

The Connecticut forests must have been elegant when our ancestors first came here. If only they had known how and cared to try they could have left a large part in good condition and still out what they needed.

Now a large percentage of our land is in woodland but of such poor quality that it is not productive. To rehabilitate it costs a lot of investment, and if left to nature alone it will take many generations to evolve to the climax forest again.

Jury Selection Explained

In response to many inquiries related to the process followed in the selection of potential jurors, Joyce Gutman, chairwoman of Manchester's three-member Jury Committee, has issued the following explanation:

"Each year, we receive a request from Hartford County Superior Court for a certain amount of jurors from Manchester. (The request was for 674 last year and 674 this year.) That number is divided into the total number of registered voters and we obtain a factor - which we use in the mathematical selection process.

Simon Fined $500 In Car Assault On Union Leader

Frank R. Simon, president of Manchester's Carley-Johnson Machine Co., was fined $500 in Hartford County Superior Court Thursday on a charge stemming from a May 1974 incident at his company when workers were on strike.

The fine was ordered by Judge David M. Shea on the reduced charge of first-degree reckless endangerment, a misdemeanor. Simon, 58, of 427 S. Main St., was originally charged with first-degree assault.

Simon had pleaded nolo contendere (no contest) to the criminal charge. The $500 fine imposed by Judge Shea was recommended by Asst. State's Atty. George Stoughton, the prosecutor. Simon had faced a maximum penalty of $1,000 fine and/or a year in jail.

The Carley-Johnson Machine Co. strike was in its ninth week when the alleged incident occurred. The strike, which involved 48 union production workers, was settled June 11, 1974.

Straughan Will Emcee Firefighters Banquet

Fredrick J. Straughan, retired assistant chief of the Manchester, Town Fire Department, will be master of ceremonies March 8, when Hose Co. 2 volunteer firefighters have their annual banquet.

It will be at Garden Grove, with a social hour at 6 and dinner at 7 p.m.

Straughan retired in April 1968, after 45 years consecutive service — first with the South Manchester Fire Department, then with the Town Fire Department.

To be honored March 8 will be Harold Perrett, who retired recently after 25 years service with the department. Perrett, who continues as an active member of Hose Co. 2 volunteers, will be presented a plaque.

Capt. Roland Schiller, general chairman of the event, has named Clyde Pickard chairman of the dinner committee. Others on the committee are: George Trueman, Cary Crane, Milton Slavitsky, David Moyer and James Lapine.

Called on for remarks at the banquet will be Town Fire Chief John Rivosa, the assistant chiefs, retired officers, the captains of Co. 1, 2 and 3, and former fire commissioner Andrew Ansaldo Sr.

Sex Discussions in Home Will be Workshops Topic

Quality begins at home and that includes the quality of your discussion of sex. Can there be quality without recognition of your own feelings?

Who or what taught you the facts of life? Did your mother or father ever take you aside? Was the interchange between you and them open? What happened and how did you feel? How do you feel right now about what you were taught as a child, what you have learned as an adult and how do you feel right now about what your children are learning?

The workshops will be conducted by Sam Smith, M.D.; Billie Carlson, R.N.; Barbara Soderberg, R.N.; and Irma Meridy, R.N.

The workshops will be by reservation only and registrants will be expected to attend all three sessions.

For reservations before March 10, call Kitty Analdi at 643-0717 or Pat D'Amato at 643-7354, or write to Irma Meridy at 17 Teresa Rd.

COEP Plans Career Day on Tuesday

Some of the fields represented will include police department, fire department, insurance, broadcasting, hospital, electronics, and the armed forces.

This Career Day provides students with a chance to become acquainted with the business opportunities available through the COEP program.

Illing Students Get Guidance Materials

The Illing Junior High School guidance department is distributing materials to aid eighth grade students in making decisions regarding the selection of ninth grade courses.

The materials with information for students and parents are a pink booklet listing the available courses in each of the academic and elective areas, and a three-page explanation and preliminary worksheet which must be signed and returned by Monday.

A special parents' night will be conducted next Wednesday from 7:30 to 9 in the Illing cafeteria. The ninth grade program will be explained. Staff members will answer parents' questions they may have before their child's schedule is finalized later in the year.

The period between March 3 and April 8 has been set aside by the guidance department to meet with parents to work out any special problems concerning scheduling for next year.

OPINION

Rebellion Useful

Conservative dissatisfaction with the national Republican party and the Ford administration crystallized in a Washington meeting which hinted at a third party to organize for the 1976 elections.

There is no doubt that the Ford administration has lost a lot of conservative support. And unless the President himself can lead more forcefully and successfully than has been the case so far, the Republican party cannot look to the elections of next year with any degree of confidence.

Conservatives are appalled by the $52 billion deficit proposed in the Ford budget; are suspicious of détente with the Soviet Union, and have never accepted Nelson Rockefeller as vice president because of his known liberal leanings.

Like Gov. Reagan, we too, have great misgivings about the potential for success to be found in a third party. And we subscribe to the political axiom that the initial and greatest attribute which a party or candidate may possess is a real possibility of getting elected.

Too Timid

We have come a long way from Teddy Roosevelt's advice that we should walk softly but carry a big stick. Today we seem to be only talking softly and walking softly.

economic aid from us at the behest of the State Department. And it is possible that the gunboats which forced the tuna fleet into the port of Salinas were former American Coast Guard cutters which we have generously given to them.

Reagan's political record in California, with his very conservative stance and particularly his reform of the state welfare system, has made him the knight in shining armor of those who are a conservative political bent.

It is all a little humiliating and a symbol of the low esteem into which we have sunk as an international power. What would have happened if Teddy Roosevelt, or Harry Truman had been president and we were suffering such impudence from this Western Hemisphere Barbary pirates?

Another indication of our low estate is the agreement whereby Iran is to bail out Pan American, one of our great national airlines. This again is humiliating.

In this the United States the richest and once most powerful nation in the world?

Legalized Banditry

WASHINGTON — A little bit of good news raised its head the other day. It seems that a number of states are having serious second thoughts about the policy of permitting public utilities automatically to pass on increased fuel costs to their wretched customers.

Well, we should not be surprised at such legalized banditry. It happens every time this confused country is plagued by economic woes. Public utilities and other businesses may suffer, but it is always Main Street that really gets it in the neck.

Come back, Teddy Roosevelt. And bring your big stick.

Miller Asks School Board To Ease Taxpayers' Load

COVENTRY
Monica Shea
Correspondent
742-9495

The first budget opposition surfaced last night at the Board of Education meeting when a resident Bill Miller asked the Board to look at the board's budget with realism as to what effect it will have on the taxpayers of the town.

Miller said that while he was serving as chairman of the citizens advisory group that was advising DevCo on the new defunct new company he felt that he couldn't say very much about the board's budget.

Miller said, the education costs in this town have driven out all the farmers. Farmers can not handle the high taxes. "We in Coventry are tenth in the state in the amount expended for education, but in the lower 10 per cent of amount spent per pupil."

The 490 act helped the farmers but each time you raise the budget by a mill the farmer has to pay more.

"You also have to look at what the cost of education is doing to the older citizens. It is making them give up a lifetime of work to sell their homes to insure a decent standard of living."

"I ask the board to look with realism at what the townspeople can afford to pay. It behave me and others to ask that the board be realistic. I asked that the board be on our side, the taxpayers, and not against us."

The proposed Board of Education budget calls for a 14.18 per cent increase over last year and will necessitate an increase of 7.7 mills to the taxpayer.

Last night the board reviewed about one third of the budget with Dr. Arnold Elman, superintendent of schools.

Dr. Elman recommended to the board that the starting time of schools be delayed by 15 minutes each day, starting on Monday and running for three weeks.

The board unanimously agreed with Dr. Elman and approved the change.

Elman said, I would rather err on the side of safety. It doesn't seem much time to lose balancing it against the possible loss of life."

The school day will not be lengthened except on half days when 15 minutes must be added to the end of the day to make a total of four hours necessary to count as a full day toward the A.D.M. grant.

The board also discussed the cost of referees and the burden this cost puts on the town. This year's projected deficit is $4,220. The fee of a referee this year will be $31 per game and will increase $2 each year for two more years.

The Board of Finance will hold public hearings at which requests for appropriations for the 1975-76 fiscal year will be received.

The hearings are scheduled for March 11 and March 13 at the Old Town Hall on Rt. 6 at 8 p.m.

Each town officer, board and commission has been requested to submit his budget.

On March 11 the finance board will receive requests from the Board of Selectmen, building official, zoning agent, treasurer, insurance Commission, student activity account at the high school.

The CIAC sets the fee to be paid to officials at each game and also sets the number of officials required. The board has included a line item in next year's budget to cover this continuing deficit.

This year's projected deficit is $4,220. The fee of a referee this year will be $31 per game and will increase $2 each year for two more years.

Parents Discuss Drugs

BOLTON

Parents of Bolton High School students and other interested townspeople will meet to discuss what the high school principal can do if he catches students with drugs.

The meeting is Monday March 10, 7:30 p.m. in the library at Bolton High School. It is open to the public.

Joseph Fleming, principal, is expected to present recommendations to the Board of Education.

Parents' meetings have been held throughout the school year.

Clair Landry is chairman of the parents committee. Fleming usually acts as moderator.

Under a procedure suggested by Fleming, the meetings begin at 7:30 p.m. and end promptly at 9 p.m. The meetings are informal. Minutes are kept.

About 15 parents and one student attended the committee meeting in February at which discussion centered on a drug policy.

The group also discussed school clubs, the school newspaper and the continuing education program.

Tennis courts The Public Building Commission plans to meet with Marshall Taylor, former town counsel, to discuss the tennis court situation, specifically the work not being done on time.

Robison, Inc. of Yaleville needs another 29 workdays. The PBC signed contracts with Robison at the end of August 1974. Robison had 30 days to begin work and 60 days to complete it.

To date, due to weather conditions and poor management at the site, the work has not been completed.

If Taylor cannot attend the next regular meeting of the PBC on March 11 a special meeting will be called.

Colors for Library Members of the PBC discussed colors for the furniture, trim, wood and carpeting at the new Bentley Memorial Library. Commission members were not happy with the colors shown them by Alan Wiedie, architect, and requested he bring more color selections to the next meeting.

The colors shown by Wiedie were approved by the Library Board. The walls in the library are oyster white.

Police Study The police study committee has completed its businessmen's questionnaire and will be distributing it soon.

The questionnaire is similar to the one distributed to all residents. Two of the questions on the businessmen's questionnaire are, "Have your insurance premiums been affected?" and, "Do you have an alarm system?"

The businessmen are being asked to return their questionnaires by April 1. Residents are asked to return theirs by March 15.

To date the committee has had about 100 returned. Anyone who has not received a questionnaire may pick one up at the Town Hall.

Open Space Plan Adopted

COVENTRY
Monica Shea
Correspondent

The Conservation Commission has adopted the Open Space Plan which calls for the preservation of between 20 and 25 per cent of the town's land as open space.

Most of the lands involved are along the town's streams and are already protected by the Inland Wetlands laws.

Land included in the report include those lands that are prone to soil erosion, slopes over 25 per cent, aquifers, agricultural land and buffers between Coventry and adjoining towns.

The plan will be sent to the Planning and Zoning Commission with a recommendation that it be incorporated into the town's master plan of development.

Building on the open space land would not be prohibited but only uses considered nonadverse to the property would be encouraged. A non-adverse use would be the development of recreation sites.

Don't Buy Land Brian Walsh, DevCo project manager, said yesterday that DevCo will not close the land option agreement on the property of Antonia and Betty Peracchio on Rt. 4A.

The 72 acres is mostly commercially zoned land.

The option was due to be picked up on Feb. 1, 1975 at 11 a.m.

Walsh said, "No decision has been made on the other land options that DevCo holds. We have had a number of inquiries on possible purchase of the land, among other things. Others have contacted us to ask what we are going to do with the land."

Bids Received On Bank

VERNON
BARBARA RICHMOND
 Of the six bids submitted for the plumbing, heating and electrical contracts for the People's Bank Building in Rockville, four were from Vernon and one was from Tolland.

Some of the five only voted for one of the alternates, one only voted for all, and one was voted for all three.

The apparent low bidder for the plumbing contract was Warren Götter of Vernon at $3,796; for the heating, K. J. Coppelwright and Sons of Tolland, $5,147; and for the electric, Rock-Vern Electric of Vernon, $6,370.

The town purchased the bank building, located next to the Memorial Building on Park Place, and plans to renovate it for use as a Senior Citizen Center.

However, until the Memorial Building renovations are completed and the town offices can move in there, the bank building will be used to house offices for Common Pleas Court.

When the Memorial Building is completed, the town offices will be moved to there from the Administration Building and the town offices will be moved to there from the Administration Building and the town offices will be moved to there from the Administration Building.

It is hoped the conference will give the officials an opportunity to share their problems and solutions with each other as well as with their representatives in Washington.

Council Debates Softball Field

SOUTH WINDSOR
Judy Kuehnel
 Correspondent

The question confronting the South Windsor Town Council and residents here is: "Should the town have a lighted softball field, and if so, where?"

The Town Council took up the question earlier this week, following a 300-person petition signed by members of the Men's Softball League and other residents.

For the most part the council has remained cool citing more pressing expenditures, higher assessments, high budgets and poor economic conditions in general.

However, there is support on the council for the ballfield. Some supporters spoke out, even before the March 10 hearing preceding Monday night's regular council meeting.

Democrat Robert Myette wants the lighted field. He wants it in Rye Street Park where he says little excavation will be needed to construct the ballfield.

Mayor Robert Smith feels that if such a field is to exist in town, it should be in the Sand Hill area off Noyes Road—the site of the proposed Plum Gulley Park which was defeated June 15 of last year.

However, a field in Sand Hill would cost about $50,000 after the $11,000 excavation work was figured in, officials said.

Myette's contention is that excavation can be eliminated if the park is constructed in Rye Street.

"We could have a lighted softball field quicker at Rye Street than at Sand Hill. But that doesn't mean because we don't have it this year we couldn't have it next year," said the mayor.

"I favor the Rye Street area for economic reasons," Myette contends. "When the $11,000 more Town Engineer Emil Lucke estimates it will cost to excavate Sand Hill, besides placing the field at Rye Street we'd be able to spread some of the town facilities throughout the community."

Mayor Smith contends just the opposite: "I favor Sand Hill because it would centralize the facility."

Mayor Smith said if the Sand Hill area is to ever be developed in the future, "it might be through some state funding through education."

At present the school department is being pressed for more girls' athletic facilities, and the department would like to institute its "no-cut" policy for girls, as they have with the boys' football team. In essence any student who tries out for football is not cut from the

LWV Marks 25th Year

The Manchester League of Women Voters will observe its 25th anniversary on Sunday with a punch party from 4 to 6 p.m. at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Sedrick Rawlins, 66 Waranoke Rd.

In February of 1949 a group of women gathered to form the league. Among those present were Mrs. Melvin Hathaway, Mrs. Jay Rubinow, Mrs. Charles Jacobson, Mrs. Julian Orr, Mrs. Francis Cowan, Mrs. Louis Heard, Mrs. George Marlow, Mrs. Allan Bourne, Mrs. Irving Anderson, Mrs. Jacques Shaw, and Mrs. John Cheney Jr. In April of that year, formal notification of "provisional league" status was received from the State Board.

During the following seven months, membership grew to 60 and study groups were formed. In November, recognition as a full-fledged league was received from the League of Women Voters of the United States.

Serving as its presidents through the years since its inception were Mrs. Hathaway, 1949-50; Mrs. Rubinow, 1950-51; Mrs. Marlow, 1951-52; Mrs. Heard, 1952-53; Mrs. Shaw, 1953-54; Mrs. Frank Horton, 1954-55; Mrs. E. H. Phillips, 1955-56; Mrs. Edward Colman, 1956-57; Mrs. Jerome Nathan, 1957-58; Mrs. John Knowlton, 1958-59; Mrs. Thomas Latham, 1959-60; Mrs. William Whitney, 1960-61; Mrs. Lawrence Handley, 1961-62; Mrs. Marshall Cohen, 1962-63; and Mrs. Rockwell Potter Jr., 1963-64.

An earlier league was active in Manchester in the 1920s and 30s and in 1932 its members included Miss Dorothy Chambers, Mrs. Helen Felber, Mrs. Stephen Hale, Mrs. M. A. Sengs, Mrs. Warren Keith, Mrs. George Bora, Mrs. Charles Holman, Miss Ellen Buckley, and Mrs. Carl Noren.

Also, Mrs. James Irvine, Mrs. G. M. Miller, Mrs. Walter Rich, Mrs. Ernest Legge, and Mrs. W. C. Cheney. The president was Miss Marjorie Cheney, a former representative to the General Assembly. The group disbanded in 1934.

Activities of the league included a "Know Your Town" survey of local government and facilities and "Voting in Manchester" which were both published in the league newsletter.

The league also conducted in-depth studies on a wide range of topics under the general headings of International Relations, Representative Government, Environmental Quality, Human Resources, and Local Affairs.

In its efforts to keep the well-informed and state its opinion on issues the league used newspapers, radio, and television; painting posters; setting up window displays; circulating petitions; making speeches; distributing flyers and fact sheets; carrying placards; and sending letters and telegrams to legislators.

Locally, it has supported the school building program; studied local government and town planning; studied roads, water and sewer facilities; studied solid waste management and open spaces.

It published "Know Your Government," "Who's Who in Manchester Government," and "Manchester And The CPA."

In 1967, the league won two awards from the Connecticut LWV: one for local government activities and the second for outstanding growth.

On the state and national levels, the league studied equal rights and welfare; state government and finances; the General Assembly and constitutional revisions; the court system and election laws. It studied the United Nations and world security; the federal budget, inflation and tariffs; the loyalty-security program and individual liberties. It also studied foreign aid, trade, and policy; the electoral college; reform of Congress and of campaign financing; water resources and air and water pollution.

Currently, the league is studying mass transportation, regionalism, alternate forms of municipal government, international trade, housing, and land use, and the Buckland Commons development.

Eric Kusche, son of Mr. and Mrs. Erich Kusche of 78 Edge St., received his Eagle Scout badge, the highest award in scouting, Tuesday night in ceremonies at the Troop 367 Court of Honor and dinner at the Army and Navy Club.

While a member of the troop, he became an elected member of the "Order of the Arrow," a national honor campers society.

A member and Sunday School teacher at Zion Evangelical Lutheran Church, he was presented the God and Country award in December. He is a junior at Manchester High School, where he is a member of the German Club and part of a medical first aid team working in the school system. He enjoys sports and joins teams whenever time allows.

First aid is his favorite activity and he is presently enrolled in an emergency medical technician course at Manchester Community College.

Flame Still Burns After 42 Years

DEAR ABBY: I am still in love with the man I was in love with 42 years ago, when I was 16.

We both married different people. I had a very unhappy life being married to the wrong man for 41 years. Two months ago, my husband died. That's when I started to think about Benny again. I finally located him through his relatives, and I called him to call me from work. Now he calls me almost every day. We talked about old times and all the fun we used to have, and said he never stopped loving me. He couldn't talk much because his wife was there, so we made arrangements to call me from work. Now he calls me almost every day. We talked about old times and all the fun we used to have, and said he never stopped loving me.

His problem is his wife. They have been married for 40 years, and he doesn't know how to tell her that he doesn't love her, and he wants to be free to marry me. He said she is a sickly woman, she can't work, and she hates to hurt her. Can you help us?

DEAR STILL: I know of no way for a man to tell his wife of 40 years that he wants to be free to marry his childhood sweetheart.

I think that you and Benny are trying to relieve the past. It can't be done. Benny is very much married, and therefore unavailable. So do Benny, his family, and yourself a big favor, and get out of his life. You can't build happiness on the broken hearts of others.

DEAR ABBY: I have a 22-year-old daughter who is living with her boyfriend in a nearby town. My friends and relatives don't know this and they are constantly asking me where she is. I get upset and start to cry and don't know what to say.

I raised this girl the best I could and I can't accept the fact that she turned out this way. How can I learn to live with this?

DEAR MOTHER: You can tell yourself that a 22-year-old daughter is responsible for her own lifestyle. If you raised her "the best you could," you needn't be ashamed. It's not necessary to say that she is living with her boyfriend. You can say that she is no longer living at home. It's true.

DEAR ABBY: My husband has always been a heavy smoker. (Four packs a day for the last 30 years.) As he has heart attack last year, and the doctor gave him some orders. Quit smoking (which he did, believe it or not) and avoid all excitement. (He was more specific about not feeling around with young girls unless he wanted to die in bed.)

Now Al tells me he's nervous and restless. He says he has to lead more "careful" life and can't give up everything he enjoys. He's asked me if I would rather have him go back to smoking again, or fooling around with young girls. Isn't that a choice for you?

How should I answer him? With all his faults, I love him and don't want to be a draw. But which is worse, lung cancer or a heart attack?

DEAR WIFE: It's a wad. But with a choice like that you'd probably worry less if you saw Al smoking. (P.S. Your Al certainly is a shrewd trader.)

Everyone has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply, write to ABBY: Box No. 69700, L.A., Calif. 90069. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope, please.

For Abby's book, "How to Have a Lovely Wedding," send $1 to Abigail Van Buren, 132 Lasky Dr., Beverly Hills, Calif. 90212. Please enclose a long, self-addressed, stamped (20¢) envelope.

Behavior Clinic Planned

A behavior clinic will be conducted Wednesday for all level Scout leaders from 7:45 to 9 p.m. in the Reception Hall of South United Methodist Church, 1000 Main St.

Various behavior problems experienced by leaders and ways of coping with them will be discussed by Millie Schaeffer and Margaret Mootie, executive staff members of the Connecticut Valley Girl Scout Council. Roberta Broye, a teacher at Highland Park School, and a Girl Scout leader, will also be present.

Any troop leader wishing assistance with a special problem should contact JoAnn Gray, 649-8334, before the meeting. After the panel presentation, there will be time for an open discussion.

Porter to Call At Square Dance

Gil Porter of Pittsfield, Mass., will be guest caller Saturday at the Manchester Square Dance Club dance from 8 to 11 p.m. at Manchester High School.

Mr. Zaccaro is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert N. Zaccaro of 46 Hayes Ave., Vernon.

The bride-elect was graduated in December from Manchester High School. She plans to attend St. Francis School of Nursing. She is currently employed by Manchester Memorial Hospital.

Her fiancé, a 1972 graduate of Rockville High School, is a 1974 graduate of Manchester Community College. He is also employed by Manchester Memorial Hospital.

Vacation & Travel Ideas

Travel Show To Feature Disney World and Florida

Walt Disney World and Florida will be featured at the Herald's Travel Show, Thursday, March 13 at the Manchester High School auditorium. Show time is 8 p.m., doors open at 7:30.

Films entitled "We Flew To Florida Last Week" and "The Magic World of Walt Disney" will be presented courtesy of Eastern Airlines.

Drawings will be held for prizes donated by area merchants.

Free tickets are available at the Herald office or from the following sponsoring travel agencies:

Mercury Travel, 627 Main St., Goodchild-Bartlett Travel, 113 Main St., LaBonne Travel, 67 E. Center St., Globe Travel, 655 Main St., and O'Keefe Travel, 750 Silas Deane Highway, Wethersfield.

Walt Disney's most popular adventure-experience, "Pirates of the Caribbean," and an exciting "Magic Carpet 'Round the World," are among Walt Disney World's newest attractions.

They are among many adventures and accommodations added to the world-famous Vacation Kingdom in Florida.

New features include a 150-room Golf Resort Hotel overlooking Walt Disney World's two championship golf courses, plus charming narrow gauge railroad and a soon-to-open theater-restaurant in Fort Wilderness Campground.

In the Magic Kingdom, other new adventures include the caves and trails of Tom Sawyer Island, the nostalgic Richard F. Irvine Steamboat and the memorable film, "The Walt Disney Story."

Also, nearing opening is the first phase of Treasure Island—a lush tropical paradise filled with flowers and birds for leisure strolling.

The theme park is open every day with all the operating hours adjusted according to the season.

With its additional features, the Vacation Kingdom offers more convenience and entertainment than ever before with daily character parades and musical entertainment.

Other areas of Walt Disney World also feature special entertainment nightly in each of the Resorts which make up the Vacation Kingdom.

During its first two years of operation, Walt Disney World entertained more than 22.3 million visitors from all parts of the world. The Magic Kingdom now has 41 major attractions.

Firates of the Caribbean, top favorite in its six years at California's Disneyland, plunges voyagers into the heart of a buccaner battle on the Spanish Main.

A picturesque Caribbean Plaza has been created as an entertaining market place and entranceway to the realm of the pirates. Exploring shadowy tunnels of the Spanish fort, guests come to a hidden dock where longboats begin an exciting journey, down a waterfall, through eerie caverns and into a harbor under pirate attack.

As cannonballs whiz past overhead, guests see the Town Council being tortured by exuberant pirates, an auction of the town maidens and burning of the Port City.

The adventure ends dramatically in a gold-filled treasure room where fun-loving free-booters engage in a friendly gun duel. All is experienced in three-dimensional realism through the Disney created system of "Audio-Animatronics."

Through another kind of Disney magic, guests in Tomorrowland journey to the world's most famous tourist sights on a "Magic Carpet 'Round the World." Surrounded by motion picture screens, the audience gets a 360-degree view of famous landmarks in the Circle-Vision Theater.

The unique film presented by Monsanto and produced by Walt Disney Productions includes a trip down the Thames past Big Ben, a journey to Paris, Rome, Athens, and famous Oriental sites.

Audiences standing in the circular theater sway and grasp handrails as they "ride" through busy city streets in everything from a Paris taxi cab to a Los Angeles hook-and-ladder fire engine.

Another park adventure, Tom Sawyer Island, includes such special treats as Injun Joe's Cave, the mysterious Magnetic Mine, the old mill and Fort Sam Clemens. Visitors young and old spend hours exploring paths and passageways from the pages of Mark Twain's famous novel.

In the Golf Hospitality House, historic film and recorded interviews with Walt Disney provide a graphic and memorable insight into the life of the master showman. A superb collection of Disney memorabilia complete the biographical presentation.

Outside the Magic Kingdom, Walt Disney World offers three theme resort hotels including the exciting Contemporary Resort with the World's largest celebrity dinner-show, the tropical Polynesian Village Hotel and the new Golf Resort Hotel with its peaceful fairway setting just a few hundred feet from the Polynesian Village Marina.

During the first two years of operation, Walt Disney World entertained more than 22.3 million visitors from all parts of the world. The Magic Kingdom now has 41 major attractions.

Redskins Put Bite On Marching Band

LANDOVER, Md. (UPI) — Hail to the Redskins sounded a little discordant today. The Washington Redskins have put the bite on members of their traditional marching band and their pom-pom girls, raising a question whether in the coming season the band plays on.

The 114 musicians and 33 Redskinettes were told at a meeting this week they would have to pay for the previously free two tickets they have gotten in the past for family or friends at Redskins home games. Individually, they still would get in without charge for voluntarily entertaining at the games and practicing once a week.

But for two previously free tickets, they must pay $22 (up from $18 last year) or relinquish them to the club for sale to the general public on a season ticket basis (up from $126 to $154 for the seven regular home games).

The club's decision provoked threats of refusing to perform by some bandmen of pro football's oldest marching group. The Redskins band has been a Washington tradition since 1938 when the late owner George Preston Marshall formed the group and led them to New York for a game with the Giants.

After the war-bonneted band paraded through Manhattan traffic from the train station to their hotel, blaring "Hail to the Redskins," a New York sports writer observed:

"George Marshall slipped unobtrusively into town today at the head of an 80-piece brass band."

The atmosphere wasn't quite that carefree at a meeting of the bandmen and majorettes with their leaders this week when word was handed down that the two extra tickets were no longer for free.

"Are any of the players losing their tickets?" one band member asked and was told probably not. Another said at the meeting: "I crossed a picket line for the first time when the players were on strike last year and this is the thanks I get."

According to an official, the Redskins voted by a show of hands to continue to perform but no vote was taken by the members of the marching band.

The showman may come March 12 when the band is scheduled for its first off-season rehearsal. "If you want to continue as a band member, I expect you here March 12," official Dick Wright told the musicians. "If not, I'll understand."

Bandmen and majorettes could give their two extra tickets and still continue with the organization. Conductor-director Nobel Barnes said he would have to have a nucleus of 80 musicians and majorettes to make the project worthwhile.

Wright predicted the drop-outs would not be too serious, commenting: "I think most of the members are in the band because they enjoy it, and because of the friendships, not because of the tickets."

20 Years Ago Hockey Czar Benched Richard, Bad Boy Schultz Could Be Nearing Same Fate

By Milt Richman

NEW YORK (UPI) — "Wherever he is and whatever he is doing, Maurice 'Rocket' Richard has to be smiling a little over the trials and tribulations of Dave Schultz. Clarence Campbell, the National Hockey League President, ordinarily might have the same reaction except he's much more deeply involved.

The new generation of hockey fans don't remember what happened when Richard was benched for the rest of the season following his part in a March 1955 brawl in Boston. They don't remember because they were too young. Clarence Campbell remembers. He remembers because he was the one who suspended the Montreal Canadiens' superstar, and all it did was nearly get him killed.

Campbell's life was threatened if he ever dared show his face again in the Montreal Forum. A courageous man who has never flinched from doing what he felt he had to do, Campbell promptly attended a Canadiens' game at the Forum and his appearance generated a full-scale riot.

From here on in, says Campbell, the next time Schultz is given a match misconduct penalty, he will be suspended for two games, the time after that, for three games, and so on until Dave Schultz, left wing for the Philadelphia Flyers, will be nothing but a mere memory.

One hundred fans were killed and 46 stores smashed as a result of what happened in the Montreal Forum that evening 20 years ago. Canadian newspapers were unanimous in their castigations of those fans responsible.

Time marches on, but nothing really changes. Dave Forbes of the Boston Bruins jabs a stick into the eye of Henry Bucha of the Minnesota North Stars and is indicted for assault with a deadly weapon.

Clarence Campbell, who once said violence is an integral part of hockey and that's what makes it the great game is, now isn't so sure. He comes to see much of that violence embodied in Philadelphia's Dave Schultz, who set a league record with 540 minutes in penalties last season and already has broken that mark with 386 minutes this season. Schultz has become involved in another fight in a nationally televised game a week ago, and Campbell says he has had enough. He suspends Schultz for one game.

From here on in, says Campbell, the next time Schultz is given a match misconduct penalty, he will be suspended for two games, the time after that, for three games, and so on until Dave Schultz, left wing for the Philadelphia Flyers, will be nothing but a mere memory.

He was hardly more than that Sunday at Madison Square Garden where the New York Rangers beat the Flyers, 2-1, before 17,000. Schultz was anything but the menacing "policeman" he usually is, and although he drew a two-minute penalty in the second period for tripping, he showed no real militancy whatsoever.

His coach, Fred Shero, wasn't entranced by the way he played at all. "Sure it has him concerned," said Shero, when someone asked whether he felt the threat of suspension by Campbell was affecting Schultz's performance. "He wasn't checking out there or using his body at all. There are no rules against that."

Schultz admitted he was concerned by Campbell's threat. "Fred's right," he said of his coach. "Sure I'm concerned. I have to be, but I don't want it to affect my game. I'm not in very good shape physically. I had only one practice all week. I still got a sore back where I pulled a muscle and this was my first game after the suspension."

A number of the Rangers spoke up for Schultz. One was Derek Sanderson. "I think the kid's getting a tough rap," said the long-haired Ranger forward, playing some of the best hockey of his career right now. "He's tough, he's aggressive. All he's doing is backing up his teammates. I think everybody wants to see him fight, the fans, the press, everybody. If they'd leave him alone, he'd be a good two-way hockey player."

"Do you think Campbell has him concerned?" one newsmen threw a question at Sanderson. "I'd be concerned, too," replied the former Bruin. "You know when you get suspended, you don't get paid. I got suspended with Boston last year, 16-18 games, and it cost me $27,000. That hurts."

People always wonder why hockey players fight. "They fight because there's a lotta publicity in it, and publicity brings money," Sanderson said. "The Flyers got a lotta publicity last season for fighting. Now they get $1,000 an appearance at a banquet. Some of 'em get $2,000. Campbell? When he jumped on Forbes, he had me come down on somebody else, too. It wasn't really Schultz' fault. He's just anything wrong. I'll tell you this—the next guy who does anything wrong, he's gone. Campbell doesn't fool around."

Wherever he is and whatever he's doing, Maurice Richard has to be smiling a little.

Center Wayne Carleton registered the key goal with just six seconds remaining in the second period, giving the Whalers a 4-2 advantage.

Center Terry Cafferly then added an insurance goal at 11:18 of the third period, his 13th of the campaign, for the final 5-2 margin.

Buffalo Proved Point in Victory

NEW YORK (UPI) — If there was anything else the Buffalo Sabres had to prove to themselves before the start of the playoffs, it was that they could beat Los Angeles.

In 61 games, Buffalo had lost only 11, but three of those were to the Kings. The Sabres had their fourth crack at the Californians Thursday night and made the most of it with a 5-0 whumping.

"We went out there ready for them tonight," said Rene Robert, who contributed a goal and two assists to set a career record of 94 points for a season. "We had three losses against them and we had to prove we were the first place team in the league."

Strictly on performance, the Sabres have a valid claim to call themselves No. 1 in the National Hockey League. They have more points than any team with 90 and also are high in victories with 39.

"Right now, there's no doubt we're the best," Robert said. "I'm more confident now than I ever was and confidence is half the game."

This latest triumph enabled Buffalo to maintain its 13-point lead over runner-up Boston Division 4 as the Bruins kept pace with a 9-4 rout of Detroit. In the only other NHL game, Philadelphia beat Vancouver 3-1.

In the World Hockey Association, Quebec ousted Vancouver 9-7, New England beat Minnesota 5-2 and Houston downed Phoenix 7-2.

It would seem that the biggest problem the Sabres now face is to maintain their momentum for the playoffs, still more than a month away. They are unbeaten in their last 13 games and their victory over the Kings—which snapped Los Angeles' unbeaten streak at eight games—helped them set five team records and two individual marks.

"I think it was one of our best games together ever," said Robert. "You can't let those guys put the pressure on you because then you're doing our work for them. Tonight was there and everything goes right. Tonight was one of those nights."

After nursing a 1-0 margin provided by Richard Martin's 39th goal with the game only 6:41 old, Buffalo blasted Kings' goalie Rogie Vachon for four goals in the opening seven minutes of the third period. ## Judge Rules Sharman Breached Valid Pact

SALT LAKE CITY (UPI) — A federal judge ruled Thursday that Bill Sharman breached a valid contract when he jumped from the American Basketball Association's Utah Stars to coach the National Basketball Association's Los Angeles Lakers.

In a directed verdict by U.S. District Court Judge Willis Ritter, the Stars won their suit filed after Sharman quit Utah immediately after the team had won the 1974-75 ABA title.

The verdict means the jury will decide only if the Lakers are liable for allegedly inducing Sharman to break his Stars' contract and the amount of damages to be awarded. Stars' owner Bill Daniels asked for $1.5 million.

Sharman based his defense on the contention he did not have a valid contract because of disputes with Daniels over pension benefits and an option to buy into the ABA club.

The Stars pointed to a paragraph in the contract which said the entire contract was valid even if any individual clause was not.

Harvey Kirkpatrick, public relations director for Utah, was among the last to testify. He told the court that season tickets sold at the rate of 150-200 a week just before Sharman left but dropped to around 50 a week shortly after Sharman jumped to Los Angeles.

NFL Lifts Ban On WFL Stars

BOSTON (UPI) — Four Suffolk Downs jockeys have been suspended five days each for careless riding in leaving the gate.

The suspensions, which began Thursday, were imposed on signing players from the rival league. The NFL, fearing possible anti-trust action, prohibited its clubs from signing WFL players last October after the New York Jets signed veteran center Howard King and the Dallas Cowboys obtained punter Duane Carrio from the WFL Jacksonville franchise after it collapsed.

The one drawback is that the clubs can sign only those players from the rival league who can furnish evidence of breach of contract with the WFL team.

"If in our judgment, there has been a breach, we'll accept the contract," a spokesman for the NFL said. "The Chicago Bears last week penalized a sixth-round draft choice next year by Rozelle for contacting WFL players."

The ban did not extend to WFL coaches. Jack Pardee of the Florida Blazers took the coaching job with the Bears while Portland's Dick Coury and Chicago's Jim Spavital were hired as assistants by NFL clubs.

CRCOG Opposes Rail Plan

The Capitol Region Council of Governments (CRCOG) has joined in efforts to oppose abandonment of rail lines in the Hartford area as proposed by the U.S. Railway Association. CRCOG Executive Director Dana Hanson of Manchester has announced. Hanson said many businesses served by the three lines would be hurt if the abandonment plan succeeds. Loss of these businesses would mean a further loss of jobs in a time when the Capitol Region is already suffering high unemployment, he said.

Directors of Galdor Inc., the Norwalk-based discount department store chain, have declared the firm's fifth annual cash dividend. The dividend of 15 cents a share is payable April 4 to stockholders of record March 21. Galdor, whose stock is traded on the American Stock Exchange, has 32 stores in Connecticut, Massachusetts, and New York. New stores are scheduled to open this spring in Willimantic and Tewksbury, Mass.

Board Faces Light Agenda

The Manchester Board of Directors will tackle a comparatively light agenda Tuesday, with most of its business carryovers from previous meetings. Its meeting will be at 8 p.m. in the Municipal Building Hearing Room. Preceding it at 7:15, it will meet with the Human Relations Commission for an informal discussion of proposed Group Homes ordinance. Under unfinished business, the board will consider establishing a Health District to be comprised of Manchester and South Windsor, permitting Manchester, Community College to rest in the Teen Center (at the old Nike Site) for a Day Care Center, and allocating $9,000 for a ramp for the handicapped at the rear of the Municipal Building. Under public hearing items, it will air a proposed $6,563 appropriation for employing an additional school custodian, with the sum to be financed by a state grant; a proposed $83,100 appropriation for the Head Start Program, to be financed by a federal grant; and a proposed $1,214 appropriation for three months salary to the end of the current fiscal year for a clerk in the social services department, to be financed from 1973-74 General Fund surplus.

Federal Court Upholds Contempt Citations

NEW YORK (UPI) — A three-judge federal panel in New York has upheld a contempt of court order against two New Haven women who refused to help the FBI locate two former Brandeis University students on the bureau's Most Wanted list. The 2nd U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals judges stayed execution of the order, however, until Tuesday so attorneys for Terry Turgeon and Ellen Theresa Grusse could appeal to the U.S. Supreme Court. U.S. Circuit Court Judge James Oakes dissented from the majority Thursday, saying the government had failed to show it did not take part in illegal wiretap activities. Turgeon and Grusse are the whereabouts of the whereabouts of Susan Saxe and Catherine Ann Power, who are wanted in connection with a 1970 Boston bank robbery in which a policeman was killed. Their alleged accomplices in this and other robberies, part of a revolutionary group, were arrested. The FBI said Saxe and Power lived in Connecticut in Hartford, Torrington and Windsor Locks during parts of 1972, 1973 and 1974. U.S. District Court Judge John Newman had issued the contempt ruling against Turgeon and Grusse, who had been granted immunity from prosecution to testify before a federal grand jury in connection with the search for the two fugitives. Attorneys for Turgeon and Grusse said they plan to appeal and would ask Justice Thurgood Marshall to continue the stay of execution of the lower court ruling while the nation's highest court hears the case.

Not Entitled

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — A federal judge said Thursday two pregnant women were not entitled to food stamps for their unborn babies. U.S. District Court Judge Albert Wolleben vacated an earlier order issued in the case of Mrs. Mary E. Wilburde from which she is a few days from giving birth. Last month, U.S. District Court Judge George Harris issued a temporary order directing the U.S. Department of Agriculture to give the woman an extra $38 worth of food stamps. Wolleben also denied a temporary order on behalf of Rosa Fields of San Pedro, who is about six months pregnant. He recommended the board weigh the alternatives of retaining the structure, demolishing it for relocation, or selling the entire parcel (including the dwelling).

Zinsser Repeats Dialogue Plea Over Parking at Lincoln Center

Manchester Director Carl Zinsser Thursday fired the latest salvo in the "Battle of Lincoln Center." He charged, "Once again, Mayor (John) Thompson has resorted to personally attack anyone who chooses to criticize him or his administration, rather than to discuss the issue on its merits." The issue referred to by Zinsser is conversion of the Lincoln Center lawn facing Main St. into a driveway and parking area. It all started in November, when Conservation Commission member Dr. Fred Spaulding wrote a letter to the Board of Directors (even as the Lincoln Center project was under way), criticizing town officials for going ahead with the work "without first consulting with the commission. A copy of his letter was sent to The Herald and was printed in the Open Forum." In December, Dr. Spaulding's letter was read into the board's record. It was the consensus of the directors (including Zinsser) that a clarification of the commission's function was in order. In January, the board and the commission met informally to discuss the situation. The commission was told the Lincoln Center project had been known publicly since at least the middle of 1974, that its purpose was to make it easier for the elderly and handicapped to do business there, and that the town plans to landscape the area aesthetically. The commission made it clear it considers its function to be involvement in all projects which concern town-owned property. Zinsser and several commission members said they were encouraging Manchester residents to circulate petitions protesting disturbance and removal of the lawn. On Feb. 11, Mrs. Verna Hubard presented petitions signed by about 1,100 residents requesting that the area at Lincoln Center be restored to its original condition. Mayor Thompson denied the petitions were politically motivated and recommended a "wait and see" approach. On Feb. 11, Zinsser called on Thompson to apologize publicly to Mrs. Hubard and the petition-signers, insisting, "They have a legitimate concern about the situation that exists at the center of town and Lincoln Center."

West Berlin Mayor Candidate Abducted

PTA Guest

BERLIN (UPI) — The kidnapers of West Berlin Mayor candidate for the West German Democratic Party today said they will kill him unless authorities release several imprisoned terrorists within 72 hours. The abductors outlined their demands in a letter accompanied by a picture of their captive, Peter Lorenz. "Precise fulfillment of our demands guarantees the safe release of Lorenz," the kidnapers wrote. "Otherwise, a consequence as in the case of Chief Justice Gunter von Drenkmann is inevitable." Drenkmann was shot and killed in his home Nov. 10. Mayor Klaus Schütz read the letter to a meeting of local and federal officials in his office. He refused to comment afterward except to say a second session had been called for later today. "Extend the contract of the PTA table at its flea market on April 12 from 9:30 a.m. to 2 p.m. Suggested items include crafts, books, knick-knacks, toys, games, antiques, dishes, etc. Interested parties will be able to reserve a table of their own at the flea market for a $9 donation. School sweat shirts and book bags will be on sale at the family night demonstration."

They said authorities must provide them and the released prisoners with a fully fueled Boeing 707 airplane with a four-man crew and assign a public figure to accompany them to their undisclosed destination. The kidnapers suggested the hostage be Heinrich Albertz, a Protestant pastor and Christian Democrat who once served as mayor of West Berlin. Each of the six prisoners to be released also must be given $8,000 in cash, they said. The kidnapers also demanded the police stop looking for them, the mayor said. The special delivery letter and photograph arrived at the West Berlin office of the West German news agency DPA, where editors had to pay $10 in postage due. The kidnapers signed themselves "The Movement of June 2" and the photograph showed Lorenz sitting on the edge of a bed with a sign at his feet reading "Prisoner of the Movement of June 2." He looked tired and was not wearing his glasses. Police said the June 2 date referred to the police killing of a student in 1967 during a leftist demonstration against a visit to West Berlin by the Shah of Iran.

The Buffalo Shuttle

Editor's note: This article was written by David Stott, one of 20 students from West Seneca, N.Y. (near Buffalo) who have been spending the week in Manchester going to the high school with MHSers who are hosting them.

The exchange is part of an AFS domestic program designed to give kids an idea of life in other areas of the U.S. instead of other nations. They arrived here Thursday, Feb. 20, after a 12-hour bus ride. Dave wrote this article Monday night, in order to meet our Tuesday deadline.

A second article will appear next week relating how they felt at the end of their week's stay here. A group of nine MHSers will go back to West Seneca to complete the exchange when the students from New York leave for home on Sunday. Thus far, the exchange has proved most fascinating to all involved.

Although I cannot pronounce judgment on all the finer aspects of life here in Manchester, I can give only a slightly biased opinion of life in the Hartford area, and in New England. Slightly biased because although I was born in Buffalo, and am living there presently, I've lived a long time in Bridgeport. I miss some of the things that make Manchester beautiful and sound familiar.

I guess how I got here was first.

The final bell does not signal the end of the day for many of us. We participate in varsity, Junior varsity, and intermural sports, clubs, activities, and just "hang around." An AFS reception was being given to see two girls off on a domestic exchange to California and the prospect of punch and cookies sounded very enticing. Being no one to pass up a free meal (as my foster parents will attest), I went down to the library and asked for a "Soda" and you get pop with a little ice cream thrown in. Then the word "hang" "Good grief, I haven't drank 'I'll rank you so low..." in five years. We "Mock you out."

On the economic side lies the biggest difference. Buffalo, and surrounding suburbs, is primarily a Steel City, with a good portion of the working force employed in blue-collar occupations, mostly the steel mills.

Even with the added upkeep of Manchester, there is a common habit New Englanders have. They do go something, they do it good, and with a certain finesse. There is a kind of "class" here, that isn't seen in West's N.Y.

But when it comes right down to it, the differences are not so great. I emphasize the cultural differences and little idiosyncrasies of each people but rather display the common bond we have.

The animal is the same, no matter what tree he climbs or color fur he wears. — David Stott

MHS Scribes Win

Here is a reply to all the people who complained when the English system switched from a rigid grammar-literature system to a more diversified selection of English-related courses.

Maybe "We don't learn no grammar no more" but we gave a pretty fair account of ourselves in the recent National Scholastic Hartford Contest Writing Awards' contest.

This contest was open to all students in the area and most high schools in the state participated in it. Manchester High has been either first or tied for first the past four years. This year Manchester High did it again, taking first place with a record breaking number of awards, 26. Just for the record, North West Catholic was second with 10 awards.

I think the entire English Department deserves a pat on the back, especially Gilbert Hunt, head of the English Department who organizes the contest entries for the school and gives his classes the added incentive of making entry in the contest mandatory.

Winners of keys (or statewide first place honors) were: Andy Frosol, Denise Gravell, Elizabeth Anderson, Rae Strickland and Sherri Applestein.

Honorable Mention Commendations were given to Rich Byam, Anne Thompson, Mike

Elated that all these discarded eyeglasses will help needy people to see better, Howard Gelf, president of the Manchester Lions Club, and Robert Bletchman, chairman of the recent "New Eyes for the Needy" drive, begin to pack the glasses for distribution. (Herald photo by Dunn)

VOD Winners Named

Recently, the Veterans of Foreign Wars sponsored its yearly Voice of Democracy contest.

Three Manchester seniors took top honors in the town division.

Gerry Perrett placed first in the town division.

February vacation while most students slept late and stayed as far away from school as possible, the performers were hard at work from 9-3 Monday through Thursday learning lines, practicing songs, and working out dance steps.

Without some minor complications did arise, as leads were sick with viruses, the production is progressing smoothly. Round table and the choir are rehearsing the chorus numbers and work on costumes, and the set's it's the show's one of the most successful musicals of all time.

It concerns the endeavors of Henry Higgins, a British gentleman, who is in love with a cockney flower girl, Eliza Doolittle, in the year of 1912.

Profile: Barbara Senna

"Really mature," "sophisticated," "intelligent," "different," "a great actress," "into her religion," "a complex person, I can't figure her out." In my quest for finding the right adjectives that would be worthy of attaching themselves to Barbara Senna, I decided to ask other people — close friends, co-workers, and a few merely knew her by name to help. Their responses varied as can be seen in the examples above, but most of their attitudes all shared a common feeling — that of respect and admiration.

But what is Barbara Senna really like? Which description fits her best? She is a position which she now enjoys very much. She remarks, "I love to feel the sensitivity in other people's writing." This year has indeed been a busy one for her. She was given the time-consuming activity of student assistant director in S & S's production of "The Birds" last fall, and became a member of the International Thespian Society in January.

In spite of much encouragement from others, she is not sure she'd like to make a career of acting. She says, "I don't want to lead a superficial existence. I have no selfish career aims but I would like to have others around me. I know I can't save the world, but I want to help people and I'll do whatever I find I am meant to do, though sometimes it's hard to distinguish what that is. If I know what I'm doing, then that's what I'll do."

She strongly feels that

'Fair Lady' Cast

Every year the music department of Manchester High School under the supervision of Miss Martha White presents a comedy, drama, and some of the most popular musical numbers around.

February vacation while most students slept late and stayed as far away from school as possible, the performers were hard at work from 9-3 Monday through Thursday learning lines, practicing songs, and working out dance steps.

Without some minor complications did arise, as leads were sick with viruses, the production is progressing smoothly. Round table and the choir are rehearsing the chorus numbers and work on costumes, and the set's it's the show's one of the most successful musicals of all time.

Lions Eyeglasses Drive Successful

The recent drive for "New Eyes for the Needy" conducted by the Manchester Lions Club resulted in an assortment of several hundred discarded eyeglasses donated by people no longer needing them.

Manchester Lions join with other Lions from Hartford and Litchfield counties and turn in all their eyeglasses to Howard Wry in New Britain.

The average annual total collection, said Wry, runs about 25,000 pairs of eyeglasses.

From New Britain, they are sent to an Episcopal Church in Short Hills, N.J., where the eyeglasses are sorted, graded and tested.

The metal frames are melted down, sold, and the money received is used to support the good endeavor. The jewels set in some of the frames are also removed and sold.

For 14 years, the Lions have been interested in sight conservation.

Within the past year, the Manchester Lions donated an optoscope to Mary Cheney Library. The instrument enlarges pictures and print.

The Lions recently funded piano instruction for a blind boy who is a client of the Sheltered Workshop.

Career Center Plans Given

The Career Planning Center is sponsoring a variety of activities this week centered around Pratt & Whitney.

Throughout the week, a model of the F4U fighter plane, loaned by Pratt & Whitney, was on display. It is a cutaway model, generated by a computer which shows the many moving parts of the engine. Students were encouraged to view the display.

In conjunction with the display of the model, two career

Indians Gain Tournery Berth

Hoping to extend their season, the Manchester cagers return to the Class AA tournament after a three year absence.

Under the direction of first year coach Doug Pearson, the Indians have compiled an 11-8 mark this season, 9-7 in the COIL. The tribe capped off their last 12 decisions.

Included in their late surge was an inspirational upset over Northfield, Alex Mikolajewski, and John Pivak.

The play continues in immigrant family's struggles during a period around 1910. Anyone interested in a part is welcome. You need not be a member of Sock 'n Buskin. Scripts are available in room 271 and can be signed out for two days. The performances will be May 18, 17, 23 and 24.

MCC Civitans, Church Council Planning Emergency Food Pantry

A townwide collection of non-perishable foods to establish an Emergency Food Pantry for Manchester residents faced with an emergency need for food will be conducted March 14, 15 and 16.

The food drive is being sponsored by the Manchester Community College Collegiate and Church Council in coordination with the Manchester Area Conference of Churches.

The non-perishable food items may be left at a drop-off box in the MCC student lounge or at the churches associated with the Conference of Churches.

These churches include Assumption, Center Congregational, St. Bartholomew, St. Bridget, Concordia Lutheran, Community Baptist, Emanuel Lutheran, North United Methodist, St. James, St. Mary's Episcopal, Salvation Army, Second Congregational, South United Methodist, Trinity Covenant, and Bolton Congregational.

The Emergency Food Pantry is being established as an answer to the growing need for food assistance in Manchester particularly with those families and individuals who, in an attempt to keep up with rising rent, utility bills, and medical costs, find themselves faced with bare shelves and empty stomachs.

Mrs. Nancy Carr, executive director of Manchester Area Conference of Churches, said,

"Assistance would, of course, be only partial and temporary, but the Emergency Pantry would assure that no one in Manchester would have to go hungry and would help a person or family manage for a day or two until more permanent help could be arranged," she said.

The property committee of Center Congregational Church has offered one of the rooms at the church for the pantry. Hours the pantry would be open will depend on community response to an appeal for volunteers to staff the pantry.

To obtain food, people will have to have a bonafide referral from such sources as clergymen, town and state welfare workers, public health nurses or school social workers.

Sugar Gets It

Beware all caramels, cakes, ice cream, and other cavity-makers!

Between March 11 and 20 the International Thespian Society of MHS will be tracking down and punishing those two soundest of tooth decay notoriety, Sugar and Smoking, in a short play called "Good Guys are Winners" by Sylvia L. Clafline.

The thespians will perform this brief play for first, second and third grades at 10 elementary schools in Manchester.

Since one goal of the thespian society is to promote drama in the school system, members of the club participated annually in a service project. Last year, they took part in a show on Channel 24 called "Free For All," a variety of pieces were presented including a portion from "Tell Me That You Love Me, Julie Moon" and an improvised comedy.

This year Dental Association of Manchester asked the club to add to the usual Dental Health Week activities by presenting something which would rein-

Rock Review

Rick Derringer All American Boy

The extent of this album doesn't end with the first song "Rock 'n Roll Hootchiekoo." The rest of the album is just as strong, but they couldn't put every song on the hit chart.

Rick Derringer displays his talents with fine guitar and percussion plus lyrics and vocals. Add to all of that, some specialists including Edgar Winter, Joe Walsh, Joe Vitale, and Ken Caillat. The end result is an album that shines from cover to cover.

This is Derringer's first solo album, but he's far from inexperienced. He has played on many albums and written many songs for other artists. He played and wrote for Johnny Winter on Still Alive and Well.

He also played on the Edgar Winter album, They Only Come Out at Night, and for Steely Dan on Countdown to Ecstasy.

Derringer mixes up the music throughout the album; hard rock, slow songs, instrumental, and songs with a message. Some feature cuts include "Time Warp," "Cheap Trick," "It's Raining," "The Jump," and "Jump." This album came out just less than a year ago and since then the music world has justly awaited a second Rick Derringer album.

It seems that the time has come and the album should be available to the public in the beginning of March. Hopefully it will have the same quality of all American Boy. — Joe Damon

Grand List Up $4 Million

VERNON BARBARA RICHMOND

The Board of Tax Review completing its work on the Grand List, Thursday, the list now reflects a net increase of $4,109,383 over last year's list. Prior to corrections it reflected an increase of $9.9 million. The net amount is $166,492,904.

A major portion of the increase is due to the town's reimbursement of $94,928, by the state, through Public Act 74-234 which provides for the elimination of property taxes on furniture, fixtures, machinery and equipment purchased after the Oct. 1, 1973 assessment.

The property is assessed the same as other personal property but not included on the Grand List. Reimbursement from the state is based on the 1973-74 mill rate to be set in June.

The Board of Tax Review approved assessments to $70,677,811 from $70,587,429 on dwellings, and also on home and building lots from $28,856,452 to $28,908,682.

After review a small increase was also realized in the acres of land. Value was listed at $5,825,070 and it increased to $5,870,751.

Motor vehicles increased to $15,782,130 from $15,775,130. Fixtures went down from $2,685,720 to $2,682,020.

Goods on hand went down from $2,831,890 to $2,699,500 and boats down from $182,800 to $180,200. The veterans' exemption increased from $3,421,569 to $3,424,000.

Opening lead - J ♠

Our good careful player played his ace of trumps, but his next trump lead was low to the dummy's 10 spot. Then he led a club and discarded his last spade. West did the best he could to rain South's game plan. If East spades as a spade as is quite likely.

When the hand was actually played East cashed two spade tricks and instead of making the normal lead of a diamond, which would give South a chance to fan his hand, East shifted to a low club. This unusual play gave South a chance to show that he was a real player.

A careless player would have promptly laid down the ace and king of trumps whereupon the combination of a 6-1 trump break and 6-1 club break would have cost him his contract.

GARDENING

By FRANK ATWOOD

Two unusual plants have bloomed together for Vera Sherlock in the greenhouse that she and her husband maintain at their home on McKee St. They are a calla and a Cymbidium orchid.

The calla is usually called a calla lily but my encyclopedia says it is, instead, a plant with a difficult name, Zantedeschia. It comes from South Africa, and in this country can live outdoors only in southern Florida and southern California. For gardeners in the north, it is a greenhouse plant.

Mrs. Sherlock acquired her calla as a gift from another member of the Manchester Garden Club, Mrs. John Pickles. For her, it blooms reliably once a year.

The Cymbidium orchid, purchased at a nursery, blooms also once a year but Mrs. Sherlock has found that it must first have exposure to a quite cool temperature. She sets it outdoors in a lath house where it is in partial shade during the summer and leaves it there until the temperature is close to freezing in the fall before she brings it back to the greenhouse.

Cool Greenhouse

Even here the temperature is on the cool side since the Sherlocks set their greenhouse thermostat at 55 degrees, which becomes the night temperature during the winter months. Bright sun may send the temperature up another 20 degrees or more in the afternoon, but many plants thrive under these conditions.

Mrs. Sherlock has a Bird of Paradise plant, with a bud almost ready to open, also a gift from Mrs. Pickles. She has a shelf of orchids, about 75 in all, many cactus plants, hibiscus in bud, an orange tree that touches the glass roof and a lemon tree that is five feet tall.

Her children, Mrs. Sherlock said, started the citrus plants with seed from fruit bought at the supermarket for the family table, and she doesn't really expect them to flower, but she adds, "you never can tell." At any rate they have handsome foliage.

Girl Telephone Installer
One of the children has an occupation that is unusual for a young woman. Susan, 24, who has a bachelor's degree in German and another in fine arts from the University of Connecticut, is an installer for the Southern New England Telephone Co., one of two young women employed here in this work.

Mrs. Anthony Sherlock shows the large white blossom of a calla with a spray of bright yellow Cymbidium orchids at her home, 166 McKee St. Both plants, after coming to flower in the Sherlock's small greenhouse, were brought into the home to be enjoyed. (Herald photo by Pinto)

Unable to find work in either of the fields she had chosen, she worked for a year in an office but much prefers to be outdoors. She drives a truck, carries a tool kit, puts in telephones or takes them out, climbing ladders and telephone poles as the job requires. Susan thinks she has a fine job.

Mr. Sherlock is an inspector for the Hamilton Standard Division of United Aircraft. Mrs. Sherlock is both program chairman and horticulture chairman for the Manchester Garden Club, and will be chairman of the club's plant sale in May. She teaches piano, with 13 pupils who come to her home for half-hour lessons each week, is a teacher's aide in a public school and does volunteer clerical work for the Lutz Junior Museum. In her spare time she does crocheting, needlepoint, hooks rugs and makes her own dresses.

The Sherlocks will soon be starting seeds in the greenhouse for a large vegetable garden. It's a busy household.

Cards and chess will be featured each Thursday from 2:30 to 4:30 p.m.

Hospital Project Approved

Manchester Memorial Hospital has been given permission to undertake renovations and additions of equipment at a cost not to exceed $1.9 million. The Commission on Hospitals and Health Care has approved capital expenditures of $20.8 million proposed by three general acute-care hospitals of which the Manchester hospital was one.

In February 1974, the commission had approved a proposal of MMH to renovate 46 obsolete intermediate care beds at a cost of $1,312,000.

Subsequently, the hospital obtained additional Hill-Burton (federal) and endowment funds to use in improving the over-all quality of patient care.

Added capital equipment includes a sprinkler system in patient rooms and an emergency lighting system mandated by changes in the state fire code; the purchase of 44 electrical patient beds to replace manual crank beds originally planned; thermopane windows capable of reducing heat and air-conditioning losses; a paging system; and other minor additions.

The updated proposal must now receive the approval of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, said Andre Marmen, development director at the hospital. That approval could come through at any time, he said, after which actual work on the renovations could begin shortly.

Irish High Tea Aids Ecumenical Project

A traditional Irish High Tea will be sponsored Sunday by St. James Church and St. Mary's Episcopal Church on behalf of the Irish Children's Project from 3 to 5 p.m. in Neill Hall of St. Mary's Church.

An open invitation is extended to everyone in Manchester who is interested in learning more about this ecumenical project, which plans to bring 30 teen-agers from Northern Ireland to Manchester this summer, the Rev. Stephen Jacobson, rector of St. Mary's, said. There will be no charge for the tea, he said.

During the tea, a short presentation of plans for the project will be presented by Father Jacobson and Dr. Eamen Flanagan of St. James Church. Time will be provided for questions and answers.

The program will also include music and entertainment by the St. Patrick Pipe Band, and Irish step dancing by the Griffith Dancers under the direction of Mary Ann Griffith. The step dancers will wear traditional Erin costumes and feature Miss Colleen Marie Griffith, who placed second in the All World Step Dancing competition in Dublin.

Irish International Airlines (Aer Lingus) has donated a Waterford crystal bowl and a set of Irish coffee glasses, which will be given away as a door prize during the tea.

St. James and St. Mary's Parishes are planning to bring 30 teen-agers from Protestant and Catholic families in Northern Ireland to live with Manchester families this summer. The project is intended to be non-political and to demonstrate the goodwill which may help to overcome the barriers existing in Northern Ireland.

The young people will have an opportunity to become acquainted with each other through a program designed to promote understanding and the principles of Christian forgiveness and love, Father Jacobson said.

Honey Factory

Without nectar, there could not be honey. The flower nectar, mixed with enzymes within the bee's body, breaks down into dextrose and levulose, both simple sugars. This thin, partly ripened honey is stored in open cells in the bee hive, and the bees fan their wings in front of the cells to evaporate excess water.
