Amnesty Extended

United Press International
WASHINGTON (UPI) — Thursday President Ford extended his program of pardon and clemency for Vietnam war draft evaders and deserters to March 1. A spokesman for the Presidential Clemency Board said there were six times as many applications in the last three weeks than there were in the first four months. However pro-amnesty groups are pushing for full amnesty and are spurning the President's program.

They Were Wrong

BOSTON (UPI) — Boston University President John Silber said that since students invited Ronald Ziegler to speak at the school for money, they should not have taken back their offer. He re-extended the invitation Thursday, offering the former White House spokesman $1,000.

The original offer from students had been $2,500 plus expenses. Ziegler turned down the $1,000. His agent in New York said that BU's change of heart is too late and too little.

Predicts Food Crisis

WASHINGTON (UPI) — "By mid-1976, if something isn't done, we will have one of the most serious food crises that this country has ever known," Sonny Covill predicts. Covill, who has been farming for 28 years around Burgaw, N.C., delivered his warning at the annual meeting of the Consumer Federation of America. He said high consumer prices for food are only the beginning. Corporate control over food from farm to shelf is increasing, and operating costs are driving more farmers off the land. Study panels and dinner speeches at the meeting are exploring ways the average buyer can beat the food distribution system.

Manhunt Mounted

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — One of the greatest manhunts in the history of Los Angeles has been mounted to find a killer known as the "Skid Row slasher." He has cut the throats of eight men in two months. Police are concerned, because the slasher went outside the Skid Row area to kill his latest victim Wednesday night. The killer "may strike any time and any place now," a police spokesman said.

Search for Wreckage

ISTANBUL (UPI) — A search is being made in the Sea of Marmara for 41 persons missing in a freak crash of a Turkish jetliner Thursday evening. The plane crashed into the choppy waters when a brief blackout at the airport forced the pilot to delay his landing. Police said fishing boats found wreckage of the plane 19 miles west of Istanbul in the Sea of Marmara. Authorities said a flotilla of Turkish warships and fishing boats joined in the search.

Angela Speaks

NORMAN, Okla. (UPI) — Black activist Angela Davis spoke at the University of Oklahoma Thursday night, disregarding a death threat issued by the Ku Klux Klan and criticism by some members of the state Senate.

"Oklahoma is one of the more backward states in the country," Miss Davis said. "I think the uproar that this has caused is evidence of this. I wish they could really get excited about some real problems."

She said she was appearing on college campuses to fight racism fostered by "the Richard Niksons, the Gerald Fords, the Rockefelleres." Police said there were no incidents during her appearance.

Susan Will Be Queen

WINCHESTER, Va. (UPI) — The President's daughter, 17-year-old Susan Ford, will be queen of the 48th annual Shenandoah Apple Festival this spring.

One of Susan's duties during her three-day reign will be to knight the grand marshal — entertainer Bob Hope.

The only other president's daughter to serve as queen was Lucy Baines Johnson in 1964.

Babcock Sentenced

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Former Montana Gov. Tim Babcock was sentenced today to one year in a federal prison and fined $1,000 in connection with illegal campaign contributions to former President Richard M. Nixon.

U.S. District Judge George L. Hart Jr. handed down the maximum sentence, but ordered Babcock paroled after four months and put on two years probation.

Babcock, 55, pleaded guilty Dec. 10 to one misdemeanor count charging him with helping oil magnate Armand Hammer contribute $56,000 to Nixon's re-election campaign in late 1973 and early 1974.

Babcock served as governor of Montana from 1962 through 1968.

The Weather

Cloudy with chance of flurries or very light snow today, especially along Long Island Sound. Highs today in the lower 30s. Clearing and cold tonight with lows in the teens. Sunny and cold Saturday with highs in the upper 20s to lower 30s.

Fireboat Moves in to Battle Blaze

A marine fireboat moves in to the flaming explosion of an oil tanker that collided with a smaller ship on the Delaware River at Marcus Hook, Pa., early today. At least one person is known dead and more than 20 are being treated for injuries in nearby hospitals. (UPI photo)

Ford Seeks Spending Curbs

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Ford is asking Congress to let him cut or delay federal spending of $2.6 billion for programs ranging from cancer research to construction of schools and hospitals.

Ford's request was the latest in a series of attempts he has made to hold down a multibillion dollar deficit this year — with virtual certainty of another one in the 1976 federal budget that he will submit Monday to Congress.

The bulk of his choices for the chopping block — $1.8 billion worth — dealt with social welfare and was expected to encounter resistance on Capitol Hill.

The President's first order of official business today was to complete a round of talks with British Prime Minister Harold Wilson. The two leaders focused on international, economic and energy problems at a 90-minute session Thursday, and Ford later gave a black tie state dinner for Wilson at the White House.

In other developments Thursday, the President:

— Sent Congress a 182-page package of proposed legislation, called "the Energy Independence Act of 1975," to carry out the fuel conservation steps he suggested 15 days ago in his State of the Union message. In appealing for "prompt action," he said "without these measures we face a future of shortages or dependence which the nation cannot tolerate and the American people will not accept."

— Ordered an acceleration of $335.6 million in dividend payments on Veteran's Administration life insurance policies held by more than 2.5 million former GIs who served in World War I and II or Korea. The money will be paid out within the next 45 days, and "the President feels this action will distribute a substantial amount of cash at a time when it is needed to give a boost to consumer spending," a White House spokesman said.

In all, Ford sought 35 recissions amounting to nearly $1.1 billion. If both the House and the Senate do not approve that request within 45 days the money will be released. The President listed 14 deferrals totaling $769 million. That action will take effect automatically unless either the House or the Senate votes to stop him.

Dr. Lundberg Recalls Turning Points In Lifetime Career in Medical Profession

By JUNE TOMPKINS

The recollections of an 85-year-old doctor are not so much concerned with his successes which have been noted in newspaper headlines as with the behind-the-scenes events which led to those successes.

So it is with Dr. George A.F. Lundberg as he recalls many of the events in his life from the time he worked as a pharmacist. He was 85 on Jan. 16.

Dr. Lundberg was born in Gardner, Mass. An after school job introduced him to pharmacy back in the days when the profession was learned mostly under the tutelage of an apprenticeship with a licensed pharmacist.

"All through my life," says Dr. Lundberg, "the right person happened to cross my path at the right time, and the change in my pharmaceutical career came when a doctor acquaintance discouraged me from being a pill packer all my life."

Instead, he encouraged the young Lundberg to go to Augustana College in Illinois for pre-medical training.

Worked in Drugstores
His pharmaceutical background was beneficial, however.

"I supported myself practically all through college," said Dr. Lundberg, "I must have worked in most of the drugstores around the colleges I attended."

His association with Manchester began in the early days of his internship at St. Francis Hospital in Hartford.

"I met Dr. D.C.Y. Moore — 'D.C.' I always called him — from Manchester who used to practice at St. Francis. He seemed to take a liking to me and persuaded me to come to Manchester," said Dr. Lundberg.

The future prospects were attractive to him. There was talk of a new hospital soon to open, Manchester's first, and in a community of older doctors, a young one would be welcome, Dr. Moore told him.

"The youngest doctor at the time was a Dr. Sharpe who had practiced in Manchester 25 years," says Dr. Lundberg.

When Manchester was considering an appropriate memorial to the men and women of Manchester who answered the call of duty in World War I, Dr. Lundberg suggested a permanent hospital might be the most appropriate memorial. It would commemorate those who had witnessed so much suffering during the flu epidemic at the time because of the lack of just such an institution.

He was named chairman of a committee to investigate the building and operation costs and the possibility of securing the money for such an institution.

The cornerstone was laid Nov. 22, 1919, and the hospital opened formally for patients Dec. 15, 1920.

Took night calls

"Almost right away," he says, "I was elected to take all night obstetrics cases because I was the youngest doctor in town. The others were tired of answering the night calls."

Twenty-five years later, town records showed Dr. Lundberg had delivered about 5,000 babies in the Manchester area.

Dr. Lundberg was a charter member of the medical staff of Manchester Memorial Hospital when it opened. (He is the only living member of the original hospital staff.)

Following Ship Collision

Blasts, Fires Rip Refinery

MARCUS HOOK, Pa. (UPI) — Two ships, one containing 315,000 gallons of crude oil, collided at dockside at the British Petroleum refinery here today, causing at least one death.

Several persons were believed missing and at least 20 were injured.

The U.S. Coast Guard said a Liberian tanker, the Corinthus, was moored at the dockside unloading and was struck by the U.S. Edgar M. Queeney as it was leaving dockside, causing a series of explosions and fires.

The blasts shattered windows in a wide area and rocked this area of industrial complexes, including many refineries.

One person was confirmed dead on arrival at Crozer Chester Medical Center, where 13 of the injured were taken.

A Coast Guard report said "numerous persons are unaccounted for at this time, although there is no detailed information as to specific casualties."

Coast Guard spokesman Chief Ed Conlon said later that he had "no idea" as to whether there were further casualties.

The Coast Guard dispatched two cutters, two tugboats, a buoy tender and two helicopters to aid in fire control and search for victims.

Authorities said, however, it was difficult to determine how many were aboard the Corinthus because of numerous shore leaves. Originally, because of the smoke and flames that had blanketed the area the Coast Guard reported that the collision in-involved the Corinthus and a barge, but it was later determined that the dredge barge was docked nearby.

The spokesman said the Corinthus had approximately 315,000 gallons of crude oil aboard which apparently touched off the mass of flames and smoke which could be seen miles away.

Eyewitnesses said the bow of the tanker, the Corinthus, either sank or was blown off, and flames consumed the stern above water.

Flames from the Corinthus quickly ignited and virtually destroyed the BP docks in nearby Trainer.

A Coast Guard air crew reported flames from the initial blast jumped 400 to 500 high and spread a distance of two to three miles across the river, which separates the Pennsylvania and New Jersey borders.

The fire, touched off about 12:45 a.m., continued raging through the night on an oil slick on the river and the docks, but firemen believed they had the blaze under control. There was no immediate danger to the oil storage tanks and homes studing the area.

Six persons were taken to Sacred Heart Hospital in Chester, but only three required hospitalization. Two other persons taken to Riddle Memorial Hospital in Media, about 10 miles north of here, were reported not seriously injured.

The Coast Guard had planes flying the area to watch for any persons who might still be in the water.

Grasso To Seek Explanation Of Bar's Review Procedure

HARTFORD (UPI) — Gov. Ella T. Grasso says she will speak to Connecticut Bar Association President William K. Cole about his declining to detail the bar's judicial review committee's procedures.

She said Thursday she had understood after talking to Cole Wednesday that the bar would explain its rejection of interim Superior Court Judge J. Brian Gaffney for a full term appointment.

"That is information to which you are in fact entitled," Mrs. Grasso told a spokeswoman.

The governor also reappointed eight judges whose present terms expire his year.

The governor declined to explain why she offered Gaffney, former Republican state chairman, a common pleas court judgeship even after he was implicated in the state leasing scandal.

Asked why she offered Gaffney the bench appointment, Mrs. Grasso would only say the Connecticut Bar Association has agreed to consider the nomination after leasing probes file a final report.

In rejecting Gaffney's superior court nomination by former GOP Gov. Thomas J. Meskill Wednesday, the bar objected to Gaffney's role in the leasing scandal.

Gaffney's appointment to the state's second highest court "might well be inconsistent with preserving the appearance of propriety that promotes public confidence in the integrity and impartiality of the judiciary," the bar said.

The bar also maintained Gaffney did not have sufficient courtroom experience for superior court duty.

The eight judges reappointed Thursday were: Superior Court Judges Anthony E. Grillo, Hamden; James F. McGrath, Waterbury; Jay E. Rubinow, Manchester, and William L. Tierney Jr., Greenwich, to eight-year terms starting July 1, and Superior Court Judge Harold M. Mulvey to an eight-year term beginning Jan. 1, 1976.

Also: Edward C. Hamill, Norwich, and Luke F. Martin, Thomaston, both Court of Common Pleas judges, to four-year terms beginning July 1; Juvenile Court Judge Thomas D. Gill, West Hartford, for a four-year term starting July 1.

Lecture Turns Tide
But a lecture in Boston turned the tide for pernicious anemia patients in Manchester.

Dr. Moore, whom Dr. Lundberg called a progressive doctor, attended a lecture with the young Manchester doctor where they listened to the speaker explain the benefit of a liver diet in the treatment of pernicious anemia.

"It was late at night when 'D.C.' and I returned to Manchester, and we discussed the new idea all the way home. There was a patient in the hospital at that time who was not responding to any treatment being given him. 'D.C.' and I wondered, 'why not try the treatment on him?'"

"So, in the middle of the night after we returned home, we woke up old man Kittel (Robert Kittel, owner of Kittel's Meat and Grocery store on Bissell St.) and asked for some liver."

"We were excited with this new experiment, and we hurried to the hospital, went to the kitchen and ground some liver, raw, and mixed it with some orange juice."

"Then we awoke the patient and made him drink it."

"The next day, after tests had been run, 'D.C.' and I were both excited over the results. The patient's hemoglobin count had risen and his heart was improved."

However, more palatable ways of serving liver were developed, says Dr. Lundberg. Consequently, a new and improved method of treating pernicious anemia patients in Manchester was discovered.

Manchester Evening Herald OPINION

Cities On The Federal Dole

Concern is expressed from time to time that we are creating a society of welfare addicts — people who spend their lives on the public dole and whose children repeat the pattern.

The fact is that there is much more danger of our local governments becoming so accustomed to sucking on the bounteous federal teat that they will never be able to wean themselves. Only in this case we don't call it welfare but "revenue sharing," "Impact Cities" aid or a host of other names for a host of other federal programs.

Cleveland, the nation's 10th most populous city, is a prime example. It has reached the point where Cleveland has become so dependent upon federal (and to a lesser degree, state) financial assistance that it would be completely bankrupt without it.

The city's 1975 budget is projected at $126 million. But local income and property taxes are expected to bring in only $74.9 million, which is $1.5 million short of the amount needed just to run the police department.

The difference of some $51.1 million will be made up with federal and state grants and subsidies, which in the past two years have totaled $143.5 million and $25 million respectively.

"If I were not able to get continued federal funds, this would be a one-department government — safety," says Mayor Ralph J. Perk. "There would be no money for recreation, health services, parks, rubbish collection or anything else."

It's said that Perk has carried the cup to Washington so many times he's worn a path.

Meanwhile, property taxes in Cleveland have been permitted to decline by $51 million and last November voters, perhaps having learned that the more they pay, the less service they get, turned down an income tax increase that would have added $16 million to the city's coffers.

Perk is not worried about the city's increasing dependency to the federal dollar. The money, he says, "belongs to the people."

Cleveland may differ from other American cities only in the scale of its dependency on "the people's money." But if this city, with its strong industrial and commercial base, can't afford to govern itself, what hope is there for any city?

MAX LERNER

The Right To Survive

NEW YORK — If the original Kissinger remark about the right of self-preservation was a trial balloon to test American popular response, then the most recent renewal of the theme by President Ford — in his NBC interview on TV — suggests that the balloon worked well enough to be floated again.

Since the original American Revolution there have been four occasions in American history when the question of survival arose as sharply as today.

The Civil War, as Lincoln put it at Gettysburg, was a test to decide "whether this nation ... can long endure." In the Great Depression, Franklin Roosevelt told reporters, in a grim if vaunting mood: "I will either have to be America's greatest President or its last." Again in Roosevelt's tenure, there was a point when Hitler's war machine threatened to overrun Europe and reach across the ocean to America, and it was a near thing that the West escaped from the shadow of the "Thousand-Year Reich." And in the '60s, there was a time of assassinations and the burning of the cities, when it seemed as if America would shiver to pieces under the stresses of social fragmentation.

By such reckoning this is the fifth great American crisis of survival. Each of the others was a response to dangers from within or without. The crisis today combines both and may prove the sharpest of all.

President Ford spelled out the philosophy of survival even more explicitly than Secretary of State Henry Kissinger had done in his intervention remarks. "In the case of economic strangulation," Mr. Ford said, we must be "prepared to take the necessary action for our self-preservation. When you are being strangled it is a case of either dying or living."

This seems strange language for the head of the richest and most powerful state in history. Yet not so strange when you measure the danger and the stakes. Nor is it strange given the double assault aimed at. One is, of course, the Arab oil states; the other, even more important in my view, is the American people themselves.

In talking to them, Mr. Ford and Kissinger not only want to test their response but also present them with the image of a strong, self-assured government. Their hope is that the image will carry over into the whole domestic economic crisis as well, and thus achieve the all-important element of confidence.

Man is a social animal, made by the Creator to live and grow through communication with other human beings. Each time we strengthen the bonds of community, we come closer to heading God's summons to solidarity with Him, as brothers and sisters bound together by love.

Whether it is in a family, a neighborhood, a nation or a planet, we must learn to love or we shall perish. Ask the God of love to show you how to be an instrument of His peace in a world addicted to solving conflicts by violent means.

Those who would call God "Father" can hardly refuse to acknowledge that all are their brothers and sisters in the Lord — and to act accordingly. Father, teach us to break down the artificial barriers that separate us.

ANDREW TULLY No Vietnam Involvement

WASHINGTON — Things could be worse, I suppose. Like, say, free handouts for needy muggers. But we sure as shootin' can do without certain "suggestions" that under certain circumstances the United States would involve itself again in the Vietnam fighting. It scares me almost to death to hear President Ford tell a news conference he would not rule out the possibility that the U.S. might use its air or naval power to assist the Saigon regime in its new war with Communist North Vietnam. I want to hear him make a resounding and unequivocal statement that nope, there is absolutely no chance that American forces will join that particular fess.

There is a lot of talk about Washington "leaving its options open" as a signal to the Hanoi regime that we still might intervene if necessary. Options options. We're out of that mess now and it behooves the president to make it clear that we haven't the slightest intention of plopping ourselves back into it. If that means the Communists eventually will take over South Vietnam, so be it. Give Saigon another $300-million in military assistance, but no American bodies.

Also, I don't want any more of that jazz about pleasing the Russians and Communist Chinese would be if the Reds took over all of Vietnam. Of course they'd be pleased, and that would be too bad. But I refuse to believe that such a takeover would "pose a threat to the national security of the United States."

In the first place, Vietnam is the hell and gone on the other side of the world. It's not that far from the Communists. In the first place, Vietnam is the hell and gone on the other side of the world. It's not that far from the Communists. In the first place, Vietnam is the hell and gone on the other side of the world. It's not that far from the Communists.

Moreover, neither the Soviet Union nor Communist China is all that enthusiastic about a united, Communist regime ruling all of Southeast Asia. They want small puppet states they can push around, not a big and populous area under one dictatorship.

Therefore, on the Vietnam issue I can only presume he would take no military action without Congressional consent. At the same time I suspect that his "warning" to Hanoi is just an exercise in gamesmanship. For all our sakes, including Gerald Ford's, it better be.

DON OAKLEY 'Gasohol' Eases The Fuel Pinch

Gasoline and alcohol don't mix — when the latter is inside the driver of an automobile.

Happily, gasoline and alcohol mix very well indeed when both are inside the fuel tank. In fact, "gasohol" may be the best idea in sight for easing the nation through the motor-fuel part of the energy crisis until such time as technology comes up with better answers.

Last year at the height of the Arab oil embargo, two Massachusetts Institute of Technology scientists reported on their experiments using different methanol-gasoline mixtures in unmodified private cars. They reported impressive increases in fuel economy and acceleration and decreases in carbon monoxide emissions.

Methyl alcohol, or wood alcohol, is the poisonous variety of alcohol and can be distilled from almost any organic substance, including garbage. Now the State of Nebraska is embarking on a two-million-mile test using ordinary ethyl alcohol, or ethanol (the kind we drink) as an auto fuel supplement.

The test was originally authorized by the legislature to utilize surplus grain for fuel. The state has purchased 14,000 gallons of potent 200-proof ethyl alcohol from the Georgia-Pacific Corp., which makes the pure alcohol from tree sugars in pulp mill waste as part of its environmental protection program.

The state has assigned 38 passenger cars and pickup trucks to its Department of Roads for the test. The vehicles will use a blend of 10 per cent ethanol and 90 per cent gasoline, both leaded and unleaded.

Based on the approximately $31 million gallons of gasoline consumed each year in Nebraska, such a blend could save some 83 million gallons of gasoline a year in that one state alone.

Preliminary results of the test are expected to be published in a few months, but already Nebraska has received commendation for "gasohol" from six other states and from as far away as Australia and Italy.

Automating the Checkout Counter

Food shoppers in many parts of the country are noticing more and more packages and cans with vertical lines of varying lengths on the label.

The UPC is one of the first steps toward a fully automated checkout system in supermarkets. In a store that uses UPC, an electronic scanner at the checkout counter reads the lines and feeds the information into a computer. The computer in turn spits out a sales slip on which is printed not only the price but the name

1974 Sets Records for Heritage

Heritage Savings and Loan Association ended 1974 with a record level of deposits, mortgage loans, and new services.

In 1973, the association granted $7.3 million worth of new mortgages and listed a total of $28.3 million.

Heritage's liquid assets, cash, and government securities amounted to $1.9 million. Hale reported. Reserves and surplus totaled $2.8 million at the end of the year, he said.

The 1974 financial report was Hale's first. He has been president for just a year. The report is also the first under the Heritage name. Last year at this time the institution was known as Manchester Savings and Loan Association.

"As a people oriented institution," Hale said, "Heritage Savings and Loan is constantly striving to provide a better way for the people of Manchester and nearby communities to benefit from family financial needs."

"As an institution with sound financial policy, we will continue to offer family financing to better benefit our old and new customers," he said.

At the close of 1974, the Connecticut Bank and Trust Co., Hartford, today made available $10 million for underwriting residential mortgages.

Walter J. Connolly said the funds are available to prospective homebuyers throughout the state on a first come, first served basis.

Connolly said rates will be highly competitive. He said the bank's offer is over and above the funds CBT normally makes available for mortgages.

CBT now has an average mortgage balance of about $250 million and total loans are more than $1 billion, Connolly said.

Edwin Caldwell, CBT economist, said the new mortgage money program will not only help the depressed housing industry, but also provide a much-needed shot in the arm for the whole economy.

Settlements have been forced higher because of continuing inflation, company officials said, while the month of December produced an unusually large amount of claim settlements.

As a result of inflation, the company has had to establish higher loss reserves. Net investment income has also grown, though, allowing the company to maintain a sound surplus position.

Shields, a University of Connecticut graduate, joined the company in 1973 as a real estate analyst in the real estate investment department at Aetna Life & Casualty, Hartford.

Soviet Trade — And Now the Good News

What is the future of U.S.-Soviet trade relations — indeed, of this whole idea called détente — now that the Kremlin has rejected the attempts to liberalize trade with the United States to the requirement that the Soviets liberalize their emigration policies regarding Russian citizens, in particular, Russian Jews?

A number of commentators have taken the position that, well, it was a good try; now let's go back to square one and start talking about the important thing again — trade.

There is, in fact, evidence to suggest that it was more than a good try. The lengthy debate in Congress over according "most favored nation" status (no discriminatory tariffs) to the Soviet Union has already had a beneficial effect. In the past two years, thousands of Jews have been permitted to leave Russia who might not otherwise have been able to.

This process, helping along by behind-the-scenes prod, will continue, it's said — so long as we don't press the issue to the point of embarrassing the Soviet internationally.

It has also been argued that the United States would reject any Soviet attempt to link trade with demands that this country do better by its own minorities, although such an argument ignores the world of differences between their system and ours. We are at least officially and actively committed to the furtherance of the civil rights of all our citizens.

In any event, so much attention has been focused on the plight of Soviet Jews that very few questions have been asked about the actual desirability or necessity of trade with the Soviet Union.

We assume that trade with the Russians is desirable, if only to serve the cause of détente. But do we really need it, and should we really want it?

We may never be burned again as we were in the wheat deal, but this is the way the Russians do business. That is, in their state-controlled economy, individual Russian companies do not make deals with individual foreign companies. The Soviets operate in terms of large-scale, long-term purchase agreements, and thus the more we trade with them, warn some critics, the more our export economy runs the risk of becoming merely a diplomatic adjunct of the State Department. There may well come a time when the United States looks to Russia's vast storehouse of petroleum and minerals. Right now, however, they need our technology more than we need their resources.

Between 1972 and 1973, Soviet imports of our products more than doubled. U.S. imports of Soviet products also rose, but were still only a tenth of Soviet purchases. Even so, the Kremlin's abrogation of the 1972 trade agreement indicates that the Soviets don't need us all that much, either. They have apparently concluded that they can get what they want elsewhere and that normalized trade relations with the United States, especially when hedged in by the restrictions adopted by Congress, are not all that vital to their interests.

There are other signs of cooling inside the Kremlin toward the United States. The virtual disappearance of party chairman Leonid Brezhnev from the public eye may be as much connected with the collapse of Richard Nixon, and with his cultivated "personal diplomacy" vis-a-vis the Russians, as it is with Brezhnev's reported ill health.

This new coolness, to be sure, is still a long way from the old coldness of former years. But at the present time, both countries seem to have retreated to a sort of arms-length circling of each other. We are in a period of wait-and-see.

It is always a good idea to wait before accepting the embrace of the Russian bear.

Thank You

Offers Mass

Padre Humberto Almonzo of Holy Apostle Seminary, Cromwell, will celebrate Mass at the fifth annual Boy Scout Communion Breakfast Sunday at 9:30 a.m. at the Army and Navy Club.

Padre Humberto was once a movie, stage and television star in Mexico and Europe. He has appeared in 21 films with many well-known actors, and actresses such as Ingrid Bergman, Anna Magnani and Sophia Loren.

In 1966, after giving up the life of an actor, he was ordained to the priesthood at the Shrine of the Immaculate Conception in Washington, D.C.

Independently, a former student of Glastonbury High School, he joined the Navy in June 1971.

Sgt. Stephen A. Daunt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Daunt of 148 N. Main St., has returned to Barksdale AFB Louisiana after a holiday visit at home. He was recently awarded the S.A.C. Master Technician Award. A 1970 graduate of Manchester High School, he attended Central Connecticut College.

The event will be held at the Mass. Tickets are $1.50 and must be purchased before the Mass. Tickets are also available from the scoutmasters of various troops or may be obtained by calling John Joy, 643-4986; Ed Ward, 645-9262; or Mrs. Jackie Eomis, 643-9037.

Harrison on School Board

COVENTRY
Monica Shea
 The Coventry Board of Education Thursday night unanimously elected Jon Harrison to fill the unexpired term of Thomas Hill. Harrison and his wife, Liza, and daughter, Kristina, have lived on South St., Coventry for the past three and one-half years.

He said his interest in the board position was in-part due to the fact that "I have a child coming along that will soon be of school age and I wanted to have a good working knowledge of the school system to see if it was a good system and if it wasn't, to see what I could do to help and improve it."

He said he is encouraged by the sequential learning program and tends to support it. He termed the implementation of it "a significant forward step for the town."

Asked where his priorities would be if it came to a budget cut, Harrison said, "I would be looking at the sequential learning program and further implementation of the sequential learning program."

He repeated he feels the program is a good one and that he feels the students stand to gain greatly from having gone through it.

Harrison is vice president of the Coventry Historical Society and a former member of the Connecticut Writers League and a member of the editorial board of that league.

He has a BA in English from Trinity College and attended the University of Connecticut for one year for post graduate work. He has also taken courses at Central Connecticut State College, Eastern Connecticut State College and Manchester Community College.

86 Bolton High Students To Take Ski Trip Sunday

BOLTON
Donna Holland
 Correspondent
 644-0375

The Bolton High School Ski Club will spend Sunday at Maple Valley in Brattleboro, Vt. It will be the club's second trip.

Of the 296 students at the high school, 86 students, or one third the school's population, is going. This is an increase of 40 students over the first trip.

Skiers ranging from pro to novice will be going. The majority will be novice and will receive help from pro to novice ski instructors. The principal, Mrs. Judith Pressler, guidance counselor; Roger Titus, industrial arts teacher, and Mrs. Doris Hartford, school nurse.

The cost is $5 for the bus ticket, $6 for the ski ticket, $5.50 for rentals. Maple Valley will provide lessons for the novice, intermediate, expert and ride to style skier for $1.

On their first trip the students appreciate the openness displayed towards them by the chaperones. Everyone involved felt confident as members of the Bolton High community.

Church Meeting
 The Bolton Ecumenical Council will hold a special meeting Sunday at 3 p.m. at the Bolton Congregational Church.

The panel for the open meeting will be made up of: Allyn Herbert Barrel, past president of the league; George Durham, league director; and Dr. Barnett Barnson, institutional representative for Boy Scouts.

Tolland Story Hours Set

A story hour and craft project will be held Saturday from 10:30 to 11:30 at the Tolland Library for children aged 4 to 8. The program is sponsored by the education committee of the Tolland Junior Woman's Club. Story tellers will be Tove Mardige and Muriel Vining.

Club Seeks to Help Those with Learning Flaws

VERNON

A special committee of the Vernon Junior Women's Club is working on the club's national project, the Association of Children with Learning Disabilities.

The committee has been advised on various projects it might develop, by special education teachers in the Vernon system and Mrs. Cindy Plantfield.

Some of these projects include making games, game boards, an alphabet book, and playing cards for use by the special students in their regular classrooms.

The committee is also interested in forming a parents' group and in writing a pamphlet for parents to inform them of the services available in the community for their children. Anyone interested in further information should call 646-3896.

Square Dancers
 The Vernon Square Dance Club, Inc. will meet Feb. 8 at the Vernon Elementary School, Rt. 30 with Russ Peterson as guest caller.

Bingo
 The weekly bingo program will be conducted in the Sacred Heart Parish Center, Rt. 30, Vernon, tonight starting at 7:30. Games are open to the public.

School Lunches
 The following lunches will be served in the Vernon schools next week:
 Monday: Tomato soup, hamburger patties, french fries, fruit cup.
 Tuesday: Shells with meat sauce, tossed salad, bread sticks, peaches.
 Wednesday: Chicken and gravy, buttered rice, green beans, whole wheat bread and butter, pineapple squares.
 Thursday: Juice, salami grinders, potato chips, ice cream bar.
 Friday: Fish cakes with tomato sauce, baked beans, bread and butter, carrot and cabbage slaw, spiced applesauce.

New Vault Will Satisfy Auditors' Recommendation

VERNON

A recommendation made in Vernon's audit report will be corrected when the high school expansion program is completed.

The report, filed by Fulco, Gilin, Halpern and Campise for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1974, criticized the fact that the Board of Education's input and output documents of the Data Processing program, are not properly safeguarded from fire.

Construction now under way at the high school will correct these problems. It will include either a fireproof vault, or the documents or fireproof files and a heat detector will be installed in the computer room.

The report also recommended the joint review of the potential maximum use of the NCR Century 50 computer now being used by the Board of Education.

For purposes of fire insurance, and in view of the rising building costs, the auditors suggested that the town give consideration to the use of current replacement costs rather than increasing the prior value by 10 per cent each year as has been the practice.

Rotary to Give Citizen Award

VERNON

The Rockville Rotary Club will present its Citizen of the Year award at the 19th annual banquet scheduled for Feb. 22 at the Colony in Talcoville.

Dinner will be served at 8 p.m. and dancing will follow to the Big Band Sound of the '40's starting at 9:30 p.m.

Tickets may be purchased from Harvey Desruisseaux, 875-4233, or A. Richard Lombardi, 872-2703.

There have been 19 past winners. In 1974 a double award was given to Helen Abzu and Lenzy Wallace. Mrs. Abzu was one of four women being named during the last 18 years.

Three Persons Hurt In Area Accidents

BOLTON
 William A. Dorey, 27, of Kingsley Dr., Andover, is reported in serious condition at Manchester Memorial Hospital Thursday night for injuries suffered in a one-car accident on I-94 in Tolland.

Police said Ames was west-bound, skidded off the left side of the highway and struck some guard rails. The accident is still under investigation.

SOUTH WINDSOR
 Mabel Simonsen of 186 S. Main St., South Windsor, and Ethel Hoskin of Warehouse Point, were admitted to Manchester Memorial Hospital Thursday with injuries suffered in a two-car accident in Sullivan Ave.

Ms. Hoskin suffered a fractured forehead and dislocated hip and Ms. Simonsen suffered head and chest injuries. Hospital officials said both are in satisfactory condition.

Marjorie Hann of 145 Lester Circle, South Windsor was the driver of the second car.

Police said Ms. Simonsen was charged with following too closely in connection with the accident. She is scheduled to appear in Court of Common Pleas 12, East Hartford on Feb. 18.

South Windsor Police are investigating a break at the Lounge, 954 Sullivan Ave., discovered this morning by a South Windsor police officer making a routine check.

Police said a panel was broken in the front door and about $275 worth of liquor was taken.

In Memoriam

In loving memory of Walter E. Timmons, Jr. who passed away January 31, 1975.

You left without a last goodbye I asked the Lord why, oh why My heart still aches in loneliness And silent tears still flow I see your smile and hear your voice No matter where I go

Sadly missed by his loving wife, Barbara Timmons.

POLICE REPORT

Victor I. Pizzola, 16, of 35 New St. was arrested Thursday at 9:30 p.m. on a charge of possession of a handgun and possession of a dangerous weapon, police said.

In the same incident, Joseph W. Kaminsky, 19, of 79 Brooklyn St., Rockville, was arrested and charged with possession of marijuana, police said.

"It will be a mistake," he says, "because individual patient care will disappear. There's a form of it now when people go to the emergency room instead of their family doctor."

"It's getting to the point where a doctor treats the disease instead of the patient," he says.

License Renewed

Dr. Lundberg officially retired from medical practice in 1960. Since then he has done a little fishing, some painting, and some writing.

His son, Dr. George A. Lundberg, Jr., is carrying on the profession in Manchester.

But Dr. Lundberg could still practice. Last December he state issued his license renewal, 55 years after his first license.

Town's Most Famous Citizen

Elephant, Pennsylvania's most famous citizen jumped into a four-passenger plane yesterday afternoon and stopped off at the Sonesta in Hartford.

Cowboy hat-wearing Don Meredith, the one-time Dallas Cowboy quarterback in the National Football League and now one of the biggest names in television, made the journey to keep a speaking engagement last night at the Aetna Men's Club.

The center of attention in the Presidential Suite on the top floor overlooking the Connecticut River to the East, Dandy Don talked of both the past and future.

The 38-year-old grider who spent nine years with the Cowboys after picking up a degree at Southern Methodist University in 1960 is still a trim 210 pounds spread over a frame three inches over six feet.

Tennis Enthusiast

"I'm playing a lot of tennis, just about everyday," he said. He's often been part of celebrity net promotions. Meredith, who will replace Keith Jackson on the World Cup Tennis telecasting crew, which includes expert Bud Collins, may make the junket to Hartford March 6-9 for the Aetna World Cup matches at the Civic Center.

The ruggedly handsome Meredith is enjoying life more and more since moving over from ABC to NBC.

"I've been an optimist all my life. I really like doing what I'm doing today. NBC did everything they said they would. I don't have an 8 to 5 schedule but when I work, the hours are long."

Acting parts, in Police Women series, special sports assignments, like the NFL playoffs and Super Bowl, and World Cup Tennis, plus speaking engagements, and tennis, keep Meredith on the go.

Ended Career Abruptly

"I know that I could have played several years longer but I'm glad I didn't. The way things worked out."

"I just happened to be in the right place at the right time when opportunities came up."

Regarding the difference between his role as the third man — with Howard and Frank Gifford with ABC and his NBC assignment, Meredith felt his new job was "loopy, loopy. I had a good time on Monday nights, a great time, and it was an exciting thing. I feel now that my programming is towards entertainment."

Little Alert After Mishap

Thomas Little, 35, of Hartford was listed in serious condition in Manchester Memorial Hospital this morning, a hospital spokesman said.

Little's right arm was crushed Thursday morning by the heavy, metal blade of a trash container truck owned by his employer, Harold and Sons Rubbish Removal of Bolton. It took rescuers an hour to pull the blade off his arm and take him to the hospital.

The incident occurred at the shopping center at Lenox and E. Center Sts.

Despite his condition this morning, Little was awake and alert, a hospital spokesman added.

10th Loss in Row For Cougar Five

Victories have been scarce for Manchester Community College's basketball squad this season and last night's thumping was the 10th straight and 12th in 17 starts.

Manchester looked like another big season has turned into a nightmare for Coach Don Geissler's club.

Eastern Connecticut State College applied the pressure last night with a six-man squad scoring an easy 87-64 decision in Willimantic.

The winners led most of the way including a 21-point bulge at halftime, 51-36.

Chuck Stewart tossed in 24 points for Eastern with Paul Safin adding 20, Rockville's Pat Connelly 17 and Dan Jones 13. The winners shot nearly 69 per cent from the floor.

Best in defeat were Tom Tucker and Curt Iverson with 22 and 17 tallies. John Dwyer added 10 points.

Sunday at 3:30 p.m. the Clark Arena powerful Mat-tattuck comes to town for part two of The New Hope Manobenefit production.

Evert Works Hard Beating Lefthander

MERRIFIELD, Va. (UPI) — Chris Evert had to work a little harder Thursday night to beat the troublesome combination of a left-handed opponent playing Margaret Court-style tennis.

The No. 1 female tennis player earned a quarter final spot in the Virginia Slims of Washington tennis tournament Thursday night by eliminating Court's 18-year-old protege and doubles partner, Dianne Fromholtz, 6-2, 6-3.

"I've never played her before. I was surprised. She's an aggressive player and I had to play harder," Evert said. "My job was going extremely well, and I think that may have made the difference."

Through several long rallies and deuce games, the less experienced Fromholtz net rushing tactics folded under the drilling accuracy of an Evert in true form.

Two other seeded players also advanced in second round action of the $75,000 tournament. Kerry Melville of Australia defeated Betty Stove of Holland, 6-2, 6-3; and Czechoslovakian Martina Navratilova overpowered Kathy Kykendall of Miami, 6-3, 6-1. Carrie Meyer of St. Louis was stopped by Wendy Overton of Ormond Beach, Fla., 6-2, 6-3.

Evert meets Navratilova today, and Melville plays Janet Neberry of La Jolla, Calif. Second-seeded Margaret Court meets Over-ton; and Virginia Wade, Ziegenfuss 4, faces Valerie Siegel No. 4 in their quarter final singles matches.

Robin Roberts Rates Spot in Hall of Fame

By Milton Richman

NEW YORK (UPI) — Let's get one thing straight right off.

If ever anybody deserves to be in Baseball's Hall of Fame, it's Robin Roberts. He did everything he was supposed to do and then some. He worked in the salt mines and toiled in the vineyards for the Philadelphia Phillies mostly, plugging away doggedly at his trade for 19 years.

He was a two-career winner six consecutive years and had the same incredible control over a baseball Muhammad Ali has over a listening audience. He was the artful gentleman with it all in that never once did he ever make a pitch without first cleaning his fingers and straightening the leg of his trousers.

What I'm trying to say is that Robin Roberts gets my vote for the Hall of Fame, every year. He's going to keep getting it as long as I keep voting because, to me, anyway, he belongs in there with baseball's elite the same way Bob Lemon does, but I also think he should ease up and relax a little.

He shouldn't allow himself to get carried away by some of his more fervent Philadelphia well-wishers, who are so upset over his missing out to get into the Hall of Fame in this election that they're calling the balloting a poll-ish joke and throwing around hints that maybe the vote isn't on the up-and-up because only one man, Jack Lang, secretary of the Baseball Writers' Association of America, counts the ballots in a closed room.

Next thing you know, someone's going to claim the voters is rigged, and I can just hear Babe Ruth laughing and throwing around hints that maybe the vote isn't on the up-and-up because only one man, Jack Lang, secretary of the Baseball Writers' Association of America, counts the ballots in a closed room.

If anybody has a license to holler about the voting, it seems to me Bob Lemon has, but he never does.

Take a look at some of his figures. He pitched only 13 years for the Hall of Fame, every year. He's going to keep getting it as long as I keep voting because, to me, anyway, he belongs in there with baseball's elite the same way Bob Lemon does, but I also think he should ease up and relax a little.

Indians Seeking Revenge, Cheney Plays Home Finale

By Len Auster

One cage team has made the State Tournament and another is heading in that direction as two local quietests showcase their talents on the home front tonight.

Cheney Tech, 10-5 for the season with a Class C Division berth assured, makes its final home appearance at 8 against Putnam Catholic.

The Beavers are unbeaten on home turf in eight previous outings.

Manchester High, 8-6 overall, has a major obstacle in CCIL vs. Wethersfield High at the Clark Arena at 8. The Clarke Catholic Eagles do not spring into action until Saturday night when they oppose South Catholic at the Hartford Civic Center.

Cheney has lost its last two outings both on the road, to outfits it defeated on friendly grounds. One concern for first-year Coach Gerry Blanchard is fouls. Six-foot-one senior forward Tom Moran has picked up three quick personals in the last four contests and the Beavers cannot afford his prolonged absence from the lineup.

The Tech men's bench is not that deep. Putnam is an unknown quantity.

In last Tuesday night's tilt versus East Hartford High, 6-1 MHS senior Alex Mikolowsky played a key role, replacing 6-4 Bob Ostberg who is not known for his blazing speed. The Indians wanted to run and did 10-2 in the CCIL and will be in the starting lineup tonight to help combat Wethersfield's 6-5 twin towers, Scott Fox and Perry Pratt.

In an earlier meeting, which Wethersfield won, 52-47, rebounding was the difference. The Silk Towners are going to have to rebound better and run to topple the Eagles, who are 10-2 in the CCIL and own the top rung in the conference with a 10-0 mark, 11-2 overall, while Rham has secured second spot with a 8-1 ledger, 10-3 in all games. The game is a sellout so you don't have a ticket already — sorry.

Also on tap tonight, Coventry High (5-7, 4-9) is at E.O. Smith in Storrs for a non-conference tilt. Bolton High

Pin Record

Registering single game efforts of 214, 153, 162, Pete Wojtyna set a new Holiday Lanes' triple record last night with a 529 roll.

The old mark was 522 recorded by Nick Tronsky on Jan. 20, 1975.

Wojtyna, of Manchester, rolled with the Connecticut State Bowling Club to receive a $50 bond from the Holiday management.

Scores Triple

BOWIE, Md. (UPI) — Jokey Chick McCarron, coming off his record-breaking year of 1974, scored a triple at Bowie Race Course Thursday.

McCarron, who rode 546 winners as an apprentice, won aboard Ruggedy Mop ($4,600) in the second race, Swanky Yankee ($7,800) in the fourth and Mighty Rush ($7,800) in the featured allowance race.

Bodies, Nothing Else

SAN DIEGO (UPI) — What does a female sportscaster see in the locker room of a professional hockey team?

"I could see bodies, just bodies, nothing else," said Laurie Singer, of KFMB-TV. She had heard that women writers were admitted to a National Hockey League dressing room, so figured she could get into the dressing room of the San Diego Mariners of the World Hockey League. She did.

The team's general manager, Ron Ingram, said he warned the players in advance in case any felt "squeamish."

Ms. Singer said "everything went well. They were very receptive."

Gonzalez Approval Expected To Referee Pro Tennis Match

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (UPI) — Pancho Gonzalez, the graying all-time tennis great, is scheduled to be confirmed today, one might say, as referee of the $100,000 match between Rod Laver and Jimmy Connors.

A move by Connors' manager, Bill Riordan, to unseat Gonzalez ran up against an apparent stone wall of resistance Thursday afternoon at a secret meeting called by the sponsor of the winter-take-all shootout, Caesars Palace casino-hotel.

Thus, the unique match between the world's two top left-handed tennis players will go on as scheduled Sunday at 10 a.m. PST in an "age vs. youth" confrontation.

A news conference described as "very important" was set for 12:30 p.m. today in the Baccaro Restaurant at the luxury hotel to formally announce the names of all the officials for the match in Caesars new half-million-dollar tennis pavilion.

The match-chairman, Sidney Gathrid, a Caesars Palace executive, appointed the 46-year-old Gonzalez referee several weeks ago. He is tennis director at Caesars.

After the closed-door meeting in Gathrid's office, Frank Chirkinnik, the producer, complained Thursday that there were many bubbles and bumps in the floor covering.

The sponsor was already committed to use Wilson balls but still to be announced was whether they would be taken from the can several hours before the match to slow them down. The surface, likewise, could be slowed if the players agreed.

Former Manchester High athlete Mike Mistrzeta has won a starting berth with the Trinity College varsity basketball team this season. The 6-2, 220-pound forward has been coming on fast after a slow start.

Ski Winners

BURLINGTON, Vt. (UPI) — Chris Nick captured the men's event and Chris Heller won the women's title Thursday in the cross-country ski competition at the University of Vermont winter ski carnival.

The two winners were both from Dartmouth College.

Welfare Budget Needs 10 Per Cent Increase

HARTFORD (UPI) — A legislative study shows a 10 per cent increase raising Connecticut's welfare program to about $300 million is necessary to keep services in line with rising costs.

Rep. John R. Mannix, R-Wilton, said Thursday the federal government would pick up about half the increase to $300 million welfare budget, leaving the state to pay the other $6 to $7 million.

Manix, head of the Human Services study subcommittee, said skyrocketing inflation will force the legislature to raise the department's budget by more than $10 million in unpaid medical bills which are languishing in cardboard boxes in the department's offices in Hartford.

Another recommendation was a thorough reshuffling of the food stamp program, which through alleged mismanagement failed to reach nearly 60 per cent of the families in Connecticut eligible for the program.

The study said over the past nine years the program has "systematically violated simple, mandatory minimum federal requirements."

Under former Republican Gov. Thomas J. Meskill's administration, he said, the welfare department went from a work force of 2,100 to 1,700. The lawmaker also said he was pleased by Gov. Ella T. Grasso's pledges to trim state spending to the bone, but that state rolls rose only 1.4 per cent.

Other recommendations of the subcommittee included:

"Tying parents' child support payments to the region's cost of living index, 'so that they are not oppressive and do not paralyze the legally liable relative.'"

"Increasing protective services for children abused by their parents. Reports of child abuse have grown from 47 in 1965 to 1,957 last year."

"Automatic cost of living increases in benefits from the General Assistance Program, provided for those who don't qualify or are awaiting admission to other programs, or are transients, or need institutional care."

"Establishing a special fund for poor and elderly families in danger of having their heating utility shut off because of non-payment of bills."

Blast Forces Evacuation Of Hundreds of Workers

WETHERSFIELD (UPI) — One man was injured today as several hundred people swiftly evacuated when a heating furnace exploded beneath a building in the state Labor Department office building.

A department spokesman said one of three heating furnaces exploded "with great force" at about 8:20 a.m., as many of the 700 people employed at the offices were arriving to begin work at 9:30.

Joseph Giordano, 62, of Hartford, a maintenance man, was injured and taken to Hartford Hospital, where he was reported in satisfactory condition.

The only witness to the explosion, he said the blast threw him across the furnace room. Several hundred people were already in the building when the furnace exploded. Although the furnace room is beneath the cafeteria wing, separate from the multi-story office portion, the spokesman said the entire building shook.

Those in the building quickly left by all available exits, the spokesman said, but returned within 20 minutes after the source of the blast was located.

A small fire after the explosion was put out with a hand extinguisher.

The spokesman said the blast produced a large cloud of black smoke and soot. No windows were broken, but metal doors hanging around the furnace room were sprung and the doors could not be closed. Some ducts were also damaged.

Fire inspectors were trying to find the cause of the blast.

department, and was an exceptional fielder as well. He has been waiting much longer to get into the Hall of Fame than Roberts, having retired as an active player in 1958, eight years before Roberts did.

Understandably, Robin Roberts is getting a little anxious.

He sees a fellow like Ralph Kiner make it and he remembers that Kiner was among the top 10 hitters in the league average-wise only twice. He doesn't knock Kiner's election, but he thinks, and again it's perfectly understandable, what about me?

Roberts says he questions whether those writers voting now actually know the records and backgrounds of the players they're voting for. He says maybe they should condense the size of the voting group, make it smaller, and select a neutral committee to get up a summary of each player and include it with the ballot.

Robin Roberts wonders about the current writers. This isn't anything new. Ballplayers have wondered about writers for years and years, and writers in turn have wondered about ballplayers. From my observation, both have a lot to wonder about.

When he's elected, Robin Roberts will think the writers are great. Well, good, anyway.

I know it's a little difficult, especially when he's this close, but Robin Roberts simply will have to be a little patient. He has always enjoyed reading books and if I may, I'd suggest he read the Book Ecclesiastes from the Old Testament, particularly that portion which goes like this:

"There is... a time to be born, and a time to die; a time to plant, and a time to pluck up that which is planted; a time to kill and a time to heal; a time to break down and a time to build up; a time to weep, and a time to laugh; a time to mourn, and a time to dance... a time to love and a time to hate."

Robin Roberts' time for being elected to the Hall of Fame simply hasn't come yet.

It will, beyond question. Probably like Ralph Kiner said, next year.

Geiberger Holds Shot Advantage

HONOLULU (UPI) — Lanky Al Geiberger, hounded by 34 other par breakers, took a precarious one-stroke lead into the second round of the $200,000 Hawaiian Open at the ransacked Waialae Course.

Geiberger added a back nine 32 to his opening nine 34 for a 66 by a combination of long drives and steady putting.

Hot on his heels were six players with 67 and 48 more — including defending champion Jack Nicklaus, Arnold Palmer, Gene Littler and James Jumbo Ozaki — who broke the 72 par for Waialae.

Geiberger gave the wet greens credit for his six birdies and no bogies on the opening day.

"I was driving well," he said, "and the confidence I got from my drives helped my putting."

More of the rain which fell throughout the opening day was forecast for today. The National Weather Service said Oahu was within a "very extensive area of precipitation" which would probably continue at least through today.

Closest behind former PGA champion Geiberger were Bob Murphy, Charles Coody, Eddie Pearce, Allen Miller, Brian Allin and Bob E. Smith with 67s. Gary Groh could have joined that select sextet had he not "blackened out" by taking a casual swing at the ball which lay a quarter of an inch from the cup on the 10th hole and missed it completely. That double bogey gave him a 68 along with George Archer, Nicklaus and Ozaki.

Lee Trevino, a former Hawaiian Open winner, started out with a 36, but ran into trouble on the back nine where he carded a 39 for a 75.

Nicklaus said he enjoyed shooting his 68 in the opening round, but was unhappy that he let three par-five holes get away from him.

"This is the first round I've hit in the 60s this year," Nicklaus said, "so I'm finally going in the right direction."

Two Grid Stars Dropped

VANCOUVER, B.C. (UPI) — Two football players, who were ordered this week to pay $19,500 in damages for the beatings of three men, have been dropped by the British Columbia Lions.

"The football club does not want to be associated with the type of individual described in the court judgment," Lions President Wes Munsie said in a statement.

Harold Garrett Hunsperger, a 6-foot-2, 255 pound defensive linebacker, has been placed on waivers without recall for his part in two incidents in restaurants last April and May in which three men were so savagely beaten they required medical care.

Bud Magrum, a 6-foot-4, 250 pound defensive end, who was cut by the club at the end of last season, also has been released by the Lions for his part in one of the incidents.

B.C. Supreme Court Judge A. Mackoff ordered Hunsperger to pay $16,500 damages and fined Magrum $5,000.

Mackoff had called the beatings "savagely and outrageous" in his judgment. "One is hard put to conceive of conduct more brutal, insolent and outrageous than that of the defendants," he said.

Munsie said the club directors were appalled by the outrageous conduct described in the judgment. The football club will not tolerate such activities.

Hunsperger faces assault charges arising from one of the incidents.

Braves' McAdoo and Nuggets Continue to Dominate Foes

NEW YORK (UPI) — Buffalo's Bob McAdoo, his sights keenly set on a second straight National Basketball Association scoring title, and the Denver Nuggets, aiming for their first American Basketball Association championship, continued to dominate their respective opponents Thursday night.

McAdoo poured in 37 points, upping his NBA-leading average to 33.8 points per game on 10 of 27 field goal shooting, to lead the Braves to a 97-91 victory over the Cleveland Cavaliers. McAdoo also grabbed 12 rebounds.

Denver, running away from the competition in the ABA West, romped over the Spirits of St. Louis 123-111 to stretch its best record in the pros to 41-10.

Nugget All-Star guards Ralph Simpson and Mack Calvin notched 28 points each while rookie of the year favorite Marvin Barnes hit 31 points for St. Louis. The Spirits' Freddie Lewis, who voted the MVP Tuesday night at the All-Star game, sank a pair of free throws midway through the third quarter to become "the eighth player to score 10,000 regular season points in his ABA career."

In other NBA games, New York edged Atlanta 117-115 and Houston beat Detroit 103-88. In the only other ABA game, San Antonio ripped Utah 118-102.

Rockets 103, Pistons 88 Forward Rudy Tomjanovich scored 30 points and Kevin Kunnert grabbed 13 rebounds to lead

Houston. Tomjanovich, who entered the game averaging 20 points, hit 14 of 30 shots and both of his free throws to lead all scorers. He also pulled down 10 rebounds. Kunnert combined with alternate center Steve Hawes to limit All-Star Piston Bob Lanier to five rebounds.

Spurs 118, Stars 102 Jim Silas drilled in 17 of his game high 35 points in the final seven minutes to help San Antonio beat Utah 66-68 in the third quarter. Silas and George Gervin combined for 30 of the Spurs' 34 points to put San Antonio ahead for good.

Fairfield Loser at Garden

Victory Not Pleasing To Seton Hall Family

NEW YORK (UPI) — Ordinary a win over Fairfield—or any other team for that matter—would have pleased Seton Hall coach Bill Rafferty.

Unfortunately, however, Rafferty was not on the bench for the Pirates' 89-87 win over Fairfield at Madison Square Garden Thursday night.

Neither was Seton Hall athletic director Richie Regan, assistant coach Horace Mahon or the Pirates' star player Glenn Mosley.

Less than six hours before game time, Rafferty was stripped of his coaching job. Regan of his athletic directorship and Mosley of his player status in a devastating three-way housecleaning by the South Orange, N.J. school officials in an effort to ward off an NCAA probationary action for Rafferty's alleged illegal recruiting of Mosley.

Chris Kinum, a part-time assistant to Rafferty, directed the team against Fairfield and guard Tom Fairbry sewed the game up with a pair of free throws with three seconds remaining.

But Kinum, too, was not reveling in victory, the Pirates 11th in 15 games this year.

"The players were unhappy about the suspensions," Kinum said. "We're like a family. These things hit us all very hard."

The 6-8 Mosley, leading rebounder in the nation, has been declared ineligible by the university for the remainder of this season, while Rafferty, who insists he will "grossly appeal any further NCAA action against Mosley," remains suspended for a month and Regan for three weeks.

Elsewhere across the nation, only one team in the top 20 was in action and that was No. 3 Louisville which put away New Mexico State 51-42.

In other games, Holy Cross edged Manhattan 76-74, Rutgers downed Appalachian State 96-59 and Virginia routed a scare from Randolph Macon 82-81.

Allen Murphy scored 14 and Junior Bridgeman 13 as the third-rated Cardinals ran their season record to 14-1. Relying heavily on a zone defense, Louisville held the Aggies to their lowest scoring total for any Cardinal opponent in 15 years.

The Cards also sank all 19 of their shots from the free throw line.

Charge Misrepresentation

Ex-Stags' Owners Sue WHA Officials

Detroit (UPI) — The former owners of the Michigan Stags World Hockey Association franchise Thursday sued the league and its leaders for $4,500,000, charging misrepresentation and fraud in the original purchase of the team.

Metro Sports Associates claimed the WHA persuaded it to buy the Los Angeles Sharks franchise midway through the 1973-74 season by misrepresenting the value of the team and the league.

The suit, filed in federal court here, claimed league President Dennis Murphy assured Metro purchasing agent Peter Shagena all payables and expenses would not exceed $400,000; that all bills and taxes were paid; that the average home attendance on the West Coast was 5,200; and that all existing league franchises were financially solvent.

Metro also charged that the WHA reclaimed the franchise, its players and other assets but neglected to pick up the club's liabilities as league bylaws require.

Metro Sports switched the team from Los Angeles to Detroit during the offseason but the club was plagued with poor attendance at its games. The Stags averaged less than 3,000 fans for its 22 games in Detroit.

The WHA took over control of the Stags in early January and last week moved the team to Baltimore.

Metro said as a result of the league's action, it was stuck with more than $1 million in marketing bills as well as a $175,000 tax lien for unpaid withholding taxes.

Orr's Third Hat Trick Sparks Boston Triumph

NEW YORK (UPI) — The way the fans are throwing out the hats at Bobby Orr this year, you'd think maybe the Boston Bruins nonpareil defenseman is getting a big head. Actually, though, when the hats hit the ice Thursday night late in a celebration of Orr's third hat trick of the season—certainly a rarity for a defenseman. The three goals provided goalie Gilbert with all the help he needed as the Bruins went on to drub the hapless California Seals 6-0.

In other NHL games Thursday, Buffalo doubled the New York Rangers 6-3, Philadelphia topped Toronto 3-1, Detroit put away Pittsburgh 5-2 and Los Angeles beat Washington 6-4.

In addition to Orr's three goals, Johnny Bucyk also tallied for the Bruins — the 1,200th point of his long, illustrious career — along with Bobby Schumatz and Walt Meckehrie. For Gilbert, it was the second shutout of the season.

Flyers 3, Maple Leafs 1

Bobby Clarke, Reggie Leach and Gary Dornhoefer all scored for Philadelphia to help the Flyers extend their unbeaten streak to seven games. Clarke now leads the NHL's

Grand Slam CINCINNATI (UPI) — The Johnny Bench wedding is apparently going to be a grand slam affair.

The guest list for Feb. 21 marriage at downtown Christ Church has reached 900 and a big planned reception is being planned at the newly built Netherland Hilton Hotel.

When the Cincinnati Reds catcher announced last week he was getting married within a month he admitted he had not even thought about the wedding details yet.

After all, he had only known his bride-to-be, New York City model Vickie Chesser — for only 24 days.

But the ceremony is now quickly falling into place and this city is beginning to treat Bench's marriage like the social event of the year.

Local newspapers are snapping pictures of Vickie dutifully holding a trophy case at Bench's apartment, while women's page editors breathlessly report details of "this fabulously exciting crosscontinental romance."

Vickie, who probably is most famous for smiling and selling toothpaste on television, already has selected her silver, china and crystal.

There were several long volleys in Okker's match and he was out of his mind in the third of the game to run the other guy around," he said later. "The longer the volleys last, the better chance I have of winning it."

Ashie, displaying his big serve and devastating forehand, downed Zalko Frankovic of Yugoslavia, 6-3, 6-1.

Athletics to Return BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (UPI) — A compromise agreement between team officials and the city of Birmingham Thursday guaranteed the return of the Birmingham Athletics for the 1975 baseball season.

Southern League President Billy Hitchcock said, "The city agreed that the Athletics had not been given sufficient advance notice about the proposed rental increase," and city officials informally approved the same rental charge of $12,500 that was used for the Rickwood Field Stadium last year.

Earlier, the city had demanded doubled rental fees for this season.

Central First NEW BRITAIN, Conn. (UPI) — Central Connecticut will play at New Hampshire Oct. 11 in the first football game scheduled between the two schools, after signing a four-year football pact. The Blue Devils will open their 10-game schedule at home Sept. 13 against Northeastern.

Hargrove Signs ARLINGTON, Tex. (UPI) — Mike Hargrove of the Texas Rangers, the Rookie of the Year in the American League last season, signed his 1975 contract with the Texas Rangers.

Hargrove, a left-handed hitting first baseman, batted 323 last season while playing almost exclusively against right-handed pitching.

Downing Honored TRENTON, N.J. (UPI) — Some 900 persons attended a dinner Wednesday night honoring Al Downing, the Los Angeles Dodger outfielder who pitched a shutout in the Babe Ruth World Series championship in 1956.

Downing, who graduated from Trenton High School, was presented with a proclamation by Mayor Arthur J. Holland declaring the day "Al Downing Day" in the city.

The event was attended by Mrs. Babe Ruth and New York Yankees Coach Estlin Howard, who once was Downing's roommate when the two played with the Yankees.

Cougars on Right Track NEW YORK (UPI) — The Chicago Cougars will be perfectly content if they can score the Quebec Nordiques or Michel Parizeau again this year.

Parizeau scored three goals Thursday night — two of them breaking ties — and the Nordiques beat Chicago for the third time in 12 days, 5-2, to hold their six-point lead over Toronto in the World Hockey Association's Canadian Division.

In other WHA games, Toronto nipped Indianapolis 3-2, Minnesota outdistanced Vancouver 6-3 and Winnipeg beat Phoenix 5-3.

Nordiques 5, Cougars 2 Parizeau broke a 1-1 tie with his first goal at 9:29 of the first period, then broke a 2-2 tie midway through the second period before slamming an insurance tally with 9:19 left in the game. The three-goal outburst gave Parizeau 18 for the season.

Fighting Saints 6, Blazers 3 Don Tamahill rifled in two breakaway goals and then set up a third to spark Minnesota to its runaway win. It was the 14th win in the last 19 games for the Fighting Saints who moved to point ahead of idle San Diego into third place in the WHA's western division.

Toros 3, Racers 2 Vaclav Nedomansky and Paul Henderson scored within a minute of each other in the second period and Pat Hickey added the game-winner later in the period to enable the second place Toros to keep pace with the leading Nordiques in the Canadian Division.

Jets 5, Roadrunners 3 Bobby Hull banked a shot off the boards and hit traveled 175 feet into the empty Phoenix net to wrap up Winnipeg's win. The two teams traded three goals apiece in the first period and fought through a scoreless second period. Anders Hedberg scored the winning goal with a 15-foot shot off Ulf Nilsson's facemask just three seconds into a Winnipeg power play at 2:18 of the third period.

The goal was Hedberg's second of the night and 24th of the season. Hull's goal was his 44th in 44 games.

Revaluation Continues

Members of Manchester's revaluation staff today began inspecting residential properties in the area south of E. Middle Tpke., east of Main St., north of I-84 and west of the Bolton town line.

Field inspectors, in addition, are making calls to areas previously worked and where nobody was home on the initial visit. If no one is home on this visit, appointment slips will be left. Those receiving the notices should call the revaluation office and set up an appointment for inspection of the properties.

To accommodate those homeowners not home weekdays, the inspectors will make calls evenings and weekends.

Revaluation of all Manchester real property will be in effect as of the October 1976 Grand List and will be the basis of the 1977-78 tax rate.

GARDENING

By FRANK ATWOOD

Midwinter seems a logical time to look into the subject of books on gardening. Instead of visiting a greenhouse or looking at someone's lovely house plant, then, I have been this week to the Mary Cheney Library.

Our library has, I found, a remarkably good collection of books on gardening. How many books? This was my first question and I learned a librarian's way of getting a quick answer. One inch of library file cards, I was told by Mrs. Ena Prentice, cataloguer, means 100 titles.

The Mary Cheney file of books on gardening takes five inches of drawer space. Therefore, the library has 500 garden books, give or take a dozen. For one subject, that's a lot of books.

Some of them are old, but many are new, and the collection is being enlarged by frequent additions. Some books are bought with the library's regular funds for acquisition and there have been some substantial gifts.

The largest of these, made a few years ago, came from the Burr family of Burr Nurseries, in memory of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford R. Burr. Included are some books on birds as well as gardens.

The Manchester Garden Club has made a number of gifts to the library, most recently last year when Librarian John F. Jackson was the speaker at a club meeting. Mr. Jackson declined a fee and the club made a donation, instead, for a book purchase.

The library has recently been informed that it will receive a bequest from the estate of Mrs. Jennie Cook Pitkin for the purchase of garden books.

Interest in House Plants

Mrs. Margaret Smith, circulation librarian, showing me the shelves of garden books, pulled out a volume she said she had found fascinating. "The Flowering World of 'Chinese' Wilson," an account of explorations, beginning in 1906 by a then-young plant hunter, Ernest Henry Wilson, who brought back many flowers, shrubs and trees from China, Korea, Japan and what is now Vietnam.

Wilson's trips were financed by the Arnold Arboretum of Harvard University and his finds included the Regal lily, many azaleas and rhododendrons, viburnums, flowering crab apples and Chinese dogwood. The new plants introduced from the Orient by Wilson, in four long exploring trips, totaled more than a thousand.

The librarians report notably brisk activity this winter in books on house plants. They anticipate lively interest, as spring draws near, in books on vegetable gardening.

Children, they say, are most likely to ask for books on wild flowers and edible wild plants.

University Pamphlets
In its reference section, the library has many of the bulletins on horticultural subjects published by the University of Connecticut, and these can be borrowed, but the current bulletins are available to gardeners either free or at a nominal charge from any office of the Cooperative Extension Service. These are not loans. They are for permanent possession.

The nearest office, for Manchester people, is at the Tolland County Agricultural Center in Vernon. It is on Rt. 30, near its junction with Rt. 31. Although intended especially to serve Tolland County, the Vernon office is entirely willing to serve the residents of any Connecticut town.

I brought back a copy of "The Home Vegetable Garden," by Extension Horticulturist Richard A. Ashley, which can serve for year-round reference.

Ice Sculpturing Contest Planned

The Manchester Recreation Department and Top Notch Food Stores will co-sponsor an ice sculpting contest Feb. 9 from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. in front of the Top Notch store at 260 N. Main St.

Teams of three or four people will work on a block of ice using their own hand tools. No power tools are permitted.

Each block of ice will weigh 310 pounds. Its dimensions will be approximately 44 inches high, 10 inches thick, and 30 inches wide.

Registration forms are available at the recreation office on Garden Grove Rd., the student activity center at Manchester Community College (MCC), and the art departments at Manchester High School and MCC.

Registrations must be received at the recreation office by Wednesday. Prizes will be awarded. Hot chocolate and doughnuts will be served throughout the contest.

For further information, call Tim Badger, recreation supervisor, at 646-6010.

Demolition Bids Due Feb. 20

Bids will be opened Feb. 20 in the Municipal Building for demolishing three Manchester-owned buildings: 91-95 Center St. (the Trotter Block, to the west of the Central Firehouse), 9 Trotter St. and 139 Oakland St. (at the corner of Sheldon Rd.).

The town plans to pave the areas for parking when the 91-95 Center St. and 9 Trotter St. buildings are demolished.

The 91-95 Center St. property was purchased April 1967 for $23,500.

Because the purchase agreement was under a deferred payment contract, the town didn't take title until Nov. 28, 1973 when the last payment was made.

The 9 Trotter St. property was purchased in April 1973 for $10,000, and the 139 Oakland St. property in November 1968 for $23,500.

Town Sells Notes for 3.97%

Manchester is selling $1.5 million in temporary notes at 3.97 per cent interest, Town Treasurer Roger Negro reported today. They are being purchased by the Connecticut Bank and Trust Co. and are for the period Feb. 6 to Aug. 6.

Negro called the interest "one of the most favorable for the town in the last several years." The interest the town has been paying, as well as interest paid for temporary notes recently by other Connecticut towns, has been averaging about 6 per cent. "I hope the rate stays this low, and even lower," said Negro. "The town has several projects that will require borrowing and it won't hurt us one bit to save money below our estimates."

The $1.5 million in temporary notes sold to CBT is in anticipation of bonding for the Illing-Bennet renovation work approved in referendum. They renew $1.5 million in notes borrowed last August at 6.50 per cent and split between CBT, the Hartford National Bank and Trust Co. and the United Bank and Trust Co.

Bidders for the latest issue, in addition to CBT, were: United Bank and Trust at 4.91 per cent for $1 million and 4.51 for $500,000; Hartford National at 4.41 per cent for the entire $1.5 million; and City National Bank of Bridgeport 4.11 for the first $500,000, 4.17 for the second and 4.41 for the third.

Plastic Bags Bids Sought

If the town gets favorable bids Feb. 18 on supplying it with plastic bags, Manchester residents might get back into the habit of using the bags for leaves and refuse. Until two years ago, the town bought the bags in boxes of 50 and sold them at cost to all comers. The bags were available at all town firehouses.

When the price of plastic skyrocketed, the price of the bags rose proportionately and the decision was made not to purchase them for townwide distribution. The decision was made also that, if and when the town furnishes them again, sale to individuals would be under a formula fair to all. Whatever rule is established, it will attempt to restrict the number of boxes people may buy.

The town is seeking bids on supplying it with at least 400,000 bags, with 200,000 in this fiscal year and 200,000 after July 1, to be paid by 1975-76 funds.

Registration Begins For Classes in Fall

Registration has begun at the Chestnut Hill Preschool at Emanuel Lutheran Church for classes beginning next September. There will be a schedule of both morning and afternoon classes.

The morning session will be from 9 to 11:30 a.m. and will run as follows: Two-day session, Thursday and Friday; three-day session, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday; five-day session, Monday through Friday.

The afternoon sessions will be from 12:15 to 2:45 p.m. The same day-number sessions will be in effect.

The curriculum is non-denominational and is open to all children of the community.

Annual tuition is $175 for the two-day class, $250 for the three-day class, and $400 for the five-day class. There is a registration fee of $15.

Mrs. Sandra Misage and Mrs. Carol Mahlsted are co-directors and teachers at the school. Mrs. Joanne Miller is also a teacher. Mrs. Susan Blackwell is a special advisor for physical education.

For more information call 643-8682, 643-4346, or the Emanuel Lutheran Church office.

McLuskie Cited For Jury Work

Longtime Manchester resident John W. McLuskie has moved to Warehouse Point and has resigned from the three-member Jury Committee, as required by the town charter.

Town Manager Robert Weiss, who appoints the committee, acknowledged McLuskie's resignation with a letter to him.

"I appreciate the service that you have rendered on this committee," stated Weiss. "I am sure you know that the impartial selection of jurors is one of the foundations of our American Judicial System."

McLuskie, who worked for the Democratic party many years, resided at 243 N. Main St.
