Ford Fears Cambodia Bloodbath If American Aid Is Not Granted

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Ford says $222 million in aid may prevent a Communist takeover in Cambodia and perhaps allow negotiations. If Congress refuses, Americans would feel a deep sense of shame over the bloodbath that would come with the ingratious troops.

The President asks only for money. He told a news conference Thursday. "All American forces have come home. They will not go back."

50-50 Chance
Ford gave the Cambodian regime headed by Marshal Lon Nol a 50-50 chance of survival even with the aid. He said the money might allow Phnom Penh to last until summer, when the rainy season would make it easier to transport supplies.

If the insurgents cannot win by then, talks might follow.

Liberal congressional sentiment supported Lon Nol's removal and said that might be the price of additional aid. Ford did not agree, but he would not commit himself to Lon Nol.

"We will support any negotiations and accept any outcome that the parties themselves will agree to," he said. "As far as the United States is concerned, the personalities involved will not themselves constitute obstacles of any kind to a settlement."

"Are you saying that the United States will support any government, no matter how weak or corrupt, in a situation like this?" a reporter asked.

"I am not saying that we would support any government," Ford replied. "I am saying that we would support any government that we could see coming out of the present situation or the negotiated settlement."

History Recalled
Ford said that despite a long history of efforts to negotiate — "six separate initiatives since I became President" — the insurgents feel they can win on the battlefield. "This belief will be encouraged if we cut off assistance to our friends."

If the Communist-Khmer Rouge takes Phnom Penh, Ford said the result would be "an unbelievable horror story. If we can hold out — and I think the prospects are encouraging — then I think we will avoid that kind of massacre and... murdering of people who really do not deserve that kind of treatment."

seek a negotiated settlement — "If we abandon our allies, we will be saying to the world that we are preserving the credibility of the United States."

If help does not come, he said, "We will have to turn to ourselves, to our world and to our friends. No one should think for a moment that we can walk away from that without a deep sense of shame."

U.S. attempts to organize oil consuming nations "have been quite successful," Ford said. He would not comment on an oil producers' proposal to tie oil prices to the rate of inflation.

Unemployment Rate Remains Unchanged

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Nearly 540,000 workers lost their jobs in February but the unemployment rate held steady at 8.2 per cent last month because a similar number of people entirely dropped out of the labor force, the Labor Department said today.

The number of jobs supported by the troubled economy dropped to 84 million, back to the level of May 1973.

Employment has dropped 2.4 million since September, 1974, a figure which the Bureau of Labor Statistics described as "the largest five-month cutback recorded in the postwar period."

The 8.2 per cent unemployment rate, unchanged from January, reflected a total 7.5 million persons out of work.

The steady rate seemed to support President Ford's economic advisers, who predicted the unemployment rate would peak at 8.5 per cent this year. The unemployment rate had jumped a full percentage point in January and some economists have predicted a top over 9 per cent.

The last time there was no change in the unemployment rate — which has been rising steadily since the end of 1973 — was in May and June 1974 when the rate stayed steady at 5.2 per cent in both months.

Although the number of jobs decreased sharply in February, the unemployment rate remained the same because 580,000 people, mainly women and teen-agers, left the labor force, no longer actively seeking work.

Guards Wounded In Bay State Prison Colony

NORFOLK, Mass. (UPI) — An inmate of Norfolk Prison Colony, possibly "high on drugs," surrendered peacefully to state police early today after wounding two corrections officers, one critically.

The inmate shot officers William Murphy, 28, of Milford, and Russell Fontaine, 48, of Westport, following "routine evening rounds in Unit 21."

The inmate, William Royce, of the Jamaica Plain section of Boston, was taken to the New England Medical Center in Boston where he was listed in satisfactory condition with gunshot wounds in the left elbow and upper chest.

The two guards were taken to Norwood Hospital where both underwent surgery.

Murphy was in critical condition in the recovery room. Doctors removed a bullet which entered through his eye and lodged in his brain. He was said to be married and have two children.

Fontaine was in stable condition following the removal from his abdomen of a bullet which entered through his chest. Officials described him as married, but were unsure whether he had any children.

BRUSSELS (UPI) — Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger arrived in Brussels today for talks on the Cyprus crisis before embarking for the Middle East on a shuttle peace mission already under attack by Palestinian guerrillas.

Kissinger spent the morning in London meeting with British officials, among them Prime Minister Harold Wilson, in discussions that included the Greek-Turkish conflict over Cyprus and his efforts to bring about another disengagement between Israel and Egypt.

"His stopover in Brussels before he flies on to Aswan, Egypt, later in the day, was organized so Kissinger could meet Greek Foreign Minister Dimitrios Fiotis."

In London, after meeting with Wilson, Kissinger turned to him and said, "I will keep you informed."

Meskill Confirmation Remains in Doubt

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Senate's long-delayed approval of former Connecticut Gov. Thomas J. Meskill to a federal judgeship remained in "grave doubt" today after the latest round of hearings on the controversial nomination.

Sen. Quentin N. Burdick, D-N.D., expressed the skepticism to reporters Thursday at the conclusion of two days of hearings on the controversial nomination, submitted by President Richard Nixon as one of his last acts in office.

Subcommittee Finished
"I think we've gone as far as practical at the moment," Burdick said after his Senate Judiciary subcommittee finished examining some aspects of a property leasing scandal that erupted during Meskill's term as governor.

"Irrespective of the leasing issue," Burdick said, "I have grave doubts about his qualifications," a sentiment also expressed by the American Bar Association.

Such an investigation could be launched, he said, if it was found out that "illicit payments" were made or if any tax fraud was involved.

Burdick, presiding over the hearings in the absence of Sen. James O. Eastland, D-Miss., said he could not report whether further hearings on the nomination would be held.

"As far as I'm concerned," he said, "all the material has been heard, and there is no need to call further witnesses."

Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., suggested Wednesday that one of the key figures in the leasing scandal — 12 of them — be brought to Washington to testify.

Burdick said he was satisfied the leasing issue — termed by one witness to be "a brazen racketeering deal" — had been examined sufficiently from "several angles."

NEWS CAPSULES

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — The Penn Central Railroad trustees said Thursday that higher operating costs and lower freight revenues were responsible for the company losing $13.7 million more in January, 1975 than in the same month last year.

The net loss for last January was $47,970,914 compared with $34,218,526 for January, 1974.

The trustees said railway operating expenses were 12.5 per cent higher during the period. They said fuel costs alone were one-third higher in January, 1975 than they were the previous January.

Ford Tax Cut Stand
WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Ford says tax rebates should favor middle income Americans because they have borne increasingly heavy burdens during the recession.

In taking that position at his Thursday news conference, Ford sided at least partly with Treasury Secretary William Simon, who said Wednesday tax cuts should go mostly to middle and upper income Americans.

Simon said they will spend the extra money on cars, refrigerators and other items that will stimulate the economy, while the poor would spend it on "non-durable" goods having less impact.

Budget Meetings Set
HARTFORD (UPI) — Gov. Ella Grasso said today she will hold a series of public hearings to get feedback from Connecticut citizens about her proposed budget.

"I believe the people of Connecticut have a right to be heard on the budget," she said. "This will give people the opportunity to ask questions and offer their suggestions."

Meetings will be held during the coming month in Fairfield, East Haven, Winsted and New London. She said this will be the first time such hearings have been held in the state. Times and locations will be announced early next week.

To Prepare for Hearings
HARTFORD (UPI) — Meetings were planned for today by the Connecticut Transportation Department to present a united front against closing any rail lines in the state under a national rail reorganization plan.

Commissioner Samuel Kamehl said the sessions are in preparation for official public hearings scheduled by the Rail Services Planning Office of the Interstate Commerce Commission for March 17-21 in Wethersfield.

"We are opposed to the abandonment of any rail lines in Connecticut," Kamehl said.

Re-Establish Relations
BOGOTA (UPI) — Colombia and Cuba have re-established diplomatic relations after a 14-year break, expressing hope the move would help in "thawing the cold war."

Officials in Bogota and Havana made simultaneous announcements Thursday night of their decision "to re-establish, as of today, diplomatic, consular, commercial and communications relations at the ambassadorial level."

Family Billed
Dr. James Kennedy, superintendent, said the school's policy is to bill the family of the student who causes the vandalism.

The family of a high school student just paid for a broken window. The family of a younger school also paid for a broken window in a school bus.

If the family refuses to pay, Dr. Kennedy said they turn the case over to the town counsel for suit.

Weiss said the town does the same thing.

To Hire Extra Help

HARTFORD (UPI) — The Connecticut Welfare Department plans to hire outside help to whittle down a backlog of 660,000 delinquent medical bills amounting to $7.3 million.

State Welfare Commissioner Edward S. Maher said Thursday he was unable to explain how the delinquent bills grew except that "the staff shrank down" under former Commissioner Nicholas Norton, a Republican and Maher's predecessor.

Thomas noted the tremendous increases in costs. Also, there are new and state-required costs for which the state does not reimburse, he said.

"We have pared this budget to the bone," Thomas, chairman of the school board, said. "We said to you're would only need cost-of-living increases in future budgets."

"Well, this year is an exception."

"The rate of inflation is given as 14 per cent. Our budget is 10 per cent."

MMH Conducting Career Days

Students from Manchester High School and St. Bridget School toured Manchester Memorial Hospital Thursday in connection with Career Day sponsored by the Auxiliary of Manchester Memorial Hospital.

Daniel Mikolowski, chief radio-therapist, discusses the Gamma camera which uses radioisotopes for diagnostic purposes. Other Career Day events for students in nearby towns are March 13 and 20. They start with the showing of a film, "A Member of the Family," filmed at the hospital. The events last from 3 p.m. to 9 p.m. (Herald photo by Dunn)

Education Board Makes Appeal For Full Budget Requested

By MAL BARLOW
The Board of Education pleaded for its proposed $13.3 million budget for the coming school year Thursday night at the Municipal Building in a meeting with the Board of Directors and Town Manager Robert Weiss.

"At this time a few years ago," began Allan Thomas, chairman of the school board, "we said to you're would only need cost-of-living increases in future budgets."

"Well, this year is an exception."

"The rate of inflation is given as 14 per cent. Our budget is 10 per cent."

Director Phyllis Jackson asked why. Dr. James Kennedy, superintendent, said the kindergarten classes this year turned out to be much larger than anyone expected. For example, 23 children were expected in the Highland Park School kindergarten in September but 39 showed up.

Other grades showed less enrollment than expected but the teachers had already been contracted for them, he said.

"If everyone would stand still, we wouldn't have these problems," Dr. Kennedy told Mrs. Jackson.

Spelling Problem
A poor spelling turned out to be a weakness possessed by most Manchester children taking the townwide tests in the spring of 1974. A $15,000 item in the new budget is for materials in a program to help better spelling.

"I'm glad to see it," said Director Carl Zinner.

There will be fewer teachers at the elementary level this coming year but the school board proposes to use the funds spared for hiring two physical education teachers for Grades 1 and 2.

More Teachers
The number of elementary teachers for the current fiscal year is higher than the need.

Need Questioned
Director Pascal Prignano questioned the need.

Applies and Oranges
Thomas refused to answer the question directly and said the two choices were like comparing apples and oranges. But he did show a preference for learning special physical skills from a teacher over walking.

Weiss noted that Kennedy had kept him informed of money matters and problems all through the year.

"There have been no surprises," Weiss said referring to the school board's proposal.

"I appreciate that kind of cooperation," he said. His own school budget proposal may be ready for the Board of Directors by the end of next week.

'Pirates of Penzance' Thoroughly Enjoyable

By JOHN SIBUN
What a thoroughly enjoyable and entertaining evening the Manchester Gilbert and Sullivan Workshop provides with its current production of "The Pirates of Penzance."

When a critic is deprived of the privilege of waxing eloquently, he employs a more pedestrian way to open his review. Judged by a surfeit of theatre, it takes something extra special to make an impression.

I was impressed! But then the company is back doing what it does best—the works of Gilbert and Sullivan in recent years, for a change of pace, the group has done a few Broadway shows with not quite the same success.

The plot is the least important part of the show, and "Pirates" follows the usual G&S twists and turns of the telling of an improbable tale. It is a foregone conclusion that the pirates are really noblemen who win the hands of the fair maidens in the last scene. Also, that the major-general is not really an orphan and that if one is born on the 29th of February matters can become problematic.

No, the audience goes to wallow in sights and sounds which are pleasing to the senses. In her initial venture in directing, Sarah Ketter has done a fine job in putting everything together in a style to satisfy the most demanding G&S buff. The production moves lightly, like a feather on a breeze across the stage, as Miss Ketter's expertise as a dancer shines through every movement.

One is hard put to single out actors for special mention as they complimented each other beautifully in a smooth polished presentation. Each fills his or her part to expectation and what is more important to the audience, they are thoroughly enjoying themselves.

Local audiences will be forgiven if they think in terms of Gilbert, Sullivan and Gordon. Robert Gordon appears in his 28th successive production, this time excelling in the role of the Pirate King.

Susan Borst, who has never sung better, and Stephen Principia sing well together as the romantic leads. Robert Horton as the major-general, Pierre Martney as the pirate lieutenant and Kate Keller play their roles in equally fine style.

John Lombardo makes an English bobby and three of the principal wards are played delightfully by Phyllis Lehmann, Natalie Dame and Jeri Lyons.

The over-all credit for the superior singing and orchestral results are obviously due to the talent and dedication of the musical director, William Tyler. Once again what a fine group of musicians this orchestra proves itself to be.

This type of production with its predomance of singing frequently falls foul of allowing the actors to drop anchor once on stage and grow roots, not to move, until they are told anything, this production swung in the opposite direction; at times there is perhaps a surplus of movement. This is partly due to unintentional up-staging from some members of the chorus in their efforts to contribute.

The stage at times seemed too small to take this large company and gave the impression that just one more person would tip the apron and shoot everyone into the orchestra pit. It also became difficult at times to keep track of the principals as they disappeared into the crowd and because of the proximity, leads and chorus blended too finely for comfort.

The sets, as to be expected, are its beautifully executed and the lighting tailored to fit the mood of each scene. The Workshop has always had a high standard of excellence in its costuming and Gail Layden and her assistants have done a fine job in continuing that tradition.

John Lombardo sang "A Policeman's Lot is Not a Happy One," but yours will be if you attend either of the performances, tonight or tomorrow evening at 8 at East Catholic High School.

STARS NAMED
NEW YORK (UPD)—The March of Dimes has named Maria Karambola and Vincent Gardena as 1975 Stars of the Season for their roles in Neil Simon's current Broadway hit, "God's Favorite."

This printing test pattern is part of The Herald quality control program in order to give you one of the finest newspapers in the nation.

For Period Ending 7 AM EST Saturday, Friday night will find snow flurries over the Rockies and the lower Lakes as well as in the upper Northeast, while rain and showers will occur in northern California and northern Florida. Clear to partly cloudy elsewhere. Minimum temperatures include: Atlanta 38 (58), Boston 33 (50), Chicago 11 (24), Cleveland 20 (29), Dallas 40 (50), Denver 23 (46), Duluth 11 (13), Houston 51 (65), Jacksonville 49 (69), Kansas City 15 (33), Little Rock 34 (48), Los Angeles 54 (61), Miami 64 (81), Minneapolis 6 (18), New Orleans 51 (64), New York 32 (49), Phoenix 50 (77), San Francisco 53 (63), Seattle 31 (48), St. Louis 15 (33) and Washington 36 (51).

POPULAR LANDMARK WILLEMSTAD, Curacao (UPD)—Among landmarks popular with Curacao tourists is Bolivar House. The great South American emancipator's sister lived in the house, which recently has been restored as a museum with Bolivar memorabilia.

Miss Hashim Gets Gastonbury Post
Elinor Hashim of 7 Goslee Dr. has been named director of the Gastonbury Library System and will assume her duties April 14 as head of that town's Welles Trust Library. She ranked first among a field of 30 applicants for the post—vacated in late 1974 by Dennis Weir, when he became assistant chief of the Hartford Public Library.

Miss Hashim presently is reference librarian in New Britain Public Library, where she has worked since 1971. Before then, she was employed at Manchester's Mary Cheney Library. She received a degree in library science from Southern Connecticut State College.

Miss Hashim is a member of the Manchester Board of Education, the Manchester Republican Town Committee and the Manchester Republican Women's Club. She is Republican state central committee woman from the third Senatorial District.

Guest Performer
James McKay of 500 Porter St., organist at North United Methodist Church, will be guest performer at the Chaminade Musical Club Silver Scholarship Tea Sunday from 4 to 6 p.m. at the home of Jan Fraser Wodal, 192 Hartford Rd., near Pine St. All proceeds will be used for scholarships for several high school students to attend Laurel Music Camp sessions this summer at the University of Connecticut.

The event is open to the public, and those attending may come and go at will. Ample parking space is available near the Wodal home. Club members participating in the program include Mary Stewart, vocalist, accompanied by Liza Ventress; Dorothy Forcherson and Grace Fraser, piano duets; Jan Wodal, vocalist; and Mrs. Wodal and Mrs. Fraser, piano duets. Members of the executive board are reminded to bring tea sandwiches to the Wodal home Sunday at 3:30 p.m.

BENEVOLENCE
NEW YORK (UPD)—The Lutheran Church in America has announced that benevolence giving in the 31 million member denomination totaled nearly $23 million in 1974, an increase of two per cent over 1973.

Kraatz Gets Health Role

After a discussion with Town Manager Robert Weiss and with his approval, Dr. Alice Turek has designated Ronald Kraatz administrator of the Manchester Health Department.

Kraatz, who is the town's sanitarian, will replace Alan Mason, who was acting administrator. Mason will resume his full-time duties as director of human services.

In a letter to Dr. Turek, Weiss stated, "As I have told you, I am very pleased with the organization you have developed and the talent of Ron Kraatz in the administration role, continued progress will be made."

PHILADELPHIA (UPD)—The U. S. District Court here has a deferred prosecution program for defendants charged with minor crimes.

The program, adopted in August, 1974, allows a defendant to go free on probation until his case is tried.

Each day we have been reflecting on the commandment, Lent is a time for such self-examination.

The fifth commandment is a reaction to the Hebrew belief that Life is holy and sacred. We need to value one another in the same way in which He does. Therefore, we will not want to hurt or in anyway bring harm to one another.

This sixth commandment deals with the misuse of our sexual drives. Sex is indeed a beautiful expression that is God-given.

Students Examine Smoking Effect

SOUTH WINDSOR
Judy Kuchner
Consignment items are accepted every Wednesday from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. The shop is open each Tuesday and Thursday from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. and Saturdays from 11 to 4 p.m. The shop is run on a volunteer basis and proceeds are used to benefit various South Windsor causes and scholarships.

Under the direction of teacher Dan Sclere last week, students measured carbon monoxide levels in tobacco smoke with an analyzer on loan from the Hartford County Christmas Seal/Lung Association.

The results of the tests have not yet been made public, but students measured carbon monoxide levels in smoke filled and smoke-free rooms and also tested the breath of smokers and non-smokers to determine the levels of carbon monoxide in the lungs of smokers four or five hours after their last cigarette. The lung retains about half the carbon monoxide inhaled.

The analyzer is an air pollution monitoring device that measures carbon monoxide, a colorless, odorless, toxic gas. A major air pollutant, carbon monoxide is produced by the incomplete burning of substances containing carbon, such as tobacco. Cigarette smoke contains from 2.6 to 6 per cent carbon monoxide.

Two publications of interest to college students are available at the South Windsor Public Library.

The library has received the current editions of the "Collegiate Summer Employment Guide" and "The Directory of Overseas Summer Jobs."

The college guide is an up-to-date listing of summer employment opportunities in summer camps, national parks, and resorts.

It also lists career training programs, government positions, and volunteer services opportunities.

The overseas directory lists wide variety of job openings in Europe, South America and Africa. Tips on applying for a job, sample letters and resumes are also included.

The library hours are Monday through Thursday 10 a.m. to 9 p.m. and Friday and Saturday 10 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Coffee Hour
The Ladies Auxiliary of the South Windsor Little League will sponsor a "Get Acquainted Coffee" March 26 at 8 p.m. in the Society for Savings Bank on Ellington Rd.

Guest speaker will be Peter Cecchini, Little League president. All mothers of any youngster in Little League are invited to attend.

The auxiliary officers for this year are Marge Kimmy, president, Eloise Andrea, vice president, Mary Lou Kupchunas, secretary, and Irene Hantz, treasurer.

Committee chairman are bingo, Eloise Andrea, Barbara Cecchini, Peg Moriarty; concession, Irene Hantz and Marge Kimmy; dance, Eloise Andrea; field house and telephone committee, Peg Moriarty; Mary Noonan and Mariette Kennedy; field practices, Barbara Donahue; pictures, Sandy Elbert; publicity, Dolores Mercure.

LWV Reception
The South Windsor League of Women Voters is having a membership reception for interested members of the community on Thursday, March 13 at 8 p.m. in the Candlewood Apartments Community Room, 1256 Ellington Rd.

The LWV is a non-partisan organization whose purpose is to encourage the informed and active participation of its members, and all citizens, in government and politics.

Past local study items of the South Windsor League have been the needs of the town sanitary landfill, housing, project concern and recreation.

The current study item is public health services in South Windsor.

The South Windsor League, an affiliate of both the state and national LWV, is totally volunteer organization. It is open to both men and women of the community. For further information contact Daria Plummer, 644-8463.

Thrift Shop
The South Windsor Community Thrift Shop in the Sullivan Ave. Shopping Plaza will now accept handcrafted items to be sold on a consignment basis.

The shop will display a variety of crocheted or knitted items with ceramics also being displayed and on sale.

The Herald Area Profile

JOB HEALTH
NEW YORK (UPI) - Persons who are satisfied in their jobs have a much better chance of remaining healthy than those who are not, according to the Institute of Life Insurance. The institute says recent findings show that cardiovascular disease is much more likely to afflict those who are unhappy at their work than those who find satisfaction in it.

Tolland Sets Grade 8 Orientation

Vivian Kenneson
Tolland High School principals and guidance counselors invite parents of 8th grade students to an orientation meeting Monday beginning at 7:30 p.m. in the high school library.

Booster Dance Saturday
The Tolland Booster Club will hold its Fourth Annual Dance March 8 at St. Matthew's Parish Center from 8:30 to 1 a.m. Music is by the American Tradition and tickets are $8 per couple at the door or from any club member.

Marriage Growth Group
A marriage growth group, led by the Rev. Robert Tallent of the First Baptist Church, will begin March 7 from 7:30 to 9 p.m. at his home.

The purpose of the sessions, according to the Rev. Mr. Tallent, is to make good marriage better by helping couples develop better communication skills and self and spouse awareness. The series will be offered four Friday evenings in March.

More than 13,000 parking meters in Philadelphia are responsible for about $2 million in revenue annually.

Report Contends Lake Area Financial Asset To Coventry

Monica Shea
Correspondent
742-9495

After two years of work, the Lake Rehabilitation Study Committee has come out with the first in a series of four reports concerning the lake area.

The first report - Land Use - indicates that the lake, rather than being a financial loss to the town, as has been long assumed, is in fact a financial gain to the town.

This is largely due to two factors: (1) The lake area has only 75 children per house rather than the townwide average of 12 children per house and (2) that most of the roads in the lake area are owned and maintained by the lake associations and this consequently causes very little drain on the town road budget.

The report makes no recommendations at this time on whether the lake area should be severed, but draws the conclusions that certain constant recommendations could be made no matter what route is taken on sewers.

These recommendations are that the town require water saving devices on new construction restrict construction on unaccepted roads to seasonal dwellings only, eliminate the commercial zone on Rt. 31 opposite the town hall, enforce the Inland-Wetlands regulations, reduce the salt to sand ratio in the lake basin area during snow plowing to reduce the possibility of pollution of the lake, adopt soils and erosion control ordinances and designate the lake area as a rehabilitation area to encourage home improvements without additional tax assessments.

The report states if the lake area were severed and the current zoning regulations remained in effect, there would be a maximum of 2,089 buildable lots, but concludes that in reality and these lots could not be developed to this extent.

The 2,089 figure is based on the assumption that anyone who has excess land in lots to sell would do so.

If the zoning in the lake area were increased from R-15 (1,500 square feet) to R-30, 3,000 (square foot lots) then the number of buildable lots would drop to 816 even with sewers or to 464 lots with a one-acre zone.

The report also shows that two associations alone, Lakeside Terrace and Waterfront Manor have a total of 181 school age children and that both of these associations are within one half mile of Robertson Grammar School. If walkways were installed, a large percentage of these children could walk to school with a savings in bus transportation to the town.

The report is available at the Planning Office at the Town Hall, and will be distributed to the Planning and Zoning Commission, the Town Council, Conservation Commission and all lake association presidents.

Manchester Evening Herald OPINION Supply and Demand

The Costra, or Syndicate, is not particularly known for being a law abiding body. In fact it has a well-earned reputation for being downright illegal and criminal.

But there is one law that it follows and knows very well, and that is the law of supply and demand. Newsday has told the story of how closely they follow its dictates.

Cigarettes can be bought wholesale in North Carolina for $2.60 per carton and for only a little more in Virginia or Kentucky.

But in New York City, cigarettes wholesale at $4.80 per carton and in Long Island at $4.10. Both New York State and the City of New York have heavy cigarette taxes. The tax in the city is 26 per cent per package and on Long Island it is 18 cents per package. In the city the price per pack is 63 cents and on the island 45 cents.

Ever looking for a way to make an honest (?) dollar the Cosa Nostra boys could see that this was quite a spread — $2.60 wholesale in North Carolina and $4.80 in New York City.

While the figures may vary a little, the disparity between wholesale prices in the South and retail prices plus a heavy state cigarette tax of 21 cents a pack, makes Connecticut an attractive illegal market too.

So trucks and planes are carrying cigarettes, bought legally in the South, into New York City and State and Connecticut and are underselling the local wholesalers so badly that many of them have gone out of business.

And, of course the loss in tax revenue to the city and states is enormous — $133,000,000 last year it is estimated.

We don't point to this as exemplary, or a method of business activity in which you can stay out of trouble.

But we do wish that councilmen and supervisors and legislators, even the Congress and administration, would follow the law — supply and demand, that is — as closely as the Cosa Nostra does.

Talk About Your Problems

To the editor: I would like to commend the Manchester Evening Herald for the article on vandalism at Highland Park School. I believe if parents cared about their children vandalism would not happen.

Children get away with too much nonsense these days. When I grew up, several years ago, my parents required me to tell them where I was going, whom I was going with, what time I would be home and if I was later than the time required, why I was late. It might sound like it was too much at the time about the questions but it paid off in later years. I am glad my parents brought me up the right way. When I see kids act the way they do and get away with it, I wish they were my kids and things would be different.

If I had any problems when I was younger, my parents would sit down with me and talk things over but parents nowadays are too busy, going to parties, playing cards, and other things instead of sitting down and asking "Do you have any problems or is everything okay?" If parents would do so, we would not have kids that are on drugs, alcohol, pregnant teenagers, break-ins, etc. If kids cannot talk to their parents about their problems there are plenty of people who will listen to them: School counselors, ministers, and one other person who knows all their problems, that is God. He helps all, if you will let him.

Daley Wants Shriver

WASHINGTON — Only a relative handful of Sargent Shriver's pals, not necessarily including Shriver himself, want him to run for the Democratic Presidential nomination next year.

But one of those pals is Mayor Richard Daley of Chicago, and that makes Shriver a legitimate potential candidate. For Daley has just won a landslide Democratic primary victory in his bid for an unprecedented six consecutive four-year term in City Hall, and is a shoo-in to be re-elected April 1.

At this writing, Daley has not fingered George McGovern's 1972 running mate. But it is an open secret that Shriver has topped Daley's Presidential list ever since Sen. Teddy Kennedy withdrew from the race. Or, as a Daley confidant put it by telephone from Chicago: "Sure, Shriver is Daley's man — unless the mayor can persuade Kennedy to change his mind."

Daley sees Kennedy as a "sure-thing" candidate. But he's convinced that Shriver — as a member of the Kennedy clan in good standing — is his next bet. "Dick's got nothing against the other Democratic candidates," said the Mayor's crony. "He just wants somebody that can win, no matter who the Republicans put up."

Daley, of course, is not omniscient. But he has a record of backing successful contenders for the Democratic nomination. More important, in an era of declining political machines, Daley has shown that he still has enormous clout. He almost surely can deliver the big Illinois Democratic vote, and that will mean something to other power brokers as they study the party's roster of Presidential candidates.

With Dick Daley's all-out support, Shriver would have an excellent chance of going all the way.

Shriver and Daley have been close politically for more than 20 years. They became acquainted while Shriver was running the mammoth Merchandise Mart for his father-in-law, Joseph P. Kennedy, and Shriver was a Daley appointee as president of the Chicago School Board, in which post his competence won bipartisan support.

Several years ago, Shriver was Daley's choice to run for governor of Illinois, but Shriver by that time had departed Chicago for Washington.

As recently as last December, Daley saw to it that Shriver sat next to him at an awards luncheon of the Chicago Commission on Human Relations. After the eats, Shriver told reporters: "I'm not considering running at this time. I'm not making any effort. I have no organization, no campaign. I think it would be an unlikely development."

Shriver was saying the conventional thing. But he also left the door open. Asked what he'd do if approached (by Daley), Shriver replied there was "no question that if a political leader with his experience came to me and talked to me seriously about running for high office I'd give a tremendous amount of weight to that opinion. I'm not averse to running for public office."

Shriver feels the say today, to wit, that he'd find it hard if not impossible to say no to Dick Daley. "You can let that December statement stand," he said in an interview. "But you might add that Daley's victory was a good thing for Chicago and for our party. I think he's the best big city mayor in America. You'll note that Chicago's unemployment is about 2 per cent less than the national average. Daley has shown that a good mayor can make a big city work."

In short, Barkus is willing — even a little more willing — than he was in December. Shriver sounded like a bona fide candidate when he reminded the interviewer that on Human Relations. After the eats, Shriver told reporters: "I'm not considering running at this time. I'm not making any effort. I have no organization,

Hospital Credit Union Expands

The Manchester Memorial Hospital Credit Union has expanded its services to include employees of Rockville General Hospital, Credit Union President Charles Crocini announced today.

The action, ratified by credit union directors at their recent annual meeting, is considered of significant value to the union's continued growth, Crocini said.

Pioneer Reports a Better Year

Pioneer International Corp. of Manchester has reported a substantial increase in net sales and net income for its fiscal year ended Nov. 30, 1974.

Net sales for the year were $23.9 million, up 38 per cent over 1973's $17.5 million sales. Net income after taxes was $800,000 in 1974, up 49 per cent from 1973's $520,000. Net income per share was 49 cents in 1974, compared to 33 cents in 1973.

Town Dermatologist Opens Vernon Office

Robert D. Greenberg, M.D., has opened an office for the practice of dermatology at the Vernon Professional Building, Rt. 30, Vernon.

Dr. Greenberg attended the University of Michigan Medical School at Ann Arbor, graduating in 1967 with an M.D. degree. After interning at Barnes Hospital-Washington University School of Medicine (St. Louis), he did his dermatology residency at the University of Virginia Medical Center (Charlottesville).

He served as a major in the U.S. Army Medical Corps in West Germany. Greenberg is a fellow of the American Academy of Dermatology.

Bolton Man Elected To Insurance Post

Joseph F. Gately of 90 Cedar Mill Rd., Bolton, has been elected to a two-year term on the board of directors of the Independent Mutual Insurance Agents (IMA) of Connecticut, Inc.

Gately, treasurer of Powers-Bales-Vigra-Hallahan in Berlin, has been an IMA member since 1969 and serves on the organization's contract review committee.

Firms Report Sales, Income

Sage-Allen & Co. Inc. of Hartford has reported 1974 net income of $254,380 (23 cents per share) on sales of $53.7 million, compared to 1973 income of $587,521 (78 cents per share) on sales of $31.6 million.

The company said 1974 sales were the highest in history. The decline in earnings was attributed to ascending costs and shrinking consumer income.

Company directors declared a reduced quarterly dividend of six cents per share, payable April 1 to stockholders of record March 18. The previous regular quarterly dividend was 12 cents per share.

Gulf & Western Industries

Gulf & Western Industries Inc. has reported net earnings of $52.7 million in the second quarter of Fiscal 1975, compared to net earnings of $24 million in the same period a year ago. Revenues for the second quarter reached a record $643 million, compared to $534 million a year earlier.

Vernon Bank Names New Branch Manager

Joan M. Zawistowski has been named manager of the Vernon National Bank's Lafayette Square branch office, President James M. Troy has announced.

Mrs. Zawistowski replaces Frederick E. Vogel, who has assumed new duties at the bank's main office at Vernon Circle.

Joan Zawistowski

A native of Coventry, Mrs. Zawistowski attended Manchester High School, Morse School of Business, and the American Institute of Banking. She joined Vernon National in 1966 in the main office bookkeeping department. She subsequently became a teller and head teller, and in 1970 was named head teller at the Rockville branch. In 1973, she became head teller at the Lafayette Square branch.

Mrs. Zawistowski is a Tolland County 4-H leader, and a member of several horse owners' associations. She and her husband, Joseph, live at Driggs Rd., Vernon, with their son, Charles.

Four Billion

The Bic Pen Corp. of Milford has produced four billion ball pens since the firm was established in 1959, the company says.

"We had the best ball-point pen in 1959, and we have the best ball-point pen in 1975, but we have not stayed still," said Henry Rudolph, Bic's engineering director.

It's Three To One For Cutting The Cord

DEAR ABBY: This is in reference to the 25-year-old girl who signed herself "Over Protected." She wanted her own apartment, was able to support herself, but her mother said: "Only tramps have their own apartments. Nice girls live at home."

Abby, I had the same problem. Only my problem was my father. I was 23 when I wanted to move out of my parents' home and into my own apartment. I was able to support myself, but my father insisted that I wanted to move so I could have men running in and out of my apartment all hours of the night. In fact, after I moved, he even watched my apartment for weeks, hoping he could say to my mother: "See! I told you so!"

Well, it never happened. Abby, I was raised in a religious home where I was taught right from wrong, and I never forgot my upbringing. Parents should realize that grown children need to get out on their own, make their own decisions and become self-sufficient. And if they had the proper training and example, they will not be corrupted by temptation.

Your advice to "Over Protected" was great... "Cut the cord—and don't feel guilty."
"FREE, 24 AND RESPECTABLE"

DEAR FREE: Thanks. I needed that. Some parents wrote to tell me to drop dead with that kind of advice, but the mail is running three to one in my favor.

DEAR ABBY: A reader signed "Made My Plans" wrote that she wanted to leave her eyes and kidneys to medical science to benefit anyone who needed them after her death. Her problem was her daughter, who said: "I am not going to let them cut you up, etc."

I wish "Made My Plans" and her daughter could have been at our house last Sunday when my husband, who desperately needed a kidney transplant, was trying to explain to our five-year-old daughter why he was crying. He had just received a telephone call informing him that a donor kidney was available, and to please come to the hospital for a possible transplant. MRS. E. IN N.C.

P.S. Kidney and husband are both doing well. DEAR MRS. E.: Beautiful! Good luck to Mr. E. And God bless that donor.

DEAR ABBY: My wife keeps giving me a bad time because in church I use tissues for wiping my nose. She thinks I should use a handkerchief. It seems to me that in this modern day and age, tissues should be socially acceptable. What do you say? MAC

DEAR MAC: I'm with you. Tissues are not only more hygienic, but I should think your wife would appreciate your reducing her laundry load a wee bit. Everyone has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply, write to ABBY, Box No. 98700, L.A., Calif. 90069. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope, please. For Abby's booklet, "How to Have a Lovely Wedding," send $1 to Abigail Van Buren, 132 Lasky Dr., Beverly Hills, Calif. 90212. Please enclose a long, self-addressed, stamped (20¢) envelope.

PLO Attack Designed To Sabotage Talks

TEL AVIV (UPI) — Israeli officials said today the attack on Tel Aviv by Palestinian Liberation Organization guerrillas was an attempt to sabotage the new Middle East peace mission by Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger and to discredit Egypt.

PLO officials, in statements issued in Damascus, said the attack on the waterfront Savoy Hotel was aimed at making Kissinger realize the PLO must be a party to any Middle East settlement. Syria also opposes the new Egyptian-Israeli Sinai agreement. Kissinger is seeking and there was some speculation that he would visit Beirut, Syria may have been involved.

While Israel mourned its dead today, police said they were recovering the wreckage of the Savoy, seized for six hours by eight guerrillas, and discovered two more bodies, bringing the death toll to 15. Two more persons were missing. The dead included seven guerrillas, two soldiers and six civilians.

PLO commanders based in Beirut ordered their 15 refugee camps on maximum alert against any Israeli reprisals threatened by Israeli Premier Levi Eshkol, but observers in Tel Aviv believed any retaliation would not come during the Kissinger visit. Kissinger arrives in Aswan, Egypt, tonight and in Israel on Sunday.

Security forces held a 150-ton motorship — an aging wooden vessel with dirty white paint and red and white sails — and its six-man crew captured by the Israeli Coast Guard. Military sources described it as the ship used to drop off the guerrillas.

Nursing Home Rate Hike Data Said Incomplete

HARTFORD (UPI) — Testimony has disclosed a West Haven nursing home failed to provide financial information that would have prevented it from obtaining a rate increase last year.

The Commission on Hospitals and Health Care reacted Thursday by pledging to investigate the nursing home's owners, who apparently did not report they kept $200,000 out of a $1 million mortgage for themselves.

The commission said the Sound View Specialized Health Care Center would not have been given a $20,000 annual rate increase in March, 1974, had the commission known about the $200,000.

Henry S. Harrison, administrator and part owner of the 100-bed facility, revealed the 1971 transaction in sworn testimony before a legislative subcommittee probing nursing home abuses in Connecticut.

Sound View apparently did not report the $200,000 that went to its 10 owners, Edward Kar-naciewicz said, fiscal expert for the commission. A legislative bill regulates nursing home profits by setting daily rates based on operating costs.

Because interest payments on mortgages are considered part of operating costs, private and government-supported patients at Sound View have been footing the bill for the interest on the mortgage.

Sound View officers were asked to testify before the public health and safety subcommittee because in 1973 it reported a 34 per cent profit and one of the highest operating costs among the state's 209 nursing homes.

CCAG Bills Will Ask Nuclear Power Study

Hearings on nuclear power are slated for later this month at the State Capitol. Connecticut Citizen's Action Group is promoting several bills on nuclear power, one calling for a task force to make a one-year study of all aspects of nuclear power in Connecticut.

Other bills promoted by CCAG on this subject would require nuclear plant operators to disseminate information on procedures to be followed in the event of a nuclear accident and require utility companies to prove their atomic plants are safe before they can proceed with operating them at the State Capitol.

A film on the subject of nuclear power is available from CCAG for viewing prior to March 21. For a presentation including a question and answer period after the film, call Dave Winkler at CCAG in Hartford or Manchester. Bolton coordinator for CCAG, Joann Neath, Bolton.

POLICE REPORT

MANCHESTER
Theodore J. Walker, 26, of 106 Spruce St. was arrested today at 2:34 a.m. and charged with driving a motor vehicle while his license is suspended, police said.

Walker was taken to Common Pleas Court 12 in East Hartford today where bond and a court date were to be set.

Recent breaks and thefts reported include:
The Children's School at 645 Birch Mt. Rd. Wednesday night. Missing are a camera, projector, flute, and $45 in cash, police said.

A Devon Dr. home earlier this week. Police are not certain yet what is missing although the whole house was gone through.

The pocketbook of an employee of the Hix or Miss clothing store in the Parkade Thursday. There was over $100 in cash in it along with personal papers.

Organized Crime Task Force Reviewing Leasing Report
HARTFORD (UPI) — The head of the Federal Organized Crime Strike Force in Connecticut said today he cannot clear anyone in the state's property leasing scandal at this time because he has not finished analyzing the legislature's report on leasing.

Strike Force chief Paul C. Dorsey told UPI it may be two weeks or longer before he will be in a position to say whether his office will conduct a full-scale inquiry into leasing.

Harrison also said the home had suffered a $60,000 loss in 1972. But Karnaciewicz said the nursing home's reports to him last year showed a $70,000 profit.

"Either they lied to us in our cost reports that they submitted or they lied to the people (lawmakers), one of the two," he said.

Dorsey made his comment Thursday while testifying in Washington before a U.S. Senate judiciary subcommittee.

Tennis at Its Best

Each traded points to set up the 13th and deciding point and the more experienced Laver worked his way up to the net and dumped a drop shot that Stockton couldn't reach much to the dismay of the majority of fans still on hand.

The night got off to a good start with comic Bill Cosby, Chad Everett, Lioyd Bridges and Rob Reiner taking part with professionals by sending him out against Laver at the No. 1 player with the Americans.

White at First Base In Plans of Yankees

NEW YORK (UPI) Bill Virdon, who lost his last job largely because he failed to make Manny Sanguillen a rightfielder, is a man who believes in being persistent. This spring he's trying to make Roy White a first baseman.

The Yankees' manager, who has no place in the outfield for White because Lou Piniella, Elliott Maddox and Bobby Bonds are there, says he'll have White playing at first in the exhibition opener today against the Texas Rangers.

White has been agitating to get New York to trade him, but he's still there and Thursday Virdon said, "I would like to have White leading off every day."

"I don't know if Roy can play first base, but we have a month to find out," Virdon said.

It didn't take Virdon a month in 1973 to find out that Sanguillen, a catcher, couldn't replace Roberto Lemmie in rightfield at Pittsburgh—and ultimately, it was the failure of that move that helped lead to Virdon's dismissal in September of that year.

Where all of this maneuvering in New York will leave first baseman Chris Chambliss, who the Yankees traded for last year, remains to be seen.

Baseball Arrives

STORRS (UPI) — The University of Connecticut opens its 1975 baseball season with an eight game swing through Virginia and North Carolina beginning today. The Huskies, 12-9 last year, will meet Washington & Lee today and Saturday, Davidson, March 10-11, Wake Forest March 12-13, and March 14-15 at William & Mary. UConn returns April 4 at Holy Cross.

WINTER HAVEN, Fla. (UPI) — Red Sox Executive Vice President Dick O'Connell expressed hope Thursday the Major League Baseball Players Association will approve a second inter-league trade this month.

O'Connell said representatives of the owners are negotiating with the executive director of the association, Marvin Miller, in an effort to get the association's approval of the proposal — advanced by the owners at their winter meetings in New Orleans last December.

If the association gives the green light, the second period for trading between teams in the two major leagues would be adopted for March 16-31, giving the Red Sox an opportunity to complete a deal they had made verbally during the off-season.

O'Connell hasn't revealed who he would give away or who he expected to get, but the speculation centered around left-handed relief pitcher Tom Hall moving from Cincinnati to Boston for second baseman Doug Griffin.

O'Connell planned to confer Friday morning with Miller, who was due to appear in Winter Haven for his annual conference with the players. The Red Sox executive said preliminary negotiations have been conducted with Miller by the general counsel for the owners, John Geherin.

Meantime, the Red Sox played an intra-squad game Thursday and the Yankees defeated the Yankees, 2-0, in a six-inning game. Carlton Fisk, serving as the designated hitter, led the

When the Manchester Little League baseball program launches its 26th season May 11 there will be one new field. The International League will play all its games at the new ball diamond off Love Lane.

Jim Leber, president, reports the International Farm League will move on to the Verplanck Field and Charter Oak Park will be used by the Rookie League.

The American Farm League will call Buckland its home field with Valley Street reserved entirely for Rookie League competition.

Leber reports that the two recent sign-up sessions were disappointing and two more will be held at a later date. Trojans will be staged April 12-13 and if needed, on April 19-20.

Doubleheaders will be staged opening day at each field.

The annual townwide house-to-house canvass for funds will be held Sunday, May 18. A money-raising dinner-dance is listed June 7 at the Kacey Home.

Besides Leber, other officers will be: Frank Galasso, vice president; Skip Mikolaj, treasurer; Commissioners are Joe Des Rosiers, International League; John Weerdan, American League; Lou Pliver, National League; Jim Adams, Rookie League; Randy Hill will serve as Rookie secretary.

Women's Auxiliary will be both remaining for extra help. Other officers are: Carol Buehler, International League vice president; Beverly Woodhouse, National League vice president; Diane Weerdan, American League vice president; Judy Holmes, secretary, and Harriet Duff, treasurer.

BALTIMORE (UPI) — Joe Thomas, the general manager of the Baltimore Colts, said Thursday he had jumped the gun reporting this week when he earlier the Colts lost money in 1974.

Thomas also issued a flat denial that there are any plans to move the club.

The Colts general manager said Tuesday that the team showed a net loss last year for the first time in its 22 years in Baltimore. That was an error, Thomas said Thursday.

"This was based on preliminary estimates from the various phases of the club's operation," Thomas said.

Mexico today refused today an entry permit to the South African Davis Cup team, due to play here next month, because of South Africa's apartheid policy.

In a statement issued in the early hours, the Foreign Ministry said Mexico, which does not have diplomatic relations with South Africa, supported the United Nations to end racial discrimination.

The government said it had decided not to grant visas to the South African players and did not authorize the match, "in order to comply once again with its international obligations."

Miguel Osuna, president of Mexico's Tennis Federation, told UPI that after hearing the government's decision, the federation might decide to play the match in a neutral country, possibly the United States or Panama.

Osuna said he respects what the Mexican government has said. "I don't think it's our business to get involved in a political and sports issue that is not ours," he said.

Osuna said the decision to deny the visas would cost the Mexican Tennis Federation about $50,000.

The matches were scheduled for April 4, 5 and 6 at the Rafael Oquendo Stadium in Mexico City. The Mexicans qualified for the zone competition by upsetting the United States team last month in California.

South Africa won last year's Davis Cup zone competition by default after India's refusal to play the final because of the South African government's apartheid policy.

There are even more problems ahead. If the Mexicans do play the South Africans on neutral ground and win, they then face Colombia.

HARTFORD (UPI) — The New England Whalers announced Thursday that Paul Hurley is expected to be in action when the World Hockey Association team plays in Houston Saturday night.

The defenseman's leg injury has improved to the point that he will be able to take a regular shift, the Whalers said.

The team also announced that an eye injury suffered by Fred O'Donnell in the opening minute of the Minnesota game has improved to the point that he is expected to play in the Houston contest.

The Whalers come home after the Saturday game to begin a 10 game homestand Tuesday.

Pro Hockey Roundup

NEW YORK (UPI) — His team had just lost a good chance at a victory but Bob Pulford was far from upset.

The Los Angeles coach, who has a reputation for emphasizing defensive play, called the Kings' 2-2 tie with the New York Islanders in the only National Hockey League game Thursday night, "our best game in two weeks."

"There weren't many good scoring opportunities because of the two teams' defensive styles. But I like the kind of game I like. I think we can win if we play this kind of game," he said.

The Kings, now three points behind Montreal in the Division 3 race, held a 2-1 lead until Jude Drouin poked in a five-foot rebound in the 19th minute. The score was 2-2 to play. The score

Chuck Courtney Happy Way He's Hitting Ball

ORLANDO, Fla. (UPI) — Chuck Courtney, five years without a victory, was delighted at the way he was whacking the ball up close to the hole.

"It was definitely one of the best rounds I've ever played," said the 34-year-old veteran of 10 years on the pro tour, who went into today's second round of the $200,000 Citrus Open with a one stroke lead. "It was phenomenal as far as hitting the ball close to the hole. That's as close as I've ever hit it."

And young Pat Fitzsimons, who had his first taste of victory earlier this year in Los Angeles, said he's quite happy about just making the cut and started thinking about winning.

"You keep expecting the thrills of winning to diminish, but they don't," said the 24-year-old Oregon native who shared second place with little-known Mark Hayes at the start of the second round on the 6,929-yard, pine-laced layout at Rio Pinar Country Club.

Courtney, who won last at Tallahassee in 1969, shot a six-under-par 68 on opening day with seven birdies and one bogey, setting up five birdie putts of six feet or less.

Fitzsimons had a bogeyless round with five birdies for a 67.

Hayes, a four sophomore from Oklahoma who now lives in Lutz, Fla., hit seven birdies before bogeying his last two holes on the way to his 67.

"I had it in position several times, but I need to learn how to hit it home better," said the 24-year-old Oklahoma State product, whose best finish last year was a tie for fourth in the Bob Hope Desert Classic.

Australian Bruce Crampton, complaining his game has been erratic, shot an opening 68 to start the second round two strokes behind the leader, along with Jim Dent, Mike Reaser, Larry Hinson, Rick Massengale and Hale Irwin. Crampton, with six birdies and two bogeys, said his golf game "has been pretty good all year."

"In patches, it's been brilliant," he added. "It's just not consistent."

Jack Nicklaus and Johnny Miller are resting this week and Popular Arnold Palmer turned out to turn in an even par 72 and complained, "I have trouble with these greens."

Defending champion Jerry Heald also played par golf on opening day while Brian "Buddy" Allen, the 1973 Citrus champ, was in danger of missing the cut with a first-round 75.

Three strokes off the pace at 69 was a sextet comprised of Lee Trevino, Ron Smith, Bing Crosby Open winner Gene Littler, Jim Colbert, Rocky Thompson and Chi Chi Rodriguez.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The National Football League players union and leadership shakeup today with the possible retirement of veteran Bill Curry as president.

Curry said he would decide during a three-day meeting of team representatives this week whether to continue in the post, particularly since he may retire as an active player. His term of office has another year to run but Curry's predecessor, John Mackey, resigned when he quit pro football.

In addition to Curry, Kermit Alexander, NFC vice president of the NFL Players Association, may bow out because he is no longer in football.

Curry was waived by the Houston Oilers last season after the six-week player strike but caught on as a second-string center with the Los Angeles Rams. The former Green Bay and Baltimore player also has had knee surgery.

Should Curry and Alexander step down, their successors would come from a small group of active player union leaders such as Tom Keating, Alan Page, Ken Bowman, Willie Brown or Ed Podolski.

Curry, Alexander and NFLPA Executive Director Ed Garvey played leading roles in last year's strike which ended without a contract settlement with the owners.

Curry said the negotiating impasse was discussed at the first meeting and that he was taking soundings on whether the players were still standing by their previous "freedom issue" demands which figured prominently in the strike.

At the opening session, the delegates and alternates from the 26 teams also heard presentations by two spokesmen from the NFL Players Alumni Association — Leon Hart and Bill Dudley. The alumni have been at odds with the union in recent years on grounds the association has failed to do enough for former players in the earlier days as far as pensions and other retirement benefits are concerned.

NHS Inducts New Members

On Feb. 28 the Verplanck Chapter of the National Honor Society inducted its new members from the classes of 1975 and 76. Keynote speaker for the event was Dr. James Kennedy, Manchester superintendent of schools.

Dr. Kennedy stressed responsibility, knowing one's goals and communication with others. He urged students to "pick up the leadership role."

In speaking of the future, Dr. Kennedy stated that students must realize their goals and "reach for them." He finally said that as they grow older, they must be able to take the initiative and insure the fact that others will follow.

Mike Lombardo, vice president, concerned himself with scholarship. Unfortunately, as he says, "survival seems to be almost in people's minds," and scholarship has "taken a back seat to the visible and pragmatic."

Character was the basic theme of the speech by Rabbi Leon Wind, from Temple Beth Shalom, gave the invocation. Principal George Emmerling welcomed the students and their parents were invited to come and talk over their course selections and over-all high school plans with teachers and counselors. Both junior and senior high school classes were present.

Things to see at the InfoRama included a painting and poetry exhibition by the art department, various science displays, and a mock-up engine.

Senioritis Hits Epidemic Size!

Mid-years have been passed. Final transcripts are being sent to colleges. Graduation is coming into view. The situation is ripe for a severe outbreak of that dreaded adolescent malady: Senioritis.

Each year, administrators, teachers, and underclassmen find themselves against the shock wave of apathy which sweeps over the school.

Having learned the art of doing as little as possible to get by in the school system, the senior student now reaches his artistic peak. For all intents and purposes, he does absolutely nothing.

If he positively has to report on a classic book for class, he copies the report for a junior who got it from an older brother who wrote it after skimming the Monarch Notes on the book.

And if, while writing a job application, he is asked to describe his past work, he copies the resume of a friend who has done a better job.

World in the middle of a French class, his teacher asks him a question he doesn't understand and he says "I don't know." He fails, MHA Counselor Dominic Squatrito said today.

The four-acre parcel is owned by Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Little.

ECHS Busing Item May Go Into Budget of Directors

The Board of Directors may remove a $97,000 school busing item from the proposed school budget of the Board of Education and put it in its own budget.

The item is the state-mandated provision of busing for students of private schools.

Talk of switching budgets for the item came Thursday night as the two boards met to discuss the school budget.

The school system is spending about $96,000 this year to provide busing for private schools at the elementary level, the most of it for parochial schools in town, said Dr. James Kennedy, superintendent.

There are about 400 Manchester students attending East Catholic High School, he said. Recent state law requires the town begin busing them to their school.

The busing is expected to cost the town another $61,000, or about $150 per student, Dr. Kennedy said.

Mayor John Thompson said mayors in the state have been fighting the item but did not realize how expensive it is. He said he thought the cost was $80 per student.

Ray Demers, business manager for the school system, said the higher cost is due to busing the 400 students from every part of town to an edge of town. There are far more miles to go per student, he said.

The mayor then suggested putting the whole private school busing item in the town budget.

"There might be a tendency for this item to get lost in your budget," he said.

Thompson said he would continue arguing with the state about laws mandating towns begin programs without the state paying for them. State aid for busing ECIS students will be only about $8,000, Dr. Kennedy said.

John Yavis, chairman of the school board's finance committee, said the board would not mind dropping the item. The towns of Bloomfield and West Hartford also handle the private school busing items the same way, he said.

Taking the item out of the school board's budget would mean its budget proposal would be only 9.6 per cent higher than the town budget, he said.

Yavis also noted this cut as well as expected increases in school revenues from state and federal grants will mean the town would not need four more mills in the property tax. It might not be even as high as three more mills, he said.

Talk of switching budgets for the busing item ended with Kennedy smiling pointed at the directors, and said, "When the bus doesn't show up..."

Negotiations Said Broken Between MHA and Littles

The Manchester Housing Authority (MHA) will have to change its master plan for building elderly housing on Spencer St. because a deal to buy part of the land there has failed, MHA Counselor Dominic Squatrito said today.

The four-acre parcel is owned by Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Little.

and had been designated as the site for immediate construction of the first 40 units of elderly housing. The MHA's architect, Dominic Cimino of Hartford, is working on an assignment to build a parcel housing on just the six-acre parcel, which the MHA received from Edward Rogin of Hartford.

The MHA has been trying to negotiate a purchase agreement with the Littles for several months, and last month it appeared that an agreement was near.

But Little has refused to sign the agreement - which called for a purchase price of about $200,000 - and MHA is abandoning efforts to acquire that property, Squatrito said.

The door is still open for future negotiations, though, Squatrito said.

Squatrito said the recent developments mean the MHA won't need as much money as had sought from the Town of Manchester. Purchase price of the six-acre Rogin tract is $150,000.

A master plan for developing both the Little and Rogin tracts was approved by the town last month, called for long-range construction of 319 housing units. The first 40 units, funded by a $640,000 state grant, would have been placed on the Little property.

Court Ruling Threatens Major Road Projects

WASHINGTON (UPI) - Federal Highway Administration Administrator Norbert T. Tiemann has told a House Public Works subcommittee an appellate court ruling on environmental impact statements threatens all major federal highway construction in New York, Connecticut and Vermont, he said today.

Tiemann generally endorsed the appellate ruling on environmental impact statements regarding construction projects.

The FHWA administrator's testimony was in contrast to that of Wednesday by Russell Peterson, chairman of the Council on Environmental Quality, who opposed Howard's bill and urged that the issue be remedied through administrative action.

A ruling Dec. 11 by the Second U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals halted construction on a Vermont highway because it said the impact statement, prepared in part by the state, did not meet requirements of the National Environmental Policy Act, adding that the federal government must prepare its own impact statement.

"The result of this decision has been to practically stop all new approvals of highway construction in New York, Connecticut and Vermont...," Tiemann said. All other town school districts will close Monday, June 23.

Deakin said that state authorities would have allowed a reduced school year at MHS, but the town would not receive one day's worth of state financial aid, estimated at about $3,000.

"We can't afford that," Deakin said.

State law requires a 180-day year to be completed in Manchester Thursday, June 19, but the school year would close on Tuesday, June 23.

Deakin said that state authorities would have allowed a reduced school year at MHS, but the town would not receive one day's worth of state financial aid, estimated at about $3,000.

"We can't afford that," Deakin said.

MHS School Year Extended a Day

Students at Manchester High School will have to attend classes an extra day in June to make up a partial school day lost Dec. 2 due to an electrical power failure at the school, said Wilson Deakin today.

The last day of school at MHS will be Tuesday, June 24, Deakin said. All other town school districts will close Monday, June 23.

Board Has Busy March Schedule

The Manchester Board of Directors has an unusually busy schedule this month with meetings scheduled each Tuesday, and then some.

Normally, it meets twice a month with the first meeting for public hearings on its agenda items, the second Tuesday for actions on those items.

It already has met twice this month. On Tuesday, it held its regular meeting at 8 p.m., preceded by a 7:15 informal session with the Human Relations Commission. On Thursday, it met with the Board of Education to discuss charter-managed discussion of the proposed school budget.

Next Tuesday, the directors will continue their regular meeting recessed from last Tuesday, again at 8 p.m. Preceding it, at 7:15, they will meet informally with the superintendent of highways and sanitation, to be briefed on departmental problems and plans.

On March 18, the board will continue its review of the controversy which erupted when the town manager announced the appointment of a personnel supervisor. It will attempt to resolve a dispute over the metering procedure the town is using in billing the Eighth District sewerage fees. The 8:30 meeting is for reviewing a proposal for formation of a Manchester-South Windsor Health District.

As of today, the board has nothing further scheduled until its April 1 regular meeting.

Kiwanis Club and Onar Shrine Club treat about 110 school children to special performance of Shrine Circus at Bushnell Memorial, Hartford.

A new 30-inch, two-faced clock is installed in front of Manchester Trust Co. and the large four-faced clock at Main and St. James Sts. will soon be removed and probably offered for sale by the bank.

The alternative to conventional small cars.

How wide is Pacer? Wider than Nova. Wider even than Granada. AMC's new Pacer is so wide, it gives you more front seat shoulder room than Duster or Maverick. Plus more leg room, front and rear, than the 2-door Torino or Fury.

And speaking of wide, only Pacer is backed by the wide, wide coverage of the exclusive AMC BUYER PROTECTION PLAN.*

So—if you're looking for an alternative to conventional small cars—see your AMC Dealer today!

South should have seen that there was no way to avoid the spade loser, but that there was a proper time to lose it. South should simply have discarded one of dummy's spades, instead of wasting a trump honor on West's nine.

"I guess it was for the same reason that people want to climb a mountain. The trick was there for the taking."

You can get killed climbing mountains. You can get broke taking the wrong trick.

The defense started with three rounds of diamonds. West stuck his rather useless nine of trumps on his partner's lick and South promptly overruled with dummy's 10 spot. Then he went after trumps. The finesse worked nicely, but when it came down to trying to pick up the king, his majesty refused to fall South won using a trump, two diamonds and a spade.

GARDENING

By FRANK ATWOOD

The Szatkowski of Bush Hill Rd. make maple syrup in their back yard. Nancy, 12, pours cold sap into the "evaporator pan" and Bobby, 14, adds wood to the fire. After the syrup is partly boiled down it will be finished by Mrs. Szatkowski on the kitchen stove. (Herald photo by Dunn)

The sky was overcast and a cold wind was carrying with it a few fresh snowflakes when we visited the Robert Szatkowski family at their home on Bush Hill Rd., but it was a fine day for "sugaring."

Maple sap was running at a good clip from the 11 taps that Mr. Szatkowski had made, six on his own trees and five on trees belonging to his neighbor, Leslie Buckland, whose address is around the corner on Hillstown Rd.

It is a family project in which the parents and five children are all involved. With fewer taps last year they made 25 gallons of maple syrup and should, with good weather, produce more this year. The firewood was cut, partly by Mr. Szatkowski, from limbs left in Mr. Buckland's woods when some large trees were cut for saw logs.

Activity centers around a homemade arch at the edge of the family vegetable garden. Two pieces of steel I-beam form the sides, and a flat steel plate provides a base to the fire box. Bricks, laid up with garden mud, provide insulation and direct the flame against an aluminum kettle, once the bottom of a pressure cooker, in which the sap boils.

Boiling the sap as soon as and as rapidly as possible is the key to making high quality maple syrup. Another trick is to stop boiling the syrup at the right time. Mrs. Szatkowski takes this responsibility. She takes the syrup off the outdoor fire when it is "half done," she thinks, and finishes it on the electric range in the kitchen where she can control the heat. She could use a candy thermometer, but she trusts her eye to tell her when the syrup runs off the side of a spoon at the right degree of stickiness.

Uses Small Jars
The syrup is then bottled, hot, in glass jars that hold a pint or less and have tight covers. She likes to have a jar used quickly when it has been opened. There will be enough so it can be used liberally on pancakes or French toast and it will save a little, surely, on the Szatkowski bill for sugar.

Mr. Szatkowski has his own machine shop business and a well-equipped hobby shop at home where he makes model airplanes. He has used his mechanical skills to devise an unusual sap-collecting system. He taps the trees with an electric drill. Then he drives in a spout which is a short piece of hard-wood dowel purchased from a building supplier, of the right diameter to fit the hole he has drilled in the tree.

The dowel, in turn, has had a hole bored through the center with an electric drill so that it becomes a piece of wooden pipe. A plastic tube that fits the center hole is brought down to the mouth of a plastic one-gallon bottle standing on the ground, actually a used milk container. The sap runs through the tube into the container.

Wind was a problem when Mrs. Szatkowski was using the plastic bottles on the side of the tree, as he had done until this year. They might blow away and be found across the road while the wasted sap dripped on the ground. Standing on the ground, they stay put.

The Szatkowski formerly lived in East Hartford, moving to their present home in 1968. In March crocus leaves have pushed up through the ground and there will soon be blossoms, to be followed by daffodils and later by Oriental poppies, irises and peonies. There is a good-sized strawberry patch, although perhaps not potatoes this year. "Beetles got them," says Mr. Szatkowski of his potato crop last year.

Flower Show
The Worcester County Horticultural Society's spring flower show, a small but always excellent exhibit, opened today and runs through Tuesday, 30 at the society's exhibit hall, 30 Elm St., Worcester, a left turn off Main St.

The Boston Flower Show will be held from Saturday, March 15, through Sunday, March 23, at the Commonwealth Armory. The opening hour Saturday is noon. Sunday hours are 1 to 4. Hours on other days are 10 to 10.

Parking is a problem on Commonwealth Ave. The publicity material from the show suggests driving downtown and leaving your car in the underground parking garage at the Boston Common, then coming back to Commonwealth Avenue by subway train.

Open Government Topic For ASPA Dinner-Meeting

"Open Government: Do We Have It or Need It?" will be the topic of discussion March 19, when the Connecticut Chapter of the American Society for Public Administration conducts a dinner-meeting at the University of Hartford.

It will be in Congras Center on the campus, with a social hour at 5:15, dinner at 6 and the program at 7. The program is free of charge. Reservations to the dinner may be made by writing the Connecticut Chapter ASPA, care of University of Hartford, 1380 Asylum Ave., Hartford, 06183.

Co-chairmen of the evening are Manchester Town Manager Robert Weiss and Joseph Tyler of 444 W. Middle Tpke. Tyler is a free-lance newsman and radio commentator and formerly worked for the Connecticut Department of Community Affairs.

The American Society for Public Administration is an organization concerned with the improvement of education for public officials, their in-career training and their performance. It is concerned also with the development and implementation of policy and the economical, efficient and equitable delivery of services by public agencies.

Panelists March 19 will be State Rep. Martin Burke of Rockville; State Rep. Russell Post of Avon; Charles Morse, city editor of the Hartford Courant; Marc Caplan, director of the Connecticut Citizen Action Group, and Phillip Walker, a Hartford attorney.

WILDLIFE REFUGE
SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Passage by Congress of a new law has assured protection for the Farallon Islands, an important wildlife refuge 28 miles west of the Golden Gate.

The legislation designated 141 acres of the windswept island group's total of 211 acres as wilderness. The three northern islands have been a federal wildlife sanctuary since 1963.

Thousands of sea birds, including the endangered brown pelican, and sea mammals, such as sea lions and seals, inhabit the islands.

Mideast Peace Quest Resumed by Kissinger

ASWAN, Egypt (UPI) — Secretary of State Henry Kissinger, vowing to stay in the Middle East until he achieves "definite progress" toward peace, met President Anwar Sadat today at his vacation home overlooking the Nile.

Arriving for the first leg of what could be a marathon diplomatic shuttle, Kissinger said, "I came to Egypt because I believe progress toward peace is possible. I'll do my very best, and I plan to stay in the area until we have achieved definite progress."

His first job is to get Egypt's concrete proposals for an agreement that would pull Israeli forces back from the strategic Gidi and Mitla Passes and from the Abu Rudeis oil field in the Sinai peninsula.

Sunday, Kissinger will meet the Egyptian proposals to Israeli Prime Minister Yitzhak Rabin and his cabinet. He planned to stop in Damascus first to talk with Syrian President Hafez Assad to try to blunt his opposition to the five foreign Israeli accord that does not include Syria.

Accord officials believe Egypt and Israel have put themselves into such a position that reaching an agreement would be the best thing to do. Both countries have prepared public opinion for it.

A senior American official, however, said Kissinger still was not sure about the major details and was uncertain whether he could bring it about.

In exchange for an Israeli withdrawal, John F. Shea Jr., a Superior Court judge and close friend of Reardon's, took the room after dinner to assume his duties as toastmaster for the evening. He began with several stories he said were true. They made the crowd roar with laughter.

Reardon, 63, retired Feb. 28 after serving 16 years as the fourth police chief in Manchester. Before that, he had served in the state police for over 23 years. The testimonial Friday night was a well-oiled weeks ago. The people came early and stayed late.

The well-wishers present might have been a "who's who" list of Manchester people and a "who's who" list of area and state policemen.

A Prayer and Jokes
The Rt. Rev. Msgr. Edward J. Reardon, pastor of St. James Church, said a prayer before dinner was served.

As everyone was sitting down, the pastor, a longtime friend of the chief's, began a quick series of anecdotes and jokes that set the tone for the rest of the evening.

First he noted that he and "Jim" have always had an understanding. "He took care of the traffic down here and let me take care of the traffic up there."

As the waitress began the task of serving a fine roast beef dinner, the pastor said everyone observing Lent could "dispense" with it for the evening.

Watch Where You Fly those Kites

March is traditionally kite flying weather and Friday was an ideal day for it at the Manchester High School grounds. However, Frank Carlson of 28 Hamlin St. did not enjoy the solitary use of the kite air space for long as shown in the picture at the left.

Apparently he was joined by other kites and a triple-cross of kite strings resulted in the unsnarling problem in the picture to the right. Involved in the untangling task, from left, are: Frank's brother, Kurt; Frank and Paul Litrico of 60 Hamlin St. P.S. — A safety tip for kite flyers: Untangling kite strings is tedious but harmless. However, tangling of kite strings and power lines can be dangerous. (Herald photos by Dunn)

Republicans Told To Broaden Party

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The elite of the Republican party, promised a middle-of-the-road victory next year by President Ford, shifted its attention today to the GOP's leading advocate of a turn to the right.

Former Gov. Ronald Reagan of California was the windup speaker for the 1975 Republican Leadership Conference, which drew 3,000 diners Friday night to hear Ford declare: "I intend to run for President. I intend to win."

The audience was bombarded in its first day's sessions with warnings that the GOP must reach out for converts among the Democrats and independents.

"We must discard the attitude of conservatism that has kept the Republican party's door closed to opening it open," the President said.

"We must erect a tent that is big enough for all who care about this great country and believe in the Republican party enough to work through it for common goals."

Rebels Stage Major Attack
PHNOM PENH (UPI) — Rebel forces staged a major attack on a vital army headquarters six miles northwest of Phnom Penh today. The government rushed up reinforcements and claimed 143 insurgents were killed in the fighting around the base near Prek Phear. On the other side of the besieged capital an estimated 1,000 government troops were bogged down in swampland half a mile short of rebel artillery and rocket positions around battered Pochentong airport.

Army Moves In
LISBON (UPI) — Portugal's military leaders today moved army units into the port town of Setubal where police fired into a crowd of demonstrators trying to disrupt a left-wing political rally. Police said 16 persons were injured.

Friends Honor Reardon

A packed banquet hall filled with well over 400 people at The Colony on Rt. 83, Vernon gave Manchester Police Chief James M. Reardon a laugh-filled, tear-filled send-off to retirement Friday night.

Oil Floor Price Proposal Rejected by Energy Agency

PARIS (UPI) — The 18-nation International Energy Agency has rejected a call by Secretary of State Henry Kissinger for a floor price under oil.

The IEA ended a two-day meeting Friday by opting for what it termed a "safety net" to guarantee the development of other energy sources if oil prices plunged drastically.

The American delegation had proposed either an oil floor price or a common tariff on oil imports as security against a drastic dip in oil prices.

There will be no common external tariff," IEA chairman Etienne Davignon of Belgium said. "There is not going to be a fund (to develop alternative energy sources). There will be no floor price. We are thinking of a safety net concept."

Kissinger has indicated he would like a floor price of $8 a barrel. Some IEA members would prefer paying much less. Oil's price has quadrupled in its present, more than $10 a barrel since the October, 1973 Middle East war.

Bus Driver Contract Deadline March 25

HARTFORD (UPI) — An agreement will have to be reached on a new contract for bus drivers of the Connecticut Co. by the end of the month to avoid a possible repeat of the four-month bus strike two years ago.

The union said no meaningful proposals have been offered so far to replace the contract that expires March 25 and indicated that drivers will walk out unless a new agreement is reached then.

The Greater Hartford Area forecast: Windy, becoming colder this afternoon with rain, showers turning into snow flurries. High in the low 30s and low tonight in the 20s. Partly cloudy Sunday and continued cold with some snow flurries. High in the 30s.
