Bake St. Patrick's Day Cookies

With the wearin' of the green, Mrs. Joan Young in a green dress and green striped apron (she's Irish, too) helps members of her kindergarten class at Buckley School prepare for a St.

Patrick's Day party as she spoons dabs of cookie dough onto a cookie sheet ready for baking. While Lee Wichman, right, reads directions from a cookie book, Craig Fichtel,

Mideast Peace Shuttle Enters Round Three

TEL AVIV (UPI) — Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger flew off today toward Aswan, Egypt—and an Egyptian sandstorm—for round three of his shuttle diplomacy search for a new Israeli-Egyptian accord on further Israeli withdrawal in the Sinai Desert.

Kissinger said he had a "very good and constructive" meeting with Israeli negotiators today, but Israeli newspapers reflected dissatisfaction at the Egyptian proposals Kissinger brought here Friday. The Jerusalem Post said Kissinger also was disappointed that the Israeli cabinet had not taken any significant new decisions Sunday.

Kissinger breakfasted with Israeli Prime Minister Yitzhak Rabin and then met the full Israeli negotiating team for 90-minutes to get the answers he hopes will keep his mission going. He had a green light from the Israeli cabinet to continue negotiations but it was unclear what proposals he was taking back to President Anwar Sadat as he began his third shuttle between the two countries.

"It was a very good and constructive meeting this morning," Kissinger told newsmen. "We reviewed once again the ideas which I brought from Egypt and the Israeli reaction as well as the considerations which the Israeli cabinet are asking me to take to Egypt."

Egyptian officials said in Aswan that Egypt expects tough bargaining on terms of a second-stage disengagement agreement with Israel and that Kissinger's third shuttle "will mark the start of real haggling and one can expect the going to be rough."

This could go on for a week or more, and the tempo of Kissinger's shuttling is expected to become quicker, they said.

Sen. Fears Economic Impact of Bottle Proposal

HARTFORD (UPI) — Sen. Audrey P. Beck, D-Storrs, said today a bill banning no deposit-no return bottles would harm the already troubled economy in her district and would have few economic advantages.

Mrs. Beck told the Environmental Committee that the issue is not one of wasting bottles but one of how bottles are recycled.

"It is a question of the form in which bottles are returned," she said. "It is a question of returning whole bottles versus returning smashed bottles."

Rep. Alan J. Mazzola, R-Willimantic, said that the measure would through 750 employees of the Glass Container Corp. in Dayville out of work, nearly three quarters of its work force.

"I am not ready to make that kind of trade-off," Mazzola told the committee. Mrs. Beck said the Dayville plant has Kissinger will bring back Sadat's response Tuesday afternoon.

On Kissinger's way here last Friday, a senior official said Israel would have to come up with something new for Sadat to keep the negotiations going.

pioneered the use of cullett, or crushed glass, in making new bottles and is the largest glass recycling plant in the United States.

"The total effort of Glass Container in Dayville is considered by the federal government the most advanced experiment in glass recycling in the nation," she said. "But it needs a given volume of glass production to produce an economically viable recycling effort."

The ban could undermine the effort of the Dayville plant, she said, and the gasoline needed to provide trucking for an elaborate bottle returning system could eliminate eliminate any potential energy savings.

U.S. Government Wins Off-Shore Oil Rights

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Supreme Court ruled 8 to 0 today that the federal government alone has oil drilling rights in nearly 200,000 square miles of the Atlantic Ocean beyond the three-mile limit.

The ruling means the United States can immediately resume preparations to grant leases for exploring the Atlantic to determine where potentially vast amounts of oil are located.

In asking the high court to affirm federal ownership of the offshore oil rights, the Interior Department said the potential fuel reserves could help ease the energy shortage in the coming decade.

The justices accepted a special master's report which rejected claims by 12 Atlantic Coast states that their colonial charters granted them title to seabeds up to 100 miles off their shores.

Justice Byron R. White wrote the court's opinion. Justice William O. Douglas, who is recovering from a stroke, did not participate.

In a separate companion case, the justices ruled that Florida also must obey the three-mile limit established in the Atlantic by Congress. Florida had claimed its constitution permitted jurisdiction up to 30 miles offshore.

The court referred back to a special master more technical questions about how far out Florida can control Gulf of Mexico seabeds.

The justices had ruled in 1960 that Florida had historic title to 10 miles of Gulf seabeds, but the state and the federal government were contesting how the boundary was drawn in the Florida Bay.

New Isolationism Concerns President

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Ford today warned against a "new isolationism" in U.S. foreign policy and said foreign aid must be continued for both diplomatic and humane reasons.

Ford took his foreign policy and economic recovery messages to South Bend, Ind., and told a University of Notre Dame audience developing nations "must be able to defend themselves. They must have the assurance that America can be counted upon to provide the means of security as well as the means of sustenance."

The President's address, in conjunction with his receiving an honorary doctor of laws degree, was to be followed by meetings with regional news executives and governors.

The Notre Dame speech was released in Washington. While it did not mention the controversial subject of aid to Indochina, White House sources indicated Ford might depart from the text, possibly to urge Congress to approve emergency aid for Cambodia. There were indications during the weekend Ford might settle for far less than the $222 million he first asked for.

His speech stressed the need for interdependence among nations and America's "moral commitment" to help starving and technically underdeveloped countries.

"The answers to the world food problem are to be found in interdependence," Ford said. "We can and will help other nations. But simplistic paternalism may do more harm than good. Our help must take the form of helping every nation to help itself."

NEWS CAPSULES

Shamrock Bombs

BELFAST (UPI) — Police in British-ruled Northern Ireland warned residents today to beware of bombs in their shamrock cards on St. Patrick's Day.

During a weekend of violence that left four persons dead, postal workers Saturday found six booby-trapped green greeting boxes labeled "Happy St. Patrick's Day" and defused them. Most were meant for Roman Catholics in this predominantly Protestant province.

Search Resumed

SUFFIELD (UPI) — Authorities began searching a wooded area of Suffield today for a downed airplane believed piloted by Connecticut massage parlor operator Martin Ross and a female companion.

Police said a weak electronic radio signal believed from the downed plane was pinpointed to a large wooded area covering part of Suffield and the nearby towns of Agawam and Southwick, Mass.

Ross, 35, of Bloomfield and Donna Hoadley, 21, of Norwich have been missing since late Wednesday when their Cessna 150 left Groton Airport in Trumbull in inclement weather.

Body Found

GALENA, Ill. (UPI) — The nude, frozen body of Joseph Didier, was discovered by two scout troop members checking a cabin at a Boy Scout camp near the Wisconsin state line Saturday. The eighth-grade son of a Rockford alderman was abducted two weeks ago when he was delivering newspapers. It has not been determined how long the youth had been dead.

Plans New Cabinet

LISBON (UPI) — Portugal's new strongman Prime Minister Vasco Goncalves told his ministers Sunday the cabinet would be dissolved in the next few days. A new one will then be formed to carry out leftwing policies. The military regime, over the weekend, nationalized all Portuguese-owned insurance companies following the expropriation of the nation's commercial banking system.

Federal Agents Probing Possible Overcharges

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Federal investigators are looking into the possibility of petroleum pricing conspiracies during last winter's Arab oil embargo which may involve billions of dollars.

"The investigation could result in tens of millions of dollars in overcharges being returned to consumers," said a Federal Energy Administration spokesman.

Officials said Sunday subjects of the investigation included kickbacks and payoffs to brokers, excessive brokerage fees, excessive transportation or handling costs, violations of regulations governing distribution of available supplies, and unnecessary unloading or physical movement to increase costs.

An American Petroleum Institute statement said it "cannot dismiss the possibility" of some violations, but "we reject the implications that the nation's oil companies have been parties to a massive conspiracy that has resulted in alleged overcharges of from $1 to $3 billion."

Spokesmen for the U.S. Customs Service and FEA said the investigation had two main thrusts:

—Investigation by customs agents at 40 ports around the nation of possible document falsification by importers and suppliers to double the apparent cost of foreign oil shipped into the United States.

—A three-way FEA investigation of alleged manipulations by oil suppliers, shippers and brokers that may have raised petroleum product prices as much as 300 per cent between refineries and consumers such as electric power utilities, hospitals and schools.

FEA officials said it had been alleged that one utility company alone was overcharged $15 million. Sources said total overcharges uncovered in both investigations might run at least as high as $1 billion. The Washington Post reported it could be as much as $3 billion.

FEA sources said a major announcement is planned soon. The Post reported grand juries have been convened in Jacksonville, Fla., New York and Los Angeles in connection with the customs' probe. The story said other grand juries might be called in Houston, Philadelphia, Baltimore and Boston.

Manchester Farmer Seeks Extension Of Trailer Variance

A zone variance granted to Manchester farmer Alex Yakaitis a year ago—allowing him to house seasonal farmworkers in a trailer on his land—comes before the Zoning Board of Appeals (ZBA) again tonight.

Tonight's ZBA public hearing agenda includes a request by Yakaitis to renew a one-year permit to house agricultural workers during the farming season at 406 Burnham St.

Last February, the ZBA unanimously granted the variance to Yakaitis, over objections of his neighbors. Two of the neighbors—David and Mary Frazier of 396 Burnham St.—took the matter to court, and their legal challenge of the ZBA decision is still pending.

The ZBA public hearings are scheduled to start tonight at 7 in the Municipal Building Hearing Room. Other items on the agenda:

• George Negro is seeking extension of a one-year permit to park up to 18 buses on his property at 775 Vernon St. Such a temporary variance has been granted twice before by the ZBA.

• Barney Peterman is petitioning for a special exception to convert a two-family house at 73-75 Union St. into a four-family house. Peterman intends to build an addition to the existing Residence C Zone structure, according to his application.

• The Talcottville Development Co. is again seeking a variance to erect a larger-than-allowed sign near Interstate 88 to advertise the new Quality Inn motel on Tolland Tpke. The company's first request was denied by the ZBA two months ago.

• Gulf Oil Co. is seeking a special exception for approval of extending its location area and changing a service station structure at 250 W. Middle Tpke.

Onassis Interment To Be on Skorpis

PARIS (UPI) — Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy Onassis, now twice widowed, will take the body of millionaire Aristotle Onassis to Greece Tuesday for burial on the shipping magnate's private island of Skorpis, a family spokesman said today.

Only airport officials said a special Boeing 727 of Onassis's Olympic Airways was scheduled to leave for Greece with Onassis' body, his widow and his daughter, Christina, between 9 a.m. and 10 a.m. Tuesday.

Legal experts in Athens said most of his half-billion dollar fortune was expected to go to Christina, 24, but that Mrs. Onassis might inherit as much as $125 million.

Some legal sources familiar with the Onassis fortune said, however, the multimillionaire gave his wife $10 million when they were married and she renounced any claims on his estate.

Onassis associates said the aircraft carrying the body will land at Aktion, an airport near Skorpis, the island which Onassis bought in 1963.

From Aktion, scene of the naval battle in 31 B.C. where Augustus Caesar defeated Mark Antony, the body, accompanied by members of the Onassis family and household, will be placed on a hearse for the 10-mile ride to the fishing port of Nidri.

Nidri lies across the bay from Skorpis and the last part of the journey will be made by motor launch, a spokesman said.

Onassis died of bronchial pneumonia in the American Hospital in Paris Saturday after five weeks of treatment.

John Kennedy, Jr., and Caroline Kennedy, the children of the late President, flew to Aktion via Athens today. The two children, who were accompanied by Mrs. Hugh Auchinloss, mother of Mrs. Onassis, will go from Aktion to Skorpis by helicopter, an Olympic spokesman said.

A motorboat will take the body to the small 200-year-old chapel of Panagista amidst orange and cypress trees and flowers that Jacqueline herself planted overlooking the Ionian Sea.

In the chapel, dedicated to the Virgin Mary, Onassis married the widow of President Kennedy in 1968 and buried his beloved son Alexander in 1973.

Onassis, a painted ancient ikon of the Greek Orthodox church on his breast, lay on a bier surrounded by white flowers today in the chapel on the grounds of the American Hospital where he died 34 days after a gall bladder operation.

One orchid sent by his widow was placed on the bier, family friends said.

Chatting at Democratic Club Fete

U. S. Rep. Christopher Dodd, right, D-2nd District, chatted with Irene LeMay and James Holmes Saturday night at the fourth annual dinner-dance of the Democratic Club of Manchester. Mrs. LeMay was installed president of the group succeeding Holmes. The event was

Author-Photographer and Book Lovers

Yolla Niclas, author and photographer, shows one of her pictures to Gemma Dubaldo and Michael Tanguay, secretary and president, respectively, of Book Lovers Are Marvelous (BLAM) at Waddell School. Miss Niclas spoke to students of Grades 4, 5 and 6 about her books and the way she illustrates them. She has recently illustrated a story about a rabbit family that lived in Wickham Park near her home. Her appearance was one of several events planned by BLAM for students at Waddell. ### South Windsor Considers Human Relations Question

Judith Kuehnel
Correspondent
644-1364

Should South Windsor establish a Human Relations Commission or not? This is the question the Town Council will throw out to the public Tuesday night at 7 and later vote upon during the council's regular meeting.

The regular meeting, normally held on Monday night, has been delayed by a day due to St. Patrick's Day. Earlier this year 50 residents petitioned the council for the establishment of an ordinance allowing the new commission to be formed.

Under the proposal, a nine-member commission would be formed. Three members would serve until next year, three until 1977 and three until 1978. From among the commission members would be selected from a broad cross-section of the community so as to include members of diverse economic, social and cultural elements within the town.

Nominations for the appointments would be sought from the public at large by notice, published at least 20 days before the appointment. Also, nominees should have expressed an interest in the town and program of the commission as set forth in the ordinance.

Any vacancies on the commission will be filled by appointment of the Town Council for the unexpired portion of the term.

The commission will hold a minimum of six meetings each year at regular intervals. Any three members of the proposed commission may at any time request a special meeting be called the chairman is a formal written submission. Within five days of receipt of the request, the chairman must call a special meeting for a date of the call of the meeting. A quorum must exist at any meeting and a vote of majority of the commission present at any meeting shall be required for any action taken.

The purpose of the commission, as outlined by the council in its ordinance (if passed), are:

To foster mutual understanding and respect among persons and groups of diverse backgrounds.

To pursue a community-wide program of education that furthers inter-group understanding, tolerance and acceptance.

To secure equality of treatment and an opportunity for the participation of all persons of diverse backgrounds, including members of racial, religious and ethnic groups, as well as women, elderly, young, low income and the handicapped.

To cooperate with governmental and non-governmental agencies and organizations having like or kindred functions to those of the commission.

The Human Relations Commission duties, as outlined by the council, include:

To work with federal, state and town agencies, as well as with private, civic, religious, business and professional organizations, groups and persons, and to recommend to the Town Council any programs arising therefrom which will help all members of the community enjoy equality of opportunity in all phases of community life.

To assist in establishing a voluntary Citizens Advisory Council with membership open to any interested groups and individuals in the town. The council shall make known the commission's function and purpose to the community; serve in an informative relationship to the commission on behalf of the community and aid in promoting cooperative efforts in the community in support of the commission's objectives.

To engage in study and research and to public reports designed to increase awareness and understanding within the community.

To receive complaints and requests for assistance in dealing with situations coming within the scope of the commission's purposes, and to refer the same to the proper agency having jurisdiction in the particular matter.

To carry out such projects as shall be assigned to it by the Town Council.

To offer its services and cooperate with every other agency and department of the town in promoting a healthy community.

To submit to the Town Council annually, or more frequently if the council so requests or the commission so desires, reports concerning the activities of the commission.

To promote activities and programs to carry out the purposes of the commission.

Earlier in the year the council expressed doubt over the formation of this commission, fearing it would feel itself a "troubleshotter" or "troublemaker" agency.

Councilman Robert Hornish and Lenoard Sorosiak, both assigned to study the proposal, backed formation of a commission as part of town government.

Sorosiak said he initially had doubts, but a voluntary agency apart from town structures would give the agency time to justify its need.

Councilman Howard Fitts said he does not question the functions of the agency, but is affiliated with the independent Community Services Council during its early stage.

The issue is expected to bring out numerous residents and will probably receive comments from many segments of the community—professional people, clergy, etc.

Robert Post and Pat Perreault will co-chair an Easter Egg Hunt at Post's farm March 20.

Anyone interested in helping with the event, by donating hard-boiled eggs or prizes, helping to color or hide the eggs, is asked to call Post, 742-6334, or Mrs. Perreault, 742-8959.

Post held the first Easter Egg Hunt on his farm four years ago.

Correction
It was incorrectly stated in Friday's Herald that Betty Kowalski, chairman of the Board of Education, said the principal of Andover Elementary School was hired at a low salary with the understanding he would get a large increase following the first year and expected next year at the state's private boarding schools.

It was incorrectly stated in Friday's Herald that Betty Kowalski, chairman of the Board of Education, said the principal of Andover Elementary School was hired at a low salary with the understanding he would get a large increase following the first year and expected next year at the state's private boarding schools.

Tuition increases in the coming year will range from a low of $50 at the Choate-Rosemary Hall School in Wallingford to a high of $700 at the Loomis-Chaffee School in Windsor.

Administrators say increased costs of food and fuel are leading the trend toward increased education costs.

Council Meets Tuesday

SOUTH WINDSOR
Guild to Meet

The meeting of the St. Margaret Mary's Ladies Guild of South Windsor, at which Al Jester, pastor of the Episcopal church, will appear, will be tonight in the church rectory basement, rather than in the church hall as originally planned.

Juster will demonstrate several facets of hypnosis including: a demonstration of group hypnosis, regression and walking hypnosis.

He will show the use of hypnosis in dieting, the stopping of smoking, memory improvement as well as how hypnosis can be used in medicine and industry.

The program will begin at 8 p.m. The church rectory is located at 80 Hwy. 61.

Worship Tuesday
The South Windsor Board of Education has scheduled a workshop, open to the public, for Tuesday at 7:30 p.m.

Supt. of Schools Robert W. Goldman is expected to discuss facilities. The meeting will be held at the Union School, 771 Main St.

Morra Says Drop Verbal Exchange
BOLTON
Donna Holland
Correspondent
646-0775

Robert Morra, Republican Town Committee chairman, said over the weekend, "Charges and counter charges could go on forever over recent criticism of the selectmen's rejection of the proposed charter for the town."

"I feel there is no advantage to the town in continuing this political exchange by either party."

The town must come first, not politics, for after the elections are over we will still be neighbors, hopefully working together for a better Bolton.

OPINION

Promises, Promises

The Democrats promised no new taxes. The Democrats have enacted a one-cent increase in the sales tax effective April 1.

The Republicans promised the current fiscal year would end with a surplus. We are now told the deficit may be as much as $90 million, all of which cannot be blamed on the recession.

Well, so much for campaign promises. What we must address ourselves to now is performance in the light of the realities of today, rather than the hopes of yesterday.

We think there should be a vigorous debate on the plan to use short-term borrowing to cover the expected deficit. We are concerned that borrowing merely postpones the inevitable.

It means running the state like some of us use our credit cards. We keep charging and making payments each month plus interest. As long as we keep our charges down, our payments stay the same, but it is easy to be tempted to get that certain wanted item for only $5 a month more.

Short-term borrowing by the state for deficit, says we can have a lot of the things we want by charging them and only adding a little to our payments. This is hardly austerity in a time of shrinking revenues and an uneasy economy.

There appears little that can be done to stop the Democratic plan to finance the deficit in this manner. It appears that neither party is able or willing to make specific suggestions as to where state spending can and should be curtailed.

Despite headline differences, the two parties seem to have a vested interest in keeping state government fiscal policies rather insulated from realities. The Democratic attorney general said we would not seek renegotiation of certain state leases unless he can come up with evidence of fraud. The abuse of political influence is not sufficient to break a lease, Carl Ajello said, and pointed out political influence seems to be more the practice than the exception.

So friends, party labels to the contrary, the establishment goes on. Those headlines criticizing Gov. Ella or chastising former Gov. Tom are part of the game to make each of you think the other is to blame. They say that only more taxes, more state aid, more federal aid, more government, more bureaucracy and, of course, more Republicans or Democrats, can save us from disaster.

The tragedy is that most of the people apparently don't give a damn anymore. Less than a handful turned out at the public hearing on the sales tax increase last week.

The people apparently knew that it wouldn't last that long. If it comes to a choice between cutting spending and increasing taxes, the taxpayer will lose every time. If this isn't true why are taxes so high?

Of course, the politicians have the answer. They are giving us only what we have asked for and therefore we must be willing to pay for it.

Which brings us back to promises. Both parties have repeatedly and headily vowed their opposition to individual income taxes.

But performance, as opposed to promises by both parties, give us little reason to believe them.

After the state has borrowed all it can and raised the sales tax all it can, who can honestly say an income tax is out of the picture?

Fighting Inflation

In these times of financial insecurity it is not unusual for some of us to say, axiomatically, that what we need most is to elect congressmen "who know the value of a dollar." Well cheer up, we have — indeed we have.

One shining example of fiscal awareness is Rep. John H. Roussetol (R-Calif.). Congressman Roussetol married his secretary last November. While his salary is $42,500 per year, he showed great fiscal sharpness and kept his wife on the payroll, also, at her salary of $20,000 per year.

This is one method which the congressman has taken to personally battle the inflation.

When a question of the ethics of this arose, Congressman Roussetol said he was assured by members of the House Ethics Committee, that he was not violating the law.

However, they said that he couldn't raise her pay level, and Roussetol cleared any doubts of his virtue by saying that he would not.

Rep. Al Ullman (D-Ore.), the man who succeeded Wilbur Mills as chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee, and who is spearheading economic planning in the House, is also a man who knows the value of a dollar. He kept his wife on the federal payroll for six months after they were married.

Another California Democrat, Charles S. Gubser, married his administrative assistant last year before he retired and continued paying her the then-maximum salary of $32,000 annually.

Rep. Charles H. Wilson, California Democrat, has security on his mind as well as financial well-being. His daughter-in-law works as a secretary at $8,400 per year, while being a full-time student at American University.

His son is on the payroll as a House elevator operator. Wilson says the anti-nepotism law is a crime and would like to hire his other two sons. He has a strong feeling of tribalism saying that you can trust a relative, but not some of the others.

Many other congressmen are showing equal fiscal enterprise. Those fellows really know the value of a dollar.

ALMANAC

By United Press International Today is Monday, March 17, the 76th day of 1975 with 289 to follow. This is St. Patrick's Day. The moon is approaching its first quarter. The morning stars are Mercury and Mars. The evening stars are Venus, Saturn and Jupiter. Those born on this date are under the sign of Pisces. American singer Nat King Cole was born March 17, 1919. On this day in history: In 1889, a submarine developed by John Holland remained submerged off Staten Island, N.Y., for one hour and 45 minutes. In 1912, a group of young women to be known as "The Camp Fire Girls" was formed by Mrs. Luther Gulick of Lake Sebago, Maine. In 1938, Generalissimo Francisco Franco ordered the bombing of Loyalist-held Barcelona in the Spanish Civil War. In 1958, the U.S. Navy successfully launched Vanguard 1, a 3 1/2-pound satellite, into orbit around the earth. A thought for the day: American publisher Horace Greeley said, "The illusion that times that were better than those that are has probably pervaded all ages."

Manchester Is Fortunate

To the editor: I would like to correct a misimpression which I apparently created in my remarks to the Town Board of Directors at their March 11 meeting when a ramped entrance to the Municipal Building was being considered. Your March 12 report stated "Manchester architect Arnold Lawrence, a member of OTH, said it's to his and the town's chagrin how little architectural aid for the handicapped there is in Manchester."

I believe I said "I am chagrined at the absence in Manchester of an active Local Employ the Handicapped Committee." This was actually self-criticism or, to be more accurate, criticism of the Governor's Committee on Employment of the Handicapped, on which I have been serving for 14 years, for not being able to stimulate and sustain a viable local Employ the Handicapped Committee. Although there could be an association, it was not intended to be critical of Manchester's response to the needs of its handicapped citizens.

To the contrary, through the years Manchester's Board of Directors past and present, members of the General Assembly, and the Town Administration, have been very sensitive to the needs of the physically handicapped, mentally handicapped, and our senior citizens.

To name a few considerations that immediately come to mind, I recall 20 or so years back former Superintendent of Schools Arthur Illing requiring an elevator in what was then to be the new high school. Not only had that elevator served handicapped students well, but it is an aid to those teachers who return from their winter skiing vacation on crutches with a leg in a cast, and saves wear and tear on the backs of the custodial staff who formerly carried 50 gallon drums of floor wax up the stairs. And that was 10 years before 1965 when elevators became mandatory for school buildings of more than one story.

Then there were the four classrooms added to the then new Keeble Street School for educable and trainable retardates, the first in the state for facilities of this type to become part of a neighborhood school.

The town's first housing for the elderly followed the 100 unit Westhill Gardens, the largest in the state at the time. An addition to Westhill Gardens came along a short time later, then Mayfair Gardens in the North God Redevelopment, with another project now in the offing. In the middle of all this, the Senior Citizens Center became a reality.

There is a ramped entrance to the Mary Cheney Library, ramped curbs in the downtown area, a sheltered workshop in the Lincoln Center, approval for a Regional Occupational Training Center for mentally retarded adolescents, and now approved for a ramped entrance to the Municipal Building.

These facilities have come slowly, but steadily, and within the town's limited means. We in Manchester are indeed fortunate in having public officials who have been sensitive and responsive to the needs of the elderly, handicapped and able-bodied alike.

Add Daytime TV Programs

To the editor: I want to thank The Herald for adding the "Weekend" portion in its Saturday editions. However, since Cable TV has now come to Manchester and your paper very proudly is announcing that there is a level at which she experiences dialogue with God in faith, perhaps unsuspected but nonetheless present. It is an encounter almost in silence, despite the noise of her accusers.

The only words she hears from Christ are "I do not condemn you...but avoid the sin." We are the adulterous people, unfaithful to our covenant with God. Yet, withdrawing from a noisy world, in silence, we can encounter likewise a Christ who refuses to condemn and instead recognizes our own shame, there is joyful truth that we can become a faithful people.

Hot Moral Issue

WASHINGTON — West Germany got into the abortion act recently when its highest court ruled unconstitutional a law that would have legalized most abortions. "To be realistic," commented a German Embassy spokesman, "the court's decision doesn't mean much. West German women can still get abortions either illegally in West Germany, or simply cross the border into one of several neighboring countries and have the job done legally."

The United States is one of 25 countries that permit abortions liberally, that is to say, virtually on demand. Experts estimate that 500,000 abortions were performed in the U.S. last year, which comes out to 28 for every 100 live births. Yet abortion remains one of the hottest of what might be called the nation's moral issues. It was all but inevitable that the Boston doctor be convicted of manslaughter for allegedly failing to save the life of a fetus, or baby, he aborted.

Both sides have a point. But the Boston doctor is being tried on the grounds that he failed to protect the life of the fetus. It did not rule on the right, if any, of an aborted but still alive fetus to available medical resources which presumably could save its life. The right to life, therefore, is still an issue.

neither is a constitutional authority in the field of individual rights. Judges? They possess neither medical expertise nor a theological approach. The crux here is that whoever decides must have at hand criteria which will provide a guide as to whether an unborn or viable aborted fetus is human or not. That is saying that the experts, or a majority of them, must reach agreement, which also is saying the criteria may be impossible to achieve.

The New York Times, in condemning the Boston verdict, declared that abortion is warranted when "the life prospects for (a woman's) undesired progeny are particularly grim." It is a valid point. The future of unwanted child is practically never a bright one. But the statement brought from a reader named Matthew T. Martin a sharp rebuke.

Wrote Martin: "What unborn child...with a grim future is to be subject to your abortion rule? The Harlem black? The white Appalachian? Just how would you decide or have others decide? And would eventually your grim future doctrine also support euthanasia, genocide..."

The Times has a point all right. But so does Matthew E. Martin. I do not take sides, but merely point out that on the abortion issue we've all got a tiger by the tail.

Government Becoming America's Business?

WASHINGTON — A few days ago I looked with some chagrin at a series of charts and tables a highly respected senior policy analyst had prepared for his boss, a member of President Ford's cabinet.

The figures indicated that within five years, government — federal state and local — would be absorbing and managing 35 to 40 to 45 per cent of the gross national product, depending on which set of assumptions was used.

The most likely figure was in the middle of this range. "Think of what this will mean," a middle class taxes. With lower-income families excluded from a hefty share of the levies, and with superhigh incomes too few in the aggregate to meet government needs, the strongest blows will fall on those who are in between.

A variety of Social Security, welfare and health and medical programs could absorb between 13 and 17.2 per cent of the 1980 GNP. But the story is more than Social Security and welfare.

Government subsidies for energy, agriculture and environmental protection are expected to run into the hundreds of billions.

To take one example, it's estimated the petroleum and other energy programs will require between $70 billion and $20 billion in private and government financing over the next decade. Some put the figure as high as $1 trillion.

It has been expected that private industry could put up $450 billion of that total, leaving a gap of $250 billion to $700 billion or even $500 billion, depending on which figures were used. It is now believed the current stagflation will, in one form or another, be with us for years, with industrial growth, industrial profits and GNP not again achieving their former vigor within this time period. This would mean industry will have less to invest, leaving the government a lion's share of the task.

Energy is just one problem. The United States is running out of available cropland. Development of the additional acreage deemed necessary would require an investment of $50 billion to $40 billion. The specialists expect a great share of this must come from the government — that is, from the taxpayer.

Then there's the environment. Other government experts laugh at the Environmental Protection Agency estimate of $20 billion or so required over the next decade. They believe the figure may be double or triple that total. In any event, they think the cost too great for U.S. industry to absorb and stay solvent. Here, then, is a likely sinkhole for hundreds of billions more tax money.

By 1980, government involvement in housing and construction is estimated at withdrawing from a noisy world, in silence, we can encounter likewise a Christ who refuses to condemn and instead recognizes our own shame, there is joyful truth that we can become a faithful people.

Rev. Robert W. Cronin, pastor St. Maurice's Church Bolton

Government Becoming America's Business?

strongly and defense and space spending could run to 8 per cent of GNP in a bare five years. Continued deficit spending could result in a national debt by 1980 which would cost 2 per cent of the GNP to finance.

There is doubt whether private profits would be able to sustain such an astronomical government overhead.

But even if the financing is possible, it is clear such heavy government intervention could have serious and uncertain effects on our private competitive economic system. Government and academic economists already are worried by the detrimental results of current government spending and are shocked by studies which show how discouraging too-large government has affected industrial technological growth in some other nations.

PTA To Hear Macing Tuesday

Another First for Manchester. The first Mayor's Prayer Breakfast calling together leaders of our community from every religious, political and professional background will be convened by Mayor John Thompson at 7:30 a.m. Wednesday at the Congregational Church.

A moment to pause, reflect, and rise up renewed in hope and faith in one another. Mayor Thompson has proclaimed 1975 to be "A Year of Concern" for Manchester. In keeping with that spirit, the conference has invited our people to come together to thank God for the many blessings He has bestowed upon the people of Manchester, to ask God's forgiveness for the times we have failed one another, and to renew our commitment first to God and through Him to one another, that we may be a source of hope, strength, and comfort to the world around us.

We ask all of you who have not been able to join us in person to join us in prayer Wednesday morning before, after, or over your coffee.

Emergency Pantry Please keep community effort in your thoughts and conversations. Since this column had to be in on the 13th of March it will be next Monday before a report on the collection itself will be available. The cooperation of school personnel, the churches and Center Church's Boy Scout Troop 25, have been excellent.

Five women have already volunteered to help staff the pantry. However, scheduling volunteers for half-day service once a month, we need a minimum of ten to have the pantry open and staffed either one full day or two mornings a week. Food for the pantry will, of course, be available on an emergency basis seven days a week. Perhaps you and a friend might volunteer to staff the pantry together. This service is particularly recommended to those of you who knit or crochet.

For more information call the conference office, 949-5093.

Board Retreat Twenty representatives from our churches to MACC gathered Thursday at St. Bartholomew Convent for an all day retreat planned by the Rev. Felix Davis, Virginia Harris, Judy Torstenson, and Father Paul Trinque. Members of the board, chairmen of divisions, and heads of subcommittees set aside one day a year to get to know one another, pray together, to seek God's will, and to ask the presence and guidance of God's Holy Spirit in all things through the church as they come together in the conference. Again we ask for your support and prayers.

Convalescent Homes The Sunday session at Concordia Lutheran for those visiting or interested in visiting convalescent homes was well attended and very well received. The response was so favorable that another session will be planned in the near future.

Dear Abby

By Abigail Van Buren

Three-Way Tie

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I have been happily married for eight years. (No kids.) I thought we had a perfect marriage, and so did everybody else in town. We're both in business here, and everybody knows it.

Last year a friend of my husband's was killed, and my husband started helping his widow. I was never invited to go along when he was helping her with whatever he was helping her with so much. He helped her over several weekends, so I finally told her that I needed him to help ME on weekends, but she didn't seem to care.

Finally, I found a love note in my husband's pocket. It was from her to him. Signed, too. I accidentally found it in his pocket. (This woman was supposed to have been living with my husband.) I know that this woman and my husband had no previous affair going while her husband was living.

Now, my husband has moved out of our house and is living with her. And on Main Street, I asked him if he wanted a divorce, and he said: "No." He is supporting me and living with her. He says I am a wonderful woman but he was just drawn to her. He knows if I divorce him, she would expect him to marry her, and he doesn't want that.

I have a question for you: Which of the three of us is the biggest fool? Me, for still caring for him? Him, for destroying his image in town? Or her, for letting him live with her and ruin her reputation?

DEAR LEFT: I would call it a three-way tie.

DEAR ABBY: I am a woman, not young anymore, and I am married to a man who is older than I am. He's in a poor health, and stubborn as a mule. He refuses to make a will, and I am told that if he should die without making a will, the government will take half of everything he has, and there will be such a high tax on what is left over, I may have to go to the poor farm. Is that true?

I don't have much education and wouldn't know how to talk to a lawyer, so please don't tell me to go to one. We are not rich, but we have worked and saved for nearly fifty years and I don't want to lose my security.

WORRIED

DEAR WORRIED: The place to get the facts is from a lawyer. Don't worry about your lack of education. He for she will explain everything to you in language you can understand. And don't be ashamed to ask questions.

If the bank you do business with has a trust department, it can be also helpful. Don't believe rumors. Get the facts; you'll be glad you did.

DEAR ABBY: I have a strange problem. I have been happily married for 14 years. My father-in-law remarried six years ago. His wife has a habit of giving me second-hand gifts.

In the days of the mini skirts, she gave me four half-slips that came down past my ankles, a purse with a telephone number in it, and six nightgowns that smelled of mothballs!

This woman dresses beautifully, has excellent taste in clothes, and I cannot imagine why she would pass on these second-hand gifts to me that she wouldn't wear herself. And she certainly can afford to buy new gifts.

Should I return the next time she gives me one? Or should I just say it doesn't fit? Or tell her I have no use for it? Or should I just dispose of it any way you wish.

DEAR PUZZLED: Accept the gift graciously, and dispose of it any way you wish.

CONFIDENTIAL TO DONALDA IN SHAKER HEIGHTS: Girls who wear second-hand blouses are easily seen through.

Every woman has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply, write to ABBY, Box No. 69770, L.A., Calif. 90069. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope, please.

For Abby's new booklet, "What Teen-agers Want to Know" send $1 to Abigail Van Buren, 132 Lasky Dr., Beverly Hills, Calif. 90212. Please enclose a long, self-addressed, stamped (20¢) envelope.

Rate Schedules Filed By Rockville Water

VERNON The Connecticut Water Co. will be paying more than two-thirds of the rate increase granted to Rockville Water & Aqueduct Co. according to the schedules filed Friday with the Public Utilities Commission.

The PUC, on March 5, approved just under one-third of the rate increase requested by Rockville Water and admissibility of the company for charging Connecticut Water, its largest customer, more for the water it purchases.

The two companies have interlocking relationships and W. Neal MacKenzie is president of both. Of the $69,409 increase granted to Rockville Water, Connecticut Water will pay $46,375.

Rockville Water filed three proposed rate schedules Friday with the PUC, as called for in the March 5 filing of the commission.

One schedule calls for a uniform 2.9 per cent increase to all other classes of customers. This would include residential, commercial, industrial, and public and private fire protection.

Originally Rockville Water said it was not planning to increase those customers who use a minimum amount of water.

The second alternate schedule takes this into consideration and calls for a 5.8 per cent increase for other customers with the exception of public and private fire protection which calls for a 2.9 per cent increase.

The third proposed schedule shows a 13 per cent decrease for minimum users, varying increases for other customers, and a 2.9 increase for fire protection.

The PUC must review the proposed rate schedules to determine if the additional revenue needed to come up with the total $69,409 increase granted.

Some Deregionalization Asked by School Board

HEBRON Anne Dallaire Correspondent 228-326

The Hebron Board of Education has voted to ask the Rham Board of Education for a study to take the seventh and eighth graders out of Rham High School and return them to their respective towns.

Hebron is the first of the three towns in Regional District 8 which includes Andover and Marlborough to initiate such a study.

Mrs. Nancy Froote introduced the motion after the board read a letter from Selectmen Anthony F. Limoncelli of Marlborough who urged the towns to consider a partial deregionalization.

Limoncelli said in his letter to David Albee, chairman of the Hebron Board of Education, that the Rham Board of Education has taken the position that it cannot undertake any major action concerning the overcrowded conditions at Rham until the General Assembly writes new laws based on the "one man, one vote" court decision.

Limoncelli said he has been convinced that reformation of a new middle school could be successful even with a different site and price tag.

In January, voters defeated a proposal to build a middle school in the Regional District 8 area.

Limoncelli is writing all boards of education in each of the District 8 towns to make them aware of a possible role that they may take in this matter.

Two Manchester students have been named to the dean's list for the fall semester at Foothill College in San Jose, Calif. They are Steven W. Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. George A. Smith of 280 Scott Dr., and Robin L. Douglas, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred G. Douglas of 108 Hollister St.

Brian R. Tevin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter D. Tevin of 179 Palmer Dr., South Windsor, has been named to the dean's list for the fall semester at Florida Institute of Technology at Melbourne, Fla. A 1973 graduate of South Windsor High School, he is a member of the college's sophomore class and is majoring in marine biology.

Colleen Munroe was named to the dean's list for the fall semester at Foothill College in San Jose, Calif. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Munroe of 501 Hillard St.

Matchups Key Factor As Bucks Top Bulls

NEW YORK (UPI) — Kareem Abdul-Jabbar doesn't believe his Milwaukee Bucks, though victors in five of seven games with the Chicago Bulls this season, have any jinx on their neighborhood rivals.

"I think it's more matchups than anything else," he said after the Bucks bounced the Bulls 103-90 on national television Sunday afternoon.

The matchup he had to be talking about most was Jon McGlocklin being on the floor to help him out when the Bulls' defense concentrated on stopping Jabbar.

"Jon shoots very well," Jabbar said, "and when they sag on me, it gives me a chance to shoot. He makes them play me honest."

McGlocklin saw limited service in the first quarter and Jabbar, under pressure, made only three of his first 14 shots. He blamed the performance on the "little things," near misses which he conceded gave him a "bad" start.

But when McGlocklin got into the game, the Bulls had to change their tactics because he began firing from outside and he wound up with 10 field goals in 12 attempts and 21 points.

Jabbar, at the same time, dropped 10 of his next 14 shots to total 32 points in the game.

"I got to shoot," McGlocklin said.

"That's why I play on his side. I try to get the ball into him and if he shoots off and I can't do it, I better shoot."

Along with Bob Dandridge, who had 24 points, Jabbar and McGlocklin keyed the Bucks to their sixth win in the last nine meetings.

The Bulls, moving their closer to the pack, though they still lead the Midwest Division.

"We need consistency," Bucks Coach Larry Costello said. "We just want to get in the playoffs and we've got to get over the hump to do it. Maybe this game will be the start."

Elsewhere, Boston beat Houston 99-94, Atlanta edged Phoenix 117-114, Seattle clipped New York 97-94, Cleveland shaded New Orleans 113-111, Los Angeles ripped Golden State 111-95 and Portland defeated Buffalo 102-95.

Hawks 117, Suns 114
Atlanta's John Brown sank three free throws in the final 18 seconds to hand Phoenix its sixth straight loss.

Charlie Scott, who scored 38 points, pulled the Suns even with 34 seconds left with two free throws. Tom Van Arsdale led the Hawks with 27 points and rookie Mike Sojourner had 20.

Sonics 97, Knicks 94
Fred Brown, taking up the scoring slack with Spencer Haywood out sick, scored 16 of his 37 points in the second quarter and hit a clinching jumper in the final seconds to beat New York.

Earl Monroe scored five points on his 30 minutes in the final minute to cut Seattle's lead to 95-94. But Brown's 10-foot jumper with 14 seconds left closed out the scoring.

Cavs 113, Jazz 111
Jim Brecht tipped in the final goal with just seconds left to finish with 24 points and 14 rebounds as Cleveland beat New Orleans to take a half-game edge over New York for the wild-card playoff berth in the East.

Lakers 111, Warriors 95
Gail Goodrich scored 37 points and Cazzie Russell had 30 to give Los Angeles only its second win over Golden State in the last nine meetings.

Elmore Smith had 22 rebounds and blocked 10 shots for the Lakers, who had 16 blocked shots — the most in a game since the NBA this season. Rookie Keith Wilkes led the Warriors with a career-high 31 points.

Blazers 102, Braves 95
Sidney Wicks scored 27 points and LaRue Martin added 10 in the final period as Portland beat Buffalo. Bob McAdoo paced Buffalo with 32 points.

Injured Parent Pains Kings with Whitewash

NEW YORK (UPI) — Philadelphia goalie Bernie Parent received a whack on his coccybone Saturday that resulted in "a lump the size of an egg."

Sunday, Parent popped some pills, shrugged off the pain and shut out Los Angeles 3-0 to virtually eliminate the Kings from a chance at catching Montreal from the NHL's Division 3.

The Flyers now are within six points of clinching first place in Division 1. The Stanley Cup champions stand at the top with a 18-10 record for 49 points.

Elsewhere, Minnesota edged Detroit 4-3, Buffalo ripped Toronto 11-3, Boston whipped St. Louis 7-2, Pittsburgh kayeed Kansas City 6-3 and Vancouver nipped Chicago 5-4.

North Stars 4, Red Wings 3
Norm Gratton's second goal of the game, a power play blast from the slot early in the third period, broke a 3-3 tie to lift Minnesota over Detroit. Detroit took a 5-3 manpower advantage into the closing seconds in a last desperate bid for a tie that the North Stars held at bay.

Sabres 11, Leafs 3
Gil Perreault and Rick Martin each scored three goals and Rick Dudley added a pair to lead Buffalo over Toronto. The Sabres' output was their highest in history and allowed them to become the first NHL team to surpass 100 points.

"I guess 13 is unlucky," said Edwards. "We just got to shake our heads and go on from here."

Finkel Fills Bill In Celtics' Win

BOSTON (UPI) — Hank Finkel fills an unusual role for the Boston Celtics.

The seven foot reserve center averages only eight minutes per game, but he is expected to enter a game at a moment's notice and then turn things around.

Sunday, Finkel succeeded, scoring six points in the final quarter, and rekindling the Celtic offense as Boston shot down the Houston Rockets, 99-94.

Finkel was called upon to replace forward Don Nelson (12 points), who fouled out with 9:17 left. In the next 3:23, he scored six points and guided the Celtics from a 78-77 deficit to an 89-88 advantage when Boston coach Tom Heinsohn called him back to the bench.

"I'm glad I was able to help," said Finkel, known for his outstanding attitude. "I went into the game before in that type of situation and it didn't work out."

"I was probably the coldest guy on the bench, and I certainly didn't expect to shoot much," Finkel added, "but I guess I was a little lucky."

NCIT Title To Drake

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (UPI) — Drake surprised everyone by winning the NCIT title on Sunday.

Top-ranked Indiana won the first edition of the Commissioners tourney in St. Louis last year and went on to an unbeaten season which the Hoosiers hope to cap with the NCAA championship this year.

"We're just losing too many key seniors of our team to be thinking in terms of an undefeated season next year," said the 34-year-old Drake skipper after his Bulldogs downed #7 ranked Arizona 83-76 in the nationally televised NCIT championship game Sunday.

"We've been sneaking up on people all year and I'm just happy we continued to shake our heads and go on from here," said Drake.

rigged to cloak off his scoring and he was surprised by Drake's defense's nearly every time he went up for a shot.

Rounding out the all-tourney team were Purdue's John Garrett, who had a tourney high 34 points in the 102-96 loss to Arizona Saturday night, and Bowling Green's Jeff Montgomery, the sparkplug in his team's upset of Tennessee Friday night.

The championship game actually was won at the free throw line, where Drake cashed 23-of-24 attempts. Arizona had only eight foul shots and hit on six.

"I know it looks disproportionate when we had three times as many foul shots as they got," Ortelge said. "But you have to consider the type of game they were playing. They had to play aggressive cut-up ball most of the game and any team playing that way is bound to commit more fouls."

Wiping out a 16-8 Arizona lead, Drake jumped in front to stay at 18-17 on one of Haralson's 21-point, high-arching bombs with 9:16 remaining in the first half. The Bulldogs increased their lead to 34-29 at the half and shot into their biggest margin at 62-48 with 10:12 left in the game.

Mainly due to the outside shooting of Jim Rappis, Arizona managed to trim the final margin to seven points as he meshed five field goals in the last seven minutes.

In addition to the outstanding play of McKissick and Haralson, Drake got 17 points from his "shorty" center, 6-7 Ken Harris, and 12 points and nine assists from guard Terry Benbow, who had 16 points and nine assists, and Al Fleming, with 13 points and a game-high 10 rebounds, provided Elliott's chief support for Arizona.

Just before the final game, the officials announced the tourney would return to Freedom Hall here next March 11-14. They said they were not dismayed by the relatively low high-attendance of 4,161 for the championship game, which was blacked out locally on TV.

Johnny Miller Had Lots of Fun While Nicklaus Cops Doral Open

MIAMI (UPI) — Jack Nicklaus won a $30,000 first prize in the Doral-Eastern Open golf tournament with a 12-under-par 276, three shots better than Forrest "Puzzy" Fezler and Bert Yancey, who tied for second.

It was the third time this year rival superstars Nicklaus and Miller have met, but the first two were no-win affairs.

Sunday's round, Miller had been complaining he wasn't playing well, but he was "having a good time."

Sunday, he was both playing well and having a good time, but the five-shot lead he spotted Nicklaus going into the final round was too much for him to have a chance at his fourth tour win of the year. After hours, the clean-shaven Miller was playing the same way he was fishing in the lakes on the course.

"I must have caught over 50 bass over five nights," he said. "The biggest one was about six pounds. And I had one that got away...well, you've all heard those stories."

It was all golf for Nicklaus, who won his first victory since last September — the Tournament of Champions at Atlanta.

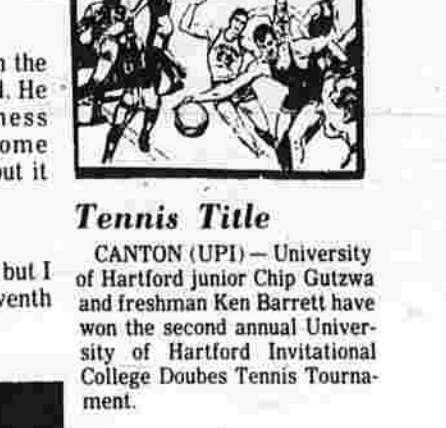

He finished rounds of 69, 70, 68, 68 over the tough par course for the win, but had to put down late charges by Fezler and Yancey.

It took him until the 18th hole to shut the door. There he used a 3-iron to punch the ball out of a divot to within 20 feet of the pin and holed the putt.

"It's only human that things like that cross your mind, but I've played enough golf to know you're going to have bad times and good times," he said.

It was the 54th tour win for Nicklaus, putting him fourth among all-time winners. He had won the same year ago at the Doral Open.

"I had to set awhile, but I got it back on the seventh hole," he said.

Tennis Title
CANTON (UPI) — University of Hartford junior Chip Gutera and freshman Ken Barrett have won the second annual University of Hartford Invitational College Doubles Tennis Tournament.

HARTFORD (UPI) — E. Clayton Geogras, president of the Connecticut Bus Co., has been named honorary chairman of the 1975 Sammy Davis Jr. Greater Hartford Open golf tournament.

Driver Killed
GAINESVILLE, Fla. (UPI) — An exhibition car driver, reportedly seeking financial backing in his quest to attempt a new world land speed record, was killed Sunday when his rocket-powered vehicle slammed into a guardrail at over 850 miles per hour.

Petty Tops
BRISTOL, Tenn. (UPI) — Richard Petty, NASCAR's all-time leading winner, drove his Dodge to a second-place finish in the 1975 Daytona 500, the longest race in the sport's history.

Vitale Winner
MIDDLETOWN (UPI) — John Vitale of Cromwell won the overall winner at the seventh annual Kowal-Giza 10-mile road race here.

Rutherford Wins
PHOENIX, Ariz. (UPI) — Johnny Rutherford, 1974 Indianapolis 500 winner, staved off repeated challenges by Gordon Johncock and a late race bid by A.J. Foyt to win the Bricklin IndyCar Race Sunday at A.J. Foyt International Speedway.

Laver Wins
SAO PAULO (UPI) — Rod Laver of Australia Sunday won the World Championship of Tennis Blue Group tournament here by defeating Manuel Panzari of Puerto Rico, 6-4, 6-4.

HARTFORD (UPI) — The promoter of a racetrack in Hartford says the cost of building the facility goes up to $50 million dollars he will probably abandon the project.

Marshall Arrives in Camp As McGraw Heads Other Way

NEW YORK (UPI) — As one miracle man was on his way out of Florida Sunday, another was on his way in.

Relief pitcher Tug McGraw was sent back to Philadelphia by the Phillies for an examination by a specialist to determine if surgery is needed to repair recurring back and chest pains.

And as McGraw left with the hopes of a Philadelphia pennant strapped to his back, Los Angeles superstar Mike Marshall was on his way to Detroit in a war-torn Philadelphia.

Marshall has a unique agreement with his employer whereby he doesn't have to report to camp until he has finished up his winter term duties as an instructor at Michigan State University.

But after a collapse to fifth place last season, the Mets peddled their ace reliever to the Phillies for Del Unser and John Stearns — giving Philadelphia its badly needed stopper.

Neither the Phils nor the Dodgers needed their catch relievers Sunday as Philadelphia ripped St. Louis 1-0 and Los Angeles destroyed Houston 7-3.

Home Show Due At Civic Center

The annual Connecticut Home Show opens Wednesday for a five-day run at the Hartford Civic Center, with more than 300 exhibitors showing money-saving and energy-saving products.

The show is produced by To-Ro Enterprises of Portland, Ore., with the sponsoring Home Builders Association of Hartford County.

Among local exhibitors at the show is Flair Home Furnishings of the Manchester Shopping Park, which will show latest trends in interior design and furniture.

Other exhibits are to include a model walk-through house, an in-ground swimming pool, and displays on landscaping, plants, and stereo equipment.

Hours are 9 a.m. to 10:30 p.m. Thursday and Friday; 1 p.m. to 10:30 p.m. Saturday; and 1 p.m. to 8:30 p.m. Sunday.

UConn Goes 'Clean' In New Marine Lab

University of Connecticut researchers into heavy metal contamination of the ocean are now borrowing the ultra-clean techniques of the electronics and pharmaceutical industries.

This breakthrough in oceanographic laboratory methods came into being last month when the UConn Marine Sciences Institute (MSI) opened its Ultra Clean Laboratory at Groton.

Dr. Peter Dehlinger, the UConn professor of geology who directs the MSI, added that the new facility will result in measurements five or ten times more accurate than any possible before.

With the new lab, he hopes to be able to measure lead concentrations in sea water as low as ten parts per billion.

To avoid this, the interior of the lab is pressurized slightly above the surroundings, so that dust is swept out, instead of in, on currents of air.

People using the lab enter through an airlock into another pressurized room, where they must change their street shoes for special laboratory footwear.

Once these precautions are taken, the laboratory's standard electrochemical and spectrographic apparatus will be able to give results of the desired accuracy.

Walton Claims FBI Trying Cover Up In Hearst Affair

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — which may have been the prototype for the SLA. The newspaper said the three connected with Scott, through the radical group soon after the Los Angeles shootout last May that left six other SLA members dead.

Time magazine also reported a "West Coast radical leader" asked Scott to help Miss Hearst and her friends and other media reports indicate the FBI has reason to believe the Hearst interview in Portland, Ore. Scott and his wife Micki lived in a $100,000 home in Portland last year and early this year.

BRIDGEPORT (UPI) — "I am keeping my nose out of presidential politics," Sen. Lowell P. Weicker Jr. says, "and presidential politicians — until after the Republican convention which has best kept their noses out of Connecticut."

However a state Republican official said Weicker could be trying to exclude the national figures to gain more unofficial control over the Connecticut GOP and go into the presidential nominating convention with a power base.

HARTFORD (UPI) — Lack of public trust in businessmen and Congress is in large part deserved, Sen. Lowell P. Weicker Jr. has told a group of bankers.

1,830 Road Pacts Signed in Washington, D.C. The Federal Highway and Bridge Construction contracts were awarded by state highway departments in Washington, D.C. at a cost of $1.1 billion.

Tolland Ambulance Unit Re-Elects Charles Mayer

Vivian Kenneson
Correspondent
875-4704

Charles Mayer has been re-elected president of the Tolland Volunteer Ambulance Association and Beverly Trapp was re-elected secretary at the organization's March meeting.

Other members of the executive board elected were: Ruth Walworth, treasurer; David Brunette, maintenance; Pam Matthews, public relations and records; Kirk Walworth, scheduling officer; Robert Martin, training officer; and Maureen Pratt, first aid officer.

Renovations of the TVAA new headquarters, located in the barn behind the old jail off Rt. 74, are almost complete and plans are being finalized for an open house on April 13 from 2 to 5 p.m.

If anyone has any kitchen utensils, linens, or a sump pump to donate to the TVAA they may call 875-8748 or any TVAA member.

CPR Course Offered

The TVAA has scheduled a Cardiopulmonary Resuscitation course for April 30 and May 1 from 7 to 11 p.m. at St. Matthew's Church Hall.

The course is co-sponsored by the Tolland Knights of Columbus. It adheres to the standards of the American Heart Association and will be completed on each night.

The public is invited to attend without charge. In order to insure adequate instructors and for further information call 872-9372 or 875-6957.

Poison Week

The safety committee of the Tolland Junior Woman's Club reminds residents that the Poison Information Center, a division of the state Department of Health, can be reached any time at 366-3456.

In case of poisoning, the committee offers the following advice: If the victim is fully conscious and not convulsing, give milk or water. Exceptions are if the victim has swallowed kerosene, gasoline, lighter fluid, furniture polish or other petroleum distillate or corrosive substance such as lye, ammonia, or acid, in which case vomiting should not be induced. Get the patient to medical care at once and save the poison container and any remaining contents, a club spokesman warns.

To prevent household poisoning, the committee suggests:

- Keep all drugs and household chemicals out of children's reach.

Club to Meet

Members of the Tolland Junior Woman's Club will meet Tuesday at 8 p.m. at the United Congregational Church.

The program will include a film, "Resolve to Free," the official Bicentennial documentary film for the State of Connecticut, and an exhibit of items made by club members.

The exhibition items will include the categories of ceramics and pottery, decoupage, macrame, leathercraft, holiday decorations, knitting, crocheting, sewing, needlecraft, rugs and wall hangings, bookbinding, stained glass, woodwork, and creative material.

Members may participate in as many categories as they wish. Those judging the items entered will be Shirley Randazzo of Omnibus 1, crafts; Phyllis Dowd, art; Dot Zabilansky, stitchery; Dot Herberg, crocheting and knitting; Lynn Winans, sewing.

First place winners at this level will compete at a district level on April 2.

The arts committee will meet March 19 at 7:30 p.m. at the home of Corey Bock for a macrame workshop. Members wishing to attend should contact Mrs. Bock. The committee will hold a tinsel painting workshop March 31 at the home of Muriel Vining.

The public affairs committee

— Store foods only on shelves used for storing foods.

— Keep all poisonous substances in original container.

— Discard medicine by flushing down the drain.

— Never tell a child that medicine is candy.

— Do not give or take medicine in the dark.

— Read labels.

March 17 to 23 is Poison Prevention Week and the club warns that aspirin is the most common poison cause, followed by cough and cold remedies, and vitamin preparations containing iron.

Blood Pressure Clinic

A free blood pressure screening clinic, sponsored by the Tolland Health Council, will be held March 25 and April 1 at the Religious Education Building of the United Congregational Church of Tolland.

On March 25 the clinic will be held from 1 to 3 p.m. and on April 1 from 7 to 9 p.m.

Early detection of high blood pressure permits stabilization and reduction through medical attention. Everyone is welcome and appointments are not necessary.

Ellington Train Band Reorganizes

The Ellington Parish Train Band has been reorganized to participate in activities commemorating the Bicentennial. Some 30 men have volunteered but more are needed to carry muskets or flags.

The Rev. Sheldon Smith, pastor of Ellington Congregational Church, and Thomas Greaser of the music department of the Ellington school system are in charge of the band.

A train band existed in the 1776 period in Ellington. It was made up of men from the Ellington Church parish who formed a local militia which stood ready to defend the settlement which then also included East Windsor.

The name train band came from the fact it was a band of men who trained together on the green. Fifers and drummers headed the marching unit. The men answered the Lexington Alarm in 1775.

Many of the men already signed up are playing drums and fifes. Rehearsal musters are conducted at the Ellington Congregational Church on Saturdays at 8 a.m. When the weather gets warmer, and the men feel they are ready for public appearance, rehearsals will be on the green opposite the church.

The wives of band members and other Ellington women are making the "authentic" uniforms. Hopefully, the bands first of cial appearance will be in this year's Memorial Day parade.

Miss Nellie McKnight, a lifelong resident of Ellington, is researching to determine which homes in town will be 100 years old by 1976. The commission will have markers made for these homes as part of the Bicentennial celebration.

Miss McKnight is seeking help in this endeavor and anyone who knows of such local homes is asked to contact her.

All of the homes that became 100 in 1935 are recorded plus a few that have become that old since that time.

Plans are to have the woodworking classes at Ellington High School make the markers.

Ellington Postmaster Earl

Hathaway has donated office space for the commission's use in a home he owns on Maple St. in Ellington. The house itself was built in 1790 and was the town's first tavern known as Houlton Tavern. It also once served as the home of the Masonic Temple.

In connection with Hathaway's contribution, the Rockville insurance firm of Dowding, Moriarty, and Dimock, has had a sign built and donated it for the front of the building. This bears the Bicentennial Commission seal and will be installed as soon as weather permits.

Persons who support the Bicentennial in individual ways are to be known as "Friends of the Bicentennial Commission."

and the commission is making plans to recognize them in some tangible way.

The commission, headed by Mrs. Sally Vaughn, has many other interesting programs in the planning stage. Among these is a plan to have a Bicentennial Ball in January 1976. The Ellington Junior Women will supervise this project.

Tentative plans are to have those attending wear dress of the 1776 period and to have the affair be formal.

The Promised Land is a state park in the Allegheny Mountain region of northern Cambria County, Pennsylvania.
