NEW YORK - There is a horrible because the city's credit has been dis fascination to this city, like watching a drunk teeter on the edge of a roof 2 stories above the ground. Will New York fall to its death, or will a Good Samaritan arrive in the nick of time?

The city, in fact, is bankrupt. It needs exceed by hundreds of million of dollars the fruits of short-term borrowings. And, indeed. New York cannot afford what it already has borrowed: the city already is paying more than $2-billion to service its debt - this from a 1975-76 budget of some

To say New York is in trouble is like saying a drowning man's problem is an excess of water in the Atlantic Ocean. The city has an excess of everything that costs money, except public servants who can Pity Mayor Abraham Beame. He didn't inherit a city but a high-living welfare state. Chic, debonair John (Fun City) Lindsay transformed New York into a___ financial jungle whose streets are thronged with prostitutes, pimps, dope pushers, hopheads and muggers. crime rate is so high that the city's citizens have reached that nadir of despair characterized by wry jokes about fleeing to Israel or Northern Ireland - for safety Beame's personal desperation reached the point where this formerly soft-spoken man inveighed against the Ford administration for refusing to come to the city's financial rescue. His plea that the federal government guarantee $1.5-billion in loans to cover expenses was rejected Beame denounced Ford, Treasury Secretary William Simon and Arthur Burns, chairman of the Federal Reserve. or "responding not to the people but to the high command of financial interests.'

guarantees, acceding to Beame's request would set a precedent whereby every city in financial trouble would come begging to Washington with a demand that the nation's taxpayers bail it out. It is an understatement that New York has been living beyond its means for more than a decade. Nowhere is there such a generous welfare system as that enjoyed the city's poor, legitimate and otherwise. By next year, 15 per cent of the population will be on the dole, up 250,000. New Yorkers have services coming ou their ears. The city has 19 public hospitals, and the taxpayers support a un iversity system whose size is exceeded only in seven states. The lenders argue that they are using sound business judgment and protecting depositors' assets by refusing to make risky loans. The probable future condition of a neighborhood and its effect on the value of the mortgaged property are important in assessing risk, they asserted. "We will not make loans at our risk on buildings that are falling down, to families that are unable to carry mortgages and in neighborhoods which are blighted or, within the limits of foresight, threatened with blight," declared William B. O'Connell of the U.S. League of Savings

But the community groups believe that lenders and their housing appraisers perceive potential deterioration in many older, inner-city neighborhoods that are still healthy. Is Kindness Worth A Buck?

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: While standing in the checkout line in a high grade grocery store, I saw the woman directly ahead of me frantically rummaging around in her purse, looking embarrassed. It seems her groceries had already been checked, and she was a dollar short.

I felt sorry for her, so I handed her a dollar. She was very grateful, and insisted on writing my name and address on a loose piece of paper. She stuck it in her purse and said, "I promise I'll mail you the dollar tomorrow." Well, that was three weeks ago, and I still haven't heard

SHY ONE BUCK DEAR SHY: Don't assume that she deliberately beat you out of a buck. There are other possibilities: (1) She may have misaddressed the envelope, and the follar went astray.

(2) She may have lost the paper with your name and (3) The incident could have slipped her mind, and the piece of paper may not surface for years.

DEAR ABBY: I have been debating for months which of the following I should do regarding a neighbor who has seven children and an unbelievable amount of trash, which, for some strange reason, she doesn't seem able to control. (1) Buy her seven jumbo cans with tight lids. (2) Make a phone call requesting that she kindly bag her

(3) Call the police and ask them to give her a ticket for littering.
We live in Pocatello, Idaho, which has the windy city of Chicago beat to pieces when it comes to breezes. This neighbor's trash blows onto my yard, and I am thoroughly sick of it. And if it isn't the wind, it's the stray dogs who

MRS. S. ON E. BONNEVILLE

DEAR ABBY: I am a fifth-grader teacher, and my class has just finished an extensive course on understanding handicaps. We had the good fortune to have as guests some extraordinary persons with physical disabilities. They gave their time to let my children listen, question and learn about from first-hand sources.

The children were eager to learn about the capabilities of each of these guests as well as the problems they faced because of their handicaps. After the class spent two mornings "handicapped" themselves as part of the course, I'm convinced their understanding has grown at least three True, those who are "sickened" by the sight of handicapped people need a lesson in tact, but they also need some correct information to overcome their prejudices. There are hundreds of people like Diane, Ede, Steve, Charlotte and my father who are willing and eager to teach children about their handicaps. I urge schools and civic groups to seek them out and use their services. They are beautiful people. "TEACH"; REEDVILLE SCHOOL

Constable Meeting

Sought ANDOVER

Donna Holland The Board of Selectmen approved a form letter to be sent to each constable in town asking those interested to meet to arrange a schedule for patrolling as of July 1. A copy was sent to the selectmen. The idea came from David Yeomans, first selectman. He said he feels it's a good idea to do it now while there is no ill feelings among the constables. Yeomans said the selectmen should be helpful to the constables to see the cruiser gets the maximum use and all goes Yeomans' initial suggestion meeting, but he was't sure it would meet with the constables' approval and said, "There could be a great row at such a meeting." Percy Cook, selectman suggested a form letter be sent to all constables and they could call their own meeting. Yeomans said he could not foresee any immediate problems but could not see any reason to put it off. The selectmen also requested a substitute list of constables for

Tallwood's 17th

Players Await Turn to Tee Off at Fourth Hole at Manchester Course

Toughest Holes at Area Golf Courses

That's the best way to describe the 17th hole at the Tallwood Country Club in Hebron, a picturesque course designed by Mike Ovian.

Every golf course has tough holes and at Tallwood, owned and operated by the Ovians, Mike and Karney, lists the 17th as the toughest. It's a par four hole, 380-yards - 390 for championship play - and the challenge comes from the large pound directly in front of the green and a small green.

"You have to hit the right shot to the pin," Karney said, "it's a good tough hole. You've got to hit the green, you can't roll the ball in," Mike added. The Ovians, long identified with courses in the area -Mike was at Manchester and Ellington Ridge before deciding to build his own course and Karney was at Hop Meadow in Simsbury — are both low handicap players, each carrying a state handicap of seven. "We could be four's if we had a chance to play more often," Mike said and his brother nodded in agreement. In the five years that Tallwood has been in business as a public course, only a dozen hole-in-ones have been noted. Aces are out for the 17th, as well as eagles. There have been only several birds recorded. It's a real challenging

14th at Minnechaug

14th hole at Minnechaug is blocked by a giant oak tree "The toughest hole here," Pro Bill Ellison reported.

Second at Blackledge

Golfers find out quickly the toughest hole at the Blackledge Golf Club on the 18-hole public course. "The second, is the toughest," Carroll Erickson, PGA pro at the 11-year-old club reports. The par four hole measures 410 yards

"It's uphill and the green is difficult to putt. To the left in front is a sand trap. There's also a little dip in front of the green that makes it tough to see the hole," Erickson said. "It's a challenge hole," he added and anyone who plays the course will agree.

Ninth at Ellington

When one talks about tough holes, Ellington Ridge Country Club, a challenging par four which measures

Pro Wally Cichon's first lieutenant, reports that "few birdies have been registered on the ninth hole. Eagles are as rare as a hole-in-one." The state's leading professional and amateur golfers will get a shot at conquering the ninth hole when Ellington hosts the Connecticut Open Tournament Aug. 4-5.

Aces Tough At Ellington

Holes-in-one are the goals of all golfers and one of the oughest courses in the state perhaps even the toughest is at Ellington Ridge. Last year there wasn't a single ace recorded. To date, no golfer has been able to have his or her ball drop in the cup on the first shot. Aces run in streaks, Bob Shaeffer, assistant ERCC pro, said. One year there were five holes-in-one, and the next season there were

Explanations

BEST BALL - One plays his ball against the better score (by holes) or the best score of three FOUR BALL - Two partners each play their own ball, but only the better score on each hole counts.

BLIND BOGEY - When signing up the player chooses a handicap which he feels will assure a net score between 70 and 80. After play is completed, the committee puts the numbers 70 to 80 in a hat and draws the winning number. The player whose net score is closest to that number wins.

Two Homers in One Game

Before hanging up his spikes for his first varsity season at Dartmouth College, John McKeon caused a few raised eyebrows when he homered twice against Boston College. It marked the first time a Dartmouth player turned the trick since 1968. The former East Catholic standout is only the fourth player in the college's 103-year history to collect two home runs in one game. The sophomore first baseman's first blast against Brown in the Ivy League game hit the roof of Leverone Field House, the first ball to be hit out of Red Rolfe Field this season.

SCORE Angels Have Fun w. l. pet. gb. On Fenway Bases

Angels had another night of fun on the field Thursday, flying footloose across the Fenway Park basepaths. The speedy antics paid off in a 6-3 win over the flatfooted Boston Red Sox, whose longball offense was no match for the fleet guests. The loss broke Boston's four-game vinning streak. "It's really fun managing this ballclub," said manager Dick Williams, fired by Boston late in the 1969 season and force into retirement in 1973 because he couldn't put up with another season of following Charles Finley's orders at Oakland. "It's a completely different situation here. We're quite pleased. One thing about this kind of club; youth doesn't quit." The young Angels had just finished underlining Williams' point by hustling two doubles into triples for an early 2-0lead, then stringing five straight singles into three runs that won the game. Second baseman Jerry Remy, 22, o Somerset, Mass., opened the game by showing his family and friends a good ba and churning legs. His long drive bounced

ABOUT JOINING THE AIRCRAFT CREDIT UNION . . .

Membership in the Aircraft Credit Union primarily includes spouse and children of Pratt & Whitney Aircraft employees. Other locally associated "Aircraft" groups are also within the field of membership. Ask for our informative booklet, Questions and Answers about "your best financial friend." It tells you who is eligible to join and gives many helpful facts about the Credit Union's organization and operation. Copies are available at the main office or any branch.
