Oil sticks to East Hartford

HARTFORD (UPI) - A Hartford company has admitted responsibility for spilling thousands of gallons of heavy industrial oil into the Connecticut River.

While pollution cleaners go after the oil, lying six to eight inches thick on the water's surface in some places, the Connecticut River has been closed to navigation between Hartford and East Hartford.

The Coast Guard said Hartford Steam Service Co. Monday told officials a line from an oil storage tank at its plant broke last Thursday, leaking an undetermined amount of No. 6 oil into storm drains that empty into the river.

The company agreed to pay the cleanup bill, estimated at about $50,000, officials said. The Coast Guard said the leak was repaired Friday but the total amount spilled could possibly go as high as 10,000 gallons.

The Coast Guard closed the drawbridge at East Haddam Monday, blocking traffic from down river until the oil is mopped up, which officials believe will take five days. The largest section of the spill apparently was in East Hartford, where officials said at least 4,000 gallons of oil was accounted for. The spill was reported Sunday morning by a boatyard owner in Portland, who told authorities the oil was clinging to hulls of pleasure boats moored at his docks.

NOTICE Probate Court is open for conferences with the judge from 6:30 P.M. to 9 P.M. on Thursday nights. Night telephone number: 656-0465.

DETROIT - Kidnappers of the son of a General Motors executive Robert C. Stempel released 13-year-old Timothy at a hospital Wednesday night in return for a $150,000 ransom. The boy was uninjured.

WASHINGTON - Betty Ford has pledged to talk to the President about the appointment of a woman to the U.S. Supreme Court created by the retirement Wednesday of Associate Justice William O. Douglas.

WASHINGTON - The House has voted to slap a $373.8 billion cap on spending for the fiscal year now under way. That amount of spending will result in a deficit of $73 billion. The Wednesday vote was 225 to 191.

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. - Former Sen. Clinton P. Anderson, D-N.M., who served as a secretary of agriculture under President Truman and helped design the nation's policy in space exploration and atomic energy will be buried today in the state he came to in 1917 to regain his health. He died of a stroke Monday at 80 years old.

SAN FRANCISCO - The Ninth U.S. Court of Appeals ruled that the time Sara Jane Moore has spent in psychiatric examinations may be excluded from the requirement that her trial begin within 90 days of her arrest. She is accused of firing a shot at President Ford Sept. 22. If found competent to stand trial, the scheduled date will be Dec. 15, but the judge now can extend the date.

International

MADRID, Spain - Generalissimo Francisco Franco suffered complete kidney collapse and renewed and steady internal bleeding today, making him totally dependent on machinery to keep his wasted body alive.

VATICAN CITY - Pope Paul VI today ruled out the participation of bishops in choosing his successor, confirming the nine-century monopoly of cardinals in electing the Pope. He did, however, formalize his earlier ruling stripping cardinals 80 years of age or older of the right to participate in the voting.

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. - The Comoros Islands, an 838-square-mile archipelago in the Indian Ocean between Madagascar and Africa's southeast coast, has become the 143rd member of the United Nations.

Save New York

NEW YORK (UPI) - Gov. Hugh Carey has a new plan, said to have high-level support in Washington, to save the nation's largest city, the state's fourth largest city and four state agencies from imminent bankruptcy.

Carey called a special session of the state legislature today to unveil a $6 billion plan, which he said has strong backing in Washington. It involves federal guarantees to avert default by New York City, the City of Yonkers and four state agencies. Without federal help, Carey said New York would go into default today. Default in New York City and the four state agencies could occur by the end of the month.

At a news conference Wednesday, Carey said that based on a series of telephone conversations with Treasury Secretary William E. Simon, he was confident the plan would get some form of federal assistance. His plan calls for federal guarantees of as much as $3 billion in city bonds.

President Ford consistently has opposed federal guarantees of city notes. In Washington, presidential news secretary Ron Nessen said Wednesday, "There is no change in the President's position on New York."

However, Carey said, "I understand the plan as presented to the highest federal officials was described as 'interesting' by Arthur Burns, chairman of the Federal Reserve. And I talked with Secretary Simon and he believes the plan now should be worked further to make it more binding."

Three men sought in London bombing

LONDON (UPI) - Scotland Yard detectives searched today for three men who ran from the scene of a bomb blast at a fashionable London restaurant. One person was killed and 15 injured.

The terrorists tossed the bomb through a window of Scott's restaurant in the exclusive Mayfair district Wednesday night as 70 people were eating dinner.

The blast shattered windows and touched off a fire at the seafood restaurant, but the manager said special, splinter-proof glass saved many of the diners from injury or death.

James Egan, Hartford lawyer, shot to death

HARTFORD (UPI) - James Egan, 58, a prominent Hartford criminal lawyer was found shot to death in an apartment building early today, police said.

Egan, a Rhodes Scholar and Harvard Law School alumnus, was for many years a partner in the city's largest law firm, where he served as a family face to thousands of Connecticut residents.

Egan, who always wore a fresh flower in his buttonhole, never drove and always traveled in the city by taxi, was found dead at 8:55 a.m. inside a Washington Street apartment complex not far from the State Capitol and the Superior Court building in which he practiced.

A preliminary investigation did not disclose whether a homicide was involved, police said. "All we know is that he was shot to death," a detective said. Egan, a jovial six-footer, in 1956 won $48,000 in the television show "The $64,000 Question."

Justice Douglas retires

WASHINGTON (UPI) - William Orville Douglas, his 77-year-old body drained by "incessant and demanding pain" with little prospect for recovery, has retired from the Supreme Court where he served longer than any other man in history.

Douglas' illness accomplished the longtime goal of many of his enemies, who at one time included President Ford, who received Douglas' retirement letter Wednesday.

Although he had hoped to carry on his work for a 37th term after suffering a stroke last New Year's Eve, Douglas wrote that he realized "it would be inadvisable for me to carry on the duties required of a member of the court."

In his letter he indicated he had little hope of recovering. "I have been bothered with incessant and demanding pain which depletes my energy to the extent that I have been unable to shoulder my full share of the burden," he wrote.

Therefore, I hereby retire at the close of this day from regular active service as an Associate Justice of the Supreme Court of the United States.

He noted he had been forced "to leave the bench several times" during recent court arguments. He said, "I shall continue to seek relief from this unabated pain, but there is no bright prospect in view."

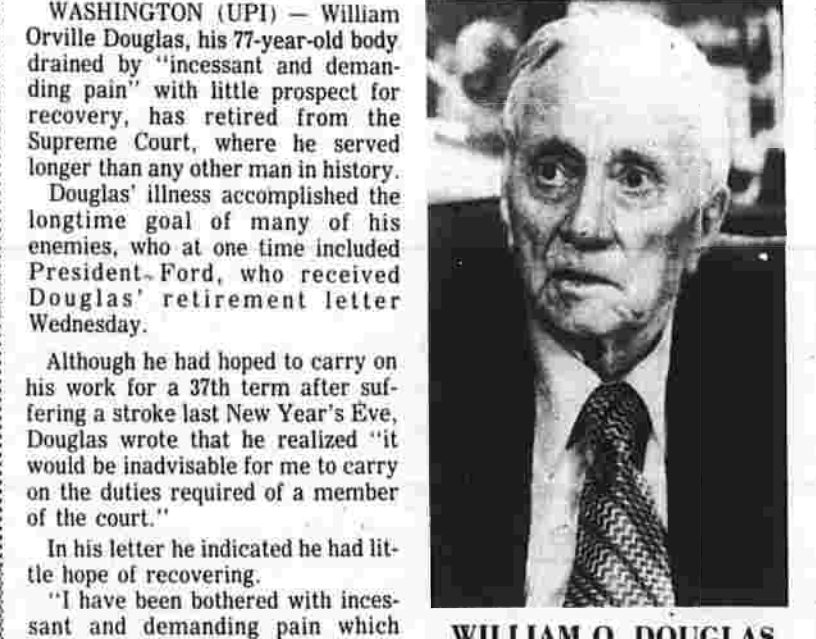

The President accepted the retirement "with profound personal sympathy for the sad circumstances" which caused Douglas to leave.

He noted he had been forced "to leave the bench several times" during recent court arguments. He said, "I shall continue to seek relief from this unabated pain, but there is no bright prospect in view."

Possible nominees could include Attorney General Edward H. Levi, 64, a respected legal scholar with little courtroom experience.

Ford declined Wednesday to rule out a woman. Prominent female jurists include Judge Shirley M. Hustis, 59, the first woman on the history of the court. Your contributions to the law, both as scholar and jurist, and your service... as a member and chairman of the Securities and Exchange Commission constitute a lifetime of dedicated public service matched by few Americans.

Douglas was appointed by President Franklin D. Roosevelt after serving as the second chairman of the SEC. He took his seat April 17, 1939, succeeding one of his legal idols, Louis D. Brandeis. At 40, he was one of the youngest men to sit on the court.

Federal jai al grand jury to question ex-Teamster boss

By ED BUTLER and JAMES V. HILLON HARTFORD (UPI) - A federal grand jury investigating a Teamsters Union-financed jai alai front in Bridgeport plans to subpoena Anthony "Tony Pro" Provenzano, a prominent figure questioned in the mysterious disappearance of Teamsters boss James R. Hoffa.

The grand jury will question Provenzano, former New Jersey Teamsters chief, about allegations he took a $150,000 cash payment in connection with the jai alai front.

The federal grand jury will investigate allegations linking Provenzano, imprisoned for extortion in 1966, to an estimated $200,000 construction loan from the Teamsters Union Central States pension fund, UPI learned.

Stockholders said they gave the money in good faith to corporate officials. The grand jury, which began hearing secret evidence Wednesday in Hartford, will also subpoena an unidentified Connecticut politician suspected of taking a separate $50,000 payment in connection with the front, UPI learned.

The front nearing completion in Bridgeport, 60 miles from New York City, the world's largest and most luxurious $14 million facility, if allowed to open, will feature parimutuel betting on the fast-paced game, a Spanish version of handball.

The federal grand jury will investigate allegations linking Provenzano, imprisoned for extortion in 1966, to an estimated $200,000 construction loan from the Teamsters Union Central States pension fund, UPI learned.

Stockholders said they gave the money in good faith to corporate officials. The federal grand jury is trying to pinpoint in whose hands the $200,000 ended up when it reached Connecticut.

A former director of the American Bank of Hollywood, Fla., David Friend who is president of the jai alai firm, Connecticut Sports Enterprises Inc., has told Connecticut organized crime investigators he paid a $250,000 cash fee to the late John M. Bailey, former national and state Democratic chairman.

Friend said the payment was for Bailey's help in obtaining a state gaming permit and was made about April 9, 1974, in a Hartford hotel. Bailey died this year, and his family and business associates have denied the allegation.

The bill won initial Senate approval Wednesday. A second Senate vote and House action was set for later today.

A UPI survey today revealed that the following companies have sent out "no-renewal" notices: The Travelers Insurance Companies, Aetna Life and Casualty Co., Keepers Insurance Co., Commercial Union Assurance Companies, Fireman's Fund American, Royal Globe, Home Indemnity, the New Hampshire Group, the Aetna Insurance Co., Maryland Casualty Co. and the Hartford Group.

Electric Boat strike end believed near

WASHINGTON (UPI) - Sen. Abraham A. Ribicoff, D-Conn., says there are indications the end of the four-month Electric Boat strike is not far off.

Ribicoff said Wednesday the long and turbulent negotiations have entered a "critical stage," with possible agreement near on the issue of wages, the last big block to settlement.

Ribicoff met Wednesday with chief federal mediator W.J. Usery to discuss progress in the strike that has crippled the Grout submarine yards. Some 10,000 skilled workers walked off their jobs July 1. "The time is now to reach agreement and settle this strike," Ribicoff said after the closed door meeting with the negotiator. Usery planned to hold meetings in Boston, starting today with two

Dwight Martin effective as Henry II

By JUNE TOMPKINS Staff Reporter
"Lion in Winter," a drama of parent-child relationships and controversies, as timely now as it was in the 12th century, is being presented by the Tri-Town Players. Playing the father who is beset with the problems of communication, or lack of, is Dwight Martin starring as Henry II, King of England in 1183. It is Martin who makes this dramatic play as James Goldman come alive as he covers the gamut of moods from cynicism to frenzy, from tenderness to rage. The king is beset with indecision as he wonders to which one of his three sons he will leave his kingdom. His quandary is complicated by the coming of his sons among themselves and with their mother, Eleanor of Aquitaine, the queen, over who will gain the prize. The play climaxes with an horrendous scheme to kill the king in which all the emotions of the sons, the queen and the king are brought to peak performance.

Bush nomination may be good for CIA

WASHINGTON—Politicians often say silly things when they're warming up to run for President and Frank Church, ordinarily a sensible man, got some nonsense out of his system as soon as he heard that George Bush had been nominated by President Ford to head the Central Intelligence Agency.

ANDREW TULLY

well with the Democratic presidential nomination, wrung his hands over the probability that the appointment of Bush, a former Republican National Committee chairman, would "compromise the independence of the CIA."

"Once they used to give former national party chairman postmaster generalships—the most political and least sensitive job in the government," cried Church. "Now they have given this former party chairman the most sensitive and least political agency."

OPEN FORUM

Vote urged

To all Eighth District voters,
I myself am not a citizen of the United States and therefore do not have the privilege of voting, but in recent years I found that I wish I did have that right, especially now on this particular issue, since it affects me personally.

I urge you all to get out and vote No. 17 at your Eighth District Firehouse. Use your right as a citizen and bring back the voice of the people; your vote counts.

Sincerely yours,
Mrs. P.M. Mullen
77 Main St.,
Manchester

MARC sales policy given

To the editor,
Numerous individuals in our community have been receiving phone calls during the past two months from salespersons who state they have articles for sale which are allegedly made at the Manchester Sheltered Workshop.

I would appreciate the opportunity, through your column, to state that no telephone solicitations are undertaken by any person in our association, nor by any members of our Sheltered Workshop staff. The products being offered for sale by the above mentioned salespersons are not made at the Sheltered Workshop, nor does their purchase in any way accrue to MARC, or its Sheltered Workshop clients.

The public is welcome to visit our Sheltered Workshop in Lincoln Center and observe our operation at any time. Any products that are made by our clients are sold to contractors through legitimate negotiations, or to individuals in Calico Corner.

Thank you for your courtesy.
Sincerely,
Jean M. McElraevy
president,
MARC, Inc.

Car juggling season opens

Once again the annual car juggling season is upon us. She comes home last in the evening, he leaves first in the morning, so she has to go scrape off the windows move her car out of the street before he can go to work every day.

And why?
So the snowplows can go through unimpeded some six times a year.

Thus, for the sake of a half dozen snowstorms, cars are not permitted to park on the streets 151 nights a year. Is this gross inconvenience really necessary? Wouldn't it be fair to fine only those cars that actually impede snowplows?
We think this unnecessary and oppressive restriction ought to be changed.

Yours Truly
K. E. Baker

Sets record straight

To the editor,
I wish to set the record straight. I wish to make the following known: In regards to the recent house fire in Andover, Thursday, Nov. 6, my complaint was certainly not with anyone who helped with the reporting or the extinguishing of the fire of the Sobol residence on Hutchinson Road.

Many newspaper articles implied that there was some disagreement or "feud" between my fellow fireman, John Hutchinson, and myself. To the contrary, Hutchinson is one of the most dedicated firemen and townsperson that I have had the privilege to know and work with for many years. Certainly had he not, with the assistance of Mr. Viosino, reported the fire when they did the results would have been much worse. My complaint was not with these people or with the people who broke windows to allow the family pet to escape. Nor with the many dedicated people who aided and assisted in extinguishing the fire.

My only complaint was and still is the fact that I felt those people that had stopped along Route 6 (a well traveled highway) to watch the fire could have reported the fire sooner and not assumed that it had already been done.

First and foremost, we have a fine Fire Department that I have long been proud to be associated with. Secondly, we are fortunate to have townspeople that help and aid the department whenever possible.

Thank you
Joseph C. Armstrong,

Praises police

To the editor,
The residents of the home involved were not at home at the time of the incident and Officer Minor began preparations for securing the premises. He patiently prepared a statement of the reported details of the attempt carefully explaining the need for such a statement and the next steps to be taken in the investigation.

His professionalism was typical of that exhibited by other members of our often-criticized, seldom praised, police department.

Their alertness did result in the arrest of the juveniles allegedly involved in this and a subsequent breaking and entering during the same evening (Nov. 2).
To borrow a phrase, "These are our guys."

Opposes gun controls

To the editor,
As of late much has been written and said in both the papers and on TV and radio on the subject of gun control as a means of stopping crime. Nothing has been said, however about punishing the criminal who makes a habit of committing these crimes, usually with a stolen gun.

The law-abiding shooter, hunter, collector, gun dealer, etc. have asked that the courts enforce the laws for years. We, in Connecticut have a mandatory one-year sentence for the use of a firearm in the commission of a felony, but the courts have not seen fit to enforce this law.

It would seem that the unknown anti-gun people should wake up and realize that while the honest gun owner will comply with the law, the hardened criminal will only continue to do as he has in the past, with no regard for the law or the rights of his fellow man.

Enforce the law on the criminals and wrongdoers in our society, not the honest shooters and sportsmen.

WILMINGTON, N.C., Nov. 13 — The local committee instructed four men to visit each household and "examine the arms that may be in each family" because of fears that British forces were assembling at Fort Johnson. The committee said "each white man" in a household would be able to keep one gun but others were to be requisitioned with fair payment made.

From Your Neighbor's Kitchen

By Vivian Ferguson

A gentleman I have known all my life walked over to the car. He peered into the back seat. "What's that vegetable you bought?" he asked. "Oh, that's fennel," I replied. Fennel is Italian in origin. It is known as finocchio in that language. This vegetable is greenish-white with stalks that look like celery when cut into salad. In its entirety, it has a more bulb-like structure than celery with much fatter stalks.

The upper leaves are more properly called foliage which is feathery like that of carrots. The upper, long portions of the feathery area are cut off by the grocer before he puts it out.

Fennel is crisp, sweet and has a slight anise-like flavor. It is delicious eaten raw and to my mind should only be eaten that way. There are various ways of cooking fennel. In Italy, we often find fish served with strips of cooked fennel which imparts an interesting flavor. We found fish steamed or baked atop strips of fennel. There are also fennel sticks, which are dried strips, sometimes placed atop fish when broiling.

Fennel can be taken apart in stalks but most everyone I know cuts it into fourths or eighths. You can make a different, tasty salad with this vegetable. Make or buy Italian dressing with red wine vinegar, olive oil, fresh garlic, salt and pepper. Add herbs, or a little dry mustard if you like. Cut up an onion, green pepper, radishes—all a nice color contrast. If you keep fresh chives in the house, chop a little and add it. Marinate the vegetables in the refrigerator for several hours, but before serving, place tomato wedges all around the edge of the bowl. Usually, I leave a clove or two of garlic in the bowl until serving time.

Finocchio, which is pronounced like Pinocchio, is traditionally served on St. Joseph's Day in Italy. It can be added to tomato sauce for spaghetti. Following are two simple recipes from the famous Ada Boni, who is often called "the Fanny Farmer of Italy."

Risotto con Finocchio

7 tablespoons butter
1 onion, thinly sliced
3 cups rice
10 cups boiling meat stock salt
1/2 cup grated Parmesan cheese
Wash fennel and slice thinly. Melt 5 tablespoons of the butter, add onion and fennel and saute gently until fennel begins to soften. Add oil and pour in a cup of hot stock at a time, cooking over medium heat. Add the stock as it is absorbed by the rice un-

Policy sought on school staff gifts

School Supt. James Kennedy has recommended school board approval of an employee conflict of interest policy which is more restrictive than Town of Manchester charter provisions.

The proposed policy, given to the Board of Education this week along with several other policy updates, deals with gifts to school staffers.

The policy would prohibit receipt of personal gifts from vendors or contractors doing business with the school system. The key word in the policy is "personal," according to the proposed rules, and the policy wouldn't stop employes from receiving "minor items of nominal value" generally provided by business vendors.

New guidelines for giving medicine to students. Medication would be administered in compliance with recently enacted state legislation.

New administrative guidelines on suspension and expulsion of students. The new policy is much more explicit than the current policy and will allow repeal of an outdated school board rule, Asst. School Supt. Alfred Tychsen said.

A new rule requiring a physical examination of prospective school employes and maintenance of a medical history record for each employe. Asst. School Supt. Wilson Deakin said such a policy now exists only for custodial and kitchen employes and the new rules would affect all school staffers.

Hose bids sought

Bids will be opened Nov. 25 in the Municipal Building for supplying the Town Fire Department with 600 feet of 3-inch fire hose.

The specs call for top quality, heavy duty, flexible, double jacket, 100 per cent synthetic-fiber fire hose, coupled with lightweight, aluminum expansion ring-type couplings.

Mrs. Richard Nixon's maiden name was Thelma Catherine Ryan.

Directors face full agenda Tuesday

By SOL R. COHEN
Herald Reporter
The Manchester Board of Directors faces a heavy agenda for its meeting next Tuesday — an agenda which may require it to meet twice this month or, if it meets only once, to table some of the items to its December 2 meeting.
The board's meeting Tuesday is at 8 p.m. in the Municipal Building Hearing Room.
In addition to conducting public hearings on about 10 proposed additional appropriations (with most financed by equivalent grants or contributions) and appointing members to town agencies, boards and commissions, the board will discuss several proposals of far-reaching importance, including one concerning the state's new Compulsory Binding Arbitration Act, adopted by the 1975 General Assembly.
The Connecticut Conference of Municipalities is initiating a court action to test the constitutionality of the act and is asking the state's municipalities, including Manchester, to help finance the lawsuit by voluntarily contributing toward the court costs.
Manchester's share could be anywhere from $250 to $3,000, based on population, the number of municipalities participating, and the length of time required for a decision in the case.
The same procedure and participation by municipalities was used four years ago in an action which successfully overturned former Gov. Thomas Meskill's imposition of state grants to municipalities.
It is the conference's position that the act takes away the right of a municipality to negotiate and approve its contracts with municipal employe unions. In Manchester, for example, the Board of Directors must approve labor contracts.
The act provides for "binding and no-appeal" decisions by an arbitrator, should an impasse be reached in negotiations.
At present, arbitration decisions are not binding and are subject to appeals.
Under business tabled in October, the directors will consider an agreement with Manchester Community College for placing a music shell on college property, will hear a report on proposed amendments to the Manchester Country Club lease, and will consider a $3,000 settlement to Mrs. Rose Guarnaschelli, 60, of Glastonbury.
The settlement is being recommended by Assistant Town Counsel Victor Moses. Mrs. Guarnaschelli fell March 13, 1975 on a Maple St. sidewalk. Her claim is for injuries sustained and for loss of wages.
Under new business items, the board will consider:
• A resolution to accept a federal grant of $450,000 (already promised) and a state grant of $250,000 (being requested) toward acquisition of the Manchester Water Co. (already acquired). The funds are earmarked for open space land in the water company holdings.
• Town Manager Robert Weiss said the state and federal funds could be used to reduce the $2.25 million bond issue for the water company holdings or could be used in conjunction with capital improvements proposed by the water department — the latter in conjunction with the Land and Water Conservation Fund Maintenance Agreement with the State Department of Environmental Protection.
• A report from the Advisory Committee on Transportation Needs.
• Support for the Meals-on-Wheels Program to be administered by the Manchester Homemakers Service. The town's cost share is estimated at about $14,000.
• A request from the town manager for filling five vacancies — a clerk in the health department, a clerk in the social services department, a technician in the water and sewer department, a job director in the Sewage Treatment Plant, and a manager in the water treatment plant. The last position was budgeted but was never filled.
• A request to re-classify the position of one senior recreation leader to the position of recreation supervisor, at no change in pay.
• A request for early retirement from Thomas Tedford, a school

Brunger will give a talk and slide presentation on Behaven's programs. The public is invited.
employe, to be effective Jan. 1, 1976.
• A resolution of commendation to Katherine Giblin for a contribution of plantings on Purnell Pl. as a memorial to her mother, Mrs. Mary Giblin.
• Accepting the extension of Highwood Dr. as a town street.
• Authorizing the director of social services to sign checks up to $150, in lieu of utilizing petty cash for emergency orders.
• Some resolve of the Spring St. sewer assessment problem. It involves a claim by the state the town owes it funds for sewer improvements there when I-84 was constructed.

"Once we got going we didn't stop," analyzed beaming Manchester High soccer Coach Dick Danielson after seeing his surging Indians scalp overtime triumph in the last 40 seconds. Manchester, now 11-5-2, placed sixth in the league but has come on like gangbusters in the tournament.
The rainy day victory at the University of Hartford before a crowd of 300, including three busloads from Manchester, sets the stage for a rematch with CCIL champ Wethersfield in the final Saturday morning at 11 at Hall High in West Hartford. Wethersfield gained the finals with a 1-0 win over CCIL for Enfield in the other half of the bracket.

In regular season action, Wethersfield outplayed the locals and eventually gained a 1-0 double overtime triumph in the last 40 seconds. Manchester, now 11-5-2, placed sixth in the league but has come on like gangbusters in the tournament.
As in its quarterfinal win over Ridgetown, the Indians completely outclassed the New Britain Hurricanes, who bow out with a 1-5 mark. Shots couldn't be tabulated because of the rain but Manchester, which shot wildly over-all, held a wide margin. "There are games where we can't put the ball in the net. We need 30 shots sometimes to score three (or four) goals," Danielson remarked.

An Indian performer who didn't miss was senior right winger John Paquette, who in his best effort of the season, registered the three-goal hat trick to bring his season total to nine. In his last two games, the hard-working winger has scored four goals. A regular season sport similar to this produced five goals in three contests for Paquette, senior inside Tavo Stimar. He tallied the other Indian goal, one which gave the locals a 2-1 lead it would never relinquish 21 seconds into the third stanza. Stimar leads the club with 10 goals.
The Hurricanes got the early jump at the 7:03 mark of the opening period after Manchester applied cur-pressure. Junior Juan Sierra on the left side avoided Indian fullback Bruce Ballard who slipped and fell on the wet turf and boomed a rocket to the short side past lunging goalie Brian Beggs. It was New Britain's second shot of the contest. They would get just one more.

"What did it for us was our defense. It wouldn't let New Britain in our goal area," commented Danielson. "When you play good defense the offense will take care of itself."
"After a little while and they see how they're playing they get mad at themselves and get going. I don't turn them on — they do it themselves," the veteran mentor added.
The Silk Towners tied it at 1-1 with 2:35 left in the first half off a scramble in front of the Hurricane

net. Stimar tipped it to junior reserve forward Darrell Hoey, who wound up with three assists. Hoey headed the ball but New Britain goalie Ron Marquis got his fingers on it but a second header, this time by Paquette, found the net.
Hoey and Stimar combined to give Manchester the lead it wouldn't yield. After the second half kickoff, Hoey deftly passed to Stimar who split past the New Britain fullbacks into the clear and his grounder found the left side of the net as Marquis had no chance to make the stop.
Paquette increased the lead to 3-1 with six minutes left in the third quarter blasting a rocket from the right side at an extreme angle with the ball just catching the inside left post. The senior completed the scoring with 7:30 remaining in the final stanza capping a beautiful three-man passing effort. Stimar on the left ticked the ball to Hoey in the middle who in turn slid it over to Paquette on the right who found himself facing an empty net.

Manchester's halfback line of juniors Matt Walsh and Bill Meier and sophomore Greg Smayda along with reserves Eric Thomas and Ed Hajbucki controlled the midfield area. "Only now are our halfbacks starting to play soccer. They're controlling the area where our passing has to begin," Danielson remarked.
The halfbacks, fullbacks and forwards did their job and now it's Wethersfield, a club Manchester has faced without success three times in tournament play. The last time the two collided was in the 1955 semifinals which the Eagles won 2-0.

Goalie Abrahamsson excels in Whaler win

By EARL YOST
Sports Editor
"Christie made a great save, didn't he?" an elated Jack Kelley said following last night's 4-1 New England Whaler win over Gordie Howe and the World Hockey Association champion Houston Aeros at the Hartford Civic Center.
Christie is one-half of the twin Abrahamsson brothers. The Swedish net-minder was never better before a rebound, in his new center post. The game-winner was by Tommy Webster following Abrahamsson's big save. The goal was unassisted.
Insurance markers came off the sticks of Tom Earl, while the Whalers were shorthanded, and by Mike Byers.
"We played the type game tonight that you are capable of," Kelley explained. "We had to carry the attack. You can't sit back against a team like Houston, they are too powerful."
"We have been playing tough best in a one-on-one situation. If Labossiere had scored, well, it was the turning point of the game," Kelley said.
"In a situation like that, I let the shooter make the first move and then react," Abrahamsson said. "I was lucky because the puck hit me on the left shoulder." The goal try was from 15 feet out.
Christie's brother, Tommy had matched Howe's scoring feat, also on a rebound, in his new center post. The game-winner was by Tommy Webster following Abrahamsson's big save. The goal was unassisted.

Van Arsdales double trouble
When Dick and Tom Van Arsdale entered the NBA 11 years ago out of Indiana University the dynamic duo (identical twins) had the reputation of hard-nosed players who would make the grade.
The pair, who caused many at Manual High in Indianapolis to feel they were suffering from double vision, have in 10 past years compiled impressive — and remarkably close — statistics. One might get the impression Tom, who was in Tuesday night with the Atlanta Hawks at the Hartford Civic Center against the Boston Celtics, or Dick, with the Phoenix Suns, would clearly emerge in the forefront.
This has not been the case. Similar to high school and college days, Dick and Tom remain almost equal. Going into this season, Tom was averaging 16.7 points and Tom 17.5. Dick totaled 3,553 rebounds and Tom 19 more with 3,572 — remember this is over a 10-year span. Each has been relatively injury free with Tom appearing in 777 games and Dick 785. The number of shots taken and made are in the same neighborhood and stats in steals, personal fouls, assists, etc., are so much alike the difference is negligible.
Old girlfriends, friends, coaches and teachers had trouble differentiating. Taking a look at what Tom and Dick have done in their NBA careers, they could probably switch places during one of those long overnight flights teams must take, exchange uniforms and neither team would notice a change in performance. They are twins in every sense of the word.

Bits and pieces
Basketball practice for scholastic teams begins officially Monday with most teams tipping off the 1975-76 campaign Dec. 9. Manchester High Coach Doug Pearson is enthusiastically looking forward to the season and the same must hold true for his East Catholic counterpart, Stan Ogradnik. The latter has back most of his 1974-75 club. Pearson, in contrast, must replace three starters but early barometers point to a successful season.
Six-foot-three sophomore Scott Hyde, son of former Tribe Coach Phil Hyde, who went for one year to prep school is back and all indicators state 6-4 Bruce Ballard will be out for the hoop team after a year's absence. Along with 6-3 Mike Quesnel, who averaged 13.7 points as a junior, the Indians will have a formidable front line. The two confrontations with cross-town East, which also will have a massive frontcourt, on Dec. 30 at Clarke Arena and Jan. 20 at the Eagles' Nest should be interesting and close battles. As many remember, the Eagles took the first meeting between the two last year, 60-55.
The biggest names among the entrants to date are Bill Rodgers, Tom NEWTOWN (UPI) — Fairfield Hills Hospital has lost its accreditation because of inadequate fire safety standards and the state Mental Health Department is trying to prevent the loss of federal funding.

 Compiling an impressive 49-14-1 record were the squads making up the fall sports program at Manchester Community College. Two teams — tennis and golf — highlighted the fall with undefeated seasons.

Coach Jack Redmond's netmen posted a 7-0 record with Jim O'Brien and Steve Hershby as standouts. O'Brien compiled a 7-1 record while the latter was 6-1. With the unbeaten season, MCC extended its streak to 18 straight wins, making it one of the best junior college teams in New England.

Rain and cancellations cut the golf team matches to two. But the Cougars edged both decisions over Hartford UConn, 3-2, and Thomas Valley, 4-1. In the Valley match, Dennis Tuning took medalist honors carding a 77. Founding out the 49-14-1 record were the squads making up the fall sports program at Manchester Community College. Two teams — tennis and golf — highlighted the fall with undefeated seasons.

Leading scorer was Betty Mayshar who against Tunxis served 12 straight points in the first game and 14 more in the second game. Competing against the weather, the baseball team posted a 2-3 record and was rained out in 10 contests. Standouts like sophomore Jim Blanchard, batting at a .411 clip, and Steve Weisher, hurling 10 shutout innings, the Collegians showed some light in a bleak campaign.

Trying new techniques for the spring season, diamond Coach Skip Olander's main objective in the fall was to experiment and find the best combination for a winning season. Led by runners Brian Collins and Bruce Sandy Sawicki, the Cougars posted two course records — a four-mile mark of 22:43

Bucks on winning streak with emphasis on defense

NEW YORK (UPI) — The Milwaukee Bucks used to consist of Kareem Abdul-Jabbar and four others. Having traded the team's only star, the Bucks now must put five others on the floor. But Wednesday the Bucks trounced the Philadelphia 76ers for the second straight night 108-84, extending their winning streak to five.

"The defense was the key," Milwaukee Coach Larry Costello said. "We played good defense against the 76ers back to back."

Defense was also the key in the Bucks' victories over the Boston Celtics and the Washington Bullets as Milwaukee launched its winning streak.

"This team plays both ends of the court," Costello said Wednesday night as the Bucks evened their record at 5-5.

"We got off to a bad start because of injuries to Bob Dandridge and Jim Price," Costello said.

Dandridge, a slender forward, scored 29 points against the 76ers and Price added 14.

Life of touring pro caddy great for Dennis Turning

DENNIS TURNING

By EARL YOST
Sports Editor

Tall and handsome and on the go from Maine to California during the summer months and on weekends during the golfing season is Dennis Turning of Glastonbury — a professional caddy on the Professional Golfers of America tour.

Employed during the "off-season" as a salesman at Regal Men's Shop in Manchester, Turning is also a second year student at Manchester Community College.

During the 1975 pro tour, Turning was the regular caddy for John Schlee of Dallas who plays out of Coral Springs, Fla.

"I would like to be a golf pro someday," the 20-year-old man said as he took time out from his duties as Lou Apter's Main Street barber-dashery.

"I played all sports at one time but when I found out that I could make money caddying, I turned to golf," he said by Turning had the use of.

"That was 10 years ago, so for half a lifetime, Turning has been totting bags from Goodwin Park in Hartford — a block from his home at the time — to the nation's most famous golf courses.

"I was guaranteed $150 a week, plus a percentage of the golfer's winnings. I received 10 per cent from that. I caddied for him in a dozen PGA tournaments in the States and in Canada," he noted.

Turning's last golf job was in the recent Disney World team tourney in Orlando where Schlee teamed with Bob Cole of South Africa to gain second place. The team win was worth $1,000 to the 6-2, 166-pound caddy.

The 17-year-old Schlee didn't win a major tourney but he made enough to keep the wolves away from the door and enough to keep Turning in spending money.

"Two years ago, I caddied for Lou Graham and the best he did was to finish second in the Memphis Open to Gary Player," the pro-to-be said. Holding a state golf handicap of four, Turning was the No. 1 player with the local college team the past two seasons. His only championship was as a 14-year-old at Goodwin Park. His only claim to fame as a player was in winning the junior championship at Goodwin Park as a 14-year-old.

"Next year I will caddy for Ben Crenshaw. He's one of the better younger players, only 23, and has a great future. Our first tournament will be in January in Tucson," he said.

Besides Schlee, Graham and Crenshaw, Turning has also toted the clubs in tourney play for colorful Chi Chi Rodriguez and Dale Douglass.

While the golfers travel first class, mainly by air, Turning had the use of Schlee's car — to drive from one tourney to another. "This cut down on expenses and I would also double up with another caddy and share a hotel and motel expenses," he related.

A graduate of Glastonbury High School, Class of 1972, Turning noted that a large number of caddies today are college grads.

Not too many young men hold down jobs that they really like. Turning is one of the exceptions. Caddying, he hopes, is a stepping stone to a career as a professional golfer, hopefully on the tour, and if not, as a teaching club coach. The team win was worth $1,000 to the 6-2, 166-pound caddy.

Midget football players honored

Outstanding players in the 1975 Manchester Midget Football League were cited last night at the annual banquet. Left to right, Bill Herliht gained the Jim Horvath Sportsmanship Award, President Don Flavell, Tom McCluskey was tabbed the most valuable back and John DuBois was named the most valuable lineman. More than 200 attended at the Army & Navy Club.

Third Young award 'something special'

NEW YORK (UPI) — Tom Seaver's third Cy Young Award meant "something special" to him, the New York Mets pitcher said Wednesday.

Each one of the Cy Young Awards means something and nothing compares to winning the first time," Seaver said at a news conference, "but this one means something special to me, too. I used to watch Sandy Koufax from the bleachers while I was growing up. I knew how many times Koufax had won it."

The former Dodger left-hander and Seaver are the only pitchers to win the Cy Young three times: Seaver won his in 1969 and 1973, while the Dodger Hall of Famer won in 1963, 1965 and 1966 — all when only one award was given, instead of the present award for each league.

"But it's got to be a big disappointment to Randy Jones," said the 6-foot-1, 195-pound Seaver after pulling 98 pitches to 30 for the San Diego Padres pitcher, drawing 15 first place votes to Jones' seven. "If he had won I could have said I deserved it. He pitched awfully well."

Seaver, who'll be 31 Monday, won 22 games against nine losses and led the league with 243 strikeouts, the eighth year in a row he equaled or surpassed the 200-mark for strikeouts in one year — a major league record.

Jones, a 20-game winner, led

Learning experience for Cheney harriers

By LEN AUSTER
Herald Sports Editor

Not doing as well as its initial season in cross country was Cheney Tech. The 1975 Beavers under first-year Coach John Whidden logged a 2-7 over-all record, 1-7 in the Charter Oak Conference.

"This was a learning experience for myself and the team," commented Whidden. "We got displaced sometimes and lost some close meets."

"As a coach I learned what to do and what not to do. We're going to have to change our training methods. Next year practices will be much harder because that's what they need and I feel it will pay off. We trained hard at the end and the times came down considerably."

"This team plays both ends of the court," Costello said Wednesday night as the Bucks evened their record at 5-5.

Pro hockey roundup

NEW YORK (UPI) — It took the Buffalo Sabres only four years to become the second best team in the National Hockey League. It may take them another four years to be the best.

Buffalo's success story saw the Sabres fight their way to the Stanley Cup finals last season, only to lose out to their old nemesis, the Philadelphia Flyers.

The pattern is continuing in the new campaign. Until Wednesday night, the Sabres had the best record in the league with only two losses in 14 games, but when it came time to play Philadelphia, they lost 3-1 score.

Not since March 28, 1973, has Buffalo beaten the Flyers in regular season play, a stretch including nine losses and a tie. It was also the first setback on home ice for the Sabres in 11 games.

"There's no such thing as a jinx," insisted Buffalo Coach Alvin Snitz. "How do I know what it is? We always seem to get in the hole against them. They don't really scare me. I think there are teams in the league, as tough or tougher than them."

To team Captain Bobby Clarke, the Flyers' victory simply was a matter of Philadelphia "checking like hell, and I think they were frustrated at the end. If you keep getting on top of them they got no place to skate."

Orest Kindrachuk snapped a 1-1 tie in the closing minutes of the second period and Don Saleski provided the clincher for the Flyers at 6:55 of the final period. Reggie Leach had scored Philadelphia's first goal, which was matched by Fred Stanfield of Buffalo.

In other NHL games, California beat the New York Islanders 5-1, Atlanta edged Kansas City 2-1, Washington and Pittsburgh tied 6-6.

Dr. E. James Roberts, one of four surgeons who performed the surgery Tuesday, said Prince was "an extremely sensible horse" and apparently knew rest would facilitate healing.

A hospital spokeswoman said Prince stood up several hours after the operation and returned to his stall at the center "under his own power."

She said the prognosis for recovery was "guarded but optimistic."

One of the bones near the ankle was severely broken, she said, and a "compression screw was placed to join the bones dislocated by the break."

Doctors said they were prepared to use an air-filled body splint, inserted in a pool of water, to keep the horse from kicking after the sedation wore off. But since Prince appeared calm after the operation, the splint was not used.

Prince Thou Art in guarded state

Dr. E. James Roberts, one of four surgeons who performed the surgery Tuesday, said Prince was "an extremely sensible horse" and apparently knew rest would facilitate healing.

ABA sells three player pacts of Sails to highest bidders

NEW YORK (UPI) — The American Basketball Association sold the contracts of three members of the defunct San Diego Sails to the highest bidder Wednesday, but held back 6-foot-11 Caldwell Jones in hopes of attracting a top offer from the Philadelphia 76ers of the National Basketball Association.

ABA Commissioner Dave DeBusschere set up a meeting for today with the 76ers, who had signed Jones to a contract for next season before the Sails folded. His limited availability greatly decreases his value among ABA teams, which is why DeBusschere is seeking cash from the 76ers to free Jones from his ABA contract.

Forward Mark Oberling was chosen by San Antonio and guard Dwight Lamar and center Dave Robisch were selected by the Indiana Pacers, but seven other members of Sails were unclaimed and placed on waivers.

However, the ABA's receiving a large payment from the 76ers is unlikely since Jones' contract would be a large increase in the Philadelphia payroll, already inflated by high-priced stars George McGinnis, Billy Cunningham and Darryl Dawkins.

If DeBusschere decides not to free Jones from his ABA contract, he will be offered to league members.

Oberling is a bullish 19-year-old forward who left the University of Minnesota after his freshman year, when his college coach, Bill Musselman, took over as head coach of the Sails. He was off to a great start as a rookie with the Sails and gives the Spurs tremendous front court depth.

Robisch, a 6-10 center, will be joining his fourth team in the past two months. He was picked by the Sails when the Baltimore Claws folded last month. The Claws got him from the Denver Nuggets in the trade for Dan Issel.

Indiana wanted another big man to spell Darnell Hillman and got a good one in Robisch, Lamar is a quick, good-shooting guard, but is only 5-foot-10.

Surgery scheduled for Bench Monday

CINCINNATI (UPI) — Dr. Donald O'Donoghue, who will operate on Johnny Bench's shoulder Monday says the Cincinnati catcher will fully recover and "should have no problem in being ready for the start of spring training" in late February.

The world champion Reds disclosed late Wednesday that their 27-year-old slugging star would undergo surgery on his left shoulder to repair damage from an earlier season collision at home plate.

"The operation is not considered dangerous," said a club official, "especially since it does not involve his throwing arm. It's to be a 'compression' operation, but not a serious one."

Bench played with pain through much of the 1975 season after colliding with San Francisco's Gary Matthews April 22. That collision jammed Bench's shoulder and damaged the cartilage.

The operation will remove some

A view of East Hartford government

By SHEILA TULLER

Most of the 17 council and board members sworn in at Monday night's ceremony had been elected to their office before. However, when Lawrence DePonte took the oath of office last week, he was making a little bit of history.

DePonte, 46, of 30 Tiffany Rd., is unique among his colleagues having been elected to both of East Hartford's governing bodies.

DePonte feels the board is incredible in that the members are usually in total agreement after a discussion instead of the two parties disagreeing.

He is looking forward to the challenges of this term. In the near future, the board will consider the Parent's Choice Program. Budget hearings for 1976-77 will be an important task.

More than 8,000 voters elected DePonte to his first full term last week. Those who have observed him in action are impressed with his sincere concern. He is quietly determined to work for those that elected him and for the entire community.

He has served on other boards and commissions in town through the years.

DePonte was born and raised in East Hartford. He and Fred Viggiano have been partners in the Hartford Tire firm at 339 Main St. for over 24 years.

He not only has been able to get along with his partner for a long time, but has been happily married to his wife, Jo, about as long. They have three children, Deborah, David, and Caroline.

DePonte said all board members are genuinely concerned with the students and school issues and all react differently to a problem. Each member knows the way he wants something accomplished. All often cross party lines to reach that goal.

When ideas are discussed around the board table, often an opinion or conviction you hold can be completely turned around, said DePonte. But because you listened to many views you feel good about changing your mind.

Fire calls

Wednesday, 12:32 p.m.—Fire in clothes dryer at 152 Cooper St. (Town).

Tolland County
Wednesday, 3:06 p.m.—Tolland Fire Department and Rescue Squad to accident on Mile Hill Rd.

Another round of talks has been scheduled for Friday afternoon but union attorney Robert Segal said a strike appears imminent. Job security, the use of outsiders to perform work normally done by union members, compensation for added duties at the station and staff reductions are key issues.

About 90 per cent of the board's agenda was tabled for a meeting later this month. South Windsor's new school board then closed its first meeting.

More political surprises in South Windsor's week

By JUDY KUEHNEL
Democrats on the South Windsor Board of Education received a jolt Wednesday night when it became apparent their five-man majority was really a four-man minority.

Mrs. Marion Morrisette, the high scoring Democrat in the recent seven-man race for school board, tipped her hand Wednesday night. Prior to the board's first meeting, she moved her seat from among the Democrats to the Republicans.

From there on, it was a Republican hall game. Amendments to board policy applying to pilot programs, parents' rights, and even the number of votes needed to make amendments was voted down.

Democrats were obviously angered over Mrs. Morrisette's refusal to side with them.

At the beginning of the evening, she declined the nomination as chairman of the board citing inexperience. She is, however, vice chairman of the board now headed by Democrat Donald Berghuis.

Republican William Neal appeared to be the true chairman of the board as the meeting progressed.

At 10 p.m., Neal made a motion which would make sensitivity training in the school system "expressly forbidden."

School Supt. Robert Goldman had appeared more and more upset with the events of the evening. At this point, he asked the board members to hold an executive session to "discuss a personality."

The session lasted a half hour. When the board reconvened, Neal's motion lost by a 6 to 3 vote.

About 90 per cent of the board's agenda was tabled for a meeting later this month. South Windsor's new school board then closed its first meeting.

Workers grid Portuguese Assembly

LISBON, Portugal (UPI) — Thousands of construction workers besieging Portugal's National Assembly Palace today allowed 200 deputies trapped inside to leave the building but demanded Prime Minister Jose Pinheiro de Azevedo remain until their demands were met.

The concession came as political parties mobilized their forces for a showdown throughout the country. Both right- and left-wing groups warned of an "imminent coup d'etat" from the other side.

A socialist party spokesman called the siege an open attempt by the Communists and radical left to overthrow the government.

A spokesman for the conservative Social Democratic Center party compared the event to the storming of the Winter palace in Petrograd in 1917, which brought the Communists to power in the Soviet Union.

As the first deputies began leaving the ornate palace, the unruly demonstrators formed a corridor for them to pass through.

The crowd estimated at 20,000 cheered the Communist representatives of the constituent assembly, but jeered and screamed insults against the others.

It was unclear whether all of the deputies were willing to run the risk of passing through the demonstrators. It also was uncertain whether the prime minister was still inside.

The deputies had been trapped inside the building for more than 18 hours without food and only water to drink. They said they had spent the night sleeping on benches and tables.

The workers' leaders said they had decided to give Azevedo until 10 p.m. (4 p.m. EST) to meet their full wage demands.

Earlier, Azevedo appeared on a balcony to address the demonstrators but was quickly booed into silence.

Compromise energy bill drafted

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The congressional conference committee that haggled six weeks on an energy bill has finally worked out a compromise. The result, if approved by both houses and President Ford, could be lower gasoline prices until mid-1977.

The bill, approved in conference Wednesday night, would force some conservation steps, push fuel prices down but allow them to rise gradually thereafter. It also would set gasoline mileage standards for cars, encourage alternate fuels, and give the President power to ration gasoline in an emergency.

Democratic conferees said they were told the Federal Energy Administration would reluctantly recommend Ford sign the bill, despite some things he does not like about it.

Disgruntled Republicans said they would refuse to sign the conference report. None of them signed it Wednesday night, though they have several days to do so while the staff writes the final language.

The oil price section of the bill was the most bitterly debated.

It would set an initial average price of $7.66 a barrel for domestic fuel, forcing it down from the current average of $8.75. The President could then raise the average as much as 10 percent a year over the 40-month life of the program.

Conferees agreed that expire Saturday clamp a limit of $5.25 a barrel on "old oil," based on the 1972 production rate, and leave "new oil," that produced above 1972's rate, uncontrolled and selling at about $12.

Ford wanted specific amounts of oil freed from controls gradually. The conferees' version would let him free whatever he wanted, if he makes a formal finding of need and keeps the increases within the average allowed by the bill.

Regional economic plan draws mixed reactions

BOSTON (UPI) — Most everyone agreed on the fact New Englanders must continue the business community they want its capital and must show the region is worthy of it.

But there were mixed reactions Wednesday concerning the practicality of a 12-point plan aimed at putting New England back on its economic feet through increased capital flow and a better-utilized labor force.

"It is a victory for common sense," U.S. Commerce Secretary Rogers C.B. Morton stated at the all-day symposium where the recommendations were unveiled by a task force appointed by the New England Regional Commission.

This is the first time in the history of this country that representatives of these several entities have ever come together to solve such problems on a regional basis," he said.

"This is absolutely top notch. We're tired of waiting for the federal government to act," said former U.S. Labor Secretary Willard Wirtz, a conference participant.

"It's a good start, but it needs a helluva lot of work before I'd want to implement it," said Halsey Smith, a former banker now director for research and advanced study at the University of Maine.

"I don't think we can afford to sit around and study this to death," countered Rhode Island's outspoken Gov. Philip Noel. "Even if we make some wrong turns along the way we'll be getting where we want to go sooner."

The report, eight months in the making, emphasized the need for coordinated regional planning, tax breaks for small businesses, creation of a privately funded regional fund to supply debt capital to established firms and re-emphasis of vocational education.

Its implementation will be the top agenda item at the December meeting of the region's governors in Vermont.

Although there was disagreement about the political expediency of some recommendations, participants generally agreed mutual economic health of each New England state is to the advantage of the whole.

Asked if he would feel guilty trying to get businesses to move to Rhode Island from Massachusetts where taxes are soaring, Noel insisted, "No, I'm the fastest gun in the East and mutual concern doesn't mean lack of competition."

"If a new business wants to locate in Rhode Island fine, if they locate in Massachusetts, I'd rather have them there than in Georgia. If they can't make it in Massachusetts, even Massachusetts would rather have them in Rhode Island," Noel reasoned.

FBI is accused of violating man's rights

NEW HAVEN (UPI) — A defense attorney for one of the defendants in the Shelton factory firebombing trial says his client's constitutional rights were violated and that certain evidence should not be introduced.

Attorney Andrew Bowman of Bridgeport said in U.S. District Court Wednesday that Albert R. Coffey, accused of conspiracy in the destruction of the Sponge Rubber Products Co. fire March 1, was improperly questioned by the FBI.

The attorney claimed Coffey was interrogated before he had a chance to obtain legal counsel and before he was formally arraigned, and thus evidence against him shouldn't be admitted.

Coffey is one of nine defendants on trial in federal court in the firebombing. In various actions Wednesday both the jury and the without the jury present, federal prosecutors discussed airplane tickets between Pittsburgh and New York City, and records of telephone calls between and among the defendants lived or worked in.

Weicker calls bill 'dishonest'

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Lowell P. Weicker, R-Conn., today labeled the national energy bill drafted by a congressional conference committee "an accommodation to politics, not energy."

Weicker said he voted against the bill drafted Wednesday night because it is "a dishonest piece of legislation which I can't vote for despite the rosly political picture it may paint."

The bill could lower gasoline prices until mid-1977, but allow them to rise

DEAR ABBY: The woman who is responsible for making my ex-husband a pervert now may be causing the same kind of behavior in my sons.

DEAR ABBY: We were divorced after two years of counseling that didn't do one bit of good. When I was gathering my ex-husband's things to pack him out and get him out of the house, I came across evidence that he is a sadist, masochist, exhibitionist, voyeur and transvestite!

DEAR ABBY: I am a 17-year-old girl who plans to pursue law as a career. I am a straight A student, and I'm neither pretty nor popular. I am somewhat anti-social, and I'm not domestically inclined, so marriage and a family for me are out of the question.

DEAR ABBY: I really don't care about having a husband and a herd of kids, and there is no way I will spend my life as a housewife. I'd crack up.

DEAR ABBY: My problem is my father. Every time I discuss my future plans with him, he says I am acting like I'd like to be a doctor or a lawyer, and you appear to need the services of both. I advise you to listen carefully to both these professionals, follow THEIR advice and get your money's worth.

DEAR ABBY: I really don't care about having a husband and a herd of kids, and there is no way I will spend my life as a housewife. I'd crack up.

DEAR ABBY: I really don't care about having a husband and a herd of kids, and there is no way I will spend my life as a housewife. I'd crack up.

DEAR ABBY: My problem is my father. Every time I discuss my future plans with him, he says I am acting like I'd like to be a doctor or a lawyer, and you appear to need the services of both. I advise you to listen carefully to both these professionals, follow THEIR advice and get your money's worth.

DEAR ABBY: The woman who is responsible for making my ex-husband a pervert now may be causing the same kind of behavior in my sons.

DEAR ABBY: We were divorced after two years of counseling that didn't do one bit of good. When I was gathering my ex-husband's things to pack him out and get him out of the house, I came across evidence that he is a sadist, masochist, exhibitionist, voyeur and transvestite!

Vicki's view of Bolton

By JUNE TOMPKINS
Herald Reporter

Life in Bolton, Conn., is a far cry from life in El Salvador, a small central American country tucked in between Guatemala and Honduras on the Pacific coast.

Discovering the difference is Victoria Tarada, a foreign exchange student living with Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Greene and their family at 185 Bolton Center Rd. Vicki is a senior and will graduate in June with her host sister, Laurie Greene.

School here is easier than in San Salvador, Vicki's home town and the capital of El Salvador.

In broken English, she explains a school day in her native town begins at 7:30 a. m. and goes through 6:30 p. m. There is more in-depth study. Vicki has studied several languages including English which she had for two years.

Bolton social life is much busier. Schools in San Salvador do not sponsor dances, especially during the week. Most of the social events are set for weekends. With such long school days, any time left is devoted to study.

Vicki says she plays sports such as basketball, volleyball, tennis, and sometimes softball. "Young people here are the most liberated in the world. Here, people are taught to be equal in all ages," she said.

"Here, young people don't show respect for teachers or adults. But in the next breath she says some of our liberality is good "because it allows people to say what they think."

"Family life here without servants is new to Vicki. Most families in San Salvador have servants to do the cooking and housework.

She is amazed Mrs. Greene cares for the house, plants, shops and prepares all the food, and has time for social activities and volunteer work.

Vicki's father owns four dairy farms in a country which Vicki calls prosperous. El Salvador majors in farming, textiles and industry.

"It is a popular place for tourists," Vicki says. "The beaches are wonderful for surfing and the climate is ideal. Winter temperatures hover in the 50s and 60s."

Vicki enjoys the different kinds of food here. In her country, the big meal is served at noon. Supper is served about 7 p. m. and usually consists of coffee and beans prepared in various ways.

Among the gifts she brought to her host family is a hammock handwoven in bright colors. Mrs. Greene hasn't decided whether to use it as a hammock or hang it on the living room wall.

Vicki's family consists of her parents, two sisters, and a brother who is a veterinarian.

In the Greene family Vicki has her host sister and two brothers.

Vicki's future? She would like to finish her secretarial training and attend college, maybe in a country away from her own — "If my parents say so."

Laurie Greene, left, of Bolton and Vicki Trada of San Salvador hold the handcrafted hammock Vicki gave the Greene family.

Detective says jai alai owner admitted payoff to Bailey

NEWINGTON (UPI) — A state police detective said today Bridgeport Jai Alai promoter David Friend told him he would visit Bailey.

Friend volunteered the information on two occasions in Hollywood, Fla., Sept. 8 and 8, and at one point offered to buy drinks and dinner for investigators.

Bailey's family and law partner, Alfred F. Wechsler, have denied Bailey took any money for the front, built with an $11 million Teamsters Union-pension fund loan.

"I got a little scared and got out," he testified Thursday before the state Special Revenue Commission, probing the scandal surrounding the $14 million jai alai front.

Manafort, 33, of New Britain, said he saw the cash the night of April 8, 1974. Friend has said he paid the late state and national Democratic Chairman John Bailey $250,000 cash on April 9 for legal work for Bridgeport Jai Alai.

Manafort said he was never told directly who got the money but Friend told him he would visit Bailey.

After looking at the cash, in $100, $50 and $20 bills, Manafort said he retreated quickly from the $150 suite in Hartford's Sonesta Hotel and related the sight to Quentin Hinton, an International Union of Operating Engineers lobbyist who was in an adjoining bedroom.

Saw a lot of cash on bed

Builder Frank Manafort Jr. tells the Connecticut Commission on Special Revenue Thursday in Newington that he saw thousands of dollars in cash spread on a bed in a Hartford hotel the night before an alleged payment was made to the former national and state Democratic Chairman John Bailey in connection with securing a license for a Bridgeport jai alai front.
