Instead, the 1975 tax cuts already in effect will continue at least through the first half of 1976.

Congress' part of the agreement was a watered-down promise to reduce the 1977 budget by the same amount as any future tax reductions.

That was far less than the flat ceiling on 1977 spending that Ford had demanded as a condition for extending the existing tax cuts into

That left most taxpayers facing an increase of between $4 and $6 a week in their withholding rates in January when present tax cuts, provided last spring, would expire.

Congressional Democrats said the voters should blame Ford. Ford said they should blame Congress. Both sides blinked.

The compromise began to take shape Thursday night at a meeting between Long and several House members, and over the telephone with the White House. It was put forward first in the Senate. For a not only contains cuts in taxes for the confused moment it appeared the House wouldn't go along.

Christmas brings temporary truce

WASHINGTON (UPI) - Congress amendment to the $112.4 billion has adjourned for Christmas, bringing a temporary truce to the legislative war with President Ford that has raged without pause since the start of the year.

The last day of the first session of the 94th Congress Friday underscored the deep divisions which led to confrontation after confrontation with the Ford administration.

In a 12-hour day, Ford sharply rebuked the Senate for voting a ban on covert aid to Angola, accepted a compromise tax bill that fell far short of containing the spending ceiling he demanded, vetoed a $45 billion money measure for HEW, and sent word that a $6.5 billion package to salvage northeast railroads would be rejected.

But after all that, congressional leaders called Ford at the White House, told him they were done for the year, and received his blessing for a 30-day holiday that will end Jan. 19 when the warfare is expected to Still undecided are the fates of three major bills - all of which carry the threat of a veto - that may sour the congressional recess.

They are the $6.5 billion rail bill, legislation to expand union picketing powers at construction sites, and a comprehesive energy package which contains a 40-month ceiling on oil

The extension of tax cuts, which prevented an increase in tax withholdings beginning Jan. 1, survived an unexpected Senate-House feud and was accepted by Ford who, 24 hours earlier, had rejected the legislation because it failed to carry a fiscal 1977 spending ceiling. With Ford's acceptance, the Senate approved the tax bill and included a watered-down promise to hold down spending. But House Democratic leaders refused to accept that compromise and insisted on their own

He also said that it will not normally be necessary to go outside the highway division for the added man on the truck. Fuller said that would happen only in an abnormally heavy storm which kept the crews on the road for an extended time.

reports of a car speeding away from the town toward the Northern Ireland border immediately after the explosion. The Protestant Ulster Defense Association, meanwhile, claimed responsibility for two bombs planted in washrooms at Dublin International Airport Nov. 29 that killed one man and injured eight others.

They said it was revenge for the IRA killing of troops and police officers in Northern Ireland.

Security officials said 1,382 persons - not including Friday's toll - have been killed in six years of the provisional IRA's campaign to drive Britain out of Northern Ireland.

They are opposed by Protestant paramilitary groups seeking to remain under British rule.

Dense fog hampers holiday travel

By United Press International

Holiday travelers already hampered by airline strikes fought vet another enemy - dense fog - in their battle to get home in time for the Christmas holidays.

While freezing temperatures were sweeping the South and East, the fog rolled over parts of the West Friday, stranding hundreds in airports, some of them for up to nine hours.

Fog also was blamed for a 24vehicle pileup that resulted in the deaths of two travelers on California 99 in the San Joaquin Valley. The two dead were among more

Top-ranked Indiana, 10th-rated Tennessee, No. 12 Michigan and No. 16 San Francisco - four of the six top 20 teams in action Friday night - all hosted their own little "miniclassics." Not coincidentally, all emerged victorious in the opening rounds. After all, who would be so ungrateful as to embarrass and insult he hosts in front of their own

In the Indiana Classic, Scott May scored 18 points and the top-rated Hoosiers, a little shaky in their last two games, thanked poor Georgia for coming, 93-56. Indiana Coach Bobby Knight emptied his bench with 16 minutes left after his club had built up a 40-point lead. Virginia Tech, which got probably its only taste of victory in Indiana this season by downing Oregon 87-60, have the honor of playing Indiana in the "classic" win-

I had almost the others who invade the course without paying the posted fees.

This is the job Koelsch has done the past several seasons. While doing this, he has also stepped on the toes of some prominent club members for course violations and for this, there has been some resentment. It will be interesting to see what decision is reached next month.

"Pop" Eagleson ailing

Bill "Pop" Eagleson, the hard-running halfback with South End football teams, including the Cubs in the late 20s and early 30s, is on the ailing list. Old-timers can recall the glory days of semi-pro football in Manchester when the North and South End each boasted outstanding squads. Eagleson was also an excellent punter in addition to his ball-carrying duties...Nine times a player with the Boston Celtics has fouled out to date and Charlie Scott leads the pack with six ejections. Scott looked 100 per cent better this week against Kansas City in comparison to his showing against Atlanta earlier this season in Hartford. Teamed with JoJo White, Scott gives the Celts the highest scoring guards in the NBA...Former town duckpin bowling champion Ken Seaton has lost little of his skill on the polished lanes. This week in the Y League, Seaton established a new single game record with a 214 single thanks to six strikes, and three spares after opening with eight pins in his first box.

Yale frosh win for Burns

Freshman Coach Don Burns has his Yale basketball team winging along undefeated in four starts...Roger Staubach of Dallas has completed 198 passes to date for 17 touchdowns. The Cowboy quarterback, who faces the New York Jets Sunday, has been intercepted 16 times. Based on past experiences this fall, Staubach should have a field day against the porous Jet defensive secondary...How the time flies: Don Nelson of the Boston Celtics has played in 1,-002 NBA games, second only to John Havlicek. The latter has played his entire NBA career with the Celts while Nelson has nearly 900 in Boston colors...Good news for Red Sox fans is word that Rico Petrocelli will be back next season. The veteran third baseman was one of the shining lights for Boston in the World Series both at bat and afield...WINF will air 20 auto races next year-including the Daytona 50...Channel 3 will not carry the New York Giants-San Francisco 49er game Sunday but will bring in the Jet-Dallas game starting at 1 o'clock.

Voters know all-stars

Aparently the voters for all-star selections in the NBA for the game Feb. 3 know the players. The leaders in the Eastern Conference by position are Bob McAdoo, center; John Havlicek, forward, and Walt Frazier, guard. The West's best in the poll are Kareem Abdul-Jabbar, center; Rick Barry, forward, and Nate Archibald, guard...Dave Cowens and JoJo White are Boston players high in the balloting which will continue thru Dec. 31...Steve Anderson, of Manchester an East Catholic grad, helped Babson College win the national NCAA Division III soccer title this fall. Anderson tallied four goals and had two assists as Babson won 17 games, lost none and tied one...Never with a playoff team in 11 NBA seasons, Tom Van Arsdale hopes that his luck will change this time around with the surprising Atlanta Hawks. "The feeling is absolutely wonderful. I can actually feel the fact that we have developed a winning attitude on this team. It's kind of a selfish feeling, in that you don't want anybody to beat you any more. You go out onto the court knowing you can win," he said... Have a nice weekend.

Agents unfold new facet in gold bullion mystery

CHARLESTON, S.C. (UPI) - U.S. agents are sure the gold was taken in Customs agents say at least some of the $800,000 worth of gold missing from a shipment that turned up in Charleston was stolen after it entered the United States.

Agents said Friday at least some of the missing gold arrived in this country and was stolen either in Oakland, Calif., or in Charleston.

Patrick O'Brien, special agent in charge of investigations for the Customs office, said part of the gold, missing from the shipment that traveled all over Europe and the Mideast, was taken in this country. "Our investigation has disclosed that at least some of the missing gold did arrive in the U.S.," O'Brien said. "Furthermore, the gold was stolen either in Oakland, Calif., or in Charleston."

O'Brien declined to state why

one of the two cities.

Interpol, an international investigation agency, has been called in to aid in the worldwide search for the missing gold, which came to light when an unclaimed shipment of 260 pounds of gold bullion worth $500,000 turned up aboard a chartered Air Force plane in Charleston. Five boxes containing the gold, which was supposed to have been shipped from Switzerland to Saudi Arabia, were found aboard an Overseas National Airlines plane. Officials later discovered six more boxes, containing 330 pounds of gold worth $800,000, were missing.

O'Brien said no one has contacted customs officials to claim the shipment of gold, which was discovered by a cargo handler Tuesday morning.

Sunday at the Atheneum, a children's holiday festival will feature performances of "Fizz Gigg and Flapdoodle" by the Pocket Mime Theater for Children at 1 and 3 p.m.. There will be a children's party from 2 to 3 p.m. The events will be in the theater and in Tapestry Hall.

From Goodspeed to B'way

"Very Good Eddie," the Jerome Kern musical revival presented at The Goodspeed Opera House in East Haddam this past summer will open on Broadway Sunday at the Booth Theatre under the sponsorship of David Merrick.

This will be the second show in a year produced by Michael P. Price at the Goodspeed to go to Broadway. It follows in the footsteps of "Shenandoah" which opened at the Alvin Theatre in Dec. 1974 and is still playing there.

Added to "Man of La Mancha" which originated at the Goodspeed in 1965, it makes the third musical from the opera house to arrive on Broadway.

The same cast who played "Very Good Eddie" for the return engagement in East Haddam this fall will play in the New York production including David Christmas, Joel Craig, Spring Fairbank, Travis Hudson and Charles Repole.

Dinner theaters

"Once Upon A Mattress," a musical comedy starring Imogene Coca, continues at the Coachlight Dinner Theatre in East Windsor through Dec. 28.

Broadway, which opens at the Coachlight Dec. 30 for an extended run.

Chakiris is starring in a Masterpiece Theatre series protraying composer Frederic Chopin on the Public Broadcasting System network. It will be aired through Dec. 28.

Tonight and Sunday are the final showings of "Sweet Charity" at the Chateau de Ville in East Windsor. "My Fair Lady" will play at the Chateau Jan. 16 through Feb. 8.

Revue at Stage Co.

"Oh Coward!", a musical revue by Noel Coward is showing at the Hartford Stage Company on Kinsley St. in Hartford through Jan. 18.

The show is directed by Roderick Cook who devised, directed, produced and starred in the original New York production of "Oh Coward!" in 1972. He will appear in as well as direct the production.

The revue features selections from Coward's most memorable works including "Private Lives," "Tonight at "Words and Music," "Design for Living" and others. For information, call 525-4258.

The Hartford Symphony continues its Bicentennial tribute with a series of four Saturday night "Pops" concerts in 1976 featuring American artists including Dave Brubeck, Della Reese and Marvin person has written many screenplays based on novels and plays, why doesn't that person write an original screenplay? The answer, says Jay Presson

Allen, is one simple word - greed. "I've never written an original screenplay," she says. "It's because of the money. I have a normal streak of greed and you have to realize the big money comes from the secondary sale of a book or a play to pictures. It pays to do it first as a play or book, and then have the movies buy it." That's been the case with her new novel, a charmer called "Just Tell Me What You Want."

decided in this case the play form was too confining, so switched to a novel.

Now Warner Bros. has bought it -

Jay Presson Allen is an old Hollywood hand - she did the screenplay of "Cabaret" - but she doesn't live here. She and her husband, producer Lewis Allen, live in Connecticut. And she has had a curious history, with lengthy periods of inactivity between bursts of productivity. When she was first married, she went through an entire decade without writing anything.

HOLLYWOOD (NEA) - When a "I tended a husband and raised a daughter," she says. Actually, she started out as an actress, but gave that up after a while. "I found," she says, "that I just didn't enjoy acting. It was a blow, because that was what I thought I wanted to do. When I realized I didn't like it. I had to do something else.

"I had always been an omniverous reader. And I felt that I could write as well as some of the authors I'd read, so I began writing. I sold the first thing I ever wrote - a teleplay for the old Suspense series - and from that went into Philco Playhouse 90 and then films."

She admits to having some outside She started writing that one as a - or inside - help in her writing. Her play, but three days into it she dreams, which she remembers, are often useful to her in her work.

"I had thought of the basic plot of 'Just Tell Me What You Want' five had a dream and the whole thing was solved. I started writing it that day." Now it's a hit and ready to be filmed. Mike Nichols will direct. The stars have not yet been set, because, she says, "we're aiming at a certain

Now she's out promoting her book like all good authors. It's her first time with that sort of thing.

for $500,000 plus a hefty percentage. Carol sing at Mystic

The Christmas Carol Sing at Mystic Seaport is scheduled for Sunday, with the entire Seaport open admission-free for the annual event.

The day is crowded with special activities, lectures, demonstrations, tours and musical programs, culminating at 4 p.m. when visitors and Seaport staff will join in community caroling on the museum grounds

Gates and exhibits will open at 9 a.m. and remain open until 5 p.m.

Orientation programs and illustrated talks will be given throughout the day. There will also be guided tours of the waterfront and R.J. Schaefer Building gallery.

The special musical events include late morning performances by the chantey singer, and a 2 p.m. concert by the Norwich Concert Band.

A special program, "The Star of Bethlehem." will be offered throughout the day at the Seaport Planetarium.

By Dick Kleiner

DEAR DICK: Why do Frank Sinatra and John Wayne have to play war heroes in the movies - Neither man served time in the service. - J.W. WALTON, Mobile, Ala.

Having actual experience doing something is not, and never has been, a prerequisite for acting a part. Actors play anything. Chad Everett was never a doctor, yet plays a doctor on Medical Center. Carroll O'Connor is not a bigot, yet plays one on All In the Family. If actors were required to have been whatever it is they are playing, we'd have very few shows on the air or movies in theaters.

DEAR DICK: What are the top ten TV shows in the U.S.? -A. DEER, Monroeville, Ala.

If you mean the top ten at the moment, the latest rating figures I have list them as: All In the Family, Maude, Phyllis. Sanford and Son, The Six Million Dollar Man, The Streets of San Francisco, Rhoda, Kojak, The Waltons and Medical Center. If you mean the top ten of all time, a recent survey by the Broadcast Information Bureau, who polled 3,000 TV industry executives for their all-time favorites, shows these winners: Perry Mason. Your Show of Shows, Star Trek. Playhouse 90, The Mary Tyler Moore Show. The Defenders. The Milton Berle Show, Omnibus, Monty Python's Flying Circus and The $64,000 Question

DEAR DICK: When the movle, "Jaws," leaves, will it be back? And will it be on TV? — A.F. AND P.L., Meriden, Conn. Most movies that have the huge success of "Jaws" do come back, after a year or so. And, because of that, they do not appear on TV until after that second run is complete. I imagine "Jaws" will follow that pattern, so I doubt it will make the home screen until 1979 or 1980.

DEAR DICK: I was wondering what ever happened to Michael Cole, Clarence Williams and Peggy Lipton of The Mod Squad. I hardly ever see them in any TV shows. -PRISCILLA FARNEY, Griffin, Ga.

Well, Peggy Lipton is out of the business. She married Quincy Jones and seems happy. She was never really gung ho about acting, anyhow. Cole is trying to work, but the competition for parts is very keen. Williams, who didn't endear himself in Hollywood, is back in New York and nothing much has been heard from him lately. I always thought that The Mod Squad property was stronger than the three leads, and didn't have much hope that Peggy. Mike and Clarence would go on to do anything special.

DEAR DICK: On Hee Haw, Johnny Cash was the guest with his son. He introduced the boy as John Cash Carter, instead of John Carter Cash, which is his real name. Are Johnny and June divorced? If not, then why did he call his son John Cash Carter? - RUTH ANN HOLIDAY, Anaheim, Ca.

By coincidence, I was in Nashville the day that show was taped and noted Johnny's slip. June was right there, and they are still happily married. I asked Johnny why he said John Cash Carter and he said. "It was just a slip of the tongue." It still seems odd to me, but that was his explanation.

DEAR DICK: Is the girl from the movie, "Walking Tall," who play Sheriff Pusser's wife the same girl who played in the movie, "Patch of Blue," with Sidney Poitier? - AUDREY BARROW, Mobile, Ala.

Yes. Elizabeth Hartman played both parts.

DEAR DICK: Could you please tell me who the father is on The Brady Bunch? I think it's Bert Convy but Dad thinks otherwise. Please settle this. SUE LANDRY, Brockville.

Father knows best. It was otherwise, alias Robert Reed.

DEAR DICK: I would like to know what happened to the actor, Richard Cromwell, who was in "Hoopla" with Clara Bow. I always admired him. I would like to know where he is and what he is doing. - AN OLD TIMER, Steubenville, Ohio I can tell you where he is - he died in 1960 - but I can't tell you what he's doing.

DEAR DICK: Can you tell me what Paul Stookey, formerly of the folk trio, Peter, Paul and Mary, is doing these days? I know Peter and Mary are pursuing solo careers, but as far as I can determine Paul has dropped out of sight. K:M. HARRELL, Mobile, Ala. My dedicated informants tell me that Paul is now living somewhere in upstate New York. They say he went through "a Jesus trip" for a while. Then he signed with Warner Bros.

records and made an album which, they tell me, was "deleted from the catalog," but nobody seems to know why. They say he wants to sing again, so he probably will.

Stamps and coins

U.N. doves appear bland

By RUSS MacKENDRICK

These two doves will appear in multicolor at the U.N. windows on Jan. 9. Also on that day there will be a 30-cent flag and a four-cent blur of people. The low values are being issued to piece out earlier stamps and meet the higher postage rates.

The stamp columnist of The Sunday New York Times has remarked on the "delicate generality" and blandness of U.N. designs as "a necessity amid the bickering and touchiness that roils" this organiza-

We are mindful of a standout exception to this dullness in the recent quartet of Peace-Keeping issues that showed an almost photographic wild rose growing out of a strand of barbed wire. That picture is also to appear on a souvenir card along with five previous Peace-Keeping designs.

The artist who dared is a Finnish woman, Eeva Oivo (Note to printer - Watch it - two e's!). She also did the International Women's Year issue, painted the portraits of three Finnish presidents that appeared on stamps, and has designed bank notes and illustrated many books for children.

Independence trio

Another new nation - Surinam has broken loose from the Netherlands. An Independence trio of stamps was released Nov. 25. If you keep these things in an alphabetical file, this will cause no upset - Surinam (Suriname) has had stamps since 1873. Nothing like when Congo changed to Zaire and Ceylon to Sri Lanka.

A neighbor of the Surinam file is Swaziland with a set of 15 birds slated for Jan. 2. They look good enough to challenge the famous Angolas. The one-emalagni value is a Pin-tailed Whydah, the two-emalagni is a Lilac-Breasted Roller. Just great!

The last straw?

The Postal Service has decided against the APS black-blotted 32stamp sheet that would have cut the Declaration of Independence into tiny bits. Perhaps that communique from the Manchester Philatelic Society, added to the nationwide hue and cry, was the last straw.

The service should also rethink some of those two-letter state abbreviations. The MA for Massachusetts just isn't going to make it. A Rockport correspondent tells of receiving 19 letters that finally arrived, rescued by the zip code, after side-trips to Maine, Minnesota, or Maryland. How many CT's are first going to VT, UT, or even CA?

Watch for No. 1

Wait-and-hope for a 1975 proof or uncirculated set to show up under your Christmas tree because the Variety One Ike dollar will be in it and they are rarely being found in bank bags or rolls nowadays nothing but the common Variety

Natural is okay

A politely worded (but barbed) letter-to-the-editor in Coin World points to the virtues of older coins in their natural state, with an aura of the past, as against the same dates offered as bright-work (cleaned) at a typical weekend coin show.

Dundee auction

Members of the Robert Burns Society and other kilties please note: The Dundee Collection of Scottish coins will be up for auction Feb. 19 at the Bowers and Ruddy Galleries in Los Angeles. Catalog available this month. There will be several hundred lots, many of the time of Mary Stuart. (CW, Dec. 10, p. 54).

Back from Bermuda

World traveler Edward B. Bushnell of the local stamp club, is back from Bermuda with a silver award captured at their international show, the BERMUPEX. His exhibit was entitled "The Use of the Hand with Pointing Figer as a Postal Marking.'

Frostproof gone

Our cancellation-of-the-week: Frostproof, Fla., 33843 Zip. The place deserves the name as there have been many freeze-ups all around the area, while their own orange groves came through unscathed.
