The Final Stitches for Vernon Bicentennial Quilt

It was a labor of love for members of the Rockville Evening School's quilting class as they stitched a quilt to celebrate the country's Bicentennial. Shown putting the final stitches in before the quilt goes on display are, left to right, Lorraine Lott, Karen Thibert, Pat Thibodeau and Gail Mulka. The women used the new "quilt-as-you-go" method with each of the 16 women involved making her own square, appliqueing, embroidering, and quilting it. The squares were then put together to form the quilt. Martin Fagan of the Historical Society provided the group with information and dates to work with in the project. The quilt will be presented to the Historical Society later. It will be on display in the children's wing of the Rockville Library through July 31; Connecticut Bank & Trust, Rockville, Aug. 1 through Sept. 30; People's Savings Bank, Vernon, Oct. 1 through Nov. 30; People's Bank, Rockville, Dec. 1 through Jan. 30; Rockville Town Hall, Feb. 1 through March 31; and then to the Historical Society. Other women who worked on the project were Diane Kalber, Marsha Hubbard, Cathy Kalber, Sue Niederwerfer, Mrs. Florence Hollingsworth, Linda Follett, Susan Leeper, Dorothy Hubbard, Norrine Martinelli, Betsy Gerakaris and Marilyn Kudra. ## Revised $13 Million School Budget Given Unanimous Approval by Board

By JUNE TOMPKINS

The Manchester Board of Education Monday night unanimously approved an operating budget for 1975-76 of $13 million.

The budget is $320,000 less than the originally proposed budget by the board. The largest reduction — $142,253 — was made in the area of salary items. Cuts were also made in non-salary items, the largest, $45,000, being for equipment, supplies and texts.

The closing of Orford Village building and the removal of Head Start classes to Buckland School will result in a saving of $15,000.

The $142,253 in salary items cut from the operating budget include $46,800 for anticipated reductions from personnel changes, $15,000 for a reduction in classroom aides, $5,000 for homebound instruction, and $7,000 for substitutes.

Some of the teaching assignments will be redistributed to eliminate the need for substitutes. The school librarians will fill in when needed in some instances.

There will be no cuts in teachers' salaries, but the adjustment will be achieved through mostly attrition.

Reductions in non-salary items totaling $125,250, include fuel oil, $20,000; initial capital outlay for Manchester High School by the Occupational Safety Health Administration, $19,500; non-public transportation, $10,000; curriculum development, $3,800; maintenance supplies, $5,500; related services of psychologists, $1,000; data processing rental, $3,950; group insurance, $10,500; travel, $2,000; computer rental at the high school, $3,000; snow removal, $1,000.

Original budgeted improvements for $118,400 were deleted in their entirety.

The adopted budget is about 9.3 per cent more than the current 1974-75 operating budget of $12,100,000.

Military Intervention Limited by President

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Ford says the United States will provide freedom loving nations with arms and economic aid but cannot "fight their battles for them" as it did in Vietnam.

"Those countries who believe in freedom as we do must carry the burden," he told a news conference Monday night.

"We can help them, not with United States military personnel but with arms and economic aid so that they can protect their own national interest and protect the freedom of their citizens."

Ford made the statement when asked what lessons he had learned from the Vietnam War.

His remarks also indicated some skepticism about the wisdom of Vietnam-style limitations on warfare in a future conflict. Recalling the policy differences between civilian and military leaders over warfare in Vietnam, Ford said: "I think we can learn something from those differences and if we ever become engaged in any military operation in the future — and I hope we don't — I trust we have learned something about how we should handle such an operation."

State Agency Created To Save New York City

ALBANY, N.Y. (UPI) — The state legislature, trying to head off imminent bankruptcy for New York City, today approved creation of a state agency with a $3 billion borrowing capability to back up the city's debts.

The measure had been rushed to the state capital from New York City, where it was approved by weary councilmembers faced with raising $792 million to avoid the city's default on debts coming due Wednesday.

The measure establishes a Municipal Assistance Corp. to refinance up to $3 billion of the city's $5.8 billion short-term debt.

During a two-hour Senate debate, Majority Leader Warren Anderson said the plan would help the city "meet its payroll while this agency tries desperately to lift an intolerable load of debt from the backs of beleaguered taxpayers."

The assembly approval came after three hours of early morning debate. Gov. Hugh Carey signed the bill as soon as it reached his desk.

The measure was approved 50-6 in the Senate and 96-48 in the Assembly.

New York City councilman Howard Golden said "this bill, so to speak, puts our house together."

According to Donald Smiley, head of R. H. Macy's and Co. and one of the four fiscal advisers appointed by Carey, legislative approval would trigger enough

Ford To Release Report On CIA Probe Tonight

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Ford ordered the release tonight of what he called a "fair, frank and balanced" report by the Rockefeller Commission on CIA activities — but it does not cover the subject of assassination.

Ford denied "any possibility of any coverage" in withholding public disclosure of "extremely sensitive" matter on alleged political assassination plots going back 15 to 20 years. He said this and other material would go to Attorney General Edward Levi for possible prosecution.

The President told a news conference Monday he had studied over the weekend a 299-page report submitted by the commission headed by Vice President Nelson Rockefeller after five months of investigation of CIA domestic activities.

That would be released this evening, he said.

He also received some 100 pages of "classified and incomplete" material relating to allegations the agency was engaged in plans for assassination.

This, he said, could not be released to the public now "in the national interest."

He said it would be "obvious to those who read the (public) report that the commission has done an extensive job of looking into the allegations that the CIA exceeded its authority by conducting domestic operations in violation of its statute."

"My reading of the report leads me to the conclusion that the panel has been fair, frank and balanced."

I will ask the attorney general to study all the materials gathered by the commission on any matter to determine whether action should be undertaken against any individual.

He said the commission did not have time to finish its investigation of assassination allegations by the time its already-extended mandate expired June 6.

"Because the investigation of political assassination allegations is incomplete and because the allegations involve extremely sensitive matters, I have decided it is not in the national interest to make public materials relating to these allegations at this time," Ford said.

He said the Rockefeller data and other material from White House files would go also to the Senate and House select committees investigating intelligence operations.

Rhode Island Abortion Law Ruled Invalid

PROVIDENCE, R.I. (UPI) — Rhode Island's three-week-old abortion law was declared unconstitutional today by a federal judge.

Chief Judge Raymond J. Pettine of U.S. District Court ruled on a suit brought by 19 staff doctors at Women and Infants Hospital and two women seeking abortions.

One of his reasons for striking down the new law, signed by Gov. Philip W. Noel on May 21, was that it did not consider the mental health of the mother.

It was the third state abortion law rejected by the court in three years.

It prohibited abortion of a so-called "quick-child" unless to save the life of the mother. A quick-child was defined as one with a heartbeat, electronically measurable brain waves and ability to survive birth with usual medical care.

A doctor convicted of manslaughter under the law could have received up to 20 years in prison.

Pettine said the law as drawn by the legislature, allowing such abortions only to save the life of the mother, did not meet the "constitutional minimum" definition of health as written in rulings by other U.S. courts. Both physical and mental health must be considered, he said.

A spokesman for Attorney General Julius C. Michaelson said the ruling would be closely studied before the state decides whether to appeal.

At a hearing last week, Dr. Andrew S. Blazer testified he feared prosecution for manslaughter because it inhibited him from performing "saline infusion" procedures on women in their 16th to 20th week of pregnancy.

Police Chief To Explain Controversial Requests

By DOUG BEVINS

Police Chief Robert Lannan will appear before the Manchester Board of Directors tonight to explain his controversial requests for a new deputy chief position and more money in the 1975-1976 budget.

Directors will meet at 8 at the Municipal Building Hearing Room.

Lannan, backed by Town Manager Robert Weiss, wants to establish a deputy chief position in the police department, to be filled by Lt. Richard Sartor. He also wants restoration of $23,500 to next year's department budget, to cover benefits for retiring Patrol Capt. George McCaughey, highway paint, and overtime pay for this summer's SAM (Summer Activities in Manchester) rock concerts.

The requests, presented to directors via memos last week, resulted in a relatively rare show of bipartisan opposition by the board. Seven of the nine directors didn't want to consider a new position, nor did they want to restore police budget money now. The other two directors didn't speak on the issues.

New business on the board's agenda tonight includes:

- A proposed allocation of $6,750 for one-half the cost of installing a traffic light at Green School at Rt. 6 and Vernon St.
- A proposed $4,000 allocation to develop cost estimates for proposed alterations at Washington School, the West Side Rec, and Bentley School.
- A proposed $3,000 allocation for a fire intrusion alarm system at the library.
- Approval of a land exchange between the town and the Farr family for land at the entrance to Charter Oak Park.
- Proposed revision of building permit fees.

Two items concerning town government use of cable television: Authorizing the town to receive training services, and application for a $15,000 grant for buying TV equipment.

Transfers of funds in the current 1974-1975 budget. A total of $15,250 would be moved from the contingency fund, social security and library accounts to the capital improvements reserve fund and social services account.

Accepting the resignation of Frederick Lowe Jr. from the Citizens Advisory Committee, and naming a replacement.

Business pending since public hearings were conducted last Tuesday includes four additional appropriations and one allocation of revenue sharing funds.

The additional appropriations are $13,500 for the town's General Assistance Program, $800 for Silk City League umpire fees, $9,500 for continuing twice-a-week garbage pickup through September, and $60,000 for paving Keeney St. and E. Middle Tpke. The revenue sharing allocation is $3,000 for painting the Community Y building.

Other business tabled last Tuesday includes appointment of members to three town boards, the Commission on Aging, Human Relations Commission, and Citizens Advisory Committee.

Rabin Pledges Efforts Toward Mideast Peace

By United Press International
Israeli Prime Minister Yitzhak Rabin flew to Washington today, pledging to do his best in talks with President Ford to achieve an interim peace settlement with Egypt in the Sinai Desert.

Diplomatic sources in Washington said Rabin would seek guarantees of renewed U.S. arms deliveries to underwrite any new interim Middle East agreement.

Before leaving Israel, Rabin said he was not carrying any specific peace proposals to Washington.

"I'll try to do my best in the talks with the President and his advisers to analyze and to reach understanding about the best way to move toward peace," he told newsmen at Tel Aviv's Ben Gurion Airport.

He said he would ask Ford and Secretary of State Henry Kissinger Wednesday and Thursday for details on the talks the two Americans held last week with Egyptian President Anwar Sadat at Salzburg, Austria.

Only then, Rabin said, would he be able to judge "if there was enough movement on the part of Egypt to allow the continuation of the talks."

Kissinger's last diplomatic mission to the Middle East broke down March 22

when Israel refused to meet Egypt's demands for the return of the Gidi and Mitla Passes as well as the Abu Rudeis oil field in the Sinai.

Diplomatic sources in Washington said Israel would need continued military and economic assistance since the only concessions it could make to Egypt would be territorial ones that would weaken Israel's defensive position.

President Ford declined to say if his news conference Monday night if such guarantees would be forthcoming and concentrated instead on his main interest — getting Kissinger's negotiations going again.

If that was not possible, Ford said, he would like to see negotiations resumed at the stalled Geneva peace conference, or even by a step-by-step process "under the umbrella of the Geneva conference."

The diplomatic sources said Rabin is willing to meet Egyptian concessions with Israeli concessions, provided he knows that he has reached strategic agreement with Ford.

"Rabin will not go to Washington with specific offers but will display sufficient flexibility to discuss the possibilities," one Israeli official said. "Israel is ready to provide new ideas if Egypt does too."

Bill Defended By Rep. Walsh

COVENTRY

State Rep. Robert Walsh, Democrat from the 53rd District, took issue Monday with recent newspaper accounts of the effects of the Urban and Town Development Act of 1975.

"This is a bill that provides municipalities with a new creative tool during difficult financial times," Walsh said.

"It could only be used in most of our rural communities, if the majority of the people at a town meeting wanted to use it and voted the same," he said.

"Claims are being made that his bill was sneaked through the legislature, that it can override local zoning and that it places monolithic authority in the hands of a town's local legislative body," Walsh said.

"Nothing could be further from the truth," Rep. Walsh said. "Each of these rumors is based upon a complete lack of information," Walsh said.

"A major Hartford newspaper carried an editorial on the Development Act several days before it was brought before the House of Representatives, and all the legislators were well aware of the fact that the bill was pending," Walsh said.

"Furthermore, the bill was debated in the house for over two hours, the question of the possibility of overriding local zoning regulations was discussed and at least three representatives who are attorneys testified that the bill could not override local zoning," Walsh said.

The bill doesn't place undue authority with local legislative bodies, Walsh said. Final decision in almost every small town in the state and within the 53rd District towns of Coventry, Tolland and Willington is still with the town meeting on fiscal matters, Walsh said.

"The uproar over this bill has resulted in a request for a ruling by the Attorney General as to whether the act can override local zoning. I'm confident that either the legislative intent will take precedence, or the governor will have no choice but to vote the bill," Walsh said.

TODAY'S THOUGHT

Our freedom costs something. Jesus had to die so that we might live. But God loved us enough to send His son, who willingly died for us. As Paul says, "It is not easy to die even for a good man - though, of course, for someone really worthy, a man might be prepared to die - but what proves that God loved us is that Christ died for us while we were still sinners." ## OPINION

The Wallace Dilemma

For the time being at least, George Wallace is the target of the increasing number of would-be nominees for the presidential nomination.

Within the past two weeks, there has been an increase in anti-Wallace statements within the Democratic party.

The triggering point seems to have been former North Carolina governor Terry Sanford's announcement of candidacy which was essentially a call to arms to stop Wallace.

It would be a major victory toward the nomination if Sanford or any of the other candidates could claim credit for derauling the Wallace effort.

It has to be expressed at this stage since next to the reluctant Sen. Teddy Kennedy, the wheelchair bound Alabama governor shows up strongest in the polls.

The Democratic dilemma is simply one of how to dump Wallace without angering Wallace into cranking up his third party machinery which is all set to go if given the word.

Since none of the announced candidates has been able to outpoll the outspoken Alabama, one could conclude that none will ever become a serious contender for the nomination.

Because of the small constituencies most represent within the Democratic party, their real goal may not be the nomination but stopping Wallace any way that would leave the Democratic party as a whole above the battle.

This may seem a bit farfetched but not when you consider there has been a substantial drift to the right which means even the Democratic party must adopt a more conservative stance in 1976.

'Giant Step' Continues

That "giant leap for mankind" — the moon landing, which was the culmination of this country's initial venture into space exploration — continues to be translated into small steps toward the improvement of life on earth.

In the field of fire fighting, NASA's work on portable life-support systems has made possible a new, lighter oxygen mask for firemen. Made of plastic instead of steel or aluminum, the device weighs about 15 pounds less than previous models, enabling firemen to move about more easily in thick smoke and gas.

A puncture-proof astronaut's suit made of a new plastic fiber called aramid has become the basis for a coal now being used extensively by fire departments to cut down on burns.

A work uniform of aramid can be splattered with burning gasoline and will not ignite.

Space technology has also provided a shock-resistant plastic that is being used in an electronic hose nozzle that regulates water flow more speedily in fire trucks by means of radio rather than hand or voice signals. A sleeve control made of the plastic enables firemen directing the hose to transmit accurate instructions instantly to the pumper.

RAY CROMLEY

Press Bias Creates Strange Alliance

WASHINGTON — There's a moral in the reasoning that brought such opposites as the liberal Civil Liberties Union and Eugene McCarthy on the one hand and the conservative Sen. James Buckley and Human Events together as joint plaintiffs in a lawsuit against the federal election reform law passed by Congress last year.

It is not only that the reform claimed in the law is a cover for chicanery. It is, more importantly, that the public has been swayed by such a picture of glorifying adjectives as a substitute for facts, that few people have read and fewer analyzed what the law means. Most of us live in ignorance as to the law's effects; our reactions are simple gut responses.

Faced with such widespread public misinformation, these political opposites, and others of one persuasion or another, met and decided that if any one person or any look-alike groups filed alone in opposition to the new law, the press would jump in with headlines so prejudicial the protest might sink without a trace.

If the conservatives filed alone in protest to inequalities in the law, it was feared the suit would be branded an attempt by Neanderthal rightists and their "big business" allies to scuttle election reform and "return" to big money politics.

If the liberals filed alone, the move would be condemned and go on the public record as a thrust by "letting zealots" and their "kooky" associates.

Clean Air Act Up for Review

By Prudence Crewdon
Congressional Quarterly

WASHINGTON — The tough Clean Air Act of 1970 is coming up for renewal against a backdrop of recession, rising unemployment and high fuel prices.

In light of their lingering economic and energy problems, the auto companies, electric utilities and other affected industries are using the opportunity to press Congress for more time to meet the strict deadlines imposed on them by the act.

Environmentalists see the industry appeals as a threat to the original goal of the legislation — to protect the public from dangerous air pollution by mid-1975 or 1977 at the latest.

Obstacles

In the four years since Congress passed the Clean Air Act, a number of obstacles have cropped up, many of them related to the 1973 Arab oil embargo and the resulting drive for energy independence.

The auto industry says it does not have the technology necessary to improve fuel economy and at the same time meet standards set for it in the 1970 law. Electric utilities, steel plants and other industries, whose smokestacks foul the air also want more time to meet air quality deadlines because clean-burning fuels are expensive or unavailable.

Even if the strictest possible controls were applied to cars and industrial plants, the sheer volume of traffic in Los Angeles and some other cities would prevent them from meeting standards on schedule without drastic, politically unacceptable measures such as rationing or outright bans on driving.

Ford Proposals

To deal with these problems, the Ford administration has asked Congress to postpone imposition of the final auto emission standards for five years from 1978 to 1982, give coal-burning power plants in remote areas until 1986 to meet final emission requirements, and delay the air quality deadline for traffic-congested cities until as late as 1987.

Russell E. Ibram, head of the Environmental Protection Agency (EPA), contends that these "mid-course corrections" won't sacrifice clean air goals. "The public does not buy the idea of solving economic and energy problems by trading off or backing away from environmental programs," Train said.

Environmentalists

But that is exactly what the administration is attempting to do, say environmentalists and public interest groups. "Through some mid-course adjustments may be needed in the Clean Air Act," an official of the League of Women Voters told a House panel, "we must hold firm on environmental standards and permit flexibility only in cases where a good faith effort to comply with the law has been demonstrated."

In the case of the proposed five-year delay in imposing final controls on cars, environmentalists say there has been no good faith effort to comply and that the auto industry could meet the final deadline now set for 1978.

"Delaying the standards for five more years will mean a total of seven model years of cars will be emitting three to four times the level of pollution called for in the Clean Air Act," said Clarence Ditlow, a member of the National Clean Air Coalition.

Buck Passed To Senate

WASHINGTON — There is an affidavit from an 83-year-old woman who voted for her sister in last November's national elections in New Hampshire because the sister "was in no condition to vote."

In one precinct, 11 votes were cast in each party column in the race for United State Senate. One machine registered 12 votes in the Democratic column, raising the question of whether the two "experts" who tested the machine suffered a Freudian slip.

The Senate Rules Committee's Subcommittee on Privileges and Elections labored mightily, trying to decide who won the contest between Louis Wyman, Republican, and John Durkin, Democrat, in the closest senatorial race in the nation's history.

But the subcommittee deadlocked on 27 ballots and eight issues, so the buck was passed this week to the whole Senate.

Although Wyman scored a two-vote victory in the "final" New Hampshire recount, his chances of taking the Senate seat are not bright. The Democrats have a lead in the administration proposals.

This fact of life might well be the deciding factor: political parties usually take care of their own, and the peculiar usages as the administration proposes that the Democrats to overturn Wyman's temporary triumph.

Estimates of how long it will take the Senate to resolve its quasi-judicial task range from one month to several. The cost will be about $200,000 or $1 million, depending on who's doing the estimating.

Naturally, most of this cost will be borne by the American taxpayer.

Mr. Dooley, the fictional creation of the Chicago columnist Finley Peter Dunne, might have used that incident to repeat his observation that "Republicans never did understand the slogan 'vote early and often'."

Town Considers Juvenile Court

SOUTH WINDSOR — Judy Kuehnel, Correspondent 644-1364

South Windsor may establish a Juvenile Court to work with young offenders instead of punishing them.

Ellen Coty, a member of the Capital Region Council of Governments (CROCG), discussed the possibilities of the Juvenile Court with members of the Town Council last week.

Local councilmen have recently been concerned with the increase of vandalism and the proposed system could not only help the parents to understand and deal with the situation.

Mrs. Coty, from CROCG, has established and worked with some of the juvenile court systems which have been set up in various towns.

All VITAMIN-E is not the same!

Unfortunately, many people are taking Vitamin-E and not realizing what they are actually taking. There is lots of confusion and misleading labels on Vitamin-E bottles.

There is a great deal of difference between natural and synthetic Vitamin-E.

Natural Vitamin-E is also known as: 1. Alpha tocopherol (plain or mixed with beta, gamma, and delta. 2. Alpha tocopheryl succinate 3. Alpha tocopheryl acetate.

SYNTHETIC Vitamin-E is: D-L. Alpha tocopherol, ie, dextro-levo, is identified by its ability to turn polarized light to the right or left.

The great difference is how they react biologically in the body.

Research has shown that the natural form is biologically more active, ie, it is absorbed 100% more readily at the molecular level of the cell membrane in the body.

Sister M. Justa Smith, Ph.D. has taken microphotographs, called chromatograms, under a high powered electron microscope to natural Vitamin-E and complex in the center of its molecular structure. This important enzyme system makes the natural vitamin more active biologically and therefore gets to the cell in order to do its most good.

Also, the mixture of alpha tocopherol with beta, gamma and delta is better to take because the beta, gamma, and delta act as "BUFFER" agents in protecting the alpha from oxidation! So, you absorb the active alpha portion 100%, without wasting any at all.

However, the succinate form is the most active form of Vitamin-E.

Now, with the Synthetic D-L alpha tocopherol you could possibly lose 20% of your dosage through oxidation and lose 25% more by mal-absorption!

In other words...the price you pay may be 50% less for this synthetic...but...you lose approximately 50% by not utilizing 1/2 of what you take into the body.

Reports on Textbooks, Tests, Athletics Heard by East Hartford Board of Education

Sheila Tuller 289-4283

Informal reports on social studies textbooks, achievement test results, and athletic activities were heard by the East Hartford Board of Education last night.

Donald Repoli, vice-principal of Frikki School, and his committee of three teachers, displayed social studies textbooks they are recommending for fourth through eighth grade classes.

This committee said its search for new social studies books after objections were raised over the stereotype contents of some of the social studies books presently used.

Final selections were made after the committee went to textbook companies for ideas, held workshops to cover curriculum objectives, and asked grade level teachers for their approval of the books.

The Board of Education will meet tonight at 7:30 in the Education Administration Building.

The selectmen are expected to adopt a proposed policy regarding use of the Green Building.

Today is Tuesday, June 10, the 161st day of 1975 with 294 to follow.

The moon is between its new phase and first quarter.

The morning stars are Mars and Jupiter.

The evening stars are Mercury, Venus and Saturn.

Those born on this date are under the sign of Gemini.

On this day in history:

In 1881, U.S. Marines began the invasion of Cuba in the Spanish-American War.

In 1942, the German Gestapo burned the tiny Czech village of Lidice after shooting 178 men and shipping women and children to concentration camps.

In 1972, more than 200 people were killed in flash floods in the Rapid City area of South Dakota.

A thought for the day: The Greek author Aesop said, "Self conceit may lead to self destruction."

Fight Temptation Through Prayer

By Abigail Van Buren
© 1975 Chicago Tribune-N.Y. News Synd., Inc.

DEAR ABBY: Do you have a paragraph or a phrase that would make me think twice when I am tempted to take a drink?
I am not a heavy drinker. In fact, I hardly ever drink at all, but when I do, it hits me hard.
I made a fool of myself again last night, and I am sick of it. I've done that only five times in my life, and it is only happens when I am out with friends. The next day when I wake up, I have to depend on other people to tell me what I did.

If I had just one meaningful phrase to keep me from weakening and having a drink with my friends, I would carry it with me. A Bible is too big to carry around. I am 20. Thank you.

FOOLISH GIRL

DEAR GIRL: When you are faced with temptation, tell your friends that hard liquor is "poison" to you and that you cannot drink it. Then silently pray: "Oh, Lord, give me the strength I need right now," and quickly pray again: "Thank you, Lord, I made it!"
Try it, and let me know the results. I care.

DEAR ABBY: A letter in your column has caused me to drop my campaign to get the letter "q" removed from the dictionary and transferred to "k," where it belongs. I quickly discovered that I might be dead before anyone would even be interested.
Now I would like to start a campaign to get all people to knit using the phrase "made love" when they mean "had sex."

I am irritated beyond words when I read that "a couple met at a party, went to a motel and made love." It's an insult to the act of lovemaking! What they did was have sex. Love had nothing to do with it.
Before I risk wasting my time on this campaign, please tell me if you think I have a point.

VAL (MASCULINE)

DEAR VAL: You have a point, but whether it's worthy of a campaign raises another question. I plead not guilty. When I mean "They had sex," I don't say, "They made love."

DEAR ABBY: The other night I babysat for a neighbor. She has three kids. The oldest is in the fifth grade. I am 16. I walked into the kitchen and, my gosh, you've never seen a bigger mess in all your life! When the woman left, she said, "Oh, be sure to clean up the kitchen. I just have come home to a messy kitchen!"
At first I was stunned. Then I thought for sure she would pay me extra if I did the kitchen.

When she came home, she gave me a dollar LESS than she had agreed to, even with my cleaning up her kitchen. I really was angry, but I didn't say anything to her because I am very shy. Besides, she is a friend of my mother's. I know she'll ask me to babysit again, and I don't want to, but I don't have the nerve to tell her how I feel and why. Can you help me?

ANGRY AND PUZZLED

DEAR A AND P: Not if you refuse to help yourself. Tell her in a respectful way that you were paid $10 for her babysitting because she shorthanded you a dollar last time. And also tell her that if she wants her kitchen cleaned, she should be prepared to pay a little extra.

Everyone has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply, write to ABBY, Box No. 98700, L.A. Calif. 90068. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope, please.
For Abby's booklet, "How to Have a Lovely Wedding," send $1 to Abigail Van Buren, 132 Lankford Dr., Beverly Hills, Calif. 90212. Please enclose a long, self-addressed, stamped (20¢) envelope.

Dixon-Kurys

Bernice Mary Kurys of Bolton and Bruce Alan Dixon, also of Bolton, were married May 31 at St. Maurice Church in Bolton.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Casimir S. Kurys of 157 French Rd. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert A. Dixon of 17 Rolling Hills Trail.

The Rev. Michael Doi of St. Maurice Church and the Rev. Stanton J. Conover of Bolton Congregational Church officiated at the double-ring ceremony.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore an imported silk organza gown with embroidered lace appliques and Empire waistline, high lace-edged neckline, sheer fitted sleeves with lace appliques and bodice with organza overlay trimmed with seed pearls and crystals, and an A-line skirt with detachable wattleau chapel-length train. Her head-length veil of silk illusion was attached to a Camelot headpiece. She carried a crescent bouquet of white daisies and yellow sweetheart roses.

Miss Maureen C. Gordon of East Hartford was maid of honor. She wore a pink jersey knit and tulle voile halter gown and jacket designed with fitted bodice, V-neckline with pointed lapel collar, high rise waistline with full-paneled skirt. She wore a pink picture hat and carried a colonial bouquet of white daisies and pink carnations.

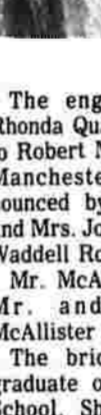

Bridesmaids were Miss Janet B. Dixon and Miss Kathleen J. Dixon, both of Bolton, sisters of the bridegroom; and Miss Karen R. Hajdasz of Hartford, the bride's cousin.

Miss Amy Sartor and Miss Christine Sartor, both of Manchester, the bride's cousins, wore lower girls' dresses. The bridesmaids wore gowns and hats identical to those of the honor attendant but in maize jersey. The flower girls wore bow headpieces. They all carried colorful bouquets of yellow daisies and white carnations.

David Bauer of Haydensville, Mass. was best man. Ushers were Clark B. Dixon of Bolton, the bridegroom's brother; Michael P. Kurys of Vernon, the bride's brother; Thomas J. Kurys of Bolton, the bride's brother; and Barry W. Snape of Seabrook, Mass.

BETTY'S NOTEBOOK

By BETTY RYDER

If you're looking for something special to give dad for Father's Day, I understand the U.S. Treasury Department is going to have a sale on gold bullion on June 30. Maybe you could slip an IOU into his Father's Day card and he can purchase the gold later this month.

Or, if the economy has hit your pocketbook, S.T. Dupont of Paris is offering gold in another form — an 18 karat gold lighter for only $3,000. Isn't that a bargain?

My dad's not getting one. He says smoking is bad for your health (so I'm really doing him a favor). Besides, if I bought him one, paying $3,000 would make me ill, so you see, we're both better off.

The stewardship committee of Zion Evangelical Lutheran Church will meet tonight at 7:30 at the church.

One book Arm referred to was published in Vermont in 1814 called "American Cooks' Art and Contained recipes for such tasty sweets as "Buttered Apple Pie," "Indian Slapjack," and "Sick Bed Custard."

Finally there was an "Independence Cake" and it sounded so glorious, he said, that he enclosed the original recipe from 1814:

"Twenty pounds flour, 15 pounds sugar, 10 pounds butter, four dozen eggs, one quart of wine, one quart of brandy, one ounce nutmeg, cinnamon, cloves, mace of each three ounces, two pounds citron; currants and raisins five rounds each, one quart yeast."

"When baked frost with loaf sugar, dress with box and gold leaf. Yield — Your Village."

Bon appetit!

Expect to spend a few days in New York City next week when New York Couture Business Council conducts its 65th Press Week at the New York Hilton Hotel.

Noted designers such as Donald Brooks, Bill Blass, Teal Traina, and many others will be showing their creations for fall and winter.

They certainly do get started early, don't they? Here we're only starting summer — and they have their clothes all ready for the cold weather.

I'm anxious to meet Anne Kalso, the 10-year-old Dane who invented the "Earth" shoe. Maybe she can come up with the answers and tell me if it's really true they are supposed to make you feel like you're walking on sand. That's what my daughter says.

Tolland Youth To Be Honored

Earl Edward Beebe, a junior at Tolland High School, will be presented with a trophy recognizing him as the outstanding teen-ager of 1975 of Connecticut tonight at the meeting of the Board of Education.

John Burkos, chairman of the Board of Selectmen, will make the presentation to Beebe on behalf of the Outstanding Teen-Agers of America, a national organization which selected one top teen-ager from each state.

The selection makes Beebe eligible to compete for scholarships awarded by the organization.

Beebe has been active in 4-H and was selected by the principal of his school as an outstanding student academically and for his work in sports and extra-curricular activities.

The meeting tonight is at 7:30 in the administration building of the Board of Education.

Board members were in 000 cut, was rejected for the second time, and following the meeting the board and the Town Council agreed on a new figure with $138,000 of the cut restored.

It was expected this new budget figure will be approved at another special meeting this Thursday. The board felt that with this money restored it can go along with the tuition free program for the summer school.

The budget, reflecting a $338,000 cut, was rejected for the second time, and following the meeting the board and the Town Council agreed on a new figure with $138,000 of the cut restored.

Horse Show Entries Due by Tomorrow

Entries for the Reddington Rock Riding Club's seventh annual horse show scheduled for this coming Sunday must be in the mail by tomorrow.

Entries should be mailed to Mrs. Patricia Schlag, 64 Hopkins Rd., Ellington, Conn. 06029 and accompanied by a post entry fee of $3 per horse.

The show will start at 9 a.m. Sunday at the Tolland County Agricultural Center's grounds, Rt. 30, Vernon.

Refreshments will be served starting with breakfast and continuing throughout the day. Anyone wishing further information should call Clint Kenney, 646-2004, or Mrs. Schlag, 872-3013.

Calculations provided the commission Monday by PZC member Anthony Walsh and Zoning Agent Ernest Wheeler indicated the gravel removal would take more than a year rather than the originally estimated four months. The commission agreed to delay action on the issue until further information could be obtained on the actual amount to be hauled and the scheduling of the operation.

At the May hearing Sanderson challenged three of the commission members because they lived near the proposed gravel site. Monday night Craig Wallace, who lives on land adjacent to Sanderson, stepped down when the commission discussed the Sanderson application.

Wallace said he disqualifies himself, not because of any conflict of interest, but because of the possibility of conflict of interest in the future.

Alternate Roselyn Kornfeld recommended that the choice for Wallace's replacement be one who lives farthest away. Mrs. Kornfeld, along with regular member Anthony Walsh was among those challenged by Sanderson.

Charles Andreuk of Barnesbee Lane was chosen as a replacement, the available alternate living furthest from the site.

Chairwoman Sandra Slave explained that although regular member Roger Barrett lives even farther from the site, he had missed part of the hearing. Town Attorney Abbot Schwebel had advised Mrs. Slave that he would prefer a replacement that had attended the full hearing, if possible.

Although Barrett could qualify to vote by listening to tapes of the proceedings, since Atty. Schwebel must argue the case in court, if there is an appeal to the upcoming PZC decision, it would seem best to

Coventry Zone Commission Delays Gravel Bank Request

The Coventry Planning and Zoning Commission deferred action on a gravel operation requested by Mark Sanderson at its Monday night meeting in order to gain more information on the extent of the hauling operation.

A public hearing on an application for the gravel operation was held last Monday. The proposed gravel excavation would be on land along Brigham Tavern Rd. Extension, owned by Sanderson.

Sanderson said at the hearing he planned to replace topsoil and construct a pond for future farm use.

Calculations provided the commission Monday by PZC member Anthony Walsh and Zoning Agent Ernest Wheeler indicated the gravel removal would take more than a year rather than the originally estimated four months. The commission agreed to delay action on the issue until further information could be obtained on the actual amount to be hauled and the scheduling of the operation.

West Haven Rally in Seventh Inning Sends Indians Down to 4-2 Defeat

JOHN KOEPSSEL Hurler Brilliantly

BLAIR ANTHONY Slams Homer

By Len Auster
Except for one inning when he faltered, the relief pitching of Manchester High ace righthander John Koepsel was superlative. That one frame, however, proved deadly as seventh-ranked West Haven High came up with two runs to eliminate the 10th-ranked Indians, 4-2, from the State Baseball Tournament.

Yesterday's first round win, before a good turnout of over 300 at Painter Park in West Haven, advances the 14-3 Blue Devils into today's quarterfinals against second-ranked North Haven in the Double A Division. Manchester, which was second in the CCL, finishes its season with a 13-5 ledger. "That was one good high school game between two good teams," cited Devils' Coach Fred Lennon. "We got the best of the season, and I think we were very good."

The Blue Devils finally reached Koepsel in the seventh. Wayne Hansen, who homered leading off the first, lined a single to center for the first hit off Koepsel. John Takacs, hitting 509 going into the game, singled to right which centerfielder Bob Odell just missed latching onto. Odell had it for a split second but when he hit the ground the impact jarred the ball loose. Martin, first ball swinging, drilled a shot to straightaway centerfield on top of the hill for a ground rule double bringing Hansen home. Joe Fiorentino walked the bases and Morrissey lofted a sacrifice fly to center playing Takacs. Koepsel struck out 11 and walked five in his nine-inning stint. He was charged with the loss, his second compared to nine wins.

Stonington Foe Of East Today

By Len Auster
Power meets power when second-ranked East Catholic battles seventh-ranked Stonington High in today's Class B Division quarterfinal of the State Baseball Tournament at 4 o'clock at Dickin Field in Norwich.

Senior Dan Socha packs the biggest wallop with seven doubles and seven triples. The locals and Bears played one common opponent — Ledyard. The Eagles came away a 2-2 winner while Stonington won both meetings, 2-15 and 6-7. Sisk stated that senior Jay Mellow, 7-3, will draw the starting mound assignment against East. Mellow is a righthander. His counterpart will be senior righthander Terry Hitcher, who went the first six innings against Avon to notch his ninth win without a loss.

The winner will advance to Thursday's semifinals where it will combat the third-ranked Plainfield-sixth-ranked Wilby winner. Despite its impressive status, East clubbed just one homer during the season, that by sophomore second baseman Mike Furlong. Against Avon, Furlong turned in the defensive gem ranging far to his right and making a diving stab of a line by Bob Gorman, robbing him of a sure hit.

The Eagles, however, stroked 43 extra base hits during the year and added four more in the first round decision over Avon.

Umpiring Body Cites Members
Veteran members of the Manchester Chapter of Approved Baseball Umpires were cited last night at the annual meeting. Presented plaques for five years of service were Don Beerworth, Maurice Archambault and Ed Yeomans. Howie Holcomb received a 15-year term in 1976, Don Covias as president, Beerworth vice president and Leo Diana, secretary-treasurer.

Booters Bow Via Shutout
Downed in Connecticut Junior Soccer League play yesterday was Manchester, 4-0, by Mansfield at Cougar Field. Scoring for Mansfield were Al DiStefano, George Best, Stan Mathews and Bob Moore. Playing well for Manchester were Bill Donovan, Matt Walsh, Greg Smyday and Manny and Sebby Marino. Bill Meier and Eric Thomas played well defensively and goalies Brian Beggs and Al Robb made several fine stops.

Sign Draft Choice
PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — Lloyd Free, a second round draft choice, was signed Monday by the Philadelphia Flyers to a multi-year contract.

U.S. Open Qualifier

Former Connecticut and New England amateur golf champion, Ron "Red" Smith of Manchester, is the lone New England golfer to qualify for the United States Open June 19-22. The Open will be staged in Medinah, a suburb of Chicago. Smith, former assistant at the Manchester Country Club, is now the head professional at Wehannett Country Club in Kennebunk, Maine. The former Manchester High Golfer qualified with a 36-hole score of 150.

The Herald Angle

Notes Off the Cuff
Anxious to get back into the swing of (softball) things is Dave White, one of the town's best hitters. The big outfielder with Bogner's in the Silk City League has been sidelined following surgery... Dave Wigin, Manchester High director of athletics, served as site director for CIAC staged baseball games at Kelley Field this season... Just Wondering: Why there is a $1 per court charge for tennis play at Memorial Field, effective Monday, from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. only Saturdays and Sundays and not during other prime times on these days? Fees will also be charged at these courts from 5 p.m. to 8 p.m. Monday thru Friday. There is no daytime charge at the upper and lower courts at Memorial Field or at any of the town's other courts except for use under the arc lights. There are no Boston Red Sox ticket outlets in this area that we know about and this department does not handle ticket sales for Boston or New York games. Jim Curtis of Manchester has lettered in golf at Ripon College, Ripon, Wis. Attendance at Shea Stadium for New York Yankee games this season is nearly 140,000 ahead of a year ago and Boston is up nearly 50,000 over 1974 at a corresponding time... First year American League Umpire Rich Garcia and Cleveland Fla., High in 1958... The Red Sox have been getting a lot of hitting mileage from Fred Lynn and Jim Rice to date. Lynn has been wearing a can't miss tag since he came up late last season while Rice is demonstrating that he can hit major league pitching with consistency in a designated hitter's role.

Local Facilities Used
Manchester's three first-rate softball diamonds at Charter Oak Park, Robertson Park and Nike were all used by the CIAC for girls' tournament games yesterday. Manchester's softball facilities must rate with the best in the state. In addition to the aforementioned three, all of which are lighted for night play, fields are also maintained by the Park Department at Keeney, Mt. Nebo and Cheney Tech... Family Tennis Week will be held nationwide June 21-29 and in this area Gloria Darling will conduct free instructional clinics Saturday, June 21 from 10 to noon at the South Windsor Swim Club and the same afternoon from 2 to 4 o'clock at the Brentwood Swim Club. Mrs. Darling is a teaching pro and winner of many New England tournaments... If the combined announced crowds for last Saturday's pro soccer involving the Connecticut Yankees and Hartford Bicentennials attended just one of the games, team backers would be optimistic. A crowd of 3,492 saw the Yankees play in Hartford while the Bi's lured only 1,114 to New Britain for their game. Hartford is big enough for one big league soccer club and one only to make trips, transportation, meals and lodging... Ed Cain of Manchester, former voice of the Minnesota Vikings in the NFL and the New York Islanders in the NHL, is now located in New York and doing promotional work. Last season he was with the ill-fated Orlando franchise in the World Football League.

Doing well at the Charter Oak Conference Tennis Championship at Rocky Hill High was Cheney Tech. The Beavers' Paul Strycharz took third place in singles play with 146 points with teammate Dave Bellefleur taking sixth in doubles. Gary Caravella and Glen Maloney took third place and Steve Chasse and Rob Caron placed fourth. Rocky Hill's Mike Riccio took first in the singles round robin competition while the doubles crown went to Christopher Coates and Robert Poterov of Coventry.

NFL Player Body Files Complaint

NEW YORK (UPI) — The National Football League Players Association may not have fared as badly as its short-lived 1974 strike apparently indicated. Charging the National Football League and its member teams with unfair labor practices resulting from the players' strike last year, the National Labor Relations Board filed a complaint Monday in Manhattan Federal Court, with a hearing scheduled for July 21. The hearing will also deal with allegations that the NFL failed to negotiate with the Players Association before adopting the sudden death and punt rule changes. Three clubs, the complaint said, took action against three players because they were officers of the Players Association. The Atlanta Falcons traded Ken Reeves, the Washington Eagles discharged Kermit Alexander and the Houston Oilers waived Bill Curry. Ed Garvey, the executive secretary of the Players Association, said he was gratified that the NLRB had issued the complaint. "Most encouraging of all," Garvey said, "was the issuance of complaints for illegal discrimination against the president of the union, Bill Curry, and the two vice-presidents, Kermit Alexander and Tom Keating, as well as Atlanta representative Ken Reeves. "Maybe now the NFL will at long last bargain in good faith." The complaint argues further that the Dallas Cowboys, St. Louis Cardinals, Kansas City Chiefs and others refused to bargain collectively while keeping players' meetings under surveillance and refusing association representatives admission to preseason training camps. The complaint charges the league and its member teams with discrimination in hiring and in the conditions of employment which discourage membership in a labor organization. Originally, there were 22 charges made by the union against the teams, but 17 were dropped, without a hearing, by the NLRB. "We are not surprised that 17 of the union's original 22 allegations have been dismissed without a hearing," said Sarge Karch, the executive director of the NFL Management Council, "including the often-repeated claim that there was something improper about the contractual termination of health insurance in the spring of 1974. "We are confident that our position on the other 15, nine of which relate to requests for information only, will be upheld by the administrative law judge."

Alumni Juniors

Scoring in every inning but the third, Krause Floriats trounced Mari-Mads, 15-4, last night at Cheney Tech in the league season opener. Lou Kalishak and Brian Shea had three and two hits respectively for Krause. No mention of Mari-Mads was made in the game report.

Angels and Pitcher Singer Handed Virdon Big Surprise

NEW YORK (UPI) — It was New York manager Bill Virdon's 44th birthday Monday night and the California Angels and Bill Singer handed him a big surprise — a 5-3 defeat with a two-run ninth inning — the Yankees' first loss after eight successive victories.

At the start of the season, Catfish Hunter was worth $3.75 million but Singer might not have been worth two cents if it weren't for a winter weight lifting program.

Hunter struggled badly with his control walking six and permitting eight hits while pitching from behind most of the time. "When I packed up my stuff after the third game, I didn't want to throw again," Singer said after three straight disappointing seasons. "I went back to lifting weights all winter, like I did in 1969. That and I got my delivery down."

SOCCER

PEE WEE
Two overtime sessions couldn't decide the issue as the Brewers and Tigers played to a 1-1 tie last night in Ill. Jim Gembala scored for the Brewers and Jeff Homeier for the Tigers. Alex Santoro played defensively.

New Experience as Manager Robison Admits Guilt After Twins Rip Indians

NEW YORK (UPI) — As a player, Frank Robison knew the embarrassment of looking at a third strike. Now as a manager, he's experienced something more embarrassing — not looking at the rival team's batting order.

Thompson, finally batting in turn, singled home Eric Soderholm with the game-winning run. "The batting order of order is strictly an appeal play," explained chief umpire Lou DiMuro. "We really don't take notice of who's batting and in what order and even if we did know they were batting out of order, we really can't do anything about it."

Author of No-Hitters
Earlier this season, Mike Jordan of Bennett Junior High threw successive no-hitters in two efforts. The classy southpaw turned in the feat against Webb Junior High of Wethersfield and three days later matched the trick against East Hartford High's freshmen.

Messersmith and Sutton Top N.L. in Strikeouts

NEW YORK (UPI) — The West Coast ought to be the hub of a constant hurler this season. It's well known that California's Nolan Ryan has made more than one American League slugger imagine he was in the vortex of a stiff whirlwind at the plate but there are two other pretty fair National League strikers there, too.

Although Ryan's name is the first on the lips of any baseball fan these days when the subject of the Dodgers is brought up, Messersmith and Sutton are also mentioned.

Returning from a 5-7 road trip during which they dropped out of first place in the National League West, the Dodgers needed a few good pitches to get them straight. Jim Wynn's 12th strikeout of the season helped.
