Anyone Want To Rent Some Fish? By SOL R. COHEN

A Manchester couple, already boasting an unusual his-and-her occupation, has launched an even more unusual venture "Rent-A-Fish." It's exactly as it sounds. They rent out fish.

Wayne and Peggy Fowler are welders he for a Hartford company, she for a Hartford Rd., Manchester company. Wayne, 31, is from East Hampton and Peggy, 22, from Andover They've lived on Oak St. since their marriage, in October 1973. Although they've been in the part-time fish-rental business for only three months, Wayne has been raising pet fish and experimenting with aquarium equipment since he was 11. From all indications, theirs is the only fish-rental business in Connecticut and, possibly, only the second in the United States. Magazines read by pet-fish entrepreneurs tell of one in Los Angeles. Wayne says, until recently the Fowler's small bungalow had wall-to-wall fish, with only a sofa and TV set to keep them company. Now, except for a few tankfuls still in the living room, he keeps them in the He says he has about 25 tanks in assorted sizes, containing about 500 fish, in assorted sizes, shapes and colors. The tanks hold about 300 gallons of fresh and salt water.

Wayne and Peggy have four types of fish - the ordinary school fish; the larger fish, such as Jack Dempseys and African Knives; a huge variety of gold fish; and the exotics, such as Elephant Nose, Angel Fish and African Cichilios.

Wayne refuses to have any piranhas around, not even for show. He says, "It's illegal to sell them and dangerous to keep them. I want no part of them."

The Weather

Partly sunny, hot and humid today with chance of an afternoon or evening thunderstorm, highs in the upper 80s. Considerable cloudiness warm and humid tonight with lows near 70. Friday fair and hot with highs in the 90s. Southwesterly winds 10 to 20 m.p.h. today, becoming gentle and variable tonight and southwesterly to westerly 10 to 15 m.p.h. Friday.

Confusion Reigns

The older one gets the easier it is for a person to get confused.

The U.S. Senate has enacted a bill which will require our automakers to improve mileage standards by at least 50 per cent by 1980 and 100 per cent by 1985 using 1974 models as a base. This means, we are told, that cars will have to give us 21 miles per gallon in five years and 28 miles per gallon in 10 years since the average mileage for 1974 was 14 miles per gallon.

Yet, we see several automobile makers advertising many of their 1975 models at 30 plus miles per gallon.

"Parsley, sage, rosemary and thyme..." My son quoted the old rhyme when I selected herbs for planting in the spring. Not the least of these is parsley which was known and used by the early Greeks and Romans. They not only ate parsley, they wore it on the head in garlands much as they did the laurel leaves. It signified victory and revelry. Champions at the Greek games at Isthmus were crowned with the green plant. On festive occasions, these same people believed that eating parsley would keep them from becoming intoxicated. They also knew that it sweetened the breath. We know today that parsley contains the green chlorophyll and that it is high in vitamin C and A. Basically, there are two kinds of parsley though there are a number of varieties. The flat, broader-leafed plant is usually called Italian parsley. Then there is the bunchy, or curly variety. If you take some of each in your hand and sniff separately, you will find that the Italian variety has more scent. So, too, is it more flavor-

Most of us immediately think of parsley as a garnish and what would we ever do without its beautiful greenery especially in winter? I find it very easy to grow. In fact, I take a plant or two out of the garden in the fall, put it in some potting soil. Kept in a window, it will last all winter. My thanks to Arline Norman for that bit of advice a few years ago.

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I have a very good friend. He is 34, single and a professional man. He's good company, and we enjoy having him over.

We know he'd like to be married and have a family, and he would make some woman a fine husband, but he is very much overweight. Besides that, he has a very bad odor because he seldom takes a bath or changes his clothes. When he leaves, I have to spray the room. We are embarrassed to have other people over when he's visiting. and it's impossible to find him a date because we don't know any single girl who can't smell.

problem without losing a good friend? BREATHLESS IN N.Y.

DEAR BREATHLESS: It would be an act of kindness if you (or your husband) would tell your friend that he simply must bathe and change his clothes regularly. Let him know that he has an offensive odor. It's hard to believe that a person could be this insensitive. Perhaps HE can't smell.

How can we make him realize the seriousness of this

DEAR ABBY: I've been waiting on tables for only three weeks, but I have a problem that only you can solve. I was told that under no circumstances should a customer help himself to coffee. (The coffee is on a burner in full view of the customers, and sometimes if the waitress is busy and can't get to the customer fast enough, he will get up and get

DEAR STUMPED: No. But such rules are made to keep you on your toes so that no one will attempt to pour his own coffee or clutter the aisles with extra chairs (a fire hazard). When you see a customer breaking these rules, tell him most emphatically that it will cost you your job if he doesn't

DEAR ABBY: A friend of mine wanted to show her appreciation for a favor I did, so she gave me a box of candy. It was a well-known brand and not cheap, either. When I got home and opened the box, I found it was wormy. Of course, I threw it in the garbage immediately. Should I tell my friend that the candy was wormy? I know she would be upset if she knew. But since there's no way of proving it, she can't get her money back, so why On the other hand, I don't like the idea of telling her that Doug Pearson, who is assistant soccer coach and head basketball coach at Manchester High, is in charge of the four-year-old program. As many already know, Manchester High has always had a good soccer team and what the summer program could do is act as a feeder system for not only the public school but also for East Catholic and Cheney Tech.

This, however, is not the prime objective of the "We're not a feeder system but it's no longer as informal should be complimented, Pearson states. "Over-all the high school players aren't doing a good job they're doing a great job. They're not only coaching but teaching the kids the fundamentals very well."

What also should be noted is that all coaches are volunteers who don't get a nickel for their services. And many of them spend time with the youngsters, continually teaching new aspects of the sport, which is not required. Too many times only the 'bad' kids get the publicity and the others are overlooked. It shouldn't be that way.

Fruition in Few Years

It's too early now for the high schools to draw the top players out of the summer program but Pearson indicated that in two or three years, Manchester High and the others should expect to get good caliber players. Soccer has always been a popular sport in Manchester and has been successful on the high school level over the 28-year career of Dick Danielson, Danielson, incidently, is the second leading active coach in the state in the number of wins. He has 252 victories under his belt, trailing only Staples High's Albie Loeffler who has almost 280 wins.

After the 1974-75 basketball season, Pearson searched through school records, and those at The Herald, trying to get all records in order. One subject, however, he couldn't

MILWAUKEE (UPI) - Better 10 friends than one

If Bowie Kuhn never knew that before, he does now. Wittingly or not, he made an unforgiving enemy of Charlie Finley and there's a good chance now that will cost him the baseball commissionership. Charlie Finley never was a big Bowie Kuhn booster to begin with, and Kuhn only succeeded in alienating the Oakland A's owner more and more by some of the actions he took against him the past few years. Remember how Bowie Kuhn interceded in behalf of Vida Blue when Finley was having trouble signing him a couple of years ago? Charlie Finley remembers. Then there was the famous Mike Andrews affair, and the action Kuhn took against Finley when he turned on the lights during a World Series game in Oakland. Kuhn imposed fines on Finley both times and Finley remembers

It was never any secret. Charlie Finley simply didn't think Bowie Kuhn was a good commissioner and he felt player in NFL history to hit the Kuhn had jumped on every possible opportunity to embarrass him.

Charlie believes in an eye for an eye. If Bowie Kuhn was going to embarrass him, he'd do what he could to embarrass Bowie Kuhn.

Having Finley as Enemy Unwise

The perfect example was last fall after the A's beat the Dodgers in the world series. Finley felt he had the perfect chance to get back at Kuhn for some of the indignities he believed Kuhn had inflicted upon him.

Traditionally, the commissioner presents the championship trophy to the owner of the winning world series team and in last year's case that would have been Charlie

A call was made to Finley asking him whether he would come down to accept the trophy from Kuhn and his booming angry answer was - no, no, a thousand times no not from someone like Bowie Kuhn. Then Charlie came up with an idea. He would have his clubhouse custodian accept the trophy from Kuhn so the whole world could see what he thought of Kuhn was aware Finly purposely had snubbed him, but_ there wasn't anything he could do about it. What could he do, fine Finley again? Even should the move to fire Kuhn be tabled today, there is the strong likelihood he will simply finish his present term and be let out after the world series or at the winter meetings in Hollywood, Fla., four months from now. That means he will be nothing but a lame duck, a token commissioner until then. No matter what, you have to score this one for Charlie Finley over Bowie Kuhn and in a way it is ironic that the Yankees were the fourth and final club to swing over to Finley's side in the consolidation against Kuhn. Only a year and a half ago, Charlie and the Yankees had no use for each other whatsoever over the question of Dick Williams' managerial services. The Yankees signing of Catfish Hunter seven months ago didn't endear them any more to the anguished A's owner.

Now, though, they are united in a common cause. the commissioner on TV. Somewhere along the line he had Politics makes for strange bedfellows. Baseball makes a change of heart and, in the end, Sal Bando, the A's captain, Joe Rudi and Reggie Jackson made the acceptance.

Comments From The C of C

By Lani Jurey

July is the month of sales, and the biggest sales of all are this coming Friday and Saturday, here in Glastonbury. Chamber of Commerce Sales Days are a great clearing house of bargains, so shop now and save!

The theme of this summer's sales days recalls the Bicentennial era, with a map of old Glastonbury, which shows that although our town hasn't changed its physical dimensions, it has certainly enlarged its scale of operations, and the population growth is something everyone can see. So, to meet all the needs of 24,000 people, the numbers of shops and services have grown to the point that almost anything you want can be found right here in town. Variety, quantity and quality, we have it, plus the parking convenience that isn't found in urban centers.

One of the nicest things about shopping in your home town, is knowing the people with whom you are dealing. Shopping is a neighborly experience, because Glastonbury merchants care about you and the town.

The Senior Citizen discount program, instituted by the Chamber of Commerce, is one of the ways merchants demonstrate their interest in local people. The most recent addition to the list of places offering discounts to senior residents is Annis Cleaners, on Main St. in the lovely little village of South Glastonbury. At Annis Cleaners, people with Club 60 cards wil receive a ten per cent discount on professional dry cleaning. Remember, cards must be presented whenever a discount is offered. The little old building, where Annis Cleaners is located, is on the banks of Roaring Brook, and has had a long and varied series of careers. Twenty-five years ago, it was the Roaring Brook the Tavern closed, the building was remodeled and became a bookshop for paper backs, a Bottle Shop, where old and unusual bottles and glass were sold, and several other shops, which I have forgotten. Annis Cleaners opened first in half the building, but their service was so popular, they soon had to expand to occupy the entire space. It's an unusual site for cleaning establishment, and charming, because the store retains the atmosphere of history, and a quaintness very much in keeping with the colonial feeling of South Glastonbury

So many people have been asking, "When is the Chamber Barbecue?" that it's a pleasure to announce the date: Wednesday, August 27, from 5:30 p.m. on, at the Elks grounds on be the big food and fun fest of the year, with the menu planned by Bob McKinney, the maestro and the originator of the event. Only 220 tickets will be available, and they will be sold on a first come, first served basis, with no reservations and no tickets held unless paid for. Buying for a picnic this big is an exacting science, and Bob wants every ticket holder well fed and happy. Remember the date, it's official, Wednesday, August 27!

200 years ago, in 1776, the members of the Continental Congress took their bold stand before the world . . . and a new nation was born. Today, in the dedicated spirit of the founders, let us all mutually pledge to each other that the Freedom so fearlessly proclaimed, so dearly won, so bravely defended through 200 years, shall forever endure.
