Voting machine modified

Secretary of State Gloria Schaffer chats with Frank Vaccaro at Martin School as they inspect a modified voting machine for use Tuesday by wheel-chair occupants. A similar machine is available in all 10 Manchester voting districts. Manchester is believed to be the first municipality in the state to have them. Devised by Cheney Brothers' engineer, in conjunction with Manchester's registrars of voters, town clerk and public works director, the machine can be lowered to the desired height when a wheel-chair occupant enters the voting booth.

Voters to elect directors, school board members

By SOL R. COHEN
Herald Reporter

Manchester voters will go to the polls Tuesday to elect a nine-member Board of Directors, a town treasurer, six persons to the nine-member Board of Education, a three-member Board of Selectmen and seven constables.

In addition, they will vote on one referendum question. It is for a proposed $2,373,000 appropriation for renovations and additions to Bentley and Washington Schools, and for replacing the West Side Rec with a new building.

A resolution adopted Sept. 29 by the Board of Directors and Sept. 8 by the Board of Education makes the construction contingent on state aid—to bring the town's cost share down to a maximum of $1,400,000.

A total of 26,380 electors are eligible to vote Tuesday—about 800 less than a year ago and about 900 less than two years ago. This year's total includes new voters signed up in a 9 a.m. to noon special voter-making session today.

All signs point to a light turnout Tuesday, with the highest prediction 66 2/3 per cent and the lowest 50 per cent. Only 54 per cent voted in the 1973 municipal election and 75.3 per cent in the 1974 state election.

With the exception of Board of Education members, all those elected tomorrow will serve two-year terms, from Nov. 17, 1975 to Nov. 21, 1977.

The school board members will serve three-year terms, three from Nov. 17, 1975 to Nov. 20, 1978 and three from Nov. 15, 1976 to Nov. 19, 1979. The reason for electing the 1976-79 members this year is that Manchester conducts municipal elections every two years.

The Democrats, who swept the town election in 1971 and 1973, are seeking an unprecedented third term in control. It has eluded them to now, in the 152 years Manchester has been incorporated. The Republicans, conversely, are working hard to prevent it and are conceding nothing, despite the 2,260 registration lead enjoyed by the Democrats.

The Democrats are running on their record—pointing with pride to their accomplishments, while keeping the tax rate down. The Republicans are stressing the lack of accountability by the Democrats as a top issue and claim they can do a better job with available funds than the Democrats.

The Democrats, who hold all 17 posts available to them under minority rule, are running all 17 incumbents. The Republicans are running 11 incumbents and 6 newcomers.

Voting will be from 6 a.m. to 8 p.m. Schools will be closed. The sale of alcoholic beverages—packaged or by the drink—is prohibited in Manchester during the 6 a.m. to 8 p.m. voting hours.

The chief moderator is former State Sen. David Odegard, a Republican. He will make his headquarters in the registrars' office in the Municipal Building. The assistant moderators in all 10 voting districts also are Republicans. The two

Seniority issue before high court

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Supreme Court is being asked to rule on one of the toughest issues facing the working man—whether union seniority takes precedence over rights of minority and women victims of job discrimination.

On one side stand practices, widely used in industry and favored by labor unions, of letting seniority determine who gets promoted or laid off first.

On the other stand questions about the rights due blacks and women who broke the job discrimination barrier, sometimes after years of effort, only to find themselves at the bottom of the seniority ladder and laid off first in hard times. Later this term the court will hear arguments on the large issue involved, but today the question was somewhat narrower, whether a black denied a job on racial grounds but

Schlesinger, Colby fired

Detente differences lead to shake-up

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Ford has fired James R. Schlesinger as secretary of defense and William E. Colby as CIA director in what apparently is a major quarrel over detente that also saw Henry A. Kissinger step down as head of the National Security Council, sources said today.

NBC-TV reported that both Schlesinger and Colby confirmed this morning that they had been fired. The network quoted Colby as saying he was returning to private law practice.

The White House would not comment on the wide ranging administration shake-up, the likes of which have not been seen in Washington since Richard M. Nixon fired the top Justice Department officials during the "Saturday Night Massacre" two years ago.

No reason was given for the dismissals but sources speculated that it grew out of a difference of opinion between Schlesinger, who favored a strong defense and a tougher stand against Moscow, and Ford and Kissinger, the proponents of detente.

Colby had been expected to leave early next year because of recent criticism of the CIA.

Congressional and administration sources confirmed the dismissals and said there would likely be these changes in the government:

—Kissinger will leave as head of the National Security Council, which many congressional critics, especially Sen. Henry Jackson, D-Wash., had asked him to do. Kissinger's chief military aide, Air Force Lt. Gen. Brent Scowcroft, will take his place.

—Donald H. Rumsfeld, a long-time Ford associate and currently White House chief of staff, will replace Schlesinger at the Pentagon.

—George Bush, the American representative in China, will replace Colby as head of the secret Central Intelligence Agency.

Jackson, who made the first announcement of the shake-up Sunday, praised Schlesinger as a "breath of fresh air on Capitol Hill" and said he believed the secretary of defense was fired because of differences of opinion with Kissinger.

Jackson said Schlesinger "told the truth to Congress. He never equivocated. That's not the case with Dr. Kissinger. And his standing on the hill—that is Schlesinger's—has risen steadily."

Ford, who was meeting with Egyptian President Anwar Sadat in Jacksonville, Fla., ducked reporters' questions about the firings.

But a Pentagon source, after checking, said, "I guess it's true." Administration sources said Rumsfeld, who did not go to Florida with Ford, informed Schlesinger of his dismissal Sunday morning in Washington.

Sources said recent news conference at which Schlesinger denounced $7.6 billion in House-approved defense cuts deeply annoyed Ford because of the secretary's brashness.

Schlesinger called the cuts "deep, savage and arbitrary," and warned the United States is heading for military inferiority before the Soviet Union.

But White House displeasure with Schlesinger goes deeper, and centers largely on his distrust of the Russians as reliable partners in detente.

In a magazine interview four months before former President Richard Nixon resigned, Ford said if he became President he would dismiss Schlesinger because he would have trouble getting along with Congress.

Rockefeller not to seek vice presidency in '76

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Vice President Nelson A. Rockefeller told President Ford today he would not be his running mate in the 1976 presidential campaign.

Rockefeller said in a letter to Ford, "After much thought I have decided I do not wish my name to enter into your consideration for the upcoming Republican vice presidential nominee."

"I shall, of course, continue to serve as vice president to discharge my constitutional obligations and to assist in every way I can in carrying on to cope with the problems that confront the nation until the installation once again of a president and vice president duly elected by the people of this great republic," Rockefeller said.

Rockefeller was selected for the vice presidency nearly a year ago by Ford after the resignation of President Richard M. Nixon.

Rockefeller told Ford he had "the highest regard for your dedication to the presidency and for your courage, resolution and forthrightness."

Rockefeller said he was making the move at a time when Ford is "firming up" his program to run for the 1976 Republican presidential nomination.

Ford's campaign manager Howard Callaway said a month ago that the 67-year-old Rockefeller was a "problem on the ticket" with many conservatives and suggested that he be replaced with a younger man.

Speaking of Ford's campaign, Rockefeller said, "involving, as this must, difficult calculations, considerations and decisions, it will clearly help you in this task if the range of options is simplified at the earliest time."

Land Trust plans meeting

The Manchester Land Conservation Trust Inc. will hold its third semi-annual fall meeting for the MLCT membership Thursday, Nov. 13 at the Manchester Country Club.

A film about the Colorado River preservation of the Grand Canyon is the night's feature.

The 80-minute documentary, "Grand Canyon by Dory," will be narrated by its producer, Martin Litton. The film retraces the course of a famous expedition that proved the mighty Colorado could be conquered by river. The expedition was led by Major John Wesley Powell in 1859.

Only seven of Powell's original 10 men finished their trip.

Litton's color film follows the 27-mile saga. There are cascading water falls and idyllic glens as well as plunging rapids.

The MLCT meeting is open, free of charge, to all members and interested people, said Dr. Harvey Pastel, program chairman.

The aim of the free program is to interest Manchester people in conservation of open spaces. The trust is set up to accept land donations and preserve them in their natural state.

Townwide invitations were sent out by the trust. A large turnout is expected. Reservations should be made early.

An "unapproved" roof is an insurance term for a wood-shingle roof. In some states this means an increase in premiums.

Beware the dead-bolt lock that requires a key to open even from the inside. Though they are effective against burglars, locks have caused fire deaths when keys are misplaced. Fire chiefs advise against them now.

Opinion

Vote tomorrow

Tomorrow, we will be electing men and women to serve in various town and school offices.

Local elections may not seem as important or dramatic as national elections but they are actually much more important.

It involves the government which we are physically closest to — our towns and our schools. Because we are close we are apt to be super-critical at times and too easily forget the quality of local government is a mirror of the concern and interest in local government by local citizens. If citizens are indifferent by not voting, by not participating in political activity, and by not informing themselves — indifferent school boards and town administrations result.

Manchester is fortunate. Both parties have fielded good slates of candidates for the various offices and these candidates have campaigned vigorously presenting personal and party views on the issues.

What remains is for the electorate to vote.

We encourage everyone to vote because by voting we do have a voice in who serves in what capacity and by voting we influence the philosophy which will guide the schools and the town for the next two years.

Too many voters stay home because they feel their vote is not important and yet many of these are the first to complain when something is done which is not their liking.

We have a good strong list of candidates to choose from tomorrow.

We have had a vigorous discussion of the issues during the past few weeks.

Now it is up to the voters who can, with a record turnout, show they care about democracy and local government.

With the Bicentennial year at hand, let us be the first to record a 100 per cent voter turnout in Manchester to reaffirm our faith in the ideals of self-government which our forefathers established for us almost 200 years ago.

The polls are open from 6 a.m. to 8 p.m.

Candidate political style compared

LOS ANGELES—The presidential battle during the coming year will be one between political styles, with a minor role being played by ideological positions.

Gerald Ford is counting on his just-right-center position to counter Ronald Reagan's well-to-the-right position. But Reagan — as an outsider — can afford an absolute attacking style while Mr. Ford, as incumbent, has to hedge his style.

New Hampshire's primary voters like the downright style, whether they are Republicans or Democrats. Hence the psychological victory there always goes to the attacker. The moderate gets mangled.

From this angle of vision the Democrats in the field sort themselves out remarkably. Roughly they fall into three age groups and styles, with varying political positions which cut across them.

Of the older age group, whose recognition mark is experience, Hubert Humphrey has moved well ahead of Edmund Muskie and Henry Jackson and the rest. All three are basically moderates or centrists in political position, although on foreign policy Jackson hasn't been able to shake off the "Hawk" designation which makes him the target of liberal distaste.

Humphrey's emergence as the Democratic prime contender today is a thing of political wonder. It violates all the rules of politics except the one that says there are no inviolable rules. At a time when we have no other political father figures around, Humphrey has become a father figure.

He is a scarred veteran of all the political battles of the past 30 years — the civil rights struggles, the farm programs, the urban renewal projects, the war, the peace, the Middle East, detente, the convention riots.

The greatest blunder he made was in the mid-'60s as LBJ's Vice President, when he said — and acted it out — that he had a constituency of only one man. He has stoned for that blunder and learned from that experience. He has sat by the flowing waters and mourned his dead past. Americans remember him for the sorrows he has had, but they see him

Invited solution to seniority snarl

From time immemorial, most union contracts have provided that the first hired will be the last fired in case of a layoff. This has always seemed logical, if not always fair to younger workers.

Three researchers from the Center for Policy Alternatives at Massachusetts Institute of Technology suggest that a better approach today may be a system of "inverse seniority" — or first hired, first fired.

During the current recession, minority workers and women have seen many of their recent gains in employment wiped away by layoffs mandated by the traditional seniority system, write Robert Lund, Dennis Rumsfeld and Sheldon Friedman in Harvard Business Review.

Both employers and unions have an interest in finding alternatives to the traditional system, they contend, if only because the government is challenging such layoffs on the ground that they are discriminatory.

Conventional seniority arrangements, even when they are not inherently discriminatory, are increasingly coming into conflict with national equal opportunity policy objectives.

Under inverse seniority, the most senior eligible person is permitted to elect temporary layoff in place of the junior worker. While on layoff, the senior person receives compensation — normally more than the amount provided by state unemployment compensation — and has the right to return to his previous job.

Through this approach, say the authors, it is possible to retain more people in junior ranks, where disadvantaged workers tend to be clustered.

Inverse seniority is not a new idea. A Bureau of Labor Statistics study of 364 collective bargaining agreements in 1972 found that 87, or 24 per cent, allowed senior workers to decline their rights to be retained in the event of a force reduction, usually without jeopardizing their recall rights.

Inverse seniority plans typically include supplementary benefit schedules financed by the company so that workers who elect layoff syndrome, Kennedy's is that of the anti-political politician, which is a good thing to be these days — somber, cool, unaffected. He makes a display of his liking for simple, unaffluent ways. He is Jesuit-trained, is into Zen and ecology, and on many scores is a nay-sayer, rather than the traditional year-sayer. He doesn't suffer pressure groups gladly, including teachers and state employees. He tries to cut across the old liberal-conservative conventional wisdoms, and is radical only in the root sense that he seems bent on rethinking our assumptions.

He has a high acceptance rating as governor here in his own state. But as I have traveled up and down the coast during the past week, talking about presidential possibilities, I find people holding back from Brown, even while friendly to him. They think he needs time and ripening. They want to see him in action longer as governor. They are probably right.

still — as he sees himself — as possessed of a joyful life force which will make him an affirming President.

Ted Kennedy is the abject of the middle-generation liberal candidates — Morris Udall, Birch Bayh, Sargent Shriver, Fred Harris, Terry Sanford, Jimmy Carter. He is the only one with a total recognition factor, a devoted constituency, an effective staff and a continuing charisma. But where Humphrey's big problem is whether he can outwit the primaries and still be viable, Kennedy's problem is whether the Chappaquiddick story will finally slumber or come back to haunt him unless he talks more forthrightly about it than he has done. Where Humphrey's weakness of style is that of the battered-father

DON OAKLEY

For employers, inverse seniority fosters the growth of a pool of skilled workers and may save administrative costs involved in a complicated system of "bumping down" associated with traditional layoffs.

For the public at large, inverse seniority may help solve the problem of chronic unemployment and the costs of unemployment compensation and welfare, as well as such related social costs as crime.

Some federal agencies have already made rulings favorable to inverse seniority by exempting layoff compensation from minimum wage rules, unemployment taxes and Social Security taxes and by agreeing that employer contributions to an inverse seniority fund are a tax-deductible expense.

The Equal Employment Opportunities Commission might add its weight to the concept of inverse seniority, suggest the researchers, by recognizing any acceptable plan as evidence of a company's constructive intent to continue meeting its equal employment opportunity commitments during slack periods.

THOUGHT

I can live my life only one day at a time. Perhaps my confusion and despair are so great that I will have to take it one hour at a time, or one minute at a time, reminding myself constantly that I have authority over no life but my own.

"Realizing that nothing can hurt me while I lean upon my Higher Power, I ask to be guided through the hours and minutes of each day. Let me remind myself to bring every problem to Him for I know He will show me the way I must go."

Thanks

The United Way fund appeal for Manchester and Greater Hartford has topped its goal.

This is good news in these times of tight money for it means there will be support from you and your fellow citizens for the many charities and activities supported by the United Way which make our communities better places in which to live.

During the campaign, the emphasis was the needs met by United Way gifts. This is as it should be for we believe donors should be informed of the purposes to which their gifts are being allocated.

But behind the successful drive were hundreds of volunteers from major chairmen on down to the many unknown persons who did the sign-up work in the various businesses. Without them, United Way could not succeed for it is their contribution of time and effort that keeps the cost of the fund drive down and insures more of your gift going to those in need.

And most important of all, a special salute to the thousands who are supporting United Way again this year and those who are giving for the first time — without your generous help no goal, no matter how many volunteers there are, could be reached.

It is response of the contributors to community needs that make Manchester a great place in which to live, work, play and worship.

Thanks.

Here's instructions for voting machines

All of Connecticut's 169 towns and cities use voting machines for all local, state and federal elections. The following HOW TO VOTE instructions should answer all questions. In addition, questions may be asked of election officials at the polling places. By law, they are required to give the information on request.

• TO BEGIN — Enter the machine. Move the red curtain handle to the right to close the curtain.

• TO VOTE A STRAIGHT

TICKET — Pull the party lever of your choice to the right. All the pointers above the candidates in that row will go down automatically.

• TO VOTE A SPLIT TICKET — Pull the party lever of your choice to the right. All the pointers above the candidates in that row will go down automatically.

Then push up the pointer over the name of any candidate for whom you don't wish to vote and pull down the pointer over the name of the candidate of the other party for whom you wish to vote for that office.

• TO VOTE WITHOUT USING A PARTY LEVER — Simply pull down the pointers over the names of the candidates for whom you wish to vote. Don't pull a party lever.

• TO VOTE ON THE REFERENDUM QUESTION — Pull down either the "Yes" or "No" pointer above the question.

• TO RECORD YOUR VOTE — Don't touch any of the pointers on the machine, but move the red curtain handle to the left. This will automatically record your vote, will open the curtain and will return the pointers to their original positions for the next person who uses the machine.

A sample ballot is posted at each polling place. It shows the inside of the voting machine and provides written instructions for its use. The sample ballot also lists each candidate's name and the question to be voted upon.

Bus to serve elderly in tri-town region

A leased 24-passenger bus to serve the elderly and the handicapped in Vernon, Tolland, and Ellington, will go into service today under the direction of the Department on Aging of the Hockanigum Valley Community Council (HVCC).

Plans are to have the bus run daily in Vernon, four times a week in Ellington, and three times a week in Tolland. There will not be any weekend runs and the schedules will be revised by a board of governors elected by members of the Senior Citizen Transit Association.

Those wishing rides should call the council office, 872-8318.

The leased bus will be used just until the town takes delivery of a 15-passenger mini-bus as part of a state and federal program.

The minibus will have a lift attachment to assist handicapped persons. While it will be owned by the state it will be under the direction of HVCC, which is the tri-town sponsor for the program. The minibus is expected in January.

The decision to lease the bus rather than wait until winter to start the program will cost the HVCC some $2,000 extra. But this money will come from the three towns and another federal source.

There are now 60 members involved. These elected a 20-member board of governors to oversee the program.

The price for membership is $5 per person for an annual bus pass and $8 for couples. The price will be reduced if a person cannot pay the full amount.

Vernon's share of the budget is $2,875; Ellington's, $815; and Tolland, $901.

On Mondays and Thursdays the bus will make trips in Ellington and Vernon, starting at E. Main and Court Sts. in Rockville at 9:20 a.m., stops will be five to 10 minutes apart and will be at the following places: Windermere at Pinney, Snipsic Village, Ellington; Maple at Hill, Job's Hill, a Muddy Brook, Muddy Brook at West Rd., West Rd. at Snipsic Lake Rd., West Rd. at Pinnacle, Pine St., Ellington Ave. at Middle Butcher Rd., Middle Butcher Rd. at Fairview Ave., Fairview Ave. at Elizabeth St.

Main Sts.

At 1 p.m. the bus will start to retrace the route to return riders to their home.

On Tuesday the bus will operate in the Crystal Lake area of Ellington, Tolland, and Vernon on the following pick-up schedule: Starting at 9:30 a.m. at E. Main and Court Sts. in Rockville and continuing to Rt. 74 at Rt. 30, Rt. 30 at Brown's Bridge Rd., Brown's Brook at Shenipsic Lake, Shenipsic Lake at Rt. 140, Rt. 140 at W. Shore Rd., W. Funds, members sought by BAA

Bolton
Donna Holland

The Bolton Athletic Association (BAA) will conduct its family membership drive during November.

Ray Vine, chairman, said the BAA's goal this year is 100 new family members. The BAA's purpose is to provide supplemental funds to ensure a well run and equipped athletic program for all Bolton residents.

All participants in any of the town's athletic programs are urged to become BAA family members.

Family membership is $5 and should be mailed to P.O. Box 182, Bolton.

Hank Post handled the business membership drive of the BAA. He said it is because of the solid support received each year by Bolton businessmen the association can help provide townspeople with a wide range of athletic programs.

Twenty-four local businesses gave to the BAA.

One acre zoning okayed for lake area

Coventry
Monica Shea
742-9495

The Planning and Zoning Commission has approved one acre zoning for the western portion of the lake area. This area is currently zoned R-15 which is 15,000 square feet.

The new zoning will go into effect on Nov. 15.

With this action taken by the commission the whole of the lake area is now zoned for one acre which means any person wishing to build there will need a 40,000 square foot lot.

This 40,000 square foot could be reduced to 30,000 square feet if the sites meet certain soils and sanitation requirements.

The commission also recommended to the Town Council by a 3 to 2 vote, that two districts of town be considered for sewerage. The districts are the lake watershed area and the southeastern portion of the town to the Willimantic River.

The commission recommendation also indicated that the main sewer line be constructed oversized to accommodate future sewerage of housing developments and commercial areas along Rt. 44.

Because of the close vote and discussion on alternatives opinion on this controversial subject the commission also voted to ask the council to revise the charter to allow for a seven-member Planning and Zoning Commission with no alternates.

Booklet has security data

By BETTY RYDER
Family Travel Editor

Have you ever wondered how working women build Social Security protection for themselves and their families; how wives, widows, and divorcees can get monthly payments on their husbands' Social Security records; or what women should do if they're household workers?

Well, if you have, your questions can be answered in a new booklet, "A Woman's Guide to Social Security," which is available free at the East Hartford Social Security office.

This booklet is simply a guide to those Social Security provisions that are, or can be, of particular interest to women. Women who work, and women who don't. Single women, married women, mothers, widows, divorcees — all women.

For example, if you interrupt your career, you need credit for a certain amount of work. The amount of credit you need generally depends on your age when you become disabled, die, or retire. If you stop working before you earn enough Social Security credits, no benefits will be payable. But, the booklet states, that credits you already earned remain on your work record, and you can always go back to work and earn any additional credits you need to get benefits.

While you are working you have Social Security disability and survivors insurance protection. This means monthly benefits would be payable if you become disabled or die after having worked long enough under Social Security.

The booklet further states, that if you become disabled and can't work for a year or more, you can get disability checks. Your disability payments would start with the sixth full month of your disability (there is a five-month waiting period for disability benefits) and would continue as long as you are disabled. According to the guide, when you've been eligible for disability payments for two consecutive years, you will also have Medicare protection.

Other items of interest covered are what to do when you retire, what a wife should know who chooses to make her home and family her career, remarriage, etc.

Sal Anello, East Hartford Social Security manager, commenting on the booklet, said, "In the past four decades, women's role in society has changed dramatically.

"Back in 1935, when the original Social Security law was written the working world was a man's world. The woman's place was in the home. Men were the breadwinners in the American family.

"Some women did work in those days — 10 to 13 million is the best figure available. But most of them were young, single women who would quit working when they got married.

"The picture today is quite different," he said. "Today, more than 36.3 million women are working in jobs and professions."

Anello also outlined the change concerning women workers which was enacted in 1967.

"Prior to 1967 children could get benefits on their mother's work record only if she met a requirement for recent work under Social Security. A provision of the 1967 amendments eliminated this requirement, and children could get benefits on their mother's work record under the same conditions that they could receive them on their father's work record," he said.

Presented in easy reading, layman's language, the booklet also advises women where to seek additional information when applying for benefits or just looking for answers to puzzling questions.

Presented in layman's language, the booklet should be a "must" on every woman's reading list.

Single copies are available at the East Hartford Social Security office.

Fight to keep rails goes on

Vernon
In a continuing effort to stop removal of Penn Central railroad tracks which stretch from Manchester to Willimantic, going through Vernon, Bolton and Coventry Mayor Frank McCoy last week sent a letter to the governor asking for a meeting.

The mayor said if Gov. Ella Grasso agrees to a meeting, he will see if a mutual agreement can be reached as to who should attend it.

Penn Central sold the tracks, not the others, to a Brooklyn New York Contractor who has moved equipment into Vernon and other towns and has already started to remove some of the rails.

Mayor McCoy spotted the equipment in Vernon and the building inspector is holding a stop work warrant which he intends to serve on the contractor. A tax lien has already been served.

The town contends removal of the tracks would be economically detrimental to the area. The Town Council gave Town Attorney Abbot Schwabel the authority to file a temporary injunction to at least delay removal for a time.

The mayor said the town has tried to get a supportive affidavit for an injunction but has had considerable difficulty.

He said he and Atty. Schwabel and several others, met with Atty. Allen Kalubach who is with the Office of Public Council of the Rail Services Planning Office.

He said if the state didn't get involved in the problem this would cause some legal dictum. He said a writ of mandamus should be filed to force the matter into Philadelphia court to ask that the contract for the rail removal be voided.

The mayor said to have one town try to do this would be too expensive and that is why he is asking the governor to meet with him and with the heads of the other towns involved plus representatives from labor, the Chambers of Commerce, Transit District, the Council of Governments, and the Conference of Mayors.

McCoy said the Council of Mayors has already passed a resolution asking that the removal of the tracks be delayed or terminated.

He said if the governor agrees to a meeting Atty. Kalubach said he will attend, if possible, but noted that this may be beyond his jurisdiction in that the line in question is not an operating one at the present time.

Vernon schools make busing film

BARBARA RICHMOND
Herald Reporter

The Vernon school system has produced the first teacher-training film on bus safety and because it's a first it will be shown in schools all over the state.

Two years ago the schools instituted a pilot bus safety program for elementary students' this year it has been put into the system through the health education program.

Mrs. Clare Albom, supervisor of health and physical education, prepared the program.

The objectives are to provide students with knowledge and understanding concerning safety procedures in bus transportation.

The film, which is in color and narrated, shows children boarding a school bus, their classroom activities concerning bus safety, and their return home in the afternoon.

The course is also designed to prepare students for emergencies. As part of the training the children learn how to jump out of the rear emergency door.

The children are taught attitudes about rules, etiquette and behavior on the bus. Parents are also provided with information so they are aware of the program.

The program also focuses on communication between the school teachers, bus drivers, parents, students, and the community.

In learning the proper way to jump from a bus, the students practice jumping from various heights as part of their physical education class and then finally do test jumps from a bus.

Classroom teachers are teaching a safety unit early in the school year with stress on bus safety. They asked bus drivers to come to the classroom to speak on safety.

Manafort admits submitting false bills

HARTFORD (UPI) — Builder Frank Manafort today admitted his New Britain firm submitted false bills totaling more than $1 million to the embattled developer of a Bridgeport jail area.

Manafort, 33, secretary treasurer of his firm was the leadoff witness today before Mulvey. His sister, Angela, 24, an officer of the firm, was expected to testify as well as Sebastian Bianca, also New Britain, a Manafort relative, and Quinton Hinton, business agent for the Hampton-based International Union of Operating Engineers.

UPI has reported Hinton was instrumental in setting up meetings between David Friend, the jail area promoter and two political party chairman, the late Democrat, John M. Bailey, and J. Brian Gaffney, the former Republican state chairman.

A federal grand jury reportedly will try its hand in the case, beginning Nov. 12, looking into possible violations of federal tax laws and regulations regarding applications for loans from federally guaranteed banks.

In addition to the gaming commission hearings, state and federal organized crime task force investigators already are probing the case.

The commission, formally known as the state Commission on Special Revenues, will determine whether the license of Connecticut Sports Enterprises Inc. should be taken back because of alleged improprieties in obtaining the license.

Among its allegations early last month, the commission charged CSE President David Friend admitted to state police investigators he paid the late Democratic state party chief

Elaine Mrosek, clerk of court

Mrs. Elaine Mrosek of Boulder Rd., has been appointed as clerk of the Tolland County Superior and Common Pleas Courts. She will fill the vacancy created by the retirement of John Yeomans of Andover who held that post for 33 years.

Mrs. Mrosek is the wife of Atty. John Mrosek and is also an attorney. She has been serving as temporary assistant clerk under Yeomans.

Her appointment was approved by the executive committee of Common Pleas and Superior Court judges upon recommendation of the area judges.

The position pays a yearly salary of $19,095.

Mrs. Mrosek is a graduate of Rockville High School. She is the former Elaine Webster of Rockville. She also graduated from the University of Connecticut and its law school and has a private practice in Manchester and Rockville.

As one of the duties as court clerk she will implement a pilot program for computerized selection of prospective jury panels for both courts. This will be the first time such a system has been used in the state. Tolland County was selected for the pilot program due to its small size and the need for someone of Yeoman's experience during the starting stage of the program.

Mrs. Mrosek is a member of the board of trustees and secretary of the executive committee of Manchester Memorial Hospital. She is also on the board of directors of the Child Guidance Clinic of Manchester and the United Way of Manchester. She is a past member of the Manchester Town Charter Revision Commission.

Judges faces trial decision

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Federal Judge Samuel Conti must decide by Wednesday whether preparations for the trial of Sara Jane Moore can begin before her mental competence is determined.

Conti has been directed by the U.S. Court of Appeals to file a reply to a petition of public defender James Hewitt, who contends that Miss Moore's plea, arraignment and trial preparation should not start until she is declared competent to understand the charge against her—that of attempting to kill President Ford.

East preserves lead in final second

By DOUG OVIAN
Correspondent

Repelling a last second scoring attempt, East Catholic held onto its two point lead and edged Putnam Tech of Springfield, 16-14, Saturday afternoon at the Massachusetts school's home field in Putnam.

With 30 seconds left in the game, an East field goal attempt by Brian Foley was blocked and Putnam halfback Mark Lambert recovered the ball and scored on a 71-yard run with no one near him. The two-point conversion attempt failed when a run up the middle was halted by a horde of Eagle defenders.

"It was a very close game. Our defense let up at times. Putnam is a tough team," Eagle Coach John LaFontana stated. "Our offense has improved but we still have a lot of work to do."

The first half was sloppily played by both teams. Neither the Eagles nor the Beavers could start any scoring drives with both teams floundering when a scoring opportunity was present. Putnam turned the ball over twice at the East 25 after unsuccessful first down attempts. East reached the Techn nine-yard stripe but a facemask infraction on the Eagles stopped them.

East began to move in the third stanza when seven running plays brought the Eagles to the Putnam 12. A 14-yard pass from quarterback Mike Furlong to split end Gary Loomis accounted for the first touchdown midway through the period. A two-point conversion try was stopped leaving East with a 6-0 edge.

Less than two minutes into the fourth quarter, East's Foley booted a 32-yard field goal giving the Eagles a 9-0 margin.

An Eagle fumble at their own 40 was recovered by the Beavers. A pass from Gamache brought Putnam quarterback Marty Gamache at the Beaver 30 placed East in perfect scoring position. A six-yard run by fullback Kevin Shorey tallied the touchdown for East and Foley's conversion made it 16-0.

East now stands 4-4 in all games, 0-3 in the Hartford County Conference.

An interception by Dennis McCarran on a pass from Putnam quarterback Marty Gamache at the Beaver 30 placed East in perfect scoring position. A six-yard run by fullback Kevin Shorey tallied the touchdown for East and Foley's conversion made it 16-0.

East now stands 4-4 in all games, 0-3 in the Hartford County Conference.

Lambert put the Beavers on the scoreboard for the first time. The two-point conversion was good making the score 16-8.

Tailback Cephus Nolan led the Eagle offense with 65 yards rushing on 13 carries and Shorey racked up 52 yards in 13 attempts. East's offensive output was 174 yards compared to 34 for Putnam.

Strong second half for Fermi decisive

By LEN AUSTER
Herald Sports Writer

For the first half in Saturday's CCLL football game in Enfield, Manchester High stayed close to Fermi High through its own inactivity. The teams went into the halftime locker room deadlocked at 7-7 but in the second half the Falcons stopped their incessant penalties and added 29 points to register a 36-7 triumph over the Indians before a crowd of 400 chilled by gusting winds.

The victory improved Fermi's league mark to 3-3 and aggregate ledger to 4-3 while Manchester fell deeper into the CCLL cellar with an 0-6 record and 1-7 overall. The Silk Towners have lost six in a row and with three games left are in danger of surpassing the school record of eight consecutive setbacks sustained in three separate campaigns (1954, 1957 and 1963). Dating back to last year, the Tribs has lost 14 of 15 outings.

Manchester Coach Larry Olson gambled early in his own territory, going for a fourth-and-one at the 29, but failed and this move set up the Falcons' first score. On two running plays with a direct snap from center 5-10, 165-pound wingback Charlie Pilkington scampered 23 and then five yards for the touchdown. Jim Duffy's first of four conversion kicks made it 7-0 with just 1:43 gone.

It remained that way until less than a minute remained in the half. Jeff Jory stripped Fermi quarterback Joe Spence of the pigskin and Bob Hawkes fell on it at the Falcon 10 with 36 seconds showing on the clock. It took 16 seconds and three plays before signal-caller Craig Ostrout rolled right and connected with Jory for a four-yard score. Ed White's boot knotted the count.

The second half was all Fermi as it scored four out of six times it had the ball. The Falcons took the kickoff and marched 72 yards in 10 plays with Steve Testoni going over from two yards out. Pilkington, who carried 20 times for 125 yards and two touchdowns, did most of the work on the drive. On the conversion attempt, the snap was high but Fermi got it anyway, two points in fact, rolled right and connected with Jory for a four-yard score.

On their next possession, the Falcons went 50 yards exclusively on the ground with Stuart Sibley behind good blocking scoring from seven yards out.

With the wind at his back in the final cant, Spence went to the air lanes taking full advantage of this and a make shift Manchester secondary. Starters Mark Kiefer and Steve Dawson went out in similar fashion, Olsen to use Joy and White in unfamiliar positions. Spence tossed to John Mayo for a 42-yard gain and two plays later hit Pilkington with a 33-yard scoring strike. Less than two minutes later, Spence found Mayo all alone for a 24-yard tally.

"Fermi was passing because of whom we had in there," Olsen cited, "In the third quarter it was our corner play which hurt us. Offensively, we weren't getting blocking from one tackle and our guards and the backs weren't getting to the holes." It had the ball. The Falcons took the kickoff and marched 72 yards in 10 plays with Steve Testoni going over from two yards out. Pilkington, who carried 20 times for 125 yards and two touchdowns, did most of the work on the drive. On the conversion attempt, the snap was high but Fermi got it anyway, two points in fact, rolled right and connected with Jory for a four-yard score.

CIAC Soccer Tournament Manchester paired with Bristol Eastern

By LEN AUSTER
Herald Sports Writer

There will be little time wasted by most of the 98 teams who qualified for the annual State Soccer Tournament as many swing into playdown round action today. Tournament rankings and pairings were announced Saturday by the CIAC in Hamden which will spotlight four divisions this season as compared to three in previous years.

Manchester High, the only local team to gain post-season status, is ranked 23rd in the newly created Class AA Division where 26 clubs qualified. The 7-52 Indians journey to Bristol today for a 2:15 clash with 13th-ranked Bristol Eastern, which posted a 6-3-2 mark in the Colonial Conference. Eastern is a former CCLL member which left the league at the end of the 1973-74 season. In 22 previous meetings, Eastern defeated Manchester just once, that in 1971. The Manchester-Bristol Eastern winner will advance to Wednesday's first round where they will take on top-ranked 10-11 Hamden High.

Defending Class A champ Brian McMahon of Norwalk is in the Double A Division this time around and is ranked 12th.

Six area clubs also qualified for the tournament. Rockville High is 15th ranked in the Class AA Division and the 7-4-2 Rams will face fellow Central Valley Conference member 25th-ranked 6-5-2 Newton High in today's playdown in Rockville.

Ex-Ranger goalies come out winners
NEW YORK (UPI) - Eddie Giacomini and Gilles Villeneuve, principal custodians of the New York Rangers nets for the past five years and winners of the Vezina Trophy in 1970-71, both came out winners Sunday.

For the first time in their National Hockey League careers, however, neither was wearing the familiar Ranger colors.

The two goalies, both dispatched from New York during the last week, made their debuts with their new clubs Sunday. For Giacomini, the changeover was highly emotional since he was called upon to play in a playdown round at 2:15 with weekend clashes to start at the discretion of the site director. All finals will be played Nov. 15.

MCC booters capture CCCAA championship

The scenario was exactly the same as it was a year ago with Manchester Community College and Middlesex Community College coming into the final CCCAA game with the league title at stake. And the result was the same as the Cougars won their second consecutive CCCAA soccer championship with a hard fought 3-1 win Saturday at Middletown's Palmer Field.

The Cougars took the title with a 3-0 record while Middlesex finished second at 2-1. Manchester is 9-3-1 overall, Middlesex 4-2-1.

"The team worked hard for this one," said a happy Coach Jim Dyer. "It was a total team effort."

The Cougars opened up a 2-0 lead at the half as a swirling wind played a key role. MCC had the wind at its back in the first half and took advantage.

Bob Henry booted a low liner from the extreme left side into the corner of the net for his 14th goal of the season to give MCC an early edge. At the 27:29 mark of the first half, Bob Swede looped one from the corner 20 feet away that curved into the net.

The remaining scores occurred in a one-minute span in the second half. Middlesex center forward Carter Adams dribbled past two defenders and booted it in from close range to cut the lead at 11:13. On the ensuing kickoff, Swede dodged through the Middlesex defense and hit Tim McConville with a perfect cross and the latter made sure scoring from close range.

Dyer cited the defensive work of Fred Gerber, Scott Green and Chip Behrmann as keys.

The Cougars wind up regular season play Wednesday afternoon at 3 at Johnson in Westport, the Central Connecticut State College Jays.

Record year for Petry
BRISTOL, Tenn. (UPI) - Richard Petry became the first NASCAR driver to earn $300,000 in a single season, finishing nearly two miles ahead of his closest challenger to win Sunday's Volunteer 500 stock car race at Bristol International Speedway.

The win was the 13th this year for the Randleman, N. C., superstar, who averaged 97.02 miles per hour in a 1974 Dodge. He finished almost two miles ahead of Lennie Pond at Petersburg, Va., in a 1975 Chevrolet. Petry picked up $8,335 for his 1975 career triumph and pushed his 1975 winnings to $300,555.

Whalers bow in overtime
NEW YORK (UPI) - Richard Brodeur had a busy night Sunday in the Quebec goal.

Brodeur blocked 32 shots as the Nordiques defeated the Winnipeg Jets 1-0 in a WHA game before a crowd of 10,237.

Brodeur was sensational in registering the shutout specialty late in the game when the Jets threatened to win on a power play.

The drama riding over the gray-haired goaltender far overshadowed the game itself, and Ranger Captain Brad Park said: "Eddie Giacomini didn't beat us with his presence tonight. He beat us with his presence on the ice. It took a lot of concentration out of our heads and you can't play this game unless you're fully concentrating."

Schoolboy hockey coaches selected
Coaches for the Manchester High and East Catholic hockey teams which will begin play this winter at the Bolton Ice Palace have been named.

Dennis Doyle out of Staples High in Westport has been named the Manchester coach while Bill Reavey will coach East assisted by Paul Rowe and Dave McGonigle.

Doyle played for two years at UConn and was an assistant coach at Staples for two years. He resides in Chaplin and is a grad student at UConn.

Metcalf's touchdowns help sink Patriots

ST. LOUIS (UPI) — Terry Metcalf often pays the price for being the prized possession of the St. Louis Cardinals.

Opponents invariably place double coverage on him and, he says, sometimes they are overly eager to leave some bruises on the flashy speedster.

"I'm a marked man," Metcalf said. "Other teams are watching me more and more each game and some players may try to put a little extra forearm into the hits they give me."

The New England Patriots Sunday keyed on Metcalf with two linebackers and limited him to 44 yards in 17 carries. Still, the versatile running back broke through to score all three Cardinal touchdowns, two on short runs and the third on a 69-yard punt return, in a 24-17 win over a stubborn Patriot defense.

The victory put the Cardinals in a three-way tie with Washington and Dallas for first place in the National Football Conference East Division. The Patriots, 2-5, are tied for last in the American Conference East.

"I've never had so few yards in a game and still scored three times," said Metcalf.

"I take my hat off to Metcalf," said New England coach Chuck Fairbanks. "We tried to stop him but we failed."

Fairbanks blamed the Cardinals' come-from-behind victory on the 13 penalties that cost New England 107 yards. All but three came in the second half.

"We were hurt by an excessive number of penalties that destroyed any sense of offensive continuity we might have had," Fairbanks said.

The Patriots all but shut down the Cardinal running game in the first half, giving up only 35 yards. Metcalf gained only four yards in seven carries. Even the vaunted St. Louis Patriots rookie Steve Grogan, who was subbing for an injured Jim Plunkett, threw an 11-yard touchdown pass to Randy Vataha through the second quarter.

Other Patriots scores came on a 32-yard field goal by John Smith to open the scoring in the first quarter and a 23-yard ramble in the third quarter by defensive tackle Ray Hamilton who scooped up a Hart fumble.

Mel Gray set up the winning score with a 27-yard punt return to the New England 33. The Patriots tried to punt away from Metcalf after he shocked them with his long score in the second quarter.

On the first play after Gray's return, Metcalf caught in a sweep of the right side, reversed field and raced 18 yards down the sideline. Two runs and a pass reception by Jim Otis took the ball to the seven, where Metcalf raced through the right side for the score with 6:15 left to play.

The Cardinals tied it 17-17 on Metcalf's one-yard run with 44 seconds gone in the fourth quarter. Gray also set up that score with a 19-yard punt return to the New England 47. A personal foul call on the Patriots kept the drive alive and New England's Tony McGee gave St. Louis a first down on the 9-yard line when he jumped off side as the Cardinals went for it on fourth-and-one.

New England moved to the St. Louis 20 in the final seconds of the game in an effort to tie it but the Cardinals' Pete Barnes thwarted the threat by intercepting a pass.

front line was unable to protect quarterback Jim Hart from being pressured into throwing early.

"Since I had two linebackers on me most of the time," Metcalf said, "that means somebody else was open. But I don't think Jimmy (Hart) had the time to find anyone. They were really tough on our offensive line."

Hart, who completed 20 of 32 passes for 158 yards agreed with players on both sides that it was a very physical game. It was one of the roughest he's ever played.

The Cardinals trailed most of the game until Metcalf's two touchdowns on runs of one and seven yards in the fourth quarter that brought them from a 17-10 deficit.

NEW YORK (UPI) — If the New York Jets' management decides to drop Charley Winner as head coach in the next few weeks or at season's end, a controversial call he made Sunday could be regarded as the death blow.

The Jets led 23-17 with 5:30 left to play and moved to the Buffalo 20, where a third and one plunge by John Riggins came up short. Winner decided to forego a 37-yard field goal attempt which would have given New York a nine-point bulge and decided instead to go for the first down.

Buffalo's Earl Edwards stacked up Riggins, giving Buffalo possession, and four plays later, Joe Ferguson teamed with O.J. Simpson on a 64-yard touchdown pass with 3:46 left that rallied the Bills to a 24-23 victory.

"Our running game was going well all day," said Winner, whose team now has lost four in a row and five of seven games. "We only had a couple of feet to go. I thought we could make it."

The TD pass to Simpson, Ferguson's third of the game, capped a second half rally that saw the Bills come back from a 23-7 deficit.

"No matter what anyone says, I've always been a good receiver," said Simpson. "The guys may call me 'Knuckles' but I was always a good receiver in college. I've been ignored for the last couple of years as a receiver and I've complained about it but I haven't done any good."

The trainer said Saturday the decision was made after the colt was unimpressive in a recent workout.

D'Mauro, at Keystone Race Track training another horse, said Wajima will leave his Belmont Race Track stall for Spendthrift Farm in Kentucky where he will stand in stud in mid-November.

Wajima earned $578,225 during his two-year career after being purchased for a then record $600,000 as a yearling.

Although Wajima's winnings do not equate to purchase price, the son of Bold Ruler was syndicated for a record $7.2 million as a stallion.

Wajima started 12 times and posted seven first place finishes and four seconds. As a two-year-old Wajima started four times with two wins and one second. He earned $40,387 during that year.

NEW YORK (UPI) — Bill Arnsperger will take a slipshod victory over a manicured defeat after New York jumped in front 7-0 on Dawkins' first touchdown run of four yards, Rickey Young, playing with a cracked rib, broke off a 46-yard scoring jaunt to tie it. After Dawkins' second score made it 14-7, the Chargers again bounced right back to knot in on Dan Fouts' one-yard quarterback sneak.

Morton made it 21-14 just prior to the half on a 24-yard scoring pass to Ray Rhodes but Fouts directed his team to yet another deadlock on a 30-yard scoring toss to Dwight McDonald following the second half kickoff.

Morton made it 28-21 on a 47-yard scoring run by Bob Tucker with a screen pass and San Diego rushed right back again, this time moving 81 yards in 10 plays, before the Chargers killed their own drive with two botched running plays inside the New York 15. San Diego had to settle for a 28-yard field goal by Ray Werschling and the game was never again close.

"We knew we'd be in for a game," New York Safety Spider Lockhart said. "We knew they weren't going to travel all the way across the country to lay down for us. We (the defense) disappointed a lot of people and we disappointed ourselves. But the important thing is we won. That's all that really matters."

NEW YORK (UPI) — The torch became too hot for the Cincinnati Bengals to handle... and now only the Minnesota Vikings remain in the hunt for pro football immortality. Only three teams have ever gone through a National Football League season without a loss or a tie: the 1972 Miami Dolphins, the 1942 Chicago Bears and the 1924 Bears.

The Bengals and Vikings both carried 40 records into Sunday's action but only Minnesota was left standing when the roll call of unbeaten teams before losing in 1973.

Linebacker Ed O'Neil added a 49-yard fumble return early in the fourth quarter for an insurance score.

Saints 23, Falcons 7

Archie Manning engineered five scoring drives to give interim head coach Ernie Hefferle his first victory, yet 28 for 57, New York George Gervin had 26 for San Antonio.

NEW YORK (UPI) — Coach Bill Sharman was succinct Sunday night-center Kareem Abdul-Jabbar won the game for the Los Angeles Lakers.

Led by Abdul-Jabbar with 39 points, Los Angeles improved its record to 4-2 with a 116-113 overtime win over the Atlanta Hawks.

The win enabled the Lakers to take over first place in the NBA's Pacific Division while Seattle, who was tied with Los Angeles, was idle. It was the Lakers' fourth victory in six games.

According to Sharman, the Lakers shouldn't even have won.

"We just didn't have a good game," he said. "Kareem saved us. That's the difference this year. We have a man we can depend on that can give us victories in games we don't deserve to win."

The UCLA alumnaus grabbed 39 points, 23 rebounds and blocked 10 shots while hitting 15 of 29 from the field. He has a 54 per cent shooting percentage for the season.

Atlanta grabbed 44 rebounds to Los Angeles' 59 and committed two fewer turnovers than the Lakers' 24.

Lucien Allen backed up Abdul-Jabbar with 22 points and Russell netted 20.

Guard Gail Goodrich, who ended his 37-day holdout Friday, returned to action for the first time this season and contributed six points, all in the first half.

Elsewhere in the NBA, Houston whipped Milwaukee 104-89 and Washington downed Seattle 94-85.

In ABA action, the New York Jets beat Utah 123-111. Kentucky edged Denver 106-103. St. Louis topped Virginia 106-99 and San Diego edged Los Angeles 105-102.

Rudy Tomjanovich's six points in the final minutes of the second quarter led the Houston Rockets to a come-from-behind victory. The Rockets rallied from a 13-point deficit at halftime on the shooting of Warren, an ex-Spur. Rick Robish and Kevin Joyce. James Silas led all scorers with 28 for the Spurs. George Gervin had 26 for San Antonio.

SAO PAULO, Brazil (UPI) — Brazilian amateur Frisco Gonzalez Diniz defeated Lanny Wadkins of the United States to win the $10,000 first prize in the Brazilian Open Golf Tournament.

At the end of the tournament, Diniz was tied with U.S. pro Wadkins — each with a four-day total of 274. The tie was broken by Diniz after the two played an extra three holes.

INDIANAPOLIS (UPI) — The World Hockey Association Indianapolis Racers Sunday demoted two veteran players and their replacements were chosen from the team's Mohawk Valley farm club.

Coach Jacques Demers announced that left wing Bobby Whitlock, who led the Racers in scoring last year, and right wing Murray Heatley were being sent to Mohawk Valley for John Sheridan and Bobby Jones.

NEW YORK (UPI) — The marching band, jubilant over a last second win over Dartmouth in venerable Yale Bowl, staged an "arresting" performance on New Haven streets, literally.

Alex Murphy, 21, of Albuquerque, N.M., a flute player in the renown precision marching band, said he was "stunned" by his arrest while leading 300 exuberant Yale rooters after a 16-14 win that came on a field goal by Randy Carter with two seconds left.

CLEMSON, S.C. (UPI) — Clemson coach Red Parker had to fight back the tears after the Tigers' crushing 43-7 loss to Florida State. He says he'll quit at the end of the year unless the team regains some spirit.

7 out of 10 Rabbit Tests are positive.

Our research shows that 70% of all the people who buy the Rabbit say that it was the best drive that made up their minds for them.

You see, in designing the Rabbit, we didn't just stop at things like front-wheel drive and rack-and-pinion steering. We created a totally unique independent stabilizer rear axle that greatly increases the stability of the car on rough roads. And therefore the safety.

And speaking of safety, we gave the Rabbit features that you'll find on few other cars in the world. Like "negative steering rack radius," for example, which helps bring the car to a straight stop in the event of a front-wheel blowout.

But the two big things that everyone who drives the Rabbit really marvels at are one, the amount of head and leg room (as much as some mid-sized cars), and two, its incredible pickup. (0 to 50 in 8.2 seconds.) Which is pretty amazing for a car that rates an EPA-estimated 39 mpg on the highway — and 25 in the city, with standard transmission. (Actual mileage may vary depending on type of driving, driving habits, car's condition and optional equipment.)

But don't just take our word for it. Stop in and take a Rabbit Test today.

Gary Fenick snagged four passes to establish Yale career records of 74 receptions for 1,218 yards. Murphy was arrested for breach of peace after leading about 300 persons down New Haven streets to celebrate the Eli win.

The win gave Yale a 3-1 overall record and a 3-1 Ivy League mark which keeps them alive for a shot at Harvard and Brown.

Trinity, 4-1, with a 10 point fourth period comeback, snapped Coast Guard's five game win streak as Steve Maus booted three field goals for the Bulldogs.

NEW YORK (UPI) — The goat of the game when he helped Dartmouth to its go ahead touchdown in the last 53 seconds by twice kicking the ball out of bounds after his 35 yard field goal had given Yale a 13-7 lead.

Fred Lynn, Jim Rice sit back and relax. Red Sox rookies are appearing at International Auto Show

Lynn anxious to go home

BOSTON (UPI)—Fred Lynn can't wait to go home and be nobody again. But the Boston Red Sox American League MVP of the year says he has a couple more weeks of commitments before he can melt into the California coastline for the winter.

By the time Lynn finishes a three-stop, autograph tour with the International Auto show and heads home he is expected to add the American League's Most Valuable Player award to his credits.

"It would be nice but right now the MVP award is the furthest thing from my mind," said Lynn. "The regular season's been over for a month. They (the Baseball Writers Association of America) should have made the announcement right after the season. They know by now who has won but they're waiting until Nov. 26."

"I won't be anywhere for the press to talk to me then," said Lynn who will drive cross-country with his wife

Dee Dee to their El Monte, Calif. home. "By that time we should be driving across Colorado."

Once home, the 23-year-old star plans to concentrate on his own national pastime, fresh water fishing.

"I honestly believe he loves fishing more than baseball," said Mrs. Lynn, who attended the opening of the Boston auto show along with her husband and fellow-rookie Jim Rice.

"Baseball gives him an opportunity to fish in the off-season."

The former All-American outfielder at Southern Cal seems better suited psychologically for fishing than baseball. He endures rather than enjoys the publicity and recognition that comes with being a star in a major league sport.

"I live two lives, a public one and a private one," said Lynn, who hit .331, slugged 21 homers (plus one in the World Series) and drove in 105 runs in his first year with Boston. "But I try to be myself all the time. I don't put on any facade.

"And I won't change; well, maybe I'll come around halfway" toward being outgoing. "But I don't get enjoyment out of being the center of attention. I get my enjoyment between the lines of the ballfield and at home."

Lynn has one other chore before he can achieve the home half of his enjoyment: Red Sox team doctors want to take X rays of his tailbone, bruised in a collision with the center-field wall in the sixth game of the World Series.

"My back feels fine now but they want to make sure there isn't any fracture there," said Lynn.

"Anyway, after I do the auto shows, I'm going to go home and just relax. I'm going to play some golf and a lot of basketball to stay in shape. In January, I'll start throwing again with (Red Sox shortstop) Rick Burdison. I don't plan to pick up a bat until February."

The morning session will be moderated by Dr. James R. Johnson, dean of the School of Fine Arts. Dr. Julius A. Elias, dean of the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences, will chair the afternoon sessions.

Development taking shape

First Hartford Realty Corp.'s Forest Ridge 60-unit project has been designed as a luxury Condominiums are under construction on a 28.7-acre site off Lydall St. and Greenwood Dr. The complex, starting prices are expected to be in the $50,000 to $80,000 range.

History group to talk mirrors

Philip H. Dunbar will speak on "Seeing Yourself: Looking-Glass Making and Gilding in Hartford, Conn. from 1786" at the regular meeting of the Connecticut Historical Society, Tuesday at 8:15 p.m. in the Hoadley Auditorium, 1 Elizabeth St., Hartford.

Dunbar is a graduate of Dartmouth College and has an M.A. degree in history of art from Yale. He joined the society's staff in 1964 as assistant director following experience at Colonial Williamsburg as curatorial assistant, and as director of the Society for the Preservation of Long Island Antiquities. He is currently giving a 15-week evening course on antiques at Central Connecticut State College.

Little is known about looking glass. Their production in this country depended upon a gilder, and it is likely that all looking glass plates (the mirror glass) were imported from Europe until as late as the 1850's. Interested persons are welcome. Admission is free.

NOW lists speakers

State Sen. David Barry and Jean Parker of the National Organization for Women (NOW), are scheduled to speak at the American Issues Forum being conducted Wednesday at 10:30 a.m. at the West Side Rec. Center. The forum, which is being offered by the Manchester Recreation Department as a community service, is open to the public free of charge. Child care is available at a nominal fee.

Fall berries can be harmful

Weston Pierce, Director of the State Health Department's Poison Information Center today warned parents to beware of berries that ripen in autumn. "While many are edible," Pierce said, "there are some that may be very dangerous if they are eaten."

Pierce advises parents to "seek information immediately whenever their children eat any kind of berry not usually used for food. Prompt first-aid treatment undertaken before symptoms develop can prevent painful and serious illness."

For information about this or other matters related to possible poisonous substances, call the Poison Information Center at 565-3356.

Kirkland rep to visit MHS

Mrs. Vicki Hammond, assistant director of admissions, Kirkland College, Clinton, N.Y., will visit Manchester High School Nov. 7 to talk with counselors and interested high school students.

Kirkland, a four-year liberal arts college, is coordinated with Hamilton College for men.

Dear fellow residents:

The past four years have been exciting and rewarding to me. Our Board of Directors has been able to accomplish changes and combat inflation at a modest cost to us all. We have continued a town-wide sidewalk construction program, made road improvements and completed reconstruction of the Cooper Hill Filter Treatment Plant. Our two Junior High Schools have been renovated and a Regional Occupational Training Center is under construction. All recreational areas have been upgraded. Your interest and support have made it possible to ramp sidewalks and buildings for the handicapped. We have increased transportation and nutrition services for the elderly. These services improve the quality of life in Manchester and benefit us all.

In addition to a sense of accomplishment, I appreciate greatly the graciousness and warmth which have been shown to me by the people of Manchester and the civic, fraternal and religious groups in town. Manchester is a good town and a wonderful place to live. I am grateful I have had these past four years to meet you and serve you.

Sincerely,
John D. Thompson

Townwide meeting planned Sunday on ministry to shut-ins

By NANCY CARR

Manchester Area Conference of Churches

A townwide meeting for those who are visiting or interested in visiting shut-ins or those living in convalescent homes is being sponsored by the Division of Special Ministries Sunday from 3 to 5 p.m. at Concordia Lutheran Church, 41 Pitkin St.

As you perhaps know, there are many people in Manchester convalescent and nursing homes. Some of these patients are visited regularly and lovingly by friends and relatives. Others, particularly those transferred here from state institutions, see families infrequently if at all. For an even more isolated group, there are no family or friends left to visit.

Also living in Manchester are a growing number of men, women, and young people willing to set aside an hour or two a week or month to carry out a ministry of friendship to those confined to either their homes or convalescent homes.

This program for visitors is designed to give these people an opportunity to meet one another; to provide a time to express and experience the wonderful community of fellowship shared by those engaged in visiting; and a way to share ideas, concerns, problems, and exchange information. Time, please for thanks.

It also gives us a time and a place to show them how deeply their work is appreciated and to encourage others to join them.

The afternoon will include opening fellowship and worship sharing, a spring of hope, and Mary Ann Bugacki, our volunteer coordinator of convalescent homes to whom we are most indebted for a very dedicated job, will also be present.

A reminder that you are invited to join with the convalescent home subcommittee of the conference. They meet at noon the first Wednesday of every month at Concordia Lutheran. Next meeting is Wednesday.

Please join us for a most pleasant afternoon and bring a friend who may be interested in giving some time to this loving service. There will be program directors from area convalescent homes available if you wish to ask questions. Sister Genevieve Pakenham, our well-fellowship and worship sharing, a spring of hope, and Mary Ann Bugacki, our volunteer coordinator of convalescent homes to whom we are most indebted for a very dedicated job, will also be present.

A reminder that you are invited to join with the convalescent home subcommittee of the conference. They meet at noon the first Wednesday of every month at Concordia Lutheran. Next meeting is Wednesday.

Collegiate Civitans, we salute you for a task more than well done.

Windmills eyed for power in Alaska

FAIRBANKS, Alaska (UPI)—The eyes and thoughts of most Alaskans may be on oil and the big pipeline but that's not for Tunis Wentink of the University of Alaska's Geophysical Institute.

He looks to windmills as a possible answer to the energy needs of some Alaskans—particularly those in the Alaska bush where skyrocketing costs of electricity and transporting fuel are raising havoc with low family budgets.

"Most of Alaska seems to be a natural for wind power," says Wentink, who has been studying winds and windmills in Alaska for nearly three years.

Most of his funding comes from a National Science Foundation grant, and in the meantime he talks about windmills and their role in providing mankind with energy at the drop of a hat.

What's more, he's doing something about it.

In August, Wentink set into operation a small windmill for a cannery at Ugashik, a tiny community on the Alaska Peninsula 80 miles from King Salmon.

It is a 18 1/2-foot diameter windmill atop a 40-foot tower, and its three-bladed unit generates up to six kilowatts of electricity.

Now he is looking for a rural native community to demonstrate the effectiveness of windmills further and says he thinks it's a good deal because, once operational, windmills can pay for themselves in four or five years through savings on fuel oil.

Wentink's Dutch ancestors used windmills to grind grain and win much of Holland from the sea by pumping. In 1850, there were about 8,000 such windmills in Holland. By 1960, the number was down to about 90, mostly museum pieces.

Today, Switzerland and Australia are the main manufacturers of windmills, which were displaced almost everywhere else by cheap coal, the steam engine and then the internal combustion engine.

But Wentink says the day of cheap fossil fuel is over and a new life for windmills is possible.

So while much of Alaska is dreaming of oil and its impact, Wentink thinks of windmills.

"We want to do more and it is a good thing for the bush," he says.

Mayfair Y Club, we salute you also. We are most grateful to your ladies for their efforts and to Mrs.

YWCA plans workshops

The Nutmeg Branch YWCA is offering members and friends two holiday workshops in the next few weeks and is taking final registrations for the programs. Both will be held at the Community Y, 78 N. Main St.

"Holiday Breads," a two-morning workshop, will be Nov. 14 and 21 from 9:30 to 11:30 a.m. Lectures, discussion and preparation led by Cindy Thiess will focus on quick breads the first morning and yeast breads the second.

"Toymaking Workshop" is offered to those who want to learn to create their own stuffed animals and soft toys. Leslie Wright will teach the fundamentals of fashioning these in a two-morning workshop, Dec. 5 and 12, from 9:30 to 11:30 a.m.

Both programs are open to all interested women. Call the YWCA office, 647-1437, for more information and for registration.

Open house due
The St. Francis Hospital School of Nursing will hold an open house program for students interested in the nursing profession Saturday from 1 to 3 p.m. at DeSales Hall, 358 Asylum St., Hartford.

Further information is available from the admission office, 249-0101.

Douglas goes home
WASHINGTON (UPI)—Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas, 77, left Walter Reed Army Hospital Saturday, a spokesman for the court said.

Douglas, who has been recuperating most of the past year from a stroke suffered last New Year's Eve, was admitted Wednesday with a fever and was listed in satisfactory condition.

An Important Message From Ed Wilson...

WIN OR LOSE, I WILL NOT USE NEW YORK MONEY!

- (1) When the town manager was charged with manipulation of the merit system concerning an out of town, the Democrat Board of Directors gave him a vote of confidence.
- (2) When the people elected Mayor Thompson, Thompson quickly went out, and began calling for a State Income Tax. Under questioning Thompson admitted that he did not ask the people if they wanted another new tax that would hurt the elderly and middle class workers. The President of Thompson's union wanted a State Income Tax, the people of Manchester do not.
- (3) When nearly 1100 people signed a petition about Lincoln School, The Democrat Board of Directors ignored it.
- (4) When the people of Buckland and the 8th District asked for a vote as to which Fire Station should represent Buckland, the Democrat Board through cute and fancy legal maneuvers rushed into construction a station in Buckland, even while

- thousands of Buckland residents were signing a petition. This will cost the taxpayers of our town some $300,000.
- (5) The Manchester Democrat party leaders accepted money from a New York developer seeking to do business in Manchester. This New York developer received favorable zone changes. When asked about this New York money flowing into the Democrat treasury, Mayor Thompson answered, "No comment."
- (6) Do the residents of the North End and Manchester know that the New York developer wants to build an Instant City (Coventry rejected it) in Buckland and fill it with thousands of low income people from New York or wherever. Were the people told that they would have to pay for increased crime rates; schools; and all other services?
- (7) Why did the Democrats and town manager allow a New York firm to have four years before paying taxes? Manchester residents must pay on time.

South Windsor campaign quiet but interesting

Judy Kuehnel 644-1364
Circumstances, rather than issues, have made South Windsor's elections campaign an interesting one this year.

The charges, not numerous or severe, centered around on the candidates' backgrounds, rather than their stand on issues.

The Democrats claimed the GOP is not responsible with money. Also it has been only under the Democrats that South Windsor has prospered.

In essence, the issues just aren't there this election.

For the most part the current Town Council is a smooth working one and one that is not disgraced on many issues, indeed not issues that can make for political ammunition in campaigns.

All have been just as quiet on the Board of Education ticket, with both sides taking passive jobs here and there. The jobs are about communication-gaps and proposed building projects.

The Democrats have as their major claim to fame the fact that the tax rate has gone down over the past couple of terms. At a time when other towns faced fiscal trouble, South Windsor had money to spare.

After entering the voting machine and moving the red curtain handle to the right to close the curtains, the voter is ready to begin voting.

To vote without using the party levers, simply pull down the pointers over the names of the candidates chosen.

In South Windsor, voters can make selections for six council candidates of which nine will be elected; three Board of Education people with five elected, three Planning and Zoning Commission members with three elected, one treasurer with one elected; three contable candidates with five elected; two Board of Selectmen with six elected.

He is also first vice-president of the Connecticut Conference of Municipalities. Blackstone is a member of the Lions Club, Elks Club, American Legion Post 77, and an honorary member of the East Hartford Art League.

He is married and the father of three children. Also seeking re-election with the mayor is William F. Dwyer, the Democratic candidate for town treasurer.

A former councilman Dwyer served on the council 12 years. During this time, he was chairman of the council and deputy mayor from 1969 to 1974.

Dwyer is employed as a personnel supervisor at Hamilton Standard. He is married and the father of five children.

Hebron's voters must make many decisions

EVELYN CROSTON 228-9561
Democratic incumbent First Selectman Aaron Reid, seeking a fourth term in office, is being challenged in Tuesday's election by Republican Michael Biskupiak, a newcomer to the political scene.

Reid's running mate is Cynthia G. Wilson, the present tax collector and first woman to seek a seat on the Board of Selectmen.

Biskupiak's running mate is Arthur Pinsky, also a newcomer.

The first selectman position is a "head on" contest. But the loser becomes a candidate with Wilson and Pinsky for the two spots on the Board of Selectmen.

Republican Marjorie Clifford, a newcomer, is seeking the job of tax collector. She is opposed by Joan Rowley, a member of the Zoning Board of Appeals.

For treasurer is incumbent GOP Marion Foote, now serving her fourth full term. She is opposed by incumbent Elmer Young Jr., another political newcomer.

There are six-year terms on the Board of Finance with Democratic incumbent Carlman Frankel seeking re-election. His running mate is Edward A. Williams, a member of the Board of Education.

Of the four seeking the six-year term, voters may vote for any two. Also running for slots on the Board of Education are incumbent Robert Owens and Joseph Palietti.

There are two alternate positions to the Zoning Board of Appeals. One term begins this month and one term in November, 1976.

We built our own federally inspected meat plant where we cut, trim and age Stop & Shop beef naturally, for tenderness and flavor. And this is what makes our Great Beef great... every time you serve it. That's the way we do things around here.

We're working harder than ever to help you feed your family well without going over your budget . . . bringing you ads chock-full of specials. All-week specials. They don't last for only two or three days as some other supermarkets' specials. Stop & Shop specials last a full week, so you'll never go food shopping on Saturday to find you're too late for that great value you saw on Tuesday. We believe the day you shop, the day you save is a matter of choice . . . yours, not ours. That's the way we do things around here.

"if we wouldn't want to serve it in our homes, we don't want it in our stores" . . . That applies to everything in every Stop & Shop. Especially to our baked goods and our fresh fruits and vegetables. To make sure you always get freshness, flavor and value, we have our own bakery where we turn out over 40 kinds of bread, dozens of rolls, cakes, pies, pastries and other delights. And we have produce buyers who shop as carefully as you would, selecting the very best of the good, fresh fruits and vegetables, then rushing them straight to your Stop & Shop store. That's the way we do things around here.
