Rival factions clash near Portuguese base

LISBON, Portugal (UPI) - Communist demonstrators fought a gunbattle with pro-government marchers today outside a northern artillery base seized by left-wing troops.

The fighting, which raged from Wednesday night until early this morning, began during a pro-government march by the left-of-center Popular Democratic party.

BRISTOL (UPI) - Teachers entered the second day of their strike today, despite threats of daily fines under a temporary court injunction issued late Wednesday.

off Wednesday when teachers resumed their strike for higher salaries. The order by Judge O'Brien subjects the BFT to a daily fine of $5,000, $25 per day for each teacher and $100 daily on each of five union officials.

I-84-Wilbur Cross link two to five years away

By SOL R. COHEN Herald Reporter Once heralded as a "salvation" to Manchester business and now labeled by many as "The $20 million highway that goes nowhere," it appears that the 7.2 mile stretch of I-84 from Bolton Notch to Spencer St., won't connect to the Wilbur Cross Highway - or anywhere else - for a minimum of two years and a maximum of five to seven.

Planned in the early 1960's, started in 1968 and completed in September 1971, traffic on the multi-lane highway will continue to be dumped into Spencer St., Manchester, and then Silver Lane, East Hartford, for an indefinite time, State Sen. George Hannon, D-3rd District, said today.

On Monday, Hannon and East Hartford officials met with James Shugrue, deputy commissioner of transportation, and State Sen. J. Martin Hennessey, D-9th District, chairman of the legislature's transportation committee.

Discussed was the timetable for a connector from I-84 at Spencer St. to I-86 (the Wilbur Cross) at Tudor Village, East Hartford.

Hannon said he learned "there are all types of obstacles holding up the construction and not the least of them is the environmental impact study the federal government is insisting on."

Airmail stamps obsolete Saturday

WASHINGTON (UPI) - The Postal Service has stopped printing 13 cent air mail stamps and says it will be a waste of 3 cents to use them after Saturday.

outside the outpost in support of the rebellious troops. Troops occupying the artillery base stayed in their barracks during the fighting, but a loyalist armored column rumbled to the scene to disperse the demonstrators.

Hospital officials said two of the armored troops were injured in the fighting. Two pro-government demonstrators were reported in serious condition with bullet wounds.

Communist-backed troops took over the artillery regiment base this week to protest a crackdown by anti-Communist commanders against left-wing troops. The rebel soldiers have called for a purge of "reactionaries" in the armed forces and the fall of Portugal's new Socialist-dominated coalition cabinet.

The Popular Democrats accused the Communists of touching off the fighting. "They knew what was going to happen," a spokesman said. "They had a hand in it."

But the Communists blamed the Popular Democrats for "showing their reactionary, fascist face" and causing the violent confrontation.

The Communists have endorsed a wave of antigovernment demonstrations by left-wing soldiers and civilians. The protests have brought Portugal to the brink of civil war.

called it "tantamount to blackmail." Longo also said attorneys went to court to seek an injunction barring the walkout.

"To threaten to boycott the local merchants and banks to gain support for their unpopular cause is tantamount to blackmail and is an infantile approach to the resolution of their situation," Longo said.

The teachers returned to classes after Superior Court Judge Harold Mulvey took a personal role in resuming negotiations. Ronald O'Brien, president of the Connecticut Federation of Teachers, said the board has refused to pay the normal step increments due the teachers in September.

The BFT wants a 6.5 per cent increase in wages and benefits recommended by a non-binding arbitration panel but the school board says it can only afford a 3 per cent increase.

bigger project than originally thought. Hannon said the two-year estimate is Shugrue's and is predicated on smooth going for the required study.

The I-84 connector has become a political issue in East Hartford, with Republican mayoral hopeful Anthony Donakelli blaming incumbent Democratic Mayor Richard Blackstone for delays in the construction.

Blackstone, who is running for reelection, denies he's opposed to the connector and insists he's for its immediate construction on its own merits. What he's opposed to, explained Blackstone, is packaging the Manchester-East Hartford connector with other highways in East Hartford the Department of Transportation wants and he doesn't.

The line of least resistance There was a time when sidewalks were straight as an arrow and looked like chalklines. Now they're more aesthetic and sometimes snake their way into the distance, as this one on Hackmatack St. and another on Oakland St. Manchester public works personnel try to take advantage of trees and other natural irregularities in the path of sidewalks and draw their plans accordingly. Buckland firehouse contract now has termination codicil

By SOL R. COHEN Herald Reporter Made part of the $233,000 contract signed Wednesday for construction of the Buckland Firehouse is the town's right to terminate the contract in the event of adverse court action.

Drafted by Assistant Town Counsel Victor Moses and signed by Town Manager Robert Weiss and Joseph C. Brunoli, secretary-treasurer of Fred Brunoli &

Sons of Avon, the contractor, the provision reads as follows: "In the event the Town of Manchester is prevented from performing its obligation under the contract for construction of Fire Station No. 5 (The Buckland Firehouse) executed Oct. 8, 1975, due to an order of any court having jurisdiction, then the Town of Manchester without prejudice to any right or remedy and after giving the contractor seven (7) days written notice, terminates the employment of the contractor."

"In such an event, the contractor shall have the rights as stated in Section 14.1.1 Of A.I.A. - American Institute of Architects' Document A201, general conditions of the contract for construction referred to here and above."

"This letter is hereto attached to said and a part thereof as fully set forth therein."

Weiss explained the contractor's rights under A.I.A. general conditions protects it against any obligations he's made prior to possible termination of a contract.

Weiss said the contractor has promised to proceed slowly on its expenditures and commitments at least until after Oct. 16. On that date, town officials must "show cause" why Superior Court Judge Harold Mulvey shouldn't issue a temporary injunction against the construction.

The "show cause" order was served on town officials on behalf of Larry Noone of 327 Burnham St., leader of those petitioning the Eighth District to extend its fire protection lines into the Buckland area.

In another action brought by Noone - returnable Nov. 18 in Hartford County Superior Court - papers were served Tuesday night on town and Eighth District officials. It seeks a determination by the court concerning who has jurisdiction for fire protection in the Buckland area - the Town of Manchester or the Eighth District.

'Hey Emp, hit him on the head again'

LOS ANGELES (UPI) - Japanese Emperor Hirohito's trip to California has brought him face-to-face with two American institutions - but John Wayne didn't understand him and Mickey Mouse didn't shake hands.

Mickey, however, did make the empress giggle. The emperor, who toured Disneyland Wednesday, also ran upon a photographer who addressed the 124th direct descendant of the world's oldest royal family as "Hey, Emp."

The emperor, an internationally known marine biologist flies today to San Diego to visit the Scripps Institution of Oceanography where he was scheduled to hold scientific discussions with two leading American researchers and be given a rare specimen of marine life for his collection.

The emperor, 74, and Empress Nagako, 72, began the climactic West Coast portion of their American tour with a flight from Chicago Wednesday. The emperor observed that California seemed much sunnier than the other parts of the United States he has seen.

Among the movie star guests at a lunch hosted by Mayor Tom Bradley were Charlton Heston, Robert Goulet, Carol Lawrence and Wayne, star of many World War II movies such as "Sands of Iwo Jima" and "Back to Bataan" showing him fighting the Japanese.

When they were introduced, the 6-4 Wayne towered over the little emperor, whose head came roughly even with Wayne's elbow. The emperor stopped at Wayne's table again after lunch and shook his hand again and said a few words.

Asked what he said, Wayne responded in his characteristic drawl, "I don't know. My Japanese isn't too good."

House okays Sinai monitor plan

WASHINGTON (UPI) - The House has agreed to permit President Ford to send 200 volunteer technicians to the Sinai desert to monitor the Israeli-Egyptian disengagement accord.

The joint resolution, adopted Wednesday on a 341-69 vote, stipulates that the technicians must be civilian volunteers and may be withdrawn either by the President or Congress should another Israeli-Egypt war erupt, should their safety be jeopardized, or their mission completed.

The Senate, which was acting on a similar resolution when the House voted, planned to debate a variety of amendments today and set a final vote for 4 p.m. Friday.

State Department officials estimated it would cost $20 million to station the technicians in the Sinai this fiscal year. Passage by the Senate was certain. But problems could arise if the Senate either refused to accept several minor amendments passed by the House or passed any of its own, since the House planned to recess for a 10-day Columbus holiday early today, making any conference needed to work out differences impossible for nearly two weeks.

The Senate killed one amendment 54-23 that would have reaffirmed the 1967 United Nations resolution as the "basic policy" for seeking peace in the Middle East. The one-sided vote indicated the Senate would spurn any changes in the resolution.

During nearly five hours of debate, the House accepted only two minor amendments to the joint resolution sought for more than a month by the Administration. One amendment simply made it clear the resolution does not give the President any authority not already in existence to use American troops to rescue the U.S. technicians should that be necessary. The other urges other nations to replace some or all of the American technicians with their own personnel.

She was made an honorary member of the board and books were given in her name to the agency's library by the board and agency staff.

"In reviewing the activity for the past year," Mrs. Shainin said in her annual message as president, "the one word which best epitomizes the action is 'expansion,' expansion in order to provide even more comprehensive health services of the highest quality in a more efficient manner than was possible in the past."

MMH will provide 50 meals-on-wheels

Since the Homemakers Association was asked last May to consider establishing a meals-on-wheels service to Manchester citizens, Manchester Memorial Hospital has made a commitment for the hospital to prepare up to 50 meals a day.

Alan Mason, director of Human Services has informed the Board of Directors of the commitment to the Homemakers' board by the hospital for meals at "reasonable prices."

Candidates speak

Republican Board of Directors candidate Harry Reinhorn stated that he was "saddened at the low point in Manchester politics reached when the Democratic town directors signed the contract for the construction of the Buckland firehouse while a legal challenge to the construction is pending. In fact, the directors were served with a legal writ several hours before the signing of the contract."

Elk tours
EAST HARTFORD (UPI)— Willis C. McDonald chief executive officer of the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks, will visit Connecticut Saturday as part of a six-day visit to New England.

Town contributions to cancer fund $15,700

Memorial gifts to the Manchester Unit of the American Cancer Society totaled $15,700 during the fiscal year just ended.

Gifts to the American Cancer Society are not only made in remembrance of someone who has died of cancer, but frequently are made to honor birthdays, anniversaries and other important happy events.

Some donors have established the habit of making tribute gifts annually or at regular monthly intervals. Every gift is acknowledged with a card naming the person in whose memory or honor the contribution was made.

As these that the necessary funds might become available to support all the new projects considered necessary to follow up on new leads which have been uncovered in cancer research.

Workers hit gas line

What could have been an emergency turned into just a routine Wednesday at 11:39 a.m. when Manchester Fire Department responded to a call at 36 S. Hawthorn St.

Mr. and Mrs. William Hewitt of Saratoga, Ont., Can. visited old friends and neighbors in Manchester recently. During their visit they called upon Mr. Hewitt's sister, Mrs. Fannie Hewitt Keibish, who resides at the Manor Rest Home on W. Center St.

The course will continue for nine consecutive weeks. Participants will attempt to change their eating behavior by removing it from the level of habit to the level of conscious action.

Tri-Town Health Fair next week

VERNON

A "Tri-Town Community Health Fair," is scheduled for Oct. 18 from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. in downtown Rockville for residents of Vernon, Tolland and Ellington.

Michael McElduff of the Hockanum Valley Services Center is coordinating the fair in cooperation with several other area organizations.

The purposes of the fair are to inform the people of the three towns about the services available to meet their health-related needs; to provide some one-shot services; and to uplift community health awareness via a celebration of health.

Some of the tests to be conducted, for those who wish them, will include blood pressures, lead screening, urinalysis, eye screening, pap smears, hearing tests and breast examinations.

There will be health education films, demonstrations, brochures, information on nutrition, venereal diseases, and alcoholism.

If persons are found to need further attention they will be referred to their own doctors. Persons without a family doctor may select one from a list to be available at the fair.

The "health celebration" will be punctuated with a marching band, acrobatics, and dancing.

The Vernon Junior Women's Club is sponsoring the Pap test and breast examination clinic and those wishing to have either or both tests should call 875-2919 or 449-6660 for an appointment. The clinic is being conducted cooperatively with the American Cancer Society.

These tests will be made at Rockville General Hospital from 10 a.m. to noon and from 1 to 3 p.m. with Dr. Marjorie Parrish, local nurse, and volunteers from the Junior Women cooperating in this effort.

Educational literature on the life-saving aspect of the American Cancer Society's detection program will also be available to those being examined and a movie on self-breast examination will be shown.

The Junior Women will also have a booth on Lupus Erythematosus which is a chronic, inflammatory disease of the connective tissues which can affect the skin, the blood, or any of the major organs in the body.

The Greater Vernon Jaycees will participate in the fair with a booth to be set up to record height and weight and make comparison to the average, by sex. The club will also take and record resting pulse rates. The booth, along with others, will be set up to the rear of the Memorial Building, Park Place, Rockville.

Other groups and persons cooperating with McElduff in planning and coordinating the fair are: Rockville General Hospital, Rockville Public Health Nursing Association, Rockville Area Chamber of Commerce, the Greater Vernon Jaycees, the Rockville Area Clergy Council and Mayor Frank McCoy of Vernon, Town Manager John Harkins of Tolland and Mrs. Janet Batt, first selectman of Ellington.

Aptitude tests

The Preliminary Scholastic Aptitude Test/National Merit Scholarship Test will be administered at Rockville High School, Oct. 25.

Students taking the test should report to the high school at 8:30 a.m. The test will end about 11:30.

The guidance department recommends that all college bound juniors take the test noting it is a good prediction of how the student will do on his college boards.

Top scorers on the test are eligible for National Merit Scholarships and there is a special scholarship program for black students.

Registrations should be made in advance of the test by going to the guidance office at the high school and paying the $2.50 fee.

Glass blowers

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Esak of Becker, Mass., will present a glass blowing demonstration, Oct. 15, for the students at the Vernon Elementary School.

This will be one of a series of demonstrations planned to celebrate the Bicentennial. The glass blowers will be at the school all day to allow small groups of children to observe the demonstration.

Church women

The women of Rockville United Methodist Church will meet Oct. 15 at 8 p.m.

Kevin Krawiec and Lee Patterson, members of the Tolland Volunteer Ambulance Association will speak and demonstrate the fundamentals of first aid, cardiac pulmonary resuscitation, mouth to mouth resuscitation and give general hints on first aid and how to recognize a heart attack.

Warden to speak Sunday at Tolland livery rites

TOLLAND
Richard Hills, warden at the Brooklyn Correctional Center, will be the guest speaker at the annual Livery Service of the United Congregational Church of Tolland this Sunday.

Hills, who is a deacon of the church, will speak on "Justice," one of the eight priorities before the United Church of Christ for 1975-76. His topic will be, "Justice and our State Prisons."

Other lay people of the parish who are on the Board of Deacons, will also take part in the service.

Preceding the service, the justice priority will be the topic of discussion at the Men's Breakfast Fellowship which meets at 8 a.m.

The Rev. Donald Miller, pastor of the church, along with other delegates from the parish, will take part in the 108th annual meeting of the Connecticut Conference of the United Church of Christ which starts Friday in Wallingford.

OFF-TOWN HEADQUARTERS
An official opening of Republican headquarters in Tolland is scheduled for Saturday at 2 p.m. with former Republican Congressman Robert Steele to officiate.

The headquarters is on Rt. 105 next to the Shurway-Market. Republican candidates will be on hand. The public is invited and refreshments will be served.

Lyle Thorpe, Republican candidate for the Board of Selectmen, said the Republican party has decided against putting up any political placards or billboards affecting such signs would be unseemly considering the esthetics of the rural town.

Donna Holland 646-0375
The necessary papers have been signed making the Town of Bolton the new owner of the E.J. Holl property.

A major concern over the purchase was whether or not the town would retain the right of way to the Rosedale Beach Association, a right that was included with one of the parcels purchased.

David Dreselly, first selectman, said the town deeded the rights to the RBA so the town has no right of way.

He said financing for the land has not yet been completed. He said the town tax money was temporarily used.

Dreselly didn't have the figures on how much it will cost to bond the amount, or how much the town is losing in interest in the meanwhile.

Tag sale set
The Bolton Woman's Club ways and means committee will hold a giant tag sale Saturday from 9:30 a.m. until 4:30 p.m. at the Town Hall.

Besides the many normal tag sale items there will be used clothing, baked goods, potted plants and handcrafts for sale.

This is the committee's first fund raising event of the year. Chairman of the event are Carol Zapadka and Lorrie Baker.

New York City's crisis threat to liberalism

What would happen if New York City went bankrupt?

We are being deluged by all kinds of dire predictions and it appears that an almost-organized effort is being launched to get Uncle Sam to save Gotham.

Secretary of the Treasury William Simon almost got stomped when he suggested that a default by New York City would not be fatal to New York City or the nation.

Of course, he was talking about default from an economic point of view and was absolutely correct.

The concern for New York City's solvency is not economic but political. This is what we should remember when people like our State Treasurer Henry Parker and liberals like Rep. Yvonne Brathwaite Burke, D-Calif., start blaming rising interest rates on state and municipal bonds entirely on New York City's near-bankruptcy.

There is no disputing that to some degree the state and municipal bond market is upset by the NYC fiscal mess and that interest rates are going up but isn't it strange that those who plead NYC's cause are not speaking out on how ever-increasing federal deficits are costing taxpayers ever-increasing interest rates. In effect, if Uncle Sam were to bail out New York City, any interest savings accruing to Connecticut or Manchester in future bond sales would be offset by more costly federal borrowing. The federal budget is currently operating about $100 billion in the red for political and not economic reasons primarily.

So the need to bail out New York City is not the economic impact its bankruptcy might have on Connecticut, California or Manchester. The reality is that New York City is on the verge of economic bankruptcy because too many of its sociological programs went bankrupt long ago. When it became necessary to issue bonds to pay current expenses rather than cut back on programs or increase taxes; New York City started on the road to economic and social bankruptcy.

The dilemma facing the liberal establishment today is that their showcase of liberalism is broke. To accept this fact is to admit that many of the liberal programs which contribute to the fiscal crisis are failures.

The fiscal problem can be solved but it will require abandoning certain social programs the liberal establishment has been committed to for too long a time.

Before we rally to save New York we should look hard at those who advocate this course of action. Chances are they are not concerned so much that Connecticut bonds sell at a lower rate; but that if New York City fiscal management policies are discredited by defaulting, these same policies will be discredited elsewhere.

For Connecticut it means that if NYC goes into default, our interest rates will go up because we are using bonds to pay current expenses or pay off deficits like NYC did.

Any state using the same fiscal devices that NYC did is going to price a higher price—in the bond markets whether NYC defaults or not.

The New York City crisis is no longer merely a fiscal one. It is a crisis shaking the very roots of American liberalism.

It represents the bankruptcy of give-aways today, pay later, social experiments. And this is why there is a push to save New York City.

Thoughts on the Spanish executions

Just before I left Paris, on two successive days I watched big street demonstrations against the Spanish executions. They have hit Western Europe like an earthquake, especially among students, professional people, the Left trade unions and the media elites. The symbolic recall of West European ambassadors from Madrid, for "consultation," show the strength of feeling among liberal and Left groups on which the governments depend for support.

Urges support for Jackson

To the editor,
One of the most often heard complaints about politicians, and even of our own elected officials, is that they talk out of both sides of their mouths, and that their true positions on issues are veiled by unclear rhetoric. Sadly, this is often true. Manchester, however, has a member of the Board of Directors up for re-election who only speaks one truth, and that truth is born of her own convictions.

I am speaking of Phyllis Jackson. She is outspoken, honest, and never leaves doubt as to where she stands on an issue. Not only is her position clearly defined, but it is also well supported with the facts that determine her reasoning.

The citizens of Manchester are indeed fortunate to have a director who truly works in their behalf. Let us all stand with her now to insure her re-election on Nov. 4, to our Board of Directors.

Mayor Praised

To the editor,
Thank you Mayor Thompson. Manchester citizens might well be proud of the fact that they have overwhelmingly elected John Thompson to the Board of Directors with the result that he has been named mayor these past two administrations. Aside from the fact that Mayor Thompson and his colleagues have performed admirably in providing maximum services while clamping tight restrictions on the budget with the result that the mill rate has increased only slightly the last four years. And, aside from the fact that the Democrats led by John Thompson have performed in the open in a manner which has been both responsive and responsible, as just evidenced by the willingness to debate Mr. Wilson this last Monday.

Notwithstanding the fact that the record speaks for itself and excellent though it may be, I wish to salute our Mayor for his vision and for his courage. His vision because he dares to seek solutions for problems which weigh heavy on our community and its people. What issue affects each and every person as much as TAXES and TAX reform? And courage because he places the good of all the people first — even in an election year. This is the type leadership of which we can be well proud.

TODAY'S THOUGHT

Bring them up in the nurture and admonition of the Lord. Ephesians 6:4

This statement is addressed to fathers; the "children" is your children. Somehow over the years, many fathers and mothers have abdicated this responsibility to the Church, Sunday School, and Public Schools. It's little wonder that we get it smack in the face from T.V., "Do you know where your children are?" It's true, Church, Sunday School, and Public Schools have their place. There in Church and its related school, children meet others, hear the Word of God, and begin to live the Word with their Church friends. Also, the Public School is the practice ground for children to demonstrate their God-given lives to others who may or may not believe as they do.

But it's back here in the home where parents have great responsibility. Here are urged to "bring up your children in the nurture and admonition of the Lord." Sometimes, it's a yes; sometimes it must be a no. As age increases, we can give our reasons.

Of course this means we parents are on solid ground ourselves. We cannot talk on; we must demonstrate with our lives confidence in the Lord. If not, we have undermined the very words we hope take root. And as children see we believe what we say by our lives, the words, "children, obey your parents in the Lord, for this is right," won't be harsh for them. O' Father, in heaven, Giver of thine only begotten Son, born of Mary, help us parents and children by Thine Own nurture and admonition of Thy Word and Presence. Amen.

The derby hat is all but forgotten

WASHINGTON — It is the sort of thing one can miss. Luckily, I stopped off after work for a Guinness with a British friend who remarked after ingesting a few ounces that he had sent off an order to London for a new bowler. "It's the hat's 150th anniversary year, you know," he explained.

I congratulated him. A new hat of any kind is an adventure, but a new bowler — or derby, if you prefer — is something special to a certain type of Englishman. They do not discard styles lightly on that staunch isle, and it is good to know that there are those who still look upon a bowler with an affection that approaches reverence.

As far as America is concerned, of course, the celebration is posthumous. This has become almost strictly a nation of bareheaded men. The few hats seen are snap-brims, although a few rolled-edge jobs are seen on special occasions. The derby, as the height of manly style, is out. But then, we Americans are a fickle, dilettante sort, easily swayed by the latest in fashions briches and morning suits of purple and green polkadots, but oblivious to tradition.

alternate their concern for the plight of the purple-breasted grosbeak with anguished cries pleading for more bowlers on English heads.

Fortunately, however, the bowler does survive in the British Isles, at least in quarters where men are men. There, it is still the badge of bank checks, older men-about-town and, curiously, of gas meter readers.

Here in the U.S., the term "iron hat" has been tossed at the derby as a form of derision. But the scoffers are more precise than they know. In fact, the bowler was created as a protective device. Its inventor was a steeplechase devotee named William Coke, who designed it as a crash helmet to preserve the skulls of his horse countrymen involved in falls from horseback.

the century through the Twenties. We called it a derby for the good reason that it was created by a South Norwalk, Conn., artist who gave it that name in honor of Lord Derby, a prominent British sportsman and a leading proponent of English heads.

Al Smith's brown job was the most famous of all on this side of the Atlantic. A Hollywood restaurant was built in its image and prospered for years. The late New York Mayor Jimmy Walker wore it with elan, as he wore everything, and so did the late Dean Acheson when he was Secretary of State. President John Kennedy bought a derby but wore it only once, to a wedding. Then Jackie threw it away.

In some American quarters, the derby was put to the use intended by its inventor. Bricklayers and other construction workers swore by it as insurance against the hazard of falling objects. It was resistant to the hardest thrown snowball. In tougher neighborhoods, the derby saved many a cranium from shattering under the blow of a cask.

Today, the derby is all but forgotten in America, a kind of extinct species in a land where males apparently believe that lost youth can be recaptured if they do up like a Restoration coxcomb and use the right perfumes. But as an old Irishman back home in Massachusetts once put it: "How can a man look respectful at a real nice funeral without a derby?"

Author to lecture on Franklins

Claude-Anne Lopez, an editor of the Benjamin Franklin Papers, Yale University, will speak on "A Divided Family: The Franklins During the Revolution" at the Manchester Community College auditorium Wednesday, Oct. 15 at 8 p.m. The MCC Institute of Local History's Bicentennial Committee and the Manchester Historical Society are co-sponsors of the talk.

The American Revolution brought to the breaking point a conflict that had long been deepening between Benjamin Franklin and his son, William, governor of New Jersey. William's loyalty to the crown was as unshakable as his father's belief in the colonies' right and need to be independent.

Have you ever seen VOHOC on a license plate while driving? Vera Osborn's friends recognize it immediately. She is the woman who makes delicious desserts using liquor. The first two letters are her initials. The last three HOC might well stand for an involuntary reaction after eating a slice of brandy alexander or peach daiquiri pie.

Vera began her collection of specialized recipes while waiting through a magazine in a waiting room. She came upon a recipe for grasshopper pie. That was her first alcoholic concoction. If you were to look through her recipes today, you'd be hard put to make a choice.

Vera and her husband Chester live at 89 Overbrook Dr., Vernon, with their beautiful chocolate-brown Shetland cat, Skipper. Stays in the house and is only outside on a leash so there is no interference with the beautiful birds who frequent the two feeders just outside the picture window in the dining room.

Vera is coordinator of the Language, Speech and Hearing Department for the Manchester Public Schools. She began her career as a classroom teacher in 1955. In addition to her administrative duties, she carries a full case load of young people at Bentley School.

The problems of children with speech and hearing became apparent to Vera many years ago. She speaks in a pleasant, well-modulated voice, easy to understand and pleasing to the ear. The children with whom she works are those who do not understand what is said to them, or who have difficulty processing what is said to them or who have difficulty expressing themselves.

A guest for dinner at the Osborn's is apt to find that each dish in the meal will have been cooked with some type of liquor or beer. For example, chicken breasts rubbed with brandy while raw - later to be simmered in cream and dry chery, and Topsy Carrots.

2 one-pound cans small whole carrots, drained or cooked fresh carrots
2 tablespoons margarine
1 package chocolate cake mix
1 package chocolate instant pudding
1/2 cup cooking oil
1/2 cup coffee brandy
1/2 cup vodka
1/2 cup milk
4 eggs

Mix all ingredients and beat four minutes at medium speed. Pour into well-greased, lightly floured bundt pan or 9" tube pan. Bake at 350 degrees for 45 minutes or until done. Cool in pan five minutes before turning out on rack or until done. Let cool in pan 10 minutes. Remove and place on rack. Dust with confectioners sugar or frost with: Sombroero glaze
1 1/2 tablespoons vodka
1 1/2 tablespoons coffee brandy
1/2 cup confectioners milk
1 cup confectioners sugar
Mix and drizzle over warm cake.

Rockville water firm chided at hearing

VERNON
A public hearing Wednesday in Vernon on a 27.7 per cent rate hike requested by Rockville Water & Aqueduct Co. drew sharp criticism from town officials and private residents. Mayor Frank McCoy chastized the company for filing the request for an increase just three months after the Public Utilities Commission, which conducted the hearing, had approved, in part, a rate increase requested earlier in the year. The water company was granted a 176 per cent rate increase in 1970 to help pay for a $2 million treatment plant it installed after the quality, taste, and color of the water which comes from Snipsic Lake in Tolland.

W. Neal McKenzie, president of the water company, reminded those present that users have been faced with only increases amounting to 6.4 per cent since 1970. He said only 2.9 per cent of the rate hike granted earlier this year had to be borne by the customers as much of the hike was paid for by Connecticut Water Co. which is a customer of Rockville Water & Aqueduct. A recent "cost-of-service" study ordered by the PUC when the water company filed its most recent request, included a rate increase for minimum users but with the highest increases slated for those customers using more water. Town Attorney Abbot Schwebel contends that the report failed to comply with the PUC order to determine fair rates for the company's 4,100 users. Mayor McCoy noted that the increase, if granted, would mean that the town would have to pay an additional $28,000 per year for fire hydrant costs. He termed the request "outrageous and completely unwarranted and unjustified." Other persons speaking complained about the condition of the water, the poor services, and what they termed already excessive rates.

Grant to speed pollution work

VERNON
The town of Vernon is among 58 Connecticut towns which will have their water and sewer projects speeded up through a $227,000 grant coming from the New England Regional Commission, Governor Ella Grasso announced yesterday. The town of Vernon was ordered several years ago for to improve its sewage treatment plant to abate pollution of the Hockanum River. The new grant will be used to hire 20 additional Department of Environmental Protection (DEP) employees to speed the paperwork, red tape and preliminaries in an effort to move all 58 projects within two years. The total cost of all of the projects is $250 million, with Vernon's new plant expected to cost about $10.5 million, 75 per cent of which will be paid from federal funding and the rest from state and local funds. Final plans for Vernon's project have been approved by DEP and it is expected his will go out within the next week or two, Stanley Roessler, director of administration said.

The Wall: Biggest obstacle for Cincinnati Reds

BOSTON (UPI) - The Cincinnati Reds could wind up butting their heads against the wall the same way the Oakland A's did. Same wall, too. Chances are they will, because outside of Merv Rettenmund and Terry Crowley (both of whom used to be with Baltimore) the rest of the Reds never had any experience with, or even have seen, The Wall. The Reds' scouts probably have told them the A's were beaten as much by The Wall in the American League's first two playoff games here last Saturday and Sunday as they were by Luis Tiant and Carl Yastrzemski. If their scouts didn't tell them that, Sal Bando could. "The Wall cut down our power, our speed and our pitching efficiency," said the A's' captain-third baseman. "A number of the balls we hit The Wall would've gone out anywhere else. Our speed also was cut down because The Wall allowed their outfielders to play in close. And our pitchers wanted to make certain good pitches, but they knew they could still be hurt because the Boston hitters could hit The Wall with them."

All this by Sal Bando was sour grapes. Personally he did all right with The Wall, hitting it four times for as many base hits in Sunday's defeat, yet he as well as other members of the A's felt The Wall had ruined them. Reds' manager Sparky Anderson never has been inside Fenway Park, so the only thing he knows about The Wall is what he has read about it or what he has seen of it on TV. He realizes it could be the key to this World Series. "Taking a pencil and piece of paper on his desk after his club wrapped up the pennant in Pittsburgh Tuesday night the Reds' manager drew a rectangle which was supposed to represent The Wall. "I've never seen it, so I don't know what to expect," he said, "but what I understand is that you have to bring your center fielder in like this anytime a ball is hit off the wall and bring your shortstop back this way, like a trap play in football." Roughly speaking, that's the way to play balls that hit The Wall. Except for one minor detail. They don't always bounce back the same way. They take some tricky caroms sometimes and, every time they do, you have a picture of outfielders and infielders on the opposing club going in six different directions, all trying to chase down the ball. The Wall is 37 feet high, but only the lower 12 feet is made of concrete with the upper portion made of metal-like sheets all riveted together. If the ball hits the concrete portion, it bounces back one way; if it strikes the upper portion, it comes back another way. With his back to The Wall, the left fielder can't always be sure what part of The Wall the ball will hit.

Complicating matters is the fact that there is a recessed ladder built into The Wall so that someone can climb up it and retrieve those balls hit into the nets above. There is also a scoreboard built into The Wall. The scoreboard has grooves where the numbers are posted and you can imagine what happens any time a ball hits one of these grooves. Rival outfielders, and some opposing third basemen and shortstops as well, invariably have trouble with The Wall, especially the first time they come up against it. Among the Reds, Pete Rose probably is most anxious for a look at it. Positive thinker that he is, he feels The Wall might work out to some advantage for a couple of the Reds' left-handed hitters like Ken Griffey and Cesar Geronimo and even himself when he's hitting from that side of the plate.

Thoughts ApLEnty

Won't repeat
Unless there's a dramatic turnaround soon, Manchester High will not successfully defend its CCIL soccer championship this year. The Indian boosters have either won outright or shared the crown the past three campaigns. Heading the pack at the present is a veteran Wetherfield club with Enfield in close pursuit. Both are senior dominated outfits which have pinned defeats on the Silk Towers, their only setbacks. It's been a transitional year for Coach Dick Danielson who at times has gone with as many as five sophomores in the lineup. They have performed well over-all and have become the backbone of the team according to the 29-year mentor but their lack of experience has been obvious in places. Some veteran upperclassmen have not played as expected and this disappointment Danielson. "This year we should have been hungry but it looks like if we're going to do something it will be next year," the second winningest coach in the state commented. One player who has done as expected is senior Captain Bruce Ballard who has been shifted from fullback to forward back to fullback in a number of games. Trying to get some more scoring punch, Ballard was moved to the front line but as yet he hasn't dented the twine. His defensive prowess is unquestioned however. He is one of the better fullbacks in the CCIL and should gain all-league honors. One observation does come out of this season. Manchester fans for the past three years were spoiled by Ray Sullivan. More and more it becomes evident that Sullivan was a superior goalie with exceptional skills and it's unfair to compare any succeeding netminders with him. Brian Beggs has shown improvement in the net which is all you can ask of any player in a position he never played before. Wetherfield seems to have the inside track on its first league title since 1969 but Enfield, a second year member, still can have a bearing on the final decision. With two losses now, Manchester has an outside shot but if not this season maybe in 1976 the Indians will stand to an accustomed spot - atop the final CCIL rankings.

Tiant to open for Sox

BOSTON (UPI) - Bostonians can't think about losing, state budget problems or even the New England Patriots today. The Red Sox are the American League champions and that's what counts. Less than an hour after the Red Sox clinched the title in Oakland Tuesday night, fans began lining up for a 34-hour wait to buy 2,500 standing-room-only and bleacher-seat tickets to the World Series. Andy Harp, a 25-year-old trumpet player from Weylesley, Mass., was the first in line, braving two cold New England nights on the sidewalk. "We're fans, for crying out loud," said John Hathaway, 23. "That's why we're here. I gotta go to work. The real Sox fans are sitting out here on the sidewalk tonight, not home reading Ellery Queen."

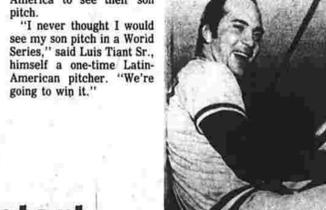

The Big Green Monster at Fenway Park
In the foreground Joe Mooney, chief groundskeeper, gets the Fenway Park infield in shape for Saturday's World Series opener. The infamous Wall is what the Cincinnati Reds might find themselves butting their heads against.

Some 3,000 boisterous fans were at the airport early Wednesday morning to greet their heroes and wish them well on the last leg of their battle which begins Saturday - the World Series opener against the National League champion Cincinnati Reds. Wary of the night game, celebrating and cross-country flight, the players spent Tuesday resting. The Red Sox announced Wednesday Luis Tiant, ace of the mound, will open the series for Boston, Tiant, 19-14, scored a crucial win in the opening game of the series with Oakland. He has a special incentive Saturday - the World Series parents are in the United States on a special visa from Cuba, arranged by Sens. Edward Brooke R-Mass., and George S. McGovern, D-S.C. Tiant asked Premier Fidel Castro to allow them to come to America to see their son pitch. "I've never thought I would see my son pitch in a World Series," said Luis Tiant Sr., himself a one-time Latin-American pitcher. "We're going to win it."

Dark expected back as Oakland manager
OAKLAND (UPI) - Charlie Finley is busy in New York the rest of this week as the main witness in a damage suit involving securities violations, and he will go to Boston during the weekend to catch the World Series between the Reds and Red Sox. But when the case and series are over, he will get around to formally signing Alvin Dark as manager of his Oakland A's for another season. For the first time in four years Finley's A's aren't participants in the World Series, having been swept three straight by the Red Sox, and Charlie is as disappointed as anyone. But he isn't bitter, and in Dark's case that's all for the good. In the past Finley has fired managers for less, but he said before the American League Playoffs that he thought "The preacher (Finley's affectionate term for Alvin) has done a masterful job of managing my team and he deserves a lot of credit." It was no kiss of death, Finley, while as different than Dark as night is from day, gets along very well with Alvin. The two in fact may have the best relationship of any general manager-owner and field manager. Of course, that's due to the fact that Dark never makes a move of any consequence without first checking Finley. Usually, though, Finley goes along and the times he has disagreed with Dark have been few and most of the time not big enough to cause Alvin to become upset and want to quit. Finley, speaking of the A's loss to the Red Sox, said "Our defense hurt us. I think everyone saw that. It beat us in the first and third games and no pitcher in the world can survive that kind of play, not even Catfish Hunter. There are many who believe that if Hunter had not been lost to the A's over a contract squabble with Finley that eventually made him a free agent, Oakland would have beaten Boston in the playoffs. Finley said he and Dark were in complete agreement during the playoffs. "We did our best and I'm not criticizing anyone," he said. "The Red Sox played better baseball and for three games at least they were a better team. We tried our best and it wasn't good enough and while all of us are upset, we certainly aren't down. We'll be back next year. We'll be hitting wrong with our club that a couple of small changes won't cure. Those last words were virtually the same ones Dark expressed after the A's were eliminated by the Red Sox Tuesday night. "No one should be too critical of our team," Dark said. "Boston is a good club, a very good club, but I wouldn't go so far as to say they are better than we are. They played better for three games and that's why they are going to the series instead of us. We'll be back next year and we'll be fighting for the championship again."

Illing triumphs
Improving its record to 4-1 the Illing Junior High soccer team downed Coventry, 2-1, yesterday. Pete Krupp and Joe Foran scored for Illing while Coventry's tally came on a penalty kick. Next game for Illing is Saturday morning at 10 against cross-town Bennet.

Here's the real thing is exactly right as Cincinnati Reds' star catcher Johnny Bench sits and relaxes on top of the world waiting to take on the Boston Red Sox.

Reds back to work preparing for Sox
CINCINNATI (UPI) - After a day of "rest" that included a boisterous pre-down town party, the Cincinnati Reds went back to work today to prepare for Saturday's World Series opener against the Red Sox in Boston. Manager Sparky Anderson called the team for an 11 a.m. workout at Riverfront Stadium - the only home field practice before Friday's departure for Boston. The Reds, like the Red Sox, will be able to start their "ace" pitcher in the opener, thanks to winning the pennant in just three games. Lethander Don Gullett, who went the distance in last Saturday's first playoff game against the Pittsburgh Pirates, will oppose Luis Tiant, who was brilliant in Boston's opening win over Oakland in the American League playoffs. After winning the National League pennant Tuesday night in Pittsburgh, the Reds' victory celebration spilled over into Wednesday's scheduled day of rest. The Reds whooped it up with a champagne party in the clubhouse and flew to Cincinnati in Wednesday's pre-down hours. They were immediately used to downtown Fountain Square, where several thousand people had been partying on beer for several hours. By the time the Reds were introduced to the cheering through it was already a.m. The crowd, which grew to an estimated 5,000 to 7,000 persons, acted like the Reds had already won the World Series instead of the pennant. Police generally did not interfere with the celebration but there were 20 arrests on charges including disorderly conduct, resisting arrest and assaults on police officers. A lot of the celebrants were drinking beer and empty beer cans were hurled toward the huge, lighted fountain on the square. Firecrackers popped regularly. The crowd finally began waiting away shortly after the last player was introduced at about 4 a.m., but the cans, bottles and litter left behind gave streetcleaners very little reason to relish the Reds success.

Reds 2-3 favorites
RENO, Nev. (UPI) - Harrah's Reno-Tahoe Racebook Wednesday installed the National League Champion Cincinnati Reds as 5-6 favorites to win Saturday's opening game of the 1975 World Series against the American League Champion Boston Red Sox. The Racebook also made the Reds 2-3 favorites to win the best-of-seven series, even though the first two games will be played in Boston's Fenway Park with its "Monster" green wall in leftfield. The third, fourth and fifth games are scheduled for Cincinnati's Riverfront Stadium next Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday nights and if sixth and seventh games are necessary, they will be played in Fenway Park next Saturday and Sunday. Both teams won their respective league pennants with 3-0 sweeps - the Reds beating the Pittsburgh Pirates and the Red Sox knocking off the three-time world champion Oakland A's.

No major trades planned by Bucs
PITTSBURGH (UPI) - Joe L. Brown, general manager of the Pittsburgh Pirates, said today he did not plan to make any big deals this winter. Brown admitted the Pirates, beaten by the Cincinnati Reds for the National League championship in three straight games, could use more speed and defense but said "there won't be any wholesale changes. Brown said he was not going to trade a Stargell or an Oliver or Parker just because of what happened in the playoffs. Oliver, who hit a two-run homer in the third game of the playoffs, told some writers after the game that he expects to be traded during the off season. Manager Danny Murtaugh refused to say whether he would be back next year. However, the job is his as long as he wants it. Pete Krupp and Joe Foran scored for Illing while Coventry's tally came on a penalty kick. Next game for Illing is Saturday morning at 10 against cross-town Bennet.

Bennet unbeaten
Extending its winning streak to four, the Bennet Junior High soccer team whitewashed the Glastonbury High freshmen, 4-0, yesterday. The Bears got off the mark quickly with Rob Saunders taking a pass from Steve Fitzsimmons and denting the net for the first score. Fitzsimmons shortly after made it a 2-0 bulge with an assist from Saunders. Taking a pass from Jack Medzela, Fitzsimmons scored his second of the game and fifth of the season to make it 3-0. Joe Lovell scored Bennet's final goal. Ron Apler got credit for the shutout in the nets with Craig Eagleson, Wald Adams and Nht Nguyen also playing well.

Hoganson gets start

HARTFORD (UPI) - Paul Hoganson will be the New England Whalers' starting goaltender in Saturday night's regular season opener against the Houston Aeros and Gordie Howe. Whalers' Coach Jack Kelley said Wednesday Hoganson, one of the last players to sign with the World Hockey Association team this year, earned the starting assignment with his play in exhibition games. Hoganson posted impressive goaltending statistics. The Whalers ran up a 3-1 pre-season record. Hoganson allowed only four goals in the four periods he worked, Kelley said. "At this point in the training camp season, Paul has been steady with his work in exhibition play," Kelley said. Hoganson beat out Bruce Landau, a Whalers backup goalie last year, and Christer Abrahamson, who underwent surgery last December and did not play for the rest of the season. The Whalers' starting goalie last year, Al Smith was given an unconditional release. The Whalers were minus two players during practice Wednesday. Rostislav Pajmunt was in Earlton, Ontario, for the funeral of his mother-in-law. He was expected to arrive in Hartford late Friday. Veteran defenseman Doug Roberts was a casualty in the club's 7-4 victory in Quebec this week. He jammed his left shoulder in the glass, slightly separating it. Trainer Joe Altott said Roberts should be on the bench between 10 to 14 days.

Canadiens blitz NHL Kings

NEW YORK (UPI) — It took almost five months last season for the Montreal Canadiens to show their dominance over the Los Angeles Kings in the Norris Division.

This year, it has taken the Canadiens one night.

The Canadiens and Kings collided in Montreal Wednesday night to open the National Hockey League season — and when the ice had lifted, only the Canadiens were left standing. The Kings were not only knocked out, they were buried.

Montreal rolled to a 9-0 bludgeoning of Los Angeles as four players scored two goals apiece. Ken Dryden, who "slumped" to a 2.69 goals against average last season, shut out 28 shots for the Kings.

In other games, Detroit tied St. Louis and the New York Rangers tied Kansas City with 1-1 scores. The New York Rangers and Chicago Black Hawks tied 2-2. California mimped Atlanta 4-3, and Minnesota topped Vancouver 3-2.

The Kings keyed their entire strategy last season on stopping the opposition and went the first 15 games without a loss in building a comfortable first place margin on the Canadiens. Montreal wasn't able to rev up into playoff form until January and caught Los Angeles at the end of the month never to look back.

The Canadiens won the division by eight points — even though the Kings posted 105 points for their best season ever. The Los Angeles netminder, Doug Gilmour, and goalie Gary Edwards posted the second lowest goals against average in the league at 2.21 but the Kings' season was a short one anyway as they were knocked out in the playoff qualifying round by underdog Toronto.

To revitalize the King attack, Los Angeles owner Jack Kent Cooke signed Detroit free agent Marcel Dionne the league's third leading scorer last season, to a multi-year multi-million dollar contract.

Dionne's role was to supply punch to the toothless Los Angeles attack. After one night, the new and improved Kings are not quite that. And the guy who suffered the most was goaltender Vachon, who was bombarded with 48 shots, as his defense took an opening night sabbatical.

Guy Lafleur, Bob Gainey, Jim Roberts and Jacques Lemaire all scored twice while Yann Cournoyer tallied once for Montreal.

Red Wings 1, Blues 1
Bill Lochead scored with just 1:55 left in the game to secure Detroit the tie in the season opener for both teams. Chuck Letley snapped a scoreless shutout at 3:05 of the final period on an assist from former Red Wing Red Berenson. The Blues held a 34-19 shot advantage in the contest.

Rangers 2, Blackhawks 2
Rick Middleton banged home a rebound on a power play midway through the third period to give New York its tie with Chicago. Bill Fairbairn gave the Rangers a 1-0 lead early in the second period before Ivan Boldirev and Bobby Sheehan rifled home goals for the Chicago lead.

Scouts 1, Islanders 1
Guy Charron scored a first period goal for Kansas City and Billy Harris matched it in the second for New York for the third tie of the night. A New York goal with 42 seconds left in the game was washed out when the referee ruled it was batted in by a high stick.

Seals 4, Flames 3
Rookie defenseman Bob Murdoch capped a three-goal California burst in the second period to give the Seals a rare road victory. Centers Larry Patey, Ralph Klussen and Dave Gardner scored the other California goals while Tom Lysiak tallied twice for Atlanta.

Canucks 3, North Stars 2
Gerry O'Flaherty scored with 4:54 left to give Vancouver its victory and spoil Red Harris' debut as coach of Minnesota. Goalies Lou Nanne and Dennis Hextall gave the North Stars 1-0 and 2-1 leads before Don Lever and O'Flaherty scored in the final 12 minutes for the Canucks.

Lots of players in the act
The Montreal Canadiens swarmed in front of the Los Angeles Kings' net with Jacques Lemaire (with helmet) poking home a short shot. Yann Cournoyer (12), Murray Wilson (17) of Montreal and Neil Komadoski (23), Mike Murphy (7) and goalie Rogie Vachon defend for Kings.

Nicklaus, Weiskopf finally get to play

COLUMBUS, Ohio (UPI) — Jack Nicklaus and Tom Weiskopf, the 1-2 money winners on the PGA tour, finally got into action today in the windup of the three-day $117,500 International All-Star Match.

The nation's outstanding pro golfers have been standing on the sidelines the last two days watching the 14 other players from around the world battle at Nicklaus' nearby new Muirfield

Village Golf Club for the other two semifinal berths.

When play ended through a steady rain Wednesday afternoon, Bob Stanton had won his way to oppose Weiskopf and Jerry Heard advanced to the semifinal round against All-Star Match.

Weiskopf now lives nearby. The winners of the semis will meet in the afternoon, with the two seeds having a good chance of being the players aiming for the $25,000 first prize. The runnerup will get $12,500. The two second losers also will be playing, and will get checks for $12,500 and $10,000.

The best golf was shown by Tom Kite in the morning matches. The Texas was four under par in outting Forrest Fezler 5 and 3. The prior day Kite in the afternoon had defeated 23 year-old Wake Forest graduate Eddie Pearce 1-1.

Stanton, from Australia, took 19 holes to defeat J.C. Snead of West Virginia and then went on to beat Tomum Irie of Japan 3 and 1. Irie, who turned pro last May, had ousted John O'Leary of Ireland 3 and 2 in the morning matches.

Elder grabs lead

INZAIMACHI, Japan, Oct. 9 (UPI) — American Lee Elder fired a four under par 67 today and grabbed a one-stroke lead in the $300,000 1975 Tahito Club Masters golf tournament.

Elder shot four birdies while the single bogey for his 33-47 on the difficult 7,187 yard par 35-71 Sobhu Country Club course to lead an international field of 71 pros and five amateurs.

One stroke behind Elder were American pros Jim Simons and Rick Mastenagale and veteran Japanese pro Shozo Miyamoto, who was in the same threesome with Elder.

Defending champion Gene Littler, winner of last year's $65,000 first prize, shot a two under-par 69 and was in a fifth place tie with young Japanese pros Takashi Karahara and Yasuhito Miyamoto and American pro Allen Miller.

Elder, who was in a sixth place tie last year, sank birdie putts of four feet on the seventh hole, 15 on the ninth, three on the 11th and eight on the 12th. He missed a three foot birdie putt on the eighth but had five one-putt pars.

"I hit my ball real well today and my putting was good," Elder said. "But I want to attribute my satisfactory scores to the wonderful weather we had and the course was perfect."

Simpson paces AFC in rushing yardage

NEW YORK (UPI) — The Buffalo Bills are 3-0 and lead the National Football League in points scored with 110. To know why, all you have to do is look at their rushers.

O.J. Simpson, who became the NFL's all-time leading ground game leader last season two years ago, is bidding for another season like 1973, what's been a big help to him this year has been the running of Jim Braxton.

The pair are leading the American Football Conference in rushing, although Simpson is way ahead for individual honors. It's Braxton's running that is keeping the opposing defense from keying on O.J.

Simpson has picked up 538 yards on 86 carries for a 6.3 yards-per-carry average, while Braxton has 243 yards from 46 carries for a 5.3 average.

The pair are also tied with Miami's Don Nottingham, the New York Jets' Rich Caster and Cincinnati's Isaac Curtis for touchdowns scored with four apiece.

Ray Guy is the leading punter with a 45.4 yard average for Oakland; Bill Thompson of Denver is tops at returning punts with a 17.0 yard average. While Harold Hart is the AFC's best kickoff returner with a 53.0 average.

Kansas City's Jan Stenerud tops the kickers in scoring with 31 points; Cincinnati's Ken Anderson is the top passer; Lydell Mitchell is the leading pass receiver with 16 catches and Dwight Harrison, also on Buffalo, is the interception leader with four pickoffs.

Atlanta has won only one of its first three games — but it's not because Dave Hampton hasn't been trying.

Hampton, the Falcons' premier runner, has been the National Football Conference's best so far, too. Three years ago, Hampton rushed for 897 yards; one year later, the total was 995. Only hip problems and thigh muscle surgery prevented another assault on the 1,000 yard mark in 1974.

MCC booters win

With Bob Swede scoring two goals early in the first half and goalie Dave Treschuk registering his second consecutive shutout, the Manchester Community College soccer team blanked Springfield Technical College, 5-0, yesterday at Cougar Field.

Swede got his first goal 1:45 into the first half assisted by Bob Henry. Ten minutes later, Swede took a pass from Tim McConville and found the back of the net for a 2-0 edge.

Henry scored two goals later, giving his eight for the year and the team leadership. Tim Cyr assisted on Henry's first score. Ken Jones added the final score at the 21:04 mark of the second half.

MCC, now 5-2 for the season, outshot the 2-2 losers, 46-29. Treschuk was called on to make 14 saves.

Cougar harriers notch three wins

Winning three and losing one yesterday was the Manchester Community College cross country team. The Cougars topped the University of Hartford, 24-31, Mattatuck Community College, 23-32, and Northwestern Community College, 18-37, and lost to the University of New Haven, 26-36.

New Haven's Joe Kingston was the first harrier across the tape with a clocking of 26:28 over the five-mile course. Former MCC harrier Larry Wokovsky now running for the University of Hartford placed second.

Freshman standout Bruce Caldwell took third place for the Cougars and Brian Collins was fifth.

MCC is now 4-2 for the season. Results: 1. Kingston (NH) 26:28, 2. Wokovsky (HI), Caldwell (MCC), 4. Shultz (NH), 5. Collins (MCC), 6. Stewart (Matt), 7. Thomson (NH), 8. Wilson (NH), 9. Popolizio (NH), 10. Williams (Matt).

Issel moves on to Denver

DENVER (UPI) — Denver Nuggets General Manager Carl Scheer says he would like to be considered a genius, but he will settle for being "just plain lucky."

Scheer Wednesday acquired high-scoring forward Dan Issel, an All-ABA selection in four of his five years in the league, from the Baltimore Colts for center Dave Robisch and $900,000.

The trade was forced by the disclosure that 7-foot center Marvin Webster, the Nuggets' No. 1 draft choice may miss the entire season. He has developed a form of hepatitis a disease which forced him to miss part of his junior year at Morgan State.

Scheer said that Webster was healthy, he would have to work some kind of a trade because Denver could not afford the salaries of Webster, Issel, rookie David Thompson and second-year forward Bobby Jones.

As for the Issel trade, Scheer wouldn't take full credit. "This trade was nothing we planned on my part," said Scheer. "We were just very, very lucky. We were unlucky in Webster getting sick but if you just stay in there and wait these things will even out. We were just plain lucky."

Issel was traded last month from the Kentucky Colonels to Baltimore. Issel, who starred at the University of Kentucky, was trade over the deal and threatened to refuse to report.

Finally, the 6-9 veteran, with the Colonels' since turning pro, agreed to terms with Baltimore but was not still happy. So John Y. Brown, the husband of the majority owner of the Colonels and the president of the ABA, talked Baltimore into trading Issel to Denver.

"He called me two days ago after a tennis in the morning," said Scheer. "And said Issel belonged in Denver. Until then I was something but we had no idea that Issel was available."

Muscle and quickness keys for Eagle, Tribe gridders

Muscle and quickness will play key roles Saturday when Manchester High and East Catholic venture into football action.

The 1-3 Indians travel to West Hartford to take on CCIL foe Conard High at 1:30 while the 2-2 Eagles face a stern test in unbeaten HCC leader St. Bernard at Mt. Nebo at 7:30.

Tribe Coach Larry Olsen reported only 23 healthy bodies were available for Tuesday's practice session. Several players were hurt in last Monday's joyous game while others have been slowed down by illness. "We did a lot of drilling with what we had," Olsen noted. The third-year coach voiced belief some will be back for action but how many is questionable.

Manchester dominated Wethersfield last week but still wound up on the short end of a 7-6 score. One good sign is that the players haven't gotten down on themselves or thought of last year's disastrous campaign, Olsen observed.

"This week's game will be won and lost in the line," Olsen stated. "The defensive line will have to be consistent and solid and offensively we're going to have to get off the ball quickly. Conard has a quick defensive line."

Heading the defensive line charge is John Madden at middle guard and end Rick Walsh. They along with Mike Taylor, Bob Hawkes and Mike Demers did a good job rushing the passer against Wethersfield but this week their task is to stop the inside running game of Conard.

Against Wethersfield breakdowns in the kicking game, one blocked punt — missed extra point — blocked field goal attempt, doomed the Indians' chances. What made matters worse, films showed it was mistakes by veterans which caused the failures.

"Over-all I wasn't displeased with our performance. We got our offense moving but now we have to be more consistent," commented Olsen. "The goal line is not a big formidable object but when you get close it boils down to blocking. If we get the blocking we should go in. And if you don't score you don't win."

St. Bernard comes to town with a 4-0 mark, 2-0 in the HCC, with an explosive offense highlighted by all-state wide receiver candidate Arnie Pinkston. That is what Coach John LaFontana's Eagles will have to offset.

"St. Bernard looks like a slightly toned down version of Xavier," the third-year mentor analyzed. "Their emphasis is on quickness. They will every time take a quick player over a heavier one. And they exploit mistakes very well. We're going to have to cut down on ours. Our rough es-time showed we should've had three touchdowns against Rockville (not just one)."

The assignment of covering Pinkston will probably go to 6-4, 200-pound senior Mike Nolen. East's best pass defender. In last year's 29-12 win by the Saints, Pinkston caught two TD passes versus Nolen. It will be a challenge to see who wins this individual duel.

LaFontana foresees problems running options and pitches outside against the Uncasville-based club because of its quickness. Therefore the Eagles will try to go inside with bruising 6-4, 200-pound fullback Kevin Shorey likely to get plenty of duty. "We have to control the ball inside and hold onto it. They are like sharks. They see a loose ball and go after it intensely. Our passing game is also going to have to get a lot better. It has to be sharp because St. Bernard has a good defensive backfield."

Our offensive line which includes Kevin Kehoe, Emile Grondin and Dave Manna has cut down on mistakes but will have had relapses. One day at one time everything will jell. Our line isn't intimidated by anybody but mistakes."

Denver (UPI) — Rookie David Thompson shrugged off a first quarter injury and scored 12 points in the last period to lead the ABA Denver Nuggets to a 115-110 exhibition win over the NBA Seattle SuperSonics Wednesday night.

Thompson was helped off the floor with 4:28 left in the first quarter when he fell on his head while making a dunk shot. However, he returned the second half and led the Nuggets with 31 points.

On Wednesday, the Patriots signed 5-foot-11, 195-pound speedster Mel Baker, released by the New Orleans Saints earlier this year. After he was drafted in the 8th round out of Texas Southern, Baker played nine games for the Miami Dolphins in the 1974-75 season. He was regarded as one of their fastest players.

Nuggets win

DENVER (UPI) — Rookie David Thompson shrugged off a first quarter injury and scored 12 points in the last period to lead the ABA Denver Nuggets to a 115-110 exhibition win over the NBA Seattle SuperSonics Wednesday night.

Fire prevention stressed by Coventry firemen

Monica Shea

Both North and South Coventry Fire Departments are promoting an extensive program for fire prevention week.

Students in kindergarten through second grade at the Coventry Grammar School are competing in a Fire Prevention Poster Contest. Each grade level winner will receive a $25 savings bond. The fire trucks from South Coventry Fire Department have visited the Robertson Grammar School and the department men have issued fire helmets to the students in kindergarten and first and second grades. Literature has also been distributed to the teachers so that they can further instruct the children to fire prevention. The South Coventry Fire Department took the ambulance to the third and fourth graders at both grammar schools to acquaint them with the ambulance and how it operates in case the children would ever have to ride in one. On Wednesday and Thursday the children from St. Mary's Nursery School will visit the South Coventry Fire Department for demonstration of fire equipment. North Coventry Fire Department will hold an open house Sunday from 2 to 4 p.m. All trucks will be on display unless there is a fire call. The department will offer for sale, dry chemical fire extinguishers. The Ladies Auxiliary will provide refreshments. The South Coventry Fire Department will hold an open house on Sunday from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. The trucks will be on display and will be demonstrated by the firemen. All of the department personnel are volunteers and contribute their time to protecting the citizens of Coventry against fire.

Vernon to formulate anti-bias job plan

VERNON
The Vernon Town Council has adopted a resolution which will now go to Stanley Roessler, director of administration, for preparation of an Affirmative Action Program for Vernon. Mayor Frank McCoy said the town did adopt an affirmative action plan for its sewer installation program but "it now appears that unless we formulate a written affirmative action plan we will continue to be criticized." He said the Capitol Region Council of Governments has agreed that the plan could be written in general terms. The plan prohibits discrimination because of race, creed, color, religion, sex, national origin, age, in any achieving results from the Affirmative Action Program; serve as a liaison between the town, government, regulatory agencies, minority and women's organizations, and other community groups; and to make sure that current legal information affecting affirmative action is disseminated to responsible officials. All department heads will also be mandated to cooperate with the director of administration in formulating the program. He is also to report to the

DOONA HOLLAND

Barrel burning in Bolton is prohibited said Calvin Hutchinson and Elna Dimock, burning officials. They said a permit is needed for any type of burning, but permits are not issued for barrel burning. Hutchinson said he has received several complaints about residents burning in barrels. He said the people abiding by the law and having their garbage taken to the disposal area don't feel it's fair for others to burn so they are complaining. He said he is going to start checking the complaints and he will put a stop to all barrel burning.

Two state men face air piracy charges

TAMPA, Fla. (UPI) — The FBI held two Connecticut men in custody today and searched for a third man involved in the armed take-over of a single-engine plane in North Carolina Tuesday night.

The FBI Wednesday arrested Ronald Edward Ralph, 27, of Manchester, Conn., and David Paul Burke, of Enfield, Conn., and charged both with air piracy, Ralph, an admitted drug addict who has an arrest record dating back to 1969, is being held under $30,000 bond while Burke's arraignment is scheduled today.

Pilot Larry Adams told the FBI Ralph, Burke and another man chartered the four-passenger Cessna 177 for a flight from Greensboro, N.C., to Atlanta. He said Ralph produced a 22-caliber weapon three minutes into the flight and ordered him to fly to Florida.

Ralph, who was taken into custody at Tampa International Airport early Wednesday, told U.S. Magistrate Paul Game Jr. he was on drugs at the time of the hijacking.

He also said he had $16 to his name and could not remember when he last worked or what type work he did. Connecticut authorities said Ralph was given a 30-day suspended sentence and placed on one year probation Aug. 18 after he pleaded guilty to stealing a woman's handbag from a Manchester restaurant.

Burke called police later Wednesday and said he was waiting on a street corner to surrender. When he gave himself up, Burke handed an officer a 22-caliber weapon, but did not say what he was wanted for.

Police charged Burke with carrying a concealed weapon, but a federal computer check turned up the air piracy charge against him.

The FBI said Ralph accompanied Adams to the main terminal at the Tampa Air Center after the plane landed while the other two men fled.

Adams then called officials of Atlantic Arrow Inc., the company which owned the plane, and they alerted the FBI. Adams said Ralph kept debating whether to turn himself in and finally allowed Adams to make the call to police.

A preliminary hearing for Ralph is scheduled Friday.

It seems that every newspaper and magazine we pick up has articles about Bicentennial celebrations. Many of the planned events are re-enactments of some historical happenings or developments. With all that going on we couldn't be left out of the parade, so staged our own little demonstration as a lesson for all to learn.

It so happened that according to man-made laws and customs, I had come into possession of a few acres of land in an adjoining town. And just because I had paid some money also means that for it, seemed to feel that I owned it, and by a divine right was entitled to own and manage it as I wished without consideration for any others who might think they had some claim to it.

One of the things that I had done before I was there long before I was. I didn't create it. It was not known how many people of how many races, or generations of other beings had lived there before. Were they compensated for it? I am very grateful for permission to use it for my own benefit and pleasure and feel responsible for leaving it at least as good or better for the next user.

And so it came to pass that I had felled some trees, that the gypsy monks had killed, and the trimming of the branches for firewood had left a pile of brush so long that large weeds had grown up through it. Since the law does not now allow disposal by burning, I decided to put it through a chipper and compost it for a garden plot. I asked no one's permission before starting to yank out those big weeds.

I think I learned my lesson in less time than George the Third and his Lord North learned theirs. I am sure I was much quicker to respond to what I learned.

A large and very energetic colony of yellow-jacket hornets were busily preparing their winter shelter in the form of a grey paper condominium the size of a large man's head. They had no respect or fear of size, money also means that for it, seemed to feel that I owned it, and by a divine right was entitled to own and manage it as I wished without consideration for any others who might think they had some claim to it.

Clinton ZBA on carpet for closed meetings

HARTFORD (UPI) — The new Connecticut Freedom of Information Commission Wednesday heard its first complaint from a Clinton man who wants his town's Zoning Board of Appeals to hold public meetings.

"I don't see how we can make a proper judgment on whether or not we want to re-elect an official if we can't observe his conduct in office, we can't see his decision making process," Donald N. Mazau said after the commission hearing.

Mazau said he thought that with few exceptions all government business should be conducted in public. "I think you get better decisions, too, when things are in the open," he said.

The Zoning Board of Appeals has not held an open meeting in its 10-year history, Mazau said.

He said he appeared Tuesday before the Clinton Board of Selectmen at its request and was reprimanded for his insistence on open meetings.

The commission, created by the 1975 legislature to enforce Connecticut's so-called "sunshine laws," took the zoning board members' names and addresses and continued the case to a future date.

City default may spread

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Gov. Hugh L. Carey in testimony for a hearing of the Senate Committee on Banking, Housing and Urban Affairs, said default would cause "national consequences of such an adverse and sizeable nature that we have no choice but to prevent them."

Carey has repeatedly been rebuffed by the Ford administration on requests for federal help in staying off default by the city.

The Democratic governor said, "We are not asking for a handout or a bailout. We are asking for a sensible solution—a limited guarantee of the securities issued by the Municipal Assistance Corp.—the state financing agency for the City of New York."

"The default of New York City will cause not only the bankruptcy of the State and City of New York, the devastation of 17 million people and unforeseeable national consequences of such an adverse and sizeable nature that we have no choice but to prevent them," the first-term governor said.

Although he reserved the right to change his mind, Ford indicated at his news conference Thursday night that a veto awaits any measure Congress sends him to rescue the financially troubled city.

He said he judges from his conversations with Republicans and Democrats in Congress that there is no strong sentiment to fashion a federal lifeline for the sinking city.

"I do not think it is a healthy thing for the federal government to bail out a city—any city—that has handled its fiscal affairs as irresponsibly as New York has," the President said. He said he had "great sympathy" for the people of the city.

New York City, unable to borrow money, faces the likelihood of defaulting on debts coming due in December. It must raise about $4 billion in the next nine months to remain solvent. With the state having pledged its credit behind the city, the state could be dragged into default too.

Bribe probe moves ahead

HARTFORD (UPI) — State police investigators say an inquiry into a Bridgeport jai alai fronton which already has uncovered a possible $200,000 cash payoff and organized crime ties is continuing at "full speed."

The fronton's president admitted he gave $200,000 to a state "political official" in return for help in securing a gambling permit, a state director met with an alleged organized crime figure and a convicted bookie, the state gaming commission said Thursday.

The commission did not identify the political official, saying the admission by Connecticut Sports Enterprises Inc. President David Friend, of Hollywood, Fla., had not been proven.

The commission also charged Connecticut Sports with misrepresenting its assets to lending institutions in Bridgeport and Florida.

It said the corporation submitted false bills for architectural work and for demolition work performed by former Public Works Commissioner Paul J. Mansor's New Britain firm. Mansor, an appointee of Meskill, is a Republican candidate for mayor of New Britain.

The commission said William Moy of Hollywood, Fla., is an alleged accomplice with Friend in the alleged payment. Moy recently sold his interest in Moy's Restaurant in Hollywood.

The commission also said Friend told police the corporation didn't file federal income tax returns for the years 1973 and 1974 for the $10 million facility.

The Central State Pension Fund, the Teamsters Union retirement fund, is the principal financier of the jai alai facility. The commission scheduled a hearing Tuesday to ask Governor Carey, a Bridgeport Democrat, said the "allegation was not based on fact."

The commission also said the fronton's director, L.V. Renzelli of Fairfield, had been observed consorting with an alleged organized crime figure, John "Buster" Arditio of New York, and a convicted bookie, Vincent Pollina of Bridgeport.

A SOCTIP spokesman said the investigation was continuing and would not elaborate on commission claims. The commission's charges are not a criminal indictment, but a form of civil complaint.

The commission said Friend told SOCTIP he paid the money to avoid complying with a Department of Environmental Protection pollution regulation. Had regulation been enforced, Friend's firm could have been required to bear the cost of extensive road changes around the 22-acre jai alai site nearing completion in Bridgeport.

It's a seller's market

BOSTON (UPI) — Scalpers were getting rich on World Series tickets today as baseball fever increased and "Sold Out" signs were posted at Fenway Park on the eve of the opening game.

The remaining 10,000 standing room and bleacher tickets were sold in just 24 hours Thursday. With the sellout, scalpers were getting double the face value of tickets, which normally cost from $2 to $15.

By Saturday, the black market prices were expected to rise to $50 to $100.
