Dismissed MCC Instructor Ejected from Classroom

By DOUG BEVINS
James Gardner, the Manchester Community College lecturer dismissed from his job in April, was barred from teaching a creative writing class at MCC this morning and was ejected from campus by college security police.
Gardner, who was notified April 16 that his annual contract wouldn't be renewed, reported to class this morning, saying he was entitled to teach although MCC had hired another teacher for the summer session job.
Gardner reported to the main campus at about 8, was barred from the classroom, met briefly with college administrators, and then returned to the classroom and entered it. He was removed by security officers, via a rear door, at about 8:30, on orders from college administrators.
Gardner, whose name is listed in college catalogs to teach the English class, said he gave the class an assignment before being removed from the building. Campus police escorted him home, and he returned to the campus to maintain regular office hours at mid-morning.
Student Affairs Dean Harry Godi, who gave security officers the order to eject Gardner, said he had told Gardner earlier to leave the college. Gardner wasn't arrested and there were apparently no threats of arrest.

House Panel Tackles Tax Reform Proposals

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The House Ways and Means Committee has decided to tackle several complicated areas in a tax reform proposal that would make the first major permanent changes since 1969.
Hearings begin on the House bill today. Committee chairman Al Ullman, D-Ore., is aiming for a first draft by September and House action the following month, leaving two months for Senate action.
It may be an impossible timetable. The committee decided last week to venture into the sensitive and highly complicated area of tax breaks to stimulate new capital investment for business. The agenda also includes taxation of capital gains and losses.
One of the main issues will be whether the lower income tax withholding rates now enjoyed by most Americans will continue into 1976. Unless extended, the recession-fighting tax cuts passed earlier this year will expire.
The major hearings will be July 8 and 9 when Treasury Secretary William Simon outlines the administration's proposals.
The first round of hearings today and Tuesday will present tax experts, whose testimony will be designed mainly to educate new committee members on the complicated questions they face.
In addition to the withholding and capital investment questions, the rest of the committee's agenda includes:
—A tougher minimum tax on the wealthy.
—Studies of tax shelters, including real estate, farm and intangible drilling expenses.

The Weather

Mostly sunny today with high temperatures around 90 inland, in the 80s along the coast. Fair and mild tonight with lows in the mid 60s to low 70s. Partly cloudy and more humid Tuesday with highs again near 90 inland and in the 80s in south coastal sections.

Palestinian Buildup Reported

By United Press International
Nearly 2,000 more Palestinian guerrillas have entered Lebanon from Syria in recent weeks and Palestinians trained as pilots are flying with Arab air forces, Israeli military sources said today.
The sources said in Tel Aviv that the Palestinians affiliated with guerrilla organizations have brought into Lebanon from Syria Soviet-made 122mm artillery, antitank missiles and the portable surface-to-air-missile, the SAM7.
About 9,000 Palestinian guerrillas now are in Lebanon, the sources said.
Palestinian pilots, the sources said, have been trained in Libya, Syria, Iraq, North Korea "and probably also in China" and are currently flying with several Arab air forces.

The information was originally presented to Israeli newsmen Sunday at a background briefing given by the military command. Foreign newsmen were excluded.
Palestinian guerrillas have concentrated in bases and camps in southern Lebanon near the frontier with Israel and have crossed the border to attack Israeli settlements.
In an attack on the settlement of Yuval on June 15, four guerrillas killed three persons and wounded five others. The four assailants were also killed.
Libya, which opposes Arab recognition of Israel or peace with it, has been training guerrillas and supports the concept of assassinating Egyptian leaders because of Cairo's expressed willingness to sign a second interim peace agreement with Israel, the sources said.
Israel, meanwhile, has offered Egypt a corridor to the Abu Rudeis oil field in the Sinai desert in an attempt to eliminate a key obstacle to an interim Middle East peace agreement.

Manchester Mailing Out Tax Bills This Week

Approximately 45,000 tax bills for 1975-76 will be mailed out this week by the Manchester collector of revenue office, with 31,386 for motor vehicle taxes only, 13,580 for real estate (with many of them going to banks handling escrow accounts) and 2,296 for personal property.
Collector of Revenue James Turek said the motor vehicle and personal property tax bills will be mailed Wednesday and the real estate bills Friday.
Manchester's fiscal year begins July 1. First-half payments will be due that day and will be delinquent if not paid by Aug. 1.
Under a new state law, delinquent taxes, beginning with the 1975-76 tax year, will be subject to a penalty of one per cent per month. It currently is at 0.75 per cent.
Also beginning with the 1975-76 tax year, all motor vehicle and personal property taxes of $200 or less will be payable in one installment. Real estate taxes of $100 or less will be payable in one installment as before.

Turek estimated that, of about $1.4 million estimated from motor vehicle taxes, all but about $50,000 will be due on the first installment.
The bills going out this week are for 1975-76 taxes to the General Fund, Town Fire District and Special Downtown Taxing District.
The eighth district levies its own tax for fire protection and sanitary sewer service. District voters Wednesday will be asked to approve a four-mill tax levy for 1975-76, up 1.5 mills.
Turek said today there's nothing in the state statutes which requires municipalities to mail out tax bills. The alternative, he explained, is for taxpayers to request the information.
Acknowledging the advisability for mailing the bills, he observed, "Can you imagine 45,000 phone calls flooding our office?"

Ford Adviser Says Recession Is Over

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The President's top economic adviser reports the recession "for all practical purposes" is over and predicts unemployment figures will begin dropping gradually after the summer.
Alan Greenspan, chairman of the Council of Economic Advisers, said Sunday unemployment should fall to about 8.5 per cent by January and 7.5 per cent by the end of 1976.
"This still would be unacceptably high, he said, but recovery must proceed slowly to avoid more inflation.
"The recession for all practical purposes is over," Greenspan said in a broadcast interview (CBS-TV: Face the Nation). "I don't think we have yet started into the next phase, which I would consider an upswing, but clearly that is the area into which we are basically moving."
Greenspan said the economy was "slightly ahead of what I otherwise would have expected it to be at this point." He said he thought possible oil price increases would have only a marginal effect on the recovery at this stage.
He said June unemployment figures would show a decline from the 9.2 per cent level of May, primarily for complex statistical reasons.
"Qualitatively, the level is still going to be considered exceptionally high, and it's unlikely it will be going down pronouncedly until well after the summer," he said.
Greenspan said the odds were "close to 50-50" the May unemployment rate might represent the peak.
He said "the most dangerous potential force to upend this recovery" would be "letting our financial forces get out of control."

Student Residency Laws Are Upheld

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Supreme Court today upheld laws requiring university students to have lived in a state at least one year before qualifying for resident tuition rates.
The justices affirmed without opinion a three-judge appeals court decision which upheld the constitutionality of a Colorado law imposing this eligibility requirement.
Two years ago the court struck down a Connecticut law which presumed that a university student who had lived out of the state was ineligible for resident tuition status throughout his college years.
But the court only said a student must be given the chance to prove he intends to remain a permanent resident of the state. It did not strike down laws requiring residency for the lower tuition.

after Prime Minister Yitzhak Rabin's visit to Washington last week.
Egyptian President Anwar Sadat called on Arabs Sunday to maintain a dialogue with the United States because Washington remains the key to any Middle East settlement.
Sadat, in an interview with the Beirut newspaper Al Anwar, said, "Whether we like it or not, all the cards of the struggle are in the hands of America because it gives Israel everything from bread to weapons."
"Are we required to end the dialogue with America and return to using words like 'imperialism' and 'colonialism'?" he said. "This is the easiest thing we can do, but this is wrong and does not lead anywhere."
The ceiling is temporary and expires June 30, which would put the limit all the way back to its permanent level of $400 billion. Without an increase in the limit and an extension in time the government would be unable to borrow money and because of deficit financing it theoretically would have to shut down.
Money bills to finance such agencies as Health, Education and Welfare, State, Justice, Commerce, Labor and Housing and Urban Development will all come up in the House starting Tuesday.
None of the 13 regular money bills needed to finance government agencies during the 1976 fiscal year that starts July 1 has cleared Congress.

The latest continuing resolution was sent to the White House last week and will be in effect until Congress finishes work this year.
Congress is pushing toward the Independence Day recess, and a heavy workload stands in the way. The House plans to work through Thursday before recessing until July 8. The Senate, however, may not get its recess until a stalemate is broken on the disputed New Hampshire senatorial election.
Senate Leader Mike Mansfield said only emergency bills would be considered in order to devote full time to the question of whether Republican Louis Wyman really beat Democrat John Durkin by two votes.
The only emergency bill working its way toward the Senate is a measure the House is scheduled to consider Tuesday. It would increase the national debt limit from the current $331 billion to $577 billion through Nov. 15.

High Court Reopens Hearing On Death Penalty Validity

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Supreme Court today ordered more arguments next term in a North Carolina case testing the constitutionality of capital punishment.
The brief order said only that the case will be restored to the court's calendar for reargument.
The action means it could be as long as another year before at least 283 persons on death row in 25 states learn whether they will be put to death.
Although the high court has at least 23 capital punishment cases pending on its docket, last fall it selected only one as a vehicle for ruling on whether the death penalty is "cruel and unusual punishment."
That case was an appeal by Jesse Thurman Fowler, convicted of murder in Raleigh, N.C., after he fatally shot an acquaintance following a gambling argument.
The justices gave no reason for not ruling on Fowler's case this term. The action could mean the justices are strongly divided on the issue and feel they need more time to consider their decision.
Another possibility is the effect of limited participation by Justice William O. Douglas, who has been hospitalized in New York recovering from a stroke.
The other eight justices, if closely divided, could prefer to postpone a ruling until Douglas is fully able to debate the capital punishment issue in the court's weekly conference.
The Supreme Court ruled 5 to 4 in 1972 that the death penalty was unconstitutional as then applied. It said there were too many ways for some to escape death while others did not, resulting in a "freakish" or "arbitrary" application of the law.
No one has been legally executed in the United States since Luis Monge, 48, of Denver was put to death in Colorado's gas chamber June 2, 1967, for killing his wife and three of his 10 children.

Most of the Supreme Court appeals, including Fowler's, were supported by the Legal Defense Fund of the NAACP. LDF said that as of June 10, 283 persons were on death row.
North Carolina led the list with 72 persons sentenced to die.
Emissaries Win Execution Delay
NAIROBI, Kenya (UPI) — Ugandan President Idi Amin has postponed the execution of an English lecturer after two British army officers reportedly approached him "on their knees" with an appeal from Queen Elizabeth II.
Radio Uganda said Amin decided to delay today's execution of Dennis Hills following a bizarre meeting with two of his former commanders in the old King's African Rifles.
The radio, in a broadcast monitored in Nairobi, said Lt. Gen. Sir Chandos Blair and Maj. Iain Grahame, went to the president's home with an appeal from Queen Elizabeth.
"The two guests entered the general's house on their knees," the radio said.
The broadcast said Amin showered the two British officers with gifts, including traditional spears, bows and arrows, after making them kneel.
The two officers commanded Amin when he was a sergeant in the King's African Rifles. Britain ruled Uganda before the central African nation achieved independence in 1962.
The radio said Amin issued a temporary stay in the execution of the 61-year-old lecturer and called a meeting of Uganda's Defense Council to make a "final decision."

Seven Die in Accidents

By United Press International
At least six persons were killed in highway mishaps in Connecticut during the first weekend of summer, and a youth apparently hanged himself.
Pablo Maldonado, 6, of Hartford, was pronounced dead Sunday night at St. Francis Hospital in Hartford after he was struck by a car on Lenox Street and dragged several feet, police said. No charges have been pressed in the case.
Gerald Powers, 14, of Sterling, died Saturday night when he accidentally hanged himself from a tree, police said. Authorities said the youth must have been playing with a rope near a tree in his backyard and he "must have slipped or something."
A Cromwell man was killed Sunday when the motorcycle he was riding burst into flames after it struck a car in Berlin. Police said Charles Caruso, 23, was east-bound on Norton Road when the mishap occurred. He was pronounced dead at Yale-New Haven Hospital. Caruso was that state's 18th motorcycle fatality. A safety helmet was bound next to the wreckage.
Michael Dickens, 32, of Stafford Springs was charged with negligent homicide in the death Saturday of James Rowe, 10, of Mansfield, who was struck by a car as he rode a bicycle on the street in front of his house. Dickens was released on a promise to appear July 15 in Vernon Court of Common Pleas in Vernon, state police said.
Michael Leyland, 22, of Colchester was killed Saturday when his car went out of control on Rte. 85 and crashed in Hebron, police said. The vehicle left the highway, struck a dirt abutment and collided with a second auto, authorities said.
Brian McGinley, 15, of Meriden, was fatally injured Saturday when a car involved in a crash with a second auto struck him as he walked on a Meriden street.
North Branford police say they expected to file charges against one of the drivers involved in a two-car crash Friday night that took the life of Frank Defeo, 64, of Branford. Defeo was a passenger in a car hit broadside as it tried to make a left turn shortly after 7 p.m., police said. Two other persons involved in the crash were taken to St. Raphael's Hospital.

Congress Faces Deadline For Appropriations Bills

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Every year at this time, Congress is confronted by legislation that must pass by July 1, the beginning of a new fiscal year. This year, like in the others, many of the "must" appropriations won't be passed on time.
To get around the deadline, Congress annually passes a "continuing resolution," which says all the agencies can continue spending at last year's appropriation level or the amount requested in the President's budget for the new fiscal year, whichever figure is lower.
The latest continuing resolution was sent to the White House last week and will be in effect until Congress finishes work this year.
Congress is pushing toward the Independence Day recess, and a heavy workload stands in the way. The House plans to work through Thursday before recessing until July 8. The Senate, however, may not get its recess until a stalemate is broken on the disputed New Hampshire senatorial election.

Manchester Evening Herald OPINION Enter "Energy Ant"

The Federal Energy Administration hasn't been standing idle while President Ford and Congress have been struggling to come up with a national energy policy and to a large degree have failed.

While Congress tried to adopt politically acceptable restraints on energy use, which is not logically possible, and while the President used the oil import excise tax to pressure Congress into action, FEA hesitated, debated, studied, and deliberated and gave birth to:

"Energy Ant" the latest in propaganda personalities that started with "Smoky the Bear" some 20 years ago.

"Energy Ant" will be the symbol to remind us — through our children and grandchildren — to conserve energy. "Energy Ant" is a lowly hard-working ant clad in a sweatshirt, gloves and jester style boots.

If FEA has its way, she will join the veteran Smokey and some more recent propaganda personalities such as the owl who admonishes us to "give a hoot, don't pollute."

Which leads us to a dilemma. "Energy Ant" wants to conserve energy and that means petroleum which is in short supply. Some should use more coal to generate electricity for example.

But that owl will point out that coal can pollute.

Maybe we are getting too many cartoon characters trying to rally us around the flag.

But then maybe they make more sense than those we elect.

If for some reason "Energy Ant" doesn't catch on like "Smokey," we suggest she be transferred rather than retired from government service.

She could be made the mascot of Congress. After all, it is in the Good Book:

"Go to the ant, thou slugger; consider her ways, and be wise; which having no guide, overseer, or ruler, provideth her meat in the summer, and gathereth her food in the harvest."

Study in energy conservation

Permissive Soviet Society

In this country, some people view the trend toward sexual permissiveness as part of a Communist plot to sap the nation's moral fiber. Interestingly, though, the puritanical Soviet Union seems to be experiencing much the same phenomenon.

The magazine "Our Contemporary" reports that a survey it conducted found sharp increases in premarital sex, adultery and illegitimate births in Soviet society, as well as a rising number of unmarried couples living together and unreported separations.

Interviews of Leningrad students revealed that more than half of the men engaged in premarital sex before the age of 18 and nearly 65 per cent of the women did so before age 21.

As another barometer of sexual permissiveness, the magazine says that 400,000 children are born out of wedlock in the Soviet Union each year, or nearly 10 per cent of all births in 1971. In the city of Perm, every third child was illegitimate.

"The conclusion of a legal marriage has stopped being the condition of sexual life," the magazine comments.

RAY CROMLEY

Don't Write Off An Honest President

WASHINGTON — Those politicians who ask, "Aside from honesty what has President Ford got?" — should reflect that today a good many Americans will settle for honesty — if they can get it, knowing this is a very difficult commodity to come by in elected officials.

President Ford admits Harry Truman, the feisty, salty successor to Franklin Roosevelt. He talks, thinks and operates more like Dwight Eisenhower.

Those who balk at the comparison because of Mr. Ford's quick action in the Mayaguez affair to forget Mr. Eisenhower's rapid precautionary troop landing in Lebanon and his sending of military units to Little Rock in an early school integration crisis.

Anyone, however, who demands a clear Ford doctrine, either at home or abroad, had better not hold his breath. Mr. Ford's trademark in Congress and in the White House has not been bold innovation. This is not likely to change.

Mr. Ford's style does not demand that he have "Ford" programs or "Ford" men in all crucial slots. He has made few changes in the cabinet and, relatively speaking, few up and down the line in the departments and agencies.

Rather, Mr. Ford's style is to take the men at hand with the ideas at hand and attempt, by touching all bases, to determine the best available course, or the least objectionable. He's comfortable dealing with men of varied — and opposing — types.

This usually crowds out innovation. The sharp divisions and the each-for-himself attitude prevalent in Congress

Dateline 1775

PHILADELPHIA, June 23 — Congress recommended a proposal by Eban Allen that the Green Mountain Boys be used in the Continental Army under officers of their choice. The decision ignored the advice given by Benedict Arnold that the men who captured Ticonderoga and Crown Point not be incorporated into the regular army.

MAX LERNER The Ordeal Of New York

NEW YORK CITY — Fun City, Where City, Crime City — New York has been called many names. Now the police and firemen union officials are trying to solve the term "Fear City." Granted the bitterness about the job layoffs from which this tactic comes, it is nonetheless a dubious, shortsighted, self-defeating tactic.

To beshmirch the city's image, and thus to hinder business settlement and investment, it is also to choke off the future, prosperity on which the union workers' jobs in the years ahead will depend. Besides, the sources of fear reach beyond the number count of the people who work for the city. New York was most a Fear City in the second half of the 1960s, when it was also being called a Fun City, but when the city's social ills were well up in it, and when city jobs and social welfare expenditures mounted in order to allay those fears.

New York contains one of the most liberal city populations in the nation. It believes in generous welfare payments, free higher education, city hospitals, social services, free-spending pension plans for city workers. In the last 40 years, in the wake of the New Deal philosophy, it has led the nation in mortgaging its future with debt.

The result has been a great and generous city, fermenting, change-richer, tumulusous — but also a prodigal city, living constantly beyond its means, and now just about broke. It has been saved from technical bankruptcy only by a state commission which in effect administers its huge deficit and debt while limiting its expenditures.

Some years ago Norman Mailer ran for mayor on the platform of making New York a separate state. In effect, it is a social welfare state, leaving all the rest in its free-wheeling, free-spending generosity. It had separate legal status as a state, however, it might be even worse off today, since it would have no halting-out commission to fall back on.

There are three principal drains on New York's funds — the social welfare services, the public services (including pension funds as well as salaries) and the interest service on the huge piled-up debt. I don't list them in either an increasing or decreasing order of importance because they have all been outrageously high. Public inattention has combined with gimmicky budgetary practices to stave off the crisis now, but it has been coming for some years.

New York is not just a bundle of tensions, violence, troubles and bankruptcy. It is a prized possession of the state and not a whore city or fun city or fear city but a national and even global treasure — by its jobs, its arts, its ideas, its pollution, and the result is the cruel job slaying by the city.

A city isn't just a collection of gimmicks, and handouts. It is a sense of belonging. The fateful fact about New York is that this incredible energy center, which has pulled people to itself from all over the world, has not been able to instill in them a sense of belonging.

But this gets us to the core of the problem, beyond expenditures and borrowings and taxes. A great city like New York is more than a collection of interest groups — trade unions, welfare clients, pension recipients, bankers, ethnic groups. Either it is a community or it is a big overgrown, overblown bundle of selfishness. The bankers showed their selfishness by becoming hardhearted and forgetting the city. The union leaders showed their selfishness by refusing to accept either a wage freeze or a spreading of the work to a shorter workweek. They stayed rigid, and the result is the cruel job slaying by the city.

Scaggs of Rockville and Mrs. Marcia Blain of Mansfield Center.

Miss West wore a pink organza floral print gown designed with butterfly sleeves and a tie-back bow. She wore a matching pink picture hat with daisy appliques on the ribbon and carried a colonial floral arrangement of daisies and baby's breath tinted to match her gown.

The bridesmaids wore similar gowns except in blue. They wore blue picture hats and carried daisies tinted to match their gowns.

Michael West of Tolland, was his brother's best man. Usbers were William Scaggs of Rockville and Emery Breaux of Vernon.

A reception was held at Willie's Steak House in Manchester, after which the couple left on a trip to the Northern New England season. For traveling, Mrs. West wore a wine-color pantsuit and a light pink orchid corsage. They will reside in Manchester.

Mrs. West is employed as a secretary at The Travelers Insurance Co. Mr. West is employed at Mickey's Motor Sales.

ANDREW TULLY A Ruddy Nuisance

WASHINGTON — A sizeable number of readers have suggested, some with considerable vehemence, that I was pleading for an insidious first step in the establishment of a state religion in a recent column which took issue with a Supreme Court decision under the Pennsylvania law?

Then there is the majority opinion that a program for sending state teachers and therapists into nonpublic schools to provide special services would involve "excessive entanglement" between church and state. The state, said the majority, would be forced to monitor the behavior of its employees in order to make certain they did not "advance the religious mission of the church-related schools."

This attempt to forestall abuses, it was ruled, would be wrong. Why, I wonder, when the big idea is to keep the state out of the business of encouraging religion?

Justice William Douglas, William Brennan and Thurgood Marshall are not my favorites on the Supreme Court, but their position had the flavor of the unconstitutionality of the program to give nonpublic schools no assistance whatsoever. Right or wrong, they had the courage of their own convictions. They knew their own minds. If it matters to some (it doesn't to me), Justice Brennan is the only Roman Catholic on the bench.

In short, the court ruled that the Constitution's ban on the establishment of religion is not absolute, but flexible. Perhaps that ban is indeed flexible, but the court did a lousy job of ruling it so.

Even the individual who sincerely believes parents should not be penalized for sending their children to nonpublic schools, the decision on textbooks must seem murky. The court's majority said textbook loan provisions of the Pennsylvania law were constitutional since they "merely (make) available to children the benefits of a general program to lend books free of charge" and the "financial benefit is to parents and children, not to schools."

Here, the majority conveniently overlooked the fact that such loans of textbooks save the nonpublic schools the expense of buying the books with their own money.

On the second issue, the majority, indeed, announced that the direct loan of instructional materials and equipment to nonpublic schools has the unconstitutional "primary effect of establishing the religion because of the predominantly religious character of the schools benefiting from the act." It seems that 75 per cent of Pennsylvania's nonpublic schools

Mrs. Wayne R. West

Lynne Emily DeCampos of Manchester and Wayne Richard West of Tolland were married April 12 at St. Bridget Church in Manchester.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gabriel R. DeCampos of 33 Griffin Rd. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl West of RFD 4, Tolland.

The Rev. William J. Killen of St. Bridget Church officiated at the double-ring ceremony. The church was decorated with floral arrangements of pompons and carnations. Mrs. Barbara Murphy of Manchester was organist and soloist.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore an organza gown trimmed with imported Venice lace appliques and designed with an Empire waist, scoop neckline, small cap sleeves edged in lace, bodice trimmed in lace, A-line skirt and lace-edged hemline terminating in a chapel-length train. Her elbow-length veil of silk illusion was attached to a Juliet cap. She carried a colonial bouquet of baby roses, pompons and baby's breath.

Miss Charlene West of Tolland the bridegroom's sister was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Debra

WASHINGTON, D.C. (UPI) — Visitors to Switzerland who plan to drive and wear glasses should carry a spare pair, according to the American Automobile Assn. AAA says Swiss law requires visitors, as well as citizens, carry an extra pair of glasses at all times when driving in the country just in case something happens to the ones they are wearing.

GEMS Sparkles With Interest

I am suffering from Multiple Sclerosis which is often quite difficult to diagnose since it is neurological. I first had symptoms in 1954, then in 1955, and 1959. I have been totally disabled since 1966 and now reside at Crestfield Convalescent Hospital. This situation is the reason I am writing the following to acquaint the press and its readers with the aspirations and goals of our organization.

The National Multiple Sclerosis Society, in a limited way, is found in its Northeastern Connecticut Chapter called GEMS. GEMS is an exciting name because it stands for "Gathered To Eradicate Multiple Sclerosis."

What a challenging goal we have. How far-reaching the benefits will be as we battle to control this mysterious crippler of young and old regardless of station or means in life. It is even more tragic when it afflicts the young people in the prime of life.

In the previous paragraph I used the word "control." This is meant for those who have the illness and who pray that the affliction be arrested or that a cure be discovered. Our other tremendous goal is that the disease be totally conquered to prevent its mysterious inception. Research to get the answer to what we call "Mystery Solved" (M.S.) is increasing daily so let's not falter in our faith and hope. Let charity, too, be a part of our drive toward that goal so that this planet will resound with a hymn of jubilation.

GEMS is in an ideal area of greater Hartford at Farmington where the new Health Center of the University of Connecticut is located. Here can be established clinics for patients so that research can be pursued — not unlike the great Dr. Salk conducted for polio. Dr. Weaver leads our national system of research and Dr. Taylor handles the research funding.

OPEN FORUM

Biochemists and other necessary personnel can be available.

At the St. Louis convention badges with the letters M.S.M.P.T. were distributed. These letters represent Multiple Sclerosis Mission Possible Team. The team will be effective because the coach is the famous football coach of Notre Dame University and Ara Parseghian is a member of the National Multiple Sclerosis Society Board. God willing we will soon have another victory march and then GEMS will tackle another humanitarian endeavor.

With great love,
Thomas C. Shea

East Hartford Park Program Begins

Sheila Tuller 289-4283

All major East Hartford parks — Goodwin, Gorman, Rockman, Martin and McLaughlin — have appeals.

The playground area at most of the town's schools were under supervision beginning today.

There will be an arts and crafts program at all parks and playgrounds weekday mornings except Friday. Fridays are reserved for special events, such as doll parades, pet shows, and art shows. These special activities will be announced in each park weekly.

Fast and fun dancing lessons will be offered starting Monday at Stevens School playground, Tuesday at Mayberry, Wednesday at Goodwin, Thursday at Gorman, and Friday at McLaughlin. Participants can look forward to a special at the Music Shell in August.

For boys, age 7 to 9, there will be a T-Ball program at most of the parks and playgrounds on Tuesday and Thursday mornings. Little League and Farm League players are ineligible to participate in this program.

The outdoor pools at Goodwin, Gorman, Martin, and McLaughlin parks opened Friday afternoon for recreational swimming. Wading pools are also ready for the season.

Swimming lessons will start Monday. Registration for lessons was held earlier in June but there are openings in some classes and anyone interested may sign up at his neighborhood pool.

Frank DeGregorio, director of parks and recreation, has announced that he has been named as the new superintendent of the town's parks and recreation department by the Board of Selectmen.

The banquet will be held at Willie's Restaurant in Manchester.

Anyone who is interested in attending the banquet may get tickets and further information from Louis Krausnick of East Hartford at 588-4667 or Edward Socha of Manchester at 649-9021.

Advice Team

The Parents Advice Team of the Parent's Choice Project recently visited into its offices at 700 Burnside Ave., East Hartford.

Members of PTA are Barbara Caffegan, Joanne Levy, Barbara Morkan, and Eileen Thomas.

As the information team will soon be contacting East Hartford parents, a pamphlet introducing the team members to parents was delivered to homes in town Thursday.

Also enclosed in the Parents' Choice information packet was a book, "Our Schools," which describes all of the educational programs currently offered in East Hartford's schools. Directions on how to transfer a child to a school outside the home school district and a transfer form completed the packet.

A brief explanation of the open enrollment school program is included in the pamphlet introducing the team and it also states the team is ready to answer all questions parents have concerning the program. Team members can be reached at 528-9174.

The Herald

announced as the summer progresses.

Banquet

East Catholic High School varsity baseball team, Class B state champions, will be honored by parents, friends, and fans at a banquet June 26. The banquet will be held at Willie's Restaurant in Manchester.

Anyone who is interested in attending the banquet may get tickets and further information from Louis Krausnick of East Hartford at 588-4667 or Edward Socha of Manchester at 649-9021.

Vernon To Set Tuition Fees

The Vernon Board of Education will be asked to approve a schedule of tuition fees for the coming year at a meeting tonight at 7:30 in the Sykes School cafeteria.

Ronald Kouach, head of the Vernon Continuing Education Department will submit a report concerning proposed new legislation on adult education.

The bill is expected to be signed into law by July 1 and will significantly change mandatory programs and reimbursement classes, and reimbursement classes.

The parts of the new law which are expected to most influence the Vernon program will involve the number of hours classes have to be provided, the fact that elementary and secondary school completion programs or any subject will be provided upon the registration or request of at least 15 adults; there will be no reimbursement for classes or activities that are not directly connected with high school completion; and the fact that a fee, not to exceed $8, per subject for each subject except those connected directly with elementary and secondary school completion programs.

Assistant superintendent Albert Kerkin will make a report on the Individually Guided Education (IGE) program in the system. His report will encompass accomplishments with the program over a three-year period.

The board will also receive reports on the summer school program; be asked to act on a leave of absence request of Mrs. Barbara Lalli, Grade 2 teacher at Maple Street School; and hear a report on the program guides for the high school.

PZC To Consider Softball Field

The South Windsor Planning and Zoning Commission will discuss the new Rye Street Park softball field at its meeting Tuesday at 8 p.m. in Town Hall.

The field was approved by the Town Council last week in a controversial vote, with Deputy Mayor Sandy Bender breaking a deadlock between the two fields considered — Rye St. and Nevers Rd.

The Rye Street field already has a baseball diamond, and to convert the present field into a lighted softball field will require commission approval.

The Jaycees have agreed to provide the town with lights, poles and fencing at wholesale prices and to provide free labor.

Summer meeting dates for the PZC will be July 1, July 8, July 29 and Aug. 26.

PZC Hearing Tonight

The Planning and Zoning Commission will conduct a public hearing tonight at 8 o'clock to consider the application of Walter Wangel of Jed Haines, Inc. to construct 12 units of two-bedroom apartments in four buildings on its property on Parker Bridge Rd.

The commission will also meet with James Moore, its representative to the Windham Regional Planning Agency to discuss matters of mutual interest.

The commission, acting as the Inland Wetlands Agency.

Hartford Cuts School Budget

HARTFORD (UPI) — The Board of Education has approved a $9.1 million budget for the coming school year, $200,000 more than school officials had this year but $2.7 million less than they asked for.

The new budget, which will mean the loss of 79 jobs in the school system next year, was approved Saturday night after a meeting of more than nine hours, board officials said.

Ditch Clearing Request Rebuffed

Classes begin June 30 and will be each Monday, Wednesday and Thursday through Aug. 8. Each class will be an hour long. Instruction will be in the Bolton Elementary School all-purpose room.

There will be a $10 charge. It will be under the direction of Richard Niepucki who is a physical education teacher in Bolton.

Anyone unable to be at registration may call Niepucki at home, 1-423-2940 or may register the first day of classes, June 30, at 11:30 a.m.

Instruction will be given on the parallel bars, uneven bars, balance beam, vaulting horse, side horse and mats.

Bowling Begins

An inter-parish bowling league is being made to provide weekly competition for boys and girls ages 7 to 17.

Beginning Wednesday and on each and every Wednesday through Aug. 27 a bus will leave Herick Memorial Park at noon.

The program is being held at the Brunswick Parkade Lanes in the Manchester Shopping Parkade.

The league program will cost the youngest $2.25 per week. The cost includes three games of bowling, use of a bowling ball and bowling shoes, coke and a hot dog.

The bus will return those participating to the park.

Corps To Practice

The Quarryville Junior Ancient Fife and Drum Corps will meet for practice today and June 30 at the United Methodist Church from 6:30 until 8:30 p.m.

Beginning July 7 and for the remainder of the summer the corps will practice at the church from 7 until 9 p.m.

Dear Abby

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: You blemished the image of pigs and hogs when you wrote: "The person who hogs the conversation is no less a pig than the person who comes to the table and eats all the food..."

Abby, you infer that pigs and hogs are greedy. They are not! If these little four-footed creatures were fed balanced rations, they would not overeat!

If you want to emphasize greediness in people, instead of calling them "hogish," why not say "peoplish"?

DEAR MR. P.: I plead guilty to perpetuating the prejudicial notion that pigs and hogs are greedy.

DEAR ABBY: Thank you for telling "Made My Plans" that you, too, carry a card stating that your eyes and kidneys shall be donated immediately on your demise.

DEAR SANDRA: God is blessing you now.

DEAR ABBY: I am a smoker. I know all the hazards, but I enjoy smoking and will not give it up.

DEAR MRS. T.S.: You make a valid point. But while obvious drunk and no pleasure to encounter, they do no violence to your lungs and the environment.

THE BABY IS NAMED

More Low-Cost Housing Urged

HARTFORD (UPI) - Twenty-nine Hartford-area towns have been asked only to build more low-income housing units rather than meeting a quota - by a report that says the Housing Committee of the Capitol Region Council of Governments released the $100-million regional housing study report last week.

The report contains a graph rating each municipality's ability to accept subsidized housing. The municipalities range from Hebron and Marlborough, rated low, to Hartford and Bloomfield, rated high.

Andrew Ansaldi Jr., chairman of the board of the Manchester State Bank, secured shareholders at their annual meeting "that despite the economy, the bank is in a good, sound financial position."

In its fifth year of operation, bank officers are still mindful of their objective this year, to eliminate start-up expenses and earlier operating losses. The bank's growth over the past four years has been steady and consistent. In serving the needs of the Manchester and east of the river area, we expect to continue our strong, continued growth rate. Every effort will be made by the bank to continue offering the lowest possible rates for loans, home improvements and mortgages," said Ansaldi.

Ansaldi commented that Nate G. Agostinelli, president, has adopted a vigorous, personal program toward securing new accounts and is working with the Federal Reserve System toward increasing profits and cutting costs.

Ronald Jacobs, secretary of the corporation and the bank's legal counsel reported that Edmond Parker, former president, through his attorney, has brought suit against the bank in the amount of $150,000 over a disability assignment policy.

Martha Jean Aray of Manchester and Michael A. Karlak of Seymour were married June 21 at the Community Baptist Church in Manchester.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth D. Aray of 133 White St. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Karlak of Seymour.

The Rev. Kenneth L. Gustafson of Calvary Church, Assenbly of God officiated at the double-ring ceremony. Organist was Mrs. Kenneth Gustafson. The church was decorated with white stock and mixed pastel colors of small flowers.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white silk, with long full sleeves, an under bodice, and high neckline of nylon lace. Her nylon tulle veil was attached to a lace-covered Juliet cap. The bride made her own gown and cap. She carried a colonial bouquet of staphanotis, white miniature carnations and baby's breath.

Miss Linda Brown of Manchester was maid of honor. She wore a blue sleeveless gown of tulle and nylon lace designed with a ruffled neckline and a-line skirt. She carried a colonial bouquet of white and lavender pompons, light pink and purple miniature carnations, blue cornflowers, and baby's breath.

Mr. Karlak is employed as a test engineer at Combustion Engineering in Windsor.

Ansaldi Says Bank Sound Financially

Jacobs said he didn't wish to discuss the pending litigation because it might jeopardize the case.

All 20 members of the Board of Directors were re-elected and the accounting firm of Baradaglio, Hart and Sumann of Windsor Locks was again named the corporation's auditor.

Her floral headpiece matched her bouquet. She made her own gown.

Bridesmaids were Mrs. Karen Oko of Seymour, sister of the bridegroom, and Miss Joanne Aray of Baldwinville, Mass., cousin of the bride. They wore gowns styled with full skirts, high necklines, and long full sleeves. Mrs. Oko's gown was lavender flocked nylon and Miss Aray's was in pink flocked nylon. They carried colonial bouquets of white and lavender pompons, light pink and purple miniature carnations, blue cornflowers, and baby's breath. They both wore white picture hats with ribbons to match their gowns. Their gowns were made by the wedding party.

Bruce Pajot of East Hartford was best man. Ushers were Bruce Aray of Worcester, Mass., brother of the bride; and John Karlak Jr. of Seymour, cousin of the bridegroom.

A reception followed in the church hall. After a wedding trip to the West the couple will live in Windsor. For traveling, Mrs. Karlak wore a light blue sleeveless dress with a long sleeved sheer flowered jacket and a corsage of sweetheart roses and baby's breath.

Bicentennial Workshop Set

School administrators, teachers and community leaders can learn how to include economic considerations in their schools or communities in a workshop at the University of Connecticut in July.

Utilizing Economic Understandings to Explore Bicentennial Themes is a three-week workshop which combines two graduate credit courses, "Curriculum Laboratory Economic Education Workshop" and "Special Topics."

The workshop will be at the UConn Hartford Branch on the Greater Hartford Campus, 1800 Asylum Ave., beginning July 7. Classes will meet from 8:30 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. daily until July 25.

Workshop leaders will help teachers and administrators organize classroom strategies and materials to explore basic American values through careers, consumer and community orientations appropriate for particular subject area or grade level.

Registration information may be obtained from Dr. Edward L. Hamlin, director of the Connecticut Joint Council on Economic Education (CJCEE), Box U-52, University of Connecticut, Storrs, Conn. 06268.

Graham and Mahaffey in Playoffs

MEDINAH, Ill. (UPI) — The diamond anniversary U.S. Open winds down on an 18-hole playoff today between Lou Graham, 47, and Tom Lehman, 41, a 11-year-old veteran who has won only two tournaments in an unremarkable career, and John Mahaffey, who in five years has never been in a playoff.

Graham and Mahaffey, more survivors than victors in Sunday's final round, will tee off today for the Open title, with the winner to get $40,000 and attendant fame. The loser gets $10,000.

Graham, 37, from Nashville, Tenn., set the tone for the match by turning to Mahaffey Sunday and saying, "I'm sure you will be ready. I hope we both play well."

Riordan Gains Governor's Cup

Versatile Rich Riordan copped the Governor's Cup Golf Tournament with a 4 and 3 win over Tom Leone in the 18-hole final yesterday at the Manchester Country Club.

Runless Innings End in Sox Win

BALTIMORE (UPI) — Boston was held scoreless for 21 innings, but the weekend didn't do the Baltimore Orioles much.

"You can't keep our hitters down for long," said outfielder Juan Beniquez, following Boston's 5-1 win over Baltimore Sunday.

Baltimore ended the weekend 7-6 games behind the Red Sox, who hit Sunday.

Mike Cuellar shut out the Red Sox on six hits Sunday.

"When we really need him, in August and September, he'll just be hitting steady," Boston manager Darrell Johnson said.

Fisk was hitting .299 with 11 homers when he was injured last year.

"I'll break in slowly at first, catching four, five or six innings," Fisk said.

Alomar New Yankee Hero

DETROIT (UPI) — A two-run triple by 198 hitter Sandy Alomar with one out in the fourth inning and Dick Tidrow's clutch relief pitching Sunday gave the New York Yankees a 5-3 victory over the Detroit Tigers.

Tidrow's fourth save of the season enabled Larry Gura to raise his record to 2-1. He went on to pitch the eighth and ninth innings but came out with one out in the eighth after Mickey Stanley tripled and Gary Sutherland singled him home.

Tidrow walked Leon Roberts with two out but got Bill Fingers to strike out in the eighth and ninth innings, ending the game and allowing one run in the ninth.

Chris Chambliss started the three-run fourth against Loser Tom Walker with a double and scored on the first of Ed Herrmann's two doubles in the game. Chambliss also singled in New York's fourth run in the ninth when the Yankees added two runs.

Ed Brinkman sent Herrmann to third with a single and both came in when Alomar lined a 2-2 pitch into right-center which rolled all the way to the fence.

Ed Figueroa pitched a two-hitter and retired 19 batters in succession during an stretch as the Angels won 1-0 over the Texas Rangers. Figueroa, who outpitched Ferguson Jenkins, lowered his earned run average to 1.95 and, odd as it may sound, may soon be challenging strikeout king Nolan Ryan as the ace of the California staff.

DETROIT (UPI) — Bat day isn't dead in Detroit, but old age is definitely beginning to enfeeble the promotion.

The lowest gathering in the history of the event in Detroit — 31,077 — turned out Sunday to see the Tigers play the New York Yankees.

General Manager Jim Campbell said the Tigers are looking for a sponsor to pick up part of the tab next season. Visiting clubs in the American League already agree to pay 20 percent of the cost.

When the promotion began, Campbell said, the Little League bats the Tigers and other clubs give away cost them 60 cents apiece. Now the cost has risen to $1.65 per bat, which means the Tigers actually lose money on bats they give away to purchasers of bleacher seats, which cost $1.50.

HAAS, last year's low amateur in the Open at Winged Foot, double bogeyed the tough 285 yard par-three 17th hole to end his chances for uncontested honors. He finished with a 78.

Ford To Veto Housing Bill

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Ford will veto a $1.35 billion middle-income housing bill, a White House source said today.

Despite what congressional sources said was "tremendous pressure" on Ford to sign the bill, the President's veto was not unexpected.

House Speaker Carl Albert, in an apparent rebuff to the Democratic Whip, Rep. John McFall, Calif., who was sitting next to him, told reporters Monday he was taking personal command of the effort to override the veto.

Rep. Henry Reuss, D-Wis., chairman of the Banking Committee, which handles housing bills, said the Democrats have only "an outside fighting chance" of winning.

The bill passed the Senate 72-24, but its 235-155 approval in the House was short of the two-thirds majority required to enact a bill over a president's objection.

Meany and Economists Disagree on Recession

By RICHARD HUGHES IUPI Business Writer Most economists say they believe the recession has ended. But said AFL-CIO President George Meany, when asked Monday if he agreed: "No, sir, it won't be over until people go back to work."

Using Meany's yardstick, the recession is going to continue for a long time. Using the indicators of most economists, the recession bottomed out sometime in the last few weeks and the recovery either has begun or is about to begin.

Meany's perception of the economy is based on how many people are out of work. Most economists look at how many people are working.

The unemployment rate is rising and will continue to rise this summer, peaking at 9.5 per cent or higher—the highest jobless rate since the last days of the Great Depression.

How can the recession be over when 8.5 million to 9 million persons out of a job force of about 92 million cannot find work in any given month this year?

Committee Favors Gasoline Controls

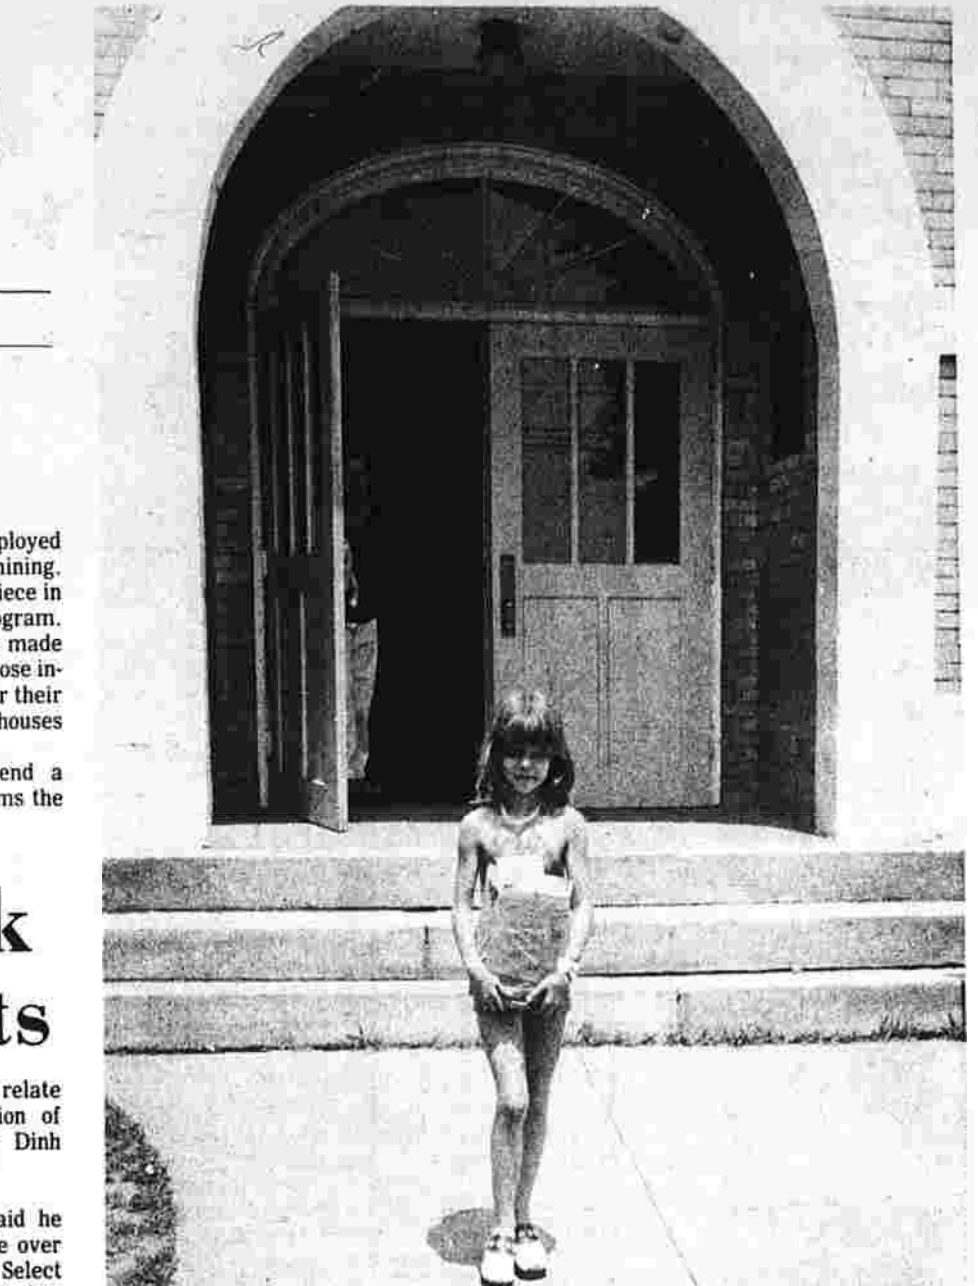

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The House Commerce Committee has reasserted its standing favoring mandatory controls on use of gasoline in the United States.

Rep. Clarence J. Brown, R-Ohio, failed to persuade the committee to leave the controls up to the President.

As drafted, the legislation would hold gasoline allocations down to the level of the 1973-74 base period. That would be done by limiting the amount of gasoline that can be refined and then the amount would work down to the service station level.

Buckland's Last Student Leaves Mrs. Christine Parks, fourth grade teacher, watches Lynn Banavogue of 279 Burnham St., the last pupil to leave Buckley School Monday on the last day of school for 1974-75, and on the last day of Buckley School as an elementary school. Buckley School has been phased out and next year will be the center for the Head Start program. Mrs. Parks will teach at Buckley School.

School Board Given Implications Of Legislative Acts on Programs

By JUNE TOMPKINS Recent legislation has had a direct bearing on the Manchester school district and School Superintendent James Kennedy explained some of the fiscal implications to the Board of Education Monday night.

The per pupil aid to education will stay the same as in 1974-75 which is $250 per student.

While Manchester must continue to sponsor an adult education program under the terms of the fiscal implications of the past, Dr. Kennedy said there will be a severe limitation in the amount of state funding available in next year's budget.

Ernest Lewis, director of the adult education program, who was at the meeting. There will be no more than a $2,000 reimbursement from the state, said Dr. Kennedy.

The board approved an increase in fees to be charged for adult education for 1975-76 as follows: $6 per course for residents; $12 per course for non-residents; $10 per course for recalcitrant students; $12 per course for students who are on probation; $15 for non-residents.

There is no charge for Senior Citizens classes or for Sheltered Workshop classes. Dr. Kennedy said section 21 of Public Act 75-47 "unmandates" driver education, and also provides that no reimbursement will be given to the local community for the state driver education.

Today's Korea an Armed Camp

By JOHN MILNE WASHINGTON (UPI)—Historians say one reason North Korean troops invaded South Korea 25 years ago was that Harry Truman's secretary of state made a mistake—one General Ford's administration says it will not make.

One indication of this is the announcement by Ford's defense secretary, James Schlesinger, that the United States has deployed tactical nuclear weapons in South Korea and is willing to use them.

In January 1950, Truman's secretary of state, Dean Acheson, drew the U.S. "defense line" south from the Aleutian Islands to Japan, to the Ryukyu Islands, to the Philippines.

He did not include Taiwan or Korea. On June 25, 1950, North Korean troops knifed across the 38th parallel and within two days had captured Seoul, the capital in the south.

In the north, 467,000 are under arms and there are 526 combat aircraft. Pyongyang spends about $800 million on defense out of an estimated GNP of $3.5 billion.

In the south, President Park Chung-hee's Republic of Korea is reportedly accelerating its mobilization. It has 625,000 in its armed forces and spends $550 million on defense out of a GNP of $12.6 billion.

The ROK is aided by 42,000 U.S. troops, many in the Air Force.

The ground forces balance in the Korean peninsula is not unsatisfactory," Schlesinger told his news conference Friday.

U.S. intelligence analysts say the societies are similar, both tightly controlled. The forces in the south are committed to anticommunism as the northerners are to spreading the people's revolution.

Park Supt. Ernest Turcek looks on as park employee Frank Goehse waters one of the shrubs (there are eight varieties of them) adorning the controversial Lincoln Center driveway and parking lot. In addition to the shrubs, the area is landscaped with hard-wood chips. Entry is one-way from Main St., at the north end of the building only. The former entry at the Center has been filled in and landscaped and a sidewalk has been constructed from Main St. to the Center Congregational Church. The whole area connects with the Municipal Building via a driveway and sidewalk. Vehicular exit is one-way, around Lincoln Center to and through the Municipal Building parking lot. Wyman-Durkin Dispute Remains Unresolved

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Senate is no nearer today to resolving the disputed New Hampshire Senate race than when debate began nine days ago.

Democrats intended to try to force an end to the debate this afternoon.

But first comes the question of "skip ballots," an issue that has stirred the greatest Republican outcry. If the closure motion carried, debate would end and a vote would be taken on a resolution covering 35 issues, including 27 ballots.

The Senate Rules Committee could then complete its record of disputed ballots.

The Democrats appeared unlikely to muster enough votes to force closure, if all senators were present, it would take 60 votes to cut off debate.

Late Monday, Democrats put in a second closure petition, which would be debated on Wednesday if today's vote fails.

Mrs. Gandhi to Keep Office While Appealing Conviction

NEW DELHI (UPI)—The Supreme Court ruled today that Indira Gandhi can remain as prime minister while she appeals her conviction for election law violations, but the mixed verdict could bring new pressure on her to resign as India's leader.

Supporters of Raj Narain, the Socialist leader who brought the charges against Mrs. Gandhi shortly after she swept back into office in 1971 national parliamentary balloting, danced jubilantly outside when her ruling was announced.

The decision stripped Mrs. Gandhi of her right to vote in Parliament and her supporters were gloom, shocked looks outside the court building when the ruling was announced.

The Weather

Hot, humid and hazy today with chance of afternoon or evening thunderstorms. High temperatures in the high 80s to mid 90s. Thunderstorms ending early tonight followed by clearing. Lows in the upper 50s to mid 60s. Fair, cooler and less humid Wednesday with highs mostly in the low to mid 80s.
