industry overcharges because the FEA produced an incomplete audit and denied the GAO access to a large portion of the available information.

The GAO report said FEA regulations "were either silent or ambiguous regarding certain oil industry practices."

Under the shelter of an umbrella, Town Council Chairman Rose Fowler dedicates a new bridge on North River Rd. in Coventry to the memory of Stephen Loyzim. (Herald photo by Shea)

Bridge Dedicated To Loyzim

COVENTRY
Montea Shea
Approximately 50 friends and relatives of Stephen Loyzim stood in the rain Sunday to dedicate the Stephen Loyzim Memorial Bridge on North River Rd.
Loyzim died in April after serving the community in many ways over the years. He had been a representative from Coventry to the General Assembly, on that Board of Finance and Chairman of the Planning and Zoning Commission. Loyzim had also been a member of the Democratic Town Committee for more than 20 years.

In dedicating the bridge, Rose Fowler, chairman of the Town Council, told those attending that this was just a small tribute to a man who had done so much for all of Coventry and she hoped the memorial would be an inspiration to all of the residents to rededicate themselves to the town in his memory.

Burke Wants Local Laws To Apply Over Obscenity

VERNON
Martin Burke says he will seek legislation to require that local community standards be applied in defining obscene material and performances.
Burke is Vernon's state representative-elect for the 5th District.
He says his bill is prompted by announcement that live sex shows are being planned for Rockville Cinemas I and II.
The Vernon Town Council will be meeting in a special session tonight to discuss a proposed ordinance concerning pornographic material. The owners of the theater, which has been showing X-rated films for several months, announced last week they plan to bring the live sex shows to town starting Jan. 15.
Burke said, "While we must always be vigilant to protect the cherished right of free speech and assembly, we must understand that it does not create an absolute license."
He explained that the present law permits the question of obscenity to be judged by statewide standards, "but what is acceptable in certain urban areas is not necessarily what we choose in Vernon."
"Here, especially in the Rockville area, we have been recently morally victimized by a profiteering movie theater exhibiting base and tasteless films," Burke said.
He added, "Now its owners have had the further audacity to expand their operation from what was formerly a family theater patronized by many generations of local residents and next door to a church, two schools, the post office and an old and established residential neighborhood."
To add to this blight our town has gained the reputation, according to some media sources, as a sin city," Burke said.
He said he strongly protests this distorted image, on behalf of the residents of Vernon which he defined as a family community. He said a vast majority of the residents do not support this type of entertainment.
"Now the town is faced with further incursion from the theater's proposal to promote explicit live sexual activity on the stage," Burke commented.
The General Assembly will convene Jan. 8 and at that time Burke plans to introduce a bill to require the judgment of obscene performances, according to standards acceptable to local residents.
"Hopefully in this way we can prevent such performances from being foisted upon us in the guise of 'adult education,'" Burke said.

RODGERS SONGBOOK

NEW YORK (UPI)—For those who have a piano and another at Christmas time? "But if you're torn between the two, saying I should have these feelings but I don't feel them, you start to internalize the negative feelings, saying it's not appropriate to be angry because it's Christmas. And you start becoming low."
Schuyler, who coordinated depression research at the National Institute of Mental Health before entering private practice in July, said he believes some people are predisposed to react to life situations with depression. And for those people, he said, the holiday season brings many stresses.
Then, he said, expectations of the holiday season often go unfulfilled, prompting periods of discouragement, sadness, withdrawal and pessimism. Usually, he said, these feelings will pass.
Petite said in an interview that because there is a stereotype picture of togetherness at Christmas, some people who don't have friends or family may become more depressed during the holidays.
He said financial problems, caused in part by an overextension of gift buying, also could play a role in holiday depressions.
"I think a person who does get depressed then might meet a little worse because he thinks he ought to be feeling good at that point in time and in fact he's feeling just terrible," said Dr. William B. Bunney, chief of the adult psychiatry branch of the National Institute of Mental Health.
He said depressed people also may get more attention during the holidays because their condition is in contrast to the general mood.
Petite had some advice on ways the holiday blues might be avoided:
"Don't over-anticipate. He said Christmas preparations and anticipations sometimes begin long in advance of the holidays so that Christmas itself cannot fulfill expectations."
"Any time you anticipate something, the anticipation is frequently better than the actual event."
"Don't have unreal expectations. Petite said

Don't Let Christmas Blues Get You

By AL ROSSITER JR.
UPI Science Editor
WASHINGTON (UPI) — Christmas is a happy period for most people, but for some it is a time of holiday blues. Psychologists report there seem to be more cases of depression around the holidays, possibly because people think they should be having a good time and they're not.
"There's a cultural expectation that Christmas means joy," said Dr. Dean Schuyler, Rockville, Md. When that expectation is not met, he said, "that's a setup for the blues."
Dr. Michael J. Petite, clinical assistant professor of psychiatry at Georgetown University, said, "We're all enchanted by these cozy scenes and we're being led to think we should expect that."
"But who says we're supposed to expect it? If you don't get along with your family the rest of the year, why should you have cozy, warm feelings toward one another at Christmas time?"
"But if you're torn between the two, saying I should have these feelings but I don't feel them, you start to internalize the negative feelings, saying it's not appropriate to be angry because it's Christmas. And you start becoming low."
Schuyler, who coordinated depression research at the National Institute of Mental Health before entering private practice in July, said he believes some people are predisposed to react to life situations with depression. And for those people, he said, the holiday season brings many stresses.
Then, he said, expectations of the holiday season often go unfulfilled, prompting periods of discouragement, sadness, withdrawal and pessimism. Usually, he said, these feelings will pass.

Wilson-Kehoe

Mrs. Laurence Clarke Wilson

Annette Alice Kehoe and Laurence Clarke Wilson, both of South Windsor, exchanged wedding vows Saturday morning at South United Methodist Church.

The bride is the daughter of John B. Kehoe Jr. of 427 Strong Rd., South Windsor, and the late Mrs. Kehoe. The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Bernadine Wilson of Waterbury and the late Mr. Wilson.

The Rev. Wayne Kendall of South United Methodist Church performed the double-ring ceremony. Bouquets of pink carnations and white gladioli were on the altar.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride, wore an Empire gown of organza and satin, accented with appliques of Alencon lace, seed pearls and sequins and designed with high neckline, Victorian sleeves with fitted cuffs, A-line skirt and chapel-length train. Her elbow-length veil of silk illusion was attached to a matching lace headband, and she carried a cascade bouquet of pink carnations and white gladioli.

Mrs. Carol Anderson of Manchester was matron of honor. Her floor-length pink Empire gown was topped with a ruby velvet jacket. She wore a matching velvet headband with veil and carried a cascade bouquet of pink carnations and gladioli.

Jubenville-Blazinski
Barbara Ann Blazinski of Manchester became the bride of Richard Paul Jubenville of Vernon Sept. 14 at Concordia Lutheran Church.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley J. Blazinski of 891 N. Main St. The bridegroom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul W. Jubenville of 54 Deepwood Dr.

The Rev. Burton Strand, pastor of Concordia Lutheran Church, performed the double-ring ceremony. David Almond of Bolton was organist. Baskets filled with white gladioli, yellow carnations and greens were on the altar.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of organza and re-embroidered Alencon lace, accented with seed pearls and iridescents and designed with mandarin collar, fitted bodice, tapered sleeves and chapel-length train. Her chapel-length veil of silk illusion was attached to a Cascade bouquet of yellow roses, white carnations and baby's breath.

Bridesmaids were Mrs. Thomas Blazinski of Vernon, sister-in-law of the bride, and Miss Linda Sheehan of Bolton. Their silk green gowns and jackets were styled to match those of the honor attendant. They also carried similar baskets of flowers with green streamers.

Robert Jubenville of Vernon served as his brother's best man. Ushers were Thomas Blazinski of Vernon, brother of the bride, and Ronald Fournier of Enfield.

A reception was held at the American Legion Home, for a wedding trip to Canada. Mrs.

Young East Five Loser in Debut

By Len Auster

He had expended the point for a long time that this team was very young but East Catholic basketball coach Stan Ogrodnik had a bevy of doubters.

Saturday night at brand new Crosby High in Waterbury, the Eagles dropped their season opener to Sacred Heart, 46-43, and it was painfully obvious East has a lot of work to do. A crowd of 1,300 saw the Hearts win their second in as many starts this year, and first victory over an Eagle quintet in five years.

"I get credit for the wins and I'll take responsibility for the losses," Ogrodnik soberly stated, "I'm not satisfied with our effort. We knew we had a lot of work to do and we're just going to have to work harder."

The Eagles took 36 floor shots, an unusually low number. They connected on 15 for a poor percentage. From the foul line, East converted 11 of 18 opportunities but three fourth quarter chances went astray and this proved decisive. It was East's overall indecisiveness on offense which turned the tide.

Trailing 30-28 early in the third period, the Hearts reserve forward Gary Wolff pumped in six straight points on two free throws, a driving layup and other easy buckets off a steal for a 34-30 advantage.

East's Cephus Nolan hit on a three-point play just before the quarter to leave the Eagles behind by one.

East is now off until Saturday when it invades Clarke Arena for the first meeting ever with crosstown Manchester High. It is expected to be a sellout.

The lead exchanged hands twice in the final canto before Sacred took command for good with over five minutes remaining. A Ken Booker driving layup and a 12-foot jumper by Scott Valdez made it 46-41 with 1:18 to go before John Lusa clobbered two charity tosses.

East's Peter Thompson had a chance to close it again to one but Brian Blair blocked his attempted layup and then East turned the ball over ending any chances of victory.

A sloppy first half saw the hosts lead after the first quarter, 11-0, but trail, 26-22, at intermission. The four point differential was the Eagles' biggest advantage.

Wolff and Booker each netted 11 points for the

Trio Set Hot Pace Second Half Effort Nets MCC Triumph

Behind the strong second half efforts of John Conley, Tom Tucker and Curt Inverso, Manchester Community College outdistanced Norwalk Community College, 87-75, in basketball action Saturday night at Cheney Tech. Tied 44-44 at the half, the Cougars broke away early in the second half for the verdict.

Trailing 14-8 early in the contest, Coach Don Geisler inserted Conley, former Bloomfield High star, and behind his strong efforts burst to a 33-18 advantage. Norwalk came back behind a series of sharpshooters of Walt Harper and John Vayiakos to knot it at the intermission.

Conley paced the Cougars, netting 24 in the CCAA and 2-1 overall, with 24 points on 17 of 15 from the floor. Tucker and Inverso added 16 points apiece for MCC. Six- foot center John Dismay contributed 12 markers along with controlling both

U.S. Skiers One, Two

VAL D'ISERRE, France (UPI) — Austria's men ski stars collected first and second places as well as five of the top 10 spots in the men's downhill race Sunday to close the opening round of the new World Cup ski season.

Fran Klammer, 20, placed first while teammate Werner Grissmann, 22, took second spot. Josef Walcher was fourth, Karl Cordin seventh and Reinhard Tritscher 10th.

This gave the Austrian men and girls a massive lead in World Cup team standings after just four races. The Austrians piled up 162 points with second-placed West Germany way behind with 68 points.

Michael Veith, 17, a new star from Tegernsee in the Bavarian Alps in West Germany, was third in the downhill after starting in 26th position.

Switzerland's Bernhard Russi was fifth, with Gustavo Thoenen of Italy sixth. Norway's Erik Haker eighth, and Australia's new immigrant from Austria, Manfred Grabner, ninth.

The weather was perfect for the downhill event, the most prestigious of all ski races. The brilliant sunshine shone on the hard-packed, perilously fast — up to 82 m.p.h. — track which ran 3,298 meters down the Dulle mountain, with a vertical drop of 915 meters.

The "Criterium of the First Snow" ski meet, traditionally launching each new World Cup season, began last Wednesday with the women's downhill, won by Wilrud Drexel of Austria.

The men raced a giant slalom Thursday, won by Piero Gros of Italy, with Sweden's 18-year-old Ingemar Stenmark second and Erik Haker of Norway third.

Two of the three local scholastic basketball teams are off on the right footing in the fledgling 1974-75 season while Manchester Community College after an opening loss has taken its last two decisions.

Cheney Tech (2-1) under new coach Gerry Blanchard took it on the chin in the opener to Rham High but the Beavers have bounced back with victories over Granby and Bolton. The Techemen journey to Somers High Tuesday night to tangle with the Spartans before returning home Friday night against Windham Tech.

Manchester High made a successful debut under its new coach, Doug Pearson, with a win over Rockville High. The Indians commenced CCLL play Tuesday night in Enfield against Fermi High and then return to the friendly confines of Clarke Arena Saturday night against crosstown East Catholic. The Eagles, a 4-43 loser last Saturday to Sacred Heart, are off until Saturday's engagement.

MCC is at the University of Hartford JVs Tuesday night and Wednesday night. The Cougars are in Middletown for an engagement with CCAA foe Middlesex Community College.

Ticket Distribution Questioned

Just Wondering Department: If it wouldn't be a better idea to sell all tickets in advance for Saturday night's first basketball meeting between East Catholic and Manchester High rather than place 800 ducaats on sale the night of the game, Dave Wiggins, Manchester High director of athletics, said each school would be given 500 student-tickets with the remainder available Saturday night at the Clarke Arena box office. The scheduled ticket sale could cause quite a commotion at the boxes office and this could be avoided by selling out in advance.

Will Hadden, general chairman for the Five Mile Road Race Committee, reports he received a call from a Manchester family that word of the Thanksgiving day race was broadcast by radio in Turkey. The Race Committee of the sponsoring Norton Forest, Tall Cedars of Lebanon, will hold a meeting Wednesday night at 7:30 at the Masonic Temple to map plans for the 1975 race which will mark the 25th year for the Cedars. The New York Giants will be happy to get out of the Yale Bowl after one more season. The club, since coming to New Haven in 1973, has won just once in a dozen starts against National Football League foes in regular season play. New Jersey is scheduled to be the permanent home of the Giants for the start of play in 1976.

Notes Off the Cuff

Well on the way to making a name for himself as a dual performer with athletic teams at the University of Massachusetts is freshman Joe Martens, out of East Catholic. In the first two track meets of the season last week, Martens broke the high jump record twice. The former state champ in 1973, Martens was the star of a Saturday night night with the UMass javay basketball team. Charlie Duggan, the fine Springfield College cross country runner, and Ray Crothers, another young man well-known to local road race fans, finished one-two in the West Hartford Five Mile yesterday in a driving rain. Crothers was fourth here Thanksgiving morning and Duggan seventh. When we last saw them last year, Duggan was the star of the last year's East Catholic high basketball team losing its opening game. The track was turned last Saturday night by Sacred Heart in Waterbury. Listening to portions of the UConn basketball games in the Show Me classic in Missouri last weekend one got the impression that the visiting teams were treated to a new concept in basketball pretensions by the officials. The UConn lost three starters in the first round defeat which was decided in the final seconds. Coach Dee Rowe's club will be home twice this week, against Vermont Tuesday night and Saturday afternoon against Rhode Island.

Football Ruled Out At Vermont, Players Expected to Transfer

BURLINGTON, Vt. (UPI) — Forty-three University of Vermont football players face a decision, following one by the board of trustees eliminating the sport.

"Most of them will transfer," predicted coach Carl Falivene after the board voted 12-7 Saturday to end the 77-year-old program. The players had campaigned to reverse the university administration's decision to drop football and save $200,000. But, they succeeded only in rallying the alumni.

Only 1,300 of the university's 8,000 students signed a petition backing the sport and students and faculty supported the football cut as an alternative to further reductions in academic programs.

"I like it here in Vermont, but I like to play football too," said sophomore flanker Rocky Thompson. "I guess I'll see what kind of offers I get from other schools."

With the official announcement, it became legal for colleges to contact the players. Bob Bateman, the star junior quarterback was considered certain to get several offers, but others were in a different position.

"I really feel badly for the sophomores," said junior cornerback Gary Gottfried. "They have two years left, but a lot of them didn't get much exposure." Gottfried said he would stay.

In a bid to keep football, Athletic Director Dennis Lambert reluctantly proposed deemphasizing the program, warning such an action would guarantee a losing team for several years until the schedule could be revised.

Many of the players said they would transfer anyway and university President Edward C. Andrews Jr. said even a deemphasized schedule would cost too much money and the trustees defeated the proposal.

School officials said two alumni, who had planned to leave the school between $700,000 and $1 million, had notified the university it would not receive any money.

The $1.3 million package of reductions approved by the trustees included the elimination of several graduate programs and budget cuts for almost every academic department. The trustees rejected a recommendation to eliminate a nursing program.

Vermont finished last in the Yankee Conference this year with a 4-4 overall record and the lowest athletic budget in the conference. Attendance in 10,000 seat Centennial Field ranged from 3,500 to 9,500.

Major College Basketball

National Ranking Likely for Sooners

NEW YORK (UPI) — Under the leadership of Joe Ramsey, now in his second year as head coach at Oklahoma University, the school's basketball program has made such rapid strides in the last two years that the Sooners could be challenging for national recognition before this season is over.

Saturday night the Sooners achieved what Ramsey termed "the highlight of my career at Oklahoma" when they upset eighth-ranked South Carolina, 90-84, to keynote an otherwise predictable weekend in which every other member of the top 10 that played was victorious.

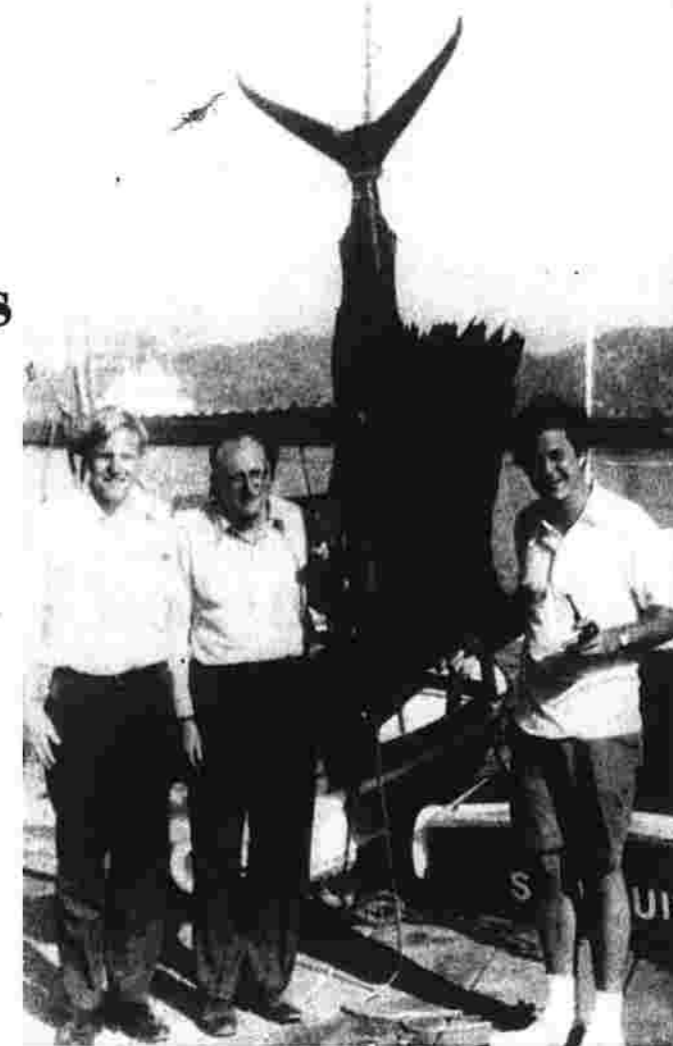

The Sooners got 20 points from 6-foot-9 junior star Alvan Adams, but it was the stellar play of Adams' replacement, Rick McNeil, which eventually led to the Gamecocks' downfall. McNeil, a 6-7 sophomore, came off the bench with 17 minutes left in the second half after Adams had picked up his fourth foul and scored eight key points to trigger the victory.

"We've always known he (McNeil) was a good shooter," said Ramsey. "We sighted a little about some of the shots he put up but they went in. When Adams went out of there, South Carolina seemed to kind of relax some of its defense. We moved the ball in better than."

Frank McGuire, coach of South Carolina, refused to comment on the fact that Oklahoma converted 24 of 37 foul shots to only six of 13 for the Gamecocks. Instead he praised the Sooner defense.

"Give Oklahoma credit," said McGuire. "They've used a good collapsing defense. The big fellow (Adams) is very good."

Freshman Jackie Gilloon was the leading scorer for South Carolina with 16 points.

Three members of the Wabrek family of Manchester went sailfish fishing off Aquapee recently and Ronald, left, caught this 115-pounder. The fish measured nine feet. Viewing the feat were Ronald's father, John, and his brother, Alan, right. The fish is being mounted and will be shipped to the Wabrek home at 15 Benton St.

Youth Hockey

SQUIRTS Action in the Squirt Hockey League at the Bolton Ice Palace yesterday saw Economy Electric nip Farr's, 3-2, and Regal's overwhelm Nichols, 7-2.

David Stepper, Eric Stepper and Ricky Clark scored for Economy while Sean Downey and Tim Conl scored for the losers. Galen Byram tallied all seven goals for Regal's with Jimmy Burnett and Jimmy Ferrari scoring for the losers.

PEE WEE With Mark Buczek scoring both goals and John Mumford scoring the shorthanded goal, Temple Beth Shalom, 40-29, and Emanuel Lutheran of Hartford best Trinity Covenant, 24-20.

Paul Turek had 18 points for Concordia while Allan Robb and Dean Anderson paced Center with 12 and 11 respectively.

Faith was topped by Rick Lewis' 15 markers while Charles Doff had 10 for Temple. David Peterson netted 12 for Emanuel while Dave Nelson's six markers were best for Trinity.

Walton to Return

PORTLAND, Ore. (UPI) — Bill Walton is not quitting professional basketball and "he will be back in the lineup as soon as he is healthy," the Portland Trail Blazers announced Sunday.

"I got word from club officials today that Walton is not retiring," said John White, publicity director for the NBA team. "He will play as soon as he is healthy. I can't tell you when that will be." Walton is out of action with a bone spur near his ankle.

Outgoing club President Herman Sarkowsky came to Portland Saturday and got together with Walton and ironed out any problems that might have existed.

Tape-Breaker in Marathon

Former Yale University distance runner Frank Shorter broke the tape first in the Fukuoka International Marathon Sunday in Japan. It marked the fourth straight year the Florida Track Club star triumphed. His time was 2:11:31.2. Shorter won the gold medal in the 1972 Olympic Games in Munich in the same event.

Cleveland Second In NBA's Central

NEW YORK (UPI) — The Cleveland Cavaliers suddenly this season have risen to second place in NBA's Central Division, but first place remains an unattainable goal as long as the team is unable to beat the Washington Bullets.

The Bullets, who lead Cleveland by five games in the Central Division, chalked up their eighth win in their last 17 meetings with the Cavaliers by an 88-75 count Sunday night.

"Losing to the Bullets is like putting together two loose bricks because they are in our division," lamented Cleveland Coach Bill Fitch.

The Bullets' triumph extended their victory to six games and placed them in the best record in the NBA at 19-6, snapping the Cavs' eight-game string of victories at home.

The Cavaliers had grabbed a 41-40 halftime lead, but the Bullets reeled off 10 straight points to start the second half and the Cleveland fans let their heroes hear about it.

Wesleyan, paced by Barry Fogel's 18 points, outdistanced Trinity 59-53 in the consolation game earlier in the evening. Wayne Sokolowski was high scorer for Trinity with 19 points.

Teammate Peter Egan added 19 points to the match and picked up a berth in the all-tournament selection, along with Central's Dan Jones, who scored 16.

The University of Connecticut gained third place in the "Show Me" classic hosted by the University of Missouri by defeating Portland 69-64 with a surge in the final six minutes of the match Saturday night.

Trinity Hanson scored 19 and Lee Otis Wilson had 14 for UConn. Portland, led by Quentin Braxton's 29 points, managed a 41-40 lead at halftime and held a slim margin until the Huskies' late-game surge.

Host Missouri won the tourney with a 102-78 decision over Mississippi State later Saturday.

Highly touted Fairfield University took it on the chin for the third straight time Saturday when visiting Brown overcame a 35-34 halftime deficit and won 73-67.

Coast Guard's Mike Harrigan sank a foul shot with three seconds left in the match to put the icing on a 58-56 victory Saturday at Queens College in New York City. The Cadets, 2-1, were led in scoring by Joel Hendrix's 21 points and Greg Vaughn's 20 points.

Holy Cross reeled off 10 straight points to battle back from a 10-point halftime deficit and hand Yale its third loss in as many games, 77-65.

State College Basketball

game losing streak in Detroit's Cobo Arena as Ron Behagen scored eight of his 16 points during K.C.-Omaha's fourth-quarter rally. Bob Lanier had 34 points for the Pistons and Doug Bing added 19 points and 13 assists, while the Kings' backcourt duo of Tiny Archibald and Jimmy Walker each scored 20 points.

Chicago 111, New Orleans 101

The Celtics breezed past the injury-plagued Jazz as Jo Jo White scored 21 points and John Havlicek contributed 20. Jim Barnett's 29 points led the Jazz, who went down to their seventh straight defeat without starters Pete Maravich and Neal Walk.

Lakers 107, Suns 102

The Lakers moved into a fourth-place tie with the Suns as guard Pat Riley scored all 17 of his points in the final 18 minutes. Elmore Smith and Lucius Allen led the Los Angeles scoring with 19 points each, while Charlie Scott was high man for the Suns with 28 points.

Hawks 102, SuperSonics 95

Hawks' rookie John Drew scored 27 points, including a key free throw with 1:47 left in the game, to pace the Atlanta victory. Spencer Haywood led the Sonics' scoring with 18 points.

Three 20-Goal Scorers High-Scoring Sabres Ready to Oust Bruins

NEW YORK (UPI) — Unless the French Connection somehow gets disconnected, there may be no end to the stunning success story of the Buffalo Sabres short of the Stanley Cup.

Each member of the line, Gil Perreault, Rick Martin and Rene Robert, notched his 20th goal of the season Sunday night and the Sabres responded by running up their 11th consecutive victory, a 5-1 rout of the Minnesota North Stars. Buffalo has lost only one of its last 22 outings, surging to a 14-point lead over the Boston Bruins in Division 4 of the National Hockey League.

"Let's face it," said Minnesota goaltender Cesare Maniago, "they're the best line in hockey. They've all got speed, they're all hot shots, and you really don't know what the heck they're going to do next."

Perreault, with a goal and an assist, overtook Bobby Orr of the Bruins in the league scoring race, setting up a situation where he just might edge out Boston's Phil Esposito for the leading center berth on the All-Star team next month. Orr does, the entire French Connection could land intact on the first unit.

Rookie Gary Bromley had to register his second shutout. Boston kept pace with the rampaging Sabres by edging the Pittsburgh Penguins, 5-2, and in other games Sunday night, the Philadelphia Flyers gained a 3-2 victory over the New York Islanders; the

WHA Roundup

DETROIT Red Wings turned back the Vancouver Canucks, 4-2; the Toronto Maple Leafs beat the Chicago Black Hawks, 4-1; the Montreal Canadiens and the New York Rangers skated to a 3-3 tie, and the St. Louis Blues defeated the Washington Capitals, 3-1.

Boston took 46 shots on Pittsburgh goalie Gary Innes, but couldn't get the winning goal past him until Orr scored with only 4:27 left in the game. The Penguins took a 2-1 lead in the first period before Terry O'Rear scored the Bruins even at 7:02 of the second period.

Kings, 3 Islanders 2

Orest Kivirsky's second goal of the game, at 21:21 of the final period, enabled the Flyers to edge the Islanders and boost their first-place lead to seven points over the Atlanta Division 1. Philadelphia outshot the Islanders, 35-13.

Red Wings 4, Canucks 2

Clark Rowland broke a 1-1 tie midway through the second period and Danny Grant and Earl Anderson followed with Detroit goals as Vancouver lost for only the seventh time in 28 games. The Canucks still own a 13-point lead over Chicago and St. Louis in Division 2.

Maple Leafs 4, Black Hawks 1

Toronto scored all four of its goals in the final period, two of them by Errol Thompson, to hand the Hawks their second loss as they sought to equalize. Cliff Koroll had given Chicago a 1-0 lead in the second period.

Canadiens 3, Rangers 3

Montreal rallied from a 3-1 deficit on goals by Yvon Lambert and Larry Robinson, the equalizer coming at 23 seconds of the final period. The tie enabled the Canadiens to move into a first-place tie with the Los Angeles Division 3, although the Kings have four games in hand.

Blues 3, Capitals 1

Garry Unger scored one goal and assisted on another to enable the Blues to win on the road for only the second time in the last 31 attempts. Denis Dupere tallied the only Washington goal early in the third period.

Six Game Losing Skain Snapped by San Diego

NEW YORK (UPI) — Travis Grant, Bo Lamar, and Caldwell Jones returned to the injury-riddled San Diego Conquistador lineup Sunday night and promptly snapped the team out of a six-game slump.

The three, who were all sidelined last week with knee injuries, scored a total of 51 points in the Conquistadors' 104-92 win over the San Antonio Spurs in Sunday's only American Basketball Association game.

"If we can keep everybody healthy, we can get back into the race," said San Diego Coach Alex Groa.

The Q's, the last-place team in the ABA's Western Division with a 9-15 record, fell behind 29-8 to a hot San Antonio team in the first quarter.

But Jones was inserted to lead his knee in the second period and dominated both halves. Grant and Lamar got hot and the Q's tied the game, 45-45, at the half.

San Diego went ahead 64-63 with 3:31 remaining in the third period and never trailed again. They built the lead to 102-88 with 49 seconds left.

Grant led the scoring with 30 points, while Lamar had 18, Lee Davis 17 and Jones 13 points and 10 rebounds.

Michigan's Troubles On Ice and Box Office

NEW YORK (UPI) — The troubles with the Michigan Stags don't stop at the box office.

With their very existence as a franchise in question because of financial difficulties, the Stags aren't helping their image any on the ice. On Saturday they dropped a 4-2 decision to the Vancouver Blazers, and followed that with a 7-0 shellacking at Edmonton Sunday night.

The Oiler line of rookie Mike Rogers, Ron Clime and Blair MacDonald accounted for five goals and nine assists, with Rogers and Clime getting two goals apiece. Meantime, Michigan couldn't do anything against veteran goaltender Jacques Plante, who registered the first shutout of his World Hockey Association comeback.

Michigan, in last place, topped the Western Division with a 7-17 record.

Vancouver, last in the Canadian Division, completed the weekend sweep by beating the Minnesota Fighting Saints, 4-2, Sunday afternoon, and in other night games the Toronto Toros beat the Phoenix Roadrunners, 5-2; the Quebec Nordiques edged the Houston Aeros, 2-1; the Winnipeg Jets beat the Chicago Cougars, 5-2, and the Indianapolis Racers scored their first victory in 14 games with a 5-3 decision over San Diego.

Blazers 4, Stags 2

Norm Beaudin had two goals for Winnipeg, which snapped a five-game Cougar winning streak.

Racers 5, Mariners 3

Rookie John Sheridan scored a pair of goals midway through the first period as the Racers ran up a 3-0 lead. Kevin Morrison had two goals for San Diego.

Blazers 4, Fighting Saints 2

Jimmy Joseph first goal of the season, a short-handed effort at 19:07 of the second period, proved to be the winner for Vancouver after Dan Tamahill and Ted Harpison had staked Minnesota to a 2-0 lead in the opening session.

Toros 5, Roadrunners 2

Tom Simpson scored his 20th goal.

Food Costs For Needy Increase

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Food costs for needy families, many of whom face a cut in food stamp benefits next March, are rising faster on a percentage basis than grocery bills for more affluent families according to an Agriculture Department report released today.

The department's monthly analysis of food bills for families of varying income levels showed the cost of an austere economy diet plan rose to $36 a week for a family of four in October.

The price of the economy diet, which is used as the base for setting food stamp allocations, was up 20 cents a week, or 0.6 per cent, from September and was $4, or 12.7 per cent, above a year earlier.

The weekly bill for a low cost diet plan constructed by Agriculture nutritionists was also up 0.6 per cent in October. The cost of a moderate cost diet plan, however, was up 0.5 per cent, and the price of a liberal diet plan was up 0.4 per cent.

All four diet programs, ranging from the bare-bones economy plan to the costliest liberal plan, are designed to provide adequate basic nutrition. Costs for feeding families under the four plans vary sharply, however, because the cheaper diets contain fewer and cheaper meals and other high-priced foods.

Economists said the cost of the economy plan on a monthly basis for a family of four rose to $156 in October compared with $155.10 in September and $138.40 a year earlier.

Under the food stamp program, a four-person household currently is eligible for a monthly allocation of $150 worth of stamps.

Still Would Lag

The allocation is scheduled to rise to $154 next January 1. But this will still lag behind the cost of the economy diet, and stamp families will fall further behind if the administration carries out its announced plan to increase the amount of cash most needy people must put up in order to get the stamps beginning next March 1.

Scheme to Rob Los Angeles Through Computer Thwarted

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — A city worker must have helped rig a computer to pay $2.5 million from the municipal treasury in a suspected Mafia scheme, according to City Comptroller Charles Navarro.

District attorney's investigators said they were "going like gangbusters" into the city treasurer's office today to find out who was behind the scheme, thwarted by a tip to a Congressional investigating committee.

They were looking for evidence that earlier such thefts may have succeeded, or that other cities were victimized.

Two suspects were arrested, including one with alleged connections to a New York Mafia figure. Three suspects were being sought, the district attorney's office said.

"It couldn't be anyone from outside," who set up the computer, Navarro said Sunday. Nobody is permitted in the Data Services Bureau area that controls the computer's check-writing functions without a special badge, with a photograph. The facility is constantly guarded, he said, and with such security "somebody on the inside was involved."

He noted that whoever planned the theft knew enough about the city's operation to write three checks instead of one for the whole $2.5 million, because the plotter knew a seven-digit check would come under closer scrutiny.

The computer was programmed to pay the money to two New York City firms and one in Chicago, which investigators said turned out to be phony firms, or names similar to real business but listed under a false address for carrying bags — given them by the tipster — containing what they thought was a $1.2 million cash cut from the theft, but actually filled with cut up paper to duplicate currency.

A spokesman for the Senate subcommittee said Howard had been linked in testimony with Brooklyn mobster Carmine "The Doctor" Lombardozi, described as an associate of alleged New York Mafia chief Carlo Gambino.

Howard and Freeman were held under $100,000 bail on charges of conspiracy to commit grand theft, conspiracy to commit forgery, attempted grand theft and forgery.

"It has all the earmarks of an organized crime operation," Bernard R. Howard, 52, a Yonkers, N.Y. accountant and Morton B. Freeman, 47, Los Angeles, were arrested Saturday as they walked out of the Beverly Wilshire Hotel. Investigators said they were

Welfare Case Load Drops 4.5 Per Cent

HARTFORD (UPI) — Welfare Commissioner Nicholas Norton said today that the number of ineligible cases on welfare has dropped to 4.5 per cent and he attributed the reduction to a new face-to-face interview system.

The number was reduced from almost 6 per cent for the period of January to June, and 6.5 per cent last year, Norton said.

"I am very proud of the staff of the department, which has done this remarkable job," he said.

Under the interview system, welfare recipients meet with department staff members in district offices 90 days and subsequently every six months after going on welfare. The program began officially June 1.

Overpayments from the Welfare Department have declined to 13.9 per cent from over 17 per cent from January to June, he said.

Double Slaying Suspect Arrested in Georgia

MACON, Ga. (UPI) — A black youth sought as a suspect in the slaying of an elderly white couple and the "savage" beatings of four other persons was arrested early today at Milledgeville, 30 miles northeast of here, police said.

John Young, 18, was reportedly picked up at the home of his grandmother, where he was returned here for questioning in the beatings, which occurred during a 18-hour period in a four-block area of a racially mixed neighborhood.

The arrest came after an intense door-to-door police search here Sunday night failed to turn up the suspect.

Officers issued murder warrants for Young after the arrest of a material witness identified as Johnny Rogers. Young was also charged with various counts of burglary and robbery.

A bloodstained T-shirt identified as Young's was found in a house adjacent to the home of one of the victims, police said, and Young's fingerprints were found in another victim's home.

Mr. and Mrs. Coleman J. Brice Sr. were found in their blood-spattered home Sunday morning. The body of the 81-year-old Brice was in the bedroom and his 75-year-old wife lay in the living room of their neat, white frame home.

Attacked and beaten in their homes nearby were Joel Bragg, 77, Myrtle Station; Gladys Hill, 83, and Katie Davis.

The suspect was black and all the victims in the racially mixed neighborhood were white, police said.

Detective chief B.C. Crawford said "He used whatever was in the house to beat them up."

"One he beat with a fire poker, others with a hat rack, vases, Coca-Cola bottles, anything that was in the house. He literally beat them to death — savage beatings."

Police said the first victim was Bragg, apparently attacked with a fan and a lamp as he slept in his home late Saturday night. Bragg called police after his assailant fled.

Officers later found a savings book belonging to Brice lying on a street and checked the Brice home, where they found the bodies of the couple.

Sunday morning, Mrs. Hill answered a knock on her front door by a man who asked if her husband was at home.

Police found Mrs. Davis about four hours later lying unconscious in a pool of blood on her kitchen floor. She had been attacked with soft drink bottles.

Quotations For The Holidays

United Press International

Proverbs and quotations to nurture the holiday mood.

— It is more blessed to give than to receive. New Testament: Acts xx, 35.

— At Christmas play and make good cheer. For Christmas comes but once a year. Thomas Tusser in Five Hundredth Pointes of Good Husbandrie, 1573.

— Who gives not thanks to men, gives not thanks to God. John A. Lewis Burckhardt, Arabic Proverbs, circa 1817.

— Not believe in Santa Claus? You might as well not believe in fairies. Thank God He lives and he lives forever.

— So wrote Frank Church in an editorial in the New York Sun, 1897, penned in response to a letter from eight-year-old Virginia O'Hanlon asking, "Please tell me the truth, is there a Santa Claus?"

— How many observe Christmas birthday, how few his precepts? It is easier to keep holidays than commandments. Benjamin Franklin in Poor Richard's Almanack, circa 1751.

— The making of a gift is superior to the acceptance of a gift. Mahabharata, circa 200 B.C.

— To apply the old proverb to a new situation — What I give I regret, what is left, I shall keep. Plautus, circa 200 B.C.

— I heard the bells on Christmas Day their old, familiar carols play. And wild and sweet, the words repeat — Of peace on earth, good will to men. H. W. Longfellow, Christmas Bells, 1864.

— Twice welcome is the gift if offered unasked. Publilius Syrus, 43 B.C.

— A gift is lost unless it is remembered. Publilius Syrus.

— To the wise give gold that they may study the more; to the devout give nothing, that they may remain devout. In writings from 1258.

— Enhance our gift with words as much as you can. Terrence, 161 B.C.

— There is no love that gifts will not master. Publilius, 19 B.C.

Investment Chatter

NEW YORK (UPI) — The loss of roughly 400 points in the Dow Jones industrial average since the first of this year suggests the stock market "has discounted and reflected the deteriorated and deteriorating economic situation," says Thomas & McKinnon of Auchincloss Kohlmeier Inc. "Unless things are going to get much worse than most people expect," the firm continues, "the (market) does not have to do again what it has already done." It predicts the bottom may be nearer for stocks now under selling pressure than those which have moved away from their lows.

"Not only are price-earnings ratios for most stocks at historical low evaluations, but dividend yields for a number of leading price barometers have reached high levels not witnessed in over 20 years," according to Harris, Upham & Co. The firm also says in the past the market has begun a new bull trend many months before a business recession has officially ended. But it warns "beliefs long held true are at stake," and it may be too early to abandon a cautious posture.

The gradual winding down of the prime interest rate for top corporate borrowers has come to a temporary halt, making it unlikely the prime will drop below its present level before year-end, says Lionel D. Edie & Co. The firm says "in the weeks ahead, large seasonal short-term credit demands and swollen inventories will need to be funded," but in the new year, the deepening recession will lead to substantial cuts in short-term credit demands as inventories are liquidated. "In January, both cyclical and seasonal pressures are very likely to result in a further downturn in the entire rate structure," it predicts.

EQUUS IN PRINT

NEW YORK (UPI) — Those who cannot get to New York to see this season's most provocative and critically acclaimed play, "Equus," by Britain's Peter Shaffer, can catch up with it in book form. The script, along with a second Shaffer play, "Shrivings," not yet produced anywhere, has been published by Atheneum.

She sees her hairdresser twice a month. How long since she's been to the dentist?

There's nothing wrong with going to the hairdresser. But if you're concerned with your appearance and your health, don't overlook your teeth. There's a lot your dentist can do to help you keep and improve your attractiveness. Even though you think of yourself as having "bad teeth," the most important thing, of course, is to help you keep them. Too often people let things slide because they think, "I'm going to lose that tooth anyway." But with today's Endodontic techniques, we can save lots of teeth that would have once been lost. And do so without discomfort for you. For many adults, it's still possible to straighten teeth. If your parents didn't do it for you, why not do it for yourself. And there are new ways to restore broken or uneven teeth, painless, attractive and less expensive than capping or crowning. So next time you make an appointment with your hairdresser, give your dentist a call, too. Remember, if you want an attractive, healthful appearance, we want to help.

Board Will Hear Routine Reports

The Board of Education meeting tonight will cover routine reports. Unless something unexpected turns up, it should run its course within the usual two-hour or so meeting period, said James P. Kennedy, superintendent of schools. John Yavis, chairman of the personnel and finance committee, will review the budget guidelines. Dr. Kennedy said Yavis is expected to lead the board the school system is in a fairly good financial status at the present time. Updated reports will also be presented on school psychological evaluations and program evaluation.

Many Hurt in Weekend Mishaps

There were many accidents over the weekend. Several involved injuries and arrests. Joseph R. DeMoura, 29, of Southington was charged with failure to grant the right of way after a head-on collision Saturday at 1:40 a.m. at E. Center and Parker Sts., police said. The other car was driven by Stephen V. Umberger, 19, of East Hartford. His passenger, Keith Burham, 22, of 647 Ellington Rd., South Windsor, was taken to Manchester Memorial Hospital. Passengers in the DeMoura vehicle were Beverly Wood, 25, of East Hartford, and John Dooley, 24, and Maureen Dooley, 22, both of 45 Mather St. Burnham and Miss Wood were both admitted to MMH where they are recovering in satisfactory condition this morning. Court for DeMoura is Dec. 23.

AREA POLICE REPORT

SOUTH WINDSOR South Windsor Police are investigating a hit and run accident involving a stolen car owned by Bruce Bantle of 381 Pleasant Valley Rd., South Windsor. Police said a car owned by Joanne Lowell, Bloomfield, was parked on Hilton Dr. Saturday night and was struck by Bantle's car. Police said the driver fled the scene and upon investigation it was found that the car had been taken from Bantle's yard without his knowledge. Alfred Sancho, 47, of 99 Mark Dr., South Windsor, was treated at Manchester Memorial Hospital Saturday for injuries received in a two-car accident on Pierce Rd. Police said the driver of the other car, Samuel Wolton, 44, of 140 Northview Dr., South Windsor, was heading north, swerved to avoid a barricade and struck Sancho who was heading south. No police action was taken. John E. Mason, 47, of 21 Hilton Dr., South Windsor, was charged Sunday night with operating under the influence of liquor or drugs. He was released on his promise to appear in Circuit Court 12, East Hartford, Dec. 23.

Many Breaks, Thefts Occur Over Weekend

Many breaks and thefts occurred over the weekend and thousands in cash and other items are missing, according to police reports. Detective Capt. Joseph Sartor, whose division is now investigating the surge of reports, said he cannot understand why people keep so much loose cash in their homes. If the cash is not put in a bank, he urges people to put it in some safe place, not under the shirts in their dresser drawers or similar places. Over $650 in cash was stolen Saturday between 4 and 8:30 p.m. from a Summer St. apartment. The tenant was at church and found a safe out of the detective's office. The safe was found, still shut, on the stairs leading to the boiler room. Thieves broke into Manchester High School Saturday night and took a safe out of the detective's office. The safe was found, still shut, on the stairs leading to the boiler room. The vacant home at 248 Wetherell St. was broken into, vandalized, and robbed of a $400 water pump and a couch in recent weeks. The attack on the house was discovered Friday when a family came to move in.

Benjamin A. Colon, 22, of Allentown, Pa., was charged with failure to drive in the established lane. The car he was driving Saturday at 9:13 a.m. struck a tree on Buckland Rd., police said. The car was towed but there were no injuries reported. Gerald E. Kaminsky, 22, of 47 Willard St. was charged with failure to obey traffic control signal (traffic light) in connection with a three-vehicle collision Saturday at 7:05 p.m. at E. Middle Tpk. and Parker St., police said. Drivers of the other vehicles were Edna Zilkovitch, 53, of 123 Maple St. and Joann R. Dwira, 22, of 9 Coleman Rd. Miss Dwira was taken by ambulance to MMH where she was treated for a fractured nose and was released. The Kaminsky and Dwira vehicles were towed from the scene.

Richard J. Dumas, 25, of 64 South St., Manchester, was charged Sunday with failure to yield right of way in connection with the investigation of a two-car accident on Rt. 6 in Bolton. State Police said Dumas pulled out into traffic and was struck by a car driven by Paul Sutkaias, 27, of Rt. 4A, Coventry.

In connection with the accident Dumas, Bruce Tuttle, 27, of Mather St., Manchester, and Glen A. Griswold, 18, of 912 Tolland Tpk., Manchester, were taken to Manchester Memorial Hospital, treated and discharged. James Dwyer, 15, of 405 Spring St., Manchester, was examined and discharged. Dumas is scheduled to appear in Circuit Court 12, Manchester.

William Kauffman, 37, of 19 High Ridge Rd., South Windsor, was charged early Sunday morning with operating under the influence of liquor or drugs and operating an unregistered motor vehicle in connection with the investigation of a one-car accident on Rt. 140, Ellington. Police said Kauffman apparently lost control of his car and went off the left side of the road. No injuries were reported. Kauffman is scheduled to appear in Circuit Court 12, Rockville Jan. 7.

Police said Raymond Milward, 25, of 164 Vernon Ave., Rockville, was traveling west on Rt. 30. Police said Milward said he was blinded by the lights on Foley's car which was parked on Rt. 30 and in pulling to the right to avoid another car he struck a tree. A passenger in the Milward car, Terri Mayes of 104 Haverly, was brought to Rockville General Hospital for treatment. Foley is scheduled to appear in Circuit Court 12, Rockville Jan. 7.

Police said a car was towed from the scene. Her car was towed from the scene.

How They Fixed New Hampshire's Boundary

By JACQUELINE HURD CONCORD, N.H. (UPI) The Treaty of Paris 1763 officially ended the American Revolution. But it took another 50 years and the formation of an independent republic to settle the Canada-New Hampshire boundary. That stretch of boundary was of much interest in 1783, since only a few St. Francis Indians lived in the area. But in 1789 Chief Philip decided a 250-mile area to three white men living between Hall's Stream and Indian Stream, and the boundary dispute was on. The Treaty of Paris said the line ran along the highlands which were a watershed between the St. Lawrence and Connecticut Rivers and their tributaries, to the northernmost head of the Connecticut, and down that river to the 45th degree of latitude—the present northern boundary of Vermont. But no one could decide whether the northernmost head of the Connecticut was the Vermont or New Hampshire independent nation, by slipping import duties on goods entering the states. A British judge living nearby in Canada, Justice Alexander Rea, declared the Indian Streamers British subjects, liable to military duty. The settlers appealed to the U.S. attorney general, who said he considered Indian Stream part of New Hampshire and the United States. Settlers began taking sides about which nation they should join. Emor Applebee declared for Canada and Luther Parker for the United States. Then came a series of kidnappings. Applebee seized Parker and took him to Justice Rea, who Parker got for lack of legal grounds on which to hold him. Gov. William Badger sent troops to the new republic. A follower of Parker got them arrested and troops stayed in the area until early 1836, when the Canadian government said it would not interfere in the area until the boundary was settled. The town of Pittsburg, which included the Indian Stream territory, was incorporated in 1840, and in 1842, the Webster-Abbott Treaty settled the matter for good by ruling the international boundary began at the head of Hall's Stream, giving all the disputed territory to the United States.

Manchester Community College (MCC) announces publication of its decennial report covering the history of the college's first ten years. MCC President Dr. Frederick W. Lowe Jr. comments in his introduction that "This ten year report has very personal implications for me, for I have been with the college from its beginnings. All of us who have been involved in this cooperative venture—Board of Trustees, Regional Council, faculty, staff and students, as well as all those unofficial friends of the college who made things possible by their sympathy, can feel satisfaction that a new institution in the service of society has been born and brought to a stage of maturity. The report is divided into three sections. The first, titled "Definitions," answers the questions, What is a community college? and Who is a community college student? The second section, titled "Retrospect," is a predominantly statistical section in which facts and figures appear in narrative and graphic form to show the founding and development of the college through its tenth year which ended with commencement in June 1973. The last section, titled "Prospect," is devoted to a brief answer to the question, Where do we go from here? To receive a copy of MCC's ten year report, write or call the college public relations office, 646-4900, ext. 381.

Church Activism Support at Grass Roots

By DAVID E. ANDERSON UPI Religion Writer For years, the United Church of Christ has been the epitome of the liberal mainline denomination: increased attention, especially by the national offices and agencies, to social activism with a consequent decline in membership. For half a decade now the accepted wisdom has been that social and political activism on the part of the national church inevitably leads to a decline in membership and giving at the grass root level. For awhile, the statistics were there to make that case. Recently, however, the statistics on giving have begun to show something else—that members who stuck with the church, giving at least silent assent to the activism, are now digging deeper in their spiritual hungers of society. "We define evangelism pretty straightforwardly as getting out with the story, a freeing story that relates one to Jesus Christ as Lord, to the church as a servant community and to the neighbor in need," he said.

Now, the Rev. J. Alan McLean, secretary of evangelism of the UCC's Board for Homelands Ministries, thinks there can be a turn around of the membership decline and the church's evangelization effort. The first thing to note about McLean's belief is that he doesn't believe that change is going to come from either him or his board. It's the grass roots—congregations and individuals—that are the key, McLean does not see the national church crowding a nationwide pattern for all churches to follow but rather it will provide training of a cadre of "evangelism consultants" who will lay excited about the possibilities of evangelism in their local communities. "Evangelism is not the result of clever salesmanship or ingenious techniques," he said in an interview. "It is the Christian's response to the spiritual hungers of society."

McLean puts Fackre's idea of "booby footing" in a much more simple way—it is the marrying of deed and word. McLean, who sometimes talks of Acts evangelism, stresses both the doing and the possibilities of confrontation and persecution that come with evangelism. He notes, for example, that Peter and John, before going into the temple to preach the Gospel of Jesus, they heard a lame man and later, as a result of their preaching, were beaten, threatened and arrested.

Along with the telling of the story and the calling of others to Christ, in McLean's understanding of evangelism, doing and confronting also are key parts of the full gospel which must be taken into account if there is to be positive growth and life together. As McLean sums it up, "You hear about the Acts of the Apostles, not about their committee meetings."

State Lotteries Booming Despite Federal Legal Cloud

WASHINGTON (UPI) - Attorney General William B. Saxbe will let the overwhelmingly successful lotteries of 13 states keep operating until Congress amends the law - probably next year - to give them legal federal sanction. Saxbe raised fears among state lottery officials when he threatened to crack down unless Congress changed federal gambling laws, or unless the states conformed to present law.

Congress responded by moving toward reform of the gambling laws, and Saxbe has changed his tune. Similarly, in Michigan, officials who claim a net $122 million net in state revenues since 1972 plan to start daily drawings next year to keep the lottery afloat.

It was an embarrassing opening of the bank branch, caused by the inability of officials to get into the vault through orthodox methods. "I've been in the banking business for 30 years and I've never seen anything like it," said Ted Doyle, the bank manager who called in workers after trying for two days to open the vault.

After he failed, Doyle said, he called in experts from Diebold Co., the world's largest bank vault company. They failed. Doyle did not divulge details of the operation that finally got him into the bank - except to say it involved tunneling, "a little person" and a lot of red faces.

A source close to Saxbe told UPI the attorney general would file a civil suit to test the law and possibly obtain an injunction to halt state lotteries. Although the House Judiciary Committee recently approved a lottery exemption bill, and its Senate counterpart is considering several, there is little likelihood of final enactment until next year.

Holiday Party Tips Help Stretch Budget

By JEANNE LEBEM UPI Food Editor

NEW YORK (UPI) - Holiday hospitality doesn't have to wreck your budget or your time schedule. By planning a menu of make ahead dishes, you can fit preparations in with your usual shopping chores, housework and a full or part time job.

The recipes that follow were developed in relatively small quantities but each can be increased easily as desired. All ingredients except seasonings can be doubled or tripled. With seasonings, it is best to increase slowly, tasting as you go.

The punch calls for applejack, which can be omitted if desired. Or if you plan to serve both children and adults from the same punch bowl, ladle the nonalcoholic version into stemmed glasses for adults and add an ounce of applejack to each.

All three recipes are suitable for either a buffet or a sit down meal. Cranberry Jewel Punch Core two large red skinned apples and cut into three fourth inch chunks. Pour one quart of cranberry juice cocktail into ice cube trays and drop an apple chunk into each cube compartment and freeze.

At serving time, pour one quart of chilled cranberry juice cocktail into a four quart punch bowl. Slowly stir in one quart each of chilled apple cider and chilled club soda and one pint of applejack. Add the cranberry cubes and thin slices made from two large red skinned apples, cored but unpeeled. Makes about 3 quarts of punch, or 12 servings.

Locomotive Limosine Eyecatching

By STAN DARDEN JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (UPI) - When O. Clyde Davis and his wife go to antique car meets, they travel in a vehicle that looks like the child of a cross-mating between a limousine and an old-time steam locomotive.

In a lifetime of collecting antique cars, Davis says he has never acquired anything quite like his 1929 Graham Paige touring car outfitted to look like a locomotive, complete with cowcatcher, steam whistle, clanging bell and siren.

There were at least four of the big seven-passenger vehicles built for use in various parts of the country to transport stars such as Mary Pickford and Douglas Fairbanks in grand style.

Davis has a book that contains a picture of the late band leader Cab Calloway and his wife, Blanche, riding in one of the locomotive limosines, possibly the one Davis now owns.

"Paramount signed a big contract with Graham Paige to build these cars back in 1929," said Davis. "There must have been quite a lot of money involved because of the work they required. The cars were all fixed up by the Baldwin Locomotive Works to look like a steam engine."

"A lot of stuff on the car is authentic railroad equipment. There must be 500 or 600 pounds of brass on the car." The car has a round metal emblem on the front with the Paramount Pictures logo engraved on it. There is an observation platform built on the back to simulate the platform that were used by whistle-stopping political candidates of the 1920s.

Everywhere the car appears it becomes an instant conversation piece. Children want to ride it and ring the bell while blowing the whistle and sounding the siren.

Davis declines to say how much he spent for the car which he bought from a 90-year-old Jacksonville dealer. He will say he has between $3,000 and $4,000 invested in it.

"You never can tell," he said. "Somebody might want to buy it someday. You know, there are still some fools like me left in the world."

liquid red pepper sauce and one tablespoon of dried dill weed. When cool, stir in one pint of plain yogurt and contents of a one pound can of salmon, drained and flaked. Turn into a five cup mold and chill until firm. Unmold onto a serving plate and garnish with sprigs of fresh dill or parsley. Makes about 24 appetizer portions.

Cranberry Cheesecake Melt two tablespoons of butter or margarine in a Dutch oven or large, heavy saucepan. Brown one pound of cubed boneless pork shoulder on all sides. Add one large onion, chopped, and one clove of garlic, chopped, and half teaspoon of dried dill weed. Cover tightly and simmer over low heat one to one and a half hours, or until pork is tender. # Democrats Display Unity; Adopt National Charter

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (UPI)—The Democrats left Kansas City today with a new party charter, some old-fashioned party unity and burgeoning confidence that they are on the road back to the White House in 1978.

The party ended its unprecedented national nominating convention Sunday with national Chairman Robert Strauss' triumphant declaration— "We have brought the Democratic party back to life...the Democratic party is ready to govern America again."

The three-day meeting produced the first formal constitution adopted by a major U.S. political party in the course of writing it, the party's principal factions also discovered they could deal with each other without leaving the scene that since 1958 have doomed efforts to regain national leadership.

But the convention did not bring to the fore the party's most significant need—a clear front-runner for the 1976 presidential nomination.

A pack of hopefuls would be 2,500 delegates and alternates in the cavernous Kansas City auditorium and the convention hotels, but not one of them made an impact strong enough to establish a favorite in the nomination race.

Only one unnamed candidate, Rep. Morris Udall, D-Ariz., was on hand. But two other names were declared— Henry M. Jackson of Washington and Gov. Jimmy Carter of Georgia—competed for delegate attention by him and with Sen. Lloyd Bentsen of Texas, Robert Byrd of West Virginia, and Alabama Gov. George Wallace.

While abandoning the quota system that caused such trouble in 1972, the party committee in its new charter itself set five black, women, young people and other minorities a full voice in Democratic decision-making.

It also buried some of the favorite tools of political power brokers: the unit rule and winner-take-all caucuses and primaries.

Reformers sustained some setbacks, including rejection of their proposal to make midterm conferences a permanent fixture. A caucus, a tradition of nuclear war, a tradition of "white collar" crime; the use of the income tax rather than property taxes to finance social programs; and qualified approval of President Ford's Vladivostok agreement on limiting nuclear arms.

But the delegates did not vote on any of these proposals, having rejected a proposal by reformers that the convention itself on record on issues. The mini-convention's only action of this nature came Friday night when delegates endorsed a resolution to fight inflation and recessions offered by a group of congressional leaders.

Dudley's closing session was devoted to a series of reports from party figures on critical issues confronting the nation—a kind of mini-platform for the party to use in forging its 1976 campaign document.

The policy proposals called for balancing government spending with each other without leaving the scene that since 1958 have doomed efforts to regain national leadership.

SCENE FROM HERE

BY SOL COHEN

'...The Life For Me'

In about four weeks, the Governor's Inaugural Ball will be held at the Hartford State Armory and I remember the regal, resplendent and dazzling one I attended in early 1971, when Gov. Thomas Meskill took office.

It wasn't alone a glittering affair for the guests — the ones who had to pay top dollar to get in.

Every newsmen, every cameraman, every newscaster had to be dressed formal that night — the men in tuxedos or the equivalent, the ladies in evening gowns.

It was beautiful — one couldn't tell a reporter from a person — or vice versa.

We elegantly-outfitted members of the Fourth Estate melted into the grand, lavish and glittering, albeit ephemeral event as if born into majestic and stately the atmosphere.

I came away with the conclusion, "It's travel first class for me from now on."

People who were in the habit of backing away when I'd approach them (for fear they'd be asked embarrassing questions) actually smiled at me that night and invited me to sit and partake.

Everyone looked so pretty, so handsome — you almost couldn't tell the players without a scorecard.

There's nothing so flamboyant as feeling like royalty. Imagine me — majestically entering The Herald newsroom, superbly and incomparably attired in a tuxedo, stiffly laundered white shirt, black tie and cummerbund.

It's an entrancing thought and would, without a doubt, result in an extraordinary experience of the greatest magnitude.

Speaking of stiffly laundered white shirts, I wish I had the nerve to wear a blue, ruffled one (replete with exposed, ruffled cuffs) as worn that night by The Herald's photographer.

I'm not even mentioning the yellow, the green, the beige and the cerise dress shirts which abounded that night, richly blending into the splendid regalia worn by the beautiful women.

But, I can't go on! I find myself caught up in the incomparable and colossal memories of the superbly attired ladies and the sumptuously dressed gentlemen.

All I can say is, "The grand life is the life for me."

FEA Director

Committed to revitalizing the nation's stalled energy conservation program, Frank G. Zarb, new director of the Federal Energy Administration, promises to renew public interest. The 39-year-old czar is a former Wall Street investment banker.

Several Names Surface For Leadership of GOP

State Comptroller Nathan Agostinelli said today he's listening and interested in reports he is being proposed for Manchester Republican town chairman.

Agostinelli's name is one of several being mentioned. Others to be considered Wednesday night are: Donald Genovesi, who declined to run for re-election as 12th District state representative; David Odegard, defeated in a try for a third term as fourth District state senator; James Farr, former Manchester mayor; and Vivian Ferguson, minority leader of the Board of Directors.

The GOP town committee's executive board is meeting Wednesday night to consider a successor to A. Paul Berte, who will resign as of Dec. 16. On that date, Berte will assume the five-year post of First District workmen's compensation commissioner, at $28,500 a year.

The executive board may do one of two things — propose a list of persons for consideration by the entire GOP town committee, or recommend one person. A meeting of the town committee may be scheduled for some time next week.

Agostinelli, defeated Nov. 5 in his bid for lieutenant governor will leave his state comptroller post Jan. 8. He said his plans after that date are incomplete. However, it appears likely he will be working at some venture in Manchester.

Berte said today all of the names, plus any others that may surface, will be discussed Wednesday night. He said he has no recommendation to offer in advance of the meeting.

ABOUT TOWN

The handicrafts group of Manchester Newcomers Club will meet tonight at 8 at the Nutmeg Program Center, 79 N. Main St., to make a Christmas basket centerpiece. More information may be obtained by contacting Mrs. C.H. Gould of 214 Redwood Rd. or Mrs. Roy Lindstrom, 69 Alice Dr.

Frank E. Russo Jr., acting administrator of the Hartford Civic Center, will be guest speaker at the Kiwanis Club Tuesday noon at Manchester Country Club.

Mayfair Y Club will meet Wednesday at 10 a.m. in Cronin Hall of Mayfair Gardens. All Mayfair residents are invited.

Novena of the Miraculous Medal and Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament will be celebrated tonight at 7:30 at the Church of the Assumption, S. Adams St.

The nominating committee of North United Methodist Church will meet tonight at 7 at the church.

The board of Christian concern of Center Congregational Church will meet tonight at 7:30 in the church library.

Edgar Circle of South United Methodist Church will have a Christmas brunch Tuesday at 10 a.m. in Susannah Wesley House of the church. The program will be about Christmas traditions.

Preceptor Gamma Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi will hold its annual Christmas party Tuesday at 8 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Ermano Garaventa, 109 N. Lakewood Circle.

Band Will Play Seasonal Music

Seasonal music will be the fare offered tonight by the Sphinx Temple Shrine Band in a concert at Orange Hall.

Admission is by ticket only for the 8 o'clock concert.

There will be the familiar Christmas carols, but in addition there will be works less familiar to the audience. The program includes two special arrangements of Christmas music by Grundman, and a Christmas moods piece depicting shopping, snow, and bells.

The popular "Sleigh Ride" and "March of the Toys" are also on the program.

Ticket information is available by calling the Washington Social Club.

Two Christmas Gifts from CBT. Interest and Ironstone.

People who save at CBT can give one of this year's most elegant Christmas gifts: beautiful Ironstone dinnerware.

You can give someone a set of four 5-piece place settings for only $11.85 when you deposit just $200.

Better yet, you can give a complete 45-piece service for only $34.95 when you deposit just $500.

And when you give someone Ironstone, you'll not only save money on your Christmas giving, but you'll be earning high interest on your savings.

So the beautiful gift you give someone else, keeps giving you more and more.
