Wearing the trademark of his favorite winter sport, Bill Sackarek dons his ski cap as he receives a certificate of appreciation awarded him on his retirement after 15 years of service as custodian at Hilling Junior High School. Making the presentation is Theodore Fairbank, superintendent of maintenance and grounds for the Manchester public school system, while Dr. Richard Lindgren, principal, looks on. Sackarek is the ski columnist for The Herald during the winter. He has also taken groups of Hilling students on skiing, fishing and camping trips. (Herald photo by Pinto)

Residents Demand Halt to Speeding

BOLTON
Donna Holland Correspondent
Thirty-seven Tolland Rd. residents submitted a formal complaint to Robert Peterson, resident state trooper, about speeders and reckless drivers on their street.

In the complaint the residents said, "We are aware that several complaints have been filed over a rather lengthy period of time, but since the situation still exists it is fairly obvious nothing has been done."

The complaint said the situation is aggravated when school vacation begins. During the school year the racing and speeding begin about 3 p.m. but in the summer it knows no limits the complaint said.

The Tolland Rd. residents asked Trooper Peterson to meet with them either individually or as a group to discuss the situation.

They said, "We do expect this to be done immediately. Time is a factor."
The complaint continued, "Someone does not have to be injured before something is done. We will see to that."
The Board of Selectmen upon receipt of a copy of the complaint said other areas as well as Tolland Rd. have the same problems.

Entry had been gained by prying open the front door, police said. Chief Kerrigan said Monday with failure to drive a reasonable distance apart in connection with the investigation of a two-car accident on Rt. 83.

John M. Coles, 22, of 72 Union St., Rockville, was charged Monday with failure to drive a reasonable distance apart in connection with the investigation of a two-car accident on Rt. 83.

Police said Coles struck the rear of a car driven by Thomas R. Lewis Jr., 21, of Crest Dr., Vernon, which was stopped to make a right turn. No injuries were reported. Damage to the cars was moderate. Coles is to appear in court in Rockville, June 24.

Police Chief John Kerrigan said a car, with its motor running, was found to the rear of the store and has been impounded. He said it is registered to someone in East Hartford but the owner has not collied with a car driven by Jeffrey A. Smith, 18, of 33 Duncester Lane and then left the scene. Police said Sabados was apprehended a short time later. He was released on a $50 cash bond for appearance in court in Rockville, June 24.

President Ford Stresses Strong Defense Role

WEST POINT, N.Y. (UPI)—President Ford, who just returned from NATO summit talks in Europe, said today the United States must lead its allies with a defense posture "second to none" and an end to a program showing "Americans have lost neither their nerve nor their national will."

Ford issued his call to action in a speech to the 849-member graduating class at the U.S. Military Academy—less than 10 hours after his return from a six-day European tour including meetings with NATO leaders and Egyptian President Anwar Sadat.

The President arranged to brief both his Cabinet and congressional leaders at the White House later in the day on the results of his European trip.

Ford, whose arrival at Michie Stadium brought a crowd of about 20,000 to its feet, said he found the NATO allies have "a new sense of unity and a confidence in the United States that has not been seen in a long time."

With a brisk wind whipping the flags of 50 states on the stadium rim, Ford watched as the graduating cadets—stiff and splendid in dress grey tunics, sword and white gloves and white hats—marched from opposite ends of the field and took seats to hear the President's appeal for a strong national defense posture.

"One such practical demonstration," he said, would be for Congress to reject proposals for cutbacks in defense spending that already has fallen to the lowest level since the Korean war.

"It is my firm conviction that we cannot afford further erosion of our bedrock commitment to mutual defense and national progress which I heard at the NATO summit conference in Brussels last week will be meaningless unless the industrial democracies have assured sources of energy to power both their economic and military efforts," he said.

On one again, the United States is looked to for leadership and example."

Ford said a comprehensive program to make the United States fully independent of foreign oil was equally vital in the face of "externally fixed prices that threaten both our economic health and our national security."

He said congressional approval of such a program "would be another convincing demonstration to our allies and to our adversaries that Americans have lost neither their nerve nor their national will."

Regional Occupational Center Contract Signed

By BETTY RYDER
The contract for the construction of the Regional Occupational Training Center to be built at Wetherell St. and Hilltown Rd. was signed today by General Manager Robert B. Weiss in behalf of the Town of Manchester and Mark E. Nasin, president of the J. S. Nasin Co. of Williamam, general contractor for the project.

Groundbreaking for the $1.4 million center is set for June 25 at 10 a.m. and will include an appearance by Gov. Ella Grasso.

The general construction contract was awarded to the J. S. Nasin Co. which bid $1,887,456, the lowest of 15 offers from area contractors.

The price quoted by Nasin was about $50,000 less than the estimated construction cost of $1,338,375. No actual date for construction to begin was announced.

The center was designed by the Manchester architectural firm The Lawrance Associates and will be administered by Norman Fendell, supervisor of special education for the Manchester Board of Education. It is expected to be completed by September 1976.

The center, reported to be the first of its kind in the country, will offer educational opportunities to mentally retarded and multiply handicapped adolescents from Manchester and 15 surrounding towns. Programs will include psychological, social, educational and vocational services. The major aims of the project are to provide specialized training for students needs in order to develop personal, social and vocational competency for employment and community living. Six major characteristics of the services offered are:

• An industrial laboratory, a training area utilizing industry training materials, standards, and working conditions.

• Occupational training in food service, a program offered in cooperation with the hotel and restaurant division of Manchester Community College.

• An automotive laboratory, focusing on the essentials of automobile maintenance.

• Functional academics related to the vocational training areas (classroom instruction).

• A physical education program, including and taught to small groups of students.

• Team work experience in which groups of exceptional students work, under supervision, at job stations in the community.

These services will develop skills in food service, industrial assembly, wrapping and packaging operations, shipping and receiving, building maintenance, automotive servicing, bicycle repairing, farm work, landscaping and factory work.

Because of its proximity to, and on land given to the Town by Manchester Community College, the center will offer work experience, internships and clinical practice opportunities for students in the educational and occupational therapy department of the college.

NEW CAR STATISTICS
DETROIT (UPI) — Deliveries of new cars were the highest in May since October and the foreign car share of the market slipped. "It's a good omen for April to May and the month was really not too bad, considering," one industry analyst said. "I can't jump up and down about sales, but it's pretty definite that the low point is now well behind us."

Imports were expected to improve their performance over last year, but drop below a 20 per cent share of the market. Their normal share is around 16 per cent.

SENTENCED TO DEATH
AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI) — Robert Elmer Kleasen, who pleaded innocent to charges he murdered two Mormon missionaries and dismembered their bodies with a hand saw, was sentenced Tuesday to death in the electric chair for one of the murders. A seven-man, five-woman jury took 20 minutes to agree on the death sentence. Kleasen protested his innocence again after the sentencing.

CONVICTED
HOUSTON (UPI) — Ronald Clark O'Bryan was convicted of murdering his 7-year-old son with cyanide-laced Halloween candy Tuesday. One prosecutor said O'Bryan "sacrificed his son on the altar of greed, but it's pretty definite that the low point is now well behind us."

Imports were expected to improve their performance over last year, but drop below a 20 per cent share of the market. Their normal share is around 16 per cent.

SCHOOL OPENS
HAMDEN (UPI) — Hamden High School opened today for half day sessions with plainclothes policemen on hand as a precaution against further possible fights among students.

The school was closed Tuesday after a brawl Monday among black and white students in the school's cafeteria that caused injuries to 17 persons, including one youth who received a fractured skull.

Police Tuesday arrested three black and three white students as a result of the clash and arrested a seventh person in the area of the school.

NORWALK TEACHERS ACCEPT CONTRACT
NORWALK (UPI) — A teachers' strike has ended with union approval of a two-year contract which calls for a 6.1 per cent pay increase the first year and 4 per cent the second.

Schools were to return to normal sessions today for the first time since May 22.

An estimated 700 teachers crowded into the Norwalk Community Jewish Center Tuesday night to vote to end the strike. There were only two votes cast against the pact.

The agreement was reached Tuesday afternoon by the Board of Education and leaders of the Norwalk Federation of Teachers. It was then turned over to the rank and file for ratification.

A Norwalk Common Council meeting scheduled for tonight was expected to be canceled by Mayor Donald J. Irwin because the contract would not be printed in time for the meeting.

Robert Aldrich, Board of Education chairman, said the agreement would become internal operating policy of the board even if the council rejected it. The council has rejected three contracts agreed to by the board and teachers.

Aldrich cited four possible sources of revenue for pay raises, including $85,000 in money docked from the pay of striking teachers. Other sources noted were increased state aid, modifications in the board's operating budget and increased local tax collection.

Part of the agreement stipulated the board would drop its court action for contempt against NPT leaders for allowing the strike to go on in the face of an injunction against it.

The parties had met in chambers with Superior Court Judge William J. Tierney, but a court hearing on enforcement of the injunction was never held. Instead, the teachers and the board continued negotiations.

In an effort to bring about settlement, the judge had withheld contempt action against the teachers for disobeying his injunction and motions by the teachers to dismiss the injunction.

FIRE BOMB EXPLODES

A guerrilla group loyal to former dictator Marcelo Caetano, deposed last year in a military coup, was blamed for the blast.

Manchester Evening Herald OPINION

Some Plus Signs

In spite of a higher than desirable level of unemployment there is reason for some optimism in several prime economic factors, as revealed in recent statistics.

The ailing housing industry can take comfort in a great boost in mortgage lending in April, which was one-third more than March, with loans jumping to four billion from three billion.

And on another level of the economy our balance of trade showed a favorable ratio for the third consecutive month of the year, in spite of an increase in petroleum purchases of $1.1 billion.

In the housing field loans for single family dwellings totalled $2 billion, up from $1.5 billion in March. This was the highest figure in almost a year.

Since there is usually a very short time lapse between securing of a mortgage and the beginning of construction this increase in home building money should result in a fairly quick uptick in employment in the building trades.

There is also good housing news in the revealed figures of the savings and loan industry which showed a flow of new money into their coffers at the best rate since April 1971.

April figures were down somewhat from March, but this is attributed to heavy withdrawals for income tax payment, a seasonal drain on savings and loan deposits.

The increase in savings and loan funds are also undoubtedly due to lower interest rates being paid on government loan offerings and disinterest by many small and medium investors in the stock market because of its comparatively erratic fluctuations.

Mortgage demand is an indicator of renewed faith in the economy and its future over a long period of years. People who assume twenty or thirty year mortgage obligations have confidence that they will be able to meet their obligation.

The trade balance was $2.64 billion in the black compared with $852 million for the same four month period in 1974.

April, however, was considerably down from the more comfortable balance of February and March.

The balance testifies to the vitality of American commercial products and their strong continuing demand abroad.

Economic distress still continues in some areas of the economy, such as the automotive industry, but with all factors so interrelated, there is reason for some cautious optimism in these new indications of recovery.

If you feel that June might be a time for more worries you are right, since Congress went back into session Monday following its Memorial Day recess.

The legislative pipeline is full of bills. Among them are measures dealing with energy conservation, unemployment compensation, natural gas regulation, clean air amendments, consumer fraud and protection, health insurance for the unemployed, to name only a few. It is a time for taxpayers to be alert.

Next Monday the first three buses will be leaving, and I might suggest a couple of tips for those going. Add to your wardrobe a light jacket or sweater because there is always a cool breeze coming from the ocean.

Also, be sure your luggage is plainly marked. We have some tags available here at the center. Print your name and bus number on the tag and in big letters. This will make it easier for the men at the hotel to identify your bags and deliver them to your room more quickly.

Last tip would be that although you will be treated to a box lunch to get on the way, I might suggest that you bring a light snack to munch on after you arrive. It is a long ride down, and once you get there it will be a few hours before you are called for dinner.

Don't forget, we expect you to arrive here at the center around 8 o'clock in the morning, as the buses are scheduled to leave at 8:30.

Meanwhile, back at the center we had a nice turnout for our kitchen social games, and I want to thank George Vallone for helping me in the calling of the games.

You Can't Tell A Dog Without Fire Hydrant

The well-dressed canine will sport a flashy new license tag this year.

All dogs over six months old must be licensed on or before June 30, 1975, or at such time as such dog becomes six months old.

Neglect or refusal to license such dog on or before such date will subject a dog owner to a fine and to arrest.

The dog tag, which should please all dogs' fancies, is shaped like a red hydrant.

Registration fees are as follows: Male or spayed female, $3.50; female, $7.70; kennel (when not more than 10 dogs are kept), $26.

Licenses are issued Monday through Friday from 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. in the town clerk's office.

Boycotts Not New

The use of an economic boycott by the Norwalk teachers in an effort to get business support for their position is not a new invention.

While it is rare for a so-called professional group to use the economic boycott in Connecticut are quite familiar with the tactic because of recent attempts to accomplish the same thing by Cesar Chavez Farm Workers Union in the matter of grapes and certain brands of wine.

What intrigued us was the reaction of some people to the boycott when it was first announced.

One friend was somewhat cynical perhaps in pointing out that it was a contradiction of some kind for a teacher striking to seek better wages on the one hand; yet on the other, threatening to withdraw savings and checking accounts thus implying these funds were substantial enough to be an economic pressure on banks.

Another felt teachers' economic contributions to a community are taken for granted too often and they should have a boycott periodically regardless of wage negotiations.

One extreme would deny the teachers in Norwalk a pay hike just because they as a group may have accumulated substantial savings. This is not the issue nor should be a consideration in determining the validity of a pay increase request.

The other extreme implies that periodic boycotts would force an alliance between the teachers and business against towns and school boards because pay increases are mutually beneficial to the teacher and the business community.

What a person is paid should not be measured by its economic impact on the business community but whether it reflects a fair wage for a fair day's work. When we start using a professional job, or any job, as a funnel for money to bolster the economy merely for the sake of business statistics, we are engaging in a very subtle form of featherbedding.

What we need is a reaffirmation that a job is important in and of itself in what it contributes to society and productivity and wages should reflect a person's ability to perform the task he is hired to do.

We abhor any theory to fix wages on the basis of need or lack of personal need or merely to prime the economy, economy.

This to us smacks closely the socialistic concept of "from each according to his ability, and to each according to his need."

The Norwalk teachers should get a raise in pay because of merit within the town's ability to pay it and not because of the monetary impact on Main St.

We hope that the economic boycott has not reduced the issue of quality education to the dollar sign for if this should happen in other teacher wage negotiations, the real losers are the children.

Who Are The 'Bad Guys'?

To the editor:

Several weeks ago your paper published a biting editorial about state workers and their demands for a return of their increments, not raise (an increment is not a raise, it is a contractual agreement).

In your eyes and I'm sure in the eyes of many others, the "bad guys" are the state employees.

While the entire state is so busy crawling the state employee a bill was passed legalizing hitchhiking. On the surface this might seem like a very innocent bill. Let me caution "Mommy & Daddy," you may not realize it but this could be the first step in the loss of busing your children to school. "Johnny and Mary" can now hitchhike back and forth to school.

I urge you to call your Board of Education and your representatives in state government demanding that they resolve this "coverup scheme" with state employees and while you are on the telephone, you had better check to see if there is enough money in the education budget for busing your children to school for next year, and the year after that, and the year after that.

I just wonder, who are really the "Bad Guys"?

Shocked

To the editor:

It is with shock and deep regret that we parents of Washington School have learned of the transfer of our principal, Walter Roth.

We have been aware of the many physical needs which are lacking at Washington School. However, the excellent quality of education and discipline has helped to compensate for our inadequate facilities. This, we feel, has been through the direct leadership of our principal, Walter C. Roth.

For 17 years he has had an excellent working relationship with the staff, students and parents. During this time he has gone through two school restructurings and still has maintained a high level of education and control of disciplinary problems. His enthusiastic rapport has provided a firm basis for positive social and academic attitudes in these formative years of our children.

The philosophy of transferring principals is new to Manchester. We regret that such a major change in policy was initiated prior to public awareness.

Although we cannot be in complete agreement with the philosophy at this time, we fervently hope it proves beneficial to our children.

We sincerely hope that our school will continue to maintain its high quality leadership and discipline.

Alcohol Is A Drug, Too

I recently read a letter in your paper from a young man about alcohol and drugs. In it he states that he'd rather get drunk than take drugs. Well, not many people realize that alcohol is a dangerous drug.

I am an alcoholic and I know first hand the misery that alcohol causes. It causes many diseases. The worst experience I had was D.T.'s (delirium tremens) which is very much like a bad trip on LSD. There's a 50-50 chance you'll die from it.

Before I became an alcoholic I was a drug addict and I can tell you that I've experienced more heartache and suffering as result of alcohol, much more than when I was on drugs.

Secondly, I don't agree with his opinion about drug addicts, they are human beings and shouldn't be treated like animals. They don't need to be locked away from society, they need people to help them. If you locked up everyone who takes drugs there would be no one left on the streets.

Victim Of Graffiti

Kathy found out through a stranger's telephone call that her name and number had been scrawled on the wall of the men's room in a nearby restaurant. Worse, she was described as being available for immoral liaisons.

In short order, Kathy demanded that the owner of the restaurant remove the graffiti from his wall. When he failed to do so, she filed suit against him for defamation of character.

At the trial, the defendant proved that he could not be blamed for what someone else had written. But the court found him liable anyway. The court said that although he had not brought the defamatory message into being, he had allowed it to continue.

In similar circumstances, most courts have reached a similar result. The owner of the premises is said to have "republicized" the libel by letting it stay.

A more elegant variation arose in a private club, where an anonymous hand had posted on the bulletin board a scurrilous poem about one of the members.

The maligned member, outraged because the club manager refused to take the poem down, filed suit because of damages and won. The court said:

"Having the power and the right to remove it, (the manager) elected deliberately to leave it there."

But in a recent case, the graffiti appeared not inside private premises but on the outside of an apartment building—in plain sight of passing pedestrians.

This fact made a big difference, a court ruled afterward in concluding that the building owner could not be blamed for the libel.

Pointing out that he had no control over who read the message, the court said his role in making it public was too minor to justify legal liability.

TODAY'S THOUGHT

How shall I enter the Eternal's presence.
Shall I come before the God of heaven?
Shall I come to Him with sacrifices, with yearning calls to offer?
Would the Eternal care for rams in thousands, or oil flowing in myriad streams?
Shall I offer my first born son for my sin, fruit of my body for guilt of my soul?
O man, He has told you what is good; what does the Eternal ask from you but to be just and kind and live in quiet fellowship with your God? Micah 6:6-8

Rev-Share Budget, Assessor Subjects for Town Meeting

COVENTRY

The Coventry Town Council has scheduled a special June 19 town meeting to ask townspeople to approve a proposed $145,515 revenue sharing budget and restore the assessor to full-time status.

In previous budget action for the 1975-76 fiscal year, the Town Council reduced the assessor's account about $5,000, designating the assessor's position as part time starting this July 1. This was among items approved at the May 9 annual town budget meeting by town voters.

Subsequently Town Manager Allen Sandberg requested restoration of the funds in order to "protect the orderly administration of assessing and tax collecting."

Monday night Acting Town Manager Elizabeth Rychling said the assessor's job calls for certain qualifications and it would be difficult to obtain a certified person part time. Very likely opportunities are abundant for full-time assessing positions. Mrs. Rychling said, and there is a very real possibility that the town would be faced with a vacancy in the assessing department. Another factor to consider is that the assessor is liable for the performance of his duties and not the assistant, Mrs. Rychling said. Assessor is to be shared by the assessing and tax collecting offices starting this July.

The council met in brief executive session at the request of Councilman Albert Carilli. He said he had some suggestions on personnel deployment, but didn't wish to state them publicly since the persons involved hadn't been notified. After the private discussion council members voted the special town meeting on the issue.

The council also agreed unanimously to present a proposed revenue sharing budget to town voters. This would include $74,000 for public safety for two police cruisers, street lights, operation and maintenance; $41,000 for a street sweeper, truck and plow; $2,500 for town libraries; $8,000 for town reindexing; $10,015 for uncommitted and $28,794 for committed school projects; $4,000 for a duplicator and federal Occupational Safety and Health Act requested improvements at town hall and $1,000 for a drain at the town hall well.

The Town Council removed $2,015 from recreation for toilet facilities from the proposal, transferring that sum to the high school for outside lighting at the tennis courts it also added $200 to public safety for town-supplied guns and holsters for two part-time patrolmen now using their own weapons.

The proposal would leave a $63 balance in the revenue sharing program.

In other action the council accepted two parcels of land from the Village Improvement Society near the Rts. 31 and 44A intersection. It also voted to have a quarterly meeting June 17 and a workshop session on June 23 on the upcoming Lake Rehabilitation Study Committee report on health and safety. It has also proposed a meeting with state Department of Environmental Protection representative Robert Taylor, head of the Water Compliance and Hazardous Substances section on June 17. In a letter to the council dated May 13 Taylor said he was anxious to discuss with town officials their plans for resolving Coventry's pollution problems.

The council voted to request the police chief to implement a new personnel deployment scheduled as recommended by Councilman Carilli. It requested Chief Robert Kjellquist to make the change as soon as possible and report back to the council after its implementation on whether it is satisfactory. The change would stagger part-time shifts and cost about $80 more plus mileage, according to estimates by the council.

The council referred a resolution on the acceptance and discontinuance of town roads back facilities from the proposal, transferring that sum to the high school for outside lighting at the tennis courts it also added $200 to public safety for town-supplied guns and holsters for two part-time patrolmen now using their own weapons.

VERNON

Plans to allow the Rockville High School Band to go to Washington, D. C. to participate this month in bicentennial activities have been abandoned by Edwin DeGroat, band leader.

DeGroat told the Board of Education Monday night that Congressman Christopher Dodd, who issued the invitation to the band, is out of the country and plans for the event are not well organized.

Due to the short notice concerning the invitation for June 16, DeGroat had made a plea for financial help from the board and any interested townspeople. He said some $500 was received and this money will be returned to the donors.

DeGroat said in light of the economic situation he felt plans for the trip should be withdrawn. Last week the Town Council agreed to recommend that the Board of Education use some of its surplus to help finance the trip. DeGroat thanked the board, the council, and the townspeople for their consideration. Also planning a trip was the camping and hiking group of the Vocational-Agricultural School at Rockville High. This group was just seeking permission for the two-day trip to the Appalachian Trail.

The board was told Monday night that permission was not necessary as the young people involved had asked that the trip be postponed until next fall.

Prospective members are welcome to participate on any race day. Present club members are always ready to help newcomers learn the techniques and rules involved.

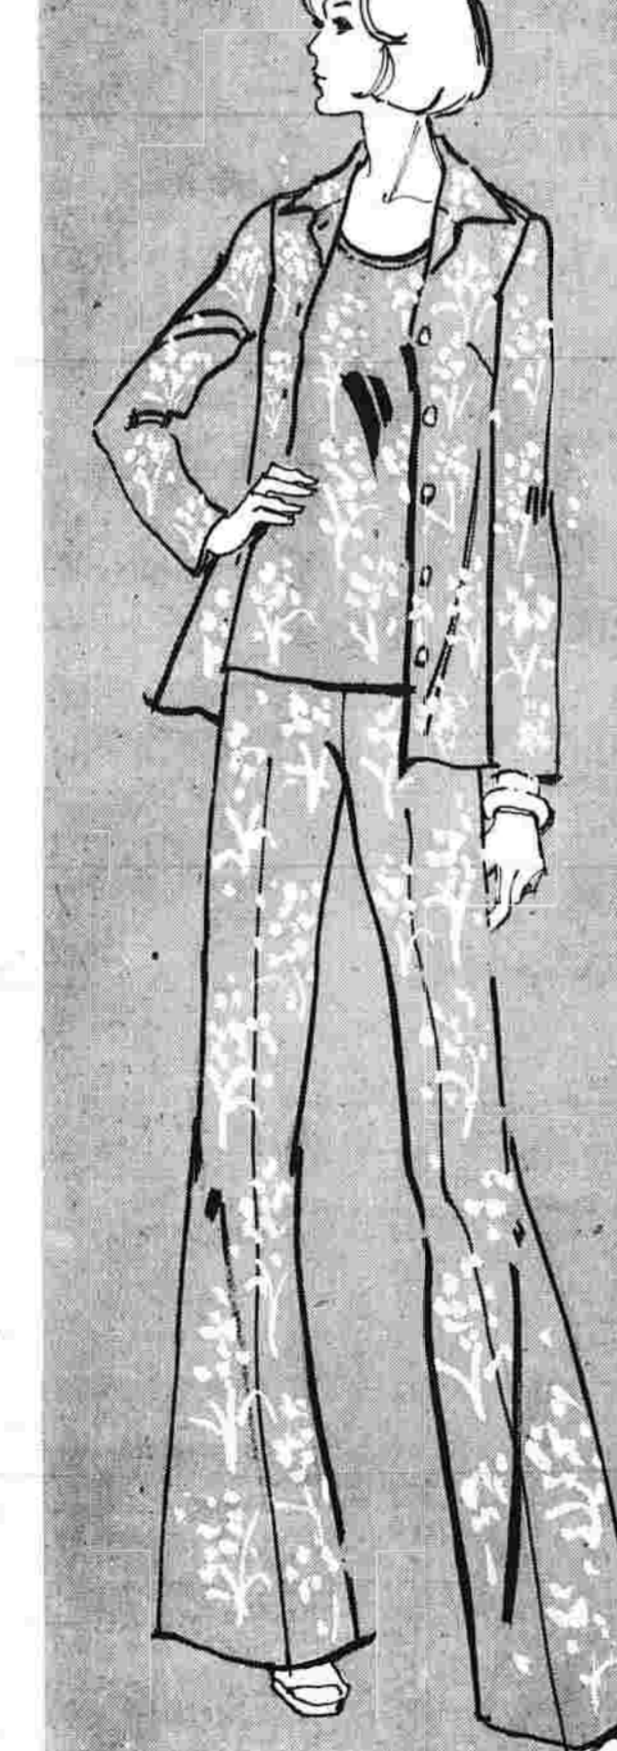

Further information about the regatta or club may be obtained by calling Steve Langford, 644-9069.

The Gilead Hill Elementary School 4th grade bicentennial choir will be singing three original songs along with a variety of folk, classical and bluegrass Friday at 7 p.m. at the Hartford Arts Festival at the shell on Constitution Plaza.

The 4th grade Hop River String Band will accompany the group.

Action Delayed On Tuition at Summer School

VERNON

A motion to charge tuition fees for summer school programs in the Vernon School system was tabled by the Board of Education Monday night. It is known whether the $330,000 proposed cut in its budget is approved by the voters.

Ronald Kozuch, supervisor of the Continuing Education Department, presented budget figures estimated for the coming year.

On the elementary level the program would run 24 days, three hours per day and would require six teachers. Teachers would receive $7.50 an hour. For the 72 hours involved, the salary for each teacher would be $540 or a total estimated program cost of $39,240.

For the workshop at the Middle School which would run one and one-half hours a day for 15 days, the cost would be $675. This would involve salaries for four teachers at the same $7.50 pay.

The cost of the high school program would run less than the elementary one. This would also involve 24 school days but just two hours a day. Salaries for seven teachers would amount to $2,520. Supplies etc. would cost some $200. The total for all three programs would be an estimated $6,670.

Kozuch was asked by board member Betsy Steele if he thought charging tuition would mean the program would lose students. Kozuch said five years ago the board had to charge tuition fees and the enrollment in the elementary program dropped considerably but there was little difference in the high school enrollment.

High School students mostly go to summer school to make up credits they need to graduate.

Another board member, Steven Marcham, asked what the tuition fee would likely be if it became necessary to charge. Kozuch said five years ago it was a $15 charge for elementary students and $20 for high school. He said the cost really depends upon the number of students registered. He added that all that is needed is just enough to pay the teachers' salaries.

The tuition charges would be figured by taking the number of students enrolled in a course and dividing that number into the cost of the teacher.

Robert Dubeau moved to charge the tuition fee.

Charles Brisson, business manager for the school system, explained that the town was being paid $1.39 per pupil per day in Average Daily Membership (ADM) grants. He cautioned the board that if it changes to charging tuition this summer that no ADM aid will be paid next year.

Dubeau explained that his concern is with the proposed budget "which is somewhat in limbo." He said he doesn't feel that the board can afford to expend the money for summer school.

The school board has to put its budget to a vote of the summer school. ADM grants are always paid the following year after the money is expended. When the grant money comes in it goes to the general town fund and not back to the board.

Kozuch explained that high school students know they have to make up credits so they manage to pay a tuition fee. He said he felt if no more than $20 were charged there wouldn't be a problem at that level.

Marcham then called for amending Dubeau's motion to have only the high school program charge tuition and that be set at $20.

He said he feels it is unfortunate that the current political climate has the board into a situation where it is already starting to hurt programs.

He said, "And the people we're hurting is that segment which can probably least afford the cost." He said he offered his amendment as a compromise so the town would not lose all the youth officers and traffic men. Each will be able to fulfill any role, he said.

Chief Drumm credits the team effort with the significant drop in violent crimes in East Hartford.

The Street Department has scheduled a number of streets to be patched this summer and certain trouble spots will be resurfaced with a milling machine that grinds off the surface before the road is recoated. There are roughly seven such areas and the Street Department crew expects to complete this project in one day with a rented machine for the milling.

The Sanitation Division men were commended by Mulligan for their service to the town's 16,000 residents. Despite the tight economy, East Hartford residents are disposing of 5,900 tons of trash a month and without a complaint to Mr. Mulligan's office about the town is doing a big business in glass recycling. The town profits about $5,000 a year from the glass collection.

Old newspapers are being collected but there is no market for them. Mulligan said he hopes this situation will improve soon.

The council will have a public hearing on the Human Rights ordinance June 17. During the summer the council will meet once a month on the third Tuesday of July and August.

Police Reorganization, Road Plans Explained to East Hartford Council

Sheila Tuller 249-2283

East Hartford's Town Council had an unusually light agenda Tuesday. Because of this, the council had an opportunity to hear reports from the police chief and public works director.

Police Chief Clarence Drumm explained a reorganization of the Police Department and said newly implemented plans are highly successful.

Instead of a policeman working the traditional shift and pounding the traditional beat, Drumm said his men are now training and working as teams and covering the town in newly divided sections. Each team covers its section, north or south of I-84, with teams overlapping during peak activity hours.

In the future, Chief Drumm plans to move five detectives to the teams and five team men into the detective bureau until all men have rotated. In this way all 91 policemen will be efficient detectives, patrolmen, youth officers, and traffic men. Each will be able to fulfill any role, he said.

ON SECOND THOUGHT By JAN WARREN

Did You See The Cat In The Window? The other day as I was driving down Main St. there was a big crowd standing outside Watkin's window.

I knew what was going on without stopping. A grammar school art show - a blue ribbon event in Manchester.

Now - the Guggenheim at the Metropolitan may spell success to some artists but to our young local artists in Grades 3-6 success means having your art work selected to be displayed in Watkin's window.

Fortunately all of our kids have won a spot in that prestigious window. So for us the competition is over: I can breathe freely and just relax and enjoy the show.

Tom made it years ago with a painting of a fierce Tyrannosaurus. Sara with a surrealistic bowl of fruit; John, who positively shone as a sculptor, earned the front and center position for his clay elephant when he was in the second grade.

For Kate, getting into the window was a very special kind of triumph. She almost didn't make it and the whole situation caused us great concern.

It began one night when Kate was in the fourth grade and announced at the dinner table with an important swing of her pigtail.

"I think my picture of Frisky is going to be in Watkin's window." "Great!" said her father. "We're proud of you."

"Actually I just THINK it's going to be there," amended Kate. "My teacher is still deciding. She has two pictures to choose from."

Every day for the next week, Kate reported on the status of the two cat pictures. Tom was rising and was not helped the day her big sister came home and said, "I saw the cat pictures and I like the other one best!"

Finally the decision was reached. "The teacher is going to use BOTH cat pictures and most of the kids think mine is the cutest," said Kate looking directly at her sister.

It poured on the day the window was ready for viewing. But we all went down anyway and Francis E. Phillips of Vernon will be the guest speaker at 12 years, president of the Rockville Little League, and associated with the Babe Ruth League for seven years.

Dear Abby

Tears Will Bring Siblings Together By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I just read about the mother who was brokenhearted because her son and daughter (both married with families) hadn't spoken to each other for years and were the reason she could not have complete family get-togethers.

If my own experience means anything, tell that mother not to worry. Events that they'll make up. And although she won't live to see it, she will be the cause of it, because it will take place at her funeral.

Since everyone will be crying, anyway, the two who finally decided to make up won't be conspicuous - even though they'll be crying twice as hard as everyone else. And with good reason.

DEAR ABBY: I wonder how many others have to bury a relative before they bury the hatchet? It's something to think about, all right. Thanks for a timely reminder. (N.A., Charley?)

DEAR ABBY: My best friend is getting married soon, and I am her maid-of-honor. I am trying to talk her out of a crazy plan she has that sounds ridiculous to me, but maybe I am wrong.

DEAR BEST: Keep trying to convince her that YOU are right, because you are.

DEAR ABBY: TICKLED wrote, protesting her husband's habit of holding her down, tickling her ribs and feet, until she becomes hysterical and thinking it's all just jolly fun.

Well, it isn't. It's torture. I know because my husband used to do this to me until I literally dampened his enthusiasm for this kind of "fun" when I lost control of my bladder on HIS side of the bed when he had me pinned down.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "CAN I SUE?" You can sue for anything, but whether you can collect is another matter. I read that a man went to a hospital for a hemorrhoid operation, and, by mistake, they straightened his nose. He sued and collected.

Everyone has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply, write to ABBY: Box No. 69700, L.A., Calif. 90069. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope, please.

Board May Reduce Summer Schedule

Manchester's Board of Directors, which traditionally reduces its meeting scheduled summer months, will meet only once in July and once in August, Mayor John Thompson said.

The annual decision to eliminate the second meeting in those two months, which came up Tuesday night, wasn't as predetermined as usual.

Mayor John Thompson, chairman of the Board of Directors, moved for one-a-month meetings in July and August.

But day-to-day government goes on, even in the summer," Director Carl Zinsser responded, opposing cancellation of two meetings.

"The board works hard and deserves a few nights off," Director Vince Ferguson said.

"We should meet twice, rather than have things piling

There are many things we might tell you about the methods we use in our funeral service. But, after all, it isn't what our clients say, it is what our families say. If we can please the families we serve, our own commitments about our work are unimportant. Naturally we are pleased when compliments about our funeral service drift back to us.

Four Drain Projects Out For Bid

Manchester's $2 million storm drainage improvement program, approved by the highway department in a continuing with one project finished and four more out to bid. Public Works Director Jay Giles has reported.

Giles said the four projects — including drainage systems on Keeney St., Adelaide Rd., Hills St., Doyal St., Hilliard St., and Woodland St. — have been designed by town employees, and bids are expected June 18.

The completed project was an installation on Alexander and St. John Sts. accomplished by the highway department a month ago.

The town engineering department is surveying and designing several other storm drainage projects, Giles said.

Giles said he expects that several of the major projects will be ready for bidding and group to begin in early July. The entire program is to be finished by the end of the 1977 construction season, he said.

Two private engineering firms have been selected to study and design two major project areas, Giles said. Griswold & Foss Inc. has been retained for the Loyal Brook and Bigelow Brook areas, and Metcalf & Eddy Inc. has been retained for the other areas.

There are many things we might tell you about the methods we use in our funeral service. But, after all, it isn't what our clients say, it is what our families say. If we can please the families we serve, our own commitments about our work are unimportant. Naturally we are pleased when compliments about our funeral service drift back to us.

Fiano's Now Essex

The 42-unit Fiano's Motor Inn at 100 E. Center St. is now the Essex Motor Inn.

Carl Bliss of East Hartford and Arthur Bentley of Glastonbury, the new owners, filed a quitclaim deed Tuesday conveying the two-story motel from the Savings Bank of Manchester to the two men.

Total price paid for the $300,000 as shown by the conveyance tax. The two men also filed a mortgage in the town clerk's office for $270,000 taken from the bank.

Bliss is vice president of Eastern Specialty Bearings Inc., a Glastonbury firm of about a half dozen employees but with an international market, Bliss said.

Bentley has been in the radio business in the Hartford area for 25 years and recently opened Bentley Stereo in Glastonbury.

Bentley has bought and sold residential property in Manchester in the past. The Essex Motor Inn is their first joint venture.

"Right now, our only plans are to make the Essex go," Bliss said this morning.

"We will perk up the housekeeping. We will be aggressive about going after business. We'll contact all those people who may need a nice place to stay."

"If we give the people what they deserve in a motel, it should be successful."

Valentino R. Fiano, Bolton real estate broker and developer, built the motel in 1968. It opened in September that year.

Each unit has double beds, color TV, and its own air conditioning and heating controls. When it opened it received an "All Electric Building Award" from the Hartford Electric Light Co.

It has banquet and meeting rooms and a small, self-service kitchen.

The bank assumed ownership and operation of the motel in January of this year after foreclosing on the mortgage with Fiano.

"The bank put the motel on the market right away for $425,000. The Town of Manchester considered purchase of the motel for conversion to elderly housing. The total cost per unit was considered too high.

The motel is assessed by the town for $239,170 as of Oct. 1. Bliss and Bentley formed the Whiteledge Corp. in order to buy the motel. The corporate office is in Bliss' home in East Hartford.

On Nov. 10, 1975 Congress established what is now the Marine Corps, to be distinguished by names of first and second battalions of American Marines." These original battalions consisted of one colonel, two lieutenant colonels, two majors and other officers and men "of an equal number" with other battalions. "They were to be 'good seamen' so that they could serve at sea as well as on land. The World Almanac notes.

40-Year Record Ended

Records are made to be broken and one track standard of 40 years was erased this week for a Manchester High runner when Scott Moffat was clocked in 1:56.9 for the 880-yard run. The record was held by George Leary and set in 1935. Moffat established the mark in the State Class A Meet in Southington and despite his record-shattering performance had to be content with a sixth placement. Leary was the older of the two brothers who gained many laurels at Manchester High under Coach Pete Wigren before moving on to Fordham University. Fran Leary followed brother George in compiling many personal achievements in track. Fran Leary has turned to tennis as a hobby in recent years. The Rec Department's junior soccer program will serve as an incubator for high school and junior high teams in future years. Doug Pearson, assistant coach at Manchester High, capably supervises the program. Joe Banning, former East Catholic High second baseman, has hooked on with Vernon in the Two Baseball League as well as former Eagle teammate John McKoon. Saturday's Wide World of Sports will include the NCAA Volleyball Championships from Los Angeles. Keith Erickson, former Los Angeles Laker and now with Phoenix, and a U.S. Olympic volleyball team member in 1960, will describe the action.

Eight Undefeated Leaders

Starting the week, eight of the 10 leaders in Rec Department softball play boasted undefeated records and two clubs shared the top spot in the Eastern League with spotless standards, Jim's and Lathrop's. Congratulations are due Coach Bob Prime and his East Catholic High golf team which capped the State CIAC Division II title. A year ago the Eagles lost the title by one point. This time around the victory margin was one point. Tom Conran reports the Manchester Elks will host Manchester High athletes Thursday night at a variety lettermen's banquet at the Elks Home. A year ago the banquet was picketed by female athletes. Tonight the Crestfield Convalescent Home will host the girl athletes at the Colony. Wally Cichon and Bob Shaeffer at Ellington Ridge Country Club are both Class A PGA pros as are Alex Hackney and Ralph DeVicco at the Manchester Country Club. Bob Clark, current club golf champion, carries three handicaps at Ellington Ridge. First and second rounds in the Governor's Cup Golf Tournament will be played Saturday and Sunday at the Manchester Country Club. Ice time at the Bolton Ice Palace will be raised from $90 to $100 an hour next season, the Manchester Youth Hockey Association reports. Talk Burgess of Manchester will launch his new sports shop on WEXT Monday night at 6:05 to 7 o'clock.

Notes Off the Cuff

Former South Windsor High and Maryland center Tom Roy is anxiously looking forward to making the grade with Portland in the NBA. The elongated Nutmegger was a third-round pick in the recent draft. Former minor league pitcher Tim Flaherty is listed on the roster of the Vernon Orioles in the Two League. Flaherty, plagued by wildness, has been in the Pittsburgh Pirates farm system two seasons. Gary Waslewski, former major leaguer who was slated to join Moriarty's again this season, is out with an ailing leg. Girls' track at Manchester High received a big boost this season mainly through the efforts of Coach Barry Bernstein who reported faithfully all meets and performances of his charges.

Davis To Be Traded

BALTIMORE (UPI) — Texas centerfielder Willie Davis, acquired over the winter from the Montreal Expos, will be traded soon, Ranger Manager Billy Martin said Tuesday night.

Davis failed to make the trip from Arlington, Tex., to Baltimore for Tuesday's game against the Orioles, club officials said. When asked if he would suspend Davis, Martin said: "No, we're going to trade him."

Davis' had financial differences with Texas owner David Corbett, a source close to the team said.

NBA Awaits First Ruling

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Larry O'Brien makes his first ruling today as commissioner of the National Basketball Association and it's almost a foregone conclusion that he will nullify the New York Knicks' signing of George McGinnis to a $2.9 million contract because it violates the league's constitution.

The NBA general managers passed a resolution Tuesday requesting O'Brien to make a "decisive" ruling in the McGinnis case and former Commissioner Walter Kennedy got into the act in his role as consultant to the commissioner by saying "there is no way the league can approve" the deal.

McGinnis played the last four seasons with Indiana of the rival American Basketball Association before jumping to sign with New York. That move has been all right except the Philadelphia 76ers hold draft rights to McGinnis in the NBA and they will go to court to get him.

"The only way the league can approve New York's signing of McGinnis," said Kennedy, "is by an affirmative vote of the board. My personal feeling is that the board will not look on favor with the signing, although it could if it so desired."

Also to be decided, and probably this week while the NBA is still in session here, is New York's controversial signing of Eddie Donovan as general manager when he still had time left on his contract with Buffalo. The Braves have asked O'Brien to reverse the signing, claiming the Knicks tampered with Donovan while he was still under contract to them.

Meanwhile, the general managers passed a resolution calling for a vote of a third official in all regular season and playoff games. While the resolution was well founded, there is doubt the board will adopt such legislation, since it means league workers have to hire an additional nine officials and pay them between $17,000 and $35,000 a year.

Whalers Pick Eight Players

HARTFORD (UPI) — Looking for strength up front, the New England Whalers picked seven forwards among Division II players they selected in the World Hockey Association junior draft.

Bennet Mythical Track Kings After Trouncing Illing, 68-36

Two unbeaten track teams met yesterday at Pete Wigren Track and when the final results were in, it was Bennet Junior High mythical town champion with a 68-36 victory over cross-town Illing.

Bennet winds up the year 8-0 while Illing must settle for a 7-1 mark. Bennet's Percy Pet won the discus and shot put, established a school record in the latter with a toss of 43-feet 2-inches, breaking teammate Del Knowles' week old barrier.

Craig Kearney took the high jump and 220 for Bennet and Ulisses Orduz tied his own school mark in the 440. Double winners for Illing were Gary Burby in the long jump and javelin and Wes Fedorchak in the mile and 880. MB Big Innings Sink Merchants

Two big frames and six-hit pitching by Dave Bidwell sparked Moriarty's to a second straight Tie League baseball win last night at M. Nebo. The Gas Houseurs downed West Hartford, 8-2, in their home debut.

The locals tallied three times in the second inning and put the decision away with five runs in the fifth.

Meanwhile, Bidwell, tall right-hander making his league debut, was moving down the Merchants. The invaders rallied in the sixth frame for two runs to a whitewash.

Pele To Boost Sport Of Soccer in USA

NEW YORK (UPI) — Because of the opportunity to make soccer a major sport in the United States, as well as a rich contract, Pele, 34, and in retirement in Brazil for the past year, has agreed to return to soccer as a player for the New York Cosmos of the North American Soccer League.

"He has not yet signed the contract, but he has assured us he will, and he always keeps his word," said Cosmos General Manager Clive Toyne in announcing Pele's decision late Tuesday. "We shall not disclose the amount of money involved."

It was believed the contract would pay taxes on his earnings, just as any other person does, he pays for his children's schooling, and we are not giving him the use of a yacht," said Toyne, referring to various reports of what Pele had been offered. "I have seen a lot of figures reported which are grossly inaccurate and inflated."

"Pele will pay taxes on his earnings, just as any other person does, he pays for his children's schooling, and we are not giving him the use of a yacht," said Toyne, referring to various reports of what Pele had been offered. "I have seen a lot of figures reported which are grossly inaccurate and inflated."

Others who made it included former Open champion Julius Barbor and Gene Litterer, Mike Baros, Ben Crenshaw and Larry Wadkins.

Two former Open champions, Ken Venturi and Ed Furgol, joined Casper on the sidelines. Other non-qualifiers included Chi Chi Rodriguez and Bob Charles.

Lee Elder, the first black to play in the Masters, also failed to qualify at Charlotte but another black pioneer, Charley Siford, had a little more success. Siford, the PGA Senior champion who quit the tour last winter to take a club job, led five qualifiers at Washington, where the entrants are headed by six members of the victorious U.S. Walker Cup team.

South African Bobby Cole, who had shot 145 for 36 holes.

There still is a chance, however slight, that Casper — the Open champion in 1959 and 1966 and a winner of 51 other events — can slip in as an alternate should one of the qualifiers withdraw.

Sam Snead, at 63 still hoping to win the one major title that has eluded him throughout his career, was among the 50 players who qualified Tuesday at Charlotte. He had a 66 in his morning 18 and slipped to 76 when his weary legs began giving out in the afternoon but his 142 total still made it in by three strokes.

With most of the non-exempt tour regulars in the qualifying field at Charlotte, medalist honors went to Terry Dill and Kermit Zarley who each shot 72 under par 138 totals.

Billy Casper Fails In Open Qualifying

NEW YORK (UPI) — Billy Casper, a two-time champion, probably will be just a spectator this year at the U.S. Open.

Casper, who proved he still can play with the youngsters when he won the New Orleans Open a couple of weeks ago to clinch a spot on the Ryder Cup team, was the biggest casualty Tuesday in sectional qualifying for the U.S. Open.

Gold's No. 3 all-time money-winner, Casper bogged the second hole of a sudden death playoff for the final qualifying spot at Charlotte, N.C., and found himself listed as an alternate for the Open instead of a competitor.

Casper had shot 145 for 36 holes.

There still is a chance, however slight, that Casper — the Open champion in 1959 and 1966 and a winner of 51 other events — can slip in as an alternate should one of the qualifiers withdraw.

Giants Not On Market

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Horace Stenham has pulled down the "for sale" sign and San Francisco Giants baseball club and will tough it out through the 1975 season.

There have been at least a half dozen substantial offers to purchase the Giants since Stenham announced three weeks ago that he was willing to sell his share in the club, which is close to 70 per cent. However, none was for the asking price, believed to be in the $17-18 million range, so Stenham has decided to keep on going and hope for the best.

There also were a couple of offers which Stenham rejected out of hand, including one of $11 million by San Francisco millionaire sportsman Bob Lurie. Reportedly, Chub Feeney, the National League president and Stenham's nephew, was part of the Lurie group, but Feeney denied, for obvious conflict of interest reasons, that he was involved.

Others who made it included former Open champion Julius Barbor and Gene Litterer, Mike Baros, Ben Crenshaw and Larry Wadkins.

Two former Open champions, Ken Venturi and Ed Furgol, joined Casper on the sidelines. Other non-qualifiers included Chi Chi Rodriguez and Bob Charles.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (UPI) — Harvard University has added 89 "letterpersons" to its varsity athletic honor roll.

The university's Standing Committee on Athletics has voted to bestow Harvard varsity letters upon qualified Radcliffe athletes, retroactive to the start of the 1974 academic year. The rulings also allows women to become members of the Harvard Varsity Club.

The initial group of 89 Radcliffe students will receive the varsity letter "H" for their performances during the 1974-75 athletic seasons.

3,631st Base Hit by Mihaucsek's Hank Aaron

NEW YORK (UPI) — At first the only noise was for Fred Lynn, but now Jim Rice is making it a two-man Boston Red Sox assault on the American League Rookie-of-the-Year Award.

Rice, the Red Sox designated hitter, was somewhat overshadowed by Lynn—a more polished all-around performer during spring training and in the season's early going. Still, Boston Manager Darrell Johnson could hardly overlook those 20 homers, 30 RBIs and .337 average at AAA Pawtucket last year, and despite a dismal spring, Rice beat out veteran Deron Johnson for the Red Sox DL job.

Tuesday night, with the help of Johnson's old bat, Rice belted his third homer in four days and drove in three runs to help Boston defeat Chicago, 4-0, behind the three-hit pitching of seldom-used right-hander Dick Pole. The 2-for-4 night lifted

Sewer Study Unit Recommends Uniform Front-Foot Assessment

By DOUG BEVINS

Manchester's Blue Ribbon Sewer Commission has recommended a uniform, townwide front-foot assessment plan for new sewer installations and an unspecified increase in the outlet charges for property owners preparing to connect to the sewer system.

The committee's report, presented to town directors Tuesday night, also suggests a policy of no deferred assessments. It calls for more maintenance and reconstruction funding, and suggests creation of either an advisory sewer agency or a Water and Sewer Authority.

The 11-member sewer committee has been studying town sewer procedures since November. Its recommendations are to be decided by the Board of Directors. There is no deadline for action.

The proposed uniform, townwide assessment plan would replace the existing Manchester procedure of basing sewer assessments on the cost of each sewer project.

The committee recommended continuation of existing rules on deferred payments, whereby property owners can delay payments five years, paying only the interest costs in the interim.

The committee said sewer financing methods should continue to be at the discretion of the Board of Directors, and that operation and maintenance of the sewer system should continue to be funded by operating revenues.

Consideration should be given to asking the next Charter Revision Commission to study and make a recommendation on the possible need for more "institutionalized" citizen participation in water and sewer concerns of the town," the report also stated.

The committee said this could be accomplished by creation of an advisory group, such as the present Advisory Recreation and Park Commission, or by establishment of a Town Water and Sewer Authority as allowed by state statute.

The Board of Directors now acts as the Water and Sewer Authority. Calling attention to the age and condition of Manchester's relatively old sewer system, the committee said, "Maintenance and reconstruction needs are obvious and should be faced up with adequate financing and priority determinations."

The Blue Ribbon committee was headed by Beldon Schaffer. Other members were Elizabeth Emerson, Charles Buton, John Honor, Barney Peterman, Robert Spillane, William Dana, Benton Bartlett, Jack Hunter, Clarence Weltim and Leonard Seader.

Directors accepted the committee's report without comment Tuesday night.

ENVIRONMENTAL EDUCATION

By JUAN SANCHEZ

Most of us who enjoy nature's beauties and mysteries recognize that many of them are discovered quite by accident while we are seeking other contacts with our environment. So it was with me while strolling along the lower trail at the Nature Center.

I realized that parts of the stream bed were covered with hundreds of small fresh-water sponges. The sponge is an animal, of course, although most of us think of it as something manufactured by DuPont. Similar to their salt water relatives which are harvested in great numbers for domestic uses, the fresh-water sponge is much smaller and, at first glance, less conspicuous.

Hundreds of adults and students who visited the center this past fall must have seen these organisms. However, because of their irregular growth pattern and the fact that they had attached themselves directly to the rocky stream bottom, I'm sure that few people recognized them as animals.

Sponges grow as colonies. To complicate matters, the colonies are filled with a green pigment, making them appear very much like moss or algae. The green, in fact, is an alga, a simple water plant, which is living in the body of the sponge. I was happy to see them, for sponges indicate clean water. They are common around reservoirs. They probably washed down from the Howard Reservoir which is about a mile upstream from us.

Once these interesting animals start to colonize a rock they remain fixed. They sit in the flowing current and strain water that passes through their porous bodies. In this way they get food, microorganisms and nutrients. The sponge has no real means of defense although its body is filled with numerous needle-like spicules which tend to ward off other "hungry" animals.

There is one animal, the spongivora fly, that can avoid the spicules. The larva of this fly actually spends part of its life as a parasite living in the body of the sponge and sucking its juices. I searched nearby rocks in vain for the net-like cocoons of the fly larva but could not find any. The spongivora fly is so dependent upon the sponge that it can not complete its life cycle without one.

The events described here occurred last fall. The sponge colonies died off for the winter. Now that the weather has warmed up we are again looking for the colonies. We plan to make a careful study of the sponge and of the fly that depends upon it for its life.

This is one of many interesting and fascinating interrelationships that occurs in nature. It is just one facet of the outdoors that we attempt to expose students to.

For those of you who have never seen a live sponge, there is still time. The animal is not in a cage, it is not in a zoo; it is in its natural habitat...the fresh water stream.

The staff of the Center for Environmental Education will be working diligently this summer researching the aquatic organisms that we find at the center and the ecological niches into which they fit.

SOCIAL SECURITY

Q. I am going to apply for Supplemental Security Income. My son, who is 16, is blind. Would he be eligible, too?
A. He may be. Supplemental Security Income (SSI) can be made to a blind or disabled child, or to someone on a child's behalf. You should contact the Social Security office for further information.

Q. My sister and brother-in-law have a disabled son. He applies for SSI, how will their income and resources affect his eligibility?
A. If he is under 18, or under 21 and a student, and he lives with his parents, their income and resources will be considered in determining his eligibility for SSI.

Q. I get Social Security payments as a student. Starting this month, I'll be working full time until summer vacation. How will my earnings affect my payments?
A. If you earn $2,520 or less for the year, your benefits won't be affected. If you earn more, your payments will be reduced $1 for each $2 over $2,520. But regardless of your total 1975 earnings, you can get your full Social Security payment for any month in which you neither have a disabled son, nor do substantial work in your own business.

Q. I'm enrolled in both parts of Medicare and I need new dentures. Will Medicare pay for them?
A. No. Medicare does not pay for such items as dentures, hearing aids or eye glasses.

Q. I recently received my Medicare card, but it has my husband's Social Security number on it. Since I have my own Social Security number, shouldn't it be on my card?
A. Not necessarily. The number on your card is determined by the work record under which you have your Social Security coverage. If you are drawing benefits as a wife, your card will have your husband's Social Security number on it until summer vacation. If you are drawing benefits as a widow, your card will show his number with a "D" after it.

Monica Shea

The second in a series of three meals in a pilot program sponsored by the Committee on the Needs of the Aging in cooperation with the Board of Education will be Thursday at the Coventry High School cafeteria beginning at 11:45 a.m.

Reservations must be made today by calling Mrs. Elsa McKusick at 742-6542.

Last week 25 seniors took part in the first luncheon at the high school and after lunch the group held its regular meeting in the school library where members were formally greeted by Dr. Arnold Elman, superintendent of schools, and Milton Wilde, principal.

If these visits prove successful, and there is sufficient interest in the program, it will be set up on a regular basis for next year so that seniors could lunch with the high school students periodically.

Consumer Agency Will Publicize Code Violators

HARTFORD (UPI) — Consumer Protection Commissioner Mary M. Heslin says she is going to publicize names of meat dealers violating Connecticut sanitary regulations because they require repeated inspection and cost taxpayers money.

"It's merely telling the truth," she said Tuesday in the face of charges of "harassment" brought by the Connecticut Independent Meat Dealers Association. Mrs. Heslin said she found that some stores have a history of violations two and three years old.

He has been honored previously by his alma mater with a Robert H. Goddard Award for "outstanding professional achievement" in 1967, and an honorary doctor of engineering in 1969.

Condominium Sewer Project Okayed

By DOUG BEVINS

Manchester's Board of Directors agreed Tuesday night to grant a permit to First Hartford Realty Corp. to install sanitary sewers for a planned 60-unit condominium complex at Lyall St. and Greenwood Dr.

Construction of the sewer will be under a developer's agreement — with First Hartford to pay the entire cost (about $85,000) and collecting from those users tying into the system within 10 years. Those tying in after 10 years would pay the town.

Directors voted their approval after hearing comments from Atty. Jules Karp, representing the developer, that "delay costs waste of thousands of dollars."

The matter had been on the directors' agenda for a month, and decision had been delayed due to questions from nearby property owners.

The sewer, to serve First Hartford's Forest Ridge Condominiums, will start at Lyall St. and Equare Dr., runs to Vernon St. with a 150-foot spur north on Vernon St., then continues east about 500 feet on Lyall St. to the development.

In other business Tuesday night, directors:

- Heard few comments on allocations considered in public hearings, and reserved decision on the allocations. The allocations include $9,500 to maintain twice-a-week garbage pickup through September and $60,000 to pave E. Middle Tpk. and Kenney St.
- Authorized Town Treasurer Roger Negro to open savings accounts at First Federal Savings, Connecticut Bank & Trust, Hartford National Bank & Trust, Manchester State Bank, and United Bank & Trust. Negro said the town may lose free services provided by those banks unless money is deposited with them.
- Voted to "re-recognize" the Manchester Swim Club as a private organization, but Citizens Advisory Committee until next Tuesday.
- Discussed a number of "new business" items which will come before the board next month, on the first Tuesday to hold public hearings and consider unfinished business, and on the second Tuesday to consider new business.

Warren McGuinness, civil preparedness director for Hebron, will be the guest speaker at the American Legion Auxiliary tonight at 8 o'clock.

Cable TV Begins Newington Phase

Greater Hartford CATV, Inc., which brought cable television to Manchester earlier this year, has begun the second phase of its construction program. A microwave tower and 79 miles of cable installation in Newington.

The firm, based at 801 Parker St. in Manchester, started work in Newington Monday and expects to complete construction in early fall. The cable TV system is expected to become operational in that town in October.

Greater Hartford CATV is licensed by the state Public Utilities Commission to serve Manchester, Newington, Glastonbury, West Hartford and Rocky Hill. Manchester is the only town now receiving service.

Company officials estimate that the cable installation in Newington will cost about $6,800 to $8,000 per mile. When it's finished, the coaxial cable will pass about 7,000 homes in that town.

The Manchester cable system totals about 139 miles and is capable of serving about 12,500 homes. There are now about 1,600 subscribers to the service, and General Manager Vincent Kings estimates a total of 3,500 subscribers by the end of this year.

The company is proposing, but hasn't received approval for, a substitution microwave tower in Cedar Mountain in Newington. The tower would receive processed TV signals from a similar tower on Manchester's Parker St., conveying them to Newington homes.

An application to construct the 75-foot-high tower in Newington's Planning and Zoning Commission. A decision is expected this month.

STAMPS AND COINS

By RUSS MacKENDRICK

Shanahan's! A magic name 20 years ago that finally brought financial grief to thousands of stamp investors. It even touched a few in this City of Village Charm.

These four catalogs are among my souvenirs because there but for the grace of being-broke-at-the-time, go I. The May issue of the American Philatelic Society's journal has an article telling of the "disastrous multimillion-dollar investment scheme." ("The Fabulous Fat Man," by George Henhoefler)

At the time of the debacle (1959) it was believed that Shanahan's was doing more dollar volume than all the rest of the world's stamp auctions combined.

Jerry Shanahan and his son, Desmond, were running a modest furniture and antique operation in Dublin in 1954, when they were approached by a Sidney Greenstreet-type character named Paul Singer, who suggested expanding into the field of rare postage stamps.

Actually Dr. (of political science) Singer knew very little about stamps. A philatelic writer of the time moaned that he could have done much the same with shoelaces, hogs, or dried figs, and why didn't he?

As it happened, the Shanahans and Dr. Singer pooled their resources of $560 and in five years there was a rumored bid of $28 million for the set-up.

The services they offered were unrivaled. There was a Stop-Loss Insurance, a Hire-Purchase Plan, and a Collection Picking Plan. The real stinger, the Double Barrel Plan, guaranteed investment profits with returns every six months. At $28 per unit you could join a mini-syndicate that would buy auction lots and recycle them. This last scheme plus a little hard luck brought about the downfall.

With some 15,000 investors watching the newsbreaks, there was a robbery at the auction rooms with a reported loss of over a million in stamp stock — not insured. A "run on the bank" ensued and the end was inevitable.

The key to the rapid growth of the firm was the fact that Singer paid crazy prices and got some world-famous collections. These were broken up and put to auction with 10 per cent commission taken from the buyer. If the stamps were put up again, there was another 10 per cent for selling plus 10 per cent from the second buyer.

This was just fine as long as confidence and volume held up, but when the thing toppled, there were losses of nearly four million dollars.

One of the catalogs shown here is dated May 30, 1959 — the last sale ever held. Just inside the cover is a gloating story (now pathetic) and a picture of Dr. Singer in a handshake with M. Burrus, who had just sold him a mammoth hoard of stamps at over twice their value (as estimated by a contemporary American dealer).

Singer was first sentenced to 14 years for fraud, but it was found that one of the jurors had a loss at Shanahan's and he got a new trial. Finally in January, 1962, he was found not guilty and walked out a free man to vanish into the unknown with his wife.

Babes in the woods they were not, however, as the purported stashes in Canada and Switzerland totaled over two million dollars...Peace...

If you want a Bicentennial gold coin, write your representatives to support Mark Hatfield's bill, S1712. There is a good precedent: In 1925 we had a commemorative gold quarter eagle.

The Manchester Philatelic Society will have its annual meeting at Mott's on June 10 from 7 to 10 p.m. They plan to have circuit book get-together throughout the summer months.

MANCHESTER
Bernard G. Pacekonis, 24, of 40 Olcott St., was arrested Tuesday at 1:55 p.m. and charged with operating a motor vehicle while his license is suspended.

He was released on a $100 non-surety bond for appearance in Common Pleas Court 12 in East Hartford June 17.

Breaks and thefts include:
• The A.C. Petersen luncheonette at 238 N. Main St. Tuesday night. The tips from the last few days, a total of about $55 in change, are missing.

• A Keeney St. home Tuesday evening. It was ransacked. Missing is $2 in quarters.

• A youth was seen Tuesday at 9:26 p.m. smashing the glass on the A-1 Gas Station's bay door on Center St.

Police were called and reportedly arrived within 20 seconds. But the youth had already entered the station and ran out again heading west. He was described as about age 17, 5 feet 8, slim, medium long dark hair, and wearing a dark jacket.

• A Carpenter Rd. home Tuesday between 7 a.m. and 4:30 p.m. The house was gone through and many small items stolen with total value put, at $125.

At about 5 p.m. Tuesday, the resident reported getting a phone call from someone with a young, male voice. He said, "I'm sorry I had to rob you," and hung up.

• The Buckland Manufacturing Co. at 131 Adams St. Monday night. The office was gone through but nothing appears missing.

Kenneth E. Trudeau, 21, of 71 Jarvis Rd. was charged with reckless driving (speed creating risk of injury) in connection with a two-car collision today at 1 a.m. at Center and Newman Sts.

Trudeau was driving east on Center St. when he lost control on the wet pavement. The car spun around several times and crossed the center lines into the path of the car driven by Seldon B. Danielson Jr., 43, of Colchester.

Trudeau was taken by police to Manchester Memorial Hospital where he was treated for a fractured collar bone and released. All five people in the Danielson vehicle refused to go to the hospital despite several visible injuries, police said.

Both cars were towed away. Court date for Trudeau is June 24.

Henry P. Palamar, 23, of 62 Diane Dr. was taken to MMH after a motorcycle-car collision Monday at 8:25 p.m. at McKee and Courtland Sts. He was treated for multiple finger injuries and released.

Palamar was riding a motorcycle north on McKee St. when he attempted to pass the car driven by William J. Hampton, 31, of East Windsor. The vehicles collided. Palamar was given a written warning for improper passing. Both vehicles could be driven away.
