Thomas Raby Dies, Honored by Vets

Thomas Rowell Raby, 99, of 19 Locust St., who wrote undecipherable letters and sent newspapers to over 100 Manchester servicemen during World War II, died Thursday at a South Windsor convalescent home.

Mr. Raby started sending his wartime letters when the National Guard of Manchester was sent to Camp Blanding, Fla. for training. He also was active in assisting local veterans organizations in fund-raising drives.

For his patriotism, he was made an honorary member of Manchester's American Legion, VFW and Disabled American Veterans. In 1965, he was honored at a dinner by the Manchester Veterans Council and was presented an engraved pin with the design a composite of the three pins of the VFW, DAV and Legion.

Egypt Urges Partition Of Palestinian Area

By United Press International
EGYPT has urged the United States and the Soviet Union to work for a Middle East settlement through partition of Palestine in an Arab and a Jewish state, the Cairo newspaper Al-Ahram said today.

The Egyptian government memorandum, a copy of which was sent to U.N. Secretary General Kurt Waldheim, calls for a return to the original U.N. resolution of 1947 which sanctioned the state of Israel but also urged creation of an Arab state in what was Palestine.

The West Bank of Jordan was later joined to King Hussein's Trans-Jordan but acquired by Israel in the 1967 Middle East war.

Kissinger Embarks On Peace Mission

It was an extraordinary sendoff and obviously designed to counter Democratic criticism of Kissinger.

For Kissinger's record, he has been recognized in achieving Middle Eastern peace.

Kissinger's blue and silver Air Force jet touched down at Rhein-Main U.S. Air Force base in Frankfurt for refueling after being diverted from Mideast.

Kissinger was flying on to Israel, his first Middle East stop, where he will arrive late today.

Before he left, Kissinger reportedly assessed at better than 50-50 his chances of finding room for agreement between Israel and Egypt.

Kissinger told Dutch television before he left that the goal was to "get a feel for the real convictions of the chief protagonists, who might be reluctant to put their thoughts down in writing."

South Windsor Man Crushed Under Beam

A South Windsor man employed by Manchester Structural Steel Inc. was killed late this morning in an industrial accident at the Mitchell Dr. firm.

The man's name was withheld pending notification of his family.

Manchester Ambulance Service personnel, who responded to a 10:48 a.m. call to the company, said the man was dead on arrival at Manchester Memorial Hospital.

Manchester Police detectives investigating the incident said the man was working by himself when the accident occurred.

The police said the man was using a mechanical hoist to lift a huge, steel I-beam, and he ducked under the beam to something when it was about three or four feet off the ground.

The I-beam, which police suspect was improperly fastened to the hoist, fell and crushed the man, police said.

Dunlop to Join Cabinet As Secretary of Labor

WASHINGTON (UPI)—John Dunlop, together with Sen. Edward Brooke, is replacing Peter Brennan, a former partner from the tough streets of New York, as secretary of labor.

Dunlop is a Harvard university professor, is acceptable to AFL-CIO President George Meany, a man whose support President Ford needs for his economic program. Brennan was 49. Of Brennan, Meany once said: "It's very unusual to have a cabinet member who is completely unacceptable to the sector of the economy that he's supposed to be interested in."

Of Dunlop, Meany said Sunday on CBS: "I don't blame the President. But, I added, 'some of the new people in the White House don't feel for people. It's not helping the administration with the labor movement—the rank and file.'"

The White House announced the nomination Saturday. Introduced at his Belmont, Mass., home, Dunlop, 60, said he would grow up in the Hell's Kitchen section of the nation to work together and praised the President's tax cut proposals—which have been approved by the labor-management advisory committee.

"To give them jointly to agree to that, to provide both personal income and business tax cuts, and then to urge that the Congress as a means of restoring public confidence—that's the sort of working together we need," Dunlop said, pounding his fist for emphasis.

While the solution was "working together," Dunlop did not feel the solution would be quickly coming. "There does not exist any simplistic kind of Oujia board, Aladdin's Lamp or whatever you want to call it that is instantly going to solve the problems," he said.

Dunlop has served every president since Franklin Roosevelt. He joined the Harvard economics department in 1958 and has written 14 books.

On his impending departure, Brennan said, "I don't blame the President. But, I added, 'some of the new people in the White House don't feel for people. It's not helping the administration with the labor movement—the rank and file.'"

There's no question that Brennan, 57, is loved by the rank and file. He packs the union halls with cheering members. He grew up in the Hell's Kitchen section of New York City, becoming a painter and working his way up in the AFL-CIO's New York Building and Construction Trades Council.

He organized a parade of "hard hat" construction workers in support of former President Nixon in 1972 which drew the attention of the White House.

Texas Laborer Confesses To Several Murders

FORT WORTH, Tex. (UPI)—A 24-year-old laborer, accompanied by his pastor, walked into police headquarters Sunday and confessed to the sobering murders of three women and two children. He also told police he knifed two other women to death Saturday night and raped a baby sister the same evening.

The October murders had been the homicide department's No. 1 unsolved crime ever since the bodies were discovered. But police did not know of the weekend murders until the suspect showed officers the bodies.

The suspect told police he bound the baby sister and two children during his last attack and then tied up the children's parents when they returned home.

Homicide Lt. Oliver Ball, who has assigned every officer available to solve the Oct. 8 murders, said officers were prepared to file seven murder charges against the suspect. He also said District Attorney Tim Curry was filing charges of aggravated rape against the suspect.

Officers said the man worked at an envelope manufacturing company.

Curry said he will seek the death penalty.

New England Fires Kill 14 Persons

United Press International
Fire took a heavy toll in New England over the weekend, killing at least 14 persons, seven of them in a blaze at an Abol, Mass., home.

The 2 a.m. fire at a two-story residence Sunday left six children and an adult dead. Police said the home of Robert Peterson Jr., 38, was gutted, leaving only three survivors.

Two Western New England College roommates were also killed early Sunday when fire broke out in a four-story Springfield, Mass., apartment building. No other injuries were reported.

Rescue Impossible
Abol officers said when firemen reached the one-family dwelling on Gates Road, the flames had engulfed the building, making it impossible for them to attempt rescue.

"We don't know how the three of them got out. As far as we know, there were no rescues," said a police officer.

Peterson was reported in guarded condition at Abol Memorial Hospital, transferred to Massachusetts General Hospital in Boston when John Abram, 12, who was in fair condition, suffering second and third degree burns over 25 per cent of his body. His brother, Raymond, 11, also at Massachusetts General was in good condition.

Killed were Charlene Garneau, 32, David Garneau, 4, Edward Garneau, 10, Steven Abram, 11, Jacqueline Abram, 15, Robert Peterson, 17 and Susan Peterson, 15.

Intense Heat
Fire officials said intense heat from the flames and temperatures near zero hampered their operations.

The Springfield fire took the lives of Charles MacVane, 21, of Nahua, N.H., and his roommate David Sullivan, 22, of Concord, N.H. A third roommate, Ross Davis, 21, of New York, escaped unharmed. All three were students at Western New England.

Two children were killed Saturday in a fire at their home in West Springfield, Mass. Police said Norman Bayette, 14, had been baby-sitting for his nephew, Ronald Haslett, 3, when faulty wiring apparently ignited the fire in the five-room residence.

Investigators said the fire apparently started in the first floor living room area and flamed up an open stairwell. Intense heat hampered firemen from reaching the victims.

In Maine, five persons, including three children, were killed in two separate fires Saturday. The results of autopsies in the deaths of Ramona, Edward and Daniel Carroll of North Waterboro were expected today. Officials say they believe the fire that killed the children was set.

Two men were killed Saturday in Houlton, Maine, when a fire swept through the Stanley Boarding House on Military Street. The victims were identified as Hartley Tolson, 68, and Arthur McLean, 74.

CONCORD, N.H. (UPI)—The ballots from New Hampshire's Senate race should arrive in Washington late tonight when they are sent to the U.S. Senate counting station.

The Republican will get the key to one of the locks, and Democrats the key to the other. Round-the-clock supervision by a uniformed and plainclothes guard will secure the ballots while the U.S. Senate continues its investigation.

A U.S. marshal sat in the jump seat of the tractor-trailer truck which hauled the boxes to Washington. "There will be other U.S. marshals following in another car," said George Schoeller, the manager of the Manchester branch of Associated Eastern Inc., which is shipping the ballots.

The truck was expected to make a stopover in Maryland to switch drivers and proceed to Washington, arriving sometime late tonight.

Included in the 800 boxes are votes on constitutional questions, two of which have yet to be recounted, and voter turnout for the election.

OPINION

Shrinking Funds

The change in the entitlement figure for Manchester of block grants under a three-year community development program is cause for concern.

In effect, unless alternative sources of funds are found, the recently developed priority list of projects envisioned under the program will have to be re-evaluated.

The computation error resulted in Manchester's allocation being roughly half a million dollars less than the town was told to expect. This represents about a one-third less allocation for the town since it expected $1.4 million and will now get, if current computations are correct, $903,000 over the next three years.

Pruning one-third from the priority list of projects is something which cannot be done in an across the board manner since some projects, like site acquisition for housing for the elderly on Spencer St., are fixed cost items.

But perhaps most difficult is the fact that the criteria for priorities change with the amount of money available. That is to say, perhaps some of the items under consideration when $1.4 million was expected, now are not as desirable when just under $1 million is available. This means the hopes of many people for these potentially abandoned projects or programs will be dashed. From a political point of view, town fathers face the tough task of trying to set priorities on the priorities if they cannot come up with funding from other sources.

Fortunately, the error was discovered before the initial money was distributed and spent under the three-year program. We dread to think of what might have happened if two years of spending had occurred under the original allocation.

The lesson is that even the mighty federal government is not immune from error. While the change in allocation is a disappointment, it is not truly a loss since you cannot lose what you never really had in the first place.

Perhaps the best way to eliminate the possibility of computation errors in the allocation of our tax dollars for block grants or any other programs is to keep as many of the tax dollars as we can here at home in the first place.

Of course this might create some problems in setting priorities too since most of us tend to be more tight fisted with our own money than we are with someone else's.

Thanks

The senior class and faculty of East Catholic High School in Manchester would like to thank all who contributed to our first annual "Fast-a-thon." Over $9,000 was raised which will be donated to help fight starvation in the world.

The school is now sponsoring a second World Hunger "Day of Awareness," the first of which (in mid-December) raised over $600. This day consists of various lectures and presentations concerning the crisis of world starvation. The program will be Feb. 11 from 8:30 a.m. to 2:30 p.m.

With the combined total of money raised by the two "Day of Awareness" and the enormous amount raised by the "Fast-a-thon" we will have surpassed $10,000 to contribute to the Manchester Council on World Hunger who will decide where the money can be best used to help alleviate world hunger. We challenge all high schools in the area and the nation to try and match this total.

A group of students and faculty members are now planning other fund-raising events for world hunger. We are doing this because we realize that starvation has reached frightening proportions and the government is not doing enough to save these helpless people. The United States has always been the first to take the initiative and help other nations with military might. But, it seems that in a crisis of this sort, which requires not artillery but food for life, we have turned our backs on our less fortunate brothers except for a few meager, strategic, political, token contributions.

We would like to thank your newspaper for covering our event and also to thank you all who contributed, not only from ourselves, but for the many people whose lives you have helped save.

Neil Sullivan, publically chairman, ECHS "Fast-a-thon"

Only Way to Go is Up: Sarasin

COVENTRY
Monica Shea Correspondent

Congressman Ronald Sarasin spoke to about 400 Coventry residents Friday and told them the only way for the Republican party to go is up.

Sarasin said, "It will take a lot of work and a lot of reason. The only way we can win is to run the best candidates. Our obligation as a party is to rebuild from the bottom up by performing, not by making a lot of promises. We must be faithful in our government if it is to work. Last year 41 countries changed their form of government through other than peaceful means. Here it was different. We had an orderly transition."

Sarasin presented a scroll to Walter Thorp, designating him Coventry's Republican of the Year. Thorp has been a member of the Republican Town Committee for many years and retired last month from the committee. He is a former state representative and selectman.

In a discussion held before the dinner, Sarasin said he agreed with President Ford that it was irresponsible for the Congress to take a recess at this time when there were so many pressing problems facing the country.

Sarasin said, "I agree with President Ford on this score. It really is irresponsible to take a recess at this time. Congress is saying to the President, 'We don't like what you want to do, but we don't know what to do.'"

Sarasin said, "I think President Ford's plan to make an energy self-sufficient is the best of a lot of opinions. We in New England are not being discriminated against. There is no sympathy throughout the rest of the country for the plight of New England. We have made no attempt to build refineries."

Oxfam-America, one of the relief agencies struggling to alleviate the desperate famine conditions, is underwriting two emergency programs in Bangladesh. Already involved in a redevelopment program for 180 villages since the war of independence, Oxfam-America has sent $10,000 specifically for direct famine relief to help establish five day care centers. Here intensive care will be available for 500 severely malnourished children and supplementary feeding will be provided for 2,500 malnourished children. In addition, training in nutrition and child care will be given on an on-going basis for paramedics already undergoing training under Oxfam-America sponsorship. Selected village women will also be instructed in the care of common diseases as well as in proper nutrition under competent medical supervision. Besides basic nutritional foods, the Oxfam-America funds will provide for care, and medicine.

The development concept preferred by Oxfam-America, since it provides for ultimate improvement in the lives of the very poor, is illustrated by a food-for-work grant of $10,000 which will alleviate critical famine while curtailing damage from periodic flooding which causes famine. In the Sylhet district of north-central Bangladesh, where the worst flood in the memory of the oldest villagers not only wiped out this year's rice crop, but covered the villages as well, the people were left with no food until the rice harvest next April. Oxfam-America's grant will provide food-for-work to laborers moving earth to construct dikes, drainage canals, irrigation ditches, embankments, fishery tanks and raise land for market place. Silted-in harbors will be deepened, and roads for oxen and foot traffic (there are no cars) will be built between villages for moving produce and for communication. Tenant farmers and small landholders, as well as the landless population who will be paid for their labor with food, will benefit from the work. Construction will be supervised by the Bengali executive director of the Bangladesh Rural Advancement Committee, which has been cooperating with the villagers in past flood control efforts. Food-for-work will replace the "grain kitchens" in providing food for these famine victims. The first $800 contributed in Manchester has gone directly to this Oxfam project to provide further food surpluses for the children. We again issue an appeal to those of you who care about alleviating this suffering and finding ways to prevent future tragedy to join us at Center Congregational Church tonight at 8. At present out of the total Manchester community, only 18 people have joined in active involvement. Many of you care, we know, many are working in their respective churches and accomplishing much. Your efforts multiplied by a few other people like you make all the difference. Please consider prayerfully if God wishes you to join in this ministry to the least and poorest of His children.

MACC NEWS

Nancy Carr Executive Director
Gift to Bangladesh
The Manchester Council on World Hunger has already sent $800 (80 per cent of the first $1,000) given by Manchester to Bangladesh, now suffering one of the worst malnutrition rates in recorded history.

A December survey by a medical team from John Hopkins University indicated that 2,000 children will die in just the district of Rangpur (pop. 130,000), that 1,500 of these deaths will be attributable to malnutrition alone and that one-fourth of the deaths will occur by March 1. The results, said Dr. Frederick Koster, director of the survey, are the worst ever recorded for a rural population.

In the best of years, people starve to death in Bangladesh. But this year's problem is exacerbated by the 1974 floods — the worst in 20 years — which destroyed crops and left 17 of the nation's 19 districts a waste of muddy waters.

In the John Hopkins survey, Dr. Koster reported that some of the children were so weak that they had to be carried and were even unable to stand.

Transitional Period Ends

SAN CLEMENTE, Calif. (UPI) — Rabbi Baruch Korff, a staunch defender of Richard Nixon, said the former president told him over the weekend "It (the Watergate affair) was wrong of me, and because of it I left office — I could not continue to subject this nation to a state of bedlam." The staff that accompanied Nixon to help in his transitional period from the presidency to private life, left Saturday night as federal funds ran out at midnight.

Quints Born

CHICAGO (UPI) — Two infant girls born to Cheryl Shaf Sunday were named Vanessa Ashley and Tiffany Alison, but the three boys have not yet been named. The mother and four of the quintuplets were reported in good condition early today. The fifth has a breathing problem, although it was not considered critical. The quint, who were born nine weeks prematurely, were placed in incubators in Resurrection Hospital's intensive care unit.

New IRA Truce

DUBLIN (UPI) — The Irish Republican Army Sunday told its gunmen to lay down their weapons at 6 p.m., today, halting a campaign to unite Ulster with the Catholic Irish Republic. The cease-fire came as a surprise at the end of a weekend of fierce fighting in which four persons were shot to death in Northern Ireland. The halt in fighting came nearly four weeks after the collapse of a 25-day Christmas cease-fire and raised new hopes for a negotiated settlement to the crisis.

Cosmonauts Return

MOSCOW (UPI) — The Soviet Union today reported two cosmonauts who landed Sunday from a 30-day space flight, were feeling well. The space mission set a Soviet endurance record and instilled confidence in its trouble-plagued space program. The official news agency Tass said the spacemen made a near perfect landing 65 miles northwest of Iselingrad in Central Asia.

Dollar Mixed

BRUSSELS (UPI) — The U.S. dollar opened mixed today on world money markets, up slightly on some exchanges and down on others. The dollar opened at 2.3570 marks in Frankfurt, down from Friday's close of 2.3590, at 4.3450 francs in Paris, down from 4.3575 and at 2.4413 guilders in Amsterdam, down from 2.445.

Sought Advice

BOSTON (UPI) — Defense lawyer William Kunstler said Sunday Mrs. Randolph Hearst sought his advice and help last September to locate her missing daughter, Patricia. "She came to see me in New York and asked me if I could assist in some way in getting her (Patricia) to come back, or something like that, and I said I could not," Kunstler told reporters.

Tour Canceled

EAST LANSING, Mich. (UPI) — Ronald Ziegler, former President Nixon's press secretary, canceled his appearance at Michigan State University along with the remainder of his scheduled nationwide campus tour because of "personal problems," a university official said Saturday. A spokesman for the school's lecture center series office said Ziegler's agent informed the school Friday night the speaking tour had been postponed until the middle of March.

In Critical Condition

CHICAGO (UPI) — Elijah Muhammad, 77, the founder and spiritual leader of the Nation of Islam, better known as the Black Muslims, was in critical condition today recovering from a heart seizure. Doctors at Mercy Hospital, where Muhammad was admitted for tests Jan. 30, said he was stricken by congestive heart failure late Saturday. Muhammad was undergoing routine medical tests because of his age and periodic attacks of asthma. He was to have been discharged from the hospital Sunday or Monday. He underwent similar tests last September and was released several days later.

Carbone Changes Mind

HARTFORD (UPI) — Nicholas R. Carbone has changed his mind about leaving his post as Hartford Democratic chairman to devote more time at the state capitol. Carbone, who several weeks ago said he would step down to make more time for work at the legislature, told his followers Sunday night he will appoint an assistant to help with party duties. The assistant, Thomas Ritter, son of Democratic Rep. George Ritter, will serve without pay, Carbone said.

Plane Wreckage Found

BONN (UPI) — Rescue workers today found the wreckage of a West German air force plane which crashed on the Greek island of Crete with 42 people aboard, the West German Defense Ministry said. The propeller-driven Transall transport plane was in radio contact with the control tower at Khania, Crete, eight minutes before it was due to land Sunday, but then veered off in an easterly direction and crashed in the Koukoulas Mountain Range, the ministry said. Heavy snow storms impeded the search for survivors. Greek army helicopters and teams of mountain climbers were under way to the crash site, the ministry said.

Review Committee Critical Of Health Center Financing

The state legislature's Program Review Committee today issued a report highly critical of the fiscal and decision-making policies of the University of Connecticut Health Center. The committee expressed concern over the Health Center's lack of specific and measurable goals, over its "tedious, overly complex decision making process," and over the "conflicting and misleading" methods it utilizes in reporting its financial operations to the public and the General Assembly.

Tax Relief Estimated

WASHINGTON (UPI) — About half the $270 million would be returned as rebates on 1974 taxes, ranging in size from $100 to $200 per taxpayer. The balance would come back in the form of reduced withholding taxes, increasing take-home pay, Cotter said. Cotter, a member of the House Ways and Means Committee, which writes the nation's income tax bill, said Sunday the committee has approved a tax relief bill that provides benefits for individuals and businesses. Cotter said the national tax bill for individuals will be reduced by $18.4 billion under the tentatively approved legislation. Connecticut's share of the bounty will be 1.6 per cent, he said.

State Sales Tax Increase Rumored

HARTFORD (UPI) — Gov. Ellis Grasso plans to ask the legislature this week to increase state taxes by one penny from six cents to seven cents on the dollar. The paper reported, however, that some Democratic state legislators are concerned about the state's predicament in the current fiscal year and may try to hasten the tax hike. The treasury may be in the red by $47 million at the end of June. According to the Courant report, Mrs. Grasso plans to boost state spending to about $1.44 billion, increasing the budget less than 5 per cent. It would be the smallest spending increase in many years. Mrs. Grasso is expected to make her financial proposals Thursday evening when she delivers her budget message.

State Welfare Agency $15 Million in Arrears In Hospital Payments

NEW HAVEN (UPI) — The Connecticut Hospital Association's latest figures show the state Welfare Department owes hospitals $15 million in medical services for welfare recipients. The department's debt to 36 hospitals is $2.2 million higher than when it last checked in October, the association said Sunday. The October debt figure had been $12.7 million. Welfare's highest single debt was $4 million to Yale-New Haven Hospital, and the department owed more than $1 million each to Hartford Hospital and St. Francis Hospital in Hartford, the hospital group said. Its figures did not agree with the state's estimate that the backlog amounted to $10 million because the group's figures included all debts and not just those grossly overdue, the association said. When the department does pay its hospital bills it pays them eight to 10 weeks from the time of billing, compared to Medicare, which averages seven to 10 days and insurance companies, which average two weeks.

Yale Chaplain Plans to Resign

NEW HAVEN (UPI) — William Sloan Coffin, the Yale University chaplain best known for his civil rights and anti-Vietnam War activities, has announced plans to resign after 17 years at Yale. Coffin made known his resignation, effective next January, at the end of a sermon at the chapel at the U.S. Supreme Court. Starting in about 1964, Coffin vocally opposed United States policy in Vietnam. He was indicted in 1968 with Dr. Benjamin Spock and three others on charges of conspiring to promote resistance to the draft. He was convicted but later won an appeal. The U.S. government dropped the charges in 1970. After U.S. withdrawal from Vietnam he relocated in New York City and worked for draft dodgers and military deserters abroad and underground. Descended from a wealthy New York family, Coffin left Yale after his freshman year to enlist in the Army as an infantryman during World War II. For two years after the war he was a liaison to the Russian army. During the Korean War he spent three years with the CIA working in Soviet affairs. Before becoming chaplain at Yale, Coffin was chaplain at Phillips Academy in Andover, Mass., in 1956-57 and chaplain at Williams College in 1957-58.

United Press International A Hartford woman thrown from her car and run over by another car was one of four persons killed in Connecticut traffic accidents this weekend. Maria Caero, 43, a passenger in a car driven by her husband Antonio, was run over by the car with which their car collided head-on as it traveled west on Park Street in Hartford. The Caeros were both thrown from their car's right front door. Police said excessive speed of the Caero car and the slippery street surface contributed to the accident at 11:40 a.m. Sunday. The other car was driven by Ronald L. Schaedig, 34, of Bristol. Anna Dance, 39, and her daughter Roseanna, 15, both of Wolcott, were killed Saturday night as they were walking on Wolcott Road toward their home. They were pronounced dead on arrival at Bristol Hospital. The car was driven by Peter C. Hatch, 22, of Wolcott, against whom police lodged no charges. The accident occurred at about 10:30 p.m. Maurice Martin, 54, of Rocky Hill, died at about 6 p.m. Saturday when his car brushed another car, left the Wilbur Cross Parkway in Meriden, struck several fence posts and dropped down an embankment onto Miller Avenue, police said. Michael T. Calvert, 20, of Manchester, died at 2:20 p.m. Saturday after he was hit by a car on Rt. 6 in Bolton while hitchhiking, police said. A car driven by Donald Conlon, 45, of Coventry, struck Calvert and Keith Robertson, 21, who was in satisfactory condition at Manchester Hospital with a broken leg.

The End of Classics Illustrated

By RICHARD GOLDSTEIN NEW YORK (UPI) — For 30 years, students who faced a last-minute book report often turned to comics. Many who lacked the time or inclination to read full books were saved by the Classics Illustrated versions of such masterpieces as "The Three Musketeers," "Moby Dick," "The Scarlet Letter," or "Huckleberry Finn." That's all coming to an end. The publisher of Classics Illustrated stopped printing new editions in March, 1972. Some 800 million copies of Classics comics have been sold in two dozen languages. The last 200,000 copies are now being distributed, and those will be exhausted within two years. "It's just too expensive," says M. Declan Bransfield III, publisher of Twin Circle Books in New York, which took over distribution of Classics Illustrated from the original publishers in 1969. Bransfield cites rising costs. Unable to insert advertising without disturbing the original Classics plates, the company decided to stop publication. The new editions sell for 39 cents a copy, but old ones are collectors' items. "The first edition of the 'Three Musketeers' goes for around $30," says Ed Summer, owner of the Superdime Comic Book Emporium in Manhattan. "Collectors are most of the market, but every once in a while we get a kid who wants to crib on an English test." Summer says he has sold about a half-dozen sets of the original drawings on which a particular comic was based for "between $300 and $500" each. There are 61 of the original 168 titles left, and most of those will go to school systems. Bransfield says schools in rural areas are the best customers because they do not generally have salesmen calling and are therefore more likely to deal by mail order. "We tried all the big city schools in the East. That was very poor," says Bransfield. "We tried all the rural schools. We got twice as many orders." On one day, orders for Classics were received from schools in towns such as North Branch, Mich.; Milner, Ga.; Mill Bridge, Maine; Fall City, Tex.; Versailles, Ind.; and Westfield, N.C. Some teachers use Classics Illustrated for slow readers while "others say they use it for precocious kids who have a lot on the ball but looking at a page of type doesn't excite them." Bransfield said. "The teachers trick them into learning. They give them a comic book." "For every kid who did it as an instant book report there were probably thousands introduced to adult literature for the first time," Bransfield said.

Weed Wins Court Rule Stopping Hearst Book

OAKLAND, Calif. (UPI) — The former fiancée of kidnapped Patricia Hearst has won a court order halting publication of a book he said would sensationalize the facts in the case. Steven A. Weed, who was engaged to Miss Hearst when she was kidnapped Feb. 4, 1974, had collaborated with Berkeley writer Roger Rapoport on the book for six months but Weed broke off their contract after seeing the first 199 pages. "We had promised the publisher nothing would be left out," Rapoport told newsmen after the court ruling. "The book is very candid about drugs and sex. But Steve got cold feet." Alameda County Superior Judge Robert Kroninger ordered Rapoport to return all the notes and source material Weed had given him for the book, which was to be called "The Patty Hearst Story" and was to be published by Ballantine Books under the byline "By Steven Weed with Roger Rapoport." The publisher had contracted for the book and agreed to pay Weed and Rapoport $125,000 plus 10 per cent of the retail sales.

HOW TO SAVE $570.25

Every bank tells you that you ought to save.

The bank that listens tells you how.

These days most of us have all we can do to pay our bills, let alone save anything. Yet we all know this is a time when we ought to save. We're listening. And we've worked out a few suggestions for you. What follows doesn't ask you to alter your standard of living drastically. It simply asks you to change some of your everyday habits.

Let's make a deal.

Suggest to the manager of your supermarket that you'll buy canned and packaged goods by the case if he'll knock off a little. (Chances are he'll be glad to, since he won't have to go to the trouble of unpacking and pricing.) Typical Annual Savings: $50.00

Be a home economist.

Never use the dishwasher, clothes washer, or dryer unless you have a full load. Caulk windows, repair storm glass, check for adequate insulation. Think of the dozens of other ways you can cut down on your utility bills. Typical Annual Savings: $35.20

And now, we'd like to hear some of your suggestions...

Put them down here, the more unusual the better. Let your imagination fly. If your suggestions ring a bell with us, we'll be calling you to ask if you'd like to appear in a CBT radio commercial and, if you do, we'll pay you the same as any radio pro receives for your appearance.

Name _____
Street & No. _____
Town & State _____ Zip _____
Phone Number _____
I'm saving about $ _____ a week by doing the following _____

Mail To: The Bank That Listens
The Connecticut Bank and Trust Company
One Constitution Plaza
Hartford, Conn. 06115
Or simply bring this form to any CBT Office.

Become a brown-bagger.

If you're eating lunch out every day, chances are it's costing you at least $1.50. A darn good sandwich, brought from home, will cost you about 50¢.

Typical Annual Savings: $238.00

Cut down on the long voyage home.

Try a variety of routes between your job and your home and settle on the shortest one. Even if it's only two miles shorter than the one you've been taking, you'll save about 60¢ a day. Better still, join the commuter crowd and take the bus or form a carpool: You'll save hundreds of dollars.

Wear it out. Use it up. Make it do.

Is there any reason in the world why you can't make almost anything last just a little longer? Especially big things. Every month you delay buying any big item, is a month you won't have to make a loan payment. Why not save it instead? (It'll make a bigger down payment later on, saving you even more money.) Typical Annual Savings: $104.25

In 1974 more people saved at CBT than in any other year. There must be a reason.

Stanadyne Inc. of Windsor, a diversified manufacturer of precision metal products, has reported 1974 net earnings of $2.78 per share on net sales of $23.3 million.

In 1974, Stanadyne had earnings of $2.30 per share on sales of $20.6 million.

A conversion to the LIFO (Last-In, First-Out) method of valuing inventories and a six percent sales increase during 1974 have been reported by Allied Thermal Corp. of New Britain.

The company said 1974 sales totaled $49.3 million, compared to $46.6 million in 1973. Net income for 1974 was $2.44 per share, compared to $2.31 per share in 1973. The drop was blamed on the shift to LIFO accounting.

The special 25-cent payout is in addition to the company's regular annual dividend of $1 per share. G&W officers said the special dividend action was taken "in view of Gulf & Western's all-time high earnings and its continuing strong operating results."

G&W's Manchester subsidiaries are the Klock Co. of 1386 Tolland Tpk. and Mal Tool & Engineering Inc. of 280 Adams St.

Washington Window: Sleuthing in a Hurry

By STEVE GERSTEL
WASHINGTON (UPI) — The FBI and the police can rest easy. And the CIA doesn't even have to get involved.

The Senate Internal Security Subcommittee has conducted a paper-like investigation into the recent bombing of the State Department. It was the Weatherman Underground.

The details of the brilliant sleuthing are outlined in a 28-page transcript made public by the subcommittee.

The hearing on the results of the investigation was held in Room 4241 of the Dirksen Senate Office Building. It began promptly at 12:30 p.m.

Present were Sen. Strom Thurmond, R-S.C., who was presiding, and chief counsel J.G. Sourwine.

But the star attraction was Robert James Short, the subcommittee's senior investigator. The man who cracked the case.

The cracking give-and-take of the investigation gives an insight into Short's brilliant investigation.

Sourwine: "Have you conducted any investigation with respect to the recent bombing of the State Department?"

Short: "Yes, sir, I have." Sourwine: "Have you arrived at any personal conclusion with regard to where the responsibility for this bombing should rest?"

Short: "Yes, sir, I have." Sourwine: "What is your conclusion?"

Short: "As claimed the Weatherman Underground organization I feel is responsible for the bombing at the State Department."

Sourwine: "Now, you say, as claimed. What do you mean?" Short: "They are the ones who claim credit for the bombing of the State Department."

Sourwine: "How have they claimed this credit?" Short: "In several telephone calls and, in addition, a 12-page letter they placed in a telephone booth."

Investigation over. Case closed.

The rest of the transcript includes reprints of newspaper stories, 18 pictures of the bomb damage and a little more testimony.

Sourwine: "Do you have any additional information that will help round out this record?" Short: "No sir, not at this time. I hope to have some additional information in the very near future."

Sourwine: "Mr. Chairman, if the witness receives additional information in the near future, and before the record of this transcript is released, if it is released, may the order be that he make that information available in the record as a correction to his testimony?"

Thurmond granted permission.

tion, but the transcript reveals that Short stuck to the fruits of the investigation and nothing was corrected.

The hearing ended at 12:15 p.m., closing another chapter in the subcommittee's cloak-and-dagger operations that cost the taxpayers $500,000 a year.

Cowens Gets Up for Every Game As Knicks Find Out in Boston

BOSTON (UPI) — Dave Cowens doesn't believe in rivalries or in getting "up" for certain games. The Boston Celtic center believes simply in winning, no matter who the opponent may be.

The opponent Sunday happened to be the New York Knicks and Cowens treated them the same as he had treated the opponent the day before, which also happened to be the Knicks.

Cowens had 25 points and 20 rebounds in a nationally televised debacle that ended with the Celtics ahead, 105-88. The previous day in New York Cowens had notched 31 points and 12 rebounds in a 128-102 rout.

"To me a game is a game," said Cowens after ruling the Celtics' long-time bitter rivals twice running. "The players change from year to year, this isn't the same team. And each game has its own character. No two games are alike."

Cowens was right about the Knicks not being the same team without Willis Reed, Dave DeBusschere, Jerry Lucas and Dean Meminger. Even veteran guards Walt Frazier and Earl Monroe were un-Knicklike. Frazier hit only three of 13 field goal attempts for nine points and Monroe connected on two of nine floor shots to finish with five points.

Newly acquired Jim Barnett led the Knicks with 19 white Bill Bradley had 12 and John Gianelli 10. Boston had four double figure scorers in addition to Cowens. Jo Jo White, now four points shy of his fifth straight 1,000-point season, had 22. Don Nelson 18 and John Havlicek and rookie Glenn McDonald 14 each.

Cowens also was correct about no two games being exactly alike, although the difference between the two weekend routs came only in the packaging.

The Knicks, playing at home, ran with the Celtics for almost three periods Saturday before tiring. On Sunday, the Celtics napped through the opening period then put on a 36-16 second period show that left the Knicks out of another game.

Cowens, playing with a beet-red, throbbing back, led the performance with 13 points and eight rebounds in the quarter that gave the Celtics a 56-40 halftime edge. The lead inflated to 29 points in the third quarter before the reserves loosened their muscles.

moaned afterward of the one that got away. "That Philadelphia game licks me off," said Cowens of Friday night's 99-95 loss to the 76ers that halted an 11-game winning streak. "They're just a one-on-one club."

Cowens' theory is that the Celtics should not lose another game this season. "There's no reason for it to stop. I think we're playing well, running the (fast) break and our defense has been fairly good."

Havlicek, the 13-year veteran who played on the near-perfect Celtic teams of the mid-Sixties, said the current club "is executing much better than last year" when they won the NBA title. "We're at the top of our game. We have good balance now and the people (starters) don't have to play as many minutes."

While the Celtics are in peak form, the Knicks are plummeting into a valley. The loss of the old guard and the introduction of new players to the Knick style is costing victories.

"We lost a tough ballgame to a very fine club," said New York Coach Red Holzman. "We have to do everything right in order to win because we've got a new ballclub with new men. We gave up a real good guard (Henry Bibby) who helped us at the third guard but Barnett (who came with Neal Walk in a trade last week with New Orleans) is going to help us. He's a good shooter and can be the third guard."

But then Cowens doesn't care who New York puts on the floor. He doesn't even care if the opponents wear Celtic jerseys. He's still going out to win at all costs.

Elsewhere, Philadelphia ripped Chicago, 109-97. Detroit nipped Los Angeles, 97-96. Buffalo clipped Seattle, 99-93 in overtime and Houston tripped Portland, 102-92.

Thirteen-year veteran Leroy Ellis and guard Fred Carter each tallied 27 points to help Philadelphia move to within four games of New York in the Atlantic Division. Chet Walker's 25 points led Chicago.

Pistons 97, Lakers 96. Bob Lanier, playing only a few hours after having his knee drained, hit 14 points in the fourth quarter and 31 for the game to lead Detroit. He is not expected to be able to play against Milwaukee tonight, however. Goodrich led the LA attack with 27 points.

Braves 99, Sonics. Buffalo held Seattle to just two points in the last 2:30 of overtime to win. Bob McAdoo led all scorers with 39 points while teammate Randy Smith added 17. For Seattle, Spencer Haywood had 29 points.

Rockets 102, Blazers 92. Rudy Tomjanovich and Calvin Murphy scored 28 and 25 points respectively to pace Houston.

Nets and Colonels Continue Hot Pace

NEW YORK (UPI) — As Julius Erving goes, so go the New York Nets. As Dan Issel and Artis Gilmore go, so go the Kentucky Colonels.

Erving scored 34 points to power the Nets to a 117-90 victory over the Virginia Squires, while Issel, with 30 points and Gilmore with 19 points and 13 rebounds, helped Kentucky past Utah, 102-95.

It is the only other ABA game, St. Louis put away Indiana, 120-108, and San Antonio outlasted San Diego, 126-123.

Erving's 30 points paced the Nets' eighth straight victory over the hapless 12-42 Squires. New York, which has now won eight in a row at home and 21 straight against East Division foes, boasts a 40-14 division record, while Kentucky, which has 17 points in the third period alone.

Stretch Run For Cagers

By Len Auster

Out of the clubhouse turn heading towards the stretch run is the 1974-75 scholastic basketball season. One goal each quarter sets prior to the campaign is qualifying for the CIAC State Tournament. And when the tourney arrives, it doesn't matter if a club went undefeated or split its 20 games during the regular season. Each begins with a clean slate and has equal opportunity to be crowned state champ in its size classification.

For most teams, their fate has already been decided. One squad, Manchester High, has a very good shot of landing a spot in the Class AA Division. If the Indians make it, it will be a clean sweep for local entries as East Catholic and Cheney Tech are already assured berths in their respective divisions.

Manchester, 9-7 over-all and needing just one more victory to qualify, gets two cracks this week. Coach Doug Pearson's Indians entertain CCLJ foe Enfield High Tuesday night at Clarke Arena before journeying to East Hartford Friday night for another league clash with Penney High. Enfield is in the same predicament as the Silk Towners. The Raiders are 9-7 over-all, needing one decision to get to post-season play. Who is more determined should rule this encounter.

East Catholic, safely in the 53rd annual CIAC event for the 12th consecutive occasion, has something else on its mind. The Hartford County Conference has created a tournament involving the top four clubs to determine its titlist after the regular season. Presently, East is fifth at 8-5, one-half game behind Northwood Catholic and South Catholic.

Tuesday night at the Hartford Civic Center, East and Northwood collide in the second half of a doubleheader with South and Xavier High the combatants in the 7 o'clock opener. Friday night, East entertains Holy Cross of Waterbury at the Eagles' Nest.

Cheney Tech, 12-6 for the season and in the tournament for the first time in six years, journeys to Bolton High Tuesday night for a return engagement with the Bulldogs. Cheney opened Bolton at home, 65-63. The Beavers wind up regular season play next Tuesday at East Granby High. Bolton, 4-9 in the COC and 5-10 in all games, travels to Middletown Friday night for a league clash with Vinal Tech.

Also on the calendar, tournament-bound South Windsor High (9-3, 11-6) entertains CVRival Rockville High (4-8, 4-12) Tuesday night and is at Windsor Locks Friday. Rockville travels to Windsor High Friday night.

Rham High (10-2, 12-4) is at East Hampton (6-6, 9-7) Tuesday night and Friday at Coventry. Coventry (4-5, 11-1) has a road date Tuesday night in Colchester against Bacon Academy (3-8, 8-9). Finally, Ellington High (6-7, 7-9) entertains NCC's cellar dweller Somers High (0-12, 1-15) Tuesday night and Friday. The Purple Knights play host to Valley Regional of Deep River.

Brady to Testify Today

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (UPI) — Linebacker Kevin Brady, one of 16 former and present National Football League players who brought an antitrust suit challenging the NFL's Rozelle Rule, will be the third player to testify in federal court today.

Testimony was scheduled to continue for another week mid-April.

Two Field Trip Bids Before School Board

VERNON The Vernon Board of Education, at its meeting scheduled for tonight at 7:30 at the Lake Street School, will be asked to act on two requests for field trips.

Samuel Goldfarb, supervisor of music, will ask for approval for the Rockville High School Band and a small ensemble from the Middle School to travel to Philadelphia over the weekend of April 18 to participate in a national music program.

The board has to approve the request because the students would have to be excused from school on Friday.

Houley is Appointed To Finance Committee

VERNON State Sen. Robert Houley (56th District) of Vernon has been appointed to the Connecticut Finance Advisory Committee.

The committee consists of the governor, lieutenant governor, treasurer, comptroller and five legislators, and is responsible for approving all requests to transfer additional funds to previously budgeted state agencies. It can also act to commit funds in emergency situations, within a given agency's budget.

When the General Assembly meets in session, the Finance Advisory Committee has the power to appropriate state funds for matching federal grants that would otherwise be lost to Connecticut if the state did not promptly supply seed money, Houley explained.

Need Experience

DETROIT (UPI) — Two young men held up a fast-food restaurant on the city's West Side Sunday but were in such a hurry they left without the loot. Police said employees in the store handed the men a paper bag containing $315 — all the money in the cash register.

The men left the bag on a counter while they tied up the cashier. The men left the cashier alone. The cashier said she was scared but didn't call the police. The men left the cashier alone. The cashier said she was scared but didn't call the police.

A Manchester native is a member of a four-man team that discovered in early November that there is water on the planet Jupiter.

Dr. Harold P. Larson, a physicist and astronomer at the University of Arizona, said in an interview over the weekend, it's "absolutely sure," and 100 per cent fact water is available on Jupiter — making it more probable than ever before known there may be life there also.

Larson acknowledged the life there may not be life as we recognize it here. He said it more likely exists in bacterial and microbiological form.

Larson, 37, is the son of Mrs. Laetha Backus of 571 Hartford Rd. Mrs. Backus works in the dietary office at Manchester Memorial Hospital.

Mrs. Larson, the former Emma Stephens, also is a Manchester native. She is a chemist. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Stephens, reside at 45 Green Manor Rd. The Larsons reside in Tucson, Ariz. They have two children — Robyn, 6, and Jonathan, 4.

Larson is a 1956 graduate of Manchester High School. He worked during those school years at the former Kocum's Grocery, when it was at the corner of E. Center and Parker Sts. — now a furniture store.

He was graduated from Bates College, Lewiston, Maine, and then Purdue University, where he received his master's and doctoral degrees in physics. In 1968 he joined the staff of the French National Center of Scientific Research, as a post-doctoral fellow for the French Government.

In 1969 he returned to the United States and went on the staff of the University of Arizona.

The four-member team that discovered there is water on Jupiter was aided in its discovery by computers, other technological equipment and a 36-inch telescope. The telescope was trained on the planet from an airplane on two separate eight-hour trips in October — flying eight miles above the earth's surface.

Jupiter is about 368 million miles from Earth at its closest point and about 600 million at its furthest. Scientists have computed it would take a motorist 773 years to drive there nonstop at the national speed limit of 55 miles an hour.

Larson said he believes the discovery will have a profound effect on the way man views this world. He said the same gases exist on Jupiter that existed on earth when it was being formed — possibly 4 1/2 billion years ago — ammonia, methane, hydrogen and helium.

He called them and oxygen "the basic building blocks of life."

Vernon Given $9,670 In Sidewalk Grants

Vernon has received $9,670.26 in federal grants. The amount represents one-half the cost of sidewalk installation projects now completed.

Mayor Frank McCoy said he is pleased that the town has been reimbursed one-half the cost of all of the construction it has applied for. He said the state had been allotted $100,000 for such projects. A prerequisite is that the towns can only apply for the funds if the work is already completed.

Mayor McCoy said there are several other areas scheduled for sidewalk construction work in the near future and all have been included in another application for the 50 per cent reimbursement under the same Public Act (74-288).

The areas completed include: Vernon Ave. from Grand Ave. to South St.; on Rt. 30 from Hillside Ave. to Center Rd.; on Rt. 83 from Dart Hill Rd. to Loveland Hill; and on Bolton

Rd. from Rt. 30 to Cemetery Rd.

Mayor McCoy said he has been working, through the Connecticut Conference of Mayors, for several years to obtain legislation which would assist towns such as Vernon in construction of sidewalks. The Public Act was passed during the last session of the legislature.

The act is similar to Vernon's own ordinance on sidewalk construction which has been in effect since 1969. Under it, sidewalks constructed for the safety of children walking to school are paid for out of the general government budget. The abutters do not have to pay half the cost as they would in other situations.

Mayor McCoy also credited the Board of Education and Dr. Raymond Ramsdell, superintendent of schools, for the cooperation given in obtaining the federal funds.
