

No Talks Slated At Electric Boat

GROTON (UPI) — Police have arrested 17 people since a strike started Tuesday at Electric Boat, the nation's nuclear submarine factory, and there has been no indication that contract talks will soon resume.

Groton Police Wednesday arrested an Electric Boat employe for allegedly hitting a striker while trying to cross a picket line. Otherwise, the second day of the walkout of 10,000 workers at the huge shipyard was calm.

No new contract talks have been scheduled since negotiations broke off Monday night about an hour before the strike began. Both sides said they would await a call for resumption from federal mediators.

State police said they arrested one striker Wednesday for reckless use of the highway by a pedestrian and a second for improper display of marker plates on his motorcycle.

Groton police said they later arrested two more men on the picket line and charged them with disorderly conduct. No injuries have been reported since the strike started.

Tuesday, the first day of the strike, was marked by 12 arrests and charges of police brutality, which police denied. Gov. Ella T. Grasso was investigating the charges.

The arrests came when scuffling broke out as nonstriking employes accompanied by policemen tried to cross the picket line.

The governor's chief legal advisor, Aaron Ment, Wednesday went to the factory, where the Navy's nuclear submarines are built, to observe picketing by members of the Metal Trades Council.

A union spokesman said the two issues blocking agreement on a new contract were wage hikes and a company attempt to change contract language governing the workers' productivity.

The council turned down a three-year offer including a 35-cent-an-hour wage increase and improvements in health, hospital and pension plans, a company spokesman said.

DeGregory said the union wants an 89-cent wage increase with a cost-of-living escalator built into any multiple-year pact.

Ford Proposes Uniform Pollution Claim System

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Ford announced today he will submit to Congress a proposal to establish a uniform system for handling claims resulting from oil pollution damages.

Ford said he would submit the plan after Congress returns from its Fourth of July recess.

He said it would set up a comprehensive, uniform system for dealing with such pollution cases, including filing liability and settling claims.

He said his proposal will implement two international conventions, now under consideration by Congress, dealing with the problem of oil pollution caused by tankers on the high seas.

He said he considers this initiative to be "of great national importance" since America's energy needs "require the accelerated development of our offshore oil and gas resources" and the increased use of deep water ports.

Ford made the announcement in an address prepared for delivery in Cincinnati at the dedication of the new $30 million National Environmental Research Center.

From Cincinnati, Ford was scheduled to fly to Cleveland to speak at the Cuyahoga County GOP fund-raising dinner. He planned to return to Washington tonight.

"As long as I have anything to say about it," Ford said, "this country's symbol will never be an empty beer can in a river of garbage."

He urged those concerned with the quality of America's environment to join

Joblessness Unchanged Due to Student Influx

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The nation's unemployment rate dropped 0.6 per cent to 8.6 per cent in June, but due to an influx of students entering the labor market the jobless situation remained unchanged from May, the Labor Department reported today.

Although the unemployment rate last month was not so encouraging as it might appear by the size of the drop from May, it was a signal that rising unemployment may have halted.

The six-tenths of 1 per cent decline from the 9.2 per cent in May was at the lower end of a scale that government analysts had estimated would be needed to show improvement in the jobless picture, which had been deteriorating for the past 14 months.

The Bureau of Labor Statistics, which compiles the monthly data, said employment held steady at 84.4 million workers in June. Employment rose in the nonfarm sector but was offset by a matching decline in agriculture, BLS said.

Although the number of workers held steady in June, the total labor force for purposes of calculating the jobless rate declined by 600,000 in June, BLS said.

This decline contributed to the "technical" drop in unemployment although in actual terms, the jobless rate was unchanged from May. A study of figures for July will be necessary before a better analysis of unemployment conditions can be made.

The statistical quirk which somewhat distorted the jobless figures is directly tied to the influx of summer workers.

with the federal government in seeking new ways to preserve it.

"This is not a federal concern alone," he said. "We all breathe the same air—or smog."

He said an active partnership between federal, state and local agencies has brought about remarkable improvement in air and water qualities in some areas.

"Lake Erie—the but of many a joke—was virtually written off by some as unsalvageable," Ford said. "It now shows signs of a healthy recovery. Even more encouraging, salmon have reappeared in the Connecticut and Hudson rivers."

"They cough a lot, but they have reappeared."

But Ford said the environment isn't the only issue.

"I pursue the goal of clean air and pure water but I must also pursue the objective of maximum jobs and continued economic progress," he said. "Unemployment is as real and sickening a blight as any pollutant that threatens this nation."

And he said that if accomplishing an environmental objective would slow the U.S. effort to regain energy independence and a stronger economy, "then we must weigh all of the factors with the needs of the future and the demands of the present in mind. I will do my best to neglect neither."

Wallace Breaks Leg Without Knowing It

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (UPI) — Gov. George Wallace somehow managed to fracture his left leg without knowing it. But his physician says the break should heal without difficulty.

The leg is paralyzed as the result of a wound-be assassin's bullet May 15, 1972, that left Wallace confined to a wheelchair.

The injury is not expected to affect Wallace's campaign for the Democratic presidential nomination. He had announced he would devote most of his attention in the next few months to Alabama problems, and had scheduled only two out-of-state speeches during July and August.

NYC Sanitation Men End Wildcat Strike

By United Press International
The president of New York City's sanitation union said today his striking members would return to their jobs "immediately" ending a three-day wildcat strike which has piled up 70 million pounds of rotting garbage on city streets.

"I am pleased to announce that a solution has been reached so that all sanitationmen may resume work," union President John DeLury told a news conference. However, DeLury cautioned that "the solution cannot be permanent until the state legislature enacts the legislation requested by the city."

The state lawmakers are considering a plan which would give New York City authority to raise another $300 million in taxes and solve a financial problem that has forced the layoff of thousands of city employes, including several thousand sanitation workers.

DeLury joined Mayor Abraham Beame at a news conference at City Hall to announce the agreement. "A good faith effort will be made to restore as many jobs as possible in the Sanitation Department through a combination of the application of increased local taxes, uncommitted federal funds and additional retirements."

their joint statement said.

Asked when he expected his men to return to work, DeLury replied, "immediately." A sanitation department spokesman confirmed that garbage trucks were getting ready to roll.

Almost 3,000 sanitationmen had been among the thousands of city workers laid off by the city in its effort to meet a mounting budget crisis.

In an action directly related to the garbage problem, firemen protesting the elimination of 26 fire companies began a slowdown and mass sick calls, leaving the force unable to cope with hundreds of fires set in piles of trash by youngsters in slum neighborhoods.

"It's a hostile situation," a fire captain said today. "They're starting fires and barricading streets. We've been bombarded."

Police in New York voted Wednesday against a strike. "We will not endanger the public," said the president of the Patrolmen's Benevolent Association, which has lost more than 5,000 members in the layoffs.

But the police union called on its members to observe all "safety precautions" on the job and said it would give "logistical support" to laid-off cops who have been picketing City Hall.

Officials estimated Wednesday that 35,000 tons, or 70 million pounds, of garbage had accumulated throughout the city, and the backlog was growing at a rate of 18,000 tons per day.

Private refuse removal services normally handle another 10,000 tons of garbage daily, and their operations have been slowed down by city workers picketing landfill sites.

In Pennsylvania, a string of court injunctions has dampened the effects of a public workers strike, forcing thousands of pickets back to work in state mental and general hospitals. A powerful labor leader urged other workers to agree to a fact-finding period that would end the strike, but there was no response from the unions.

Elsewhere around the nation, other public employes feeling the pinch of recession budgets either walked off the job or threatened strikes.

In Albany, N.Y., the state's legislative leaders forged a plan Wednesday night giving the city authority to levy $30 million worth of new taxes. Mayor Abraham Beame, who spent the night in the state capital, was not available for comment on whether the additional fund would enable him to placate the municipal unions by rehiring laid-off workers.

Lebanon Strife Lessens under New Cease-Fire

BEIRUT (UPI) — Premier Rashid Karami called in his cabinet today to review security in a Lebanon gradually returning to normal after 10 days of street fighting that claimed nearly 300 lives and saw an American army officer kidnaped by a gang of armed men.

Police reported scattered violations of a cease-fire arranged between feuding rightist and leftist factions, but said the uneasy peace appeared to be holding, thanks largely to heavily armed security units patrolling Beirut's battered streets.

The latest casualty figures for the 10 days of warfare between Christians and Moslems showed 280 persons died and 750 were injured in the rocket, mortar, bomb and rifle battles.

U.S. Embassy officials said they still had no word on the whereabouts of American Army Col. Ernest R. Morgan, 43, abducted from a taxi Sunday night on the outskirts of the city.

Morgan, with the U.S. military command in Ankara, Turkey, had attended a meeting of Central Treaty Organization officials in Pakistan and was making a stopover in Beirut en route back to his post when he was seized by a gang of about 20 armed men. He has not been seen since.

Karami, who blamed Israel for instigating the current round of bloodshed in Lebanon, issued a brief statement after his two-hour cabinet session, the first full meeting of his two-day-old "salvation government." In it he condemned sporadic fighting that continued in several Beirut suburbs occupied by the opposing factions.

"This sort of thing cannot be allowed to continue," he said.

Police reported 13 explosions during the night in Beirut and its suburbs. Fire destroyed a flour mill in the Chiah district and more than a dozen explosions rocked shops and businesses in other parts of the country.

Most shops in the city operated normally today and streets were jammed with cars. Green-uniformed military officers directed traffic at street corners, often watched by police in military armored personnel carriers and jeeps.

Convoys of military vehicles clanked through downtown streets at regular intervals and soldiers armed with rifles and wearing red or brown berets lounged around many intersections.

Eastern Jet Crash Toll Rises to 113

NEW YORK (UPI) — The death toll of the Eastern Air Lines jet crash last week rose to 113 today with the death in Jamaica Hospital of a Louisiana chemist.

A spokesman for the hospital identified the victim as Norman Van Winkle, 37, of Lake Charles, La., who worked for the Olin Chemical Co.

The spokesman said Van Winkle died at about 4:50 a.m.

"There is no precise cause of death as yet," the spokesman said, but Van Winkle suffered burns over 50 per cent of his body and broken legs in the crash last Tuesday of Eastern Flight 66.

The crash was the worst single-plane disaster in U.S. history. Van Winkle's death leaves 11 survivors of the 727 crash, a number of them with severe burns.

Wholesale Prices Drop

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Wholesale prices fell fast enough to offset a relatively modest 0.4 per cent rise for industrial commodities, which includes steel, petroleum and other industrial goods.

Wholesale prices have risen 11.6 per cent in the past 12 months, high by historical standards but a much softer inflation rate than late last year when farm and industrial prices were increasing at a rate better than 20 per cent annually.

The 1.4 per cent drop in prices of farm products and processed foods took normal seasonal factors into account. On an unadjusted basis prices in this category rose 0.6 per cent, less than usual for mid-summer.

Fireworks Display Set For Night of the Fourth

With the weather cooperating and with hot weather promised through Sunday, Manchester residents today looked forward to a pleasant holiday weekend—with swimming, boating, picnicking, visiting, driving or just lazing around some of the things-to-do in prospect.

The highlight of the three-day holiday will be an aerial fireworks display in Wickham Park, courtesy of the Manchester Bicentennial Committee, the American Legion Post and the City of East Hartford.

Traditionally the highlight of the July 4th celebration, fireworks haven't been displayed in Manchester since 1971 and, to all indications, had become a thing of the past. Now, they're back and town residents have expressed the hope they'll be back next year also, and the year after that, etc.

The display will be entirely aerial and will be fired from Wickham Park's highest point. Vehicular traffic will be banned from entering Wickham Park and Manchester and East Hartford residents are advised to view the display from high vantage points.

The display will begin about 9:15 p.m. and will last about an hour. Rain dates are Saturday, July 5, and Sunday, July 6, if needed. Contributions to the fireworks fund may be sent to Bicentennial Committee, care of Manchester State Bank, P.O. Box 1445, Manchester, Conn. 06040.

Friday is a legal holiday for all municipal, state and federal employes. Banks will be closed and there won't be any mail delivery. Refuse pickup will be suspended and all town services will be on an emergency basis only. Manchester stores will close but will open for business as usual Saturday.

The Manchester Herald, as has been its traditional custom, won't publish Saturday Friday, July 4. It will publish as usual Saturday.

Have a safe and sane 4th and drive carefully.

Red Cross Appeals For Blood Donors

FARMINGTON (UPI) — The Connecticut Red Cross will be collecting urgently needed blood at its state headquarters Friday and Saturday to try to end a critical July 4 weekend shortage.

A spokesman said even the most common blood type, O positive, is in short supply.

Hours at the Connecticut Red Cross Blood Center at 209 Farmington Ave. will be 8:30 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. Friday and 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. Saturday.

The Weather

Mostly cloudy with thundershowers likely and high temperatures near 90. Mostly cloudy and cooler tonight with possible scattered showers and lows near 60. Cloudy Friday with a chance of showers and the highs again near 80.

THE OLD CODGER'S CODGITATIONS

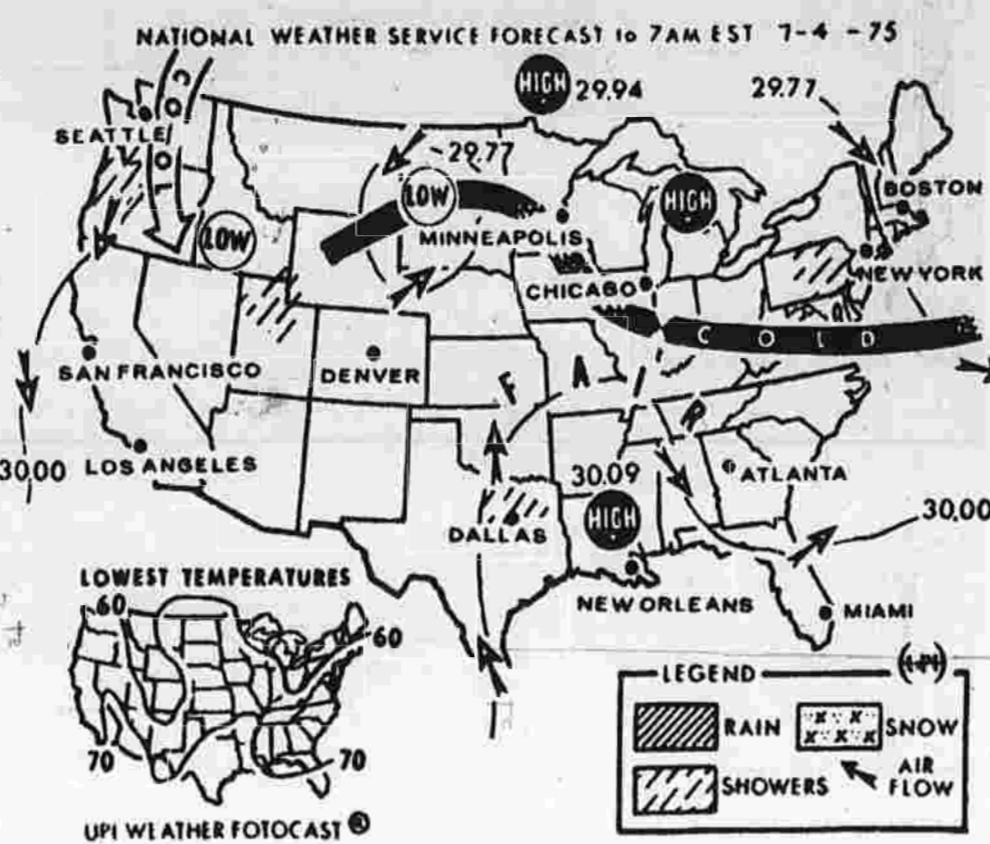

While watching the large sea turtles in their crawls at Key West, O.C. wished he could have a suitable place to keep one. They were said to be ill tempered or dangerous as our largest turtles, the snappers, are. They should be very interesting pets for anyone who could spend enough time with them. O.C. never tried taming a turtle. Of course, taming is mostly gaining the confidence of the subject so it is not afraid of you. This is not difficult if the process is started at an early age and continued steadily. If any very large lapid permit it may require a fresh start. Although each species has certain typical traits and behavior, they are individuals. When we are associated with any group for some time we learn to recognize them well enough to know their distinguishing names.

NEWS FOR SENIOR CITIZENS

Hil The big news around the center is about our registration for the Gloucester-Rockport trip scheduled for July 10. We started signing the members up at 8 o'clock Monday, and by 10:30 we had filled four buses. That adds up to 180 members and we even started a waiting list. For this trip which includes a meal at the Peg Leg Settlement, we will be leaving the Senior Center at 8 o'clock. Well, Monday started our new group of volunteers, and I sure would be thankful for taking over and coming through in flying colors. All express their pleasure in being able to help, and for the most part they express their opinion as it is a good idea to have volunteers for a two month schedule. It gives more members a chance to get in the act.

Let's start talking about the action here at the center, and it started last Friday when we had 61 persons for our setback games with the following winners: Peter Frey, 136; Oscar Capucchio, 135; Albert Quetelle, 132; Lyla Steele, 127; John Gottschalk, 126; Josephine Schetzle, 124; John W. Phelps, 123; Louis Weber, Bess Moanan, Thomas Murphy, Wesley Egan, Gus Gull, and Helena Gavello, 121; Anna Demko, Lee Miller and Wilbrod Messier, 119. On Monday while we were registering for the trip, 90 members were busy playing our kitchen social bingo games. Our prizes were out of the East Hartford Course in the morning and here are some of the better scores: Al Bolis and Joseph Quinn had 41; Merrill Dickinson a 43; William Crowley, a 44; Jack DuPont, Ernest Segerberg and Charlie White had a 46, and Harriet Horan had a 53. In the afternoon we had 16 1/2 tables for our pinocle games with the following winners: Helena Gavello, 766; Betty Jesanis, 723; Violet Dion, 721; Alfreda Hallin, 720; Bessie Caste, 690; Inez Mahony and Frank Gadamski, 673; Lillian Lewis and Catherine Gleason, 656; Roy Dury, 652; Louise Kohls, 651; Esther Gaudette, 647; Audrey Dury, 644; Grace Moore, 630; Joseph Windsor, 629; Al Gates, 628; Clarence Burke, and Hans Fredrickson, 625.

Monday is the day that Gloria has to take off, and it sure wasn't not having her around, and I'm sure grateful for all the volunteers who helped me get through the day. Even with all the help it sure kept me busy and left me with lots of homework to catch up on. Along with all the action, the members were picking up their tickets for tomorrow's big Chicken Barbeque to be held at Wickham Park. We sold 193 tickets which is really great and I sort of feel sorry for our Report cards with the final marks for Manchester High School students are being mailed to the students' homes, said a high school spokesman. They should be received in the next few days. Mediators for both Local 26 of the Connecticut Nurses Association and Manchester Memorial Hospital have called a meeting for Monday night in East Hartford to continue negotiations on an unsettled nurses contract, said a hospital spokesman. The nurses' two-year contract expired June 30 at which time Local 26 served the hospital with a 10-day strike notice. Previous negotiation sessions have failed in reaching a settlement. The mediators will negotiate on several major and minor economic factors including wages and vacations.

Keep It Ringing

Still Self-Evident

Not many Americans could recite the Declaration of Independence if called upon to do so. Nor should they be expected to, for it speaks of many things that are so much dead history. But it must be a rare person who has not made its salient phrases a permanent part of his memory: "We hold these truths to be self-evident — all men are created equal — endowed by their Creator with certain inalienable rights — life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness."

The Fourth Was Special

(This column first appeared in July 1970. It is reprinted by request.)
WASHINGTON — The flag was up in the attic in the white house on South Street. Ma packed it away in lavender in Grandpa Tully's big leather-bound trunk after the every holiday. But Pa left the flagpole in its holder outside the front attic window, in case — he explained mysteriously — of emergency.

Congress and Ford

By Donald Smith
Congressional Quarterly

"Congress is the dominant, nay the irresistible, power of the federal system. Congress is fast becoming the governing body of the nation."
— Woodrow Wilson, Congressional Government, 1885

WASHINGTON — Just four months ago, White House Lobbyist Max L. Friedersdorf was beginning to wonder if history was repeating itself. Perhaps the nation was returning to another era of "congressional government."

Now the atmosphere at the White House has turned around. The new mood is one of self-confidence and a renewed faith in the ability of modern Presidents to manipulate Congress, or at least to keep it in check, even when the House and Senate are controlled overwhelmingly by the opposite party.

"The President enjoys such respect and trust on the Hill," Friedersdorf says, "I feel a diminishing of what was reaching pretty huge proportions a year ago."

"It's too soon to tell" how it all will end, noted another key White House aide. "But you could say in the last six months we hit bottom, and it's beginning to move in the opposite direction."

In contrast, the Democrats are in despair. "We're embarrassed, we're frustrated and I think we're poorly led," declared Rep. Donald W. Riegle Jr. of Michigan, a fifth-term member who reflects the despondency of many House Democrats.

"We've got a situation here that's developed where you really have minority rule," he complained recently. "I think it could honestly be said to be a tyranny of the minority."

The most immediate cause for the Democrats' despair is the ability of the Republicans to make President Ford's vetoes stick despite huge Democratic majorities — 189 of 435 votes in the House and 61 of 100 Senate seats (with one vacancy in each).

OPEN FORUM

Irish Children Coming Saturday
Dear Sir:
On Saturday, the children from Northern Ireland will be arriving in Manchester. Their coming represents the successful outcome of the Irish Children Project of St. Mary's and St. James Churches.

On behalf of our committee I would like to thank all the people who have helped us. Contributions came from all over the United States but mainly from Connecticut. The people of Manchester were particularly generous and showed tremendous interest in our program from the beginning.

Finally I would like to thank all the families who volunteered to take the children into their homes. Unfortunately some of them were disappointed as there were not enough children for all the applicants. To them all we say a sincere thank you.

Sincerely
Edward P. Flanagan,
M.D.,

TODAY'S THOUGHT

Pocketbook or Hymnbook?
Suppose you are standing naked before the Judge of all the world. How will you be sentenced? Would it be more by the way you sang hymns in church or the way you spent your money in the marketplace?
Frankly, both are very important because the way you sing and the times you sing will to a large extent determine the way you spend your money. At least, it should and if you are sincere in your worship, it certainly will.

In 1819, the Bank of Savings in New York City opened — the first of its kind. The American involvement in Indochina — a moot problem for President Ford, though in the end it was the Democrats in Congress who refused to prolong that involvement.
But now it appears that Congress is more and more content to return to its essentially passive role of simply reacting to presidential initiatives.

Crime Task Force Said Ineffective

HARTFORD (UPI) — Maintaining the State Police Organized Crime Investigative Task Force had no success in fighting organized crime, H.R. Sterrett has resigned as its advisory committee chairman.
"The strike force's relatively poor arrest record, and then of only low-level gamblers, its evidence of tactical and strategic floundering," Sterrett wrote in a letter of resignation to Gov. Ella T. Grasso.
He said the committee was intended to "play a significant part in dealing with organized crime," but it "does not know what the strike force is doing or why."

MACC Names Visit Coordinator

Mary Ann Bugnacki is the newly appointed pre-convention home visitation coordinator for the Division of Special Ministries of the Manchester Area Conference of Churches (MACC).
This division has surveyed convalescent homes to discover residents who wish visitors and especially those with special language problems, needing a visitor who speaks Latvian or German. A list of these persons has been compiled. MACC classes have been held to train the visitors.
As visitation coordinator, Miss Bugnacki will match visitors with those to be visited, encourage those who are already visiting, and keep in touch with the program directors at the convalescent homes for new needs as they arise. She will also be working to draw together the needs of persons confined to convalescent homes and community resources to help meet these needs.

Grasso Signs Bill Creating New PUC

HARTFORD (UPI) — Gov. Ella T. Grasso has fulfilled a campaign pledge by signing a measure replacing the Public Utilities Commission with an agency she hopes will be more responsive to consumers.
The governor also signed Wednesday a bill expected to put the state's bankrupt unemployment compensation fund on the road to recovery by hiking employers' contributions to the fund.
Another measure orders the state Department of Health to be Oct. 1 regulations for licensing massage parlors and the persons practicing in them.
The new Public Utilities Control Authority is little changed from the old PUC, except for an expanded jurisdiction over the establishment of an independent consumer counsel, previously attached to the PUC.
Saying the PUC had failed to look out for consumer interests "like a sleeping watchdog," the bill retains the "benefit ratio" system, demanded by the business sector, under

SOCIAL SECURITY QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Q. My mother recently died at age 69 after a long illness. If I pay our family doctor, who was treating her, can I apply for Medicare medical insurance payments?
A. When someone who has Medicare dies, special rules apply to the Medicare insurance payment. If your doctor does not accept assignment, the payment can be made to whoever pays the bill. You will need to file two forms and proof of payment. The forms are "Request for Medicare Payment" and "Statement Regarding Medicare Payment for Medical Services of a Deceased Patient." You can get both at any Social Security office.
Q. I've heard that both parts of Medicare cover home health care. Is the coverage the same under both parts?
A. In general, Medicare's hospital insurance can pay for home health care after you have been in a participating hospital for at least three days in a row. Under Medicare Part B insurance, you don't have to have a three day stay in a hospital to get home health insurance. But, under each part,

Leone Appointed To Interim Post

EAST HARTFORD
Shirley Tuller
 289-1238

Sam Leone, a graduate of East Hartford High School who returned to teach there after graduating from Central Connecticut, has been named acting assistant superintendent of East Hartford schools.

Dr. Eugene A. Diggs, superintendent, named Mr. Leone to the interim post in his recent reorganization of school department administrators. Leone is filling the position vacated by Bennett Plotkin. Dr. Plotkin resigned earlier in the year to become superintendent in Bethel.

Since his teaching days, 15 years ago, Leone has served the school system in several capacities and has done so very well, according to Dr. Diggs.

Along with his teaching duties, the new acting assistant was director of adult education and when Dr. Diggs came to East Hartford, Leone was director of auxiliary services.

A few years later in order to better coordinate state and federal grants, head the summer school and continue to administer the adult education programs as well as his other duties.

Dr. Diggs named Leone to the post of director of administrative services.

According to contractual agreements, all openings must be posted by the Board of Education. The assistant superintendent position along with the newly created jobs, directors of budget control, special services, and secondary school activities and athletics, in the reorganization will be posted soon.

Appointments to these positions will be made during the month of August.

South Windsor PZC Hearings July 8

SOUTH WINDSOR

The South Windsor Planning and Zoning Commission will hold a public hearing July 8 at 8 p.m. in Town Hall to hear three applications.

Necon Design Corporation of Enfield is seeking a zone change from RR and A-30 to RO (restricted office) on property owned by Anthony Delnicki, consisting of about 9.5 acres and located about 500 feet east of the intersection of Felt and Oakland Rds.

Hartford Jewish Federation is seeking a subdivision of about 18 acres into one lot and one parcel on the south side of Governor's Highway, near the intersection of Nutmeg Rd., in an industrial zone.

Andre Charbonneau, 311 Felt Rd. is applying for a subdivision into two, one-half acre lots and one parcel of about 19.8 acres, on property located on the north side of the Pleasant Valley Road, about 400 feet west of the intersection of Woodside Dr., in an A-20 zone.

Copies of all applications and maps more clearly defining the property are on file in the town clerk's office.

Short of Goal

South Windsor cancer crusade, entitled South Windsor Fights Against Cancer, has not met its hoped-for $5,000 goal set this year.

Held during June, the crusade included door-to-door solicitation, business solicitation, a dinner dance, basketball game, tennis and golf tournaments.

However, those working on the crusade have not given up hope yet that the $5,000 thus far collected will be boosted as private contributions are received.

"The $5,000 raised was the largest sum ever collected for the cancer fight yet in South Windsor," said program chairman Nancy Brandenberger.

"Before this, the town had a previous high of about $3,300."

Rec Land, Power Line Discussed by Hebron

HEBRON

Anne Dallaire, 228-3267

The Hebron Conservation Commission met with Paul DeBrigard of Northeast Utilities and Richard Sgrue of Connecticut Light and Power Company to discuss plans for a second line on the right-of-way running through the north end of town, and the possibility of the town using utility company land off East St. for recreational land.

DeBrigard asked the commission to pinpoint any areas of concern with the proposed second line now, rather than wait until an application is before the Power Faculty Evaluation Council, sometime in the fall.

John Hibbard, commission chairman, said the only concern is the effect the proposal might have on wetlands and plans to stabilize the access road.

The utility company, according to DeBrigard, will clear the right of way selectively, using herbicides where necessary and leaving desirable species that do not have excessive height potential to cover the area.

DeBrigard said the right-of-way is overgrown and needs considerable work to maintain it properly. He said this maintenance should commence in August.

Hibbard said the town's interest in a large tract of land located along the right-of-way is a separate consideration from the second power line. He pointed out the lack of town owned recreation facilities and suggested as possible uses, hiking trails, equestrian trails and picnic areas.

Hibbard also said it is possible that a compatible use could be developed on the land after inspection by the commission such a proposal appears feasible.

DeBrigard asked that a proposal be submitted in brief as soon as an idea is formulated to provide a starting point for consideration, noting that any such proposal would take considerable time to develop.

Several possibilities were discussed including the use of the land by the town on a license permit arrangement, lease of the property, or purchase of the land.

The Planning and Zoning Commission has established a Planning Task Force which will be assisting the commission in looking at the over-all planning and growth issues of the town.

The task force will be looking at alternate growth strategies such as development rights, preservation areas and agricultural leasing, as well as the implications of growth plans similar to the Ramapo Plan of New York.

The chairman of the Task Force is Peter Halvorsen, and other members are Dr. Jack Byers, D. Todd Cook, Virginia Diehl, Mark Lavitt, Mary Lenons and Dan Manley.

Four Open Classrooms No Longer Operating

SOUTH WINDSOR
Judy Kuehnel
 644-1364

Four of the five open classrooms in South Windsor will no longer be in operation next fall, due to various reasons.

At present five grades are practicing the open classroom concept; four at Eli Terry School and one at Pleasant Valley School.

In September, only the 6th grade program at Eli Terry will continue to operate.

"It's very difficult to evaluate the open classroom concept, but what such a place is is not uniformly held," according to School Supt. Robert Goldman.

The classrooms have combined in some fashion, for the majority of time, two classrooms and two teachers into the same setting. One could say that open classrooms may mean only that the folding wall between classrooms is open."

At the 6th grade level in Eli Terry the plan is based on cooperative teaching effort. The door between classrooms is open, giving the area an "open and refreshing look and feel," Dr. Goldman said.

"Each teacher is responsible for specific reading groups and math groups. The teachers divide the responsibilities for social studies, language and science. These groups are formed between the classes and tend to be more heterogeneous than homogeneously," Goldman said.

As students complete their assignments, they may work on individual projects or expanded work on the material covered.

Dr. Goldman said students work well with the arrangement and it does not differ from their other experiences.

At the 5th grade level at Eli Terry, "teachers felt no compelling reason to continue for next year and the program will not be repeated," said Goldman.

The 4th grade program at Eli Terry had to be eliminated because the school department went from four fourth grades to three, causing "one grade to be in isolation for all practical reasons, thus destroying other building flexibility, which is important to the general program for the children."

The first grade level at Eli Terry has been the town's longest remaining open classroom.

However, because of the reduction in the number of first graders, this class will not continue next school year.

"The program was very well organized and met with the general satisfaction of the parents. Because the program was somewhat known, those parents who had doubts or questions have been able to request a more traditional teaching format," Goldman said. He added: "Only two parents were not in favor of the program in this year's group."

In the fourth grade program at Pleasant Valley School one of the team teaching members is leaving the school department

Senior Mini-Bus Failing

SOUTH WINDSOR

South Windsor's $4,500 senior citizen's mini-bus has 90-days to make good or the mass transit project will be written off as a failure in the eyes of the Town Council.

With half of its six-month trial period gone, the $18,000 mass transit project, which takes the town's elderly shopping, or to their nutrition programs or doctors appointments has not resulted in an astonishing success as has been hoped.

In fact, according to Deputy Mayor Sandra Bender, only 48 out of 600 eligible people are using the compact vehicle certain days a week.

"It's not roaring success, but it's not an absolute failure either," Mrs. Bender has reported.

Consequently the council has agreed to give the program the remainder of the previously agreed-to test — until September, at which time the results of the program in its entirety will be evaluated.

Meanwhile, the Senior Citizens Advisory Committee is now informing the senior citizens here that their project may be scrapped if participation doesn't pick up soon.

According to Mrs. Bender, the passengers totaled 96 in March, 159 in April and 179 in May. However, while the figures have climbed, many of these people are repeaters and only about 45 people are using the service.

Also, the council is attempting to get mass transit funding through either state or federal assistance.

Sleeping Motorists Educated

DURHAM, N.C. (UPI) — According to a National Driving Institute survey, the more education a person has the more likely he is to fall asleep at the wheel of an automobile.

But Duke University psychiatrist William Erwin, who conducted the survey, suggested one explanation for the results might be honesty — or a lack of it — in answering his questions.

He recently spent two months polling 150 drivers at highway patrol licensing stations in North Carolina.

A scant 3.2 per cent of drivers with grade school education admitted they sometime became drowsy driving — but 84.9 per cent of those with postgraduate degrees said they had experienced drowsiness behind the wheel.

Erwin offered a number of theories, although he said the survey raised more questions than it answered.

Another theory is that driving is more of a routine task for highly educated persons, making them more susceptible to boredom.

FROM YOUR NEIGHBOR'S KITCHEN

By Vivian Ferguson

Although we won't be officially celebrating the 200th anniversary of our country until July 4, 1775, I am sure many of us have very special feelings as we gather with our families this Fourth of July.

It is so pleasant, there will be many outdoor meals. Keep the day happy, and the day after as well, by being especially careful in the handling of the food particularly if the weather is hot.

Each year at this time I am compelled to caution you of the dangers of food poisoning. Don't leave any food out for long periods, even if it isn't in the sun.

Be especially cautious with any salad containing mayonnaise — refrigeration is imperative. Hamburgers, cold cuts, and deli meats should be kept at temperatures from 60 to 100 degrees.

Be especially cautious with any salad containing mayonnaise — refrigeration is imperative. Hamburgers, cold cuts, and deli meats should be kept at temperatures from 60 to 100 degrees.

Easy and Tasty — A delicious salad can be made from chickpeas, also known as ceci and garbanzo. Buy the canned ones, drain, and put them into a glass or china dish. Add some chopped onion, your own or a bottled Italian dressing. Cut up some red pimientos for color, if you like. In season, diced red sweet peppers are nice. Add salt and pepper to taste.

Cooked Rice — Cooked rice makes a delicious salad. Toss it with oil, vinegar, salt and pepper. Include some prepared mustard, minced parsley, green pepper.

Melting Butter — You can make a cold rice mold for your family get-together. Serving with a French dressing for fruit.

Tantalizing Seent — In my garden, I have a plant called pineapple sage. It smells just like a fresh pineapple. You have ever been to Hawaii, you will know what I mean. The scent is tantalizing. Pineapple sage is perfect in fresh fruit salads. Chop the leaves and sprinkle over all or garnish with it.

Another easy, pretty salad plate can be created by using crisp green lettuce leaves. Arrange sliced tomatoes on the lettuce, sprinkle with chopped fresh basil. Garnish with olives and green parsley. For extra flavor, put an anchovy stop each tomato slice or buy the rolled anchovies which are stuffed with a caper.

When making potato salad, my mother never mixed it with mayonnaise. She always poured oil and vinegar over the potatoes first, plus adding chopped onions, celery,

Speakers Favor Sewers at Lake

COVENTRY
Most of the Coventry residents who attended a hearing by the Lake Rehabilitation Study Committee recently insisted that anything less than a sewer system for the entire lake area that would be capable of serving the whole town would be a patchwork attempt at curing a serious problem.

A petition was presented to the committee with 148 signatures of lake area residents, which claim that all four plans submitted by the committee were substandard.

None of the plans calls for severing the whole lake area, but one does call for a sewer system that would serve the University of Connecticut, Mansfield Training School and Waterfront Manor and Lakeview Terrace, the two lake associations where most of the pollution abatement orders issued by the town were sent.

One resident, who said the recommendations were band aid approaches to jugular vein cuts and that the proposed plan for sewers looked as if it was designed to turn off the rest of the town.

Another said, "By going into the papers repeatedly about septic problems in Lakeview Terrace and Waterfront Manor, you have devalued our homes. You have kept the housing from turning over. No one will buy there now."

Al Bradley, chairman of the Town Council during one of the defeated sewer referendums, said, "You have got to sewer the whole lake area and you should accept that fact sooner or later."

HARTFORD (UPI) -

All state police cruisers will carry bumper stickers saying "55 Saves Lives" to promote the state's campaign to slow down highway traffic. Gov. Ella T. Grasso has announced.

Mrs. Grasso said the lower 55 m.p.h. speed limit on Connecticut highways will reduce gasoline consumption as well as save lives.

"As motorists take to the highways of Connecticut on this Independence Day weekend, I urge them to observe the speed limit. State traffic regulations demand it. Common sense makes it obvious," she said.

Scholarship Jaycees have presented their annual scholarship award to Miss Mary Ellen Dillon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Dillon, 887 Main St.

What Would You Do?

BOLTON

By Dolpa Holland
How does that old expression go? Opportunity only knocks once. Well, if opportunity was knocking at your door, what would you do?

Stop for a moment and honestly think about it, answer honestly (if you can) what you would do.

And what if the opportunity was a dream, a tranquilizer and heaven all rolled into one. Maybe it didn't knock for you but it knocked for Milton and Betty Jensen.

Milton and Betty recently became the owner of Boulder Lodge Cottages in Alton, N.H. 603-875-4470 or write Boulder Lodge Cottages, Alton, N.H. 03810.

While living in Bolton, Jensen was chairman of the Republican Town Committee, president and member of the Bolton Football Association, Little League baseball coach and very active in the Bolton Congregational Church.

Betty was a member of the Women's Auxiliary of the Bolton Football Association, active in church and the Red Cross volunteer.

The Jensens' five children are Milton Jr., a graduate of Hartwick College in New York; David, a graduate of Manchester Community College in hotel food services; Craig, a graduate of Bolton High School planning to attend University of Connecticut's school of engineering in September; Mark, who will enter high school in September and Christine who will enter Grade 7 in September.

The Jensens drove down from New Hampshire to attend their son's graduation Tuesday.

What would you do?

Carbone Tells Suburbanites Hartford Is Vital to Them

MONICA SHEA
Correspondent
742-9495

"We are the employment center for your people, so the economic viability of the city should be of critical concern to the suburbs," Hartford Councilman Nick Carbone told members of the Tolland County Democratic Association last week.

Carbone centered his talk on the things he felt suburban and rural communities have in common. He also cited Hartford as being the medical and educational base for the capital region. "We have four major hospitals in Hartford and only 27 per cent of the patients at Hartford Hospital last year were city residents. The rest came from outside the city," Carbone said. Commenting on the controversial City and Town Development bill which was vetoed by Gov. Grasso, Carbone said, "The bill would have benefitted the suburbs also," he said. He noted that new environmental standards are making Connecticut factories obsolete. "In the past several years Connecticut has gone from 400,000 manufacturing jobs to 200,000 jobs. We have lost 40,000 jobs to other states. Manufacturers have located their plants in other states. He added that with the bill jobs could have been saved.

"We have to stop Hartford from building in other states. If we want to break the cycle of Hartford being the first into and last out of a recession we need to diversify our economy and not rely on service industries," Carbone said. "The state collects $125 million in taxes from Hartford and gives back only $22 million and the rest is distributed throughout the state. If you want to maintain state services then Hartford must remain viable," Carbone said. He charged the opponents of the bill with deliberately distorting it by saying it would usurp zoning and the Inland Wetlands Act and give the city extra territorial power.

"I could accept any other revisions other than those and generally speaking I could accept and support such a bill. I really don't see where any revisions are needed," Carbone said. SAM Summer Theater To 'Clown Around'

Why would a clown be sad? What could make him happy again? The children of Manchester will have a chance to find the answers to these questions this summer when SAM Summer Theater tours the city of Manchester in August with its fifth annual production, this one entitled "Clowning Around a Smile." SAM Summer Theater needs participants, performers, and technical workers. Any Manchester junior high or senior high students or recent graduates may participate. There is work for everyone. Work sessions are held daily at the Teen Center at the Nike Site at 2 p.m. The last four summers have been a true variety of theater programs under SAM's sponsorship. "Three Plays in an Audience" was the very first SAM summer Theater production and was followed by a very successful production of the comedy, "The Curious Savage." Third season was the introduction of theater for an audience of children. The musical, "The Land of ABC" was presented at several city recreation areas to large audiences of Manchester children. Last summer, "Uggle Sam's Vaudeville Hour, Or So" was created and also toured the area. The children's theater production was the most successful in terms of audience size and response. Thus, Lee Hay, director of the theater since its inception, has decided to return to the children with this "clown" show. Hay, director of dramas at Manchester High School, would like to especially encourage more junior high and East Catholic students to become active in SAM Summer Theater. A full month will be spent preparing the show together and then the group will go on tour. "Clowning Around a Smile" will provide lots of opportunity for Manchester teens to get involved. For further information, call the SAM office at 649-2506.

Contributions To This Page Welcome

The Summer Youth Scene page is prepared each week under the auspices of SAM Summer Activities in Manchester. Its purpose is to provide news and information about SAM and other summer activities for youth, and to provide some interesting reading in itself. The page editor, George Sweetnam, wishes to have a real variety in the paper. To that end, he invites anyone interested in contributing news, features, editorials, stories, poems, photos, artwork, or just ideas to contact the SAM office in the Nike Site complex at 649-2506. Also, anyone who knows of town activities that this page could or should cover is welcome to give the office a buzz. Rapunzel starts Series

Variety of Courses Offered

Several courses will be available to young people who would like to learn about, or further their present knowledge of a variety of subjects. The courses are, sailing and canoeing, plant care and terrariums, modern dance, patchwork quilting, crewel embroidery, and ceramics. Sailing and canoeing is being taught at Globe Hollow by Tim Badger of the Rec Department. They will be dealing with the basic techniques of boating with emphasis placed on safety precautions. Plant care, taught by Steve Smith at the West Side Rec, and modern dance, taught by Judy Stoddard at the Teen Center, will also be basic courses. Patchwork quilting and crewel embroidery are both being taught by Bea Shettel at the West Side Rec. Quilting students will learn to make such things as sampler quilts, vests, and tote bags. Those in the crewel class will learn stitches that can be used to decorate jeans, blouses, and handbags. Both of the above courses will require an outlay of money for supplies. The ceramics class will be taught by Marty Laurinits also at the West Side Rec. For those who have done ceramics, the course will offer instruction in new and interesting techniques such as overglaze, sandblasting, and clay-firing. Participants must purchase their own tools. The cost for the course is $15. There is no admission charge. For more information, call the SAM office (649-2506).

Rapunzel Starts Series

Shortly after 8 o'clock Saturday evening Rapunzel, a Massachusetts rock group, began blasting out their sounds to a fairly large crowd gathered at Mt. Nebo field. Their show was the first in a series of concerts being sponsored by SAM this summer. Rapunzel is a six-man band with a taste for high-energy rock 'n' roll. Most of their music was familiar material to the audience, though they did play a few excellent original compositions. The concert appropriately began with a fire version of the rock classic "Woodstock" followed by songs of the Rolling Stones, Led Zeppelin, the Doobie Brothers, Grand Funk, and Black Sabbath, just to name a few. The band gave every song a bit of their own style, so all the music sounded fresh and exciting. I was particularly impressed by their versions of "Radar Love" and "We're an American Band." Both proved to be powerful examples of a hard rock that Rapunzel is noted for. The band also had a very effective light show consisting of several strobe lights and a movie screen directly below the stage on which some very interesting psychedelic colors and patterns could be viewed. On the whole, the sound system was very good. There were a few times when the speaker system couldn't

Crafts Fair Still Taking Registration

This year's SAM fair will be Saturday, July 12, from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. at Center Park on Main St. Anyone who is interested in participating in the fair by mailing an application. Mail registration will be accepted until July 9. There is room for over 100 booths so anyone may participate. Crafts represented thus far are woodwork vases and furniture, their booths with red, white and blue. Anyone, regardless of age, is welcome to show and sell his or her work. For more information or if you wish to operate a food concession, call Dave Jacobs, SAM coordinator, at 649-2506.

Aides To Manage Crowds

SAM director Dave Jacobs is being assisted in managing SAM events this summer by a dozen local teens who are serving as SAM aides. While SAM affairs such as planning concerts, hiring bands, and organizing things in general, the SAM aides assist in such areas as setting up the stages or other equipment and controlling the crowd. As far as parking is concerned, it was agreed that SAM aides will direct the parking and they want all people to cooperate with them. All areas will be patrolled by SAM aides, including the actual Mt. Nebo concert site, the Globe Hollow parking lot, and the Charter Oak walkway under I-84. Each concert is to be patrolled by seven officers and the twelve SAM aides.

Next Movie: 'Cat Ballou'

Tuesday at 8:30 p.m., SAM will sponsor the movie "Cat Ballou" at Mt. Nebo Park. The film is a rowdy spoof starring Lee Marvin as the drunken gunfighter in the West and Jane Fonda as the schoolteacher who outlives him. The cost for the movie is $15. For more information, call the SAM office (649-2506).

Train Rec Leaders

The Manchester Recreation Department is seeking volunteers to become rec leaders in training. These volunteers will act as assistants to the paid rec leaders at town playgrounds. They will be involved with children in such activities as sports, music, and drama. Those who are rec leaders in training this summer will be given special consideration for employment as paid rec leaders next winter or summer. Anyone age 16 or older, who is interested in this program, should call the SAM office (649-2506) before 4:30 p.m. July 8.

Chamber Elects Six Directors

VERNON
The general membership of the Rockville Area Chamber of Commerce has elected six new directors to the board and they will take office the first meeting in October.

All members were mailed a ballot on June 16 and instructed to vote for six of 12 candidates. The six having the highest number of votes were Joseph Caposella, Eric Kloter, Glenn Roberts, Robert Tedoldi, Andrew Tricaccio, and James Troy. The sixth-place board member was elected by drawing lots to break a tie with Le Higgins.

The newly elected members will replace six of eight directors who are scheduled to retire Oct. 1. The retiring directors are Lee Higgins, Stephen Lamont, John Magee, William Moquin, George Redfield, William Rogers, and Schwede and Robert Tedoldi.

At the board meeting scheduled for Sept. 10, the board members will elect two additional members to complete the roster of 12 directors. The 21 directors will then elect a president, vice president, secretary, and treasurer.

The chamber office will be closed from Aug. 4 through 16 for summer vacation. In case of an emergency John Pozzato, president of the board, can be reached at 649-7101.

DEP To Study Condition of Hockanum

A study to determine how much waste reduction is necessary and whether other artificial means must be employed to clean up the Hockanum river, will be undertaken this month by the Department of Environmental Protection (DEP).

The three-day study will start July 21 and the results will be combined with the results of a survey made two years ago to develop a cleanup plan for the river.

Steven Gergsdamer, a sanitary engineer with DEP said the Hockanum runs ranks in the state's lowest water quality rating which is in the "D" category. He said the state plans to put the river in "B" category by 1983 to make it suitable for all types of water recreation.

Gergsdamer said the study will determine how much treatment is needed at the filtration plants to maintain enough oxygen in the stream to support a good biological community. The study is part of the state's water pollution control program.

He said that other pollution sources along the Hockanum are minor compared to the waste discharged by Vernon, Manchester, and East Hartford municipal treatment plants.

Vernon is in the process of planning for expansion of its treatment plant. This project was ordered by the state several years ago and is now in the hands of engineers.

Valley YMCA To Conduct Art Course for Children

The Indian Valley YMCA will sponsor an eight-session arts and crafts workshop for children aged 8 through 10. Programs will be conducted in Vernon and South Windsor, starting July 8.

Plans are to have four sessions of charcoal and pencil sketching, both indoors and outdoors, and four sessions of craftwork.

The sessions will be Tuesday and Thursday mornings from 9:30 to noon at the Talcoettville Congregational Church and Tuesday and Thursday afternoons from 1 to 2:30 p.m. at the Avery Street School, South Windsor. A second series will be conducted in August.

Instructor Catherine Miller will be the instructor. The registration fee is $10 for YMCA members and $15 for non-members. A $3 fee for materials will be payable at the first session. Registrations are being accepted at the "Y" office, Vernon Circle.

Also starting July 8 the "Y" will sponsor a summer Judo program under the direction of Paul Arel. This course will run for eight consecutive Tuesdays.

There will also be provisions made for two makeup sessions for the benefit of students who may have to be out-of-town during a regular session. Classes will run on eight consecutive Tuesdays. Beginning

Women's Conference Adopts Action Plan

MEXICO CITY (UPI) - The International Women's Year Conference has ended two weeks of frequent political heckling on a brief note of harmony - adoption of a 10-year plan of action to advance women's rights.

But differences still dividing the delegates emerged in a politically sensitive document calling for the elimination of Zionism, imperialism and apartheid.

It was sponsored by the "Group of 77" non-aligned nations, including host country Mexico.

"When you talk about eliminating Zionism, what you really mean is the destruction of Israel," said one angry Israeli delegate.

Against women and improve their opportunities in education, employment, politics and health fields.

The "Declaration of Mexico," which condemned Zionism, was passed by a vote of 89-2 with 19 abstentions. Israel and the United States were the only countries voting no.

The plan of action, adopted by consensus at Wednesday's final session, was billed as the major work of the United Nations-sponsored conference.

It stressed the need for U.N. states to end discrimination

The Declaration of Independence

When, in the course of human events, it becomes necessary for one people to dissolve the political bands which have connected them with another, and to assume, among the powers of the earth, the separate and equal station to which the laws of nature and nature's God entitle them, a decent respect to the opinions of mankind requires that they should declare the causes which impel them to the separation.

We hold these truths to be self-evident, that all men are created equal, that they are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable rights; that among these are life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness. That, to secure these rights, governments are instituted among men, deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed; that, whenever any form of government becomes destructive of these ends it is the right of the people to alter or to abolish it, and to institute a new government, laying its foundation on such principles and organizing its powers in such form, as to them shall seem most likely to effect their safety and happiness. Prudence, indeed, will dictate that governments long established should not be changed for light and transient causes; and accordingly all experience hath shown that mankind are more disposed to suffer, while evils are sufferable, than to right themselves by abolishing the forms to which they are accustomed. But when a long train of abuses and usurpations, pursuing invariably the same object, evinces a design to reduce them under absolute despotism, it is their right, it is their duty, to throw off such government, and to provide new guards for their future security. Such has been the patient sufferance of these colonies; and such is now the necessity which constrains them to alter their former systems of government. The history of the present King of Great Britain is a history of repeated injuries and usurpations, all having in direct object the establishment of an absolute tyranny over these states. To prove this, let facts be submitted to a candid world.

He has refused his assent to laws, the most wholesome and necessary for the public good.

He has forbidden his governors to pass laws of immediate and pressing importance, unless suspended in their operation till his assent should be obtained; and, when so suspended, he has utterly neglected to attend to them.

He has refused to pass other laws for the accommodation of large districts of people, unless those people would relinquish the right of representation in a legislature—a right inestimable to them, and formidable to tyrants only.

He has called together legislative bodies at places unusual, uncomfortable, and distant from the depository of their public records, for the sole purpose of fatiguing them into compliance with his measure.

He has dissolved representative houses repeatedly, for opposing, with manly firmness, his invasions on the rights of the people.

He has refused, for a long time after such dissolutions, to cause others to be elected, whereby the legislative powers, incapable of annihilation, have returned to the people at large for their exercise; the state remaining, in the meantime, exposed to all the dangers of invasion from without and convulsions within.

He has endeavored to prevent the population of these states; for that purpose obstructing the laws for the naturalization of foreigners, refusing to pass others to encourage their migration hither, and raising the conditions of new appropriations of lands.

He has obstructed the administration of justice, by refusing his assent to laws for establishing judiciary powers.

He has made judges dependent on his will alone for the tenure of their offices, and the amount and payment of their salaries.

He has erected a multitude of new offices and sent hither swarms of officers to harass our people and eat out their substance.

He has kept among us in times of peace, standing armies, without the consent of the legislature.

He has affected to render the military independent of, and superior to, the civil power.

He has combined with others to subject us to a jurisdiction foreign to our constitutions and unacknowledged by our laws, giving his assent to their acts of pretended legislation:

For quartering large bodies of armed troops among us;

For protecting them by a mock trial, from punishment for any murders which they should commit on the inhabitants of these states;

For cutting off our trade with all parts of the world;

For imposing taxes on us without our consent; For depriving us, in many cases, of the benefits of trial by jury;

For transporting us beyond seas, to be tried for pretended offenses;

For abolishing the free system of English laws in neighboring provinces, establishing therein an arbitrary government, and enlarging its boundaries, so as to render it at once an example and fit instrument for introducing the same absolute rule into these colonies;

For taking away our charters, abolishing our most valuable laws, and altering fundamentally the forms of our governments;

For suspending our own legislatures, and declaring themselves invested with power to legislate for us in all cases whatsoever.

He has abdicated government here, by declaring us out of his protection and waging war against us.

He has plundered our seas, ravaged our coasts, burned our towns, and destroyed the lives of our people.

He is at this time transporting large armies of foreign mercenaries to complete the works of death, desolation, and tyranny already begun with circumstances of cruelty and perfidy scarcely paralleled in the most barbarous ages, and totally unworthy the head of a civilized nation.

He has constrained our fellow-citizens, taken captive on the high seas, to bear arms against their country, to become the executors of their friends and brethren, or to fall themselves by their hands.

He has excited domestic insurrection among us, and has endeavored to bring on the inhabitants of our frontiers the merciless Indian savages, whose known rule of warfare is an undistinguished destruction of all ages, sexes, and conditions.

In every stage of these oppressions we have petitioned for redress in the most humble terms; our repeated petitions have been answered only by repeated injury. A prince whose character is thus marked by every act which may define a tyrant is unfit to be the ruler of a free people.

Nor have we been wanting in our attentions to our British brethren. We have warned them from time to time of attempts by their legislature to extend an unwarrantable jurisdiction over us. We have reminded them of the circumstances of our emigration and settlement here. We have appealed to their native justice and magnanimity; and we have conjured them, by the ties of our common kindred, to disavow these usurpations, which would inevitably interrupt our connections and correspondence. They too, have been deaf to the voice of justice and conciliation. We must, therefore, acquiesce in the necessity which denounces our separation, and hold them, as we hold the rest of mankind, enemies in war, in peace, and friendship.

We, therefore, the representatives of the United States of America, in General Congress assembled, appealing to the Supreme Judge of the world for the rectitude of our intentions, do, in the name and by the authority of the good people of these colonies, solemnly publish and declare, That these united colonies are, and of right ought to be, free and independent states; that they are absolved from all allegiance to the British Crown, and that all political connection between them and the state of Great Britain is, and ought to be, totally dissolved; and that, as free and independent states, they have full power to levy war, conclude peace, contract alliances, establish commerce, and do all other acts and things which independent states may of right do. And, for the support of this declaration with a firm reliance on the protection of Divine Providence, we mutually pledge to each other our lives, our fortunes, and our sacred honor.
