Summary

A powerful snowstorm drove across the Midwest today, stacking highway-closing drifts up to six feet deep, closing schools and businesses and bearing down on Ohio Valley states still crippled by the deep snows of a January blizzard.

In Southern California searchers prepared to renew the hunt for more than a dozen persons missing from Friday's deluge. So far, 11 were known dead in the wind and rain storm and the flash floods it triggered.

SYDNEY, Australia (UPI) — A terrorist bomb exploded today outside a downtown Sydney hotel where 12 Asian Commonwealth heads of state were meeting, killing at least two persons and injuring seven others.

None of the visiting dignitaries was hurt in the explosion, but 12 hours later army experts harmlessly detonated a second bomb that was set to go off only 300 yards from the site of the first blast.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Administration efforts to enforce civil rights laws have been significant, but high unemployment and poverty still cripple progress for women and minorities, the U.S. Commission on Civil Rights said today.

The commission said community acceptance of school desegregation appears to be growing. But it said this may be due at least in part to the limited scope of desegregation plans put into effect last year.

And it said little progress was made in assuring the rights of women. It singled out failure to ratify the Equal Rights Amendment and restrictions on the use of Medicaid funds for abortion.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Warning that striking miners might defy any presidential order to dig coal, UMW chief Arnold Miller today attacked the union bargaining council's rejection of a proposed contract Sunday.

Had the United Mine Workers Council submitted the soft coal contract to rank-and-file miners, they would have strongly voted to end the record 70-day strike, he said.

Meanwhile, declining coal supplies are near the critical point in Ohio, West Virginia, Kentucky and several other states.

BEIRUT, Lebanon (UPI) — The Lebanese cabinet today adopted a proposed law establishing a joint Lebanese-Syrian tribunal to investigate and punish those responsible for four days of warfare between Syrian peacekeeping forces and Lebanese rightists.

The decision came as leftist sources reported heavy shelling in southeast Lebanon between Israeli-backed Christian rightists and joint Palestinian-Lebanese leftist forces.

NEW ORLEANS (UPI) — The incompetence of many trial lawyers greatly contributes to the national backlog of court cases, Chief Justice Warren Burger says.

Burger told the American Bar Association Sunday the problem can be resolved only by increased training and a new set of standards for trial lawyers.

His contentions have sparked debate within the ABA, with the Illinois State Bar Association asking the lawyers' governing board to seek either a retraction by Burger or documentation of his charges.

ATLANTA (UPI) — Based on the Soviet Union's experience, a federal health official says the fast-moving Russian flu could reach epidemic proportions in this country in a few weeks.

"We can only judge by what happened in the Soviet Union," Dr. Walter Dowdle, an influenza virology researcher at the national Center for Disease Control, said.

The first known cases of Russian flu in the United States broke out Jan. 19 among high school students in Cheyenne, Wyo., the CDC reported a week later. By last week, the flu had surfaced in at least 10 other places across the country.

Trembling like a willow in a windstorm, pretty Maura McGeary flashed a radiant smile as she was crowned Miss Manchester 1978 at the Jaycee-sponsored Miss Manchester Scholarship Pageant held Saturday night at Manchester High School auditorium.

This is the tenth annual pageant sponsored by the Jaycees and is a preliminary to the Miss America Pageant. Miss McGeary is now eligible to compete on the state level for the title of Miss Connecticut.

The daughter of Mrs. June McGeary of South Windsor, Maura also captured the talent competition with a contemporary ballet to the music of "Dancing Shoes" by Dan Fogelberg.

The youngest of five children, she is currently a senior at Kingswood-Oxford School in West Hartford and plans to attend Skidmore College or the University of Connecticut, majoring in psychology with a minor in dance.

Her reactions to winning the coveted title? "I was just so surprised, I guess 'numb' is the word," she said.

First runner-up is Colleen D. Wright, 17-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gil Wright of Manchester. Colleen is a senior at Manchester High School and plans to attend Fisher Junior College to obtain an associate degree in fashion merchandising.

Pretty Carol Mahoney, 17, and the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Mahoney of South Windsor was named second runner-up. Carol plans to attend the University of Rhode Island and seek a degree in pre-law.

The young lady who seemed to have many ardent fans in the audience also proved to have admirers among her fellow contestants.

Donna McCarthy, whose trumpet rendition of "What I Did for Love" from the Broadway hit, "A Chorus Line," received the Miss Congeniality award which is voted by the contestants and presented to the one who was the easiest to get along with during pre-pageant rehearsals and

Begin welcomes attempt to resume peace parley

By United Press International

Prime Minister Menachem Begin said today Israel welcomes renewed U.S. attempts to restart the deadlocked Egyptian-Israeli peace talks despite what he views as unwarranted U.S. criticism of Jewish settlements in Sinai.

Earlier, President Anwar Sadat of Egypt said in Paris that he had been "met with complete understanding" in his tour to promote peace and said the next move was for the United States to bridge the gap between Egypt and Israel.

Sadat arrived in Rome from Paris on the final stop of his eight-nation tour that included talks with President Carter in the United States.

Exceptional security measures were imposed to protect Sadat during his five-hour visit to Rome. Some 500 police were assigned to guard him and special roadblocks were thrown up for spot checks on cars and people. Guards were posted at the Egyptian and other embassies, cultural centers and the Egyptian tourist and airline offices.

Begin told a Jerusalem news conference that the disputed settlements in northeastern Sinai are "legal, legitimate and essential" despite a call by Secretary of State Cyrus Vance that they be removed.

Nevertheless, Begin said Assistant Secretary of State Alfred Atherton will be welcome in Jerusalem for a second round of shuttle diplomacy between Egypt and Israel to get agreement on a declaration of principles guiding an overall peace settlement.

Budget plans delayed

One of the problems created by last week's snowstorm is a delay in the preparation of budget requests by some Town of Manchester departments.

A total of 16 town departments have completed their proposed budgets for the 1978-79 fiscal year, and the major ones not yet submitted include the Health, Police and Highway departments.

Paula Yellman, the town's budget analyst, had requested that department heads submit their requests by

Jan. 27, but all reports were not expected to arrive by that date.

"We're going along little by little. But, there's always bound to be a crunch," Ms. Yellman said.

The budgets of the department heads are used as a guide by Town Manager Robert Weiss when he presents his budget proposal to the Board of Directors next month.

Weiss had said that he wanted to get the budget to the board a bit earlier this year than in past years. But, the delays caused by Storm

Larry probably will prevent this.

The Highway Department, obviously, has been busy during the last week plowing streets and clearing snow. At one point, some department personnel had worked more than 50 consecutive hours. Thoughts of the 1978-79 budget became secondary.

The Police Department also had many extra requirements caused by the storm. Police Chief Robert Lennon said that he hopes to submit his

Bad winter to continue

WASHINGTON (UPI) — This winter's cold is rapidly catching up with records set last winter in the nation's eastern half and it appears more of the same is likely for the next 30 days, the government's chief long-range forecaster said today.

The forecast for mid-February to mid-March was due out late today, but Dr. Donald Gilman told a meeting of the American Association for the Advancement of Science, "it doesn't look like a very warm forecast."

And a leading climatologist said it appears our climate is becoming more variable, which means we can expect more of the extreme weather that has been hitting the nation.

"It's bouncing from one extreme to another," said Dr. Murray Mitchell, of the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration.

Last winter's cold got an early start with an unusually cool fall and did not let up until late February. Gilman said this past autumn was warmer with colder-than-usual temperatures beginning in December in the eastern part of the country.

"I just saw the averages for December, January and the first part of February before I left the office and it's beginning to get a little difficult to tell now — over that 2½-month period — really which could be considered the colder winter."

Another indicator that this winter is approaching last year's is gas consumption for heat.

Dr. Norton Strommen, of the government's Center for Climatic and Environmental Assessment, said the latest estimate, based on the outlook for the rest of the season, indicates that the nation's gas consumption this season will be 98 percent of last winter's.

Mitchell said the variability seen recently is a change from the 1950s and 1960s.

"Some of us take the view that really what's happening now is that the weather is more agitated now in a way that was normal — not abnormal — in the recent history of climate.

"Unfortunately, when we look at the climate that way — that the variable is increasing — it has nothing to say about what's going to hit us next. It's just that we're going to be buffeted around now more than we had become used to in the '50s and '60s.

"It's characteristic of a climate, when it's varying, to cause records of one kind or another to be broken quite regularly."

Mitchell said it is really the weather during the past two decades that was unusual because it was so benign.

"So the climate is getting back to normal. If you don't like the climate that we're suffering through right now, wait a few years or decades."

Gilman, Mitchell and Strommen discussed the weather at a news conference preceding an opening session of the annual week-long meeting of the AAAS, largest general science organization in the United States.

Light snow on the way

By United Press International

Officials throughout New England tuned a cautious ear to weather predictions of more snow for the region, one week after the worst blizzard in a century battered the northeast seaboard.

Late Sunday night, the National Weather Service was forecasting light snow for the six-state area on Tuesday.

The Great Dig Out continued Sunday across the besieged region as officials concentrated on returning southern New England to some semblance of normalcy.

Remaining Rhode Island residents evacuated to emergency shelters during last week's blizzard went home Sunday and Massachusetts state officials plotted how Boston commuters could reach their jobs without cars.

The last 70 Rhode Island residents who spent up to six days in state Civil Defense shelters returned to their homes Sunday. Gov. J. Joseph Garrahy went on statewide television to report progress in the concerted effort by federal, state and local authorities to clean up after the storm.

At the height of the storm, 7,000 people sought refuge in the state's emergency shelters.

Groups continue petitioning fight

By GREG PEARSON
Herald Reporter

An effort this weekend by supporters of the Eighth Utilities District resulted in more residents asking that their names be removed from petitions supporting a referendum vote on consolidation, which would combine the district and the Town of Manchester.

The legality of the weekend effort, however, is being questioned by Ted Cummings, a member of the Committee for One Manchester and a major organizer of the consolidation effort. Cummings said that the committee is continuing to obtain enough signatures in the district to replace the withdrawals.

Also, the district has called a special meeting Wednesday night to discuss consolidation. A committee called "Stop Tampering With the Eighth's American Liberties" (STEAL) is expected to be formed at the meeting, Robert Bletchman said.

The Committee for One Manchester is seeking signatures from residents for a referendum question on consolidation. The petitioners will require signatures from ten percent of the district residents and ten percent of the non-district residents to place a consolidation question on the ballot.

The committee has said that it already has obtained the 750 signatures needed from district residents.

But, last week, Bletchman filed the names of 16 persons from the district who asked to have their names removed from the petition. The weekend work resulted in a "substantial number" of district residents who signed and now want to remove their names, he said.

The Wednesday night meeting, which is scheduled for 8 p.m. at Whiton Library, will include a table set up for anyone else seeking to withdraw his or her name, Bletchman said.

He said that he did not have the exact number of withdrawals, but he added, "The number to me suggests something of a massive fraud."

The withdrawals will be filed Tuesday with the town clerk. Previous claims have been made that circulators of the petitions have been misleading the signers or misrepresenting the facts in the case.

Cummings, however, said this morning that the committee can obtain enough signatures to replace the withdrawals. He also is questioning the legality of the canvassing effort.

He said that the matter is being examined legally by attorney John FitzGerald, counsel for the Committee for One Manchester.

"It becomes a giant game of you put them on, and we'll take them off. This could go on forever," Cummings said.

He said that he could understand where mistakes might have been made by some of the 30 circulators which would have led to the first withdrawals.

"But, not to the extent of 50 or 75 or 100 (signers.) Now you have a concerted effort that's telling people many different things," he said of the weekend effort.

He said that there are no provisions for withdrawals under the laws for petitioning for consolidation. There are such provisions under the state's laws for primaries.

Cummings issued a statement this morning signed by himself and Durward Miller and Alfred Campbell, co-chairmen of the Committee for One Manchester. The statement now charges misrepresentation by district workers calling those who have signed the petition.

The statement says that some of the callers have said the district

Arrests total 26 in raid

Half of the 42 youths in the Pinball Wizard, 541 Main St., at the time of a massive police raid Friday night were arrested, mostly on drug-related charges. Four more were arrested on the street on charges of disorderly conduct in connection with the police action.

In all, 26 were charged with six were referred to juvenile authorities, police reported.

The raid was the result of well-planned coordinated efforts of the patrol and detective divisions of the Police Department. The police action began about 7:30 p.m. when the teen hang-out was full of youths. The building was closed off by police and everyone inside the establishment was bodily searched.

The last of those arrested, which included the manager, Julian Scrusse, 26, of 71 Wall St., were brought to the Police Department for processing about 11:30 p.m. on the Senior Citizens bus. The processing continued through the night until all those arrested were released about 4 a.m. Most were released on bond to the custody of their parents, but a few did not make bond and were held until Sunday, police said.

About 14 or 15 youths in the establishment were released after being searched and were not found to be in possession of illegal drugs or other items, Deputy Chief Richard Sartor said. About six of those persons were brought to police headquarters for proper identification before they were released.

Scrusse was charged with illegal possession of a controlled substance, less than four ounces, and risk of injury to minors. Sartor said the drug resulted from a search of the building by a state police dog, trained in searching for drugs, after the initial raid was completed. The risk of injury charge takes into account the responsibility of the operator of the business, the age of the customers and the illicit activity going on, Sartor said. Some juveniles were as young as 11 years old.

Scrusse was released on a $1,000 surety bond for court Feb. 27. The remainder of those were released on non-surety or cash bonds for court Feb. 27.

The others arrested and charges included the following:

- Randy A. Cooley, 18, of 449 Main St., possession of a controlled substance with intent to sell.
- Jeffrey A. Main, 22, of 142 Spruce St., interference with a search.
- Richard J. Turley, 20, of 16 Columbus St., disorderly conduct and threatening.
- Richard L. Pierce, 18, of 1178 Burnside Ave., East Hartford, carrying a dangerous weapon.
- Nancy J. Head, 16, of 181 Loomis St., illegal possession of a controlled substance.
- Richard G. Blinn, 16, 175 Charter Oak St., illegal possession of a controlled substance.
- Jeffrey S. Clark, 20, 24 Winter St., illegal possession of a controlled substance.
- Harry C. Twigg, 16, 31 Summit St., disorderly conduct.

Sartor said that, besides the controlled substance found on the premises after the raid, liquor, drug paraphernalia and some prescription drugs were found. All the drugs will be submitted to the state police laboratories for further analysis, although initial field tests concluded that most of the controlled substances were marijuana. Sartor said. One of the greatest impacts of the raid, Sartor said, in addition to the arrests, was to give the community the knowledge of some of the activities that take place in the town and of the places that young people frequent.

Sartor said the police investigation will continue at any places in town where illegal conduct is suspected.

Begin welcomes

"The peace-making process will continue," he said. "We will be grateful to Mr. Atherton for his efforts. He will be a welcome guest to Jerusalem."

"If the secretary of state says Jewish settlements should not exist, on this issue he took sides, obviously. It does not change our attitude toward the efforts to be made by Mr. Atherton. He's welcome to continue with his efforts. We shall do our best to help him in the fulfillment of his wishes."

The cabinet Sunday protested Vance's remarks about the settlements. Vance denied he was taking sides with Egypt or Israel in the peace-making process.

"Mr. Vance's statement hurt us very deeply and we reacted to it."

Begin said. But he said the "deep friendship" between the United States and Israel will not be hurt.

Sadat, speaking at a news conference ending his visit to Paris, said a peace treaty depends upon forthcoming shuttle trips between Israel and Egypt to be made by Atherton.

"Until this gulf between (Egypt and Israel) is bridged, I don't have any ideas either for a new visit to Israel or a visit to Egypt from (Israeli Prime Minister Menachem) Begin," Sadat said.

"Let us hope that President Carter and the United States can bridge the gulf between us and the Israelis."

Once a "declaration of principles" is drawn up by the two nations, he said, "I am sure we can reach an agreement in eight days."

All the drugs will be submitted to the state police laboratories for further analysis, although initial field tests concluded that most of the controlled substances were marijuana. Sartor said. One of the greatest impacts of the raid, Sartor said, in addition to the arrests, was to give the community the knowledge of some of the activities that take place in the town and of the places that young people frequent.

Sartor said the police investigation will continue at any places in town where illegal conduct is suspected.

Light snow due

Clean-up operations continued Sunday in Massachusetts, as 11,000 federal troops, National Guardsmen and state and local workers continued to plow tons of snow away from Boston streets. Recovery operations also went on in ravaged coastal communities north and south of Boston.

The Bay State continued its ban on non-emergency driving in seven Greater Boston municipalities through midnight Monday.

Despite the driving ban, businesses were to reopen in the affected areas, and employees were ordered to work staggered hours as a move designed to reduce strain on mass transit facilities.

The Maine Bureau of Civil Emergency Preparedness Sunday said damage from winter storms caused at least $16.4 million damage in York County.

York County CEP director John Bird said more than $12.5 million damage was reported in the town of Wells alone.

In Connecticut, Army engineers from Fort Hood, Texas and their 64 pieces of equipment spent the weekend removing more than 85,000 cubic yards of snow from two Connecticut cities — Norwich and New Haven.

The press release announcing the meeting said, "Consolidation has suddenly arisen and has confused many residents within and without the district boundaries thoroughly, pro and con."

All residents of Manchester are urged by the committee to attend the meeting.

Struggling to get to sale

Mayor Stephen Penny thanked the contestants, as well as the audience, for their participation and especially extended appreciation to the Manchester Jaycees for their endeavors in similar pageants the past 10 years.

Ray Gardner, principal of Bowers Elementary School and active in many area theater groups, served as master of ceremonies. Sally Middleton, one of Connecticut's leading fashion and photography models and a former Miss Connecticut, served as mistress of ceremonies.

Miss Manchester 1977, Cindy Tucker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Tucker of Manchester, performed her talent-winning dance prior to relinquishing her crown to the new Miss Manchester 1978. In June, she captured the swimsuit and talent awards in the Miss Connecticut Pageant.

William Hyde, Jaycee president, presented Donald Genova a check for $600 to benefit the Manchester Scholarship Fund.

Judges for the contest which featured 12 young ladies from the Greater Manchester area who vied in swimsuit, talent and evening gown competition were: Al Terzi, of WFSB-TV evening news; William J. Haggerty Jr., producer of the New Hampshire Scholarship Pageant; David Kelley, legal council and associate director of the Miss Connecticut Scholarship Pageant for the past 11 years; Dee Castolone, chaperone for Miss Bristol; and Linda Kapral Papp, Miss Connecticut 1972.

Karen Kopins, the current Miss Connecticut, as well as winners from other Connecticut towns were also present.

Mickey Fendell of Manchester, popular area pianist, along with four other musicians, accompanied most of the contestants during their presentations.

Richard Lawrence, director of the local pageant, presented service awards to several firms who had contributed in some way to the support of the pageants.

Miss McGeary is now eligible to compete in the Miss Connecticut Pageant and if she wins that, can seek the Miss America crown and a $15,000 scholarship. Nearly one million dollars in educational scholarships are awarded annually at the local, state and national Miss American Pageants, making it the largest scholarship foundation in the world for women.

Proceeds from the local event are contributed to the scholarship fund awarded to the contestants and to the Manchester Scholarship Fund.

firehouse will be torn down and replaced by a new one.

This is not true and, in fact, that existing firehouse will be retained, just as it is today, after consolidation," the statement said.

The callers also have said that district firehouse is always manned by volunteers, the statement said.

"This is a slight exaggeration," it said.

The statement also lists some of the benefits that the committee feels would evolve from consolidation, a concept including the elimination of confusion that some feel exists because of two fire departments.

In a related matter, the League of Women Voters of Manchester today announced its continued support of consolidation. The league had a separate study committee assigned for a compactor for the town landfill. Dr. Alice Turek, head of the Health Department, said that her budget should be completed within a few days. Vermont blaze fatal to Manchester youth

A Manchester boy was the victim of a fire at a lakefront cottage in Ludlow, Vt., which also killed two other Connecticut children and sent four to the hospital early Sunday.

The victims were Sean Prescott, 10, son of Mr. and Mrs. Neal Prescott of 122 Carpenter Road; Jamie Cannon, 10, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Cannon of Canton and niece of the Prescotts, and Kris Lombardi, 12, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bernice Lombardi of Guilford.

Also injured in the blaze which destroyed the cottage were Erin Prescott, 8, sister of Sean, Kim Lander, 12, and Carmine Lander, 11, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Lander of Tolland and Kent Lombardi, 7, sister of one of the victims.

Police said the seven children were asleep in a first story bedroom when they were awakened by the fire engulfing the hallway shortly after midnight.

The four children who escaped smashed a window and jumped to safety.

Firemen from five departments battled the blaze throughout the night before bringing it under control around 6 a.m.

Police said it took several hours to find the bodies of the three children.

The parents were about five miles away at a party when the fire broke out.

The four survivors were taken to Springfield (Vt.) Hospital. Kim Lander was admitted to the hospital for smoke inhalation and lacerations, and was released Sunday afternoon. The other three injured children were treated at the hospital and released.

The 11-room cottage on Lake Rescue had been rented to the Prescotts, Landers and the Lombardis. The fathers are weekend ski patrol members at Roundtop Mountain in Plymouth, Vt.

The cause of the fire is being investigated by the Vermont State Police Fire Marshal's office.

Officials said the fire was believed to have started in the living room-dining room area next to the bedroom where the children slept.

Autopsies of the three victims were scheduled today, police said.

Consolidation is subject of meeting in district

The Ad Hoc Committee on Consolidation of the Eighth Utilities District will conduct an informational meeting on "Consolidation and what it will mean to the people of Manchester" Wednesday at 8 p.m. at Whiton Memorial Library, 65 N. Main St.

The meeting will provide an opportunity to ask questions. The Eighth District Board of Directors will be present to answer questions, said Mrs. Evelyn W. Gegan, director of public relations for the District.

The press release announcing the meeting said, "Consolidation has suddenly arisen and has confused many residents within and without the district boundaries thoroughly, pro and con."

All residents of Manchester are urged by the committee to attend the meeting.

Opinion

Wrong using firemen

We inquired last week, and we were told that no firemen were being used to circulate consolidation petitions. We hoped our information was correct.
District Fire Chief Ted Lingard criticized using firemen. We hoped his information was incorrect.

Now we learn that our information was, indeed, incorrect, and that firemen have been circulating the petitions — after hours, we are told, but in uniform.
Our position is unchanged; firemen shouldn't be used circulating consolidation petitions.

Improving your health

For a nation whose political and social institutions developed out of concern for the precociousness of human life, our citizens tend to be recklessly indifferent to the quality and the length of the individual life our institutions enable each of us to pursue.
Every year tens of thousands of Americans die unnecessarily and millions more suffer debilitating diseases that could have been prevented. We eat too much, drink too much, and persist in smoking despite incontrovertible evidence that cigarettes are almost literally coffin nails.

Long before middle age, most of us permit our muscles to grow flaccid, our girth to expand and our heart to lose its efficiency. Most of us are sedentary at work and sedentary in leisure — at the wheel of our car, before the television set, or as spectators in a sports arena. In fact, 50 million of the 10 million adult Americans never engage in physical activity for exercise.
As a result, according to a 10 year study of longevity in America, an enormous number of us are sacrificing as many as 10 years of life expectancy that would be ours if we exercised regularly and observed a few simple rules: get the right amount of sleep (eight hours a night for men, seven hours for

An ignorant citizenry?

By MARTHA ANGLE and ROBERT WALTERS
WASHINGTON—(NEA)—The bad news about declining educational performance in America continues to roll in, with no end in sight to the trend.
By now we should be immune from shock, but the mounting evidence that students of all ages are learning less and less as their parents pay more and more for their education never ceases to appal.
The latest bulletin from the school house door reports that teenagers have lost ground during the course of the 1970s in their knowledge and understanding of the basics of citizenship.
In 1976, 13-year-olds and 17-year-olds knew less about working of the nation's political process and the structure and function of its government than their counterparts of 1970 to 1972.
The sorry details are contained in a massive, federally funded survey, the National Assessment of Educational Progress, which for nearly a decade has measured student performance in a wide range of subjects.
Some of the highlights, if that is the term, of the current study include:
• In 1976, less than half of all 13-year-olds, some 42 percent, could give an acceptable answer to the question, "What is democracy?"
• While 74 percent of the 17-year-olds could define the concept, that was a drop of 12 percentage points from 1970.
• Although 1976 was a presidential election year, only 36 percent of the 17-year-olds and less than 20 percent of the younger teens understood how presidential candidates are nominated. For the 17-year-olds, this represented a 14-point decline from the earlier survey.
• Less than half of the 17-year-olds, a drop of 9 points from the previous survey, and only one fifth of the 13-year-olds could name at least one of

Against consolidation

To the editor:
The recent drive surrounding consolidation, or as some would call it, amalgamation of the Eighth Utilities District, and under the guise of providing better government for Manchester, is a sham.
Consolidating the Eighth District would not now, or ever, benefit those of us who reside outside the district, but it will cause immediate monetary harm to residents of the district.
It would appear that a small select group of politicians have been able to convince a group of some sincere and respected citizens to form a committee called "One Manchester." The purpose of this committee, though, is not to study advisability or consolidation but to enforce the highly suspect motives of this select group of politicians.
I do not quarrel with most of the appointments of the personnel on the committee. I know and respect many of them.
I do, however, take issue with the necessity to consolidate. I agree with Director Vivian Ferguson, who stated her opposition to the over-powering tactics exhibited by the forces (political) behind the movement.
The possible alternative to consolidation is separation. The proprietors of Manchester's utilities (factories), J. C. Penney, Arthur Fischer's M.A.P. Associates, and Buckland Commons are located, or will be, within the Eighth Utilities District.
The board of directors of the Eighth District have a monumental educational and selling job to perform between now and voting day. Respectfully,

Thought

"Change and decay in all around I see."
The hymn writer certainly seemed to have his finger on the pulse beat of our times. We live in an age when international relations, economic conditions and human institutions are all quiver and quake before our very eyes. Not much appears to be nailed down today as people reach out for something concrete to hold on to. While the pressures of modern living loom larger and larger the answers become fewer and fewer.
In the midst of all this confusion and uncertainty, however, the Christian faith emerges with its great affirmation: Jesus Christ is the same yesterday, today and forever. He remains life's certainty in this sea of change, the calm in this world of confusion and the eternal emerging amid the transience.
To have a faith relationship with him does not mean that our lives will escape the gnawing pressures of our existence but it does mean that they will have the strengthening power of the eternal as we face them.

Reflections

Hal Turkington
Managing Editor
We have in our files a souvenir program of the First Annual Concert given by the Manchester Police Mutual Aid Association.
That concert was at the new State Theater, on Feb. 14, 1926, soon after the association was formed. It consisted of a vocal concert. Soloists from New York City were Fred Patton, Burdette Hawley as accompanist. They performed singly and together.
Also on the program was the Manchester Male Quartette with Burdette Hawley as accompanist. The quartet consisted of William F. Madden, a former member of the department who was shot to death during a robbery of Cheney Silk Mills. It also told about the department's history.
The last paragraph reads this way: "These two instances have been the cause of the formation of the Manchester Police Mutual Aid Association. Under present conditions, men of the force, who were compelled through sickness or accident to be unable to perform their regular duties, lose their compensation, as the town only pays wages to those who are able to work. The Mutual Aid Association will be the means of providing financial assistance to the members of the department in case of sickness or accident, and to their families in case of death."
For many years the association put on concerts at the State Theater. The format changed later to vaudeville. The shows were on a Sunday afternoon.
The association continued to grow in numbers as the department strengthened. It had 50 members in 1926 when it voted to disband. The vote was unanimous.
Its assets of more than $60,000 were invested in stocks and bonds; they were liquidated and divided among the members.
Why did the association disband? It didn't need the money for its intended purposes. Before the advent of insurance and job benefits, the

Thanks to the activities of the President's Council on Physical Fitness and Sports, there are encouraging signs that Americans are beginning to understand the price they are paying for their indifference to the factors that adversely affect their personal health. And, even more important, the council's persistent efforts have begun to result in dramatic increases in the number of Americans who routinely participate in sports as a pleasant and effective means of maintaining and enhancing health.
More Americans than ever before are jogging, hiking, bicycling, swimming, skiing and playing tennis. There are more than forty sports open to individuals who want to engage in regular exercise enjoyably, and qualify for a Presidential Sports Award including a patch, pin, and certificate.
Obviously, before undertaking any physical activity program, one should have a thorough medical examination. This is especially important for persons over forty, or for anyone who has not been physically active on a regular basis.
Each of us is a precious national resource and each of us has an obligation to help eliminate what has become a serious national fitness problem.
We urge every American who wants to feel well and live well — and long — to write to Presidential Sports Award, Greene, R.I. 02827, for information on ways to improve their health through sports.

Dear Abby

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I think this woman's life thing has been carried too far. When I took my children ages 2 and 31 to see Santa at our local department store, we found that "Santa" was a woman!

HORRIFIED

DEAR HORRIFIED: I agree. Santa is just not a lady's bag.

DEAR ABBY: That letter signed HAD ENOUGH sent my blood pressure right through the ceiling.

DEAR LIBBY: (Is that short for "liberated"?) I'm with you. For a letter from another woman who has also "had enough"—but for an entirely different reason—read on:

DEAR ABBY: Regarding the wife who complained because some of the wives at the family Christmas dinner didn't help with the dishes, and for that reason she dreaded the large family dinners: I feel sorry for her.

DEAR ABBY: I have had it up to here with the women rushing around waiting on the men and cleaning up while the men go into the living room to shoot the breeze or watch a game on TV.

Police seek man in beating death

Germaine Cameron, 34, of 199 Plain Drive, East Hartford, died Sunday at St. Francis Hospital of what police believe were injuries received when she was allegedly beaten Wednesday at her home.

Police have a warrant out for the arrest of Carlton Benoit, 35, of Hartford, in connection with the beating. Benoit is being sought on charges of second-degree assault and unlawful restraint. East Hartford Police Chief Clarence Drumm said he may be charged with murder depending upon the results of an autopsy.

Police said Mrs. Cameron complained to them Thursday that Benoit had tied her to a bed Wednesday night and then beat her severely with his fists.

Chief Drumm said the woman wasn't able to free herself until early Thursday morning. He said the woman's 14-year-old daughter said her mother went to St. Francis Hospital and Medical Center twice, complaining of head pains. She was released both times and then was admitted to the hospital Saturday. She died early Sunday, police said.

Drumm said he is sure the woman died as the result of "a brutal beating." Drumm also feels that Benoit may have fled the state. The search for him is continuing.

Board to meet principal

Vernon

The Vernon Board of Education will meet Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. in the Middle School Library. Board members will be introduced by Brian McCartney, recently appointed as principal of Rockville High School.

The board will also receive the superintendent's proposed budget for the coming year. The superintendent received budget requests from all department heads and principals and spent several weeks going over them and making his own cuts.

The budget will go to the board's budget committee for further study before being presented to the entire board for action.

Further staff reductions for the coming year will also be discussed.

The board will be asked to approve a two-year budget for the Vocational-Agricultural department of Rockville High School. The Vo-Ag school is a regional one and therefore is funded by the state, but the local board still has to act on the budget.

Another matter, of long standing, will again be discussed by the board. That is the question of making supervisory positions 15 instead of 12-month positions.

At the meeting of the Planning Commission Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. in the Memorial Building, the commission will discuss ways to spend the 1978 federal Community Development Act (CDA) funds.

Proposals to be discussed will be a request of the Rockville Fire Department to buy a new ladder truck; a request of the Sewer Authority for the sewer sludge composting program; and requests concerning a human services center and an emergency shelter.

The Town Council will conduct a public hearing on the application for the funding Feb. 27. The application has to do with the purchase and application of state review, by March 1.

Also at Tuesday's meeting, the commission will continue its review of a proposed amendment to the subdivision regulations. The amendment would allow developers to reduce the required width of some local streets.

Carbone to speak
Nicholas R. Carbone, Hartford City Councilman, will speak at the meeting of the Greater Vernon Republican Club Friday at 8 p.m. at the Wakarusa home, 151 Huntington Drive, Vernon.

Carbone, a Democrat, will present a slide show on the inner city and suburbs. He will also discuss federal money available to cities and suburbs. The meeting will be open to the public.

Months the council decided to make its reviews first to ensure that the town did not acquire the obligation to maintain drainage work carried out in the town right of way.

In other business Richard Giggey, who heads the Liaison Committee of the council, reported that he intended to endorse the following candidates for appointment to the Economic Development Commission: Republicans Jesse Brainard and Leonard Benjamin; Democrats George Bulduc Jr., Jerry LeGrand, and Norman Omland; and Independents David Lamour and Norman Wait. He will try to find two more candidates for the nine-member commission.

The council also approved $300 for use by the Salvation Army Study Committee to prepare literature for upcoming hearings. The committee has recommended that the town buy about 70 acres of land on the southern end of Coventry Lake for recreation and open space.

The council voted unanimously to approve a bond for deed on the Salvation Army land. By posting $1 and signing the agreement, the town has discuss the possibility of obtaining several state and federal grants. Because a decision on the grants must be made immediately, interested society members and townspeople are asked to attend the meeting.

Refreshments will be served. Newspaper drive
Bolton Center School Grade 8 students will have a newspaper drive April 8 from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. A vehicle to collect newspapers will be parked at the school.

The class asks all Bolton residents to begin saving their newspapers and magazines to ensure the success of the drive. The class would also like residents to ask their friends and relatives in the area to save their papers for the drive.

Anyone who is unable to deliver their papers to the school may have them picked up by calling Jean Garono, 645-5482.

Proceeds from the drive will help defray the cost of the class trip to the Boston Museum and a Red Sox baseball game later this year.

Senior citizens
The Bolton senior citizens will have their monthly meeting Wednesday at 1 p.m. at the Community Hall, School Superintendent Raymond Allen will be the guest speaker. The visiting nurse will be present for consultation and blood pressure checks. Mr. and Mrs. Mario Morra will be the hosts.

Meat rescheduled
The special Chicken Delight meal planned for last week at Andover Elementary School will be served Thursday at noon. Anyone planning to attend is asked to call the school by Thursday morning.

Dorthea Raymond has donated a subscription to National Geographic magazine to the school library.

Board to meet Tuesday

The Andover Board of Education will meet Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. at Andover Elementary School conference room.

The board will hear a special report on the National Geographic Project RISE. It will make appointments. The board will discuss committee reports, a financial summary, disposal of equipment, the 1978-1979 budget and the child guidance clinic

Democratic primary due

South Windsor

Walter Kupchnos Jr., who lost his seat on the Democratic Town Committee because of an error in vote counting, will force the party to hold a special primary — probably on March 7.

The mistake apparently could not be corrected because the winners were already certified as new town committee members. Several committee members offered to resign in favor of Kupchnos; however, Kupchnos has declined the seat.

Board of Education member Marjorie Hutensky resigned her seat to accommodate Kupchnos, and members of the third district to date about 15 wells have been found to be polluted in the area. It appears the pollution is resulting from sewer hook-ups to a storm catch basin in the area. The resident whose sewer line was hooked into the basin was unaware before November that there was a problem.

Mayor Caffyn said that the area was one of the first to get sewers because of septic problems, but few residents have actually hooked up to the sewer system.

Mayor Caffyn said it appears that either all the residents will have to hook up to the system in the immediate future or city water will have to be brought in. The latter would be a very expensive solution to the problem, according to Mayor nominated Kupchnos. Town Committee Chairman Robert Hornish said that he was disturbed to have the committee go through the procedure of getting someone to resign, calling a meeting and nominating Kupchnos to the vacancy and then having him decline.

There is a question as to what he is looking for," said Hornish. "Does he want the seat or not?"

According to primary rules, Kupchnos had to put together his own slate of candidates, equaling at least 25 percent of the District 3 committee members.

Reportedly, Kupchnos' running mates in the primary battle will be John Cutler, 36 Graham Road, Mary Jane Drachenberg, 415 Abby Road Ext., Pat Durkee, 246 Graham Road, Ray Hallows Jr., 125 Valley View Drive, Joseph Krawicki Jr., 178 Foster St., Stanley Sigal, 91 March Drive, Cornelius Nicholson, 108 Birch Hill Drive, and Patrick Ward Jr., 222 Ellington Road.

The primary slate of candidates will run against the 25 persons elected to the committee in January. The candidates, however, are running as individuals rather than a group, and individual vote tallies will determine who will serve on the committee from the third district.

The election will be open only to District 3 Democrats.

Well complaints invited

South Windsor

Mayor Nancy Caffyn has asked that any residents in the Birch, Brian, Kelly and Laurel Street area who are concerned with the possibility of a polluted well should contact the South Windsor Town Hall. Requests for water samples will be taken.

The resident should leave his name, address, telephone number and a time and date when the sample may be taken.

The Town Council has considered what seems to be widespread pollution in the area a top priority item. Mayor Caffyn said she is "deeply concerned about health hazards resulting from the well pollution."

Work session

The South Windsor Town Council will hold a work session Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. in the Town Hall caucus room.

David Soule, director of planning, will discuss the CROCO development and housing reports, and Allan Young, director of public works, will brief the council on road reconstruction and traffic resulting from the proposed J.C. Penney complex.

The South Windsor Town Hall is closed all day today and will also be closed all day Feb. 20 in observance of Washington's Birthday.

Morgan likes budget plans

Vernon

"The governor's proposed budget contains significant new state assistance for the towns and cities of Connecticut," Rep. Chester W. Morgan, Democrat of Vernon, said today.

Governor Ella Grasso presented her budget to the legislators Friday. Morgan said her recommended boosts in five state aid programs will mean an increase of 43 percent in grants for Vernon. He said this increase will amount to $247,145.

He explained that the five types of aid are payments in lieu of taxes on public housing, payment in lieu of taxes on state-owned property, aid for town roads, educational equalization grants, and property tax relief grants.

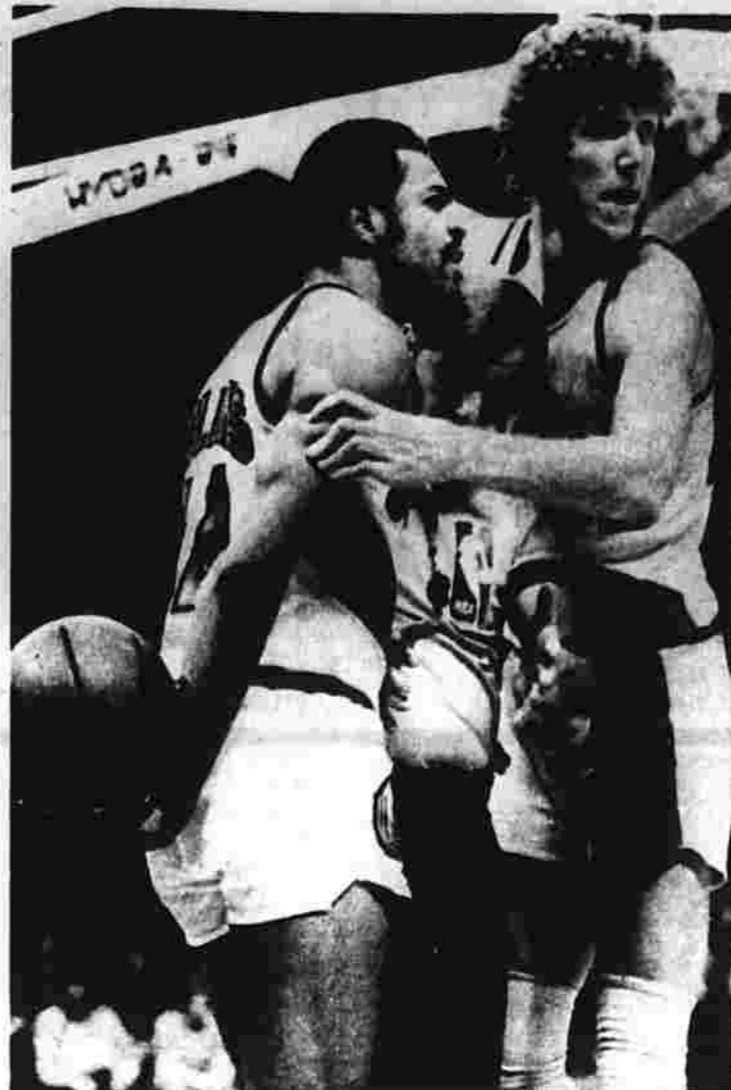

"Under these programs, Vernon is receiving an estimated $576,073 from the state this fiscal year. Under the governor's proposals, Vernon will receive $823,219 from the same programs during the 1978-79 fiscal year," Morgan explained.

He said as far as he is concerned the legislative session of 1978 has definitely gotten off on the right foot. "There may be a few changes in the governor's recommended budget along the way, but we are definitely headed in the right direction and are committing ourselves to a greater degree of state support for beleaguered municipal budgets," Morgan said.

Portland home streak stopped

NEW YORK (UPI) — "The most important thing about it," Dan Issel said Sunday after the Denver Nuggets snapped Portland's 44-game home winning streak with a 103-101 victory. "Is that we gained a game on Chicago in our division."

But the real significance was hard to ignore. Portland, the NBA champ, had not been beaten at home since the Cleveland Cavaliers won, 113-101, on March 4, 1977.

"Tempo won it for us," said Denver Coach Larry Brown. "When we were down 10 points in the third quarter, I called time to simply change the tempo. We overcame the deficit."

David Thompson scored 22 points, including a jumper with 19 seconds left, to make Denver the only NBA team that hasn't lost to Portland this season.

Bill Walton, who had 24 points to lead the Trail Blazers, kept Portland in front, at 82-90, with five minutes to go, but Denver cashed in on seven free throws in a nine-point surge that set the stage for Thompson.

"I told our players that Denver played better than we did," said Walton.

Quickness key factor in Simsbury triumph

By LEN AUSTER

Herald Sports Writer

Quickness, the ability to penetrate through a maze of players for a hoop or pick up a foul, was never more evident than it was Saturday night as Simsbury High drove past Manchester, 57-44, in CCHL hoop action in Simsbury.

The win was the Trojans' 10th in 15 league outings with the winners now 12-5 overall. Manchester, which had outscored its opponents by a 92-91 margin going into the game, now stands 6-12 in all games with two left. The Silk Towners host Fern High Tuesday night at Clarke Arena and travel to Willamantic Friday night to combat Windham High. The locals still have an outside shot at a tournament berth.

Manchester had a 28-27 lead early in the third quarter when the tables were turned. Five-foot-10 junior Jeff Moger hit a free throw to knot it and slither 5-10 senior Brad Payne went to the 15-foot stripe 15 times for 8 points.

Scott Hyde was the lone local in twin figures with 15 points. It was the senior co-captain's 11th consecutive double digit performance. He also led in the rebounding department with 14 caroms. John Haslett had 10 rebounds but only two points as his scoring production has tailed off since incurring an ankle injury in a game Jan. 27 against Hall.

Simsbury also took the jayvee till, 45-30. Chris Besser had 14 points for the 12-4 Indians.

Coventry downs Cheney with free throw edge

Even from the floor, Cheney Tech couldn't keep pace from the foul line with Coventry and dropped a 71-65 Charter Oak Conference basketball decision Saturday night at the Beavers' gym.

The Techmen now stand 6-6 in conference play and 6-8 overall, having dropped three straight. Coventry leads the COC with a 15-1 mark and is 15-1 overall. The Patriots have won 13 in a row.

Each side hit 28 field goals but the visitors took the decision by hitting 15 of 22 from the charity stripe while Cheney was 9 for 18.

Coventry took a 21-18 advantage after one quarter and moved the margin to 42-33 at intermission. The lead grew to 59-45 after three quarters with Cheney putting on a burst in the final canto only to fall short.

Six-foot-seven pivotman Al Schmidt paced the Patriots with 20 points which pushed him over the 1,000-point mark for his career. Curt LeDoyt chipped in with 19 markers with Rich Walsh adding 10.

Kevin Tyler, 6-2 senior co-captain, paced the Beaver effort with 22 points with junior Dave Gustamachio

PC wins on Eason hoop

PROVIDENCE, R.I. (UPI)

"If I had to pick out a player to get the winning basket, in a national TV game, it would be Billy Eason," said Providence College basketball Coach Dave Gavitt.

Eason's 10-foot baseline shot with 20 seconds to play gave PC a 61-59 upset Sunday over sixth-ranked North Carolina.

Trailing 59-55 with 3:00 to play and two of its starters fouled out, the Friars broke the famed North Carolina four corner offense on a three-point play by reserve guard David Frye. With 2:19 to go, Providence tied the game on a free-throw by substitute center Rich Hunger.

North Carolina then ran the clock down until Providence gained possession on a missed foul shot. Eason then tossed in the winning bucket.

After Providence led early, North Carolina took an eight-point lead, 29-21, with 3:45 to go in the first half. The Friars came back and tied it up 31-31 at the intermission.

North Carolina, now 20-5, led much of the second half until Providence, 18-4, rallied in the closing minutes.

Eason was high-man for the Friars with 16 points followed by Bob Mischevicius with 15 and Bruce Campbell with 12 points.

Phil Ford had 18 and Mike O'Koren added 17 for the Tarheels.

The contest drew only 6,883 fans because it was played in the downtown Providence Civic Center where cars were banned because of a snow emergency. The fans walked — some more than 12 miles.

Winning its third straight, the Manchester High wrestling team topped Enfield High, 26-16, Saturday at Clarke Arena.

The Indian matmen now stand 7-3 overall and currently occupy second place in the CCHL with only one loss, that coming to league-leading Hall. The locals took seven of the 12 weight divisions highlighted by Doug Marshall's 10th consecutive win in the 148-pound class.

Manchester has a makeup date today at 2 o'clock at Simsbury High. Results: 101—Collins (M) superior dec. Wrobel 13-3.

Canadiens equal mark

NEW YORK (UPI) — Coach Scotty Bowman of the Montreal Canadiens, not known for his sense of humor, grinned slyly when asked how he felt about the Stanley Cup champions' feat of tying the National Hockey League's record of 23 straight games without a loss.

"The thing I like best about it," he said pausing for the punch line, "is that we played 14 of the games on the road."

The Canadiens were played about even until late in the second period Sunday night when they erupted with one of their flash rallies, scored three goals within a span of 3:01 and defeated the New York Rangers, 5-3. Both Bowman and Coach Jean Guylabot of the Rangers allowed it could have been the best game the Rangers played all season.

Guy Lafleur broke the 2-2 tie at 16:51. Rejean Houle scored at 19:07.

In other games, Philadelphia topped Washington, 4-1, Cleveland tied the New York Islanders, 2-2, Minnesota tied Colorado, 3-3, Detroit ripped Vancouver, 5-3, and Chicago tied Atlanta, 2-2.

In the World Hockey Association, Cincinnati blanked Quebec, 8-2, Winnipeg nipped Houston, 6-5, and Edmonton routed Birmingham, 7-0.

NHL

Flames 4, Capitals 1
Orest Kindrachuk set up a second-period goal by Bob Kelly and added a short-handed goal. Philadelphia set a club record by limiting Washington to seven shots and kept within a point of the first-place New York Islanders in the Patrick Division.

Islanders 2, Barons 2
Walt McKechnie's third-period goal helped Cleveland pick up a point in the race for the final wild-card playoff spot. Former Islander J.P. Parise gave the Barons a goal at 11:36 of the second period.

Minnesota got goals from Brad Maxwell, Roland Eriksson and Per Olov Brasar to give Lou Nanne a win and a tie in his first two games as Minnesota general manager-coach.

Red Wings 8, Canucks 3
Rookie Paul Woods got his first NHL hat trick and Dan Maloney scored two goals to lead Detroit and help hand Vancouver its fifth straight loss.

Flames 2, Black Hawks 2
Alain Daigle's third goal of the season with 2:06 left in the game helped Chicago run its unbeaten streak to nine games.

WHA:
Peter Marsh and Jamie Hislop scored two goals each as Cincinnati took over sixth place. Anders Hedberg's second goal of the game lifted Winnipeg to its eighth straight triumph.

Dave Dryden blocked 34 shots and seven players scored for Edmonton.

Whalers swap for Ron Plumb

HARTFORD, (UPI) — The New England Whalers, in a move to bolster their sagging defense, have obtained last year's "Most Valuable Defenseman," Ron Plumb of the Cincinnati Stingers.

The exchange cost the top of the season after the Whalers, who have seen their early lead in the World Hockey Association evaporate, center Greg Carroll and "future considerations" to the Stingers.

In a related move, the Stingers sent the "future considerations" center Rich Leduc and left wing Claude Larose to the Indianapolis Racers for left wing Reg Thomas and defenseman Darryl Maggs.

Rogers anxious to finish

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (UPI) — Bill Rogers can't wait.

He is so close to winning his first PGA Tour event that it's killing him counting the hours to today's final round of the 90-hole, $225,000 Bob Hope Desert Classic.

Playing in relative obscurity at El Dorado Sunday, the 28-year-old Texas shot his third straight 67, and that jumped him two shots ahead of Britain's Peter Oosterhuis, three in front of Jerry McGee and four in front of Tom Watson and Danny Edwards.

But as things turned out, Rogers needed the fine round as Oosterhuis, also a non-winner on the American tour, shot a 6-under-par 66 at Indian Wells while playing in the final group of the day.

McGee, who has won twice in 11 years, had a 70 at La Quinta, while Edwards, another non-winner, shot 68 at Indian Wells and Watson, the 1977 Player of the Year and already the winner of two events in 1978, had an even-par 72 at Bermuda Dunes.

Bermuda Dunes held the bulk of a crowd of 22,500 because that was where all the celebrities were paired with various pros.

MACC news

By JOANNE MIKOLEIT
The Project Service phones are ringing more than usual. The blizzard of 1978 has indeed caused problems for some Manchester families. Several of the calls we have had are from people who do not receive their unemployment checks due to the fact that state offices were closed. We have also received calls from state welfare recipients who need food because they have not received their checks for Feb. 1. These families had moved and are waiting for a change of address to be put through. Since state offices were closed from Monday noon to Thursday morning there is no telling how long it will take for these changes to be made.

Therefore, we are having to feed families who would have food stamps if they had money to buy them. Some families who were collecting unemployment have had their benefits terminated. We have given food to some of these families and referred them to town welfare or state welfare for assistance. Mary Della Fera, director of town social services, has said that one-third of their cases in the last few weeks are families who had their unemployment benefits cut off. Families living on fixed incomes such as Social Security, state welfare and unemployment are living from check to check. When for reasons beyond their control these checks do not come there are many problems.

Rents have to be paid and families have to be fed. In January we gave food to about 22 families. As of Feb. 9 we have given food to 13 families. The demand for emergency food assistance is increasing rapidly and our food supply is decreasing. The Emergency Food Pantry is in dire need of powdered milk, cereals, juices, canned meat, spaghetti sauces and crackers. You can leave food at Center Church or at the Project Service Office, 1045 Main St. The project staff thanks all those who have donated furniture and clothing to those in need. Thank you to Lou Stein of the Sheltered Workshop for his donation of jackets.

Hose Co. No. 3 of the Town Fire Department will meet Tuesday at 8 p.m. at the Weaver Street fire house. St. Margaret's Circle, Daughters of Isabella, will meet Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. at the Knights of Columbus Hall. Mrs. Irene Bergin and her committee will be in charge of refreshments. A neighborhood coffee hour is scheduled for Tuesday at 1:30 p.m. at the Emanuel Lutheran Outreach Center, 64 Church St. The Old Guard, which is open to all retired men of the community, will meet Tuesday at 10 a.m. in

The local chapter of Parents Anonymous will meet Tuesday at 7 p.m. in the Glee Club under the direction of James McKay will meet tonight at 7:30 in the board room. The Emanuel Lutheran Church council will meet tonight at 7:30 in the board room. 800-842-2228.

Board still faces three policy items

By SHEILA TULLER
Herald Correspondent
When it meets again Feb. 21, the Board of Education will have before it three items which were tabled at the last meeting because of absenteeism. Dr. Richard Veltri came in to the meeting last Thursday after the first item was tabled. Joseph Visiglio and Salvatore Ingallinera were absent. After the policy about staff reduction was discussed for a short time, board chairman Larry DePonte said he felt uncomfortable acting on such an important matter with three members absent. "I want all board members here before we take action on this policy," DePonte said. The board has discussed reducing the personnel force at several prior meetings. Thursday night it was scheduled to review the administration's proposed policy for the second time. Before discussion was stopped, board member Dorothy Carey said, "Until we have an evaluation system that is standard, I don't think the policy before us is fair." Dr. Jerry Marcus, assistant superintendent for personnel, said there would be starter problems. "The policy is flexible," Marcus said, adding, "the board has the option to ask for more information if there is insufficient evaluation." The board appears divided on whether merit or seniority should be the main factor in reducing staff. The policy will be discussed at the next regular meeting provided there is better board attendance. The board also tabled formal action on a policy setting the meeting agenda and an amendment to the transportation policy. Agenda policy
In an effort to expedite board business at shorter meetings the board charged their meeting format on a trial basis last fall.

The charge was made when board members reviewed their priorities at a mid-summer meeting. The majority agreed shorter meetings were in order. One major change moving the executive session to the beginning of the meeting instead of the end has been applauded by staff members and parents who used to have to sit three or four hours through a regular board meeting before the executive session was held. Finalizing the agenda format and approval of the agenda policy is also expected to be discussed at the next meeting. Dr. Diggs urged board members to adopt a consistent agenda and stick with it. Transportation
Board member Joseph Visiglio's amendment to provide transportation on a uniform basis recommends busing for all school children who have to walk along major traffic arteries where walking is unsafe during winter months. Visiglio's amendment stems from the board's Jan. 23 action to provide busing for Sunset Ridge students who have to walk along Forbes Street to school. These children will be bused from Thanksgiving recess to the April vacation. Dr. Diggs will ask the board to rescind the decision made Jan. 23 because he doesn't believe temporary conditions should alter uniform board policy. If, however, the action stands, the superintendent would recommend the rationale be uniformly applied throughout town. Task force
No action was taken on establishing a task force of citizens to determine use of facilities. A task force to aid the board with formation of a housing plan was suggested by parents during January workshop sessions on closing schools because of declining enrollment. Dr. Diggs had proposed a similar plan in the fall of 1976, but the plan was rejected by the board at that time. He dusted off the same proposal for last week's board meeting. The 1976 proposal suggested a committee of 30 members representing parents, teachers, administrators, school secretaries, aides and custodians, as well as board members, the high school representatives of the Town Council, PTA Council, League of Women Voters and the Chamber of Commerce. Board member Joyce Ruggles said, "I thought there would be more specified charges for the force than utilization of buildings. "First we have to know what we want this group to do, then we can establish a charge of the task force would be to help design a policy to recommend use of facilities but also look at the educational standpoint of the housing plan. Dr. Richard Veltri suggested another housing workshop. "We've come a long way but we need more input." Chairman DePonte ended the discussion, urging another look at the task force plan. "Let's try to get something more specific together." Center School PTA president Denise Benoit, who made the suggestion of establishing a task force at a January workshop said she would like to see each board member offer guidelines on what the task force should do. "The consensus of the board at the last housing workshop was that a task force should definitely be established, but no specific charges were added.

Driver hurt in car-train crash
Donald Vallee, 51, of Bidwell Avenue, East Hartford, was the driver of this car which was struck by a train at the School Street railroad crossing in East Hartford. The accident happened Saturday morning. Vallee was taken to Manchester Memorial Hospital. Police said he suffered rib injuries. He was charged with failure to stop at a railroad crossing. Police said Vallee said he saw the warning lights flashing at the crossing but didn't hear a warning bell or see a train so he proceeded to start across the tracks and was struck. There were no other occupants in the car. The engineer of the train was Arthur Healy of 28 Beacon Hill Road, East Hartford. (Photo by Paradis)

Vicar talks on ministry to the deaf

The Rev. Raynor Andersen, vicar of St. Paul's (Catholic Church of the deaf) in Hartford, will speak Wednesday at 8 p.m. at St. Mary's Episcopal Church on "The Church's Ministry to Deaf Persons." Father Andersen will discuss how deaf persons are being more deeply incorporated into the Episcopal Church through its healing ministries. The public is invited to attend this first in a series of Lenten services at St. Mary's Church. A graduate of Columbia University, New York City, Father Andersen was trained at the Philadelphia Divinity School and ordained to the priesthood in 1970. He served deaf parishes in New York City and Merchantville, N.J., before being appointed diocesan minister by the Rt. Rev. J. Warren Hutchens in 1972.

Rhode Island distinguished historically for its contributions to freedom of conscience and action, begun by Roger Williams, founder of Providence, who was called from Massachusetts Bay Colony in 1639, and Anne Hutchinson, called in 1638. The first Baptist church in the United States was founded in Providence the same year.

Penney beats Glastonbury

By BILL MEAVOY
Correspondent
Two free throws by Kevin Grady with four seconds left lifted Penney High past Glastonbury, 54-52, in non-conference basketball action Saturday night in Glastonbury. The win was the Knights' ninth straight and pushed their overall record to 15-2. The Tomahawks slip to 4-12 for the season. Penney has a makeup date at home tonight against Hall High. Despite the difference in records, the Tomahawks gave Penney all it could handle with a stingy zone defense and aggressive offensive rebounding. Penney led 17-8 after one quarter and 28-22 at intermission. The third quarter was all Glastonbury as its defense, led by Joe Bernardi, was outstanding limiting Penney to a season-low total of 6 points in the period. Tom Lincoln, hitting from all over, guided the offense with 8 consecutive points for Glastonbury which took a 48-34 advantage after three cantos. The squads traded hoops the initial three minutes of the final quarter with Glastonbury up, 47-39, at the five-minute mark. Lindsay James, dormant for a quarter-and-a-half, erupted for 9 straight points the next three minutes with Mike Kononchik carrying two from the foul stripe to cap a Penney rally. The Knights were up with 1:36 to go, 52-47. The Tomahawks came right back
