LUTZ JUNIOR MUSEUM

Origami
Fold paper in half lengthwise, bring lower right-hand corner two-thirds the way across upper edge, crease along...
If these directions sound familiar, you are probably one of the nation's rapidly growing number of origami enthusiasts. If not, with only a little encouragement, you may quickly become one.
Origami is the ancient Japanese art of paper folding. It has been practiced for over ten centuries, being handed down from generation to generation. The Japanese seem to have an intrinsic regard for paper that has no parallel for us in the Western world.
Origami is at once a creative art form and a form of ceremonial etiquette, as used for the paper decorations attached to gifts. In its pure form, it is a square of paper folded into a three-dimensional object, without the use of scissors, glue or staples. The object can be as simple as the paper airplanes children make or as complex as the tiny animals pictured at the right.
In recent years origami has become an increasingly popular hobby — a favorite pastime of people of all ages.

Lillian Oppenheimer, director of the Origami Center in New York City, says "People who come to the Center seem to have been bitten by a bug, they all know this is for them. When enthusiasts get together at our meetings, people from eight to eighty years of age all share their ideas and learn from each other."
Many people think that origami is difficult — a feeling that may have derived from early books of instruction which were poorly translated from the Japanese. Today there are several clearly written books on the subject, such as "The Art of Origami" by Samuel Randlett.

Paper folding is an inexpensive hobby since almost any type of paper, from gum wrappers to tissue paper, can be used. In these inflationary times, that's always a bonus. Scraps of gift wrap or decorative paper bags can be recycled into interesting toys and mobiles. For something special, origami paper in bright colors, pre-cut into convenient squares, is available at some art or craft supply stores.
In addition to being inexpensive, origami is also a hobby that can accompany you anywhere. You can practice it at meetings, in buses or planes, in restaurants or a thousand other places. It's interesting, convenient, inexpensive and most of all fun.
On Saturday, Feb. 15, Dr. Harvey Pastel will conduct an origami workshop at the museum from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. that is open to junior high students through adults. Anyone interested in participating should contact the museum at 643-0949 for reservations.
Following the workshop, he will demonstrate the art to the public in the museum's Dining Room. Enroll in the workshop or stop by the museum at 2 p.m. You'll probably be bitten by the origami bug yourself.

ECHS Exams On Saturday
The entrance examination for the incoming freshman class at East Catholic High School will be Saturday from 9:30 a.m. to 12:45 p.m. at the school.
There will be a $3 fee payable at the time of the examination.

Nesjar has constructed all 16 outdoor sculptures designed by Picasso for public space areas. Work on the "Bather" is scheduled for completion in mid-January 1975. Gould Center, a 40-acre commercial and recreational complex, will be completed in late 1975.

SAFE LIVING

MANCHESTER PUBLIC SAFETY COMMITTEE

Let's Strive To Be Safe Pedestrians

We were all proud to hear that Manchester received the Automobile Club of Hartford's AAA award as a result of the town having no pedestrian fatalities in 1973. Manchester has numerous crossing lights and crossing guards, which have surely contributed to the earning of this award. We must realize, however, it requires awareness and safety training on the part of all drivers and pedestrians to maintain a record such as we had in 1973.

One step in the training of a safe pedestrian would be to get into the habit, and see that the children do, to wait patiently for the crossing light and then give a final check of the cars at the intersection to be sure the drivers are aware the light has changed to "walk."

Parents and children need training in the proper use of roads. Driving around Manchester, we are amazed to find children riding their small cars, tricycles, and "big wheels" in the road. We have even observed adults encouraging and even joining the children in a game of ball in the middle of the road. It appears parents feel because their street is not a main highway, it can be used for a playground. These side streets and circles are very dangerous. Cars do not expect to turn the corner and find children playing in the streets. The streets we have observed children playing in are not without adequate backyards and sidewalks, so there is no excuse.

On these cold days we dress ourselves and our children with extra clothing — some which can create an unsafe condition. Here are a few toe-to-head tips for safety and warmth:

1. Leave your platform shoes, high heels and clogs at home when it's slippery. Wear medium to low-heeled boots with a non-skid sole.
2. Slacks or long skirts are warm and practical, but make sure the fit is proper. They should not be so long they catch on your heel.
3. Midi and maxi coats, long capes, ponchos and shawls may keep you warm but they can catch you in escalators, revolving doors, elevators or motor vehicle doors.
4. Long scarves, however fashionable, can also be a hang-up. A study in the Journal of the American Medical Association reported that nearly half the persons in accidents involving the wearing of scarves died.
5. If you wear mittens to drive, you may lose your mittens and your life. Driving gloves with fingers and leather palms insure against steering slippage.

Head-gear should not block hearing or sight. Covering up a child's face with bulky hats and too many mufflers may prevent him from hearing and seeing traffic dangers.

Snowbanks on the side of the road are a great temptation for children — they love to climb on them on the way to and from school. Encourage your children to take part in this sport only on the snow banks on the lawn side of the sidewalks — not on the banks near the road. Snowball fights are another source of enjoyment by all children. Explain to your children the dangers of throwing snowballs at cars and trucks. Tell them of the possibility that it will startle

Iowa Divorce Residency Rule Upheld

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Supreme Court ruled 6 to 3 Thursday that a state may constitutionally require a year's residency before the start of divorce proceedings.

Justice William H. Rehnquist, speaking for the majority in a case challenging Iowa's divorce requirements, rejected arguments that the waiting period violates the right to travel and improperly bars access to divorce courts.

Dissenters were Justices Byron R. White, Thurgood Marshall and William J. Brennan. Justice William O. Douglas voted with the majority in the case, which was argued before the court prior to his hospitalization because of a stroke.

"Iowa may insist that one seeking to initiate such a proceeding have the modicum of attachment to the state required here," the majority opinion said of the residency requirement.

The court has invalidated residency requirements for welfare payments, voting and medical care.

Norwich Armory To Be Solar Heated

NORWICH (UPI) — The Connecticut National Guard says its new armory in Norwich will be the first one in the nation to be heated solely by the sun's rays.

State Adjutant General Maj. Gen. John F. Freund said the solar heating system will add 90 percent to the about $1.2 million construction cost of the new armory, but it will pay for itself over the next nine years.

Freund said the additional cost of the solar energy system will be borne by the federal government's National Guard Bureau, and the federal government will pay for 75 percent of the costs of the building.

The state will have to bear the remaining 25 percent of the cost of the building, plus the costs for parking lots, security fencing and lighting, and landscaping and furniture.

"I am strong in the conviction that within five years no one will even consider building an armory anywhere in the country that does not use solar heat," Freund said.

The new facility is part of a plan to phase out 12 aging armories around the state and replace them with modern buildings. New Britain has been earmarked as the site for another new armory.

Two Former Students Cited for Achievement

TOLLAND

Vivian Kenneson
The Board of Education recently noted outstanding achievement of two former Tolland High School students.

Michael Jesanis, a freshman at Clarkson College of Technology in Potsdam, N.Y., finished his first semester with a straight A, 4.9 average.

Lisa Alderuccio, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Alderuccio of Garnet Ridge Rd., completed senior English during her junior year at TBS and was admitted to the University of Connecticut a year early, eliminating her senior year.

Ms. Alderuccio has achieved straight A's at UConn, and has switched her major from chemical engineering to chemistry.

Course Changes Approved at Tolland High

Vivian Kenneson

The Board of Education has approved course changes for Tolland High School. The changes, which have no cost factor, will be included in the course of studies catalogue for 1975-76, now being prepared.

In the business department, personal typing will be shortened from a year to a one-semester course, enabling more students to take the course without increasing staff or expense.

The music department will reduce voice class 1 from five to two or three times weekly, permitting more classes at no cost. Credits will be reduced from 4 to 3. Voice class 2 will be initiated for those who had voice 1, also a 4 credit for a semester, meeting two or three times weekly. A cost of $200 for texts will be borne by the music budget, replacing other supplies. The Madrigals, now part of the chorus, would be a class for advanced singers to meet twice weekly for 1/2 credit per semester. The cost of $150 will come from the music budget, replacing other supplies.

The science department of realizing that the school budget cannot afford an additional teacher, will remove the biology requirement to be replaced by one year of science.

An upperclass reading pilot program for underachievers will be initiated with 1/2 credit per semester, to meet two or three times a week. The reading cost will come from the 850 cost of the program, replacing other supplies.

In the home economics department the creative clothing course will undergo a name change to "creative textiles." According to THIS principal, Roy Nierendorf, this will reflect the true nature of the advanced course and its contents. No new costs are reflected.

Chief Commends Policemen For Restraint

COVENTRY

Monica Shea

Robert Kjelquist, chief of police, has commended Patrolmen Donald Rouillard and Keith Lane for outstanding service and exemplary conduct while affecting the arrest of a man reportedly threatening to kill his former wife.

Chief Kjelquist said, "The officers had been alerted by the officer's ex-wife that he was coming to her home with a loaded revolver to kill her and her fiance. The two officers located the man and intervened while he was en route to his ex-wife's place of residence. Upon the officers' approach, the suspect reached inside his clothing for a loaded six-shot .22 caliber revolver. The officers were able to subdue the defendant quickly after a struggle for the weapon."

Chief Kjelquist said, "I am of the opinion that the officers would have been fully justified under the law and existing departmental guidelines on the use of force to have used deadly force to accomplish the arrest and apprehension while protecting their own lives and the lives of the ex-wife and fiance."

Chief Kjelquist said, "The officers' deep concern for the life of a fellow human being took precedent over their own safety however, and they were able to reduce a dangerous and stressful situation into a routine arrest without death or injury."

The letters of commendation issued have been placed into the officers' personnel files as a permanent record of excellence in police work.

Tax Due
The second installment of taxes on the list of Oct. 1, 1973 is due this month. Taxes will become delinquent if not paid on or before Feb. 3, 1975, and interest will be charged from the due date, Jan. 1, at the rate of 4 1/2 per cent per month, or a minimum of $2.

Bills are not sent for the second installment, since bills sent for the payment of the first installment indicated the amount due on Jan. 1.

Regular office hours are Monday through Thursday, 8:30 a.m. to 12:15 p.m. and 12:45 p.m. to 4:30 p.m.; Friday from 8:30 a.m. to 12:15 p.m. and 12:45 p.m. to 4 p.m.

VERNON
Ray Walker, head of the Rockville Fire Department's Fire Prevention Bureau reminds residents that rope ladders and home fire alarm systems are available at a very low cost, through the bureau.

Expressing concern with the increase in home fires during the winter months, especially night fires when persons are sleeping and not as alert, Walker said the rope ladders offer an alternate escape route, especially from upper story bedrooms.

He also said the home fire alarms will detect a fire in its early stages and sound an audible alarm within the home allowing sufficient time for the family to leave the house. He said such a system will also reduce property damage.

Anyone having any questions about home fire safety or who is interested in a fire alarm system or rope ladder, should call either Chief Donald Maguda, 875-7751 or Captain Robert Kelley, 875-9068, after 5 p.m.

Chess Classes
The Indian Valley YMCA will offer a full evening of chess classes for young people starting the first week in February. The night-session series will be conducted Tuesdays at the "Y" office at Vernon Circle.

There will be an hour of competitive chess from 8 to 9 p.m. for players aged 11-15. A round-robin tournament will be conducted for players in this class.

Bolton High Inducts 14 into National Honor Society

Donna Holland
Correspondent
646-0375

Fourteen students were inducted into the Philip C. Ligouri Chapter of the National Honor Society at ceremonies recently in the Bolton High School gym. The principal speaker was George Athanson, mayor of Hartford.

After a brief invocation by the Rev. John Flora of St. George's Episcopal Church and a number by the high school band, Kenneth Roy, teacher, read the society's charter.

Kurt Cowles, president of the society, gave a welcome address. After delivering his address, Cowles introduced four speakers from the past year: Randall Fish, chapter member, posing as Franklin D. Roosevelt; Robert Murdock, chapter member, posing as John Kennedy; Daniel Buckson, chapter member, posing as Martin Luther King Jr.; and Linda Sambogna, chapter secretary, posing as Robert Frost.

The student speakers were representing the qualities on which election to the society is based. Those qualities are character, Fish; service, Miss Murdock; leadership, Buckson and scholarship, Miss Sambogna.

At each student completed his speech a candle for the quality they spoke of was lit.

The 1975 inductees were then "tapped" by Raymond Allen, superintendent of schools.

The new members are Michael Ryba, Kathleen Kowalshyn, Margaret Landrey, Paul Landrey, Dane Ward, Donna Maneggia, Debbie Carron, Lisa Franz, Philip Manning, Laura Edwards, Arnett Thornton, Audrey Reiss, Brenda Longstreet and Kathleen Dooley.

The charge to the candidates was delivered by Joseph Fleming, principal of Bolton High.

After the benediction by the Rev. David Campbell of the United Methodist Church, parents, guests and members were invited to the home economics room for refreshments.

To Meet Thursday
The Bolton Junior Women's Club will meet Thursday at 8 p.m. at the Community Hall.

Indians May Get Campground Gift

SOUTH WINDSOR

South Windsor land, a Milford man had hoped would eventually become a wildlife sanctuary, may instead become a seasonal camping ground for Wisconsin Indians.

Raymond Rioux, who has said he is in "falling health," has begun to take legal steps necessary to donate eight to 16 acres of land in town to the Indians.

The land which is located along the Podunk River is part of the many acres historians believe was the original hunting grounds of South Windsor's Podunk Indians more than 200 years ago.

Rioux, who is a hunter and trapper, purchased the parcel in 1965 when he was employed on the assembly line at Pratt and Whitney Aircraft in East Hartford. The land is mostly a flood plain in the spring.

The land is presently wild in part to relatives, with eight of the 16 acres willed to the Medical Mission Sisters in Philadelphia.

Rioux, an ecology advocate, lives in a house trailer in Milford which is heated by a woodburning stove. He sleeps in a sleeping bag and is known for his outspoken moves against various legislative bodies. He supports himself by taking odd jobs and hunts, traps and picks berries for food.

ON SECOND THOUGHT

By JAN WARREN

We're Going Coco Loco!

The other night my husband came home from work, threw a handful of travel folders on the kitchen table, turned to me and said, "Let's go somewhere! You pick the place. I'm game for anything as long as there are palm trees, white sandy beaches and we can sit in the sun and drink coco loco."

"Just look at these girls!" I said to my husband. "I can't compete with them. Why didn't you give me more notice? Maybe if I'd had the whole month of December not to eat in, I could manage. But not now. Never. I'll be a misfit!"

"Oh come on," said my husband. "Don't be silly. Anyway these aren't real people, they're models flown down to make the folders look good. There'll be plenty of women on the beach who look just like you."

As soon as dinner was over I sat down at the table - all enthusiasm - and began to go through the folders. Immediately the edge was taken off my enthusiasm. I'd looked at just a few folders when it became evident that the only women who go to these windswept tropical beaches are super-young, bronzed, bikini-clad women with no hips. Absolutely no hips. There were pictures of them everywhere - jumping the waves, sunbathing poolside, dancing in the moonlight to torrid tropical rhythms.

"This is it!" I cried to my husband. "This is the place for us. It's got everything: Palm trees, white sandy beaches and look, isn't that a coco loco he's holding in his hand?"

I returned to the travel folders, a little absentminded this time, when suddenly I came upon a resort that looked as though it might be for us! The claims on it were the same as the other resorts.

Three Major Events On Cedars Calendar

Three major events are on the calendar for Nutmeg Forest, Tall Cedars of Lebanon, in the coming three weeks. They are:

- * Midwinter Conference at Atlantic City, N.J., next weekend.
- * Concert Jan. 27 by the Sphinx Temple Shrine Band at the Masonic Temple.
- * Ladies Night at Fiano's in Bolton Feb. 8.

At the conference, officers learn in seminars about Supreme Forest coming events. Attending from Nutmeg will be Grand Tall Cedar William Blatchley, Senior Deputy James Aboumrad, Junior Deputy George Wark, Scribe Arthur Tinsz, Treasurer Louis Phillips, and District Deputy Wayne Serrati.

Appointed officers attending will be Leonard Savastio, Nash Rowlett, Frank Plumbridge and Dean Cronkite.

The Shrine Band concert will be about 8:30 on Jan. 27, after the business meeting of the Forest. Directing will be John Heffernan.

Sphinx Temple Band is the oldest in Shrinism, and last June won first place in competition during the national convention in Atlantic City.

It played concerts twice in Manchester in 1974 - a Center Park concert in September and a Christmas concert Dec. 9 for the Washington Social Club.

Tall Cedars, their Masonic friends, families and associates are invited.

ABOUT TOWN

Aboumrad is chairman for Ladies Night and his committee consists of Rowlett, Robert Muldoon and Albert McKenney. There will be a social hour at 6:30, dinner at 7:30, and dancing later to the big band sound of the Sphinx Temple 18-piece Stage Band.

The Presbyterian Church will have a Bible study and prayer meeting tonight at 7:30 and a Bible study Thursday at 9:30 a.m. at the church, 43 Spruce St.

Al-Anon family groups will meet tonight at 8 at the Second Congregational parish house, 385 N. Main St.; Thursday at 8 p.m. at the Pathfinders Club, 192 Norman St.; and Friday at 10 a.m. at the South United Methodist Church campus. Al-Anon is for the 12- to 20-year-old children of problem drinkers who will meet Thursday at 8 p.m. at the Pathfinders Club. The family groups are open to friends and relatives living with problem drinkers.

Comment Session

A 6:30 to 8:30 p.m. Board of Directors' comment session is scheduled for Thursday in the Manchester Municipal Building.

The session is for town residents who wish to file comments, complaints or recommendations on any subject in the board's jurisdiction. Similar sessions are held on the first Tuesday (in the morning) and third Thursday (in the evening) of each month.

SOCIAL SECURITY

Q. When I am 65 next month, I plan to retire and apply for monthly Social Security payments. However, later on this year I plan to visit friends in England for a year. Can my checks be sent to me in England?

A. Yes. Social Security checks can be sent to most foreign countries. Be sure to notify the Social Security Administration of your address in England before leaving for your visit.

Q. I have just started getting retirement checks from Social Security. I have also been getting VA compensation. Does my VA compensation count as earnings?

A. No. Only wages and self-employment income count as earnings. Non-work income, such as pensions, dividends, savings, or interest, does not affect your Social Security payments.

Q. I was told to apply for Social Security payments two or three months before I retire, but I wrote to my home town several months ago for my birth certificate and have not received it yet. Should I wait until it comes before I apply?

A. No. Apply for payments without it. Your Social Security office may suggest some other documents you can use to prove your age.

Q. I am looking ahead and trying to figure my retirement income. Is it possible for me to find out how much my Social Security payments will be?

A. Yes. Any Social Security office can give you an estimate of your Social Security payments. It is a good idea to talk to a representative when you are beginning to think about retirement. In addition to giving you an estimate of what your payments will be when you retire, he or she can also tell you what papers and other information you will need when you apply.

Q. I am planning to retire the end of January. I heard that it takes about six to nine months for Social Security to get my latest wages on their records. How can I be sure my next retirement wages will be included in figuring my monthly payments.

A. When you apply for retirement payments, you should submit copy C of your 1974 Statement of Earnings (Form W-2) to the Social Security office. On the basis of the Form W-2, all of your creditable earnings for 1974 will be included when your rate is figured.

The plan would raise from $4,300 to $5,600 the amount a person could earn without paying income taxes.

Initial reactions to Ford's across the board rebate on 1974 taxes faced tough sledding in the Democratic-controlled Congress.

Mr. Ford called on Congress to cooperate with him in slowing down the growth of federal programs and called for reductions totaling more than $17 billion in the 1976 fiscal year.

In a drive to restore the nation's energy capacity and make the United States "invulnerable to cutoffs of foreign oil," Ford recommended a plan that included:

Energy Plan
—Excise taxes and import fees totaling $2 per barrel on product imports and crude oil.

—Deregulation of new natural gas and enactment of a natural gas excise tax. He asked for a tax of 37 cents per thousand cubic feet or the equivalent of $2 a barrel.

—Enactment of a windfall profits tax to make sure oil producers do not profit from the oil crisis. Ford also said he would remove the price ceiling of $5.25 per barrel on old domestic crude oil on April 1.

Ford said that the windfall oil profits tax would produce revenues of about $12 billion.

Quick Action Asked
The President also urged quick action on legislation to allow commercial production on the naval petroleum reserve at Elk Hills, Calif.

Ford also pledged the administration would move ahead in exploring and developing the Outer Continental Shelf for oil sources and the Naval Petroleum Reserve No. 4 in Alaska.

Until Congress acts, he said he would rescind his administrative orders. At the same time, he called for wider

Burglary Charges Filed

A Hartford man under arrest for several burglaries and robberies in central Connecticut was charged with two Manchester burglaries Tuesday.

Manchester Police Tuesday charged Harry J. Mayo, 29, with two counts of third-degree burglary and one count of second-degree larceny. The charges stem from breaks last September into two apartments on W. Middle Tpk.

Mayo is being held on $5,000 bond at the Hartford Correctional Center, police said. Charges already lodged against him by other police departments include a series of incidents in East Hartford, Bloomfield, Rocky Hill, Bristol, and West Haven.

The local charges involve the theft of goods totaling more than $1,000 value from two units at the Beacon Hill Apartments in September, police said.

Police detectives, investigating several other burglary cases in Manchester, said today it's likely further charges will be lodged against Mayo.

Healy, taken into custody by State Police and turned over to local authorities, was charged with two counts of second-degree criminal mischief and two counts of third-degree criminal mischief.

Police said the charges—involve smashing of windows at four Main St. stores Dec. 26. Healy was also charged Tuesday with second-degree burglary and third-degree larceny in connection with a Dec. 16 break into an Indian Dr. home. Several hundred dollars worth of goods were taken in the break.

Healy is scheduled to appear in court at East Hartford Jan. 27.

Other criminal and motor vehicle arrests reported by Manchester Police today included:

Burleigh Lancaster Jr., of Loveland Hill Rd., Vernon, charged early today with third-degree larceny and fourth-degree larceny. He was turned over to Vernon Police, who were expected to lodge other charges against him.

Earl L. Chisholm, 17, of East Hartford, charged with reckless driving in connection with a Jan. 7 incident on W. Middle Tpk. An off-duty policeman reported a violation, but the suspect wasn't charged the same day because he was in the hospital, suffering from injuries received in an East Hartford automobile accident which occurred shortly after the Manchester incident was reported.

Stanley Shamonis, 43, of certain address, charged Tuesday night with intoxication and disorderly conduct after a domestic disturbance at a Woodland St. home.

Robert A. Skripol, 29, of Glastonbury, charged Tuesday with fourth-degree larceny in connection with alleged shoplifting at K-Mart, Spencer St.

Carnels were used in 1854 to build the Caribou Trail into the interior of British Columbia. Wild canines were still seen in the province as late as 1925.

James Monaco, manager of the Thom McAn shoe store at the Manchester Shopping Parkade, told police Tuesday goods missing include a portable color television set, a bedspread, pillows, and towels.

Police said the goods were stolen from Fiano's Motor Inn, 100 E. Center St., police learned Tuesday. Goods missing include a portable color television set, a bedspread, pillows, and towels.

Cities Seek Exception From Cuts

HARTFORD (UPI) — The Connecticut conference of Mayors and Municipalities today urged Gov. Ella T. Grasso not to reduce government spending at the expense of the state's cities and towns.

Burleigh R. Lancaster, 19, of 4 Loveland Hill Rd., Vernon, was arrested Tuesday on a warrant issued by Court of Common Pleas 19 charging him with third and fourth-degree larceny.

Police said the arrest followed the investigation of the organization expressed alarm at "suggestions, attributed to Gov. Grasso, that the state's financial problems can be solved by municipal belt tightening."

"We agree 100 per cent that all unnecessary costs of state and local government should be eliminated, and we are working hard at doing that," the organization said.

"But we agree equally with Gov. Grasso's inaugural words, that 'we must not forget the reason government exists: To provide necessary human services to the people,'" the organization said.

"The front line of public service in our state is in the cities and towns," the statement said. "Any state budget must deal honestly with that basic fact."

Just a Habit
DUDLEY, England (UPI) — Postman John Gilliam, 29, has been jailed for five years for stealing more mail than any other postman since the British postal service began in the 1800s. Prosecutor Phillip Vallence said Tuesday it took three Post Office trucks to remove from Gilliam's home $40,800 worth of postal packets containing rings, watches, cigarette lighters and clothing.

"I don't know why I did it," said Gilliam. "It was just a habit. My wife begged me not to take any more but I took no notice."

Town Gets $125,000 Bonanza

SOL R. COHEN
Manchester is the apparent beneficiary of a $125,000 unanticipated bonanza and, as Town Manager Robert Weiss said Tuesday night, "We haven't been able to find out why or under what formula we received it, but we're very happy about it."

Weiss explained it's all from available state funds and isn't an expenditure. Apparently, he added, the wrong formula was used in estimating the revenue.

Weiss said the money is more than welcome, explaining the town has had to lighten its belt in spending and warning that inflation, short tax receipts and unforeseen expenditures for such things as fuel adjustments doubtless will be made.

Board secretary Phyllis Jackson, noting, "It could have been the other way—we could have owed the state money," said the unexpected income "doesn't effect the school budget at all."

MHA Told Go Ahead With Housing Project
In order to expedite construction of 40 units of housing for the elderly, the Manchester Board of Directors Tuesday night voted its go-ahead to the Manchester Housing Authority (MHA) on its favored site.

By an 8 to 0 vote, with Philip Jackson abstaining, the directors indicated it backs purchase by the MHA of a 6.3-acre parcel on Spencer St. The MHA has a $35,000 deposit on the property and has an option to April 4 for buying it.

She explained that the board wouldn't have appropriated any more than it did last May, even if it had known about the $125,000.

"In fact," she added, "had we known about it then, we could have cut almost half a mill from the tax rate."

Under a new state law, school boards are permitted to keep grants for Adult Education in a revolving fund. The sum is available because Manchester's Adult Education Program was cut back by the school board.

STAMPS AND COINS

By RUSS MACKENDRICK

"Two goats? Gadzooks, Sirrah!"
Gadzooks or not, here are two goats.
The term goat was a household word in England a century or so before Columbus. It is a hammered silver coin equivalent to 4 pence.
The top one here could have been carried by Geoffrey Chaucer. It was minted in London in 1354 or 5, during the reign of Edward III. The second goat was minted in Calais sometime between 1427-1430. The ruler then, a name familiar to Shakespeare lovers, was Henry VI.
The irregularity at the edges of the coins was not due to wear, but is typical of pieces that were struck without a retaining ring on the die.
Although separated in time by 75 years of stress and strife, the coins are remarkably similar. Both show crowned heads full-face in a circle of crescents. The inscription on the first reads EDWARD DG REX ANGL FRANC D HYB. (He was also king of France at the time. The second coin would say HENRIC DI GRA REX ANGL Z FRANC except for the misalignment at striking.
The reverses of both show the long cross with three pellets in each angle over a double circle legend. The outer legend in each case is "POSUI DEUM ADIUTORE MEUM." the meaning of which has not yet been revealed to me. The inner circle, which indicates the mint, says LONDON CIVI TIS in the older piece, and VILLA CALISIE (Calais) in the later one.
These two coins were obtained at Seaby's, in London, for a total outlay of about $7. So a very respectable collection of goats could be assembled for much less than a king's ransom. Four-penny pieces have been minted until recently but the last one to be called a goat was in 1862.

To plate block investors: Don't be panicked into dumping your holdings of the 20 Hatters. The bit on page 22 of Linn's Jan. 6 was an utter goof. Where they say Scott's Specialized has dropped it from $4.50 to $2, they meant to say that it had gone down $2 from the $6.50 of the previous year. Down, but not crashing down. Harris still asks $5.95, and most ads have it around $3.50.
A Topical Time writer has devised a Stamp Chart, a kind of family tree of collecting. He explains it all in the November-December number. Under his heading of "Postage Stampdom" he lists Covers, Cancels, and Stamps. The group "Stamps" can be considered according to Origin (country), Issue (single, set, date, maker), and Nature (appearance, class, subject). This goes on for ten pages and indicates many avenues of collecting — perhaps just the one you've been looking for. (Try to ignore his misspelling of "roulette." Meow.)
Ho hum. (As long as it didn't happen to me.)
The Monitor has a story about a Cincinnati stamp-and-coin shop trio who paid $10 for an album at a Kentucky auction last June and now expects to realize $5 million from the deal. They found a British stamp, evidently Scott No. 116, with the picture of Queen Victoria missing. They claim to have been offered up to $1.7 million to sell, but feel that they can get more by exhibiting the "treasure" to the public.
I can't make the showing — a previous engagement.

They Settle Differences

By SOL R. COHEN
Whatever differences existed between the Manchester Board of Directors and the Conservation Commission — real or imagined — were settled amicably Tuesday night, at a 45-minute meeting by the two agencies.
Actually, the differences proved to be more imagination than real.
It all started in late November, when the town went ahead with its months-old plan to provide parking and a driveway at Lincoln Center, facing Main St. The plan called for removing the lawn.
Commission member Fred Spaulding, in a letter published in the Open Forum of the Herald, criticized town officials for the project, claiming his agency hadn't been told of it and consequently hadn't been able to object in time. The work was in progress as his letter was only to express disappointment that an essential and aesthetic green parcel in the center of town was being despoiled.
She claimed the buffer zone between the parking area and the street is only five feet — contrary to town regulations, which require eight feet.
Joanne Costello, the commission's newest member agreed: "We have the obligation to the citizens of the town to speak up and to criticize when we feel it is right. The people expect it of us."
John FitzGerald, commission member, remarked, "It's very important, there be good relations between the commission and the directors. As spelled out in the statutes, it's our duty to conduct research into town land areas and to advise on usage."
The meeting ended with a promise from Weiss he will keep the commission informed of municipal projects involving town-owned land.
A Conservation Commission proposal it be expanded to 11 members (it now has 7) will be considered at a later date.

Fuel Tax to Cost $250 Per Family

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The White House estimated Thursday that fuel will cost each American family about $250 more a year—including an extra 10 cents a gallon for gas—under President Ford's new economic program.
He said the estimate, which would apply to all families rich and poor, was based partly on an anticipated 10 cent a gallon hike in the price of gasoline.
The recession-fighting package which Ford outlined to the nation Monday night was keyed to a personal income tax rebate for 1974, import barriers on oil and a bid on most federal spending. Nessen said Ford would propose a permanent revision downward of the tax rates for 1975 so that a family of four making an income of $5,600 a year would pay no taxes. At present, such a family pays an annual tax of $185. Under the proposed system, the higher income brackets would receive less of a reduction in income taxes.
The Sunday School staff of Zion Evangelical Lutheran Church will meet tonight at 7:30 at the church.
The Education Work Area of South United Methodist Church will meet tonight at 7:30 in the education wing of the church.
Senior Methodists of South United Methodist Church will meet Thursday noon in Susanah Wesley Hall of the church.
Members are reminded to bring lunch. Beverages will be served.
Manchester Emblem Club will meet tonight at 8 at the Elks Home. Past presidents of the club will be honored after the meeting.
The Prayer Group of Emanuel Lutheran Church will meet Thursday at 10 a.m. in the church reception room.

Interest is Taxable If You Receive It

By RAY DE CRANE
Interest can be either taxable or deductible on your income tax return. It is taxable if you are receiving it; deductible if you are paying it.
Unless it is specifically exempt by law, as in the case of municipal bonds, all interest received by you from any source is reportable on your tax return.
It need not have been received in cash to make it taxable. Once interest is credited to your account — in theory made available to you — it becomes taxable.
Savings and loans associations frequently refer to their interest as dividends. For tax purposes it is always treated as interest income and not subject to the special treatment on dividends.
Persons frequently buy a certificate of deposit from a bank and then redeem it before maturity, incurring a penalty. The year-end statement they receive from the savings institution will report the full interest they would have received for the year had they retained the certificate.
You, as the saver, may not deduct the penalty from the total interest and report only the balance as the interest received.
Here is how you handle it: Enter as interest income the full amount shown on your interest statement if you are itemizing deductions. List as a miscellaneous deduction the amount of the penalty incurred for premature redemption.
Treasury Bills are obtainable through the Federal Reserve Bank and are purchased at a discount. Assume you bought a $10,000 Treasury Bill and later received a check from the Federal Reserve for $400. That represents your discount. Your investment has been reduced to $9,600.
When your Bill matures and you present it for payment you will receive the full $10,000. That is when you have $400 interest to report.
In addition to all interest paid on your notes, loans and mortgages, include as deductible interest all interest paid to department stores, credit card companies and oil companies on your installment purchases. (NEXT: The Rules on Dividends.)

Foreign News Commentary: A Lecture on Democracy.

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst

En route to an informal meeting of Organization of American States foreign ministers in Buenos Aires in March, Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger is expected to make a stopover in Chile.

One purpose of the visit, it is said, is to tell Chile's ruling generals that further U.S. military and economic aid will depend on a return to more democratic principles.

In this time, housewives of Santiago, Chile's capital, carried out their "march of the empty pots" — truckers who traditionally transported the bulk of Chilean food supplies went on strike. So did copper miners, professional men and small shopkeepers.

These were events that later went to become of some embarrassment to the American secretary of state.

As chairman of the "40 committee", a high-level panel in charge of overseeing secret activities of the Central Intelligence Agency. Kissinger had to bear considerable responsibility for the CIA's expenditure of around $8 million in clandestine activities against the Allende government.

Some of the money went for the support of the anti-Allende strikers.

In general, the idea was to insure a continuing political opposition to the Chilean Marxists who were running the country.

But as the political pendulum swung from the left to the right it went to another extreme.

Since the military take-over more than 40,000 persons have left the country. No one outside the government is sure how many are in political prisons, sometimes without a formal charge or a warrant. It may be as high as 10,000 or more.

Documented charges of torture have drawn protests from many respected organizations. Among them have been Amnesty International, the social committee of the United Nations general assembly, the International Commission of Jurists, the OAS and the Roman Catholic Church.

The switch to alleged "police state" has had other repercussions. Britain suspended economic aid and arms sales to Chile. Sweden suspended economic aid. Finland canceled a credit agreement for forestry development. Mexico broke diplomatic relations. And the American Congress rejected an administration request for $1.3 million in military aid to Chile and cut proposed economic aid to a requested $6.6 million to $2.5 million.

Events preceding and following the fall of President Salvador Allende's Marxist government in September, 1973, and the roles played earlier by those who will take part in the discussions should make them especially interesting.

When the military junta led by President Gen. Augusto Pinochet took over after Allende's fall and his reported suicide, the nation's economy has been described as resembling the chaos left by war.

In the last year of Allende rule, inflation had jumped by 1000 per cent.

A sharp decline in agricultural production had led to long lines outside food stores and had forced the country to import around $200 million in foodstuffs, four times the previous record.

Copper production, providing more than 80 per cent of the country's foreign exchange, was down.

NEWS FOR SENIOR CITIZENS

By WALLY FORTIN

Hi. Boy did we ever have a busy Monday morning. Why? Well we announced in Saturday's column that we picked up some tickets for the Ice Capades in the Hartford Civic Center.

Talk about things happening fast. Last Friday morning, Gloria and I were talking about the Civic Center and decided to give them a call regarding tickets for the Ice Capades. We felt that being in Hartford we could use our own buses, our new one, and even take the old one out of mothballs, and in so doing be able to make the trip exceptionally reasonable.

They told us at the Civic Center they could give us the tickets for opening night and at a group rate, so we picked up eighty $5 tickets for $4 each.

Now when my custodian arrived here at the center Monday morning at 7:30 a.m. there was a crowd already waiting outside. He let them in so they could be warm. I arrived at 7:50 to find those already waiting had set up the seating arrangements for me.

Registration

I guess we should explain our registration procedure again, just to refresh your memory.

We register at 8:30 a.m. We sign up on a first come, first served basis.

Some people are willing to get up early to get in line. When I arrive about 8, we let people inside the building, once we have established proper order.

The people who are first in line are going to be the first to sign up anyway, after that, signing up a little earlier if there is a long line.

No one person can register for more than himself and one other.

Our policy is to give Manchester seniors every opportunity to sign up; after that, we allow outside seniors or members of our seniors' families.

We will not take reservations over the phone or through the mail until after we have given all those who come a chance to register. If we later have vacancies to fill, we will take phone reservations.

Sethback Games

Let's see, the action here starts with Friday and in the afternoon we had 18½ tables for our setback games with the following winners:

Pete Urbanetti, James Comins, 135; Helena Gavello, 133; Dorothy Andrew, Bill McSweeney, 132; Clara Hemmingway, 130; Clarence Dahring, 127; Loretta Hallett, Joe Windsor, 125; Violet Dion, 123; Bertha Dahring, 122; Alex Tycz, Ann Lehmann, 121; Marion McLain, 120; Peter Frey, Catherine Coppuccio, Bess Noonan, 118; John Phelps, Gladys Seelert, 116.

Commission To Seek Removal Of Prostitution Penalties

EDWARDS BUTLER HARTFORD (UPI) — Prostitutes could walk Connecticut streets without fear of the law if legislators approve a proposal of the Commission on the Status of Women.

And, if the state commission has its way, adulterers could have their fling secure in the knowledge the only reprisal for getting caught would be from an outraged spouse.

Mrs. Ann S. Menousek, a 33-year-old mother of three who heads the commission, admits the proposals have little chance of becoming law in Connecticut.

Connecticut permits discrete sexual relations between consenting adults, landmark legislation hailed by the nation's first woman governor elected on her own merits, repeatedly has refused even to repeal Sunday Blue laws that bar most commercial sales on the Christian Sabbath.

Agostinelli Likely Choice As Next GOP Chairman

Nathan Agostinelli, who stepped down last week as state comptroller, is expected to be named Manchester GOP town chairman tonight. The town committee will meet at 8 in the Municipal Building Hearing Room to elect a successor to A. Paul Berie. Berie was appointed First District workmen's compensation commissioner last month by Gov. Thomas H. Meskill. Agostinelli has been endorsed by the town committee's executive board and has said he'll accept election. There have been no reports of opposition. Marion Mercer, town vice chairman, has been acting chairman, but also has resigned for personal reasons. She said she'll stay in the post until March, when a successor is named. In other business, the committee will discuss plans for its Feb. 7 Lincoln Day dinner-dance and will discuss other routine business.

Volunteer Sponsors Sought For State Prison Inmates

The Connecticut Prison Association will conduct training sessions for its Volunteer Sponsor Program Jan. 24 and 25 at Concordia Lutheran Church, 40 Pkln St. The sessions, which are open to the public, are being sponsored by the Manchester Area Conference of Churches. The fee for the sessions is $3 per person or $5 a couple. The Jan. 24 session will be from 7:30 to 10 p.m. This will be an informational session describing life in an institution and the effects of incarceration on an individual. The Jan. 25 meeting, from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m., will be a training session for those interested in becoming a volunteer sponsor to an inmate. The purpose of the program is to establish "helping friendships" through which the inmates may receive encouragement, support and assistance to help themselves. Volunteers may, if available, appropriate, counsel inmates with personal problems, act as an advocate in behalf of the inmate, assist in locating jobs or housing in preparation for release, or simply listen with a sympathetic ear, which will enable the inmate to retain a sense of self esteem and motivation.

Since January 1974, women have been able to join the Conference of Churches of America and Cheshire institutions. Husband and wife teams are encouraged, and in many instances preferable. Currently over 175 citizens are involved with inmates at the five State Correctional Institutions. Sponsors average two visits a month (one per month is required) to the institutions. The visits of about one hour take place within the regular visiting hours of the institution.

More information may be obtained by calling Gordon S. Bates or Barbara Thompson at 566-2030, or Mrs. Nancy Carr at 649-2093. A Conference of Churches office, 649-2093.

Sharp Dip Noted In New Building
Manchester experienced a dramatic 61 per cent drop in building unit starts in 1974, and an equally dramatic 61 per cent rise in alterations and additions to existing units. Building permits were issued in 1974 for only 123 housing units—a drop of 61 per cent below the 315 units in 1973.

Accord Reached on Rec Use
The town Recreation Department and the building and sites committee of the Board of Education will work together to arrange a suitable contract for school use of the West Side recreation building. Paul Greenberg, chairman of the building and sites committee, told the Board of Education Tuesday night of the agreement between the two groups. The board discussed a possible open house for the public to visit the renovated Main Building of Bennet Junior High School to take place probably during the first week in February.

Writing Is Right
SAN RAFAEL, Calif. (UPI)—A Marin County Judge Gary Thomas believes it's right to allow lawbreakers to write their wrongs away. In fact, he sentenced a few dozen petty offenders to write such things as "I will not steal," a thousand times on lined paper. Thomas says the writing punishment is "as good a deterrent as any I make them do," he said. "Maybe you'll find the train more often."

Commuter Train Wins Providence Race

PROVIDENCE, R.I. (UPI)—In a race against time and traffic a commuter train proved faster than souped-up automobiles today in a unique test staged by mass transit advocates. The two vehicles left Kingston station at 7:42 a.m. in a race staged to prove that the train could get commuters to downtown Providence faster than most drivers who battle through early morning rush hour traffic. Mrs. Sheila Foreman, 52, left Kingston on the Penn Central's 598 South County Special at the same time an experienced racer, Joseph Knight, 39, departed on his 1965 Ford Mustang for the 27-mile trip to the downtown station. "We followed a bus for about five or six blocks and there were a lot of red lights that I did not run into when I made a dry run of the course," said Knight, who drove a foreign sports car. "I don't think there was any way we could have gotten here any faster. We ran into that big bus and there was a lot of traffic on Hill St.," he said. "It was tailed by a 'referee' in another car to make sure that Knight did not break any traffic laws. "That dash from the station

A Lesson in First Aid

Fireman Thomas Raimondo, right, tells Wally Fortin, in the bandage, he might live because of the fine work of Jim Mason, standing. Raimondo was directing a first aid class for town employees at the Manchester Recreation Center. Working with him teaching 17 employees in the first class was Fireman Robert Barker. Fortin is director of the Senior Citizens Center and Mason drives the center's bus. (Herald photo by Barlow)

Boards Agree on Some Causes For Disagreement over Refund

TOLLAND
The Board of Education and Board of Selectmen hashed out the $30,000 Blue Cross refund and discussed ways to improve communications between the two boards at a joint meeting Tuesday.

NEW BUDGET
Dean told the selectmen that the present education budget of $3,000,000 will increase by cost of living inflation of 12%, or $360,000, for 1975-76, just to maintain the present level. Neither selectmen nor Harkins would comment on the prediction that that increase would mean a 50-cent-a-half mill increase, preferring to wait for the new Grand List and to look at what revenue will be available. Increased scrutiny of budgets by residents is expected, with demonstrations of needs. Palmer predicted it will be a compromise of "desires versus citizens' ability to pay."

Legislators Oppose Water Rate Hike

VERNON
"While we are pleased that the proposed rate schedule would result in a $2.70 per quarter decrease for those consumers using a bare minimum of water, we hasten to point out that this would benefit only 500 of the company's 4,031 customers," the three Democrats said. The three noted that the proposed rate hike comes on the heels of a 1974 request for a 15 per cent increase which resulted in an annual increase in company revenues of $3,500. They also recalled that the company was given a whopping 156 per cent rate increase in 1970. Referring to the present request, they said it will increase the minimum water charge for a typical residential customer by 25.6 per cent or an additional $2.30 per year. And high service consumers will have their rates increased 30.2 per cent or $28.76 annually. The town recently purchased the Vernon Water Company and found it necessary to make a small increase in the rates. "While, of course, these rates with those expected by Rockville Water Co. and noted that the minimum rate for a quarter charged by the Vernon Co. is $10. "Such disparity within the town of Vernon is not equitable," they agree. "We are an executive officer of the company is entitled to a fair return on its investment, the proposed hike seeks an increase in rate of return from 7.31 per cent in 1971 to 11.73 per cent, they noted. They added, "Never in recent history of the company has the rate of return on investment exceeded 8.91 per cent and at this time of inflation and recession, we feel this request is contrary to the consumer's interests."

The town Recreation Department and the building and sites committee of the Board of Education will work together to arrange a suitable contract for school use of the West Side recreation building. The board discussed a possible open house for the public to visit the renovated Main Building of Bennet Junior High School to take place probably during the first week in February.

HERALD ANGLE By EARL YOST Sports Editor

There were a few bugs in the official opening of the Hartford Civic Center last weekend, as could be expected. One ticket purchaser for the New England Whalers' hockey game against San Diego found out that his ticket was good for a seat in the penalty box. At least it was the front row.

Hockey fans sitting in third-level sections, the first two rows in the $7 ticket range, found their view of the game was partially obstructed by large section identification markers.

Confusion reigned, too, with an inexperienced box office staff, but that will be straightened out in due time.

Kevin Walsh, public relations director for the Whalers, reported that better than 4,700 season tickets were sold up to last Saturday's home opener in Hartford and a number more sold this week.

The heat took its toll on the hockey players in Saturday's game. Walsh said Tommy Abrahamsson, one-half of the Swedish twin-brother act, dropped eight pounds against San Diego.

Fred O'Donnell, who has a Manchester address during the puck season, weighed in at 186 pounds after the thrilling, 4-3 sudden-death overtime win. O'Donnell, who tallied the second Whaler goal, is listed at 180 pounds in the press guide. No, he didn't lose all 14 pounds in one game.

UConn Basketball Big League

Anyone who has any doubts about basketball being big league at UConn should wipe out the thought. The recent UConn Classic was a classic, to say the least, with both games on the final night being decided by two points. Also, a near-capacity and a capacity crowd for the two-night promotion with the students off-campus and on vacation proved that the sport is No. 1 on a state college hoop circuit.

Members of the four participating teams each received a travel bag for suits and topsuits, each matching the school's colors. Just for the record, it cost $214,000 for each minute of advertising time during last Sunday's Super Bowl telecast.

Just one man's opinion: The post-game interviews were a flop with canned questions coming from three non-qualified writers. Don Meredith, Al DeRogatis and John Brodie and the female's comments and questions to fans outside the stadium were a waste of time.

Viewers would have enjoyed professionals questioning the Pittsburgh players rather than the networks picked the experts. Still playing second fiddle to the Bruins in Boston, despite their success, are the Celtics. "Boston is a hockey town," Don Nelson of the Celtics told newsmen this week.

Even during the glory championship years of the Celtics, the Bruins did better at the back office.

End of the Line

All permanent seats at the Hartford Civic Center are upholstered with arm rests and foam rubber cushions. The ice thickness for hockey games ranges from three-quarters to one inch in thickness. No surprise was the selection of Joe Namath by squad members as the New York Jets' most valuable player last season. It marked the third time the gimp-kneed quarterback was selected.

Coach's Tantrums Intimidates Refs

NEW YORK (UPI) — The players on the floor handled the ball, but outside influences, including a temper tantrum by the Marquette coach, seemed to play a big part in the 69-60 victory for 12th-ranked Marquette over 15th-ranked South Carolina.

"I think the weather had a big part to do with this game," Marquette Coach Al McGuire said. "It's been zero or below here and I think those Southern guys get a little depressed about that."

Cheney Successful in Overtime And Win over St. Thomas Results

For the third time this campaign, Cheney Tech had to go into overtime last night. And for the third time, the Beavers came away victorious, 64-53 over St. Thomas Seminary in Bloomfield.

The Techmen are now 9-3 for the season and need just one more triumph to qualify for the State Basketball Tournament for the first time in six years. The Beavers can accomplish the feat in a rare afternoon tilt Friday at 7 at home against Ellis Tech of Danielson.

Slowing the tempo and using a fullcourt press forcing Cheney into 22 turnovers, the Saints led 12-8 after the first quarter and 29-28 at halftime. The Beavers were hampered when 6-1 forward Tom Foran nicked up three quick fouls and had to sit out the second period.

Knotted at 40-40 after three canos, St. Thomas held the ball most of the fourth quarter apparently looking for the final shot. The Saints led by four points with 1:34 left but a Foran bucket with 1:14 remaining narrowed the gap to two points and Mike Pressamarita sent it into an extra session pumping home a rebound shot with eight seconds left in regulation.

Pressamarita, 5-9 senior guard, led the Beavers in the overtime with nine of his 13 markers, hitting three hoops, three for four from the charity stripe and also had two important steals. Mark Viklinez iced the decision for Cheney with 1:37 left in overtime converting both ends of a one-and-one situation.

"We kept our cool and were able to solve their press in the second half," Cheney Coach Gerry Blanchard noted.

Tom LeCout paced Cheney with 21 points followed by Viklinez with 14. Foran despite the fouls still contributed 10 points and 13 rebounds with Viklinez leading the Beavers in the rebounding department hauling in 16 caroms.

Shawn Kerrigan poured in 19 points for 3-7 St. Thomas with Rich McGuane also hitting double digits with 13 markers.

Frazier Stole Spotlight In NBA All-Star Victory

PHOENIX (UPI) — Walt "Clyde" Frazier, an eight-year veteran with the New York Knicks, made his sixth National Basketball Association All-Star game appearance Tuesday night and stole the show.

"Clyde," a nickname Frazier acquired because of his mod dress and ball-hawking ability, tallied a game-high 30 points to lead the East to an upset 108-102 victory over the West in the NBA's silver anniversary All-Star game.

Frazier, the Knicks' leading point producer this season with a 21.4 average, has been an All-defensive team selection since the voting for that team began six years ago, but it was his offense that earned him the game's Most Valuable Player award by an overwhelming margin.

Rated by many as the best guard in basketball today, Frazier played 35 minutes, hit 10 of his 17 field goal attempts and connected on 10 of 11 free throws while also contributing four steals to lead the East to its 16th victory against nine losses in All-Star competition.

"I guess the law of averages finally caught up with me," said Frazier after accepting his first All-Star game MVP trophy from Commissioner Walter Kennedy. "You always think about the MVP award. There's a lot of personal satisfaction involved—your family can be proud of something like this."

Frazier's 30 points was the fourth highest total in All-Star game competition, topped only by the 42 scored by Wilt Chamberlain in 1962, Rick Barry's 38 in 1967 and Elgin Baylor's 32 in 1962.

"Walt got hot and there was nobody we could put on him to cool him off," said West Coach Al Attles of Golden State who tried, in vain, to cover Frazier at first with Gail Goodrich of Los Angeles, then Charlie Scott of Phoenix and finally Jim Price of Milwaukee.

Frazier was one of only three East players in double figures. The others were John Havlicek of Boston with 16 and Bob McAdoo of Buffalo with 11.

The West, shooting only 39 per cent from the field compared with 48 per cent for the East, was paced by Kansas City-Omaha's Archie Goodrich's 27 points, Barry was the second highest point man for the West with 22 points, plus eight assists and eight steals, while Sidney Wicks of Portland chipped in the 16 points.

PHOENIX (UPI) — Walt Frazier knew that if he kept on plugging, one day he would get his reward.

Tuesday night, 2,000 miles from Broadway bright lights, the veteran New York Knicks' backcourt star hit the jackpot and, when the 25th annual National Basketball Association All-Star game was over, there wasn't a happier man in America.

Frazier scored 30 points in a brilliant performance while leading the East to an upset 108-102 victory over a West team that had such stars as Rick Barry of the Warriors, Kareem Abdul-Jabbar of the Bucks and Nate Archibald of the Kings.

In the balloting for the Most Valuable Player award, Frazier received 99 per cent of the votes.

"This is the best thing that ever happened to me," Frazier said with all the sincerity he could muster. "I've had 15 offers for the losers and I've played on a championship club. The only thing left is to win the league MVP."

"This game gave me a chance to show all of my skills, but in all honesty the other guys on our team had a lot to do with it. They knew I had a hot hand and they got me the ball every chance they could."

Archibald, who scored 27 points, and Barry, who had 22, were the West stars and they took the loss harder than most of their teammates, or so it seemed.

"I'm very disappointed," said Archibald, "because we had the best centers and we should have dominated the game. Instead, they jumped us early and we had to play catch-up all the way."

Barry seemed to suggest the West didn't try hard enough.

"We missed too many shots," said the NBA's leading scorer, "and we didn't move the ball well, especially in the second quarter. In a nutshell, we didn't play smart. They did and that's why they won."

Hoerner Signs PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — Veteran left-handed relief pitcher Joe Hoerner has signed with the Philadelphia Phillies, the club announced Tuesday.

The Kansas City Royals, last season after he appeared in 30 games and compiled a 3-2 record.

Hoerner, a nine-year veteran, rejoins the Phillies who originally acquired him from St. Louis in 1969 in a seven-player trade involving Dick Allen.

PHOENIX (UPI) — The Tribe maidens fell behind by 11 points in the first half but a second half comeback fell short against 81-Hall. Ginny Peterson paced the locals with 13 points and 16 rebounds while Mary Cochran added 10 points. Wendy Comp hauled in 12 rebounds in the losing effort.

In jayvee action, Manchester won its seventh in a row, 30-8 over Hall. Nancy Watt led the Indians with 10 points followed by Kathi Klotzer's six markers.

Whips to Crack BOSTON (UPI) — Suffolk Downs opened its winter season meeting Saturday, Chris McCarron of Dorchester, who broke the single season mark of 247 winning rides, will be among the jockeys Sunday.

PHOENIX (UPI) — The Huskies are aiming for one of the four all-time slots in the ECAC geographical area for the opening round of the NCAA national title.

The four top New England teams will compete for the region's berth in the Springfield, Mass., civic center March 7-8.

Northwest Converts 12 More Tries At Foul Line in Beating Catholic

By Len Auster Parading to the foul line in a steady procession, Northwest Catholic converted 12 of 32 opportunities to register a 64-52 HCC basketball victory over East Catholic last night at the University of Hartford before a crowd of 1,200.

The setback dropped the Eagles to fifth place in the HCC with a 1-3 mark and virtually eliminated any title hopes. The four clubs in front of East each has one loss. The Eagles are also in danger of having their worst season ever, the previous "worst" at 17-6. East is 6-4 overall with half the slate still to go.

"I'm going to have to do a lot of reevaluating of our program and personnel," forewarned East Coach Stan Ogronik said in a soft whisper. "Obviously we're not going in the direction we thought to be."

Leading 25-23 at the intermission, with Bill Moffett pumping in 16 of his game-high points, including 12 in a row in the second stanza, East's guns fell silent for four minutes in the third period while the Indians were reeling off 10 straight points to grab a 39-33 lead.

Northwest took just five shots from the floor in the final act, hitting all, but 13 additional markers were snatched up at the charity stripe as East continually fouling going after the ball.

The Indians built their lead to as many as 12 points, East narrowed it to seven points with 1:47 left, but once behind shooting by Northwest enabled them to maintain a comfortable lead. Ogronik used a number of combinations but nothing jelled.

Northwest took just five shots from the floor in the final act, hitting all, but 13 additional markers were snatched up at the charity stripe as East continually fouling going after the ball.

The Indians built their lead to as many as 12 points, East narrowed it to seven points with 1:47 left, but once behind shooting by Northwest enabled them to maintain a comfortable lead. Ogronik used a number of combinations but nothing jelled.

"Every mistake we made they took advantage of," Ogronik sighed.

Rescue Tool Purchase Okayed by Directors

By SOL R. COHEN
Motorists trapped in wrecked vehicles in Manchester may have their odds for survival increased—thanks to an action Tuesday night by the Board of Directors.

The board approved a $5,000 appropriation for a hydraulic rescue tool for the town fire department. It is capable of pulling a car apart in minutes, in order to free accident victims. The tool eliminates the need for saws and abrasives, thus eliminating also the danger of sparks and fire.

The tool will be purchased under competitive bidding, with the cost financed by unappropriated 1973-74 Fire Fund surplus.

A dramatic demonstration of a Hurst Rescue Tool was viewed 10 days ago by over 100 persons—gathered in the Central Firehouse. Almost every viewer praised its effectiveness.

A second $5,000 appropriation approved Tuesday night will permit the town's Health Department to conduct a pilot Child Health and Development Program.

Financed by an equal $5,000 grant from the state Health Department, the program—a "first" in the state—will establish a method for screening children in day care centers. The emphasis will be on language development, fine-motor development, growth-motor development and social development.

If successful, the state will adopt the method and provide grants to other municipalities; for its implementation there.

The board indicated it will approve recommendations for an increase in sewer-use charges by large users and for an increase in charges for water and sewer connections. The board will conduct public hearings on the proposals before they go into force.

The Eighth Utilities District and Lydall Inc. are the towns largest sewer use customers. Each would pay an estimated $7,800 more a year, under the proposal.

The board indicated it will approve funds for ramps for the handicapped into the Municipal Building, Lincoln Center, Hall of Records, Mary Cheney Library and Senior Citizens Center.

Pending detailed plans and cost estimates, it tabled to February an allocation for the first ramp—at the rear of the Municipal Building.

Soviet Rejection Announced

Secretary of State Henry Kissinger late yesterday at the State Department in Washington announced the Soviet Union will not implement the 1972 U. S.-Soviet Trade Agreement because of the requirement imposed by Congress that Russia agree to a freer emigration policy for Russian Jews. See story on page 1. (UPI photo)

Benoit Says Mayor Lax In Appointing Planner

BARBARA RICHMOND

Charging Vernon Mayor Frank McCoy with "dragging his feet," in connection with the hiring of a town planner, Democratic Councilman Thomas Benoit today lashed out at McCoy for "withholding facts from all of the 12 councilmen."

Benoit's charges were prompted by circumstances involving Gerald Peeler of Rhode Island who was appointed as planner last week and who later in the week informed the mayor that he decided not to take the position and has reportedly taken another undisclosed position.

In a statement issued Monday, the mayor said Peeler's decision not to come was based on his feelings about an article that appeared in the Journal-Inquirer which "indicated a climate which would not be conducive to formulating any plans which would necessarily have to be published in the media."

Noting that the town has been without a planner for about 18 months since Joseph Pastic, former planner, left, Benoit said, "Anyone who has kept careful records on what the mayor said knows he has never held the office of planner in high regard."

"This last year and one-half was not spent in an exhaustive responsible search for the right man. It was a simple and clear case of dragging one's feet," Benoit said.

He added, "There is no doubt in my mind that the mayor's weak attempts to fill this position are solely a reaction to the public pressure put on him by the press, the League of Women Voters, and we in the opposition (the Democrats)."

Benoit questioned who gains by "this neglect in filling such a vital position and noted it is not the public at large."

"If the mayor wishes to put out yet another press release, as he is so prone to do, he can start by explaining this fiasco in terms that have real meaning to the taxpayers of this town," Benoit advised.

Tax Receipts At 60% Mark

Manchester tax receipts as of Dec. 31, halfway into the current fiscal year, equaled 60 per cent of 12-month estimates, a report by James A. Turek, collector of revenue, indicates. Collections totaled $8,473,220, with $727,818 of it received during December. Estimates are $14,116,938 for the fiscal year ending June 30.

Tax receipts to the Town Fire District Fund as of Dec. 31 totaled $803,074, against 12-month estimates of $1,341,471; and to the Special Downtown Taxing District Fund $33,438, against 12-month estimates of $63,150.

The Water Fund received $385,604 against $720,106, the Sewer Fund $314,537 against $687,480, and the Data Processing Fund $96,246 against $229,700.

He further commented, "Each day bringing further news that industry and commerce are leaving town, that unnecessary and expensive law suits are being entered into because sufficient assistance wasn't available for our town planning and zoning agencies, with flooding, rat infestation, lost dumps and a shopping list full of other neglects, perhaps the mayor would again like to tell us we really don't need a planner after all."

"If that doesn't sell, perhaps he can switch the blame from the press to one of his administrative assistants. Since he now has a good portion of them on probationary status he can feel reasonably assured that they won't dispute his stories," Benoit charged.

Commenting on "recent expressions for openness and cooperation," by Republican Councilman Donald Eden, Benoit said, "The mayor's closed door actions and the hiring attempts of the planner contrast sharply with this expression."

He concluded, "If this is an example of openness on the part of the mayor then God help us."

Penn Central Assured Of Federal Funding

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — The bankrupt Penn Central Railroad has canceled its plans for extensive layoffs and other emergency measures after being assured of receiving federal funds, the line's trustees said Tuesday.

The trustees said the Department of Transportation assured them that the Ford administration has developed a legislative program which would provide emergency funding to sustain the railroad through the first quarter of the year.

The railroad's trustees wrote Deputy Transportation Secretary John W. Barnum that, "If the administration does not promptly make cash available to Penn Central, it will be necessary to begin to embargo traffic in mid-February in contemplation of a complete cessation of rail operations for lack of cash in early March."

The Penn Central announced last month that expected cash shortages in the first quarter of 1975 would result in layoffs and a reduction in maintenance programs.

The emergency action was delayed when the Transportation Department made available $30 million under the federal Regional Rail Reorganization Act and later provided an additional $12 million. According to the trustees, the decision to cancel the furloughs and cutbacks eliminates the possibility of accumulating sufficient funds to cover expected shortages in February. They said the line must be assured of receiving more federal funding or would be forced to cease operations.

MCC Chorus, Band Now Organizing

Singers and musicians from the community and the student body of Manchester Community College are invited to participate in the MCC Chorus and Big Jazz Band, both of which are now organizing for the spring semester.

The first band rehearsal will be held on Monday, Jan. 20 at 8:30 p.m. in the music room on the Bidwell Street campus of the college. The first chorus rehearsal will be held on Jan. 21 at 7:30 p.m. in the music room.

Both groups will present a variety of musical performances during the spring semester. College credit is available for participating in either group.

For further information, interested persons should speak with Robert Vater, associate professor of music, at 646-4900, extension 251.

An Exception

GENOA, Italy (UPI) — Italian law says every television set owner must pay a yearly $27 fee to the government-owned television network RAI. But a court has ruled there are exceptions. The court Tuesday said Cristiano Balocchi does not have to pay because his foreign-made set can receive only French television and not RAI programs. RAI had demanded the fee anyway.
