State

HARTFORD — Defense attorney F. Lee Bailey says he won't advise Patricia Hearst to plead insanity in her trial in San Francisco on a federal bank robbery charge because California was "not a very good state" for insanity pleas.

BRISTOL — Bristol Federation of Teachers leaders were meeting today with the school board to urge acceptance of an arbitration board's recommendations. The board is reported to have informally rejected the recommendation but had not made its position final.

HARTFORD — Edmund J. Mickiewicz, chief administration officer of the state Department of Transportation, says drastic changes will be made in the state master transportation plan to come to grips with the state's tight financial pinch. The interstate system will be given priority, however, because the federal government pays 90 per cent of the total costs.

Regional

BOSTON — A tentative agreement, apparently ending a week-long strike by Boston's teachers, was reached early today. Details were not disclosed and are being studied by the union's executive board before submission to the teachers for a vote.

National

WASHINGTON — President Ford resumes his travels this week but will be back in the White House Thursday for the state visit of Japanese Emperor Hirohito. He will go to Chicago Tuesday and to Omaha, Neb. Wednesday.

WASHINGTON — Members of the National Organization for Women (NOW) say they have received thousands of letters and telephone calls from people across the country who want to join a one-day women's strike Oct. 29.

PONTIAC, Mich. — The search of a 29-acre site where James R. Hoffa's body may be buried has been called off until authorities get fresh information from a tipster who claims he witnessed the Teamster leader's burial.

NEW YORK — Convicted Watergate burglar E. Howard Hunt says he once explored the possibility of drugging columnist Jack Anderson, but never contemplated murder as reported last week. In an interview with Time magazine, Hunt said former White House aide Charles Colson suggested Anderson might be drugged if he appeared on his live radio broadcast under the influence of a drug.

WASHINGTON — Some of the tightest security measures in history will be in effect during Japanese Emperor Hirohito's two-week state visit starting Tuesday at colonial Williamsburg, Va. After an official welcome from President Ford Thursday the emperor and Empress Nagako will visit Cape Cod, Mass.; New York City, Chicago, Los Angeles, San Diego, San Francisco and Hawaii.

International

LONDON — Police today called in their airport antiterrorist chief to direct the siege of three quarreling gunmen who have held seven Italians hostage in a restaurant basement storeroom since 1:30 a.m. Sunday.

LISBON, Portugal — Combat-equipped troops occupied Portugal's radio and television stations today in a government attempt to wrench them from Communist control. The move provoked an angry response from the far left which called for mass protests and a general strike.

BEIRUT, Lebanon — Crowds surged into the streets of Beirut today, making a brave start toward shaking off 11 days of bloody urban warfare and return to normal. The clashes left more than 330 persons dead and more than 600 wounded.

Flood cost set at $2 million

By United Press International
Flood warnings for river lowlands remained in effect early today but little damage was expected in the aftermath of heavy rains in Connecticut that claimed at least two lives and caused an estimated $2 million in damages.

The River Forecast Center said flood warnings were in effect for areas adjacent to the lower Connecticut and Housatonic and Farmington rivers.

However, the damage resulting from rains that began Tuesday and ended in violent thunderstorms Saturday, was not enough to qualify Connecticut for federal emergency assistance, Gov. Ella T. Grasso said Saturday.

Mrs. Grasso, who cut short by six days her vacation in Italy to return to the state Saturday, said her office will investigate every other avenue of assistance.

Mrs. Grasso toured Watertown, the area most heavily damaged by the floods, and flew over other affected areas in a helicopter.

About 150 National Guardsmen were called out Saturday to help out in Watertown, where the normally small Steele Brook overflowed its banks and cut the town in half.

The governor visited the widowed mother of Daniel Byrnes, 14, of Watertown, a high school freshman believed drowned Friday when the raft he and a friend were riding on Steele Brook overturned.

Rep. Anthony Toby Moffett, D-Conn., and Lt. Gov. Robert K. Killian also visited the mother.

Another victim of the storm, Robert Carlson, 41, of Torrington, drowned after his car stalled on a flooded Torrington street at about 1 a.m. Saturday. He died at Charlotte Hungerford Hospital.

The National Weather Service Sunday said the Housatonic began to recede Sunday night after spilling over its banks in some sections with some minor lowland flooding.

The Farmington River at Simsbury crested at 14 1/2 feet Saturday night and its level was recorded at 14.1 feet at 8 a.m. Sunday and then fell below flood stage of 12 feet.

The Connecticut River, reported seven inches above flood level at 7 p.m. Saturday, crested Sunday morning at 18 feet, two feet above flood stage, then began to recede.

Mrs. Grasso said the $2 million in damages estimated by the 10 communities hardest hit by the flooding Friday and Saturday appeared to be conservative, and the total would rise as more areas were surveyed.

Executions create unrest in Spain

SAN SEBASTIAN, Spain (UPI) — Strikes in protest against Saturday's execution of five urban guerrillas paralyzed parts of the Basque country today and brought an extraordinary session of the government in Madrid to consider the violent Spanish and foreign reaction to the deaths.

Heavily armed police used clubs to quell street demonstrations in some of the Basque towns and cities. There also was a guerrilla-style $535,000 robbery in Barcelona and a vast forest fire that devastated great areas of the Basque region.

The two-day general strike was called by underground labor organizations for the four Basque provinces where extremists seek independence from Spain. It paralyzed several towns in Guipuzcoa province and idled thousands of workers in the industrial center of Bilbao.

A wave of anti-Spanish demonstrations swept Europe and Latin America Sunday and again today and Mexico called for the expulsion of Spain from the United Nations. A dozen nations recalled their ambassadors from Madrid. There were street demonstrations in Madrid Sunday by 1,500 youths shouting "Freedom" and in Lisbon, Portuguese burned the Spanish Embassy.

The executions stirred protests in Spain and abroad because of lingering hostility to the regime of Generalissimo Francisco Franco, widespread opposition to the death penalty and because of the way the executed were tried.

They were convicted by military tribunals which, except in one case, rejected all defense witnesses and evidence. One trial that produced five death sentences—three of them later commuted—lasted three hours after civilian defense lawyers had been expelled for interrupting proceedings with protests.

The government said it estimated that 15 per cent of the total work force of Guipuzcoa province heeded the strike call and said no incidents had been reported.

But about 90 per cent of the shops in San Sebastian were shuttered, and plants, offices and many schools were closed in surrounding towns such as Zarauz and Azpeita.

The Basque country has traditionally been a center of antigovernment activity by Basques demanding an independent Basque nation. Two of the five guerrillas executed for murdering policemen were Basque militants.

In Barcelona, three men and two women armed with tommyguns carried out a guerrilla-type attack on the Francisco Franco Social Security Hospital, stealing the $535,000 monthly payroll and critically wounding two policemen.

The police announcement on the attack did not mention any political connections. Guerrilla groups have been financing part of their activities by holding up businesses in Bilbao.

The morning plane from Madrid to San Sebastian was diverted to Bilbao because of "weather conditions," travelers reported.

Europa Press also reported a huge forest fire near the Basque town of Artekakarra in an area owned by the Marquess of Socorro. Firemen from Bilbao battled the flames all night but did not put them out.

The Madrid government meeting began at 11 a.m. at Premier Carlos Arias Navarro's offices in the Presidency building, Generalissimo Francisco Franco did not attend.

The recall of Madrid's ambassador to the Vatican signaled a deep crisis in relations between the church and overwhelmingly Roman Catholic Spain.

Buckland firehouse contract authorization anticipated

By SOL R. COHEN

Herald Reporter
It appears the Manchester Board of Directors tonight will authorize signing a $233,000 contract for construction of the Buckland Firehouse. Its action, reportedly, will be based on an opinion by John R. FitzGerald, Manchester attorney retained to give an outside (of government) legal opinion.

The board is meeting in special session at 7 p.m. to consider two items—the Buckland firehouse construction and the Nov. 4 referendum question concerning a $2,373,000 appropriation for school projects.

The board is expected to adopt a resolution concerning the school question. It will state that, should the question pass, construction of the projects won't start unless and until the state contributes its share (estimated at just under $1 million) toward the cost.

FitzGerald is a member of the Hartford-Manchester law firm of Howard, Kohn, Sprague & FitzGerald.

Reportedly, he is expected to declare the town has a legal right to construct a firehouse in the Buckland area (at N. Main St. and Tolland Tpke.), because the area is within the jurisdictional boundaries of the Town Fire District.

Also reportedly, he is expected to declare that, in the event of a jurisdictional dispute between the town and the Eighth District over boundaries, the authority of the town shall prevail.

The latter opinion is similar to one June 18 by Assistant Town Counsel Victor Moses.

Moses had cited Sec. 20-9 of the Town of Manchester Charter and had stated, "The Eighth District cannot extend its boundaries in such an area (Buckland) without first obtaining the approval and consent of the Town of Manchester."

The contention of district officials and Buckland area property owners is that Article 39, Special Act 200 of 1963, permits the district to extend its boundaries into the Buckland area, if petitioned to do so by a majority of the property owners and if authorized to do so by a vote of district electors.

On July 31, district voters authorized the expansion, subsequent to a petition from the Buckland area property owners.

However, District Counsel John LaBelle declared the petitions invalid (Moses also declared them invalid, but cited a reason other than the one given by LaBelle) and declared the July 31 action a "nullity."

Since then, the property owners have been circulating a new petition—designed to fill all requirements. A spokesman for them said that, as of this morning, it contained 255 signatures with more to come. A minimum of 233 certified signatures are needed.

The spokesman said the petition will be presented to the district board, with a request it call another meeting of district voters.

that if the heavy rains had continued for three more hours early Saturday, there would have been a "major disaster."

Mrs. Grasso said although the estimated damages apparently do not qualify the state for federal assistance, she will explore other means of getting outside help for families and businesses affected. "Everything that can be done will be done to protect life and property," she said.

Mrs. Grasso said she was staying at a Florence, Italy, hotel when she first learned of the floods in a phone call from an aide.

"All I could think of was the floods of 20 years ago and other similar floods since then and I could not stay away," she said.

DOT hearings on I-84 plans begin tonight at Coventry

By DOUG BEVINS

Herald Reporter
A three-year-old controversy surrounding the proposed path of Interstate 84 through Bolton, Coventry and Andover is expected to be rekindled tonight when a series of public hearings begins in Coventry.

The state Department of Transportation (DOT), which has modified I-84 corridor plans slightly since public hearings in April 1972, will conduct new hearings at Coventry High School tonight at 7 and Tuesday night at 7, and at Bolton High School Wednesday night at 7.

Being considered is a 12.6-mile stretch of I-84 from Bolton to the vicinity of Rts. 6 and 66, where the already-opened Willimantic Bypass starts. The first 1.5 miles of the proposed path is already in place as the east end of the Manchester I-84 segment to Bolton Notch.

The three-ton piece of highway, estimated to cost $66,650,000, is planned as a divided, four-lane expressway (two lanes each way) with truck and climbing lanes. The 1.5-mile existing stretch into Bolton Notch would be widened from four to six lanes.

The Bolton-Andover-Coventry highway plan is designated as Section I of an uncompleted I-84 from Hartford to Providence, R.I. Section II, a longer segment from Windham to the Rhode Island boundary, will be the subject of public hearings to begin in Killingly Oct. 6.

The proposed I-84 corridor through Bolton, Andover and Coventry differs from the three-year-old plan in that it avoids cutting through the Nathan Hale State Forest. Responding to adverse comments from the public and the state Department of Environmental Protection, the DOT moved its proposal about 1,000 feet south of the original plan.

The proposed corridor would displace an estimated 67 families and 23 businesses in Bolton, Andover and Coventry. Hardest hit by the planned route would be Bolton: A total of 21 businesses and 57 families are in the path of the expressway.

I-84 would require removal of the Bolton Notch shopping center and an apartment complex on Bolton's South Rd.

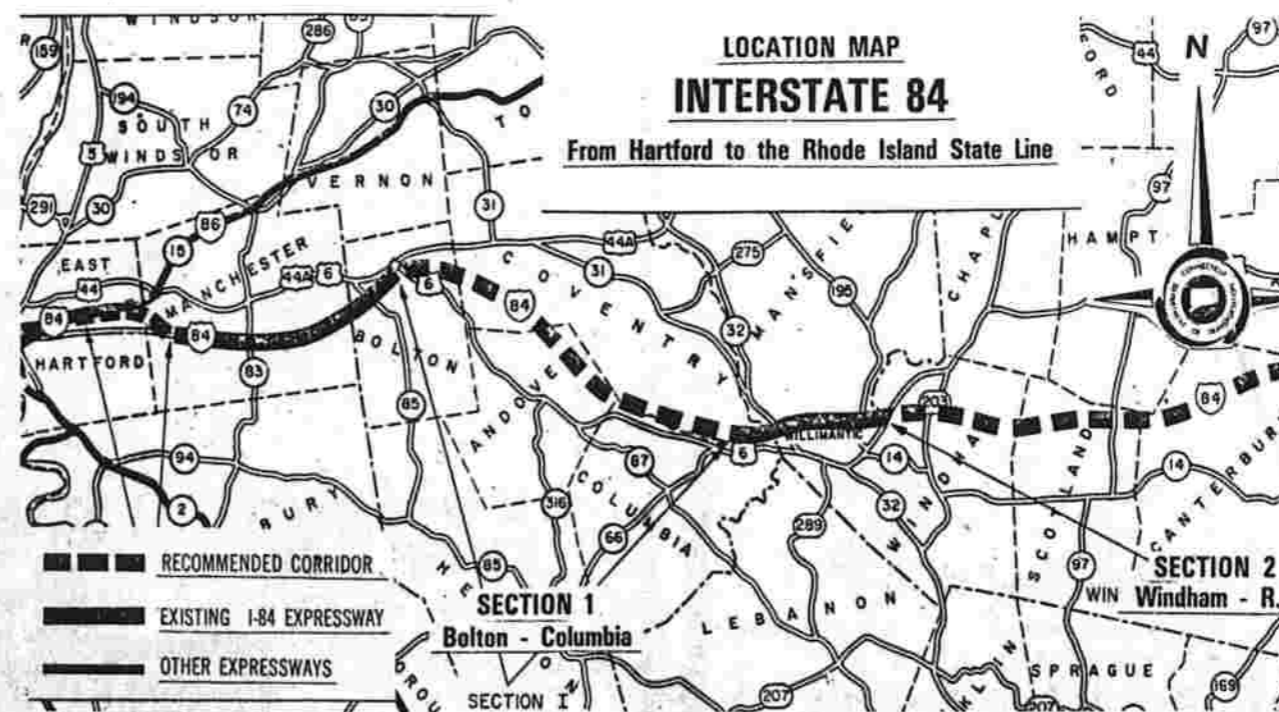

A new, federally required Environmental Impact Statement prepared by the DOT and the Federal Highway Administration, says Bolton would have to revise its commercial and industrial zones because 80 per cent of that town's industrially zoned land would be affected by the highway.

In Coventry, one business and 23 families would be displaced. In Andover, seven families would be affected.

Although the number of displaced families and businesses is an important consideration, the expected controversy surrounding the proposed expressway deals more with the long-range impact on the three towns.

Three years ago, when several hundred people attended the marathon I-84 public hearing in Coventry, the opponents—who dominated the session—complained of unwanted urbanization of area towns and pollution that would result from I-84 construction.

The DOT's claim that Andover, Bolton and Coventry will grow as much with or without the highway has been disputed by the organized opposition.

I-84 proposals shown on map

Department of Transportation map of Interstate 84 path shows completed sections as solid line and proposed corridor as dotted line. The four-lane expressway would start at Bolton Notch, enter Coventry about midway between Rts. 6 and 44A, and follow a southeasterly route into Andover, south of the Nathan Hale State Forest. It then would re-enter Coventry near the Andover-Columbia town line and join the existing Willimantic Bypass. Not shown on the map are locations of proposed interchanges in Coventry, expected to be at Swamp Rd. and Parker Bridge Rd.

Foreign policy adrift

The Senate Foreign Relations Committee hearings intended to discuss public perceptions of U.S. foreign policy and the foreign policy options open to the United States of America in the next decade, are important and timely.

Sen. John Sparkman of Alabama, who has been chairman of the committee for about a year, is well satisfied with the status of U.S. commitments around the world. However, he perceives, as many others do, that there is a doubt in America about foreign involvements. Recent manifestations of the trend are visible in the efforts of Congress to intrude itself deeper into the historic role that the executive branch plays in foreign policy and in the public suspicion about a positive U.S. role in the Middle East.

The phenomena are particularly disturbing at the present time because the entire world is in a period of major transition. The end of the war in Vietnam, the emergence of the Arab states as major powers, the claim of the Third World to a larger share of the world's wealth and the efforts at detente by the major industrial powers have created instability. The nations that are forceful, positive and constructive will assure the preservation of their self interests during the transitional period. Those that are fearful and negative will fall by the wayside.

Sen. Sparkman, long a student of foreign affairs, is well aware of the dynamics of foreign policy. Indeed, when he announced the series of hearings, the senator said that he wanted Americans to be aware that "we are living in a great big world. We must do our part in it." The senator supports a dominant executive role in foreign affairs.

In recent years the majority in Congress has exhibited that it does not, and the sorry state of major elements in our foreign policy reflect this fact.

Because of the meddling of Congress in the fine details of foreign policy, the U.S. has alienated Greece, Turkey and Jordan. It has distracted the side issue of emigration from the Soviet Union. It has made friendly Latin American nations that stood by us during the Arab oil embargo angry by slapping tariffs on their products. It has passed a law that makes every positive action taken by the President to protect American lives and property — such as the President's action during the Mayaguez incident — a subject for public uneasiness and debate.

Apart from the obvious damage to the efforts of the state department to project U.S. interests abroad, the actions of Congress have portrayed the U.S. to others as weak, indecisive and fragmented when in reality the opposite is true.

The damage to foreign policy resulting from recent Congresses is in contrast to the productiveness of the era of bipartisanship beyond the water's edge of the 1940s which produced the Marshall Plan, the Bretton Woods international monetary agreement and the United Nations.

There is nothing wrong with the goal of American foreign policy, which is to build a better alliance in the West, be better neighbors in our own hemisphere, reach an understanding with the Communist powers and establish a better relationship with poor nations of the world.

The problem is in the execution, and the principal obstruction is Congress, which pulls the rug out from under the executive branch at will without offering constructive alternatives.

Worthless autographs

Your average politician's signature isn't worth much more than the paper it is written on.

Authority for this is Charles Hamilton, professional autograph collector and handwriting expert, who says that the vast majority of the one million people who collect autographs in the United States are under the false impression that signatures of politicians, television, movie, sports and other celebrities are valuable.

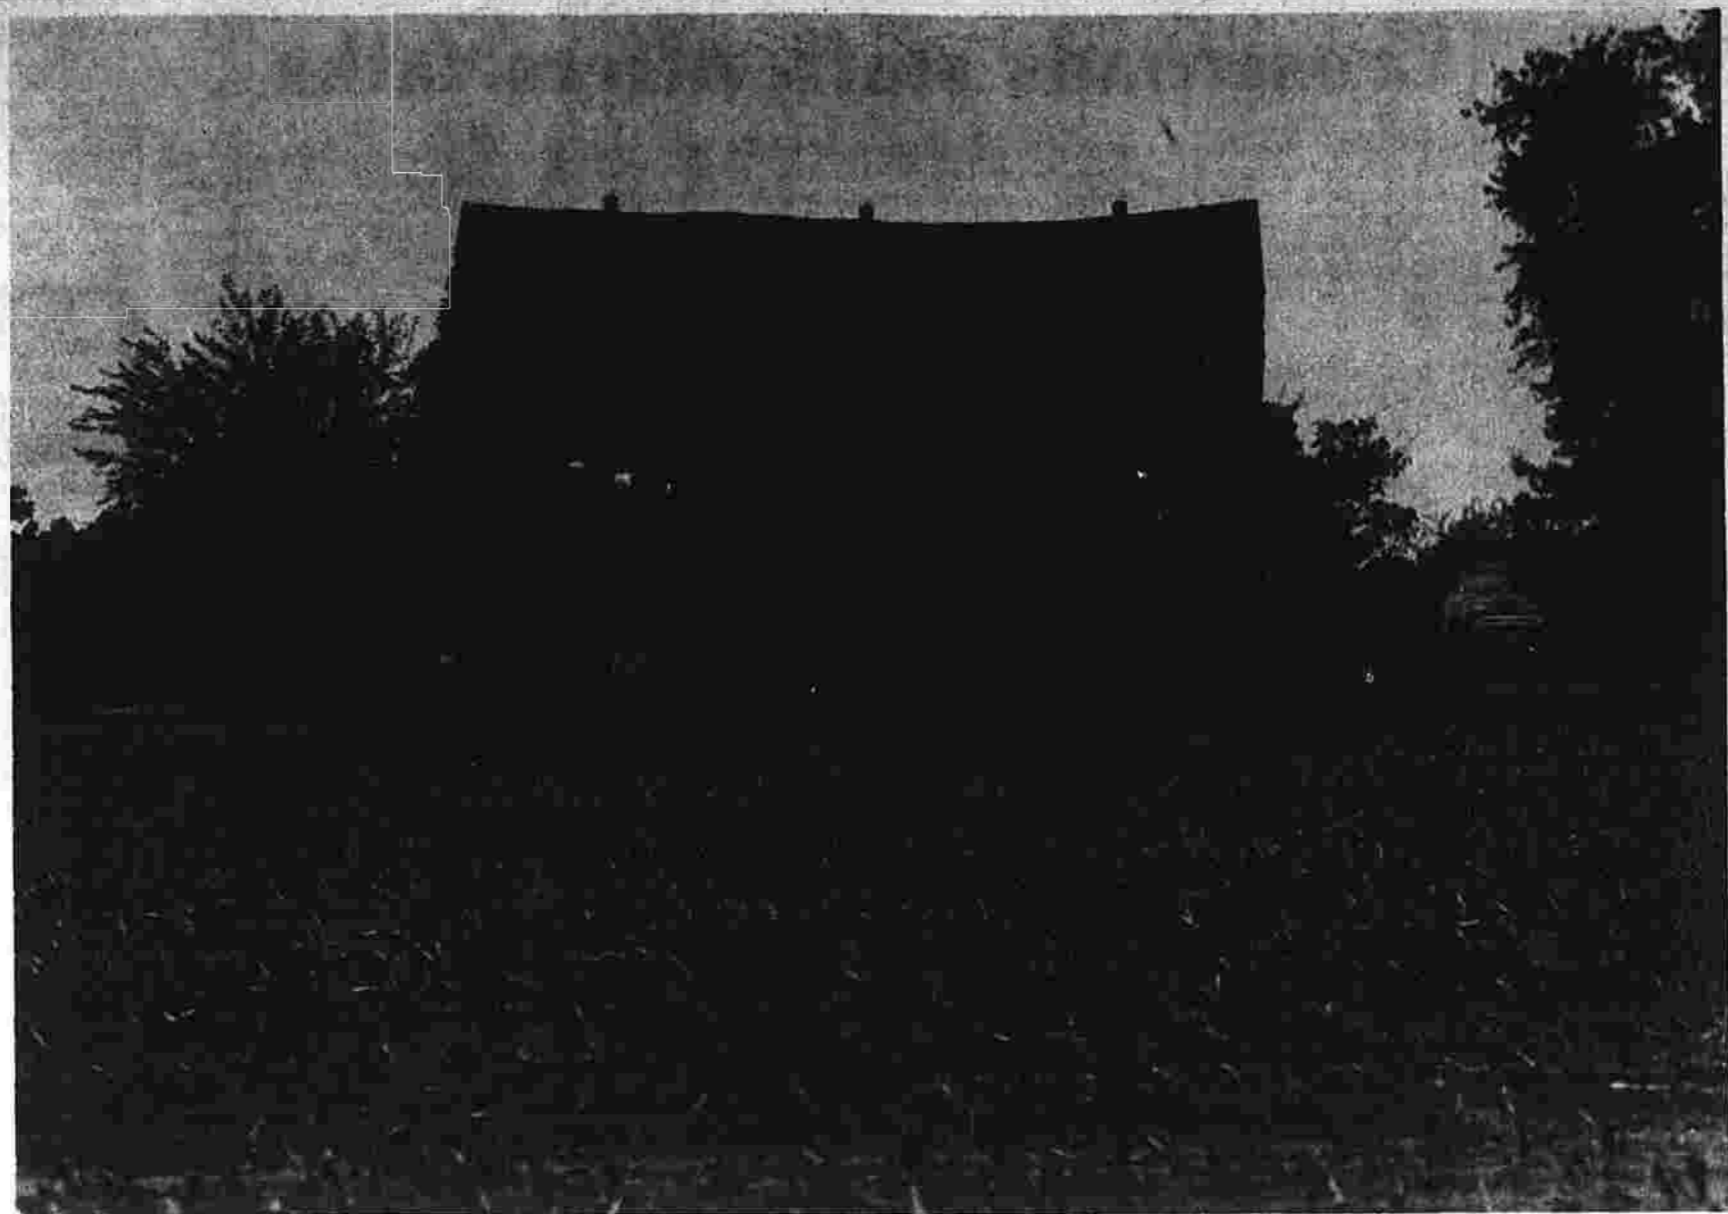

Actually, says Hamilton, such signatures are worth "peanuts." Only a few command the price of a Teddy Kennedy, currently one of the most popular signatures — from $10 to $30.

Another factor that diminishes the signature value of Washington politicians is the Autopen, which many senators and congressmen as well as presidents use. This robotlike machine can write as many as 3,000 signatures a day, each one virtually impossible to tell from a real one.

On the other hand, new writing instruments such as the plastic-tipped pen, which combines the fine line of a ballpoint with the vivid colors of a felt tip to give a bold and cleaner appearance, will eventually have a beneficial effect on an autograph's value. If it has been available years ago, many autographs would perhaps be worth a great deal more today, thinks Hamilton.

"Autographs are not just signatures of famous personalities," he points out, "but more properly letters, manuscripts or anything handwritten. An autograph gains most of its value by its historic significance, not just its signature at the end of the paper."

Is there a cure for ailing health care?

WASHINGTON — Medical care is probably the most regulated industry in the nation. Health is the field in which we invest 8 per cent of our gross national product. We spend far more than that of any other nation. Yet the state of our medical wellbeing is lower than that of other developed countries.

Prof. H.E. Frech III of the University of California at Santa Barbara, believes there's a connection between this overregulation and other government-inspired actions and the inefficiency of our medical services.

The regulations are set up in such a way as to keep those of us who need medical care in the dark as to the best and worst physicians, the most logical treatment, and the necessity of treatment. We have no way of knowing whether the surgeon we consult is promoting more profitable business for himself or offering us the best treatment possible.

The regulations, like those in so many allied health occupations apparently is a lowering of the average skill level of hospital employees, though this cause and effect relationship remains to be proved. One indirect result of government action — and inaction — apparently, is that other industries, slow advances in medicine and the adoption of those advances made in the laboratories. They promote less-efficient and somewhat backward medical training and protect doctors who do not keep up with the times. By limiting the number of physicians, both directly and indirectly, the regulations, in effect, establish a monopoly which enables doctors to charge considerably more than in a free market, without insuring more beneficial care or less fraud.

A side result of tightening licensing for allied health occupations apparently is a lowering of the average skill level of hospital employees, though this cause and effect relationship remains to be proved. One indirect result of government action — and inaction — apparently, is that hospitals, all too often, overcharge patients for pharmacy and laboratory services, X-rays, and the daily room charge. By contrast, obstetric and intensive care and the emergency room seem to be operated at a loss.

As French puts it, "This latter may be a particularly unfortunate result of cross subsidization because much of what the hospitals prefer may be the duplication of sophisticated services which are rarely used, and is widely believed to be both costly and a source of very poor quality medical care."

Some regulations are allegedly set up in a way to help the poor get hospital care cheaply or without charge at the cost of the well-to-do. But the statistics don't bear this out. Recent studies, in fact, indicate "that the quantity of charity care provided by the typical voluntary hospital is very limited."

The monopoly created by regulations has given the medical profession the power to fight attempts to lower costs for the benefit of consumers — for example, the strict claim review and prior authorization of treatment now demanded by some commercial insurers.

Says French, "The medical profession has fought such insurer controls in two major ways. It has threatened physicians who cooperated with loss of hospital privileges. Second, it has created insurance firms and endorsed them with competitive advantages." French lists, as an example a boycott of private insurers organized in Oregon by a Medical Society for which it was used under the antitrust laws.

French also notes that in Ohio, a medical insurance organization reportedly in effect controlled by doctors in being sued by the state for raising physicians' fees, suppressing cost control methods of other insurers and hindering the establishment of health maintenance organizations.

Raising the price on ties that bind card sales, the industry fears. As Butler puts it: "These are the little ties that bind families and friends together across our continent. Every penny increase in the cost of mailing a personal note cuts dramatically on the inclination — and the ability — of some folks to keep those ties alive."

One hopes the fear is exaggerated. After all, in a few short years Americans have witnessed not only postage stamps more than double but the cost of the average card more than triple. People seem to have learned to live with both changes. Still, there may be a limit to what the public will absorb. Already, there are predictions in Washington that first-class postage will go as high as 25 cents within two years.

TODAY'S THOUGHT

"Blood is the very essence of life. The vital fluid flows through the flesh of all higher forms of living existence, bringing the food and oxygen which sustains bodily functions. In an average human being, it circulates twice every minute. As the heart pumps the blood through the network of arteries, capillaries and veins, every cell in the body is continually supplied and cleansed. No part of the flesh can live without being in contact with this throbbing stream of life."

From the Biblical standpoint, the blood shed on the cross by the Lord Jesus Christ is essential to our relationship to God.

"But God demonstrates His own love toward us, in that while we were yet sinners, Christ died for us. Much more than, having now been justified by His blood, we shall be saved from the wrath of God through Him" (Romans 5:8-9, New American Standard Bible). The word blood occurs over 400 times in

Council delays road completion

SOUTH WINDSOR
JUDY KUHNEL
644-1364

The South Windsor Town Council has agreed that the best of construction on Buckland Rd. should probably wait until spring.

At a work session last week the council expressed doubts over beginning further work on the problem-plagued stretch of road, eliminating the possibility of construction tie-ups due to winter freeze.

The suggestion to wait until spring was made by Councilman Robert Myette Sept. 22.

Myette expressed concern over construction being "dragged out" over the winter due to heavy ground freeze. About 3,000 feet of Buckland Rd. was reconstructed last year, extending the 24-foot width to 36 feet and eliminating some dips in the road.

The top of Buckland Rd. closest to Wapping Five Corners, still remains unfinished due to problems encountered with a sanitary sewer line installed a few years ago was moved to the side of the road which seems to have eliminated the problem.

Bids for the remaining construction were to go out this week, however it appears that the job will wait until spring.

Message studio bid was filed improperly

SOUTH WINDSOR

The first application in South Windsor for a men's message and health club was filed improperly, according to a spokesman for the Planning and Zoning Commission (PZC).

The application filed by Paul O'Bright, 61 Candlewood Dr., named Patrick Ward as owner of the building. Land records however, show Albin and Evdygn Zagorski as owner of the 3,000-square foot building, which is divided into three storefronts.

Ward leases space from the Zagorskis for the building on the site of the old PZC officials have notified O'Bright that his application cannot be considered in its present form.

There is also some question as to whether present zoning requirements of the building. Land records show Albin and Evdygn Zagorski as owner of the 3,000-square foot building, which is divided into three storefronts.

VERNON

John T. Leary, a student at Rockville High School, has been named a semifinalist in the 1975 National Merit Scholarship Program.

He is among 15,000 students who will continue in the competition for some 3,800 Merit Scholarships to be awarded next spring.

To continue in the competition, semifinalists must advance to finalist standing by meeting a number of requirements that include being fully endorsed and recommended for scholarship consideration by the principal of their school, presenting school records that substantiate high academic standing, and confirming their high SAT/ANSQT scores with the Scholastic Aptitude Test.

VERNON

Teresa Gessay, a student at Ann Marie College, and Helen Bloniarz, attending St. Francis School of Nursing, were awarded scholarships Saturday by the Tadeusz Kosciuszko Benefit Society of Rockville.

Thomas A. Benoit, chairman of the scholarship committee, said the goal of the club is a scholarship fund of $10,000 and this goal is over the half-way mark.

Since the program was started, the club has awarded 12 scholarships to some 24 daughters of club members. At Saturday's scholarship dinner-dance, Christopher Dodd, Second District congressman, was guest speaker. Stanley Bloniarz was master of ceremonies.

Weekend mishaps kill seven persons

INTERNATIONAL

At least seven persons died in weekend accidents in Connecticut, including two persons who drowned as a result of heavy rains that flooded areas of the state and caused an estimated $2 million in damages.

Police said Robert Carlson, 41, of Torrington, drowned after his car stalled on a flooded street in Torrington early Saturday.

Another victim of the flooding, Daniel Byrnes, 14, disappeared Friday and was presumed drowned when his raft overturned on rain swollen Steele Brook in Watertown. A search for his body was resumed today.

Two teen-agers died Saturday night when the car in which they were riding left Summit Road and struck a guardrail in Prospect. The victims were identified as Marie MacDonald, 15, of Naugatuck, and Salvatore Mollo, 16, of Prospect.

Architects report on effect of deregionalized Grade 7, 8

RHAM

Nancy Foote Architects Peter Abel and Robin Hovey representing the firm Peter Abel, Inc. presented the final report to the temporary regional school committee recently. Committee members have been studying the feasibility of removing the seventh and eighth grades from Regional District No. 8 system and returning these grades to the local and non-regionalized systems.

The report contains a review of the problem, a list of superintendent's recommendations for the elementary program if seventh and eighth grades are withdrawn, program space utilization charts for all schools in the three towns, floor plans of possible additions to all schools, cost estimates for all proposals and a fire code inspection report and an analysis of the report for each school.

In the report the architects state that while examining the sites of the existing buildings looking at their expansion potential, the Hebron Elementary School site was found to be too small for any major addition.

relocated and the capacity of the water system at the school would have to be verified. All rooms in the elementary schools are utilized fully with most schools suffering from space deficiency. The Gilead Hill School does not have a music room and lacks storage space. Hebron Elementary School does not have either music or art rooms and the scope of these classes is limited as teachers must carry their supplies with them from class to class.

Andover only lacks a gym, but does have an area in which to conduct these classes. Marlborough is in need of several special education classrooms and next year will need two additional classrooms for third grade. This classroom deficiency is expected to grow each year and core facilities presently functioning at capacity will be overburdened.

Sept. 9, 1975 projected enrollment figures based on the last five years of births using available data were used in the report to determine classroom needs. These figures were lower than those available when the proposed Middle School was planned last year.

To determine a realistic picture of the facilities required for the three towns and the elementary school the architects decided to show the seventh and eighth grade additions in connection with additions needed for the elementary grades. This enables each town to see the full impact on their school system if the seventh and eighth grades should be deregionalized.

The same approach was used for the Gilead Hill School for the possible addition to Rham and rehabilitation work for the existing grades totaling $200,000.

In Andover a vote to deregionalize would require new space in excess of 14,500 square feet and rehabilitation work costing a total of $54,473. By leaving the seventh and eighth grades at Rham Andover Elementary School would not require any additional space but renovation work costing $24,190 has been proposed by the architects.

A vote to bring the 7th and 8th grade students into the Marlborough Elementary system would require new construction of something over 51,700 and 8th grades out of the system would leave the school with possible renovation work for the grades 9 through 12 totaling $1,812,172. A vote to keep the Rham District would require new space in excess of 10,000 square feet and renovation work for a total of $4,312,886.

In Hebron they propose $27,512 worth of renovation work at the Hebron Elementary School regardless of the fate of grade seven and eight. A vote to deregionalize would require an addition of more than 42,000 square feet and renovation work at the Gilead Hill School at a cost of $2,322,910. If the seventh and eighth grades are left at Rham, the architects propose a 4,400 square foot addition.

This enables each town to see the full impact on their school system if the seventh and eighth grades should be deregionalized.

The site of the Andover Elementary School is too small for any major addition. The site is adequate and the existing building is in good shape. However, a new well will be required and additional septic fields and reserve areas.

The site of the Tiennes School is adequate and the existing building is in good shape. However, a new well will be required and additional septic fields and reserve areas.

GOP candidates in favor of I-84

COVENTRY

MONICA SHEA 742-9495

The Republican candidates for the November election have issued a statement calling for the completion of I-84 but with only one interchange in Coventry rather than the two proposed interchanges.

The statement said, "We, the Republican candidates support the completion of I-84. We congratulate the business community, the Planning and Zoning Commission for their sensible approach in support of I-84. We believe that I-84 can be completed with a minimal impact on the environment and through proper planning will be an economic asset to the Town of Coventry."

The Republican candidates however are calling for a single interchange on the proposed I-84 corridor. They oppose the two cloverleafs presently on DOT plans, one in the vicinity of Ashbrook on South St. and the other one on the Hop River near Parker Bridge Rd.

"We see no public justification," say the Republicans, "to destroy these two beautiful watercourses which are among the few un-

VERNON

Mayor Frank McCoy, seeking a fourth term on the Republican ticket in Vernon, today called upon his Democratic opponent, Councilman Thomas Benoit, to explain his public record.

McCoy said he was referring to council action which, "by an otherwise unanimous vote, approved acceptance of a Federal Environmental Protection Agency grant for $9.4 million for construction of the sewage treatment plant."

The mayor said this plan has been the subject of council and obligations of public office do not provide for the luxury of non-decision.

He added, "If he (Benoit) had some unanswered questions, I'm sure his colleagues would have told him the answers."

"In view of the fact that every other council member, in both parties, made a decision on this question, I cannot understand how an individual asking to be elected to the top decision-making post in Vernon, can justify hiding behind a 'decision' vote," McCoy stated.

"We believe that a single interchange will significantly diminish the highway's impact on Coventry environment, enhance its economic prospects, simplify the town's ability to plan and manage Coventry's inevitable further growth in a sensible and intelligent manner."

South Windsor Fire Chief Philip E. Cromble today announced that the Board of Fire Commissioners of the South Windsor Fire Department has approved the promotion of William H. Conley to the rank of captain.

Conley is currently assigned as deputy fire marshal, a position which he will retain.

In addition to his duties as deputy fire marshal, Captain Conley has responsibility for pre-fire planning as well as communications.

He is involved in all areas of Fire Department administration and has done extensive research in firefighting methods and procedures.

Conley resides with his wife

Officers are Robert Finch, president; Leslie Caine, secretary; Brian Heath, treasurer. Directors are Herbert Van Kruijnen, Dan Manley and Karl Stetson.

Stetson said, "The organization is particularly concerned about the cost to the public of the proposed I-84 project at a time when school and health needs are being cut back substantially for lack of funds. We favor public transportation solutions which we feel are cheaper, faster, safer and cleaner over the long run, particularly if trains are introduced."

Stetson said, "The group plans to present the environmental and economic impact of the superhighway at the DOT corridor hearing that will be held tonight in Coventry."

The group has formulated plans for the printing and distribution of leaflets to the public, the circulation of a petition, surveying the opinions of Willimantic businessmen, as well as the presentation at tonight's hearing.

The group has urged all Coventry residents to attend tonight's hearing as they feel "It is not certain at this time that the highway will be built if enough citizens favor other solutions."

Powerful Trojans trim High, 29-14

By LEN AUSTER Herald Sports Editor: Sometimes the score of a game is not indicative of what really happened. On certain occasions, statistics do tell the story.

The versatile Marcell, who rushed for 79 yards on 15 carries, later added touchdowns on runs of 9 and 21 yards.

Manchester scored first and last but sandwiched between were four Trojan touchdowns. Both sides took advantage of breaks to score in the first half.

Multiple no-hitter, two managerial firing, Jim Palmer's 23rd win mark final AL day

NEW YORK (UPI) — As worked by one multiple no-hitter, two managerial firings and Jim Palmer's 23rd win, baseball ended hard in the American League Sunday.

For sure, on a day the American League East champion Boston Red Sox were losing their regular season finale unceremoniously 11-4 to the Cleveland Indians, the AL West titlist Oakland A's spelled fits to their regular season with a four-man no-hit 5-0 win over the California Angels. Vida Blue, Glenn Abbott, Paul Lindblad and Rolie Fingers couldn't have provided a more momentous way for the world champion A's to begin their defense of the AL pennant.

It was part of the first five innings of the historic multiple no-hitter, gained credit for his 22nd win of the season against 11 losses. But the Baltimore Orioles' Palmer, gunning for his second Cy Young Award in three years, may have (by himself) done the Oakland lefty one better.

Officially putting to rest his 1975 record of 22-10, Palmer handed the Yankees 3-0 in the first game of a doubleheader split for his 10th shutout of the season. The crafty right-hander yielded eight hits, struck out five and walked none in lowering his league-leading earned run average to 2.92.

All, however, did not end on such a high note. For with the victories come the twin sports in the person of the also-ran Minnesota Twins and Milwaukee Brewers who fired their managers after depressing disappointing seasons.

The Twins jettisoned the popular Frank Quilici after 3½ years of loyal service and the Brewers axed longtime Milwaukee favorite Del Crandall, who failed to bring about the kind of pennant winners he used to play for.

"I knew I was coming out of the pen," said Blue, who didn't seem so awfully impressed about being one of the four in the history of the baseball record book. "It didn't matter to me at all. All I care about is my earned run average and my record of 22-10 and win."

Abbott, who relieved Blue in the sixth, was a little more concerned. "I didn't want to give up a hit and be the goat," he said.

Lindblad, who entered the game in the seventh, didn't less than in a playoff or World Series. The guys in the dugout were really razzing me, so I knew if I gave up a hit, I'd hear about it all winter long.

Reggie Jackson drove home three of the A's runs with his 35th and 36th homers — tying him for the AL title in that department with Milwaukee's George Scott. The winning multiple no-hitter was baseball's first ever by more than two pitchers.

Back in 1917, Ernie Shore of the Boston Red Sox came on in relief after Babe Ruth walked the first batter and was subsequently thrown out of the game in a dispute with the umpire. Shore went on to gain credit for a perfect game by retiring 26 batters in a row. More recently, in 1967, Steve Barber and Stu Miller of the career-high 23 victories, got all the run-support he needed when Don Baylor belted a solo homer in the second, his 24th.

"Right now," said Palmer commenting on the Cy Young Award, "if it ended in a tie, it would be fine with me. But I'll be a little disappointed if I lose it."

Indiana 11, Red Sox 4 — White Sox 6, Twins 4 — Buckey Dent scored from third on reliever Tom Burgmeier's wild pitch and Pat Kelly singled home a second run, enabling the White Sox to break a 4-4 deadlock in the 10th inning and end Quilici's tenure as Twins' manager on an unpredictable sour note.

Rangers 3, Royals 1 — The Spencer singled home Mike Hargrove to cap a two-run rally in the first inning and rookie Stan Perzanowski went 8-2-3 innings for the win. The victory enabled Texas to beat out Minnesota for third place in the AL West.

Brewers 7, Tigers 0 — Rookie pitcher Larry Anderson fired a five-hitter for his first major league victory as the Brewers, under the direction of Crandall

Simpson runs wild as Bills surprise Steelers

NEW YORK (UPI) — Leaving O.J. Simpson to make the Steel Curtain look like tin foil.

People are not supposed to run against the Pittsburgh Steeler defense. After the Steelers' defense hadn't they held Buffalo Oakland and Minnesota to a grand total of 169 yards rushing in post-season competition as they marched to the Super Bowl title last year. And hadn't they completely trounced Simpson last Dec. 22, holding him to just 49 yards in a 32-14 victory over Buffalo.

Simpson absolutely devastated the Steeler defense Sunday, carrying for 227 yards, including a 89-yard touchdown burst, as the Bills stunned Pittsburgh.

The 227 yards were only 23 short of Simpson's single-game NFL record of 260 set two years ago against New England and give him a total of 450 in two games. He carried for 173 in a 42-14 rout of the New York Jets last week.

The Bills' overall net yardage of 434 yards and 310 yards rushing were the most ever gained against a Steeler team coached by Chuck Noll.

Simpson carried 28 times and the most spectacular was his 88-yard TD run in the third period. The Juice took the ball, bolted to the right outside of linebacker Jack Ham who got himself tripped inside, and outran the entire defense in two goals.

It was the fourth 200-yard game of his career, tying him with former Cleveland star Jim Brown for the NFL record.

Seven other teams remained unbeaten after two games. Dallas stopped St. Louis 37-13 in overtime, Washington crushed the New York Giants 49-13, Oakland overtook Baltimore 31-20, Cincinnati shut out New Orleans 30-0.

Denver edged Atlanta 17-14, Elacwhere the New York Jets downed Kansas City 30-24, Miami overcame New England 29-14, Los Angeles dumped San Francisco 29-14 and Chicago defeated Philadelphia 15-13. Green Bay is at Denver tonight.

Raiders 31, Colts 20 — Rookie Neal Colzie set up three TDs with punt returns of 28, 48 and 23 yards as Oakland rallied to beat Baltimore.

Bengals 21, Saints 0 — Ken Anderson threw three TD passes, two to Isaac Curtis, to lead Cincinnati past New Orleans. Anderson hit Curtis with scoring passes of 52 and five yards and also threw a 14-yarder to Charlie Joiner. The Saints have yet to score a TD in two games.

Chargers 17, Redskins 17 — Ronnie Coleman rushed for 110 yards and rookie Don Hardeman added 107 to carry Houston over San Diego. Coleman had a 46-yard TD run and defensive tackle Curly Culp returned a fumble 25 yards for another score. Jessie Freitas had a 30-yard TD pass to Dwight McDonald for the Chargers.

Vikings 42, Browns 10 — Fran Tarkenton threw for two scores, ran for one and set up a fourth as Minnesota buried Cleveland. Tarkenton threw 29 yards to John Gilliam and 13 to Chuck Foreman and ran in Lions 17, Falcons 14 — Althe Taylor plunged across from a yard out with only 90 seconds left to lift Detroit past Atlanta. The Falcons led 14-0 in the first quarter but were out of the game after a 25-yard TD run from Steve Bartkowski to Gerald Tinker before Errol Mann's 29-yard field goal and Taylor's TD won it for the Lions.

Tiant to pitch playoff opener Red Sox won big games when necessary for flag

BOSTON (UPI) — The night of Boston Red Sox owner Tom Yawkey and Darrell Johnson walking arm-in-arm into the manager's office Sunday told part of the story. Watching the Red Sox play Sunday's game told the rest.

For the first time all season they could relax and not worry, and judging from the 11-4 pasting their second string took against a makeshift Cleveland Indian lineup, the Red Sox were taking it easy.

Even though the Baltimore Orioles lost a doubleheader to the New York Yankees Saturday, clinching the American League's Eastern Division for Boston, no one could accuse the Red Sox of "backing into" the crown. But that didn't stop people from trying.

"I can't say how anyone could say that," said catcher Carlton Fisk. "We won nine of our last 12, Baltimore won even more than that, and we backed into it? It seems that no matter how good you do, someone's always trying to put it down."

Manager Johnson, who admitted to being "all parried out" after Sunday's game, says only the playoffs will be interesting.

"I can't compare ballclubs," he said. "Who knows what's going to happen. I'll say this. They're (the A's) been there and have done it. But our team played superbly all year. I can think of five times when we had to win a game from behind to beat the Milwaukee Brewers in the first of a 15-game road trip.

Boston took over first place for good on June 29, after beating the New York Yankees three out of four. "We were making their move. They caught us and passed on Johnson saying we were those games with clutch pitching and hitting."

In July, the Red Sox had a chance to knock the Yankees out of the race with a four-game series in New York. Boston took three.

"That was another test," Johnson said. "This was our chance to bury them and we did."

The lead went to 9½ games on August 3 before Baltimore came to town and swept a two-game series. Test number three came the next night when the Red Sox had to come from behind to beat the Milwaukee Brewers in the first of a 15-game road trip.

And finally, the Red Sox

Milwaukee manager's job offered to Aaron

MILWAUKEE (UPI) — Del Crandall, who returned as a hero to the scene of his playing triumphs, left a 16-8 record as manager of the Milwaukee Brewers.

Crandall's firing has been all but a certainty for weeks and his departure added heat to the already intense speculation that Aaron would be named to replace him.

Brewer president Bud Selig refused to speculate whether Crandall's firing was the result of a club decision or the result of a manager's firing.

"All I know is that he has one more year remaining on his contract as a player," Selig said.

"I really can't comment specifically on being a manager because I've never learned of Crandall's firing. I've been in this club a long time and I have certain ideas about how a ball club should be run. I just can't rule it out."

Aaron and Selig both said there had been no discussions concerning him taking the Brewers job. Selig also refused to discuss the reasons why Crandall was fired.

"There was obviously a lot of things that went into the decision," Selig said. "But to go into specific reasons for the dismissal would be cruel and insensitive."

"From the time when baseball was first played and clubs were not live up to expectations, the manager is the one who gets the blame," he added.

Crandall, who spent 3½ years trying to turn the Brewers into a winner, was fired prior to the team's last game of the season.

"I felt it was important and fair to Del to tell him about my decision as soon as we made up our minds," Selig said. "I told him and he said he didn't want to manage the club in the final game. I agreed to that."

"In view of the way things have been going I can't say I'm overly surprised about this," Crandall said. "I told me about this at 10 o'clock this morning and I'm just packing now so I can get out of town. I don't plan on being much of a game today. I've seen enough baseball games anyway."

Crandall said the Brewers were riding high in the first part of the season, and at the All-Star break the club was tied for first place with Boston in the American League East. But since then, injuries, slumps,

Giants' castoffs spark Redskins

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Two New York castoffs, Larry Jones and Randy Johnson, contributed three touchdowns to Washington's 49-13 trouncing of their former teammates and Giant Coach Bill Arpsberger emphatically reasserted his authority with the undefeated Redskins.

Jones streaked 52 yards with a punt for a final Washington touchdown in a 28-point second period scoring spree and Arpsberger, noted for developing Miami's defense when he was an assistant with the Dolphins, ordered UPI reporter Ron Cohen out of the dressing room for pressing him on his feelings about Jones and Johnson having been cut by the Giants.

The New York coach later sent word of apology for the blowup and invited Cohen back into the locker room.

On the one-sided defeat that evened the Giants' record at 14, Arpsberger said: "The Redskins had fantastic execution. I haven't given up faith in this football team. We broke down on defense because they played better."

The Giants broke in front on a first period score but the Redskins exploded for seven touchdowns in slightly over seven minutes in the second quarter. Larry Brown scored a tying TD on the first play of the quarter and Kimer fired the first of two scoring passes to Roy Jefferson after Ken Houston's recovery of a New York fumble.

One of Washington eight sacks producer Craig Metzger fumble in the end zone and Ron McDole recovered for a third touchdown. Then Jones broke loose, bobbing the punt on his own 48 and retreating to the 36 before swinging across the field and down the left

Namath surprised at running of Jets

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (UPI) — Joe Namath, slowly wrapping a bandage around his swollen right knee, admitted he was surprised at the way his New York Jets were able to move on the ground against the Kansas City Chiefs.

"We were prepared for anything but I was surprised — at how well the running game went," said Namath, whose nine-yard scoring pass to Rich Carter led a 30-24 victory over the Chiefs Sunday. "As a quarterback back has a running game, it's sensational."

The Jets picked up 201 yards on the ground, primarily of the rushing backs John Riggins and Carl Garrett.

Namath threw only 14 passes, completing seven for 126 yards and the touchdown. Instead of relying on his passing, Namath continued to send Riggins and Garrett through a porous defense line. Riggins picked up 145 yards rushing and two touchdowns and Garrett added 135 yards and one touchdown.

"The offensive line did a helluva job," said Garrett, who was recently acquired from Chicago and was making his first start as a Jet. "They were blowing everybody out of there all day. Their blocking was phenomenal and they deserve the credit."

The Jets scored on their first two possessions, moving 80 yards in seven plays for their first TD and 49 yards in five plays for the second. Namath scored the first from the one and Garrett the second, also from the one. Pat Leahy added two extra points and a 39-yard field goal in the first half.

Kansas City finally came to life late in the first quarter and scored on a four-yard run by Woody Green. The Chiefs scored again late in the second period on a 10-yard run by Ed Podolak but Leahy's 32-yard pass expired game as the Jets a 17-14 halftime lead.

Csonka understudy paces Miami win

FOXBORO, Mass. (UPI) — When Jerry Csonka abandoned the Miami Dolphins last winter he left enough behind to sway at least one more game.

Csonka, now with the Memphis Southern of the World Football League, spent last season tutoring their apparent Don Nottingham as the Dolphins' understudy.

"I like to think I improve every week. But all I'm trying to do is contribute any way I can to help us win football games."

"Look, everyone on this team is tired of hearing about these guys (Csonka, Jim Kiick and Paul Warfield) who jumped to the WFL," said the 5-foot-10, 210-pound fullback. "How do you replace them? They're great but you have to go on."

Coach Don Shula, upset with his team's first half performance despite the win, could have been thinking about his missing stars when he said: "I've never seen a sorrier first half of football than the one we played," said Shula who has led the Dolphins to five straight American Football Conference East titles and two Super Bowl championships.

"I was ashamed to come into the locker room at halftime. I told them if they wanted to prove to me they were a good football team, they had 30 minutes to do it."

For the Patriots, their 30 minutes came early. They held

San Antonio checks Kiick

NEW YORK (UPI) — San Antonio for the defense. San Antonio, which ranks first in the World Football League in defense, the first in the league's top head-on game Sunday when the Memphis Southern invaded and the result was a lot of battered helmets and a few bruised egos.

The Southern, men serve as the pride and joy of the upstart league, paraded Larry Csonka and Jim Kiick at the Wings and came up with a mere 89 yards on the ground in falling to San Antonio 29-17.

Jim Kiick was the leading runner for Memphis with a scant 37 yards as the Southern fell away before their 1974 season per game average.

At the other end of the field, Johnnie Walton was passing for Yule and Dickiey James ran. Sandler was scoring twice on the ground to clinch a post-season playoff spot for the Wings by giving them the Summer Season Championship in the WFL Western Division.

WFL play is split into two seasons and the division winners in each half meet at the end of the year in playoffs for the World Bowl game.

Sandler, who was the game's leading runner with 56 yards on 14 carries, gave San Antonio a lead on the first quarter on a five-yard scoring burst.

Walton then connected on a 15-yard touchdown pass to Dave Yule and Dickiey James ran for the conversion as the Wings began an 18-point outburst in the second period. Sandler added another touchdown and Luther Palmer booted a 27-yard field goal to make it 26-3 at the half.

In the only other game Sunday, Shreveport topped Hawaii 32-25 as Edd Hargett threw for three first half touchdowns.

Hill pessimistic in win

LAS VEGAS, Calif. (UPI) — Even in victory, Dave Hill sounded pessimistic.

Hill has had his problems all year and he didn't sound like they were solved after winning a $2,000 jackpot in the Sahara Invitational Golf Tournament Sunday.

"I'll tell you, he said, 'I'm still looking for my swing, and I'm still looking for mine. That way, I am not making too big a pass at it. It's tough on your nerves, though.'"

"I feel very fortunate at winning this one. It's been said that more golf tournaments are lost than won, and this one was lost."

Scoring his first victory in 16 months, the 38-year-old pro beat Rick Massengale on the first hole of a sudden death playoff when Massengale plunked his second shot into the water.

The pair tied for the first time at 270, 14-under par, after 72 holes in the $105,000 event following last round 69.

The playoff started with Hill and Dickiey James ran for the conversion as the Wings began an 18-point outburst in the second period. Sandler added another touchdown and Luther Palmer booted a 27-yard field goal to make it 26-3 at the half.

In the only other game Sunday, Shreveport topped Hawaii 32-25 as Edd Hargett threw for three first half touchdowns.

Squad shaved

BUFFALO, N.Y. (UPI) — The Buffalo Sabres of the National Hockey League announced they have assigned five players to their American Hockey League affiliate, the Hershey Bears.

Mets' Seaver in line for pair of NL awards

NEW YORK (UPI) — Tom Seaver of the New York Mets put the finishing touches Sunday on a 1975 performance which could win him honors as the National League's Cy Young Award winner and come back of the year player.

Seaver wasn't around at the finish of the Mets' 5-4 victory over the Philadelphia Phillies but received credit for the win. He thus completed the season with a 22-9 won-lost record and with the third lowest earned run average in the league.

Randy Jones, Seaver's only serious rival for the Cy Young Award, lost his 12th game against 20 victories Sunday when the San Diego Padres were beaten by the San Francisco Giants, 5-3. Jones has a league-leading 2.24 ERA followed by the 2.29 by Andy Messersmith of the Los Angeles Dodgers and Seaver's 2.38.

Seaver's superb 1975 performance followed a 1974 campaign during which he had an 11-1 record and feared that his career as a star was over.

The Cincinnati Reds defeated the Atlanta Braves 7-6, the Houston Astros beat the Los Angeles Dodgers 4-2, the Chicago Cubs topped the Montreal Expos 9-6, and the St. Louis Cardinals downed the Pittsburgh Pirates 6-2 in

No knock on Twins by Quilici

BLOOMINGTON, Minn. (UPI) — Frank Quilici, fired Sunday 3½ years after being named the youngest manager in baseball, said he won't knock the Minnesota Twins organization.

Twins' President Calvin Griffith said he would announce a new manager right after the World Series.

"The Twins lost 6-4 to the Chicago White Sox in a 10-inning game Sunday and finished fourth in the American League West."

"I don't know what I'm going to look for a tougher manager who would be free to name his own coaches."

Speculation on a new manager included Los Angeles Dodgers' third base coach Tom Lasorda, former major league pitcher star Jim Bunning, a known "get-tough" manager who piloted Toledo this past season, and even former manager Cal Ermer, who won a division pennant with the Twins' Denver farm club in the American Association.

Veterans missing

KENOSHA, Wis. (UPI) — The renovated Milwaukee Bucks offered their pre-season training camp at the University of Wisconsin-Parkeide Sunday minus two veterans.

Guard Jim Price is a contract holdout and team captain Bob Dandridge, a forward, is undergoing medical tests.

Veteran guard Jon McKeith is also hurting with a back injury and his workouts right now are limited to jogging.

Vernon readies warrant to prevent rail removal

By BARBARA RICHMOND
Herald Reporter

A warrant was being prepared today by Vernon Tax Collector Sylvia Wilson to be served on a representative of the Penn Central Railroad, in an effort to stop removal of rails between Vernon and Willimantic.

Vernon Mayor Frank McCoy, who started the ball rolling to prevent Penn Central from tearing up the tracks, said he ordered Vernon's Building Department not to issue a permit to remove the tracks, based on an interpretation of the zoning regulations.

McCoy became alarmed last week when he saw removal equipment by the tracks in Vernon and had police step in to stop it.

Late Friday, State Transportation Commissioner Samuel Kaneil called a meeting of the towns involved but because the meeting was called hastily only officials from Vernon, Conn. and Bolton were able to attend. The other towns involved are Columbia, Andover, Mansfield, Windham and Willimantic.

McCoy said removal of the tracks will serve these towns out of business as rail service

At least 10 colonial American newspapers were published with the name 'The Watch It Grow'.

YMCA offers several classes

The Indian Valley YMCA is offering a series of new fall classes including judo, jujitsu, Kokondo Karate, and beginning bridge.

The classes in judo will start Oct. 6 at the Talcoville Congregational Church and will continue for six consecutive Mondays. There will be a morning session from 10 to 11:30 a.m. and an evening session from 7 to 8:30. Adults and teen-agers may participate in either class. Students will be allowed to create their own designs. Mary Lou Frost of Vernon will be the instructor.

Classes in Kokondo Karate for adults will also start Oct. 6. A beginning course for children aged 6 to 10 will be conducted on eight consecutive Mondays from 4 to 5 p.m. and continuing judo classes will be offered from 9:30 to 11:30 a.m. Mrs. Lenore Brooks will be the instructor.

Prerequisite is necessary for all classes. Anyone wishing further information should contact the YMCA office at Vernon Circle.

Bolton church sponsors antique show and sale

The sixth annual Antique Show and Sale sponsored by Bolton's St. Maurice Church will be Saturday and Sunday in the church parish center.

On Saturday the show will open from 3 until 9 p.m. and on Sunday from 10 a.m. until 5 p.m.

Mrs. Louis Cloutier is chairman of the show. Frances Minor of Happy Acres Antiques in Coventry is director.

Committee chairmen are Mrs. Emma Chamberlain, treasurer; Dr. and Mrs. Bernard Sheridan, sponsors; Hank Ryba, dinner; Mrs. Peter McDermott, tea room; Sandy Jajalard, country store; Mrs. John Acon and Mrs. William Vogel, programs; Leon Zapacka of Woodland Gardens, flowers; and Clat George of Brookfield, building supervisors.

Home cooked dinners will be served Friday and Saturday. On Friday the serving will be from 5 to 7 p.m. The dinner will consist of baked chicken, baked potato, peas, salad, pie and coffee. Saturday dinner will be served from noon to 2 p.m. It will consist of baked lasagne, salad, Italian bread, ice cream and coffee.

Reservations for the meals may be made in advance by calling Mrs. Cloutier of Brandy St.

The Country Store will feature bread dough baskets, puppets, knit items, fall

Extend Yourself

Did you ever notice that your phone always rings when you're at the other end of the house? Or that your phone just happens to be located where everyone congregates, so you can't hear anything anyway? That's what's so convenient about an extension phone. You can't be in more than one place at one time but your phone can. For as little as $1.35 a month. (Plus a one-time charge which covers any number of phones installed at the same time.) Which really makes an extension phone worthwhile. To order, call your local Phone Store or ask your telephone installer.

"Give our customers the most good food for their money. Extend friendly satisfying service to everyone. And customers will come back again and again" ...
Today every one of our 157 Stop & Shop Supermarkets is committed to do exactly that.
For 60 years we've been making sure there's more to Stop & Shop than just low prices.

Excerpt from a statement by Mr. Sidney R. Rabb, Chairman of the Board, The Stop & Shop Companies, Inc.

no other beef can match the consistent quality of stop & shop beef . . . In 1966, we set out to develop a distinctive difference in the most important food you buy at Stop & Shop . . . beef. In keeping with "the way we do things around here", we built a fantastic meat plant where the temperature is constant, and sanitation and cleanliness far exceed government standards. There we cut, trim and age Stop & Shop Beef . . . naturally . . . in a way no other supermarket can. All this makes it possible for you to enjoy beef that is consistently tender and flavorful . . . consistently good every time you buy it. We invite you to try it this week . . . on sale. We guarantee you'll be pleased or your money back, cheerfully. That's the way we do things around here.

"That's the way we do things around here" . . . It all started with a pretty simple idea: "If we wouldn't want to serve it on our tables, in our homes . . . we don't want it in our stores. We must treat our customers as we would want our own families to be treated." Which means, do what is honest, fair, sincere and in the best interest of every customer. Give every customer the most good food for her money. Extend friendly satisfying service to everyone. Cheerfully refund a customer's money if for any reason any purchase is not satisfactory. And for 60 years, there's been a faithful adherence to this basic idea.

We've spent months getting ready for this great grocery sale.

That's the way we do things around here. Even with inflation and rising wholesale prices, we were determined to bring you a great grocery sale this week! Our buyers checked and rechecked. Made that extra effort. Made the commitments that would guarantee our bringing you these extraordinary values. This is the week to stock up a bit. This is the week to try the Stop & Shop way of shopping and see what we mean when we say, "We're committed to living up to our good name... to giving you the full measure of your Stop & Shopsworth. We know that if we serve you well, you'll prefer shopping at Stop & Shop."

if you wouldn't take it home yourself, don't sell it to your customers.

For more than 60 years, freshness has been a "must" with us. It's why our produce buyers shop as you do, looking for the really good, fresh fruits and vegetables. Why the flowers in our Florist Shops and the plants in all our stores are such fine values. Why we have our own bakery that turns out over 40 kinds of bread, dozens of rolls, cakes, pastries. Every item in every Stop & Shop has to be good and fresh... or it isn't good enough for you.

THAT'S THE WAY WE DO THINGS AROUND HERE.

"when you get a good deal, pass the savings on to the customer."

That's part of our policy of always giving our customers the best possible value. We pass savings on to you in hundreds of great values every week. And boy, have we got a good deal for you now! Our buyers were able to get the famous Better Homes and Gardens cooking library at a very special price. That means you'll be able to get any or all 20 volumes at very special prices at any Stop & Shop... that's the way we do things around here.

You'll find something new and delightful on almost every page of the Encyclopedia of Cooking. It's set up so you can find all the great new things, too. Everything is in alphabetical order, including a time-saving Recipe Index. Cross Referencing lets you "look it up" any way that occurs to you first. You can look for the basic food—like Abalone, or Waxed Beans. Look for the cooking method—Roasting or Frying, for instance. Or look for the name of the recipe—Cherries Jubilee, Paella. See why it's called an encyclopedia? Enjoy all the great features of the Encyclopedia of Cooking.

- Some impressive facts about our encyclopedia.
- Over 2500 pages
 - Over 4200 kitchen-tested recipes
 - Over 1500 photographs, many in full color
 - Hundreds of "how-to" illustrations
 - Each volume a handy-size 8x10 inches
 - Sturdy, washable covers—perfect for the kitchen
 - Complete Recipe Index for quick, easy reference
 - Hundreds of exciting new food ideas
 - Many international cooking sections, including:
 - Afro-American
 - Chinese
 - English
 - Mexican
 - and many more!
 - Hundreds of entries on food and food-related information

20 volumes of great facts, recipes, & food information from A to Z.

Over 4200 recipes, plus general information about food and food preparation that every cook will need: How to select and buy the best cuts of meat for your family. What to look for in really fresh vegetables. How to pick a theme for a church supper. Even how to plan low-calorie meals. The Encyclopedia of Cooking is basic enough so the novice cook can use it for guidance, yet it's thorough enough so that the most experienced cook will find plenty of interesting and challenging recipes.
