Estimates on water uncertain By ALICE EVANS Herald Reporter. Manchester's Water Study Committee came to its meeting Tuesday night thinking it had received final figures from the Metropolitan District Commission (MDC) only to discover that one district official considers some of the figures inaccurate.

Monday, the MDC submitted figures giving comparable costs of water for various alternative methods for supplying water to Manchester. However, three hours before the meeting was scheduled, its chairman, Harry Reinhorn, received a hand-delivered letter from the MDC's Water Bureau chairman saying he disagreed with some of the figures.

Manchester Police found a 35-year-old man slumped over the wheel of his car in the driveway of the Buckland first station, 1079 Tollard Turnpike, at 2:15 a.m. today.

Fascinating project

John P. McKeon, 50, of 23 Richmond Drive was also charged with disorderly conduct and failure to submit to fingerprinting after an incident on Richmond Drive shortly after 2 a.m. Police said McKeon was a passenger in a vehicle which was stopped for a motor vehicle check when he became belligerent and verbally abusive to officers. He was also held for court appearance today.

Police made 15 motor vehicle arrests Tuesday night following Roger C. Feder, 25, of 22 Seaman Circle, charged with improper use of registration. Court date is March 28.

Burglaries reported Tuesday included one into St. James Church on Main Street. Police said a white male running from the church after an apparent attempt to enter an office about 5 p.m.

A burglary occurred at a Downey Drive apartment Tuesday night. The bedroom was ransacked and an unknown amount of jewelry was stolen, police said.

Norton Electric at 71 Hilliard St. reported Tuesday that a burglary occurred sometime over the weekend during which numerous tools were taken.

A burglary at a Carpenter Road home over the weekend resulted in the theft of a small portable television.

A construction trailer owned by Manford Bros. was broken into on Thompson Road and a telephone was taken.

Manchester Lumber reported that a warehouse had been broken into Monday night, but nothing was taken.

Personnel matters approved by board

The Manchester Board of Education approved eight teacher resignations, two retirements and three leaves of absence Monday night. The retirements of Harriett C. Atwood, principal of Highland Park School and Lillian V. Sherris, principal of Martin School, were accepted with appreciation for their 38 and 36 years, respectively, with the Manchester schools.

Resignations included Arleen P. Glancy, learning disabilities teacher at Martin School; Linda Gotta, English teacher at Bennet Junior High School; Deana M. Leikin, Grade 6 teacher at Robertson School; Gloria S. Levine, Spanish teacher at Manchester High School; Terry Sue Miller, Grade 1 teacher at Bowers School; Helen O'Neal, part-time social worker at the Regional Occupational Training Center; Judith Tremble,

Israeli forces

(Continued From Page One) establish a defensive strip 4 to 6 miles deep along the rocky, hilly frontier to prevent the Palestinians from using it as a staging area. Israel's armed forces radio said Syrian commandos based near Damour fired at the Israeli planes but said the Israelis did not fire back and returned safely to base. However, Beirut dispatches said, there was no indication of involvement by regular Syrian anti-aircraft batteries situated at various points throughout the capital, and Beirut diplomats believed it was likely the Syrians would seek to avoid any confrontation with the Israelis. The invasion, following up the weekend Palestinian terrorist raid that killed 32 Israelis, ranged over the length of the 64-mile border and cut five miles into Lebanese territory. Israeli Defense Minister Ezer Weizman said the immediate goal of Israel's biggest military offensive since the 1973 October war was to es-

Sunday liquor debated

(Continued From Page One) for those women who will be deprived of their husbands on Sunday. Frank Lupien of 21 Sunset St. said, "Isn't it clear that this town is suffering from excessive alcoholic intake during the six days of the week? He mentioned the lifting of prohibition by President Franklin Roosevelt and said, "If Franklin the first came back today, he would see things are 1,000 times worse than he would have dreamed." B.D. Pearl, a Main Street businessman, called the proposal "a horrendous proposition." He said that the change would lead to more alcohol-related problems, such as vandalism, on Sunday. "Don't we have enough during the rest of the week?" he asked. The Rev. Neale McLain of the Church of the Nazarene mentioned some alcohol-related problems and the need to restrict drinking. "Taking the Lord's day as a day of discipline in this area would be a good point," he said. After the 45-minute hearing ended, most of those in attendance left. The board later discussed the issue but took no final action. Diana said that he feels the present prohibition on Sunday sales is "rather archaic." Vivian Ferguson, responding to some remarks that she was being pressured into proposing the change or might be making some personal gain, said that neither case is true. In fact, her husband owns stock in the Steak Club Inc., which operates a restaurant, she said. The board directed several questions to the town counsel, including whether there could be more than one referendum question — one to find out whether there is support for the proposal and at least on other question to vote on what type of establishments should be permitted to open on Sunday. Stephen Casano asked the town counsel to study whether it might be possible to prohibit live entertainment on Sunday if an establishment is open and serving liquor.

'Shot' rules enforced

The Manchester public schools and the Health Department are making every effort to have all children immunized against measles and Rubella (German measles) as required by state law. The state requirement that all children entering kindergarten be immunized against measles and Rubella is not expected to pose any problem in the Manchester schools, School Superintendent James P. Kennedy said. Only five kindergartners have not been immunized or have religious waivers from being immunized as allowed by the law, he said. The five cases involve extenuating circumstances of illness which prevents the children from having the vaccine at this time. The required immunization has caused some children to be barred from school in Rocky Hill because their doctors will not administer the vaccine. Kennedy said he expects few, if any cases in Manchester, where a child will have to be barred from school for lack of immunization. Lynn Gustafson, head school nurse, said the schools are providing every opportunity to be immunized so that students can stay in school. Re-immunization clinics have been scheduled for the schools in April. The clinics will be aimed at students who were immunized before their first birthday or before 1968, or those who are new in the system and have not been immunized, Mrs. Gustafson said. Only the measles vaccine will be given in the junior high and high schools because Rubella is required for only those up to age 12. The clinics at Hilling and Bennet Junior High Schools will be April 12 and at Manchester High School April 13. The elementary schools clinics will start April 18 and continue until the immunizations are complete. Mrs. Gustafson said the school nurses have made a careful check of all student health records and have sent lists to doctors asking for dates of individual's immunization. This is intended to prevent the numerous phone calls from individual parents. Parents will be notified of the need for the vaccine and be sent a consent form on April 1. Dr. Alice Turek, director of health for the town, said the State Legislature is now considering a requirement for the DPT (Diphtheria, Pertussis and Tetanus) and polio vaccines, which she said is expected to pass.

Water estimates

Reinhart said a letter will go out today to MDC demanding an explanation, "since the MDC has had since last August to come up with the figures."
Vigneau's complaint was just another attempt by MDC to delay a final and complete report to the committee, Reinhart said. "They're still procrastinating in giving us the accurate figures," he said.
The Water Study Committee is also waiting for a final report of a study by Weston & Sampson, which was due this month. Bob Young, water treatment manager, told the committee that they could expect this report in May.

Dr. Turek explains program revisions

By JUNE TOMPKINS
Herald Reporter
Dr. Alice Turek, Manchester's director of health, explained two health department program revisions Tuesday to the Advisory Board of Health.
One is a reclassification of deputy director of health for the current administrator/principal sanitarian, a position held by Ronald Kraatz.
Dr. Turek said she explained her time as a school physician and additional time as a town employee physician. These commitments leave her only part time to do the full-time job of director of health.
She said that Kraatz, as the administrator/principal sanitarian has, of necessity, been functioning as a deputy director during times when she has been out of the office performing clinician duties.
The reclassification comes with a salary request for an additional $1,428.
Dr. Turek is also requesting a permanent staff nurse position. A staff nurse is needed, she says, to assist in epidemics for control of communicable diseases, employee health clinics, immunization programs, and developing new employee health programs, especially for police and fire departments and pre-retirement counseling.
She has proposed a salary range of $10,500 to $13,500 which would be consistent with East Hartford's Health Department, she said, and slightly higher than at Manchester Memorial Hospital and higher than with the Manchester Public Health Nursing Association.
In other business, Dr. Turek said that the town's grocery stores are being visited by CETA employees who are inspecting for cleanliness. They are finding some problems of handling food under unsanitary conditions.
More service agencies will be represented at next Tuesday's Health Fair than ever before, Lois Lewis, executive director of the Manchester Public Health Nursing Association, said. The fair, co-sponsored by the MPHNA and the Town Health Department, will run from 2 to 7 p.m. in the Manchester High School cafeteria.
Hoping to attract the youth at the fair, several simple screening tests have been set up using gym equipment for stress tests. Several members of the Manchester High School Medical Aid Club will assist with this part of the program.
A hearing screening test will also be offered new this year. Baby-sitting will be available.
The board heard proposed plans by the Manchester Area Conference of Churches (MACC) to start a convalescent home auxiliary. Board member Walter Joyner said probably one of its first activities would be operating a hospitably wagon similar to what is used in the town's hospital.

Youths charged in fire

Four Vernon youths were arrested this morning on Tolland County Superior Court bench warrants charging them with third-degree arson and third-degree burglary.
The youths had previously been arrested on Common Pleas Court warrants on the same charges. The charges will be rolled in that court and the four were to be arraigned in superior court today.
They are: Mark Chesterton, 17, of 12 Austin Drive; Michael Marshall, 17, of 14 Welles Road; Mark Dziadziuski, 17, of 147 Tumblebrook Drive; and Steven Owens, 17, of 28 Hillcrest Drive.

South Windsor
South Windsor Police said Henry Kwikitkowski, 48, of Wapping Woods Road, Vernon, lost control of his car on Ellington Road this morning, skidded into a snow bank and the car rolled over twice, ending up on its wheels.
Police said the driver reported minor injuries. No police action was taken.
Police said they have received many complaints over the past few weeks from women who said they have received calls from a male identifying himself as "Dr. Fuller" and then asking very personal questions.

Sewer assessment plan

Candidate William Diana said that many districts during the election talked about the need to handle water problems.
"Since we've been on this board, it's been clear that those alternatives had not been fully explored," he said.
Penney said, however, that if the cost information from the MDC is not provided soon, the board probably will proceed with its previous plan that the town conduct a referendum question for construction of its own treatment plant.
In other actions Tuesday, the directors:
• Granted permission that the town seek Urban System funding for several town road improvement projects.
• Appointed John Honor to the Human Relations Commission to replace Francis Kee, who resigned.
• Accepted the early retirement of Elaine Kearney and Dorothy Converse.
• Authorized the deputy mayor to sign notes and bonds in the incapacity of the mayor.
• Approved four appropriations to Comprehensive Employment Training Act programs to be financed from grants.

Board, MEA to resume talks on teacher pact

By SUSAN VAUGHN
Herald Reporter

The Manchester Board of Education and the local teachers union will have to resume negotiations on at least two issues which they failed to agree on as recommended by an advisory arbitration panel.
In a meeting of the Manchester Education Association, the bargaining group, Tuesday afternoon, the teachers rejected the panel's recommendation for a 6 percent salary increase in each of the next two years. The increase includes a four percent increase for all of the teachers and an additional two percent annual step increment for 59 percent of the teachers who are not at the maximum pay schedule.
The teachers had originally asked for an increase of nine percent, including seven percent on each step plus two percent increments.
A strongly worded statement from the MEA said the teachers expressed strong concern that the January cost of living increase was 9.6 percent and the projections toward 1978 run from six to nine percent.
The teachers also were disturbed that the school administrators had been granted a 4 1/2 percent raise. However, Assistant School Superintendent Wilson E. Deakin said it is not fair to compare the different salary schedules. He said the administrators received less than a 1/2 percent increase and an overall increase of less than five percent.
Although the board would agree to the panel's recommendation for a six percent increase in the salaries, Deakin said several board members are upset that the teachers continue to ask each year for increases in salary which are higher by percentage than the overall budget increase. This year the overall recommended budget increase is 7.5 percent.
The board rejected in a closed session Monday the recommendation on the retirement incentive plan because of payments to teachers at ages 61 and 62 which it considers too high.

Directors debate plans for study of downtown

Members of the Manchester Board of Directors Tuesday night debated a proposal to use $11,000 in Community Development funds for a study of the Main Street area.
Town Manager Robert Weiss recommended that the matter be tabled until there is more detail on what will be included in the study. The directors agreed to table, but not without some discussion about the proposal.
Carl Zinsner said, "We're talking about saving the taxpayers money. This would be a big waste of money." He said that several studies already have been done of the Main Street area.
Betty Inagliata, a strong supporter of downtown improvements, said that the previous studies did not investigate all matters involving the Main Street area.
Alfred Stern, chairman of the Citizens Advisory Community Development Committee, also said that previous Main Street studies had concentrated on parking. This study would include talking to merchants and studying the effects of highway development and other shopping areas on downtown.
Citizen Frank Lupien of 21 Sunset St. also joined the discussion. He said that such a study should not be done until steps are taken to remove the "provincetown atmosphere" from Main Street.
"If the study doesn't mean anything unless you can clean up the area," he said.
In another matter involving Community Development funds, Mayor Stephen Penny said that the board expects to act next month on a proposal to use $5,000 of Community Development funds for a legal aid office. The board is waiting for a report from the Manchester Bar Association.
The directors approved expansion of the Charter Revision Commission's responsibilities. The commission will be permitted to study any matter in the charter that it wishes to accept a change in the town's present form of government.
Zinsner sought to permit the commission to review that aspect of the charter. He moved that the commission's mandate be completely open, but he received no second.
The board then voted unanimously to permit the commission to review all aspects of the charter except the form of government.
The commission also learned that a previous request from the Transportation Committee has been dropped.
The committee had sought approval to apply for Urban System funding for a study of an infrared system. Now, however, the committee feels that there are better routes for obtaining such funds and conducting the study, Manager Robert Weiss said.
The directors also set a May 15 date for holding a meeting to review the town's revised personnel rules. The meeting was set for the Probate hearing room and the time will be announced.

Test set to find source of street flood problem

The Manchester Board of Directors Tuesday night approved conducting water and dye testing in the Goodwin Street area to find out the source of a local flooding problem.
Residents of a half-dozen homes in the area have complained about flooding in their cellars. They had sought help from the town because they feel it is a town-related problem.
Last year, the board voted not to take any action on the matter because it felt that the problem was a private one. But Director Carl Zinsner asked that the present board, which includes six new members, reconsider the item.
"These people have suffered enough," Zinsner said.
"Other board members, however, were hesitant about deciding to proceed—at least right now."

Early morning blaze damages large house

An early morning fire today extensively damaged a three-story house at 35-W Ward St. (corner of Village Street), Rockville, and left one family homeless.
Rockville Fire Chief Donald Maguda said the call came in at 5:26 a.m. and when he arrived the first floor was totally involved and the fire was heading up the side.
Maguda said the fire did reach the second and third floors. The only tenant was the one family in the rear apartment on the first floor.

Maguda said one of the ceilings fell on some of the firemen but no one was injured. The Vernon Department assisted.
He said the fire was brought under control at 6:02 a.m. and the scene was secured about 9:45 a.m. He said there is no estimate of the damage and the cause of the fire is being investigated. The building is owned by Louis Aruda of Stafford Springs.
The Red Cross office in Rockville is assisting the one family in finding living quarters.

Comment session set

Manchester Board of Directors will conduct a comment session Thursday from 6:30-8:30 p.m. in the directors' office in the Municipal Building.
The sessions permit residents to talk to a member of the board about any matter that involves local government. The sessions are held the first Tuesday of the month from 9-11 a.m. and the third Thursday of each month from 6:30-8:30 p.m.

Stoppa joins ranks to challenge Hannon

Republican Anthony E. Stoppa of East Hartford has joined the growing number of East Hartford politicians seeking the state Third Senatorial District seat now held by George Hannon Jr.
Stoppa gave a recent speech in which he attacked Hannon's anti-litter bill now in a Senate committee. The bill is Hannon's alternative to the bottle bill which would require deposits on all bottles and cans sold in the state.
"It is another Democratic rip-off," said Stoppa.
"It would only add another financial burden to the citizens of our state."
Stoppa said Hannon's plan calls for a program to be financed by assessments of manufacturers, distributors and retailers. Stoppa said they would in turn pass the extra tax along to the buying public in the form of higher prices.
"We already have laws, fines and penalties covering littering," Stoppa said. "Instead of writing new laws, I feel we should start enforcing the existing ones and strengthen them where necessary."
"If the senator is concerned about the interests of the voters of the Third Senatorial District, he wouldn't propose legislation that would place another financial burden on them."

Groups may give help on transportation study

By JUNE TOMPKINS
Herald Reporter

The Manchester Transportation Commission learned Tuesday night about four different groups which may be able to provide assistance in the commission's study of an intra-town transit system in Manchester.
The commission had earlier submitted a request to the Board of Directors for an application for federal funds for a feasibility study. Chairman Jane Curtis removed Mayor Stephen Penny to request the item from the agenda of the Board of Directors which was meeting at the same time next door.
After hearing lengthy discussions from representatives from Capitol Region Council of Government (CRGO), Greater Hartford Transit District, and the Connecticut Department of Transportation (DOT), the commission decided to investigate the resources of each of these groups in addition to the Transportation Institute at University of Connecticut.
Mrs. Curtis explained that the commission had worked one and a half years on a town transportation report and finally was "turned off" by the time she was in charge.

Library progress in South Windsor

Work on South Windsor's new library building continues amidst ice, mud and snow. The structure will contain 15,000 square feet and will cost about $830,000 by completion. Federal funds of $390,000 helped end the 14 years the town has waited for a library to replace the storefront operation on Sullivan Ave. In the background is Town Hall. (Herald photo by Kuehn)

Liquor price measures disagree

HARTFORD (UPI)—A legislative committee has endorsed a bill apparently prohibiting liquor price competition that some say could make meaningless a pending push to repeal minimum pricing laws. The Legislature's Liquor Control Committee Tuesday approved a bill that appears to prohibit price competition in the liquor industry, although its supporters claimed it would not stifle free enterprise. It now goes to the Senate. The furor over liquor pricing stems from a state law that requires wholesalers to mark up their goods 11 percent and retailers to add a 21.5 percent markup. Consumers advocate charge this amounts to price-fixing, while the industry maintains that without the protection hundreds of package stores would be forced to operate as a retail operation. The committee also endorsed a bill to repeal the minimum pricing law. The committee also endorsed a bill to repeal the minimum pricing law. ### Youths charged in fire

Four Vernon youths were arrested this morning on Tolland County Superior Court bench warrants charging them with third-degree arson and third-degree burglary. The youths had previously been arrested on Common Pleas Court warrants on the same charges. The charges will be notified in that court and the four were to be arraigned in superior court today. They are: Mark Chesteron, 17, of 12 Austin Drive; Michael Marshall, 17, of 14 Welles Road; Mark Dziadzinski, 17, of 147 Tumblebrook Drive; and Steven Owens, 17, of 28 Hillcrest Drive.

Bus driver has attack

Leo White, of 55 Rivermead Blvd., East Hartford, suffered a heart attack this morning shortly before 9 o'clock. White was the driver of a Connecticut Company bus and the bus was stopped at the time on Main Street in East Hartford. Police said it is not known whether White had some forewarning and pulled over to the side of the road. He was taken to St. Francis Hospital in Hartford. Police said it isn't known if there were passengers on the bus at the time.

Cooperative nursery accepts applications

Bolton The Bolton Cooperative Nursery School is now accepting applications for the 1978-1979 school year. Children who will be three years of age by Dec. 31 or older are eligible to attend the school. The school has a three-day session which meets Monday, Wednesday and Friday from 9 to 11:30 a.m. and a two-day session which meets Tuesday and Thursday from 9 to 11:30 a.m. Both groups are in session from September through June. The nursery school is located in the education building of Bolton Congregational Church. The school is non-profit and non-sectarian. The school has been in existence for more than 20 years. It is licensed by the state and is directed by Anne Hicks, a certified teacher. She is assisted by Janet Columbia. The main purpose of the school is to increase children's self-confidence and ability to communicate with adults and other children. The school's kindergarten prepares children for kindergarten and includes cutting and pasting, music, story telling, show and tell, leadership opportunities and a free play period. For more information or an application call the school at 643-7454 daily between 9 and 11:30 a.m., Anne Hicks at 642-6811, Janet Columbia at 643-2227, Stephanie Judens at 646-5331.

School registration Registration for kindergarten students entering Bolton Elementary School in September will be the week of March 20. Registrations will be accepted March 20 through March 23 from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. at the school office. Children entering kindergarten must be 5 years of age or before Jan. 1, 1979. Parents are asked to bring a birth certificate or baptismal certificate. Senior citizens At their last meeting, members of the senior citizens committee discussed the possibility of using the old library as a meeting place for senior citizens and others. The group discussed having a service directory for Bolton senior citizens and initiated the preparation of a list of available services. The committee will meet March 28 at 7:30 p.m. at Bentley Memorial Library.

PTA planning events

Andover The Andover Elementary School PTA will have a fashion show later in the year. Volunteers are needed to show their home sewn fashions. For more information call Nancy Goodier at 762-8338. The PTA will have a flea market and craft show June 3 from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. at the school. Donations of crafts, plants and baked goods are needed. Space will be rented for tag and craft sale tables. For further information call Laura Anderson, 762-6689. The school's Grade 6 class will have a Super Tag Sale April 8. Donations may be brought to the school anytime. The PTA will have a pageant June 12. Kravet said it ladies, acrobats, sword swallowers, clowns, lions and the like are needed. April Fools dance The Andover Lake Property Owners Association (ALPOA) will sponsor an April Fools' Day dance April 1 from 6 p.m. to midnight at the Town Hall.

Tolland teachers in honor society Judith Holmes and Donald W. Sierakowski, teachers at Pott Hill High School, will participate in Phi Delta Kappa, an international honor society in the educational profession. The teachers were invited to participate in recognition of past achievement and future potential in education. Mrs. Holmes is chairman of the art department. Sierakowski is chairman of the guidance department.

Labor ruling not a surprise

Bolton Last week the Connecticut State Labor Relations Board ruled largely in favor of the Bolton Education Association after a hearing Dec. 20. The hearing was the result of a disagreement between the association and the Board of Education over the interpretation of the word "days" in the grievance procedure of their current contract. Because of the school board's interpretation, it refused to hear two teacher grievances. After the hearing, the labor board ordered the school board to rescind its interpretation and to hear one teacher grievance. The labor board did not order the school board to hear a second teacher grievance. At its meeting Thursday, the board rescinded its action by a unanimous vote. The ruling itself did not seem to surprise anyone. The teachers and their representatives certainly weren't surprised by how the word "days" should be interpreted. They went before the labor board with their case. And School Superintendent Raymond Allen said he wasn't surprised by the ruling shortly after it became public. Haloburdo said the school board felt the important point was the contract statement that "grievances should be handled as rapidly as possible." He said the board had offered to hear a grievance by Patricia Lewis, Bolton High School English teacher, by a mutual agreement to extend the time limits. The teachers' association did not agree to an extension. The labor board did not order the school board to hear the Lewis grievance because it felt the school board had not refused to bargain in good faith in the Lewis case. A teachers' association spokesman said the group did not agree to the extension "for fear of a waiver of policy." The labor board said it could have protected its position. The labor board did order the school board to hear the grievance by Dawn Varava, elementary music teacher. Proceedings are under way to hear the Varava grievance. The teachers' association is expected to ask that the Lewis grievance be heard, but it has not yet done so. In his news release, Haloburdo said, "I felt the complaint to the state Labor Relations Board was unnecessary, time-consuming and not in the best interest of students. It puts the education system deeper into the labor versus management arena, an arena where teachers' associations may win or school boards may win, but what about the students?" Ronald Cordilico, legal advisor for the Connecticut Education Association, said the party responsible for the time-consuming process was the Board of Education. The teachers' association spokesman said, "We are disturbed by the statement by Haloburdo because it intimates that the association is against children just because we are trying to protect our own jobs." The spokesman said, "We don't know why he (Haloburdo) is calling it an arena. We do not see it as a sport." The spokesman said, "The BEA members are deeply serious in their relationship with the school administration and the Board of Education." Haloburdo expressed concern over statements by Cordilico and Patricia Bankel, BEA president, that the labor board ruling gives the teachers binding arbitration. He said, "I don't read that into the ruling at all." He said the labor board made no attempt to rule on the content of the grievance, only on the Board of Education hearing them. Haloburdo said, "In my opinion the merits of a grievance according to the contract and the labor board ruling are a responsibility of the Board of Education." Cordilico said, "I'm not surprised that they don't understand it. The definition of 'days' was clear and plain. They were confused by the interpretation of the word 'days' so I can understand their also being confused by the interpretation of 'binding.'" Cordilico said his statement stands, the decision gave the teachers' association binding arbitration. Cordilico said, "Whether they see it in Bolton or not doesn't concern me. When the labor board decided the Bolton case, that became binding in Bolton."

Hebron decision due on school districting

The Hebron Board of Education will decide Thursday on either changing the boundary line for school districts or delaying any decision on reorganizing the elementary schools until a study committee presents its recommendations. The proposed change would make Route 66 the dividing line and would mean both of the town's schools would have kindergarten through Grade 6. The change would not only create a cleaner division line, according to board members, but would also free two rooms at Hebron Elementary for art and music. If preparatory classes remain at Gilead Hill School, the school would still have a free room for learning disabled students. Shuttle buses would also be eliminated, except for pre-kindergarten and preparatory children, with a resultant saving in mileage amounting to about $1,250 per year. The boundary change would involve no additional expenses, but some board members said it would be a disadvantage to shift about 50 children from Gilead Hill School to Hebron Elementary. Board members indicated that making no change until the study committee is done has the advantages of no disruption to the present student building assignments and the potential of better public relations. The disadvantages would be one more

Bookmark contest set

Vernon The Rockville Public Library is sponsoring a bookmark contest for Vernon students in kindergarten through Grade 6 to celebrate National Library Week, April 2 through 8. A cash prize of $10 each will be awarded to students whose bookmarks are judged the best in three age groups, Grades K-1, Grades 2-3, and Grades 4-6. The three winning bookmarks will be printed for distribution at the library. All entries must be submitted by 6 p.m. on March 30, to the children's department of the library. Bookmarks will be judged on creativity, neatness, and the child's appreciation of books and library services. Prizes will be awarded during the latter part of National Library Week.

Still in record book

Individual season batting records for the Boston Red Sox include the name of Tony Lupien. The former Manchester resident grounded into only three double plays during the 1943 season in 154 games. Lupien was in town Monday night, honored guest at the 24th annual Knights of Columbus Irish-Sports Night.

The Harvard grad, who wore the colors of the Chicago White Sox in the American League as well as the Red Sox and the Philadelphia Phillies in the National League, took over the first base duties in '43 from the fair slugger by the name of Jimmie Fox who hit 50 homers — most ever by a Red Sox player — during the 1938 season. The same year he drove in 175 runs, also a team mark.

Fox was at the end of the line as a regular when Lupien was summoned from the Boston farm club in Scranton in the Eastern League. "The greatest thrill I ever had in my life," Lupien said after nearly 300 turned out to salute him Monday night, "was every day that I put on my baseball uniform. It's the greatest game. I've had a lot of thrills over the years, but none better than getting into that uniform every day.

Lupien is job hunting. He didn't resign his varsity baseball job in Dartmouth after 21 seasons. "I have a couple of irons in the fire but who wants to hire a man 60 years old? I love baseball and I think I can help. I would jump at the chance to get into scouting but there are few jobs open," he said.

First at bat

Although he made his debut in Red Sox colors at Hartford's Bulkeley Stadium in an exhibition game against the Hartford Eastern League entry, it was against Cleveland that he got his name into the lineup for the first time.

Boston Manager Joe Cronin looked down the bench and called Lupien's name out to pinch-hit. As he made his way to the bat track, Lupien recalled his knees were playing a steady tune.

Foster ready for season, three home runs, double

NEW YORK (UPI) — George Foster, the pleasant-chapping swing batsman for the Cincinnati Reds, is ready to hear the cry to play baseball. The National League's most valuable player in 1977, Foster is regarded as a possible threat to Hack Wilson's league mark of 56 homers in one season or Roger Maris' major league mark of 61.

Foster's 1977 credentials — a 320-batting average, 52 homers and 149 RBIs — support the belief that he could do either or both. He showed Tuesday he's ready to start the season right now with three homers and a double in the Reds' 11-10 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals.

For all Foster's slugging, however, a two-run homer by Mike Lum in the ninth inning gave the Reds their winning margin after the Cardinals took a 1-0 lead with six runs in their half of the inning.

Elsewhere on the Citrus and Cactus circuits: Mark Fidrych allowed three hits and one run in three innings as the Detroit Tigers defeated the Philadelphia Phillies, 8-3. Phil Mankowski had three hits for the Oakland A's in their first game of the exhibition season when they downed the California Angels, 7-2.

with the help of a two-run double by Jerry Tabb, which capped a four-run sixth inning.

Dwight Evans' three-run homer in the second inning carried the Boston Red Sox to a 3-1 triumph over the Toronto Blue Jays ... Wayne Nordin's three-run homer led the Chicago White Sox to a 7-5 win over the Pittsburgh Pirates ... Barr Bonnell drove in two runs in a five-run first inning against Ken Holtzman as the Atlanta Braves routed the Los Angeles Dodgers ... The Cleveland Indians topped the San Diego Padres, 13-6, with the help of four shutout innings by starter Don Hood. Andre Thornton had three hits and drove in four runs for the Indians.

Campanella's ace reliever, hasn't thrown since last Friday when he strained his right elbow while pitching against the Detroit Tigers.

He missed his turn to face Detroit Monday and stayed here while the Red Sox traveled to Dunesville, Fla., to beat the Toronto Blue Jays, 3-1, Tuesday.

The win came on the strength of a three-run homer by Dwight Evans and five-hit pitching by Mike Torrez. Dick Drago and Tom Burgmeier pitched the rest of the game.

Other than Evans' blast, Boston got only two hits off Jays' pitcher Mike Darr. Butch Edge, Pat Darcy and Dennis DeBarr.

But Manager Don Zimmer said he wasn't worried about Boston strength at the plate and said he was unconcerned about Campanella.

"The sore spot is nothing to worry about," said Zimmer. "It's just above the bone on Campanella's elbow. The doctor (team physician Arthur Popps) will look at it Friday when he comes down. We'll take it easy until he comes down."

Campanella wasn't quite as nonchalant. "If it was later in the camp I'd try to throw it out," he said. "At this point, I'll let the doctor look at it. It's not the same as the elbow problem I had in 1975 with the Twins nor last year with the Red Sox. That was a shoulder, but I'm concerned."

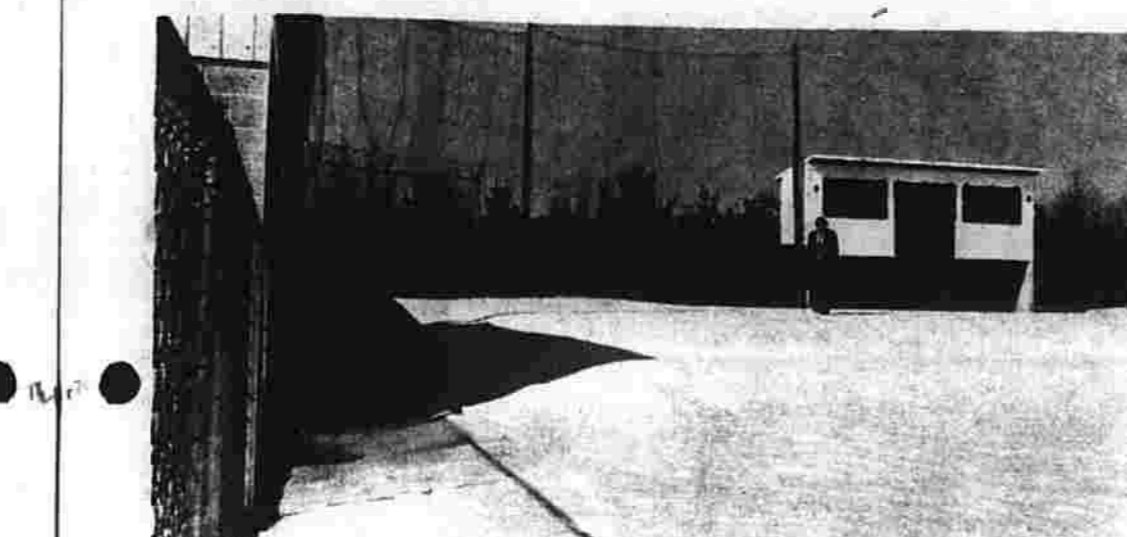

Torrez showed that he has recovered from the effects of the line which hit his arm in batting practice a week back. He threw four two-hit innings.

"He had a good breaking ball and slider," Zimmer said. "He threw hard, especially the last inning. I thought Drago threw hard, too, as hard as we've seen anyone so far. But, he's so strong that he can throw hard all day long."

Today, he can look back on a baseball career that spanned more than 40 years.

"I'd love to get a job in baseball. I still think I could help some club," he said.

Fourteen winning seasons in 21 years at Hanover apparently wasn't good enough. That's a 67 percent winning which is a good average in any league.

Can baseball season be just around the corner? A solitary student walks across snow-laden Eagle Field, home diamond of the East Catholic High baseball team. It doesn't seem possible, not with all the white stuff still around, but the Eagles' home opener against St. Paul April 8 isn't that far away. (Herald photo by Dunn)

Sox not concerned with Campbell's arm

WINTER HAVEN, Fla. (UPI) — The Red Sox don't seem to be as concerned about Bill Campbell's sore arm as Bill Campbell is.

Campbell, Boston's ace reliever, hasn't thrown since last Friday when he strained his right elbow while pitching against the Detroit Tigers.

He missed his turn to face Detroit Monday and stayed here while the Red Sox traveled to Dunesville, Fla., to beat the Toronto Blue Jays, 3-1, Tuesday.

The win came on the strength of a three-run homer by Dwight Evans and five-hit pitching by Mike Torrez. Dick Drago and Tom Burgmeier pitched the rest of the game.

Other than Evans' blast, Boston got only two hits off Jays' pitcher Mike Darr. Butch Edge, Pat Darcy and Dennis DeBarr.

But Manager Don Zimmer said he wasn't worried about Boston strength at the plate and said he was unconcerned about Campanella.

"The sore spot is nothing to worry about," said Zimmer. "It's just above the bone on Campanella's elbow. The doctor (team physician Arthur Popps) will look at it Friday when he comes down. We'll take it easy until he comes down."

Campanella wasn't quite as nonchalant. "If it was later in the camp I'd try to throw it out," he said. "At this point, I'll let the doctor look at it. It's not the same as the elbow problem I had in 1975 with the Twins nor last year with the Red Sox. That was a shoulder, but I'm concerned."

Torrez showed that he has recovered from the effects of the line which hit his arm in batting practice a week back. He threw four two-hit innings.

"He had a good breaking ball and slider," Zimmer said. "He threw hard, especially the last inning. I thought Drago threw hard, too, as hard as we've seen anyone so far. But, he's so strong that he can throw hard all day long."

Today, he can look back on a baseball career that spanned more than 40 years.

"I'd love to get a job in baseball. I still think I could help some club," he said.

Fourteen winning seasons in 21 years at Hanover apparently wasn't good enough. That's a 67 percent winning which is a good average in any league.

Knicks drop game and tears

NEW YORK (UPI) — The New York locker room was flooded with tears Tuesday night after Adrian Dantley and the Los Angeles Lakers pulled off an impressive 135-117 victory over the Knicks.

"Let me ask you what you thought of the officiating," Knicks Coach Willis Reed boomed to the media. "I know I'm bringing all the time, but it's just disgraceful. It's a disgrace to the game."

Dantley earned 29 points — 15 from the free throw line — and led the Lakers' running attack to spark Los Angeles to its 14th victory in the last 16 games.

Los Angeles outscored New York 43-29 in the fourth period and 68-59 for the second half. Earl Monroe and Bob McAdams led the Knicks with 26 points each.

When all the crying had ceased, Lakers Coach Jerry West put the whole thing in perspective.

"We play complete basketball: that's why we win and that's why we won tonight," he said. "Reed's remarks are typical of what you hear around the league these days."

In other NBA games, Buffalo topped San Antonio, 123-115, in overtime. Milwaukee downed Phoenix, 121-106. Golden State dropped Chicago, 103-96.

Dave Covens and John Havlicek teamed for 31 points as Boston rallied to defeat Detroit. Bob Lanier led Detroit with 31.

Elmore Smith scored 19 first-half points en route to a game-high 26 to help Cleveland romp over Houston. It was the ninth straight loss for the Rockets.

Bob Dandridge, Kevin Grevey and Mitch Kupchak each hit for 20 points and Elvin Hayes added 18 points and 10 rebounds to pace Washington over Seattle. Dennis Johnson led the Sonics with 26 points.

Jazz 119, Trail Blazers 103. Aaron James scored six straight points to ignite a 10-point spurt in the final two minutes, giving New Orleans a victory over crippled Portland. It was the third straight loss for the defending NBA champs.

Seattle, 120-115, and New Orleans topped Portland, 109-103.

Randy Smith scored a game-high 38 points, including six in overtime, to rally Buffalo to its fourth straight victory. Steve Neter added 20 points and 24 rebounds for the Braves.

Bucks 121, Suns 106. Brian Winters pumped in 29 points and rookie Ernie Grunfeld added a season-high 21 in his first start to lift Milwaukee over Phoenix. Walter Davis scored 38 points to lead the Suns.

Evert wins

BOSTON (UPI) — No one bowed or curtsied when the queen returned to her court — certainly not JoAnn Russell.

Chris Evert, the world's top-ranked female, ended her three-month layoff from professional tennis Tuesday night with a 6-4, 4-6, 6-3, first-round victory over Russell in the $100,000 Boston stop on the women's tour.

But it was obviously a struggle. "You see that sweat," Russell said, pointing to Evert after the match. "I've been playing Chris since she was eight. She never sweated."

Evert last played competitive tennis in November, after which she decided to take a three-month hiatus from the game.

"Mentally, I needed to relax," Evert said. "I was really tight. I wasn't happy with my tennis or my life. And the traveling got to me. I'd wake at night and not know what city I was in."

She didn't know she was in Boston Tuesday, Russell reminded her in a hurry. Down 4-2 in the first set and struggling, Russell broke and then held to tie it 4-4. Although Evert won the next two, Russell was making the shots while Evert was starting to miff them.

She nearly became unseated in the second set, as Russell took the first four games. Evert's forehands were uncontrollable, her backhands were also going into the net, and her first serves were sailing wide.

The new towers on the 70 and 80 meter jumping hill are up and are awesome to see. Grandstands are also up and people on the bottom were very small. The jump site is just over a mile from town.

On Saturday UCLA squeaked by Michigan State, which was in the vicinity of the Winnipeg bench during the on-ice altercation.

Larry Gordon, executive director of the WHA, conducted the hearing and levied the stiffest fine against Birmingham defenseman Steve Durban, who was hit with a $500 fine and suspended for 12 games.

Wolfpack triumphs

NEW YORK (UPI) — The North Carolina State Wolfpack was well aware of Detroit's speed, so it attacked the Titans where they were most vulnerable — inside.

The Wolfpack completely crushed Detroit underneath, outbounding the Titans, 64-33, en route to an 84-77 victory Tuesday night, which advances them to next Sunday's NIT semifinals in New York against Georgetown.

Kendal "Tiny" Pinder scored 18 points and Charles "Hawkeye" Whitney added 17 as NC State shut down Detroit's high-scoring offense.

Detroit's Terry Fryer had 19 points, John Long 17, Terry Dueroel 16, and Smith 12. "Any time you are outscored by 15 in the first half, you know you are in trouble," Detroit Coach Dave Gaines said. "It hurt our running game when we couldn't pull it off the boards."

In other second-round NIT games, Rutgers clipped Indiana State, 57-56, and Georgetown beat Dayton, 71-62. Center James Butler hit a 15-foot jump shot with 15 seconds left to send Rutgers past Indiana State into the semifinals. Rutgers, now 23-4, will meet the winner of Wednesday night's Texas-Nebraska game.

"We did a good job of chasing the defense," said Indiana State Coach Bob King. "We gave it a good effort." Georgetown, backed by 18 points from both Ed Hopkins and Steve Martin, topped Dayton to advance to the semis against North Carolina State in New York.

Richardson questioned but holds up answer. BOSTON (UPI) — The question arose at the wrong time. And Renee Richardson asked in a manner which suggests she's reputed at the thought of answering it tournament after tournament.

"Would you do it all over again?" asked a television reporter. "Do what?" she answered sharply. "You know, the operation, knowing it has caused all this publicity?"

Richardson had just lost a tough first-round match Monday to Lesley Hunt in the $100,000 Women's Professional Tennis Tournament. She was sitting in the interview room with perspiration streaming down her face.

She shifted her body toward the questioner, obviously in no mood to rekindle the controversy which has followed her since her sex-change operation.

"What does the operation have to do with playing tennis?" she asked, her husky voice barely rising above a whisper.

After a pause, the reporter asked her. "Well ... would you?"

"I asked you a question," she said softly. "What does my operation have to do with playing tennis? Do you think it has anything to do with it?"

"No, not personally," he said, "but with all the publicity swirling around you, would you do it again?"

"I asked you a question," she said, growing more impatient. "I don't think my operation has anything to do with playing tennis. You obviously have the opinion that it does."

"You've gotten a lot of publicity," he said, "and I think that's a very big part of it."

She gave a look of disgust and said, "Next question."

Whalers' fortunes take turn for best

SPRINGFIELD, Mass. (UPI) — The fortunes of goalie Louis Levesauer and his fellow New England Whalers have taken a turn for the better at the expense of the Birmingham Bulls.

Levesauer, after sitting out 14 straight games, recorded an easy 60 shutout over the Bulls Tuesday night for his second straight win over Birmingham in five days.

"The layout is tough," Levesauer said. "But you always have to stay in shape. Thankfully I got a little down during the stretch, but I hope I can string some wins together now that we're playing."

The shutout, Levesauer's second of the year and his ninth win, tied the Whalers into second place, two points ahead of the Houston Aeros.

Prior to a 4-4 overtime win over the Bulls last Friday, the Whalers had lost eight of nine contests and relinquished the league lead to the Winnipeg Jets.

"I think everyone is rounding into good shape now," Whaler Coach Harry Neale said.

"That long stretch of road games during midseason and a new rink in the Springfield Civic Center" probably had more effect on us than we would like to admit," he said.

Gordie Howe led the Whalers with his 31st and 32nd goals of the year. Wing Tim Sheehy, recently reactivated from Detroit, enjoyed his best night of the season with a goal and three assists.

"I really hadn't played much since Nov. 15 when the Whalers called me so it has taken a good two weeks to get back in condition," Sheehy said. "He said, 'Playing on the same line with Gordie and Mark Howe' makes it all a bit easier."

But if it was a good night for the Whalers, it was an unusual one for Birmingham goalies. Starter John Garrett, last year's All-Star selection, allowed four goals before Bull Coach Glen Sonmor substituted Wayne Wood midway through the second period.

Chris struggles to win

BOSTON (UPI) — Chris Evert, obviously rusty after her three-month winter vacation, struggled through three sets of sloppy tennis Tuesday night in winning her first-round match over JoAnne Russell in the $100,000 Women's Professional Tennis Tournament, 6-4, 4-6, 6-3.

In earlier matches, Maria Redondo upset fourth-seeded Betty Stove, 6-4, 6-2. Kerry Reid of Greenville, S.C., took Barbara Potter of Woodbury, Conn., 6-4, 6-1. Lesley Hunt of Australia beat Renee Richards of Newport Beach, Calif., 6-3, 7-5. Ann Smith of Dallas defeated Caroline Stoll of Livingston, N.J., 7-6, 6-3, and Beth Norton of Fairfield, Conn., struggled to a 5-7, 6-4, 6-3 win over Laura Dupont of Matthews, N.C.

In evening matches, Australia's Evonne Goolagong easily defeated South Africa's Brigitte Cuypers, 6-3, 6-2, and New York's Billie Jean King handied Czechoslovakia's Regina Marsikova, 6-3, 6-4.

Evert served a rocky first set in which she couldn't control her forehand, her first serves missed the mark and her famed two-hand backhand deserted her at times.

Russell captured the first four games of the second set before Evert's game slowly rounded into form. She broke Russell once and held twice to climb to within 4-3 before Russell rebounded to take the set.

Leading 3-2 in the third set, Evert broke Russell to take command of the match. At break point, Russell's return volley struck the top of the net and fell backward.

Other rule changes included: —A 15-yard penalty only and no "offsetting penalties" will be assessed during a down involving a double foul without change of possession when one foul carries a penalty of 15 yards and the other only five yards. The five-yard penalty will be nullified.

—Reduction of a penalty for intentional grounding in the field of play from a loss of down and 15 yards to loss of down and 10 yards, and assessment of a safety when the passer illegally grounds the ball in end zone.

—Reduction of a 15-yard penalty to a 10-yard penalty for all fouls except those involving unnecessary roughness, unsportsmanlike conduct, personal fouls and disqualification. As an example, holding is now a 10-yard penalty instead of a 15-yard penalty.

—Elimination of hurdling to avoid the tackle as a foul.

—During the last two minutes of a half, responsibility is placed on the defensive team to line up properly when the referee signals ready for play. After the offensive team is in set position and the referee gives the ready signal, and the defensive team is not ready to play, the referee will blow the whistle to stop play and assess a five-yard penalty against the defense.

Major grid changes approved by NFL

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (UPI) — National Football League owners have approved several major rule changes giving more protection to the passer and the receiver in a move to open up the game and generate more scoring.

In the second day of their five-day annual meeting, the league officials created the number of game off-days from six to seven to catch more games against receivers downfield, and also restricted bumping of receivers.

Another major change permits the linemen protecting the passer to make more use of their arms in defending against rushers intent on getting to the quarterback.

The new bumping rule means a defender can obstruct a receiver only once in a 5-yard zone from the line of scrimmage and may not bump him downfield. Under the old rule, a defender could be bumped within arms reach of the receiver three yards of the line of scrimmage and again downfield.

NFL Commissioner Pete Rozelle said the new bumping rule would be "certainly open up football."

In the rule on use of arms by offensive linemen protecting the passer, the owners voted, 27-4, with one abstention, to permit an offensive lineman to extend his arms from his body and have his hands open while confronting a defender. Previously, the lineman had to keep his arms close to his body with fists clenched.

Other rule changes included: —A 15-yard penalty only and no "offsetting penalties" will be assessed during a down involving a double foul without change of possession when one foul carries a penalty of 15 yards and the other only five yards. The five-yard penalty will be nullified.

Luck of the draw out for UCLA, Arkansas

NEW YORK (UPI) — UCLA and Arkansas must wonder what happened to the luck of the draw.

The second round of the NCAA tournament gets under way Thursday night with two games each in the Midwest and West regions.

In the two Midwest games at Dayton, Ohio, fifth-ranked Michigan State is paired with Western Kentucky and top-ranked Michigan State meets upstart Miami of Ohio. In the West, San Francisco is matched with Fullerton State.

But UCLA and Arkansas is another matter. In the first game of the West Region at Albuquerque, N.M., the second-ranked Braves and sixth-ranked Razorbacks meet in what promises to be the toughest game of the night.

"We must control their fast break and control the backboards against them," said Bruins Coach Gary Cunningham. "Control of the boards will be a big factor in the game."

On Saturday UCLA squeaked by Michigan State, which was in the vicinity of the Winnipeg bench during the on-ice altercation.

Larry Gordon, executive director of the WHA, conducted the hearing and levied the stiffest fine against Birmingham defenseman Steve Durban, who was hit with a $500 fine and suspended for 12 games.

Vernon education group to research curriculum

By BARBARA RICHMOND Herald Reporter
The Vernon Committee on Public Education (COPE) has launched its third major project, a research study of the Vernon schools' curriculum. COPE was organized about a year ago to stimulate communication between the parents and the school system, to act as a forum, and to conduct research studies. The Steering Committee has informed the Board of Education that the research on curriculum is being conducted and that it is leading to significant and serious questions about the objectives, the form, and the implementation of the current

Expansion of special ed is goal of Vernon office

Expanding the special education programs to meet the needs of severely and profoundly retarded students will be one of the major concerns of the Student Development Services in the coming year, Albert Kerkin, assistant superintendent in charge of special education, said. Kerkin, in a report prepared for the Board of Education, said Student Development Services (SDS) department was developed to deal with and provide for the needs of exceptional and/or handicapped students. The program comes under new legislation and it will be the task of the school board to develop a policy for it, but the management tool to implement the program falls on the shoulders of the professional educators. A program has to be formulated for each child and must be developed in a meeting or a series of meetings on each child with the parents also involved. A statement of the present educational performance and functioning of the child and a statement of short and long term goals and objectives will also have to be prepared. The Vernon Board of Education, and other boards around the state, are concerned about the additional costs the program will inflict on them, the additional needs in terms of staff to accomplish the detailed

Selectmen reject voting for Hebron office plans

Although Selectman Ray Burt said he has been asked if Hebron's proposed $1 million Town Office Building addition could go to a referendum, the selectmen agreed last week that a referendum doesn't usually bring out over 10 percent of the voters and does not warrant the extra expense. First Selectman Aaron Reid said that after the town meeting is held, residents can petition for a referendum vote. He added that he personally feels anyone interested in voting on the question who does not attend the town meeting would have no one to blame but themselves if they weren't pleased with the town meeting's decision. The proposed addition would provide additional office space and replace the Company One firehouse in Hebron Center. The fire department facility is a major point in favor of the addition Reid added. Burt said the firehouse on Route 66 is a fire trap and Selectperson Cynthia Wilson said the hazardous condition existing with the fire trucks pulling out onto Route 66, which is a heavy traveled, is another reason for the Town Office Building.

Anti-war drama offered

Rham District Troupe 2782 of the International Thespian Society, an honorary dramatic organization, will work in conjunction with selected members of Rham High School's Trigon Players to perform Warren Frost's anti-war drama, "The Unknown Soldier" at Rham on Friday and Saturday. The play is directed by Thespian Sponsor Ronald P. Ouellette. Special assistant to the director is Thespian President, Brian Reynolds. The play setting is during the Civil War. However, the comment that the play makes on the realities of war is applicable to any time. The production will be performed by a cast of six players, Craig Porter, Jennifer Harger, Sharon Fisher, Alan Comrie, Sarah Horton and Jason Sirois. Tickets may be obtained from any member of the cast or by calling 228-9474 at the Rham office. Curtain time is 8 p.m. and reservations are urged.

LAS VEGAS (UPI) - Two pictures on one television screen at the same time? One manufacturer displayed that and a programmable set and automatic tuning at a recent consumer electronics show in Las Vegas. But the manufacturer says possible production dates and suggested retail prices are not yet available. Executive vice president M. Akamatsu of Sharp Electronics Corp. said a six-inch (diagonal) black-and-white picture can be superimposed on the 21-inch main color screen, or vice versa, on one set. The smaller picture can be placed at either the upper or the lower right hand corner of the main picture. A headset is provided for the smaller picture. Akamatsu said eight programs at a time can be preset on the programmable 21-inch TV. The set with automatic tuner has a 19-inch (diagonal) screen color viewing.

4-H'er looks behind the scene

By BETTY RYDER
Family/Travel Editor
It all started when he read an article about orchards in his sister's 4-H newsletter. Since then, Robert Ferguson of 108 Brent Road, has had a major role in operation of a 4-H orchard in Bloomfield with 310 apple trees and five peach trees.

He read the article, it sounded interesting, so I inquired about joining 4-H," Bob said.

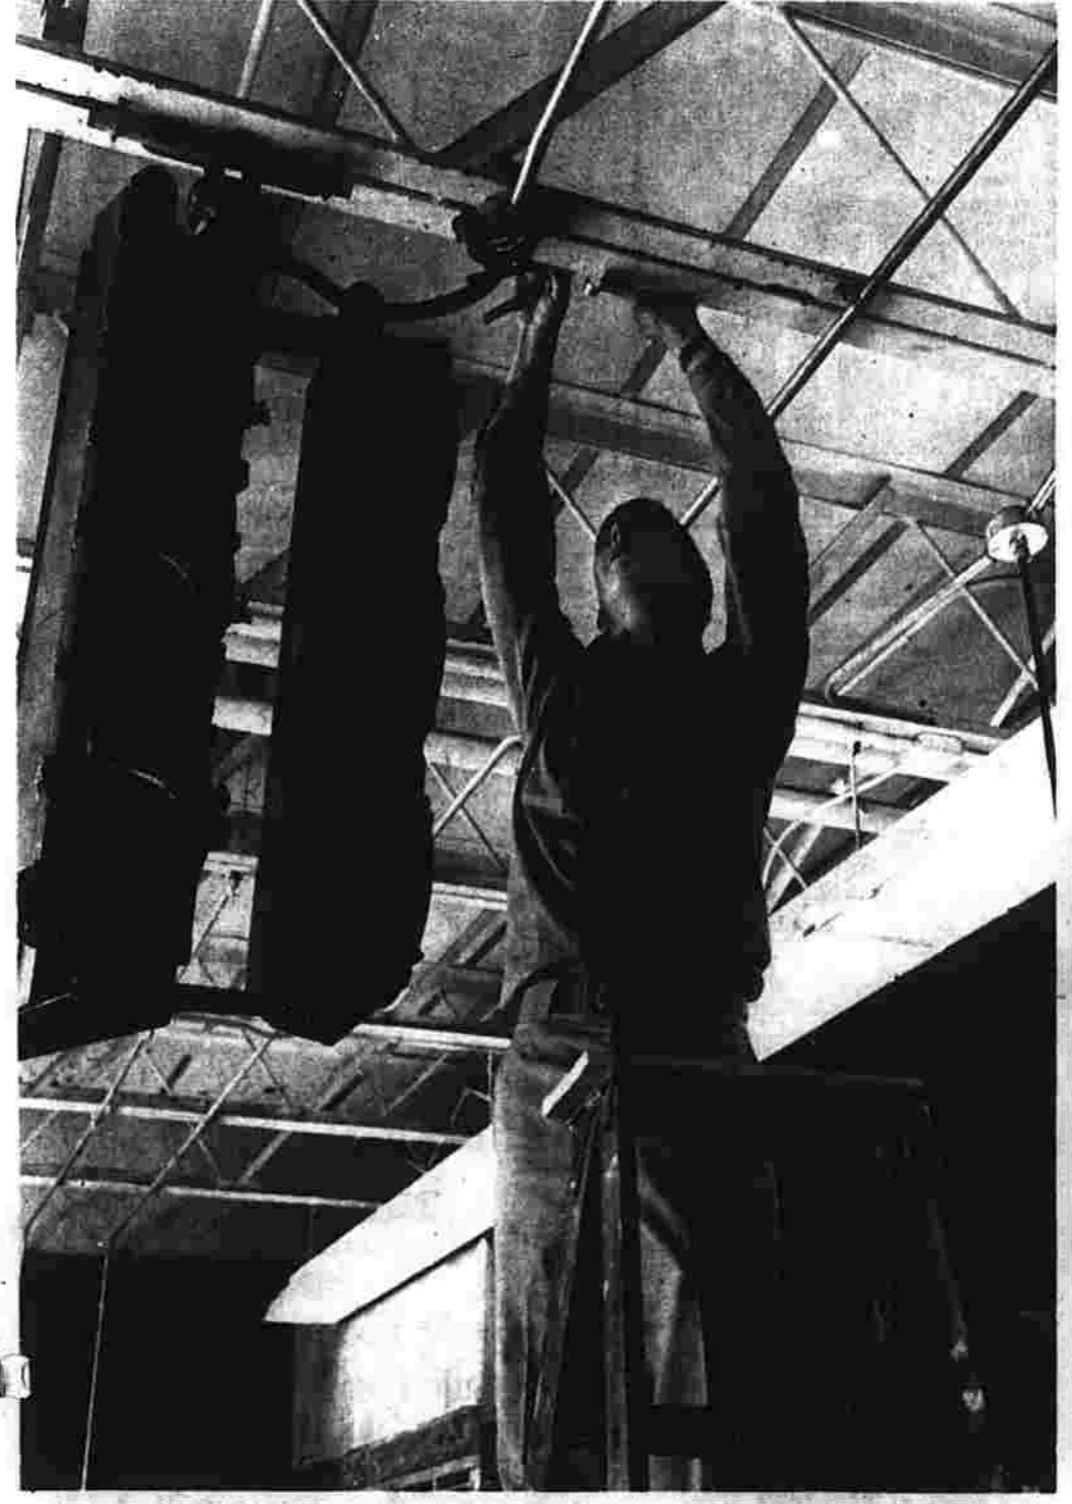

The orchard, 75 acres donated by the Amerbach family to 4-H, became a reality in the summer of 1973.

Bob, who is a sophomore at Howell Cheney Regional Vocational Technical School in Manchester, has been a member of 4-H for the past four years, and learned to prune and spray trees right up till harvest time.

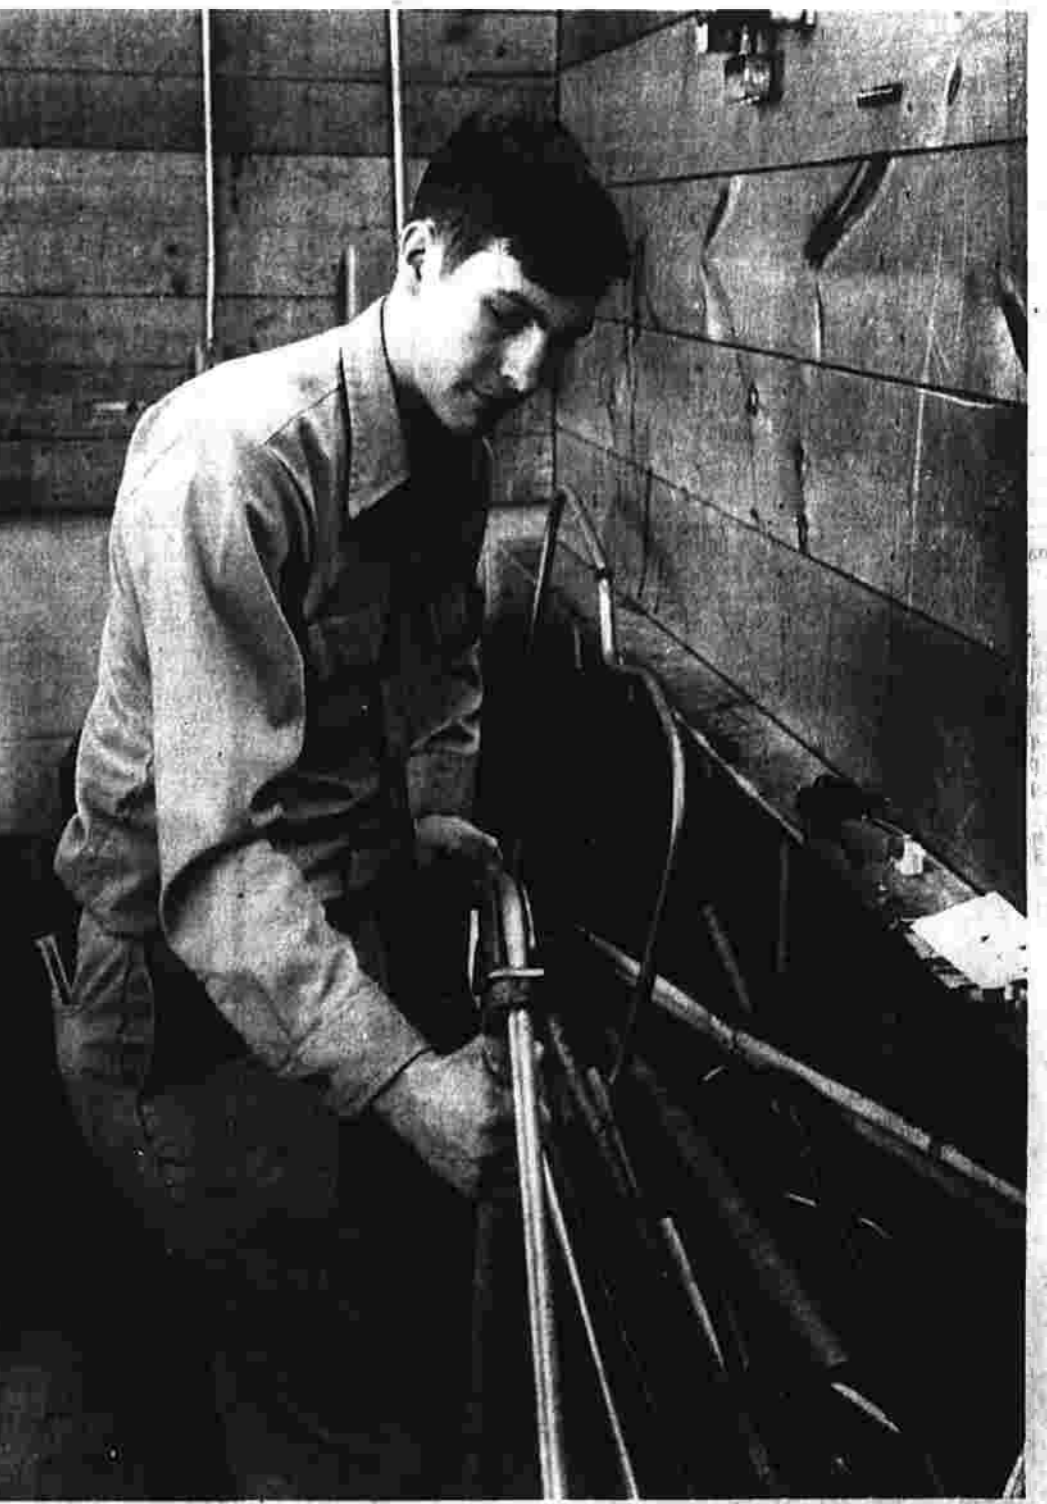

"We work mainly on weekends from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. and every year put in about 200 hours," he said.

The members range in age from 14-16 and learn about the profit and sharing of the business, as well as operating a store where apples are sold to the public.

"I have also taught other young people to prune trees, fertilize trees, pick apples, sort and grade them, and how apples are marketed," Bob said.

Keith gets new home

Keith Real Estate has a home, new to them, but not to the town of Manchester. Historically, the property at 464 E. Center St., at the corner of E. East Center and Pitkin streets has significance. It was the home of one of the first carriages built in the country. The Cone Carriages were built at the location in the 1850s by the Cone Brothers, Ralph and Marvin. The Cones also owned much of the surrounding area, including the present Boulder Road and Woodbridge streets. Other prominent names in Manchester connected with the property in the past were Lynch and Cashman. For several years the Cashman's ran a grocery store

Promoted at Chevy

Ernest J. Irwin has been named assistant personnel director — hourly at the Chevrolet Flint Motor and Pressed Metal plants. Irwin, a native of Manchester, holds a bachelor's degree in economics from the University of Connecticut and a master's degree in economics from Michigan State University. He joined Chevrolet as a college graduate-in-training at the Flint Manufacturing complex in March, 1965, becoming quality control engineer in 1966. He was named production foreman in 1967, labor relations representative in 1969, and supervisor of labor relations in 1975, the position he held until his recent promotion.

Increase in passengers

United Airlines showed a substantial 10.8 percent increase in number of passengers boarded at Bradley International Airport in February, according to Jane McDonnell, United city manager. There were 18,290 passengers boarded in comparison to the corresponding month total of 14,700 of a year ago.

Mott's supermarkets have record results

Joseph P. Mott, chairman of the Board of Mott's Super Markets Inc. (ASE:MSM), operator of 21 ShopRite Stores in Connecticut and Western Massachusetts, today reported record operating results of the company for both the fourth quarter and the year ended December 31, 1977. For the thirteen weeks ending December 31, 1977, sales rose to $43,964,998 versus $43,286,974 for the fourteen week period ending January 1, 1977. Net Profit totalled $615,618 or $3.52 per share, a new all-time quarterly earning record, compared to $404,714 or $3.34 per share reported in the week-longer 1976 quarter, which was the Company's best previous quarter. For the year ended December 31, 1977 (a 52-week period) sales totalled $169,259,786 versus $154,122,458 in the prior year, which covered 53 weeks. Net Profits amounted to $1,559,538 or $1.32 per share compared to the $817,978 or $3.69 per share in 1976.

Northeast explains time-of-day rates

Northeast Utilities is mailing 40,000 booklets explaining time-of-day (TOD) electric rates to its potentially eligible Connecticut residential customers who use more than 20,000 kilowatt-hours a year. According to the company, TOD rates may help these customers save on their bills. The rate was approved by the Public Utilities Control Authority (PUCA) after public hearings. Under the new TOD rate, customers will be charged two different prices for the electricity they use — one price for on-peak use between 8 a.m. and 8 p.m. weekdays, and a lower price for electricity used off-peak between 8 p.m. and 8 a.m. weekdays and throughout weekends. The price difference is an incentive for customers to shift their electric use to cheaper, off-peak periods.

Carlyle Johnson names president

The board of directors of The Carlyle Johnson Machine Co., has elected Sebert R. Armstrong to the office of president effective March 1, 1978, succeeding Frank R. Simon who now becomes chairman of the board and is retiring after 40 years with the company and its president since 1956.

Armstrong joined the company Jan. 1 and brings with him a wealth of knowledge and experience in a broad range of power transmission equipment. Coupling this to Carlyle Johnson's 75 years in the design and manufacture of clutches and brakes will enable the company to offer users a wider range of power transmission products as well as increase company sales and growth. Previously Armstrong was president for seven years of Armstrong Engineering Co., Old Lyme, Conn., a firm specializing in power transmission of all kinds. Before that he was vice president of Ena Div. Amerace Ltd., Ontario, Canada, manufacturers of basic control products for machines used throughout industry. Armstrong received his master of engineering degree from The University of Cincinnati, Ohio, and the master of business administration from George Washington University, Washington, D.C. A resident of Old Lyme, he plans to move to Manchester soon.

Dividend increased by SNET

Directors of Southern New England Telephone Co. have voted to increase the quarterly dividend on the company's common stock to 80 cents a share. The current rate is 75 cents a share.

Alfred W. Van Sinderen, SNET president, said, "For many years we have had an objective of declaring modest dividend increases at reasonable intervals and as earnings permit. The last one — a four-cent quarterly hike — was announced over two years ago in December of 1975. "Our dividend increases have been relatively conservative when compared with those of other companies," Van Sinderen said. "Over the past 10 years our dividend growth has consistently lagged behind the cost of living and our shareholders have suffered a significant decline in purchasing power."

Area man director of cable TV group

A South Windsor resident, Sherman Tarr of 180 Mokegan Trail, has been named the first executive director of the Connecticut Cable Television Association (CTCA). The CTCA is made up of representatives from 17 cable franchises in the state serving more than 130,000 subscribers.

Tarr's appointment to the post was announced by CCTA President James Dovey of United Cable TV Corp. in Plainville. Dovey said Tarr will continue to edit the CTCA newsletter "Cable Cast," and also coordinate CTCA involvement with the public and various government bodies.

Tarr also is a principal partner in Advocate Associates, a Hartford communications consulting firm. He began his media career as a reporter for KOMUTV, Columbia, Missouri, then was City Hall reporter and health-science editor for WVIC-AM-FM-TV, Hartford, and finally was investigative reporter and assignment editor for WFSB-TV in Hartford. A graduate of the University of Missouri School of Journalism, Tarr lives in South Windsor with his wife and two children.

Sales, earnings up

Industries, Inc. of South Windsor, reports a 30 percent increase in sales, a profit increase of 7 percent and earnings per share of $1.12 for their first half ending Dec. 31, 1977.

Sales were reported at a record six months level of $2,036,170 and second quarter sales also reached a new high at $1,177,386. President Allan Calfyn attributes the large sales increase to high level performance in the Instruments, Heating Elements and Thermocouple departments; and to extensive penetration of several new market areas including additions to the company's new furnace manufacturing capability.

Family social services forum slated Saturday

The fabric of the family is being torn in the cyclotron of economic and social change. The extent to which social institutions are providing understanding and support, will be the subject of a statewide forum, "Who's To Care For The Children?", Saturday at the Hartford Hilton Hotel.

Nancy J. Amidei, Deputy Assistant Secretary for Legislation, U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare, in a luncheon speech will give the perspective from Washington, where preparations are being made for a 1979 White House Conference on preserving the family as our basic institution.

Dr. John Demos, noted family historian from Brandeis and Harvard Universities, and Attorney Howard Kiebanoff, president of the State Board of Higher Education, will be the morning keynote speakers. They will present the historical and philosophical role of the family, and describe in factual terms in dilemma parents and children face in using social and governmental services.

Twelve afternoon Focus Sessions, beginning at 2 p.m., will explore and discuss examples of positive and constructive services which basic institutions throughout the state are providing to support families.

Set up for parents with young children, and state and local leadership, the forum will begin at 9 a.m. and end at 3:45 p.m. Registration is $5, payable to the sponsoring organization, Ct. Day Care & Child Development Council, 999 Asylum Ave., Hartford. Luncheon is $5.75. Baby-sitting is free.

Hadassah presents life memberships and service awards

Of Consumer Concern Odometer regulations

Since March 1973 federal regulations have required sellers of automobiles to give buyers an odometer disclosure statement. The form and content of the statement was changed by an amendment to the regulations effective the first day of this year.

In the past, the disclosure form either had to contain the car's actual odometer readings plus a statement that it was accurate, or if the odometer readings were different from the actual mileage, a statement that the true mileage was unknown.

The improper use of the second proved troublesome. The statement that actual mileage was unknown had provided a loophole for those who may actually have been guilty of rollbacks.

Apparently federal officials had reason to believe some persons checked this statement in the past, thereby hoping to escape from blame if the mileage was later discovered to be greater than stated at the time of the vehicle sale. In order to close this loophole and at the same time not to force sellers to certify a mileage to be correct which they knew to be false, the new law allows sellers to indicate that the mileage is not true and should not be relied upon.

In addition, the amended regulation requires a seller to certify that the odometer was not altered, set back or disconnected while he was the owner of the vehicle. Legal service, repair or replacement of odometers, however, would be permitted but with certain disclosure requirements.

State law concerning properly functioning, tamper-resistant odometers, and prohibiting tampering with odometers in motor vehicles are enforced by the Motor Vehicle Department pursuant to state law covering the subject.

Answers to questions of general interest will appear in this column. Address questions to: "Of Consumer Concern," Department of Consumer Protection, State Office Building, Hartford.

News for senior citizens

By WALLY FORTIN

Hi, neighbor! The first bit of news isn't very exciting and probably disappointing to some. The trip to the Chateau de Ville is canceled. We received word that there was a personnel problem that couldn't be resolved in time. Therefore, the Chateau canceled the show.

This created a problem because we had a full bus load ready to go. Gloria called the Coach Light to see what had to offer and found out that they had room with good seats for the show. "My Fair Lady" scheduled for April 27. It will mean 50 cents more per person and so if you wish we will just transfer you over to this trip. We can collect the 50 cents on the bus the day of the show. Now if you feel you are not interested in seeing the show at the Coach Light, then you will contact our office and we will make the necessary arrangements to re- fund your money. It's supposed to be a super show and one you would enjoy and hopefully most of you will okay the transfer. You'll be sitting in the same seating arrangements and they serve a delicious buffet lunch with all you can eat.

Next bit of news is about our Variety Show, and we just want to remind you that tickets are going along pretty fast and advise you to pick yours up real soon. Tickets are available here at the center or through many of the members of the cast.

It's a brand new concept this year and you'll enjoy the beautiful costumes and colors as well as some exciting scenes.

We wish to express our sincere heartfelt condolences to our good friend Mary Rhodes whose husband, Thomas, passed away this past week.

Also our heartfelt condolences to Louise Wyszynski whose son-in-law passed away this past weekend. Tomorrow is an important day for you folks with transportation problems because here at our center as part of our Fun Day Program we will have Elaine Dyer to explain the newly formed town sponsored Dial-a-Ride. It's scheduled to start real soon now and it will be to your advantage to attend this meeting which will start right around 1 p.m. We will be serving a delicious corned beef and cabbage dinner at noon. Then in the evening it will be our big St. Patrick's Dance with live music by Lou Joubert and his band. Goodies will be served by students from Manchester Community College and it should make for a real fun night, up your tickets during the day as we will have only a limited number at the door. A ticket and the wearing of at least a "spot o' green" will be needed to enter.

Some of the happenings here at the center start with our Friday afternoon setback games. We had 40 players and the following winners: Billy Stone, 126; Ann Rojas, 128; Mima Reuther, 123; Joe Windsor, 122; Tom Reagan, 121; Ann Thompson, 119; Bert Turner, 118; Marie Burke, 118; Annie Johnston, 116; Ann Demko, 114.

On Monday morning we had a large turnout for our kitchen social games and in the afternoon we had one of our largest crowds for our pinocle games. We had 36 players and the lucky winners were: Mary Hill, 818; Betty Jesinis, 803; Ernestine Donnelly, 795; Rene Marie, 783; Frank Gadamski, 782; Marjorie McLain, 771; Gladys Seibert, 777; John Derby, 776; Bob Schubert, 776; Sam Schars, 767; Martin Bakstan, 756; Clara Hemingway, 755; Michael DeSimone, 745; Helen Gavello, 742.

Next week, Tuesday, March 21 is the day of the Big Health Fair at the Manchester High School. Our bus will start picking seniors up on its regular route starting from the Senior Center at 1 p.m. The bus will make a return trip from the fair around 3:30 p.m. The fair will include free screenings for glaucoma, blood pressure, heart disease, lead testing, sickle cell anemia and many other tests.

Family Lawyer

To win good will for his tobacco shop, Howard kept an open tin of fine barley on the counter. A sign said: "Help Yourself."

One day Howard decided to have a little fun. Into the tobacco he mixed a tiny quantity of gunpowder. A customer walked in, filled his pipe, lit it — and touched off a mini-explosion that injured his eyes.

In short order, Howard found himself facing a lawsuit. At the trial, he protested that he had acted "in all innocence." But the court held him liable.

"Putting powder in tobacco," said the court, "(even) for purposes of amusement, can not be excused."

Generally speaking, good intentions do not protect the practical joker from legal liability. Nor is it a defense that the injury arose indirectly, due to fright alone.

In another case, a man dropped a rubber spider into an unsuspecting woman's lap. She recoiled so violently that she injured her back. Here, too, a court decided the man could be held liable, saying:

"One who plays dangerous practical jokes on others takes the risk when one who was shocked against a table. Suffering a broken rib, he later claimed compensation in court."

But the judge ruled that the victim could not complain of an encounter he had consented to, even though it had unexpected consequences.

"Play, even though rough, if mutually engaged in, is not unlawful," said the judge. "Otherwise, athletic games, common to the people, would not have had the sanction which ages have given them."

VA news

Q — I converted my insurance to the VA Modified Life plan. Three years later I became totally disabled and my insurance premiums were waived. At age 55 my insurance will be reduced to $5,000. I have the option to purchase an equal amount of VA Ordinary Life insurance. Will the premiums on this also be waived?

A — Yes. In the case of an insured whose premium payments are waived because of total disability, the additional amount of Ordinary Life Insurance may be issued, for which premiums may also be waived because of total disability.

Q — What is a VA pension and who is eligible?

A — Pensions are monthly, monetary payments to wartime veterans with limited income, who were honorably discharged after 90 or more days service (or less if separated due to service-connected disability) who are permanently and totally disabled as a result of non-service-connected causes. Non-service-connected death may entitle the widow or widower and veteran's minor children to pension payments.
