News summary

BOSTON (UPI) — A federal ban on cod and haddock fishing within the U.S. 200-mile limit off New England ended at midnight Friday, as the new quarterly quota system took effect, allowing 900 area fishing boats to resume business.

The National Marine Fisheries Service said the new quotas for the April 1-June 30 quarter will be higher than the ones during the first quarter.

NEW YORK (UPI) — Millions of New Yorkers and Long Island commuters, sweating out subway, bus and train strike deadlines, played the "How're you gonna get to work?" game Friday. But at least they could read about the situation in the papers. Standing by a "no contract-no work" vow, the city's 33,000 bus and subway workers were set to strike at midnight Friday when their current pact expires.

BOSTON (UPI) — The son of actor John Wayne Friday denied reports his movie-hero father will undergo open heart surgery Saturday at Massachusetts General Hospital.

But Michael Wayne indicated his father is undergoing heart tests. He told a Boston radio station diagnostic tests on his father so far show no reason for surgery, but there are "still more tests to go."

"I'll have something to say when I have something more," the younger Wayne told radio station WEEI.

CONCORD, N.H. (UPI) — The New Hampshire Supreme Court Friday ruled wives may restore their maiden names in divorce proceedings even though they have children with different surnames.

The high court acted on requests from two wives, whose requests to reinstate their maiden names had been denied by three Superior Courts because of the possible adverse affect on children. The lower courts had said the women failed to show "good cause" as to why their names should be changed.

BOSTON (UPI) — A two-year-old boy resumed leukemia chemotherapy at Massachusetts General Hospital Friday under a court order which, at least temporarily, stymied his parents' attempts to end the treatments permanently.

Chad Green, who began the painful therapy at the hospital last fall after doctors warned he was in imminent danger of death, received only his second treatment since January, a hospital spokesman said. "He was in this morning and that's all I can tell you," the spokesman said.

AUGUSTA, Maine (UPI) — Gov. James B. Longley, the nation's only independent governor, said Friday he will not run for re-election or seek any other political office this year.

Longley called a special session of his cabinet and announced his decision to its members before releasing a three-page news release.

During his original "impossible dream" campaign four years ago, Longley had told voters he would only serve one term. But many of his supporters had recently urged him to reconsider that promise and continue a second term as governor.

Sarasin backers will not primary in Manchester

By GREG PEARSON Herald Reporter

Supporters of U.S. Rep. Ronald Sarasin had considered a primary in Manchester but have decided against such a move because of lack of time and fear of the appearance of continued division in the local Republican Party.

Sarasin is one of four Republican candidates seeking the party's gubernatorial nomination. The others are State Sens. Lewis Rome and George Gunther and State Rep. Gerald Stevens.

Manchester's Republican Town Committee selected a 15-member slate for the state convention at its March 21 meeting.

The slate includes two announced supporters of Rome — Nathan Agostinelli and Edward Wilson — and most of the delegates are expected to favor Rome, although none of the others are committed formally to any of the candidates.

David Cohen, who ran in 1976 for the Fourth Senatorial District seat and is now a member of the First Congressional District Committee for Sarasin, said that a challenge to the 15-member candidate slate had been discussed. Now, however, he said that the candidate will concentrate on being visible in Manchester. Sarasin, who once lived in Manchester, hopes to meet with the town's delegation before the convention starts July 28, Cohen said.

Carl Zinsner, a Republican member of the Town Board of Directors and one of the 15 delegates, said that he was approached by Sarasin supporters this week about a challenge to the convention slate.

Zinsner said that he felt a challenge would be "ill conceived" at this time. There is an April 7 deadline for filing a challenge slate.

By that date, the challengers would require a 15-member slate to oppose the party-endorsed one. They also would have to obtain signatures from at least five percent of the town's registered Republicans.

This would have been difficult to do before the April 7 date, Zinsner, who is uncommitted in the gubernatorial race, said.

He also felt that a challenge might have appeared as a continued in-party fight in town. Zinsner recently supported a challenger, Scott Clendaniel, in the race for Republican town chairman. Thomas Ferguson, the party chairman, was re-elected when Clendaniel withdrew before a vote at the March 21 meeting.

Anne Scherr, Sarasin's campaign press secretary, also said that the fear of dividing the party locally was one reason no challenge was made in Manchester.

The Sarasin staff feels it will receive support from a majority of the delegates at the convention, she said.

"The delegate primaries are very divisive," Ms. Scherr said. Thus, apparently, the Sarasin staff is being selective about where it does try for local primaries to convention slates.

Since few of the Manchester delegates are committed to Rome, even though a majority is expected to support him, the decision was made not to primary here.

"To try to build up a plurality (of delegates) at the expense of a lot of friction on the local level would be counterproductive," Ms. Scherr said.

Both Democratic Registrar of Voters Herbert Stevenson and Republican Registrar Fred Peck said that they have not received any requests for the petitioning papers needed for challenges to delegate slates.

Israel says meeting paved way for talks

JERUSALEM (UPI) — Israeli television reported Friday that Defense Minister Ezer Weizman's 24-hour visit to Cairo had paved the way for resumption of direct, secret Israeli-Egyptian peace talks.

The report on the state-run, semi-official network conflicted with reports from Egypt that said Weizman and Egyptian President Anwar Sadat had failed to break the deadlock in Egyptian-Israeli contacts.

Weizman Friday briefed Prime Minister Menachem Begin on the visit but avoided public comment, telling reporters only, "I was never a pessimist and I am not pessimistic now."

The television report said, "Highly placed sources in Israel estimate that Weizman's talks with the Egyptian leaders in Cairo during the past two days will lead to the resumption of negotiations between Israel and Egypt.

"More talks on a similar level may take place perhaps as early as within the next two weeks," it said.

But the report said the renewal of talks in the dormant political and military committees is unlikely and a new framework may be substituted for them. Neither forum is "sacred," the report said.

The report said Weizman did not take any new proposals to Cairo, but rather outlined some ideas that could open the way for resumption of the talks. It said Weizman's talks were "positive and serious" and even when the thorny Palestinian problem came up, there was no confrontation.

The report said Weizman's talks failed to narrow the gap on key Middle East issues, but both sides apparently agreed to resume contacts "at the same level" or another official level.

"It is possible that direct negotiations in the future will take the form of secret, shuttle diplomacy," in an attempt to avoid repeating past mistakes, the report said.

The report said Weizman's mission failed to break the deadlock in Middle East negotiations.

U.S. trade deficit reaches record high

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The nation's economy suffered a shock Friday when the government reported large American purchases of foreign oil and steel pushed up the U.S. trade deficit to $4.52 billion in February, by far the largest in history.

President Carter said he was "seriously concerned" about the huge amount of red ink and asked help from Congress and foreign trading partners.

The value of the dollar on European exchange markets fell sharply following the announcement and the stock market retreated.

The Commerce Department said imports during February soared to a record $14.4 billion, 16.5 percent above January, while exports totaled $9.92 billion.

The resulting $4.52 billion deficit topped the previous monthly high of $3.62 billion last October, the department said.

The trade deficit for the first two months of 1978 stood at $6.89 billion, $2.6 billion higher than the same period last year.

February was the 21st month in a row that the balance of trade was in deficit.

The administration has consistently maintained that the 1978 deficit would be about the same as last year's record $26.7 billion. Analysts now may have to revise those projections.

Carter, on a trip to South America and Africa, issued a statement through Vice President Walter Mondale's office expressing his dismay. The president acknowledged "special factors" including the weather and the coal strike had hurt U.S. sales abroad.

House passes bill easing mortgages

HARTFORD (UPI) — The House of Representatives Friday approved a two-pronged mortgage bill designed to help young couples buy homes and allow elderly couples to stay in the ones they already own.

At the same time, the House approved measures permitting Connecticut liquor stores to sell cigarettes and prisoners in work-release programs to live in halfway houses. The House approved 131-4 and sent to the Senate a bill allowing Connecticut banks to offer two new kinds of mortgages.

The first, "a graduated payment mortgage," is designed to help young couples who are having problems buying their own homes. The bill

AMC, Renault combine sales, may also merge manufacture

DETROIT (UPI) — Struggling American Motors Corp. and the French car maker Renault have agreed to combine sales and, eventually, manufacturing operations in the United States and Canada, company officials announced Friday.

The arrangement, which company spokesmen indicated would be short of an outright merger, is intended to bolster AMC's declining passenger car business and widen Renault's market in North America.

In a joint statement, AMC President Gerald C. Meyers and Bernard Vernier-Pallex, president director general of Regis Nationale Des

Usines Renault, said they agreed to the "basic principles of a proposed arrangement," and will work toward a legally binding agreement within

The plan, the executives said, calls for the two companies to: —Combine distribution of AMC and Renault vehicles in the United States and Canada.

—Develop future product plans regarding Renault and AMC passenger cars to be sold in the United States and Canada.

—Consider eventual manufacture of one or more Renault cars in AMC's U.S. assembly plants. —Sell AMC Jeep vehicles through the Renault dealer network in selected international markets.

—Ship increased quantities of Renault's Le Car to America as soon as possible for sale through the AMC and Renault dealer network in the United States and Canada.

The announcement ended speculation over what course AMC would take to pull itself out of a four-year tailspin that, some analysts said, had brought the No. 4 automaker to the brink of quitting the passenger car business.

Burrington-Desrosiers

Nancy J. Desrosiers of Rocky Hill, formerly of Manchester, and Ray Everett Burrington of Rocky Hill, were married March 31 at Bethany Lutheran Church in West Hartford.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Marie Desrosiers of Vernon and Thomas Desrosiers of East Hartford. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Neil Burrington of Windsor Locks.

The Rev. Norbert Firman of West Hartford officiated at the candlelight, double-ring ceremony. Robert Bengston was organist, and Spring Burrington, the bridegroom's sister, was soloist.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a Quiana knit gown designed with long sleeves and high collar. She wore a floor-length veil and carried a cascade bouquet of white roses.

Ms. Linda Kelly of Rocky Hill was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Dolores Tolan and Ms. Linda DePaolis, both of Rocky Hill.

Alan Neilson of Glastonbury was best man. Ushers were Arthur Schreier of Glastonbury and James Burrington of Enfield, the bridegroom's brother. A reception was held at the Holiday Inn in Hartford, after which the couple left for Switzerland. The couple is residing in Rocky Hill.

Mrs. Burrington is employed as a development specialist in group data processing at Aetna Life & Casualty. She is currently attending the University of Hartford.

News for senior citizens

By WALLY FORTIN

Hl, folks! Well, tomorrow is going to be a busy day for the members of the cast for our Variety Show because we will be rehearsing both afternoon and evening. This will be our most important meeting and therefore all members of the cast must attend, and should bring all of their costumes with them.

During the day, we will be going through the complete show, with changes of costumes, etc. We wish to remind members who have monies off for tickets to please start bringing it in so that we can keep tabs on how we stand and how many tickets are still available.

On Monday morning we will be registering for the Fall River, Mass., trip scheduled for May 4. The complete package includes the bus, sightseeing and visiting historic sites, plus lunch is $13.50. Registration starts around 8 a.m. and on a first-come, first-served basis. For one ticket as well as can fill.

For some of our newer members, our policy in registering is that although we don't start signing up until 8 a.m., we have no control as to what time some members will start arriving at the center. If a person comes at 5, 6 or 7 a.m. and tries the door and it is not open, they are considered as being the first, and believe me no one can get away with trying to say they were first. As they arrive, they know just where they stand.

Also, one person may sign up for two people only, and we do not take registrations over the phone until we have given everyone a chance to sign up. This has been our policy for the past ten years and only once in a while do we run into any problem, and that usually occurs where a new "signee" arrives and hasn't realized our policy.

While on this subject, we might as well explain that we must write our articles in advance of publications by at least a day-and-a-half. For an example, we must have Saturday's column turned in by the Herald by noontime Thursday.

On occasion we mention that there are a certain amount of seats available and then that afternoon or next day, people come and fill these vacancies. Thus, when one reads it on Saturday and decides to come in on Monday, they may find the seats are filled and wonder why. We do take a waiting list, and quite often for many of those on this list to fill in for some who must back out, for one reason or another.

These costumes have been designed by Ruth McElreavy who has been with us since our first show five years ago. This year she is really going all out and doing a super job with the costumes because with our new style show it means a number of fancy costumes. It certainly is exciting to see everyone working so hard and we sincerely thank everyone for volunteering their still available and super work.

Next Thursday for our Fun Day we will be treated to some real super entertainment by Eddie Reed, the pianist from Cavey's for the past 19 years, who was injured in an accident and has been recuperating. He has offered to play many of his tunes for us and I'm sure this will be very enjoyable.

Monday-Cream of celery soup, ham and Swiss cheese on rye, homemade cookies, beverage. Tuesday-Meatball grinder, tossed salad, chilled fruit, beverage. Wednesday-Baked fish, parsnip potatoes, mixed vegetables, chocolate cake, beverage.

Thursday-Hot dog on bun, baked beans, cole slaw, Jell-O with topping, beverage. Friday-Cream of celery soup, ham and Swiss cheese on rye, homemade cookies, beverage. Saturday-Meatball grinder, tossed salad, chilled fruit, beverage.

Monday: 8 a.m., registration for trip to Fall River, Mass., 10 a.m., kitchen social games. Noon to 12:30 p.m., lunch served. 1 p.m., pinocle game. Bus pickup at 8:30 a.m. Return trips at 12:30 p.m. and 3:30 p.m.

Tuesday: 9 a.m., round and square dance class. 9:30 a.m., bus for shopping, and oil painting class. 1 p.m., return from shopping and the Senior Bowling League at the Parkade Lane. 2 p.m. to 3 p.m., exercise class. 3 to 4 p.m., income tax assistance.

Wednesday: 9 a.m., Health Clinic by appointment only. 10 a.m., crewel class and Friendship Circle as well as pinocle games. Noon to 12:30 p.m., lunch served. 1 p.m., pinocle game. Bus pickup at 8:30 a.m. Return trips at 12:30 p.m. and 3:30 p.m.

Thursday: 9 a.m. to 11:30 a.m., ceramics class. Noon to 12:45 p.m., Hot Meal and Meal-on-Wheels. 1 p.m., Fun Day featuring Eddie Reed. Bus pickup at 10 a.m. and return trip around 3 p.m.

Friday: 10 a.m., kitchen social games. Noon to 12:30 p.m., lunch served. 1 p.m., softball games. Bus pickup at 8:30 a.m. and return trips at 12:30 p.m. and 3:30 p.m.

the important things about our center is that so many members are involved. Our craft class is spending many hours making "props" for the show. Many are busy sewing many of the 150 costumes.

CB Convac

There have been hundreds of thousands of words written about the regular CBER. Who he is, his occupation may be, where he lives and why he's interested in citizens band radio. Comprehensive research reports would fill a whole file cabinet.

Right now, there appears to be some resentment about the "good buddy" salute. It's not uncommon for a "good buddy" breaker to get a snarling response from his CB from someone who thinks his ears are green.

And maybe CB has gotten to be old hat. But the fact remains that CBers, like amateur radio buffs, are people who enjoy communicating at whatever level they happen to be operating on. And they are interested in their fellow man.

We're not saying that all its sweetness and light in the CB world. We are saying, though, that CBERs are responsive people who think in neighborhood terms and get cracking when they think there is a need for their help. And the need or cause does not have to be the guy next door or a member of their family.

Nicki Schenfield, of Altoona, Pa., works for a branch of the Pennsylvania Cystic Fibrosis Foundation. Since there is little known about CF, they've always had problems raising money. Spreading word of what CF really is, and how deadly it can be, especially for youngsters. Almost in desperation her branch this year appealed to the CB clubs in the area for help.

"We met these people, and they are fantastic," she said. "Right on the spot they agreed to sponsor a statewide coffee break. They literally took it over! We've never seen such

SPRINGS OPEN 11:58 AM to 10:

Taxpayer always comes up a loser

By PETE LEE

Pete Lee is editor of the El Paso Herald-Post.

What is most depressing about making out your income tax return is the knowledge that even when you have made it out, and sent it in with the accompanying check, you still haven't paid it.

According to deep studies by knowledgeable people, the typical taxpayer must work from January 1 to May 4 in order to earn enough money to pay his taxes for the year. At least that's what the time span was in 1977. Lord knows what it is this year.

Such knowledge is enough to send the average taxpayer into a slough of despair. He is mad enough already about taxes because, as everyone knows, it is the poor man who gets hit hardest by Uncle Sam. The rich have all sorts of loopholes and besides the richest of them all can figure things out so that they pay no taxes at all.

Right? No, it's not. That's wrong. The following information may be of some comfort to the chap who struggles to make ends meet (though it won't help him pay his taxes).

Government figures show that there are 1,149 taxpayers earning more than $1 million a year. And on the average, they each pay a little over $1 million in taxes.

If you think that most taxes come from low income families, think again. The top one percent of our wage earners pay 19 percent of all personal income taxes.

The 25 percent of our population making the highest incomes — over $25,000 a year — pay 72 percent of all taxes.

The lowest 25 percent in terms of income pay only one half of one percent of the taxes collected by the government. And they, of course, are the ones who get welfare benefits which come out of the pockets of the top taxpayers.

In fact, 93 percent of all income taxes collected come from the top 50 percent of U.S. wage earners.

So if there's ever a taxpayer revolt, you can look for it to come not from the poor but from the well-to-do. But, you say, all those rich folk have tax loopholes to take care of them.

Well, the biggest single loophole of all is the $750 per person personal exemption — which is available to the poor as well as the rich. And the next biggest loophole is the standard deduction allowed everyone, rich and poor alike. After that comes the "loophole" of deductions for state and local taxes.

So, in terms of taxation, it doesn't necessarily pay to be rich. In fact, the richer you are, the more you're taxed. This brings us to taxation —

Thought

"It is not for you to know times or seasons which the father has fixed by his own authority. But you shall receive power when the Holy Spirit has come upon you."

How difficult it is for us to wait! In the words of a popular folk song, "I can't live on promises winter to spring." Our need to live in the here and now gives our lives a healthy urgency, for none of us is promised tomorrow in this world. The risen Christ addresses this need by meeting us in the routine of our daily lives, and in our human pain. Yet he requires also of us that we wait. We are given the promise of the Holy Spirit's presence in our lives, but again and again we are told that we cannot know when he will come to us. This means that we must be continually open to the Spirit, and that is precisely what waiting means: being open. We cannot force the Spirit to come to us, but we can prevent his presence from having meaning in our lives by being too busy to hear him. Let us remember that the strength of the resurrection can be ours now through the power of the Holy Spirit, if only we will be open to him. The prophet Isaiah promises that "they who wait for the Lord shall renew their strength; they shall mount up with wings like eagles, they shall run and not be weary, they shall walk and not faint."

This, too, is the promise of Easter. Martha Freimuth, MACC Project Serv...

Six-year presidency?

To the editor:

As a member of the trustees of the Hartford County Medical Association's Insurance and Retirement Trust Funds, I have been made acutely conscious of the marked depreciation of our assets during the past year and if our portfolio had not been automatically in the finest of American industries, I could possibly accuse our financial consultants of gross mismanagement.

However, they are doing as well as 98 percent of the rest of America's financial advisors and are not really at fault. The problem is complicated, but not small part of it is directly attributable to our administration in Washington, D.C.

We have a Democratic president, a Democratic-controlled House of Representatives, and a Democratic-controlled Senate, and the country has gone from bad to worse during the past year. Fiscal irresponsibility, obscenity to labor unions, and a total disregard of the effects of inflation are only a few of the signs of the incompetence, may the impotence, of our present administration.

Unfortunately, we are faced with two more years of such ineptitude, and the business community as well as the American public are becoming more and more disenchanting. We urgently need an energy program, a firm control on inflation, and a cessation of our program of printing more and more dollars to meet our needs. We need a courage and an expertise that is sadly lacking in our capital today.

Frankly, I believe that our president means well but as a political animal he is as concerned, or perhaps more concerned, about his chances of re-election in 1980 as he is about his performance during his present term. His current decisions are influenced to some extent by what he thinks the American public will think of them in the year 1980.

If our American presidents were elected for a single term of six years and had no opportunity for a second term, they could act as a president should act; namely, fearless and beholden to no one, determined to do the right as they see it. Their entire interests could be concentrated on their single term and be inspired to do a job "well done," providing this country with an extraordinary administration and a certain immortality for themselves.

Sincerely yours, Charles E. Jacobson Jr., M.D., 45 Wyllys St., Manchester.

to a vandalized, half-finished housing project than have an economist explore prevailing paradoxes in interest rates.

Indeed, problems which defy easy depiction may get no mention at all. Much the same can be said of the spot advertising used by candidates during elections. (Or can we say that watching an aspirant walking pensively on a beach gives an underlying clue to his character?)

The conclusion in many quarters is that the best way to attract an audience is by adding the dramaticity of debate. This strategy apparently succeeded, both in 1960 and 1976, when the Kennedy-Nixon and Ford-Carter encounters broke county fairs. Newspaper reports came in leisurely, gray-columned lengths, which were in turn discussed in general stores and city cafes. Citizens knew candidates at firsthand, and issues hit close to home.

Thus via scripts, songs, cartoons, and scenarios, politics has found a place in our popular culture. But what of the reverse relationship: the impact of entertainment on the world of politics?

In simpler days politicians crossed the country by railroad, pausing at whistle-stops and shaking hands at county fairs. Newspaper reports came in leisurely, gray-columned lengths, which were in turn discussed in general stores and city cafes. Citizens knew candidates at firsthand, and issues hit close to home.

Thus via scripts, songs, cartoons, and scenarios, politics has found a place in our popular culture. But what of the reverse relationship: the impact of entertainment on the world of politics?

Yet the critics are not agreed on the culprit. Some blame the top decision-makers of the media, saying they impose their preferences on the public. Others claim that the communicators are simply responding to a citizenry that wants its news and views in capsules.

Yet it is possible to suggest that Americans are still political creatures, with ideas and interests of their own. Even at a distance they can see the stature of a candidate and see the issues at stake in an election. Citizens certainly make mistakes and can succumb to alluring but misleading presentations. But it seldom happens when the outcome reveals counts.

"Voters are not fools," was the way a political scientist once put it. Indeed, it can be argued that exposure to modern media has heightened our sophistication.

If that is so, we have a more acute political understanding and seek a politics that will meet our expectations.

Dear Abby

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Boy, do I ever have a solution for the lady sitting CRAVING AFFECTION.

My husband is ready to jump into bed at the drop of a hat, a raindrop or a snowflake. I love my husband very much, but after doing my housework, taking care of five kids, running my errands and helping my in-laws, I'm exhausted by 9 p.m. and helping my in-laws, I'm exhausted by 9 p.m. and helping my in-laws, I'm exhausted by 9 p.m. and helping my in-laws, I'm exhausted by 9 p.m.

Not my husband! He is ready for a night of cuddling and loving. (I like the cuddling—it's the LOVING that wears me out.)

JOY CRAVING AFFECTION that I would gladly change places with her, or send her my husband. TOO TIRED

DEAR TOO: The problem of sexual fulfillment can be compared to world hunger. Although there's no shortage of food, much of the world's population is near starvation. There's plenty of supply and demand—it's the distribution that's fouled up.

DEAR ABBY: I am having an affair with a married man I'm really in love with. (I'm 27 and he's 48.) We have been out in public together, and have even gone to some parties where he knew we'd run into some of his friends. (Once we even ran into his wife and neither seemed embarrassed.) We've been going together for over a year, and have even spent weekends together, so I finally got up the courage to ask him why he was having this affair. He told me that he and his wife have an "open marriage"—a totally honest arrangement in which they agreed that if either one wants to sleep with someone else, it's okay. That way there's no lying and nobody is hurt.

He tells me he loves me and "needs" me and doesn't want to stop seeing me because I'm everything his wife has never been to him.

I'm confused. If he's being honest with me, why doesn't he get a divorce and marry me?

DEAR CONFUSED: Because he and his wife prefer to stay married. He is being completely honest with you. He has made it clear that you "fill a need" for the present. So if you're angling for a wedding ring, you're the sucker.

DEAR ABBY: It is the height of stupidity when a smoker starts to light up, stops abruptly, then hypocritically asks, "Is it all right if I smoke?"

In addition, I'm tired of having my home stunk up. I want to breathe clean air and so do my children. I'm dumping every ashtray I own.

I sympathize with smokers. I used to be one, but I quit. It wasn't easy. Now I would like to apologize to everyone whose air I fouled up when I smoked around them.

DEAR NEW: It's hardy "the height of stupidity" to ask, but it is the "height of rudeness" to smoke if the answer is no. And "no smoking" is a movement whose time has come.

Are your problems too heavy to handle alone? Let Abby help you. For a personal, unobtrusive, confidential, self-addressed envelope, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Calif. 90069. Enclose a stamp.

Thus via scripts, songs, cartoons, and scenarios, politics has found a place in our popular culture. But what of the reverse relationship: the impact of entertainment on the world of politics?

So on the whole the media stick to "safe" political subjects, or ones in which the audience itself comes out

Obituaries

Jan Gelb
Jan Gelb, a well-known New York artist, died Monday in New York City at the age of 71. She was the wife of Boris Margo, a prominent artist, and the sister of Mrs. Vita Zuckerman of Manchester.
She is also survived by two brothers and seven nieces and nephews.
Ms. Gelb was distinguished as a teacher, author, painter and printmaker. She had served two terms as vice president of the Society of American Graphic Artists and was the recipient of many awards including the Vera List Purchase Award at the Society of American Graphic Artists annual exhibition. She participated in innumerable national and international group shows and is represented in the collections of the Metropolitan Museum, the Whitney Museum of American Art, the Rosewald Collection of the National Gallery in Washington, D.C., and in many private and museum and university collections.
The funeral was Thursday in New York City.
Mrs. Robert C. Horgan
EAST HARTFORD — Mrs. Carole Cirilli Horgan, 29, of 36 Treat Road, Wethersfield, died early Friday morning at Hartford Hospital from injuries suffered when she was hit by a car on Interstate 91. She was the wife of Robert C. Horgan, who is formerly of East Hartford.
Mrs. Horgan was born in Hartford and had lived in Wethersfield all her life. She was a graduate of Wethersfield High School and Manchester Community College. She was a communicant of Corpus Christi Church, Wethersfield.

She is also survived by a daughter, Dorene M. Horgan, at home; her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Armando Cirilli of Wethersfield; a brother, James Cirilli of Glastonbury; a sister, Mrs. Bruce Skiff of Wethersfield; and her maternal grandmother, Mrs. Josephine LaPenna of Hartford.
The funeral is Monday at 9 a.m. at Newkirk and Whitney Funeral Home, 218 Burdette Ave., with a mass at Corpus Christi Church, Wethersfield, at 10. Burial will be in Mount St. Benedict Cemetery, Bloomfield.
Friends may call at the funeral home Sunday from 3 to 5 and 7 to 9 p.m.
Mrs. Janet G. Porter
Mrs. Janet G. Porter, 83, of 333 Bidwell St. died Friday at a Manchester convalescent home. She was the widow of Frederick P. Porter.
Mrs. Porter was born Dec. 16, 1894 in Tonsberg, Sweden, and had lived in Hartford for many years before coming to Manchester in 1968.
She is survived by a son, William H. Porter of Manchester; two daughters, Miss Greta Porter and Mrs. Albert (Jeanette) Schulze, both of Manchester; a brother, Hans A. Gunnerod of San Marcos, Calif.; and two grandchildren.
The funeral is private. Burial will be at the convenience of the family.
The Holmes Funeral Home, 400 Main St., is in charge of arrangements.
There are no calling hours.
William J. Gaif
The burial this morning of William J. Gaif will take place in East Cemetery, Thursday's edition of The Herald said that the burial would be in Buckland Cemetery.

Matsikas will seek 55th District seat

Loie Matsikas, a co-owner of the Marlborough Tavern, has announced that he is interested in the Democratic nomination for the 55th Assembly District seat.
He is one of three Democrats interested in the seat, which is held now by State Rep. Dorothy Miller, a Republican.
Matsikas lets his residence in Hebron but also has a residence in Marlborough, where he serves as finance chairman of the Democratic Town Committee.
Last year, he was a delegate for Jimmy Carter at the First Congressional District Convention and also served as an alternate delegate for Carter at the national convention.
Ed Williams of Hebron and Aloysius Ahearn of Bolton also are candidates for the Democratic nomination for the 55th Assembly seat.

Police report

Manchester police served Laurel Maillet, 23, of 15 Oakland St. with a fugitive from justice warrant from the state of Vermont.
Police said the charges in Vermont are 10 counts of false token, five counts of welfare fraud and one count of issuing a bad check. She was released on a $100 non-surety bond for Common Pleas Court 12 appearance on the fugitive charge April 10.
Manchester Police also arrested John E. Dixon, 23, of 628 Spring St. and charged him with operating a motor vehicle while his license is under suspension. Court date is April 18.

The lottery

HARTFORD (UPI)—The winning number drawn Friday in the Connecticut State Lottery was 875.

Mortgages

would allow a bank to give a young couple a mortgage loan, which would start with relatively small monthly payments.
Later, when the couple's income began to grow, the mortgage payments would also rise.
The second type of mortgage covered in the bill is called a "reverse annuity mortgage." This kind of mortgage is fashioned to let senior citizens stay in the homes they own.
Under this type of mortgage, elderly persons, strapped with rising taxes and utility bills, could go to a bank and take out a loan in the form of a mortgage. The senior citizens would use their houses as security on the loan.
The bank would then send the homeowner monthly payments to meet taxes and other bills.

Correction

A phone number for cost and reservation information about Women's Council of Realtors trip to see the Broadway musical "Annie" was listed incorrectly in Friday's Herald.
Anyone seeing information should call Susan Fritz, 5-W Realty, 164 E. Center St., at 647-1419.
The trip will take place Wednesday, May 17. The bus will depart from McDonald's parking lot on West Center Street at 8 a.m.

Brunch or Lunch
Crab Stuffed Turkey Rolls
Jellied Waldorf Salad
with
Ginger Cream Dressing
Fresh Asparagus Spears

CRAB STUFFED TURKEY ROLLS
12 slices uncooked turkey breast
1/4 cup butter or margarine
1 bay leaf
1/2 cup finely chopped green onion
1/2 cup finely chopped celery
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon white pepper
Dash cayenne
1 tablespoon lemon juice
1/4 cup scallion
1/4 cup mayonnaise
1 package (9 1/2 oz.) frozen Alaska King Crab, thawed, or 1 can (7-1/2 oz.) Alaska King Crab
2-1/2 cups bread crumbs
1/3 cup grated Swiss cheese
1 tablespoon minced parsley
1/3 cup flour
1/4 cup melted butter

JELLIED WALDORF SALAD
2 envelopes unflavored gelatin
4 cups apple juice or cider
1/4 cup sugar
1/4 cup lemon juice
3 large Red Delicious Apples
1/2 cup chopped celery
1/2 cup chopped walnuts
1/2 cup chopped dates
1/2 cup miniature marshmallows
Salad greens
Ginger Cream Dressing

Soften gelatin in 1/2 cup apple juice or cider. Heat remaining juice. Add sugar and softened gelatin and stir until dissolved. Stir in lemon juice, cool. Pour 1 inch of gelatin into 6-cup mold. Chill until partially set. Cut slices from 1 apple and arrange upright around sides of mold; securing firmly in partially set gelatin. Chill until set. Chill remaining gelatin until thick. Fold in celery, nuts, dates, marshmallows and remaining apple, diced. Carefully spoon into mold. Chill until firm. Unmold on salad greens and serve with Ginger Cream Dressing. Yield: 8 servings.

GINGER CREAM DRESSING
1/2 cup mayonnaise
2 tablespoons sugar
1 tablespoon lemon juice
1/2 teaspoon grated lemon peel
1/2 teaspoon ginger
Dash salt
1/2 cup heavy cream, whipped
Chopped walnuts, optional
Blend mayonnaise, sugar, lemon juice and peel, ginger and salt until smooth. Fold in whipped cream, chili. Sprinkle with chopped walnuts, if desired. Makes about 1-1/2 cups dressing.

Your neighbor's kitchen
By Betty Ryder

Convenience foods are a "must" with busy homemakers, and one of nature's own is eggs.
It's easy to turn leftovers into a dish your family and friends will give rave reviews.
Start with the ham remaining from your Easter feast, add shredded cheese and mushrooms, light cream and seasonings and pour into a pie shell and pop them into the oven. If you have time, make your own pie shell. If not, use the frozen ready-made variety, thawed and transferred to a glass pie plate.
Incidentally, frozen pie shells are another "must" to have on hand and can be easily used for delecter or main dishes.
This entree for Ham and Swiss Pie would satisfy the gang for breakfast, make a terrific brunch for friends, impress the ladies for lunch or feed a family of six at dinnertime. Cut into six generous servings, complimented by a crisp salad and topped off with a tasty dessert, you've come up with another winner, even on a tight time schedule.
Ham and Swiss Pie is economical. According to the New England Egg Industry, when large eggs are 90 cents a dozen, they're only 60 cents a pound or 15 cents a serving. Combined with leftover ham, that's a main dish bargain.
Once you've tried Ham and Swiss Pie, let your imagination run wild! Try chopped leftover cooked chicken or drain and flake a can of tuna to substitute for the ham.
Ham and Swiss Pie
9-inch pie shell
6 eggs, beaten
1 cup (4 oz.) shredded Swiss cheese
1 cup chopped cooked ham
1 can (4 oz.) sliced mushrooms, well drained
1 cup half and half or light cream
1 tablespoon instant minced onion
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon dry mustard
1/4 teaspoon pepper
Brush pie shell with a small amount of the beaten eggs. Prick bottom and sides with fork. Bake in preheated 450 degree oven for 5 minutes or until light golden brown. Set aside. Stir together cheese, ham and mushrooms. Sprinkle into pie shell. To the beaten eggs, add remaining ingredients. Beat until well-blended. Pour into pie shell over cheese mixture. Bake in preheated 375 degree oven 30 to 35 minutes or until knife inserted near center comes out clean. Let stand 5 minutes before serving.
*A 9-inch frozen deep-dish pie shell may be used if thawed and transferred to a glass pie plate.
Another easy recipe which I dined on the other night at the home of a friend is made with a crust made from refrigerated crescent rolls, and it was delicious. The rolls are removed from the can, spread into a large rectangle and perforated individual roll marks pressed together to prevent the filling from seeping out during baking.
It can be made with crabmeat, tuna fish, scrambled hamburger, mushrooms or a variety of fillings. The filling is centered in the crust rectangle, then the sides and ends pulled up to cover and seal. Bake in a moderate oven till the crust is golden brown. Ours was served with a curry sauce and a tossed salad. One can of rolls makes four generous servings.

Ham and Swiss Pie — a boon to busy homemakers.

Business-Directory Guide For Manchester and Surrounding Vicinity

featuring this week...

MANCHESTER MALL

811 MAIN STREET

Kenneth Burkamp, left, owner of Manchester Mall, 811 Main St., looks over plans for additional store locations with Manchester Mayor Stephen Penny. With 15 merchants presently, Burkamp envisions approximately 35 stores located in his Mall. The concept of the Manchester Mall is a place for the small merchant to establish himself at reasonable rents.

GARNER RUG

Garner's Rug & Upholstery Cleaning

Garner Rug has been serving the area for over 15 years. It is owned and operated by Frank Findlay, a native of Manchester. Our plant is located at the rear of 14 High St., Manchester. All plant work is done on the premises by our expert crew. You can save a big 20% by bringing in your own carpet to be cleaned. Feel free to call us at 646-5630 with any carpet problem. We sell, clean and repair all types of carpet. We are an authorized Royal Vacuum Sales and Service Center. Also offered is a full line of tile and linoleum. Another service is the shampooing or recarpeting of auto interiors.

GOOD MORNING AMERICA

Good news for hearing aid wearers.

Activair lasts twice as long as the battery you're using.

New Activair hearing aid batteries operate on a new principle. The air around us activates the battery and starts it producing electric current.

But the air doesn't get into the battery until you peel it off the protective seal in the battery pack.

That's when it starts working. So it starts fresh, and lasts longer. Twice as long as the conventional batteries you're using now. Buy Activair next time you need batteries.

By RUSS MacKENDRICK

There will be terpsichore on our stamps this month. National Dance Week will be April 24 to 30 and the USPS is going along with it by issuing a set of four se-tenants at Lincoln Center, New York City, on the 26th.

The stamps will show the following forms of its expression: Ballet, Theater, Modern and Folk. The Postal Service is careful to say that the persons shown on them are symbolic figures only. But who can look at the "Theater" without thinking of Fred Astaire? (Anyone watching Nureyev on the Muppets a few weeks ago would have seen a perfect takeoff on Astaire and his top-hat routine.)

Every member of the magazine "Topical Time" lists countries from somewhere in the world with new issues on the dance. The one for January-February reports stamps from Christmas Island, India, Mongolia and Thailand. The mag for last November-December also has an article headed by a depiction of the French issue of 1968, Scott No. 1206, showing Isadora Duncan and Vasilav Nijinsky (1890-1950), with a remark that Isadora's centennial of birth will be on May 27 and they should be getting out a commemorative for her.

At the age of 17, in 1895, she began her career at Daly's Theater in New York. She became noted for opening new vistas in interpretative dancing. Her ideas of the dance evolved directly from nature, through the rhythmic movement of wind and wave ...

Her school in Berlin that opened in 1902 produced a world-famous group called "The Duncan Dancers." Later schools were in Paris, Moscow and New York State.

It is just right that she should appear on a stamp with Nijinsky. Although it is not clear whether they performed together, in a book written by a friend, and fellow-trooper of Nijinsky we read of Duncan praising his work as a youth in the ballet.

And "Russians who are truly art lovers must pay an everlasting tribute of gratitude to Isadora Duncan for her interpretation and its success." (From "The Tragedy of Nijinsky" by Bourman and Lyman.) And further on in the book - "We were those who had finally caught the new vision Isadora Duncan opened for us."

On Nijinsky: "A rose petal carried on a breath of wind through an open window in a graceful parabola ... transcended human limitations and danced into the heart of poetry ..."

Bourman states that he was the only dancer to achieve the "entrechat-dix," that is, a leap into the air with a striking of the heels or calves ten times. Also he could propel himself 15 or 20 feet in the grand jete, apparently stopping for an instant at the highest point.

(Beverly Burton of the local dance studio states that the "entrechat-quatre" or four-times-flutter, is the normal, and some men can do six. A possible present-day challenge to Nijinsky might be Mikhail Baryshnikov.)

Our dancing issues for the 26th were created by John Hill of Bethany, Conn. - his first stamp designs. They will be in multi-color. Note that unless they are up on the envelope like diamonds the dancers will be defying gravity. Make sure that the "15¢" is at your right hand.

Coming events for the Central Connecticut Coin Club: Tomorrow, April 2 - Spring Show at the Knights of Columbus Hall, 138 Main St., Manchester. Then on Tuesday evening at the same place, the regular meeting of the club with a slide program from the American Numismatic Association entitled "Early Christianity on Coins." All coinlovers are welcome. The doors open at 7:30 p.m.

Sunday, April 2, 10 to 5, the First Sunday Stamp Bourse will be at the Ramada Inn, East Hartford.

Arts potpourri

The Manchester Scholarship Foundation Inc. will sponsor an Arts Potpourri Sunday, April 9, from 3 to 6 p.m. at The Colony. Performing on the program will be the Foot Prints Dancers, a modern dance group; an instrumental trio, a jazz blues group and a vocal trio from the Julius Hartt College of Music.

There will also be a display of sketches and paintings by local artists, and an exhibit of sculpture by David Hayes.

Champagne and hors d'oeuvres will be served.

Tickets are available by calling George Eagleson, 646-1881.

Musical events

A repeat performance of the popular "Eagle '76" by Kenneth W. Megan Jr. will highlight the first of two special concerts by the U.S. Coast Guard Band this weekend. The concerts are presented in conjunction with the College Band Directors' National Association's Eastern Division Conference sponsored by the Coast Guard Academy this week.

Megan's work will be the featured work tonight at 8 p.m. in Leamy Auditorium at the Coast Guard Academy in New London. Members of the USCG Band will present a recital of chamber music Sunday at 1:30 p.m., also in Leamy Auditorium.

"Chords a-Poppin'," a musical review, will be presented by the Mountain Laurel Chapter of Sweet Adelines April 15 at 8 p.m. in Welte Hall on the Central Connecticut State College campus in New Britain. Proceeds from the show will benefit the Hartford Easter Seals Rehabilitation Center and will help to send the 80 chorus members to Los Angeles in October where they will compete for international honors. For information, call 643-9138.

Michael Newman, a 21-year-old classical guitarist, will perform at University of Connecticut's Jorgensen Auditorium in Storrs Wednesday at 8:15 p.m. (486-4226)

The undergraduate Music Minus Five Brass Quintet of University of Connecticut will present a free concert Sunday at 3 p.m. in Von der Mehden Recital Hall with selections by Ives, Brahms and other composers. Sunday at 8:15 p.m. in Von der Mehden, guest artist Edwin Barker will give a free concert on the string bass assisted by Karla Torkildsen on the piano. (486-2260)

Thursday at 8:30 p.m., the student-faculty cultural committee of Greater Hartford Community College will sponsor a recital of Spanish and American vocal music in the college's chorus room. The college is located at 61 Woodland St., Hartford. The concert will feature Charles Fidler, baritone, and Herbert Chatzky, piano. Chatzky is minister of music at Second Congregational Church in Manchester and music teacher in the South Windsor school system. The concert is free. The public is invited.

The Connecticut Opera Guild will present a "Gala After-the-Opera Buffet" immediately following the performance of "Norma" by Bellini Saturday, April 15, at the Sheraton-Hartford Hotel, Cloister Room, Civic Center Plaza. For information, call Mrs. Rocco D'Esopo, West Hartford, 523-1175.

Kurt Klippstatter will conduct Mozart's "Don Giovanni" Thursday through April 9 in Millard Auditorium, University of Hartford, 200 Bloomfield Ave., West Hartford. It is the Hartt Opera Theater's second major production of this season.

A performance by Spiral, a percussion quartet featuring the Sound Sculptures of the Baschet Brothers will be presented Friday at 8 p.m. in the Manchester Community College building at 146 Hartford Road. The event is free.

"The Feast of Fools: A Medieval Festival," will be performed at Trinity Episcopal Church, 120 Sigourney St., Hartford, Sunday at 4 p.m. The public is invited. A voluntary contribution will be received. (527-8133)

Art events

The Stairwell Gallery of Manchester Community College, 146 Hartford Road, will feature a faculty art exhibition Friday through April 28. The opening reception is Friday at 8 p.m. featuring a performance by Spiral, a percussion quartet featuring the Sound Sculptures of the Baschet Brothers. Gallery hours are weekdays from 8 a.m. to 10 p.m., and Saturdays from 9 a.m. to noon. The event is free.

At Foot Prints Gallery, 466 Main St., the works of Adele Broitman and Hans Lohse, will be on display today through April 28. There will be an opening celebration tonight from 7 to 10 with live music by Tigger Benford, Robert Chappel and Ben Carriel. The public is invited. Audio-visual shows will be presented April 7 and 21 at 8 p.m.

Theatrical set designs, stage models and drawings will be displayed in the Jorgensen Auditorium Gallery at University of Connecticut in Storrs now through April 12.

Six one-day study sessions on the 19th century American Utopian movement will be offered free to the public during April by the University of Connecticut's William Benton Museum of Art in Storrs. The study days each are from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. and will be offered on Fridays, April 7, 14 and 21, and Saturdays, April 8, 15 and 22. Sessions will be at the museum and the UConn Student Union. Each "Day in Utopia" will include three illustrated talks and a visit to the Benton exhibition. Since space is limited, those wishing to attend should write for tickets to: "A Day in Utopia," William Benton Museum of Art, UConn, Box U-140, Storrs, 06268.

The Storefront Gallery of the Nassiff Camera Shoppe, 639 Main St. is featuring a photographic exhibition of trains by Wendell O. Chantry now through Friday.

A day-long Arts Festival presented by Catholic schools and colleges in Connecticut will be held Sunday at Saint Joseph College in West Hartford. Original works of art, dance, theater, music, lectures, and demonstrations are all planned as part of the festival which depicts the "History of the Catholic Church Through the Arts." The event begins 11 a.m. on the campus and concludes with a musical presentation at St. Joseph Cathedral at 8 p.m. with a choir of 80 voices from 22 parishes. East Catholic High School art department will feature an exhibit titled "Scenes of Christ's Life," "Madonna," and "Stations of the Cross." Tickets will be sold at the Gengras Center on campus the day of the festival. At the Wadsworth Athenaeum in Hartford, information on exhibits and programs is available by calling 247-9111.

Film

A film titled "Women in Management—Threat or Opportunity" will be shown in the Women's Center at Manchester Community College on Bidwell Street Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. The event is free.

At the Bushnell

The Pittsburgh Ballet dances "Swan Lake" tonight at 8 at Bushnell Memorial Hall in Hartford.

Sunday at 7 p.m., Grover Washington, jazz saxophonist, will be presented in concert preceded by Dee Dee Bridgewater.

Tuesday at 11 a.m., Nancy Dickerson speaks to the Bushnell Morning Lecture Club. (Admission is by membership only.)

Tuesday at 8:15 p.m., Arthur Winograd conducts the Hartford Symphony Orchestra in concert featuring Vladimir Spivakov, violinist.

Thursday at 7 p.m., Natalie Cole appears in concert.

A travelogue, "Charming Vienna," narrated by Andre de La Varre will be shown April 7 and 8 at 8 p.m. and April 9 at 2 and 5 p.m.

April 15 at 8 p.m., the Connecticut Opera Association presents "Norma" starring Christina Deutekam. (246-6807)

Theater events

Members of the Timothy Edwards Middle School Entertainers in South Windsor will present "Music Man" starring Harold Hill as Tony King and Susan Prusaczyk as Marian, the librarian, in the school auditorium April 7 and 8 at 7:30 p.m. and April 9 at 2 p.m.
