

Elks memorial Sunday

Manchester Lodge of Elks will conduct its annual Memorial Service Sunday at 5 p.m. at the Elks Home, 30 Bissell St.

The public is invited to attend this service, which is a tribute to all deceased members of the lodge. Specific recognition will be given to the seven members of the lodge who have died during the past year. They are William Grisel, Max L. Schubert, Joseph B. Taylor, Robert L. Turcotte, Walter E. Schreiber, Edmond Parker and Clifford Ross.

Andrew Wintler Jr., exalted ruler of the lodge, will direct the Ritual of the Order with Thomas J. Blanchard, past exalted ruler and past district deputy, presenting the general eulogy. Refreshments will be served after the ceremony.

According to George L. Meixell, past exalted ruler and chairman of the annual service, the Grand Lodge requires each of the more than 2,400 lodges to set apart the first Sunday in December for a special service in memory of the departed members of the lodge.

Block Islanders plan different kind of card

BLOCK ISLAND, R.I. (UPI)—The few hundred year-round residents of this scenic Narragansett Bay island have decided to abandon the traditional exchange of Christmas greeting cards.

Instead, they plan to erect a large community Christmas card on the front lawn of the Town Hall so that residents can affix their season's messages for everybody to observe. "The people on Block Island are very close. There's no need for all the mailing," said Mary Donnelly. "It will be great to stop by and write a greeting to the whole town and while there read everybody else's greetings."

The Town Council approved the plan this week and the island's rescue squad has agreed to erect the eight-foot by four-foot plywood card. Mrs. Donnelly thought up the idea. She said it came to her last Christmas while writing 100 individual cards to neighbors and friends. "It's a chore and expense, but you don't want to eliminate anyone for fear they will be slighted."

Welcomed to Indonesia

Ford says America is a Pacific nation

JAKARTA (UPI) — President Ford, buoyed by "very, very constructive" talks in China, arrived to an enthusiastic welcome by 100,000 Indonesians today and declared America "a Pacific nation" despite the embarrassment of Vietnam.

In a toast at a banquet in his honor, Ford told this oil-rich nation the United States is dedicated to peace and progress in the Far East.

It was what President Suharto wanted to hear—America has no intention of pulling out of Asia, despite a lower profile in the aftermath of the Vietnam War.

The residents of the world's sixth largest country gave Ford, his wife Betty and daughter Susan a warm welcome. Thousands of school children holding pastel parasols against a soft, tropical drizzle waved U.S. and Indonesian flags and cheered and sang to the presidential motorcade.

The largely ceremonial, 19-hour visit to Jakarta came on the heels of a four-day visit to Peking which Ford and his advisers hailed as a sign that U.S.-China relations are sound and healthy—and sure to get better—despite lingering disagreements over Taiwan and detente with Russia.

The talks are certain to center on energy—Indonesia is one of the largest producers in the world and supplier of 11 per cent of America's imports—and increased U.S. military aid, which has dropped by more than 75 per cent over the last several years.

"We remain firmly committed to peace and security in Southeast Asia and throughout Asia," Ford told his hosts.

"We see our own prosperity and progress linked with the past populations, the dynamic economies, the abundant resources and the rich cultures of this great region."

"We share a commitment to economic and social progress," he said. "We share the realization that healthy and getting healthier, despite differences over detente and Taiwan, and full diplomatic relations with Peking—already bubbling as a presidential campaign issue—may take years to achieve.

crushing a Communist coup in 1965—at a time when Communist power in Southeast Asia is growing at a rate causing consternation to U.S. officials.

Indonesia, with a population of 135 million, is a major U.S. ally in Southeast Asia. Although it has 13,000 islands curving in its archipelago, two-thirds of them live on Java—many in virtual poverty.

But crude oil is Indonesia's ace in the hole. The country is a member of OPEC and a key piece in the world's oil puzzle.

In his response toast, Suharto expressed Indonesia's misgivings about the situation in Southeast Asia in the wake of Vietnam, and urged the United States to remain a force to be reckoned with in the Pacific.

Ford was buoyant after his four days of talks with Chinese leaders in which he emerged convinced of two things: U.S.-Chinese relations are healthy and getting healthier, despite differences over detente and Taiwan; and full diplomatic relations with Peking—already bubbling as a presidential campaign issue—may take years to achieve.

Town union offers compromise

A compromise proposal is being offered by Manchester's public works union in its dispute with the town over the issue of one or two men riding the town's snowplows during winter storms. Town Manager Robert Weiss says it wants to avert any job action.

A meeting to discuss the union's offer was being sought by Robert Fuller, president of the 200-member Local 991, American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees, AFL-CIO, with Town Manager Robert Weiss.

Both sides agree passage of railroad aid legislation is an absolute necessity before Congress adjourns for the year. But Ford has said he would veto the Senate bill and call a offer was being sought by Robert Fuller, president of the 200-member Local 991, American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees, AFL-CIO, with Town Manager Robert Weiss.

Weiss is questioning the interpretation of the ruling and has been told by the arbitration panel it will clarify its ruling on Dec. 18.

The union contends all members of Local 991 are eligible to volunteer for overtime "shotgun duty" on snowplows. Weiss contends only highway department personnel are eligible. Only three or four highway department men would be available.

However, about 60 would be available for volunteer duty if all public works personnel were considered.

Both sides have said they'll abide by the interpretation promised for Dec. 18.

The union had been considering some kind of job action in protest of Weiss' refusal to accept the arbitration panel's July 29 ruling.

At a meeting Thursday however, the 90 union members in attendance voted unanimously for a compromise offer — to be in effect between now and Dec. 18 when the interpretation of the July 29 ruling is announced. If the snowplows are even needed by then.

The union is proposing that volunteers be sent out on snowplows without pay for "shotgun duty," and that, should the Dec. 18 ruling go against the town, the men will be paid by the town for the time worked, and, should the decision go against the union, then the union will pay the men for the time worked.

Weiss declined to predict what will come out of his meeting with Fuller. He said he can't comment on the union's proposal until it is given him normally and then discussed.

Fuller said it is the union's position that the town should not suffer the first and that it won't take any action of any kind unless it has no other alternative.

He said the union will accept whatever decision interpretation of the Dec. 18 ruling comes out of the July 29 ruling when the arbitration panel.

He said the issue isn't back pay for volunteers for "shotgun duty" on snowplows. The issue, he explained, is the safety factor involved in snowplow operations and the need for two men on duty.

"I don't like decisions for back pay for people who didn't work for it and didn't earn it," said Fuller. "It's not fair to the taxpayers. We're only interested in a decision for two men on a snowplow."

He said the union considers the July 29 a clear-cut decision in favor of placing two men on a snowplow and that it feels the public shouldn't suffer by the manager's action in questioning the decision.

Senate votes to battle Ford on extent of railroad aid

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Senate voted to battle President Ford on the extent of railroad aid legislation in the House.

The Senate Thursday passed an $8.6 billion aid bill 53-38 after a last-minute compromise meeting with Transportation Secretary William Coleman Jr. turned into a session of "conflict and confrontation," according to Sen. Lowell Weicker, R-Conn.

Some $7.3 billion of this is loans or government-guaranteed loans, but some of it might never be repaid.

The Senate Thursday passed an $8.6 billion aid bill 53-38 after a last-minute compromise meeting with Transportation Secretary William Coleman Jr. turned into a session of "conflict and confrontation," according to Sen. Lowell Weicker, R-Conn.

Republican efforts to trim the bill by about $3 billion and tailor it more to Ford's liking were consistently defeated.

Special session adjourns

HARTFORD (UPI) — Connecticut lawmakers, called into special session to perform major surgery on a budget deficit, today were home without having made an incision.

Gov. Ella T. Grasso said the lawmakers' inaction forced her to lay off 500 state workers by Christmas, and perhaps as many as 4,000 by June, to balance the state's ledger.

The session adjourned late Thursday after the Senate squelched a House drive to keep working on averting the layoffs, bridging the deficit and perhaps clearing themselves of Mrs. Grasso's wrath.

The governor warned before summoning the special session that as many as 4,000 of the state's 38,000 workers might have to be laid off to cut $8 million from the predicted $80 million budget gap.

The session ended officially when the House voted to go home, winding up a madcap series of votes that had lawmakers reaching for their Robert's Rules of Order, a book that details parliamentary procedure.

The Senate earlier had voted to adjourn despite a previous vote by the overwhelming Democratic majority in the lower chamber to stay in session, until the budget was balanced.

After the Senate vote to go home, the House had the choice of following suit or staying in session — displaying concern about layoffs and the deficit but unable to get the two-chamber approval needed for enactment of laws.

Senate leaders argued there was little chance of developing a quick and acceptable way of balancing the budget, and every day the lawmakers stayed in session burned up taxpayers' dollars.

Mrs. Grasso, a Democrat, began laying blame on the Democratic-controlled legislature Wednesday, shortly after they knocked down her two main plans to balance the budget gap.

Her plans would have saved $8 million by coupling a longer work week for state employees with a hiring freeze — to reduce the labor force while keeping up efficiency — and taking over a $29 million investment fund for poor and ailing veterans.

The legislature rejected Mrs. Grasso's plans after state employees threatened a strike if they stretched the work week from 35 hours to 40 hours and veterans' groups protested in mass against the takeover of the Soldiers Sailors and Marines Fund.

State workers now are lobbying against the layoffs.

Mrs. Grasso said about $40 million would be saved through budget cuts she instituted in the executive branch of the state government, including state agencies.

The legislature approved only two uncontroversial — but minor — parts of Mrs. Grasso's proposals. One channeled "Instant Lottery" revenues about $7 million into state coffers and another required monthly rather than tri-monthly collections of state taxes.

The total expected to be saved through both measures was about $11.3 million.

Legislative inaction angers Gov. Grasso

"I would hope that we can do it without an income tax, that I will veto an income tax and that I will work against the override," Mrs. Grasso vowed in a tense voice.

The governor said she had appealed personally to Senate and House leaders Thursday before they voted to adjourn the session.

But Mrs. Grasso apparently has wavered in her opposition to raising existing state taxes to balance some portion of the predicted $80 million budget gap.

"I would hope we can do this without tax increases but I think we must make that final judgment later," she said.

Mrs. Grasso declined to comment on recent criticism of her administration by Nicholas Carbone, former Hartford Democratic town chairman and a strong supporter in the early part of her gubernatorial campaign. "I suppose one of us must be gentlemanly," she said.

Hurry!

Time's running out on two ways we can lower your '75 taxes.

December 31st is coming up fast. By federal law, that's the last day you can sign up to take advantage of an important retirement tax shelter. (At least, if you hope to have a lower tax bill on your 1975 income.) And you don't have to be rich to do it.

The First Federal Keogh Account is one way. This is for the self-employed — people who own their own unincorporated business. Under this plan, you deposit up to 15% of earned income (up to $7500) each year, until you start your retirement.

The First Federal I.R.A. Account is the second way. This is for people who don't have a pension where they work or can't get one. Here, each year you may put 15% of your annual income (or $1500, whichever is less) into retirement savings.

Either way, you pay no taxes on this money until you retire. The money you save will be earning the highest interest allowed. Even the taxes on your interest will be deferred until your retirement years — when it's likely you'll be in a much lower tax bracket. Have you been wondering about one of these no-catch, money-saving, federally-approved plans? The big friendly eagle urges you to act now! The people at your nearby First Federal office are ready to explain these plans to you personally. Before the time runs out.

Gardening

by Frank Atwood

Bicentennial gardens of red, white and blue flowers will be planted in many parks and at many private homes in 1975 as the nation observes its Bicentennial anniversary.

Plantings of red, white and blue tulips have been made at many locations. One garden center reported that its supply of blue tulip bulbs sold very quickly after the bulbs had been received from Holland.

Old vegetables have been equally popular and can make, in my opinion, a more striking display than tulips, although the bulbs are more expensive.

When it is time to plant seeds of annual flowers for next summer there are other choices. Petunias can be grown in red, white and blue colors. Verbenas are another excellent possibility. It is possible to mix the species. Ageratum is a favorite blue flower. Geraniums will flower in red and white, but not in blue. Study of a seed list will suggest other kinds, and the seed catalogues are already starting to arrive.

It is impossible to obtain seeds of varieties that were grown in home gardens 200 years ago, but the Experiment Station was able to find seed of varieties grown about 100 years ago and the director of the station, Dr. Paul Waggoner, says there will be some improvement, if any, in the century before that.

For the station's one-century-old varieties, help was obtained from Old Sturbridge Village, which grows old varieties every year in its farmhouse garden and maintains its own seed supply. Seeds were also found at two commercial seed companies, Joseph Harris of Rochester, N.Y., and Gurney Seeds of Yankton, S.D., which have kept the old varieties by planting enough each year to make sure they were not lost.

At the Mt. Carmel farm of the Experiment Station the old and the new varieties were planted side by side and each were plainly labeled. The contrast was most marked in corn. A variety named Lawrence Flint, 1875, grew with short stalks and few, small ears. In August, at the time of the Plant Science Day, the plants had already turned brown.

A modern hybrid corn was twice as tall, with heavier stalks, more and larger ears, and was still luxuriantly green. There were other differences also between the old and new varieties of beans, peas, cabbage, melons, radishes and tomatoes. Almost all the sweet corn, a century and more ago, was white. Yellow corn was considered a suitable feed for livestock but not for the family table. The first yellow sweet corn of better flavor, Golden Bantam, made its appearance in the center will be a large star of gray-white dusty miller, outlined by stripes of red and white small-flowered begonias. Ageratum will provide the blue border of the emblem. The bed is 28 feet wide and 28 feet deep.

The red begonias were especially effective, thinks Mrs. Stanley Juros, chairman of the committee, since the leaves turned red like the flowers in late summer. Planting, weeding and watering will be the work of volunteer club members.

Based on last year's garden, the Coventry Garden Club is submitting a report of its project, with pictures, news clippings and complimentary letters from town officials, in the hope of an award from the Federated Garden Clubs.

Block grant project hearings scheduled

Manchester's Community Development Advisory Committee (CDAC) will begin a series of meetings Monday to formulate a list of projects for federal block grants expected next year.

The CDAC conducted two public hearings this week to consider revision of priorities set last year. The committee's new list is to be submitted to the town Board of Directors by Dec. 16, so directors can hold their own public hearing. Directors must adopt a list of projects by Jan. 1.

Community Development Coordinator Alan Mason said the CDAC has a variety of options to consider in revising the tentative project list. Among new ideas expressed at this week's hearings were establishment of a day care program, development of a center for the handicapped at the old Nike Site, and expansion of the town's Verplank School pool to include facilities for the handicapped.

It appears likely that the CDAC will work one or more of the new ideas into the project schedule to replace an item no longer a top priority. The displaced priority was a $70,000 allocation for buying more land for elderly housing.

The Manchester Housing Authority was allocated $116,000 for buying land this year and originally intended to buy more property, but plans were scrapped when housing officials were unable to negotiate for extra land.

Other items on the priority list for next year's block grant were $88,000 for a multi-service center, $8,000 for ramping public buildings, $55,000 for a revolving loan fund for housing rehabilitation, $20,000 for housing code enforcement, $58,000 for downtown sewer improvements, and $25,000 for administration.

The town expects a $801,000 grant in the second year of the federal Community Development program. A total of $903,000 is expected over the three-year program voted by Congress in 1974. An unspecified amount of federal money is expected in the fourth and fifth years of the program.

Manchester has already spent about $263,000 of the $301,000 grant received this year, for the housing land purchase, housing code enforcement, and administrative costs. Other first-year projects not yet started include ramping of public buildings, the multi-service center, and downtown sewer improvements.

The CDAC, originally comprised of 29 members but now down to just 11 working members, will meet at 7:30 p.m. Monday at the Municipal Building Coffee Room.

Coventry Crafts show canceled

MONICA SHEA 742-9495

The Coventry Republican Women's Club at its last meeting voted not to sponsor the 11th annual Arts and Crafts Show and Sale.

The prohibitive cost of using the high school was one of the reasons. There will be other money raising activities by the group to support their community services.

Arlene Ferguson, Pat Speck, Mildred Hanson and Suzanne Brainard will report to the group at its December meeting on the feasibility of a Bicentennial activity next summer.

A nominating committee of Jane Welles, Carol Benjamin, and Nancy Moore were appointed to bring a slate of officers for the coming year to the December meeting.

The group voted to donate $20 to the holiday committee to be used to help a needy family at Christmas. The club's Christmas party and December meeting will be held at Bonanza in Willimantic Dec. 8 at 7 p.m.

Windsor Locks firm low on equipment bids

The Macgovern Co. of Windsor Locks, with a net price of $2,220, is the apparent low bidder for furnishing 12 trimmer-edges for the Manchester cemetery and park departments. Its net price includes the trade-in of 12 used trimmer-edges.

A total of six bids was received for the machines, with the high $3,033, including trade-ins.

Prices were submitted by eight bidders for a variety of athletic supplies for the recreation department—24 different items in a variety of sizes and quantities. All of the eight submitted prices for some of the items, several for most of the items, but none for all of the items. The bids will be analyzed before contracts are awarded.

Tractor-mower bids sought

Bids will be opened Dec. 18 in the Municipal Building for a convertible tractor with a 40-inch commercial mower for the Manchester cemetery department. Being offered in trade is a used 36-inch self-propelled mower.

Also Dec. 18, bids will be opened for a variety of arts and crafts supplies for the Manchester recreation department. Being sought are prices on 261 different items, in a variety of quantities, sizes and colors.

An election will be held at a special meeting to be called by district electors. District president Michael Massaro said today candidates will be accepted also from the floor.

Jones-Keele-Batson Unit 95 American Legion Auxiliary will conduct a bake sale Saturday, Dec. 13 at Ted's Market in the Village Shoppes, Rt. 66 from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m.

All proceeds will go to the unit's Bicentennial project, the replacing of the wooden honor roll at Veteran's Park with a granite monument.

The Republican Women's Club is assisting with the bake sale. The unit has received several donations from groups and individuals towards the goal project of $5,000.

A total of $500 is on hand and the unit has applied for a federal grant in the amount of $1,500 towards the project. Nothing has been heard to date.

Other fund raisers planned by the unit include the sale of certificates signifying help in the project, a raffle and the coordination of the Bicentennial ball with all proceeds going into the fund.

The unit has contributed gifts with an estimated cash value of $200 to the three veterans' hospitals for their Christmas shops.

Veterans in the hospitals are able to select gifts without charge from the shops to give to their families.

A total of 56 gifts were purchased by the unit with 31 going to the hospital in West Haven, 13 to Rocky Hill and 12 to Newington.

The gifts were delivered to the hospitals by Unit President Geraldine Grant and Chaplain Terry Michael.

The unit is also donating new and used items to the Mansfield State Training School and Hospital. About 20 gifts have been collected to date from unit members.

By BETTY RYDER
Family/Travel Editor
On Luck, means "peace, quiet and tranquility" in Chinese, and that is just what you'll find at the On Luck Restaurant at 234 Spencer St.
Tucked in a corner of the Shop-rite Shopping Plaza, across the street from K-Mart, the restaurant offers a complete luncheon and dinner menu of popular Chinese cuisine.
Tastefully decorated with green and gold tree-trimmed wallpaper and straw thatched roof effect, the On Luck Restaurant has comfortable booths and tables with seating covered in green brocade. Booths are illuminated by soft wall lights, and center dining tables have individual centerpiece candles.

Only nine months old, On Luck is owned and operated by two East Hartford brothers, Nicholas and Dominic Wong.

On Luck, which is open daily from 11:30 a.m. to 11 p.m. and Saturday and Sunday, 2 to 9 p.m., offers a variety of delicious luncheon and dinner menus.

"Nothing is cooked in advance," she added.
Guests are invited to bring their own alcoholic beverages. "When guests bring in wine, we place the bottle in an ice bucket, frost the wine glasses, and serve them at their table," Ms. Christman said.
"If they prefer mixed drinks, we provide ice, glasses and charge a nominal fee ($5 cents) for gingerale or soda," she said.
A comfortable restaurant in which to enjoy delicious Chinese cuisine, On Luck is true to its name. It is peaceful, quiet and tranquil.

Orford school eyed as day care site

Planning a proposed Day Care Center, a task force of Manchester Community Services Council has located a town-owned site—Orford Village School—which could be licensed, if funds are available, for 32 students, 3 to 5 years of age, to provide a quality day care program.

That's what Mrs. Pat Schardt, task force chairman, reported to the council Tuesday afternoon.

After exploring all funding alternatives, the task force is now looking to the town for a block grant, Mrs. Schardt said Tuesday night. "We asked the Community Development Advisory Committee for funds to cover an operational budget for one year for 32 children, and money to buy interior equipment and to renovate and paint the town-owned site," Mrs. Schardt said.

"The committee didn't say 'No' to us. They didn't say 'Yes' but they didn't say 'No,' she said.

The goal of the day care program is to afford the preschool child every opportunity to achieve well-rounded mental, physical and social growth. The program will include such services as daily nutrition, medical and dental evaluation, educational and creative motivation and psychological child development services," Mrs. Schardt said.

Looking for a mixed student population, the task force recommends that the center have 22 students on a sliding fee basis, from economically pressured families or children with special needs, and 10 students on a full fee basis, from families with working parents, full-time students, parents engaged in job-training programs or from families with special needs, Mrs. Schardt reported.

Special blood drawing slated for next week

In an effort to help relieve a shortage of blood, the Manchester Red Cross will hold a special Bloodmobile operation next week.

Blood types needed are type O positive and especially O negative.

The blood drawing will be Tuesday from 11:30 a.m. to 4 p.m. in the conference rooms at Manchester Memorial Hospital.

Because of the short notice, no appointments are being made for this operation. The success of the operation depends entirely upon walk-in donors. Hospital parking will be available.

The present shortage along with the anticipated seasonal drop in collections has made it necessary to hold extra visits so that sufficient supplies of blood will be available for the state's 41 hospitals.

Any person in good health between the ages of 18 and 66 may donate blood.

Mayor says buildings in 'dire' state

Vernon
 Mayor Thomas Benoit, in his first few weeks in that office, has toured with other town officials the school system's administrative offices. In connection with this the mayor appointed a committee last Monday to work with the Board of Education toward a refurbishing program. He said it will take a lot of money and effort.

Concerning the former Administration Building, which the Common Pleas Court plans to lease for its use, the mayor said the lease is winding its way through state procedures but he expects to hear soon.
 "The state is anxious to take over the lease," he said.
 He also toured the new addition to Rockville High School and said he was very impressed with the entire building. He said the town should be proud of what it is offering the students.
 The building on Rt. 30, now known as the Teen Center, the mayor said he did not include on his tour because it's being worn out by people looking at it. "He said, however, he has been inside the building before.

 He said the town has to take a hard look at it because it is in very bad shape. He said he hopes to make a decision about the building before winter sets in as it's expensive to heat.
 He said he is also awaiting a report from the fire marshal which will hopefully offer some options concerning the building.

Regional primaries proposed
 WASHINGTON (UPI) — effective one for the nation.
 Sen. Walter F. Mondale, D-Minn., has introduced legislation which would create a system of regional presidential primaries.
 Mondale, who bowed out as a candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination, said the present primary system is "often a mindless one from the candidates' perspective, too often a self-defeating one for the parties, and frequently an ineffective one for the nation."
 The Mondale bill would divide the country into six regions. Each region would hold a primary on a specific Tuesday between late March and mid-June at two week intervals.
 States could choose—as they do now—not to hold primaries but if they opted for a primary to select delegates to the national convention they would have to hold it on the assigned date.

Notes from the little black book
 Hockey officiating at its worst was on display in Houston Tuesday night as the New England Whalers ended the 22-game winning streak of the Aeros, 5-2. One of the biggest weaknesses in the World Hockey Association, next to a few shaky franchises, is the staff of ice enforcers. Bill Friday, chief referee, is top grade but the others for the most part leave much to be desired. Tuesday night's game was a classic in poor officiating. The referee was consistent, that's about the best that could be said in his behalf. Bill Rasmussen, who handles the play-by-play action for video games of the Whalers, has a pleasing, major league style of describing the play. How many hockey buffs know that bearded Doug Roberts of the Whalers played varsity football at Michigan State. An end, his teammates included Bubba Smith and George Saimes, both of whom later played in the NFL. John LaFontana, varsity football coach at East Catholic High, reports for the first time in years the school did not have a sophomore player who earned a letter. Fourteen of the 22 starters this fall with the Eagles were seniors. The former pro tackle, who guided his club to a 5-4 win-loss record, is enjoying his cigars more each day than the season has ended. There are 44 different type memberships available in the Ellington Ridge Country Club. Who was it who said the membership was limited to golfers?...World Hockey Association attendance after the seventh week averaged 7,588 fans per game. New England is doing a little better than that but is down from the game average of a year ago.

New look for hoopsters
 Varsity basketball squads at Manchester High and East Catholic High will both sport a new look this season in new uniforms. The Eagles and Indians may not be the best in the win-loss column but both won't have to take a cheer seat to any team in floor dress. Karen Herbert has won a berth with the women's varsity swimming team at UConn. She will compete in the freestyle event. Bruce Taggart, former Manchester High football player, has lettered in the sport this fall at Nichols College. John Sommers of Vernon also lettered in the same sport at the Dudley, Mass., college. Brian Herostian, former UConn baseball and football player, led the Winnipeg Blue Bombers in tackles and interceptions in the Canadian Football League this season. He was also named the team's most valuable player. A year ago Herostian was a defensive back with the Baltimore Colts in the NFL. Kevin Porter, playmaking guard with the Detroit Pistons in the NBA, is averaging just under 10 assists per game, best in that important phase of the game. Dave Cowens of Boston is averaging 15 rebounds a game, second only to seven-foot Kareem Abdul-Jabbar who has pulled down an average of 18 per outing. Jabbar also leads in blocked shots, with five per game. One of the main reasons for the success of the Houston Rockets in the NBA to date has been the play of Mike Newlin. A summa cum laude graduate at Utah, Newlin is pursuing his education by taking psychology and chemistry courses at the University of Houston just to keep his mind active.

Notes off the cuff
 Saturday night's UConn-Yale basketball game at Storrs is a complete sellout. The New York Giants may be without star defensive lineman John Mendenhall for the balance of the season with a bothersome ankle. Paul Pryor and Don Davis, both of Manchester, have been accepted as varsity football officials in the Central Connecticut Chapter. Harvard University has presented a football used in the winning effort against Yale to Kevin Hurst, injured East Catholic High griddler, now a patient at Newtoning Hospital. The presentation was made by Ray Barbuti, former Olympic runner and top-flight college official. Jack O'Brien is the new president of the Central Connecticut Chapter of Football Officials. Bill Sacherrek reported this morning before heading north for a ski weekend. Tony Kubek will be back on NBC baseball next season and other baseball news today finds the New York Yankees naming Yogi Berra to the coaching staff.

Stanford rejects nickname Indians
East Catholic players listed on All-HCC teams

STANFORD, Calif. (UPI) — Stanford University students Thursday rejected by a more than 2-1 margin the name Indian as their athletic nickname.

Students voted 1,798-795 against the name and the results will be presented to the student senate on Monday. The senate will decide whether to recommend them to the administration.

The Indian nickname was abolished in 1972 when Cardinals was selected as a replacement, but recently has been a growing sentiment among some alumni for its restoration. American-Indian groups protested the nickname on grounds it was demeaning to Indians.

Three members of the East Catholic football team have been selected to the All-Hartford County Conference as chosen by the coaches, announced Cliff Demers, conference secretary.

The Eagles picked are on the defensive unit, junior end Ed Salsolki, junior linebacker Frank Fitzgerald and senior defensive back Dennis McCartan. Each is a first time selection.

Ashe and Nastase possible finalists

STOCKHOLM (UPI) — Arthur Ashe will meet Bjorn Borg and defending champion Guillermo Vilas will face Ilie Nastase Saturday in the semifinals of the $100,000 Masters Tennis tournament.

And that draw gives an ironic twist to the eight-day event which could now see a final day as spectacular as its opening one, because wins for Ashe and Nastase could bring them head to head once more in Sunday's final.

"I'll never play that guy again," vowed Ashe after walking off in their opening match in protest against the Romanian's delaying antics. Both players were disqualified before the International Lawn Tennis Federation stepped in and reinstated Ashe.

Ashe has since softened his view of playing Nastase again and, though their relations remain frosty, Ashe said "Of course" he would play the Romanian whenever he had to.

Nastase, an off-court loser, fought back to win his next two games in the round-robin section of the tournament and he found himself rooting for Ashe to beat Orantes so that he could reach the last four himself.

Ashe obliged Thursday by defeating the left-handed U.S. Open champion, 6-4, 6-1, in the last of the round-robin matches. As winner of the White Group, he faces Borg, runner-up of the Blue Group.

The Blue Group winner was Vilas, the left-handed Argentinian who has already won the $100,000 Commercial

Heinsohn patient guy with Celtics improving

BOSTON (UPI) — Tom Heinsohn, whose short fuse on the bench has earned him many a technical foul, is showing extreme patience with his struggling Boston Celtics.

But Heinsohn's attitude might change if Boston doesn't play well tonight against the visiting New Orleans Jazz, who are without injured Pete Maravich.

"We haven't been pressing on defense and we're not playing with the intensity that is necessary," said Heinsohn Thursday after putting the Celtics through a defense-oriented workout. "I hope the message got across to everyone."

Heinsohn has remained calm, he said, because his players still are getting used to each other. Guard Charlie Scott, acquired from Phoenix, and rookie Tom Boswell need more time to fit into the Celtic style of play, and second-year players Glenn McDonald and Kevin Stacom still are learning their roles.

Additionally, Dave Cowens has been bothered all season by a sore back, Paul Silas has been playing with a swollen big toe and Captain John Havlicek has been ignoring a two-week bout with the flu to keep playing.

Then there is the problem of Don Nelson, who led the National Basketball association with a .539 shooting percentage. The 38-year-old forward has dropped to .431 this season and has been benched in favor of Boswell.

"His timing is off but he'll come around, said Heinsohn. He's too good a player to quit on. He's got a lot of basketball left."

Wedman sparks victory

NEW YORK (UPI) — There's more to the Kansas City Kings than just Nate Archibald.

Very often, mind you, Archibald is enough, sometimes more than enough. But the speedy guard played it low-key Thursday night with a "modest" 19 points and seven assists, allowing some of the other Kings to take the spotlight.

Scott Wedman, the second-year pro from Colorado, had 10 points in the third quarter and scored a game-high 24 to spark Kansas City to its 105-101 victory over Cleveland Cavaliers.

"I was concentrating more tonight," said Wedman, who had been in a shooting slump. "It's more difficult to bounce back at home than on the road. The crowd gets on you when you miss and that makes it harder to get things together in your mind."

The home crowd did nothing but cheer Wedman Thursday as he keyed a third quarter shooting spree that stretched the Kings 53-52 halftime edge into an 89-74 advantage.

The Cavaliers came back in the final quarter, outscoring the Kings 21-16 to narrow the gap to four points, 101-97, with 3:26 to play.

"We got it down to four points," said Cavalier Coach Will Fitch. "If only we could have gotten a couple of baskets. The Kings played as well as I've seen them play. I was not too pleased with the aggressiveness of our defense. And when we finally did bear down it was too late."

In the final quarter, Campy Russell hit 10 points to rally Cleveland but Jimmy Walker hit a shot and a long jumper to save the Kings victory.

"We had to play good defense to win," said Atlanta coach Cotton Fitzsimmons.

The Hawks, down by one after the first period, held the Blazers to only 19 points in the second quarter and took a 10-point halftime lead.

Portland crept back to within two points at the end but in the final minute Tom Henderson stole the ball twice and drove in for layups to put the game away.

Rebuilding under way Five starters gone from Tech quintet

By LEN AUSTER
 Herald Sportswriter

What can be said when you go into a new basketball season without four starters who graduated and the fifth who won't be back.

That's the unenviable position Coach Tech Coach Gerry Blanchard finds himself in as he prepares his quintet for the 1975-76 campaign. The Beavers, who qualified for the State Tournament a year ago and posted a final 19-9 mark, tap off the season Tuesday night at home against East Hampton High.

Gone from last season are leading scorers Tom LeCourt and Mark Vikielenti, leading rebounder Tom Foran and floor general Mike Pressmarita. The fifth member of the unit also won't be on the hardwood.

"We only have one player with experience (on the varsity level)," cited Blanchard, "We have held our own rebounding versus taller teams in scrimmages and we've played great defense but we have trouble scoring."

Six-foot-two senior Emile Haberer is the lone Beaver with playing time and in his past records shows 15 points netted a year ago. He seems set as the starting center. The frontcourt will show 6-11 senior Paul Strzycharz and 6-0 junior George Prasser in starting roles. Five-foot-eight senior Glen Cooke and 5-8 sophomore Tim Martin will man the backcourt slots.

"This is the best defensive team I've ever coached. What I like is that we've had spirited workouts and they've done it on their own," commented Blanchard.

What is needed is somebody to put the ball in the hole consistently. Blanchard stated different people have put points on the board in different scrimmages. He cites Prasser as the most consistent shooter.

Blanchard is toying with the idea of using a shuttle system—using two five-man platoons in different quarters. What he does anticipate is going to the bench deeper, quicker and more often. That means playing time for 5-8 senior Jim Bartle, 6-1 senior Ed Chase, 5-8 sophomore Brian Brown, 5-11 senior Lance Schora, 6-0 sophomore Kevin Tyler, 6-0 junior Dave Hillis and 5-8

Third string quarterback in spotlight for Dolphins

One happy man with Philadelphia Dave Schultz tallied twice last night

NEW YORK (UPI) — Three years ago, Don Strock led the nation in passing and total offense while at Virginia Tech. Since then, people have been asking, "What ever happened to Don Strock?" Well, Strock is alive and well and living in Miami and he'll be the man the Miami Dolphins will be counting on to carry them to an American Conference Eastern Division title. For the past three years, Strock has pulled on his No. 10 jersey on game days and watched as Bob Griese or Earl Morrall directed the Dolphins' powerful offense. But Griese was knocked out for the season two weeks ago with a toe injury, Morrall went down for at least two weeks last Monday night with a knee injury and now it's time for Strock to earn his keep. The 6-foot-2, 200-pound Strock, who had not thrown a pass in the National Football League until he hit 2-of-5 against New England Monday night, will quarterback the Dolphins Sunday when they take on the Buffalo Bills in an attempt to hang on to the division lead. Miami leads the AFC East at 8-3 and Buffalo and Baltimore are tied for second at 7-4. A Buffalo victory combined with a Baltimore win over the New York Jets would set up a three-way tie for first with only two weeks left in the season. Griese has confidence in Strock. "I know he never threw a pass in a 'counting' game until Morrall got hurt but I've been in enough meetings with Strock to know that he knows what he's doing," Griese said. "He's intelligent and he has a good arm. If they keep it simple, it shouldn't be a problem." After Buffalo, the Dolphins must face the Colts at Baltimore and play host to Denver. After the Giants and Dolphins, the Colts finish against New England at home while Buffalo takes on New England and Minnesota. The other multi-team race shaping up is in the NFC East, where co-leaders Dallas and St. Louis, both 8-3, square off in St. Louis. Washington, 7-4 and just a game behind, is at Atlanta.

Namath seen difference as Patriots await Jets

FOXBORO, Mass. (UPI) — So many things seem equal in this horrible season for the New England Patriots and New York Jets that it seems neither team can win Sunday's game at Schaefer Stadium. Both teams were 7-7 last season and had looked to move upward this season. Yet both have sunk to new depths. The Jets have lost eight straight and are 2-9 on the season. The Patriots are 3-8 with three straight losses. "I think the same thing has happened to the Patriots as has happened to us," said Jets' coach Ken Shipp, who relieved Charley Winner two weeks ago. "We've both had a lot of injuries. We've tried five free safeties and have linebacker problems." "New England has had the same type of problems — in the linebacker and quarterback department and trouble at running back where they lost that little guy (Mack) Herron because of disciplinary problems." The major difference could be that New York has Joe Namath as their quarterback, a man who has never lost a game on the Patriots' home field. Namath's career record against the Patriots stands at 14-2-1, with both losses coming in New York. Namath has completed less than 47 per cent of his passes this season and has thrown 26 interceptions. He even was benched two weeks ago by Shipp. But the interim coach said the

Hartford pick in tournament

HARTFORD, (UPI) — The University of Hartford is a favorite to win its fourth championship in the sixth annual Hartford-Trinity Invitational Basketball Tournament that starts tonight at U of H. The opening game pits Wesleyan's Cardinals against Central Connecticut's Blue Devils. In the second game, Hartford's Hawks clash with Trinity's Bantams. The rest of the races are settled, except for the wild card or best of second at 7-4. A Buffalo victory combined with a Baltimore win over the New York Jets would set up a three-way tie for first with only two weeks left in the season. Griese has confidence in Strock. "I know he never threw a pass in a 'counting' game until Morrall got hurt but I've been in enough meetings with Strock to know that he knows what he's doing," Griese said. "He's intelligent and he has a good arm. If they keep it simple, it shouldn't be a problem." After Buffalo, the Dolphins must face the Colts at Baltimore and play host to Denver. After the Giants and Dolphins, the Colts finish against New England at home while Buffalo takes on New England and Minnesota. The other multi-team race shaping up is in the NFC East, where co-leaders Dallas and St. Louis, both 8-3, square off in St. Louis. Washington, 7-4 and just a game behind, is at Atlanta.

Pro hockey roundup

Schultz delivers knockout punch

NEW YORK (UPI) — By reputation, the Philadelphia Flyers' Dave Schultz is known more for his knockout punch than his scoring punch. But Thursday night, Schultz showed he can play hockey when he manages to stay out of the penalty box, scoring two goals that helped give Philadelphia a 5-2 win over Chicago that halted the Black Hawks' unbeaten streak at 15 games. The Flyers, one of the NHL's more physical teams, call Schultz "The Enforcer" and he has the penalty minutes to earn the title. "Schultz has a tendency to handle the puck too much himself instead of passing it off," said Flyers coach Fred Shero. "But tonight he did a little better."

NEW YORK (UPI) — A few hours after Madison Square Garden officials announced they had cut the post-season National Invitation Tournament from 16 teams to eight because of the loss of a television contract and poor attendance at college games, a pair of nationally-ranked teams took the court and proved again that college basketball has a hard time making it with New York fans. Fourth-ranked North Carolina beat nearby Seton Hall 75-63 and 18th-ranked local favorite Rutgers trimmed Purdue 81-73 in a half-empty arena. Phil Ford led the way for North Carolina with 27 points and 10 assists. Ford scored 10 of his 27 points in the second half as the Tar Heels stopped a Seton Hall rally with their four-corner offense. Center Mitch Kupchak added 29 points for North Carolina and Walter Davis contributed 16. Guard Glen Tynes notched 23 for Seton Hall. Phil Sellers reeled off 31 points for Rutgers, but the Scarlet Knights needed a 10-point scoring outburst from guard Ed Jordan to gain the victory. The game was tied 56-56 midway through the second half when Jordan scored five straight baskets and then stole the ball and assisted on another basket to put Rutgers safely in the lead 68-62. Southwest Conference grid championship up for grabs

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (UPI) — The television-delayed Southwest Conference season will finally end Saturday with a rousing championship-deciding bout involving the second-ranked Texas Aggies and their kamikaze defense against the No. 15 Arkansas Razorbacks and their crippled offense. The winner will advance to the Cotton Bowl Jan. 1 against Georgia and the loser will take on USC in the Liberty Bowl. An A&M victory would give the Aggies their first undefeated, untied regular season since 1959. "No one has done much against them all year," said Arkansas coach

CCIL title, tourney berth Indians' goals

By LEN AUSTRER Herald Sports Writer Looking to make it two straight years in the State Basketball Tournament is Manchester High. The Indians, in a year ago under rookie Coach Doug Pearson, got the 1975-76 season under way Tuesday night at Clarke Arena against CCIL adversary Fermi High. The Silk Towners have a 20-game schedule, 18 against league opponents and two against crosstown East Catholic. Similar to their intertown neighbors, the Indians have been hampered in getting things together by minor but nagging injuries. Six-foot guard Jim McNickle has been slowed by a bad charley horse on his right pulls and 6-0 senior backcourtman Mark Demko has a knee injury which requires heat before and after every game. "I think we'll be a better rebounding team and I think we'll always play good defense. Team defense is our main strength," Pearson noted. "We also should have good balanced scoring. Our shooting potential is very well divided." Pearson stated the cohesion of last year's club is not yet there partly because of the stiff competition which occurred at tryouts. He called tryouts the stiffest in a long, long time at the school. But he does think it will come if the Indians can "weather the first few games. Depth might be a problem but that's only because of lack of experience (on the varsity level)." Backcourt positions are being fought for by Demko, McNickle and 5-11 junior John Pisch. In reserve are 5-9 junior Irian Moran, 6-0 junior Jeff Backofen and 5-9 senior Brett Carlson. The frontcourt won't lack for size. Six-foot-four senior Bruce Ballard, who sat out a year, has the inside lack on the center slot. Still in contention for the job in the pivot is 6-5 junior Jeff Kiernan. One forward position is locked up by 6-4 senior Captain Mike Quesnel who averaged 14 points a game a year ago and was the leading rebounder. Scott Hyde, a 6-3 sophomore who went to Wilbraham Academy for a year, is a likely starter paired with Quesnel. Hyde can also swing back to guard which adds flexibility. Mike Sherman, 6-0 junior, and 6-4 sophomore Steve McKenzie will also see action up front. The latter will probably be brought along slowly as he learns the system. "I think our guards are solid but our strength is up front. And Quesnel is the key. He's an unselfish player who, if anything, doesn't shoot enough. He's been forcing some shots in practice but he'll get his points," Pearson remarked. The second-year mentor has also been happy with the progress of Ballard who was away from competitive ball one year. "I knew he could play defense but he's come along offensively. He can put the ball in the basket. So can Hyde. "We will make the tournament. I can tell you that. I'm confident of it," Pearson said without reservation. "The CCIL? It's going to be far stronger than last year. Conard, Hall, Windham and Enfield will be there. If we stay healthy, we'll be contenders." The schedule: Dec. 9 Fermi H, 12 Windham A, 15 Enfield H, 19 Simsbury A, 23 Hall H, 30 East Catholic H, Jan. 2 Westfield A, 6 Conard A, 9 Penney H, 13 East Hartford H, 16 Fermi A, 20 East Catholic H, 23 Windham H, 27 Enfield A, 30 Simsbury H, Feb. 3 Hall A, 6 Westfield H, 10 Conard H, 13 Penney A, 17 East Hartford A.

Veeck has five days to come up with cash

By MILTON RICHMAN NEW YORK (UPI) — Bill Veeck has only five more days to come up with the cash for the Chicago White Sox, and what happens if he doesn't? This is what happens: Either (1) — The White Sox go bankrupt and the American League takes them over, or (2) — The only other prospective purchaser left, Lester Smith of Seattle, buys the club and moves it to that city. Veeck's chances of coming up with $12 million by Wednesday are not impossible but they are improbable by his own attorney's admission. He has been breaking his neck, working feverishly day and night for more than two months getting the money he has now, and here the American League is asking him to "restructure his financial program" in less than a week. That's a pretty polite way of telling him to go find a million bucks in cash by Wednesday or don't bother coming back. "I don't blame the American League owners for doing everything they can to assure themselves, as best they can any, the White Sox new owners will be able to chew all they are biting off and not become an added financial burden upon the league. They're not discriminating against Veeck for anything he did or said in the past, but they are asking him to put up what amounts to nearly 60 per cent of the purchase price in cash, and to my knowledge they've never asked any other buyer to put up that much before. Their terms left Veeck "in shock." Veeck said he likes to give the appearance of being more deeply injured than he actually is. He ought not to shock so easily because he should be used to things like that by now. All he has to do is go back to college. I'm pretty sure he still remembers that proudest moment he went through trying to get the necessary money to move the St. Louis Browns to Baltimore in 1953. You should've seen him after he ran up against a stone wall and failed to get the vote. He was in real shock then. Meanwhile, the White Sox are no better off than they were at the end of the season, and that wasn't very good at all. Things got so bad that John Allyn, the White Sox president, was forced to default on a substantial loan he has from one of the banks in Chicago. He wasn't able to pay even the interest on the loan. To help out Allyn, some of Veeck's group advanced him $300,000 simply to keep him afloat. That gives you some idea how rough the water has become for the White Sox. Frankly, I was rather hoping Veeck would get back into baseball. Not because I ever was so enthralled by all his sideswaps or felt he was the greatest promotional genius since P.T. Barnum. But apparently he loves the game, even though he rapped it during the time he was out, and whether you approve or disapprove of some of the things he did when he ran the Indians, White Sox and Browns before, you have to admit he did put a little life into the game. There's no reason going to a funeral," Veeck once said.

Wheelwright accepting challenge at Holy Cross

WORCESTER, Mass. (UPI) — Neil Wheelwright, new football coach at Holy Cross, is "wasting time." "There's no way to go but up," Wheelwright said Thursday when he accepted the coaching job. Wheelwright said he would "start to work on recruiting" today. Holy Cross was 1-10 last season. Wheelwright has been head coach at Colgate the past eight years, posting a 41-37-2 record, including 6-4 last season. The native of Danvers succeeds Ed Doherty, who resigned last month. Wheelwright, 42, is a former Marine who graduated from Springfield College in 1954. "It looks to me that Holy Cross and Colgate are similar in a lot of ways," Doherty said. "I'm just happy to have a program that can really excel."

Joyce Walker, a Grade 3 teacher in the Hebron Elementary School, is one of the very best to educate the children and said they do a good job.

This printing test pattern is part of The Herald quality control program in order to give you one of the finest newspapers in the nation.

Mrs. Walker's class along with two other Grade 3 classes at the school, totaling about 75 youngsters, presented the program. It included a parade for the holiday season.

Mrs. Walker has been a primary grade teacher for 20 years, 16 of these in Hebron.

The joy of watching a child discover the answer for himself, is one of the greater rewards in teaching, she said.

"Many funny things have happened through the years. One in particular was when the Lord's prayer used to be said in class. One youngster continually said "deliver me from eagles" instead of from evil.

The good times in teaching you remember and the bad times you forget, she said.

Teaching to her means educating youths to become happy, responsible human beings.

Mrs. Walker feels the very best to educate the children and said they do a good job.

Dear Abby

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I need advice badly and have no one to talk to. My girl friend told me that from the age of 10 until she was 15, her father continuously molested her every chance he got when no one was home.

DEAR ABBY: I am a middle-aged, unattached gentleman who enjoys being well-dressed and well-groomed. I am well-educated and have good manners. I am fully employed in a position that pays a modest salary.

DEAR ABBY: My son left his wife and children for another woman. I have always had a very warm relationship with my daughter-in-law. She is a fine person, and I still love her.

DEAR OLD: Continue the friendship. The unethical one is your son.
