WATERBURY (UPI) - Two armed men wearing ski masks held up the Hopeville office of the Waterbury Banking Center today and escaped with an undetermined amount of money. One of the two white male bandits was carrying a shotgun, the other a pistol. They fled the bank on Piedmont Street in a car, police said.

HARTFORD (UPI) - The cost of snow removal has caused state officials to revise downward their projection of the surplus for the fiscal year ending June 30 to $80

The estimate Wednesday by State Comptroller J. Edward Caldwell compares to an $82 million surplus projection last month. The Legislature's Finance Committee, using a different forumla, has estimated the surplus may be as large as $116 million.

ANSONIA (UPI) - Gov. Ella T. Grasso has announced creation of a special task force to help the financially strapped Naugatuck Valley rebuild its economy. Mrs. Grasso Wednesday told the Lower Naugatuck Valley Chamber of Commerce the task force will carry out a wide range of activities to promote economic development and create jobs throughout the valley. . She said among the towns to benefit from the program will be Derby, Seymour, Torrington, Waterbury, Naugatuck and Bridgeport.

HARTFORD (UPI) - Despite some objections that legalizing right turns at red lights will endanger the lives of blind persons, the bill appears likely to get clear sailing through the committee process. The Legislature's Transportation Committee Wednesday held its obligatory hearing on the issue, but the panel's leaders said they didn't see any roadblocks.

have proposed a plan to help high schoolers to make it to graduation. Contrary to popular belief (in this case, popular believe means the belief of the adults of America), it is not easy to get through high school! I'm not talking about the academic part of school; the work is easy. I'm alking about other problems that a student has, the type that sometimes make me wonder how I'm going to keep my sanity until graduation.

One of the first problems the average high school student experiences is that of getting to school. In order to be at school by 8 a.m. which the student must do in order to avoid demerits) the student must drag herself out of bed at the ungodly hour of 6:30 a.m. The student must madly rush to be out of the house by about 7:30 a.m. in order to walt for a bus, walk, or start the car. Don't tell me I'm overreacting. There are teachers that hate certain students. They always put a trick problem on the test, so that even though you may have studied all weekend for the test, you fail it. They also do other things that generally make life miserable for those who are the target of the teacher's wrath. Billie Jean wins

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (UPI) - Billie Jean King realizes she will never be a perfect tennis player — and that concession to herself may drive the queen of romen's tennis closer to perfection than at any other point during her career. "The biggest change in my game has been mental," explained King after disposing of Beth Norton, 6-2, 6-4 Thursday night to advance into the quarterinals of the Kansas City stop on the women's winter tennis tour. In other second-round matches Thursday, Martina Navratilova extended her winning streak to 32 games with a 6-1, 6-0 triumph over Marita Reddondo, Virginia Wade disposed of Sharon Walsh, 6-2, 6-4 and Wendy Turnbull whipped

Sometimes the view from a window leaves much to be desired. Look at the kind of trouble it got Jimmy Stewart into in the film, "Rear Window." In some cases.

what's outdoors may be no more visually exciting than a blank wall or a neighbor's weed-intested backyard. One way to avoid such "eyesores" is to design a window treat-ment that draws attention to itself rather than what lies

Built-in shelving to focus attention on your taste in books or bric-a-brac, for instance, could serve to banish the visual monotony of a room without a view. Or, to divert attention from the outdoors, you might install glass shelves in the window to display your favorite plants.
