Hollow-Point Bullet Use Ban Urged

HARTFORD (UPI) — The Connecticut Civil Liberties Union has recommended that the use of hollow point bullets, which violate international treaties, be banned in Connecticut.

The CCLU Friday said it is asking the legislature to draft a proposal which would ban the use of any weapon or ammunition which is prohibited under international law or the United Nations charter.

"The dum-dum bullet causes enormous ripping and tearing of human flesh and usually produces death," William Olds, executive director of the CCLU, said.

"Police should never shoot to kill a suspect," Olds said. "Shooting to kill is tantamount to summary execution and violates due process of law."

The police address is supposed to be a defensive weapon used to incapacitate — not kill — as recommended by the National Advisory Commission on Criminal Justice Standards and Goals.

State Police began issuing hollow point ammunition earlier this year, provoking a controversy over the ammunition which is banned under the Geneva Convention.

"It's absurd to permit the use of hollow point bullets, but criticized Sen. Abraham Ribicoff, D-Conn., for failing to heed the group's request to study the use of the ammunition."

0 Negative Blood Needed

A special appeal is being made by Red Cross Blood Program officials for support of the Bloodmobile which visits Manchester Monday.

The Blood Center has asked the Manchester Red Cross office to recruit as many donors with type O Negative blood as possible, since collections of this type has been down.

While total blood supplies at the Center are currently in sufficient quantities to meet hospital needs, there is a great need for this particular blood type. At the present time, of the scheduled donors for the Monday Bloodmobile, only eight are O Negative.

Persons of all blood types, but particularly with type O Negative, are urged to donate on Monday, when the Bloodmobile will be stationed at the Knights of Columbus Home, 318 Main St., from 12:45 to 5:30 p.m.

Conkling Named To Finance Post

HARTFORD (UPI) — Gov. George T. Grasso has named George J. Conkling of Hamden acting finance commissioner.

Conkling, 42, was named to succeed William A. Dempsy, who resigned last week.

Conkling, 69, has been serving as Mrs. Grasso's budget adviser since her landslide victory in the November election.

The appointment announced Friday, is the second former agency head from the Dempsy era to be named by Mrs. Grasso to her administration. She named C. Perrie Phillips, former personal commissioner, to his old job.

Mrs. Grasso, who has served in the state for 12 years, was secretary of state for 12 years and deputy administrator of the Department of Public Administration.

Phillips charged that Messall was responsible for hiring political backs to fill state jobs that were created outside of civil service in order to escape qualifying exams. He said he was determined to remove those who have held state jobs simply because of political connections but who were not qualified by merit.

Jury Told to Ignore Nixon Pardon

WASHINGTON (UPI) — U.S. District Judge John J. Sirica told the Watergate cover-up jury today to forget the pardon of former President Richard M. Nixon when it decides the guilt or innocence of his five former aides.

Sirica began his 42-page charge to the jury today. It was expected Sirica would take most of the morning to deliver the charge.

After the charge, the jury of nine women and three men will begin deliberating the question of whether the five defendants conspired to cover up the Watergate burglary. All of them have pleaded innocent.

Seven of the 12 jurors reportedly indicated in closed-door questioning at the start of the lengthy trial that they thought it was unfair to prosecute Nixon aides after the former president was pardoned by his successor.

Sirica spoke directly to that idea in his charge, a copy of which was distributed to the lawyers for both sides during the weekend. He said: "Neither the pardon of former President Nixon nor any other cases or extraneous matters should have any effect on your deliberations or your verdict."

This is the 62nd day of the trial. The jury has been sequestered since Oct. 11, listening to 85 witnesses and six days of final arguments.

Former Attorney General John N. Mitchell, 60, former White House chief of staff H.R. Haldean, 47; Nixon's domestic affairs chief John D. Ehrlichman, 48; former Assistant Attorney General Robert C. Mardian, 50; and Kenneth W. Parkinson, 46, a lawyer who did Watergate legal work for Nixon's re-election committee, are each charged with one count of conspiracy.

All except Mardian also are charged with one count each of obstruction of justice. Conspiracy and obstruction each carry a maximum penalty of five years in prison and a fine of $50,000.

Mitchell, Haldean and Ehrlichman also are charged with lying, which carries varying penalties.

Funding Method Said Unconstitutional

Local Officials Feel Ruling Will Have Little Impact

By DOUG BEVINS

Equalization of public education expenditures throughout Connecticut — which would be necessary if a Superior Court ruling stands — would apparently have little impact on Manchester.

School Superintendent James Kennedy said he would not anticipate any dramatic change in Manchester because the town already falls in the middle of the charts on school expenditures.

Town Officials Agree

Town Manager Robert Weiss and Mayor John Thompson agreed the ruling would equalize local school financing would not make much difference in Manchester.

Discussion of statewide school equalization was prompted by a landmark court ruling Friday which declared that Connecticut's method of financing education is unconstitutional.

Judge Jay Rubinov's decision held that the present educational system supported money by local property taxes doesn't provide equal educational opportunities throughout the state. The amount has increased since 1970, but it depends largely on whether municipalities are rich or poor, the judge said.

Decision Applauded

Many educators and municipal officials applauded the decision, but Gov-elect Ella Grasso said she will appeal the ruling to the state Supreme Court. Mrs. Grasso said the issue raises as grave a threat to her administration as the equalization of education.

Concerning the method of equalization, local officials were uncertain but seemed to lean toward a state income tax.

Thompson said the income tax is the fairest tax program that has been devised. "The present system of high property taxes and sales taxes hits the elderly and low-income groups much too hard," he said.

Weiss said he recommended a state income tax — to piggyback the federal income tax — several years ago but he's not sure now whether that's the best way to go.

Favors Broader Tax Base

Kennedy, reluctant to discuss equalization without a definitive ruling, indicated he favors a broader tax base and reduced dependency on the local property tax. He called for a "more broad-based tax."

Thompson, Weiss, and Kennedy all have proposed inflation as a method of financing. They all agreed that financial support of education shouldn't hinge on the wealth of a community.

Rubinov's ruling stems from a lawsuit brought on behalf of six-year-old Barney Horton of Canton, which charged that heavy reliance on property taxes violated the equal protection and education clauses of the state constitution.

Horton's suit was based on the belief that funds should be distributed in such a way that towns such as Canton, with smaller resources, would be able to afford the same quality of education as towns with larger tax bases.

Brezhnev Delays Mideast Trip

By United Press International

Soviet leader Leonid I. Brezhnev has postponed his scheduled visit to Egypt, Iraq and Syria, the official Iraqi News Agency said today in Beirut.

The agency said Brezhnev's visits were postponed "following an agreement between the Soviet leaders on one side and the leaders of Egypt, Syria and Iraq."

Although the agency gave no reason for the postponement, earlier reports in the Arab press said Brezhnev might postpone his Cairo visit because of Egypt's apparent refusal to accept Soviet weaponry with the strings that Moscow wants attached.

No New Date Set

The Iraqi news agency said a new date for the visit — which was originally scheduled for mid-January — will be agreed upon later.

The report came as Egyptian Foreign Minister Imad Fahmy and War Minister Gen. Mohammed Gamassy met in Moscow this morning with their Soviet counterparts, Andrei Gromyko and Andrei A. Grechko.

The Egyptians met with Brezhnev Sunday in what the Tass news agency said was "a friendly atmosphere."

Brezhnev's trip to Egypt, set for Jan. 14-18, was to mark a new warming in relations between Moscow and Cairo that were strained by disputes over weapons shipments and peace moves.

Urgent Message Saturday

Fahmy and Gamassy arrived in Moscow Saturday in response to what Cairo reported was an urgent message two days earlier from Brezhnev.

Arab newspapers this weekend cited "significant" remarks in the Soviet Communist party newspaper Pravda warning "The Arabs should realize the Soviet Union is not a weapons storehouse which they can take at any time or leave when they want."

The Egyptians reportedly want to replenish their arsenal with Soviet weapons but oppose the return of Russia's so-called advisers, who were expelled by President Anwar Sadat in 1972.

In Jerusalem, Israel today denied reports that its officials had secret meetings with representatives of the Palestine Liberation Organization to discuss the prospects of negotiations on the Middle East.

"No such meetings have taken place in Paris or anywhere else," an official Foreign Ministry spokesman said of the reports in Newweek Magazine and the newspaper Al-Arab.

The communique called reports of the alleged meetings "entirely unfounded."

Newweek reported in its current issue that Israeli and PLO representatives met recently in Paris to see if there was any basis for further discussions on the Middle East.

Earthquake Toll 4,000

RAWALPINDI, Pakistan (UPI) — More than 4,000 persons were killed and 15,000 others injured when an earthquake rocked Pakistan's northwestern provinces Saturday in the northwest corner of Pakistan, government officials said here today.

The quake started the hardest hit area was centered around Patan, a mountain village 109 miles west of here. In all, the quake tore through eight villages, destroying 300 homes and military agencies, largely by airplanes and helicopters.

A massive relief operation launched under the personal direction of Prime Minister Zulfikar Ali Bhutto continued today, but most land routes to the stricken area were blocked by debris and rocks torn up by the earthquake.

Rescue and relief work was being carried out by civilian and military agencies, largely by airplanes and helicopters.

One government official said thousands of homes and shops were smashed in the earthquake, which began at 9:15 p.m. (7:15 a.m. EST). Officials said the tremors continued throughout the night.

Patan is 45 miles from Tangir, a village in the Pakistan-controlled part of Kashmir, the area which was devastated by an earthquake two years ago.

All present Circuit Court facilities and staff are being absorbed by the Common Pleas Court. The streamlining may not appear obvious to Manchester people until Feb. 3 when they have to go to East Hartford.

The lower courts in the state will now be called Common Pleas. These courts will handle all the circuit court's present criminal caseload, motor vehicle cases, civil suits and small claims.

"These accused whose cases are bound over to the superior court will not see a change. They will stay in the county of the crime or crimes."

For example, a man charged with robbing a bank in Manchester would still appear in the Court of Common Pleas in Geographical Area No. 12 sitting in East Hartford after a finding of probable cause in this court, his case would be bound over to the next criminal session of Hartford County Superior Court sitting in Hartford.

Procedure

If he had been charged with robbing a Vermont bank, he would now go to Area No. 19 in Rockville. If probable cause was found in this court, he would be bound over to Tolland County Superior Court which also sits in Rockville about a block away.

DiRuzza, a Manchester resident living on 128 Tanner St., will become the clerk of Area No. 19 in Rockville, he said.

Mrs. Elvera Brantley of Swamp Rd., Coventry will become the acting clerk of Area No. 12. Mrs. Brazitis has worked in the Manchester office for many years and is now deputy to DiRuzza, he said.

"I'm enthusiastic about it," DiRuzza said Friday.

"Things are frantic now. We must be operational by Dec. 31st."

"But once we're straightened out, I think it will work very well."

Manchester Losing Court Under Judiciary Merger

By MAL BARLOW

Manchester won't have the convenience of a court for Jan. 31.

A statewide court reorganization is now under way.

The last General Assembly passed a law ordering the Circuit Court system to merge into the Common Pleas Court system by Dec. 31, 1974.

There will be no Circuit Court after New Year's.

East Hartford

Thomas DiRuzza, clerk of Circuit Court 12 in Manchester, said persons accused of a crime here will feel the bigger change coming after Jan. 31. They will then "tell it to the judge" in East Hartford — not Manchester.

All present Circuit Court facilities and staff are being absorbed by the Common Pleas Court. The streamlining may not appear obvious to Manchester people until Feb. 3 when they have to go to East Hartford.

The lower courts in the state will now be called Common Pleas. These courts will handle all the circuit court's present criminal caseload, motor vehicle cases, civil suits and small claims.

"These accused whose cases are bound over to the superior court will not see a change. They will stay in the county of the crime or crimes."

For example, a man charged with robbing a bank in Manchester would still appear in the Court of Common Pleas in Geographical Area No. 12 sitting in East Hartford after a finding of probable cause in this court, his case would be bound over to the next criminal session of Hartford County Superior Court sitting in Hartford.

Procedure

If he had been charged with robbing a Vermont bank, he would now go to Area No. 19 in Rockville. If probable cause was found in this court, he would be bound over to Tolland County Superior Court which also sits in Rockville about a block away.

DiRuzza, a Manchester resident living on 128 Tanner St., will become the clerk of Area No. 19 in Rockville, he said.

Mrs. Elvera Brantley of Swamp Rd., Coventry will become the acting clerk of Area No. 12. Mrs. Brazitis has worked in the Manchester office for many years and is now deputy to DiRuzza, he said.

"I'm enthusiastic about it," DiRuzza said Friday.

Retiring Early Hikes Pensions For Senators

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Most of the Senate's 11 lame duck members are retiring a few days before their term expires Jan. 3 and therefore will get a 6.3 per cent increase in retirement pay.

They get the bonus by stopping down before the end of the year — a technically in law passed by Congress several years ago to encourage early retirement throughout the Civil Service and the military.

Those who have announced they will step down before the year's end are Sens. William Fulbright, D-Ark.; Wallace F. Bennett, R-Utah; Alan Bible, D-New York; Cook, R-Ill.; Edward J. Gurney, R-Fla.; Norris H. Cotton, R-N.H.; and Sam J. Ervin Jr., D-N.C.

Howard H. Macfarlane, D-Ohio, appointed to the Senate when William B. Saxbe became attorney general, did not serve long enough to qualify for a pension but also retired early.

Three lame duck senators chose to finish out their terms: George D. Aiken, R-Vt.; Harold E. Hughes, D-Iowa, and Peter H. Dominick, R-Colo.

Aiken told UPI, "My contract expires Jan. 3, and I intend to live out my contract."

Dominick may remain in government service, possibly as ambassador to Switzerland, and Hughes plans to devote his life to religious work.

By retiring early, the others give their successors a slight seniority edge when the new Congress convenes in January, since they can assume office as of the date of the resignation.

Fulbright's successor, Arkansas Gov. Dale Bumpers, decided for "technical reasons" to forego this and wait until Jan. 14 to be sworn in with the rest of the new Congress.

Bay State Plans Lottery Change

NEWTON, Mass. (UPI) — The Massachusetts State Lottery Commission has decided to revise its instant game after a four-month respite.

Director William E. Perrault announced Friday that the new version of the instant game with prizes ranging from $10 to $100,000 would be unveiled Jan. 28.

The first instant game ran from June to August producing revenues of $7 million for cities and towns and $8 million in prizes.

The new game, known as 7-11-21, will have 81 tickets with four hidden numbers. If the numbers add up to seven, the prize will be $10, if they add up to 11 the prize will be $1,000, if they add up to 21 the prize will be $10,000.

In addition there will be four monthly drawings with top prizes of $100,000 and two grand prize drawings with the winners getting $1,000 a week for life.

A lottery spokesman said the odds for winning money in the new game are about one in 72.

Plastic Bumpers Proposed For Saving Energy

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The government wants us to drive cars with plastic bumpers to save energy.

The National Traffic Safety Administration of the Transportation Department proposed Friday that auto manufacturers be allowed to put plastic bumpers on new cars instead of heavy steel ones required on new models since 1973.

The public has 45 days to comment before a final ruling is made.

Not only would plastic bumpers be cheaper, the agency said, but they would be lighter and therefore save gasoline.

"We think this could save up to 100 pounds of weight on a car," a Transportation Department spokesman said. "The weight saving would save gas and that is an important factor in the energy crunch."

The word "crunch" seemed appropriate, since part of the proposal would change the present requirement that bumpers withstand without damage a 5 m.p.h. impact with a stationary, solid object, lowering it to 4 miles per hour for plastic bumpers.

Also, during an interim development period running until Sept. 1979, the impact requirement would be reduced to 2.5 m.p.h.

The spokesman said the steel, impact resisting bumpers have proved, expensive to install, costly to repair and have not been a major safety factor.

Nixon Resignation Tops News Stories for 1974

NEW YORK (UPI) — Richard M. Nixon's resignation from the United States presidency was the almost unanimous choice as the top story of 1974 in the annual poll of American editors by United Press International.

There were a few scattered first place votes for the continuing story of the economy but almost all of the more than 300 editors who voted selected

Nixon's resignation Aug. 8 as the top headline story of the year.

President Gerald R. Ford's pardon of Nixon was the second choice in the balloting.

The economic story was third.

Ford's succession to the presidency, his nomination of Nelson A. Rockefeller to be vice president, the Watergate conspiracy trial and Nixon's hospitalization for plebitis all finished in the top 10.

In separate voting, the editors chose Nixon's resignation as the story with the most long-range significance, with the economic story second. The energy shortage was third.

The results of the 1974 balloting:

Headline Value
1. Nixon's resignation.
2. Ford's pardon of Nixon.

3. The economy.
4. Ford becomes president.
5. The energy crisis.

5. Ford's pardon of Nixon.
6. The Watergate trial.
7. World hunger.
8. Middle East peace efforts.

Nancy Carr Executive Director

We approach the ending of 1974 with a sense of humility, and great thankfulness for the year of turmoil and confusion, disillusionment and dissatisfaction. Increasing doubt and worry over the future have been seen the unfolding and blossoming in Manchester of love, trust and concern for one another.

The MACC Seasonal Sharing Fund which totaled $461 last year has already passed the one thousand dollar mark with checks yet to arrive. Food and gifts poured into the Salvation Army and welfare offices. Warm and welcome meals were prepared for people who gave of their time, talents, and gifts over Christmas, giving a moment of laughter and relief to others. We will single out only two who in a sense describe all the others: Capt. Arthur Carlson of the Salvation Army and his dedicated people who sang and worked right up to the last hours bringing food and gifts to the families of Manchester needing assistance.

Mary DellaPera and the staff of the Town Department of Social Services whose dedication and caring go far beyond the dictates of their job description.

1974 — Reaching Out During the past year Manchester churches working together in the conference have become increasingly aware of the problems and needs facing those isolated from the community by illness, age, or social deviation.

The Division of Social Action has carried on a long-term program to educate both the religious and broader community to the needs of prisoners and of offenders attempting to return to society. Programs under way include a long-range effort to work with the business community in providing jobs and support to returning offenders, and a second-hand station wagon project. The car would be used to transport offenders to and from job opportunities until permanent transportation can be secured, and to allow family visits to men still in prison so that families may be maintained.

A volunteer Sponsor Training Session will be held Friday evening, Jan. 23 and Saturday, Jan. 24 in cooperation with the Division of Special Ministries to describe life in prison and to encourage people to write and visit inmates in Connecticut penal institutions.

Social Action has also provided ongoing opportunities for Dr. Alice Turek, public health director, to meet and talk with church groups about total medical needs of the community and the establishment of a local clinic for youth and the elderly.

Chaplaincy

In addition to co-sponsoring the Volunteer Sponsors Workshop, the Division of Special Ministries has continued to reach out to those facing illness, personal suffering and tragedy through the chaplaincy program. To support those persons faced with sudden bereavement and tragedy an emergency chaplaincy assistant program is being established.

Elderly Visitation

A long-range program to encourage and increase involvement and visitation with the elderly in their own homes and in convalescent homes has led to the appointment of a volunteer convalescent home coordinator. In December, over 20 volunteers began convalescent home visitations after attending the BTA (Breakthrough to the Aging) training sessions. Plans are under way to evolve increased sharing and cooperation among the people in the churches dedicated to this ministry.

REL. Luncheon

Christian Education has begun a series of movies for children in the Manchester Main Street area. Normally priced and within walking distance of downtown youngsters, the program will also include a short film with a religious and "good news" message.

Coordinators of religious education meet at monthly luncheons to enrich one another with their resources, ideas, and their dedication.

Unity

Christian Unity continues to build up the Christian community, bringing them together in worship and fellowship. Their special commitment to increasing understanding and unity has borne fruit in the growing numbers of people gathering to sing and worship together in community services during Lent, Easter, Thanksgiving and Christmas and a continued media ministry

Shared Hopes

One of the most moving expressions of understanding and brotherhood developing in the Jewish Christian dialogues is the following letter written by Lewis Segal, president of Temple Beth Shalom, to the churches of the conference:

"Dear Friends:
"On behalf of the congregation of Temple Beth Shalom it is my great pleasure to extend to you our best wishes for joyous Christmas.
"We were moved and delighted by your thoughtful greetings to us on the occasion of our High Holidays. We hope that you and the congregations of the churches of Manchester will be able to derive a similar feeling of friendship and good will from the knowledge that your Jewish neighbors are thinking of you at this holiday season.
"May our shared hopes for peace and brotherhood symbolized by the celebration of Christmas be realized for all of us in the coming year.
"In this spirit of hope born of endurance we look forward to 1975, gathered and girdled by God's love.
"Sincerely,
"Lewis Segal, President."
"God's Gift to Us"
"Paul says, "We also rejoice in your troubles, for we know that trouble produces endurance, endurance brings God's approval, and His approval creates hope. The hope does not disappoint us for God has poured out His love into our hearts by means of the Holy Spirit who is God's gift to us."
"In this spirit of hope born of endurance we look forward to 1975, gathered and girdled by God's love."

CONCORD, N.H. (UPI) — New Hampshire law enforcement agencies are using snowmobiles to hunt burglars raiding camps in the backwoods of New Hampshire.

Richard Flynn, commissioner of the New Hampshire Department of Safety, said Saturday about 60 snowmobiles are being used by the state police, the Fish and Game Department, and the Bureau of Off Highway Vehicles to patrol isolated areas in New Hampshire.

Flynn said with the heavy snow cover burglars can gain access to property in the woods by snowmobile. He suggested owners of backwoods camps periodically check their property, board up windows, and install heavy locks on all doors.

TWO SPECIAL WORDS... "Thank You"

We couldn't have made it without you. During 1974, with its many crises and shortages in so many areas, careful planning and management have been demanded in almost every type of business. ... but even if we were 100% genius, we still couldn't make it unless we had you - our customers and friends, behind us. So it humbles us to reflect on what we have accomplished this year... and we realize that two small, but very important words can say volumes. Those words are: "THANK YOU" for your patronage, your patience, your cooperation.

Woman's World:

What to Do About Diets That Fail

PATRICIA McCORMACK UPI Family Editor NEW YORK (UPI) - Dr. Neil Solomon wants to help fat Americans fed up with diets that fail them. In an interview he said past lapses, candy binges and conquests of a whole cake at one sitting stem from thoughtless munching - usually when you're under stress.

The Solomon RX for the four-to-10 men, women and children who are overweight includes: -Fifteen minutes of diet meditation when you awake and 15 minutes before you turn in for the night. Think of the thin you. Think of the fun, the pleasure of being thin.

Keep a diary of what you eat, what time you eat it, how long it takes to eat it, where you eat it, and your emotional condition at the time. (A secretary who did this pinpointed her troubled, thoughtless ingestion of food with stress on the job. Her high calorie binges, once defined, were easier to eliminate.)

-A diet plan that "takes three days to get into your head." It includes shares of food - six protein shares, three fruit shares, two dairy shares, three fat shares and five bread shares. Plus a list of 43 vegetables to eat as desired, ranging from asparagus to wax beans.

Dr. Solomon's plan for the "diet failures of America" is based on the plan used for years in the UConn diet center. It is based on the plan used for years in the UConn diet center. It is based on the plan used for years in the UConn diet center.

He is assistant professor at the Johns Hopkins School of Medicine, chief health officer of Maryland and an authority on metabolism and obesity. "This diet does not jeopardize the body the way fat diets do," he said.

He added that the water diet, the low-carbohydrate diet, the high fat diet and assorted others fiddle with the body's metabolism in a dangerous way and can't be considered safe lifetime diets.

With medical writer Mary Knudsen of Baltimore, the doctor explains his diet in a new book - "Doctor Solomon's Easy, No-Risk Diet" (Coward, McCann & Godegan).

Dr. Solomon said you may have seen this look in a person who was given high doses of cortisone for arthritis or some other condition. It is almost as

To be under enormous stress most of the time will do more than make and keep you puffed up and fat. "It is also the quickest route to an early death," Dr. Solomon said. "Samples of 'shares' in his eating plan.

Brucellosis Comes From Raw Milk

By Lawrence E. Lamb, M.D. DEAR DR. LAMB - In my opinion, a discussion on chronic brucellosis in your column would be very useful. Believe it or not, I find people who never heard of the disease. Some that know this infection exists have little knowledge otherwise and, in fact, think the sources of the illness no longer exist.

The disease is also called Malta fever because it was first described in British soldiers dying on the island of Malta from this infection. They got it from goat's milk. A Dr. Bruce described the disease, hence, the name brucellosis. It is also called Bang's disease, particularly among dairy men.

The disease in man is characterized by recurrent fever. These can be severe spikes and fevers with intermittent chills. The lymph glands are swollen and there is associated headache and joint aches. The diagnosis is often suspected because of the nature of the fever and the absence of other causes for the fever. The diagnosis is established by finding the germs.

The infection may cause almost no symptoms or severe undulant symptoms. It can also be chronic, causing persistent low-grade fever. The germs can be eliminated by antimicrobial treatment. In chronic cases, two or three courses of treatment may be necessary.

Theodore Heidepriem: He hates the mess.

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (UPI) - Theodore Heidepriem loves Coney Island hot dogs but hates the mess when the chili spills out of the bun onto his lap. A baker for 20 years, Heidepriem did something about the mess. He invented his version of the better mousetrap - a new hot dog bun.

"I didn't jump out of bed though," he said. "I had Saturday off and I made the mold the next morning." Using an aluminum foil tray, Heidepriem made a mold around a frank-shaped piece of pipe and formed dough around it.

"I have a bun which acts as a container for the food with an indented center," he said. "It holds the food without spilling it on rugs or yourself. And it's baked with a simple method by using a single pan."

The result is a boat-shaped bun for hot dogs with the meat lying uncovered on top. Chili, onions and the rest of the makings for Coney Islands are poured on and don't make a squishy mess.

"The side baked against the metal is on the inside of the bun and that's the porous side," he said. "The goodies seep into the bun but the outside has been sealed by the oven-heat and times as long as other buns."

"It's not going to be easy," he said. "The old hot dog and hamburger buns are gonna stay, but I'd like to get maybe 10 per cent of the trade."

"But, really, it's not the money. I've always earned a good salary. It's just the satisfaction of seeing my buns on the shelves. That would tickle me most."

Heidepriem knows he's trying to change one of America's most sacred sandwich inventions - the hot dog, which was born in St. Louis at the 1884 World's Fair.

Patient and Methodical Pittsburgh Steelers Earn First Shot Ever at Super Bowl Title

OAKLAND (UPI) — Neither an official's bad call, the record-setting brilliance of Oakland's Cliff Branch nor a highly partisan crowd that kept hollering for their blood all day long, could rattle the patient, methodical Pittsburgh Steelers, and that's why they're on the way to the Super Bowl today for the first time in their long losing history.

The Steelers, striving for team identification since long converted a pair of pass interceptions into the points they needed in the fourth quarter Sunday for a 24-13 victory over the Oakland Raiders and a Jan. 12 matchup against the Minnesota Vikings at New Orleans in Super Bowl IX.

"We've been striving to find out who we were all season long," said defensive tackle Joe Greene, who had a large part in the victory over the Raiders. "And now we know we are a damn good football team because we beat a damn good football team."

Greene and linemate L.C. Greenwood, Ernie Holmes and Dwight White combined to hold the Raiders to only 29 rushing yards and even though Franco Harris ran for a pair of touchdowns and 111 yards and Rocky Bleier added 98 rushing yards, in the end it was the play of the Pittsburgh defense that propelled the Steelers to victory and into pro football's showcase game.

"This victory," said coach Chuck Noll, "is the culmination of everything for me and the players. We worked like hell the whole season, overcame some shortcomings and then won the games we had to win. In big games I firmly believe you have to stick to basic football, and that's what we did. We controlled the ball from start to finish and even when we fell behind in the third quarter, I felt we would win it because we never let them get on top of us up front, and that's where you win football games."

Harris, Bleier and quarterback Terry Bradshaw were the only players who carried or threw the ball from scrimmage in an iron-man performance for all three. Harris went eight yards up the middle for one score — the one that tied the game at 10-10 early in the final quarter — and 21 yards on the final Pittsburgh TD in the last minute to put the game out of reach.

Only once before have the Steelers come close to the Super Bowl and that was two years ago, but they lost to the Miami Dolphins in the AFC title game. The Raiders, on the other hand, have been bridesmaids too many times to please their fans and managing general partner Al Davis. They have the best win-loss record in pro football over the last dozen years but all they have to show for it is one Super Bowl appearance.

The Raiders drew first blood in Sunday's showdown as George Blanda, who may finally call it a career at age 47, booted a 40-yard field goal. The score was set up by a fumble recovery on rookie Lynn Swann, but the Raiders were to hear from Swann a little later in the day.

Roy Gerula missed a "chip shot" field goal from the 10 but later made good on a 23-yarder for a 3-3 standoff. The Steelers should have been in front 10-3 at the half but headlinesman Ray Dodez blew a call on an eight-yard pass to John Stallworth in the end zone, so the tie prevailed at least through the intermission.

Dodez ruled Stallworth had stepped out of bounds when he came down with the ball but television replay showed clearly he was well within the out-of-bounds marker and the score should have been allowed.

Noll, magnanimous in victory, later said while he didn't like the call, he didn't let it upset him or his players.

"I told them to go out and forget the call," Noll said, "and to their credit they did. The man (Dodez) simply missed the play."

It didn't seem either side could score again but then Ken Stabler, the AFC Player of the Year who completed 26 touchdown passes during the regular season, got hot and finally got the Raiders in front when Branch outspun defender Mel Blount for a 38-yard circus catch and a 10-3 edge.

Branch finished with a record nine catches for 186 yards and was the only man the Steelers' defense couldn't shut off. Still — after Harris had scored his first touchdown and Swann had made a six-yard grab to put the Steelers in front at 17-10 — Branch never got another chance to burn Pittsburgh because the defense pressured Stabler to the point where he was throwing on the run.

That kind of passing resulted in interceptions by Jack Ham and J.T. Thomas in the final minutes, and the Raiders were finished, except for a meaningless 24-yard field goal by Blanda.

"It's tough to come this far and lose," said Raiders coach John Madden, "and when you lose, you're open to anything people want to say. Until you win the Super Bowl you have to just sit there and take it. You can't play a team like Pittsburgh and do just one thing. You have to mix the run with the pass, and you have to have confidence when you do run. Winning in the playoffs means being the best team on the field that day. We were not the best team in this game."

So now, while the Raiders have the winter and spring ahead to think about next year the Steelers start gathering themselves together to get ready for the Vikings, who won the NFC title with a 14-10 victory over the Los Angeles Rams.

"I have no thoughts at the moment about the Super Bowl or the Vikings," said Noll. "You'll have to give me some time to get my thoughts together. I don't know much about Minnesota right now."

Stabler, the AFC's Player-of-the-Year, was in no mood to answer questions in the gloomlike atmosphere of the Oakland dressing room.

"Let me off the hook," he said. "I have nothing to say. I've cooperated all year so give me a break this one time."

Mary Hubbard, who rushed for 865 yards during the regular season but was held to only six by the Steelers, gave credit where credit was due.

"Their defense played a whole of a game," he said. "And (rookie middle linebacker Jack) Lambert played a lot better than we expected."

Defensive tackle Otis Sistrunk summed it up as he took off his black-and-silver uniform for the last time this year.

"They've got a good ball club, but I'm not saying they are better than us. Mistakes just killed us."

"It was a classic," he said. "The Rams play as good a defense as I have ever played against. I just kept roping away, looking for something that worked. They took away a lot of things we like to do and I used just about every formation we had."

Trailing 7-3 in the third period, Los Angeles nearly came back on a 73-yard pass from Harris to Harold Jackson, who was knocked out of bounds by Jeff Wright at the Vikings' two.

There has been one crisis after another with the Fightin' Irish this season, and the latest incident occurred Sunday when it was learned at least two players, and possibly three, would not be able to play in the New Year's Night Orange Bowl game against Alabama.

A spokesman for the Irish said that linebacker Greg Collins, center Mark Brennan and fullback Wayne Bullock all were doubtful starters because of injury or illness suffered during the last two weeks.

Brennan, a senior who is regarded as the Irish' most consistent offensive lineman, suffered a hairline fracture of the right foot in the game against Southern California last month. Everyone thought he would be okay but he re-injured the foot playing basketball and has not practiced with the team for a week.

Collins, captain of the defensive team and the team leader in tackles, fell off a rented motorcycle at the team's training camp at Marco Island, Fla., Saturday and needed 11 stitches to close a badly cut knee.

Bullock, the Irish's leading rusher with 855 yards and 12 touchdowns, has been sick with the flu and missed the last four practices. He was reported feeling better Sunday, but his status for Wednesday night's game was uncertain.

The latest news was no doubt a boost to the morale of the Alabama squad, but the Crimson Tide really doesn't need it. Anyone who believes in the psychological effects of revenge will tell you the Tide can't possibly lose Wednesday night.

Then again, anyone who ever saw Ronald Reagan as George Gipp, emoter on his death bed or watched Pat O'Brien, as Knute Rockne inspire his troops at halftime, knows how much emotion has meant in the success of Notre Dame throughout the years.

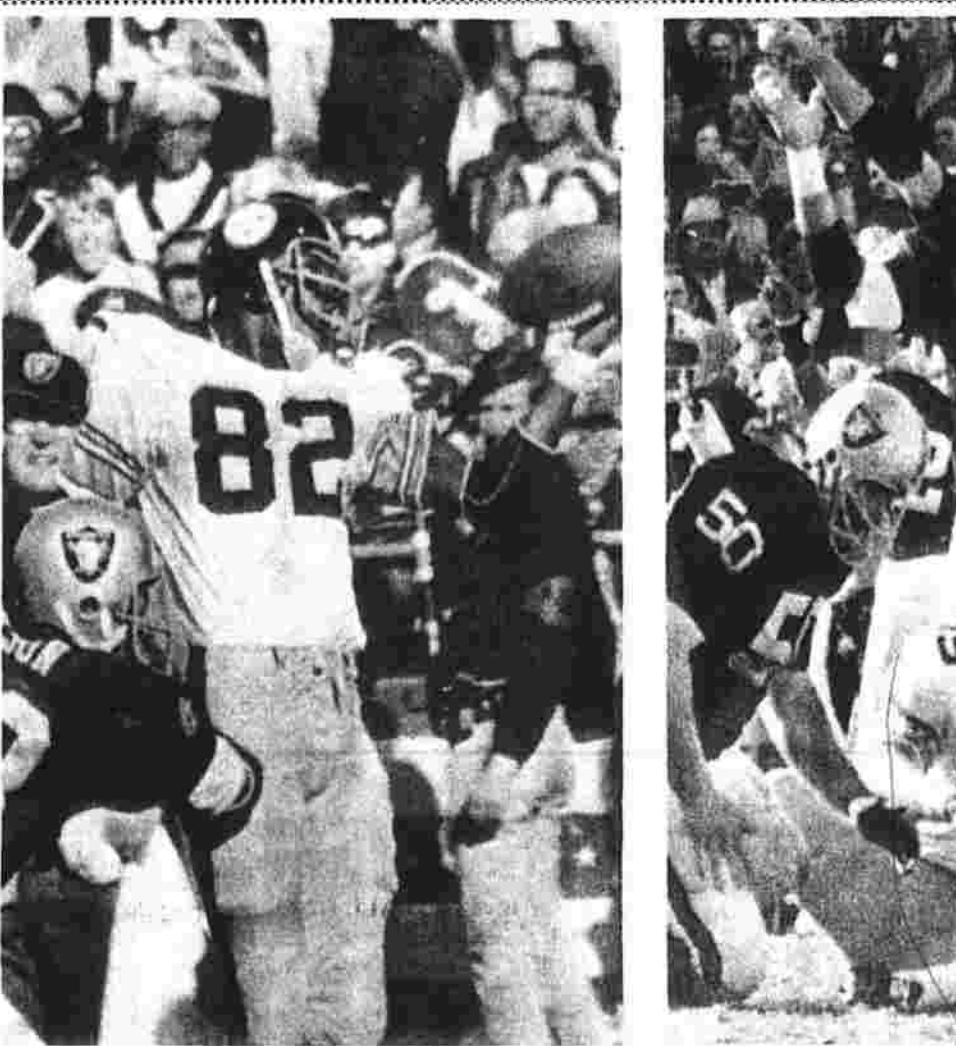

There you have it. Revenge vs. emotion. Two ingredients expected to bring out the best (or worst) in two of college football's most storied teams and all the promoters of this 51st annual extravaganza as happily as Anita Bryant.

The only sure winners are the promoters. Fans began arriving by the droves early Sunday morning and everyone is anticipating a record crowd for the New Year's night contest. The previous record for an Orange Bowl game was 80,699 on Jan. 1, 1971, when Nebraska met LSU but already 80,000 seats are gone for this one.

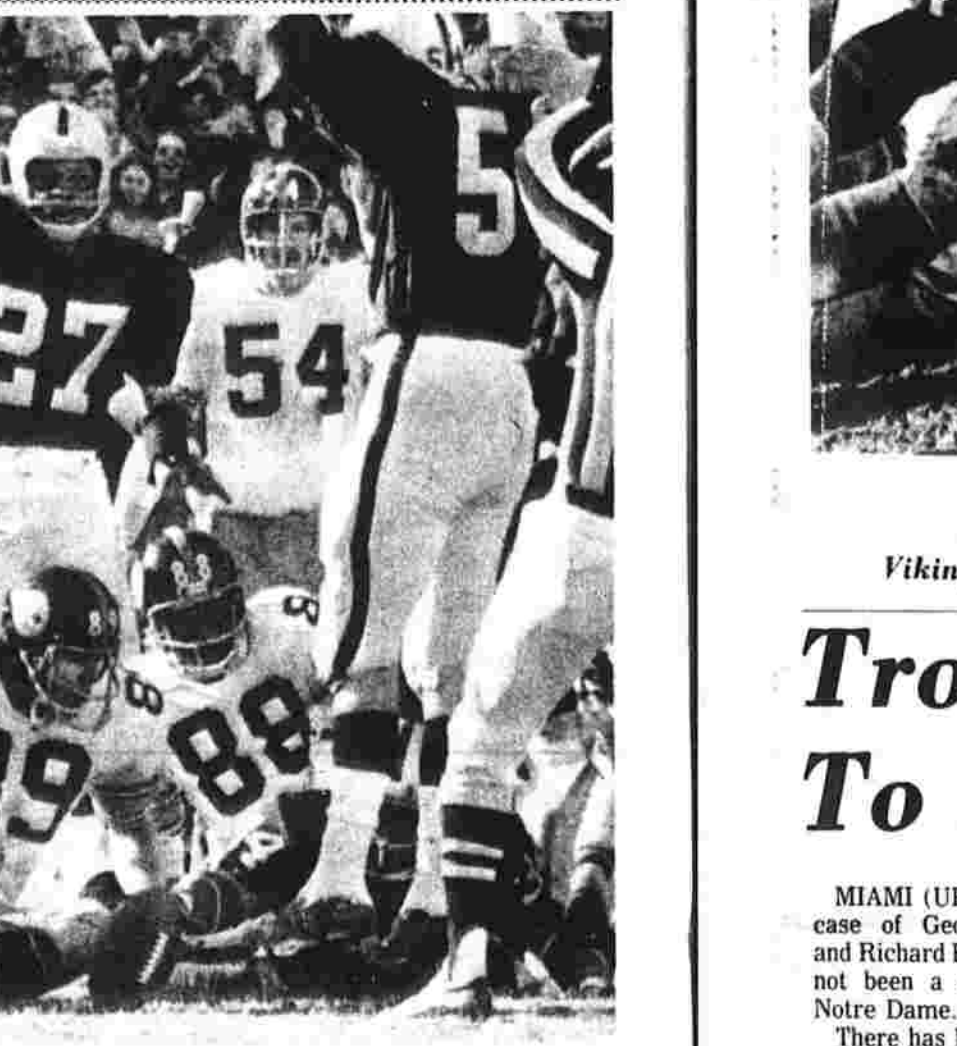

The revenge factor is indeed strong for Alabama. Last year, at the Sugar Bowl

Hubbard Held to Six Yards Raider 12-Year Record Lists No Super Bowl Win

OAKLAND (UPI) — If winning is everything, how do you account for the fact that the Oakland Raiders have the best win-loss record for the past 12 years and only one Super Bowl appearance to show for it?

In that span, they've won 116 games, lost 43 and tied one — by far the best in the National Football League. Loss No. 43 brought the 1974 season to an abrupt end Sunday.

"Winning 13 out of 16 this year wasn't enough," said one Raider after a 24-13 defeat at the hands of the Pittsburgh Steelers in the American Football Conference championship game.

So it means no Super Bowl — except on television — and another long, long winter.

"It's tough to come this far and lose," said John Madden, the dejected Raider coach, after the defeat. "We had the feeling everything was going our way. We had the best record in the NFL. We beat Miami. And we had the opportunity to play the title conference game at home. But look at what happened."

With frightening efficiency, the Steelers' defense choked off the Raiders' running game and that ended Oakland's hopes of Super Bowl glory in New Orleans two weeks from now.

"The Steelers beat us because they gave us nothing on the ground," said Madden. "Our passing was sufficient but we couldn't get the run going. I can't remember when our ground game was shut down that effectively."

But what Madden didn't mention was that the Steelers showed why they were the best defensive team in the AFC this year.

The Raiders gained only 29 yards on 21 rushes and relied primarily on the passing of quarterback Ken Stabler, who connected on 19 of 38 for 271 yards. However, with the unbalanced yardage ratio, Pittsburgh's linebackers and secondary laid low and intercepted two passes which eventually were converted into touchdowns.

"We said before the game that turnovers would decide it," Madden said. "And that's what happened. They played well on defense and gave us nothing on the ground."

"You can't play a team like Pittsburgh and just do one thing. You have to mix the run with the pass and you have to have confidence when you do run."

Oakland's only bright spot was a record nine receptions for 186 yards and one touchdown by speedy Cliff Branch.

Stabler, the AFC's Player-of-the-Year, was in no mood to answer questions in the gloomlike atmosphere of the Oakland dressing room.

"Let me off the hook," he said. "I have nothing to say. I've cooperated all year so give me a break this one time."

Welcome Sober Bud Grant Flashes Big Grin

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — More than 10,000 cheering fans turned out early today to welcome home the Pittsburgh Steelers, American Football Conference champions.

The Steelers defeated the Oakland Raiders 24-13 Sunday in Oakland to win the AFC title and the right to compete against Minnesota in the Super Bowl Jan. 12.

Police said the fans, some of them carrying banners lauding the Steelers, jammed their way into the United Airlines terminal in an effort to see the players. Others stood outside on the sidewalks and driveways.

BLOOMINGTON, Minn. (UPI) — Even usually somber Minnesota Coach Bud Grant was jubilant after the Vikings gained a second straight Super Bowl berth with a 14-10 victory over the Los Angeles Rams in the NFC championship game Sunday.

The generally straight-faced Grant flashed a broad grin and said, "If a person can't smile after a game like that, I guess he never can."

"That was a long game, wasn't it? There were an awful lot of turnovers and penalties. Any one of them could have made the difference."

The Rams were penalized 70 yards to Minnesota's 10, each team lost the ball three times on fumbles, Minnesota intercepted two James Harris passes and Los Angeles picked off one Fran Tarkenton loss.

"Both of us had good luck and bad luck," Grant said. "In a game like this, all that counts is who is ahead when it ends. So many plays could have meant the ball game. You've got to feel good when a team like the Rams doesn't score on a long pass."

Tarkenton, who threw 29 yards to Jim Lash for the game's first score and set up Dave Osborn's one-yard scoring plunge in the third quarter with a four-yard scramble, called it the "toughest game I've ever played in."

"It was a classic," he said. "The Rams play as good a defense as I have ever played against. I just kept roping away, looking for something that worked. They took away a lot of things we like to do and I used just about every formation we had."

Trailing 7-3 in the third period, Los Angeles nearly came back on a 73-yard pass from Harris to Harold Jackson, who was knocked out of bounds by Jeff Wright at the Vikings' two.

"I didn't realize Wright had such a good angle on me," said Jackson, who later caught a 44-yard scoring pass. "I just got the ball and went. If I'd realized that he'd had that good an angle, I'd have gone to the inside and cut over."

Two plays later left guard Tom Mack was penalized for illegal motion. Harris then rolled to the right and tried to hit tight end Pat Curran in the end zone. Jackie Wallace tipped the ball and veteran linebacker Wally Hilgenberg intercepted.

"It's safe to say I've never had a more important interception in my career," said Hilgenberg. "I didn't have any thoughts of running it out. I am too old and too slow for that. I was just looking for a place to fall down."

Rams' Coach Chuck Knox said the penalties and fumbles cost Los Angeles the game.

"We moved the football early on a drive. Then came a fumble. Then on another drive, what happens — we fumble again. Then after Jackson's catch, a penalty and we're back to the seven."

"Every time we got something going, something would happen against us. Our team gave it a helluva effort but today things just didn't work out."

"The Rams' defense is the toughest I've ever played against. They did a lot of things which took away a good part of our offense. We had difficulty running wide because their ends take an outside rush. We finally caught them with some traps inside in the second half."

Harris said Los Angeles simply made too many mistakes in opportune situations.

"They beat us and they played better than we did."

"I didn't realize Wright had such a good angle on me," said Jackson, who later caught a 44-yard scoring pass. "I just got the ball and went. If I'd realized that he'd had that good an angle, I'd have gone to the inside and cut over."

Troubles Continue To Mount for Irish

MIAMI (UPI) — As in the case of George Foreman and Richard Burton, this has not been a good year for Notre Dame.

Vikings Back in Super Bowl Despite Comedy of Errors

BLOOMINGTON, Minn. (UPI) — It wasn't exactly championship caliber football but the Minnesota Vikings are back in the Super Bowl for the second straight year and will probably be established as favorites to win the National Football League title on Jan. 12 in New Orleans.

The Vikings beat the Los Angeles Rams, 14-10, Sunday for the National Conference title in a comedy of errors and will meet the surprising Pittsburgh Steelers, who dumped heavily-favored Oakland, 24-13, in the AFC title game for the Super Bowl.

The Rams-Vikings game was filled with fumbles, interceptions, dropped balls and costly penalties and in the end, it was that old standby, Minnesota's Purple Gang defense, that saved the day.

The key came in the third period. Minnesota led 7-3 on Fran Tarkenton's 29-yard touchdown pass to Jim Lash in the second period and had the Rams pinned back at the 25. But Los Angeles quarterback James Harris escaped three defenders and hooked up on a 73-yard pass play with Harold Jackson to the Viking two.

John Capelletti drove to the one and then the complexion of the game changed.

First guard Tom Mack jumped offense, drawing a five-yard penalty, and then Jackie Wallace and Wally Hilgenberg combined for the biggest play of the season for the Vikings.

Harris rolled to his right and threw toward Pat Curran but Wallace tipped the ball and Hilgenberg pulled it in for a touchdown. Tarkenton then took the Vikings 80 yards and set up the decisive one-yard touchdown by Dave Osborn with a three-yard scramble that ended just inches short of the goal line.

"The Rams' defense was as good as we've played this season," Tarkenton said. "But our defense was a little better. They made the big plays when they had to and that's the sign of a championship team."

"We were in our basic 6-2 goal line offense," explained Hilgenberg. "Jackie got a good hand on the ball and it came right to me. It's safe to say I've never had a more important interception in my career. I didn't have any thoughts of running it out. I'm too old and too slow for that. I was just looking for a place to fall down."

Tarkenton called Osborn's running the key to the Viking effort in the second half.

"I kept groping around for something that would work," he said. "They took away a lot of the things we like to do. They tried to take Chuck Foreman away from us and that's when we went to Osborn. Dave is not as good as last year — he's better. He's playing the best football he's ever played."

"We knew we couldn't win against them by passing alone," Osborn said. "They've got the No. 1 record in the league against the rush. But we've got as good an offensive line as anybody they've faced. At first it just seemed that they were standing where we were running. But then things started to open up."

Even though the Viking defense made the key play in the end zone to turn the game around, it wasn't through his heroics.

Harris threw a 44-yard touchdown pass to Jackson to cut the lead to 14-10 in the fourth quarter and later had the Rams on the Minnesota 45.

Beside Mack's penalty, Ram defensive end Fred Dryer was called offside

after sacking Tarkenton on the Ram 12 and the Vikings went in to score the deciding touchdown four plays later.

Several of the Rams were also seething about a penalty that wasn't called, a 12th man they insisted was on the field when Harris was dumped for one of his crucial losses.

And while there was gloom in the Ram dressing room, Tarkenton looked forward to the Super Bowl.

"I'm kind of glad we're not playing Miami," he said. "I like to see any good team out of there. I'd just as soon play the worst team there is. Pittsburgh is going to be a knockout, draught affair. The Steelers have as much talent as anyone in the league and their defense is just awesome."

The Vikings are expected to be listed as favorites since they have gone to the Super Bowl twice in the past while Pittsburgh is making its first appearance.

The Vikings, however, lost both times, to Kansas City and then to Miami last season.

Tarkenton summed it all up: "I guess when all the talking is done, we'll really find out in two weeks if we're better than that team that lost to Miami in January."

Bucks Undecided on Fullback

PASADENA, Calif. (UPI) — Ohio State football coach Woody Hayes doesn't know who his starting fullback will be on New Year's Day.

It could be Champ Henson, a senior from Ohio. Or it could be Pete Johnson, a sophomore from Georgia.

During the regular season, Henson, who suffered a serious knee injury last year, and Johnson divided the fullbacking duties.

"I have flipped a coin to decide who was going to start," Hayes said Sunday. "But they (Henson and Johnson) didn't like that. 'So I told them I'd start the one who does the best in practice and let him keep the starting position as long as he does well.'"

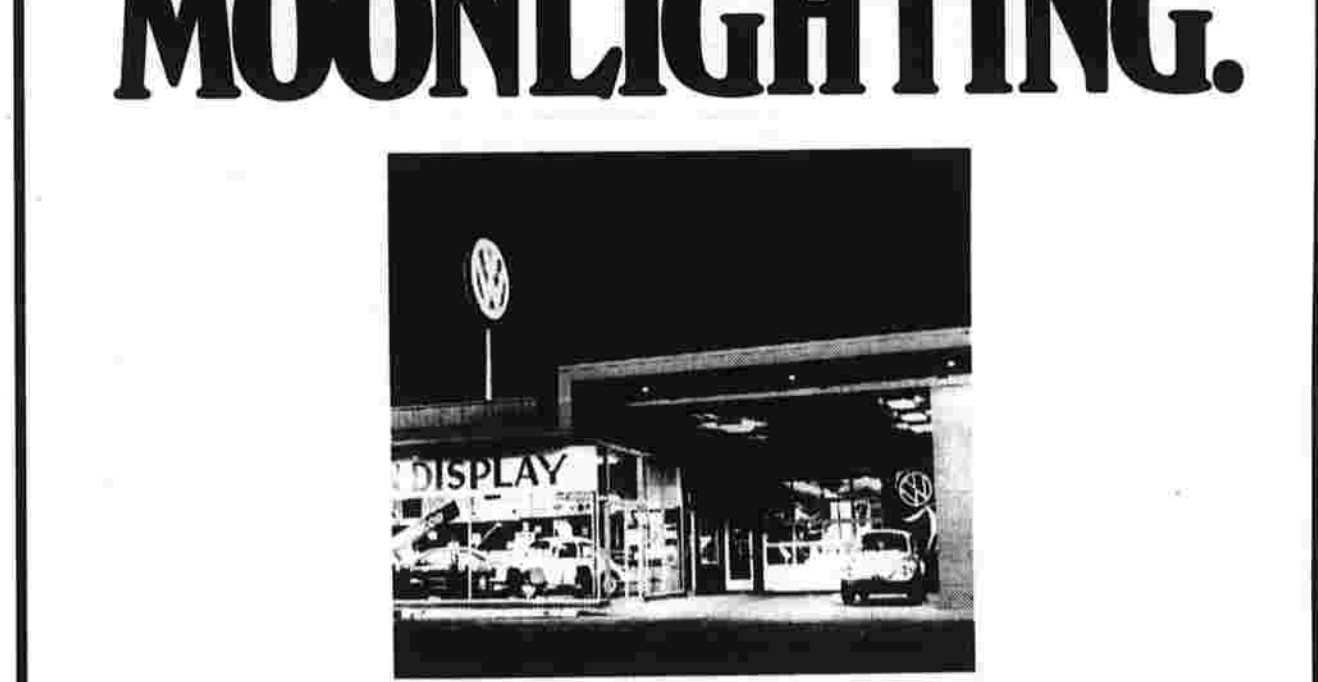

Hayes sent his Buckeyes through their final "hard" workout at Citrus College at Azusa, Calif., Sunday and then pronounced his team "fit and ready."

He said starting split end Dave Haxel, who has an ankle injury, would be ready for Ohio State's Rose Bowl meeting with University of Southern California.

"I'm not satisfied with what we've done in practice," Hayes smiled, "but I'm never satisfied. We haven't played in five weeks of time to develop a good passing game."

"I expect Pat Haden to be as sharp as a dart. He's had three weeks to prepare for this game and that's plenty of time to develop a good passing game."

Battling to a 1-1 tie yesterday at the Bolton Ice Palace were Regal's and Nichols. Gates Byram scored for Regal's and Jimmy Burnett was the lamp-lighter for Nichols.

Also, Farr's nipped Economy Electric, 4-3, with Tim Conti and Tom Mozzer scoring two goals each for the winners. Eric and Mark Stepper accounted for all Economy scores with the former tallying twice.

NEW YORK (UPI)—The most irrelevant statistic in the National Basketball Association is that the Milwaukee Bucks are in last place in the Midwest Division.

What is relevant is that the Bucks are only 4 1/2 games out of first place—closer to first place than the second-place teams in the Central and Pacific Divisions.

Additionally, the Bucks have won 10 of their 16 games since the return of Kareem Abdul-Jabbar and Sunday night virtually ran the New York Knicks out of the building in scoring a 115-89 victory.

Abdul-Jabbar's presence forced the Knicks to shoot from the outside and set the stage for a third-period blitz during which the Bucks outscored the Knicks, 19-6.

The Bucks led, 67-65, with 6:49 left in the third period but scored the next 15 points and New York was scoreless for the remainder of the period while Milwaukee opened an 82-65 lead. Abdul-Jabbar, a doubtful starter because of a strained back, started, scored 27 points and had 14 rebounds while Bob Dandridge added 31 for the Bucks. Harthorne Wingo led the Knicks with 16 points.

The Cleveland Cavs defeated the Atlanta Hawks, 110-103, in the Kansas City-Omaha Kings beat the Portland Trailblazers, 103-99, and the Boston Celtics topped the Seattle SuperSonics, 121-101, in other NBA games.

Eagle Grapplers Bow

Spotted Saturday was the return of Cliff Demers as coach of the East Catholic wrestling team as the Eagles bowed to East Hartford High in its season opener, 36-21.

BASKETBALL

With Mike Calabro and Billy Hill popping in six points apiece, VFW nipped Manchester Travel Service, 17-15, Saturday at the Community Y.

Mike St. Laurent paced Travel with nine markers.

Also the Elks outdistanced Wyman 0-11, 20-13, and Groman overhelmed Nasiff Arms, 13-4. David Johnson (8) and Mike Moreau (6) were best for the Elks, Eric Nelson (7) for Wyman, Mike Simonsi (8) for Groman's and Billy Masse (4) for Nasiff's.

Third-ranked UCLA posted what was to be considered the most impressive tournament victory Saturday night when it handed seventh-ranked Maryland an 81-75 defeat in the finals of the Maryland Invitational.

David Meyers' career-high 32 points paced the Bruins over the Terrapins who managed to close a 16-point deficit to only two with 3:39 left to play. However, at that point, sophomore Marques Johnson took over for UCLA, scoring six of his team's last eight points to preserve the victory.

Key Court Games On Tap This Week

SCOREBOARD

By Len Auster

Early in the 1974-75 basketball season it is, yet Manchester High and East Catholic have key hits on tap this week. Also in action are the Cheney Tech cagers, returning to battle after a 10-day layoff.

If Manchester is to have a shot at the CCIL crown, it must defeat the top clubs. The Indians, 3-3 overall and 2-2 in the league, entertain league-leading Hall High of West Hartford tonight at Clarke Arena.

The Warriors (5-0 in the CCIL and 7-0 overall) are led by 6-4 forward John Nelson and 6-4 center John Rubino. Height played an important factor in Manchester's loss last Friday to Wethersfield and it could make the difference tonight.

The Silk Towners have no rest after tonight, however, as Friday they journey to Ellfield High for a bout with the second-place Raiders.

Cheney Tech had its five-game winning sken snapped the last time it took the hardwood. The 5-2 Beavers tonight entertain Somers High in a return engagement. Earlier in the season, Cheney topped Somers in overtime, 61-50. Beaver coach Gerry Blanchard's hopes lie in the return of 6-4 center Mark Viklinetz, who was absent with an infected foot when the upswing was halted. The Techmen host Stafford High Thursday night.

Revitalized East Catholic has ripped off five consecutive victories after an opening setback, including a 71-45 triumph over HCC for St. Bernard last Friday. The Eagles will get their first real big challenge Saturday night at the University of Hartford when arch-rival 5-2 South Catholic provides the opposition. The Rebels are small in stature but are potent paced by 6-3 senior Randy LaVigne, touted by his coach (Joe Reilly) for All-American honors. East has shown constant improvement day by day, an aspect which pleases seven-year coach Stan Ogrodnik.

Elsewhere, Coventry High (0-2, 1-3) journeys to Tolland High (3-1, 5-2) tonight for a non-conference game. Friday, the Patriots entertain COIC rival East Hampton.

The only other game on tap tonight in the area has Ellington High (2-1, 3-3) entertaining NCCC foe East Granby (2-1, 3-3) Friday. The Knights are in a series with Ellington High (2-2, 3-3). Friday's schedule finds Bolton High (1-2, 2-3) at Portland High in a COC clash, Rham High (1-1, 5-3) entertaining Vinal Tech (1-2-1) and South Windsor (2-1, 3-4) meeting North West Catholic (0-1, 4-3) at the Bobcats' Den in a non-conference clash.

Dartmouth nipped Georgetown, 57-56, for the Kodak championship. San Diego won its own invitational by beating California at Santa Barbara, 78-72; Miami (Ohio) took the Evansville Classic by defeating the host school, 79-68. Old Dominion also won its tourney by downing California, 84-73; Las Vegas proved a rude host by whipping Fresno State, 60-64, in the finals of the Las Vegas Classic; and Northeast Louisiana took the Pacemaker Classic by beating Tulane, 95-73.

Record Contract

YOKYO (UPI) - Sadaharu Oh, the top home run slugger of Japanese professional baseball, today signed a record-breaking contract to play for the Yomiuri Giants in 1975 for $3 million (¥210,000).

It was the first contract of more than $200,000 ever to be given a baseball player in Japan. It represented a 10 per cent hike over Oh's 1974 salary.

College Football Roundup

'Classics' Resume Tonight

NEW YORK (UPI) - For fans yanked by Saturday's outpouring of merrily, college football's glit of post-season "classics" continues tonight with Texas meeting Auburn in the Gator Bowl.

This is another battle of runner-up as Auburn has lost the Southeastern Conference title to Alabama in the season finale and Texas was edged for the Southwest Conference championship by Baylor.

In Saturday's games, Mississippi State edged North Carolina, 28-24, in the Sun Bowl; Oklahoma State downed Brigham Young, 16-6, in the Fiesta Bowl; Longhorn Coach Darrell Raderbilt and Texas Tech battled to a 6-6 tie in the Peach Bowl and the East Tipped the West, 16-14, in the Shrine East-West game.

The Longhorns will be excused if they appear lost at the outset of tonight's game as it marks the first time in eight years Texas will not be the host team in the Cotton Bowl.

Texas, which relies on its wishbone offense, is bolstered by quarterback Marty Akins' recovery from a pair of sprained ankles in a Longhorn Coach Darrell Raderbilt said Akins is now "running at full speed."

Challenging the Texas attack will be Auburn's superb defensive unit, which keyed the War Eagles' success this season.

Mississippi State sophomore Walter Packer ran for a Sun Bowl record of 183 yards and scored two touchdowns as the Bulldogs' running attack accounted for 455 yards.

Spring Still Closed

The Highland Park Spring, closed three months ago because of the danger of contaminated water, is still closed and the date for reopening it is uncertain, a spokesman for Manchester's health department said today.

Although the spring is privately owned (the Tonica Springs Co.), the town has taken responsibility for correcting problems there because town residents are the beneficiaries of its water and because of the belief surface water has been entering the well.

To date, the area around the cistern has been sealed with clay, to prevent surface water entering there. When town personnel can be spared from other duties, they will install a 100-foot new pipe from the cistern area to the spring outlet. In addition, a new sealed lid for the cistern has been ordered and will be installed as soon as it arrives.

DCA Criticized By Review Unit

The state Department of Community Affairs has been criticized for its failure to comply with state statutes—in a report issued today by the bi-partisan Joint Legislative Review Committee.

The report charges the DCA failed to maintain a central information source of available funds and programs, for use by state and municipal officials.

The Legislative Program Review Committee, whose co-chairman is State Sen. David Odegar of Manchester, today released the first volume of its Report on State Grants-in-Aid to Municipalities. A second volume, to deal with the administration of individual grant programs, will be issued during the 1975 session of the General Assembly.

"Volume One of our report serves several important purposes," explained Odegar. "It recommends that the Department of Community Affairs provide a general source of information concerning municipal affairs. A referral service designed to assist municipal and state officials in acquiring more specific information and assistance also is recommended. State statutes mandate that the Department of Community Affairs provide these services.

State Rep. John Grappo of Winsted, co-chairman with Odegar, added, "We have recommended also that the department issue a catalogue of state services to municipalities. In our report, we have provided a catalogue of state grants-in-aid which, we hope, will fill the informational void until the department issues a more comprehensive catalogue."

Emphasizing the immediate need for the catalogue by those state and municipal officials who must deal with the programs on a day-to-day basis," Odegar noted that $325 million for payments to local governments in fiscal 1974-75, and that $210 million additional was made available in various bonded funds.

Town Gets State Grant

The Town of Manchester, as anticipated, has received a state grant for $95,483 representing its share of federal revenue sharing funds given to Connecticut.

Town Manager Robert Weiss, announcing receipt of the grant today, said the total is based on a $5-per-capita allocation by the state.

Manchester's 1974-1975 General Fund operating budget included a revenue estimate of $95,000 for the grant.

Other permits and state services, included in the yearly report were: Addition to Talcottville School, $192,000; two new industrial buildings, one at $400,000 and the other at $100,000; a sewer pumping station building, $352,000; factory addition, $75,000; commercial food store, $25,000; also, Child Day Care Center, $45,000; SNETCO addition, $146,600; K-Mart Store, $117,320; Quality Motel, $222,000; and 723 miscellaneous permits, $859,385.

The report also notes the issuance of 13 certificates of occupancy valued at $172,500 and 43 trailer permits at $215,740. Trailer permits increased by 37 over last year's figure.

IT'S OUR POLICY

By Ray Tanguay, C.L.U. CERTIFIED INSURANCE CONSULTANT

Health insurance may be the single most difficult purchase a consumer may ever make. In fact, three out of four don't know what their policies cover.

Occasional visits to the doctor, usually a minor expense, really don't need coverage. In fact, say experts, even maternity could be covered by the family. (After all, you have several months to save up.)

Basic protection on hospitalization and surgeons' bills is what most civilians have (members of the armed forces have complete protection).

Major-medical extends basic protection by adding to the number of hospital days allowed, and by covering more costs outside the hospital.

Umbrella policies begin where the others leave off, treating the limits of your major-medical policy like a very large deductible.

NEWS CAPSULES

Amtrak Train Derailed
HARRISBURG, Pa. (UPI) — Work crews Sunday removed 12 derailed cars, repaired 1,000 feet of track and hoped to have the track back in service today. A preliminary investigation showed a split rail was the cause of the derailment Saturday that forced the Broadway Limited off the track and injured 41 of the train's 430 passengers. The investigation continues. None of the passengers was injured seriously.

Thousands Mourn Benny
CULVER CITY, Calif. (UPI) — With thousands of celebrities and fans as a backdrop Jack Benny was buried Sunday at Hillside Memorial Cemetery. George Burns broke down at the beginning of his eulogy and sobbed "I can't imagine my life without him." Bob Hope carried on with the eulogies, saying Benny "was stingy to the end. He was only with us 80 years, and it wasn't enough." Mary Livingston, his comedy partner and wife of 47 years said, "In all the years we were together, he never gave me one bad day, not one bad moment."

Foul Play Ruled Out
NEW YORK (UPI) — Foul play was ruled out in Amy Vanderbilt's fatal fall from a window in her second-story apartment Friday, but detectives resume their investigation today in hopes of establishing whether she jumped or fell. The city's deputy chief medical examiner said she could have fallen accidentally because of dizziness caused by the hypertension from which she suffered.

Prison Rampage Ends
DUBLIN (UPI) — Rebel prisoners — 140 strong — all members of the extremist Provisional wing of the Irish Republican Army, Sunday went on a rampage to press for improved conditions at Portlaoise Prison, 50 miles south of Dublin. The uprising was ended at the end of five hours, when more than 100 riot police stormed a barricaded cellblock. Sixteen guards, who had been held captive, were released and the prisoners went singing back to their cells. The rebels extensively damaged one wing in the prison. Prison officials have agreed to consider their demands.
