Kissinger arrives in Tel Aviv

TEL AVIV (UPI) — Israel mounted the greatest security precautions in its peace-time history today to protect Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger from threatened demonstrations protesting a new Israeli-Egyptian peace agreement as a new "Munich."

Kissinger returned to the scene of his failure last March, hopeful that this time he could bring off the new agreement. As he did there were increasing signs that both sides had made major concessions to win the agreement for at least a three-year period of non-aggression.

Four right-wing organizations announced they would hold protest demonstrations in Jerusalem to coincide with Kissinger's arrival. Israel took precautions which surpassed even those accorded to former President Richard M. Nixon during his two-day visit to Israel in June, 1974.

On Wednesday there were widespread anti-Kissinger and anti-government demonstrations in Jerusalem and right-wing youths increased at the proposed agreement broke into Foreign Minister Yigal Allon's Jerusalem. Demonstrators denounced Prime Minister Yitzhak Rabin as a "traitor" and demanded his resignation. They carried big "Kissinger is Not Welcome" signs.

Israeli army units virtually sealed off the borders with neighboring Arab states following an incident Wednesday in which Israeli patrols killed three Palestinians infiltrators who slipped off the border into Israel to try to disrupt the Kissinger visit. Israel resisted with an air raid against refugee camps which a Lebanese communiqué said killed 12 persons and wounded 24.

The tight security went into effect as diplomatic sources said Egypt has agreed to let Israel hold the eastern slopes of the two strategic Sinai mountain passes and to man its major spy post in one of them in a three-year pact complete but for some military aspects.

This was a major concession by Egypt and was accompanied by major concessions by the United States — an agreement to supply Israel with nearly $3 billion in aid, to provide unarmed Egyptian technicians to help man an early warning system in the Sinai and a guarantee to provide 200 California Highway Patrolmen for duty in San Francisco. Brown's office in Sacramento said it would not act until Allon signed the request, but the mayor said outside help was not yet needed. There are about 1,000 state highway patrolmen in the San Francisco area.

The supervisors said the walkout created "extreme peril to the safety of persons and property." Both fire and police spokesmen said Wednesday night's calls were "relatively routine."

"We had some robberies but things were mostly quiet," a police dispatcher said. The fire department said it had two second alarm fires during the night that were handled by skeleton crews.

A third crisis was averted Wednesday when bus and trolley drivers, scheduled to strike tonight, accepted a 0.9 per cent pay increase.

Allon, who hurried home from small bomb exploded on his doorstep, insisted San Francisco is a "safe" city.

But some angry police officers disagreed, and police Capt. Jeremiah Taylor said picketed police stations have been attacked and the keys to 200 police vehicles stolen.

make up oil lost when Israel returns the Abu Hudais oilfields to Egypt. Ben-Gurion Airport was virtually shutting down for Kissinger's arrival, with workers being sent home early, parking areas closed and green-bereted border police posted on the terminal roof and patrolling nearby roads.

Armed regular troops patrolled Jerusalem streets. The street in front of the King David Hotel, Kissinger's headquarters in Israel, will be sealed off, even to pedestrians. The street opposite was lined with navy blue iron police barricades.

Major opposition to the pact was recorded by former Defense Minister Moshe Dayan. He said he opposed the new peace pact because it would be more an agreement with the United States than with Egypt.

UPI Correspondent Michael S. Barrett, quoting Egyptian political sources, reported today from Cairo that a team of American civilians to man early warning monitoring centers in the Sinai could be provided by the companies who build them, avoiding U.S. congressional approval.

Fork prices pushed up fast and beef prices also rose, but less rapidly than in May and June. Beef, pork and poultry prices have now risen nearly 20 per cent since April.

However, sugar prices continued to fall in July from their recent high levels and many processed foods also fell.

The sharp July rise comes on the heels of a 0.8 per cent increase in June. For the previous five months of 1975, consumer prices had risen an average 0.5 per cent.

If the cost of retail prices continue to rise for the next 12 months at the July pace, the inflation rate as measured by the CPI would equal 14.4 per cent, solidly within the "double digit" range that plagued the nation in 1973 and 1974. In 1974 the rate was 12.2 per cent.

"Price increases for meat, poultry, fresh fruits and vegetables, gasoline, and used cars accounted for about three fourths of the July increase," the department said.

With the impact of higher prices for grain, steel, aluminum and many raw materials still to be felt at the retail level, hopes for a prolonged period of price stability appear to be lessening.

The index has now risen nearly 10 per cent since July, 1974 and stands at 102.3. This means that an assortment of retail goods and services that cost $10 in the 1967 base year had risen in price to $10.23 last month.

Breaking the index into separate categories, food prices rose 1.7 per cent in July, the biggest rise in 11 months. Prices of nonfood commodities rose 0.9 per cent, the highest in 10 months and the cost of services was up 0.5 per cent somewhat less than in June.

In the food area, fresh vegetables and poultry prices rose "considerably more" than in June, the department said. Prices of dairy products rose for the first time this year and egg prices moved up after a two month decline.

Used car prices continued to rise sharply in July, but new car prices fell for the second time in the last three months. Clothing and apparel, which moved down slightly since January, rebounded 0.7 per cent last month.

The services index showed a sharp 1.1 per cent rise in the cost of medical care, much more than the previous monthly increases this spring. Hints were up 0.3 per cent, transportation 0.5 per cent and other services 0.4 per cent — about in line with recent monthly increases.

Portuguese moderates' demands under study

LISBON, Portugal (UPI) — President Francisco de Costa Gomes studied new demands of the military's moderates today amid widespread indications that Portugal's pre-Communist government was on the way out.

Prime Minister Vasco Goncalves, chief target of the moderates' attack and the wave of anti-Communist violence in Portugal, spent the morning closeted with his press spokesman and others studying the situation.

The new moderate demands were drawn up in a compromise agreement with military security chief Gen. Otelo Saraiva de Carvalho, who has the support of the far left.

Political sources said they believed Carvalho won his demand for the creation of a mass movement — a government of the masses — but that he conceded to most of the other conditions laid down by the moderates led by former Foreign Minister Maj. Ernesto Melo Antunes.

The presentation of the moderates' revised policy document sparked an all-night meeting with the president Tuesday night. On Wednesday, Gomes told the new undersecretaries being sworn into Goncalves' cabinet they would hold their jobs only for a few days.

Goncalves formed his minority cabinet composed of leftwing technocrats and military officers 13 days ago after many of Portugal's leading political figures refused to serve under him.

Gomes told a group of new government officials Wednesday he expects the nation's beleaguered, nine-day-old cabinet to fall in the near future.

"It is not simple to be a member of a government team whose duration will expire in a few days," he said at the swearing-in ceremony for 18 undersecretaries.

The collapse of the cabinet would bring down Communist-backed Prime Minister Vasco Goncalves, the chief target of anti-Communist rioting that has rocked dozens of towns across Portugal.

The cabinet, the fifth since the armed forces came to power 16 months ago, has come under increasing criticism from non-Communist political parties, moderate military men and radical leftwing officers.

Carvalho, a leader of the left-wing radicals, emerged as a possible successor to Goncalves as prime minister.

Mayor Alioto reports tentative agreement

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — A tentative contract was announced today in the strike by police and firemen but Mayor Joseph Alioto said the "situation will remain the same" until the pact receives final approval.

Alioto, who reached the agreement with representatives of the striking unions during talks that went into the early morning hours, said the proposal must be approved by both the strikers and the city Board of Supervisors. The supervisors Wednesday proclaimed a state of emergency and urged the calling in of highway patrolmen.

Details of the tentative agreement were not disclosed.

The mayor was asked if the striking policemen and firemen, who joined the four-day old walkout Wednesday night, might return to work pending the ratification.

"The situation will remain the same as it is at the present time," he said. He added that the board "ought to approve the settlement but after years in this business I don't place any bets."

Negotiators agreed not to release the terms until both sides met later today.

The supervisors had left the talks only hours before Alioto announced the agreement.

They asked Gov. Edmund G. Brown Jr. to provide 200 California Highway Patrolmen for duty in San Francisco.

Brown's office in Sacramento said it would not act until Alioto signed the request, but the mayor said outside help was not yet needed. There are about 1,000 state highway patrolmen in the San Francisco area.

The supervisors said the walkout created "extreme peril to the safety of persons and property." Both fire and police spokesmen said Wednesday night's calls were "relatively routine."

Water company purchase will cut town tax income

By SOL R. COHEN
When the Town of Manchester acquires 50 per cent of the privately-owned Manchester Water Co. (Town Manager Robert Weste has predicted the transfer will take place Sept. 2), the town will lose about $20,000 annually in taxes and the Eighth District about $2,000, both computed under the current 1975-76 tax rate.

The district's loss, however, will be more than made up in the savings to it for water charges. Water fees charged by the Manchester Water Co. are higher than those charged by the town and, when the sale is consummated, the higher rates will drop substantially.

Under an arrangement between the town and water company, those employees of the company under 65 years of age will be absorbed into the town's water department operation. Those over 65 will be retired, to conform with the town's retirement rules.

Records in the town assessor's office show the water company's holdings are assessed at $964,977 for personal property (mains, pipes, wells, etc.), $155,340 for real property, and $3,850 for motor vehicles. Manchester assessments are computed at 65 per cent of market value, based on 1966 revaluation figures.

Off to Mars

Titan III rocket lifts from its pad at Cape Canaveral Air Force Base Wednesday afternoon to launch a Viking spacecraft toward Mars. The Viking is scheduled to rendezvous with the red planet in about 11 months and land shortly thereafter. (UPI photo)

Viking begins trek to Mars

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (UPI) — A Viking spacecraft raced through space today on an 11-month voyage to Mars. Scientists hold the billion-dollar mission would find extraterrestrial life. A "very clean, very smooth" launch sent the Viking ship hurtling into a hazy Florida sky Tuesday atop a TitanCentaur rocket. Some 30 minutes later, a burn of the rocket's engines put the spacecraft on a trajectory designed to take it on a looping, 506-million-mile journey around the sun to Mars. The Viking, a mini-laboratory equipped with sophisticated sensing equipment, is to reach the planet's orbit by June 19, 1976. A lander called Prospector may be detached to touch down on the Martian surface on the station's Bicentennial July 4.

Purpose of the mission, which includes the launch of a second Viking Sept. 1, is to study soil samples and other data for evidence of life on the red planet.

"I think the probability of finding life on Mars is pretty damn small," Dr. Noel Hinners, National Aeronautics and Space Administration associate administrator for space science, said Wednesday. "But, boy, do I ever hope we find life."

While some scientists think chances of finding life on the planet are greater than Hinners is willing to grant, others have been equally skeptical. All, however, agree the mission was worth undertaking. "I think man is very egotistical and self-centered and takes a self-centered view of his position in the universe. It would be humbling to find life elsewhere," Hinners said.

He added finding evidence of evolution on Mars also would answer some scientific questions about the relationship of the planets to that process. "We have the question, is evolution tied to the size and chemistry of a planet? I think the human mind is very inquisitive. We want to understand where we fit into the scheme of the universe—where we have been, where we are going, how did we get here and what are we?" Hinners said.

After Viking arrives and begins orbiting Mars, the orbiter part of the spacecraft, called Pathfinder, will take pictures and transmit them back to earth to insure the Martian landing site is safe for Prospector, Viking officials said.

Dems consider rules change for committee memberships

Action on proposed rules changes will top the agenda for the Manchester Democratic Town Committee next Wednesday (Aug. 27), when it meets at 8 p.m. in the Municipal Building Hearing Room.

A special rules review committee has been at work since April, considering possible changes in rules governing membership on the 80-member town committee. The committee is elected for two-year terms at caucuses held in each of the town's 10 voting districts. The next caucuses will be in March 1978. Whatever rules changes are made next Wednesday will be in effect at next March's caucuses.

The review committee is recommending a change in the rule governing qualified candidates at district caucuses. The rule permits candidates to run either individually or as a slate, on the contention anyone can run if qualified and the decision how to run is a voluntary one. Several minor changes in the rules also will be advanced and considered. Under the proposed change, he or she would relinquish membership when moving from the district where elected to one which elected others to represent it.

Udall gives support to Mideast shuttle. "The stakes are too high," Udall said, for partisanship to interfere with an agreement. He said he believed Congress would accept the proposal of stationing U.S. civilians in the Sinai as a peacekeeping force. Udall differentiated his support for stationing Americans on the Sinai from his early opposition to U.S. involvement in the Vietnam war. He said that in the Middle East, both sides have asked for U.S. support in keeping the peace while in Indonesia the United States got involved in a war.

THE OLD CODGERS CODGITATIONS

At last one great problem is being solved. For years automobiles and railroad trains competed for their rights at the crossings. Now the trains are being phased out so autos are directing their suicidal energies to trees, poles and one another. O.C. always thought that signs and other warnings at railroad crossings were mostly wild thinking. Accidents continued there. Better to do without them. There would be no collisions after all the senseless drivers had had theirs. There are heard many amusing theories about driving. One fellow claimed it was safe to make a left turn at any intersection. By going straight through and making three right hand turns around a block he would be back to the original intersection headed in the direction he wanted to go. What would he get?

In this world it seems worth while to do your thing to make folks smile. So don't jump quick up on your feet. To give a pretty girl your seat. In comfort sit, don't be a sap. Just motion her to your lap. You'll feel much better, so will she. When fit securely on your knee. And all the other folks in sight. Those troubles had them choked up tight. Will loosen up and start to grin. To see the happy fix you're in. O.C.

Opinion
It's unwieldy but there's nothing better

As every schoolboy knows, or is supposed to know, the American government is a system of checks and balances, with power divided among an executive branch, a legislative branch and a judicial branch.

But operating within this basic structure is another system of checks and balances, not written down in the Constitution and never contemplated by the framers of that document.

It is most apparent in Congress, where the division of power between the two major parties, although seldom equal and often greatly unbalanced, nevertheless serves as a check against the complete domination of that body by any one political ideology.

Even the power of the Supreme Court, however, is tempered by divisions within itself, and the voice of one court's minority often becomes the majority opinion of a succeeding court.

"The very process of dissent," says Justice Lewis F. Powell Jr., "tends to minimize arbitrary decision making, assures a rigorous internal testing of the majority view and bespeaks the vitality of the court as an institution."

Justice Powell made this remark in an address before the recent meeting

Some Nixon mysteries still remain

MAX LERNER

Aside from the central mystery of the man himself there are three marginal Watergate mysteries that need clearing up. One is about the tapes Leon Jaworski voiced the opinion of many when he said the other day that if Nixon had destroyed the tapes as soon as their existence was known he would still be President. Why didn't he?

No one but Nixon can answer for certain, perhaps not even he, for his memory of those early Watergate days must be wrapped in a haze of surprise, chagrin and blank pain. The best current guess may be that of Gen. Alexander Haig. In a New York Times interview with Martin Schram, from Brussels, Haig suggests that Nixon may have felt there were passages in the tapes to vindicate him.

This seems curious when you think of what finally happened and what the tapes turned up. But consider some things about Nixon. He was convinced that, like Otello, he had "done the State some service" and that this would more than tip the scales when weighed against the weight in America is against a power coup. I must underscore again that Nixon cared more about his image in history than about anything else.

The third mystery is why he finally resigned. Haig's explanation in the interview is that it was because Nixon's loss of political support. Nixon used the same words in his resignation speech, explaining why he could no longer "persevere" to complete his term of office: "I no longer have a strong enough political base in Congress to justify continuing that effort."

Perhaps Nixon was phrasing it that way. Haig had suggested it to him.

The reality was different. If we ask why he needed a political base in Congress the answer is that only such a base could save him from impeachment, with an almost certain criminal trial after it. If we ask what had caused the loss of his political base the answer is, of course, the tattle tale and beyond that the Supreme Court decision requiring him to hand it over.

Thus it was the Supreme Court and the rule of law which forced Nixon's resignation — which is how it has to be in a society under the law.

Pity the poor OPEC

Shed a tear for poor, oil-rich OPEC. Some members of the Organization of Oil Exporting Countries have seen their cash reserves fall to where they were before they raised oil prices in 1973 and others don't know where their next petrodollar is coming from, reports Barron's magazine.

Since the start of this year, Algeria has spent two-thirds of its foreign exchange reserves. The reserves of Iraq and Libya have also fallen fast "because of heedless overspending," says the business and financial weekly, and "several of the smaller sheikhdoms are actually strapped for cash."

The OPEC countries have, in large measure, hoisted themselves by their own derricks. By rushing to place lavish orders for Western capital goods, they have opened each other and forced prices up. Drilling costs, for example, have risen 10 percent in the Persian Gulf area in the past two years, due mainly to higher prices of Western-manufactured drilling equipment.

If the OPEC countries had been more moderate in spending their riches, they would have less cause for complaint about Western prices, says Barron's.

They would also have less cause for setting off another round of oil hikes, followed by more inflation in the West, as they apparently plan to do come September.

OPEN FORUM

A fine season

To the editor: I have had contact over the past six years with the Manchester Little Miss Softball League and I find that with the end of this season, something will change in my life and that of my daughter.

With the end of this season, my younger daughter, Mimi, will outgrow and graduate from the Little Miss League. She will go on to other, older leagues as has her sister, Peggy, and I will go with them. But certainly now, six years later, it is time that I applaud the existence of Little Miss.

When my older girl started with Little Miss at nine years old, I thought that it was just another phase soon to be put aside. Through the years, I've watched as she has shown prowess in and a love of the game and the competition. Mimi, at nine, when her turn came, was a doll player not a ballplayer. But, soon I found myself with two girls with "good eyes" and "good arms," and sluggers to boot.

Through the fine coaching of Dave Schwartz of Manchester Olds fame — now of Fernald Inn fame and his sense of fair play, a really good team was formed. The Cain girls, Lisa Schwartz, Sasie Setsky, Shirley Patty, Kim all gave it their

Today is Thursday, August 21, the 233rd day of 1975 with 132 to follow.

The moon is full.

The morning stars are Mars, Jupiter and Saturn.

The evening stars are Mercury and Venus.

Those born on this date are under the sign of Leo. Britain's Princess Margaret was born August 21, 1930.

On this day in history: In 1940, Leon Trotsky, a former builder of Soviet Communism, was assassinated in Mexico City where he had lived in exile for three years.

In 1861, the United States ordered construction of the world's first atomic submarine.

In 1969, the Soviet Union and other Warsaw Pact forces invaded Czechoslovakia to choke off a growing drive to free the nation from Moscow's control.

In 1971, three officers and four convicts were killed in an escape attempt at San Quentin prison in California.

A thought for the day: President Woodrow Wilson said, "Sometimes people call me an idealist. Well, that is the way I know I am an American. America is the only idealistic country in the world."

Sanderson appeals gravel pit denial

COVINGTON
 Monica Shea
 742-9495

The Planning Zoning Commission has been summoned to appear before the Court of Common Pleas in Rockville Sept. 9 regarding its denial of request for gravel operation by Owen Mark Sanderson of Brigham Tavern Rd. East.

This application was denied by the commission July 28.

In his complaint to the court, Sanderson claims that the commission's decision was contrary to the evidence. Sanderson charged that commission member Roslyn Kornfeld, acted improperly when she failed to abstain from the discussion of the application prior to the vote even though she was disqualified herself from voting because her residence was close to the proposed operation.

Sanderson also claims that Mrs. Kornfeld prejudiced the vote by reading a statement prior to the vote.

During the public hearing on the application Sanderson had asked that Mrs. Kornfeld, Craig Wallace, and Tony Walsh disqualify themselves from any action on the application because they lived close to the proposed operation.

In his complaint Sanderson also charged that the granting of his petition would have been in accordance with the character of the district and would have encouraged the most appropriate use of the land, mainly farming.

He also charged that the approval of the application would not have resulted in any threat to public safety or pose a threat to school buses and that there was not substantial evidence to show the curves and width of Brigham Tavern Rd. posed a threat to the public safety if used by gravel trucks.

Bus routes for Bolton students

All Bolton children in kindergarten through Grade 12 will return to school on Wednesday, Sept. 3.

BOLTON HIGH SCHOOL will open at 8 a.m. and will be dismissed at 2:15 p.m. Bolton Elementary School and Bolton Center School will open at 9 a.m. and will be dismissed at 2 p.m.

Morning kindergarten classes will be dismissed at 11:30 a.m. and afternoon kindergarten classes will begin at 12:30 p.m.

Teachers will report to their respective buildings on Tuesday, Sept. 2, to meet with principals and to prepare classrooms and materials. The teachers will attend an orientation session with Raymond Allen, superintendent, from 11:30 a.m. until noon.

There will be a luncheon for all Board of Education employees at noon. It is being provided by the Parent Teacher Organization.

Mr. Morris Silverstein, president of the P.T.O., and William Vogel, chairman of the school board, will address the staff.

Additional education program A continuing education program was introduced in Bolton last year. It included night classes in art, typing and bookkeeping.

Classes will continue for the 1975-1976 school year beginning in October.

There will be a new reading program for students in kindergarten through Grade 3.

With the employment of a part-time teacher, 35 gifted students will be having additional challenges and experiences this year.

There will be a biology course at Bolton High School under the University of Connecticut's cooperative program for superior high school students.

Bolton High School will offer additional hours for Grade 11 students and a cooperative Grade 12 course. All students will be instructed along with a new mathematics curriculum and students will be encouraged to take part in the school year to come.

School administrators and bus drivers will meet on Tuesday to discuss safety procedures and students' safety during the school year.

In connection with these items there will be classroom discussions conducted in all elementary grades and parents will receive the information they need and cooperation.

The basketball team at Bolton Center School has been reorganized. The basketball standards have been ordered for the Bolton Elementary School gymnasium and should be installed in time for the basketball season.

Allen lists simple rules for first days of busing

BOLTON School Supt. Raymond Allen asks all parents to please see to it the following rules are observed when Bolton children return to school on Sept. 3.

Parents of kindergarten children are requested to attach a tag to the child's clothing showing the child's name, address and phone number.

Parents of kindergarten children who are returning home from the morning session or enroute to school for the afternoon session are asked to stand at the bus stop with their child or be waiting for their child to ensure the child not being missed.

Parents of all school children are asked to have their children at the assigned stop early enough to ensure no one missing the bus.

All buses for Bolton Elementary School and Bolton Center School will continue to have bus numbers and will be identified as either first or second run.

Requests by parents for changes in bus assignments or bus complaints concerning bus numbers and will be identified to the principal's office.

The bus routes are subject to change during the first few weeks of school.

Parking lot rules listed

TOLLAND The Tolland Board of Education has set forth rules concerning student use of the parking lot at the high school. First, all students must register their cars, or motorcycles, in the administrative office and all vehicles must display a sticker permit for parking.

No sticker will be granted a student who does not have proof he or she has sufficient insurance on the vehicle to be operated on school property. A fee of $1 will be charged for each sticker.

At the time of registration, a student must indicate the number of days he plans to drive to school. Any student who plans to drive three or more days per week must have a parent or guardian sign a statement for forfeiting his privilege of being transported by school bus.

Any student who intends to drive not more than two days will be asked to provide a written statement from parent or guardian releasing the bus from providing transportation for those prearranged days.

Student parking will be restricted to the lower parking lot. The established priorities for the privilege to drive to school will be: Seniors on the Work-Study Program; seniors who must be at work by 7:30 a.m.; other students in the Work-Study Program; other seniors; juniors who must be at work by 7:30 a.m.; and students who meet priorities set forth by the administration.

No student, who less than one passing grade in more than one subject will be allowed to drive to school.

Students may begin parking at 7:15 a.m. and may leave before or after the buses are cleared but not during loading and unloading times.

Students may not return to their cars during the school day unless permission is granted by the administration as the parking lot is considered to be out-of-bounds for students without such authorization.

Any student who is late for school three times, or more, in a two-week period, will forfeit his parking privilege for at least one month. Students must arrive at and leave school property at a speed not in excess of 15 m.p.h.

The administration, if it is deemed necessary, may request a student to open his car for inspection. Any misconduct with the vehicle or violation of any of the rules will lead to a one-month suspension of driving privileges on the first offense and one-year suspension on the second offense.

Bring book with you

SOUTH WINDSOR Judy Kuehnle If you intend to visit Wapping Elementary School during its new 15-minute "Everybody's Reading Time," make sure you bring a book.

Because during "Everybody's Reading Time" everybody reads, students, teachers, cafeteria workers, custodians and whomever happens to be there at that time.

The idea is being implemented at Wapping School under the direction of Principal Bill Field, who says he got the idea from a similar Vernon program aimed at encouraging more leisure reading.

Rockville on double sessions

VERNON When Vernon schools open on Sept. 4, Rockville High School will again be on double sessions but, hopefully, it will go on single sessions in the second semester which starts in January.

Construction of several new additions to the school is moving ahead of schedule. Originally it was thought that the double sessions would have to continue until September 1976.

The new $5 million addition will expand classroom space, the library, science facilities, and the industrial arts area, and four new tennis courts have been added.

The original intention to have all work completed before going off double sessions was dropped by the Board of Education in favor of the move to eliminate double sessions as soon as classroom space is available.

During the past school year the students have had to operate under adverse conditions with construction going on on all sides of them.

School officials have indicated it will cost about $250,000 just to buy top priority equipment essential to the new area. But no money is provided in this year's budget.

The Board of Education did not allow for any equipment funds because it was not thought the school would be ready for occupancy until after next year's budget would be prepared.

The education budget for the current year, was passed by the Town Council. The board decided several weeks ago to turn the problem over to the Permanent Building Committee which handled construction of the school, and let it negotiate with the Town Council as to where funds would come from for the equipment.

Silent meditation planned

SOUTH WINDSOR Judy Kuehnle Beginning Sept. 15, South Windsor schools will begin each day with a moment of silent meditation.

In a letter which will be sent home to each parent, Dr. Goldman, Superintendent of Schools, has asked that parents provide proper guidance so that each child may benefit from the period of silence.

"Because we believe that how each child spends this time of silent meditation is a personal and private concern," says Dr. Goldman in the memorandum to parents, "we are asking you to determine how your child will observe this period. Please discuss and instruct your child as to the manner in which he or she will observe this time. If for any reason you do not wish your child to participate, you will inform the principal so proper supervision can be established."

The meditation period is in response to the new state legislature mandate stating that "The Board of Education in each town... provide a brief period at the start of each day to allow those students and teachers who wish to do so the opportunity to observe such time in silent meditation."

Dear Abby

By Abigail Van Buren
© 1975 by Chicago Tribune & News Synd., Inc.

DEAR ABBY: Because you have always been a good friend to the Comco Park Zoo, I am asking a favor of you. We have a 5-month-old female orangutan named Joy who has been invited to the Los Angeles Zoo on a "breeding loan." They have a male orangutan named Guy whom they would like to mate with Joy.

Do you know anyone who has an air-conditioned automobile which would be willing to drive Joy and her foster parents (Arlene and Joe Schenemann) to Chicago to board an airplane to transport Joy to L.A.?

DEAR ABBY: My husband does sheet-rock work for a living. He makes good money, but he's always wanted to be an accountant, so he's been going to night school. He's young and smart, and will finish his accounting course next year.

DEAR WIFE: Carl should simply tell them that he's sorry but he doesn't have the time. And he'd better start practicing that line while he's still in sheet-rock because when he becomes an accountant, he'll have even more "friends" imposing on him for favors.

DEAR ABBY: This is in response to your column item about the person who loved to travel, but who invariably had a seat next to some long-legged bore.

I pretend I don't speak English! It is a nearly fool-proof method I have used for years. When someone cracks up, I say, "No hablo ingles" or "J'ni parle francaise," etc.

Candi has a "model" job

By BETTY RYDER
Family/Travel Editor

A young Manchester woman, who earlier this summer studied photography in California, will now be spending more time in front of the camera than behind it.

Candice (Candi) Caldwell, 20, of 158 Boulder Rd., has been named modeling position with Polaroid Corp. in Cambridge, Mass., and reported today for her first assignment. The tall, willowy blond with the fresh, young look of a Cybil Shepherd of "Cover Girl" fame was participating in a 9-day photography course at Yosemite National Park in California in June when she was "discovered."

The course included printing in the dark room, procedures, lectures, and, of course, photography. Adams has a complete facility right inside the park, including a dark room.

Later when I was back home he contacted me and asked if I would like a job modeling for Polaroid. Again I said "yes." The daughter of Dr. and Mrs. David M. Caldwell Jr., Candi has worked at The Herald for the past two summers.

At an executive board meeting of the Connecticut Northeast Chapter held June 30 it was decided, because of the large membership, to sponsor a third chapter in town.

A committee headed by Mrs. John Gregan as chairman was named. Other members are: Mrs. Lillian Hart, Mrs. Ellen Larson, Mr. and Mrs. R. Colbert, Mr. and Mrs. Gustave Ekstrom, and H. Sprague, John Paquet, assistant state director for Eastern Connecticut, will assist and advise the new group.

Anyone wishing to transfer to the new chapter or join as a new member may obtain further information by calling Mrs. Lillian Hart at 649-9732. Refreshments will be served with a get-acquainted period to follow.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred T. Baker of 181 Wauzoo Rd. celebrated their 40th wedding anniversary Aug. 9 with a party for family and friends held at the home of their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Fred W. Baker of Manchester.

The couple has five grandchildren. Mr. Baker is an independent insurance agent with an office at 234 Center St. He is a member of the British-American Club and the Independent Insurance Agents Association. Mrs. Baker is a member of Zion Lutheran Church.

COLLEGE NOTES

Eugene E. Bellotti, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Bellotti of 4 Green Rd. and Michele L. Patterson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Patterson of 9 Saulters Rd., have both been named to the dean's list for the spring semester at Western New England College.

AARP to form new chapter

An organizational meeting to form another chapter of the American Association of Retired Persons (AARP) in Manchester will be conducted Sept. 17 at 1:30 p.m. at VFW Hall, 62 Center St. Permission to use this hall as a permanent meeting place has been granted.

Chef Lach prepares Spanish Gaspacho

During the last few months, new dishes have been appearing daily on the luncheon menu at the Manchester Country Club. Chef Lach has been a busy man with a special dish such as crab meat crepes with dill sauce or chicken salad with almonds and curry.

While the dining room is open to the public, most patrons are golfers looking for a quick bite so they can return to the links. Club sandwiches are always popular as well as lobster salad when on the menu.

The Monte Carlo sandwich has been successful. The crust is removed from white bread which is filled with a slice of ham, boned chicken sprinkled with a little curry, tomato and Swiss cheese.

Two recent cold soups were the Spanish Gaspacho and Tomato Dip. Both are easy to make, refreshing and seasonal. Recipes are below.

These innovations are the brainchild of young Paul Lach who has been chef at the club since last October. A pleasant surprise is that just about everyone, Paul loves to cook, especially if it's creative. His career began when he was a little boy.

Eventually, Paul helped the chef. Within two years, he became the sous chef. This French phrase translated literally, means "under the head man." The duties of a sous chef reflect those of the executive chef and he is his right hand man.

All of Paul's training has been on-the-job or self-taught. He has never attended a professional school. Cooking and arranging food for people who enjoy the fruits of his labor is a joy to him. At his apartment at 31D Garden Dr., Paul entertains and cooks for friends.

Having chanced upon blue crab in an Oriental market, he had a brief discussion with the shop owner as to how it might be prepared. He went home and added his own touch. The blue crab was served as a first course flavored with Oriental black bean, tomato and ginger root.

Paul likes all kinds of music from rock to classical. He loves to travel and to camp in a tent. Vermont and Cape Cod are his two great loves. "My big dream though is to one day open my own restaurant."

From the upstairs dining room one can look out upon the Globe Hollow Reservoir surrounded by beautiful trees. It is a pleasant spot in all seasons and one of the nicest views in town. The kitchen grill room is open during the same hours but adds one more day, Saturday.

Last weekend, because of many requests, the club is now open for a good breakfast on Saturday and Sunday mornings. Herb Phelan, local attorney and club president, invites the public.

Spanish Gaspacho
1 clove garlic
1 medium onion, sliced
1 cucumber, sliced
2 tomatoes, peeled
1 green pepper, seeded
4 raw eggs
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon cayenne pepper
1/4 cup vinegar
1/4 cup tomato juice
Pure first six ingredients in a blender. Season with the salt, cayenne, vinegar, olive oil and tomato juice. Mix well with beaten eggs and chill. Serve cold with a garnish of diced onion, green pepper, cucumber and croutons. Or, if you wish, while the blender is running, add stock and cream. Chill and serve garnished with chopped fresh dill and chopped tomato.

Tomato dip soup
1 medium onion, sliced
1 small clove garlic
1 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon freshly ground black pepper
2 sprigs fresh dill
1 tablespoon tomato paste
1/4 cup cold water
1/2 cup cooked macaroni
1 cup chicken stock
1/4 cup cream
Peel and slice tomatoes into a saucepan. Add onion, garlic, seasonings, dill, tomato paste and water; cover and simmer 15 minutes.

Transfer to an electric blender. Add macaroni, cover and turn on high. Uncover and, while the blender is running, add stock and cream. Chill and serve garnished with chopped fresh dill and chopped tomato.

A new Fanne
BLOOMINGDALE, N.J. (UPI) — Her agent says she's trying to change her image, but stripper Fanne Fane is still riding the crest of publicity from her relationship with Rep. Wilbur Mills, D-Ark.

Miss Fane spent Wednesday publishing her new book, called "Fanne Fane — The Truth about the Tidal Basin Incident and Her Life with Wilbur Mills." "It's about the life of a woman," she said. "It doesn't involve sex scandals."

Mills stepped down as chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee shortly after his friendship with Miss Fane became known.

"We're trying to change Fanne's image," her press agent, John Carmen said. "She's known for being a stripper. She won't be bringing anymore."

Hoffa's foster son refuses to take test

DETROIT (UPI) — A lawyer for James Hoffa's foster son, Charles O'Brien, says O'Brien will not take a lie detector test to determine if he knows anything about the onetime Teamster union czar's disappearance 23 days ago.

Hoffa's lawyer son, James P. Hoffa, has demanded repeatedly O'Brien take the test — "because he knows something."

The demand came after investigators placed O'Brien in the area of suburban Detroit parking lot where Hoffa was last seen July 30. O'Brien said later he was in the area early July 31 only because he was waiting for a ride to work.

The former Teamsters president vanished after telling his family he was meeting a reputed Mafia kingpin and two other men for lunch. The three denied they planned to meet Hoffa.

O'Brien's lawyer, James Burdick, said Wednesday O'Brien would not submit to the test. The FBI has not asked him to take one, he added.

Burdick reportedly has advised O'Brien not to submit to any lie detector interrogation on grounds such tests are "often inconclusive."

The lawyer also disclosed two FBI agents and a state police investigator had questioned O'Brien about the Hoffa disappearance for about five hours Monday engineering at the University of Cincinnati, and other researchers who will work at the institute, recently announced an improved pump for heart-lung machines. The pump, originally designed by NASA to circulate fluid in astronauts' space suits, was researched and tested for use in outside-the-body heart-lung systems.

Try nuclear power
MARSHALL, Mo. (UPI) — The United States must include nuclear power in its long range program to shore up the nation's energy supply, Sen. Stuart Symington, D-Mo., said Wednesday.

"We are facing serious and growing fuel shortages, primarily the result of the heavy reliance on imported oil and its derivatives," said Symington in a speech to a Democratic meeting in Saline County.

The steadily mounting costs are shown on our power bills and at the gas pumps."

Create 51st state
SAN JUAN, P.R. (UPI) — Miami Mayor Maurice Ferre reversed his stand Wednesday and told Puerto Ricans either statehood or independence for the island would be preferable to the current situation.

Ferre, a longtime backer of the island's present Commonwealth status, surprised his audience when he declared support for Puerto Rico's entry as a state. He also said the island might gain full independence.

Ferre said either move would mean more dignity for the two million Puerto Ricans living on the U.S. mainland, who "find themselves in deep and troubled waters without an anchor or a destination."

ST. LOUIS (UPI) — Former Georgia Gov. Jimmy Carter said Wednesday President Ford only looks good when compared to Richard Nixon or Congress.

Carter, running for the Democratic presidential nomination, said Ford "shows a total absence of leadership capabilities."

The President, Carter said, "looks good in two respects — his integrity as compared to Richard Nixon and his administrative ability as compared to Congress."

Carter told the national Young Democrats' convention in Washington, D.C., that "President Ford in his temporary tenure in the White House shows a total absence of leadership capabilities."

At a state police office at Detroit's Metropolitan airport.

The meeting, Burdick said, dealt with "very specific" details of O'Brien's whereabouts over a three- or four-day period around July 30. He refused to elaborate.

The FBI and State Police declined comment Wednesday night.

Burdick said the meeting was requested by the FBI and that O'Brien flew to Detroit from his home in West Memphis, Ark., for it.

It was the second such meeting, Burdick said, and it also covered the question of O'Brien's whereabouts immediately before and after Hoffa vanished. At first meeting occurred, Burdick said, about a week after Hoffa disappeared.

Meanwhile, a Florida man who mailed photos of Hoffa to the Detroit bureau of United Press International and to James P. Hoffa said Wednesday he plans more mailings — this time to enlist the aid of 600,000 handicapped persons in the hunt for Hoffa.

The man, C. Monroe Lerman of Orlando, told UPI in a telephone call to Detroit that he would apologize to Hoffa's son, who called the mailing of the photo to him a "cruel joke."

Eight firms considered to study town water supply

The selection of a consulting firm to study Manchester's water supply and to determine its filtration needs is still about two weeks away, Jay Giles, director of public works, said today.

The Board of Directors last April allocated $25,000 for the study, needed, said Giles, because only water from Globe Hollow Reservoir now meets federal water-quality standards.

Giles said the company selected for the study must have the capability to determine the town's filtration needs and also to design a treatment plant, if the need for it is proved.

Giles said eight consulting firms, including Griswold and Fuss of Manchester, are under consideration and are being interviewed.

He said whatever recommendations eventually are made may require a bond issue and consequently a referendum question in November of next year.

Giles said water from the Globe Hollow Reservoir and from the town's Roaring Brook Reservoir in Glastonbury (except for about 300 Glastonbury customers) is treated at the Cooper Hill filtration plant.

Water from the Porter and Howard Reservoirs and from those reservoir systems the town will acquire from the Manchester Water Co. is chlorinated but not filtered, Giles explained.

He said one solution would be to enlarge the Cooper Hill plant and filter all of the town's water supply through it. He labeled it a very costly idea, probably too costly, because it would involve pumping all water to the one central location.

Giles said the town is involved in a long-range program of replacing and eliminating out-dated water lines.

So-called "red" water, created by rust in old pipes, can be eliminated only by replacing the old water pipes, he said.

Giles said the consultants will be asked to recommend a solution to the old-fashioned wooden water pipes running from the town's reservoir in Glastonbury.

Legislation forces delay in start of new housing

New state rules on housing for the handicapped has delayed start-up of the Manchester Housing Authority's 40-unit Spencer St. complex until next year, MHA Chairman Fascal Mastrangelo said today.

There's no chance we can get started this year," Mastrangelo said. "The MHA, working on land acquisition and design of the state-funded project for nearly two years, had hoped to break ground this fall.

revised once after state rejection — are no longer any good. Mastrangelo said the new state law will force complete redesigning of the Manchester project. The MHA is now considering a complex of one-story buildings instead of the two-story buildings first designed, Mastrangelo said.

The MHA has 188 eligible persons on its waiting list for elderly housing, Mastrangelo said. Some of the persons have been on the list for four years, he said.

Only the legislature can authorize the issuing of bonds, she said. The state has to be extremely careful in not authorizing the issuance of bonds which would in any way endanger Connecticut's excellent standing," she said.

PGA policy board casts Beman granted five-year pact

FORT WORTH, Tex. (UPI) — The PGA's 10-member tournament policy board Wednesday granted commissioner Deane Beman a five-year extension of his contract, an action Beman said he instigated himself in order to plan his future.

"I opened the discussions that led to this," said Beman, who had 18 months left on his original three-year contract. "But after I mentioned it, the chairman of the board carried the ball from there."

"After 18 months in this job I wanted to know how they felt I was performing. I wanted to know if they had any reservations in the way my staff and I were functioning. I felt comfortable with my performance. I just wanted to know if they did, too."

The decision was made Tuesday in a meeting of the policy board and announced at the eve of the Tournament Players Championship — an event which Beman considers one of his major accomplishments.

"This is a strong vote of confidence, based on Beman's outstanding job as commissioner," said board chairman Lewis A. Lapham.

Beman was appointed commissioner in January, 1974, succeeding Joe Dey who retired. Beman said the first 18 months of his administration went so smoothly he could think of no serious problems.

"The Masters is 40 years old, the PGA is 57 years old. It would be presumptuous of me to call this a major tournament in only its second year, but that's toward a major championship."

Berra may join Yankees NEW YORK (UPI) — Yogi Berra Wednesday there is a "50-50 chance" that he will be a coach next season for the New York Yankees — the team that fired him as manager in 1964 after he led them to an American League pennant.

Berra, fired two weeks ago as manager of the New York Mets, said Gabe Paul, general manager of the Yankees, called him with an informal offer to be a "feeler."

"There's the whole rest of the season to go before I have to make up my mind," Berra said. "It would be premature for me to make a decision now."

Berra led the Yankees to an American League pennant in 1964 but was fired after losing to the St. Louis Cardinals in a seven-game World Series. He managed the Mets to the National League pennant in 1973 and lost to the Oakland A's in another seven-game series.

Berra, who signed a three-year contract with the Mets in 1974, will be paid at the rate of $70,000 a year through 1976 if he doesn't accept another job.

Rookie halts Red Sox march

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (UPI) — The Kansas City Royals kept winning the games they must.
Rookie right-hander Dennis Leonard, 25, gave the Royals a split of their two-game series with the Boston Red Sox, scattering six hits Wednesday night in a 3-1 victory.

Cecil Cooper led off the Boston eighth with a triple, but was stranded there when Leonard retired Denny Doyle, Carl Yastrzemski and Fred Lynn without allowing a ball out of the infield.

"That wasn't the tying run on third," said Leonard, "and I just kept trying to concentrate on the batter."
Leonard, who now has won six of his last seven decisions, said his confidence in mounting with each victory.

"Like today I felt there was no way I was going to lose," he said. "Of course, you feel that way all the time, but it doesn't always work out that way."
John Mayberry provided most of the Royals' offense with two doubles, a run scored and an RBI. Mayberry barely missed a sweater in his two-run fourth, hitting the top of the right field fence. He scored on a single by George Brett, who also scored on a double by Al Cowens.

— Then two outs in the fifth, Arnos Ota tripled and scored when Mayberry dropped a bloop double down the left-field line against loser Luis Tiant, 15-12.

"Yeah, that makes up for some of those line drives right at 'em earlier in the year," said Mayberry. "I knew the left-felder didn't have a chance. I was just running and hoping it landed fair."
The victory ended the Royals' six-game losing streak behind Oakland in the American League West.

"What we need is a winning streak," said Manager Whitey Herzog, whose team has posted an 18-3 record since he took over for Jack McKeon on July 24. "We can't keep playing .500 ball and get anywhere. We've got to go get 'em."

Bad news for AL clubs, Ryan's 'back in groove'

NEW YORK (UPI) — There's really bad news for American League hitters today — Nolan Ryan's throwing smoke again and is almost "back in the groove."
Ryan, the California Angels' three-time AL strikeout king and author of four no-hitters, pitched his strongest game in more than two months Wednesday when he beat the Milwaukee Brewers 6-1.

Ryan allowed three hits and struck out nine in 7 2/3 innings with Andy Hassler finishing up after the Brewers scored their run in the eighth on consecutive doubles by Bill Sharr and Robin Yount.

It was Ryan's strongest performance since June 6 when he blanked the Brewers on two hits and raised his win-loss record to 13-12.

"After the first inning I slowed down my delivery," Ryan commented after the game. "At times I had almost all my velocity and I still haven't gotten into my groove."
Asked if he thought he could win 20 games again this season, Ryan replied, "my record is the farthest thing from my mind. I just want to get in that groove."

— In his first start since Aug. 8, Ryan retired 13 consecutive batters during one stretch. He said he felt no ill effects from the groin and leg injuries which took him out of the rotation in recent weeks but that his elbow was "a little sore" in the later innings.

The Oakland A's defeated the Detroit Tigers 2-1, the Baltimore Orioles beat the Minnesota Twins 3-2, the Kansas City Royals topped the Boston Red Sox 4-1.

Adrian Garrett hit a solo home run and Mickey Rivers singled in two runs to back the Philadelphia Phillies over the Houston Astros 3-1.

This year different for Borg on circuit

BROOKLINE, Mass. (UPI) — What a difference a year makes — just ask Bjorn Borg.

Borg, the blond Swedish teenager with the devastating backhand, was the darling of tennis fans last year while establishing himself as one of the game's top players.

But this year, he's the favorite and the once faithful crowds have found other underdogs to cheer for.

Such was the case Wednesday night as he polished off Hans Jürgen Pohmann 6-1 in the first set of their match, his first since winning the U.S. Professional Tennis Championship a year ago.

So when Pohmann, a member of the German Davis Cup team, rallied in the second set, the capacity crowd came to his support.

It was to no avail, however, as Borg, the second seed, won a 5-5 tie to take the next two games, the set and match, 7-5.

"Maybe they like him more to see me lose," he said. "It's been the same elsewhere. I've been winning so many matches that everyone is starting to root for the other player because he's the underdog."

It wasn't much of a day for underdogs all around though, as all but one seed advanced. Top-seeded Guillermo Vilas easily disposed of Italy's Paolo Bertolucci, 6-3, 6-4. Vilas, of Argentina, handled Bertolucci with ease in the first set, mixing his shots well.

Two playoffs

Morarty Bros. will face West Hartford tonight in the opening Hartford Twilight League playoff game at 5:30 at St. Thomas.

The two clubs will meet again Saturday afternoon at 4:30 at St. Thomas and if a third game is necessary in the best of three set it will be played Sunday at 4:30 at the same field.

Harold Solomon, the ninth-seeded, took the first set from Antonio Munoz of Spain, 6-2. Munoz then turned the tables in the second set, winning 2-6 before Solomon came back to shut him out 6-0 in the third.

Stan Smith had little trouble with Germany's Hans Plotz in the first set, taking it 6-3, but lost the second 6-7 before coming back to win the third set and the match 6-2.

Harold Solomon, the ninth-seeded, took the first set from Antonio Munoz of Spain, 6-2. Munoz then turned the tables in the second set, winning 2-6 before Solomon came back to shut him out 6-0 in the third.

Humid Texas weather bothers Lee Trevino

FORT WORTH, Tex. (UPI) — Lee Trevino grew up in the heat of Texas summers, so when he starts complaining it must be something more than humidity.

"It's not hot even the corn will grow," Trevino's meteorological report. "The greatest names in golf will combat the heat Thursday in the first round of the MOXY Championship. Jack Nicklaus, enjoying the luxury of an early heat escaping opening day tee time, is favored to defend the title he won at Atlanta last year."

Gold's site will be testing the tough, 7,140-yard, par-70 Colonial Country Club layout, which for this championship has been dressed up with narrow fairways and rough almost as deep as that usually found for a U.S. Open.

But the toughness of the course was tempered somewhat Wednesday by hot scores turned in during the pro-am by Al Geiberger and John Mahaffey. Geiberger produced a 63, which would have tied the tournament. And Mahaffey, who docked Lee Graham for the U.S. Open title this year only to lose in a playoff, shot a 65.

"I don't think you will see any more of these kind of rounds," said Geiberger. "The pins were in the middle of the green and we didn't have any wind. I think 278 would win. There may be some low scores to start, but by Sunday, when the nerves start to let in, I think you will see them come up."
But Mahaffey did not agree.

"Yes, I think you will see some low scores," Mahaffey said. "If you put it in the fairway and get it on the green you can score and there are a lot of guys out here capable of doing that. I think a 275 (five under) would be a good winning score."

Only four times in the 28-year history of the Colonial National Tournament, normally played in May, has the winner shot 275 or better.

"If you get it in the rough you are in trouble," said Mahaffey. "I couldn't use anything more than a six iron to get out of it."

Second in javelin

Bob Youngs of Tolland placed second in the first International World Masters Track and Field Championships in Toronto.

Youngs threw the javelin 185 feet, seven inches to trail Phil Conley of California. Competition was open to athletes 40 and over.

World mark

KANSAS CITY, Kan. (UPI) — A buddy of Tim Shaw of the Long Beach Swim Club helped him to a world record Wednesday night in the National AAU Long Course Swimming Championships.

The 17-year-old sensation stroked the 400-meter free style in 5:53.217, improving his own mark of 5:53.95 set June 21 in Long Beach.

Shaw was pushed throughout the race by teammate Bruce Furniss, who finished in 5:53.997. "Bruce and I have a very competitive relationship. We're good friends but like competitors," said Shaw. "I know each time we swim together I have to do my best because I know how good he is."

Joe Namath ailing

Jones may start for Jets Sunday

HEMPSTEAD, N.Y. (UPI) — JJ (John) Jones could find himself in the unfamiliar role of starting quarterback Sunday when the Jets and Giants meet at Yale Bowl to establish New York's football champion in the annual summer preseason exhibition.

Jones, a 6-1, 180-pound free agent, led the Jets' final scoring drive last Saturday when they won the first round New York game from behind to defeat the Cardinals, 14-13, at St. Louis and now he's in line for a starting job.

Joe Namath still has not recovered from an injured muscle in his side and his backup, Al Woodall, has been given permission to return to South Carolina to be with his father who is seriously ill.

A jet spokesman said, "Al's father is dying and Al has been given permission to return home for as long as necessary. He has assured coach (Charley) Weisner that he'll get back as soon as possible, but he has been told to take his time. The main thing for him is to be with his father and not to have to worry about the team."

"But with Joe still not fully recovered from his injury, we have a problem at quarterback and it looks as if 'JJ' will draw the starting assignment."

— Then two outs in the fifth, Arnos Ota tripled and scored when Mayberry dropped a bloop double down the left-field line against loser Luis Tiant, 15-12.

"Yeah, that makes up for some of those line drives right at 'em earlier in the year," said Mayberry. "I knew the left-felder didn't have a chance. I was just running and hoping it landed fair."

Most valuable

Tall Jim Connors of Manchester has been named the most valuable player with Northeastern University's varsity basketball team for the 1974-75 season.

Connors captured the squad to a 12-12 record. He averaged 18.2 points per game, had 10.5 rebounds and posted 56.5 and 79.1 field goal and free throw percentages.

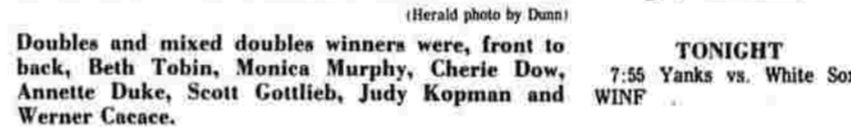

The 6-7 Connors graduated from East Catholic High in 1971.

Field hockey

Candidates for the field hockey team at Manchester High may report for practice Monday morning at 8 o'clock at Memorial Field. All girls must have passed physical examinations before registering.

Lotta Games

NEW YORK (UPI) — The nation's 183 major college football teams will be involved in 779 regular season games in 1975, starting Sept. 4 and ending Dec. 6.

Doubles and mixed doubles winners were, front to back, Beth Tobin, Monica Murphy, Cherie Dow, Annette Duke, Scott Gottlieb, Judy Kopman and Werner Caceo.

Frazier and Ali fight set for Civic Center site

BOSTON (UPI) — The Muhammad Ali-Joe Frazier world heavyweight bout will be shown on closed circuit television in 18 locations throughout New England, according to boxing promoter Sam Silverman.

The Sept. 30 fight will be preceded by live shows at Boston Garden, the Hartford Civic Center, the Providence Civic Center and the Exposition Hall in Portland, Maine, Silverman announced Wednesday.

— The second he was told he was being fined by Froemming because he told Williams "you're the same old all the time" after Williams called him out on a play at first base.

— Le Trevisno grew up in the fifth. Arnos Ota tripled and scored when Mayberry dropped a bloop double down the left-field line against loser Luis Tiant, 15-12.

"Yeah, that makes up for some of those line drives right at 'em earlier in the year," said Mayberry. "I knew the left-felder didn't have a chance. I was just running and hoping it landed fair."

The victory ended the Royals' six-game losing streak behind Oakland in the American League West.

Wheat piling up

A Lind, Wash., farmer views 900,000 bushels of wheat — enough for about 43 million loaves of bread — piled on the ground because of the lack of storage. The storage problem could be compounded if a solution is not found to the AFL-CIO endorsed boycott by stevedores who refused to load grain bound for Russia earlier this week until ordered to do so by a court. ## Neighbors back winterizing cottage

HEBRON
Anne Dallaire 228-3267
About 15 neighbors and friends of Walter and Ann Gustafson told Hebron's Zoning Board of Appeals (ZBA) Wednesday night they favor an application submitted by the Gustafsons to winterize a seasonal dwelling.
The Gustafsons, now living in Windsor, have applied for a zoning variance to convert a dwelling at Deepwood Dr. and Bass Lake Rd. to a year-round residence.
No one opposed the application at the ZBA hearing. Mrs. Gustafson told the ZBA she had acquired the dwelling about nine years ago and planned at that time to convert the town sanitarium has approved installation of a septic system, and plans are under way for a well and new foundation.

Speaking in favor of the Gustafsons' application were Emory Taylor of Bass Lake Rd., David Morency of Deepwood Dr., Ebel and Freda Biggers of Deepwood Dr., and Tom Francis.

Liquor permit revoked

HARTFORD (UPI) — The state Liquor Control Commission has revoked the liquor permit of the Terra Mar Restaurant in Old Saybrook because of a recent gambling raid.
Commission Chairman John Healy said Wednesday the revocation was unrelated to the Aug. 7 state police raid on a "Las Vegas" gambling night that resulted in the arrest of two persons.
Healy said the permit was lifted because the Terra Mar failed to provide three meals a day as required in the permit, and improperly subleased the food concession.
The permittee, Raymond Szczeniowski, was given 10 days in which to appeal the commission decision before the Court of Common Pleas.

Wednesday night was a request from Lawrence Krizan of Crowell for a special exception to live in a trailer on property he owns on Buck Rd. Krizan has begun work on a new home on the property, and he told the board he wants to protect it. There was no opposition to his application.
After the hearings, ZBA members went into executive session. Applicants will be notified of board decisions by mail.

All buildings have been cleaned from ceiling to floor said Very, along with the painting of some interior rooms where needed.

Secret talks resume with state doctors in salary dispute

HARTFORD (UPI) — Secret talks were expected to resume today in efforts to reach agreement on wage increases between state agencies and doctors who say they will drastically reduce work hours at mental hospitals beginning Friday.
The 70 physicians announced two weeks ago they would stop working unpaid overtime hours if the state plan to alter the so-called Grifflinger Plan and if wage increases were not granted.
The plan provides low cost food and housing in lieu of payment for overtime hours but the doctors say their yearly overtime totals much more than the plan savings, which the state wants to reduce.
Mental Health Department officials met Wednesday with state Personnel Commissioner Fred P. Sposon in an effort to strike a compromise with the doctors who want an $8,000 to $10,000 salary hike.
Rossomando said a news blackout has been imposed on the negotiations but sources said any chance to avert the threatened job action on Friday appeared slim.
A lot may depend on the results of a 2 p.m. meeting today of the state Personnel Policy Board which must approve any pay increases for state employees.

Explanation being sought for missing RFK evidence

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Missing ceiling panels from the hotel pantry where Robert Kennedy was assassinated in 1968 apparently were destroyed by a "lower echelon" police officer one year after the shooting, according to a special commission in the city attorney's office.
Special counsel Don Morrow said the decision to destroy the panels apparently was made in June, 1969, by the police employee because the trial of convicted assassin Sirhan Sirhan was over and they were never introduced in evidence.
Representatives of the police department and city attorney's office were summoned to appear before the City Council today to explain how the panels came to be destroyed and to discuss the possible disappearance of other pieces of evidence.
Critics of the original investigation into the Kennedy assassination have sought to look at the Ambassador Hotel ceiling panels. They claim an examination of the bullet holes could help determine how many bullets were fired and from what direction.
But Morrow, contacted in Sacramento, Calif., after a story quoting him appeared Wednesday in the Daily Journal legal newspaper, suggested the missing panels were not of "great significance."
"Even if you have the panels you couldn't put them back because you wouldn't know where they were in the first place," he said.
"In my opinion they would not have any great significance."

Rham accredited for three years

PERSONNEL
Nancy Foote
Accreditation of Rham High School for three years was recommended by the Commission on Public Secondary School to the executive committee of the New England Association of Schools and Colleges, Inc. In a letter to Principal J. Colin Pushee, Daniel S. Maloney, associate director of education for the commission, said that the commission on public schools had reviewed and accepted the Two-Year Progress Report for Rham at its June meeting and had voted to recommend the three-year accreditation extension.
Maloney said that the action indicates "satisfaction with progress realized since the school's evaluation in 1972" and "clearly the staff and the administration have responded to many significant issues raised in the Report of 1972."

The board accepted the resignation of Dudley Hamlin, part-time music teacher at Rham. Also resigning is Grace Lloyd, an office secretary.
The board voted to appoint Herbert Johnson chief custodian, retroactive to the middle of July. Johnson has been working as maintenance man at the school. It is planned to hire a full-time custodian who will be primarily involved in building maintenance.
The appointment of Brian DeGray as a summer student custodian was approved by the board.

Cardholders asked to take out books and help out with library relocation

BOLTON
Donna Holland
646-0375

Raymond Woollett, librarian at Bentley Memorial Library, is asking all cardholders to withdraw ten volumes from the library as soon as possible. Woollett said residents will be able to keep the volumes for one month at which time they may be returned to the new library.

There are 1,121 card holders including children and adults. The volumes at the library will be moved to the new library beginning next week. The new library is expected to open in September.

The present library houses about 12,000 volumes. The new library will hold about 22,000 volumes.

The present library is a 1,400 square foot white frame building that was built about 1930 for use as a chapel.

The new library has 6,895 square feet.

About 600 records and 57 periodicals must also be moved.

Woollett has been assisted by Fanetta Prindle, Marguerite Bario and Virginia Hassett.

School is high goals

from which it was borrowed. He said the ladies have saved him time as well as the town money.

The librarian said more volunteers will be needed on a regular basis, especially when the move to the new building begins.

Plans for activities in the new building include story hours, movies and display. Photography, art, crafts and doll collection displays featuring local talent are foreseen for the future.

Woollett said because of a tight budget there are no immediate plans to increase the library's hours.

The 1975-1976 budget totals $18,611. Of that amount $4,000 is for utilities.

The budget for 1974-1975 totaled $10,000.

Woollett said he would like to see the establishment of a Friends of the Library group which could help arrange new activities and publicize library services.

He said the state library service, Connecticut, has been a real boon for patrons.

Books may be borrowed from any library in the state. Woollett said the best policy is to return a book to the library completed in September.

Coverity schools will open Sept. 3 with the school's operating on approximately the same schedule as last year.

Coverity High School will open at 7:30 a.m. and close at 1:41 p.m.

Capt. Nathan Hale School will open at 8 a.m. and close at 2:25 p.m.

Robertson Grammar School will open at 8:45 a.m. and close at 2:30 p.m.

Coverity Grammar School will open at 9 a.m. and close at 3:20 p.m.

School lunches will be served starting the first day of school and student lunches will cost 45 cents at Coverity Grammar School.

School and Robertson Grammar School.

Student lunches will cost 50 cents at the middle school and 50 cents at Coverity High School without dessert.

Students wishing to purchase milk separately may do so for six cents.

Students will go a full day of school starting with the first day of school.

Registration for the elementary grade levels will be Aug. 25 and 26 from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m., and parents are requested to bring their child's best-up alarm clock, checking out airline excursion fares and student discounts — all of these efforts are being made to conserve money.

However, as one mother put it, "This generation wants all the comforts of home as inexpensively as possible. But they will part with their cash for what they consider the essentials."

Stereos, guitars, camera equipment and television sets are high on the list of "musts" among students.

Students showing signs of thrift

As the time to return to the classroom nears, parents are taking note of some interesting attitudes of their offspring who are headed for schools away from home.

Reflecting the buying habits of their economy-minded mothers and fathers, and of just about everybody around them in these money-tight times, the kids are being thrifty about new clothes and room furnishings, whether the tab is picked up by dad or paid for with their own hard-earned cash.

Clothing clothes are simple and basic.

For furnishing usually dark dormitory rooms, they plan to use inexpensive posters and plants. They even go so far as to brighten walls with do-it-themselves paint jobs.

Taking a pillow from home, plus the no-iron sheets, an extra iron if available, along with their old beat-up alarm clock, checking out airline excursion fares and student discounts — all of these efforts are being made to conserve money.

However, as one mother put it, "This generation wants all the comforts of home as inexpensively as possible. But they will part with their cash for what they consider the essentials."

Tolland plans new social studies program

TOLLAND
An entirely new social studies program for all freshmen in the Tolland High School will be instituted in September 1976. The program was sanctioned by the Board of Education at its Aug. 12 meeting.

The course, "Concepts in Social Studies," will be required of all freshmen, and the current freshman offerings, Western Civilization I and II, plus Foundations of Western Civilization and Foundations of Government, would become electives for the 10th grade.

The proposal was presented to the board by Daniel Shea, head of the social studies department at the high school.

Shea, in his report, said, "For several years we have sought a program which would better meet the needs of all freshman students; the current Western Civilization course is basically history oriented, and while all disciplines of the social studies should be utilized by all teachers, unfortunately the budget: allow for special reading problems; make heterogeneous grouping possible; emphasize basic social studies skills to be applied to subsequent social studies courses; affirm the philosophy of individual instruction within a group structure; and move closer to a program based on and evaluated in behavioral objectives leading to accountability.

Shea explained that the cost of the program will be minimal, or just $260, a difference of about $150 more than the existing program.

The program, which is the result of 10 years' research, will be implemented this coming September to those freshmen who are registered for Western Civilization and in September 1976 all freshmen will be required to register for the course.

He said if, after school starts this year, particular objection is voiced concerning the change, perhaps Western Civilization could be offered in one or two sections.

Removing grades said exception to rules

RHAM DISTRICT
Nancy Foote

Richard Harrison, chairman of the Committee to Consider Withdrawal of Grades 7 and 8, has received a letter from John Toffoloni, chairman of the state Board of Education, responding to questions raised last week of committee members and State Board of Education personnel.

In his letter to Harrison, with copies to Anthony Tofelch and Joseph Gordon of the state Department of Education, and Victor Schoen, counsel for the committee, Toffoloni said he had reviewed the intent of the regulations in question and that he removes any plan to consider grades from the existing Regional District 8 school to be an exception to the regulation (Dec. 18-39) and "The Planning Committee shall submit justification satisfactory to the state Board of Education based on such factors as a program for those grades deleted equal to that available to the in the present Region 8 program."

Members of the withdrawal committee including Harrison, Richard Grant, Superintendent of Schools David Cattanch and Schoen had met with Toffoloni and representatives of the state Department of Education. Committee members presented their concern about the 2,000-pupil requirement which up to now has appeared to be a major obstacle to the state Department of Education approval of the committee's study, if the committee decides to recommend withdrawal of Grades 7 and 8.

Sport program
All boys who will be in Grades 7-12 at Rham High School during the coming year and are interested in playing soccer should report to the gymnasium at the school by 8 a.m. Monday. Boys should bring a lunch and be prepared to stay all day.
