Pac Discloses Financial Worth Is $219,855

HARTFORD (UPI) — Stanley J. Pac, Gov. Ella T. Grasso's commissioner for motor vehicles, has a net worth of $219,855, according to a statement on file, it was learned Tuesday.

Pac, 51, two-term mayor of New Britain, has $12,909 in savings accounts held by him and his wife Genevieve and stocks worth $56,178. Other assets include $38,738 in real estate and personal property, $6,000 in bonds and $4,000 in insurance.

As motor vehicle commissioner, Pac will earn $29,000 a year.

Mrs. Grasso has asked all her major nominees to file statements of financial worth, open to public inspection.

Pac lists his residence as 233 Grove St., where he has owned a six-family home since 1960. The dwelling, listed in his wife's name, is valued at $20,000.

The mayor also owns a West-brook summer residence, valued at $17,538, and a 1970 Lincoln Continental worth $1,200.

Their largest stock holding is 1,333 shares of International Mineral and Chemicals Corp., worth $47,817. He also has smaller holdings in Stanley Works and United Aircraft Corp.

His savings accounts include two held by his wife, $35,122 and $29,939, and one in his name, $15,285.

Pac operates Pack's Package Store, at 159 Broad St., which produced a 1975 profit of $8,315 on gross receipts of $134,945.

Pac reported gross earnings of $22,299 in 1974, a return filed June 14, 1974, two months after the April 15 due date under an extension granted automatically by the Internal Revenue Service. Under the extension, he credited $48.32 to the sum of taxes he had already paid.

Budget Formula Valid, Weiss Tells Taxpayers

By SOL R. COHEN

Town Manager Robert Weiss Wednesday night wouldn't repeat his prediction two months ago that Manchester's tax rate could go up as much as nine mills, but neither would he disclaim it.

Speaking at the annual meeting of the Manchester Property Owners Association (MPOA), Weiss said formula he used for arriving at the prediction is still valid. "Cost of government," said Weiss, "has gone up, just as the cost of running a business or a home or raising a family has gone up. The problems of our town and its needs are no different today than they've been in the past, except for one important consideration—the many people who are out of work and who can't pay their share."

Weiss said he prefers to prepare a budget by starting at the zero point—then adding, reducing, eliminating or holding the line on requests. He said he prefers that method over two others in common use: moulding the budget within a predetermined mill rate, or a predetermined percentage increase.

"There are many hard decisions to be made, especially in this year of inflation, recession and unemployment," said Weiss. "The next couple of years may be the toughest we've experienced since the troubled 1930's."

Weiss said the cost of government from 1965 to 1972 went up 85 per cent nationally and 108 per cent in Connecticut, but only 63 per cent in Manchester. The figures were in answer to criticism about high taxes in Manchester.

In reply to a question from the floor, "What do you intend to do about the school budget request?" Weiss said he hasn't received the request and can't comment now on what he will recommend.

The school board is requesting $13,320,900 for next year—up $1,220,900 or 10 per cent and the equivalent of just over four mills in the tax rate.

Weiss told about the five-year, federal revenue-sharing program and what a salvation it has been for Manchester. He said the town has received $2,693,325 since December 1972, plus $123,540 in interest.

"If not for revenue-sharing," said Weiss, "our tax rate might be 8 1/2 mills higher today. We've used the funds for needed projects—the equivalent of 5 1/2 mills request."

Ford Fights to Save Economic-Energy Plan

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Ford opened a campaign today to turn a congressional "no" on his oil import tariff hike into a "yes" on his economic-energy program.

It began with a breakfast at 7:30 a.m., a late start for the early-rising Ford—at the White House for majority Democratic and minority Republican leaders of Congress.

"Historians may note the battle began between the eggs and the sweet rolls," said a White House aide.

The main course of the meal was the confrontation between the Republican President and the Democratic-controlled Congress over Ford's suggested solution for America's recession and energy shortage.

That done, Ford's strategy calls for Congress to enact his economic-energy program—allowing for compromises with the Democrats.

Key to White House strategy is Ford's conviction there exists among the public and in Congress growing support for getting action on an energy program that will make America independent of Arab and other foreign oil suppliers.

Ford put it this way Wednesday after the Senate vote: "I regret today's vote but do not regard it as final. I believe the Congress will ultimately respond to the will of the American people and serve national rather than narrow interests... I intend to veto this legislation."

Once Congress sends the bill to the White House, Ford has 10 working days to stamp his veto on it. He could spin out the whole 10 days to take advantage of what he regards as the rising momentum among the public for his program.

Ford expected the Wednesday Senate vote.

White House aides stressed the oil import tariff hike was and is not an energy program. They call it a stop-gap measure Ford fashioned to begin work on his goal of cutting U.S. fuel consumption by a million barrels a day and to give Congress time to enact a full program.

Thus, according to White House thinking, the delay Congress wants is the delay Ford is giving them on the oil import tariff hike. His full program calls for a permitless a day and to give Congress time to enact a full program.

Commission Head Asks Probe of Nursing Homes

HARTFORD (UPI)—The chairman of Connecticut's regulatory agency for nursing homes today urged the legislature to investigate reports of financial wrongdoing in the multi-million dollar industry.

James Whitten, head of the Commission on Hospitals and Health Care, said he does not have the power to act on allegations that large chains of nursing homes are reaping large and illicit profits by manipulating their finances.

Whitten said he only has the authority to investigate the homes' financial transactions when they ask for rate increases. He can not take action when they are found to be cheating on their financial reports to the commission, he said.

Ninety per cent of Connecticut's 209 nursing homes are providing the type of quality care which puts the state among the top in the nation, he said.

Whitten asked a public health and safety subcommittee to approve laws to require all nursing homes to report all the names of their owners, lawyers, consultants, and other business relations.

He also called for legislation to allow the commission to investigate the backgrounds of persons seeking permits to purchase or build nursing homes and deny them licenses when their characters are found to be questionable.

He was to be followed on the witness stand by Francis P. Dellaferra, of Manchester, owner of a nursing home in Manchester and president of the Connecticut Association of Extended Care Facilities.

Dellaferra also sits on the Hospitals and Health Care Commission and his chairmanship of the state licensing board for nursing home administrators was the subject of a recent conflict of interest ruling by the state Attorney General's office.

The public health and safety subcommittee is trying to determine whether the 209 nursing homes in Connecticut provide humane care to prepare legislation to remedy any problems found.

Hebron Fire Destroys Broilers, Coop

Anne Dallaire
Hebron fire officials were sifting through the ruins of a large chicken coop which was destroyed by fire of undetermined origin Wednesday afternoon, on the property of Joseph Libitzki on Rt. 85. Some 5,000 chickens were also destroyed in the fire.

The Hebron Volunteer Fire Department was called out at 2:39 p.m. That department was assisted by Andover and Colchester departments.

Libitzki said today there was no insurance on the chickens, which were broilers, and there was little insurance on the building itself.

He said if he had to rebuild the coop today it would cost him some $100,000 for the building, the hot water system and accessories.

The firemen were also concerned about the fire spreading to brush areas nearby. The first call went into the Colchester Fire Department as it was thought the fire was just a brush fire in that town.

The chicken coop was 170-feet long. Fire officials said the ladder squirts apparatus from Colchester proved of invaluable assistance in fighting the fire. They said some 3,500-feet of hose was laid.

Collared near some of the firefighters, but no one was injured.

A fire Wednesday afternoon destroyed a large chicken coop and about 5,000 chickens on the Joseph Libitzki farm on Rt. 85 in Hebron. All that remained was a partial wall, a chimney, and some non-burnable items such as metal tanks, feed boxes, and wire. The cause is still under investigation. (Herald photo by Dallaire)

Manchester Evening Herald OPINION

Training Deal

The revelation that the Pentagon has contracted with a California firm to train Saudi Arabian national guardsmen in the use of modern weapons purchased from the United States has created a teapot tempest. Of course there has been immediate calls for congressional investigation. Sen. John Stennis has promised such an inquiry, although it is probable that he knew all about it before it was announced.

Honeymoon Over

We don't want to alarm anyone but it would appear Gov. Ella Grasso's honeymoon is about over and the penny-ante political season has begun. Silent on the budget proposed by the Democratic administration, the Republican party's state chairman has mounted the podium to voice alarm that the state treasury is being raided to buy the new lieutenant governor an Olds and the new attorney general a Buick.

OPEN FORUM

Give Up Drugs To the editor: I would like to address my letter to the anonymous high school senior who feels her foster parents have stopped communicating with her because they will not approve her use of marijuana. First of all, isn't it possible that you are the one who has stopped communicating because they are saying something that you do not want to hear? Secondly, your argument that it must be tried in order to be judged good or bad is invalid because there are a great many things in this world that can be judged good or bad without personally experiencing them.

TODAY'S THOUGHT

There is room for many types of people to follow Jesus Christ. Phillip was a shy and unimpressive man. So shy and unimpressive that Matthew, Mark and Luke felt it nothing short of a miracle that Jesus ever had him as an Apostle. If one may say so without being irreverent one might sometimes wonder why the Lord took this man into the apostolate.

ANDREW TULLY Colson's 'Revelations'

WASHINGTON — Secretary of State Henry Kissinger is not an easy person to feel sorry for. His occasional ego is matched only by an incapacity to suffer the slightest criticism. But he is one of the relatively few truly effective men in government today. Therefore, I will hold Henry's coat if he wants to raise Chuck Colson. Two falls out of three and he holds barred. If nobody's looking, I'll also accidentally on purpose trip Colson into falling on his ear.

The Lecturer

RICHMOND, Va. — I have been lecturing in this delightful historic city, where the old clubs still have portraits of Confederate generals on their walls. But I didn't sign up for any $3,000 fee; that didn't get challenged or scaled down; that there was no campus fuss about it; that I didn't have any Watergate revelations, minor or major — in short, that my name is not Ronald Ziegler.

What the lecturer and teacher both have, which you cannot get in by getting into a lecture hall, is an immediate feedback, especially if you can restrain your own flow of talk and save time for questions and discussion.

In 1927, the Metropolitan Museum of Art in New York City was opened to the public for the first time. In 1938, Anthony Eden resigned as British foreign secretary to protest the "appeasement" policy of Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain toward Nazi Germany.

TOM TIEDE

WASHINGTON — As secretary of Treasury, William Simon presides over 195,000 federal employees whose task it is to print and issue the people's money, collect the people's taxes and pay some of the people's bills. It is a bureaucracy of unprecedented influence in the lives of every man, woman and child in the Republic.

Simon Sounds A Warning

More disturbing than this, though, is the incalculable almightiness of the force. Government this year is periously close to spending $11 billion a day, or some 34 per cent of the national product. By the year 2000, Simon says, he bureaucrats may be spending one of every $2 earned in the country. The influence of this is well known to most. The government now has a form of cradle-to-grave domination of its constituency's passions as strong as a cop.

Audit Recommendations Followed

TOLLAND

The Board of Education Wednesday reviewed the 11 recommendations of the town auditors, and noted 10 had already been instituted, or plans are to comply.
The one recommendation remaining would necessitate hiring additional help and, for that reason, has not been instituted.
The first recommendation of the auditors from the firm of Haskins and Sells was to develop controls of all invoices and payrolls submitted to the service company for processing and that the output of the service company be agreed to the control totals.
Dr. Kenneth MacKenzie, superintendent of schools, noted that the recommendation was put into effect long ago, after a verbal recommendation of one of the auditors.
Recommendations, followed under the student activity funds were the institution of a four-part receipt form, a procedure to reconcile the checking account on a current basis, and a small safe made available to the fund.
The school lunch fund has instituted a procedure of the managers reconciling the plate count with daily receipts. Consideration is being given to using prenumbered meal tickets at Parker School once the present supply is exhausted.

The last meeting had been declared informal due to a misunderstanding of procedure in advertising the charter revision prior to a formal hearing.
Four citizens attended Wednesday's meeting.
Dale Tower of Anthony Rd. told the council that the more he talked to different people, the less they liked the idea of a permanent building committee.
John Trainor, head of the Charter Revision Committee, said the committee would only consider and study sites at the direction of the council. He later said that he is in favor of having the building committee under section 5-14 of the new charter. He said that the members would be more qualified and there would be a continuity maintained in town building.

Wherli Sees New Building Less Costly Than Renovation

VERNON
The Vernon Board of Education, Monday night, will hear the report of a subcommittee on a proposal to renovate the East School for use as an administration building for the school system.
The subcommittee has said renovating the building and providing for all of the safety regulations made mandatory by the state, will cost about $500,000 to $600,000.
Robert Wherli, chairman of the town's Permanent Building Committee, who said his committee has not yet been approached concerning the proposal, has indicated that building a new building would be far less expensive.
Wherli said a new building would probably cost in the neighborhood of $200,000. He said new building would be less expensive because it would involve 100 per cent more efficient use of space. He said 8,500 square feet of space is needed if the building is laid out properly.
The school board's committee sees the need for 15,000 square feet of space. New construction, Wherli said, would cost about $30 a square foot. William Houle, chairman of the board's committee, said at a last meeting that new construction would cost about $33 a square foot and renovation, about $35 a square foot. He said these figures were based on those obtained from the state.
Whether the construction is new or is a remodeling project, the state will pay one-half the cost.
Wherli noted that the old building will be expensive to heat and maintain. He also said the renovation project would have to include an elevator whereas a new one-story building would not need one.
Wherli, who is also a member of the Town Council, figures that the town's half of some $600,000 would mean a reduction two mills on the tax rate.

School Buses Will End Pickups at Boulder Ridge

VERNON
School bus transportation for some students in the Boulder Ridge subdivision will be terminated Monday and letters are being sent out to the parents this week to notify them of the change.
These students, who attend the Lake Street School, have been allowed to ride the bus as long as there was space available even though they live within the legal walking distance.
When the board announced, several months ago, that would be terminating the service, the parents petitioned for a hearing before the board. Following it, the board voted to stick by its original plan. The parents then petitioned for a hearing of the State Board of Education.
The State Board announced about a week ago that it was upholding the local board's decision. Meanwhile the students have been transported. The parents contend that walking conditions are hazardous.
The parents have indicated they will meet soon to decide what, if any, further action will be taken. The next step would be to appeal the state's decision in the courts.

Council Bars Bike Path, Ecology Station Projects

SOUTH WINDSOR

The Economic conditions won't out in the month-long debate over whether the town should or should not construct a bicycle path along the new constructed Pierce Rd. in South Windsor.
Along with the defeat of the bike path was the defeat of a $20,000 ecology station.
The project, which would have included a $15,000 grant given the town by the Geodetic Agency - a division of the federal Department of Resources - would have enabled the transmission of information pertaining to the Podunk River to Town Hall, via satellite.
Throughout the Tuesday meeting councilmen listed to numerous complaints and criticisms regarding the inclusion of the eight-foot paved bike path in the Pierce Rd. reconstruction project.
Residents argued that since it would not be at the present time connected to any other bicycle pathway, it is, in light of present economic conditions, a "luxury we cannot afford."
Some critics complained that the widening of Pierce Rd., the eight-foot path and the grassy area between would take up most of the front yard of some residents.
The economy is seen as the main reason for the reversal in the plans to go ahead with the path and ecology station.
Voting against the path include Democratic Councilmen Leo Mainelli, Ed Havens and Robert Myette.
Also voting against the proposal were Republican Councilmen Leonard Sorozak, Howard Fitts and Joel Cohan. Councilman Robert Horshak and Mayor Robert Smith voted in favor of the project.
Now that the project is scrapped, some question has arisen over whether or not the Pierce Rd. reconstruction can continue as planned.
Original approval by the zoning commission was granted on the basis of a path of some sort included to protect residents from fast moving traffic.
"Now we have to ask them whether we can go ahead with the road after changing our original proposal," said Smith.
The Garden Club of the South Windsor Women's Club will meet at the home of Mrs. William Stanley Monday, Feb. 24 at 8 p.m. Members will be working on artificial flower arrangements.

Fish immediately comes to mind when meal-planning during the Lenten season. Seafood became a way of life in Catholic homes because of a religious restriction whereby the eating of "flesh meat" was prohibited on Fridays and other days of abstinence.

During Lent, Wednesdays and Fridays were days of abstinence. Fish was not considered to be flesh and so it provided a good substitute for meat along with eggs, milk and cheese.

Both fish and the day, Friday, have been connected with man from earliest time. In ancient Egypt, fish was a feminine phallic symbol and was used as a reproductive symbol. The Chinese believe that fish represents happiness and that two fish are a symbol of marriage.

Early Christians used the fish as a secret symbol to identify one another when their religion was against the law. They dedicated fish to the Virgin Mary. At one time Friday was known as Virgin Day as well as Fish Day.

Many reasons have been given for the choosing of Friday as Fish Day. Friday has been considered an unlucky day from earliest times. Some say that the superstition about this day began with Eve's temptation of Adam with the apple on Friday.

Others say that the great biblical Flood occurred on Friday. In Europe, Friday was known as "hangerman's day," the custom being that criminals were executed on that day.

It is believed that the true reason why people fast on this day is because Christ died on the cross on Friday.

While the Catholic Church no longer requires fasting on Friday, many people still observe this day by not eating meat. Frankly, I never considered this much of a hardship since I love a good piece of fresh fish.

"We know that fish is high in protein and is 'good for you.'"

FROM YOUR NEIGHBOR'S KITCHEN

All of today's recipes use fish fillets which is simply a slice of fish from which the bones have been removed. Don't be afraid to substitute one kind of fish for another in a recipe. You don't need separate recipes for different varieties.

Devilled Fish
6 fish fillets (breaded raw)
¼ cup butter or margarine, softened
1 1/2 cup finely chopped parsley
2 tablespoons horseradish
1 tablespoon grated onion
1 tablespoon Worcestershire sauce
1 teaspoon lemon juice
½ teaspoon dry mustard
¼ cup paprika
¼ teaspoon liquid hot pepper sauce

Place fish in single layer in a well-greased baking pan. Combine remaining ingredients. Spread sauce over fish. Bake at 400 for about 15 minutes or until fish flakes easily when tested with a fork.

Next, one of Adelle Davis' recipes. Adelle is the famous nutritionist. She fillets in and tomato sauce such as barbecue, Spanish or Italian sauce; dip both sides in wheat germ or mineral and lay on rack. Dot with butter or partially hardened margarine; sprinkle with paprika and bake about 15 minutes at 300-350. Serve with same type of sauce in which fish has been dipped.

Finally, a very simple method of baking fish fillets for those who like their fish plain:

Baked Fish Fillets
Take fish fillets and place in well-greased baking pan. Dot well with butter, sprinkle with salt and pepper. For added flavor, sprinkle with lemon juice to taste. Bake at 450 for not more than 15 minutes, depending on thickness of fillets.

Check during cooking to see if more butter is needed. If you do not want the fish to dry. Serve with lemon wedges and a bit of green parsley. Same recipe may be used for broiling.

Budget Formula Valid

"If the total budget remains stable and if the assessment before valuation is proper, no. If the property now is over-assessed, the tax will go up. There's no relation between the tax rate and the budget. All that counts is what mill rate must we have to raise an X number of dollars?"

Belleville noted that building costs are about 65 per cent higher today than in 1966 and that land costs, especially building lots, are as much as 300 per cent higher.

He said those assessments (and taxes) now frozen for those who are eligible will remain frozen at that figure and that, as a result, taxes for them will drop - because the mill rate almost always drops after revaluation.

Weiss concluded, "The best tax is probably the tax the fellow pays. It's human nature to want to pay as little tax as possible."

He said the property tax has been much maligned, because it appears to be a regressive tax and because it doesn't reflect the true wealth of an individual.

"However," he said, "it's the most common tax, especially in New England, and it's been the one most acceptable by the most people. In my opinion, it's not a poor tax, except where it's been administered poorly."

State Tournament

The 53rd annual CIAC State Basketball Tournament begins next week with all teams concerned having equal opportunity to claim titles.

The fine regular season which Cheney just completed can never be taken away but the dream of a state championship probably is beyond its reach.

As always, the Class A Division will provide the best competition. There is not one team head and shoulders above anyone else and even East Catholic, with its 11-9 record, must be reckoned with.

Bando Loses Dispute

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) - It's 12 down and one to go for Oakland A's owner Charlie Finley in his arbitration struggle with members of his World Champs, but the last battle could be the toughest one.

Finley won his dispute with Sal Bando, received a signed contract from pitcher John "Blue Moon" Odum and met with infielder Ted Kubiak and catcher Ray Fosse during a busy arbitration session.

Finley has reportedly cut his salary demand from $200,000 to $165,000.

Bando had sought $125,000 while Finley offered $100,000. Arbitrator Jacob Seidenburg telephoned from his Virginia home that he had decided Finley's offer was a fair one.

The battle between the two men had gotten bitter with Bando calling Finley's operation "the worst front office in baseball."

Bando did not seem especially disappointed after learning of his loss. "I'm just happy it's over with, Penn State," was a 17th round choice.

Moore, a 6-foot-3, 245-pounder, was the Browns' 15th draft pick while Grady, 5-7, and a three year regular at Penn State, was a 17th round choice.

Aetna World Cup Draws Top Aussies

HARTFORD (UPI) - Captain Fred Stolle has named three veterans and 22-year-old John Alexander to the Australian team that will be defending its Aetna World Cup title against the U.S. here next month.

Stolle said Wednesday he will go with the "old brigade" veterans Ken Rosewall, John Newcombe and Roy Emerson and Alexander, the Aussie "fly wonder," in the March 6-9 series to be held in the new Hartford Civic Center.

Alexander was the youngest player to reach a Davis Cup challenge round in 1968 and was only 17 when he made the Australian Davis Cup team the year before.

Stolle, in a telephone news conference hookup from Sydney, said he was unable to round out the five man team right now. Rod Laver, remained uncommitted to an invitation, Stolle said, but he was still hopeful Laver would come.

Laver decides not to play, Stolle said he will "probably go with Phil Dent as the fifth team member. The Australians have won four out of the five series so far in the annual competition, losing only in 1971.

Manager Paul Correnti Displays New Pin at Holiday Lanes

200 Single Games Within Reach Duckpin Scores Better Thanks to Plastic Pins

By Earl Yost Take it from a fellow who should know, Paul Correnti, veteran manager of the Holliston Lanes, duckpin bowlers can expect their averages to improve by at least five pins this season.

Correnti said the latter was accomplished when the plates were turned over and leveled down.

Also, the side decks have been reduced one-half inch from 57 to 56 1/2 inches. Rubber tips on the side tend to give more action, also, Correnti said.

Due to an acute shortage of maple wood used for making the conventional duck pins, pin houses had to go with the plastic pins, which are manufactured by two Eastern companies.

Last year plastic wood pins were used for the first time and this season solid plastic pins have been placed on all 32 lanes.

"The ball now hits the pin higher, with the deck lower, and this causes more action," Correnti pointed out as duckpinners, young and old, were enjoying the thrill of compiling higher scores at the 16-year-old small pin house.

As a result of the improved conditions, which have been the same at a number of area pin establishments, there have been more high singles and triple scores to date. A season effort of 200 is getting to be as common as a 150 total a few years ago. Also noted to date has been at least one extra high game in every triple, both for the men and women.

The plastic pins, which are leased, are worth $6 each. Each lane has 25 pins in its mechanism. Since September, when the 1974-75 season officially opened, only eight or nine pins have been damaged, Correnti said. The main cause being by balls rolled down the lane to get rid of deadwood in the gutters.

"Plastic pins have given new life to bowling," an elated Correnti continued. Bowlers are happy, too, for the most part, as scores continue to increase as well as individual averages. They have long wanted "action" and now they are getting it in the pits.

The NCAA recommends and will support federal legislation which makes gambling on team sports of any kind illegal," he declared.

Olan Cassell, executive director of the Amateur Athletic Union, was on the witness list to take the same

Sports Should Be Fun McAuliffe Informs Elks

By Earl Vost

Baseball and hockey talk filled the air at the Elks Club last night with former major leaguer Dick McAuliffe and Kevin Walsh highlighting the first annual Elks Sports Night.

"No longer will McAuliffe, a 13-year American League veteran, now the field manager of the Bristol Red Sox, have to face the likes of Hoyt Wilhelm and Nolan Ryan. The latter two pitchers were dubbed the toughest former Detroit Tiger all-star second baseman faces."

"Wilhelm threw a phenomenal knuckleball, and he threw it different ways, overhead, sidearm and underhand and you never know what way it would break."

"I always thought Bob Feller was the fastest right-handed pitcher I ever faced; he was, until Nolan Ryan came along. Ryan's fast ball rises, he has a great curve ball and a great change-up. I'll always tip my cap to Ryan. When he pitched a perfect no-hitter against Detroit in 192, it was the best pitched game I had ever seen," the Simsbury resident said.

"Sports should be fun to play. The 36-year-old utilityman with the Boston Red Sox told his audience of 200. "Sports should be a fun thing to do. You should have fun in sports. If you play professionally and don't have fun, my advice would be to get out."

He kept his audience's attention with some humorous baseball yarns about former Tiger teammates Gates Brown and Norm Cash and former American League foes Roger Maris, Jimmy Piersall and Art Fowler.

Walsh, a former hockey player and coach and Boston Division leaders, could hold their own with NHL entries. He added that great balance has been a key to the success enjoyed to date.

McAuliffe defended the trades the Red Sox made last year and noted that injuries played a major part in the club failing to win the Eastern Division crown after a big mid-season lead.

Carlton Fisk is now at spring training but his knee is a question mark. He'll have to wait to test it. Tony Conigliaro will find it tough making a comeback because the pitchers have improved their breaking stuff tremendously the past two years and he's a fast ball hitter. Rookie outfielder Fred Lynn is the best prospect he's ever seen in his career.

Whalers Lose Abrahamsson

HARTFORD (UPI) — The New England Whalers announced that goalie Christer Abrahamsson has undergone successful surgery to repair a torn ligament and cartilage in his right knee. However, Abrahamsson will be out for the season as a result of the operation, performed Wednesday at St. Francis Hospital by Dr. Vincent Turco, physician for the World Hockey Association team.

Dr. Turco said that Abrahamsson will be hospitalized for one week to 10 days and will be in a cast for six weeks. The decision to operate on Abrahamsson was made last week after it was apparent the four-year-old player had not recovered from the knee damage suffered early in the season during a practice. The Whalers also announced that left wing Nick Fotis has been suspended for one game by WHA executive vice president Bud Poile.

McKechnie's Debut Dismay to Flyers

NEW YORK (UPI) — Walt McKechnie made his debut in Detroit Wednesday night to the dismay of the Philadelphia Flyers.

Acquired by the Red Wings from Boston late Tuesday night, McKechnie didn't even have time to skate with his new team in the pre-game warmups Wednesday night. But just 10 seconds after referee Wally Harris disallowed a Philadelphia score, McKechnie scored his fourth goal of the season to give the Red Wings a 4-3 victory over the Flyers.

Reggie Leach drove home a 15-foot shot from the corner for what looked like the go-ahead Philadelphia goal. Instead, Harris voided the goal and gave Philadelphia's Bob Clarke a two-minute penalty for high sticking in front of the Detroit net.

McKechnie then responded with his goal, snapping a 3-1 tie and giving the Red Wings their first win over the Flyers in two seasons.

In other NHL games, Chicago and the New York Rangers tied 2-2, Los Angeles tied Pittsburgh, 2-2, Atlanta put away Minnesota, 4-2, and Toronto tied California, 3-3.

In World Hockey Association action, Minnesota downed Cleveland, 5-1, Winnipeg beat Edmonton, 4-1, and Houston routed Quebec, 10-4.

Rangers 2, Black Hawks 2
Dennis Holt's 46-foot wrist shot at 4:27 of the final period gave Chicago a tie and prevented New York from gaining more than one point on the Flyers in Division I. Walt Tarczuk and Greg Polis scored for the Rangers while Cliff Korol scored the first Black Hawk goal.

Kings 2, Penguins 2
Dan Maloney's power play goal with 1:06 left enabled Los Angeles to salvage a 2-2 tie and extend its home unbeaten streak to 19 straight games. Pittsburgh had taken a 2-1 lead earlier in the period.

Miller and Nicklaus Top With Power Game Campbell Golf Entrants

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Miller confrontation. In case anyone hadn't noticed, Dave Stockton opens defense of his Glen Campbell Los Angeles Open title today over the Riviera Country Club layout in one of the nation's severest golf tests.

Jack has been on top so long people are beginning to look for someone to beat him," said Miller. "He's been up there, been the best so long, now people are starting to say, 'Maybe, right now, maybe Johnny Miller is better.' Right now I might be better than me. He's stronger and has more experience. But the thing is that he's not playing up to his potential right now and I am."

Hogan won the 1948 U.S. Open on this course, a par-71, 6,832-yard layout.

A year ago, Miller rewrote the record book by smashing Nicklaus' single season record. The 27-year-old Northern California won eight tournaments—two for Nicklaus—and earned $33,021.

Miller's record was broken in the first six weeks of the 1975 pro golf calendar. Miller is three for five, winning at Tucson and Phoenix in Arizona and Palm Springs, Calif. Nicklaus is zero for two.
