Liquor Permit Change Proposal Debated Before Zoning Agency

By DOUG BEVINS
Support and opposition was nearly balanced at Monday night's public hearing on proposed zoning amendments which would ease liquor restrictions in Manchester's Central Business District (CBD) Zone.

The town Planning and Zoning Commission, which heard public comments for 75 minutes before a standing-room-only audience, reserved decision on the amendment.

The amendment, proposed by Barbara H. Lindsay, would remove all distance restrictions for liquor outlets of different classes in the CBD Zone. Existing regulations prohibit any liquor outlet within 1,000 feet of another outlet or within 200 feet of a college, school, church, hospital, library, or charitable institution.

If adopted by the PZC, the amendment would clear the way for Mrs. Lindsay's husband, Albert, to seek a restaurant liquor license for a new building he's planning at 881-883 Main St.

Atty. Leon Podrove, representing Mrs. Lindsay Monday night, told the PZC that a zoning regulation change would be an advantage for downtown Manchester. Podrove said the CBD Zone has three package stores, one club, one tavern, one cafe, and three drug stores selling liquor, but no full-service restaurant.

Podrove said the Lindsay proposal meets objections raised at public hearing last year, when there was considerable opposition to eased liquor restrictions proposed by Town Planner J. Eric Potter. Potter's proposal would have affected the entire town.

Much of the opposition last year — and some of the opposition Monday night — came from restaurateurs who already serve liquor. Podrove characterized that opposition as "a case of the haves versus the have-nots."

Atty. Paul Groobert, representing the owners of Willie's Steak House, opposed the Lindsay amendment Monday night, maintaining that a rule change would create the potential for more than 20 liquor outlets in the downtown area.

Mentioning the proximity of schools and churches, Groobert said the CBD isn't the proper zone for eased liquor rules.

Backers of the amendment speaking Monday night disagreed.

Joseph Garmon of 68 Bowers St., a downtown merchant, said the rule change would be a great boost to downtown business, and might attract new merchants to Main St.

Burl Lyons, publisher of The Herald, urged approval of the rule change, pointing out that it would be one step toward downtown revitalization.

Lyons, also speaking for the Greater Manchester Chamber of Commerce, said the Chamber's Legislative Affairs Council favored change rules only in the CBD Zone. At last year's liquor rules hearing, the Chamber went on record opposed to eased restrictions throughout town.

Ken Morgester of 42 Hollister St., also supporting the Lindsay amendment, opposed distance restrictions of any kind in the CBD Zone.

Podrove, presenting his case Monday night, presented a 110-signature petition to the PZC which backed the zoning regulation amendment.

Besides Groobert, opponents speaking Monday night included Donald Denley of 2 Alpine St., owner of the Brass Key Restaurant on Main St., and Walter Sinon of 260 Hollister St., a liquor wholesaler.

Lindsay, speaking briefly in rebuttal at the end of the hearing, objected to opponent claims that the regulation amendment would benefit just one individual.

"Everybody in the 44 acres of the Central Business District can benefit equally," Lindsay said. "If you want liquor, you've got the same chance I've got."

The Planning and Zoning Commission will consider the Lindsay amendment at its next business session, scheduled May 19 at the Municipal Building.

Sewer Rate Increase Hearing Tonight

By SOL R. COHEN

A proposed 25 per cent hike in sewer rates charged Town of Manchester homeowners is the subject of a public hearing tonight by the Board of Directors.

The hearing is at 8 in the Municipal Building Hearing Room.

Sewer rates presently are computed at 100 per cent of water fees. The proposal is for pegging them at 125 per cent of water fees. Recommending the hike—to be in effect July 1—are Town Manager Robert Weiss; Jay Giles, public works director; and Frank Jodaitis, water and sewer administrator.

Also to be aired tonight is a proposal for a sanitary sewer in Lydall St.—from Esquire Dr. to about 500 feet east of Vernon St., with a 150-foot spur north of Lydall St. on Vernon St.

The request is from First Hartford Realty Corp., which is constructing a condominium village on Lydall St., east of Vernon St. To be named Forest Ridge, it will contain 60 units in 12 buildings, on 20.7 acres.

The sanitary sewer would be constructed under a Developer's Permit Agreement—with First Hartford paying the entire cost of the project, estimated at about $65,000. First Hartford would collect from users tying into the system within 10 years of the project's completion. Those tying in after 10 years would pay the town.

In either instance, abutting property owners would be assessed under a front-footage formula.

The two public hearing items, plus six others relating to appropriations, will be aired tonight but won't be acted upon until the Board's May 13 meeting.

It appears likely the board will reject a proposal tonight it has been considering, studying, debating and tabling since February — establishment of a Manchester-South Windsor Health District.

A motion to reject already is before the board. It was tabled March 4 by a 5 to 4 vote, pending a meeting with South Windsor officials and pending more information relating to the proposed health district.

The meeting was held and the information was received. The motion to reject was by Director Vivian Ferguson. Backing it in March were Phyllis Jackson, Carl Zinsser and Hilary Gallagher. Reports are the four have gained at least one more vote and have the majority needed to reject the proposal.

The board meets twice each month—the first and second Tuesdays. On the first Tuesday, as tonight, it conducts public hearings and takes action on unfinished business. On the second Tuesday, as May 13, it takes action on public hearing items and other new business items.

Under new business items tonight are two concerning long-standing proposals—an ordinance for regulating groups homes and one for regulating massage parlors. The items are for discussing the proposals only and for determining whether ordinances should be drafted and considered at a future meeting.

New Rulers Order Registration

By United Press International
Saigon's ruling Military Management Committee broadcast its first order today — a demand that all military officers and servicemen, policemen and all former government workers register between May 8 and May 31 and turn in all money and weapons.

A Saigon radio broadcast said the order must be strictly carried out and that "those who do not report by 2400 hours (midnight) May 31 but deliberately hide will be severely punished." In previous Communist terminology in South Vietnam "severe punishment" has been a euphemism for death by execution.

The order appeared to be a move to reorganize the armed forces and police in South Vietnam following the Communists' sweeping victory. It coincided with appeals to South Vietnamese soldiers to return from exile abroad and with demands that Thailand return 129 American-built planes flown there by South Vietnamese Air Force refugees.

With Saigon radio reports saying the city was returning to normal, the Paris delegation of the Provisional Revolutionary Government hoisted their star-studded red and blue Viet Cong flag over the stone mansion which previously housed the South Vietnamese legation.

Helped by a group of volunteers from the Vietnamese colony, they were busy cleaning up the offices of the embassy on Avenue Villiers, off the Arch of Triumph, for a mass ceremony scheduled in front of the building tonight.

The French Communist party, Peace Movement and labor union factions called the rally to demand that France recognize the PRG. PRG officials said their mission has not yet been officially granted consular privileges by France which has not yet decided when to exchange ambassadors with the new Saigon authorities.

The government of Australia, one of the American allies in the long war in Vietnam, announced today it was recognizing the new Communist government in Saigon.

Communist reports Monday said the new Viet Cong rulers had freed political prisoners from "Tiger Cages" on Con Son Island in the South China Sea and that the new regime was preparing a mammoth welcome for them in Saigon.

The military order broadcast over Radio Saigon today and monitored in Bangkok said, "In reporting and registering, all must surrender their identification cards, all personal documents, all weapons, files, documents, means, cash boxes and so forth."

The broadcast said the instructions were contained in "Order No. 1" of the Saigon-Gia Dinh Military Management Committee, dated May 5 and signed by Col. Gen. Tran Van Tra as chairman.

Rabin May Bring Proposals For Mideast Peace Settlement

By United Press International
Israeli government sources said in Jerusalem today that Prime Minister Yitzhak Rabin may take new Middle East peace proposals to Washington for his talks with President Ford on June 11 and 12.

Rabin's visit coincides with new hints of a Middle East war. Two Jordanian newspapers have accused Israel of massing troops and setting up rocket bases along the Jordan River in preparation for fighting against Syria, Egypt and Jordan.

An Israeli army spokesman in Tel Aviv refused comment on the reports, but Defense Minister Shimon Peres told Israel's parliament in Jerusalem Monday the Soviet Union is stepping up weapons deliveries to Egypt.

He also charged Egypt is building fortifications on the east bank of the Suez Canal that could serve as a springboard for an attack against the Israeli-occupied Sinai — a move which began the 1973 Yom Kippur War.

The latest report of Israeli troop movements came from the Amman newspaper al Sabah which quoted Arab travelers from the West Bank as saying Israel is setting up fortifications, including a massive ground and air missile network, along the Jordan River.

A similar report came Monday from the Amman newspaper al Dustour.

In Beirut, two bomb blasts shattered rival targets Monday in a new clash between Palestinian guerrillas and right-wing militiamen in Lebanon.

At least four persons were injured when a bomb shattered the back entrance of the pro-Palestinian guerrilla newspaper Al Moharrer.

The blasts marked the first reported violence between the two sides since their week-long clashes last month left an estimated 150 persons dead and 300 wounded.

Gov. Grasso Signs Fair Trade Repealer

HARTFORD (UPI) — Gov. Ella T. Grasso today approved repeal of Connecticut's fair trade law which allowed certain manufacturers to set minimum prices for their products. The measure was one of 26 approved by the governor.

Rep. Albert R. Webber, D-New Haven, chairman of the General Law Committee, said repeal of the fair trade statute would save Connecticut consumers as much as $75 million a year.

"This was an archaic, outmoded and useless act," Webber, who has sought repeal of the statute for a dozen years, said.

A Sony television set which cost $585 in Connecticut under fair trade could be had elsewhere for $450, Webber said. Among the major manufacturers relying heavily on fair trade, he said, was General Electric Corp.

Cardinal Mindszenty Dies in Vienna

VIENNA (UPI) — Jozsef Cardinal Mindszenty died today in a Vienna hospital, the Roman Catholic Church announced. He was 83.

Mindszenty won worldwide fame when he was given asylum in the U.S. Legation in Budapest during the 1956 Hungarian revolution.

Mindszenty had been sentenced to life imprisonment by the Communist regime in Hungary in 1949 but was released in 1966 and granted asylum in the Legation where he remained until 1971.

A spokesman at the palace of Vienna's Archbishop-Cardinal Franz Koenig said Mindszenty died at 2:14 p.m. (9:15 a.m. EDT.)

The spokesman said the former primate of Hungary underwent prostate surgery at a Vienna hospital this morning and died four hours later from heart failure.

The ailing cardinal was released by Communist authorities after extensive negotiations and ended his 15 years of asylum by visiting Vatican City for talks with the Pope.

In October, 1971 Mindszenty came to Vienna for a new life of exile despite misgivings by both Austrian church and state officials. He settled into the Pazmaneum, a Roman Catholic Church home.

The four-story home, built at the turn of the century, is a plain, gray stone structure situated, ironically, next door to the U.S. Embassy on Boltzmanngasse in Vienna's quiet Ninth District.

During his 15 years in the U.S. Legation he remained under the life sentence for treason, a verdict passed by the Communist regime he hated and fought. Under the amnesty which permitted him to leave Hungary, he promised never to return to Hungary.

"That promise, he said, was 'the heaviest cross of my life.'"

Cardinal Mindszenty

Austrian government sources said the neutral government had misgivings about his decision to live in Vienna because it feared it could harm relations with neighboring Hungary.

Catholic Church sources were equally upset — they feared the recent travel liberalization for priests to the West could be stopped by Hungarian authorities for fear they would try to contact the exiled cardinal.

Town Tax Rate Increasing 1.35 Mills for 1975-76

By SOL R. COHEN

A detailed review of the General Fund budget being recommended for the 1975-76 fiscal year by the Board of Directors shows Manchester taxpayers will get a 1.35-mill hike in the tax rate, and not 1.11-mill as originally indicated.

The review was Monday night by Mayor John Thompson, Democratic Director Phyllis Jackson and Republican Director Carl Zinsser.

The hour-and-a-half session revealed the General Fund budget to be adopted Wednesday night will be $21,236,556, which is $57,898 more than originally announced; and the tax rate 50.65 mills, or 0.24 mills more than originally announced.

The increase results from some mathematical errors and in additional allocations to supportive outside health agencies.

In rechecking the figures for the Fire District Fund, the budget and tax rate originally announced were found correct—$1,525,120 and 6 mills. It is 0.30-mill above the current Fire District budget.

Manchester taxpayers presently pay 49.30 mills to the General Fund and 5.70 mills to the Fire District.

The tax rates will go to 50.65 and 6, respectively, as of July 1. The board meets at 7 Wednesday night to adopt budgets and tax rates and Mayor Thompson said today "those being recommended (by a 5 to 4 vote of the board) will stand, despite a last-minute appeal from the minority Republicans for the Democrats "to reconsider their position."

The four who voted against the proposals and who backed a "hold-the-line" budget and tax rate were Republicans Vivian Ferguson, Carl

Manchester Evening Herald OPINION

Out of the Ashes

Out of the ashes of Vietnam and from the fragmented and discredited state of our foreign policy, it is vitally necessary that the United States government pulls together to produce a new concept of our relationship with the rest of the world and unanimity on optional steps to be taken as we are faced with difficulties.

Our frustration and impotence at the present is made pointedly clear in the handling by Congress of a bill for humanitarian and military aid for South Vietnam after the Thieu government had fallen and the surrender was imminent.

We cannot afford to be so uncoordinated in the future, if we are to meet, as a whole nation, the problems and crises which we would be fatuous not to expect.

Our loss of stature in Indochina has not gone unnoticed in the councils of those who seek to extend the domination of Communism to other nations. And while we must not fall into the errors of McCarthyism, it would be folly to expect that South Vietnam is the limit of their ambitions.

After a period of consolidation in Vietnam it will be remarkable if their attention is not turned to Laos and Thailand. It will be seen then if the "domino theory" is substantial or no more than the butt of cartoonists and humorists.

A logical place for Asiatic Communist to examine, now, will be Korea, which is very analogous to Vietnam with the country divided into two zones by the 38th parallel. North Korea is Communist, of course, and the South is striving to develop a system of representative government.

We still have some 40,000 troops in Korea maintaining the integrity of the southern nation there. It would not be surprising if the North Koreans and their patrons in China and Russia might seize upon our apparent impotency as a timely opportunity to extend their domain.

The probes which we can expect may come in many places. It may be in the Middle East, in the Mediterranean or even in Berlin. It will not always be military, but also political. But the probes will be made.

We must have a strong military apparatus for respect and continuance of a power balance. But above all we must be able to use that power when it is needed and not become bogged in an indecisive and undefined foreign policy.

The time for debate in Congress is not when an emergency is passing us by. Policy must be agreed upon in advance. Plans must be ready.

Unless they are, constitutional process and representative government will be betraying a weakness which could shadow its continued existence.

Illusion And Lessons

NEW YORK CITY — For an American which suffered from a number of severe illusions, all of which contributed to the setback in Southeast Asia, there are some harsh lessons to be drawn.

There was the illusion that America is a map-keeper, with the function of keeping the world map stable. But world maps change and will continue to change. What was once Saigon is now Hanoi, and it is likely to stay that way for a long time.

Even the ugly phrase "closed shop" was raised by those who claimed formal requirement of law school education came into being to more or less control competition.

Another lawyer lost his attempt to amend the bill to include physicians, plumbers and morticians and every licensed profession in New Hampshire.

As we see it, New Hampshire lawyers now face a dilemma. If they can kill the bill on the basis of the bar exam is meaningless; and they deny the right to practice to a law school graduate who flunks it?

They just may have to go to a county lawyer to find the answer to that one.

Commendation

To the editor: I take this opportunity to commend you for your excellent editorial entitled "Hartford City Council on Step Track" in The Herald.

You have clearly pointed out the critical need for town, city, and state governments to cut all nonessential programs or services and wasteful spending to bring their financial houses in order. Sharp reductions in spending of tax revenues are an absolute must if tax rates are to be held within reasonable limits.

I fully concur with your praise for the members of the Hartford City Council who have unanimously agreed that there will be no tax rate increase for Hartford this year.

However, I certainly do not want to see Manchester and the other 15 or 20 surrounding towns bombarded into helping Hartford to hold their tax line by giving up any of their revenues which rightly should be used to hold their own tax lines.

For example, there is now a scheme in the works whereby Manchester and the other towns involved in Project Commuter are being pressured to accept a cut in their tuition revenues for the project's pupils based out of Hartford. The plan is to cut the payment to a town like Manchester from $100 per pupil per year to $70, a reduction of 30 per cent while our proposed new school budget calls for about a 10 per cent increase for 1975-1976. This plan, if carried out in all the other towns taking in the project's pup would save Hartford at least $300,000 in its budget.

The taxpayers of Manchester must not be used to accommodate the City of Hartford in helping hold its tax line.

No town director, school board member, or school administrator can support any such proposal and truthfully say that he has an honest desire and will to hold Manchester's tax rate line which after all is our number one priority.

ANDREW TULLY We Cannot Trust Communist Powers

WASHINGTON — One recalls a passing thought on a Florida beach, to wit, that something good could come out of the suffering in South Vietnam and the almost physical embarrassment within the ruling circles of America.

It is that this and succeeding administrations may enter new negotiations with the Soviet Union and Communist China with eyes open and minds uncluttered by any childish, Pollyanna nonsense about detente for detente's sake — detente simply as an excuse to drink a few champagne toasts.

I would find it incredible if even the most starry-eyed, hands-across-the-sea superliberal did not realize, finally, that he just cannot trust either of those Communist powers. They took us, and took us again. They co-signed a "peace" treaty they knew they had no intention of honoring.

Aided and abetted by America's preoccupation with Watergate, they mutually — if not amicably — took command of North Vietnam's final, perfidious and successful battle. But even without Watergate, the Russians and Chinese would have broken through for their word. Before the fall of Watergate broke, only a few weeks after the Paris agreement was executed, Russia and China were pouring arms and other military supplies into North Vietnam.

So Watergate was a lucky break for what President Ford calls our potential adversaries. They didn't have to be told that Nixon was paralyzed, that he dared not resume bombing raids on the North once his credibility at home was crumbling. So our "partners" in the movement toward detente committed what comes naturally to Communist regimes — lie in the back.

What happened in Vietnam once and for all should cure us of dreaming impossible dreams. The Russian and Chinese governments behave the way they do because they are Communist. It's as simple as that.

History tells us so, in its chapters on Korea, Czechoslovakia, Hungary, Communist governments like to turn an honest mask to the rest of the world — until the world turns its back. We must kid ourselves not. Nothing has changed since Lenin, Stalin, and Mao's Long March. The Russian and Communist

Chinese regimes are not to be confused with those of Great Britain, France, Italy or Switzerland. Their goal is still world Communism. To us, detente means an agreement to get along with another country. To Russia and China, in President Ford's phrase, it means an opportunity to "fish in troubled waters."

At hand is a copy of a book, "Alexander Dolgun's Story: An American in the Gulag" (Alfred A. Knopf, Inc.). It is a horrifying tale of the Soviet prison system. Dolgun was an American working in the U.S. Embassy in Moscow when he was arrested in 1948 for "anti-Soviet activities." He spent eight years in prisons and labor camps, and even when released was not permitted to leave the Soviet Union until 1971.

That's right — 1971. A year when Brezhnev was whispering sweet nothings in Richard Nixon's ear. A year when steps were being taken toward an "opening" with Red China.

Maybe Dolgun was guilty of something. But even if he were, the tortures he suffered while in some of the most notorious of the nature of a Communist dictatorship. Quite properly, American protested conditions at a New York prison called Attica. Compared to what happened to Dolgun, Attica was a country club only moments before its inmates rose in violent rebellion.

There has got to be an evil, an awful sickness, about a state that routinely reduces its political prisoners — foreigners and Russians alike — to the status of a state that has murdered millions of human beings in ideology's name. Where did our leaders ever get the idea of breaking into the Communist camp? No, from now on we should all know better. We've got to cut out the la-di-da government behavior the way they do because they are Communist. It's as simple as that.

History tells us so, in its chapters on Korea, Czechoslovakia, Hungary, Communist governments like to turn an honest mask to the rest of the world — until the world turns its back. We must kid ourselves not. Nothing has changed since Lenin, Stalin, and Mao's Long March. The Russian and Communist

There are lots of other cases where they judicially legislated. The Court does these things all the time. Any wording of a constitutional amendment must deal with the very basic and sharply disputed question: When does life begin? Two of the proposed constitutional amendments say it begins at conception. If that is so, then women who use intrauterine devices (IUDs) might be violating the law if the Constitution were amended to guarantee the right to life of every fertilized ovum. Some medical evidence suggests that IUDs work as abortifacient agents, rather than as preventers of conception.

"One lesson learned by Congress is that you do not mess with family planning," said Elizabeth Stergel, associate director of The Religious Coalition for Abortion Rights, a pro-abortion group. "It has a very broad acceptance by the American people."

The Supreme Court's decision was "an exercise of raw judicial power... an improvident and extravagant exercise of the power of judicial review..." wrote Justice Byron R. White in a dissenting opinion in that case.

Members of the "pro-life" movement say that the Court stepped beyond its judicial boundary into the legislative arena.

"The Supreme Court stepped in and knocked out 50 states that have been on the books since the beginning of the republic," said John P. Mackey of the Ad Hoc Committee in Defense of Life, an anti-abortion group.

Ray L. White, executive director of the National Right to Life Committee, agrees. "In January 1973, the Supreme Court took away the right to personhood. In 1957, the Dred Scott decision took away the right of citizenship from the Negro. It took the Fourteenth Amendment to restore that right of personhood. Someday we'll look back and say, 'How stupid for the Supreme Court — seven men — to make a decision to deny the right to life to an unborn child.'"

Prolifers say that liberalized abortion laws cheapen society's value of life. "The Supreme Court set our society heading down the road toward the disparagement of human life," said Nellie J. Gray, an organizer of two "Marches for Life" on Congress on the anniversaries of the Supreme Court decision. "There is a massacre going on in our hospitals and clinics."

Gray also fears that legalized abortion will lead to euthanasia and to the elimination of defenseless groups in society. "What we have done is impose criteria on when life is valuable," she said. "We could begin killing old folks and kids. They can change the rules at any point."

Con: Did the Court overstep its bounds when it struck down most state abortion laws? "It depends on whose ox is being gored," said Judith Mears of the American Civil Liberties Union (ACLU).

Pyburn Denied Pardon

The state Board of Pardons Monday denied a pardon to a former Manchester man now serving a six 6-to-12-year term for attempted first-degree burglary.

Paul Pyburn, 47, was convicted of breaking into the Manchester Modes clothing firm on Pine St. March 4, 1972 in the early evening.

Security guards caught him later, said to be Pyburn in the building. He shot one of the guards, Edward Wilbrod, 31, of Chicopee, Mass., in the leg with a revolver.

The man then escaped from the building and held a gun on Sgt. Eli Tambling of the Manchester Police Department, police reports said at the time.

As the man tried to commandeer Tambling's cruiser, the officer pulled his revolver on him. The man then dropped his own revolver and surrendered, police said.

Medical evidence before the board Monday was that Pyburn had a massive coronary artery blockage that a state with such a record of Manchester Modes clothing firm on Pine St. March 4, 1972 in the early evening.

The board denied his request along with 27 others. No pardons were given to any inmates during the last three sessions of the five-member board.

The last pardon given to an inmate came in February to a man dying of cancer, said Board Secretary Lawrence Schwartz of Bridgeport.

There is a very simple principle here involving a basic principle in pharmacology. Drugs do not work in the body until a certain tissue and blood level of that particular drug has been reached. It usually takes from two to four doses of a pain medication in order to get the full pain relieving affects. They refer to this as "effective blood and tissue levels."

Even antibiotics display the same type of principle. This is why it takes sometimes 3 or 4 days to get relief from an infection, and this is why when you are instructed to take your antibiotic from 7 to 10 days in order to saturate the tissue, and thereby destroy the infection.

Sedatives and tranquilizers do not work to their full effects until their 4th to 5th dose. Some anti-depressant drugs do not work best until you have taken them for 2 to 3 weeks.

So, it does not pay to get all excited and impatient at the slow action when you are looking for fast relief. Just keep the above principle in mind and your anxieties will disappear.

State Board of Trustees To Hear Gardner Grievance

Manchester Community College administrators have rejected a grievance filed by English lecturer James Gardner, whose "dismissal" is creating controversy on the college campus, Gardner said today.

Gardner said he is taking his case to the state Board of Trustees of Regional Community Colleges, which has agreed to hear a presentation May 19. The trustees were unable to consider the matter at their Monday night meeting.

Gardner is challenging a decision by MCC President Ronald A. Baker, who fired Gardner in 1972 after six years with the college. Gardner has been told the reasons for the decision despite a formal request, and Denison declined to comment.

Gardner said today that Denison rejected his formal grievance on the basis that Denison — who don't accrue tenure — aren't part of the formal grievance procedure.

Gardner maintains that because he has been employed as a lecturer for six years and enjoys a special status at the college, and is entitled to the same benefits as other professional staffers. Denison couldn't be reached for comment this morning.

Gardner said he was notified April 16 that his contract — which has been renewed annually — will not be renegotiated this year. The main issue in the controversy — which was sparked by last week's edition of the college's student newspaper — appears to be the late date of the notice to Gardner and the lack of written reasons for the action.

Gardner, speaking at a college rally on his behalf Monday, said the issues raised by his case go beyond the dismissal of a teacher.

"The real issues concern the future of public education at this institution and throughout the state," Gardner said. "I allege a slick, smooth, and impersonal effort is under way to put people of the working class back in their place."

"It's frightening to be told April 16 that I won't be employed after June 15," Gardner said. "It's a personal affront to be dismissed without grounds," he said.

The 20-minute rally, which drew nearly 200 students and faculty members to the MCC student center, included talks by several of Gardner's colleagues and students.

Council Takes No Action On Shifting Police Patrol

COVENTRY Monica Shea 742-9495 The Town Council after much discussion and the receipt of a report from the Police Utilization Committee took no action to change the number of patrolmen on the third shift, a subject which has been a heated topic of discussion the last several months. The committee had recommended that with the present budget and number of the patrol officers on the payroll and known workloads and conditions, it will be best to maintain the present distribution of officers. Mrs. Susan Wilnot, wife of the police officer asked the town council, "When are all these surveys and studies going to end and something going to happen? You shouldn't have to fight for this budget alone. Where is the chief? Why isn't he here? He was a member of this committee." The Chief of Police, Robert Kjelquist, was a member of the committee, but he was unable to attend the meeting. He has been criticized for not attending budget meetings to defend his own budget. Mrs. Wilnot said, "It is important for not only this town, but all towns for the chief of police to develop a relationship with the townspeople that he serves. The chief has to fill in as a patrolman even in larger departments. This would be a morale booster as well for the men. Rank shouldn't relieve a person of such responsibility. I have nothing against the chief but we are strapped." The committee is going to meet again and look at the possibility of adding additional patrolmen and to then report back to the council. The council voted to do away with the $2.50 fee now charged for parking at Lisick Beach. A sticker will be sent in the tax bills that would allow residents to use the landfill as well as the beach without additional costs. The council labeled action on the request of the Windham Regional Planning Agency for the restoration of a $331 cut made by the council in the town's appropriation to that agency until the council can receive additional information from the agency on exactly how much of its funding would be jeopardized and who the assessment for each town is arrived upon.

Dear Abby

By Abigail Van Buren
© 1975 by Chicago Tribune-N.Y. News Synd., Inc.

Women's Gripe: Bed and Bored

DEAR ABBY: I am a 36-year-old, liberated woman. About sex: I've tried it, and I don't like it. I don't dislike it, but it's just not worth all the trouble.

I've been married, and it didn't work out. Sex was never a very important part of my life, but most people think something is "wrong" with a person who doesn't have a strong sex drive. People seem to feel proud if they are sexually overactive (and can "perform" well), and they feel ashamed if they can't take it or leave it.

I am not frigid. On the contrary, I am very affectionate. I can lie in my lover's arms and enjoy the feeling of closeness, but if it doesn't culminate in the sex act, it's all right with me.

Am I weird? Or do you understand what I'm saying?

CONTENT IN COLORADO

DEAR CONTENT: I understand what you're saying, and you're not weird at all. I think you are an intelligent, honest woman who values love above sex. No need to apologize for it.

DEAR ABBY: I just married a beautiful widow after about a year of courtship. She had been a widow for five years, and I've been divorced for nine. She is a very clean person and keeps an immaculate house.

I sold my house and moved into her home. She has a 23-year-old son living with her. He is college-educated and has a good job. He shares the expense of running the house. He's generous, friendly and cooperative.

But he is dirty beyond belief. He has to be told to change his underwear and socks. He has to be reminded to shower, and believe it or not, he never washes his hands after using the bathroom.

To make matters worse, he loves to help in the kitchen. He cooks, sets the table, makes the salads, puts ice in the water, etc. When I sit down to a meal he has helped with, my stomach turns.

I've spoken to my wife about this. She keeps saying she'll talk to him, but it's been three months, and nothing has changed.

What can I do? I don't want to make an enemy of her son, and I don't want to spoil a good marriage.

IN A QUANDARY

DEAR IN: Take the young man aside and tell him in a kind and loving way that cleanliness is next to godliness. Tell him again, if necessary. And again, and again.

DEAR ABBY: I have recently become engaged to a divorcee. She has no love for her ex-husband, but she adores her mother.

She claims that a woman can divorce her husband, but her in-laws are forever, and she intends to remain friendly with her "mother-in-law" as long as she lives.

This is all right with me, but when I asked her what MY mother would be to her, she said, "She will also be my mother-in-law."

Is this correct?

WONDERING

DEAR WONDERING: No. Technically, a person is entitled to only one mother-in-law at a time, and even though it's refreshing to hear about a woman who adores her ex-husband's mother so much that nothing can destroy that friendship, YOUR mother will be your wife's mother-in-law. And her former mother-in-law no longer be related to her.

Everyone has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply, write to ABBY: Box No. 69700, L.A., Calif. 90069. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope, please.

BETTY'S NOTEBOOK

By BETTY RYDER

Well, we finally got out for our first golf lesson, found the 10th hole with little difficulty, and the pro who was scooting around in the cutest little car. No wonder they called it the "driving" range.

We proceeded to pay close attention to his words of wisdom. Our fingers were numb as we clenched the club as though it were a mallet and we were going to have to clear a path through the jungle.

With knees flexed, sweaty palms, feet planted firmly on the ground and club in position, we were paralyzed. Nothing would move.

And when the patient pro said "Address the ball!" we nearly blurted out "Hi, ball!" and we hadn't even been introduced. It really didn't take too long to figure out that the idea was to hit the ball— but application was more difficult than realization.

After a few swings we began to feel a little more confident and an understanding smile on the pro's face did much to boost our morale.

Tomorrow is another big day and if we don't hurry and practice our driving with a bucket of balls, he'll know we didn't do our homework.

Come to think of it — it would be easier hitting the bucket.

We have been practicing with the broom. Sounds strange, but it seems that if you push your elbows back and hold the broom horizontal behind your back then swing it side to side (your whole body, that is) you get a motion similar to Chubby Checker doing the twist.

It has been working quite well except we have one very clean wall and one that has been rammed with a broom handle several times.

Won't tell you anymore this week (it's sort of secret stuff) and besides you might just learn to play golf before we do.

One O'Clock Jump

We joined several hundred people Sunday evening at the Shaboo in Willimantic when Count Basie and his orchestra appeared in concert.

The Count, with his 17-piece orchestra, had the Shaboo, formerly a mill, jumping as he led his group through three hours of old favorites.

Operated by Les Foster and his two sons, The Shaboo is a favorite gathering place for young and old and there were toe-tappers and hand clappers of all ages enjoying the wonderful sounds of the big band. Each of his very talented musicians performed solo and received standing ovations. Perhaps the high spot was when a newcomer to the orchestra "Butch" Miles (he's been with the Count three months) played his drum solo at a fantastic pace and with almost unmatchable skill.

It was a wonderful evening filled with plenty of memorable music and we look forward to the next presentation offered by the Foster men at the Shaboo.

Comfort

"It is a comfortable feeling to know that you stand on your own ground. Land is about the only thing that can't fly away."

Anthony Trollope (1815-1882).

Herald Newsman Doug Bevins is on the scene when it happens and where it happens

"Versatility" is the word used most often to describe Herald newsman Doug Bevins.

In his four years with The Herald, he's written about almost every subject that has surfaced in and around Manchester.

It's often said that a reporter has to know a little about everything, but Doug Bevins isn't satisfied with just a little. When he writes about something, he goes all the way to make his story the most complete and understandable article possible.

A glimpse through his files shows the variety of stories he's handled — from banks, bank grants, and business; through highways, libraries, and police; to sewers, television, storms, and zoning.

He's even dabbled in politics, theater reviewing, and travel writing.

But reporting isn't his only task at The Herald. When necessary, he fills in as an editor and as a photographer. He's editor of The Herald's new weekly entertainment magazine, Weekend, which appears each Saturday.

But he doesn't go much beyond that. He's never sold an advertisement, and he doesn't know how to run the printing press.

Chances are he never will, because he's too busy helping make The Herald one of Connecticut's best newspapers.

"Meat is the difference at Frank's"

"Our meat departments are so much better in quality, trim, guaranteed grade and satisfaction that you must see for yourself to believe it. Try our USDA Choice quality cuts for tenderness and flavor, or ask our many satisfied customers for proof. For instance, our special last week on Boneless Rolled Chuck Roast was well received because it was rolled, had all the excess fat trimmed off and all those that purchased it got a tremendous value for their money.

We ask you to compare before you buy. You should be aware of those stores that lower the quality of their meat by tenderizing it mechanically. The result is it will turn very dark, very quickly, eliminating the natural juices that give it flavor. At Frank's, you can be assured that we will never sacrifice quality."

Palmer Back in Role of 'Stopper' And Orioles Stop Yanks, Hunter

NEW YORK (UPI) — Jim Palmer is back in his role as the Baltimore Orioles' "stopper" — and handling it as gracefully as when he was a Cy Young Award winner. He started the 1975 season with a question mark inasmuch as he was the Orioles' natural staff leader — provided he was healthy — to compensate for the New York Yankees' acquisition of Jim Hunter. Hunter beat Palmer in their first confrontation last Thursday but the Orioles' star recovered the decision Monday night in a 3-1 triumph over Hunter and the Yankees. Significantly, Palmer's triumph ended a string of six consecutive victories which Hunter had scored over the Orioles in regular season competition.

Four Former Indy Winners Among Early 'Big Wheels'

INDIANAPOLIS (UPI) — Four former Indianapolis "500" winners got rolling Monday in practice for the May 25 classic auto race. But the favorite for the pole position to be decided Saturday — Texan A. J. Foyt — was not among 23 drivers on the track.

Sunday, rookie Leon "Jigger" Sirois, Hammond, Ind., crunched the outside wall in the first turn, causing major repairs for his crew members before Saturday's opening weekend of time trials. A second weekend is slated May 17-18.

Andretti, Nazareth, Pa., will have to settle for a try on the second go-around and mostly likely get a spot far back into the 23-car race day lineup. He has commitments for the Formula 1 Grand Prix race at Monte Carlo for this weekend.

The winner in 1969, Andretti worked his Vels-Parnelli Jones racer to the 181.63 m.p.h. Monday and said his work in the few practice sessions this week will be to work the car in racing shape.

Rutherford, Fort Worth, Tex., who charged from 25th starting spot to win last year's event, was the fourth fastest Monday at 181.341. Wally Dallenbach, Basalt, Colo., trailed his teammate Johncock in the speed department by nearly 4 m.p.h. as runnerup.

Sandra Palmer Tops On Golf Earnings List

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (UPI) — Sandra Palmer remains tops in earnings from the Ladies Professional Golf Association tour against the Atlanta Braves.

Palmer, 34, won the $40,000 Birmingham classic, the LPGA said Monday.

The top 10 money winners are: Sandra Palmer, $40,000; Jane Blalock, $26,393; Kathy McMillen, $25,193; Sandra Haynie, $20,738; Judy Rankin, $18,395; Donna Young, $17,325; Jo Skala, $15,868; Carol Mast, $15,708; and Sandra Post, $15,347.

Five Rookies Set With Soccer Yanks

HARTFORD (UPI) — Owner Bob Kratzer says he's ready to take to the field as a player if necessary with his new Connecticut Yankees entry in the American Soccer League.

Kratzer would rather play full-time instead of just being head coach and the guy who signs the player's checks. But he realizes that at 41, it's pretty hard to keep up with a 16-man (including five rookies) team which averages 24 years in age.

Kratzer has been a guiding force in the reorganization of the nine-team league that hired basketball's former Boston Celtic and Hall of Fame member Bob Cousy as commissioner.

Kratzer migrated in 1964 to the United States from Germany where in the war years he was the sole supporter of his nine brothers and sisters and recalls scavenging for food for GI camps.

He opened a tool and die business in Milford and was successful, but his first love was soccer. He resumed his active interest in soccer and has put together a team from instinct and a life-long knowledge of the game.

"We had no tryouts. I looked for players I know will develop into true professionals. I know many of our rookies, but they're going to be developed."

As for winning the championship, "Of course we have a chance, but if not this year, then next year for sure we're going to make it," he said.

One of Kratzer's prize catches is No. 1 draft choice Tim Hunter of Westport, a 21-year-old graduate of the University of Connecticut and All New England the past two seasons.

Hunter's first encounters with the pros in several exhibition games have been educational. "Everything is more precise and controlled. You've got to think before you make a move."

Ex-Golden Gloves Making Pro Debuts

Two youngsters who will be making their professional debuts will be on Saturday night's boxing card at Manchester High's Clark Arena. The show starts at 8:30.

Dennis Jordan of Wethersfield, a 20-year-old heavyweight, who won Golden Gloves championships in Lowell the past two years and gained the quarterfinals in the 181.63 m.p.h. Monday and said his work in the few practice sessions this week will be to work the car in racing shape.

Rutherford, Fort Worth, Tex., who charged from 25th starting spot to win last year's event, was the fourth fastest Monday at 181.341. Wally Dallenbach, Basalt, Colo., trailed his teammate Johncock in the speed department by nearly 4 m.p.h. as runnerup.

Andretti, Nazareth, Pa., will have to settle for a try on the second go-around and mostly likely get a spot far back into the 23-car race day lineup. He has commitments for the Formula 1 Grand Prix race at Monte Carlo for this weekend.

Plaintiff in Rozelle Case Claims He Was Outlawed

MINNEAPOLIS (UPI) — One of the 15 plaintiffs in the "Rozelle Rule" trial being conducted in Minneapolis testified Monday he was unable to work out a trade as a free agent in 1972.

Former wide receiver John Henderson of the Minnesota Vikings told the court no team would give him a firm offer when he became a free agent, although he sent inquiries to at least a dozen clubs.

The plaintiffs in the antitrust suit which empowers National Football League Commissioner Pete Rozelle to set compensation which a club receives for losing a free agent to another team. The players feel the rule is monopolistic and violates federal antitrust statutes.

Defendants in the case are the NFL, Rozelle and the 26 NFL club owners.

Henderson, now retired from pro football, was picked up by the Vikings on waivers from Philadelphia in 1968. In 1969, when Minnesota won the NFC title, he had 34 receptions for a 16.3 average and five touchdowns. The following year he had 32 receptions for a 15.4 average and two touchdowns.

Henderson told the court in 1971 he wanted more than $5 per cent above his previous salary of $31,000. However, he said the club told him it couldn't exceed federal pay guidelines in effect at that time.

He said he had to take what was offered because he realized "the Minnesota Vikings were not a charitable organization and would not pay if I couldn't produce."

He played out his option in 1971 and was injured. He took a 10 per cent pay cut for not signing. That money was returned when he signed the 1972 contract.

Henderson said he sent out form letters to NFL clubs in May 1972 and although 11 teams answered his letter, their rosters had been fairly well decided by that time.

Ed Garvey, head of the NFL Players' Association, said a May 1 date is too late for players who are free agents to find another team. That is the date in which league owners release players without contracts and federal antitrust statutes.

Since he could get no other firm offer, Henderson said he then accepted a $37,500 contract with the Vikings for 1972. However, he played little due to a chest injury. He retired in 1972 and took a fulltime job as a personnel counselor for minority relations.

Also testifying Monday was Ocie Austin, one-time defensive back with Baltimore and Pittsburgh. Austin said a Pittsburgh executive, Dan Rooney, told him he didn't have an option when he was attempting to negotiate a contract in 1971. The Steelers offered only a $23,000 base, Austin said, and he wanted $26,000 because he had just concluded a very good season.

Kuhn Blasted By Hoffberger

BALTIMORE (UPI) — Jerold C. Hoffberger has criticized Baseball Commissioner Bowie Kuhn for interfering with the proposed sale of the Baltimore Orioles by working with Edward N. Cole, who wants to buy the team and move it to Washington.

Hoffberger, Oriole board chairman and majority stockholder, complained Monday that a $12.6 million offer for the team by Cole, former president of General Motors, was not made to Hoffberger but in a letter sent to the major league franchise committee and several members of Congress.

Hoffberger said he learned of the offer when Kuhn telephoned and said he was forwarding a copy of the offer letter written by Cole's attorney, Robert L. Fenton. The board chairman added he still has not heard from Cole and any serious offers should be made directly to him.

"I told Mr. Kuhn he should stick to the problems of baseball, start being a commissioner and quit interfering with the sale of the Baltimore Orioles," Hoffberger said. "I don't like interference."

In reply, Kuhn said, "The problems of the Baltimore-Washington area are emphatically my concern because they affect all of our professional baseball clubs."

Hoffberger said he did not believe the offer would interfere with negotiations under way with a group headed by former major league owner Bill Veck.

Stags' Awards Night Like Showing on Ice

DETROIT (UPI) — If the Michigan Stags had been as good as their wack, they'd still be the Michigan Stags. But, alas, their death-wish play and funeral attendance buried them. They became the Baltimore Orioles in mid-season and probably will vanish un-mourned rubber checks and all — from the World Hockey Association scene next season.

Which gave rise to Monday night's "First and Last Michigan Stags Awards Night" in a downtown Detroit bar, the superlative presentation of an intrepid band known as the "Michigan Stags Minor Officials Alumni Association."

The wake was similar to some of the Stags' performances on the ice in that both had a certain comic style all their own. And the 130 or so mourners who showed up came close to equaling the paying customers the Stags sometimes had.

"The 'Invisible Man' — a person who never showed that Stags' officials said was going to bail them out financially — was a hands-off winner of the award for "Best Performance by a General Partner."

And another "hands-off" man, Donald Alexander of the Internal Revenue Service, was easily voted "Best Executive" of the W.H.A. club.

Charlie Vincent of the Detroit Free Press, who reminded the audience that he also covered the failed Detroit Loves of WTT and the folded WFL Detroit, was a clear winner of the "Best Individual Deal."

Watching over it all was the stuffed head of a young stag white-tailed deer, a Michigan Stags jersey draped over its nearly antlerless head, which was itself resting in a slatted crate which said "Ship to Baltimore" on its side.

Softball Drills for Girls Slated at Cheney Field

Tryouts for the Formal Inn Penguins girls' softball team in the East-Central Connecticut Girls' Softball League will be held May 10 and 17 at Cheney Field at 11 a.m.

Any Manchester girl 13 years of age or older, and who will not turn 17 before Aug. 15, is invited. Girls on the Manchester team will be invited to participate in practices until the scholastic season is over in accordance with league schedule.

The ECGSL, a fast pitch league, has more than doubled for the coming season. It will be divided into two categories based on team size. Manchester will compete with holders from Glastonbury, South Windsor and Coventry along with new entries from Newton, Wethersfield, Plainville, Bloomfield Mansfield and Windham. A 15-game schedule, six home and seven away, will be played. Home games will be on Friday nights.

A three-day double elimination tournament will be held at the conclusion of the regular season with South Windsor the host. The Penguins placed second in the league and tournament a year ago.

Questions should be directed to team manager and league official John D. Schwartz, 647-9013, and not the Rec Department.

In addition to the girls' league, a six-team league known as the East-Central Connecticut Women's Softball League is planned. Teams from Westport, Glastonbury, East Hampton, Hebron and Manchester, the latter sponsored by Formal Inn, will play a 15-game schedule.

Any women (girl) 17 years of age or older should contact Schwartz immediately to see if they are eligible to play in a Manchester entry. Try-outs will be held if enough interest is shown.

Top Husky

STORRS (UPI) — Junior John Thomas of Bogalusa, La., who averaged 10.5 rebounds per game last season, has been named the most valuable player on the University of Connecticut basketball team.

Portland Acquires New G.M.

PORTLAND, Ore. (UPI) — The new regime of the Portland World Football League has reached into the ranks of the long-established Cleveland Browns to come up with a new general manager — Bob Brodhead.

Brodhead, 37, a former player for the Buffalo Bills in the old American Football League, spent nine years with Cleveland as an assistant general manager, and one in the same capacity at Houston.

"I tried making the Browns three times as a player," he said. "But I didn't make it. I tried them out after they offered me a job in the business office. It was to bring Portland a competitive team, and do as well, if not better, than the Storm did last year, when the club made the playoffs but was eliminated when the playoffs were reduced in scope for economic reasons."

"I am pleased to be associated with Portland in my new capacity and I hope my stay here is a long and prosperous relationship."

Brodhead played collegiately at Duke University professionally in the Canadian League, the Continental League, and the AFL.

He succeeds Roy Mix, a former AFL and NFL star who was general manager of the Storm last year before the team ran into financial difficulties and went out of business with the Internal Revenue Service taking over its assets.

Heading for the Pitch

Long jumper Dave Mathews of Manchester High's track team was caught in air flight by Herald Photographer Steve Dunn during recent CCIL meet at Memorial Field.

The victory was the Purple Knights' eighth in a row and averages a season opening loss to the Panthers. Both clubs are 7-1 in NCCC action. Tom Ferreri singled and tripled and drove in three runs for Ellington.

Elsewhere in the area, Rham High was trounced by Cromwell High, 20-2, sending the Panthers to a 1-2 record.

Spring Golf Pairings Set

Eleven other teams drew byes.

Tigers Top Reds

CINCINNATI (UPI) — Sparked by Dan Meyer's three hits and two runs by Lee Roberts and Mickey Stanley, the Detroit Tigers shut out the Cincinnati Reds 4-0 in an exhibition game here Monday.

Benefit Game Slated Sunday

Benefit softball promotion with proceeds earmarked for the Irish Children's Project is scheduled Sunday night at Fitzgerald Field.

Mark Plant, manager of Burger King in Manchester, reports his Burger King team will engage WHCN in a regulation game.

Also, a one inning exhibition featuring politicians, John Thompson, Nate Agostini, Dave Barry, Fran Mahoney, Ted Cummings, Bill Fitzgerald and Bill Cotter will be played. The latter is slated to toss out the first ball.

Donations will be accepted at the field.

A.L. Player-of-Week

NEW YORK (UPI) — Thurman Munson, on the heels of his most disappointing season, was named American League "Player of the Week" Monday.

Munson hit .519 during the week to climb to the league leadership in batting at .410 and total hits at 24. Munson's hits included a homer and double. He also drove in eight runs.

Munson's chief competition came from George Hendrick, who hit .520; Mickey Rivers, who stole eight bases and scored six runs; Jim Kaat, who won his 11th straight game over two seasons and Hank Aaron, who broke Babe Ruth's all-time RBI record.

POLICE REPORT

MANCHESTER
Two burglars scared an elderly woman in her bedroom at her home on Highland St. Monday at 9 p.m., police said.

The woman was lying in bed when she heard footsteps in the house, she told police.

She heard a voice say, "Let's go in the bedroom and work straight up."

From the next room she heard a drawer pulled out and left on the floor.

Then, two white males, clean shaven, entered her room.

The taller man said, "Give me your money! All of it! Every cent!"

She screamed. She told them she had none.

Nothing appears missing from the house, police said.

A 10-speed bicycle on the back porch was found in the bushes by the house, they said.

Police are still investigating. One of the men is tall with dark, ear length hair, police said.

Recent arrests include:

- Ronald R. Colla, 28, of Windsor was arrested Monday on a Common Pleas Court 12 warrant charging him with second-degree larceny, police said.
- The charge stems from a contract Colla allegedly made with a Goodwin St. resident in August, 1974, police said. He signed the contract with the name, Ronald Tigro, police said, agreeing to repair the woman's roof and rain gutters.
- The roofing job was partially complete when Colla told her he was leaving the area for several weeks and did not want her to pay the workmen when the job was done but that she should pay him now, police said. She gave him the full $1,050 in the contract, police said.
- At that point, the work stopped, police said.
- Colla was released on a written promise to appear in court May 19.
- John D. Butler Jr., 35, of 109 Spruce St. was arrested Monday on a court warrant charging him with issuing a bad check (four counts), police said.
- He allegedly passed $200 worth of bad checks at Stop and Shop on W. Middle Tpk., in October, 1974, police said.
- He was released on his promise to appear in court May 19.

• Holly Ann Redden, 18, of 47 N. Main St. was arrested Monday on a court warrant charging her with possession or control of amphetamine-type substance, police said.

She was released on a $250 non-surety bond for court May 19.

• Beverly L. Pagley, 43, of 93 Hubbard Dr., Vernon was charged with driving under the influence in connection with a one-car accident today at 1:38 a.m. in the Andrews Building parking lot off E. Center St., police said.

The car driven by Mrs. Pagley struck a fence in the lot, police said. The car was towed from the scene.

Court is May 20.

• A Manchester man reported Monday he was driving on Moore St. last Thursday at about 9:30 p.m. when he heard a loud bang. He thought then his car had backfired.

Later he looked at the left side of his car and found pellets imbedded in the tire and paint chipped off the side.

Someone apparently fired at his car with a shotgun, police said.

Of Consumer Concern

How to Shop for Pools

By State Department of Consumer Protection
This is the season which finds salesmen and advertisers offering backyard swimming pools at "low, low prices," and this is the time for consumers to be alert to possibly deceptive tactics concerning swimming pool sales.

If you see "low, low price" in an advertisement it may be the "bait" to get a customer interested, but if you can't buy the item advertised at the price quoted it may very well be a variation of the "bait and switch" which is illegal in this state.

There are certain steps you should take before you stop in to see a dealer about swimming pools:

- Be wary of "low, low prices" or "lifetime" guarantees. When you are given a package price shop around with other dealers for comparison figures on pools with similar accessories and services.
- Deal with reputable firms located in your area whose reputation and business history can be verified.
- Be sure the accessories and services you desire are specifically mentioned in any contract you may be asked to sign.
- Other checks you should make while the project is in the planning stage are with your local city or town officials regarding the possible necessity of obtaining building permit or pool fencing as well as with your insurance agent concerning proper coverage for the pool area.

Some swimming pool dealers and contractors subscribe to the "Guidelines for Advertising and Selling of Swimming Pools, Products and Services," published by the National Swimming Pool Institute, Washington, D.C., but, in any event, if you feel you have been the victim of fraudulent or deceptive sales practices,

NEWS CAPSULES

Shrinking Network
WASHINGTON (UPI) — America's worldwide network of military bases is getting smaller. The Greeks on one side of the world and the Thais on the other are giving the United States its walking papers.

McGovern in Cuba
HAVANA (UPI) — Sen. George McGovern toured Havana today, dining on black beans and rice at an intellectual hangout and calling for an end to the U.S. trade boycott against Cuba.

Boycott Continues
SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Doctors boycotting Northern California hospitals to protest soaring malpractice insurance rates handed together in a show of strength today. Some colleagues paid the new rates but said their patients' pocketbooks would feel the pinch. An estimated 1,000 anesthetists gathered in the state capitol to discuss and seek solutions to the medical care crisis, which has already resulted in employee layoffs and individual hospital losses of up to $19,000 a day in San Francisco.

School Closed
POMFRET (UPI) — A small private boys' boarding school in Pomfret has been ordered closed by the state fire marshal for 17 alleged violations of the state fire safety code in its one-story, four-room classroom building.

After an investigation by former Fire Marshal Cleveland B. Puentesenich, More Hall School was ordered not to use the building.

Headmaster Robert McElaney said the school, which has 23 students at $3,400 a year per student, will reopen in September after the violations are corrected. McElaney said he would contact his students' parents to take them home.

Utility Bill Revision Sought
WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Lowell P. Weicker, R-Conn., planned to introduce today a bill which would revise utility rate structures to lower costs and encourage energy conservation.

Weicker said the bill would end the practice of charging large users lower per-kilowatt-hour rates than small users and end the automatic passing on of "fuel adjustment" increases to consumers without public hearings.

He said the bill would also make less expensive power used during "off-peak" hours, those times when demand for power is low, and would let states authorize lower rates for low income households using small amounts of power.

"Under this bill, a little sanity is brought back to our skyrocketing utility rates," Weicker said. "The consumer pays for what he uses and is rewarded for what he saves."

Death Penalty in Limbo
BOSTON (UPI) — A bill to reinstate the death penalty in Massachusetts for nine kinds of murder, vetoed by Gov. Michael S. Dukakis, has been placed in limbo by the state Senate.

Proponents of capital punishment voted as a bloc Monday to table further consideration of the veto. The 52-vote veto kept the bill and the veto alive.

The vote nearly matched the 26-14 vote last week that sustained the veto with no votes to spare. A two-thirds majority was needed to kill the veto.

There was no indication a veto vote would change.

'Dum Dum' Ban Sought
HARTFORD (UPI) — A bill to ban the use of "dum-dum" bullets by Connecticut police has been forced out of committee and will be debated and voted on in the legislature.

The measure to outlaw the hollow-tipped bullets had been pigeonholed in the legislature's Judiciary Committee but was petitioned out in a move led by Rep. Irving Stolberg, D-New Haven.

Bogus Check Warning
HARTFORD (UPI) — Counterfeit American Express travelers checks have been cashed in Connecticut and throughout New England, according to state police.

Six checks were cashed last month in Essex and Mystic, with bogus Pennsylvania and New Jersey drivers' licenses used for identification, state police said Monday. The checks were in $50 denominations bearing serial numbers HC38-976-181 through 188. Anyone with information about the counterfeit checks is asked to call the nearest state police barracks, a spokesman said.

Senate Approves Mining Bill
WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Senate has given its final approval to a federal strip mining bill which is similar to a measure vetoed by President Ford five months ago.

Approval of the compromise legislation is a virtual certainty in the House later this week.

If Ford decides to veto the bill again, opponents say a congressional override is a possibility. But supporters claim that the latest version of the bill takes care of some of Ford's earlier objections.

Dreselly Elected First Selectman

BOLTON
Donna Holland
Correspondent

David Dreselly was elected to his first term as first selectman in the Bolton election yesterday. He is presently serving his first term as a selectman.

Norman Frouss (R) and Leon Rivers (D) were elected to serve on the Board of Selectmen.

Dreselly received 815 votes. Frouss and Rivers voted 225 and 210 respectively. The Democratic nominee for selectman, Lawrence Shaw (D) received 57 votes.

In a Board of Selectman contest, the lowest vote getter is eliminated.

The Republicans, in a town that favors the GOP in party enrollment, were returned to all offices. Democrats were elected or re-elected where necessary for minority representation.

About 57 per cent of the electorate turned out—1,148 voters cast votes. Of those voting over 604 were Republicans, over 231 were Democrats, and over 220 were Independents.

To vote-getter among the Republicans was Catherine Peterson, running for another term as town treasurer. She received 710 votes. John Whitman, running for another term as fire commissioner, was the second highest vote-getter. He received 705 votes. Mrs. Peterson came in third with 683 votes in her bid for agent of the town deposit fund.

Shirley Potter led the Democratic ticket as high vote-getter in her bid for a seat on the Board of Finance. The second highest vote-getter was Pamela Snorey seeking a seat on the Public Building Commission. Third place vote getter was a tie with Clifford Magnuson and Leon Rivers each receiving 520 votes in their bids for fire commissioner and first selectman respectively.

Applications to be heard include:

"A $20 deposit shall be required for the sign advertising the zone change. The applicant shall be responsible for displaying the sign on the property, to be visible from town street, at least 10 continuous days prior to the public hearing. The $20 deposit shall be refunded when the sign is returned."

(Herald photo by Dunn)

They Raise World Hunger Funds

Illing Junior High School students have been working to raise funds for world hunger as a continuing project during this school year.

During a recent one-day effort, the students raised $219 for world hunger. Another $104.78 was raised for the same cause by Ralph Maccarone and Rick Krol in a marathon ping-pong game. The proceeds of both events were donated to Manchester Council on World Hunger for distribution.

The one-day project included a car wash and tag sale conducted by Teams 8A and 7B in front of the school.

Bake sales also took place simultaneously in front of the D&L and King's stores at the Manchester Parkade. These also were sponsored by Teams 7B and 8A.

Coordinators of the various events were Brian Chenard, Barry Folland and George Giguere, car wash; Faith Struck and Joyce Lessard, tag sale; Anne Morrison, Terry Alexander and Kitty Brown, bake sales. Faculty coordinators were Mrs. Lee Whitesell and Mrs. Elizabeth Intagliata.
