Refugees Begin Arriving at the Gap

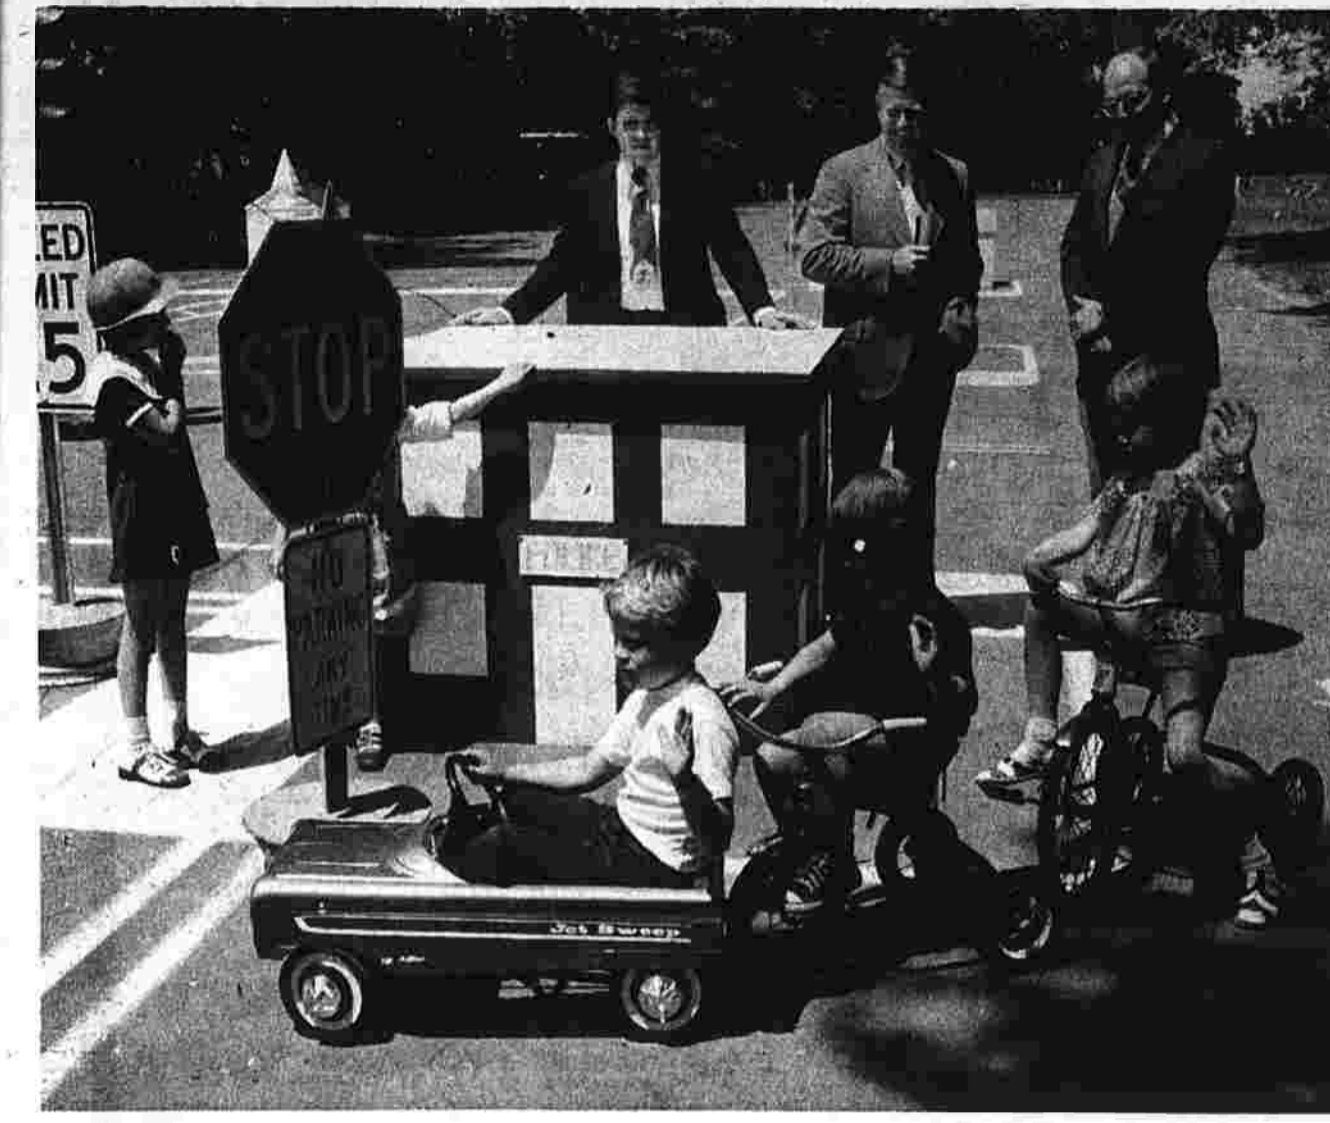

FT. INDIANTOWN GAP, Pa. (UPI) — Federal officials building an instant refugee city promised local government officials Tuesday night that an influx of Vietnamese refugees will not disrupt the way of life in this central Pennsylvania farm valley.

The 519 Vietnamese arriving today at the Gap — at this site is known locally — are the first of 15,000 refugees expected within 10 days.

Gen. James Cannon and Richard Friedman, the Army and federal government officials in charge of setting up the refugee camp, told nearly 100 local government officials they had nothing to worry about.

While local residents may not welcome the refugees with open arms, many of the local officials who had been anxious apparently were convinced

Ford Explores Issues With Leaders of NATO

BRUSSELS (UPI) — In a nonstop round of revolving-door diplomacy, President Ford explored major NATO problems with one allied leader after another today and said he hoped to have "some success" at breaking the Middle East stalemate before his European trip is over.

Ford offered no quick solutions — and got a hint from the Turks not to meddle too much in the Cyprus affair — when he opened his NATO summit visit with a round of one-on-one talks with leaders of the troubled Western alliance.

Ford conferred successively with the government heads of Luxembourg, Greece, and Turkey, lunched for two hours with West German Chancellor Helmut Schmidt and came out of the lunch to find Denmark's Premier Anker Joergensen waiting on the sidewalk for his scheduled meeting.

Portugal's Premier Vasco Dos Santos Goncalves came next to discuss what role his extreme left-leaning military government expects to play in NATO. In all, Ford conferred with some 16 heads of state and leaders before addressing the formal afternoon opening of the two-day NATO summit.

The black limousines rolled up to the well-guarded doors of Ford's U.S. Embassy residence all through the day,

Beirut Fighting Ends Under New Government

BEIRUT (UPI) — Premier-designate Rashid Karami began work today to clear the "atmosphere of violence" left by a month of street fighting that terrorized Beirut and claimed hundreds of casualties.

Life in the Lebanese capital returned to near-normal. Most banks, businesses and small shops reopened for the first time in over a week and traffic streamed through the streets.

Security officials said fighting broke out briefly before dawn but was quickly checked by joint Lebanese-Palestinian patrols. Two persons were injured, one seriously, in the clash.

Scattered sniper fire still rang out as Karami began putting together a cabinet of "national unity" to rule a nation divided between Christians and Moslems, leftists and rightists, guerrillas and nationalists.

Security forces with orders to shoot snipers on sight tracked two snipers in areas of earlier heavy fighting, officials said.

President Suleiman Franjeh Wednesday asked Karami, a seven-time premier, to form a new government. Within an hour, most of the fighting ceased and the military government resigned after only 70 hours in office when its presence threatened to escalate the civil strife that had turned Beirut into a virtual no-man's land.

Sanford Enters Race To Challenge Wallace

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Declaring it his duty to challenge George Wallace and "show the nation that the South stands for more than the politics of fear," former Gov. Terry Sanford of North Carolina today entered the race for the 1976 Democratic presidential nomination.

Sanford, now president of Duke University, said he would challenge Wallace for the Democratic nomination. He said he would challenge Wallace for the Democratic nomination. He said he would challenge Wallace for the Democratic nomination.

Tornadoes Swirl Through Texas

By United Press International
Tornadoes swirled across sparsely populated areas of the Texas Panhandle today for the second day in a row, but there was only slight property damage and no one was injured in the two-day onslaught of twisters.

Tornadoes were reported at Goldsmith, Midland and near Plainview, Tex., today, but none caused any damage.

Nine twisters raked the Lone Star state Wednesday, but only minor damage was reported.

The funnels swooped down out of powerful thunderstorms which raced across the area, dumping heavy rains and pelting wide areas with hail — some of it the size of baseballs.

Heavy thunderstorms stretched from western Kansas into western Texas today and heavy rains fell in northwestern Texas. More than two inches of rain fell at McAllen, Tex. Goodland, Kan., reported nearly two inches of rain in six hours.

Way Cleared To Pave Lincoln Center Lot

An easement agreement which permits immediate completion of the controversial Lincoln Center parking area and driveway has been signed by representatives of the Town of Manchester and Congregational Church.

The agreement, filed in the town clerk's office and bearing a May 27, 1975 date, was signed by Town Manager Robert Weiss for the town and Church Moderator Richard A. Thomas.

It gives the town permission to utilize the church property needed for the parking lot and driveway and requires the town to assume all expenses for the construction, maintenance, insurance and lights.

The agreement states the church will be harmless from all actions, will be permitted to use the area at all times and will be provided with 10 parking stalls along the church building for its exclusive use.

In addition, the town will be required to construct a four-foot-wide concrete sidewalk from Main St. to the east entrance of the church, a fence along parts of the area, and a walk along the rear of the church property.

Plans are for a one-way entrance to the parking area and driveway (from Main St., at the south of Lincoln Center). Exit from the area would be around the rear of Lincoln Center and around the rear of the church into the Municipal Building parking lot. There won't be any exit into Main St.

Business Indicator Index Up Sharply in April

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The government's index of leading economic indicators, a sensitive barometer of future economic trends, recorded its biggest one month gain ever in April, the Commerce Department said today.

Using a revised format designed to discount the effects of inflation, the index surged 4.2 per cent last month.

Eleven of 12 indicators which comprise the index increased. The money supply was the only indicator that failed to rise in April.

Last month's record rise followed a 1 per cent increase in March, the first consecutive two month gain in a year. Prior to March, the index had declined for 11 straight months.

Since the index is valued as a guide to shifts in the economy, another major source of upward movement would be "strong evidence" that the recession had hit bottom or would do so soon, a Commerce Department economist said.

James L. Pate, the Commerce Department's top economist, cautioned against over-optimistic analysis based on the two-month rise.

But he quickly added: "The size and breadth of the... increases in the leading indicators is encouraging and consistent with other evidences suggesting that recession has reached bottom."

Through the years, the index has shown an uncanny ability to reverse direction shortly before the overall economy turns around.

However, the unprecedented inflation of 1973-1974 distorted a number of indicators with the result that the index kept rising long after the recession had begun.

Legislators Hold Firm In Pay Hike Dispute

HARTFORD (UPI) — Democratic legislative leaders said a meeting with state employ union representatives produced no change in position on the question of pay hikes for state workers.

The union officials have threatened a strike by the state's 40,000 state employees if their demands for salary hikes and collective bargaining rights are not met.

The leaders and union representatives met for two hours late Wednesday with no conclusive result. The union officials said they plan to meet with national representatives late today to discuss the deadlock.

Majority Senate Leader Joseph Lieberman, D-New Haven, said although he was willing to talk to the state employ groups, the question of the pay hikes is a dead issue.

Arthur House Chosen White House Fellow

Arthur H. House, a native of Manchester, is one of 14 new White House fellows welcomed recently by President Ford.

He is the son of Connecticut Supreme Court Chief Justice Charles S. and Mrs. House of 150 Westland St.

The fellows were chosen in a six-month selection process from 2,307 applicants.

This is the 11th group chosen under a program begun in 1964 to select outstanding persons between the ages of 23 and 36 to work for a year at the White House and federal departments. House is 33.

Joining the World Bank as a member of the Young Professional Program, he worked as an economist and program officer, and traveled extensively in Asia and Africa prior to his assignment on the policy planning staff.

He has written articles for several newspapers and journals. He was guest editor of the editorial page for The Herald in September 1971. He worked as a commentator for public television in Boston.

New Hampshire Scrambling To Hold Primary Spotlight

CONCORD, N.H. (UPI) — The scramble to hold the nation's first 1976 presidential primary intensifies today as New Hampshire counters efforts to take the national spotlight away with a New England regional primary.

New Hampshire Gov. Meldrim Thomson vowed to sign into law legislation to insulate New Hampshire's traditional showcase primary from the threats of neighboring, more liberal states. The bill automatically sets the primary in the nation's sixth smallest state one week before any date selected by any other New England state.

Seventy miles away in Boston, representatives from the five remaining New England states discussed a proposal for a regional presidential primary designed to soften the importance of the historically unpredictable contest in conservative New Hampshire. In the past two presidential campaigns, the primary here upset expectations, boosting former Sen. Eugene McCarthy, D-Minn., in 1968 and Sen. George McGovern, D-S.D., in 1972.

If Rhode Island, Massachusetts, Maine, Vermont and Connecticut set a regional England states discussed a proposal for a Massachusetts official said, New Hampshire could be boxed into a regional primary despite its protests.

New Democratic party rules require convention delegates to be selected in the same year as the convention. Coupled with state election regulations, New Hampshire can push its 1976 primary back only 30 days, said Sam Vitali, an aide to Massachusetts Lt. Gov. Thomas O'Neill Jr.

Efforts to set the regional primary involved political figures with close ties to Sen. Edward Kennedy, D-Mass. The Massachusetts gubernatorial agency to be working actively for a regional primary just weeks after his father, House Democratic Leader Thomas "Tip" O'Neill, D-Mass., said Kennedy would be a candidate for president in 1976.

Members of the hotel-owning Dunley family, early financial backers of the 1960 New Hampshire primary campaign of John F. Kennedy, also have participated in sessions planning a regional primary. Kennedy last year pledged to sit out the 1976 election, although a recent Gallup poll showed he alone outran the biggest vote-getter so far in polling for the 1976 race, Alabama Gov. George Wallace.

"It doesn't make any more sense to call this a Kennedy effort than it does to call efforts for a regional primary in the far West an attempt to help Scott Jackson," said Vitali, a 1972 supporter of Sen. Edmund Muskie, D-Maine.

Kennedy's office is "aware" of attempts to set a regional primary, Vitali said, "but if anything, they have not showed any interest."

Garbage Truck Death Ruled Accidental
MIDDLETOWN (UPI) — Timothy Black, 25, a retarded resident of Martin House whose body was found crushed to death in a garbage truck May 20, died accidentally, according to police.

Residents in the vicinity of the Shoreline Road facility said Black frequently played in the trash dumpster at Marvin Elementary School, police said Tuesday. Police say he apparently fell asleep in a garbage can and was crushed in the truck.

POLICE REPORT
MANCHESTER
Recent arrests include:
• Michael A. Resigna, 20, of Middletown, charged with operating without a license, failure to obey a red light, and reckless driving. The charges stem from a one-car accident Tuesday at 12:30 a.m. on E. Middle Tpke. just east of Main St.
Police described the accident as follows:
A car was seen by police heading east on the turnpike from Main St. at a high rate of speed almost collided with the cruiser. The car skidded 170 feet sideways, began pursuit.
As the officer pulled onto the turnpike, a second car driven east at a high rate of speed almost collided with the cruiser. The car skidded 170 feet sideways, began pursuit.
There were no injuries nor serious damage to the car. Resigna is scheduled to appear in Common Pleas Court 12 in East Hartford June 10.
• William G. Tomlinson, 18, of 225 Spruce St., charged Tuesday night with discharge of firearms within town limits. Tomlinson and another youth were in a car near the drive-in window of the Savings Bank of Manchester off Farnell Pl. Tomlinson allegedly fired a starter's pistol in the direction of the bank tellers' window.
Within 15 minutes of the firing, police arrested the two youths in their car.
Police confiscated the pistol. Tomlinson was released on his promise to appear in court June 16. The other youth was not charged.
• Rudy R. DePetro, 21, of 59 Walnut St., charged today at 1:30 a.m. at Arch and Walnut Sts. with breach of peace and interfering with police.
The arrest followed phone calls from the Walnut St. area telling of a girl screaming. Police arrived to find DePetro and a young woman sitting in a car.
DePetro stepped out of the car and began to swear. He resisted arrest. Police used Mace to quiet him.

BICENTENNIAL FACTS

Delaware, the first colony to ratify the Constitution and thus the first state, claims only one military skirmish during the Revolutionary War, the Battle of Cooch's Bridge, a brief encounter between Gen. Howe's and Gen. Washington's troops during the British advance on Philadelphia, Delaware. The World Almanac notes, made a significant contribution of troops to the war effort: 1,000 militia and 2,386 Continental Army.

ENERGY WORLD

By WILLIAM E. CLAYTON

WASHINGTON (UPI) - The government is paying for experiments it hopes will show how both energy and money can be saved in ways that may startle the bureaucrats.

Such as choosing appliances not so much on their immediate price tag but on their price plus what it costs to run them over the years.

Or developing techniques that keep utility rates up to date.

Or cutting out some of the duplication in the early stages of designing a nuclear power plant.

These ideas and many more have resulted from the Experimental Technology Incentives Program set up under a directive from the Office of Management and Budget. The program provides federal seed money to help government agencies from the frequently heard: "But we have always done it this way."

Jordan Lewis, head of the program, said it starts by finding an agency interested in designing an experiment. The goal of the experiment is to change policy in a way that reflects new wrinkles in management or technology, to streamline government and - particularly new in the energy patch - to save energy along with the money.

"We got a high-level committee that looks at the experiment and we pay the extraordinary costs for the experiment, such as for extra staff or equipment," Lewis said.

Then if the experiment succeeds, Lewis said, "We don't have to convince anybody to change policy - they are already believers."

One big example of an experiment with big energy-saving potential is "life-cycle costing," Lewis said. General Services Administration, the Federal "housekeeper," is the partner in this experiment.

The idea is this when the GSA takes bids for the appliances it buys for government, it should take into account what an appliance costs for its energy, over its entire life cycle. The GSA has done that with a year's supply of air-conditioners, 27,000 units.

Compared with what the GSA would have bought if it had taken the pure low bid momentarily, Lewis said, it got 21 percent more energy efficiency.

"The contract went to the lowest life-cycle contract bid," Lewis said.

Another benefit, he said, was that the sudden market for energy efficient products - even some that may have cost more initially - caused some technology to be used on new models that had not been used previously, to modify them for efficiency.

GSA liked the experiment approach so well it has opened an experiment management office of its own, Lewis said.

ORANGE OPERA

ORANGE, Pa. (UPI) - The annual Orange Festival, which is held in the city's Roman theater, will feature Wagner's "Die Walkure," Handel's "Messiah," and Verdi's "Otello," with top international casts, including Birgit Nilsson, Leonie Ryansek, John Vickers, Theresa Zylla-Gara, and Kiri Te Kanawa. Performance dates are July 19 and 22 and August 2.

Credit Discrimination Ban Rules Could Cost Millions

WASHINGTON (UPI) - Proposed government regulations banning credit discrimination by sex would cost creditors millions of dollars and possibly undermine their solvency, a spokesman for the American Bankers Association said Wednesday. Kenneth V. Larkin, a senior vice president of the Bank of America, told a Federal Reserve Board hearing that the proposal poses "a greater feeling that credit is not a privilege but a right."

"Unless we have a good credit system it will undermine the solvency of our banks," he said on behalf of the ABA. Larkin said the regulations designed to eliminate credit discrimination on the basis of sex or marital status go beyond laws passed by Congress, thwart the intention of such laws and undermine the judgment of loan officers. He specifically objected to the provision requiring the names of both husband and wife be listed on any account which they both use. He said in his own bank such a switch would cost $3 million and "300 person years" to accomplish.

Larkin proposed instead that all new accounts be listed in both names and that any existing accounts be changed to include both names only on the request of borrowers. Larkin asked the board to abolish a requirement that creditors provide "a clear and meaningful statement" in system in which he has invested thousands of dollars and regard as highly confidential," he said.

EB Details Expenditures

GROTON (UPI) - General Dynamics' Electric Boat Division says it purchased $113.8 million in material and services from Connecticut firms last year. The firm said it spent a total of $178.7 million in 1974 for goods and services from companies in New England. Massachusetts got $40 million and Rhode Island, $23 million.

Washington Window: Test of Foreign Policy

By HELEN THOMAS WASHINGTON (UPI) - President Ford's post-Vietnam foreign policy will be tested this week with his talks abroad with allied leaders. So far, all that has been heard from both Ford and Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger is need to reassure doubting allies in Europe that the United States will be there in time of trouble. But more initiatives may be expected of Ford in the face of major victories by the Communists in Asia and threats of growing leftist power in Portugal.

Both Ford and Kissinger have urged the nation not to look back on mistakes of the past, but instead to focus on the future. That is difficult to do, unless the nation's role in the world is realistically assessed and enunciated. Both the Soviet Union and China have refrained from gloating over the collapse of United States-backed nations in Indochina. It was enough that they backed the winning side with the supplies that were needed.

So while the spirit of détente has prevailed, there have been major diplomatic setbacks for the American leadership in a fast changing world. Ford was expected to explore the range of future relationships with allied leaders in private talks. Although the administration has insisted it is not trying to dramatize the use of American military force in the Mayaguez incident, nevertheless there is the element of proof that Ford is not afraid to act.

The demonstration was in line with Kissinger's own view following the falling of Indochina that the United States should show potential aggressors that it was not, in former President Richard M. Nixon's words, "a pitiful helpless giant." Kissinger plans to remain in Europe.

Nixon pursued superpower diplomacy and ignored many parts of the world. In Latin America, the United States had no visible policy toward the Western Hemisphere and its relations with those countries has neither been cohesive nor defined. Only in the Middle East is the United States still looked upon as a mediator which can help to forestall another Arab-Israeli war.

Ford will be meeting with Egyptian President Anwar Sadat in Salzburg, Austria later this week and in mid-June with Israeli Prime Minister Yitzhak Rabin. After those exploratory sessions, Ford intends to complete a reassessment of Middle East policy which has been going on for many months. It is clear that even with interim agreements were hammered out between Israel and Egypt, a Geneva conference with all parties involved, including most of the Arab states, will have to follow.

Manchester Evening Herald OPINION

The Energy Problem

Did you ever get the feeling that you were being given a choice of being shot or hung?
This is the reaction we got to President Ford's energy plan and the Democratic congressional leadership's reaction to it.

Within the confines of higher petroleum fuel prices, that seem assured whoever prevails, the argument is not how much or when but which way to jack up the price so that we in effect begin curbing our use because of price.

The only merit, and it's a marginal one in the wake of oil company profits recently, is that the President's plan could, if the excess profits tax is kept reasonable, stimulate development of domestic petroleum resources.

But both the democratic approach and the administration plan have a more fundamental mutual goal.

Either, if adopted in the forms outlined to date, would encourage a shift away from petroleum energy sources to other sources.

However, as the President quite correctly pointed out in defending his veto of the strip-mining control bill, Congress cannot have its cake and eat it also.

In effect, he was saying that any conditions attached to development of non-petroleum sources which are excessive, may wipe out any stimulus to development created by increasing petroleum prices through import taxes and price decontrol or, as Congress apparently wants, a direct tax.

The crux of the energy problem isn't simple but yet in essence it involves three basic decisions.

First, recognizing that petroleum fuel sources aren't unlimited.

Second, even though petroleum sources are exhaustible and will be exhausted in time, for the most part alternative sources aren't competitive and cannot be made or kept competitive without some degree of independence from foreign oil sources over which we cannot exercise price control, up or down.

Third, and perhaps the most difficult, is that the United States, despite its energy source independence compared to other industrialized nations, cannot set its energy policy solely on domestic considerations.

This is what the current European meetings are basically all about.

Within a few years we will be paying $1 or more a gallon for gasoline either under the Ford plan or a gradually increased federal tax.

The issue now is that any confrontation between the President and the Congress over which energy plan is best might undermine the efforts abroad which President Ford, through Secretary of State Kissinger, has described as "a serious effort with goodwill and a cooperative attitude...to avoid confrontation" between the developing and producing nations of the world.

We think the American people will accept the necessity for conservation of energy and if means of distributing the financial burden fairly can be efficiently implemented, they will accept the cost too.

The agency of such a change in life style is not lost on the political leaders of today. The tragedy would be in allowing this sacrifice to be made for petty political gain rather than as a contribution to an ultimate and equitable solution to the world energy problem.

We would hope in the coming weeks Congress and the administration will work together in the common goal of a national energy policy which achieves not only conservation at home but economic, social and political stability abroad.

Preposterous Decision

Park Workers Given Praise

Dear Editor

I would like to take this opportunity to express my appreciation to the Town of Manchester Park Department for the work they did this spring in restoring the softball diamond at Robertson Park.

Having seen the condition of this field deteriorate during the redevelopment of North Manchester, the improvements made under the direction of Ernest Turck, superintendent of parks, and William Andrus, park department foreman, are truly miraculous.

The improved conditions should certainly be appreciated by those participants (over 300 weekly) in recreation department-sponsored softball leagues at this field. Townspeople visiting the park, have paid high compliments to the park department crew for their efforts. Robertson Park is fast becoming a popular place for a summer's night of entertainment and relaxation.

The donations of an American flag by Edward Fitzgerald of the Fitzgerald Funeral Home, and distance markers, by Wendell Jacobs of the Woodland Sign Co., compliment the excellent condition of this field.

If pride in a community can be measured by the conditions of park facilities, Manchester should be very proud.

Sincerely,
Wallace J. Irish Jr.

TODAY'S THOUGHT

A girl who said her night prayers every day was overheard one evening saying her prayer in the following way: "God bless Mom...God bless Dad...God bless grandma..." And after a brief pause, she concluded: "And please God, take care of yourself, 'cause if anything happens to you, we are all sunk."

Nothing, of course, is going to happen to you. But something could happen to our faith in Him, and His role in the shaping of our lives and our destinies. If this happens, we, indeed, are in trouble.

A Valid Question

Sen. Jesse Helms was indulging in a bit of histrionics, of course, when he suggested that every congressman should contribute $1,000 toward relief of Vietnam refugees, rather than passing a general funding bill which would be paid for by the taxpayers.

The North Carolinian also suggested that churches and other philanthropic organizations take over the job of caring for the refugees rather than imposing it on all taxpayers.

He was dramatizing his own opposition to the Senate funding bill, but he got some Senate support from conservative colleagues such as Sens. Barry Goldwater, Strom Thurmond, James McClure and Nebraska's Carl Curtis.

The relief bill passed later with only Helms and Sen. William L. Scott of Virginia voting against it.

But for all the play-acting Helms did bring up a valid point in the Senate. And that is that people today have little or no choice about the causes they support or where their tax money goes.

In the case of the Vietnam refugees the responsibility is truly a public one, since their jeopardy was caused in great part by their adherence to Democratic causes and their cooperation with the United States.

But, it is not so long ago that philanthropic causes were private, in practically all cases, by private charities. If a person wanted to contribute to a cause he did so, or withheld his donation as his views directed.

Today the greatest philanthropic agency in the United States is the U.S. government itself.

The Congress decides what philanthropies should be supported by public funds and then votes to appropriate it. It matters little whether a citizen supports a particular cause or despises it, his money is spent equally as freely as those who are proponents.

Churches, national groups, the Red Cross, Salvation Army and others have done great work with the poor, the unfortunate and the displaced.

It was not always thought that tax money would take care of everything. Charity, social work, welfare and the support of the indigent were private responsibilities not too long ago.

However, it seems unlikely that they will ever be again with a system of government which more and more is pressed to come up with answers or at least attempts, to solve all problems.

Sen. Helms has served his purpose, although he knew very well that there was no chance at all of the congressman matching the $1,000 check which he waved at them.

With very few exceptions the philosophy of public care "from the womb to the tomb" permeates American politics.

The Congress could use a few more men who were more respectful of the public purse. H.R. Gross of Iowa and the Byrds of Virginia have saved American taxpayers many millions of dollars.

Long suffering constituencies deserve an occasional advocate who considers their welfare too.

Samuel the fourth generation in direct line in America was born about 1665 probably at Cambridge, possibly at Billerica where he was reared. Took oath of fidelity July 7, 1681. In 1693 the town "granted him liberty to set up a shop to work in and 'lay timber about near to the passage over the river while he was keeping the ferry..."

He moved back to Cambridge before 1665. The town's stock of powder and ammunition was committed to his custody for which care he was paid six shillings annually. On Jan. 19, 1698 his father conveyed to him 65 pounds, money of which 15 pounds was his portion as heir to the old homestead in Cambridge (corner of Dunston & South Sts.), "but the house, 1/4 acre land, with out-houses and fruit trees" also "warehouse, boat house, wharfing, etc. on the S.W. corner."

On Nov. 4, 1714 he purchased 240 acres between Merrick's Brook and Beaver in Windham, Conn. First deed recorded in Book E at Windham. Price was 82 pounds, 10 shillings. He was still in Cambridge April 24, 1721 but was in Windham in 1722. That land was in the third parish known as "Scotland Society."

In 1780 it was set off from Windham as the Town of Scotland.

This Samuel held many civil offices wherever he lived. At Billerica he was "highway surveyor" in 1688. At Cambridge

"sealer of wits and measures" in 1701-3-414 of total of 13 years. Highway surveyor 1702. One of two inspectors of the "great Bridge" over the Charles River 1704-1705. Constable 1704, Clerk of Markets, 1714.

At Windham he was "Tithingman" (tax collector) and school committee 1722. Selectman 1723-4 and 1723-5. Samuel died in Scotland Feb. 20, 1755 aged 90 years. Though grave stone in the Palmer Burying Ground of Scotland Society says 99 years. He left a son John who became of the fifth generation direct line of the family in America.

This John was born at Cambridge, Mass. and lived there until 1725. Can't find any record of his birth but he was baptized in 1697. He was known as a "cordwainer" which means a worker in leather or shoemaker. Was also called a "waterman." Smart tells it seems.

He bought 2 1/2 acres of a recent land division on June 20, 1724 for 20 pounds and sold it for 47 pounds 17 shillings on Feb. 3, 1725. Then on Oct. 25, 1725 he sold for 60 pounds the estate left to his wife by her father.

Then he moved to Hopkinton, Mass. in 1725 and about two years later to Windham, Conn. and built a home next to his father's on west side of Merrick's Brook and west by south of the Scotland Church. He got 70 acres as a gift next to his father's in 1729 and bought 10 acres for 30 pounds Oct. 6, 1742. While at Cambridge he was a soldier from Oct. 23, 1723 to June 1724 fighting Indians near York and Wells Maine.

He held public offices in Windham, "Fence Viewer" 1731-47, "Sealer of Leather" 1736-38-43-44, Grand Juror 1736, "Constable and Collector of Rate" 1738-42-44. He was made "Lieutenant of Militia" in Windham 1741 and three years later "Captain." Joined Windham Church in 1728 and was admitted to form the Scotland Church in 1728.

On Dec. 2, 1728 he was granted right to make a dam across Merrick Brook and erect a saw mill. With wife he is buried in old cemetery on east side of Scotland-Norwich Rd. about 7 mile south of Scotland Church. He died May 5, 1750 leaving a son John to become the family's sixth generation in America.

Clean Air Goals Unachieved On Eve of First Deadline

BOSTON (UPI) — The first major deadline of the federal clean air act will come Saturday, without achievement of any of its goals on a national level, Russell E. Train, director of the Environmental Protection Agency, said Wednesday.

Train then said extensive reductions in air and water pollution have been made, and that the mechanism is in place for further reductions.

He was addressing the opening session of the National Association of Regional Councils' ninth annual conference. He would not comment directly at a press conference, on the Boston-Area Transportation Control Plan, scheduled to be announced Friday. But Train did indicate it would stress positive incentives for travel and pollution reduction, rather than negative ones such as parking reductions.

Train predicted the most potentially severe impact of New England offshore oil development will be on land rather than in the sea. He said the states should expect major industrial developments in land areas near drilling sites, and said their impacts should be examined soon.

"There is a need here for the states to get involved individually and to work regionally to establish, set up, and enforce strong land-use regulations in coastal areas well before development proceeds," according to Train. He said federal aid was available for such efforts.

A spokesman for NARC, a Washington-based, non-profit organization, said the purpose of the conference was to give delegates "an incisive view of how grass roots America and the huge urban areas are tackling the crucial domestic issue.

"By far, the most pressing problem in America today is that of the economy and unemployment...Other urgent topics that will be covered include air and water pollution, transportation, housing and law enforcement," according to the spokesman.

Using the theme "A Declaration of Interdependence," NARC is headed by Seattle Mayor Wesley C. Uhlman, who will step down Friday when a new president is elected.

FROM YOUR NEIGHBOR'S KITCHEN

By VIVIAN FERGUSON

Bubbly, energetic, efficient and well-organized is Helen Partridge. She puts her heart and soul into everything she does with great enthusiasm.

Mrs. Partridge prepares a gourmet dinner.

When her turn came to organize an evening for her gourmet group, she called it "Moonlight in Vermont." The theme was only the beginning for Helen and her husband, John. They took a trip to Vermont to purchase maple sugar, cheddar cheese and Vermont common crackers.

A search through an old Vermont cookbook, purchased at a flea market, turned up some good recipes. Helen collected Vermont items she could place about the house, at 211 Mountain Rd. The table centerpiece was a miniature depicting a maple-sugaring operation. Maps and murals of Vermont were hung on one glass-lined wall of the dining room.

Guests were asked to wear clothing that would depict something representative of Vermont. A gentleman, stuffed with four pillows, encased in green fabric, came as the Green Mountains. One lady dressed in white as a symbol of white marble.

For many years, the group centered their dinners about European countries. "We decided to do something different," says Helen. "It's a little more difficult to dress in costume and some very humorous things occur."

When London B. Johnson was president of the United States, a Texas ranch barbecue was given. Helen has centered other meals around the city of Boston — "like Durgin Park without the sawdust," she comments. A Passover meal was served. "Another evening centered about health foods. When she chose Canada as a theme, a girlfriend's husband asked a bear for the main course.

Vermont Yankee cider punch, accompanied cheddar cheese and Vermont crackers plus sausage and apple kabobs as appetizers. Vermont country style short ribs of beef, potatoes and onions, maple glazed squash and parsnips, fresh garden vegetable salad with Vermont dressing composed the main course. Vermont graham bread was passed along with butter from Vermont. Maple ice cream, maple sugar cookies, maple sugar candy with a choice of beverages and coffee ended the feast. To finish the evening in grand style, Helen called the grande de menthe "Green Mountain Cordial."

Each participating couple contributes to the meal. Recipes are chosen by the hostess and given to the others. Included in the Partridge's group are Linda and Ed Platz, Siri and Hal Lehman, Olive and Mike Wilk, Odette and Don Savard. They meet several times a year to suit their busy schedules.

Helen couldn't cook a thing when she married 11 years ago. "I didn't know the difference between salt and pepper," she jokes. "Without the encouragement of my husband and the ladies of the gourmet group, I don't think I could have done anything."

Actually, Helen has made many efforts on her own. Although a working woman, she has attended food lectures and has taken courses at Manchester High School adult evening school over the past three years. "My friend, Mary Schubert, who is the teacher, is just the greatest! She has given me such confidence."

Helen has been employed as bookkeeper at Wipeo, formerly William Peck Lumber, Inc. for the past 23 years. There she met John A. Partridge, a builder. She proudly displays his fine handcrafted clocks, the kitchen cupboards he installed, the bookcase he made for her collection of cookbooks.

The outdoor patio and fireplace, built by her husband, is a pleasant outdoor living room where John cooks meats. "He's completely self-sufficient in the kitchen and can manage very nicely on his own. When weather interferes outside, he uses the dining room fireplace," tells his wife.

Helen has two stepdaughters, Jane Partridge, a student of marine science, living in Florida and Judy Pagnach of Hebron, mother of one-year-old Paul, the only grandchild. Helen is the daughter of Helen Harmon of Pine Hill St. She is a member of the professional Women's Club.

Vermont Country Style Short Ribs of Beef Short ribs, each 3-4" long salt and pepper. Scald milk, add two cups carrots, onions, potatoes, turnip, green beans, etc. Using Dutch oven, melt some suet in bottom of pot. Sear short ribs until nicely browned on all sides. Place rack in bottom of pan, season meat well, place vegetables around meat to steam and add a little water. Cook slowly, covered, adding water as needed to prevent burning. Cook about three hours. Arrange vegetables around meat on platter.

Vermont Salad Dressing 2 eggs 1 cup sugar 4 teaspoons mustard 5 tablespoons flour 1 teaspoon salt 3 cups milk 2 cups vinegar Beat all together and cook in double boiler until thick. Makes about one quart. Serve over all kinds of fresh garden vegetables.

Graham Bread 4 cups graham flour 2/3 cup wheat flour 1/2 cup sugar 1/2 cup molasses 4 cups lard or other shortening 2 teaspoons salt 2 teaspoons soda sifted with flour 2 1/2 cups sweet milk Mix all thoroughly. Put into greased bread tins and bake one hour at 375 degrees. Maple Ice Cream 2 quarts milk 2 cups maple sugar 1/2 cup flour 4 eggs, well beaten 1 cup cream, whipped 1 cup maple sugar 2 tablespoons vanilla 1/3 teaspoon salt Scald milk, add two cups maple sugar, flour and eggs. Cook 20 minutes; cool. Add whipped cream, one cup maple sugar, vanilla and salt. Pour into refrigerator freezing trays. Makes one gallon.

white bread, apple pie, pie, butter or margarine, milk or coffee. Thursday: Pot roast with natural juice, baked potato, corn with pimentos, white bread, gingerbread with fruit butter, butter or margarine, milk or coffee. Friday: Fried clams, lemon wedge, cole slaw with apple, baked potato, hot roll, brownie, tartar sauce, milk or coffee.

See Counselor Abby Advises

By Abigail Van Buren
© 1975 by Chicago Tribune, N.Y. News Syndicate, Inc.

DEAR ABBY: I am unmarried with two small children. I love my mother, but she lives with me because it's convenient. We get along so-so. We share the bills, and I get the use of his car. I knew Sam only three weeks when we started living together. I got pregnant, and then I was stuck. He told me he was divorced, but he won't show me the proof. (I think he's lying.) He gambles a lot, and I can't trust him very far. He works nights and I work days. We have no friends or social life. But Sam is good to the kids, and they love him. My mother lives in my building, and she is driving me nuts. She interferes and causes arguments between Sam and me. She goes against everything I say to my kids—calls me stupid in front of them and tells them not to listen to me. When I discipline the kids, they cry for Grandma, and this hurts. She also tells everybody my business. What can I do about her? And what can I do about my messed-up life? I'm 32 and feel like 52.

MISFIT IN CHICAGO
DEAR MISFIT: I see two major problems: Sam and your mother. You need to get away from your mother. She is poison to your self-esteem, and a troublemaker to boot. Call Family Service, and make an appointment with one of their professional counselors. You need to talk at length with someone who can help you get your life in order. Living with a man you don't love because it's a convenience is a bad trip. Counseling will lighten your burden and show you the way. Good luck. Write again to tell me how you're doing. I care.

DEAR ABBY: Well, here goes my first "Dear Abby" letter. A dear friend of mine, who happened to be an elderly lady, gave me a beautiful Oriental urn. She was in good health and by no means senile when she gave it to me. Since her death last week, a daughter-in-law called, asking that I return the urn because "it had been promised to someone in the family." She also suggested that her mother-in-law was not in her right mind when she gave it to me. I was very hurt to be asked for something that I know was given to me out of love and generosity. I like the urn and want to keep it. I have asked several other people who they would do in this case, and they say, "Keep it." I need your opinion before making a decision. Thank you, OHIOAN

DEAR OHIOAN: I vote to keep it. DEAR ABBY: My husband has the classic answer to those overly smug parents of children of both sexes. We were among the proud parents of three fine daughters when I gave birth to a fourth daughter. Many people came to my husband, expressing sympathy because he had no sons. My husband's reply to them was: "If the good Lord thought another man was needed in my house, He would have sent him."

SATISFIED MOTHER
Everyone has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply, write to ABBY: Box No. 69700, L.A., Calif. 90069. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope, please. For Abby's new booklet, "What Teenagers Want to Know," send $1 to Abigail Van Buren, 132 Lasky Dr., Beverly Hills, Calif. 90212. Please enclose a long, self-addressed, stamped (20¢) envelope.

Pagano-Rodriguez

Elby Rodriguez of Brooklyn, N.Y. and Anthony F. Pagano of Manchester, were married May 25 in St. Anthony's Church in Passaic, N.J.

Mrs. Anthony F. Pagano

The bride is the daughter of Pedro Rodriguez of Brooklyn, N.Y. and the late Mrs. Pedro Rodriguez. The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Frank Pagano of Passaic, N.J. and the late Frank Pagano.

The Rev. Vitalis Sabatini of St. Anthony's Church officiated. The bride was given in marriage by her father. Miss Adrienne Deschenes of Hartford was maid of honor. Miss Carmen Esposito of Brooklyn was bridesmaid. Miss Sarah Garcia of Brooklyn, N.Y. was flower girl. Bruce S. Beck of Manchester was best man. Usbers were Philip Calavincenzo of Pittsburg, Pa., Raymond Satter of Denver, Colo., and Jeffrey Simko of East Orange, N.J. Edward Santiago of New York City was ring bearer.

A reception was held at The Cottillon in Garfield, N.J. after which the couple left on a trip to Hawaii and San Francisco. The couple will reside in Manchester. Mr. Pagano is a practicing attorney in Manchester.

Registration Now Open For YWCA Events

The Nutmeg Program Center of the Hartford Region YWCA is currently accepting registrations for summer youth activities. All children's program will be held at the Community Y, 70 N. Main St. The YWCA Summer Day Camp, which is beginning its third year, is open to girls and boys aged 6 to 11. Camp activities are Monday through Friday from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Weekly sessions begin June 30 and run to Aug. 22. This program is state licensed and is directed by a qualified staff of counselors.

For children 3-years-old and the Tiny Tots program is offered three mornings a week from 9:30 to 11:30 a.m. There will be two sessions, each three weeks long, beginning July 8 and July 29. The group participates in games, crafts and music. For the four- and five-year-olds, Tiny Tots Plus is offered three afternoons a week from 1 to 3. Two three-week sessions begin July 8 and 29. Both preschool programs meet Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday.

A fitness and exercise program for 12- to 18-year-olds is Kiddle Kallisthenics, which meets Tuesdays from 10 to 11 a.m. This will be offered for five weeks beginning July 1. To receive more information on any of these activities, call the YWCA office at 697-1457.

Bicentennial Theme For Reading Program

The Bicentennial will be the theme of the summer reading program at the Rockville Public Library, and this year for the first time kindergartners and preschoolers will be included. Due to the large number of children usually participating each summer, those interested are encouraged to register as soon as possible.

Registrations will be accepted starting June 9 and continuing through June 20, Monday through Friday, in the children's wing of the library.

The program will start June 30 and continue through August 1. The children must be residents of Vernon and at least one parent must hold a library card.

School age children will combine historical reading with crafts, games and culinary treats which were popular in colonial times. The children will meet with their own age group, once a week, in the Edith Peck Room for one and one-half hour sessions.

Activities for preschoolers will include finger puppet plays, singing and listening to stories. The Edith Peck Room will be decorated partially to resemble a barn and partially to resemble an old-fashioned school room.

The schedule for the different grades is as follows, with the sessions on Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday to be from 10:15 a.m. to 11:30 a.m., and 2:30 to 4 p.m. Monday sessions will be for kindergartners and Grade 1; Tuesday for Grades 2 and 3; Wednesday for Grades 4 and 5.

A sampling of one week's activities includes making clothes pin dolls, log cabin banks, making homemade ice cream, and such. The school age children will also be required to read one book per week and bring in their interpretation of that book.

In addition to the regular weekly sessions there will be special demonstrations as follows: On July 3, Colonial crafts, games and culinary treats; July 11, puppet making; July 18, a fairer; July 25, weaving; and August 1, glassblowing.

Two films will also be shown on dates to be announced later. One of these will show a colonial printer at work and the other a gunsmit.

Anyone having questions about registering should call Mrs. Patricia Edwards, the children's librarian, at 872-4710, Monday through Friday from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Pinechill Winners
Tuesday winners in the Vernon Senior Citizen pinechill group were: Gertrude Edwards 704; Elbert Edwards 684; Sophie Bogdan 671; Bill Wormsted 664; Frank Minor 638; Ted Lebec 632; and Almeta Stackhouse 632.

Last Thursday tournament winners were: Evelyn Kincaid 633; Harry Eitel 624; Beatrice Minor 591; and Mary St. Louis 586.

Mrs. Ellsworth Sperry, 92, South Windsor's third oldest citizen was guest of the town's Bicentennial Commission at the flag dedication kicking off local celebration. Mrs. Sperry lives at the South Windsor Convalescent Home.

Bicentennial Flag Raised

SOUTH WINDSOR
Judy Kuehnel
South Windsor's Bicentennial celebration officially began Wednesday as Councilman Robert Hornish raised the Bicentennial flag and 4-H riders, dressed as Paul Revere, left Town Hall to "spread the word" of the town's celebration to the six elementary schools.

The Bicentennial flag was presented by George Cyr, American Revolution Bicentennial Commission of Connecticut program coordinator and accepted by Mayor Robert Smith.

South Windsor is one of only 3,500 towns to be officially designated a Bicentennial Town out of a possible 40,000.

Two of South Windsor's oldest citizens, Mrs. Ellsworth Sperry and Mrs. Anne Parkinson led the Pledge of Allegiance.

The program was coordinated by Carolyn Arer, Art Director, and Nancy Zucco and sponsored jointly by the town's Bicentennial Commission and the Bicentennial Commission of the elementary schools.

Grand Jury Seeks Voice Samples
HARTFORD (UPI) — Seven witnesses who refused Wednesday to provide recordings of their voices were due back before U.S. District Court Judge T. Emmet Clarke today. He told them to bring their lawyers.

The federal grand jury investigation into crime and corruption is the fifth in Hartford since 1969, but it is the first to begin with a request for voice samples.

The grand jury is seeking evidence on a number of illegal activities including gambling, extortion, drug peddling and dealing in stolen goods.

Bonnie Edmondson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Edmondson of Rt. 44A, has been named the statewide winner in an essay contest conducted by the Daughter of the American Revolution.

The essay was based on the life of an American Revolutionary patriot and Miss Edmondson chose to her essay on the life of Nathaniel Greene.

Miss Edmondson said, "I wanted to pick a patriot that no one else would think about and write some different information about him. I went to the Booth Dimock Library and to the school library to get the information. Nathaniel Greene was a general during the war and he led many troops."

This is the first essay contest Miss Edmondson has ever entered.

The project was done under the guidance of sixth grade teacher Carol Grasso who team teaches with Bonnie Freeman. The project was part of a social studies unit in American History conducted last February.

Another sixth grader, Daniel Beaupre, taught by Mrs. Freeman, received a certificate for outstanding work in American History from the DAR.

Harkins Suggests Policy for Use Of Town Green

TOLLAND
A plan which would limit the use of Tolland Green for fund raising activities by local nonprofit organizations received a preliminary review from the Board of Selectmen Tuesday night.

The policy, written by Town Manager John Harkins, places the responsibility for use with the organizations scheduling events, rather than with the town.

A written request for use of the Green would have to be in the town manager's office three weeks before the event, allowing time "to run the request by the selectmen," if Harkins feels it necessary.

The organization would also be required to provide constables on duty for "health and safety" measures and no parking would be allowed on the Green.

The users would also have to bear the responsibility for cleaning up the Green after the event and file a hold harmless insurance policy for the day's event, absolving the town from any liability from accidents which could occur.

The Green is a popular spot for outdoor sports, with organizations citing the high visual impact and busy traffic as advantages to drawing maximum customers to the event.

This same traffic could pose safety hazards, the town manager explained. "Anything could happen."

The selectmen tabled action on the plan, waiting for a ruling on its provisions from Town Counsel Harold Garrity.

OBITUARIES
One of the most distinguished men in the history of the town of Rockville, Doris Holt, Pillsbury Hill, Rockville, died Tuesday, May 27, 1975, at his home, Meadowood Rd., Tolland.

Mr. Holt was born in Rockville, Conn., on May 15, 1891. He was a member of the Methodist Church, and was active in the church and community. He was a member of the Tolland Historical Society and the Tolland Chamber of Commerce.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Dorothy Miller, Hemlock Rd., Vernon; his daughter, Mrs. Stuart Neff, Earl St., Rockville; his son, Mr. Richard Wood, Lake St., Vernon; and his grandchildren, Mrs. Ina Wallace, Tolland; and Mrs. Geraldine Dr., Ellington.

Funeral services will be held at 10 a.m. Friday, May 30, at the First Methodist Church, Rockville. Burial will be in the Rockville Cemetery.

Collection Bill Draws Criticism

HARTFORD (UPI) — House Minority Leader Rep. Gerald F. Stevens, R-Milford, has criticized Democrats for approving a bill to let the state turn delinquent accounts over to private collection agencies.

Rep. Richard Dyer, R-Chester, deputy GOP leader, said Wednesday the measure had no provisions for hiring the collection agencies through competitive bidding and would lead to political influences.

The House passed the measure, 87-56, and sent it to Gov. Ella T. Grasso for her signature.

"This is a way of making political plums," Dyer said.

Grand Jury Seeks Voice Samples

HARTFORD (UPI) — Seven witnesses who refused Wednesday to provide recordings of their voices were due back before U.S. District Court Judge T. Emmet Clarke today. He told them to bring their lawyers.

The federal grand jury investigation into crime and corruption is the fifth in Hartford since 1969, but it is the first to begin with a request for voice samples.

The grand jury is seeking evidence on a number of illegal activities including gambling, extortion, drug peddling and dealing in stolen goods.

Church Picnic
Union Congregational Church will have its all-church picnic June 8, Children's Day, at Del-Aire campground in Tolland. Activities will start at 11 a.m. and continue through 6 p.m.

League Meeting
The Vernon League of Women Voters will conduct a board meeting, Monday at 7:30 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Olivia Schaper, Seneca Dr., Vernon.

OBITUARIES

Rufus Rose, 70, Dead; Created Howdy Doody

NEW LONDON (UPI) — Rufus C. Rose, who created the popular Howdy Doody puppet and operated it for a short time on the children's television show, died early today. He was 70.

Rose, who suffered from peritonitis, had been a patient at Lawrence and Memorial Hospitals since he was stricken May 20 at his home in Waterford.

A Republican, he was elected to 5 1/2 year terms in the Connecticut House of Representatives. He declined to seek reelection last year.

Rose was hired by the National Broadcasting Co. in 1952 to help boost a show featuring Buffalo Bob Smith, the originator of the Howdy Doody character. Rose created a new Howdy puppet and a number of characters who became popular to millions of children who watched the show five days a week.

Rose and his wife, Margo, collaborated over a 45-year period on numerous plays and films. In 1958, their show, "The Blue Fairy," broadcast over WGN-TV in Chicago, won a Peabody Award.

Rose's oldest son, James, said in lieu of formal funeral services, the family would have a reception for friends and relatives Saturday at the Rose home.

His toothy grin, Howdy flowers, gifts could be made in Joseph A. Bossie ELLINGTON—Joseph A. Bossie, 80, of 1 Snipic Village died Tuesday at a Wallingford convalescent home. He was the husband of Mrs. Louise LaGassie Bossie.

Born in Canada, he had lived in Ellington for about two and a-half years. He was employed as a lumberman in Portugal, Maine, before his retirement. He was a Fourth Degree member of the KofC in Ashland.

Other survivors are 7 sons, Gerald Bossie of Tolland, Lionel Bossie of Rockville, Reginald Bossie and William Bossie, both of Portugal, Lawrence Bossie of Monson, Mass., Milton Bossie of Monro, Mich. and Eugene L. Bossie of Van Buren, Maine; 2 daughters, Mrs. Gilman Soucier of Rockville and Mrs. Robert Caldwell of Tolland; 4 brothers and 3 sisters in Canada; 36 grandchildren and 7 great-grandchildren.

The funeral is Friday at 8:15 a.m. from the Iadd Funeral Home, 19 Ellington Ave., Rockville, with a Mass at St. Bernard's Church, Rockville, at 9. Burial will be in St. Bernard's Cemetery, Rockville.

Friends may call at the funeral home tonight from 7 to 9 p.m.

The family suggests that any memorial contributions may be made to the American Cancer Society.

Scandia Lodge To Hear From Swedish Visitor

Miss Susan Olsson of Sweden will be the guest at the 75th anniversary banquet of Scandia Lodge No. 23, Vasa Order of America, Saturday at the Manchester Country Club.

Dinner will be at 7 p.m. preceded by a social hour beginning at 6.

Miss Olsson is a member of Uddevalla Lodge No. 638, the sister lodge of Scandia Lodge. She was born in Sweden and came to America in 1922 as a nurse.

"It is for the development of the scolding snowman, subsidies for the Tooth Fairy; Easter Bunny and Santa Claus; easy-off snowflakes and allowances that are in line with minimum wage laws," Howdy said.

An enthusiastic motorcyclist who enjoyed commuting the 40 miles to Hartford on two wheels, Rose was an opponent of the motorcycle helmet law requiring cyclists to wear helmets. He attended anti-motorcycle rallies and collaborated over a 45-year period on numerous plays and films.

Howdy, the prototype of Rose, dressed in his customary bell-bottomed red plaid shirt, red bandana tied in a neat Boy Scout-style square knot.

Gurney Aide Linked To Fund Raiser

TAMPA, Fla. (UPI)—A first grade teacher from Missoula, Mont., testified Wednesday in the federal trial of former Sen. Edward Gurney that she handled several telephone calls between a Gurney aide and fund-raiser Larry Williams. Ann Ringling Pierce, former secretary to James Groot, one-time administrative assistant to Gurney and one of five co-defendants, said she worked for Groot in Washington from June, 1971, to June, 1972.

Mrs. Pierce said that on three or four occasions she took cash payments from Groot to Western Union for money orders sent to Gurney field offices in Miami and Winter Park.

Called upon several times in tight situations, Lamb has responded, recording two victories and three saves. "When he gets on the mound, he has a lot of confidence in his ability. He has good velocity and keeps the ball low. He can strike people out when the situation dictates. He's a great competitor who wants to win. And when he pitches, he's in total command."

Plays Like Veteran Although just a sophomore, Furlong has been playing like a seasoned veteran. To date, he is riding a 13-game hitting streak with a .343 average. "He's done a superb job as a lead off hitter. He's always up there swinging which sets the table," Penders remarked. "He's one player who gives 120 per cent every time and is continually improving. He's one player who the colleges are interested in because of his hustle and desire."

"Defensively, he's improved with every game. He made a spectacular catch against Bulkeley (rained out Tuesday after four innings) which I don't know how he held onto it. He profits by his mistakes. He won't make the same mistake twice. He wants to learn."

The same, however, can't be said of some of Furlong's teammates. Even after 16 contests, East's running of the bases, to put it mildly, is terrible. Several runners have been caught napping but the lack of the Irish (or somebody) must be with them as some have come up with stolen bases as opponents have misplayed the situations.

"The only thing which I question is have they bettered themselves," Penders said. "The base running, as you very well know, is as bad as ever. They haven't profited by their mistakes."

"That worries me. The State Tournament is a one-shot deal. If we face a strong pitcher who's on... Good pitching always stops good hitting. We have to expect the intangibles but with this club I think we'll still hit. East does have plenty of wallop in its lineup. Senior third baseman Tom Miles has hit in 15 straight and has a .436 average. Senior Terry Hickey, who is 9-0 on the mound, is hitting .333 and junior Bill Moffett isn't far behind at .328. John Krashofski is also hitting over the .300 level, Charlebois is batting .291 after being over the magic mark for most of the season and slugger Mark McMahon after being way down most of the year has raised his mark to .288."

Pitching Coming Along Pitching, as all followers of the sport know, is the key for any club. Hickey, according to his own record, has pitched well against Bulkeley and senior Dave Ramer has looked good in recent outings. Ramer, southpaw transfer from Nashua, N.H., is "now coming into his own. He always had the arm but only now is gaining confidence. He was down on himself 2 1/2 weeks ago — felt he wasn't contributing — but he was impressive in a scrimmage and has come along," Penders voiced.

If there is such a thing as an unsung hero award, on the Eagles it goes to senior Rich Tuller. He doesn't play much but he's made his contribution directing traffic at third base. "Not many kids would do what he's done. He's never sukked, he just wants to be part of the team. I'm for one grateful for what he's done as third base coach. He's like our third coach," the seven-year coach cited.

Thoughts Aplenty

By Len Auster

Slugging Diamond Nine Behind the outstanding fourth pitching of Dave Ramer, East Catholic notched its 15th win in 17 starts yesterday, 9-1, over St. Thomas Aquinas at Walnut Hill Park in New Britain.

Ramer, senior lefthander, struck out 14 Saints and walked three to pick up his second win of the season without a loss. The streakout total was the most by a pitcher in Eagle Coach Jim Penders' seven year tenure.

The victory also ensures East its best record percentage-wise in the school history. The Eagles meet Bulkeley High today in Hartford and a win would give them the most victories in a single season in the school's history. The Eagles won 15 games in 1970 when they reached the state semifinals.

Ramer also had three hits in four trips to the plate. A double by Tim Charlebois and triple by Keith Lamb, each blow playing two runs, highlighted the attack. Mike Furlong had two hits to extend his streak to 14 straight while Tom Miles went hitless in four trips ending his skid at 15.

Three players who've come through this season are seniors Tim Charlebois and Keith Lamb and sophomore Mike Furlong. Charlebois, who sat behind others for three seasons, has made the most of his final year.

"Charlebois has to be labeled as a surprise," Penders stated. "He hadn't played much on the varsity level before but he's done a more than adequate job. He's done just as much as any other catcher we've ever had here. He's improved a lot because of his attitude. I would say he's improved the most. He works extremely hard in practice."

Lamb is the Eagles' regular centerfielder but Penders doesn't hesitate to wave in the sideburning rightfielder for mound service. The bespectacled co-captain never pitched before this year but his performance hasn't been a total surprise. "We (Penders and assistant coach Al Freheit) had it in the back of our minds last year," the Eagle skipper noted.

Called upon several times in tight situations, Lamb has responded, recording two victories and three saves. "When he gets on the mound, he has a lot of confidence in his ability. He has good velocity and keeps the ball low. He can strike people out when the situation dictates. He's a great competitor who wants to win. And when he pitches, he's in total command."

Best Record in School History Assured in Catholic's Triumph

East started the second in the second inning. With two outs, Bill Moffett walked and Lamb was hit by a pitch. Ramer singled to left scoring Moffett with Ramer and Lamb taking second and third respectively on the throw home. Second baseman Furlong singled up the middle bringing home Lamb and Ramer.

Shortstop Dan Socha led off the third with a bloop single to center. Socha took second on a passed ball and moved to third on Don Farrell's single to left. Krashofski and Farrell then pulled off a double steal with Miles reached on a fielder's choice. An attempted pickoff move by Socha Aparo, trying to get Dan Socha, went wildly into centerfield with Socha scoring. In the fourth, Ramer singled and Furlong reached safely as his safety on a fielder's choice, Ramer advancing to second. Charlebois doubled sending home the two runners.

Aquinas scored its lone run in the fourth. Rich Krysiak singled to right, took second on a passed ball and moved to third on Don Farrell's single to left. Krysiak and Farrell then pulled off a double steal with Miles reached on a fielder's choice. An attempted pickoff move by

Cheney Bows In Slugfest

As wild a finish to a baseball game you can imagine happened yesterday in Bolton. The Bulldogs had a 5-0 lead because of his attitude. I would say he's improved the most. He works extremely hard in practice."

Lamb is the Eagles' regular centerfielder but Penders doesn't hesitate to wave in the sideburning rightfielder for mound service. The bespectacled co-captain never pitched before this year but his performance hasn't been a total surprise. "We (Penders and assistant coach Al Freheit) had it in the back of our minds last year," the Eagle skipper noted.

Called upon several times in tight situations, Lamb has responded, recording two victories and three saves. "When he gets on the mound, he has a lot of confidence in his ability. He has good velocity and keeps the ball low. He can strike people out when the situation dictates. He's a great competitor who wants to win. And when he pitches, he's in total command."

Plays Like Veteran Although just a sophomore, Furlong has been playing like a seasoned veteran. To date, he is riding a 13-game hitting streak with a .343 average. "He's done a superb job as a lead off hitter. He's always up there swinging which sets the table," Penders remarked. "He's one player who gives 120 per cent every time and is continually improving. He's one player who the colleges are interested in because of his hustle and desire."

"Defensively, he's improved with every game. He made a spectacular catch against Bulkeley (rained out Tuesday after four innings) which I don't know how he held onto it. He profits by his mistakes. He won't make the same mistake twice. He wants to learn."

The same, however, can't be said of some of Furlong's teammates. Even after 16 contests, East's running of the bases, to put it mildly, is terrible. Several runners have been caught napping but the lack of the Irish (or somebody) must be with them as some have come up with stolen bases as opponents have misplayed the situations.

"The only thing which I question is have they bettered themselves," Penders said. "The base running, as you very well know, is as bad as ever. They haven't profited by their mistakes."

"That worries me. The State Tournament is a one-shot deal. If we face a strong pitcher who's on... Good pitching always stops good hitting. We have to expect the intangibles but with this club I think we'll still hit. East does have plenty of wallop in its lineup. Senior third baseman Tom Miles has hit in 15 straight and has a .436 average. Senior Terry Hickey, who is 9-0 on the mound, is hitting .333 and junior Bill Moffett isn't far behind at .328. John Krashofski is also hitting over the .300 level, Charlebois is batting .291 after being over the magic mark for most of the season and slugger Mark McMahon after being way down most of the year has raised his mark to .288."

Pitching Coming Along Pitching, as all followers of the sport know, is the key for any club. Hickey, according to his own record, has pitched well against Bulkeley and senior Dave Ramer has looked good in recent outings. Ramer, southpaw transfer from Nashua, N.H., is "now coming into his own. He always had the arm but only now is gaining confidence. He was down on himself 2 1/2 weeks ago — felt he wasn't contributing — but he was impressive in a scrimmage and has come along," Penders voiced.

If there is such a thing as an unsung hero award, on the Eagles it goes to senior Rich Tuller. He doesn't play much but he's made his contribution directing traffic at third base. "Not many kids would do what he's done. He's never sukked, he just wants to be part of the team. I'm for one grateful for what he's done as third base coach. He's like our third coach," the seven-year coach cited.

In many ways, it is a strange talent, but there is one thing you can't deny. It is most talented, talented enough to go all the way in the State Class B Division.

Cheney Racquets End on High Note

Winding up its second consecutive winning season yesterday was the Cheney Tech tennis team. The Beavers whipped Lyman Memorial, 6-1, to post a 10-4 overall ledger. Next action is June 8 at the Charter Oak Conference championship at Rocky Hill High.

Dave Bellefleur, Steve Chasse and Glen Maloney captured wins in singles and all four doubles teams won. Results: Greg Wallis (LM) def. Strzycharz 6-2, 6-1; Bellefleur (CT) def. Dave Carrier 6-0, 6-2; Chasse (CT) def. Chris Day 10-8; Maloney (CT) def. Jon Kostal 10-1; Caron-Chasse (CT) def. Wallis-Day 8-4; Caravella-Maloney (CT) def. Carrier-Strout 8-1; Deyorio-Bellefleur (CT) won by forfeit.

Finishing its season on the wrong side of the ledger yesterday was the Manchester High golf team, dropping a 3-2 duke to Simsbury High at Manchester Country Club. The Silk Towners will wrap up 18-42 overall and placed third in the CCIL with an 11-3-2 record.

Freshman Mark Korzhman and Rob Lauendonski playing in the Nos. 1 and 2 positions led Simsbury, copping their individual duels and helping the Trojans take the medal point by seven strokes with two fine rounds. Lauendonski took medalist honors with a two-over-par 77.

The Hawks, who likely make their No. 1 selection Marvin "The Human Eraser" Webster from Morgan State, Webster, a seven-foot rebounding star, was the second most prolific rebounder in college basketball history.

His 2,267 grabs for his four-year career were 68 short of the all-time record and, in one game, the 225-pound son of a Baptist minister scored 39 points and grabbed 32 rebounds.

Behind 3-1 after the singles matches, the Manchester High tennis team fell short, bowing 4-3 yesterday to Windham High at the locals' courts.

The Indian netsters are now 3-5 for the season and conclude play today against cross-town East Catholic at the Manchester Racquet Club.

Bright spot for the Indians was sophomore Jon Peck, who won his singles match in straight sets and later teamed with Phil Ventimiglia for a doubles triumph.

Results: Mark Anthony (W) def. Dan Arenas 6-1, 7-6; Dave Shaw (W) def. Steve Hirschfeld 6-2, 6-4; Peck (M) def. Bob Almond 6-3, 6-2; Neil Curland (W) def. Doug Schulteis 1-6, 6-1, 6-3; Aranas-Mike Loveland (M) won by forfeit; Ventimiglia-Peck (M) def. Kevin Pinoe Bill Strand 6-1, 7-6;

World Pole Vault Mark for Smith

NEW YORK (UPI) — By the time he went to the pit for his first leap, Steve Smith could feel a strange loneliness.

All three of his rivals already had eliminated themselves from the pole vault during an International Track Association meet Wednesday night and Smith was trying to figure out what had gone wrong.

"I was wondering if there was something wrong with the box, the runway or what," he said. "It's hard to jump when you're the only guy."

Not so hard for Steve Smith. After clearing to pass up the lower heights, he cleared his first vault at 17 feet, his first attempt at 18-4 and his second attempt at 19-11, a Madison Square Garden record. The bar then was lifted to 18-5, an inch higher than Smith's own world indoor best.

On his first vault at that height, Smith easily sailed over for the record. He missed three tries at 18-7 1/2, a height never cleared indoors or outdoors, and then wondered what all the fuss was about.

"This shouldn't be a surprise," said the curly-haired blond, who was bothered by tendinitis in his right knee and a sore shoulder. "Until I hit 19 feet this is expected of me. Nineteen-four will be something to talk about. I'm sure of 19, pretty sure of 18-4. But if I do that, I'll be thinking of even higher heights."

The 23-year-old from Southern California revealed he has increased his concentration since seeing a hypnotist and also has improved his training pattern.

"I'm developing new techniques and I've had better training habits this year," he said. "I'm more involved with what I'm doing. I'm going out with a purpose and getting to know my body better so I can avoid injury."

The evening's work earned Smith $4,000, the largest single night's purse in pro track history. He got $2,000 for winning the pole vault and another $2,000 for setting a world best.

In addition, Smith picked up $500 more for promotional work he did.

The established world outdoor record of 18-5 1/2 is held by Bob Seagan, although Dave Roberts has a pending mark of 18-6 1/2 set earlier this year.

Unitl Smith stepped into the picture, the major entertainment for the sparse crowd was provided by Kenyan Ben Jipcho, who won both the mile and two mile. Jipcho, who now has won 40 of 43 races, beat Dave Wottle in the mile in 4:02.7 and then edged Australian Tony Benson in the two mile in 8:40.6.

Royal Welcome for Flyers

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — Before a record 2.5 million persons had finished jubilation celebrations Wednesday for the Philadelphia Flyers' second win of the Stanley Cup, city officials were making plans for next year in the event of a third win, echoing the theme of the celebration — "Hat Trick in '76."

About one-half million more persons than the 2 million last year poured out into the streets to hail the NHL champion Flyers.

The celebration drew more people along a five-mile motorcade to cheer the Flyers, who won the second straight championship Tuesday night with a 2-0 win over the Buffalo Sabres.

The motorcade of four floats started in the mid-town section of the city and ended in South Philadelphia, where another 130,000 persons jammed into John F. Kennedy Stadium and an estimated 60,000 more were turned away.

The stadium crowd erupted into a deafening roar when the Flyers entered the southeast end of the stadium on the floats and circled around the track twice before pulling on to the football field.

In brief ceremonies, Flyers coach Fred Shero, owner Ed Snider and team stars Bobby Clarke and Bernie Parent spoke over the roars of the crowd.

The four men and their wives were among those on one float along with Mayor Frank L. Rizzo and the Stanley Cup.

The motorcade started at 18th and Market Streets and then inched down Broad Street through the throngs to the stadium, taking about 2 hours and 15 minutes.

Crowds along the way were sometimes as much as 12 and 15 deep with people hanging out office windows, on traffic poles or light standards, or on top of vehicles, cheering and chanting "We're number one!" and "Bernie, Bernie, Bernie," and waving signs. Some of the crowd followed behind for the entire five-mile route.

City Representative and Director of Commerce Harry Belafonte, in apparent anticipation of a hat trick by the Flyers, said city officials would meet Friday to plan for next year in the event of another win.

"We were guessing the first (year), but this time we knew the crowd turnout," said Belafonte.

Mayor Rizzo's message was also the theme of a third win which reportedly was to be immortalized in bumper stickers saying, "Hat Trick in '76."

The celebration was more orderly than last year when convertibles carrying the players, especially the car in which Parent rode, had to be halted several times and crowds pushed back to protect the occupants.

There were few arrests and some injuries, including a child whose foot was run over by a truck at the stadium. The police Accident Investigation Division (AID) said two pedestrians were injured when struck by vehicles in South Philadelphia after the parade.

At the stadium, the usually unemotional Shero said, "I have three lives. The day I got married, last year and last year, I'm ready to be born again in '76."

Clarke, the Flyers' team captain, said, "We really love it as much as you have shown your appreciation of us. Thanks very much for everything."

Parent, winner of the Conn Smythe Trophy as the most valuable player in the National Hockey League playoffs for the second straight year, at first declined to speak.

But then he said, "We did it. All I can say is: See you next May."

Snider said, "This is overwhelming. You are the greatest fans in the world, bar none."

Lee No Ordinary Guy As Rangers Find Out

ARLINGTON, Tex. (UPI) — Bill Lee doesn't do things in the ordinary manner as a rule, so there was no need to alter the routine Wednesday night.

Lee began the evening's fun by stopping a ground ball behind his back to start a double play, rubbed an ugly blister on his left thumb, finally gave up a single in the fifth and, when his scoreless string had reached 22 innings, threw the ball away to allow Texas an unearned run.

Meanwhile, back at home plate, he baffled the Rangers on four hits and the Red Sox eventually picked up a 4-1 decision that lifted their American League East lead to the fifth and, when his scoreless string had reached 22 innings, threw the ball away to allow Texas an unearned run.

Lee ran his record to 7-4 in outpitching Ferguson Jenkins, 5-4.

"Look at that finger," said Lee, admiring the blister on his thumb. "Pretty soon I won't have any fingerprints. I can rob a bank and the FBI won't be able to find me."

Lee was within two innings of throwing his third straight shutout but the Rangers put runners on first and third thanks to an error by second baseman Doug Griffin and Lee allowed a run to score when he threw wild to first trying to pick off Roy Smalley.

"Bill came back to the dugout laughing," Red Sox manager Darrell Johnson said.

"Yeah, I was laughing," Lee said. "I always laugh. I was laughing in the first inning when I caught that ball behind my back. I practice doing that because my exaggerated follow-through makes it hard for me to cover balls hit to my left. That's the second time I've done it this year. All it takes is good hand-eye coordination and some practice."

Johnson credited some of Lee's success this year to the fact he takes less time between pitches and the faster rhythm helps the left-hander's control.

"I like to throw faster because I like short ballgames," Lee said. "That game tonight (which took 2:12 to play) would not have taken as long as it did if the Rangers had gotten into the batter's box quicker. I just like to work fast. There's no reason a game should take very long."

The Red Sox, who have won eight of their last 10, opened the scoring in the second when Tim Blackwell, owner of one hit all year previous to Wednesday night, singled home Jim Rice from second. Blackwell singled again in the fourth and scored on Bernie Carbo's double.

Rice drove in another Boston run with a sacrifice fly and also scored again in the fifth on a double by Dwight Evans.

Twins' Jim Hughes Not Like Namesake

NEW YORK (UPI) — The last time anyone heard from a pitcher named Jim Hughes, he was a hard-looked right-hander for the old Brooklyn Dodgers with an affinity for throwing high hard ones in the late innings to people like Joe Adcock and Stan Musial.

Well, the Minnesota Twins have come up with the baseball's "latest" Jim Hughes and like his sometimes-maligned predecessor of the 1950s, he threw right-handed. There, however, the similarity ends — at least of the Minnesota rookie's pitching performance thus far this season.

Hughes, who wouldn't even be in the Twins' starting rotation now had it not been for assorted injuries to other frontliners Dave Goltz, Joe Decker and Vic Albury, won his sixth game in seven decisions Wednesday night, hurling Minnesota to a 5-2 victory over the Detroit Tigers. In addition to striking out seven, the 22-year-old palm ball specialist stranded Bill Freehan and Ron LeFlore in the fourth and fifth innings after each smacked one-out triples.

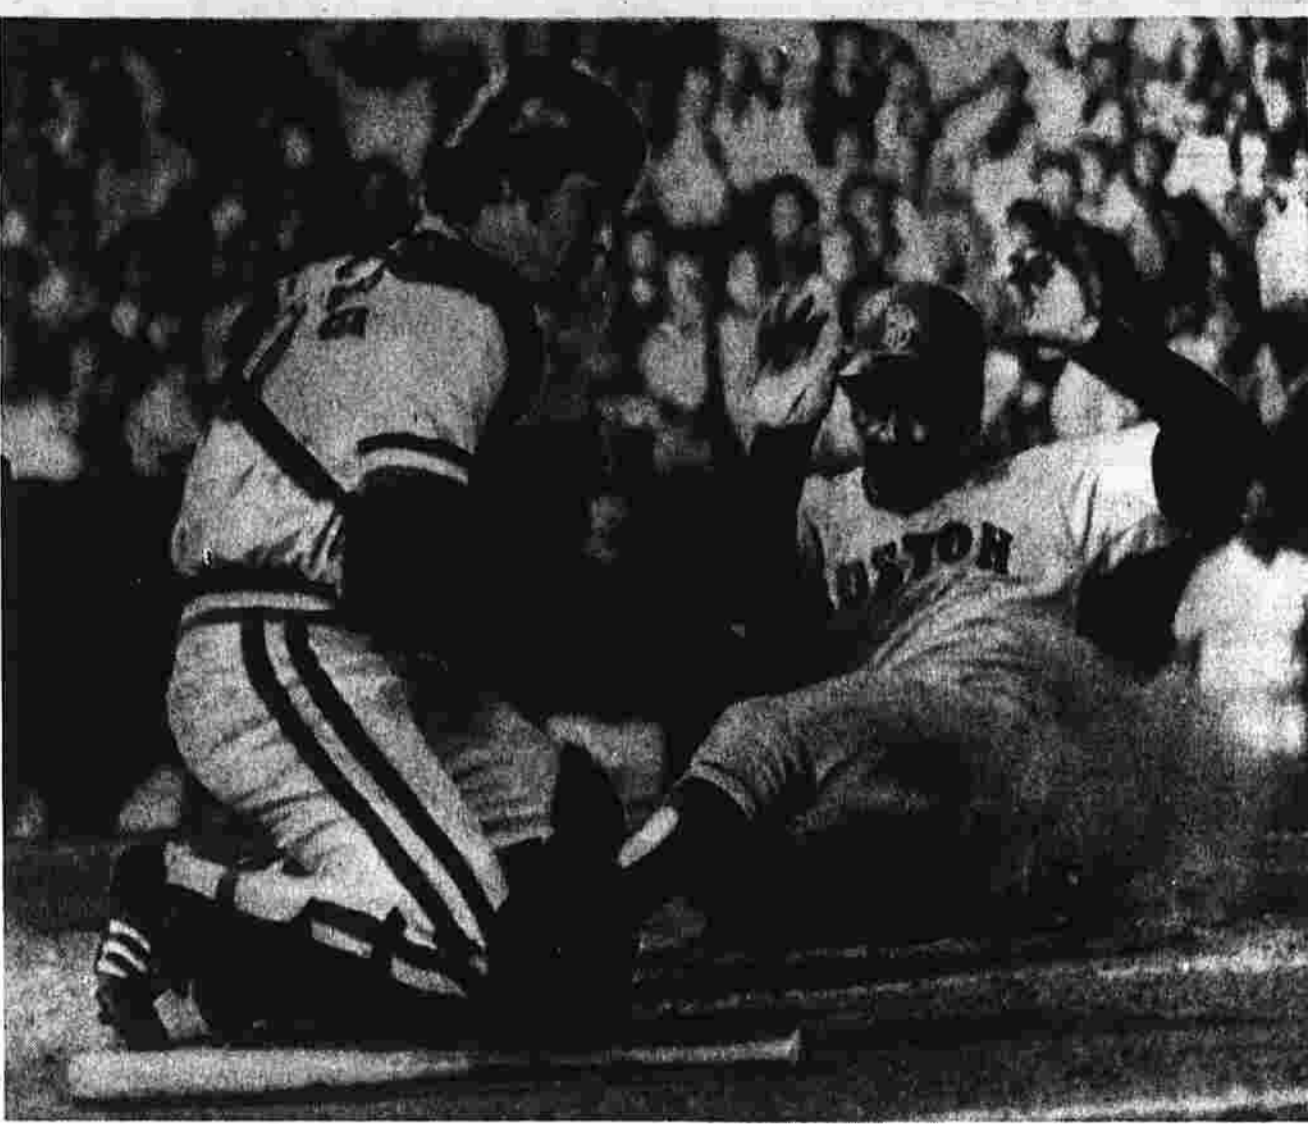

"He was brought through the minor leagues the right way — a step at a time," said Twins Manager Frank Quilico. "He picked up a palm ball and Cal Ermer (manager of the Tacoma farm club) told us to keep him throwing it. The thing that's made him so effective is his ability to change speeds.

A's 5, Orioles 0
Oakland's Vida Blue became the major leagues' first nine-game winner of 1975, limiting slumping Baltimore to four hits. Blue, who struck out three, got support from three homers — a solo shot by Sal Bando in the sixth which was quickly followed by a two-run blast from Billy Williams in the same inning, and Reggie Jackson's two-run smash in the eighth. It was Baltimore's seventh straight loss.

White Sox 9, Brewers 3
Carlos May banded out three hits and drove in a pair of runs while Ken Henderson had two hits and two other RBIs as Chicago handed faltering Milwaukee its seventh loss in eight games. Henderson lashed a two-run double during a three-run second while May drove in one run during a four-run first inning uprising. Stan Bahnsen (8-4) went the route for the victory.

Indians 9, Angels 2
Buddy Bell drove in three runs with a homer and a sacrifice fly and John Lowenstein contributed a homer and two singles as Cleveland cuffed California's Nolan Ryan for seven hits and six runs in seven innings. Rookie Eric Hatch, in only his second major league start, worked 7 2/3 innings to gain the win.

Yanks End Royals' Win Streak Bonds Homers Twice

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (UPI) — Bobby Bonds snapped more than the Kansas City Royals' winning streak Wednesday night. He may have snapped himself out of a prolonged batting slump.

The New York Yankees rightfielder cracked a pair of two-run homers, lifting the Yankees to a 6-2 victory over Kansas City and ending the Royals' winning streak at six games.

Bonds, who was traded to the Yankees by San Francisco in the off-season, now has nine home runs and 29 runs batted in, but still is hitting only .210.

"This is the most pleasant game I've had this season," Bonds said. "Maybe this will snap me out of it. I'm satisfied with the home runs and RBIs but nothing else."

The Royals, who have won 12 of their last 17 games, open a 10-game road trip Friday in Milwaukee while the Yankees begin a four-game series in Texas tonight.

Both of Bonds' homers came off another ex-National Leaguer, Nellie Fred Stanley, who doubled in the third inning and singled in the fifth, scored in front of Bonds both times.

The Yankees added two more runs in the fifth when Thurman Munson walked and Chris Chambliss and Graig Nettles cracked run-scoring doubles.

Left-hander Rudy May, 4-2, picked up the victory and went the distance, allowing six hits.

Reds Have Fresh Hopes of Winning Thanks to Comeback of Gary Nolan

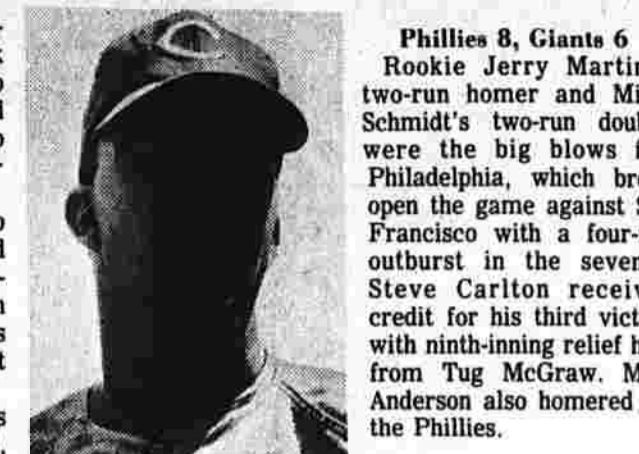

NEW YORK (UPI) — Gary Nolan has "a nice lease on life" and the Cincinnati Reds have fresh hopes that they can beat the Los Angeles Dodgers in the National League's Western Division race.

Although only 27 years old, Nolan is still young and full of energy. He developed a sore arm just before the 1972 All-Star game and in the last two seasons pitched a total of 16 innings for Cincinnati and Indianapolis.

Nolan says the turning point was when he underwent surgery last fall which relieved the constant pain caused by a calcium spur in his right shoulder.

"I'm still young and I have to look to the future," he said at the start of this season. "I'm not going out on a limb but I'll be in there pitching this year."

The 6-foot-3, 210-pound right-hander pitched his best game since 1972 Wednesday night when he turned in a two-hitter to give the Reds a

GARY NOLAN making his first relief appearance since 1972.

Ken Griffey drove in two runs and Johnny Bench had a key double to lead Cincinnati's eight-hit attack, which dealt 30-year-old Dennis Blair his sixth loss against two wins.

The New York Mets defeated the Dodgers, 4-3, Pittsburgh beat Houston, 3-0, Philadelphia topped San Francisco, 8-6, St. Louis won, 6-5, in 10 innings over San Diego and the Chicago Cubs shaded Atlanta, 5-4, in other N.L. games.

Felix Millan singled and eventually scored on Ed Kranepool's sacrifice fly in the eighth inning to give New York's Jon Matlack his sixth win against three losses. Los Angeles had tied the score at 3-3 on Ron Cey's two-run single in the sixth. Doug Rau was the loser, with Andy Messersmith

Phillies 8, Giants 6
Rookie Jerry Martin's two-run homer and Mike Schmidt's two-run double were the big blows for Philadelphia, which broke open the game against San Francisco with a four-run outburst in the seventh. Steve Carlton received credit for his third victory with ninth-inning relief help from Tug McGraw. Mike Anderson also homered for the Phillies.

Cardinals 6, Padres 5
Luis Melez' single with the bases filled and two out in the 10th inning lifted St. Louis over San Diego, which tied the score in the eighth with the help of two errors. Reliever Mike Garman received credit for the victory while Bill Grett was the loser.

LaCock and pitcher Bill Bonham had two hits each for Chicago, with Oscar Zamora picking up the victory in relief. Atlanta's Carl Morton suffered his fifth loss against five wins.

Manila (UPI) — Muhammad Ali has agreed to defend his title world heavyweight title against Joe Frazier in Manila next Oct. 15. Filipino matchmaker Lope Sarreal, Jr. said today.

Sarreal said in a published report American promoter Don King cabled from Cleveland Monday saying Ali had authorized him to expedite negotiations for the Manila bout.

King, who made possible the Zaire match in which Ali wrested the crown from George Foreman, said, "Ali loves Manila and is excited about coming there to fight because of his great love and respect for your great president (Ferdinand E. Marcos)." Sarreal

According to Sarreal, King said Ali was so interested in fighting in the Philippines that he had been instructed to make a "livable" deal and had reduced his total purse, which was not specified, by more than 1 million U.S. dollars.

"Stop" and "Go" is the name of the game as Buckley School kindergartners stop their cars and wait for pedestrians to go across the street. Mrs. Allan Sault demonstrates the hand "Stop" signal as the drivers also observe the octagonal Stop sign. There's activity with safety in "Safety Town," as signs, painted lines and instructors guide the very young in vehicle and pedestrian traffic in a parking lot behind the Buckley School (below). (Herald photos by Pinto)

They Learn Safe Driving Habits

JUNE TOMPKINS With a yellow ribbon tied around their left wrists to distinguish from their right hands, kindergartners at Buckley School are learning to make left-hand driving signals. Sometimes a stop signal is confused with a right turn signal, but they are learning. The learning that is going on in a mock vicinity called "Safety Town" may one day very well prevent an accident, or save their life or someone else's.

In a pilot program the past two weeks, the young children have been learning basic traffic rules and regulations in combination with in-class instruction in general good safety habits, including movies, slides, and discussions. Home assignments were included. The first assignment was for the child to learn his name, address and phone number.

Other homework assignments included coloring page project-sod a traffic light, a stop sign and a policeman, go on the proper sides of the light and covering a milk carton with black paper with red, yellow and green circles pasted in proper position.

The purpose of this program is to make each child a safer, more responsible individual.

"Safety Town in Manchester began a little more than a year ago when Mrs. Allan Sault, a member of the Manchester Junior Women's Club, presented the idea to the Board of Education. After a joint meeting with the Board of Education, the Board of Directors, Mrs. Sault, and former Manchester Police Chief James E. Reardon, Safety Town began to be a reality.

Funded by a $1,100 grant from the Connecticut State Department of Transportation, office of Highway Safety, the Safety Town program was established as a pilot program in Manchester.

A curriculum was coordinated by Officer Russell Holyfield; Mrs. Daniel Kaye, teacher of the program; Mrs. Rene Crona, first grade teacher at Buckley; Dr. Alfred Tychsen, assistant superintendent of schools; and Mrs. Sault.

To make the town realistic, buildings of plywood representing a school, a church, a police station and other town buildings were constructed by Walter Baldyga and John Gellinas, both of the town maintenance department.

All the painting was done by the maintenance department. The buildings are collapsible so they can be taken down and set up with ease, every morning and night by fifth grade volunteers.

Morning and afternoon classes are held daily. Safety Town is a behemoth of activity as children are busy playing ball in the street, crossing the street, and driving around corners and crossing intersections.

Supervised instruction including five volunteers teaches the children the rudiments of traffic control, looking out for dangerous situations, and observing traffic etiquette.

The traffic signs and signals are authentic.

Mrs. Sault said besides learning traffic safety, the program aids the children in learning to read, and in developing coordination.

When the program concludes Friday, an evaluation of each child's progress will be made and given to the parents.

An over-all evaluation will be made by the Safety Town advisory board whose members are Wilson Deakin, assistant superintendent of schools; Mrs. Sault, Police Lt. Richard Lantor, John Pickett, and Officer Holyfield.

If the evaluation meets with satisfactory response from the committee, it is hoped the program may be used for all Manchester elementary schools.

Mrs. Sault and the police department expressed gratitude to Mr. and Mrs. Richard McCabe of 145 Barry Rd. who gave permission to hook up the traffic signals to their electric utility.

BARELY CHANGED YELLOWSTONE NATIONAL PARK (UTP) - Vacation travel experts at Yellowstone National Park say there is a growing trend today for vacationers to return to the relaxed touring of national parks.

In a year of shaky economic and energy questions, tourists are trying to get the most for their vacation dollars, they say, and Yellowstone's almost 3,500 miles offers it. Officials say Yellowstone hasn't changed much since it was a park in 1872 except, instead of stagecoaches, people today usually see the bears from automobiles.

Town Jobless Claims Up

Unemployment compensation claims filed in Manchester increased 6.7 per cent to a weekly average of 3,838 for the two-week period ending May 17, the state Labor Department has reported.

Statewide claims filed during the period decreased slightly to a weekly average of 129,542, the department said. The previous totals were 2,984 in Manchester and 132,442 statewide.

The Manchester jobless claimants reached the highest total since the period ending Feb. 8. A near-record 38.1 per cent of the local claims were filed by women.

The Manchester total included 560 extended benefits claims, 404 emergency compensation claims, and 35 claims attributed to seasonal closings.

Other Labor Department offices reporting increased claims included Bristol, Danbury, Meriden, New Britain, New London, and Stamford. Offices reporting decreases included Bridgeport, Danvers, Hartford, Middletown, Norwalk, Waterbury and Willimantic.

The rate of insured employment remained at 8.1 per cent, the department said. The insured unemployment rate is included in the statewide unemployment figure which, the most recent report says was estimated at 9.8 per cent in mid-April.

Mrs. Ford's Schedule

BRUSSELS (UPI) — While the President plies his diplomacy, Betty Ford will just enjoy the six-day trip to Europe. Most of the First Lady's stay in Belgium will be "unstructured," her press secretary said. Mrs. Ford plans to attend the famous Queen Elizabeth Music Competition tonight after dinner at the royal palace of Belgium's King Baudouin and Queen Fabiola. And there is a possibility she will take a side trip to the ancient town of Ghent.

Malpractice Strike Ends

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — San Francisco anesthesiologists ended their 28-day strike Wednesday, voting unanimously to return to work under a new state law. The short-term law provides malpractice insurance while the legislature works on a long-run solution. The California anesthesiologists had refused their services in all but life-or-death cases and brought some hospitals to the point of bankruptcy.

New Laser Use

LIVERMORE, Calif. (UPI) — The Lawrence Livermore Laboratory reported the successful use of lasers to enrich uranium to reactor-grade quality in big quantities. Physicist Sam A. Tuccio, who directed the experiment, said this was "an important and encouraging step" toward determining whether laser techniques might improve nuclear fuel production economics.

Student Goes on Rampage

BRAMPTON, Ont. (UPI) — A 15-year-old student at the Centennial Secondary School, who said he was fed up with life, killed two persons and injured 13 others with two rifles. He had gone to school Wednesday with the rifles concealed in a guitar case. In a suicide note he swore to kill two teachers who had reprimanded him for skipping classes. "The gunman ran along a hallway, opening classroom doors and shooting at everything in sight," one student told reporters.

Still Negotiating

DAR ES SALAAM, Tanzania (UPI) — U.S. Ambassador W. Beverly Carter said the United States would consider all moves, except paying a ransom, to negotiate a release of two American students and a Dutch woman held by Marxist guerrillas. Carter said refusal of a ransom payment is "policy." "There has been no fresh contact with the guerrillas, but movement is continuing on that," Carter told newsmen Wednesday. The guerrillas abducted the hostages May 19 from a remote wildlife reserve in Tanzania and took them across Lake Tanganyika to a jungle hideout in neighboring Zaire.

Suspect Arrested

NEW HAVEN (UPI) — A third suspect in the March 1 bombing of the Sponge Rubber Products Co. plant in Shelton has been arrested on state charges. State police Wednesday took Ronald D. Bettes, 32, of Butler, Pa., into custody after his arraignment in U.S. District Court on federal charges in the $14 million explosion and fire.

Marijuana Plane Crashes

ROCKWOOD, Tenn. (UPI) — A World War II-vintage plane carrying "a large quantity of marijuana" crashed and burned today in a mountainous area of East Tennessee, killing at least two persons, the Rome County sheriff's office reported.

Two bodies not yet identified, were found at the crash site, near the Rockwood airport, he said.

Hi Neighbor!

This is really a strange place. We just got a big load of Crusty Windshield De-icer spray cans. Now there is very little need for de-icer in May (although it's also a bug solvent cleaner), but it does illustrate our wily business. We may not always have what you want when you want it, but if we do, the price is right. With new shipments arriving every week we do have a big assortment of goodies that come from insurance claims, train wrecks, overstocks and bankruptcies. So what if we're sloppy housekeepers, have a lazy manager, and don't score high on neatness — nobody's perfect. We do rate high on customer satisfaction though, never stick anybody with anything (money back with no hard time if you are displeased with your purchase in any way within 30 days), and serve delicious complimentary coffee (bring your own donuts).

So come enjoy coffee with us while you browse. We'll really enjoy seeing you and your wallet.

Fee Hike Suggested For Building Permits

A hike in the fee schedule for Manchester building permits is being recommended by Town Manager Robert Weiss. The proposal has been placed for consideration on the Board of Directors agenda when it meets Tuesday at 8 p.m. in the Municipal Building Hearing Room.

Under Weiss' proposal, each category requiring a building permit would be increased an average of $1. Weiss said the fee schedule has been the same since 1965. The changes, he said, would bring Manchester more in line with fees in area towns of comparable size.

The board meets twice each month, on the first Tuesday, as June 3, to hold public hearings and to take action on unfinished business items; and the second Tuesday, as June 10, to take action on new business items.

Being carried over as active unfinished business are further discussion of the status of the Manchester Rec. Swim Club, consideration of a request for sanitary sewers in Lydall St., authorization for the town treasurer to open savings accounts in five area banks, and appointment of members to fill vacancies on three town agencies.

Under new business, the board will consider:

- Approving a $15,000 state grant for the purchase of TV equipment, for a local government channel under Cable TV, and accepting the services of a college consortium, for training employees in the use of the equipment and in the production of programs.
- (A meeting is scheduled Monday at 7:30 p.m. in the Municipal Building Hearing Room to explore all phases of town involvement in Cable TV. Decision on the Monday meeting will effect consequent board action.)
- Approving a $3,000 allocation from revenue sharing funds for painting the exterior of the Community Y.

Oil Tariff Protested

HARTFORD (UPI) — A state legislator has urged President Ford to earmark revenues from a $1-per-barrel tax on imported oil products for use by states most heavily affected by the measure.

Rep. Sam Gejdenson, D-Borrah, said Wednesday that New England, which relies heavily on imported oil products, will suffer more than the rest of the nation from the extra tax.

Ford announced the levy Tuesday night as part of his plan to reduce oil and gasoline consumption around the nation by increasing prices.

"While I, along with all responsible Americans, fully support your effort to reduce our reliance on imported oil, I cannot endorse your methods," Gejdenson said.

Charge Dropped in Charity Case

The "vagueness" of a state statute concerning soliciting public funds by charitable organizations, except for charitable purposes, has caused the dismissal of a solicitation charge against Albert A. Gocci of Stafford Springs.

Several weeks ago Gocci, president of a Tolland-based candy-selling charity operation called "Project 70s Inc.," was also charged with larceny by embezzlement, a violation of charity registration laws and filing fraudulent state sales tax returns. Gocci's attorney, Alexander A. Goldfarb, sought dismissal of the solicitation charge because he said the statute pertains only to organizations and not to individuals and "Project 70s" isn't named as the defendant in the case.

Investigators have said they believe less than one percent of the funds raised by the organization, which to charity it hasn't been determined whether the case will be tried in Hartford County or Tolland County Court of Common Pleas.

Judge Simon Bernstein of Common Pleas Court 19 has asked that the case be readied for trial and continued it to June 11. On that date the matter of where the trial will be held was discussed.

Dr. Helfferich Guest Speaker

HEBRON

Dr. Reginald Helfferich, minister of missions and stewardships for the United Church of Christ, will be the guest speaker at the Missions Committee picnic supper, Sunday at 6:30 p.m. at the First Congregational Church of Hebron.

Dr. Helfferich is a Hebron resident and founder of Heifer Projects International. He will speak on "The Heifer Project."

Rev. Robert Bechtold, pastor of the North Coventry Second Congregational Church, will show slides and also speak on the Heifer Projects International.

Sale Success

Ralph Saccuzzo, principal of the Gilead Hill Elementary School, announced that the Greater Sale held by the second grade classes was a success with over 800 geraniums being sold.

High sales persons for the two classes were Robert Tuohy, Debbie Jewett, Amy Doll and Jeff Stamp.

Profits of the sale will go toward the June 6 class field trip to the Submarine Base at Groton. On the students return, they will stop for lunch at the Hebron Pizza House where they will discuss the various business and services within the Town of Hebron.

Other money from the sale will go toward purchasing evergreen trees to be used as windbreak on the playground, and any surplus moneys will be donated to the library for the purchase of books.

Campaign Bill Modified

HARTFORD (UPI) — The Connecticut Senate has approved a measure modifying last year's campaign finance reform bill and sent the measure to the House.

Common Cause, a citizens lobbying group, attacked the original purpose of the campaign reform legislation by building in loopholes to allow large anonymous donations.

The measure also would create the role of special interest groups, Common Cause said, and bring back so-called "voluntary contributions" by such organizations as labor unions.

One major change restores the ability of labor organizations to participate in the campaign process.

Meanwhile, the House amended a Senate bill which doubled the maximum amount of money from one-half cent to one cent per voter that may be spent for lieutenant governor, secretary of the state, attorney general, comptroller and treasurer.

The measure allows anonymous donations of less than $15, which Eron Kochey, executive director of Common Cause, described as an open invitation to abuse.

"The bill undoes anything last year's bill did, and last year's bill did very little," Mrs. Kochey said.

MANCHESTER

Manchester Police are investigating the theft of one car and the attempted theft of another at Church St. Motors Inc., 80 Oakland St., Wednesday.

Police said a gold 1969 Plymouth Fury was stolen from Church St. Motors, and there was evidence that someone tried to steal a gray 1967 Dart. The Dart had been broken into and ignition wires removed, but the vehicle hadn't left the lot, police said.

In another attempted vehicle theft reported today, police said a young man was scolded away while trying to steal a pickup truck at Vintner's Garden Center, 1 Tolland Tpk.

Patrolman Clarence Hertel said he was checking buildings on Tolland Tpk. at about 7:30 a.m. today when he saw the pickup truck moving backward in the firm's lot.

The operator apparently saw the police cruiser and jumped out of the truck. He ran into the lot of the man as he ran into nearby woods.

Arrests made or summonses issued by Manchester Police included:

- Valerie Starkweather, 56, of 65 Deepwood Dr., charged Wednesday night with breach of peace on Crestwood Dr. Court date is June 16.
- Paul Cyr, 27, of 12 Hudson St., charged Wednesday night with intoxication on Main St. Court date is June 9.
- Randall A. Baker, 27, of 441 Main St., East Hartford, charged Wednesday night with driving without a license, misuse of marker plates, and driving an unregistered motor vehicle, on W. Middle Tpk. Court date is June 10.
- Daniel C. Lavey, 19, of 9 Holland Dr., East Hartford, charged Wednesday night with speeding on Center St. near Jarvis Rd. Court date is June 17.
- Police also issued summonses to three other motorists for alleged speeding violations on Center St. Wednesday. They were charged with failure to obey traffic signs. Other Wednesday motor vehicle arrests included three motorcycle cyclists charged with failure to wear protective headgear.

Wednesday automobile accidents reported by Manchester Police included:

- A 7:50 p.m. collision at Groton and Center St. involving cars driven by John M. Coles, 21, of 72 Union St., Rockville, and Joan L. White, 37, of 45 Tracy Dr. No injuries were reported. Coles is on charges of reckless driving, failure to obey stop sign, and evading responsibility.
- An automobile-bicycle mishap at 4:40 p.m. on Ferguson Rd., which resulted in minor injuries to eight-year-old bicyclist Christopher Sarli of 187 Mountain Rd. The car was driven by Ronald J. Labonte, 22, of Rt. 6, Andover.

Two boys, one 11 and the other 13, were referred to juvenile authorities Wednesday after they admitted placing a motorcycle trap near Hilliard Post off Middle Tpk.

Police said the trap — a board with several nails through it — was discovered by a bicyclist whose vehicle suffered a flat tire.

Thefts reported Wednesday included a complaint from an Avon man that the hood of his car was stolen while the vehicle was parked on Tolland Tpk.

Police also reported a break into a Bidwell St. home, but it wasn't known if anything was stolen.

Hebron Sets Hearing On Business District

Anne Dallaire Correspondent

The Planning and Zoning Commission (PZC) has announced that it will conduct a public hearing June 24 at 8 p.m. at the Town Office Building on the Hebron Business District.

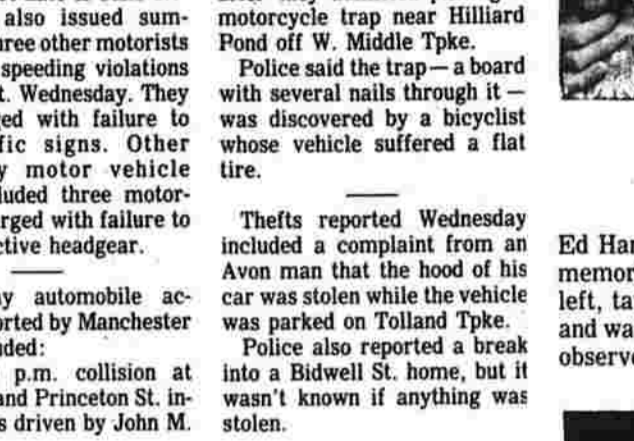

William V. Borst, attorney for the owner, Robert Tupper, told PZC members that Tupper wanted to sell the property in question to the Willimantic Savings Institute and that there was no other plan for development for the area.

Borst said that the shopping center has already been sold. The PZC, in other business, concurred with Richard Keefe, Hebron building inspector, that lots 10 and 15 in Millstream Park be approved for building subject to getting a permit for drainage from the building department before construction can be started.

The PZC also read a recommendation from the Hebron Recreation Commission that in view of the potential number of homes planned in Section II, Northern Hills, a complete ballfield be provided.

The PZC was told at a previous meeting that there would possibly be around 90 homes near Old Colchester Rd. and Heady Hill Rd.

The PZC also said that there will be a public hearing June 3 at 8 p.m. at the Town Office Building on the revised subdivision regulations.

Two Say Conservation Key to Energy Problem

By SOL R. COHEN

An environmental physicist and a nuclear physicist, speaking to the Manchester League of Women Voters Wednesday night, agreed on one thing — conservation is the key answer to the country's energy problem.

Where they disagreed, however, was in an alternate solution.

"There isn't any real alternate at present," insisted Richard M. Dowd, director of planning and research for the state Department of Environmental Protection.

"Nuclear power plants, constructed in great numbers, are the answer," countered John P. Cagnetta, manager of Generation Technical Services for Northeast Utilities.

The Manchester League has concurred with the energy-conservation position proposed by the National League and, to emphasize the importance of the position, the program subject at its 25th annual meeting was "Nuclear Energy — Blight or Blessing?"

Dowd took the position nuclear plants are a blight, and Cagnetta that they are a blessing.

While acknowledging conservation could be the answer to energy shortages, Cagnetta said it's not about to happen.

"Until the have-nots reach the norm and get all the amenities of life the haves are enjoying, there won't be any appreciable drop in the demand for electrical power," Cagnetta said.

"Because the demand is recognized as a way of life, we see no other way out except for constructing nuclear power plants."

Dowd disagreed. "It would require a change of life style, but we can do it," he said. "The question is, do we have the will to do it?" He acknowledged, based on the experience of the past year, the will to do it has yet to be shown as fact. "It's not in sight."

Insisting, "We don't get something for nothing, we consume fuels at a cost," Dowd listed the advantages and disadvantages of nuclear power plants.

Advantages, he said, are that they produce electricity, a flexible energy; they don't use up as much land space as other sources of fuel, such as coal, oil and shale; and they don't produce as many pollutants as the other fuels.

Repeating, "you don't get something for nothing," he gave as disadvantages:

- Safety — "The emergency coil system is an issue. Some believe in it, some don't. The spent fuel is highly radioactive and its transportation to recovery plants is of great concern. More study is needed and more study is needed also in quality control. The actual construction of nuclear plants needs attention."

- Timing — "The used fuel is highly radioactive for a long, long time. It could be upwards of thousands of years before they are safe, no matter how they are stored or buried."

- Violence — "Industrial

security against breach or terrorists is a problem. The plants could be vandalized, materials could be stolen."

Dowd acknowledged only that an improved type of breeder-reactor might help the situation.

Cagnetta agreed on the need for breeder reactors, conceding that the containment of radioactive waste from uranium is a problem that needs solving.

He explained that the existing reactors use uranium and that it breaks down in the nuclear process. Breeder reactors, he said, would use plutonium, which would build up in the nuclear process, thus producing more fuel than it burns and providing unlimited fuel for many, many years.

Cagnetta took issue with Dowd's claim nuclear power plants aren't safe, citing reports and studies made by industry and government agencies and consultants.

He countered each of Dowd's points with arguments of his own, listing built-in safety measures and devices.

He said people still associate nuclear power with its original use.

"In no way does its use now resemble that original use, manufacture of the atomic bomb," he said. "It's economical, clean and really safe. It's use in nuclear plants hasn't produced even one fatal incident."

Mrs. Stern Named League President

Eileen Stern of 34 South Farms Dr. is the new president of the Manchester League of Women Voters. Elected Wednesday night at the league's 25th anniversary dinner-meeting, at The Colony, Talcoville, she succeeds Althea Potter, who was president the past two years. Mrs. Stern was first vice-president those two years.

Other officers are Shirley FitzGerald, first vice-president; Rebecca Janenda, second vice-president; Marjorie Chapin, secretary; Janet Phillips, treasurer; Mary Reynolds, action chairman; Mrs. Potter, budget chairman; Flo Helms, bulletin editor.

Also, Pat Schardt, finance chairman; Amelia Burns, membership chairman; Lila Cohen, public relations chairman; Lynn Morin, publications chairman; Janice FitzGerald, unit chairman; Oklie McCafferty, voters' service chairman, and Marie Szelata, nominating chairman.

On the nominating committee with Mrs. Szelata are Betty Intagliata and Pauline Widner. Other appointments are Pam Janeczek, membership vice-chairman; Jonice FitzGerald, assistant treasurer; Beth Wilt, voters' service vice-chairman, and Shirley FitzGerald, energy studies chairman.

In a brief farewell address following the dinner, Mrs. Potter attributed the league's success the past 25 years to the motivation and dedication of its members.

She said, "We stand somewhere between the two parties and our concerns are bipartisan. We stand somewhere between town government and the broad-based citizenry, and that's a good place to be. The prime concern of the league is good government."

Teacher Walkout Unsettled

NORWALK (UPI) — A one-week-old teachers' strike has set the stage for a courtroom confrontation between union leaders and city officials seeking contempt citations.

A hearing was scheduled in Stamford Superior Court today on why the teachers should not be held in contempt for disobeying an injunction ordering them back to work.

Attempts by officials to open elementary schools resulted in low attendance Wednesday as striking teachers received support from school bus drivers who refused to cross picket lines.

The injunction was issued at the start of the walkout that closed classes for 16,000 students in 25 schools.

The 900-member Norwalk Federation of Teachers, without a contract since September, struck for the second time in two months.

School officials said only 836 children, about 12 per cent of the 7,400 elementary students, showed up in the system's 16 elementary schools. Attendance at individual schools ranged from 4.9 per cent to 22 per cent, they said.

School officials, using substitutes and volunteer parents to conduct classes, called on parents to drive their children to the schools in the system.

Negotiators for teachers met with the Board of Education for nearly three hours Tuesday and rejected at the table another contract offer by the board.

Bruce Mellion, president-elect of the Norwalk Federation of Teachers, said the NFT wants assurance from the Common Council that it will not reject an agreement if the union accepts one and returns to work.
