Mary Cadorette Named Miss Connecticut 1975

By CANDICE CALDWELL

WATERBURY — Saturday night Miss Manchester, 18-year-old Mary Cadorette of East Hartford, won the Miss Connecticut Scholarship Pageant and was crowned the new Miss Connecticut by outgoing queen Elisa Heinemann of Wethersfield. There were 17 girls competing in the pageant sponsored by the Southington Jaycees. Miss Ridgefield, Michelle Bessette, was the first runner up.

Miss Cadorette is the second Miss Manchester to win the Miss Connecticut title. Priscilla Doyle was the first in 1971. Only 1933's Miss Connecticut has gone on to win at the Miss America Pageant in Atlantic City in which Miss Cadorette is now eligible to compete.

She was the strongest contender in each of the three categories of competition, swimsuit, evening gown, and talent. The talent segment afforded the toughest competition.

Miss Cadorette did a modern jazz dance. There was a flute solo, tap dance and fire baton routine among the talents.

She wore a purple sleeveless gown with a silver threaded halter neck band which she selected. Her hair was styled by Canned Ego of Forbes and Wallace in the Manchester Parkade. She said she had help with her make up from Sally Middleton Pinto, a top fashion model in the area, who helps every year with make up for Miss Manchester. Her final instructions from her chaperones before going on stage were "be yourself." She said the most difficult thing about competition in the pageant was the suspense.

Winning the Miss Connecticut title means $2,000 in scholarships, gifts, clothing and a chance to compete in the Miss America pageant in Atlantic City, Sept. 2-6, where she could win a $15,000 scholarship and additional cash awards. She said she thinks these pageants are a valuable opportunity for her to use her talent to help pay for her education. She will be attending the University of Connecticut in September and hopes to eventually become a speech pathologist.

The judges were Kathleen Cieplik, a coach and a certified judge for statewide gymnastic competitions; William Haggerty Jr., an economics and humanities instructor at Edwin O. Smith High School in Storrs; John McCaffery, who conducts a biweekly program on station WINF and winner of an Emmy for his program "The Author Meets Critic;" Ann Vermeil, executive director of Rhode Island State Council on the Arts; and Leland Wade, professor of music at Mattatuck Community College in Waterbury.

The Manchester Jaycees are planning a motorcade Thursday at 6 p.m. assembling in the South Methodist Church parking lot. The motorcade consisting of about six cars will drive up Main Street to the Municipal Building where Miss Cadorette the new Miss Connecticut, will crown Lee Scott, 19, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Scott of Manchester, the new Miss Manchester in her absence.

The public is invited to come and greet the new Miss Connecticut and Miss Manchester.

Many New State Taxes Go In Effect Tuesday

HARTFORD (UPI) — Connecticut tax officials will start Tuesday to dig deeper for $125 million in taxes Gov. Ella T. Grasso says the state needs to balance its budget.

A new tax package, led by a hike in the sales tax from 6.5 per cent to 7 per cent and its extension to a host of services previously not taxed, takes effect Tuesday along with 100 other measures passed by the 1975 Legislature.

The sales tax will apply to insect exterminators, all renovations on income-producing and business properties, private employment firms, interior decorators, and security guards and leased motor vehicles.

The tax package also involves the reinstatement of a 7 per cent tax on dividends, and increased levies on corporate taxes, from 8 per cent to 10 per cent.

A number of motor vehicle fees also will be going up, with the increases expected to bring in an additional $18 million a year to the state. License renewals will cost $10 instead of $8.

The governor urged the legislature to hike state taxes to make up a $170 million deficit his fiscal advisors had predicted for the end of the fiscal year that starts Tuesday.

In her State of the State speech, the governor said "the cupboard is bare" and called on them to make a "heroic effort" to balance her austerity budget with higher state taxes.

She kept her campaign pledge of opposing a state income tax, although many legislators said they would endorse it as a way of reducing the sales tax, which they said weighed most heavily on the poor.

Among the other laws going into effect Tuesday are provisions for a new state lottery whose revenues will finance the equalization of school spending around the state, and establishment of a new state Freedom of Information Commission.

The education financing law will distribute the $7 million expected from the lottery to Connecticut's 145 poorest towns, with the least wealthy towns receiving the largest share of the funds.

A Superior Court judge ruled last year Connecticut's dependence on local property taxes for financing education was unfair. The state has appealed the decision.

The Freedom of Information Commission would rule on alleged violations of the state's Freedom of Information Act, which gives the public access to the workings of state and local governments.

The Weather

Cloudy, windy and cool today and tonight. Highs in the upper 60s and low 70s. Partly cloudy Tuesday, highs in the low 70s. Chance of rain 10 per cent through Tuesday, winds north to northeast at 10 to 20 mph through Tuesday.

Gunfire Terrorizes Beirut

BEIRUT (UPI) — Fierce rocket, mortar and machine gun fire terrorized Beirut for the eighth straight day today and Beirut Radio warned citizens that the entire city had become a fighting zone. Snipers began firing on ambulances and fire engines.

Police estimates put the casualty toll at more than 125 dead and 450 wounded as street battles between rival political factions entered their second week. The total count since fighting first broke out stood at more than 1,500 dead and injured.

The sound of rockets, mortars and machine guns ripped across the city during the night and again this morning and Beirut radio said all roads in the capital and its environs were "unsafe" and warned citizens to stay off them.

At least a dozen bomb blasts rocked the city during the early morning, damaging a school building, a church, scores of shops and cars and setting off dozens of fires.

Beirut radio said snipers were firing on ambulances and fire engines and that responding to emergency calls was becoming difficult.

Premier-designate Rashid Karami said Sunday he had reached agreement with Lebanon's warring parties on a new government but there was no letup in the fighting.

By daybreak today roads leading into the capital remained blocked as the fighting between rival political factions entered its second week.

Karami said Sunday night he expected to name his new cabinet today in an attempt to end three months of fighting between leftists and rightists, Christians and Moslems, Palestinian guerrillas and Lebanese nationalists.

His announcement came at the end of the worst day of fighting in which heavy mortar, rocket and machinegun fire claimed at least 175 dead and wounded.

Syrian Foreign Minister Abdel Halim Khaddam arrived in Beirut shortly after midnight and began talks early today with President Suleiman Franjeh in an effort to mediate an end to the conflict.

"We could not sleep all night from the explosions and rockets," said a scared resident of Beirut's Ain Rummaneh suburb. "We are trapped at home...and we are short of food. It is another Stalingrad here...if this is not hell, I don't know what is."

In Ashrafieh, Furn El Chubbak and other east Beirut districts, residents spent the night in shelters with bullets zig-zagging over rooftops and rockets exploding in streets and apartments.

"We don't dare open windows, bullets are everywhere," an Ashrafieh resident said.

"All roads leading into the capital are not secure...kept tuned to Beirut radio for further announcement," an internal security forces announcement said at 8 a.m.

Energy Plan Accents Solar Power Research

WASHINGTON (UPI) — In a sharp retreat from past emphasis on the atom, federal energy officials unveiled a new research plan today abandoning the nuclear breeder reactor as a key power source and raising solar power to unprecedented prominence.

No matter which technology is developed, they said, basic energy costs are likely to double by the year 2000.

The 25-year research blueprint, presented to Congress and President Ford by the Energy Research and Development Administration, said the controversial breeder reactor now probably will not become a major commercial energy producer until the early 21st century—if ever.

It stressed instead the need for an expanded range of research, including more vigorous efforts to produce synthetic natural gas and crude oil from coal and oil shale by 1985 and to increase emphasis on sunlight as a source of electricity by 2000.

Even the most optimistic of six scenarios presented in the plan showed the United States continuing to import oil until 1995, a decade beyond the goal set by Ford.

But officials said that did not necessarily discredit Project Independence because actual import levels would depend on future domestic oil and gas discoveries and possible changes in U.S. lifestyles.

The potential of solar electric power production has been virtually ignored in the past. But the plan said it should rank equally with the breeder and nuclear fusion as one of three unproven but potentially "inexhaustible" sources of energy in the 21st century.

At least one of those three long-range processes appears necessary to guarantee the nation enough energy in the future, the report said, but it is impossible to predict now which can be developed for economic commercial application.

It called for five major changes in U.S. energy research policy:

—New emphasis on technical solutions to reliability and environmental problems that now inhibit greater use of presently available energy sources, primarily coal and water-cooled nuclear reactors.

—An immediate focus on conservation efforts, with initial emphasis on the automobile, building insulation and industrial processing.

—Accelerated work leading to commercial production between 1985 and 2000 of synthetic gas and oil from shale and coal.

—Inclusion for the first time of solar electric power — produced by windmills, solar cells and differences in ocean water temperatures — as a high priority possibility for the year 2000 and beyond.

—Increased attention to presently under-used technologies that can be developed rapidly, such as solar heating and cooling of buildings and the use of geothermal power.

Police Crush Protest

NEW DELHI (UPI) — Hundreds of club-swinging police have crushed a demonstration against Prime Minister Indira Gandhi, smashing frightened protesters across the legs and dragging them by the hair.

Some 700 police, some on horseback, others with bayonets fixed on rifles, swarmed into the old city of Delhi Sunday to oust about 500 protesters from the grounds of town hall.

At least 30 persons were arrested in the first known antigovernment demonstration in India since Mrs. Gandhi declared a state of emergency five days ago.

The police waded into the crowd in front of town hall and chased the terrified protesters down side streets, swinging heavy wooden nightsticks at anyone in their way.

The frightened demonstrators took refuge in homes, shops and alleys in the crowded old section of Delhi, but police charged into the hideouts after them.

Ten police surrounded two unarmed teen-aged boys who were not participating in the demonstration, ramming nightsticks into their ribs and hitting them across the shoulders and backs of knees.

Police then grabbed the youths by the hair and dragged them screaming to waiting paddy wagons a block away.

Mrs. Gandhi imposed the state of emergency last Thursday and arrested hundreds of political opponents for allegedly taking part in a "widespread conspiracy" to disrupt India's internal security.

Berserk Man Hijacks Bus

BRANFORD (UPI) — A man hijacked a bus and plowed it into a police blockade on the Connecticut Turnpike Sunday, demolishing two police cruisers.

The bus and another vehicle also were severely damaged, but the only injuries were suffered by the real bus driver and another passenger, who were assaulted in the incident which sparked the hijacking, police said.

Joseph Peppers, 28, of Far Rockaway, N.Y., was to be arraigned today on three counts of assault, one count of larceny and "several counts of reckless driving," state police said. He spent Sunday night at Norwich State Hospital.

Police said the Greyhound bus was near North Stonington, traveling from Providence to New York, when a scuffle developed at about 10:15 a.m. after Peppers and another passenger had argued about smoking.

One passenger in the bus said Peppers went "berserk" and said he "believed he was the reincarnation of John F. Kennedy."

police said the driver stopped the bus and the passengers got out, but Peppers assaulted the driver and a third passenger. They said he then bolted for the driver's seat and commandeered the bus, driving off alone.

State troopers spotted the bus west-bound at more than 100 miles per hour just east of the Branford toll station. Peppers did not respond to several attempts to pull him over, police said.

Troopers and Branford police used their cars to set up a road block at the Branford toll station. The bus did not appear to slow down before it plowed into the blockade, forcing policemen to scatter.

A state police cruiser was set afire by the impact and a Branford police car was thrown at least 100 feet as the bus continued into a rest area adjacent to the toll station.

It then crashed into a station wagon, which jammed into the truck's undercarriage and finally brought it to a halt about 500 feet away.

Peppers was taken into custody without a struggle and sent to Norwich State Hospital.

Christopher Holmes, 22, of New Paltz, N.Y., and Robert Moniz, 29, of Bayonne, N.J., were treated and released at Lawrence and Memorial Hospital in New London. Holmes has facial cuts and Moniz for a bite on the hand.

Rylanders Enjoy Life More Than Ever

By SOL R. COHEN

When Harry and Rena Rylander were married 65 years ago today, things were simple, quiet and peaceful and all they asked for themselves was "health and happiness."

Now, he is 87 and she 85 and they say, "Life has been good to us and all we're looking forward to is more of the same — health and happiness."

"We're enjoying life now more than ever," says Harry Rylander. "We're very happy and comfortable in our home. We've got a beautiful garden, a nice porch and we enjoy living. In addition, we have a good family."

Their family includes two sons, Harry Jr. of Manchester and Norman of Old Saybrook; six grandchildren and five great-grandchildren.

Rena Rylander is quick to add, "We live here in our own house and we can be very independent. We get up when we want, go where we want and do what we want. We're content most of the time to be right here at home."

To emphasize that content, Mrs. Rylander, when asked about being home for a picture, said, "We'll be here, that's for sure."

Home to the Rylanders is the comfortable house at 27 Grove St. They bought it in 1929 and have lived in it for 46 years.

Rylander, a building contractor from 1923 until he retired in 1963, remodeled much of it and added some parts of it.

The Rylanders were married June 30, 1920 in New Milford, Rena's home town. They resided for two years in Washington, Conn. before coming to Manchester.

Harry was born in Litchfield but was brought up in Washington. He lived in a log cabin from the time he was eight until he was 18.

Horses and carriages were part of the life style in 1910 and Harry and Rena were part of it. They hired a carriage drawn by two horses to and from the church when they were married. It cost them all of $5. When they moved to Manchester in 1912 they owned a pony and buggy and made the trip that way.

Rena enjoyed riding in her youth and early adulthood. Harry was riding master, at $10 a week, at Wykeham Rise Girls School in Washington.

The school still is there but the horses are gone.

"I rode with the girls until the cars came," he recalls. "The horses went out with the times."

He left the school in May 1910, got married in June and became a carpenter. He remembers those two years in Washington. "When we got through paying rent and buying our food, we had $9 a month left, to spend as we saw fit."

When the Rylanders moved to Manchester in 1912, Harry worked for other contractors (until 1923, when he went into business for himself).

He started in Manchester at the munificent sum then of $15 a week. It went to $16.40 a week following a strike.

In 1970 at the age of 82 Rylander answered an ad appearing in The Herald. It was for a clerk-of-the-works for Mayfair Gardens housing for the elderly in the North End. He was given the job and worked until the project was completed.

He estimates he built more than 250

Settlement Hopes Dim in EB Talks

GROTON (UPI) — Spokesmen for 10,000 skilled workers at the Electric Boat Division of General Dynamics say there's little hope of averting a strike threatened for midnight tonight.

Negotiators met again early today in an effort to resolve the impasse. The major remaining issue was wages.

"I'd say the chances for a strike are good, very good in fact," said Anthony DeGregory, president of the Metal Trades Council, after emerging from a lengthy bargaining session Sunday night.

The talks were stalled over the issue of wage hikes, DeGregory said, with the company offering a 33 cents an hour increase and the unions demanding 89 cents and cost of living adjustments.

The company's latest offer was rejected late Friday but both sides agreed to continue the bargaining through the weekend in hopes of preventing a walkout.

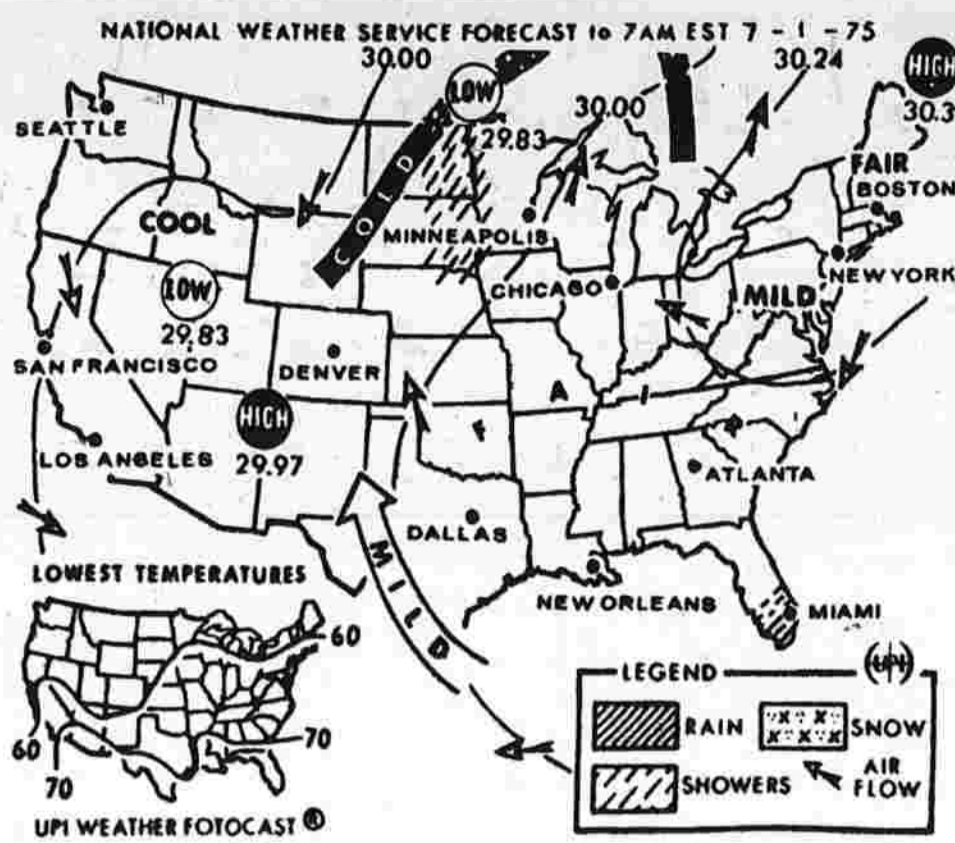

Both sides have been making preparations for a strike. Talks have been going on since April 14.

Town Family Buys Eastford Inn

By SOL R. COHEN
A long-time and distinguished Manchester family has bought the historic General Lyon Inn on Rt. 44A, Eastford and is giving up Manchester residency as of Tuesday.

John and Dorothy Bowen and their five children are selling their dwelling at 570 Woodbridge St. They will live at the inn after then. They plan to maintain the restaurant portion and to provide small apartments for rent in two adjacent structures. They don't plan to accept guests in the main building.

An Eastford landmark for almost 200 years, the General Lyon Inn was owned and operated for about 35 years by Mrs. Beatrice Kennedy and has been a favorite tourist spot. Its restaurant facilities have been used for private parties and for organization banquets.

Mr. and Mrs. Bowen have been active in Manchester Republican politics. Mrs. Bowen is a past president of the Republican Women's Club. Bowen, a Manchester native, is a former town selectman and vice-chairman of the Republican Town Committee. He was defeated in tries for town director and town clerk. His father was the late J. Frank Bowen, who was town engineer. He is employed at Pratt & Whitney, East Hartford.

Three of the five Bowen children are of college age. One will attend Woodstock Academy and the fifth will attend elementary school in Eastford.

When the inn was constructed in 1777, it was known as the Eastford House and it was a scheduled stop on the stagecoach route from Boston to Hartford.

Bowen said he's certain he's related to another Bowen family from Eastford — residents there for several generations.

Temperance House in 1840, even though it had a busy taproom and sold liquor whenever it was legal in Eastford.

When Mrs. Kennedy and her late husband purchased it in 1918, its name was changed again. It became General Lyon Inn, in honor of General Nathaniel Lyon, an Eastford native and the first Union general killed in the Civil War. Dignitaries attending his funeral in Eastford stayed at the inn.

The inn's architectural features and its antique furnishings reflect the colonial era. The kitchen, for example, has an open fireplace, a brick oven of the bee-hive type, and a Christian door. All are complemented with modern equipment.

Vernon To Drop Membership in IGE League

VERNON
While the Individually Guided Education program will continue in the Vernon school system, the Board of Education has voted against continuing participation in the IGE League.

The recommendation to approve another year's membership in the league, in which Vernon has been involved for three years, was made by Albert Kerkin, assistant superintendent.

The program has been in the Maple Street and North Street Schools over the three-year period. It is an organizational management system that requires individualized planning for the students and is accomplished through teacher teamwork.

It also involves differentiated staffing through the use of aides, interns, and unit leaders, curriculum levels and cycles, pre and post testing, grouping of students as is appropriate, and establishment of a central resource file for the various curriculum areas.

Kerkin presented charts showing the progress made by the students involved in the program. In the pre-testing in November 1974, 88 percent of the Grade 5 students at the Maple Street School needed one or more skills and the post-testing showed all had mastered skills except a slow group. In the case of the Northeast students, pre-testing showed 97 per cent needed one or more skills and the same result was shown at the Maple Street School in the post-testing. This involved word attack skills.

The testing also showed that the reading skills program had a positive influence at the Grade 3 level in both schools.

Kerkin said charts show that both the organizational and instructional goals of the program were accomplished at minimal, if any, incurred cost.

Customarily, the three-year period ends the federal funding for the IGE program, however, Kerkin was informed that a continuation grant of $10,000 from Connecticut has been awarded to make possible a fourth year of maintenance and institutionalization.

In a letter to Kerkin, Louise Wickware and Donald Protheroe, coordinators of Title III SHIP-IGE projects, said the additional year will permit the completion and dissemination of some of the league's mini-project grants to individual schools involved in the league.

During 1972-73 Vernon received $6,923 in funding. This included $2,147 stipends to Ver-

Schools Available for Summer Use

VERNON
With the Vernon public schools now closed for the summer, Superintendent Raymond Ramsdell reminds organizations or groups wishing to use the school grounds for athletic activities to contact the Recreation office, 872-7319.

Each summer the school grounds are turned over to the recreation department for its summer programs.

The school superintendent's office will be on summer hours until September, 8 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. with one-half hour for lunch.

Conservation Commission
The Conservation Commission will meet July 1 at 7:30 p.m. in the Administration Building to discuss the enforcement of the Inland Wetland regulations and to consider some changes to them.

One of the proposed changes is the rewording of the definition of "watercourse"; and the other is a proposed change in the enforcement clause.

Pinochle Winners
Winners in the Thursday pinochle tournament of the Vernon Senior Citizens were: Adeline Kochwitz 665, Freda Weber 624, Harold Weber 609; Martha Matthes 604.

The tournament play followed a cookout at Bolton Lake. High individual total score to date is Alma Dittich 679 and high total score is Gertrude Edwards 13,200.

Pinochle is played on Tuesdays and Thursdays at the Lottie Fisk Building, Henry Park.

Under the direction of Peter Vendrillo, the Vernon Senior Citizens conducted a fund-raising pinochle party Wednesday to raise money to purchase equipment for the new Senior Citizen Center on Park Place, Rockville.

Bible School
St. John's Episcopal Church, Rt. 30, Vernon, will conduct its annual Vacation Bible School the week of July 7 from 9 a.m. to noon each day.

A parent's night will be conducted Thursday of that week starting at 7 p.m.

The theme of this year's program will be, "Clap Your Hands — Jesus is Lord."

The program will include Bible lessons, arts and crafts, films, games, music and refreshments.

Registrations are still being accepted with those from kindergarten age through Grade 8 being eligible. Those who wish to attend should contact Mrs. Raymond Schors, 66 Hillside Manor Ave., Vernon, or the church office.

Junior Women
The Vernon Junior Women's Club will sponsor a series of informal teas during the summer for the benefit of new members or members planning to join the club.

Women between the ages of 18 and 40 are eligible and the membership committee under chairman Ann Thomas is now recruiting new members.

The club combines service with social activities and each year contributes to many local worthy causes through money raised by its many fund-raising projects.

Anyone interested in joining should contact Mrs. Thomas at 875-8201.

Parish Council
Eileen Murphy of Old Town Rd. has been elected president of the Parish Council of St. Bernard Church, Rockville.

Other officers elected were James Ashe, vice president;

Admitted Saturday: Paula Myville, Stafford Springs; Milo Pecott, Stafford Springs; Mark Deptula, High St., Rockville; Darlene Baraw, Coventry.

VERNON
James Generis, 16, of 26 Flag Dr., Manchester, was charged Sunday with possession of marijuana, disobeying an officer's signal, speeding, four counts of violating stop signs, operating without a helmet, and possession of a stolen motorcycle, Vernon police said.

Generis was arrested with a complaint from Bolton Rd. residents about a noisy motorcycle in the area. The cycle was chased over several streets in the area before being stopped by police.

Manuscript was turned over to Manchester Police in connection with the stolen cycle charge. On the other charges he is scheduled to appear in Common Pleas Court 19, Rockville, July 23.

Mark Allen, 18, of 200 Regan Rd., Vernon, was charged with failure to grant right of way at an intersection after a car motorcycle accident at Rt. 83 and Windsorville Rd. Saturday. Court date is July 23.

Charles Sewall, 51, of 121 W. Main St., Rockville, was charged Saturday night with disorderly conduct after police were told someone passed out at the wheel of a car.

Title Game Due Tonight
BOLTON
Donna Holland 646-0375

The Bolton Little League championship will be decided tonight when the Indians meet the Yankees at 6:15 at Herrick Memorial Park.

In the Farm League the Red Sox defeated the Braves for the championship.

In girls' softball the Hit or Miss defeated the Powerhouses for the championship.

AREA POLICE REPORT

ANDOVER
Donna Holland 646-0375
Ruth Munson, town clerk, reminds residents that dog licenses must be obtained by today.

ELLINGTON
Charles E. Bliss Jr., 20, of Enfield, was charged Saturday with first-degree rape, first-degree deviate sexual intercourse, and second-degree unlawful restraint in connection with a complaint made by a 21-year-old female.

Bliss was taken to the Hartford Correctional Center in lieu of posting a $10,000 bond. He is to appear in court in Stafford Springs today.

TOLLAND
Susan E. Ewert, 20, of Edison, N. J., was taken to Rockville General Hospital Sunday, treated for headcuts suffered in a one-car accident on Rt. 15, Vernon, and released. No police action was taken.

SOUTH WINDSOR
South Windsor Police are investigating complaints about thefts of bicycles and tools made by residents of the Candlewood Apartments, Candlewood Dr.

South Windsor Police are also investigating the complaint of a break into the home of Vincent Speria, 178 Hillside Dr. A motorcycle was taken but found abandoned a short distance from the house.

Also taken were a camera valued at $25; a radio valued at $20, a diamond ring valued at $400 and about $55 in change and bills.

Union Challenging New Retirement Age
HARTFORD (UPI)—A state employees union is planning to go to court over a change in the state's minimum retirement age which allowed state employees to get the salary hikes for which they lobbied intensely.

The Connecticut State Employees Association gave its legal department the go-ahead to sue the state for raising the retirement age from 50 to 55, the association's June 30 newsletter said.

CSEA Executive Director Edward Gallant said in the newsletter the change in the retirement age constituted a violation of "the agreement made between the current employees and the state."

In the Farm League the Red Sox defeated the Braves for the championship.

In girls' softball the Hit or Miss defeated the Powerhouses for the championship.

Dog Deadline Tonight

licenses must be obtained by today. She said less than half of the estimated dogs in town have been licensed to date. She said the last chance to license dogs will be from 6 until 8 p.m. at the Town Office Building.

Teacher Appointment
The school board ratified the contract of Henry Stauffer for the position of industrial arts teacher at Bolton Center School at a salary of $8,248 per year. Strauffer is 26 years old and married.

He received his education at New York City Community College and State University College in New York. He was a student teacher in New York teaching in wood, electricity and plastics.

Vernon School Board Completes Budget Cut
Adjustments necessary to bring the Vernon Board of Education within the approved $189,000 budget figure have been approved by the board as recommended by Dr. Raymond Ramsdell, superintendent.

The adjustments do not require eliminating any proposed programs or any current positions on the staff as would probably have been the case until a third meeting approved putting back $200,000 of a proposed $338,000 cut.

The adjustments include $144,803 for a proposed additional social worker, two elementary school teachers, and a part-time reading teacher; $12,095 from the custodial contract; $12,000 from the sabbatical leave budget; and $10,114 in insurance.

Also $7,200 from the central staff office budget; $6,750 from the adult high school credit diploma program; $4,000 from travel; $3,698 from the library budget; and $300 from physical education clinics.

Alumni Dance
St. Bernard's Alumni Association has completed final plans for its alumni dance scheduled for Nov. 1 at The Colony in Talcottville.

Members of the association are now seeking donations. Anyone wishing to contribute should send their contribution to the association in care of Mrs. R. Callahan, 1145 Hartford Tpke., Apt. 19, Rockville.

League Officers
Mrs. Joyce Taylor has been elected president of the Vernon League of Women Voters and Mrs. Sandra Faloon, first vice president.

Mrs. Mildred Precht has been elected second vice president.

GREAT LOSS
JEFFERSON CITY, Mo. (UPI)—Nearly 15 million acres of Ozark woodlands have vanished since 1950, and native prairie has gone under the plow until about 70,000 acres of the original 15 million is all that remains, according to the Missouri Conservation Commission.

Town Set To File Bus Suit

and hired Edward P. Hayes and Sons of Rocky Hill Sept. 13 at nearly $40,000 more per year. Dennis is expected to file a countersuit against Goodwin and may seek as much as $130,000 in damages.

Goodwin lodged an injunction suit days after he was fired. His lawyer, Maurice Fitzmaurice, sought to prevent the hiring of Hayes Co. and claimed the school board and Hayes had conspired to fire Goodwin.

Officials indicated last October that a countersuit might be filed. However, they waited until the school year was complete to better assess costs.

Electric Cars
Electric cars will soon be sold by a South Windsor businessman from his photoengraving plant on Rt. 5, Charles MacArthur of Tolland, owner of Endacorn Graphics on John Fitch Blvd., has been granted permission to sell the Siebring Electric, a car made in Siebring, Fla.

MacArthur sought permission from the South Windsor Planning and Zoning Commission to sell the cars. According to MacArthur, the cars will sell for about $2,700 and have a range of about 40 miles per charge.

MacArthur himself owns a Siebring and drives it to South Windsor from his Tolland home daily.

Drake-Scorso

Claire June Scorso of Manchester and Dwight John Drake of Bolton were married May 10 at South United Methodist Church in Manchester.

The bride is the daughter of the late Anna and Clifford Scorso. The groom is the son of Mrs. Gladwin Brown of White River Jet, Vt. and Mason K. Drake of Lyme, N.H. The Rev. George W. Webb of South United Methodist Church officiated at the double-ring ceremony. The church was decorated with arrangements of white gladioli.

The bride, given in marriage by her brother Clifford Scorso of Manchester, wore a gown of imported silk organza trimmed with Venice lace and designed with Empire waist, high Victorian neckline, long full Bishop sleeves with fitted ruffled cuffs, bib-effect bodice with floral appliques, A-line skirt with ruffled hem terminating into a chapel-length train. Her three-tiered veil of silk illusion was attached to a Juliet cap trimmed with lace, seed pearls and crystal accents.

Mrs. Sharon Scorso of Manchester, the bride's sister-in-law, was matron of honor. She wore a light blue and lilac floral printed organza accented at the Empire waist with lilac satin ribbon, designed with halter neckline and A-line skirt with matching capelet. She wore a picture hat and carried a basket of white, blue and lilac carnations, baby's breath, and white daisies.

Bridesmaids were Miss Claudette Banning of East Hartford, the bride's sister; Mrs. Beverly Pitrone of Hebron; and Mrs. Rella Kelly of Manchester. They wore gowns matching that of the honor attendant and light green picture hats. They carried flowers similar to those carried by the honor attendant.

Mrs. Paul M. McSweeney

Dawn Sheryl Potterton of Coventry and Paul Michael McSweeney of East Hartford were married May 18 at United Methodist Church of Bolton. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Summers Potterton of Bolton Branch Rd., Coventry. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James McSweeney of East Hartford.

The Rev. David M. Campbell of the United Methodist Church of Bolton performed the double-ring ceremony. The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of maracane jersey and imported Venice lace designed with a fitted bodice, modified V-neckline, full Bishop sleeves and high rise waistline, full circular skirt extending to a chapel-length train. Her elbow-length veil of imported silk illusion was attached to a profile headpiece of Alencon lace and seed pearls. She carried a bouquet of white carnations, roses and baby's breath.

Mrs. Pamela Knapp of Storrs was bridesmaid. She wore a gown similar to that worn by the honor attendant except in pale cherry. James McSweeney Jr. of Vernon, the bridegroom's brother, was best man. Ushers were Mark McSweeney of East Hartford and Robert S. Potterton Jr. of Coventry.

A reception was held at Farmington in Bolton after which the couple left on a trip to Montego Bay, Jamaica. For traveling, Mrs. McSweeney wore a time group pant suit. The couple will reside in Manchester.

Mrs. McSweeney is employed as a manager of Friendly Ice Cream in Manchester.

Mrs. Nannette Woodcock of Pittsfield, N.H. was matron of honor. She wore a dark cherry gown of Quiana designed with fitted bodice, high neckline, accented with self-folds and fluted sleeves with a capelet effect, high-rise waist, and semi-full skirt. Her headpiece was a matching floral bow with streamers and flowers.

Magazine Carries Article On OTH

Manchester's Organization of the Handicapped is the subject of a two-page article in the Spring 1975 issue of Spherist, the journal of ACTION's National Student Volunteer Program. ACTION is the federal agency which coordinates volunteer programs.

The article outlines the growth of OTH from a volunteer project at Manchester Community College (MCC) to a 600-member organization of handicapped persons.

In 1973, two handicapped people in MCC student testified before the Manchester Human Relations Commission on the needs of the area's handicapped persons.

Moret's Fastball, Curve, Changeup Too Much for Catfish and Yankees

BOSTON (UPI) — Roger Moret gushed eloquently in garbled English while Catfish Hunter spat tobacco juice into a long, white sock in between short, drawled answers. The two men had just finished pitching a fine game Sunday with Moret besting Hunter and the New York Yankees, 3-2, to put the Boston Red Sox back into first place in the American League East. The victory gave Boston its third win in the four-game series.

Chris Chambliss Completes DP Tagged Out in RSox' Carl Yastrzemski

The year-old southpaw from Puerto Rico gave up six hits in the second inning record to 40 and career mark against the Yankees to 8-3. "I rather be starter," said Moret, who has been shut out in and out of the bullpen in his four major league seasons. "But we got a lot of good pitchers and I'm happy just to be playing here."

Evert Even Money Wimbledon Pick

WIMBLEDON, England (UPI) — Billie Jean King has painful knees, Margaret Court is only just recovered from an injury, Betty Stone is unseeded, Evonne Goolagong is away on her honeymoon, Martina Navratilova is too heavy for speed on grass, Olga Morozova is erratic, Virginia Wade never plays her best at Wimbledon. That thumblift of the last eight in the women's singles of the $298,000 Wimbledon Tennis Championships comes only to the seed and defending champion, Chris Evert of Fort Lauderdale, Fla. Only Miss Evert among the quarterfinalists has no obvious mental or physical hangups that might affect her progress to the semifinals in today's matches.

The bookmakers, from their busy tent on the grounds, have taken all this into account in naming the American girl an even money favorite to retain her title. Mrs. King is 8-2, Mrs. Court 7-1, Mrs. Crawley 9-1, the 160-pound Miss Navratilova 10-1, Miss Wade 12-1, Miss Morozova 25-1 and Miss Stone 100-1.

On the basis of the form the ladies have shown in the first week of a tournament, which has broken all records for paid admissions — nearly 200,000 in six days — Mrs. Court seems to be undervalued. The big Australian has not dropped a set and is convinced that she is completely recovered from the injury that had kept her from the professional circuit for some time. Although Betty Stone is unseeded, she said she has no fear of Czechoslovakia's Miss Navratilova, the second seed. "I'm feeling in good shape and not even a twinge of pain from my injury," she said. "I have played her and beaten her before and I hope to tomorrow."

Miss Evert, who had the easiest draw in the tournament, is improving with every match and doesn't figure to have any problems with Holland's Miss Stone. But third-seeded Mrs. King of San Mateo, Calif., who has to use ice packs on her knees after playing, has not hit anything like her old championship form so far though she is playing well enough to advance to the semis over Russia's Olga Morozova.

In the other quarterfinal of the day Australia's fourth-seeded Mrs. Crawley, trying to combine a honeymoon and the most physically demanding tournaments on the circuit, plays the hometown hope, sixth-seeded Miss Wade, whose big hazard is the knowledge her own people are starved for a title and depending on her.

The first week of the 90th year of Wimbledon, the oldest tournament in tennis, produced the usual number of upsets and one-day wonders but nothing as dramatic as the departure — for good, he said — of 40-year-old Ken Rosewall of Australia after a disputed line call.

Rosewall, the second seed, hit a shot towards the sideline at 6-7 and 15-30 in the third set of his match against his countryman, 16th-seed Tony Roche Saturday and, advised the umpire that he considered the ball out. The umpire ordered the point played again.

The reversal obviously upset the veteran, a much favorite here, and he was never really in the match thereafter, losing in four sets. "What happened in the last game of the third set changed the match," said Rosewall, who was trained to accept calls as they came. "Tony thought it was out. It was close. I just didn't know. This is where this umpire's rule doesn't seem to be right. There will always be some sort of dispute and at the moment any player can challenge a linesman's decision."

"The ball was so far out I felt I had the right to appeal. The judge briefly upset my concentration. It may have been worse for Kenny. That set was the turning point of the match."

Severe Heat on Minds Of Ali and Bugner

KUALA LUMPUR (UPI) — The severe heat conditions under which they will be fighting was much on the minds of World Heavyweight Champion Muhammad Ali and challenger Joe Bugner as the two fighters went into the final hours before their 15-round title match here tonight.

"The heat is going to tell tomorrow," said Ali's longtime ring doctor, Ferdie Pacheco. "This is going to be a battle of survival with the survivor under the heat being a victor."

Bugner's trainer-manager, Andy Smith, agreed. "I doubt if there ever has been a major title fight ever held under more intolerable heat conditions than we are likely to encounter," Smith said.

Both Ali and Bugner said they were prepared for the heat, expected to be over 100 degrees in the ring, and the humidity, which will cause them to lose a pound or more a round each.

"I'm African and I have fought under severe heat conditions in Africa," Ali said. "I can't stand heat. Europeans can't stand heat. I'll get to Bugner."

The 25-year-old Hungarian-born Briton, who has held the European heavyweight crown, went through a special training program set up by the Royal Air Force in Great Britain before he came here to wind up his training for his second match with Ali.

"That was more severe than I have found it here," Bugner said. "So I'm well acclimated to conditions here. I can stand it. I can go the distance at whatever pace Ali wants."

In addition to the heat and the other normal pre-fight pressures, the 33-year-old Ali also was under other pressures connected with his announced intention to retire after the Bugner fight.

He said he was being plagued by people pressing him to continue fighting, at least for a third fight with Joe Frazier in Manila, which could earn Ali $10 million or more.

Large Crowd Watches Pele

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A crowd of 35,000—the largest ever to view a professional soccer match in the United States—turned out Sunday to see Brazilian superstar Pele and the New York Cosmos battle the Washington Diplomats.

Most obviously came to see Pele, and he didn't disappoint them, scoring two goals and assisting on two others as the Cosmos set a club scoring record in routing the Diplomats, 9-2, in a North American Soccer League contest.

Pele, who came out of retirement to join the Cosmos, scored unassisted in the 30th minute of the first half and in the 17th minute of the second half on a pass from former Brazilian teammate Manoel Maria.

Trailing 1-0, the Cosmos tied the game when Mordchai Shpilger put a pass from Julio Correa in the net for the first of his two goals. They scored three more times during the half and in the first 10 minutes of the second half to really started controlling most of the game.

Gay Darrell and Gerry Ingram scored the Diplomats' only goals.

The crowd easily shattered the previous NASL regular season record of 24,001, drawn last year at Philadelphia's Veterans Stadium for a Denver-Philadelphia game. On Aug. 26, an exhibition game in Oakland between the Oakland Clippers and Santos, Pele's old Brazilian team, drew 29,182.

Levy, 36, a native of Orillia, Ontario, was named to the WHA All-Star Team in 1973 and 1974. "What I will try to do is develop an all-for-one and one-for-all attitude on the club, try to draw the guys closer together," Levy said Saturday under contract arbitration reached two weeks ago, the detail rate for patrolmen was raised to $9 a hour. However, sergeants are still paid $8.25.

The officers said they are declining the extra detail in sympathy with their superiors who aren't paid as well for the extra work.

Enjoying New Experience

George Johnson Out Front In Bid for First PGA Win

OAK BROOK, Ill. (UPI) — The role of pace setter midway through a top tournament on the pro golf tour is one George Johnson never has experienced.

But today he'll be there, facing the pressure and the heat of competition from both 74 challengers and 90-degree temperatures in a 36-hole double round to win the $40,000 top prize in the $200,000 Western Open.

Johnson, though victor in three second-round events, never has been this close in one of the big tournaments. "I was second at Philadelphia after the second round," he said. "I didn't do too good the last two rounds."

Sunday Johnson did well. Playing in one of the last threesomes in the second round at Butler National golf club, he had plenty of opportunity to fold, and he did. He started the day one over par, gained one stroke on his first nine and then carved out five pars and four birdies to come from behind and pass leader Hale Irwin. In the stretch he hit birdie putts of eight, 30 and 12 feet, and he salvaged a par on a one-hole when he used a nine iron to get a sand wedge into the green, and sank a 12 footer.

But the stroke which gave him the lead came on the last hole. "I drove in the left rough," he said, "and I started to chip out to the fairway. But the ball was sitting up high and I had a little opening. It was about 70 yards to the green, so I took a six iron and let fly. The ball sailed like I expected, hit in front of the green and rolled up 35 feet from the hole. I wasn't really trying to make birdie. I just wanted to reach the front of the green. Then I hit it and when it was 10 feet from the hole I knew it was going in. It took a little curve and went on in the hole."

Johnson wound up with the second 66 ever shot on the par 71, 7,000-yard course

"But it was work, man, it was work," Foyt explained. "Firstly, I kept changing tires after every pit stop and finally got the combination right. Then when we saw the rains coming in the distance, I decided to push up the boost and get all the daylight I could when the yellow came out."

Foyt and Wally Dallenbach were the only drivers on the same lap at the finish. Bill Vukovich was third and Roger McCluskey, who was leading on the last lap two years ago when he ran out of fuel and lost to Foyt, finished fourth.

Rivosa Summarizes Arguments for Town Firehouse at Buckland

Fire Chief John C. Rivosa of the Manchester Town Fire Department has submitted to Mayor John Thompson a report on which he summarizes all pertinent information relative to the decision for the Town Fire Department to serve the Buckland area with its own personnel, instead of continuing the contract with the Eighth District Fire Department.

"Upon assuming the responsibilities of fire chief in July of 1972, I undertook a detailed survey of our departmental operations and responsibilities. Two large areas of town that were paying the Town Fire District tax, namely the northeast and northwest sectors of town, were being served under contract with the Eighth District Fire Department.

Manchester Council on World Hunger will meet at 8 p.m. Tuesday evening at the Center Congregational Church. We are again reminding you that all that is needed to become a member is your concern for the hungry malnourished peoples of the world.

Not one penny of the money raised by the community is used for organizational or operational expense. A separate $25,000 membership fund covers all expenses. Anyone wishing to become a contributor or a sustaining member (expenses only) may make checks payable to M.A.C.C. Manchester Council on World Hunger, P.O. Box 173, Manchester, N.H.

To date, projects that have received money include an Oxford relief project in Bangladesh, feeding infants and young children, a rehabilitation program in Niger to dig wells for water for drinking and to make crops produce, food sent to the starving in Calcutta through Mother Teresa in Calcutta, seeds for planting through CROP, a self-help project through the Marina Fisherman's Cooperative in India. Locally funds have been used to help low income families buy tools and seeds for gardening.

If you are free tonight, stop at the Center Church and see how all this comes together in a unique and remarkable community way that has gained attention across the state and beyond.

The Board of Directors, in various actions last year, first supported the town serving the northeast area out of Lawton Park and proceeding with plans to build a new firehouse in the Buckland area as quickly as possible to serve the northeast sector. To date, the town has spent $25,400 for the firehouse site. The architect will complete the plans for the firehouse within the next week and, assuming approval by the Building Committee, the bidding on the firehouse should be completed in July in time for the Board of Director's approval of the necessary bond issue in August.

"As previously stated to the Board of Directors, the Fire Department budget will require a savings of $20,000 annually in 1975 as a result of changes in amortization requirements under the Pension Plan, since past service costs will have been paid off at that time. This means that with a 20-year payout, the construction of the firehouse will have no net apparent budget impact.

"I estimate an annual cost of not more than $5,000 for the maintenance (heat, light and supplies) for the firehouse. Currently we are paying $250 per call to the Eighth District in this area for the billing of $1,250 for the past year's service. You will note that this cost is in excess of the average interest payments projected for a new facility.

"I call to your attention the substantial commercial and industrial building in this area over recent years as well as the exposure of the schools and large apartment complexes of the Middle Tpk. Future development in this area is of course likely to place further demands for fire service.

"As stated previously, the manning and equipping of the new firehouse will not have a direct bearing on the Fire Department budget, since we will be reallocating existing manpower and equipment. Presently, we have two vacancies caused by retirements, and four additional men were authorized in the 1974-75 budget, but in order to balance same, were not hired yet. They were scheduled for appointment in late 1975. These men were required to provide adequate fire response regardless of whether or not we serve the northeast area. Our manning schedule is consistent with a six-year plan explained at a meeting with the directors in 1973. We now have 63 men, 5 pumpers and 2 aerial ladders further information as it might be requested."

"The northwest area currently has an assessed value of approximately $1,000,000 and produces about $84,000 in taxes or about one-third of a mill. While providing adequate fire service to taxpayers was my only concern in recommending my department directly serving this area, it should be noted that the taxes from this area alone are more than double the cost for providing the firehouse assuming a 20-year bond issue. "I trust that the above answers the questions raised and I stand ready to furnish further information as it might be requested."

Kerkin Idea for Special Education Wins Support

VERNON

A suggestion made by Albert Kerkin, assistant superintendent of schools, concerning use of state facilities for special education programs, has received a favorable reaction from Mark Shedd, of the State Board of Education.

Kerkin's letter to Shedd was prompted by the recent change in funding policies for special education. In his letter Kerkin asked that funding be increased in the direction of 100 per cent of excess costs and possibly ultimately to 100 per cent of the full cost to be achieved through a phasing-in process leading to "current" or pro-rata payment.

Kerkin said such programs, which Vernon has been committed to for several years, are not a luxury but a necessity. He added that they are also very expensive and need the support of a state tax base.

He also cited the severe shortage of appropriate schools in Connecticut to serve these students.

Shedd told Kerkin, "Your idea of combining the retention of state facilities with special education programs, has received a favorable reaction from Mark Shedd, of the State Board of Education."

He also cited the severe shortage of appropriate schools in facilities such as Mansfield Training School and other state-owned facilities.

He said he would support any feasible policy which would use state funds and state facilities rather than pouring public money into private schools.

"Such an approach, must, as you suggest, be limited to very difficult cases only, cases where this degree of separation from the mainstream could be justified," Shedd said.

Needy To Get Swim Lessons

The Indian Valley YMCA and the Greater Vernon Jaycees are joining forces to send 18 youths from families with limited income to YMCA swimming lessons this summer.

The "Y" is providing free lessons and the Jaycees, a YMCA membership for each. As "Y" members the young people can participate in other year-round basis, in other "Y" programs. John Magee, chairman of the YMCA's Board of Managers said six more openings are still available in this program. Parents can contact the "Y" office, 872-7329, for further details.

July 7 Craft Day For Young

"Kindercreats," an Indian Valley YMCA-sponsored program of crafts, games, and little nature walks, designed for children aged five through seven, will be conducted in three locations starting July 7.

On Mondays and Wednesdays during July, from 10 to 11 a.m., at the Talbotville Congregational Church will host the program. On Tuesdays and Thursdays a class will meet at the Avery Street School in South Windsor from 9:30 to 11 a.m. and at the Rockville Methodist Church, Grove St., from 10 to 11 a.m.

The July groups will meet for a total of eight sessions with a second series of classes planned for August. All classes will be limited to eight children to insure personal attention and proper supervision.

Miss Chris Kizis of South Windsor will teach the classes. She has an associate degree in education from Manchester Community College and has had kindergarten classroom experience as part of her studies.

Children should be registered at the YMCA office at Vernon Circle, in person or by mail. The fee is $10 for "Y" members and $15 for others. Starting July 1 the office will be open summer hours, 10 a.m. to 3 p.m., weekdays.

Another program, "Summer Nature Trails," will start July 8 for children aged eight through 12 at the Avery Street School and nature area in South Windsor.

Classes will run from 9:30 to 11:30 a.m. and will be taught by Miss Cindy Babbitt and will continue to run for eight consecutive Tuesdays and Thursdays during July.

The registration fee is $10 for members and $15 for non-members. These classes will also be limited to eight students. A second series will be conducted during August.

For aspiring young musicians there will be a summer band program. The classes will be primarily for students aged 10 to 14 but younger children will be accepted if they have had 18 months of experience on a band instrument.

Mrs. Pat Simmons of Haverhill, Dr. Vernon, will be the director. The band will rehearse Tuesdays and Thursdays starting July 7. There will be a final concert, August 28 at the Avery Street School in South Windsor.

Rehearsal times and locations will be flexible and will be arranged for the greatest convenience of the participants. Classes will be limited to 20 but not less than 12 performers.

There will be a registration fee of $20 for members and $25 for non-members to cover the cost of musical arrangements. Pre-registration is required.

All Aerial Fireworks Planned Next Friday

A Fourth of July fireworks display, which will be entirely aerial, will be shot off from Wickham Park's highest point. The display is scheduled to start at approximately 9:15 p.m. and will last about an hour.

It is for those town residents who wish to file comments, suggestions or complaints on any subject in the town's jurisdiction. Their remarks are related to the town manager's office for review and reply.

Vehicle traffic and all vehicles will be blocked off from entering the park according to an agreement which was drawn up by the Hartford National Bank as trustees for Wickham Park.

Park rules do not allow for any ground fireworks pieces. It has been suggested that viewers find high vantage points around both Manchester and East Hartford, which will afford an excellent view of the towns.

The committee also discussed plans for a time capsule, which may possibly be buried on Thanksgiving Day 1976 after the annual road race. David Gay is heading this project, and a committee will be appointed to serve with him.

The American Legion is still soliciting funds for the fireworks show, and contributions may be sent to the Bicentennial Fireworks Fund, Manchester State Bank, P.O. Box 1445, Manchester.

Miss Doering Chosen For Summer in Sweden

SOUTH WINDSOR

Judy Kuehnel
644-1364

Suzanne Doering, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gene Doering, 711 Governor's Highway, has been chosen to be the local representative of the American Abroad Program for the summer.

The selection was made by the New York Headquarters of the American Field Service.

Miss Doering will be living with the family of Gunnar Nilsson, of Molndal, Sweden.

The Nilssons are an English-speaking family with two teenage sons.

When she arrives in Sweden, she will attend a language camp at Asljung Agarden, Lorkelljunga for three days, before joining her host family.

At South Windsor High School, Suzanne is an honor student, was vice president of her junior class, on the board of directors of the school Outing Club and will be president of the South Windsor Youth Council for 1975-76.

In addition to her school activities, Suzanne enjoys writing, art and skiing. Upon her return in late August, Miss Doering will be available for speaking engagements to local clubs.

SOUTH WINDSOR

Judy Kuehnel
644-1364

South Windsor Mayor Robert Smith has declared June 30-July 3 "Public Works Week," in observance of National Public Works Week.

During this week Mayor Smith has asked all residents to consider the continuing services and benefits provided throughout the year by the public works employees.

In honor of Public Works Week in South Windsor, Smith has suggested that the week be designated a townwide clean-up week, beginning June 30 and continuing through July 3.

The Public Works Department will travel throughout town and assist homeowners by removing throw-away household and yard items placed by the roadsides.

Residents may take this opportunity to make this a spring cleaning week by clearing out attics, cellars and closets.

The South Windsor fire marshal has endorsed a once-a-year disposal of obsolete items which clutter basements and attics and have been known to contribute to fire damage.

Mayor Smith said that during this week he has requested the Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts to assist the clean-up by carrying out roadside cleaning programs.

"These combined efforts," said Smith, "will certainly leave our town safer, cleaner, more attractive community by the end of Public Works Week."

EXPORTS
DALLAS (UPD) — The president of a company with a large quantity of international trade says the United States could produce a significant number of new jobs for Americans by upping its exports.

John V. James, president of Dresser Industries, Inc., said as much as six per cent of the U.S. Gross National Product is exported. He said both management and labor have a direct interest in raising the level of exports, especially during a period of economic sluggishness.

Clerk Award Won by Enes

SOUTH WINDSOR

Judy Kuehnel
644-1364

South Windsor has received a second-place award in the International Institute of Municipal Clerks Annual Awards Contest for its 1974 Annual Town Report.

South Windsor, entered under the small municipalities section (under 25,000 population), received honorable mention; the second highest award for that category.

The first highest in the small municipalities area went to Well, Maine.

A certificate recognizing the town's distinction has been sent to Charles N. Enes, South Windsor Town Clerk.

John J. Hunnewell, executive director of the International Institute of Municipal Clerks, said that the judges and members of the awards committee were extremely impressed with the excellence and quality of the reports submitted.

According to Hunnewell the worth of the publication was judged on its acceptance by the public, and how municipal officers were serving their constituents to the best of their ability.

Nine municipalities were honored by the IIMC at its 29th Annual Conference held in Denver, Colo.

Book Lists Bike Paths

SOUTH WINDSOR

Judy Kuehnel
644-1364

South Windsor bike route brochures have been distributed by the Mass Transit Commission, showing official bike routes in town.

Safety precautions and Connecticut bicycle laws are included in the brochure along with tips on bicycling.

Signs have not yet been placed along the routes, however mid-July installation is expected.

Brochures will be available at Town Hall, South Windsor Library, Wood Memorial Library and Veterans Memorial Park. Neighboring towns will be given copies after the installation of the bike route signs.

The route includes two sections on either side of town. One goes by Veterans Memorial Park to Old Union School, down old Main St. past Ellsworth School, to Griffin Rd. toward the Eli Terry School.

A second section includes Graham Rd. to Pierce Rd., Deming St., Avery St., Miller Rd. and Nevers Rd.

Receive Awards

The South Windsor School Department has announced more award recipients within its graduation class.

They are Clifford A. Lange, math department award; Rosemary Simao, South Windsor Education Association scholarship (300); Gerald Sanford, (identical award as Miss Simao); Jennifer Jones, $200 scholarship from the Knights of Columbus; Father Rosenberger Council; Kathryn MacDonald, $150 scholarship from First Congregational Church of South Windsor; Lynn Euzenas, $300 scholarship from South Windsor College Scholarship Organization; Melissa Murray, $500 scholarship from the South Windsor Women's Club.

Also, Stephen M. Galovich received a $500 scholarship from the South Windsor Police Association and Catherine Janowicz received a $500 scholarship from the South Windsor Exchange Club.
