Dunlap Dies; Once Served City, State

ROCKVILLE—William J. Dunlap, 66, of 13 Webster St. died Monday night at Rockville General Hospital. He was the husband of Mrs. Marion King Dunlap.

Before the Rockville-Vernon consolidation, Mr. Dunlap served in the State Senate as a representative from Rockville, and as a selectman and superintendent of streets for the City of Rockville.

Born in Rockville, he had lived here all his life. Before his retirement, he worked as a weaver in the local woolen mills for 35 years. He was an Army veteran of World War I.

He was a life member of Rockville Lodge of Elks, the Rockville American Legion Post, and the Maple Grove Club. He was a past sachem of the Improved Order of Red Men in Rockville.

He is also survived by a daughter, Miss Shirley Dunlap of Rockville.

The funeral is Thursday at 1:30 p.m. at the Burke-Fortin Funeral Home, 78 Prospect St. The Rev. Paul J. Bowman, pastor of Union Congregational Church, will officiate. Burial will be in Grove Hill Cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home Wednesday from 2 to 4 and 7 to 9 p.m.

AREA POLICE REPORT

VERNON — Ronald P. Kinsale, 18, of 137 W. Main St., Rockville, was charged Monday night with evading responsibility in connection with the investigation of a two-car accident on Rt. 52.

Vernon Police said the accused allegedly struck a car driven by Ms. Stella Filip of 10 Morrison St., Rockville, when she slowed to make a left turn, and then left the scene.

Police said the first two homes were entered by someone cutting glass in the rear doors and then unlocking them. The third home was entered by someone smashing the door window.

In all three instances drawers and cabinets were opened and emptied. Some $86 in cash was taken from the Hutchins home; $30 from the Makles home; and about $100 cash, a drill and saw and a large axe were taken from the Hazelline home.

In a fourth instance, a house owned by Cantor and Goldfarb Realty of Rockville, and located at 8 Randy Rd., Ellington, was entered by cutters through the rear window. The house was empty and no damage was reported.

SOUTH WINDSOR — Kevin J. O'Connell, 18, of Downey Dr., Manchester, was charged last night with failure to drive in the proper lane in connection with the investigation of a one-car accident on Kelly Rd., South Windsor.

Police said O'Connell was driving east on Kelly Rd., lost control and struck a utility pole and then flipped over. A passenger in his car, Mark Roberts, 19, of Green Rd., Manchester, was taken to Manchester Memorial Hospital, treated and released.

O'Connell is scheduled to appear in court in Rockville on April 22.

COMMON PLEAS COURT — Geographical Area 12 East Hartford Session. Cases disposed of by Judge John Fitzgerald last week included:

Herbert H. Hiers, 42, of 89 Coleman Rd., reckless driving reduced to speeding, $45.

Charles Colla Jr., 46, of East Hartford, issuing a bad check, breach of peace, and intoxication, all nolle prosequitur.

Ronald M. St. John, 33, of 111 Wells St., operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of alcohol or drugs, nolle.

Police investigated two other one-car accidents last night but no charges were placed against either of the drivers.

Police said a car driven by Randy Edinger, 18, of East Hartford was traveling west on Sullivan Ave. and Edinger said he swerved to avoid an animal on the road, lost control and the car rolled over. No injuries were reported.

Jeffrey O'Brien, 17, of Ellington Rd., South Windsor was driving his car west on Miller Rd. and said he swerved to avoid an oncoming car and in doing so struck a utility pole.

O'Brien was taken to Manchester Memorial Hospital, by ambulance and a passenger in his car, David Griffin, 17, of Ellington Rd., South Windsor was taken by private car. Both were treated and released.

Tax Relief Leads

Cotter said he can't and won't support further hikes in prices of home heating oil and residential oil and would support a tax incentive that would encourage conversion to coal. He stressed the importance of cutting down on oil imports and said he'd support relaxation of environmental standards — as a compromise with the needs of the economy.

He said he's still opposed to a gasoline tax but would vote for one — if the only alternative is an increase in home heating oil.

On other subjects — during a question and answer period — Cotter said he's confident a National Health Insurance bill will emerge from committee by November and will be considered by Congress by January.

He said he's opposed to placing the program under the Social Security system and favors its operation under existing facilities — private enterprise and insurance companies.

He dismissed rumors Congress may cut back on the revenue-sharing program, explaining it's become such an integral part of municipal financing it's become fully entrenched.

Cotter acknowledged, "All economic signs point to the belief the economy will be turning around and edging us out of the recession, we wouldn't have needed that bill."

However, he acknowledged also, "All testimony to the effect we're not pulling out of it as fast as expected or wanted, and as proof, that's why the Congress passed the $2.9-billion tax-relief bill and that's why President Ford signed it and that's why the economy was indeed lifting us out of the recession, we wouldn't have needed that bill."

Said Cotter, "Tommy Meskill and I have been personal friends for more than 25 years. We went through college together (Trinity) and I have great respect for him as a friend, a man and a father. The fact we've fought politically doesn't take anything away from my respect for him."

That's why I appeared as a character witness for him and that's how I've answered every letter I received in criticism."

Five Found Murdered In Burning House

BUFFALO, N.Y. (UPI) — Five persons were found dead inside a burning home early today. Police said it appeared all five had been beaten and stabbed to death.

Fire department investigators said the fire appeared to have been set and may have started to cover up the slayings.

Firemen were called to a half-story home on the city's near east side shortly before 3 a.m. Two of the victims were found immediately on the first floor and the other three were found later on the second floor.

One fireman said he entered the first floor of the home and "a lady was in a chair and a man was lying alongside in a pool of blood."

The victims were identified tentatively as Charles Mason, Eva Hirsion, Ida Windash, Meloy Smith and William Holmes, all in their mid-40s.

Mason and one of the women were on the first floor and the others were on the second floor.

The house was engulfed in flames when firemen arrived. The blaze was being fed by a gas leak on the second floor, they said.

The roof partially collapsed after the first bodies were pulled out and firemen had to crawl through the second floor rubble to reach the other three bodies, which were badly burned.

Homicide Chief Leo Donovan said police "have learned that each one of these five bodies has been murdered." All five persons were beaten and stabbed, he said.

Asked about a motive for the slayings, Donovan said, "We have no idea at this time. The only motive I know of is arson to masquerade the homicides."

Neighbors told investigators that several persons had lived in the house over the past few months and persons were moving in and out frequently.

The bodies were taken to the Erie County morgue.

Saigon Seething in Crisis

SAIGON (UPI) — Heavy fighting broke out today in the Xuan Loc region 38 miles northwest of Saigon where Communist forces cut Highway 1, the retreat route of government forces trying to halt the Communist onslaught down the coast.

Saigon seethed in a crisis of leadership. Government defenses were reported crumbling around Cam Ranh Bay, 186 miles northeast of Saigon, and military sources said less than 5,000 government troops stood between Saigon and the Communist offensive that was swept up 17 provinces in a matter of weeks.

Military sources said 2,500 of these infantrymen were battling at Xuan Loc to try to reopen the road. The other 2,500 were paratroopers in the Saigon area.

President Nguyen Van Thieu held a series of urgent military conferences amid reports army generals had given him three days to resign. Gen. Frederick C. Weyand, the U.S. Army chief of staff, joined Thieu and high ranking South Vietnamese army officers at the presidential palace at 5:30 p.m. for a crisis meeting.

The first convoys of refugees and soldiers fleeing the central coast reached the outskirts of Saigon late today, landing at the port of Yang Tuu 40 miles southeast of Saigon and bypassing the fighting at Xuan Loc 40 miles to the north. They were met by barricades and tough military policemen.

The MPs disarmed soldiers among the refugees and collected them in groups. Only civilians who could prove they had been in Saigon were allowed to pass the barricades on a crossroads 8 miles northeast of the capital.

Most could not meet the test and were left sitting forlornly in truck beds and cars parked alongside the highway as a heavy rain fell.

Several armored personnel carriers and people in an emotional address not to give up despite the overwhelming Communist advance towards the capital.

The South Vietnamese Senate unanimously passed a resolution calling for a change of leadership in the government — but not specifically calling for Thieu to resign. It blamed the staggering military losses on the failure of the United States to honor its commitments and on the mistakes of the Thieu government.

Economist Suggests Rebates Be Used For Down Payments

By RICHARD HUGHES UPI Business Writer The best way consumers can help end the recession, an economist says, is to take the tax rebates when it arrives and use it as a down payment on an expensive item.

"We'd get tremendous impetus out of that," Alan Murray, of First National City Bank of New York, said Monday.

If consumers use their $88 to $200 tax rebates as a down payment on a new car, it would help to pay something on the installment plan, Murray said.

The $2.9 billion tax cut would benefit several times as many people as the economy, he said.

The major question is not whether consumers will buy something on installments but whether they'll buy anything at all.

Otto Eckstein, director of Data Resources, a major economic consulting group, believes at least two-thirds of the money will be spent, and the rest saved.

"The whole theory of the present tax cut is to reduce the decline in purchasing power, increase consumer spending and have the whole economy catch fire," said Eckstein. "We think it will."

But, he added, "Our concern is that it will peter out too quickly. When the tax rebates are over, then the economy has enough momentum to carry forward or it doesn't."

Eckstein said the tax rebate should stimulate consumer spending enough to raise consumption by 8 per cent in the next three months for the first time in more than a year.

Albert Sindingler, of Sindingler & Co. said recent surveys indicate the rebate won't work because the major-

Also, they are stamping dime rights now in San Francisco without a mint mark. They are "S" mint but you can't prove it. All this to get ahead of the roll-hearing crowd.

There is a new meeting place for the Society of Philatelists (Hartford Area Chapter). A spokesman announced that they are moving to the Hartford Jewish Community Center, 335 Bloomfield Ave., West Hartford. Open meetings will be held on the last Thursday of every month, with new issues, trading, lectures, auctions, and seminars.

The Manchester Philatelic Society will meet on Tuesday, April 8 at Matt's Community Hall, 7 to 10 p.m. The program will be on stamp separation methods: perforations, roulettes, scissors, etc. Circuit books available as usual.

Discharged Monday: Elizabeth Evans, 191 Oak St.; John Farrell, 12 Ridgfield St.; Lorraine Sullivan, South St.; Coventry; Arthur DeLucco, 211 Bush Hill Rd.; Emma Washburn, 35 N. Lakewood Circle; Merriellen Michael, East Hartford; Deborah Intagliata, 162 Eldridge St.; Patricia White, Colchester; Marilee Kelly, 48 Edwards St.

Something for numismatophiles: The Haym Salomon, Financial Hero stamp, now current. In the background are Spanish eight and ten-real coins plus a "Romagnolis' Table."

Too bad the stamp itself is such a loser. There is a good design idea but the execution is mushy with colors in several shades of gray.

It was printed by the gravure method on the Andreotti press. A sad thing. Collectors in Spain and Sweden, proud of their steel engravings, would laugh themselves sick over this production.

On the back it says of Salomon: "...responsible for raising most of the money in finance... and later to save the nation from collapse." He deserves a better stamp.

Local philatelic facilities are still popping up all over the country — so far, the latest are Van Nuys, Calif., ready April 12, and Fort Wayne, Ind., a few days later. The latter one is to be called "The Old Post Stamp Shop."

The titles of these places are worth a look. Seventeen of them are "postiques," the name used first in Memphis in 1972. There are ten Philatelic Centers, and two each of Philatelic Store and Postal Service. Detroit has a Postal Boutique. There is a Postal Emporium in St. Paul and a Stamp Shoppe in Minneapolis. A bit frivolous in these twin cities. The Washington service still trades along as the Philatelic Sales Unit.

STAMPS AND COINS

Here, in all its glory, is the medal to be awarded to the winning exhibitor at the upcoming Manchester Philatelic Society show at the high school April 26 and 27 (MANPEX '75). The center design is a good reproduction of the high value stamp in the attractive request issue set of 1922-25. The $5, Scott No. 573. The medal itself comes in silver and gold finish and in bronze.

("The bronze is by far the best looking," said a southerly graphic three-place winner last year.)

The exhibition will be the fifteenth put on by the club. They expect a hundred frames and a 20-dealer bourse. There will be U.S. and U.N. booths, and special cachets and souvenir cards each with pictorial cancels. The auction will involve 200 selected lots. To get a medal such as the above — anyone can play; you don't have to be a member. The judges will award as many first, second, and thirds as they see fit. No set categories. The minimum exhibit size is 16 album pages — frame rental charge, $4. For an official entry, blank write MANPEX, P.O. Box 64, South Windsor. There is an April 12 deadline for the receipt of entries.

Parade Planned For Bicentennial

VERNON
 In connection with commission activities, the Festival '75 committee will meet April 15 at 7:30 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Betsy Steele, at the Administration Building.

Parade Chairman Arthur Rowe, and his committee, are attempting to contact, by mail, all area community groups and business concerns concerning their plans for participation in the parade.

The meeting will be open to the public and anyone interested is strongly urged to attend. The committee is especially interested in hearing from individuals or groups who would be able to sponsor a marching unit, float or band. Also individuals will be needed to help plan and establish parade procedures.

Anyone interested but who is not able to attend the April 9 meeting should contact Rowe, 21 Gerald Dr., Vernon, 875-9150.

Kola Waits New Home

Judy Kuehnel
 Correspondent 644-1364

Pacing the narrow run at the South Windsor Dog Pound is a large, beautiful black dog called "Kola."

Through no fault of her own she is in need of a good home. Unfortunately Kola is no stranger to dog pounds.

A few months ago she was found, expecting a litter and abandoned in East Hartford.

After a while in the East Hartford Pound she came to live with a family in South Windsor where she gave birth to nine pups.

She is one year old, gentle and affectionate. As big as she is, she would make a good housedog, she's Newfoundland-Lorraine Sullivan and has had all of her shots.

She is a wonderful watchdog, is excellent with children and is being given up with the utmost reluctance.

She is a very special dog. If that sounds like a prejudiced opinion — it is.

Sharing "Kola's" plight, and in need of a home is a six-month-old part terrier, female pup.

Interested persons need not be South Windsor residents and may call Jan Blowers at 298-4882 between 2-4 p.m. and 7-8 p.m., or 644-1364, anytime.

Arson Suspect Committed to State Hospital

VERNON
 Rowland P. Yost, 35, of 19 Chestnut St., Rockville, was admitted to Norwich State Hospital for observation Tuesday. He was charged with first-degree arson Monday night in connection with a fire that gutted his home.

Yost was presented in Common Pleas Court 19, Rockville yesterday. His case was continued to April 22 and he was released with the provision that he admit himself to Norwich.

This committee is also concerned with developing communitywide use of Vernon's many contemporary educational and recreational offerings. Anyone interested in participating in this committee should contact Mrs. Cornell at 875-3260.

Connally Jury Seated

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A jury of seven women and five men was seated today to hear the bribery trial of former Treasury Secretary John B. Connally.

The panel is comprised of six black women, one white woman, two white men and three black men.

Ruling Expected On Judge's Testimony

NEW HAVEN (UPI) — A Superior Court judge was expected to rule today on whether a state Supreme Court justice will have to testify at a hearing on dismissal of state charges against three accused bank robbers.

Defense attorneys for the three men, members of the Black Liberation Army, said Tuesday that remarks by Superior Court Justice Herbert MacDonald were prejudicial to their clients.

The three are charged with kidnaping and assault in connection with a New Haven bank robbery last May.

MacDonald and a tape recording of his comments have been subpoenaed for the hearing. Superior Court Judge John Shea said he would rule today on whether MacDonald, who is retiring this year, will have to testify.

OPINION

Let's Quit Allowing for Inflation

It seems everyone has to face up to inflation except government.

Almost all of us have known for some time that our income today — regardless of source — hasn't kept pace with the past year's double-digit inflation.

If it had, we are sure there would not be the growing concern voiced in almost every political discussion over higher taxes, higher prices, higher town, state and federal budgets.

When your income doesn't keep pace with inflation you must trim your sails.

We know it is argued that Manchester's budget, for example will, if adopted, be only about 10 per cent higher than it is this year which means practically no real gain when "you allow for inflation."

The question is rarely asked, "Why should the town, state or even federal budget makers be permitted to "allow for inflation" when most of us who must pay the taxes cannot "allow for inflation" in our budgets?"

Perhaps the real reason we have inflation is that we are too willing to "allow for inflation" and thus discourage any incentive to stop, control and eventually end inflation.

We have a government today that has mushroomed into tremendous size because it has been innovative and pioneering in development and delivery of social services to the people.

We are sure that right now within our vast bureaucracy, there are "needed" government services on the drawing boards which we, the people, are not yet aware of nor will be until a bureaucrat's fate is threatened.

It is too bad this pioneering spirit of innovation can't be applied to an effort by government to halt inflation by declaring a moratorium on budget increases which only "allow for inflation."

Instead of costly and heavily manpowered schemes to "break the cycle" of poverty, urban out-migration, rural out-migration, etc., how about government taking the lead to "break the cycle of inflation?"

Would it be treason in a country that the government, which is supposed to be for the people by the people and of the people, were overthrown by the people and the people set up a new regime which truly represented all?

If someone or a group could set up a system where every person could live in dignity, share in the wealth of their great land, instead of having it reserved for a certain few, a country that is not a disaster, work live and enjoy a good life for the span of years we have here. This is not an idle dream.

We might just celebrate our 200th year of existence as a nation by having another revolution. Whether peaceful or violent (I don't know) I hope it will be peaceful, but every indication is that it will be violent. Millions unemployed, prices always rising, the demand for foreign countries at the expense of our citizens, people losing homes, not being able to meet a great many necessary financial obligations. People old and young, sick and well, discouraged and depressed, hungry, cold and in the dark so that the great financial giants can make money.

I hear of proposed controls on everything but I have yet to hear one of our country say to the banks, insurance companies or to any of the financial companies "These profits you show are revolting, indecent and immoral!" (How much is a dollar invested worth?)

Those "terrible" Arabs went up on the price of oil and to behold the oil companies of our country made billions. (Amazing.) I think these great oil barons and anyone else who took advantage of all the citizens of their country by creating shortages when apparently none existed, are as much a threat to us as the Russians are with their atomic weapons. These actions should be counted as treason as they have destroyed our economic system and helped plunge us into a very bad recession.

I wonder if government and big business will ever realize that our system has to change before insurrection, revolt and anarchy runs rampant through the land. The bombings, fires and robberies lately are just a beginning. Desperate times make desperate people.

We live under a government and big business dictatorship. We are told just what we have to pay for just about everything. Electricity, oil, medical care, legal fees, you name it, they get a price fixed for it. What the government doesn't control, big business does, with manipulation, price fixing and shady deals.

Our forefathers fought for the things they laid down in the Declaration of Independence and I think millions more are ready and willing to do the same now. The great American ripoff must stop and stop now.

It is very serious threat to the value of millions of homes now in existence throughout the United States and can be a serious deterrent to high-grade residential construction until such time as it has been overturned, as it certainly must.

OPEN FORUM

The Great Rip-Off

To the editor:
I've just read where the oil companies of the United States made six and four tenths billions of dollars last year. United States Steel Company had its greatest year in history.

The reports and list of the financial giants goes on and on with the exception of the automobile industries which have had their crack at the Americans' purse for years.

In the first place, we have a President and vice president who were not elected by the people, who look over the leadership of the country from their predecessors who were crooked liars and corrupt, to say the least.

Secondly, we have a Congress which is impotent and callous and certainly does not represent the people of their country or really care, except for a few. They interest lies only in their ability to collect their salaries and pad their office expenses with relatives, take needless trips, live in splendor, work for a few hours a day, and satisfy the whims of the financial giants. What we need now is a big change in a government system that works for very few, about one per cent.

Would it be treason in a country that the government, which is supposed to be for the people by the people and of the people, were overthrown by the people and the people set up a new regime which truly represented all?

If someone or a group could set up a system where every person could live in dignity, share in the wealth of their great land, instead of having it reserved for a certain few, a country that is not a disaster, work live and enjoy a good life for the span of years we have here. HI NEIGHBOR

There isn't a single American who isn't in favor of lower federal taxes. The unfortunate situation is that there are only a few in Congress who are willing to give up their pet government programs in order to cut spending to correspond with reduced revenues.

Government give-away programs are skyrocketing. It is estimated that domestic assistance outlays will hit $190 billion by 1976, up 227 per cent since 1969.

While business and industry have the sad chore of furloughing workers, the federal government keeps adding to its payroll. Projections show that federal civilian employment in mid-1975 will be almost 40,000 above the June 1974 total.

Our benevolent federal government programs remind us of this story: A fellow was walking down the street one day with two small boys, each walking loudly. A friend yelled to him, asking what was the matter. "What's wrong with the whole world," replied the man. "I've got three pieces of candy and each boy wants two."

Unfortunately, the federal government isn't the only one with pet programs; municipalities have them also.

We can readily understand that inflation has hit government hard, the same as for business and industry, but the average taxpayer is being hurt also.

Unless town governments strive to hold the line on budgets, we can almost foresee the time in Connecticut when towns will impose some type of a sales tax on residents similar to that already being accomplished in some Western cities.

Imagine, paying a state sales tax and also a town sales tax? Unbelievable, you say? Just don't let your guard down.

Out in California, one school district is having such a financial problem that bus transportation for students is one of the programs that might be dropped.

The board is even considering buying and maintaining bicycles for students, pay students to walk or otherwise provide their own way to school, or pay parents to drive youngsters to school next year.

The news item about the hike on a bulk-purchase basis for approximately $40 each, of course, not the 10-speed variety. The district would do repairs and replace tires. Students would be graded on the use of the bikes.

If the bike program were adopted, or even the walk program, some physical education classes could perhaps also be eliminated.

One can't help but be concerned about the number of empty buildings on Main Street. The latest is the structure that formerly housed Hartford Electric Light Co. which has been vacant since Feb. 22.

HELCO continues to pay the monthly rent, as required with the lease, while the building remains idle waiting for a suitable tenant to take over the lease at HELCO's rate. As we understand it, this could go on for a period of two years unless the company is fortunate enough to find a tenant. Good luck! In the meantime you might think of it each time you pay your electric statement.

A great many folks may still be using credit cards for travel and entertainment but they are losing their acceptance by independent retailers. The National Federation of Independent Business says a survey reveals that acceptance of the cards has dropped for the first time in five years. One factor might be that consumers are now inclined to pay as they go rather than take on higher obligations in today's economy.

Perhaps there is still some hope. In Georgia, an appeals court ruled that a newspaper wasn't in violation of the Civil Rights Act by refusing to hire a male job applicant because of his shoulder-length hair.

The newspaper contended that its grooming code didn't discriminate on the basis of sex because both sexes were treated equally.

The court ruled: If the employee objects to the grooming code he has the right to reject it by looking elsewhere for employment, or alternatively he may choose to subordinate his preference by accepting the code along with the job.

No matter what side a newspaper takes in any dispute, it is open to criticism, but the worst it can do is remain silent on any issue that affects the community.

In our opinion, Theodore Roosevelt said it very well in these words: "If there is one thing we ought to be careful about it is in regard to interfering with the liberty of the press. I think it is a great deal better to err a little bit on the side of having too much discussion and having too virulent language used by the press, rather than to err on the side of having them not say what they ought to say, especially with reference to public men and measures."

One measure in Congress which should concern many is the bill calling for health insurance for the unemployed. One proposal is gaining some acceptance because it votes new benefits for a lot of people and puts the cost on business. One part of the program provides continued health coverage for up to one year for employees laid off in the future. Keep a close watch on that one and when the time gets crucial, let your representatives in Congress know your views.

Beginning Friday, if you take an airline trip, you will have the option of sending your carry-on luggage through X-ray machines for inspection, as in the past, or you can have your luggage inspected by hand. The Federal Aviation Administration also has decided that warning posters must be placed on X-ray machines informing their air traveler that radiation from such machines may damage film in their carry-on luggage. The warning, says the FAA, must also advise the passenger whether he should remove that film.

One can read a great deal about unemployment figures these days, many of which are misleading. For one thing, the figures don't reveal just exactly how many really wish to work.

Glancing through a Connecticut Labor Department pamphlet the other day, we learned there is a heavy demand for machine tradesmen. At the top of the list are tool and die makers, followed by grinders.

Meanwhile, Hartford National Bank & Trust's publication, Comments, says it doesn't expect the unemployment rate to reach 10 per cent. The

NEWS FOR SENIOR CITIZENS

By WALLY FORTIN

Hi! The big news is about our National Night which will be held tomorrow evening. This one will be sort of an old-fashioned buffet of baked ham, fried chicken, homemade baked beans, relishes, homemade rice pudding, and rolls with butter.

Mr. Lattuca has had his students put on National Night for us in the past, and it always has been a real treat.

Tickets for the meal will be $2. Our entertainment for the evening will be the Junior Women's Club putting on a little skit for us. The tickets are on sale at our office now; however, we are limited to only 100 sittings for the dinner, and we will not sell tickets at the door. Our bus will make the complete route starting at 5:15 p.m.

Other news of interest is that our hardworking program director, Gloria, had to spend Easter in the hospital. She sort of took sick, and had to go in for a few checkups. She hopes to get out today, and we sure hope so.

Let's see, the action here at the center starts with this past Monday when we had a nice turnout for our kitchen social games in the morning, and in the afternoon we had 17 tables for pinochle with the following winners: Robina Carroll, 738; Martha LaBate, 686; Gus Gull, 679; Samuel Schors, 677; Florence North, 661; Fritz Wilkinson and Edward Scott, 658; Clara Hemmings, 657; John Gully, 651; George Last, 650; Peter Frey, 645; Lillian Lewis, 643; Beatie Cate, 641; Josephine Schuster, and Harvey Barrette, 638; Robert Schubert, 637 and Louise Kohls, 635.

Next Thursday we will send two buses to New York for the Easter Show. The buses will leave our center at 8:30 a.m. The trip includes your bus fare, admission and dinner after the show.

Trip Open
We still have some room for the first week in June to Wildwood, N.J., and so we are opening it up to friends of our center.

Senior Citizens Gold Card. It may be obtained at the Senior Citizens Center, Myrtle and Linden Sts., Monday through Friday from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

The cards may be used only for purchasing goods or services by the person to whom issued. Coordinated with the "Dial-A-Ride" program will be a grocery-delivery system for those elderly physically unable to do their own shopping. Call-in hours are the same as for the shopping-assistance program.

On Wednesday afternoon a volunteer list pick up a detailed shopping list from each shut-in person who calls. Delivery of the groceries will be Thursday afternoon.

Efforts are being made to recruit volunteers from town volunteer agencies to assist in the program. Information may be obtained by calling the Human Resources Department at 649-3281, Ext. 214.

By United Press International

Today is Wednesday, April 2, the 92nd day of 1975 with 273 to follow. The moon is approaching its last quarter.

The morning stars are Mercury, Mars and Jupiter.

The evening stars are Venus and Saturn. Those born on this date are under the sign of Aries.

French novelist Emile Zola was born April 2, 1860.

On this day in history:

In 1792, Congress passed legislation authorizing the mint to coin money, all to be inscribed with the Latin words "E Fluribus Unum." ... a motto meaning "Out of Many, One"

In 1917, President Woodrow Wilson asked Congress for a declaration of war against Germany.

In 1932, Charles Lindbergh left $50,000 in bills in a New York City cemetery in hopes of regaining his kidnapped child, Bruno Hauptmann subsequently was found guilty of kidnaping and murdering the Lindbergh child. He was executed.

In 1974, French President Georges Pompidou died at the age of 62.

A thought for the day: American writer Isaac Goldberg said, "Diplomacy is to do what the nastiest thing in the nastiest way."

LWV Completes Study Of Vernon Schools

VERNON

Eight areas of "Know your Schools," was the subject of a research project recently completed by the Vernon League of Women Voters. The league has not set a date for issuing the final report.

The focus of the state-local relations study was on the laws relating to the operation, funding and administration of public schools and also the role of the state agencies concerned with education and the use of federal funds to strengthen these agencies.

Some of the topics researched included: Qualifications of teachers; selection of textbooks; the relationship between state and local boards of education; the accreditation process for junior and senior high schools; and incentive for regularizing school districts.

The league said the school district study brought out the advantages and disadvantages between the local school district and regional districts, the characteristics and autonomy of the district, and whether there was any need for change.

Conley Warns of Brush Fire Danger

SOUTH WINDSOR
Judy Kuehnel
Correspondent

South Windsor Deputy Fire Marshal William H. Conley reported that historically, the month of April has the highest incidence of grass fires.

"Most of these," the Deputy Fire Marshal said, "are the caused by youngsters, either deliberately or through carelessness."

Conley indicated that grass fires can endanger structures especially with strong winds present. He stated that, "large uncontrolled grass fires are tough on both the firefighters and their equipment."

In addition, severe economic loss could result if the department is tied up at a grass fire and a structure fire occurs somewhere else in South Windsor.

"There is also the possibility of an accident while responding to the needless grass fire," he said.

Conley mentioned that all fires are thoroughly investigated as to cause. He urged all residents to be cognizant of the danger of grass fires and to be alert for the responding firefighters and equipment.

Rockville Phone Books To Be Delivered

VERNON

The new Manchester-Rockville phone books will be delivered starting today and continuing through April 8. Old telephone books can be turned in as part of the ecology effort starting April 7.

Vernon, Ellington, and Tolland residents who wish to turn in old books can do so by putting them in a metal bin provided at the telephone office, 1 Court St., Rockville, until April 15.

Bin deliveries may be made at the company's garage on New State Rd., Manchester.

Richard F. Rose, local manager, is chairman of the drive for collection of the old books. Rose said if residents do not care enough about the environment to turn in the old books on their own there is no way the phone company can recover them.

Rose said the company cannot pick up the old directories as the new ones are delivered. Once deposited in the bins, the old books will be collected and sent to a paper factory where they will be recycled into such forms as cardboard, roofing paper and pressboard.

Coventry School Band Plans Maryland Exchange Concerts

Monica Shea
Correspondent
742-9495

The Coventry High School Band, Chorus and Dance Band will be leaving Thursday to participate in the 9th annual exchange concert conducted by the music department of the high school.

The students will take part in a four-day exchange that will include rehearsals, sightseeing in Washington, D.C. and the concert on Saturday April 5.

The Coventry students will be guests in the homes of the Maryland students during the four days and the Maryland families will host all of the social functions.

The concert will feature five performing groups involving 200 Coventry and 100 Maryland students.

"In May the second part of the exchange will take place in Coventry when the Maryland students will return the visit and perform with the Coventry students."

The main attraction of both concerts will be a combined Coventry-Maryland 210-piece concert band. The band will be conducted by John Magee, director from Maryland, and Carl Salina, director from Coventry, and student teacher James Juliano, from the University of Connecticut.

The Coventry students will be returning home about 6 p.m. on Sunday.

TARS

The TARS, Teenage Republicans, have finalized their plans for a trip to the Capitol in Hartford, April 15.

Plans were made by the club to participate in the Rtd Litter Day and a subcommittee has been formed to find a theme for a float for the Memorial Day Parade.

Five new persons have joined the club. They are Stephen Key, Mike Pesce, Donald Carlson, Walter Thompson and Bill Dearden.

Stephen Key was elected co-chairman and Donald Carlson, was elected sergeant at arms.

The group's next meeting will be April 9 at the home of Lisa Halloran, North School Rd.

Glaciers Club

The Glaciers Snowmobile Club will meet Saturday at 7 p.m. sharp at the England's home on Avery Shores in Coventry.

A potluck supper will be held after the business meeting. Officers will be elected.

The slate the nominating committee present will include, Harvey Barretto, president; Dick Giggly, internal vice president; Ted Pierce, Pete Clark and Robert Duffy for external vice president; Jack VanNess, treasurer; Harry Evagelou, state director; Kurt Lesenger, Joe Pacheco, Ron Wincil for directors.

Only two directors are needed and no one has volunteered to serve as secretary.

Nominations from the floor will be accepted at the meeting as long as the nominee is willing to serve. Only those members present at the

Testimonial Set For Pat Futtner

SOUTH WINDSOR
Judy Kuehnel
Correspondent
644-1364

Fenton L. "Pat" Futtner, of South Windsor, former State Agriculture Commissioner, will be honored at a testimonial April 11 at Club's Restaurant, Rt. 5, East Windsor.

Futtner, who served first as deputy commissioner and then commissioner of agriculture during the Meskill administration, is also Republican state central committeeman for the Fourth Senatorial District.

He has long been active in state and local Republican politics. At the 1974 Republican State Convention, he was a "favorite son" candidate for governor.

Cocktails are scheduled for 6:30 p.m. and a buffet will be served at 7:30. Dancing is from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. to the music of Al Jarvis' Orchestra. Several statewide GOP political figures are expected to attend.

Co-chairmen of the testimonial are Royal E. Cowles of South Windsor and John McCreever of Beacon Falls.

Tickets are $10 per person and are available from any member of the South Windsor Republican Town Committee. Also, Roy Cowles is selling tickets. He may be reached at 644-8033.

Tickets are also available from the following persons: Thomas L. Donnelly, Jan Murtha, John Midlin and Richard Foley.

Bolton To Get Bicentennial Flag

Donna Holland
Correspondent
646-0375

Bolton will receive its Bicentennial flag April 9 from George Cyr, program coordinator of the American Revolution Bicentennial Commission of Connecticut.

The ceremony will begin at 6 p.m. on the green at Bolton Center. In case of rain the ceremony will be held inside the Town Hall.

The Board of Selectmen has been invited to attend. All townspersons are cordially invited to attend.

Ivi Joe-Cannon, chairman of the local Bicentennial Committee, said the committee advertising for jobs (raking, washing windows) to raise money.

Club members are now preparing for their spring trip to New York. They will soon be advertising for jobs (raking, washing windows) to raise money.

Meet Ahearn

It is a listing and description of selected projects which should be helpful to communities across the nation who are beginning to plan their Bicentennial Programs.

The committee was informed of its listing in the publication by the United States Conference of Mayors, Washington, D.C.

Latin Week

The Bolton High School Latin Club ended a week of activities celebrating Latin week with a Roman banquet. The occasion was appropriate as it was the anniversary of the assassination of Julius Caesar.

Kathy McCooe, club president, opened the festivities by welcoming the 50 toga-clad guests to the banquet held at St. Maurice Church parish center.

Kurt Cowles, Latin IV student, spoke briefly on the idea and its significance in history.

A sumptuous meal consisting of three courses was served, the first course by slaves to guests who reclined at tables, the other courses buffet style.

Festivities included a play, a musical comedy presented by a cast consisting of Latin club

Bolton GOP Platform Stresses Record

Donna Holland
Correspondent
646-0375

Republican elected officials have led the way in the town's expanding and improving its services with the result being that the last two years in Bolton have been a time of dramatic progress, according to the party's platform. That claim led off the platform issued over the weekend.

"Republicans have led with participation in the public health nursing program, a proposal for an emergency rescue service truck, constantly improving fire protection and creation of a police study committee. That leadership will continue."

"Bolton has come a long way since the time of the one-room schoolhouse. The town must continue its efforts to upgrade educational programs and facilities to attain a high degree of excellence. Republicans, as always, will lead the effort."

"Under strength the Republicans cite recreation, public safety and health and education."

"The nucleus of Bolton's recreational facilities is at Herick Memorial Park, but the town's Republican leadership hasn't forgotten other areas. The GOP leaders have been working to expand recreational opportunities with tennis courts on Brandy St. and a larger playground at the elementary school."

"Sound planning is essential for orderly growth of Bolton. Republicans have led the way in planning the town's future and they will continue the work. The town's comprehensive plan of development will be updated and pursued as never before."

Under leadership the Republicans cite home care, garbage disposal and services for the elderly.

"Envisioning advancement of Bolton's governmental process the town's Republicans have supported an effort to explore and design a town charter. Republicans look forward to implementation of a charter, specifically tailored to meet the community's present and future needs, during the next two years."

"Bolton has benefited from its agreement to dispose of garbage in the Andover Disposal Area. It appears that those benefits are near an end. Republicans pledge strong leadership in resolving the ongoing problem."

Republicans applaud the efforts of the Bolton Junior Woman's Club to provide transportation for the elderly, but Republicans also recognize the town's responsibility to provide public transit service.

Within six minutes appropriations totaling $22,195 were unanimously passed by about 28 residents at a Town Meeting Monday.

There weren't any questions or discussion on any of the four items on the call.

Catherine Peterson was elected moderator of the meeting.

Residents approved $12,595 for the town to meet the standards of the Occupational Safety and Health Act (OSHA).

Appropriations totaling $5,700 for a tractor for Herick Memorial Park and kitchen cabinets and a security door to the kitchen area in the park building were approved.

Residents also approved $3,500 for a 15,000 watt generator for the town's civil defense and emergency use.

Bolton Students Change with MHS

Donna Holland
Correspondent
646-0375

Twelve Bolton High School students were recently involved in a two-day exchange program with the students attending Manchester High School.

The first day the Bolton students attended the MHS. They followed a regular schedule of classes and each had a student host.

The second day the MHS students followed the same procedure at BHS.

The exchange was organized and sponsored by the student governments of both schools.

The differences between a large high school (MHS) and that of a small one (BHS) were brought out by the exchange. Most students felt each school had advantages due to their respective sizes.

Bolton High School has about 295 students and Manchester High School has approximately 2,800. Both parties involved felt the exchange was a worthwhile and beneficial experience.

Bolton students who participated were Laurie Raser, Linda Sambogna, Daniel Buckson, Kim Fox, Lisa Franz, Audrey Leiner, Linda Bastarache, Robert Edwards, Laura Stoppelworth, April Bergstrom, Cindy Bither and Patty Manegga.

ON SECOND THOUGHT

By JAN WARREN

I've Got Holes In My Head

I've been thinking of having my ears pierced for years, but it took my friend Joan to actually convince me to do it.

"We'll have it done together," she said. "Just think, you'll never lose your earrings again. And the gypsy look is in. Why, I read somewhere that 9 out of 10 men prefer women with pierced ears."

"But it's going to hurt!" "Only a ting," she said, dismissing my worry with a shrug. "Harold is so pleased with the idea he's promised to buy me diamond chips."

"Diamond chip earrings?" I asked, pondering my friend's remarks. "Okay. If you'll do it, I'll do it."

That night when my husband came home, I was waiting for him in the kitchen.

"Notice anything different?" I asked with a toss of my head. "Hmmm, pot roast, my favorite."

"No! Nothing about me!" "You've had your hair cut!" "Look!" I said pointing to the little gold rings in my ears.

Dear Abby

How To Ruin A Marriage

DEAR ABBY: Paul (not his real name) and I have been married for 22 years, and I must say he has been an ideal husband and father. He is loving, sober, generous, and considerate.

About a year ago, Paul started going out every Wednesday night—"with the boys"—or so he says. He never mentions any of the "boys" by name, and I know of no one in our circle of friends who goes with him.

My problem is that Paul refuses to say where he goes—and with whom. We can never make any plans for Wednesday night, because that is Paul's night out.

Abby, this not knowing where he goes is slowly driving me to distraction. My demands that he tell me, or to cease going, have gotten me nowhere.

I am seriously considering hiring a private detective to follow him, but wonder what harm it could do to our marriage if Paul is innocent of any wrongdoing, and learns that I've had him followed.

What is your advice? DEAR ABBY: The saying, "live and let live" is a tolerant point of view. But Abby, Live and LET LIVE is exactly what you do.

Your wisdom, wit and humor is a blessed inspiration. For 19 years of pleasure, My sincere appreciation! RAE SWIDLER (AGE 91) GOLDEN CREST HOME, L.A., CALIF.

DEAR ABBY: My father is 69, and a retired coal miner on disability. He bought U.S. Savings Bonds years ago through the payroll office, and kept them at home. Our house burned down 25 years ago, and all the bonds were destroyed. Dad never had copies of the bond numbers.

Is there any way he can trace these numbers? Everyone we talked to says we should forget it. MRS. P.

DEAR MRS. P.: Don't forget it. Your father should contact his local bank, or the nearest Federal Reserve Bank, and request Form FD 1048.

He should then contact his former employer to help in filling out this form, as sometimes the payroll offices keep records of the serial numbers and dates. Your father should fill out the form in duplicate, keep one copy for himself and send the other to the Bureau of Public Debt (the address is on the form).

It may take a while, but eventually your father will get his bonds. Everyone has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply, write to ABBY: Box No. 69700, L.A., Calif. 90069. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope, please.

Hate to write letters? Send $1 to Abigail Van Buren, 132 Lasky Dr., Beverly Hills, Calif. 90212, for Abby's booklet, "How to Write Letters for All Occasions." Please enclose a long, self-addressed, stamped (20¢) envelope.

Annual Awards Night Planned By Legion

The Dilworth-Cornell-Quey Post, American Legion, will conduct its annual Awards Night Program, Saturday, May 3 at the Legion Home, 20 Legion Dr.

Francis Leary of Manchester has been named chairman of the event.

A Navy veteran, he served during World War II with much of his time being spent aboard the aircraft carrier, the USS Bunker.

In June of 1968, Leary was elected post commander and on April 5, 1974 he was awarded a life membership by his post, which is the highest award a Legionnaire can receive on the post level.

In 1973 he also received the Department Adjutant Award Trophy for being the "Outstanding Adjutant in the Department of Connecticut."

Leary is employed by the Aetna Insurance Co. as a rate manual unit coordinator. He resides on Bolton St. with his wife, Sylvia, and son, William. Another son, Peter, lives in Rhode Island, and a daughter, Bernadette is a student at Southern Connecticut State College. The Learys are communicants of St. Bridget Church.

Other committee members for this event are: John Mayne, post commander; Robert Donahue, junior post commander; Jack Lofard, junior vice commander; and Henry Wierzbicki Sr., past commander.

A social hour will be held from 6 to 7 followed by dinner which will be promptly at 7. Dancing will be from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m.

Adelaide Morgan will act as commentator for the fashion show which will feature Reach to Recovery models Mrs. Barbara Green, Mrs. Florence Green, Mrs. Evelyn Haman, Mrs. Dorothy Lennox and Mrs. Patricia Mulford.

Some 105 former breast cancer patients are currently Reach to Recovery volunteers across the state, offering practical help and psychological reassurance to women during the often difficult period following breast surgery.

Tickets for the hospitality hour, luncheon and fashion show are $6 each, and are available by sending a check and self-addressed envelope to Mrs. Harry Fellman, 111 Park St., Apt. 4R, New Haven, 06511.

The program includes a hospitality hour preceding lunch and a welcoming message from Mrs. Helen Loth, state-wide Reach to Recovery speaker. Honorary chairperson for the event is Mrs. Marvella Bayh, wife of Sen. Birch Bayh of Indiana.

BOARD MEMBER WASHINGTON (UPI) — Robert Strauss, chairman of the Democratic National Committee, has been named a member of the board of governors of Hebrew Union College-Jewish Institute of Religion, the institution of higher learning for the Reform Jewish movement in the United States.

Slight Jump Listed In Jobless Claims

Claims for unemployment compensation filed in Manchester-Vernon rose 1.5 per cent to a weekly average of 3,310 for the two weeks ended March 22, the state Labor Department has reported.

Of the total number of claims, 1,111 were filed in Vernon. There were 466 claims for extended benefits in Manchester-Vernon, and there were no claims attributed to seasonal closings.

Throughout Connecticut, jobless claims increased slightly to 127,442, up from 125,872 in the previous two-week reporting period.

Ten of the Labor Department's 19 offices reported decreased filings, including Danbury for the second consecutive reporting period. The largest decreases were in Hartford, Stamford, and Norwich.

Increases ranged from 52 in Manchester-Vernon to 1,274 in New Haven. Manchester-Vernon claim totals since the start of the year:

Period Ending	Claims
Jan. 11	3,287
Jan. 25	3,194
Feb. 9	3,076
Feb. 22	3,602
March 8	3,458
March 22	3,510

The state Department of Transportation's Office of Highway Safety is sponsoring a two-week traffic engineering seminar, to run April 7 to 18. SOCIAL SECURITY

Q. I was in a bad automobile accident and was laid up for four months with serious bone fractures. Since I had no earnings during this period, could I collect Social Security disability benefits?

A. No. Monthly Social Security disability benefits can be paid for a severe disability that is expected to last a year or longer. Monthly payments may start with the sixth month of disability. In addition, the disability must be so severe that it makes it impossible for the worker to engage in any substantial gainful activity. If you are at least 62 you could receive reduced retirement benefits for the months you were out of work.

Q. I am confined to a hospital. Since I can't come to the Social Security office to apply for disability benefits, what other arrangements can I make?

A. Call or write your Social Security office. It is quite likely that the necessary forms can be completed over the phone and mailed to you for your signature, or a representative from the office will visit you at the hospital and assist you in filling out the necessary forms.

Q. I'm getting disability payments from a state government agency, but my application for disability benefits was denied. Can you tell me why?

A. You can get payments under Social Security only if you are so disabled that you can't do any kind of work. This definition of disability is usually different from that of other federal and state agencies or private companies. Therefore, entitlement to disability benefits under some other agency or company would not necessarily mean that you would also qualify for disability benefits under Social Security.

Q. I have high blood pressure and have just had extensive tests taken in the hospital where it was determined that I now have angina pectoris and am on medication for both. My doctor has recommended that I quit my job. I have worked under Social Security for several years. Will I be able to collect disability payments under these circumstances? Does the fact that my husband is employed have any bearing on this? Exactly what is meant by "earned quarters"?

A. Assuming you are over 30 years of age you must have worked at least 5 out of the last 10 years prior to the onset of your disability to be the onset of your disability is 1975 you would need 24 quarters to meet the fully insured requirement. Each year is broken into four quarters, starting with January. To receive credit for a quarter of coverage you must be paid at least $50 in each quarter. You should file an application for disability soon. A determination of your eligibility for benefits will then be made based on the medical evidence submitted.

Q. I'm 56 and had a heart attack in February. My doctor says I shouldn't go back to work. Will I need a letter from him explaining my disability when I apply for monthly Social Security disability payments?

A. You should first call your Social Security office. They can tell you what information to bring with you when you apply for benefits. They will also help you gather all the medical records you will need.

Sutton Fights Litter to Stay Fit

ATLANTA (UPI)—Each day of the week for two hours, a retired Army colonel may be found walking along the Atlanta expressway system with a cleanup stick, a trash barrel and a plan for cleaning up the environment while staying in shape.

Clyde T. Sutton, 59, has been getting out and cleaning up other people's litter on his free time ever since he took the job as chief probation officer for the City Court of Atlanta in 1969.

He says it's an excellent way to stay in shape, bending over picking up beer cans and discarded wads of paper which people throw from car windows.

"I'm not a physical fitness nut," said Sutton. "Nor am I an environmental nut. What I am is a man who found a way to keep his body fit and a good deed at the same time.

A trim and healthy-looking six-footer, Sutton rises at 4:30 each morning so he can get an early start on his one-man cleanup detail before he reports for work and opens up the court at 8. On weekends, he and his wife, Virginia, clean up the streets near their home.

"I have had this back trouble and I know that the real problem was that I didn't use my back enough," he said. "There's no question about the exercise helping my back. It also helps my circulation."

A 1959 graduate of West Point, Sutton commanded infantry in the Pacific in World War II and served 15 months in the Korean War. He was a member of the Korean Military Advisory Group from June 1950, to August 1951, where he was awarded the Purple Heart, Combat Infantry Badge and six campaign stars.

In 1966, Sutton achieved the highest score ever made on the U.S. Army's Physical Fitness Test.

"It would be punishment for someone to tell me, 'Stay in the house and watch TV,'" he said. "I just have to remain active. It helps me feel better and sleep better, and it makes for a longer life."

"In the Far East where people don't have cars and the women carry loads on their heads, back trouble is practically unknown. The reason why more of us should use mass transportation is it gives us the opportunity to walk to and from bus stops. It's better than stepping from the kitchen to the carport and from the carport to the kitchen."

"Some people even say we ought to purposely get off the bus at a stop not the closest to our home so we would have to walk more."

OBITUARIES

Mrs. Barry Dies; Teacher, Organist

Mrs. May D'Arcy Barry, 61, of 22 Scarborough Rd., died at home Tuesday. She was the widow of Dr. John F. Barry, and member of State St. Day M. Barry of the 4th District. She was born in Enfield and lived here 48 years. Mrs. Barry attended the New England Conservatory of Music, Boston, Mass., and was widely known in the area as a piano teacher, and organist in local churches. She was a member of the Auxiliary of Manchester Memorial Hospital, and the Democratic Women's Club of Manchester. She was a com-municant of St. James Church and a member of its Ladies of St. James society. Other survivors are another son, Dr. John F. Barry Jr., of South Windsor 12 years ago. He was a tobacco grower in East Hartford for many years. Recently, he was self-employed at the Zimmer Farms Real Estate Investments in East Hartford. Other survivors are 2 sons, Richard J. Zimmer III and William G. Zimmer, both of Manchester; a daughter, Mrs. Patricia Z. Pesce of Coventry; a sister, Mrs. Charles Deplin of Fallston, Md.; 3 step-daughters, Mrs. Chester Jedzinski of Wetherfield, Mass., Mrs. Geraldine of South Windsor and Mrs. Richard Antkowiak of Lynnfield, Mass., and 15 grandchildren. The funeral is Friday at 9:15 a.m. from the Sullivan Funeral Home, 50 Naubac Ave., East Hartford. Burial will be in St. Mary's Cemetery. Friends may call at the funeral home tonight from 7 to 9 and Thursday from 2 to 4 and 7 to 9 p.m.

Rushid Didan Dead; Active With Masons

Rushid I. Didan Sr., 77, of 36 Bolton St. died Tuesday at Manchester Memorial Hospital. He was the husband of Grace Helberg Didan. He was born in Janjar, Albania, Jan. 2, 1898. He lived in Manchester the past 24 years after being moved from West Hartford. He was employed at the Manchester Evening Herald circulation department until his retirement in 1974. Previously, he had worked at Pratt & Whitney Aircraft Division of United Aircraft Corp. in East Hartford for seven years, and prior to that, as a landscape engineer for the Connecticut Highway Department for 25 years. He was a U.S. Air Force veteran of World War II. He was a member of the Disabled American Veterans, the Pratt & Whitney Square Club and the Manchester Golf Club. Mr. Didan was also a member of Manchester Lodge of Masons and the Fellowship Club of Manchester Lodge, and Phi Sigma Kappa of Manchester. In Scottish Rites Masonry, he belonged to the three bodies in Hartford, and the Connecticut Consistory (32nd degree) at Norwich.

In York Rites, he was a member of Delta Chapter, R.A.M. of Manchester, Adoniram Chapter, R.E.S.M. of Ellington, and Washington Commandery, Knights Templar, of Hartford. Mr. Didan was a member of Temple Chapter, O.E.S., Chapter 403, of Hartford. He was a member of the Connecticut Highway Department for 25 years. He was a U.S. Air Force veteran of World War II. He was a member of the Disabled American Veterans, the Pratt & Whitney Square Club and the Manchester Golf Club. Mr. Didan was also a member of Manchester Lodge of Masons and the Fellowship Club of Manchester Lodge, and Phi Sigma Kappa of Manchester. In Scottish Rites Masonry, he belonged to the three bodies in Hartford, and the Connecticut Consistory (32nd degree) at Norwich.

Other survivors are two sons, Richard I. Didan Jr. and Edward W. Didan, both of Manchester; and a daughter, Kathleen A. H. Didan of Poughkeepsie, N.Y. The funeral is Thursday at 1 p.m. at the North United Methodist Church, 300 Parker St., with the Rev. Earle R. Custer officiating. Burial will be in the veterans section of East Cemetery. Town Directors Table Agenda

Introduced into the record. It indicates Green Manor plans to pave Ambassador Dr., Esquire Dr. and streets in Forest Hills this spring, as well as place a buffer zone at its industrial park. Carmine Filloramo, a Green Manor official, was present Tuesday night and said the paving will be done this month, with the exception of a section of Esquire Dr. Because of the installation of sewers on that section (for new condominiums being constructed), it will be paved in the summer, he said. Filloramo said the paving had not been completed because of sediment in the roads. It was the consensus of the board that Green Manor was in violation of any commitments. At this point, Director Pascal Frignano remarked, "If Green Manor isn't in violation, then I question the propriety of the allegations we heard. I think the board

POLICE REPORT

VERNON Michael Quinn, 24, of 18 Belmont St., Manchester was charged Tuesday night with breach of the peace and intoxication in connection with the investigation of a disturbance at Albert's Cafe in Rockville. He was held at the Police Station and released later on a $250 non-surety bond for appearance in Common Pleas Court 19, Rockville April 27. SOUTH WINDSOR Michael Sullivan, 24, of 151 Ellington Rd., South Windsor was charged with failure to drive in the established lane in connection with the investigation of a one-car accident early this morning on Sullivan Ave. Police said Sullivan was traveling east on Sullivan Ave., failed to negotiate a curve at Strong Rd., and struck a utility pole. No injuries were reported. He is scheduled to appear in Common Pleas Court 12, East Hartford on April 22. Joseph Porter, 59, of Glastonbury was arrested Tuesday on a warrant issued by Common Pleas Court 13 charging him with third-degree burglary and criminal trespass to commit larceny. Police said the arrest was the result of an investigation of a Sept. 6, 1974 incident in which some electrical equipment was removed from a vacant building on John Pritch Blvd., South Windsor. Porter was released on his promise to appear in Common Pleas Court 12, East Hartford April 21. Police are investigating a complaint filed by Richard Caraballo of 688 Ellington Rd., South Windsor. Police said Caraballo left his car parked at his place of business, 665 Nutmeg Rd., and someone removed all four wheels from it.

Spring Training Big Business

Major league baseball is big business in Florida. Seventeen of the 24 major league clubs train in the Sunshine State and form the Grapefruit League. In addition, a number of minor league clubs gather each spring in Florida to prepare for the championship season. Just what benefits do a Florida city receive with a major league baseball team in its midst for six weeks in the spring? Take Sarasota, for an example, home of the Chicago White Sox. The city maintains the playing field at Payne Park at an estimated cost of $50,000 per year. On the other hand, the city gets a lot of ink, free publicity, from coast to coast, and it makes thousands of dollars from loyal followers of the team and from tourists in many ways. Vincent Hoiser of the Sarasota Chamber of Commerce estimates that White Sox followers spend at least $360,000 in the city each winter during Grapefruit League competition.

Club Expenses High

Spring training is expensive for a ball club. Last year the White Sox spent $31,000 for hotel rooms, $59,000 for meals, $15,000 for laundry, cleaning, telephone and miscellaneous expenses. For its minor league teams, the Chicago American League entry a year ago spent $14,000 for meals, $21,000 for hotels, $9,000 for player incidentals and $18,000 for other expenses. The club also spent $148,000 to run its summer rookie league for an overall figure of $361,000 for the year paid to the city of Sarasota. St. Petersburg, across Tampa Bay and the Sunshine Skyway, which hosts both the New York Mets and St. Louis Cardinals, reported that the two baseball clubs yielded the city $3 million from sources attracted to spring training. For every dollar a Florida city spends for a ball club it receives at least $10 back, which is a pretty good investment.

Optimistic Outlook With Catholic Nine

By Len Auster Tremendous optimism abounds in the mind of veteran East Catholic baseball coach Jim Penders as the 1975 season fast approaches. The Eagles, quarterfinalists a year ago in the Class B Division with a 14-4 mark, open the new season Friday afternoon in Uncasville against HCC foe St. Bernard. East has an 18-game slate with its home opener Tuesday against non-conference rival St. Thomas Aquinas, which will join the HCC next year. The Eagles were runnerup in the conference last season with a 7-3 mark. "I'm more optimistic this year than ever before," Penders said. "I'm sure we'll be able to shoot for the conference title (last won in 1969). We have the potential to duplicate last year's mark but it's a question of their mental outlook. If the players put their minds to it we should have a banner year," the seventh-year mentor said. Penders plans to begin the season with a 13-man varsity roster. One of its assets is flexibility, a number of players able to fill several positions. For example, Bill Moffett is thought of as a pitcher-first baseman-outfielder. Junior Mark McMahon, who will be the Eagles' long ball threat, is penciled in as an infielder-outfielder and will also be used as a designated hitter (the HCC allows its use). First base is an unsettled position but sophomore Mike Furlong has nailed down the second base job. The left side of the infield will be patrolled by veterans.

Whalers Finally Break Long Jinx And Tack First Defeat on Phoenix

HARTFORD (UPI) — New England not only strengthened its hold on the second place playoff spot, but notched its first win of the season over Phoenix with a 5-3 decision over the Roadrunners Tuesday night. Whalers coach-general manager Jack Kelley, who officially took over the coaching reins from Ron Ryan before the game, said Phoenix was "a real tough team for us because they play a close, tight checking game." "They had beaten us three times and tied us twice and we wanted this one real bad. It gets to be psychological after a while if the same team keeps beating you," he said. Kelley, who coached the Whalers to the AVCO World Cup title two seasons ago, was forced into coaching again when Ryan collapsed from nervous exhaustion at Toronto International Airport early Sunday. Tuesday night, the Whalers broke to a 3-0 first period lead, but didn't clinch the game until Mike Byers connected for his second goal of the night at 1:25 of the final stanza. It was Byers' second goal of the night and his 22nd of the year. Fred O'Donnell also had two goals for the Whalers, both in the first period. Byers had a first period tally, too, as the Whalers almost ran the Roadrunners off the ice. Peter McVermee got one back for Phoenix early in the second stanza, but Don Blackburn made it 4-1 New England at the 12 minute mark. Michel Cormier and John Gary then scored for the Roadrunners to cut the lead to 4-3.

Kelley announced just prior to the game that he was taking over as coach "reluctantly," but in the "best interests" of Ryan. Kelley, who will remain general manager as well as vice president, said the decision to take over the coaching reins was made after meeting with Ryan and team physician Dr. Vincent Turco. Ryan was hospitalized in Toronto where tests were negative. Turco said Ryan was in good shape physically, but was under too much tension. Kelley, a Boston native, coached at Colby College before taking over at Boston University where he amassed a 206-80-8 mark during a 10-year period, including NCAA championships in 1971 and 1972. Ryan, a student of Kelley's in his playing days at Colby, led the Whalers to their second straight Eastern Division title last season, but lost out to the Chicago Cougars in the playoffs. Other WHA scores were Minnesota 5 Vancouver 2, Chicago 3 Cleveland 2 in overtime, Toronto 7 Indianapolis 1, Quebec 5 Edmonton 3 and Baltimore 4 San Diego 3.

Cougars 3 Crusaders 2 Rick Morris' 50-foot slapshot with 3:37 gone in overtime lifted Chicago over Cleveland. Gary MacGregor scored the first two goals for Chicago while Terry Holtzroth and Steve Cardwell scored for Cleveland. Cardwell tied the game with 58 seconds left in regulation time. Toronto 7 Racers 1 Peter Marrin, just recalled from Mahawak Valley of the North American Hockey League, scored a goal and assisted on defenseman Jim Dorey's 16th goal to lead Toronto over Indianapolis. Quebec 5 Edmonton 3 Andre Gaudette scored two goals and Mark Turfild, Renald Leclerc and Serge Bernier, who got his 52nd, one apiece for Quebec, leader in the Canadian Division. Edmonton's scorers were Ed Joyal, Bruce MacGregor and Steve Carlyle. Blades 4 Mariners 3 Steve Andrauk, Steve Richardson, Steve West and Alton White scored to give Baltimore a 4-0 lead early in the second period and help the Blades end a seven-game San Diego winning streak. Wayne Rivers scored his 52nd and 53rd goals for San Diego.

Fighting Saints 5 Blazers 2

Don Tannahill scored his 23rd goal with just 36 seconds gone in the third period to spark a three-goal outburst and lead Minnesota over Vancouver. Celeste Sheldon, Nancy Barnes, Anita Nylin, Mary Rock, Kathy Wickham, Jane Smith, Deborah Rozell and Theresa Piccolo. Also, Mary Simmons, Irene Mac Mullen, Anne Fiedler, Helene Day, Barbara Rohan, Kathy Hayden, Martha Saries, Frieda Madden, Inez Babinoue and Debbie Sarri. Qualifying tests for both men and women are set for Friday night at 8:30, Saturday noon and at 2 and the same hours on Sunday. Play will be restricted to Manchester residents only. Men's eliminations will be Saturday, April 12 at 2, quarterfinals Sunday, April 13 at 4, semifinals Saturday, April 19 at 2 with the finals Sunday, April 20 at 2. The women's quarterfinals will be Sunday, April 13, semifinals Saturday, April 19 with the title match Sunday, April 19. All will start at 2. All matches will be best of five up to the finals which will be a best of seven-game set. This year's event will mark the first time the handicap system will be used for the men and the second year for the women. Two-third handicap bases on a 130 average with 100 pins maximum for five games; men and 140 pins for women will be used. If no state average, the combined average will be used for a minimum of 21 games. If no league average, a bowler must roll 81 scratches.

Handicaps for Both Divisions

Qualifying in the annual Men's and Women's Town Duckpin Bowling Tournaments starts Friday night with play continuing Saturday and Sunday at the Holiday Lanes. Defending champions Ken Seaton and Jean McAdam have been seeded into championship action. Paul Correnti, Holiday manager, will direct Men's Division competition with Amy Pirkey handling the Women's Division. Handicaps will prevail in both divisions. Twenty eight men have entered to date and a dozen women. There will be a number of comparatively new faces in both divisions. Shooting for the 15 spots in the championship men's play will be Hank Michaud, Dick Steves, Bob Boroch, Clyde Pickard, Don Matthews, John Johnson, Howie Holmes, Mickey Holmes, Fred Oakes, Dom DeDominicis, John Bremser and Anton Mayer. Also, Pete Wojtyna, Li Vigneault, Dave Saunders, Ashley Saunders, Bill McCullen, Ray Hickey, Jim McNally, Bob Cochran, John Izzo, Tony Marinelli Jr., Rick Johnson, Art Johnson, Carl Bujaucius, Ed Miller, Bob Krajewski and Mike Pagan. Seeking to dethrone Mike McAdam will be John Boroch, Mike Byers Scores for Whalers Center Beat Phoenix Goalie Jack Norris

Braves' McAdoo MVP in NBA

NEW YORK (UPI) — Center Bob McAdoo, who is less than a week away from capturing his second straight National Basketball Association scoring crown, has been named the league's most valuable player. It was announced Tuesday by Commissioner Walter Kennedy. McAdoo was the overwhelming choice in a vote of the NBA players to win the Podoloff Trophy, receiving 81 first-place votes and 547 points to easily outdistance rival Atlanta Division center and runner-up Dave Cowens of Boston. Cowens received 52 first place votes and 310 total points based on a 5-3-1 point distribution for first, second and third place votes. Washington forward Elvin Hayes finished in third place despite receiving five more first place votes than Cowens. Golden State's Rick Barry finished fourth in the voting and Milwaukee's Kareem Abdul-Jabbar fifth. McAdoo is the 11th straight center to win the award in a string dating back to the 1964-65 season when Bill Russell, now the coach of Seattle, was named the MVP while with Boston. The last non-center to cop the award was Oscar Robertson with Cincinnati. "What makes winning the MVP so hard to believe is that I was a high school and college kid just a few years ago," said McAdoo, "and now all the players I heard about and read about think I'm the best and that's an honor." McAdoo signed in 1972 with Buffalo as a hardship case out of North Carolina following his junior year. He averaged 18 points per game in winning the NBA rookie of the year award in his first season and hit at a 30.6 clip in capturing the league scoring title last season. McAdoo has a 34-point average and a comfortable three point lead over Barry for the scoring title this season. He also is tops in minutes played, third in rebounding, fifth in field goal percentage and sixth in blocked shots.

One Penalty Too Many Helpful for Islanders

NEW YORK (UPI) — The Atlanta Flames took one penalty too many. The Flames led, 2-1, with only 5:25 left in their game against the New York Islanders Tuesday night when veteran defenseman Noel Price was whistled off the ice by referee Art Eddie. Only 49 seconds later, captain Eddie Westfall slapped a 19-footer past Atlanta goalie Phil Myre to give New York its tie and move the 3-year-old Islanders another step closer to their first ever playoff berth. The deadlock ended the Islanders' quest to take over sole possession of second place in the National Hockey League's Division 1, one point ahead of the New York Rangers, and kept them five points in front of the fourth-place Flames. The Islanders have only two games remaining while the Rangers and Flames each have three left. "We were overkicked, we came up with some big chances and Myre came up with some big stops," said Islanders Coach Al Arbour while reflecting on his team's second tie with Atlanta in two days. On Sunday, the clubs battled to a 2-2 stand-off. "Our shooting was erratic," Arbour continued. "We were frustrated. We are not happy with the tie and are disappointed." "Overall we played better than they," said Islanders Coach Fred Creighton. "Time will tell if this becomes a costly tie. We have to win in Toronto Wednesday night." Besides Price's infraction, Skov called only two other penalties in the third period—both on Atlanta while Myre was attempting to hold a lead given the Flames on second-period goals by Rey Comeau and Curt Bennett. Bob Hyatt cut Atlanta's lead in half when he scored the Islanders' first goal at 16:44 of the second period. Two minutes before Westfall's goal, Billy Harris apparently had tied the score on a power-play goal but it was disallowed by Skov, who ruled the Islander wing was in the goal crease when he shot the puck past Myre. New York, thanks to Westfall, didn't waste a second chance. Randy Rota's opening-period score and Wilf Paiement's power-play goal in the second stanza sparked Kansas City over Los Angeles, snapping the Scotts' 16-game non-winning streak and eliminating the Kings from any chance of catching Division 3 leader Montreal. Lynn Fowis had the Scouts' other goal while Bob Murdoch accounted for Los Angeles' only score in the final period. Sabres 3, Bruins 1 Gil Perreault's power-play goal at 9:24 of the third period lifted Buffalo past Boston. Perreault's goal gave Buffalo a 2-1 lead and Dan Gare scored his 30th goal upon an open net at 19:00 to insure the win. The Bruins took a 1-0 lead in the middle stanza on a goal by Phil Esposito but the Sabres tied it when Rick Martin scored. Blues 7, North Stars 3 Garry Unger scored two goals in the first four minutes of the second period to spark a four-goal outburst and spur St. Louis over Minnesota. St. Louis trailed, 3-1, before Unger highlighted the Blues' second-period comeback with goals at 45 seconds and 3:50 to tie the score. Pierre Plante's goal gave the Blues a 4-3 lead in the period and Wayne Merrick added his second goal of the game with 2:08 left. Canucks 7, Seals 0 Ken Lockett, honored as the Vancouver's Rookie of the Year prior to the game, recorded his first NHL shutout as the Canucks blanked California. The Canucks, leaders in Division 2, took a 3-0 lead in the first period on two goals by rookie Ron Sedbauer and one by Don Layer. John Gould added his 32nd and 33rd goals just 70 seconds apart to stretch the margin to 5-0 and Layer added another goal. The victory leaves Vancouver within two wins of clinching the division title.

Yankees Gain Catcher, But Lose First Baseman

NEW YORK (UPI) — The New York Yankees gained a left-handed hitting reserve catcher Tuesday but may have lost a switch-hitting first baseman.

The wheeling-and-dealing Yankees, apparently not content with off-season acquisitions Catfish Hunter and Bobby Bonds, moved to back up first string catcher Thurman Munson by acquiring lefty-hitting backup Ed Herrmann, 28, from the Chicago White Sox Tuesday for four minor leaguers.

Herrmann, who caught 100 or more games for Chicago in each of the last four seasons and last year hit .259 with 10 homers and 39 RBIs, the Yankees gave up southpaw Fred Anyeski, outfielder-first baseman Jim Marron, outfielder Ken Bennett and catcher Terry Quinn, plus cash.

However, fast on the heels of the Herrmann acquisition, came the news that switch-hitting Roy White, last year's leftfielder and frequent designated hitter, would be sidelined for at least a week with a chip fracture in his left thumb.

White, who had been making a fairly successful transition to first base this spring, was injured after diving for a ground ball Monday during an exhibition game between the Yanks and Minnesota. X-rays revealed a fracture and it was believed that White would likely miss the Yankees' opener versus Cleveland.

Base of the Herrmann deal was the catcher's refusal to sign a contract with the White Sox after asking for $52,000 and being offered $48,000. He agreed to $50,000 with the Yankees and, ironically, may wind up as the club's opening day first baseman in the wake of White's injury.

In other spring training news...

The New York Mets optioned catcher Ron Hodges to Tidewater, thus opening up a spot for John Stearns, the highly rated "throw-in" in the Tug McGraw for Del Unser trade with Philadelphia last winter. Stearns, a former No. 1 draft choice of the Phils, has had a good-hitting spring for the Mets as a backup catcher to Jerry Garcia and sometime third baseman.

Montreal's spring phenom, Gary Carter, continued his hot hitting with a two-run homer that lifted the Expos to a 9-5 win over Minnesota Twins... Home runs by Tony Perez and Ed Armbrister highlighted a 19-hit Cincinnati attack that powered the Reds to an 8-2 victory over the Mets.

Rookie Pete Van Horn's bases-clearing double in the ninth inning helped the University of Arizona to a 8-5 comeback triumph over Cleveland... Ken Boswell singled home Jose Cruz with the winning run in the ninth inning to give Houston a 3-2 win over St. Louis... Wilbur Wood went the seven-inning route to hurt the White Sox to opener versus Pittsburgh in the first game of a doubleheader.

No Chance McGinnis Took Night Off And Watched Indiana Bow

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Former major league owner Bill Veeck, who is negotiating to purchase the Baltimore Orioles, says there is no chance that the team will play any games in Washington's Robert F. Kennedy Stadium this year.

Veeck said efforts to buy the team had dragged on too long and there was "no possibility at all of playing any of the Orioles' games in Washington this year if I get the club."

Veeck said he had hoped to consummate the deal by last November. Youngsters going around town without uniforms saying they are now collecting are not part of the fund raising drive.

Only boys in uniforms will be part of the drive.

He said negotiations are continuing between his lawyers and attorney for Orioles owner Jerald C. Hoffberger. Veeck has bid $12 million for the team.

piece Edge, playing in place of McGinnis, also had 15 rebounds and Knight, starting in place of injured Darnell Hillman, had 12 rebounds and six steals.

"I've got Darnell hurt and I can't take any chance of having George hurt, too, going into the playoffs," said Coach Bob Leonard, whose team opens the playoffs at San Antonio Saturday. "Until we get a more definite answer on Darnell, I'm not going to play George."

Spurs 130, Q's 113

Donnie Freeman's 23 points headed a list of eight Spurs in double figures. San Antonio grabbed a team record 80 rebounds to 45 for the Q's, who are out of the playoffs and who reportedly will move from San Diego next season. Coby Dietrick, playing in place of the league's leading midcourtier, was the fourth quarter with a career-high 21 rebounds for the Spurs and scored 20 points.

Spirits 122, Stars 109

Marvin Barnes and Freddie Lewis scored 25 points each and led a third-quarter rally for St. Louis. Barnes won his personal battle over his rival for Rookie of the Year honors, Moses Malone. Besides his scoring, he also put down 19 rebounds compared with 20 points and 10 rebounds for Malone.

Sounds 121, Squires 102

George Carter scored 24 points and Chuck Williams added 19 for Memphis. The Sounds scored 15 straight points midway through the second half and stretched a 79-74 lead to 94-74. During one fourth-quarter span, the Sounds outscored the Squires 22-5, and pushed their lead to 25 points, 102-77.

Carbo, Miller Make Noise With Bats Against Tigers

WINTER HAVEN, Fla. (UPI) — Bernie Carbo and Rick Miller made enough noise with their bats Tuesday night to force Boston Red Sox Manager Darrell Johnston to pause over their names before he makes out his opening day lineup.

Miller, in a battle with Juan Beniques and rookie Fred Lynn to start the season in center field, stroked a three-run home run off Lerrin LaGrew in a 9-0 victory over the Detroit Tigers in Lakeland.

Carbo, who almost didn't stay with the Red Sox this year, increased his chances of becoming the club's No. 1 left-handed designated hitter with a three-run homer of his own off southpaw John Hiller.

Johnston still isn't saying anything about who is ahead in the center field

Thornton Disabled Pagani's Cop Rec Bowling

SCOTTSDALE, Ariz. (UPI) — First baseman Andy Thornton of the Chicago Cubs Tuesday was placed on the 21-day disabled list after breaking a bone in his right wrist.

Thornton disabled himself during a game against the Milwaukee Brewers. He was hit in the wrist by a pitch from Milwaukee's Steve Carlton.

Pagani's Cop Rec Bowling

Champions of the Rec Bowling League this season is Pagani's, which won a one game runoff over Vitter's after league play ended in a tie.

Jerry Smith of Pagani's had the best average with a 112. Bob Guthrie of Cyle posted high triple of 396 and high single of 165. Bob Smith of Lee's rolled a high no mark of 96.

Final Standings — Pagani's 37-26, Vitter's 37-28, Cops 35-28, Alcar 23-30, Cyle's 22-41, Le-Mi 22-41.

Net Winner Village of Champ Mayor Challenges Collegians

Capturing the New England Class B Women's Singles Tournament title last weekend was Dorothy Ogden of Vernon, who plays out of the Manchester Racquet Club. The tournament was held at the Squash and Tennis Club, Shrewsbury, Mass.

Mrs. Ogden defeated Moija Palstrom, the second-ranked player in the division in 1974, 6-3, 7-5 in the first round. Sunday Low of East Hartford was upended in the semifinals, 6-3, 6-0.

Mrs. Ogden, 64, is a 1959 graduate of the University of Vermont. She is a former champion shot putter and discus thrower. She will attend NCA events and extend the invitations to the young athletes at that time.

"I'm sure I'll be able to get to come," she said. "I'm offering the winner a free trip to Hawaii to compete in the Hawaiian-Scottish Games in October."

Bangert's competition in Champ will be in the changing events, the 28-pound hammer, the 28-pound ball and chain, the 28-pound stone, the caber and the 56-pound weight. The 56-pound weight is two throws for separate measurements of height and distance.

Bangert explained that each contestant will get four throws in each event for a total of 24 throws with all of the distances. Bangert said he has been added together to calculate a contestant's score. The total

Milwaukee Keeps NBA Playoff Hopes Alive

New York (UPI) — Milwaukee will be tuned in and listening very closely to the Chicago-Detroit game on radio tonight.

The Bucks came through with a 98-91 triumph over Detroit Tuesday night but the victory will mean nothing for them if the Pistons can beat Chicago tonight.

Although the Bucks and Pistons played one of the most exciting games of the season, both clubs had their minds on tonight's crucial matchup.

The victory kept Milwaukee's slim playoff hopes alive. They have three games left — with New York Friday, Detroit Saturday and Chicago Sunday. The Pistons have two left — Chicago and then Milwaukee on Saturday.

The Bucks must win their three and play like they should," Bucks Coach Larry Costello said. "Unfortunately, hope is all we have left.

Washington defeated New Orleans, 110-101, and Portland ripped Los Angeles, 124-106.

Bulls 98, Braves 93

Chet Walker's 24 points led six Bulls in double figures as Chicago ended a three-game tailspin and halted the Braves' five game winning streak. The Bulls took a two-game lead over idle Kansas City-Omaha in the Midwest Division with three games left.

Bob McAdoo, who has won his second straight scoring title, paced Buffalo with 38 points.

Rockets 113, Hawks 104

Seven-footer Kevin Kunnert hit 28 points and Rudy Tomjanovich had 27 as Houston beat Atlanta and virtually clinched a playoff spot. Houston leads idle Cleveland by one game for the second-place spot in the NBA Central Division with one game to play.

Knicks 99, 76ers 95

New York rallied to win after trailing by 15 points in the first period. Earl Monroe led New York with 26 points, eight of them in the final period, while Walt Frazier added 21 points after being held scoreless in the first period. Fred Carter led the 76ers with 23 points and Billy Cunningham had 22.

Bullets 110, Jazz 101

Washington, with Elvin Hayes sinking 33 points, maintained its slim lead over Boston for the best record in the NBA by beating New Orleans. Pete Maravich led the Jazz with 19 points.

Blazers 124, Lakers 106

Sidney Wicks scored 22 points and grabbed 29 rebounds for Portland. Los Angeles, which had won eight of its last 12 games, played without injured center Elmore Smith and his absence proved to be the difference. The victory was the 36th for third-place Portland, the most in its five-year history.

Two More Weeks

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (UPI) — Owner Upton Bell of the Charlotte Hornets Tuesday said the public sale of shares in the World Football League franchise failed to raise enough money and he had two more weeks to come up with an additional $450,000 in order to operate the club next season.

Linebacker Signed

NEW YORK (UPI) — The New York Jets Tuesday announced the signing of linebacker Richard Wood of the University of Southern California, their third choice in the January college player draft.

Mynter Promoted

NORTHFIELD, Vt. (UPI) — Barry Mynter was promoted Tuesday to the head football coaching position at Norwich College replacing Joe Sabol.

Jackson Leaves

HANOVER, N.H. (UPI) — Marcus Jackson, whose magical touch was supposed to transform the woeful Dartmouth basketball team into an Eastern contender, has left the Ivy League school after one mediocre season.

Fined and Suspended

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — The World Hockey Association announced Tuesday that Indianapolis Racers goaltender Andy Brown has been fined $250 and suspended for one game.

Bud Polie, vice president and executive director of the WHA, said the penalties were handed down as a result of an altercation Brown had with officials in a game at Cleveland March 29. The suspension will be served when the Racers visit Vancouver April 6.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (UPI) — Roila Vollstedt, veteran race car designer, builder and owner from Portland, Ore., Tuesday exhibited a new turbo-charged, Offenhauser-powered car he will enter in this year's Indianapolis 500.

Clash of Giants

BOSTON (UPI) — The two men judged most valuable by their peers will come out clashing tonight when the Boston Celtics and Buffalo Braves scrap for the ninth and final title of the regular season.

A Boston win would be the first step toward the Celtics effort to clinch the NBA's best record and a bye in the first round of the playoffs. A Buffalo victory could leave Boston with the second best mark and force the Celtics into playing the Braves next week again in the opening series of the post-season session.

As usual, the lead roles in any Buffalo-Boston game will be played by centers Bob McAdoo and Dave Cowens. McAdoo today was honored by NBA players as the league's Most Valuable Player while Cowens was rated second. Cowens won the award two seasons ago and McAdoo was runnerup last year.

Awaiting Move

AMSTERDAM (UPI) — The International Chess Federation today said it was granting world chess champion Bobby Fischer another 24 hours to declare whether he will defend his title against the Soviet Union's Anatoly Karpov.

Federator President Max Euwe told a news conference he still had not received word from Fischer regarding his willingness to play the championship match scheduled in Manila for July 1.

Fischer had until midnight Tuesday Pacific Daylight Time (3 a.m. EDT today) to dispatch his decision.

Euwe said he did not personally communicate with the 32-year-old chess ace, but learned that Fischer had not sent off a telegram announcing a decision "from persons who had conversations with Mr. Fischer."

Easy First-Round Wins For Evert, Goolagong

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Top seeded Chris Evert of Fort Lauderdale, Fla., and defending champion Evonne Goolagong of Australia easily polished off their first round opponents Tuesday in the $150,000 Virginia Slims women's tennis championships at the Sports Arena.

Miss Evert, the tournament's leading money winner with $81,450, routed Janet Newberry of La Jolla, Calif., 6-1, 6-0. Miss Goolagong, who shocked Miss Evert, 6-3, 6-4 in the 1974 championship final, whipped Val Ziegenfuss of El Cajon, Calif., 6-2, 6-1.

The eight winners Tuesday will play a round-robin tournament during the next four days—Wednesday, Thursday and Friday nights and Saturday noon.

Unseeded Marcie Louie of San Francisco and Mona Schallau scored the only upsets. Miss Louie upended eighth-seeded Nancy Richey Gunter of San Angelo, Tex., 7-6, 7-5. Miss Schallau took advantage of the erratic play of France's Francoise Durr to defeat the sixth seeded player, 6-4, 6-3.

Miss Evert had Miss Newberry on the run almost from the start with her hard and well-placed shots from the baseline. She lost only one game, the second in the first set.

"I'm winning from the backcourt," said Miss Evert in defense of her style of play. "So why should I come to the net? Why change a winning game? This tournament compares very well with Wimbledon and Forest Hills. It is just as important."

Although she is the leading money winner on the tour, Miss Evert said that she doesn't consider herself No. 1 at the present time.

"There are four or five tough players," she said. "They are Margaret Court, Françoise Durr, Evonne Goolagong, Billie Jean King and myself."

Favorites came through in good style in the other matches. Second-seeded Martina Navratilova of Czechoslovakia ripped Kathy Kuykendall of Miami, 6-2, 6-0. Third-seeded Virginia Wade of England whipped Wendy Overton of Ormond Beach, Fla., 6-3, 6-1. Fifth-seeded Olga Morozova of Russia, the only amateur in the tournament, trounced Sue Stap of Deerfield, Ill., 6-2, 6-1. Julie Heldman of Houston, seeded No. 7, breezed past Raquel Giscafre of Argentina, 6-2, 6-1.

In matches Wednesday night, Miss Louie meets Miss Evert, Miss Heldman opposes Miss Navratilova, Miss Goolagong faces Miss Morozova and Miss Wade tangles with Miss Schallau.

Mt. Snow Bankrupt, Land Sales Small

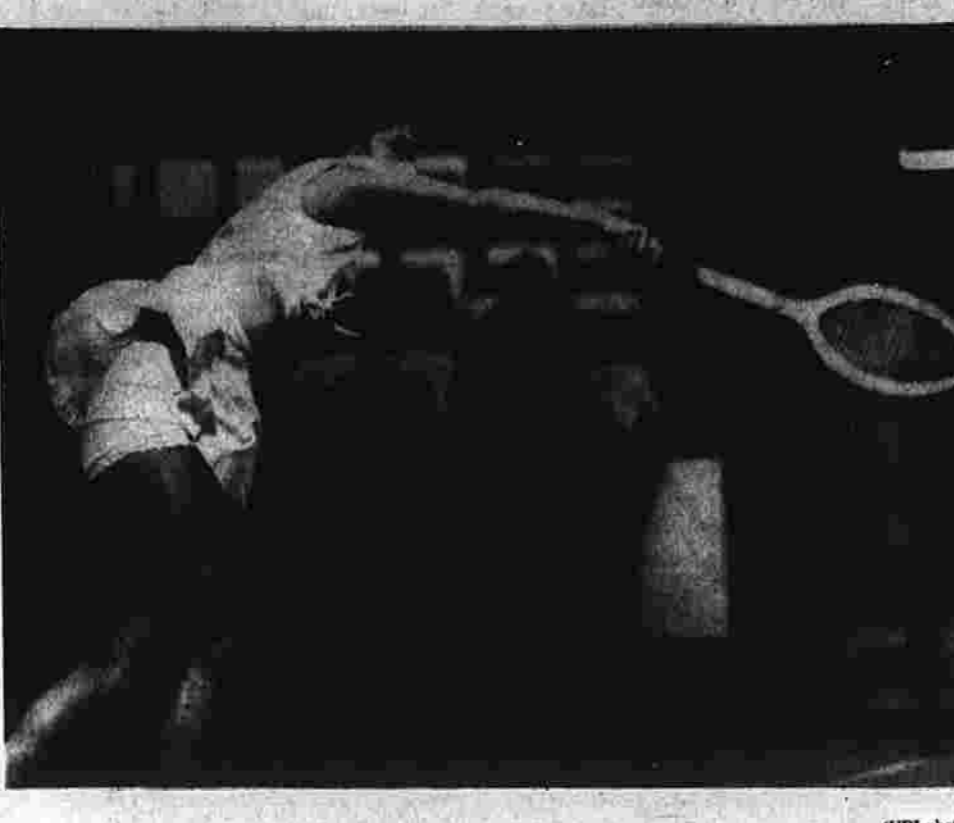

NEW YORK (UPI) — Okura-Yavos International Inc., of New York, operator of the Big Vanilla ski area in New York and the Mount Snow resort in Vermont, has filed for reorganization under the Federal Bankruptcy Act.

The firm's new president, Frederick M. Kerr, said in papers filed Tuesday in U.S. District Court that estimated liabilities amount to $24.8 million. Estimated total assets come to $10.3 million, he said.

"Poor skiing weather, the energy crisis and the overall economic conditions resulted in a substantially diminished revenue," Kerr said.

Mount Snow in West Dover, Vt., he said, "did not realize its full potential because of its inability to develop and sell its real estate, primarily due to the lack of adequate sewage treatment facilities."

In addition, another subsidiary, Heritage Village Corp., sustained substantial losses in conducting a land development operation in Plymouth, Mass., Kerr said. He said he anticipates the

Yugoslav Truck Driver Issues Challenge to Ali

BELGRADE (UPI) — A 35-year-old Yugoslav truck driver has challenged world heavyweight boxing champion Muhammad Ali to a wrestling bout, the Belgrade evening newspaper Vecernje Novosti said today.

Ilija Cetnik, a 6-foot shepherd from a small village in Knin, in the Dalmatian highlands in south-central Yugoslavia, issued his challenge after hearing that Ali had agreed to fight Japanese sumo wrestlers.

Cetnik said that if Ali failed to meet him, he would sue him at an international court for deceiving the public.

"I have had enough of Clay's boasting. He is a good boxer, but talks too much. I was silent until he said he would fight free-style wrestlers with his bare hands," said the 264-pound Cetnik whose favorite sport is shot-putting with large rocks at village fairs.

"I am sure I am stronger than him and I am ready to wrestle with him any time now," Cetnik said.

Near-Riot Follows Japan Ring Fight

TOYAMA, JAPAN (UPI) — A near riot broke out Monday night when 6,000 angry spectators violently protested a split 15-round decision in favor of challenger Eribto Salavarría of the Philippines against World Boxing Association flyweight champion Susumu Hanagata of Japan.

The spectators hurled punches and other objects into the ring when Referee Herbert Minn, an American of Korean ancestry who lives in Honolulu, announced Salavarría as the winner.

Both Minn and Filipino judge Enrique Jimenez of Manila scored 71-68 for Salavarría. Japanese Judge Masao Kato called it 73-69 for Hanagata. The UPI had it 73-67 for Hanagata who used his left hand effectively and was the aggressor all the way.

The Japan Boxing Commission withheld payment of services to Minn and Jimenez. It also sent a telegram to Bill Brennan, chairman of the WBA championship committee protesting the decision. It called the verdict one of the worst made in Japan and asked for a rematch within 60 days.

There were no knockdowns although Hanagata and Salavarría traded punches viciously from time to time.

Minn said "I gave the fight to Salavarría because he landed the cleaner punches, particularly his left hooks to the body."

Hanagata failed in the first defense of the title which he won by a sixth-round knockout over Chartchai Chitnoi of Thailand last October in Yokohama.

Salavarría won the WBA flyweight crown for the first time. He previously was the World Boxing Council (WBC) flyweight champion, but lost his title to Venezuela's Betulio Gonzalez when he was disqualified for allegedly taking a stimulant while they were fighting on November 20, 1971 in Maracibo.

It was Salavarría's 57th win against five losses and two draws in 64 fights. For Hanagata it was his 14th defeat against nine wins and eight draws in 63 bouts. They are both 28 years old.

Race Earnings

NEWARK, N.J. (UPI) — The New Jersey Sports and Exposition Authority says it earned $5.3 million from racing dates held at Garden State Park and Freehold Raceway.

The authority, which is building a track in the Hackensack Meadowlands in East Rutherford, said Monday that the earnings were current through the end of the authority winter meets at Garden State.

Windy days, cold damp nights and frosty mornings. Now and then a few remnant snowflakes fall, but in our hearts we know that spring is in the air. Many are still awaiting spring, but most, including the staff of the Center for Environmental Education, have been long aware of the signs.

For us it starts with the skunk cabbage melting its way through the snow in mid-February. Red-wing blackbirds arrive two weeks later, then the birds are off. The procession of events that follows excites even the most lethargic of observers.

Red Maple buds swell. Privet starts to green, wood frogs arrive at our pond; and then one morning robins toss the leaves in search of food. Spring starts to green, wood frogs arrive at our pond; and then one morning robins toss the leaves in search of food. Spring starts to green, wood frogs arrive at our pond; and then one morning robins toss the leaves in search of food.

The tempo quickens and our class loads increase as students and teachers, eager to deepen their contact with the outdoors, consult us.

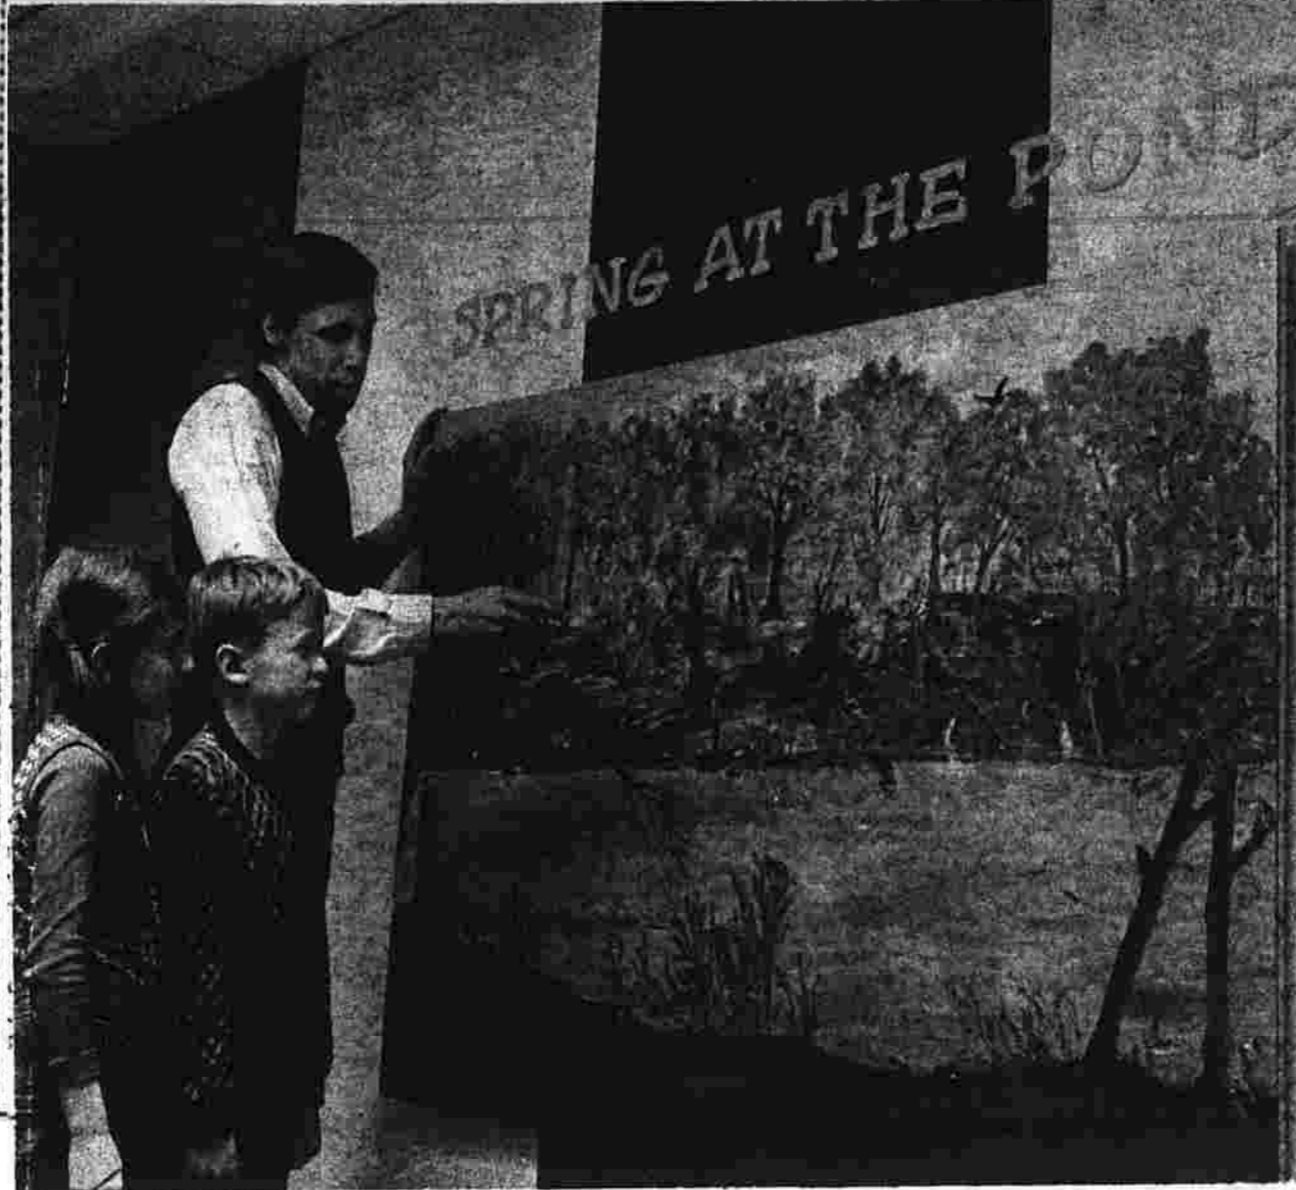

Another innovation, a forestry game, will be sent out to one of the school libraries later this year. The game deals with concepts of forestry management and development. Each student will have a forest plot and will select instructions from a pile of chance cards. The student will then manage or mismanage his plot, according to the cards he picks throughout the game, until he has filled it with trees or destroyed the potential of his land for growing trees. A fact sheet explaining the concepts behind each chance card accompanies the game.

New materials also include several excellent transparency series dealing with life cycles, ecological cycles, weather systems and insects and insect life cycles. The transparencies include our teacher aid kits, including the meaning and importance of National Wildlife Week. Several other types of classes were also conducted.

As spring continues to manifest itself, the diversity will broaden as more teachers and students continue to experience outdoor learning activities.

ENVIRONMENTAL EDUCATION

By JUAN SANCHEZ

Steve Fish explains his mural to Timothy Maddock and Lisa Santaripa, Grade 2 students at Highland Park School.

This year we are bringing new dimensions to our lessons and to the schools. A host of new educational devices have been purchased and developed by us. Among them are sound murals. Steve Fish has put many hours of research and art work into some of these.

"Spring at the Nature Center" is the theme of one mural. It is painted on a four-by-six-foot sheet of fibboard that was donated by Colonial Board Co. The mural illustrates our pond and some of the animals that visit it in the spring. An accompanying tape recording has the sounds of nine of the animals (phoebe, bullfrog, wood duck, etc.) that are featured in the mural.

Although the theme is spring, alert students can also discover the life cycle of the green frogs, and several small food chains and food webs that are portrayed in the mural. Other animals are still being developed; these, too, will be sent to various schools for display in classrooms, libraries and hallways.

Midwest Stricken by Floods

United Press International
The rain-plunged Mississippi and Ohio rivers flooded their banks today and flowed over nearby lowlands, forcing hundreds of persons from their homes.

The muddy floodwaters of the powerful Ohio River swirled window-deep in portions of western Kentucky, driving 300 families from their low-lying homes.

The Mississippi lumbered southward bringing the threat of more flooding to the southern Mississippi Delta.

With the Ohio River 12 feet above flood stage at Paducah, Ky., the big river's overflow swamped McCracken County, blocked at least two major highways and closed many side roads.

The National Weather Service predicted the Ohio and other swollen Kentucky rivers would be falling today. The backwaters of the Mississippi eddied toward homes in the delta country. Heavy farm equipment was moved toward higher ground and residents were moving out or packing to move between Vicksburg and Holly Bluff and Rolling Fork, Miss.

Civil Defense authorities at Vicksburg said more than 150 families would have to be evacuated from the area by the weekend.

"We are in a major flood," said Col. Gerald Galloway, Corps engineer for the Army Corps of Engineers. "The Corps is making every effort to be prepared and the people must be aware of the danger to their homes."

Save Children Federation Loses Contact With Staffers

WESTPORT (UPI) — A resettlement and rehabilitation project. The Children's Federation said today it has lost contact with many staff members and project centers in the central and interior areas of South Vietnam.

Elaine Atkinson said the federation has an American field director, David Belkiss, in Saigon, but that many Vietnamese staffers are scattered in various areas have been caught up in the swift military advances engulfing the nation.

"We are in contact with our field officer in Saigon and he's having great difficulties contacting the project areas," she said. "They are in the interior and communications are completely wiped out. We don't know what's happening to our projects."

The diversity of classes that we have held this past month includes signs of spring, tire building (that's right, several groups are preparing for camping trips later this spring), and the meaning and importance of National Wildlife Week.

Several other types of classes were also conducted. As spring continues to manifest itself, the diversity will broaden as more teachers and students continue to experience outdoor learning activities.

Another innovation, a "Insects," provide interesting supplementary materials. We have found that many of the teachers contacting us this year about the outdoors and environmental problems. For this reason our book lending library has recently been expanded to over 100 volumes. The library includes books that are geared to the reading level of most students as well as more advanced and technical books dealing with specific concepts.

TODAY'S THOUGHT
"Sing to the Lord a new song, for He has performed marvelous deeds. His right hand and His holy arm have won for Him the victory. (Psalm 98:1) The carpenters recently made a hit song the gist of which claims that through its singing the sadness and emptiness that we sometimes feel disappears and is replaced by hope and joy.

So it is with the resurrection of Jesus Christ. The sadness and emptiness that the world has melted away and has been replaced with a hope and joy that surpasses any we have known. Our response to that victory over suffering and death can only be expressed in our singing—our singing praises to Him. The Rev. Bruce W. Jacques is the pastor of St. Mary's Episcopal Church.

Man's Pendant May Be Viking Artifact

By DAVID HASKELL
BOSTON (UPI) — The continuing saga of controversial evidence of Viking visits to New England has a new chapter — this one hanging from the neck of a Maine resident.

This man, who requested his name not be disclosed because he may be in violation of certain state laws regarding artifacts, found a stone amulet which bears what appears to be the Viking method of writing.

He wears it suspended around his neck, as it appears it was designed to be. Vikings were known to do the same, as a good luck charm or protection against evil.

The story behind the stone's present status was disclosed by James P. Whitfall, director of archaeology for the Early Sites

Research Society of Danvers, Conn. Whitfall frequently finds himself embroiled in controversy over the Viking question, including the so-called Spirit Pond runestones found on the coast of Maine. Whitfall feels the amulet is connected somehow with the Spirit Pond stones, on which were extensive runic writings.

As Whitfall tells it, the amulet was found in late 1974 by the Maine man while digging in a shell midden, or refuse heap apparently of Indian origin,

By EDWARD A. FULTON
DALLAS (UPI) — A Southern Methodist University professor says vast pools of hot water, saturated with natural gas, simmer beneath the Texas flatlands of the Lower Gulf Coast.

The research scientist, Dr. Eugene Herrin, said the calcium is perhaps as wide as the state's coastline and contains an energy potential that may be equivalent to all of the oil and gas ever extracted from wells in that area.

Herrin, SMU's Shuler-Poore professor of geological sciences, studied hundreds of reports from drilling companies of "dry" wells, at least dry of petroleum. He calculated from the logs the depth and width of the deep-in-the-earth reservoir.

"The conversion technology would have to be developed in order to use that geothermal energy and there are some geological and legal questions that need to be answered before a commercial development begins," he said, "but the potential it represents is very important for this state and for the country."

In the simplest form, the boiling water could be released in a controlled way to power a turbine to generate electricity. The natural gas dissolved in the water could be extracted as a byproduct.

But there are questions of damage to the earth from full-scale drilling and pumping. Herrin has drafted a research proposal aimed at solving many of the geological problems.

"We really don't know what will happen if 50,000 barrels of water a day are pumped out of a well for 20 years," the geophysicist said, "but we know how to monitor one with sensitive equipment in such a way that the pumping could be stopped before any damage was caused."

Herrin said the threat of such damage would be telegraphed by certain "seismic noise."

He proposed drilling of a test well and its operation at full capacity to explore not only the seismic danger but also the problem of the ground setting in the empty space where the water had been.

"After a base line has been established and the well has gone into operation, we should know what the long-term problems are, based on what we can extrapolate, within four or five years," he said.

Go Ahead, Shoot Me!
After three drinks and an argument about politics, Al informed Jeffrey that he had a good notion to shoot him. Jeffrey borrowed a pistol from the bartender, handed it to Al, and said: "Go ahead, shoot me!"

Al proceeded to fire a bullet into Jeffrey's leg, the bartender proceeded to call a policeman, and the policeman proceeded to arrest Al for "aggravated assault."

At the trial, Al insisted that the shot was perfectly legal because Jeffrey had given his consent.

But the court found him guilty as charged. The court said that regardless of the attitude of the victim, the community itself has an interest in the preservation of the public peace.

Most courts agree. Furthermore, the consent of the victim makes even less difference if the assault goes beyond the scope of that consent. Such a case arose out of a fraternity initiation.

The pledges had submitted willingly to what they were told would be some "hazing." But one pledge was beaten so severely that he had to spend several weeks in the hospital.

Spring Style Show Benefits Church

BOLTON
Donna Holland
Correspondent

646-0375
A Spring Into Summer style show to benefit the Bolton Congregational Church will be held Friday at 8 p.m. at Flano's Restaurant.

Both men and women's fashions will be shown through the courtesy of Doris Rivosa, of Arnold's, and Bernice Apter, of Regal Men's Shop, both of Manchester.

Hairstyles for the men and women who will be modeling in the show will be done by Tres Chic Beauty Salon of Manchester.

Phyllis Daly and Susan Biske are making table decorations. Plants and flowers to decorate the modeling room are being donated by the John William Nursery. Nancy Fenley and Diana Ovan are in charge of publicity.

Refreshments are being prepared under the direction of Irene Conover with Barbara Smith and Adrian Ovan assisting. Jane Hooper is in charge of door prizes.

Arnold's Thornton will be the commentator. George Merritt, pianist, will provide background music. Lighting will be done by The Rev. Stan Conover and Robert Thornton.

Mrs. Thornton is general chairman of the fashion show and Mrs. Conover is co-chairman.

Tickets will be available at the door and will sell for $2.50 each.

Orientation
There will be an information hour for parents of incoming kindergarten students Thursday at 9:30 a.m. in the all-purpose room at Bolton Elementary School.

The what, why, and how of the screening process for the incoming students will be explained and appointments for it will be made.

Screening will take place April 9, 10 and 11.

Refreshments and babysitting will be provided by the Parent Teacher Organization.

228-3267
The Planning and Zoning Commission held a public hearing Tuesday night on the proposed subdivision, High View Estates, on Rt. 66 and Burrows Hill Rd.

Engineer Richard Mihok representing Ernest J. Reed of Rt. 85, of Bolton was the only person speaking in favor of the proposed subdivision. No one spoke against.

The subdivision consists of 72.5 acres divided into 20 lots, some of which range up to 15 acres.

The commission waved a public hearing on Section 5.4 of the wetlands regulations on the proposed subdivision at a previous meeting.

The Planning and Zoning Commission will now study the proposed subdivision and the wetlands regulations at a public hearing on April 18.

Church To Mark Polish Easter

VERNON
The traditional "Swieconka" and "Breaking of the Easter Egg" dinner will be celebrated at St. Joseph Church this Sunday at 8 p.m.

The "White Eagle Dancers" of Norwich will be the featured entertainment at the buffet dinner being sponsored by the men and women's clubs of the church.

The Rev. Hyacinth A. Lepak, and the Rev. Aloysius J. Kisliuk, pastors of the church, will bless the Easter foods.

The "Swieconka" table is laid with the finest linen, and on it is spread ham, coles of sausage, cakes of all kinds and in the center is the homemade coffee cake, Babka. Also on the table is homemade bread, colored eggs (called Pisanek) salt and pepper, wine, vinegar and horseradish mixed with grated beet root.

In the center of the table is placed the Paschal lamb made of butter. Sprigs of green will decorate the plates on which the food is placed as well as along the edge of the table.

Reservations for the dinner may be made by calling Mrs. Helen Koniar, Mrs. Bernice Sullivan, or Matt Stein. Tickets are $3 for adults and $1 for children under 12. No tickets will be sold at the door.

Following the dinner, the dance group, made up of eight boys and girls aged 11 to 16, dressed in traditional Polish costumes, will dance traditional Polish dances plus the new figure dances.

All senior citizen members of the church will be guests of the church societies.

Ambulance Service Plans Open House

TOLLAND

Tel. 875-4704
Plans for an open house at the new headquarters of the Tolland Volunteer Ambulance Association on Rt. 74 have been completed.

The program will begin at 2 p.m. on Sunday, April 13, with a presentation of a charter member plaque. There will also be a first aid demonstration and a movie. The public is invited and refreshments will be served.

The organization is extremely proud of its accomplishments with the building, which was funded through the town, as well as the progress made in the 10 years of TVAA existence.

Thirty-seven members of the organization are EMT-qualified and nine are qualified Red Cross instructors who teach numerous courses to the community on first aid and cardiopulmonary resuscitation.

The TVAA reminds residents that free ambulance service for 1975 is available by sending in a $5 subscription. The average cost of an ambulance call to non-subscribers is $60. The Tolland telephone booklet and subscription material will be available at the open house.

The organization also maintains a medic alert record that is confidential so that persons with a history of diabetes, heart trouble, epilepsy, etc., may record their medic alert for prompt and efficient service from the TVAA should the need arise.

Tag Sale
The TVAA is planning a tag sale April 26 and 27 at its headquarters. Donations would be appreciated and pick-up dates for large items will be April 19 and 20. Items may also be left at any TVAA member's home, or delivered to the headquarters on April 19 and 20. Please call 875-4746 or 875-4706 for further information or arrangements for pick-up.

Story Hour
A story hour for resident children between the age of 4 and 8 will be held Saturday from 10:30 to 11:30 at the Tolland Library.

The story hours are sponsored by the education committee of the Tolland Junior Women's Club. The next program will be April 19 at which time a puppet show will be presented.

Plagues Presented for Historic Homes
ANDOVER
Donna Holland
Correspondent

646-0375
The bi-centennial commission presented five plaques to residents as part of its dating of Andover historical homes projects at a recent open house coffee at Andover Elementary School.

Plaques were awarded to David Hartford of the John Tuttle home (1720), Mrs. Alice Moe of the Eliakin Sprague home (1740), Rev. David Reese of the Samuel Lockwood parsonage (1749), Edgar Clarke of the William Sweetland home (1752) and Richard Higgins of the Jacob Lyman home (1745).

The two policemen are back to work, and their assailant was recently committed to Norwich after a judge ruled he was incompetent to stand trial.

Williams, however, said Masini was "blowing the thing all out of proportion," and said the station had explained the item was old only five minutes after it was aired.

Radio Rebroadcast Irritates Police
WINDSOR (UPI)—Police in nearby Hartford say they don't appreciate a radio station's rebroadcast of an eight month old newscast about detailing the shooting of two policemen.

Henry Williams, news editor of WKND, said the broadcast Tuesday had nothing to do with Hartford-area radio stations to explain the newscast was from July 30 and he called the broadcast "an unfortunate choice."

LaRue Begins Serving Six-Month Jail Term

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (UPI) — Former White House consultant Fred C. LaRue, the first man to plead guilty in the Watergate cover-up and the last to be sentenced, began serving a six-month prison term Tuesday.

The building, bespectacled former top aide of ex-Attorney General John N. Mitchell surrendered to federal officials at Maxwell Air Force Base's minimum security prison. Warden R. W. Grunika said he would be treated like the facility's 268 other inmates.

LaRue, a Mississippi oil millionaire and land developer, who became known as the Nixon administration's Southern strategist, was sentenced to one to three years by U.S. District Court Judge John J. Sirico after pleading guilty to conspiring to obstruct justice.

Sirico suspended all but six months of the term.

The 46-year-old longtime GOP national committeeman from Mississippi worked in Nixon's 1968 presidential campaign and left Jackson in 1969 to join the White House staff as an aide after the election. But he was on the staff without pay for three years before his name was listed in the White House directory.

During the 1972 campaign, LaRue went to the Committee for the Re-Election of the President as a special assistant to Mitchell, where he became known as the campaign director's "right hand man."

After Mitchell resigned from the campaign, LaRue became special assistant to his successor, Clark MacGregor. It became known quickly that he was a go-between for Mitchell and MacGregor, allowing Mitchell to keep his hand in the campaign.

LaRue pleaded guilty June 28, 1973, to one count of conspiracy to obstruct justice and offered key testimony at both the 1973 Senate watergate hearings and the 1974 cover-up trial.

He confessed that he helped handle payoffs to the Watergate defendants and destroy incriminating records concerning the Watergate.

He testified he was present March 30, 1972, when Mitchell allegedly approved an intelligence-gathering plan that led to the break-in at the Democratic offices in the Watergate hotel three months later. He also pleaded guilty to handling more than $300,000 in hush money.

of a nonbinding referendum.

Gammage got a telegram later saying, "You've got to be out of your damned mind."

But the two say Eastern states have a disproportionate share of power in Congress. They say Texas could increase its clout by dividing and getting eight additional senators for the four new states.

"It's simply a warning to some of the people back East," Agnich said.

Since Gammage got the telegram suggesting he was insane, reactions have moderated somewhat.

"If you don't have the emotional blocks most Texans have, it sounds like a pretty good idea," Gammage said. "But I'll admit I have a block."

Jack D. Knox, president of Summit Energy, Inc., of Dallas, wrote Gammage endorsing the idea to protect Texas oil and gas.

"This resource-rich area simply must have protection from the Eastern liberal consumer group, and the only way I can see for us to do it is to utilize the considerable wisdom of our forebears and exercise our privilege of dividing this area into five separate states in terms of representation in Washington," Knox said.

Carl E. Blass, a Rosenberg, Tex., voter, didn't think it was such a good idea.

"Thanks for the comedy relief," Blass told Gammage.

Converge on Capitol
Motorcyclists converged on the State Capitol in Hartford last night to attend a hearing on a bill which would repeal Connecticut's compulsory motorcycle helmet law.

Motorcyclists Ask End to Helmet Law

HARTFORD (UPI) — Motorcycle enthusiasts have turned out in force to express their opposition to a Connecticut law requiring them to wear helmets.

More than 800 motorcyclists filled the hall of the House of Representatives and the chamber's galleries, cheering speakers who advocated repeal of the law, which has been widely neglected in the year it has been in effect.

Some opponents provided figures indicating that motorcycle deaths have increased as a result of mandatory helmet use. Helmets were criticized for placing cyclists in jeopardy by limiting vision and hearing in city driving. Most opponents of the law urged mandatory driver education as a substitute for the helmet requirement.

Sen. George L. Gunther, R-Stratford, said no state had lost federal highway funds although a number of states had been notified they would forfeit the funds.

Attorney Burton M. Weinstein of Bridgeport said federal funds would probably not be withheld in a national election year. He said the law violated motorcyclists' constitutional rights.

Defenders of the compulsory helmet law said Connecticut would risk losing about $10 million in federal funds by repealing it.

Texas: The Ultimate Dream of a Subdivider

AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI) — When Texas joined the union in 1845, it retained the right to divide itself into as many as five states.

Now two state lawmakers, Sen. Bob Gammage, a Houston Democrat, and Rep. Fred Agnich, a Dallas Republican, have introduced a bill calling for a public vote on the issue in 1978. The vote would be in the form of a nonbinding referendum.

Gammage got a telegram later saying, "You've got to be out of your damned mind."

But the two say Eastern states have a disproportionate share of power in Congress. They say Texas could increase its clout by dividing and getting eight additional senators for the four new states.

Cambodian Towns Taken

PHNOM PENH (UPI) — Just a few hours after President Lon Nol flew to Indonesia Tuesday, the towns of Neak Luong and Banam, 30 miles southeast of Phnom Penh, fell to an insurgent siege. Sources said as many as 6,000 Communist-led rebels may have been involved in the fighting. Nine landing craft that reached Phnom Penh this morning were believed the only government units to escape. Rebel gunners fired two barrages of rockets into the south side of Phnom Penh, near the U.S. Embassy, killing one person and wounding five.

Seek Battlefield Victory

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (UPI) — The State Department's top analyst on East Asia, Philip C. Habib, said in Washington the administration has concluded the North Vietnamese were trying to take South Vietnam on the battlefield and that diplomatic attempts at settlement were futile. Meanwhile, President Ford, who is vacationing in Palm Springs, is waiting for more information on the situation. Habib feels the President would ask Congress for massive aid for Saigon if reports convince him that Saigon can "stabilize the military situation."

Commits Suicide

CONCEPCION, Tex. (UPI) — The "Duke of Duval," South Texas political boss George B. Parr, who faced a prison sentence for income tax evasion, was found shot to death in his car Tuesday. Justice of the Peace Luis Elizondo ruled that Parr shot himself in the right temple with a pistol found near the body. At the peak of his power, Parr ruled with an iron hand in the oil-rich brush country. Only federal investigators and the Texas Rangers ever questioned his authority.

Dollar Dips Again

BRUSSELS (UPI) — The U.S. dollar dipped again today on all European money markets. Bankers in Paris blamed the "debacle in South Vietnam" on the dollar's decline since Easter.

"The debacle in South Vietnam and uncertainties over U.S. foreign policies seem to be weighing down on the dollar," said a banking official in Paris.

A banking official in Brussels, however, said today's drop in the dollar's value reflected a normal market fluctuation in mid-week trading.

Orphan Flight Canceled

SAIGON (UPI) — A planned evacuation of 458 South Vietnamese orphans was canceled today. Officials ruled the jet that was to carry them was unsafe.

World Airways President Edward Daly reported U.S. aid officials and South Vietnamese airport officers said a DC8 cargo jet intended for the trip was not equipped to carry passengers, and the mercy flight would not be allowed.

Crews installed safety nets and webbing on the floor of the plane, but inspectors said the makeshift passenger accommodations did not meet required safety specifications.

Coastal States To Seek Share Of Oil Revenue

WASHINGTON (UPI) - Top legal officials of 13 coastal states have agreed to push a proposal under which the federal government would give half its revenues from offshore oil drilling to the states.

Tuesday's meeting was an outgrowth of a recent Supreme Court decision giving offshore drilling rights to the federal government instead of the states.

Maine Assistant Attorney General Donald Alexander said the officials settled on a plan that is giving 37.5 per cent of offshore revenues to the hardest-hit states and distribute the remaining 12.5 per cent among all of them.

Participating in the meeting were officials from Alaska, California, Delaware, Georgia, Louisiana, Maine, Maryland, New Hampshire, New Jersey, New York, South Carolina, Texas and Virginia.

Alexander, whose state initiated the suit on which the Supreme Court ruled, said a committee had been named to draw up a legislative proposal to implement the group's idea.

The Atlantic Coast states argued unsuccessfully before the Supreme Court they owned all natural resources to the edge of the outer Continental Shelf, at places more than 100 miles offshore, under grants made by Britain in colonial times.

In rejecting that claim, the Supreme Court said the states gave up ownership of offshore resources to the three-mile limit when they joined the United States.

The Interior Department quickly followed the Court's ruling with a request for oil companies to pinpoint places they would like to draw for the north-central Atlantic coast.

The oil industry says untapped petroleum resources in the area may help the nation solve its oil supply problems.

feeding steam to the Number One plant.

Abraham said Northeast Utilities, which operates the site, traced the leakage Thursday to a faulty valve, and 1,800 gallons of clean water were thrown into the system to flush the radioactive content.

The flashing water was collected at a liquid waste treatment system and cleaned of all radiation, then discharged into the Sound.

When another flush was tried with 2,500 gallons of water Sunday, Abraham said, "something happened, some kind of mistake," and the water contaminated as it went through the radioactive system was sent directly into the Sound without first being cleaned.

The contaminated water which escaped Thursday into Long Island Sound through a floor drain contained only a small amount of radioactivity, about five per cent of the allowable daily limit for radioactive discharges, he said.

The flashing water spilled Sunday contained even less radioactivity, about one tenth of one per cent of the maximum daily discharge, Abraham said.

Democrat Leader Asks for Lease Probe

By ED BUTLER
HARTFORD (UPI) - The speaker of Connecticut's House of Representatives has called for federal and state probes of possible criminal charges in the state's property leasing scandal.

The request by Democrat James J. Kennedy Tuesday was the first by a major elected official.

Kennedy, the non-law-of-lawyer, said he was disappointed that the state's Attorney General John M. Bailey, told U.S. Attorney Peter Dorsey in a letter that "substantial questions emerged as to whether there may have been violations of existing federal laws."

"Of particular concern is the revelation that certain leasing practices may have violated provisions of the Internal Revenue Code and the federal anti-corruption statutes," Kennedy wrote.

He asked Chief State's Attorney Joseph Gerletti to pursue possible perjury violations arising out of recent legislative hearings into the state's $7.4 million a year leasing program.

Lawmakers, who complained of inadequate staff and lack of strong investigative tools, were barred by their own rules from conducting criminal investigations while probing leasing.

Their work uncovered evidence of favoritism and exorbitant leases being awarded to friends of former Gov. Governor Thomas J. Meskill and other political figures, including Democrats.

Democrat Leader Asks for Lease Probe

The leasing scandal, called "Connecticut's Watergate" by one lawmaker, has been a major stumbling block for Meskill in his drive to win approval in the Senate Judiciary subcommittee for his nomination to the Second U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals.

The American Bar Association and the Bar of the City of New York both oppose Meskill's nomination, saying he lacks adequate legal experience and may have been involved in improper leasing activities.

Meskill now must win approval from the Senate, but a floor fight is expected, with Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., expected to lead the opposition.

Sen. Lowell P. Weicker, R-Conn., Meskill's sponsor and staunch supporter, has said he plans to introduce Meskill to all senators so they can meet him personally and make up their own minds about him.

Bennet Students Go to Washington

Thursday morning at 7:30, three chartered busloads with about 150 students from Bennet Junior High School will leave for a three-day excursion to Washington, D.C.

Accompanied by nine teachers, the group will visit famous buildings and monuments at the nation's capitol.

On the agenda is a meeting with U.S. Sen. Lowell Weicker, providing he has returned from a spring recess.

A special event will be a wreath laying ceremony Friday at 4 p.m. at the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier in Arlington Cemetery in which members of the group will participate.

The group expects to be back at Bennet about 10 p.m. Saturday.

Opinions Conflict On Cutting Budget

By SOL R. COHEN

It appears there are conflicting opinions among top Manchester Democrats about cutting into the budgets and tax rates being proposed for 1975-76 by Town Manager Robert Weiss.

On Monday, Mayor John Thompson offered little hope for any cuts.

"I find it (Weiss budget) very tight and to cut back would only postpone improvements," he said. "What I can see, basically, is that reducing the proposed mill rate is at the risk of cutting services."

Today, Manchester's Democratic town chairman predicted there definitely will be cuts.

Said Ted Cummings, "We're looking, we're working and we're studying. Something's got to give, and I mean it."

He said, "I understand and appreciate the mayor's views and concerns that not much fat can be cut from Weiss' recommended budgets if, as the mayor said, services are to be kept at their existing level."

"However," insisted Cummings, "I think we can do a lot better than that. The proof of the pudding will be seen on May 7 when the directors adopt the tax rate."

Cummings declined to predict what the eventual tax rate will be. He predicted, however, it will be lower than the one proposed by Weiss.

Weiss is proposing a 5.5-mill hike in the General Fund tax rate and an 0.80-mill hike in the Town of Manchester Fire District tax rate — to bring them to 54.8 mills and 6.5 mills respectively. His tentative General Fund budget is up $1,995,236 for this year and his tentative Fire District budget is up $202,601.

In addition, Weiss is proposing a 25 per cent increase in sewage charges — to peg them at 125 per cent of water bills (they now are at 100 per cent).

A public hearing on Weiss' proposals is scheduled for Monday (April 7) at 8 p.m., in Waddell School Auditorium, Broad St.

The Board of Directors will conduct budget workshops

Rosters Set For Benefit Hoop Game

Rosters have been announced for the second annual basketball "Game" for the Cancer Fund — to be "staged" April 9 by Manchester's two political parties.

The "contest" will be at 7 p.m. in the East Catholic High School gymnasium. Tickets are $1 each and will permit spectators to view a second game also — this one at about 8:15, between the Manchester Herald Team and the Journal-Inquirer Team.

The Republican roster lists 14 men. They are Ray Karpe, Dave Odegard, Bob Spillane, Roy Thompson, Louis Champeau, Frank Rizza, Don Genovesi, Wally Irish, Frank Livingston, Herb Phelon, Carl Zinsser (chairman of the Cancer Drive and arranger of the program), Hill Gallagher, Bob Gorman and Nate Agostinelli.

The Democratic roster lists 15 men. They are Tom Conran, Dave Barry, Bill FitzGerald, Pat Prignano, Bob Price, Jay Stager, John Tani, Joel Janenda, Jim Cunningham, John Hutchinson, Jack Goldberg, Chuck Higgins, Fran Mahoney, Dick LaPointe and Ted Cummings.

Skunks always stamp their front feet as a warning signal before using their ultimate weapon — a strong-smelling scent secreted by a gland under its tail.

Senior Citizens Intern Program

Among 48 active Connecticut senior citizens who met with U.S. Sen. Lowell Weicker recently in Washington were, from the left, Marjorie McLain, Weicker, Tina Martin and John Dormer. The three are from Manchester. The Washington visit was under Weicker's four-day Senior Citizens Intern Program. Initiated by Weicker two years ago and the only one of its kind sponsored by a member of Congress, it gives people 60 years of age and older the chance to see government in action firsthand.

Mrs. Maher To Retire; Reception Set April 13

A reception honoring Mrs. Bernice W. Maher for her 48½ years in the teaching profession will be April 13 from 2 to 4 p.m. in the Bennet Junior High School cafeteria. She will retire this year. All former students, friends and colleagues are invited to attend.

To honor Mrs. Maher's years of dedication to her profession, a scholarship is being established in her name through the Manchester Scholarship Foundation. Contributions may be sent in care of Mrs. Joan Taylor at Bennet Junior High School. Checks may be made payable to the Manchester Scholarship Foundation.

Mrs. Maher was graduated from Central Connecticut State College. She received her master's degree from Wesleyan University. She is a life member of the Connecticut Education Association and the National Education Association, and is a past president of both the Manchester Education Association and the CEA. She is also a member of the Connecticut and National Council for the Social Studies.

Mrs. Maher's other professional affiliations include past president and charter member of the Manchester chapter of Alpha Delta Kappa, a national honorary educational sorority, and a member of the recently formed a local chapter of the National Retired Teachers Association. She has served as a member of the state Department of Education Retirement Commission.

Mrs. Maher taught Grades 2 and 6 at Nathan Hale School for 14 years before her assignment to Bennet where she has been chairman of the social studies department for 15 years.
