A Happy Group of Walkers

At the beginning of the 19-mile Walk-A-Thon Sunday for the benefit of the Hemlocks Outdoor Education Center for the crippled, there were smiles and springy steps. The arrow points out Brad Davis, a television personality who took part in the walk. At this stage in the trek, the walkers were on Autumn Street and had covered three miles. (Herald photo by Dunn)

Walk-A-Thon Pledges Total About $15,000

About 500 school students participated in a 19-mile Walk-A-Thon Sunday and raised about $15,000 in pledges to benefit Hemlocks Outdoor Education Center for crippled children and adults in Hebron.

The first walker began at 8:45 a.m. and the last one reached the finish line at 5 p.m.

The exact amount of money collected will not be known for several days.

Three students received considerable support in their campaign for a 10-speed bicycle donated by Farr's bicycle store.

James Boudreau of 1031 Tolland Tpk., a student at Howell Cheney Technical School was winner of the bike. He collected pledges of $18 per mile for a total of $353.

Two Bennett Junior High School students came in second. They were Ron Apter and Candie Quackenbush, each with $215 in total pledges.

George Triant, another Cheney Tech student, ran the entire 19-mile distance in one hour and 50 minutes and submitted $13 per mile in pledges.

The youngest participant in the walk-a-thon was Dawn Marie Martin, 8, of 354 Main St., a Grade 2 pupil at Bentley School.

Dawn completed the entire course and wound up in better shape than her older sister and brother who also participated, according to a spokesman at Bentley School. She collected pledges amounting to about $30.

The walkers were in high spirits in spite of the intermittent rain, said Allan Girelli, co-chairman of the event and a Manchester High School student.

Impressed with the success of the event, Mrs. Selma Andelman, field representative of the Easter Seal Society for Crippled Children and Adults of Connecticut, said she had "never met a group so eager, so together and so willing. I can't say enough about young students in Manchester."

She praised some seventh graders who passed in pledge sheets filled with mostly one- and two-cent pledges.

"They really knew what they were walking for," she said.

There were about 10 participants who did not complete the walk, said Mrs. Andelman.

Mrs. Andelman commended the Manchester Police Department who directed traffic at busy intersections, and who monitored the event with mobile patrols.

There were no incidents other than the usual amount of blisters and sore feet. Manchester podiatrists Barney Wichman and John Fawcett were available to treat any foot problems during the long walk.

Also participating in the event was Brad Davis of television station WFSB, the 1971 state youth director for the Easter Seal campaign. Davis completed the 19 miles. Manchester High School's parking lot was both the starting and finishing point. A band entertained the walkers as they completed the course.

Directors To Hear Potentials of CATV

Cable television and its possible use by municipal government will be discussed tonight in a seminar scheduled by the Manchester Board of Directors. It will start at 7:30 in the Municipal Building Hearing Room.

Speakers will be Vincent King, general manager of Greater Hartford CATV Inc.; Hal Houston, cable TV assistance unit, state Department of Community Affairs; and Myron Weiner, Institute of Public Service, University of Connecticut.

King, whose firm began cable operation in town in March, will describe the cable TV industry and outline capabilities of the local system. King estimates his system will have 3,500 subscribers by Jan. 1, 1976; it now has about 1,600.

Weiner will discuss the cable television channels set aside for local access; the role of the regional Cable Advisory Committee, which hasn't been firmly established yet in Manchester; and report on uses of cable TV by other municipalities.

Houston will discuss policies relating to actual use of the cable channel reserved for governments, and will describe financial resources available to municipalities using the cable.

The seminar, open to the public, is being coordinated by the town's Internal Cable Committee, a group of local officials which began study of cable television last year.

The evening program will be videotaped by V.O.T.U., West Hartford media consulting firm, for the state Department of Community Affairs. The tape is to be telecast on cable TV in the future.

The Weather

Partly sunny today with high temperatures 75 to 80. Partly cloudy tonight inland but fair along the sound, with lows 50 to 55. Partly cloudy Tuesday with highs in the 70s.

Ford Talks With Sadat End With Optimism for Peace

SALZBURG, Austria (UPI)—President Ford completed friendly Middle East policy talks with Egypt's President Anwar Sadat today and said a U.S. plan to promote "permanent peace" is taking shape.

Mutual goodwill blossomed at the conclusion of a two-day meeting that seemed to brighten prospects for Arab-Israeli peace negotiations and put the United States back in a central mediating role.

Ford told Sadat he was ready to resume U.S. economic aid to Egypt and said the two nations had "strengthened our friendship dramatically" in the past 18 months.

Sadat, for his part, could not seem to say enough for Ford, whom he described to reporters as "an honest and straightforward man" and a fighter for peace. He invited Ford to visit Cairo.

(In Jerusalem, the Israeli cabinet lent impact to the Ford-Sadat meeting by announcing suddenly it would reduce Israel's forces on the Egyptian Sinai front by more than half in a goodwill gesture for peace.

(Premier Yitzhak Rabin denied the concession was timed to coincide with the Salzburg meeting. He described it as an Israeli response to Egypt's decision to reopen the Suez Canal this Thursday.)

Completing their final round of talks in a medieval Alpine palace, Ford and Sadat walked out into a rainswept courtyard and stood shoulder to shoulder in a circle of bodyguards to brief reporters.

"My reassessment (of U.S. Middle East policy) will be completed with a plan that I will submit at the appropriate time," Ford said.

"In the weeks ahead, I will have further consultations that I trust will lead to the overall objective I seek of a permanent peace that will be in the best interests of all the parties."

Ford referred to his scheduled meeting with Rabin in Washington June 11 and 12, a consultation designed to follow up the meeting with Sadat and produce the information Ford needs to produce a revised U.S. Middle East plan.

Some diplomats in Salzburg said the Ford-Sadat talks may have paved the way for a resumption of Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger's "shuttle diplomacy" between Israel and the Arab states, which broke down in stalemate two months ago and led to the U.S. policy "reassessment."

But Ford and Sadat declined to discuss specifics. Ford said "we have not made any decision" on the exact nature of the next step.

Sadat offered a word of caution, saying, "the peace process will be a long time..."

"The most important achievement we can make is that we end this state of belligerence (between Israel and the Arab states) that has gone on now for 27 years."

Kissinger's mediations broke down over precisely this point when Israel demanded a formal Egyptian declaration ending Arab belligerence as the price for Israeli withdrawal from key Sinai mountain passes and an occupied Egyptian oil field. The Egyptians refused to give such an assurance.

The President and Mrs. Ford fly to Rome early Tuesday for a brief stopover on the final leg of a week-long European tour that began with the NATO summit in Brussels and took Ford to four capitals.

The President was to meet with Pope Paul before flying on to the United States late Tuesday.

NEWS CAPSULES

CIA Report Ready

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Vice President Nelson A. Rockefeller said today the Central Intelligence Agency has broken the law but added the spy agency is not guilty of large-scale illegal activity.

Summing up the five month Rockefeller Commission investigation of the CIA, the vice president told newsmen:

"There are things that have been done that are in contradiction to the statutes, but in comparison to the total effort (of the CIA), they are not major."

The commission held its last meeting to put finishing touches on a 350-page report that will be sent to President Ford on Friday.

Tests Planned

MOSCOW (UPI)—The Soviet Union has announced plans for nearly a month of missile tests in the Pacific Ocean as a prelude to the next round of nuclear arms talks with the United States.

It warned all ships and aircraft to stay out of the test zone, which is about 2,500 miles northwest of Hawaii.

Energy Plan Blasted

CLEVELAND (UPI)—Sen. Henry M. Jackson, D-Wash., blasted President Ford's new oil policy during the weekend as an inflationary attempt to ration gasoline by raising its price.

Jackson, in Ohio for meetings with Democratic leaders, said Ford's energy proposal were borne by gasoline users.

"And the President failed to say that the oil industry would make an additional $28 billion in profits," Jackson said.

Sato Dies

TOKYO (UPI)—Former Prime Minister Eisaku Sato died today in a Tokyo hospital. He was 74.

Sato suffered a stroke two weeks ago while dining in a Tokyo restaurant and never regained consciousness.

Sato, who was awarded the Nobel Peace Prize, was treated at the restaurant for a week before he could be removed to a hospital.

He developed bronchial pneumonia and a high fever today doctors reported he also was suffering from kidney troubles.

O'Neill Encouraged

BOSTON (UPI)—Lt. Gov. Thomas O'Neill III said Sunday his meeting last week with representatives of four states on the possibility of holding a regional primary had been productive.

O'Neill, in a broadcast interview, said he was happy with the progress made and thought two and perhaps as many as four states might be able to hold their primary on March 2, 1976, the date agreed upon at the meeting.

O'Neill met with Vermont, Maine and Rhode Island officials, all of whom expressed optimism their states might participate in a regional primary. Connecticut and New Hampshire did not send representatives, but knew of the meeting, O'Neill said.

Six Trapped in Rig

GRAND ISLE, La. (UPI)—Divers today searched for six men believed trapped in an air pocket in a capsized seagoing oil rig. The Coast Guard said the men were not found, but divers had located a door to their quarters.

"They are trying to penetrate the door using underwater torches," said Coast Guard Lt. Terry Hart. "Two Coast Guard units are on the scene and two others are en route this morning to help search the surface area in case the men were not trapped."

Coast Guard spokesman Ken Freeze said, "They may still be alive. No one knows. But as time goes by, their chances decrease."

Teachers in Norwalk Start Economic Boycott

NORWALK (UPI)—The teachers' strike entered its 12th day today as teachers began an economic boycott against businesses not supporting them and opened a free day care center for grade school children of working parents.

School officials planned for the first time since May 22 to open all of Norwalk's 23 schools today for four hours. An average of 12 per cent of the city's 7,400 grade school students attended classes on four days last week.

Some 550 teachers voted Sunday night on the economic boycott and the day care center. The boycott, suggested by Ronald O'Brien, Connecticut State Federation of Teachers president, would include withdrawing personal accounts from certain banks.

More than 8,100 Norwalk citizens had supported the striking teachers as of Friday by signing a petition in favor of their position.

The day care center, at St. Paul's Church on the Green, was to be staffed by striking teachers. Most of the Norwalk's 16,000 public school students have been out of school since May 22, when 900 teachers went on strike to pressure the Norwalk Common Council to accept a new teacher contract.

The council has rejected three agreements reached by the Norwalk Federation of Teachers and the Board of Education. Last Friday, the teachers voted to reject an agreement reached between their negotiators and the board.

No negotiations were scheduled for today.

Rachel Rd. Residents Stage Children's Day

By MAL BARLOW

Well over 100 children took part in "Fun Day" held Saturday on Rachel Rd.

The day was a clear success, said children, teens and mothers at the events held during the day at the 191-unit complex of moderate-income housing on the one-way road.

Residents on the street sparked the event, largest in the six-year history of the complex built by the Manchester Interfaith Social Action Corp. (MISAC) in 1969.

After police reports in mid-April about stonethrowing young boys causing terror on the street, parents got together and, among other things, planned "Fun Day."

The day began in the morning with tricycle decorating contests.

Other events included tricycle races, bike races, a bean bag toss, and much more.

Lunch was provided almost entirely by the residents. At first, Mrs. Peggy Hampson and Mrs. Barbara Washington planned to accept donations of food from Highland Park Market and Manchester Meat Market.

They found the residents supplied almost all they needed.

Food Mart provided the buns and Charles King of the Pero Fruit Stand on Oakland St. across from Rachel Rd. supplied two huge watermelons.

Although rain did not fall on the party as clouds had threatened all day, water-filled balloons did during afternoon games. Everyone got soaked including several of the mothers running the event.

Mrs. Washington said today the stories about a gang of young boys scaring the Rachel Rd. residents were overplayed. She drew attention to the work done by the teens and younger children getting ready for Saturday.

The teens also made sure all the yards on the street were cleaned up by Saturday night, she said.

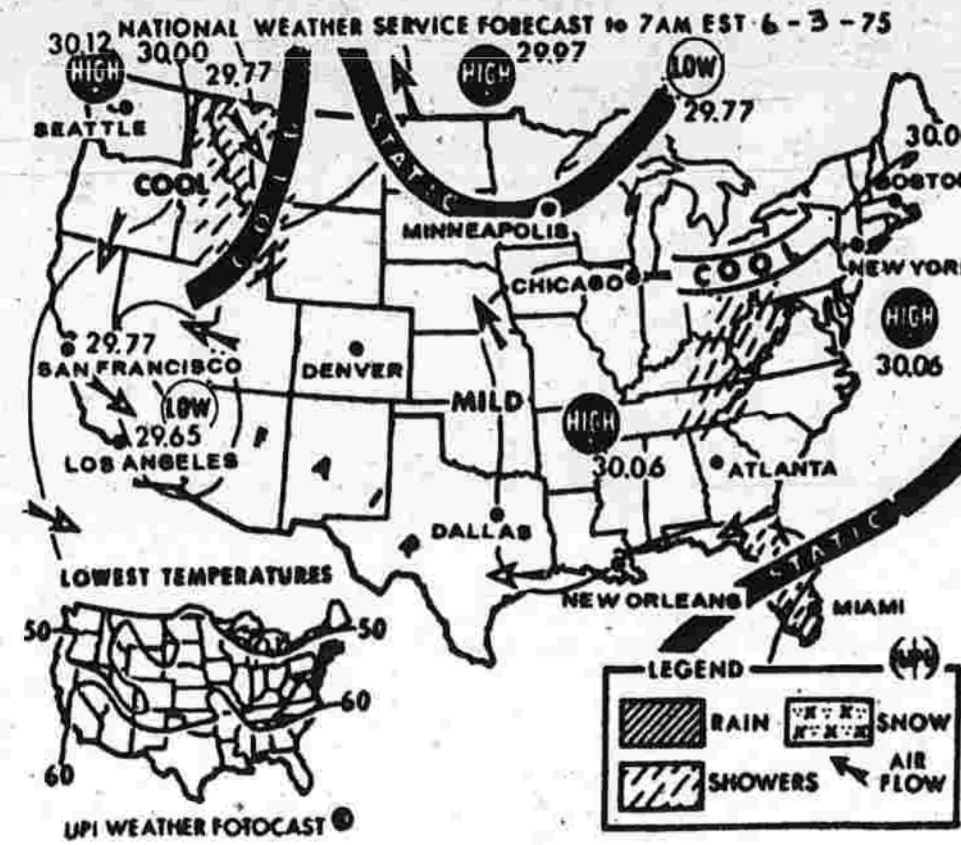

More events are planned, she said. Among them are soap box derbies and an arts and crafts show.

OPINION

Much Ado About Nothing

Sometimes the way we get involved in minor legislation provides an insight into human nature.

An example is the debate that accompanied the repeal of Connecticut's law against hitchhiking.

In essence, law enforcement people didn't like the repeal and Gov. Ella Grasso really reached out for justification in signing it by stating her belief that legalized hitchhiking would benefit the handicapped.

The oddity to us is not the difference in views on whether hitchhiking should be permitted but that it is a legislative matter at all.

After all, there was no law that said a driver had to pick up anyone hitchhiking a ride. Some states do have laws requiring motorists to stop and render assistance in case of obvious accidents or emergencies and we'd venture most drivers would, law or no law.

We do not know exactly how or why the anti-hitchhiking law got on the books in the first place. However, we'd bet that it is basically one of those "there ought to be a law" situations where someone decides that the state must protect us against our own foolishness such as picking up a hitchhiker who might rap us on the head and steal our money and car.

But even with the law, the presence of hitchhikers could be noted almost everywhere in Connecticut. They must have been successful otherwise they would not have been out there. And apparently the law was being enforced only when it was convenient to do so or if someone really voiced a complaint.

The hitchhiking law is typical of many laws which get on the books for what seem to be valid reasons but are soon forgotten or ignored because too many of us think that enacting a law

Point Out Facts

To the editor: Your article, "It's Prepared Childbirth," appearing in the May 24 Herald prompted us to write this letter. This article is grossly misleading and we would herewith like to point out certain facts, which were either omitted from the article or were presented in a confusing manner.

The need for classes in Prepared Childbirth (the Lamaze method) was not "generated two years ago." We participated in this method of childbirth four years ago when the only doctors endorsing the program were Drs. Sumner, Wheeler and Smith who have received national acclaim for their work in this field.

The instructions which cost a fee are the only true instructions in the Lamaze method. The six lessons are an absolute necessity to learn all phases of the Lamaze program. There is more to it than just "breathing exercises," to which any couple who has participated in the Lamaze classes and had the joyful experience of being together at the birth of their child can attest.

The monitrice is a registered nurse who receives special training and is essential to the Lamaze Method of Prepared Childbirth. She stays by the patient's bedside during the entire labor and delivery. She is also a Lamaze instructor.

The film showing all phases of labor and delivery with question and answer session, and the "hour of the certainly not now, nor are they part of the six lessons in the Lamaze Method. They are free-of-charge whenever one joins the Lamaze program or not.

We agree that the $40 fee may be hard for some couples to pay but in many cases the mother can be discharged from the hospital a day or two early, due to the fact that she is properly prepared and requires no drug or anesthetic. This saves money in hospital costs and more time makes up for the expenditure of this fee.

The real credit for bringing Prepared Childbirth to Manchester should go to Dr. Philip Sumner and his associates, Dr. John Wheeler and Dr. Samuel Smith. It is due to their efforts that interest in Prepared Childbirth with active participation by the husband grew to become "the accepted or expected thing."

TODAY'S THOUGHT

James 1:13 — Let no one say when he is tempted, I am tempted of God.

Rationalization is really quite a process; we would have a hard time without it. Most rationalizations are not totally without logic or they would get nowhere.

But who really is to blame? Why should I be held responsible for acting according to my nature, or according to the way I see others act, or the way circumstances seem truly to be pushing me?

An eternally popular determinism seems to say that society is responsible for all too many individual acts. But the fact remains that social relationships cannot be maintained if the individual cannot be held responsible for his actions.

In enjoying man with appetites and desires, God is not tempting man to sin. These appetites and desires are good and necessary to life. It is when man cannot determine where long-term satisfaction will lie and succumbs instead to the easy or interesting impulse of the moment that evil enters.

A real problem arises from the fact that one person giving in to temptation often affects a wide circle of other persons. One's freedom to "be oneself" lies in question if that self is not at its best.

Man's freedom of choice is a God-given word may be limited but it is crowded and it cannot be denied.

Tax Reform Needed

WASHINGTON — What this country needs more than a five-cent package of chewing gum is a neat package of tax reforms which would exact a little more dough from certain rich folks without soaking them out of existence.

The thought is prompted by that perennial revelation out of the Treasury by Sen. Walter Mondale, D-Min., that preferential provisions in the U.S. tax laws saved the 160,000 richest American taxpayers a total of $7.2-billion during the last fiscal year. This comes out to an average saving of $45,862 each, a nice if not whopping windfall.

According to the Treasury, an individual qualifies as a "richest American" if he has a gross income of $100,000 or over. Even allowing for the ravages of inflation, that's not bad.

Anyway, first the statistics. The Treasury study found that total individual tax collections last fiscal year would have been $58.2-billion higher had there been no preferential provisions of any kind in the revenue code. These provisions benefited mostly the wealthy. Almost a fourth of the higher revenue total would have come from people with incomes of $50,000 and up — 1.2 per cent of the taxpayers. Only a sixth would have come from those with incomes of $10,000 or less — 46.9 per cent of the taxpaying public.

What are those preferential provisions? They constitute a mixed bag. A taxpayer may deduct state and local tax and mortgage interest payments, contributions to charity and pays no tax on Social Security income. Forget about the loopholes; no congressman in his right mind would consent to provisions that benefit the so-called average taxpayer.

But then there are the gimmicks that give aid and comfort mostly to the well-off — the capital gains exclusion and that for holders of state and municipal bonds.

Capital gains are profits on the sale of stock or other property held for more than six months. The law says the taxpayer pays taxes on only half of such profits and thus the tax bite is only 50 per cent as painful as that for ordinary income.

Interest on state and municipal bonds is not taxed at all. Had there been no such exclusions, the Treasury says it would have collected $6.2-billion more in capital gains and taxes and $1.1-billion more in taxes on state and local bonds.

Moreover, the rich benefit disproportionately even from the loopholes that apply to the incomes of rich and poor alike. To a taxpayer in the highest tax bracket (70 per cent), a $100 deduction is worth $70; to one in the lowest bracket (14 per cent), the deduction is worth only $14.

So Sen. Mondale has a point when he asks whether it makes sense to maintain "a system which provides the highest benefits to those with the highest incomes."

It doesn't. But reform is not all that simple. There are middle-income individuals in, say, the $18,000 to $50,000 category, who earn an occasional buck on capital gains and interest-free state and local bonds. To eliminate these exclusions altogether would be a hardship for a group whose purchasing power is vital to the economy. These taxpayers not only buy hamburger and new cars, they get up most of the money for tuition bills and local charities. (In proportion to income, the wealthy are not all that generous.)

HEADS CLUB

Diane Beecher of 104 Verwood Dr., Vernon, has been elected president of the Vernon-Ellington Newcomers Club. She and other officers will be installed June 10.

Edwin DeGroat, band director, said the band considers the invitation a tremendous honor. The Board of Education is expected to act on the request at its meeting Monday night.

DeGroat said that Superintendent Raymond Ramsdell has given the band members permission to begin raising funds to help pay for the trip which is expected to cost about $3,500.

DeGroat said the students could probably have raised most of the money if they had more time. The invitation to appear came from Connecticut Congressman Christopher Dodd who heard the band when it appeared before. He said the state's congressional delegation was allowed to choose a performer for this occasion.

The band would also welcome private donations from any interested citizens. Donations may be mailed to the Rockville High School Band, in care of DeGroat or Samuel Goldfarb, music supervisor, in care of the High School, Loveland Hill Rd.

Pinocle winners in the Vernon Senior Citizens' pinocle tournament were: Ed Kreyzig 584; Les Bartlett 580; Lena Joyce Taylor, 36 Discovery Rd.

High individual scorer to date is Gertrude Edwards with 961 points. High total scorer is Ted Lebow with 10,234 points.

Pinocle is played on Tuesdays and Thursdays at 1:30 p.m. in the Lottie Fisk Building, Henry Park.

Reading the Fine Print Before Signing

WASHINGTON — We as a nation have a passion for written treaties, pacts and memoranda of understanding. We have a simplistic belief that something agreed to on paper will stand — and that our interpretation of the words will be followed.

We settle problems piecemeal, without thought as to where these solutions lead in other fields and in other areas of the world. In our desire for settlements we don't look carefully at the teeth of the law offered us in the deal.

We repeatedly forget that treaties without credible means of enforcement are not worth the paper they are written on. And that there is little chance of the words of a treaty being followed by Communist or other totalitarian regimes unless we demonstrate we are willing and able to put the enforcement provisions into effect.

In preparing for treaty talks, we are lazy and do not do our homework. We are thus not prepared to intelligently handle shifts proposed by the other side.

We easily tire and give in under the stalling tactics and lengthy hard bargaining of our adversaries — especially when the man on the other side of the table are skilled Communist dialecticians, willing to argue for years over fine points that make the difference between an even-handed treaty and one larded in their favor.

We usually give in, too, on the matter of size for the Russians, if they will to increase the size of their missiles by 50 per cent, negating the major possible value of the treaty. It did no good for a secretary of defense to then say we interpreted the treaty as meaning the allowance increase could only be in one dimension. The damage had already been done.

their true purpose. Short of on-site inspection there is no way to prove skillful violations even if we have the photographs or other information which convince us of cheating.

We have given in on this matter of effective inspection in the strategic arms limitation agreements, and in the treaties of Vietnam, Korea, Laos — in fact in every treaty we have signed with Communist states, large and small. Even where inspection is provided on paper, there have been loopholes which enabled the Communists to effectively bar teams charged with this duty.

We are not very careful in the language we agreed to in treaties. We sign one, then another and still another containing words, phrases and paragraphs so vague they can be interpreted in one way by us and another way by the other party. There is some evidence that Henry Kissinger glories in his ability to work out this type of arrangement, making everyone happy — happy that is, for awhile, until violations begin to appear. These violations of course increase suspicions and tensions, as each side accuses the other of deceit.

We were so stupid, for example, as to sign a treaty with the Russians on strategic arms limiting the increase in size to 15 per cent, without defining whether we were talking about one dimension or two — a slip which makes it possible for the Russians, if they will to increase the size of their missiles by 50 per cent, negating the major possible value of the treaty. It did no good for a secretary of defense to then say we interpreted the treaty as meaning the allowance increase could only be in one dimension. The damage had already been done.

In some cases these are honest differences. In far too many cases, the Russians, the North Vietnamese, the North Koreans and the Chinese, knowing our lack of perseverance, fight for phrases with double meanings which will allow them to do as they will without interference from us.

More Data Asked By Consultants On Vernon Rink

The financial feasibility study of an Ice Sports Center for Vernon will not be completed until after the June 15 meeting of the Town Council.

The consulting firm of Booz-Allen & Hamilton, Inc. has been hired to determine if such a facility would be financially successful in Vernon.

George Knight of the consulting firm said a good portion of the study has been completed but there are some points that need to be discussed with the council prior to completing it.

Mr. Knight said he received a letter from Abbot Schwelb, town attorney, which said that the facility recommended by Carlisle-Edwards, which did the first phase of the feasibility study, may or may not be ideal.

Knight said his firm is at the point in its work where more discussion would be beneficial. He said if the Carlisle-Edwards facility is determined unfeasible then he wonders how much alteration of the concept should be considered in order to achieve financial feasibility.

He said, "For instance, would consideration of tennis facilities be acceptable? Would consideration of restaurant facilities with a liquor license be acceptable? Obviously only a limited number of options can be thoroughly researched within the budget allocation."

He further said that the exact composition of the complex will have an impact on the estimated construction costs, carrying charges, and such.

Knight also said he is also concerned about the cost of land for the facility. "A preliminary determination of whether township land would be utilized and at what cost would be most helpful in preparing the estimates of project cost," he said.

Mayor Frank McCoy appointed an ice facility study committee about two years ago and one of the recommendations of the committee was to have an authority appointed and that would be the agency that the study firms would deal with.

There is a solution to this problem of tax inequity. It is to increase the capital gains tax and to impose a federal tax on interest from state and local bonds for all individuals with a gross income of $20,000. Both taxes could be increased on a graduated scale as the individual's income with the bite not to exceed a certain percentage for the taxpayer with an income of $1 million or more.

This reform would provide more revenue from the rich who live on the income from tax-free bonds and from the savings accrued from paying taxes on only half the profits from capital gains. It would not hit at the middle-income individual who shoulders a lion's share of the tax burden. And it would put out of business the wild men on Capitol Hill and in various quasi-socialistic organizations who think the wealthy should be exterminated by expropriation.

Fire Truck Going on Trip for New Ladder

VERNON

Rockville Fire Chief Donald Maguda will drive the Rockville department's aerial ladder truck to Rahway, N. Y., this week for installation of a new ladder.

Thursday night at its special meeting the Town Council agreed to have the new ladder installed. The cost will be $11,391. At the same time a serious leak in the truck's hydraulic system will be repaired at a cost of $2,800.

The council voted to transfer $8,000 from the Capitol Reserve account and the remainder from other accounts to pay for the work.

It was first thought that the existing ladder could be repaired but upon inspection by a representative of the LaFrance manufacturing company of Elmira, N. Y., it was found that the bed section was badly bent and therefore the whole ladder has to be replaced.

The new ladder will be extendable to 85 feet whereas the existing ladder goes to 75 feet. It is the town's only aerial ladder at the present time.

LaFrance company said the ladder could be delivered to Rahway by June 5 and it will take about two weeks to install it.

The chief was told that the figure quoted would be good until June 1 and if the company didn't have a commitment by June 1 the ladder might be re-ordered for another job.

Mayor Frank McCoy explained that this was not meant to be an ultimatum. He said the company only manufactures six or seven ladders a month and six of the seven are installed on its custom-built trucks and one ladder a month goes for replacements.

He planned to order the ladder by phone Friday and it will be shipped today and Chief Maguda will have the truck in Rahway the following Saturday.

School Band to Use Some Surplus Funds

VERNON

On motion of the Town Council Thursday night the Vernon Board of Education has been given authority to use some of its surplus from the current budget to assist the Rockville High School Band in a trip to Washington, D. C.

The band, which appeared at the Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts a few weeks ago, has been asked to return June 16 to participate in Connecticut Day as part of the national bicentennial celebration.

Edwin DeGroat, band director, said the band considers the invitation a tremendous honor. The Board of Education is expected to act on the request at its meeting Monday night.

DeGroat said that Superintendent Raymond Ramsdell has given the band members permission to begin raising funds to help pay for the trip which is expected to cost about $3,500.

Mayor Sees Wapping School as Library

SOUTH WINDSOR
Judy Kuehnel
Correspondent
644-1364

South Windsor Mayor Robert Smith would like both the Town Council and the Board of Education to consider converting the Wapping School into a new town library, as well as use the school for other things.

In "swapping" the Wapping School for council support of the school department's proposed 10,000 square-foot industrial arts building at the high school, the Ellsworth School—proposed for vacancy next year—would have to remain open.

Mayor Smith said that while his plan is only in the study stage, he would like the school department to give the Town Council the Wapping School floor plans so that the Public Building Department and later in the Library Board could study the possibility of the conversion.

Mayor Smith said Ellsworth School would not be feasible as a new library—it is three stories high—but Wapping, due to its central location and one-story structure, might be.

The mayor said that under the suggestion some of the 400 students at Wapping School would have to be transferred.

Dear Abby

Fishermen Should Leave Mom Home

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Each year my husband and our teenage sons spend a week up north fishing. They love it. I hate it. I wish my husband and the boys would go without me, but when I mention it, my husband says, "No, we'll just skip it this year because Mom doesn't want to go." The boys are disappointed and Mom is the heavy.

Abby, before we had children, I went fishing with my husband so he would have companionship, and I plan to do it again when the children are gone. When the boys were small I went without complaint because I felt I was needed; small boys could at times be more problems than pleasure for a man on a week's fishing trip.

But the boys are not children now, and they couldn't care less whether I went along or not. The fishing week is the high spot of their year. And it's my absolute lowest.

Am I wrong to want to go home? It would be a great vacation for me not having to cook, wash or iron. Help me, Abby. They believe in you.

ALL FISHED OUT

DEAR FISHED: IMPLORE Dad to let you off the hook this time. You've earned some vacation. (P.S. To the men in your house: "DON'T NAG—GO STAG!")

DEAR ABBY: I read a letter in your column from a woman who couldn't bring herself to spend the inheritance money her mother had left her. The reason: When she (the daughter) was struggling with a young family to make ends meet, her mother (who could have well afforded it) gave her no help at all.

Years later, when the daughter no longer needed anything, her mother died and left her a small fortune. Her letter prompts mine: My late husband used to say, "It is better to give with warm hands." (Meaning: "while one is alive.") He practiced that philosophy all his life and loved to give.

Now that he is gone, I am giving to my children and grandchildren "with warm hands," which gives them much pleasure. But to be perfectly honest, I am selfish, because when I give to them, my pleasure is far greater than theirs. SELFISH GRANDMA

DEAR GRANDMA: What this world needs are more of your brand of "selfishness." (P.S. Besides, it might be one way to reduce the inheritance tax.)

DEAR ABBY: I noticed a letter in your column from a minister who complained because after he had offered at funeral services for people who didn't even belong to his church, their families failed to pay him for his services. I don't know how other folks handle it, but here in Tacoma, Wash., the funeral director just adds $25 to the cost of the funeral, and he pays the minister without bothering the family.

No long ago, I received a letter from an elderly couple who was making funeral arrangements in advance. Enclosed was a check for $25 with the following note: "We want to be buried together. This should cover it."

The bride is the daughter of Prof. and Mrs. Chester W. Obuchowski of 25 Park St. The bridegroom is the son of Mr.

and Mrs. Robert W. Kratzke of Huntington, N.Y.

The Rev. James Malley S.J. of Washington, D. C., chaplain of the Georgetown University Law Center, and the Rev. Raymond Johnson of Bayside, N.Y., celebrated the nuptial Mass and performed the double-ring ceremony. Mrs. Ralph Mac-carone was organist and Mr. Maccarone was soloist.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a white maracane jersey gown designed with high mandarin neckline, long tapered sleeves, Empire waist, bodice decorated with seed pearls and rhinestones and an A-line skirt extending to a chapel-length train. Her cathedral-length veil was attached to a Juliet cap trimmed with lace appliques, pearls and rhinestones. She carried a cascade of white roses, stephanotis and baby's breath.

Mrs. Dennis L. Hartmann of Princeton, N.J., the bride's sister, was matron of honor. She wore a maize jersey gown fashioned with a high neckline, Empire waist, and bell sleeves. She carried a cascade of carnations, orange chrysanthemums and baby's breath.

Bridesmaids were Miss Constance L. Belfiore of Manchester, Miss Ann Marie Foley of Manchester, N.H., and Miss Karen K. Kempan of Washington, D.C.

They wore gowns identical to that worn by the bride, except that in lieu of green. They carried cascades of yellow roses chrysanthemums and baby's breath.

David Colangelo of Staten Island, N.Y., was best man. Ushers were David Kratzke of Northport, N.Y., the bridegroom's brother; Edward C. Obuchowski of Manchester, the bride's brother; and Clay H. Phillips of Arlington, Va.

A reception was held at the Faculty-Alumni Center at the University of Connecticut at Storrs. The couple will reside in Washington, D.C.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Kratzke are third year law students at the Georgetown University Law Center in Washington.

Mrs. Cohen To Attend Hadassah Gift Luncheon

Mrs. Sidney Cohen, president of the Connecticut Region of Hadassah, will be a participant in the Manchester Hadassah Big Gifts Luncheon on Wednesday at 12:30 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Helen Kopman, 194 Ludlow Rd.

The luncheon will mark the rededication of the Hadassah Hebrew University Hospital on Mt. Scopus on Oct. 21.

The hospital, dormant since 1948, was designed by Bauhaus architect Erich Mendelsohn and served the people of Jerusalem from 1939 to 1948, when the access road was cut off in the War of Independence and the Holy City was divided by the Jordanian forces.

On April 13, 1948 in an armed ambulance enroute from Jerusalem to Mount Scopus, Dr. Haim Yassky, medical director of the Hadassah Medical Organization for 26 years, was killed during an Arab attack, together with 73 doctors, research workers, hospital personnel and scientists of Hadassah and the Hebrew University.

The medical complex included a 300-bed general hospital, the Hadassah Herierty School of Nursing and the Hadassah University Hospital Post-Graduate Medical School building. The Mount Scopus facility was returned to Hadassah in 1967, when the city was reunited during the Six-Day War.

Since that time, an extensive repair, renovation and expansion of the hospital has been undertaken by Hadassah at a cost of over $25 million. The new general hospital provides 300 beds, including the Daniel and Florence Guggenheim Rehabilitation Pavilion.

When the city was reunited, Mrs. Cohen reports, Arab patients from East Jerusalem immediately came to the Medical Center at Ein Karem with their 19-year-old clinic cards.

"We had kept our Mount Scopus files intact and had moved them to Ein Karem," she said, "and some of the Arab patients were even treated by their old doctors." she said.

Members of the luncheon committee are Mrs. Helen Kopman and Mrs. Grace Rubnow, co-chairmen. Mrs. Maxine Jaffee, Mrs. Cohen and Mrs. Eveleen Zimmerman. Reservations may be made by calling Mrs. Kopman at 646-6783 or Mrs. Rubnow at 643-6659.

50th Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. John Miller of 69 Cornell St. observed their fifth wedding anniversary recently at an open house held at the home of their son and daughter-in-law Mr. and Mrs. Edward Miller of 389 Lyden St. Also hosting the party were the couple's daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. C. Gerard DiManno.

The couple was married April 25, 1925 at the Emanuel Lutheran Church parsonage with the late Rev. P.J. Cornell officiating.

Attending the open house were Mrs. James Funtillo, the maid of honor, and Oswald Bauerle, the best man.

Mr. and Mrs. Miller are retired. Mrs. Miller was formerly employed at the Hess Oil Co. in Wethersfield and Mrs. Miller was with the Connecticut Bank & Trust Co. in Hartford.

New Class Offered By Rec Department

The Manchester Recreation Department is planning a humanities class under the direction of Bea Shettel, women's programs director.

The program entitled "The American Issues Forum" is sponsored by the National Endowment for the Humanities and the American Revolution Bicentennial Administration.

This is a national program and it would encourage people to engage in a serious exploration of some of the issues that are fundamental to the American society.

Invitations have been extended to schools, libraries, churches, labor unions and other community groups.

A tentative field trip to the State Capitol has been planned. Guest speakers will present their viewpoints.

The program would run one afternoon a week at the West Side Rec. Pertinent color films will also be included. A minimum of 10 men or women will be needed to begin the program.

Anyone seeking more information may send a self-addressed envelope to the Manchester Recreation Department, West Side Rec. in care of Bea Shettel, 110 Cedar St.

Murtaugh Insists Chicago Should Be Taken Seriously

NEW YORK (UPI) — Manager Danny Murtaugh of the Pittsburgh Pirates insists the Chicago Cubs "should be taken seriously"—and maybe some other National League teams should heed the advice.

"It looks like a case of young players developing suddenly," Murtaugh has been saying since the start of the season. "So suddenly that most people think they're not a solid club. But I think they are."

The Cubs may also have helped to convince the NL clubs Los Angeles Dodgers Sunday when they beat the Dodgers 7-2 and moved to within a half game of the first-place Pirates in the league's Eastern Division.

Oscar Zamora, a 30-year-old right-hander from Cuba who is rapidly developing into one of the league's most effective relievers, received credit for his sixth save with three shutout innings in relief of Bill Bonham. The victory was the fifth against four losses for Bonham, who had an 11-22 won-lost record in 1974.

DANNY MURTAUGH

Manny Trillo singled during a three-run second-inning and hit a two-run single in a three-run seventh-inning. "So suddenly that most people think they're not a solid club. But I think they are."

The Cubs may also have helped to convince the NL clubs Los Angeles Dodgers Sunday when they beat the Dodgers 7-2 and moved to within a half game of the first-place Pirates in the league's Eastern Division.

Mickey Lolich's Feat Again Overshadowed

DETROIT (UPI) — The spotlight has always shone on somebody else during Mickey Lolich's career, the same fate that befell Yankee star Lou Gehrig.

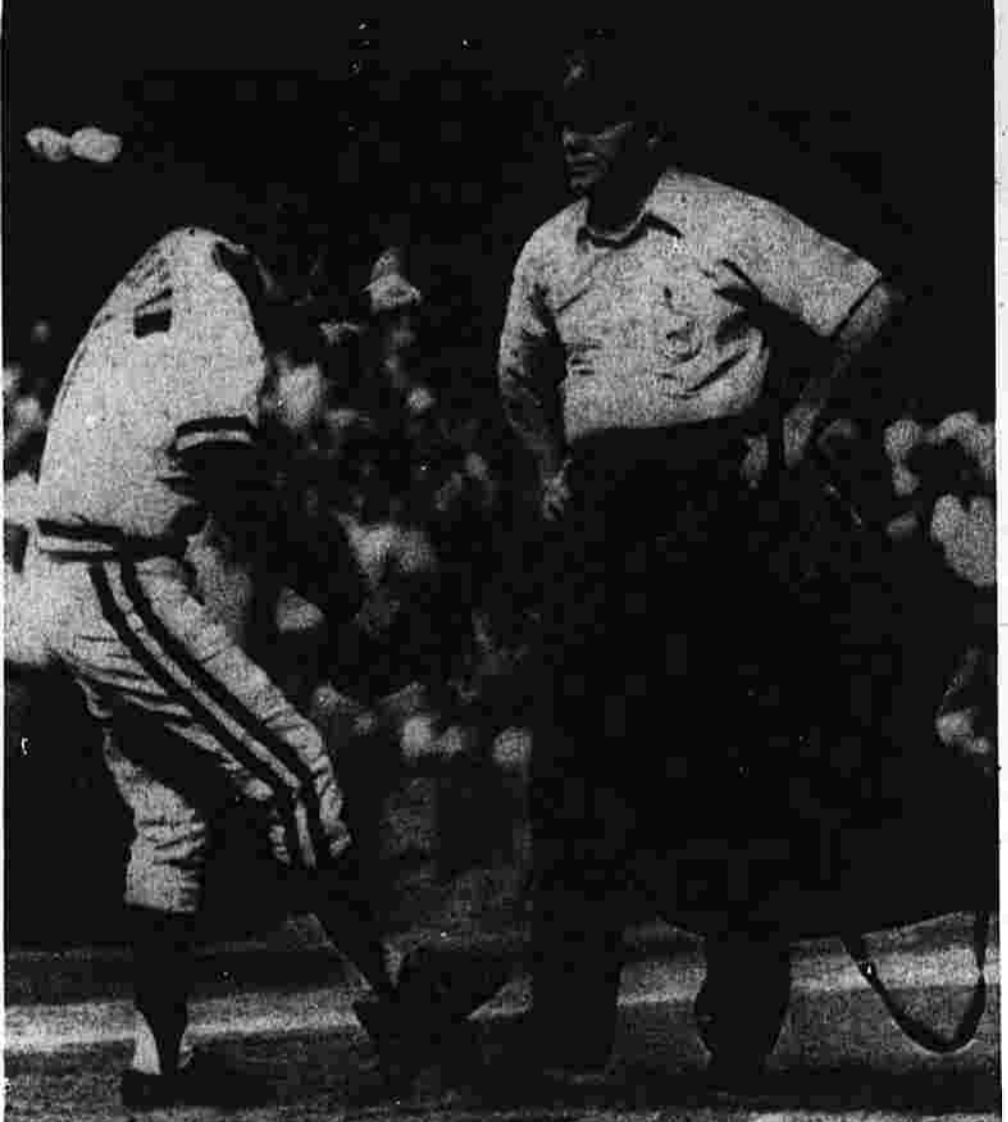

Sunday was no different for Lolich despite another milestone performance by the portly lefthander of the Detroit Tigers.

Lolich moved to within two of becoming baseball's all-time greatest lefthanded strikeout pitcher in hurling the Detroit Tigers to a 5-1 victory over Chicago in the first game of a doubleheader. The White Sox came back to take the second game, 3-2.

But Lolich's 20th career victory which broke a tie with Al Newhouse and gave him more wins than any lefthander in Detroit history, was clearly overshadowed by the fourth career no-hitter of California's Nolan Ryan against Baltimore Sunday.

The Portland, Ore., native's 13-year career has been like that. First it was Denny McLain grabbing all the headlines, then Billy Martin, then Al Kaline, or a pitcher on another team.

"I was beginning to wonder if I could get guys out any more," Lolich said. "I want to be respectable. Right now I want to come back and have a halfway decent season."

'That's Not Nice, Billy' Irate with Umpire Terry Cooney's call, Manager Billy Martin of Texas kicks dirt on pitcher's pants after he was tossed out against Yankees. New York won, 8-4.

Tribe Baseball Prospects Bright With Jayvee Squad

By Len Auster
With most varsity starters graduating after the current season, the importance of the 1975 Manchester High Jayvee baseball team is multiplied.

If the Silk Towners are to continue to meet success, as they have the last three years, Jayvees will have to fill positions more than adequately.

The Indians, coached by Don Race, wound up their impressive 10-5 mark, the second year in a row they've garnered 10 victories.

Pitching is one area where the varsity might fall short in 1976 but it appears Race has two of three good prospects. Leading the Jayvee group is junior sophomore Scott Eagleton with a 5-1 won-lost record.

"Eagleton, I feel, has as much stuff as anybody here. He could be the No. 2 pitcher behind (Bruce) Ballard next year. But he has a control problem," Race asserted. In 35 1/3 innings, Eagleton struck out 46 but walked 35, not a good ratio.

Behind Eagleton are two sophomores, righthanders Pete Daigle and Kevin Hannon. Daigle won three games and lost one and in 42 innings worked, fanned 42.

Boston Bats Alive In Routing Twins

BLOOMINGTON, Minn. (UPI) — The Minnesota Twins thought they had the routing formula. Start rookie ace Jim Hughes, who has the best earned run average in the American League, and add nine runs. But the result was an 11-0 win by the Boston Red Sox Sunday.

In fact, for the games Saturday and Sunday the Twins produced 17 runs for Hughes and Burt Reynolds, Minnesota's ace, but the Twins still came away with two straight losses to Boston, the American League's Eastern Division leaders.

THE MOST DASHING DASHER OF ALL

The new, limited edition Dasher GT is the sportiest Dasher ever. On the outside, it looks like a sports car. Silver metallic paint. Black racing stripes. Mag wheels. On the inside, it feels like a sports car. The road, it performs like a sports car. 0 to 50 in 8.6 seconds. Front disc brakes. 33 MPG on the highway and 23 MPG in the city. But if you want one, you'd better hurry. Because like most sports cars, it'll be gone before you know it.

Policy Adopted On Bomb Threats

COVENTRY

Monica Shea
Correspondent
742-9495

The Board of Education has adopted a new policy in an event of a bomb threat.

The policy was proposed after a recent bomb threat to Coventry Grammar School and subsequent complaints about how the situation was handled.

The policy requires that the person receiving the threat immediately consult with the principal or the person in charge who will then direct the immediate evacuation of the building.

Then fire, police and the school superintendent will be notified.

After a teacher has evacuated his area, he is to inspect the area rapidly and report any unusual item or activity to fire or police officials.

Teachers are to maintain students in orderly fashion and to take attendance upon reaching their assigned area.

The new policy will go into effect immediately.

Bolton Democrats Vow Greater Role in Government

Donna Holland
Correspondent
636-0375

The Bolton Democratic Town Committee promised more involvement in town matters during a recent comment session held in lieu of their regular meeting.

Maureen Houle, chairman of the committee, told the members, "If I am your chairman next time, we are going to win."

The usual procedure of the meeting was not followed so all members could participate in a comment session regarding the party loss in the recent town elections.

Newer members of the committee felt more effort from members should have been forthcoming. Older committee members expressed a more positive attitude about the elections.

They said it was the best campaign ever for the Democrats and noted the substantial gain in votes over other years.

Those participating in the comment session unanimously agreed to start work on the 1977 election immediately. They plan more attendance at town meetings by Democrats, more contact with Democrats now serving on town boards, concentration on voter registration and active participation by all Democrats.

One member cautioned there were tremendous obstacles to overcome.

There are more than 800 registered Republicans in Bolton. There are about 600 registered Democrats and 500 unaffiliated voters.

One committee member pointed out that when he ran unopposed as a Democrat, the blank on the machine received more votes than he did.

Two subcommittees were set up. They are expected to bring in new Democrats, get feedback on community feelings and raise funds.

Dick Barry, vice chairman of the DTC, will head a study group that will investigate participation feelings, encourage participation and study issues while planning for the future.

Larry Shaw will head the ways and means committee, placing emphasis on acquainting townspeople with the party and its goals. In the past it was primarily concerned with fund raising. That will still be one function of the committee.

Attendance at meetings has been at its highest of late. There are presently no openings on the DTC.

All meetings are open to the public and the committee invites all who are interested to attend. It meets the third Friday of each month.

Registration
Registration for the town's midnet football program will be

Wednesday from 6:30 until 8:30 p.m. at the Herrick Memorial Park building (downstairs in the equipment room).

Boys who turn nine on or before Sept. 1 and who will not be 14 years of age by that date are eligible.

There is no registration charge. Boys must be accompanied by a parent.

Sherwood Holland, head coach of the midnet football league, and Marshall Taylor, coach of the C team, will talk to parents. Refreshments will be served.

The skin is the largest organ of the body, covering an average area of 17 square feet and weighing almost five pounds.

School Board Accepts Accreditation Report

TOLLAND

The Tolland Board of Education unanimously approved the revised interim Tolland High School Accreditation Report without any discussion this week.

The action was in marked contrast with the uproar from board members over the original draft prepared by Tolland High School Principal Roy Nierendorf and his staff.

The reaction of the board prompted many residents to fear a possible loss of accreditation for the school and a possible hardship for their children preparing to enter college in the next few years.

Superintendent of Schools Dr. Kenneth MacKenzie interceded in the project, working with Nierendorf and the department chairman reviewing each of the 244 recommendations in the original report.

The changes are obvious.

Within a one-month period the number of NEASS recommendations completed jumped from 66 to 84 while those upon which no action was taken dropped from 52 to 13.

The number of recommendations added to the "in progress" category rose from 71 to 90; those "planned for the future" rose from 30 to 37 and those "rejected" dropped from 25 to 17.

No longer were the oft-repeated terms of "no money in the budget" and "lack of staff" used as the reasons for not taking action or rejecting a recommendation.

In their place were explanatory paragraphs detailing the reasons for disagreement with the original findings by the accreditation team.

The explosive reaction to the preliminary draft of the interim report came in the midst of closed door sessions over the renewal of the principal's contract, a situation which has since been resolved.

Hebron School Plans Colonial Craft Days

HEBRON

Anne Dallaire
Correspondent
228-3267

The public is invited to attend the Colonial Crafts Days and share with students some of the events of the past at the Hebron Elementary School June 4, 5 and 6.

On Wednesday, the children's and adult's displays will be set up in the gymnasium for viewing for the three-day event.

Wednesday at 1:30 p.m. there will be a concert of Colonial American songs and "The Illusions," a female barbershop quartet will perform in the children's garden.

Two classes of Grade 1 will present dancing and colonial marching.

Thursday, the school will close at 1 p.m. From 9 a.m. to 12 adults will be displaying their crafts on the front lawn of the school.

At 10 a.m. Peter Sepe of Storrs will give a demonstration of sheep herding.

Friday, Gilead Elementary School students are invited to attend the Craft Days in the morning and Andover and Marlborough schools are invited to attend from 12 to 2:15 p.m. At noon there will be an old-fashioned picnic on the school grounds.

From 9 a.m. to 12 the students and adults will be demonstrating various colonial crafts.

Also special colonial games will be held from 12:45 to 2 p.m. All staff and children will dress in colonial costume for the three-day event.

The cafeteria staff, under the direction of Mrs. Marjorie Porter, will provide a colonial food menu for the entire week.
