

Near the End of the Line

With steady hands and a sure eye, John Ewaniski of the Manchester police maintenance staff lays down a crosswalk line with a powder paint at W. Middle Tpk. and Broad St. John Baldyga, superintendent of maintenance for the police department, said his staff is about done laying stop bars and crosswalks with 7,000 pounds of the instant dry powder paint. The center lines are also about done after about 3,000 gallons of regular paint was laid down, he said. Some painting is left to be done on town roads not yet repaired or tarred, he said. ## More Violence Scars Detroit

DETROIT (UPI) — It looked like a battlefield. The streets of a west side neighborhood were scarred by fire and strewn with rubble today — the legacy of a second straight night of violence sparked by the fatal shooting of a black teenager by a white tavern owner. Hundreds of riot-ready police, many called in from vacations and days off, used tear gas and nightsticks to disperse jeering, chanting crowds in some streets Tuesday night. Police Chief Philip Tamian said roving gangs — composed mainly of young blacks — set three major fires in business places, smashed scores of windows and set fire to several cars. Altogether, he said, 13 stores were damaged. The disturbances were described as a "mild echo" of the 1967 riots that left 43 dead, 5,000 homeless and caused $250 million in damage — the worst race riots in modern American history. The troubles started Monday night when a white tavern owner, Andrew Chinarian, 39, said he fired at a youth advancing towards him in the tavern parking lot with an object in his hand. The object, police

Town Again Seeks Grant of $150,000

By SOL R. COHEN
Herald Reporter

Masae Saur has returned from her native Japan, her "duty-bound" mission accomplished but happy to be back. "This is where I belong," she told everyone who'd listen, and they all did. "I felt I was a foreigner when I was in Tokyo. People wondered about my American accent and they snickered at my clothes. I'm a Connecticut Yankee all the way, and I'm proud of it."

Masae's "duty-bound" mission was to visit the grave of the brother who brought her up when her father died and to search out her remaining relatives.

Masae operates a computerized keyboard for The Manchester Herald. July 4th was her 17th year in the United States. Since her brother died, two years ago, she'd been writing to the last-known addresses of relatives. The letters always came back undelivered, so she decided to make the trip.

She found the cemetery where her brother is buried, but she wouldn't go in. "Something stopped me," she explains. "I want to remember him as the vibrant, loving and healthy brother he was when he took care of me."

She also found her relatives—her brother's widow, residing in Chiba, a suburb of Tokyo; and four nieces and two nephews.

In her sister-in-law's home is a shrine to her husband, Masae's brother, in the Japanese tradition. Incense is always burning and food and flowers are left for him. The Japanese treat their dead as if they're still alive and even talk to them at their shrines.

X Rays Show Astronauts Recovered

HONOLULU (UPI) — America's last three Apollo astronauts had a clean bill of health today and were leaving history-making to others while they frolicked on the beach in a reunion with their families.

Doctors at Tripler Army Hospital told Thomas Stafford, Vance Brand and Donald "Deke" Slayton X rays had shown "a resolution of all previous abnormalities caused by the irritant."

National Aeronautics and Space Administration spokesman Larry King said this meant they had fully recovered from the effects of rocket propellant gas which seeped into their spacecraft during re-entry Thursday and detoured them to Tripler instead of home to Houston.

The Weather

Sunny and warm today with highs in the upper 80s and low 90s. Clear tonight with lows in the 60s. Thursday mostly sunny with highs in the low and mid 90s. Chance of rain near zero today and tonight, 20 percent Thursday. Gentle variable winds today and tonight, gentle westerly winds Thursday.

New Hampshire Election Goes Back To Voters

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Democratic leaders today agreed to declare the disputed New Hampshire Senate seat vacant and call for a new election. A vote to end the months-long bitter controversy could come sometime today or Thursday.

Democratic leader Mike Mansfield met early this morning with Democrat John Durkin, who changed his mind Tuesday and asked for a new election. After the meeting, Mansfield said Democrats would abide with Durkin's request.

"It's his decision and we will abide with it," Mansfield said, adding that a vote on declaring the seat vacant may come later in the day or perhaps Thursday.

Mansfield said Durkin met with him, Assistant Democratic leader Robert Byrd, W. Va., and Sen. Howard Cannon, D-Nev., chairman of the Rules Committee.

The decision opens the way for a new election between Durkin and Republican Louis Wyman to decide who won last November's Senate election.

The election was the closest in Senate history, with several recounts giving the race first to Durkin and then to Wyman by two votes.

Republicans have supported efforts to return the dispute to predominantly Republican New Hampshire rather than have the Democrat-controlled Senate decide the outcome.

Heading for the opening ceremonies of the European summit, both men expressed confidence the general Helsinki conference would improve prospects for "peace and tranquility" everywhere.

Ford said their two-hour and 10-minute discussion of problems connected with the prospective U.S.-Soviet strategic arms limitation agreement was "very constructive, very friendly, very businesslike."

"We did not have enough time, but the discussions were in a very good spirit of frankness."

Ford and Brezhnev agreed in principle at Vladivostok to work toward a 10-year agreement limiting each side to 2,400 offensive nuclear weapons, including 1,320 with multiple warheads. But stumbling

Ford, Brezhnev Talk on Arms

HELSINKI (UPI) — President Ford held a "very constructive" private summit on nuclear arms control with Soviet Communist party chief Leonid Brezhnev today and then attended the 35-nation conference on ground rules for peace.

Heading for the opening ceremonies of the European security summit, both men blocks have developed, including an acceptable verification system to police the agreement.

Ford and Brezhnev met in a jovial mood, with much introductory joking and laughing, in the U.S. embassy dining room.

Wilson Says Excuse For Intervention Gone

HELSINKI (UPI) — The 35-nation European summit conference on the security of Europe opened today with a warning to the Soviet Union by British Prime Minister Harold Wilson that no European nation will have an excuse in the future to intervene in the internal affairs of others.

His statement appeared to be a direct challenge to Moscow's so-called "Brezhnev doctrine" which claims the right for the Soviet Union to intervene in any East European country — a policy propounded seven years ago by Soviet Communist party General Secretary Leonid I. Brezhnev after the invasion of Czechoslovakia.

"No excuse can henceforth be found for any participating state attempting to prevent any other from exercising its sovereign rights or to intervene in its internal affairs," Wilson said.

The Wilson statement was particularly significant since the security conference is Brezhnev's brain child. He has urged such a conference for years to put the world's stamp of approval on the postwar boundaries that put half of Europe in the Soviet bloc. He has been said to regard the controversial meeting as the crowning achievement of his career.

In return the West receives promises that the various nations involved will seek

'I Felt Like a Foreigner'

She's Happy To Be Back Home

As for the letters that kept coming back, nobody, not her relatives and not the post office in Chiba nor Haranomachi, Masae's home town, had an explanation. She now has assurances her letters will be delivered.

Masae left Connecticut July 10 and arrived in Tokyo the next day, Japanese time.

"When I got off the plane in Tokyo, I was a very proud American," she says. "I'm dressed in red (jacket), white (skirt) and blue (blouse)."

She sat in the airport for two hours, "with no place to go and not even a hotel reservation."

She says she felt the hostile stares of the Japanese, especially the women.

"I think it was because of the short length of my skirt and because of my red jacket. Japanese women my age don't wear short skirts and don't wear bright colors. I felt like I was from the mod age."

After a while, she made a hotel reservation and took a cab to her hotel.

"Whoever I talked to recognized me as an American," she recalls. "Although I'm native-born, I felt like a stranger."

After resting up and getting rid of "jet lag," she took a cab to Chiba, where her brother had lived. There, for the first time, she found out the cause of her brother's death. He died of cancer, after suffering for three years.

She learned it from a friend of her sister-in-law, who was away at the time, visiting in Masae's sister-in-law's Haranomachi.

Masae learned from a neighbor she has a niece working for the Sony Co. in Anagasaki, a town near Chiba. So, she took a cab there and, sure enough, located her niece.

The niece took time off from work and took Masae to where Masae's sister-in-law (her niece's mother) was visiting.

"Everyone got busy on the phone," Masae recalls, "and soon the entire family knew I was in Japan. I visited back and forth in everyone's home and what a time we had. I spent my entire two weeks' vacation in Japan and missed the trip I had planned for Hawaii, but I wasn't sorry."

And, now she's back in the United States and back at her keyboard — mission accomplished.

"I'm happy to be back," she tells everyone. "This is where I belong."

Sporting her hair-do from Japan, Masae Saur is back at her computerized keyboard in the Manchester Herald's composing room and "happy to be back." (Herald photo by Pinto)

Town May Get Bus Shelters

At no cost to the town, except responsibility for their maintenance, the State of Connecticut may establish 12 bus shelters in Manchester at locations tentatively designated by town officials.

The state has received a federal grant for establishing bus shelters in the area served by the Connecticut Company in the Greater Hartford towns, and Manchester qualifies.

The Board of Directors Tuesday will be asked to approve the bus shelters and to authorize the manager to sign the necessary agreements with the state.

The 12 proposed locations are:

- In front of the Municipal Building on Center St.
- Midway between Forest St. and St. James St. on Main St., at the municipal parking lot.
- Hartford Rd. at Case Dr.
- Hartford Rd. at Bidwell St.
- The parklet at Manchester Green, where Woodbridge St. meets Rts. 6 and 4A.
- Hartford Rd. at McKee St. on the south side.
- Spencer St. at K-Mart.
- Main St., north of Mary Cheney Library.
- Hartford Rd. and Main St., the southeast corner.
- Oakland St. at Tudor Lane or at Rachel Rd.
- Adams St. at Center St., the northeast corner.
- Hartford Rd., at Manchester Community College building.

STAMPS AND COINS

Among the multitude of current striking is the Official Philadelphia Bicentennial medal deserves the inside track by virtue of Philly being, as they say, the birthplace of the nation.

Note that the bejeweled and watted Franklin is facing due westward instead of to the east as he is on the half dollar.

On the reverse of the medal you see Shaggo, the ruffed goshawk, daring anyone to so much as touch the twig he carries. The inspirational literature from the public relations group stresses that it is a "stylized" eagle, as they well know it never passes muster with the Audubon Society. However, if you are looking for a bold and crisp design — here it is.

Slanting above its right rear talon is the inscription "F. Gasparro," which sculptors a bit pushy — other sculptors have been content with just plain initials. He doesn't need this advertising anyway since he is well known as the creator of the Eisenhower dollar and the reverses of the Kennedy half and the Lincoln cent.

The medal will be available in bronze, silver, and gold. Prices range all the way from $2.50 to $250.

Schools on Half Day For Town Referendum

The teachers will, however, be in the schools all day. The schools involved are Sykes, Maple Street, Vernon Elementary, Skinner Road, and Lake Street.

Board member Steven Muehler said at the meeting Monday night that he felt all school days should be closed after the half-day, with the exception of a first-day cover gratis from the ROC Director General.

Dr. Raymond Ramsdell said he was contacted by the registrars of voters asking that children not be around the schools where people will be voting. The referendum hours do not start until noon so the children in the schools involved will just attend the morning session.

Six Teachers Leaving

Five more teachers have resigned and one has announced she will retire, since the July 1 meeting of the Vernon Board of Education.

Dr. Raymond Ramsdell, superintendent of schools, told the Board of Education Monday night this still means the only position to be filled, to date, is that of instrumental music teacher at the Middle School.

Dr. Ramsdell said three positions had been eliminated at the elementary level but the three teachers involved have been transferred to fill vacancies where there have been resignations.

He also said some positions are going to be filled by long-term, part-time teachers who have been substituting and applied for the full-time positions.

He said he did have a candidate for the music position held by Edwin Lovagawa who is one of the five teachers who resigned this month.

He said he does not anticipate any further resignations before schools open, noting that teachers are supposed to announce their intention to resign before Aug. 1.

Rosetta Pikat, reading teacher at the Middle School, will be retiring as of Sept. 1, after 45 years of teaching.

Gerald Mistretta, a Grade 8 English teacher at the Middle School, has been on a leave of absence for the past year and has announced he will be leaving the system. He has had three years' of teaching experience.

Raymond Whinnem, Grade 8 Social Studies teacher at the Middle School, is resigning after also being on a year's leave. He has eight years' of teaching experience.

Sherry Korner, Grade 3 teacher at Northside School, is leaving after teaching six years in the Vernon system.

The other resignation is that of Elaine Lovagawa who is a bookkeeper in the business office of the Board of Education.

Givings Instructions

WO Alan E. Oliver, Connecticut National Guard, instructs Officer Candidate School students on how to enter and exit a helicopter. Oliver is a chopper pilot in the 143rd Aviation Co., Brainard Field, Hartford. He lives in Manchester and is an electrical engineer at Combustion Engineering.

elections in May as a Republican. He was defeated in the election, running on the ballot under no party designation.

The committee consists of Republicans, Democrats and independents.

Whitney has proposed an ordinance for renting or purchasing equipment for the town. The ordinance calls for bids to be competitive and town officials not being allowed to rent their equipment to the town.

The group will discuss the proposed ordinance at a future meeting before it takes any action.

Griner says he and members of his committee went to the Andover Town Office Building and went through all checks from July 1973 through June 1975.

They checked into town monies, names that appeared often, school bus expenses, junk cars, conflict of interest, bidding on town purchases and equipment, the selection-contractible problem, schedule of selectmen's meetings, and town garage rents, he said.

The committee says it is checking for any conflict of interest concerning Percy Cook's many jobs. He is presently serving on the Board of Selectmen.

The ACFB prepared and adopted a set of bylaws in which six vice-chairmen posts were set up.

Post was chosen membership chairman and Whitney the legal affairs chairman. The other posts will be filled at the group's next meeting.

The committee plans to meet the last Sunday of each month, the place to be decided monthly.

Dues of $5 per family per year is paid on a voluntary basis.

The committee is presently investigating town use and control of buses.

It has checked into the school bus situation and said bids weren't sent out. It said the buses are turned in before there is a need to do so.

It said the motors on the buses are good for 200,000 miles and the chassis for 500,000 but the buses are being turned in after 90,000 miles of use.

Set Your Work Hours

Along with the four-day work week, the innovation of flexible working hours was one of those ideas whose time seemed to have come a few years ago but has since been indefinitely postponed. The recession has left millions of Americans with zero work days and 100 per cent "flexibility."

One company, however, launched an experimental flexible work-hours program last year that proved to be so popular it has now been expanded to cover more employees of the firm.

Under the program at Pitney-Bowes, in Stamford, employees are permitted to set their own starting and stopping times within certain established guidelines. They may start work anytime after 7 a.m. and may work up to 6 p.m. They must, however, be on the job at critical times (called core hours), accumulate the necessary number of work hours for the week and work as much time as possible to earn a full week's pay if early-week absences prevent attendance.

The program was tried with about 250 employees at the beginning, it now covers more than 800. Since the test, the only change Pitney-Bowes has made has been the elimination of clocks to count hours worked. Employees are now responsible for manually reporting the hours they work on time registers.

The company believes that over the long run, absenteeism will be reduced and employee productivity increased through better personal scheduling to meet daily work loads.

Today is Wednesday, July 30th, the 211th day of 1975 with 154 to follow.
The moon is approaching its last quarter.

The morning stars are Mercury, Mars, Jupiter and Saturn.
The evening star is Venus.

Those born on this date are under the sign of Leo. Automobile pioneer Henry Ford was born July 30th, 1863.

On this day in history:
In 1897, the American Federation of Radio Artists was organized as a unit of the AFL.

In 1942, President Franklin D. Roosevelt signed a bill creating a female branch of the U.S. Navy. The women sailors, not assigned to combat duty, were called "WAVES."

In 1971, Apollo-15 astronauts David Scott and James Irwin landed on the moon for a second U.S. lunar exploration.

In 1974, the House Judiciary Committee, by a vote of 21 to 17, approved a third article of impeachment against President Nixon, charging him with ignoring congressional subpoenas.

Dr. Daniel Woodcutt, chairman of the Republican Town Committee, has indicated Mayor Frank McCoy will seek re-election to his fourth term and that all other Republicans have no holding office, with the exception of Selectman John Linderman, will seek re-election.

The Town Council is made up of eight Republicans and four Democrats. Each party nominates eight candidates for the council and the 12 highest vote getters are elected.

Each party also nominates two candidates for six-year terms on the Board of Education and three are elected, plus a candidate for the remaining four years of two unexpired terms of the candidate of each party being elected.

Democrats Eye Races At Caucus

VERNON
With more persons wanting to run for office than there are positions to fill, there may be a contest at the Democratic Town Committee meeting Thursday night, Lester Baum, committee chairman said.

The Democrats will meet at 7:30 in the Elks Carriage House, N Park St., instead of at the Kosciuszko Club as originally planned.

The Republicans will have a town committee meeting at 7 tonight in the court room of the Memorial Building. The caucus will follow at 8.

Any registered Republican may vote at the caucus but only Democratic Town Committee members may vote at their meeting although anyone interested is invited to attend.

Both parties will be nominating a candidate for mayor with Thomas Benoit of the Democratic side and Atty. Harold Cummings of the Republican side.

Donald Sudrowski, chairman of the Republican Town Committee, has indicated Mayor Frank McCoy will seek re-election to his fourth term and that all other Republicans have no holding office, with the exception of Selectman John Linderman, will seek re-election.

The Town Council is made up of eight Republicans and four Democrats. Each party nominates eight candidates for the council and the 12 highest vote getters are elected.

Each party also nominates two candidates for six-year terms on the Board of Education and three are elected, plus a candidate for the remaining four years of two unexpired terms of the candidate of each party being elected.

Dr. Daniel Woodcutt, chairman of the Republican Town Committee, has indicated Mayor Frank McCoy will seek re-election to his fourth term and that all other Republicans have no holding office, with the exception of Selectman John Linderman, will seek re-election.

Hollowing Out An 'Empty Shell'?

U.N. Majority Destroying Its Base

By NEA/London Economist News Service

People have always had a way of piling up mythology around the United Nations. The old original myths range from one extreme - for instance, that the U.N. is nothing more than a futile talking-shop - to another - for instance, that it ought to be able to save the world from wars and all other woes, so why doesn't it? For short, these may be termed, respectively, the U.N.-is-Dead and the U.N.-is-God myths.

Henry Kissinger's speech in Milwaukee last week falls into neither of these categories. The American Secretary of State was voicing a fairly widespread irritation in Western countries with the apparent belief, among some U.N. members, that numbers equals persuasiveness; and with the connected willingness, among such countries, to try to silence one or two nations which do not accept the majority view.

Kissinger's heavily dropped hint that the United States might withdraw its financial help from the U.N. - and perhaps even withdraw its membership - should be taken with a pinch of salt. But it does reflect the idea that a majority can too easily be assembled in the U.N. to browbeat, especially as regards the issue of Israel.

Of course, the recent complaint by the New York Times - that the U.N. general assembly has suddenly become unworkable because the two-thirds majority needed to carry an assembly resolution can now be mustered by countries whose combined population is only 10 per cent of the world's total - is bogus.

Economist Commentary

First, there is nothing new about the theoretical possibility of a resolution being carried by states (mostly poor states) that contain only a tenth of the world's people. It could have happened 20 years ago, when U.N. membership was only half of the present figure. Second, it didn't happen then, and it doesn't happen now. National governments are capable of doing many weird and worrisome things, but one thing they do not do is to line up in wholly irrational voting patterns.

Today, the balance of voting strengths between groups in the assembly corresponds much more closely to the balance of populations in the world than it did in the U.N.'s first years, when the Latin Americans, with less than a tenth of the world's population, possessed 40 per cent of the votes. But the truth behind the new myth is the obvious fact that two-thirds of humanity live in the relatively poor "third world" countries. Their governments can and do often combine to carry resolutions calling for economic concessions from the minority of richer peoples. The reason the general assembly does not work now, from the minority's point of view, is that resolutions on being passed through by a combination representing not 10 per cent of the world's population, but, sometimes, more like 70 per cent.

Many of these resolutions are quite unrealistic, as well as being so verbose and numerous that they make very little mark on the public mind. But, however deep the assembly plunges into vain verbosity, it is still performing a task that was originally assigned to it by the three great allied powers of the time, America, Britain and Russia, when they agreed in 1944 that the U.N. structure should include a forum in

Tom Sawyer, Male Chauvinist?

It sounds like a whitewash job to us, but the Hannibal, Mo., Jaycees have decided that boys are boys and girls are girls and never the (Mark) twin shall meet - not when it comes to the annual re-enactment of the famous fence-painting episode in Twain's classic "Tom Sawyer."

A number of local girls had picked this year's Tom Sawyer Days Fence Painting Contest after their applications were rejected. In the competition, boys are judged on their costumes and the speed and efficiency with which they whitewash a section of wooden fence.

"Somewhere in contemporary life, something should remain distinctively masculine and something else distinctively feminine," said Jaycees president David Ebbing.

"No other literary character so typifies and makes vivid the wonderfulness of boyhood as Tom Sawyer. No literary character better exemplifies

Too! Too! Too!

This is the age of computers and, if you don't have one, you just don't know what you're missing. Maybe after I tell you about ours, you won't care.

We call ours the "Mod. Mad Monster." It's our wash machine. It does everything but whistle "Dixie." Sometimes I think it even does that.

For years before this one, we had this simple wash machine. It was the kind we put the soiled clothes into, added some soap, turned the dial to either hot or warm water (two always got only warm), pushed in the starter and it washed.

And you know something? It did a good job. It was quiet and efficient. Then, after years of faithful service, it went of old age. It wasn't worth fixing.

This one we have now has a million gadgets. We can wash with hot water or warm water or cold water (maybe even with no water - I haven't found that out yet).

We can rinse with hot water, when washing with hot or warm or cold. Or, we can rinse with warm water, when washing with cold or hot or warm. Or, we can even rinse with cold water, when washing with warm or cold or hot. I haven't tried it yet, but I'm sure we might even forget about rinsing entirely.

We've never figured out the mathematical possibilities of the wash and rinse combinations, but I'm working on it.

I almost forgot. We can control the amount of water needed - according to the weight of the wash. We don't have it, but there's a machine on the market with its own scale for the weighing.

What our machine also doesn't have is a warning whistle for too hot or a growl for too cold. We now supply our own. You never know, however. Someday, some genius inventor will figure that out also.

We come now to the eight piano keys - each one keyed to computerized formulas, such as type of material, speed of wash, etc.

I always wanted to learn how to play the piano. Until now, I never did. Now, with our eight key washer, I can play any tune - provided, of course, it has only eight notes.

What really fascinates me about this washer is its spin cycles. The monster's computerized brain tells it when to shoot a spray of water, when to spin fast, when to spin slow, when to idle, and when to stop.

TODAY'S THOUGHT

We are not here primarily to survive but to serve. Living in a nuclear age makes this truth even more relevant. Ultimately what matters most in these times of uncertainty is that Jesus Christ be magnified by life or by death.

Paul, the first century servant of God, said, "For me to live is Christ and to die, gain."

For the Christian living is far more than just existing. It's serving at any time at any place.

What is your priority in life, survival or service?

the charm, frailty and mysteries of feminine youth as Becky Thatcher. We believe none of the characteristics of either Tom or Beck should be blurred."

Well, it's been a long, long time since we read "Tom Sawyer" and we have no idea what Samuel Clemens, alias Mark Twain, would think about the social changes that have taken place since his time. But we don't recall being especially impressed with the respective masculine and feminine characteristics of Tom and Beck. It was just a good story.

We also remember that in his other writings Clemens had some biting comments about the mores, taboos and prejudices of his contemporaries. Thus we have more than a sneaking suspicion that if he were around today he would quite favorably consider a sequel to "Tom Sawyer" in which Becky Thatcher proved that, "charm, frailty and mysteries" of femininity notwithstanding, she could wield a brush as well as any boy.

Come to think of it, though, Becky was probably too smart to have been duped into the fence-painting chore the way Tom cozened his masculine friends. That may be some consolation to the rejected girls of Hannibal.

Dear Abby

By Abigail Van Buren
© 1975 by Chicago Tribune-N.Y. News Synd. Inc.

DEAR ABBY: A woman's liber (obviously) wanted to know why no woman's face had ever appeared on a U.S. dollar bill or any other denomination. You polled 12 women, asking how they felt about it. Nine agreed that it was time a woman got her face on paper money, two said they didn't care one way or the other and one said, "I don't want to get my face on any folding money, but I'd like to get my HANDS on some."

Abby, didn't you know that Martha Washington's picture appeared on the silver-dollar certificate in 1891? T.O.W.

DEAR T.O.W.: I do now. I also learned from my readers that Martha wasn't the first female to have her face on folding money. Pocahontas appeared on a $20 National Bank Note in 1875.

DEAR ABBY: My 73-year-old husband has been providing my best friend (she is 71) with friendship, affection and all manner of "looking after" since her husband's death 15 months ago. Her husband, also an old friend, was an invalid for several years, and when he died, she needed the strong shoulder of a man. My husband volunteered with my full approval.

I slowly came to realize that my husband was spending more time with my friend than with me. He admitted that he had grown very "fond" of her and enjoyed being "needed." Then she confessed to having developed a deep affection for my husband. Of course, they both said they "love me" and don't want to hurt me. She advised me to "stay put" until we could work things out.

Does this happen frequently in the geriatric set? And what should I do? I am 73. This is my second marriage. It has lasted 30 years. Thirty years ago, I was the other woman. Ironic, isn't it?

HARD STAYING

DEAR HARD: What was, was. Your husband is trying to catch a few moonbeams in the twinkle of his life. Stay put, and he'll probably get things in focus again.

DEAR ABBY: I am 15, and my parents are in the process of getting a divorce. I can understand their wanting to be apart because they fought when they were together, but the pressure I get from both is something terrible.

Each puts down the other one, and both try to find out who the other is seeing. Please help me. How can I tell them to get off my back? IN THE MIDDLE

DEAR IN: Tell them both that you don't want to report to either one. And that should settle it.

Everyone has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply, write to ABBY, Box No. 69700, L.A., Calif. 90069. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope, please.

Hate to write letters? Send $1 to Abigail Van Buren, 132 Lasky Dr., Beverly Hills, Calif. 90212, for Abby's booklet "How to Write Letters for All Occasions." Please enclose a long, self-addressed, stamped (20¢) envelope.

ON SECOND THOUGHT

By JAN WARREN

The Eating Woman's Diet

"My sister Nancy is on a new diet that she says is so revolutionary it will make all of fat-American thin. Her diet is based on behavior modification. In other words, it's not what you eat but HOW you eat that's important.

There are only two "no no's" on diet. First you must never eat standing up. Second you must eat slowly. Now, this doesn't mean you can just pull a chair up to the refrigerator door and dig in. It means that every time you eat, you must sit down at an attractively set table and make a festive occasion of it. You must celebrate the act of eating; just like the ancient Romans did, but in slow motion. Olives taste like a heaping spoonful. For example, you eat one lima bean at a time, chewing it slowly and relishing its unique lima-bean-ness.

During the next hour I drank three cups of coffee and watched her eat. It was an incredibly slow performance (as my sister said, this diet is not for everyone). Finally I couldn't take any more. "Now don't let me rush you," I said getting to my feet. Nancy looked up from the silver of chicken that was poised on her fork. "Where are you going?" "You'll never believe this," I said. "But, it's time for me to get dinner started!"

"Milk tastes milkier. Chicken more chickeny and oranges —

Board on Tuesday Will Consider Controversial Commuter Parking

By SOL R. COHEN (Herald Reporter)

A controversial proposal for a commuter parking lot at Charter Oak Field has been placed on the Manchester Board of Directors agenda for next Tuesday.

Proposed by the state and backed by town administrators, the parking lot is opposed by the Advisory Park and Rec Commission.

Representatives of the state Department of Transportation will appear before the directors at 8 p.m. Tuesday to outline their plans which, explained Town Manager Robert Weiss, "are consistent with the original parking plan when the park (Charter Oak Field) was laid out after the new highway (I-84) construction."

Tuesday's meeting will be in the Municipal Building Hearing Room and, because of several important public hearing items, will start at 7 instead of the usual 8.

With Weiss predicting town acquisition of the Manchester Water Co. "around Sept. 1," the directors will consider allocating $39,000 for costs other than the $2.25 million authorized by referendum last November. The sum is for inventory and improvements to the water system subsequent to the (June 10, 1975) time limit of the purchase option. The allocation would be from the Water Reserve Fund.

The state Public Utilities Commission, as required by law, will conduct a public hearing on the acquisition of the Manchester Water Co. It will be Aug. 15 at 9:30 a.m., in Room 565A of the State office Building, 165 Capitol Ave., Hartford.

The board will consider an allocation of $3,006 as the town's one-third cost share for traffic signals at Spencer St. and Hillstown Rd. The state, which already has approved the signals, will pay the other two-thirds. This sum would come from the Capital Improvements Reserve Fund.

Also to be considered is a $3,950 claim settlement for Wilfred H. LaBelle, 29, who sustained injuries Feb. 8, 1971, in a fall at E. Center and Pitkin Sts. Assistant Town Counsel Victor Moses is recommending the settlement. LaBelle had sued the town for $100,000.

The board will consider approving an agreement with the Eighth Utilities District for sanitary sewer charges. The agreement designates the district as one large user, regardless of the number of connections it has to the sewer interceptor, and provides for one rate.

The board will consider town acceptance of the following streets in the Lookout Mt. Subdivision:

Tirroad Rd., 1.424 feet; Kingswood Rd., 800 feet; Tonica Springs Trail, 1,900 feet; and Lookout Mt. Rd., 1,313.6 feet; plus various drainage rights-of-ways.

Arms Embargo Reversal Sought

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Responding to President Ford's concern, Senate and House leaders are making an 11th-hour effort to persuade Congress to reverse itself and partially lift the arms embargo against Turkey before the Aug. 1 congressional recess.

Rep. Clement Zablocki, D-Wis., a top-ranking member of the House international relations committee, told reporters Tuesday, "We are working on something and may know whether we will have it later tonight or tomorrow morning. If we do, we'll have something on Thursday."

In the Senate, both Democratic leader Mike Mansfield and Republican leader Hugh Scott were reported to be working out plans for a speedy vote on partially lifting the ban.

As a result of the embargo, Turkey has taken control of U.S. military bases in that country.

Rep. William Broomfield, R-Mich., said the plan was for the Senate to take up a compromise bill which would be added as an amendment to an international broadcasting bill which could be brought up in the Senate today.

"We are hoping to have a vote in the House by Thursday," he said.

Broomfield blamed the electronic counting machine in the House for rushing through last week's vote of 223-206 to keep the embargo. He said he believes enough congressmen have reflected on the seriousness of continuing the arms embargo so that there are now just enough votes in the House to get the embargo partially lifted.

Groups Seek Halt To Work on Track

HARTFORD (UPI) — Two citizen groups have urged the state to order a stop to construction work at a Plainfield dog track whose temporary permit expired June 1.

"Not only has work on the track continued without an indirect source permit but work has begun on widening Lathrop Road, the main road to the track," in violation of the temporary permit, the groups said.

The Connecticut Citizen Action Group and the Connecticut Committee of Correspondence filed the complaints Tuesday in a letter to state Environmental Protection Commissioner Joseph N. Gill.

Gowon Pledges Loyalty

KAMPALA, Uganda (UPI) — Deposed Nigerian leader Maj. Gen. Yakubu Gowon pledged his full support today for the new government in Nigeria and said he was prepared to serve it in any capacity.

In his first public statement since the announcement of his overthrow Tuesday, a smiling and remarkably relaxed Gowon told newsmen in Kampala: "From all indications there is a new government established in Nigeria."

Radio Lagos announced

Tuesday that Gowon had been deposed while attending the Organization of African Unity summit conference here and that Brig. Murtala Rufai Mohammed had become the new Nigerian chief of state.

"I wish to state I have also accepted the change and pledge my full loyalty to the nation and the new government," Gowon said today.

The former president, dressed in traditional African robes, added, "In the overall interest of the nation and country appeal to all Nigerians to cooperate with the new government for the preservation of peace, unity and stability in the country.

"I am prepared to serve my country in any capacity," he said. "I am a professional soldier and will fulfill any duty I am called upon to do."

He declined to say where he would go from here.

Gowon received the news of his overthrow while listening to a U.N. delegate address the OAU summit. An aide handed him a piece of paper, he read it quickly and smiled.

Cuba Sanctions End

SAN JOSE, Costa Rica (UPI) — The Organization of American States has ended the 11-year-old economic and diplomatic isolation of Cuba in the Western Hemisphere.

The United States joined 15 other OAS nations Tuesday night in approving a de facto end to the 1964 sanctions against the Communist government of Premier Fidel Castro.

The OAS voted 16 to three with two abstentions in favor of a "freedom of action" resolution letting member nations determine their own relations with Cuba.

The Mexican-sponsored, U.S.-backed measure stopped short of lifting the sanctions, but circumscribed the embargo and closed a painful chapter in Western Hemisphere history. William Malliard, the American ambassador to the OAS, said the resolution represented a "generally acceptable solution" to the Cuban problem.

Diplomatic observers said the move may turn out to be the first step toward the eventual normalization of relations between the United States and Cuba.

But the observers said the United States doesn't appear to be in a hurry to resume ties with the Castro government. Relations were broken in 1961.

Voting for the resolution were Argentina, Bolivia, Colombia, Costa Rica, Ecuador, El Salvador, the United States, Guatemala, Haiti, Honduras, Mexico, Panama, Peru, the Dominican Republic, Trinidad-Tobago and Venezuela.

Chile, Uruguay and Paraguay, nations with right-wing governments dominated by the armed forces, voted against the resolution. Brazil and Nicaragua abstained.

The measure, passed by two votes more than the two-thirds majority needed for approval, leaves OAS nations "free to normalize" their relations with Cuba.

It permits members to determine their relations with Cuba "in accordance with the national policy and interests of each" and "at the level and in the form that each state deems advisable."

The OAS imposed the sanctions in a July 26, 1962, meeting in Washington, accusing Cuba of "exporting" Communist guerrilla activity in the hemisphere. It vowed to "recourse to armed force if necessary to halt Cuban subversion."

GOP Will Nominate Candidates Tonight

EAST HARTFORD

Sheila Fuller 299-4283

The Republican Town Committee will meet tonight to nominate its slate for the November election.

The meeting, at 8, will be in the community room in the Howard Johnson Motor Inn on Main St.

James Mirabile, party chairman, said Anthony Donatelli is the leading candidate for the mayoral nomination.

Mirabile also said Pearl Totten is the likely candidate for treasurer.

Several members of the Republican party have indicated their intentions to run for council seats.

Names will also be submitted for two selectmen, four constables, and four members of the Board of Education.

East Hartford's Democratic Town Committee will meet Thursday at 8 p.m. in the Town Hall council chambers.

The committee will convene to nominate candidates for mayor, town treasurer, six councilmen, two selectmen, and four Board of Education members.

Mayor Richard Blackstone and treasurer William Dwyer are expected to be renominated by their party.

The four incumbent councilmen seeking endorsement are George Dagon, Joseph Denhamuro, Olesza Terry and Richard Torpey.

Tuesday, party leaders endorsed William B. Dalley Jr. and Henry Genga for the seats being vacated by Albin Anderson and Stephen Barron.

James Fitzgerald, party chairman, urges all committee members to be present to vote.

Extradition Sought

HARTFORD (UPI) — Gov. Ella T. Grasso signed extradition papers Tuesday for a Pennsylvania man wanted in the March 1 firebombing of the Sponge Rubber Products plant in Shelton.

Donald Connors, held at a Butler, Pa., prison, was one of the nine men indicted on state charges in the firebombing. The nine men and Charles Moeller, president of Sponge Rubber's parent firm, also were indicted on federal charges. Connors faces state charges of arson and kidnaping two security guards and a maintenance worker at the plant shortly before the explosion, which leveled the building and threw 300 persons out of work.

Correction

Clarence Brown, who is expected to be endorsed tonight for Republican candidate for the Manchester Board of Directors, isn't a member of the Manchester Property Owners Association. Brown, president of Manchester Carbide Co., hasn't been a member of the MPOA for three years.

Jim Colborn's Prayers Paid Off Against RSox

$125,000 Pay Raise Satisfies Joe Namath

NEW YORK (UPI) — To the surprise of almost no one, Joe Namath has elected to continue being the highest paid player in professional football, agreeing to a two-year, $850,000 contract with the New York Jets. The contract represents a $125,000-a-year raise for the playoff quarterback, who also recently signed a 20-year, multi-million dollar deal with a cosmetics company.

"Now we can get down to business," By "business" he meant football, but it was Namath's frequent hints that he might retire to various business interests outside football that were the big issue in the negotiations and forced the New York owner to up his price this season even though Namath managed to guide the Jets to only a 7-7 record last season. However, Namath, 32, played his first entirely injury-free season in years and led the Jets to victories in their last six games. The Jets are gambling a lot of money that his chronic knee problems are over. Paul "Bear" Bryant, Namath's coach at the University of Alabama and still a spokesman revealed, Jet President Phil Ivin and Namath's attorney, Jimmy Walsh, reached the "basic agreement" over the phone late Monday night. They hope to have the "details" worked out before the Wednesday meeting with the media.

Colborn got behind three-and-one on Rico Petrecci but came back to blow a called third strike past him. Then, Rick Burleson fled to center and the inning was over. Boston threatened again in the fifth, getting two on with two out. But Colborn bore down and fanned power-hitting Jim Rice to end the threat and take the start out of Boston attack on the night.

The Brewers got all the runs they needed in the first when Don Money and Darrell Porter laced back-to-back homers off Boston starter and loser Diego Segui. They picked up a run in the third on a disputed homer by Money. The Red Sox claimed the ball curved foul, but both the first and third base umpires ruled otherwise.

Milwaukee got its final run in the fifth when Curt Bevacqua doubled, was sacrificed to by Money and scored on a wild pitch. Segui, who was making his first start in two years, went the distance, giving up 10 hits, and striking out 11. Colborn struck seven hits and walked three, but seemed to be struggling throughout the game. "I was tired by the fourth inning," he said. "My control was off, and I wasn't getting the ball where I wanted it. It was a struggle."

The shutout was the second against Boston this month, the other coming at the hands of Ferguson Jenkins and the Texas Rangers. "I bet a lot of teams are afraid of the Red Sox and psyche themselves the wrong way," Colborn said. "They're scared of Fred Lynn and Jim Rice. All I want to do is win. They can't understand it. They pray and they cry."

Colborn's most intense prayer came in the fourth inning when he walked both Carlton Fisk and Dwight Evans with one out and Milwaukee nursing a 3-0 lead. "I was tired," he said. "But I decided that if Boston was going to beat me, they'd have to hit me on walks."

The Brewers got all the runs they needed in the first when Don Money and Darrell Porter laced back-to-back homers off Boston starter and loser Diego Segui. They picked up a run in the third on a disputed homer by Money. The Red Sox claimed the ball curved foul, but both the first and third base umpires ruled otherwise.

Milwaukee got its final run in the fifth when Curt Bevacqua doubled, was sacrificed to by Money and scored on a wild pitch. Segui, who was making his first start in two years, went the distance, giving up 10 hits, and striking out 11. Colborn struck seven hits and walked three, but seemed to be struggling throughout the game. "I was tired by the fourth inning," he said. "My control was off, and I wasn't getting the ball where I wanted it. It was a struggle."

The shutout was the second against Boston this month, the other coming at the hands of Ferguson Jenkins and the Texas Rangers. "I bet a lot of teams are afraid of the Red Sox and psyche themselves the wrong way," Colborn said. "They're scared of Fred Lynn and Jim Rice. All I want to do is win. They can't understand it. They pray and they cry."

Underwoods Stirs Memories Of Phil Whiz Kids of 1950

NEW YORK (UPI) — Tom Underwood, a 21-year-old rookie left-hander from Kentucky, is stirring up memories among long-suffering Philadelphia fans of the famous "Whiz Kids" of the 1950 season.

That was the last season in which the Phillies won a pennant and they accomplished it with young players like Robin Roberts, Curt Simmons and Grady Hatton leading the way.

This Philadelphia team is more mature than the 1950 club but Underwood's "green pea" even by Whiz Kid standards. Yet he is turning out to be the Phillies' most dependable pitcher and a key factor in their hopes to win the National League Eastern Division title.

Underwood, once called "the best young left-handed pitching prospect in the game," was named by former Phillies star Jim Bunning, pitched a four-hitter Tuesday night when the Phillies beat the division-leading Pittsburgh Pirates, 5-1, and moved to within 3 1/2 games of first place.

"I was very nervous during the afternoon," said Underwood after the game. "I didn't know what to do with myself. I was shaking like a leaf. But I was okay when I started to warm up. John Oates did an unbelieve job catching the game and I thought it was one of my best games ever."

Being named rookie of the year would have meant several trips to the lobby of the hotel. But I was okay when I started to warm up. John Oates did an unbelieve job catching the game and I thought it was one of my best games ever."

Red Sox Fans Praised By Former Player Scott

BOSTON (UPI) — He may be a Milwaukee Brewer, but George Scott still has a soft spot in his heart for the city of Boston.

Scott, the newly elected captain of the Brewers, thinks the Red Sox may have the best team in the American League, and the first that Boston fans are proud to cheer for.

"I honestly don't see anyone else who can catch them," he said. "If you want the truth, I don't think Baltimore (Orioles) have the strength to do it. The Red Sox are too deep."

"Everyone complains about that Reggie Smith trade, but listen, Rick Wise is one of the best pitchers in our league right now. And Bill Lee's gonna win some games. He'll throw that garbage up there, but he'll win some games."

Ruth and Jaworski Oppose Permanent Public Attorney

WASHINGTON (UPI) - Present and former Watergate prosecutors told Congress today they oppose establishment of a permanent public attorney to prosecute illegalities and abuse of power within the government. The hearings on the legislation opened Monday. Sen. Lowell Weicker Jr., R-Conn., and his predecessor, Leon Jaworski, said the Watergate scandal that drove Richard M. Nixon from the presidency was an aberration not likely to be repeated and thus not requiring a permanent watchdog. "I am not so naive as to believe that future Watergates may not occur - although in my judgment it is highly improbable that anything approaching it in scope and degree will confront our nation in the next generation," Jaworski told the Senate Government Operations Committee. "That there is to be an occasional outcropping of corrupt practices is to be expected, but this alone, in my view, does not warrant the creation of the office of permanent special prosecutor." Such a proposal is the key provision in a massive post-Watergate political reform bill embodying recommendations of the Senate Watergate Committee. Ruth, who succeeded Jaworski as special prosecutor last October, said there would not be enough work to require a permanent investigator of government corruption.

Danbury Police Arrest Strikers

DANBURY (UPI) - Seven strikers have been arrested by state police for allegedly trying to prevent company trucks from leaving the Gilbert and Bennett wire product firm. The seven were charged with a variety of offenses, ranging from reckless endangerment to disorderly conduct, and released on bonds ranging from $100 to $1,000. A spokesman for 150 striking workers announced before the arrests that the men planned to block the planned shipment of six to eight truckloads of products. State police at the Westport barracks, where the arrested men were held, said neither police nor pickets were injured when the troopers removed and arrested the men blocking passage of the trucks. State Police were called to the plant to keep watch on the demonstration. Union spokesmen said the firm has hired private security guards who patrolled the plant Monday night and today.

Bicentennial Plans Include House Tour

Constitutional objections to the Townshend Acts of 1767 imposing taxes on glass, lead, painters' colors, tea and paper imported to the colonies were presented in 14 essays by John Dickinson that appeared from Nov. 5, 1767 to Jan. 1768 in the Pennsylvania Chronicle. They were entitled "Letters From a Farmer in Pennsylvania" to the inhabitants of the British Colonies. Dickinson argued that Parliament had no right to tax the colonies solely for revenue but had authority only to regulate trade, even if this resulted in revenue. The World Almanac notes.

BOLTON
Donna Holland 646-0373
The Bolton Bicentennial Committee has released its plans for the coming year. Livio Cannon is chairman of the committee.
The committee will sponsor a house tour on Oct. 18. Both colonial and contemporary houses will be shown.
It would like to add a Victorian period house to the tour.

It would provide a complete architectural look at living in Bolton during the past 200 years.
The Republican and Democratic Town Committees have been asked to participate in the project. Helen Campbell is chairman.
The committee tabled its plans for a colonial ball on New Year's Eve until Ms. Cannon can check into music and location.
The ball would feature costumes of the colonial period and would be a farewell to 1975 activities and a welcome to the busy Bicentennial year.
Stan Bates will be working with the Bolton Bicentennial Committee that is arranging a flight of visitors from England to this country.
The project has been named Operation Redcoat. Anyone interested in being host to guests from England for ten days to two-week period is asked to contact Bates at 643-9963.
The local committee, upon learning the Republican Town Committee plans to use the film "1776" for a fund-raising activity, decided to drop its plans to co-sponsor the play of the same name with the Manchester Community College.
A community project being undertaken by the committee is assisting the Quarryville Junior Fire and Drum Corps in purchasing equipment.
Ms. Cannon is checking with the corps leader on items it needs and costs.
Tentative plans by the committee for Bicentennial 1975 include a parade, production of Al Ahearn's historical play in June, and an old fashioned picnic in July.
The committee will support a block dance being sponsored by the Bolton Woman's Club in June.
A community artists and craftsmen show is scheduled for June 30, 1975. It will be held on Bolton Center green. Pat Rady is chairman of the event.
The committee participated in the photographic exhibition sponsored by the Connecticut League of Historical Societies on July 26. Four photographs of Bolton landmarks were submitted for the display that was held in Hartford.

When he finally kicked a boy in the head, a court ruled that the owner could not be held liable. The court said that even though ponies are usually harmless, bad behavior will put a specific pony into the "dangerous" category.
In one unusual case a farmer kept a beehive near his back fence, only a few feet away from a neighbor's doghouse. One day the bees swarmed over the fence and attacked first the dog, then the neighbor himself when he rushed to the rescue.
True, these bees had never injured anyone before. Nevertheless, a court pointed out that bees are prone to attack if kept too close to another creature. Holding the farmer liable on grounds of simple negligence, the court said: "The owner of a domestic animal is bound to take notice of the general propensities of the class to which it belongs."

THE FAMILY LAWYER

Fickle Goat

In the back yard of a suburban apartment, the landlord wanted a Billy goat as a mascot for the building. For months the goat regaled as favorite pet of the neighborhood children.
But one day, without warning, he severely bit a young woman tenant. Cut and bruised, the victim demanded damages from the landlord for bringing "this dangerous creature" onto the premises.

SOCIAL SECURITY

Q. I am ready to send in my medical insurance claim under Medicare, but I do not know where to send it. How can I find out?
A. Unless you are entitled to Medicare under the Railroad Retirement system, you should send your medical insurance claim to the Medicare carrier for the state where you received the service. The name and address are listed on Your Medicare Handbook. If you are getting Medicare under the Railroad Retirement system, you should send your claim to the Travelers Insurance Co. office nearest your home.
Q. My mother has to have a cataract operation, and the doctor said she will need corrective lenses after the operation. Will Medicare help pay for the lenses?
A. Yes, Medicare's medical insurance helps pay for prosthetic devices needed to substitute for any body organ. In addition to corrective lenses needed after a cataract operation, prosthetic devices include heart pacemakers and ileostomy supplies.
Q. My brother told me that Medicare's medical insurance pays for the services of suppliers. What is a supplier?
A. A supplier is a person or organization, other than a doctor or health care facility, that furnished equipment or services covered by Medicare medical insurance. For example, ambulance firms, independent laboratories, and pharmacists and organizations that rent or sell medical equipment are considered suppliers.
Q. My mother-in-law wanted to go into a nursing facility after a recent operation because she had no one at home to take care of her. The doctor would not send her, though, because he said she did not need skilled care. What did he mean by skilled care?
A. Medicare can pay for a stay in a skilled nursing facility only if the patient needs daily skilled nursing care or skilled rehabilitation services. Skilled nursing care means care that can only be performed by or under the supervision of licensed nursing personnel. Skilled rehabilitation services are services performed by or under the supervision of a professional therapist. Since your mother-in-law did not need skilled care or services, Medicare would not have paid for her stay in the facility.
Q. My brother was severely injured in a boating accident two months ago. He has not applied for disability benefits yet because he says there is a five-month waiting period. When should he file?
A. Even though there is a five-month waiting period before disability benefits can begin, people should apply for benefits as soon as they become disabled. By filing early, the claim may be completely processed during the waiting period and benefits can begin at the earliest possible time for the sixth full month of disability.

End of Oil Fee To Benefit Region

BOSTON (UPI) — New England consumers will benefit from the end of a special oil surcharge on refined petroleum products, a regional Federal Energy Administration official said.

The FEA announced Tuesday night the fee of 60 cents per barrel, imposed by the Ford administration at the beginning of June, would be discontinued.

"The New England states will be the largest beneficiaries since so much of winter home heating is done by oil," Robert Ruttenberg of the Boston area FEA office said.

Frank Zarb, FEA administrator in Washington, said removal of the fee would "save consumers about $1.2 million a day."

The fee was in effect only during June and July, two of the hottest months of the year.

Ruttenberg was unable to say when the first oil fee would be during the period.

Asked if it was a significant amount, he replied, "not compared to the winter." Ruttenberg said the savings estimate was based on expectations that reductions of approximately a cent and half per gallon in the price of No. 2 oil and store it," except in household fuel tanks.

"Roughly 85 per cent of New England households depend on imported oil for heating," he said.

$20,000 Pledged for Probe Of Nursing Home Finances

HARTFORD (UPI) — The legislative committee investigating alleged wrongdoings within Connecticut nursing homes has pledged $20,000 for a probe into financial arrangements.

But Mrs. Grasso did not say Tuesday whether the funds will go to a legislative committee or to a special panel which sources said she was considering appointing to conduct the financial inquiry.

Rep. Morris Cohen, D-Bloomfield, chairman of the committee and the probe's sponsor, said he would head the special panel, said he was pleased there would be an inquiry into nursing home finances.

"I want to get legislation to avoid ripoffs," Cohen said, adding the state spends as much as $90 million a year for nursing home patients through the welfare, Medicaid and Medicare programs.

The driver, Joseph Bizaro, 20, of Windsor, was charged with driving under the influence.

Mosquitoes Thrive In Heavy Rain

MADISON (UPI) — Heavy rains of the past month have created the worst nuisance of mosquito infestation since 1972, according to Connecticut's Mosquito Control Center.

The increase in the insects, and the too familiar, pesky female that draws blood, is due to the recreation of spring-like conditions caused by the rain.

Also, modern man has helped proliferate the species thanks to clogged gutters, abandoned swimming pools, discarded tires and anything that will hold stagnant water, where the insect breeds.

Officials at the control center said recent field tests found three to four times more mosquitoes than collected last year.

Julius Elston, chief of the center, said the two most common species of mosquitoes are the Culex and Aedes. The female, who is the one that bites, lives about a month.

Elston said many towns have spraying programs but residents could help control the insect by cleaning yards to eliminate breeding areas.

Nature can also help eliminate the pests, Elston said, but 95 degrees, mosquitoes dry up and die or become sterile.

Although Connecticut never has recorded such a case, a severe infestation of the mosquito could cause Eastern encephalitis, a disease of wild birds to which man is susceptible.

She said last year expenses in the last few years rose from $27,700 to $54,600 and decreased to $40,000 in the last fiscal year.

The committee also voted to pay a $250 lawyer fee to New Haven attorney H. William Shore in connection with his work as special counsel for the legislative committee investigating leasing policies last year.

The $250 bill was for a five-hour period Shore spent before the New York Bar Association when it was looking for evidence in its case against the nomination of former Gov. Thomas J. Meskill to the U.S. Court of Appeals for the 2nd Circuit.

Some college or university students are charged with working in the Meskill nomination.

Legislator Hits Travel Expenses

HARTFORD (UPI) — A Republican lawmaker has complained of food dragging by the legislature's Management Committee in her efforts to curb out-of-state spending by legislators.

Rep. Jean T. Thornton, R-Glastonbury, said Thursday afternoon lawmakers are taking fewer trips than in the past, staff members are traveling more extensively at state expense.

Ms. Thornton wanted the committee to take immediate action to curb the spending but instead, the lawmakers decided to form a subcommittee to further study of the travel rules.

She said last year expenses in the last few years rose from $27,700 to $54,600 and decreased to $40,000 in the last fiscal year.

The committee also voted to pay a $250 lawyer fee to New Haven attorney H. William Shore in connection with his work as special counsel for the legislative committee investigating leasing policies last year.

Army Explains LSD Tests

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Army said today it tested LSD on volunteers at at least 500 outposts in Vietnam in an effort to determine the will of prisoners being questioned about military matters.

The test, conducted at Fort Bragg, N.C., on September 1958, was designed to see how long the subjects could "hold out" under the influence of the drug.

The Army said 20 Special Forces volunteers — the elite "Green Berets" of Vietnam — participated in the experiment, set up as a simulated prisoner of war interrogation.

It involved intelligence personnel from the 52nd Military Intelligence Group and the 82nd Counterintelligence Detachment.

The test, conducted at Fort Bragg, N.C., on September 1958, was designed to see how long the subjects could "hold out" under the influence of the drug.

Ducharme Bound Over To Superior Court

Thomas R. Ducharme, 31, of Pawtucket, R.I., waived a hearing of probable cause in Common Pleas Court 12 in East Hartford Tuesday afternoon. His case was then bound over to the next criminal session of the Hartford County Superior Court.

Ducharme is charged with attempted murder in connection with the July 23 shooting by crossbow and arrow of Russell LeBlanc, 23, of 18 Horace St. as LeBlanc sat in his kitchen.

The four-pronged arrow tip struck LeBlanc in the face just below the right eye. Ducharme pleaded innocent to the charge.

Bond was continued at $50,000 surety for his release. He failed to post it and was returned Tuesday afternoon to the state correction center in Hartford to await trial.
