MIAMI BEACH — President Ford's federal loan guarantees will give the nation's largest city "the breathing space we need" to avoid defaulting on debts, Mayor Abraham Beame of New York said today. However he told the 51st annual meeting of the National League of Cities, he did not want to imply that New York's problems were over.

HILO, Hawaii — The 500-foot Kilauea volcano, triggered into dazzling eruptions by Hawaii's mightiest earthquake in more than a century Saturday, was simmering down today without any spurts of lava. Two persons died and more than 50 persons were hurt in crashing waves stirred up by the quake.

Coping with $80.1 million deficit

Legislature appears set to approve Grasso plan

HARTFORD (UPI) — The Connecticut Legislature today opened a special session expected to approve Gov. Ella T. Grasso's plan to avoid an $80.1 million state budget deficit. The Senate was gavelled into session by Lt. Gov. Robert K. Killian, who explained the rules governing the special session. A recess was called to allow lawmakers to prepare their plan of action.

Mrs. Grasso has asked the legislators to approve her six proposals to bridge the predicted budget gap, including a longer work week for state employees that has drawn threats of a strike. A rally of state workers at the State Capitol called to protest the longer work week had not materialized by late morning. Mrs. Grasso's budget-balancing act also calls for a state takeover of a $29 million fund for needy veterans, a hiring freeze, an end to nearly all state construction and a 10 per cent cut in welfare payments for medical services.

Tax increase no solution to state fiscal crisis

HARTFORD (UPI) — Gov. Ella T. Grasso said today she did not expect the special legislative session that began today to raise taxes.

"Raising taxes is not a solution," she said.

Mrs. Grasso, a Democrat, has proposed a series of measures, including lengthening the work week of state employees from 35 to 40 hours, to prevent the need for more taxes.

She said she expected her proposals would be approved by the Democratic-controlled legislature. She also said at a morning news conference that she has appointed John Filer, president of Aetna Life and Casualty, to head a committee that will study state government.

She said the committee, composed of four to five as yet unnamed persons, will review state government and recommend possible changes in legislative procedures.

"They will utilize all previous reports and look at areas such as higher education and the Department of Transportation for possible savings," she said. "We are in a crunch and the supplies of dollars are not available."

Manchester case involved

State obscenity law upheld by Superior Court tribunal

A three-judge Superior Court panel, in an appeal involving a Manchester case, has ruled that Connecticut's obscenity law is constitutional.

In the decision released today, the judges rejected claims that the four-year-old statute is too vague to meet U.S. Supreme Court tests of constitutionality.

The appeal was made for four men arrested three years ago and convicted for violating the law. The four were James Magee of Bridgeport, Joseph Keane of New London, Louis Welch of Waterford, and Ronald Dowsett of New London.

In November 1972, when he was arrested, Magee was manager of the Manchester Book Shop, then at 739 Main St. The store has closed. Magee was one of 11 men arrested in a state police crackdown of alleged pornography dealers.

The appeal brought by Magee and the others also claimed that the court should have judged the obscenity of materials on the basis of a national standard test in effect at the time of their arrest.

Several months after the November 1972 arrests, the U.S. Supreme Court issued its ruling allowing a community standard of obscenity, restricting the range of material protected by the Constitution.

The Supreme Court's ruling came in June 1973, and the obscenity trials in Connecticut's Circuit Court didn't take place until October 1973.

Judge Burton Jacobson, who tried the case, said the materials contained "multiple and variegated ultimate acts of sexual perversion which would have been regarded as obscene by the community standards of Sodom and Gomorrah."

The Superior Court appeals panel said the materials were obscene under the standards of any community — local or national.

The appeals judges were David M. Shea, who wrote the unanimous decision, John Speziale and Maurice Spozzo.

The Manchester Book Shop, no longer in business, opened in October 1971 and almost immediately created controversy in Manchester. An organization calling itself Citizens Against Pornography picketed the

U.S.-Soviet detente blasted

China's leaders give Ford warm welcome

PEKING (UPI) — China's leaders welcomed President Ford warmly today and then took the bloom off with a blistering attack on U.S.-Soviet detente, claiming Russian aggression "is bound to cause a new world war."

"Today it is the country which most vehemently preaches peace (the Soviet Union) that is the most dangerous source of war," acting Premier Teng Hsiao-ping said in a welcoming banquet toast four hours after Ford arrived for a four-day visit.

"Rhetoric about detente cannot cover up the stark reality of the growing danger of war."

Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger treated Teng's blast with diplomatic aplomb, saying it was just what he had "expected," and White House aides said Ford saw the text in advance and was unruffled.

His responding toast included a low key but firm defense of U.S. efforts to seek peace with the Soviets.

Nonetheless, most of the American delegation heard out Teng's remarks in silence and the toast put a rough edge on a welcome that had gone smoothly up to that point.

China's finest — the top political leaders available — were on hand when Air Force One touched down in cold, sunny weather at Peking Airport. Teng led a bigger and more prestigious welcoming contingent than U.S. diplomats had hoped for and, as a bonus, thousands of Peking residents jammed the streets to see Ford's 100 car motorcade pass.

The streets were empty when President Richard M. Nixon arrived on his historic China visit three years ago.

The welcome put Ford in fine fettle for his four-day visit. He laughed and smiled often as he, Mrs. Ford, daughter Susan, Kissinger and their party watched the ceremonies with Teng and listened to a People's Liberation Army Band play "The Star Spangled Banner" and "The East Is Red."

But only three hours later, Teng took the rostrum in Peking's Great Hall of the People and ripped into the Soviet Union and the "rhetoric" of U.S.-Soviet detente — in welcoming toast at the Ford banquet.

Teng said, in passing, that the United States and China could further "normalize" relations by following the guidelines laid down by Nixon and Chairman Mao Tse-tung, the ailing Chinese leader whom Ford expects to see before he leaves China Friday.

But Teng stressed the dangers of war and laid them at Moscow's door. "Our basic view is that there is great disorder under heaven..." he said.

"The contention for world hegemony is intensifying, and, strategically, Europe is the focus for this contention."

"Such continued contention is bound to lead to a new world war." Teng thus laid out in the bluntest terms the subject that is likely to dominate Ford's talks with Chinese leaders. The President replied 10 minutes later, saying:

"We have a mutual interest in seeing that the world is not dominated by military force or pressure... (But) in pursuing our objectives, each of us will of course determine our policies and methods according to our differing positions in the world and our perceptions of our respective national interests."

Ford said he looked forward to "frank and beneficial discussions" on U.S.-Chinese relations, including those fields "where our perspectives differ."

White House Press Secretary Ron Nessen said Ford considered Teng's toast "frank but not provocative. If you look at the whole day, the diplomats at the airport, the crowds in the streets, it doesn't give you the impression of a provocation."

Kissinger said, "What they said about detente was expected. They've been saying it to everybody."

Israeli cabinet rejects PLO Mideast debate role

By United Press International

Israel today rejected a U.N. Security Council move inviting the Palestine Liberation Organization to take part in a debate on the Middle East, saying the move could disrupt progress toward peace.

The Security Council opened the way for the PLO's participation in next month's Middle East debate in a vote that also extended the mandate of peacekeeping troops on the Golan Heights.

The Israeli rejection was announced in a government communique issued after a six-hour emergency meeting of the Israeli cabinet.

"The government of Israel rejects the measure that the Security Council took yesterday (Sunday) in decision No. 1188 where the council yields to Syrian pressure to create a linkage between the renewal of the U.N. forces in the north with foreign elements which have nothing whatever to do with the separation of forces agreement between Israel and Syria," the communique said.

It said the cabinet decided that Israel would not cooperate "in any way whatsoever" with the planned Security Council debate.

"Nor will Israel cooperate with the announcement of the president of the Security Council regarding the invitation to representatives of the PLO to participate in the discussion," the communique said.

"This resolutions likely to disturb progress toward peace in the area through negotiations between the parties without prior conditions and is likely in general to harm peace efforts in the Middle East," the government statement said.

The Council, meeting at U.N. headquarters in New York, voted 13-0 Sunday night to extend for six months the mandate authorizing the presence of a 1,200-man force in the buffer zone between Israel and Syria.

The vote — with China and Iraq abstaining — came only hours before the mandate was due to expire and followed three days of intensive debate.

Santa comes to town

Santa Claus came to Manchester Saturday for the first of what promises to be many visits between now and Christmas. He abandoned his sleigh because there was no snow and was taken to the Manchester Parkade by the Town Fire Department. He was immediately deluged with requests from Manchester area youngsters. MACC NEWS

Manchester Area Conference of Churches
 Nancy Carr, Director
 The MACC Seasonal Sharing Appeal to provide both food and warm clothing this Christmas to disadvantaged families was begun with a flourish of trumpets and open-handed giving at the Community Interfaith Thanksgiving Service. As many of you already know, 14 boxes of canned food for the Emergency Pantry and $520 for the Seasonal Sharing Appeal was brought to the altar rail at South Methodist Church as people from varying religious traditions and faiths walked side by side to share God's blessings with their neighbor. Sunday was a celebration and sharing surely in the true sense of Thanksgiving.

Last year in addition to Christmas food baskets prepared by individuals, organizations, and churches, the community gave $1,200 through the Seasonal Sharing Appeal. Altogether some 70 families received food boxes and over 60 children received warm winter jackets. Samba Christmas. The combination of inflation and unemployment has resulted in more acute need than ever before. Rising costs of basic necessities (food, shelter, warmth, medicines and treatment, clothing) have left many of our neighbors facing a somber Christmas indeed with lean shelves and empty pockets.

In order to meet this increased need a three-fold program has been developed:

MACC SEASONAL SHARING APPEAL - We have set our goal at $2,000. Because of hard times all money collected through the appeal will be used only for food and warm clothing. Checks may be made payable to: MACC Seasonal Sharing Fund, Box 773, Manchester.

FOOD APPEAL - Food given between now and Christmas will be set aside to provide a little extra for Christmas baskets. Families are asked to share their abundance by providing a Christmas food box for a needy family. Even more fun for you and the children, get together with a neighbor or friend and create a special Christmas basket complete with fruit, nuts, perhaps even a little holiday candy. All donations of food may be left at Salvation Army Citadel, 861 Main St., between the hours of 9 and 5.

Sparkles
 Since the first priority is to provide food and clothing, no money will be spent on toys or extras. Individuals or groups wishing to share Christmas joy by providing a fun present to children of disadvantaged families may participate in two MACC programs to bring the sparkle back to Christmas.

ADOPT A CHILD OR FAMILY for Christmas giving. Ages and sizes are provided. Confidentiality is respected.

TOYS FOR JOY - A program whereby children's gifts may be left at the MACC office or your church office. Please mark clearly on the gift the name of the toy and the age and sex for whom you bought it. Early please. Please do your Christmas giving early. Parents are notified several weeks in advance that some help is on the way. If your gift comes in the last week or so we have not been able to plan on it and perhaps the family that needed it the most won't receive it.

Dec. 15 is evaluation day. Please let us know by then if you are planning to help. If we have received your check by then we will know what help we can provide.

Christmas in convalescent homes
 This Christmas will come and pass and for 300 patients in convalescent homes there will be no special visitor, no card with their name, no gift "just for them." We hope to make their day even more joyful with a loving remembrance. Could you provide one or more small gifts? And more - arrange for the gifts to be personally delivered with love? Gift suggestions: For men - shaving lotion, body powder, handkerchiefs, small containers (toin, etc.); for women - small bottles of cologne, costume jewelry, perfumed soap, Christmas carol sing.

The Division of Christian Unity and the Dept. of Public Works of Manchester are once again sponsoring the annual Christmas Carol Sing at Center Park to be held Sunday, Dec. 7 at 7 p.m. Again this is a time for family singing and rejoicing. The Round Table Singers and the Salvation Army Band will join the carolers in all the traditional favorites. You are all invited, following the singing, to fellowship and refreshments just across the street in the Salvation Army Citadel. Come enjoy both the singing and each other.

There is just so much good news about your generosity through the Emergency Pantry to those who need food that I'll save it for next week's column. What a people!

AA welcome
 Alcoholics Anonymous welcomes both new and old members to a new evening together. Every Saturday evening at 8 at the Emanuel Lutheran Parish House, 94 Park St.

For more information contact the Emanuel Hill Group or call 647-9798. The welcome mat is out.
 Thank you
 A thank you from MACC to Vicki Jennings and Karen Prew for the art work on the new brochures. There are pamphlets available at the office describing the conference and in more detail leaflets outlining service programs at MACC as the Emergency Pantry and the Human Needs Fund.

Driving habitual offenders off road

More than half of those killed and maimed on America's highways each year — and there were 46,200 in the first category in 1974 — are victims of the HOD, the Habitual Offender Driver, says the National Association of Insurance Agents (NAIA).

Statistically, the number of HODs is few, only about 5 per cent of the driving population, but the wake of destruction they leave is enormous.

The Habitual Offender Driver drives too fast, and the number one cause of all fatal accidents on rural roads in 1974 was speeding.

The HOD drives left of center, and that was the number two cause of 1974 fatal accidents.

Then comes failure to yield right of way, improper overtaking, making improper turns and following too closely — and the arrogant and irresponsible HOD is guilty of all these.

Police files in one state show a HOD who in 11 years was arrested 25 times for traffic violations — 10 arrests for drunken driving, 10 for driving under suspension, and five for speeding, reckless driving and running a red light. He was arrested an average of 2.3 times a year, has held his license legally for only three months during the 11 years, yet he continues to drive, says the NAIA.

Records from another state show 1.35 convictions for 1000 habitual offenders. Still another state shows one man with 32 convictions that have cost him over $5,000. Despite his revoked driver's license, he is still driving.

The NAIA, which represents independent insurance agents in each state, has long campaigning for laws to get the HODs off the road and keep them off, which means putting them in jail if necessary.

In 1968, Virginia became the first state to pass habitual offender legislation. Its law stated that any driver with three major or 12 minor traffic convictions within a 10-year period was to be certified as a Habitual Offender Driver, lose his driver's license for five years and go to prison for one to five years if caught driving after losing his license.

When the law went into effect in Virginia, 38 HODs didn't believe it. They did after they started serving time in the state penitentiary.

The law was credited with a drop in Virginia's highway death rate of some 20 per cent within two years. By contrast, states which lacked anti-HOD laws continued to record increases in traffic fatalities.

Other legislatures began looking at the NAIA's model law, which requires no outlay of state funds, requires no additional manpower, keeps licensing at the state level and makes for uniform definitions, enforcement and penalties.

Since Virginia in 1968, 20 other states have passed habitual offender legislation: North Carolina, New Hampshire, Rhode Island, Vermont, Maine, Massachusetts, Washington, Indiana, Georgia, Florida, Kansas, Ohio, Delaware, Louisiana, South Carolina, Oregon, Colorado, Tennessee, Iowa and Montana.

But in 29 states the HOD is still allowed at large.

Until all the states join the fight to get the Habitual Offender Driver off the road, says M. Jay Wanamaker, president of the NAIA, the nation's auto fatality and injury toll will continue to be tragically and needlessly high.

Ronald Reagan faces Udall's fifth law

WASHINGTON — "As long as you're on the sidelines, you look awfully good. But when you get into the rack, people start looking closer at you and they see your shortcomings."

Thus Morris Udall delivered himself of "Udall's Fifth Law." Over breakfast, the Democratic presidential hopeful was huddling with a small group of newsmen one hour before and one floor above the announcement by Ronald Reagan in the National Press Club ballroom that he too was a candidate for President.

Although the Arizonaan was chiding members of his own party rather than Republican Reagan, his "Fifth Law" was clearly in evidence when the former California Governor announced, then began fielding questions from the press.

Reagan, flanked by his comely wife Nancy, knew he was in hostile country and showed it by the strain on his face. (In remarks prepared for other stops that afternoon, Reagan said he chose to announce his candidacy in Washington "because it is such an intimate part of our troubles: inflation, recession, unemployment, bureaucracy and centralized power.") His answers were generally brief and often noncommittal, leading President Ford's campaign manager, Howard (Bo) Callaway, to say that "it was evident today that Mr. Reagan will answer specifically only on what he wants to."

Callaway's remark could be dismissed as a bit of political pique over the California upstart challenging an incumbent President of his own party — if it hadn't been based on substance. Unfortunately for Reagan's fledgling candidacy, it was.

On two glaring issues in particular — surveillance and other activities by the FBI and federal aid to New York City — the Californian struck out, pleading ignorance on the grounds that he has not had time to study the issues. Even granting the fact he has been busy laying the groundwork for his candidacy, it is difficult to understand why he drew such a blank over two issues that have been debated so thoroughly in the nation's press.

In addition, the former governor appeared insensitive to the point of flippancy regarding the women's movement. Asked what he would do for women if elected President, Reagan winked down at his wife and quipped that, "I'm going to support Nancy to the best of my ability." A clever answer in private company, but a highly questionable one, politically, by a presidential candidate speaking on the record to the voters of America, about half of whom are women.

The Republican challenger was careful not to attack the President personally, repeatedly invoking the GOP's so-called "11th Commandment" — "Thou shalt not speak ill of another Republican." The closest he came to transgression was in prepared remarks in which he said, "I don't believe for one moment that four more years of business-as-usual in Washington is the answer to our problems, and I don't think the American people believe it either."

If Reagan appeared a bit combative with the Washington press, who early primary he's counting on winning, Reagan fondly hopes his next major appearance in Washington will be as the newly elected tenant at 1600 Pennsylvania Avenue. Between now and then, however, are 30 state primaries, tens of thousands of miles of travel, and a GOP convention in Kansas City that will have the final say whether the Californian will in fact be in the running for the roses in 1976.

'Watch that guy Barbagelata'

WASHINGTON — A rich and liberal Washington lawyer who toiled in the McGovern campaign of 1972 keeps telling people to "watch that guy Barbagelata out in San Francisco if you want to know how people feel about politicians these days."

Barbagelata who? The full name is John Barbagelata and he is San Francisco's conservative Republican supervisor in a mayoral run-off on Dec. 11 against George Moscone, a liberal Democratic state senator.

Barbagelata already has sent politicians everywhere a message by running second in a field of five in the Nov. 4 nonpartisan election. Says my lawyer friend, "Hell, we liberals should be worried when a conservative running on an anti-labor union platform does that well in a smart, liberal town like San Francisco. If he makes the run-off in contest, liberal candidates elsewhere had better readjust some of their plans."

Barbagelata got where he is by capitalizing on public concern over the recent strikes by police and firemen and Mayor Joseph Alito's surrender at the negotiating table. He supported a proposition, overwhelmingly approved, to limit municipal salaries; Moscone opposed it. He is a Reagan Republican and the highest praise he can bestow.

They don't know Barbagelata in other sections of the country, either, but they like him. In the latest of my own scientific polls, I called citizens who had written me during the past year or so. I had to explain to them who Barbagelata was, but he won unanimously. Two voters each in Paterson, N.J., Gary, Ind., Phoenix, Ariz., and St. Paul, Minn., cast their votes for him. Barbagelata also carried all four of the citizens I called in San Francisco.

So it will be both interesting and instructive to watch what happens at the San Francisco polls Dec. 11. Trying to persuade that lively city to go conservative is like running George McGovern for governor of Alabama, but it just might happen. These days, taxpayers' revolts erupt in the damndest places.

THOUGHT

"...As we have opportunity, let us do good to all men, and especially to those who are of the household of faith." Galatians 6:10

For most of us, as Christians, we take Paul's instructions to the Galatians pretty much at face value. Our calling as Christians becomes a rather vague notion about "doing good." For one New Englander, Henry Thoreau, such a prospect was frightening: "If I were to see a man coming my way with the intention of doing me good, I should run the other way." I think I'd be inclined to do the same. Being Christian is a call to be lovers, not "do-gooders." If in our loving we should happen to do good, it is a by-product. As the season of Christmas descends upon us, love a little, you'll be pleasantly surprised by what might happen.

Sunday cellar fire kills cat

A Sunday afternoon fire, possible of electrical origin, caused extensive damage to a basement recreation room at 46 St. John St. and resulted in the death of a cat, Town of Manchester fire fighters said today.

The blaze, which fire fighters contained in the basement, caused severe smoke and heat damage to the rest of the dwelling even though it didn't burn through flooring, officials said.

Deputy Fire Chief William Griffin said fire fighters responded quickly, pumped water through 1 1/2-inch lines into the basement, and accomplished a "good stop."

The fire was reported by a boy in the house at 3:35 p.m. The boy first tried to call headquarters from his own telephone, but smoke forced him to leave and make the call from a neighbor's home, Griffin said.

No one was injured in the fire, Griffin said. Two cats were in the house at the time, he said, and fire fighters rescued one but were unable to help the other, which apparently was overcome by smoke.

After the first crew fire fighters arrived, Griffin called for an audible alarm to summon off-duty and volunteer fire fighters. About 30 men responded to the alarm, he said.

The last piece of fire apparatus left the scene about an hour after the initial alarm. Cleanup continued until about 5 p.m.

The owner of the house, which couldn't be occupied after the fire, is Donald Whitehouse.

Board still without leaders

Vernon

The names of Republican Daniel Woolwich and Democrat Steven Marcham were placed in nomination. The vote ended in a tie.

Although the board has a Republican majority, one Republican was absent. It was agreed that elections be postponed until the next board meeting Dec. 8.

Mayor Benoit said he discussed the situation with Town Attorney Martin Burke, "and there is a question as to when such board look office since there is a discrepancy between the state law and the town charter."

He said, "The state law would seem to indicate that the board takes office on election day (Nov. 4) while the town charter specifies Nov. 15."

"If the state law were to control, the board meeting scheduled for Dec. 8 would be beyond the deadline. If the charter controls, the meeting on the eighth would be well within the time limit," Benoit said in his letter.

"It is a closed question. To rectify the situation, in the event the board does not meet in special session within a month of election day, but rather elects officers on Dec. 8, the Democratic members of the Town Council are prepared to vote to ratify the board's election to put any legal question to rest," Benoit said.

He added, "It is our view that the election of Board of Education officers is the responsibility and privilege of the board and not the council, and in this vein and in the spirit of cooperation between these two town bodies we feel this is an appropriate course of action."

Christmas doorway decorating contest

VERNON

After a year's absence, during the 1974 energy crisis, the Vernon Recreation Department will sponsor its Christmas doorway decorating contest again this year.

The theme will be "Our American Heritage."

In this light the department is encouraging decorations which reflect the Bicentennial theme along with the international theme. European or Latin-American traditions as well as those of New England are suggested.

Donald Berger, recreation director, said colorful old-fashioned traditions of Christmas from different American backgrounds will make a unique town-wide display for holiday sightseers.

While any Christmas doorway may be entered in the contest the judges will give special consideration to decorations following the heritage theme.

Persons wishing to have their doorway entered in the contest should call the recreation office no later than Dec. 15. Only those doorways officially entered will be considered for judging.

The date for the judging and the names of the judges will be announced later.

The South Windsor Board of Education reversed its decision last week on board policies, following a statement read by new board member John Giordano that, according to Town Counsel Tom Dennis, the board acted illegally.

Throng of citizens packed the Wapping School, many of whom were concerned with the policy regarding pilot programs which fell victim to what some considered "maneuvering" on the part of the Republican members.

According to the Nov. 12 action of the board any new program, or manner of approaching a subject, would have to be approved by the Board of Education.

Teachers and parents alike were upset by what many described as "a handicap to good education and good teaching."

"We pay good money to our teachers," said Board of Education member Marge Hutensky.

"Are we going to tell them how to do their job?" "If you hired someone to pave your driveway you wouldn't go out and tell them how to do it," she said.

"This board was out of order," said Giordano. "Action taken (regarding the policy changes) was actually null and void because the proposed revisions did not appear one week prior to adoption."

Democratic Board of Education Chairman Donald Berghuis, when asked to take appropriate action on the Town Attorney's recommendation that the votes were illegal said, "Regardless of my feelings on this I have to go along with the town attorney."

"However, I was not in favor of the revisions, anyway."

Republicans reportedly planned the policy changes confident that newly elected Democratic board member MaryAnn Morrisette would vote with them. They said they wanted to call upon the town attorney to offer a conclusive opinion regarding the present board policies.

Christmas doorway decorating contest

VERNON

After a year's absence, during the 1974 energy crisis, the Vernon Recreation Department will sponsor its Christmas doorway decorating contest again this year.

The theme will be "Our American Heritage."

In this light the department is encouraging decorations which reflect the Bicentennial theme along with the international theme. European or Latin-American traditions as well as those of New England are suggested.

Donald Berger, recreation director, said colorful old-fashioned traditions of Christmas from different American backgrounds will make a unique town-wide display for holiday sightseers.

While any Christmas doorway may be entered in the contest the judges will give special consideration to decorations following the heritage theme.

Persons wishing to have their doorway entered in the contest should call the recreation office no later than Dec. 15. Only those doorways officially entered will be considered for judging.

The date for the judging and the names of the judges will be announced later.

Conservation appointments announced

Town Manager Robert Weiss, who appoints the Manchester Conservation Commission, has named five persons to it - one to fill a vacancy and four to be presented when the commission was expanded from seven to 11 members.

Named to fill a vacancy was Mrs. Jacqueline H. Aronson, a Republican. She replaces Charles Crocini, also a Republican, who had resigned.

Named to the four new posts were Mrs. Ditta Tani and L. Spencer Cain, Democrats, and Mrs. Marjorie Chapin and Roy Thompson, Republicans.

The 11-member commission still has two vacancies, due to recent resignations by Harry Maidment and Jay Stager, both Democrats.

Dallas tight end's grab covered 60-yard first period play

Dallas in division lead

IRVING, Tex. (UPI) — As works of art go, Sunday's New York-Dallas contest ranked right up there with a three-year-old's fingerpainting.

But even if it wasn't a Rembrandt, the Cowboys' 62-yard throw that set up Doug Deminon's one-yard scoring plunge.

A win, after all, is a win, and the drab 14-3 decision over the offensively ineffectual New York Giants Sunday made Dallas a division leader again.

The Cowboys are now deadlocked with the St. Louis Cardinals atop the NFC East with an 8-3 mark and those two teams meet next Sunday in St. Louis. The winner of that one all but certainly will own a place in the playoffs.

"We weren't mentally sharp," said Dallas Coach Tom Landry. "But we got this one out of the way and all the marbles are on the line next week. That's the big one."

Dallas turned a potential runaway into a reasonably close contest.

Roger Staubach hit Jean Fugett less than four minutes deep in the game with a 54-yard touchdown pass and late in the first quarter Staubach teamed with Golden Richards on a 62-yard throw that set up Doug Deminon's one-yard scoring plunge.

But that was it. The Cowboys twice threatened in the second quarter, only to have Jim Stienke twice intercept Staubach and over the final two periods, Dallas could only get close enough for one missed field goal try.

But the Cowboys' defense, which has had difficulty slowing people down all season, had an enjoyable day against former Dallas quarterback Craig Morton.

Morton was making his first trip back to Texas Stadium since being traded to New York in the middle of last season and he probably would just as soon have stayed in Manhattan.

"The Giants' quarterback could hit only eight of 24 passes for 102 yards and had three intercepted. "I didn't play well," said Morton. "The evidence was on the field. When I don't play well, we don't win. I had a bunch of chances, we had receivers open, but I didn't get the ball to them."

New York's only score came on a 35-yard field goal by George Humt in the first quarter.

The Giants' only other threat came early in the third quarter when New York drove to the Dallas seven-yard line, only to have Morton misread the coverage on a safety blitz and throw right into the hands of Cowboy defensive end Ed Jones.

"The fact that Craig is a former Cowboy made us play harder," said Dallas

Steelers romp over Jets

NEW YORK (UPI) — Pittsburgh, picking off his ninth and 10th interceptions of the season and moving to within four of the league record set in 1952 by Dick "Night Train" Lane.

But even Blount confessed it wasn't a great effort.

"We played about as good as we had to," said Blount. "But I think I probably had more fun out there today than in any game all year. I got a lot of action my way. I had good receivers playing opposite me and we were up against a big name quarterback."

The Steelers, sluggish at the outset, struggled to a 10-0 lead. Namath's drive returned 46 yards to a big name quarterback.

The Steelers, sluggish at the outset, struggled to a 10-0 lead. Namath's drive returned 46 yards to a big name quarterback.

the end zone gave Pittsburgh the ball on its 20 and Bradshaw took them in for their first touchdown in six plays eluding a charge by defensive tackle Carl Barzilauskas and hitting Franco Harris along the right sideline. Harris took it in from the 20 to complete a 44-yard play and mark his first TD reception since his much-publicized deflection catch against Oakland in the 1971 playoffs.

Pittsburgh boosted its lead to 17-0 on its first possession in the second half as Bradshaw hit Frank Lewis on an eight-yard TD pass to cap a 51-yard drive. Blount's second interception set up the last score, Gerela's 19-yard field goal.

Oakland clinches title

NEW YORK (UPI) — It's the same old story for the Oakland Raiders — another division title and another tough road to the Super Bowl.

The Raiders clinched the AFC's West Division title in the National Football League Sunday when they scored a 37-24 overtime victory over the Atlanta Falcons on a dramatic field goal by 48-year-old George Blanda.

But to Oakland management, players and fans the reaction was: so far, so good but also so what?

This time around, the Raiders face the prospect of having to win over two teams with superior records during the season — the Pittsburgh Steelers and the Minnesota Vikings, both now 10-1 compared to Oakland's 9-2 record.

The defending Super Bowl champion Steelers ran their winning streak to a club record nine games with a 20-7 triumph over the Raiders Sunday night in Cincinnati.

The Colts rolled to their sixth straight victory as Lydell Mitchell ran for 180 yards, including a 70-yard scoring dash to hand the Chiefs their sixth loss in 11 games.

Packers 28, Bears 7. John Brockington scored on three runs from inside the 10-yard line as the Packers scored an easy win over the Bears. The Packers led 28-0 at halftime and stifled both the Bears' passing and running attacks.

Eagles 27, 49ers 17. Mike Boryla threw touchdown passes of five, 11 and 42 yards leading the Eagles to their third win in 11 games.

Los Angeles tough club on home court

NEW YORK (UPI) — Lucius Allen and Kareem Abdul-Jabbar know the feeling of winning at home in Los Angeles. Philadelphia over the Atlanta Braves Sunday, 1-0, to lead the 76ers with 20 points, while New Orleans, still playing without Pete Maravitch, was led by Louie Nelson's 27 points. Kings 110, Knicks 98. Nate Archibald and Jim Walker combined for 46 points in the last four minutes of the Nets' 113-109 victory over the Knicks. The Kings Portland had trailed by 16 points at halftime but rallied back when Abdul-Jabbar fouled out.

Allen, scoreless in the third period, contributed two rebounds and one steal in the final four minutes in addition to his eight points and finished with 20 points and five assists. Abdul-Jabbar, meanwhile, wound up with 22 points and 12 rebounds.

Elsewhere in the National Basketball Association, Kansas City topped the New York Knicks 110-98 and Philadelphia sacked New Orleans 113-96.

Over in the American Basketball Association, the New York Nets ripped Kentucky 113-84 and Antonio defeated St. Louis 127-115.

Greg Pust ran eight Reserve forward Steve Mix scored 12 points in the second quarter to spark Philadelphia over the Atlanta Braves Sunday, 1-0, to lead the 76ers with 20 points, while New Orleans, still playing without Pete Maravitch, was led by Louie Nelson's 27 points. Dolphin coach worried MIAMI (UPI) — While everyone else is worrying about how 41-year-old Earl Morrall will fill in at quarterback for Miami's injured Bob Griese, Dolphin coach Don Shula has other things on his mind.

Like what happened to the Miami running game? Or why could Baltimore run up the middle with ease in the second half of the Dolphins' surprising 33-17 loss a week ago?

"Earl looks as good to me as he ever did," Shula said of the 26-year veteran. "I think he'll hold up his end of the deal, but these other elements going."

Shula hopes the Dolphins (7-3) will start that task in tonight's game here against New England (8-7), as Miami hopes to stay ahead of Buffalo and Baltimore in the tight AFC Eastern Division race.

The Dolphins have averaged only 123 yards a game in their last four outings — not by bad standards but not good enough for a team that lives by the run.

Shula has spread the blame among his players.

Rangers, Bruins gloat together over big deal

NEW YORK (UPI) It was, perhaps, the first night both the New York Rangers and Boston Bruins could gloat together over the blockbuster five-man player deal they consummated a few weeks ago.

The Bruins, despite the absence of Bobby Orr, extended their unbeaten streak to 11 games by downing the Pittsburgh Penguins 4-2 Sunday night. No small part of that victory, however, was the contribution of ex-Rangers Jean Ratelle and Brad Park.

The Rangers, meanwhile, got back on the winning track by slugging their friendly cousins, the St. Louis Blues, 5-2. Biggest contributor to the Ranger victory was none other than Phil Esposito, the key figure (as far as they were concerned) in the deal that sent Park and Ratelle to Boston.

Esposito scored two goals and opened the Ranger scoring with a power play marker.

"My ankle is getting stronger," said Esposito, who almost immediately after coming to New York went out with the painful injury - thus nullifying any initial Ranger gloating. "I'll still have to live with it for a month or so, but I'm getting my timing back."

And if Esposito's timing continues to improve, the Rangers may soon be able to enjoy the prosperity the Bruins have had since the trade - on a regular basis.

With Orr sidelined with more knee surgery, the Bruins still have managed to continue their unbeaten streak over the last two games and Sunday it was a rebound of Ratelle's shot that Wayne Cashman converted for the go-ahead goal against the Penguins, while Park later rammed home an empty-net insurance marker with 12 seconds to go.

Elsewhere in the NHL, Montreal edged the New York Islanders 3-2, Philadelphia vanquished Vancouver 5-3, Kansas City and Chicago deadlocked at 1-1 and Atlanta bested California 3-1.

Over in the World Hockey Association, Ron Ward scored a league record-tying five goals to lead Cleveland over the Toronto Toros 10-9. Edmonton edged Calgary 4-2, Quebec shaded Phoenix 2-1. Denver topped Indianapolis 4-2. Houston drubbed San Diego 8-4 and Winnipeg triumphed over Minnesota 5-3.

Flyers 5, Canucks 3
Don Saleski scored a late third period goal to break a 3-3 tie and climax a come-from-behind Philadelphia win over Vancouver. Vancouver surged out to a 2-0 lead, but the Flyers came back to go ahead with three second period goals from Andre Dupont, Rick MacLeish and Mel Bridgeman.

Canadiens 3, Islanders 2
Steve Shutt scored two goals, including the game-winner as Montreal increased its first place lead to 11 points over the Los Angeles in the Norris Division. Shutt's winning goal came at 14:59 of the final period after Islanders goalie Glenn Resch initially made the stop but failed to hold on.

Black Hawks 1, Scouts 1
Wilf Paiement scored with 10:20 to go to earn Kansas City its tie with Chicago. The deadlocked game nonetheless enabled the Black Hawks to extend their unbeaten streak to 14 games. Grant Mulvey scored the Chicago goal in the first period.

Flames 3, Seals 1
Tom Lysiak scored two goals to spark a second period outburst that propelled Atlanta over California. Lysiak's goals, his ninth and tenth of the year, highlighted a three goal outburst by the Flames which broke a 1-1 tie.

WHA
After Ward scored his five goal which helped wipe out an 8-2 Toronto lead, John A. Stewart scored the game-winner for Cleveland which took a record 63 shots in the 10-9 shot-fest with the Toros. "I'm excited because we were losing 8-2 and it made us turn it around and win," Ward said. "But I just want to get 30 goals this year."

Democrats want hearing on proposed firehouse

Bolton
DONNA HOLLAND
 646-6032

The Bolton Democratic Town Committee has asked the Board of Selectmen to call a public hearing to discuss the purchase of land for a new firehouse.

The hearing is to precede a town meeting to request funds for the land purchase and for the building of the new firehouse, Democrats said.

At its last meeting DTC members questioned Leon Rivers and John Carey about the need for a firehouse. Committee members complained the selectmen too often ask the town for money for a project without first airing the issue and allowing townpeople the chance to offer alternatives, said Maureen Houle, chairman of the DTC.

They told committee members the state fire marshal has issued a formal complaint on the present firehouse. If the state fire code is not complied with, the firehouse could be shut down.

Carey said it will cost about $15,000 to bring the present firehouse up to standard. He is a fire commissioner.

Rivers said the Bolton Volunteer Fire Department and its auxiliaries have been saving money to purchase a new rescue vehicle. He said it would not fit in the present firehouse and there is no other place in town to house it.

He said the fire commissioners feel the town will get more for its money with a new firehouse because of the high cost for an addition and high maintenance costs to the present building.

The Planning Commission recently told the selectmen it agrees with the town plan, the present firehouse should meet the needs of the town through the planning period.

To that Rivers said the fire commissioners are not seeking an additional firehouse, rather a replacement.

Members of the DTC raised questions about the availability of funding, the fact the new library's operating costs have not yet been established, and the fact there are other town projects that should be considered before money is requested for a new firehouse.

One DTC member said other town buildings do not meet the state fire code. Another member said if the upper floor of the firehouse was closed off and the ground floor rewired, the building would meet regulations.

The DTC discussed a survey it will send out next month to a random sample of Democrats and Independents to assay the needs and concerns of townpeople, said Mrs. Houle.

Tiger gear
 Gill Boissonneau, head coach of the Bolton Tigers, midget AB football team, asks all players to return their gear Tuesday between 6:30 and 7 p.m. at Herrick Memorial Park.

Vote session
 There will be a voter making session tonight from 7 until 9 at the Town Hall.

Applicants must be 18 years of age, Bolton residents and, if foreign born, naturalized citizens.

Town council members planning to come are Jesse Brainard, Leonard Giglio, Robert Keller, and Robert Olmstead.

Board of Education members coming are Joan Lewis, Jacob Wisenalt, and Suzanne Brainard.

Tax Review Board members coming are James Ladd and George Bolduc. Zoning Board of Appeals members coming are George Coon, Charles Ratsch, and Don Smith.

The meeting is open to the public and will precede the Jaycees regular scheduled monthly meeting.

Gilead Church leaders elected

Hebron
EVELYN CROSTON
 228-9561

Florence Rice and Charlotte Motyka have been elected co-presidents of the Women's Fellowship of the Gilead Congregational Church for 1976.

Other officers include Marion Foote, treasurer and Marsha Hubbard, secretary.

The fellowship again this year has adopted a room at Mansfield Training School for their Christmas party on Dec. 10 at 7:30 p.m.

The Sunday School of the Gilead Congregational Church is beginning practice for White Gift Service Dec. 14 during 10:30 morning worship.

The Sunday School prepares and gives a Christmas program in December for the worship service. Gifts are brought by all for Mansfield. If wrapped, it should be clear for whom the item would be most appropriate.

There appears to be a great need this year for more gifts.

Items suggested for white gifts" include deodorants, powder, shaving cream, cologne, lipstick, comb, walnuts, neck ties, toys, puzzles, socks, jewelry, simple games, panty hose and kerchiefs.

Advent service
 The First Congregational Church will conduct a one-half hour Advent service at 7 p.m. in the sanctuary on Dec. 3, 10 and 17. These will be followed at 7:30 p.m. by an adult Bible study class.

Topics scheduled to be covered through discussion and Bible study are: What do we know about Jesus? the kingdom of God, and the lonely promise.

This series of services will be similar to the Lenten services last spring but will not include Communion.

Legion meeting
 The American Legion Auxiliary will meet Wednesday at 8 p.m. for a Christmas party. Members attending are asked to bring a gift for the Mansfield Training School and a grab bag gift.

Refreshments will be served. There will be a brief business meeting.

Board grants variance

Hebron
EVELYN CROSTON
 228-9561

The Zoning Board of Appeals Wednesday night after a public hearing granted a variance to Norman and Charlotte Goroff of West Hartford allowing them to use property having insufficient frontage as a building lot.

The board said all other regulations must be adhered to and the property remain as one building lot.

Goroff told the board he is purchasing 11.5 acres in the Salmon River Park Resubdivision. It has 50 feet of frontage on Sloum Road.

After the hearing the board re-elected Warren McGuinness and Joan Rowley, chairman and secretary respectively for one year.

You can put a meal together... pick out the salad, entree, dessert.

We've done all the time-consuming work, so it takes you only a few minutes from the planning to the eating when your meal comes from our service deli.

Actually, your delicious meal comes from our kitchen where we supervise the preparation of 14 different kinds of salads. Salads to serve with your main dish, and salads that are your main dish — good and fresh and tasty. Great meats... tender roast beef we cook in natural juices, our own White Gem roast turkey breast (all white meat), glazed Danish ham and Chinese style pork loin that you can buy sliced, by the chunk or the whole piece.

We've even fixed dessert — fresh creamy puddings most families like. And we have some good ideas for quick, easy hot meals — casserole dishes — all you have to do is warm them up.

Nothing could be easier than a dinner from our deli. Just look at the good things to eat:

Wait till you taste our meats. Our roast beef is great because it's Stop & Shop's Great Beef, naturally tender and juicy, cooked just the way you like it. And our roast turkey is our famous White Gem all white meat turkey breast, so you know it has to be good.

If you want something different, try Chinese style pork loin, glazed imported ham, extra lean corned beef or tasty meat loaf... all prepared by our own chefs. You can have them sliced to order or buy a chunk to carve at your table.

All you have to do is bring them home... add your favorite hot vegetables... and sit your family down to a great meal. And nobody has to know you didn't do all the cooking.
