News summary

HARTFORD (UPI) — A Hartford man whose trial in connection with a knife-point rape of a New Britain teenager was delayed for 30 months has been acquitted. The prosecutor said, "Justice delayed is justice denied."
The verdict followed a unique rebuttal argument by Assistant State's Attorney Richard Maloney who conceded he had a weak case against Juan Ramos, 24, of Hartford.

HARTFORD (UPI) — A legislative measure to eliminate gobbledygook from consumer contracts has run into a snag — both the banking industry and state banking commissioner oppose it.
Backers of the bill said the measure was in serious trouble, because it was also being vigorously opposed by the Connecticut Business and Industry Association.
Business opposes the bill, because it includes a provision which permits consumers to bring class action suits against merchants or banks who fail to rewrite their contracts in "plain and simple language."

ROCKY HILL (UPI) — Police said Angelo Squillante, 32, allegedly rammed a cruiser with a payload Friday when the cruiser blocked his access to a town dump.
Patrolman William Chandler was not in the cruiser, but he said he had to jump out of the way of the payload's path during the incident, which occurred an hour before the dump was to open at 8 a.m.

PROVIDENCE, R.I. (UPI) — The Brown University Corp. is asking students and faculty how it should vote on proxy issues regarding the Republic of South Africa.
The Ivy League school owns shares of 40 to 50 companies now polling their stockholders on how to handle South Africa and its official policy of apartheid, or racial separation.

NEWTON, N.J. (UPI) — A Playboy bunny who was drugged, forced to engage in videotaped sex acts and then blackmailed helped authorities uncover an extortion ring operating in this northwestern New Jersey resort area, officials said Friday.

Five men were charged with luring at least 12 women — including six Playboy bunnies from the resort in Great Gorge — to a nearby house in Mount Vernon Township where they allegedly were drugged, photographed and blackmailed.

OLD TOWN, Maine (UPI) — Two Maine Indians tried Friday extended by one month the deadline for state Attorney General Joseph E. Brennan to respond to the proposed out-of-court settlement of their land claims against the state.
Brennan had sought a 60-day extension of an April 10 deadline, but the Passamaquoddy and Penobscot Indians negotiating committee agreed only to extend it until May 10.

BOSTON (UPI) — AMCTOR John Wayne Friday felt more rested and had his first full meal since undergoing open heart surgery at Massachusetts General Hospital for replacement of a defective valve.
A hospital spokesman Friday said Wayne had his "best night's sleep" since the operation and awoke to a breakfast of grapefruit, toast and a poached egg.

MACC won't take Sunday sale stand

The Board of Directors of the Manchester Area Conference of Churches is expected not to take a stand on a current proposal to permit the Sunday sale of liquor.
The Town Board of Directors is considering a proposal that would permit sale of liquor on Sunday for at least some establishments in town. Sunday sale of liquor is prohibited in Manchester, and the proposal probably will go to a referendum vote.
It appears that the MACC Board of Directors will take no stand on the topic.
The MACC's executive committee has recommended that no stand be taken, and the organization's directors will meet Wednesday to consider the matter.
Nancy Carr, executive director of the MACC, said that a stand is taken only if all members of the group agree.
"It seems to me there probably won't be a consensus," she said.
Mrs. Carr said that no members have asked for the matter to be placed on the agenda of the MACC's directors, but the organization has received requests from several residents to consider the issue.
Sunday liquor sale proposals in the past have drawn opposition from many representatives of the religious community.

Secret illness delays Passman bribery case

By RICHARD E. LERNER
WASHINGTON (UPI) — Former Rep. Otto Passman's arraignment on bribery and conspiracy charges was postponed Friday when a lawyer said the Louisiana Democrat had a secret ailment that made him too ill to leave a hospital.
U.S. District Judge Barrington Parker, in denying Passman's bid for an indefinite postponement, set April 15 as a new court date.
Earlier, a Justice Department attorney told the court a psychiatrist examined Passman March 17 and felt he didn't "have any physical problems other than those inherent in age." Passman is 77.
In a letter to the judge, the congressman's doctor, Christopher Myers, described the illness and said it should be kept secret because disclosure could be "front-page news."
Passman's Washington attorney James Hamilton said.
Myers recommended Passman be hospitalized indefinitely and the details of his illness withheld because of his "national reputation."
The judge ordered prosecutor Jeffrey White to send him a new report from the psychiatrist by the middle of next week.
Passman entered the Touro Infirmary in New Orleans March 29, two days before a federal grand jury returned a seven-count indictment accusing him of conspiring with Korean rice dealer Tongsun Park to defraud the United States and taking $213,000 in bribes from Park.

House gets budget of $2.1 billion

HARTFORD (UPI) — The Legislature's Appropriations Committee Friday approved and sent to the floor of the House a $2.1 billion dollar budget that carries more money for social services and municipalities, but no tax hikes.
The Democratic-controlled legislative panel figured out how to spend all but $2 million in the package proposed by Gov. Ella T. Grasso in February. The committee decided to let the full Legislature determine what to do with the extra money.
Earlier in the day, the Finance Committee approved the tax side of the package and sent it to the Senate. On a 21-15 vote after eight hours of debate, the Appropriations Committee sent the largest budget in Connecticut history to the House, where it is expected to be debated at length at the end of next week.
The $2.135 billion budget for fiscal 1979 is 11 percent higher than the spending and tax package approved by the Legislature last year.
The spending program is ambitious, calling for higher welfare payments, increased spending for other social service programs, millions of dollars in business incentives, more state jobs and a big boost in aid to Connecticut's hard-pressed cities.
The tax side of the package would eliminate the 2.5 percent tax on new industrial equipment, but contains no tax cuts for the general public. However, it doesn't contain any tax hikes either.
An attempt to abolish the state's dividends tax, which applies to persons with incomes over $20,000, failed on a 14-12 vote in the Finance Committee.
Under the proposed spending plan, most welfare recipients would receive a 10 percent increase in benefits. This would bring annual payments for a four of family up to about $5,000.
The budget also contains a 40 percent increase in funding for the Department on Aging, as well as 1,471 new state jobs, largely for the departments of mental health, children and youth services and mental retardation.
The plan also has a $20 million economic stimulus package for the state's businesses.
The state's 169 municipalities could look forward to $40.9 million hike in state aid if the package is adopted. Cities with property-exempt property, such as universities and hospitals, would get another $10 million.

Senate seen holding to treaty amendment

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho, said Friday Senate leaders would resist pressure from Panama to undercut a key amendment to the already passed Panama Canal neutrality treaty.
Church, the treaty manager, said he told Panama's Ambassador Gabriel Lewis at a meeting Thursday that the Senate "would not consider any action designed to subvert the DeConcini amendment."
Panamanian officials, in behind the scenes maneuvering in Washington and at the United Nations this week, have expressed strong concern about the amendment, sponsored by Sen. Dennis DeConcini, D-Ariz., which would let the United States use military force in Panama to continue canal operations in case of an emergency.
Sources say Panama would like to see the Senate pass a clarification stating the amendment does not violate U.N. proscriptions against interference in the internal affairs of one state by another.
But Senate leaders are worried any attempt to foist such a clarification on the Senate would unravel support for the treaties.
DeConcini, for instance, has told reporters he probably would vote against the main treaty now under consideration by the Senate if his amendment is nullified.

Zumwalt sees Rickover cause of cost overruns

HARTFORD (UPI) — Retired Adm. Elmo R. Zumwalt says he doesn't think the cost overrun problems at the Electric Boat Division of General Dynamics are caused by the shipyard, but by Adm. Hyman G. Rickover.
"In my judgment, Rickover is the problem, not the Groton shipyard," said Zumwalt, referring to the Navy's multi-million dollar cost overrun dispute with Electric Boat.
Zumwalt, 57, said Rickover was the individual who "has been responsible for the cost increases" and for that reason should be removed from duty by President Carter.
Rickover told a congressional committee early last month he had pulled submarine repair work out of the Groton shipyard and "right now I wouldn't ship them a barge."
The retired admiral said Rickover, 78, was also responsible for an almost two-year delay in building 16 688-class nuclear attack submarines.
"Until you get (Rickover) and his anarchic processes out of the system, Navy managers won't be able to get the job done."
The retired admiral also accused Rickover, who is in charge of nuclear propulsion for the Navy, of wielding

Penny will pipe to lure away $

his "immense prestige" to threaten the future of those that run afloat of his policies in the nuclear Navy.
Zumwalt also had harsh words for President Carter. Zumwalt said Carter's budget cutting is making it impossible for the Navy to do its job.
The former naval officer said if Carter in the defense budget continue, "We will not even be able to pull off a respectable Dunkirk."
He said the Navy's ship strength has dwindled 470 ships — half of what it was at the beginning of this decade.
Zumwalt said the United States has allowed the Soviet Union to gain strategic nuclear superiority and predicted "disaster for the U.S." if Carter continues his defense policies.
Zumwalt, retired from the Navy in 1974, is president of the American Medical Buildings Co. of Milwaukee and was in Connecticut discussing plans with Bristol Hospital officials.

Your neighbors' views: Do you think there should be a dental clinic in Manchester?

Oleksis — Lorraine Oleksis, 10 Mayfield Road, Manchester — "Why, sure. It would give dental service to those people who can't afford it otherwise and should have it."
Matusz — Yvette Matusz, 128 White St., Manchester — "Sure, why not. Otherwise, dental services are too expensive for many people."
Bombardier — Albert Bombardier, 86 Deepwood Drive, Manchester — "Sure. It would be a good thing."
Wright — Cecilia Wright, 57 Chambers St., Manchester — "Yes. It sounds like something that would be really appreciated by the citizens."
Sibrinsz — John Sibrinsz, 442 W. Middle Turnpike, Manchester — "Sure, Manchester is big enough to have one."
Trigg — Bob Trigg, vice president of J.M.B. Inc. Concrete Properties, owners of Manchester Parkade — "Yes, I'm in favor of all public services for the benefit of the public. It's important, though, to go through the proper analysis first."
Green — Julie Greene, 31 Tower Road, Manchester — "I think it's a good idea. It's good for people who normally can't afford to have dental work done at $20 a filling."
Vater — (formerly of Manchester) — "Yes. Because low income and needy people need a dental clinic. There's a real social need."

Hymes speaks Wednesday

The Rev. Robert A. Hymes, an Assemblies of God missionary to Japan, will be guest speaker Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. at Calvary Church, 647 E. Middle Turnpike.

The Rev. Mr. Hymes and his wife, Janet, have been missionaries to Japan for 25 years. During their last term, he served as chairman of the Assemblies of God Missionary Fellowship. They have taught in the Central Bible College of Tokyo, as well as serving in the International Correspondence Institute, the literature, evangelism and various other departments of the national church.

They have pioneered all of the Assembly of God churches in the northern most island, Hokkaido, where the 1972 Winter Olympic games were held. It also houses the only settlements of the Ainu, the aboriginals of Japan.

The Rev. Mr. Hymes was graduated from Valley Forge Christian College, Phoenixville, Pa., and Mrs. Hymes, from Central Bible College of Springfield, Mo. They pastored in Ohio prior to their appointment to foreign service. The public is invited to attend the missionary service.

LEND AN ARM

We don't want it for long. We do want it for life. For the life of some patient in a hospital here or in a nearby community. You see, it's more than your arm itself that's important to us. It's what can come from your arm. That's blood. Blood that can mean life to an infant, a student, a parent, a retiree. Or maybe all of them. We're not fussy whether it's your right or left arm you prefer to lend us. We're looking for the arm that stretches out to help people back to health. You can help us find it.

MANCHESTER'S UNITARIAN UNIVERSALIST SOCIETY: East's proposed new home on West Vernon Street.

(drawing by James E. Jusos, architect for the project)

Unitarians prepare to build

The Unitarian Universalist Society of Manchester is preparing to build its new home on West Vernon Street.

More than 90 members of the society recently voted unanimously to proceed with construction of the building this summer on land it owns on West Vernon Street, between 400 and 450 feet south of the Vernon town line.

Designed by James E. Jusos of Gloucester, the 5,700-square-foot building will be constructed of natural wood siding and located well back from the street in order to best harmonize with the heavily wooded three-and-a-half-acre site.

Since the society was founded in 1969, members have met in several different rented and temporary quarters. The society is presently conducting meetings at the Community Y on North Main Street.

The fight to limit taxes

CASPAR W. WEINBERGER

(Editor's Note: Weinberger is former Secretary of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, who now resides in San Francisco where he is vice president and general counsel of the Bechtel Corp.)

For years opponents of big government spending have been warning about taxpayers' revolts — meaning a situation in which taxpayers literally do revolt either by refusing to pay taxes, or by supporting road and branch cuts that would slash deeply into government spending.

Now the day has come. One such dramatic measure is on the ballot in California, ready for a June vote, and another may soon require the decision of the voters of Massachusetts.

These two signals of taxpayer revulsion are born in a time when state and local government spending increased from about $148 billion in 1970 to $265 billion in 1975, including about $65 billion in federal grants, and real property taxes went up even more rapidly in some states. A recent University of Michigan poll also showed that 76 percent of the voters believe "the government wastes a lot of tax money."

Both California and Massachusetts proposals have a common feature: they limit the amount of taxes that can be collected. The California Jarvis-Gann initiative limits real property taxes to 1 percent of assessed valuation. This would mean a reduction of about $8 billion in revenues for California's cities and counties. But there is an even more significant part to the proposal: any increase in state taxes would require a two-thirds vote of each house of the legislature.

The Massachusetts proposal, which probably will be on the ballot in 1980, would limit total state spending to a stated percent of the gross income of the state population.

California had a similar initiative on the ballot in 1973, but it was defeated largely because opponents, who included representatives of all the activities paid for by state government, held up the bogey of vastly increased local property taxes.

What is particularly significant about the Jarvis-Gann initiative is the massive public support already mobilized behind it. It has been comparatively easy in the past for heavily financed groups to qualify any initiative measure for the ballot by simply employing signature gatherers at rates ranging upwards of 50 cents a signature.

But the Jarvis-Gann limitation initiative supporters were all volunteers, and without any professional assistance, and at a cost of less than $25,000, they secured more than 120,000 valid signatures in a few weeks — a stunning feat, which can only reflect the deeply held convictions of a very large bloc of voters that taxes should be limited.

Indeed, many who have struggled to hold down governmental expenses follow suit, there is no reason to believe the federal government itself will remain exempt from revenue limitation proposals.

Years of attempts to hold down government spending by trying to reduce individual programs have failed because the combination and total numbers of proponents for more spending for everything has drowned out voices calling for economy. But if the total funds available for spending were actually limited, and taxes actually were reduced in states that add tax limitations, there is no telling how many people would support revenue limits for the federal government.

None of this need produce the chaos now being predicted for California if Jarvis-Gann passes. Of course, there will be a major expenditure reduction. But if that is done with care and judgment, and without an attempt to make things look as bad as possible by closing schools and firing policemen, we can survive with ease.

Indeed, we can finally get a real test of whether the voters as a whole really want all the things government has been doing on such an increasing scale for the last few decades.

If these measures pass, and other severed diplomatic relations with the United States two days before America declared war on Germany.

In 1952, President Harry Truman ordered government seizure of the steel industry to avoid a general strike.

In 1977, Yitzhak Rabin resigned as Labor Party candidate for his second term as prime minister of Israel after charges that he kept an illegal bank account in the United States.

A thought for the day: French writer Sebastian Chamford said, "The most wasted day of all is that on which we have not laughed."

offending southern white audiences, the television and movie industries flagrantly pandered racial bigotry. Some of these apparent changes regarding minorities and the media are real, but we must remind ourselves that mass media are purveyors of illusions, and the changes we see are likely to be far less than what we get.

Certainly there are more non-whites on television today, but thoughtful treatment of ethnic life and issues is rare. Situation comedy will trivialize anything Inter-racial in "The Jeffersons" is reduced to mere idiocy. Chronic unemployment for urban blacks is given no better treatment in "Good Times."

Of course, it is good to have a sense of humor and be able to laugh at ourselves, but the media generally have been doing for years.

"Clara and the Man" brought us the light-hearted cleverness of the Puerto Rican-Chicano "Good Times" shows as poor-but-honest blacks smiling through hardships.

The "Jeffersons" assure us that even success won't spoil black folks for comedy. Even handily, television balances the bigotry of Archie Bunker with that of Fred Sanford.

Movie moguls, too, since the 1960s, have discovered a commercial potential in Afro-American subjects. While most of the movies are "blaxploitation" films like "Superfly" and "Shakti," some, like "Sounder" and "Cooley High," were honest and thoughtful efforts to portray black life in film. "Ganja and Hess" was even exceptionally good cinema.

Black superstars are in the commercial entertainment galaxy. It was a historic event when in 1939, Hattie McDaniel won an Academy Award for best supporting actress in "Gone With the Wind" and when, 24 years later, Sidney Poitier won the "Oscar" for best actor in "Lilies of the Field." Perhaps it is a sign of some change that we would not consider such honors to be bestowed on performers quite so remarkable today.

It would appear we are a far cry from the pre-1960s when, fearful of

Generosity appreciated

To the editor: We wish to acknowledge publicly the generosity of the following individuals and organizations who made it possible for the Recreation Department to award trophies to deserving teams and individuals who participated in the winter sports programs this year.

The money budgeted for those trophies had been deleted from the budget and these local businesses, organizations and individuals were kind enough and generous enough to make the awarding of trophies possible.

Seems silly

To the editor: In regard to the trips of Mr. Weiss or Mr. Negro, it seems very silly to me for anyone to disagree or "bicker" — as some seem to be doing.

These men are people of our town, interested in gathering new or yet untold methods for Manchester. Come on you people, stop the squabbling — get going — the J.C. Penney deal and Eighth Utilities is enough for a while.

Sincerely, Frances S. Fleming 124 Birch St. Manchester

Thoughts

Psalm 119:11. "Thy word have I hid in my heart, that I might not sin against thee." The Psalmist recommends that reading and memorization of Scripture is a strong deterrent to sin in a person's life. God's Word is capable through the Holy Spirit of disciplining us. "Let his Word dwell in you richly, that your life may praise God and bring fulfillment to yourself."

Today, it's because your methods are so erratic and uncertain that you're not getting the results you desire. Think before you act. You're a Leo (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) You could be drawn into a situation by another and wind up responsible for his loss. It's best to avoid all financial investments today.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) A misunderstanding could result today because you forgot to get together on the ground rules before entering into a joint venture. Compare notes by sending for our copy of Sagittarius (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) As a Sagittarian you can clutter your mind with too many things, but today you could add the straw to break the camel's back. Errors in your work will result.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Be careful and don't appear to be in your social encounters today. People are touchy. One you care for could have his or her feelings hurt.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) We'll get hints tell the story of today's hand in his own inimitable fashion.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Although you might be restless today and need an outing, this is not a good day to travel. Unsettled aggravations could result if all the things you've got on your mind.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) If your goals or desires elude you today, you should try to get a grip on your mind.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Things could be thrown out of kilter today when an associate changes his mind about something you're counting on. Don't get your hopes up.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Time you have to yourself today will be usurped by some unexpected problem or task another has made up for you.

CANCER (June 21-July 20) Don't be surprised when your affairs today seem to be in a state of confusion. He's not a quick exit today. He wasn't sincere any day.

Dear Abby

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Since that song "Short People" came out, short people have suffered a big put-down. I'm sending you a letter you had in your column about 20 years ago. I kept it because I happen to be one of the short people. Please run it again. It might help to improve our image. Thanks. SHORTY B. HICKS SHORTSVILLE, N.Y.

DEAR SHORTY: I agree. Short people need an occasional build-up, so here's your letter:

"DEAR ABBY: In answer to TOO TALL, women in the know go for small men. That's why they go wild over Latin Americans and fight over Jackies. The big, tall men fall apart earlier. They get potbellies and double chins and succumb to heart attacks in their mid-40s, while the little wiry men are still going strong.

The next time you go to a dance, notice that the best dancers on the floor are the small men. Half the women married to tall, dark and handsome men would love to trade them for the little men that wouldn't go out with before they got married."

DEAR ABBY: I am a schoolteacher who has been reading your column for years. Often your thoughts are taken to school with me and discussed with my high school students. However, your endorsement of Edith Head's name is disturbing. "All women look alike in the bathtub," really hit bottom! Anyone who actually believes that must have lived in a segregated, monistic world all their lives.

Please retract that gross masterpiece of misinformation! THE EYEBALL FROM ALTA DENA

DEAR EYEBALL: How's this? "All women look alike in the bathtub—if they are up to their necks in hot water"—which is where I was after that endorsement!

DEAR ABBY: About 150 senior citizens live here in a lovely place and we enjoy it. However, recently a problem has arisen. A little old lady has joined us, and no matter what she says, "Oh, my God, my God, my God, my God," she says it to express surprise, disappointment, joy and disapproval. Her constant "Oh, my God's" are getting us down.

We don't want to hurt her feelings, but we would like to put a stop to her using that expression all the time. We are anxiously awaiting your reply. ANOTHER L.O.L.

DEAR L.O.L.: Tell her in a friendly way that her constant references to "God" are irrelevant—unless she's praying. Then pray that she takes it in the proper spirit and overcomes the habit.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "WHOMEVER THE SHOE FITS" I doubt the sincerity of a man who constantly refers to his "deep humility," for the moment he mentions it, he negates it. If a man has something to be proud of, let him be justly proud and accept his accolades with pride. "Humility" in the face of ability is hypocrisy.

Win at Bridge

Hard luck downs defense

Bridge score table with columns for North, South, West, East and various scores.

Our friend always uses the first person singular, except when talking about a partner's mistake. "I picked up the usual collection of garbage I hold when I want to be able to decide my own fate and I could do was pass while my opponents bid to six notrump. Mind you, six notrump — not six hearts. I made my sixth lead — a heart. The queen was played from dummy. My partner took his king and declarer claimed the rest of the tricks. "It was a well bid hand, but that didn't help me. Most pairs stopped at game. A few played six hearts. I had to defend against the one pair to bid six notrump for a complete hand."

Duplicate bridge has been held to be a game of skill in several courts of law, but no one will ever convince the unlucky expert that it isn't a game of luck and that the gods of chance take special pleasure in victimizing him. We'll get hints tell the story of today's hand in his own inimitable fashion.

Dear Abby

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Since that song "Short People" came out, short people have suffered a big put-down. I'm sending you a letter you had in your column about 20 years ago. I kept it because I happen to be one of the short people. Please run it again. It might help to improve our image. Thanks. SHORTY B. HICKS SHORTSVILLE, N.Y.

DEAR SHORTY: I agree. Short people need an occasional build-up, so here's your letter:

"DEAR ABBY: In answer to TOO TALL, women in the know go for small men. That's why they go wild over Latin Americans and fight over Jackies. The big, tall men fall apart earlier. They get potbellies and double chins and succumb to heart attacks in their mid-40s, while the little wiry men are still going strong.

The next time you go to a dance, notice that the best dancers on the floor are the small men. Half the women married to tall, dark and handsome men would love to trade them for the little men that wouldn't go out with before they got married."

DEAR ABBY: I am a schoolteacher who has been reading your column for years. Often your thoughts are taken to school with me and discussed with my high school students. However, your endorsement of Edith Head's name is disturbing. "All women look alike in the bathtub," really hit bottom! Anyone who actually believes that must have lived in a segregated, monistic world all their lives.

Please retract that gross masterpiece of misinformation! THE EYEBALL FROM ALTA DENA

DEAR EYEBALL: How's this? "All women look alike in the bathtub—if they are up to their necks in hot water"—which is where I was after that endorsement!

DEAR ABBY: About 150 senior citizens live here in a lovely place and we enjoy it. However, recently a problem has arisen. A little old lady has joined us, and no matter what she says, "Oh, my God, my God, my God, my God," she says it to express surprise, disappointment, joy and disapproval. Her constant "Oh, my God's" are getting us down.

We don't want to hurt her feelings, but we would like to put a stop to her using that expression all the time. We are anxiously awaiting your reply. ANOTHER L.O.L.

DEAR L.O.L.: Tell her in a friendly way that her constant references to "God" are irrelevant—unless she's praying. Then pray that she takes it in the proper spirit and overcomes the habit.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "WHOMEVER THE SHOE FITS" I doubt the sincerity of a man who constantly refers to his "deep humility," for the moment he mentions it, he negates it. If a man has something to be proud of, let him be justly proud and accept his accolades with pride. "Humility" in the face of ability is hypocrisy.

Passman's lawyer in Monroe, La., said the former congressman was suffering from "complete mental and physical exhaustion" when first hospitalized.

Passman had been scheduled to appear in court and enter a plea Friday.

White, in opposing Passman's motion, said "based on our knowledge... we think he can stand trial and be arraigned."

Passman, who served two decades in Congress until 1976, was the chairman of a House Appropriations subcommittee with great power over U.S. foreign aid.

Mrs. Carpenter Queen of WATES

A loser became a winner Thursday night, when Mrs. Doris Carpenter of 52 Lakeside Drive, Coventry, with a weight loss of 44 pounds, was crowned queen of Manchester WATES at its 25th annual awards banquet at Fiano's Restaurant, Bolton.

Dr. V. Abraham Kurien, Manchester physician, and Donna Loferski, last year's queen, officiated at the coronation of Queen Doris.

This year's "Top 10" losers, really 11 because of a tie for sixth place, had only a total of 213 1/2 pounds melted away, compared to the 1966 top losers, who had a total weight loss of 556 1/2 pounds, with that year's queen losing an unbelievable 108 pounds.

Besides Mrs. Carpenter, those on the top 11 list are and their weight loss are: Linda Garrett, 30 pounds; Margaret Martin, 17 1/2; Sophie Keenan, 15; Elsie Minicucci, 13; Mary Vendrillo and Charlotte Beebe, 12 pounds each; Lorena Hylbue, 11; Boots Labadie, Elva Muldon, Linda Reifer and Gertrude Smacchetti, 10 pounds each; Rita Peckham, 9; and Anne Worsbom, 8.

Queen Doris was also honored as the first member to attain her goal last year. An award is given annually to the member who reaches her goal with a weight loss of at least 28 pounds.

Gertrude Smacchetti won the "Founders Award" for best personality in the purpose and aims of the organization. Frances Mills received the "Eager Beaver" award for her outstanding efforts in the WATES financial projects.

Among those receiving perfect attendance awards was Elizabeth Pavlack, who hasn't missed a meeting in 21 years. Others receiving the award were Marie Burke and Alice Cananough with 14 years perfect attendance.

Agnes Kanor, 12; Gertrude Smacchetti, 11; Evelyn Cady and Elva Muldon, eight; Harriet Mitchell, 6; Mary Tarr, 3; and Alberta Norris, 2.

Officers for 1978 were introduced at the conclusion of the awards ceremonies. They are Dorothy Hayman, president; Kathryn Meacham, vice president; Esther Armstrong, secretary; Roxann Lannan, treasurer; Mary Levitt, assistant treasurer; and Arlene White, corresponding secretary.

The group will start its new season Tuesday evening at the Italian American Club on Eldridge Street. Weighting in will be from 7 to 8, and new members are welcome.

Requests for where to find new and interesting cookbooks keep coming in and the Italian Ladies' Club of East Hartford has compiled one which should satisfy all its counterparts.

"Buono Appetito" contains 300 recipes ranging from appetizers to desserts and includes wine and cheese lists, holiday specialties, meat charts, household hints and a special section of celebrity recipes. The attractive spiral cookbook has a red and white checkered cover with the map of Italy outlined. The easy flip-through pages cover a wide range of traditional Italian recipes.

The Italian Ladies' Club of East Hartford was formed through the efforts of Mrs. Isabel Basnight, who called together a group of girls known to be interested in forming a club. And, on April 26, 1959, she became the club's first president.

An auxiliary to the Italian Men's Club, it was initiated to create a harmonious and successful union between both clubs. The club has grown and expanded in the past 19 years and is primarily a non-profit organization which benefits area people and towns with donations of time and money to worthy causes. The club, which meets the last Friday of each month at the Italian American Home in East Hartford, awards an annual scholarship of $300 to a young boy or girl entering college, whose mother or grandmother is a member of the club.

The Italian Ladies' Club, which proudly boasts more than 90 members, contributes to such charities as the Warehouse Point Receiving Home, East Hartford Police Department, Teen Center, East Hartford Group Home, Italian Earthquake Relief, Adopt-A-Child Program, Penney High School language awards, and the Heart Association, to name but a few.

Here is a recipe from Gloria Ruzzo, club president, for Fettuccini. (If you've ever cruised on an Italian ship you'll know this is delicious).

Fettuccini
1 can cream of mushroom soup
3/4 cup milk
1/2 cup grated Parmesan cheese
2 cups cooked hot noodles
(4 tablespoons butter or margarine)
In a large saucepan, stir soup until smooth. Blend in milk and cheese. Heat, stirring now and then. Just before serving toss hot noodles with butter. Combine with soup mixture.

Butterfly Cupcakes
14 baked cupcakes, cooled*
Confectioners sugar
Lemon Filling

Sprinkle tops of cooled cupcakes with confectioners sugar. Cut circles from tops of cupcakes and hollow out centers. Fill with Lemon Filling. Cut circles of cake in half and press into filling, rounded edges together, to resemble wings. *Use cake mix or your favorite recipe.

Lemon Filling
1 package (4-serving size) lemon flavor pudding and pie filling
1/2 cup sugar
2 cups water
1 egg, slightly beaten

Combine pudding mix, sugar and 1/4 cup of the water in saucepan; blend in egg and add remaining water. Cook and stir over medium heat until mixture comes to a full boil and is thickened, about 5 minutes. Remove from heat and cool, stirring occasionally. Then beat until smooth and creamy. Makes about 2-1/2 cups.

Butterfly Cupcakes
dome and pie filling right from the package, are blended in one large bowl and baked in a tube pan. The elimination of many small utensils is just one of the reasons for this cake's popularity.

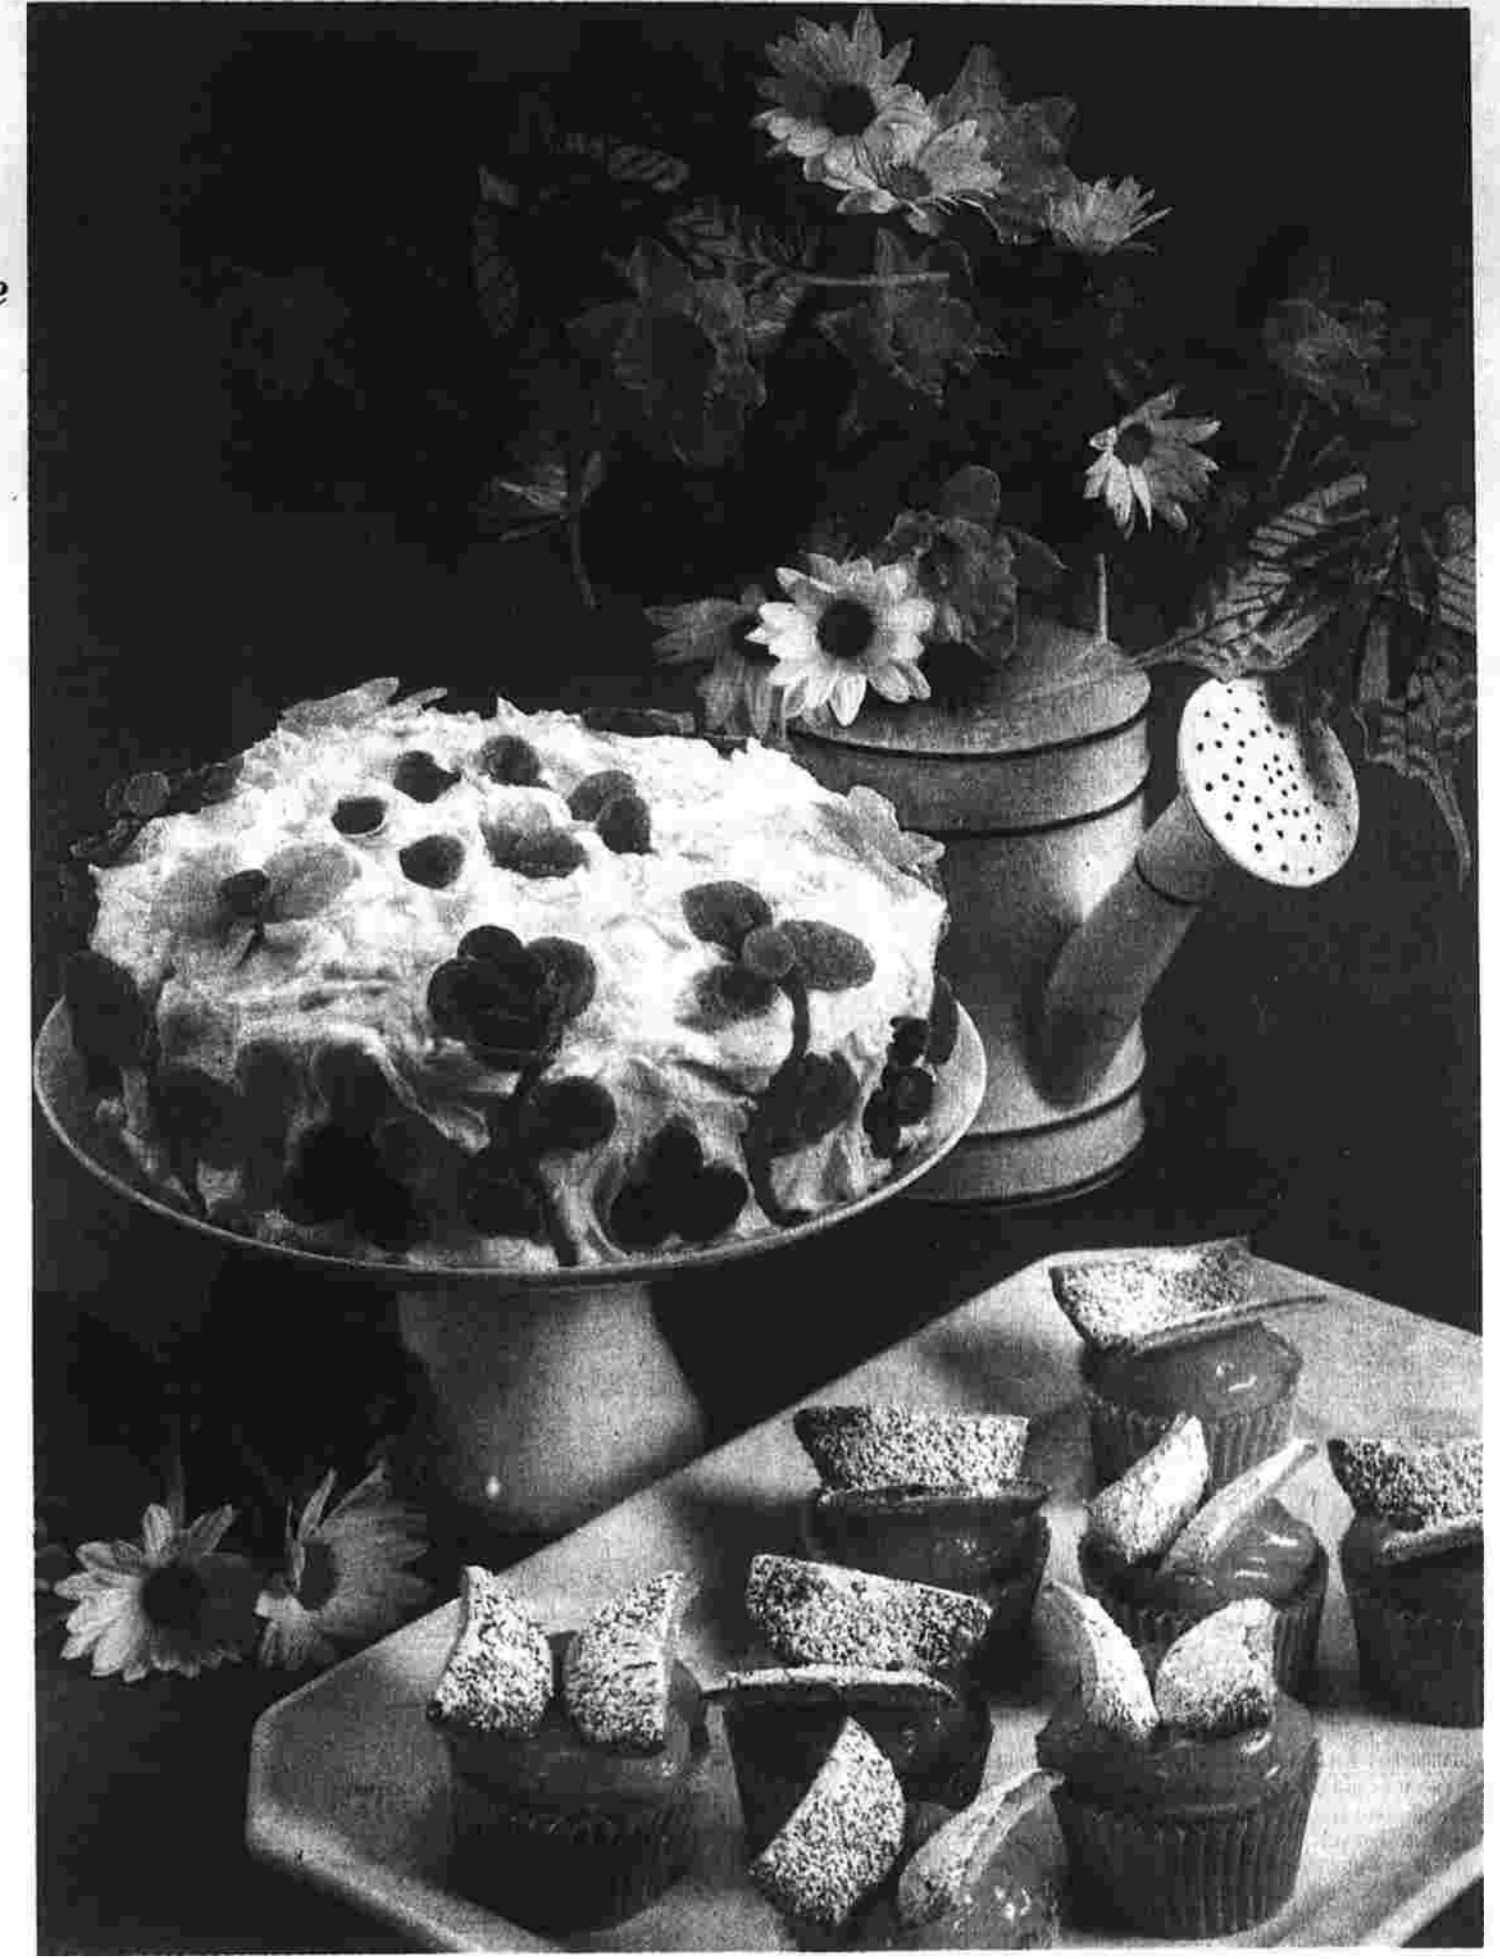

Once the cake has cooled, true creativity takes over. Lemon Butter Frosting is liberally applied and swirled with the back of a spoon for a rippled effect. Gumdrop Flowers, which were prepared in advance, are then strategically placed with an eye toward color and design. Almost too pretty to cut.

Butterfly Cupcakes provide another flight of fancy yet are also quite simple to prepare. A smooth filling, prepared with lemon flavor pudding and pie filling, is an ideal center for the moist cupcake and the sugar-frosted "wings" do indeed create the illusion of a butterfly ready to soar.

If no one you know has a birthday coming, then gather the gumdrops, the butterflies and celebrate the first day of spring.

—See Page Two-B

Jean Norton, a member of the Italian Ladies Club of East Hartford, copies a "Buono Appetito" Herald photo by Pinto.

Spring heralds the butterflies, the flowers and parties. Featured in both these recipes is Jell-O brand lemon flavor pudding and pie filling. In one it's used as a dry ingredient right from the package; in the other as a prepared filling for the cupcakes.

News for senior citizens

Hi! While reading this you'll find it is our final week of our Variety Show rehearsal. Because the tickets are going fast and we may not have any or just a few to sell at the door, we are inviting people to attend our dress rehearsal on Thursday evening, April 13. We will not have tickets for this performance, but will collect at the door. Once in a while a person will purchase a ticket for a certain night and later find out they can't make that night, so this year we can use that ticket for Thursday night only.

Speaking of tickets, tomorrow is the deadline for everyone who has tickets to must return the tickets or the money. We need this so we can determine just how many, if any, we will be able to sell at the door. The cast will meet Tuesday afternoon here at the center for their final Sunday rehearsal from 1 to 5. Then on Monday and Tuesday night we will meet at the Manchester High School at 7 p.m. Wednesday will be our day of rest and then Thursday will be our dress rehearsal and Friday and Saturday will be the big performance. We're all excited about this year's show and suggest that you should try to pick up your tickets before Thursday to be sure. We are limited to the number of seats.

There will be an important meeting of ushers Monday at 10:45 a.m. at the center. With the good weather moving in, everyone is thinking trips and so we remind you about our scheduled trips on June 7, 8 and 9 to Stevensville Country Club on Swan Lake, N.Y., for three days. It's on the same idea as Brown's but more modern. All meals, rooms and entertainment and bus fare are included in the package and the price is $70. We will be registering for this trip on Monday, April 17.

We also have a trip to Wildwood, N.J. planned for the week of June 19th through 23. This year our friend Mike has gone all out to add some new entertainment and sightseeing. There is also golf available and even deep sea fishing can be arranged. The complete package includes a continental breakfast each day, lunch and dinner at a number of different restaurants, your rooms and bus fare and entertainment is $110. Golf and fishing are extra.

We won't be signing up for this one until May but we figure you can put it in your little black book. Also we have flyers for a bus trip to Williamsburg on May 19 through 22 and also for our Fly and Cruise trip to Miami and then take a brand new ship, the SS Volendam, for a six days cruise to such islands as Haiti, San Juan, St. Thomas and Dominican Republic. This trip isn't scheduled until Nov. 12, but we must get our deposits down in April to assure us of decent cabins on the ship and seats on the plane.

Drop by and pick up your flyers soon. Party for instructor. This past Wednesday was our final day for our crewel class and those participating had a little party to thank Mrs. Rosemarie Cornelius for doing a marvelous job. Everyone enjoyed the class immensely and were sad to know it's over for another year. We are already looking forward to next year and hope Mrs. Cornelius will be with us again.

By the way, we received a card from last year's instructor, Lynn King. She wanted to let you all know she had a 5 lb 10 oz. baby by Barry Daniel on Wednesday, March 15. Everyone here sends their congratulations to Lynn, Ron and Barry and wish the best of health and years of enjoyment.

Tuesday will be the final day for our men to be on hand to help you with your income tax, so if you haven't made yours out yet, you'd better hustle on down here Tuesday afternoon from 1 to 4.

Bowling results. Action here at the center starts with a nice turnout for our square and round dancing class on Tuesday morning. In the afternoon it was our Senior Bowling League at the Parkdale Lanes with the following results: Class A high triple, Edna Christensen, 389; Paul DeJeuves, 329; high single, Celeste King, 151; Ray Bersten, 206; Class B high triple, Charlotte Montie, 317; Russ Hughes, 516; high single, Charlotte Montie, 129; Russ Hughes, 193.

On Wednesday morning along with our crewel class, Fellowship Circle and health clinic, we had 48 players for our pinchle games and the winners are: Cecile Benson, 616; Rene Maire, 612; Michael Desimone, 608; Helen Sammond, 606; Al Gates, 604; Lillian Lewis, 591; Frances Fike, 586; Archie Houghtaling, 578; Marjorie McLain, 577; John Phelps, 571; Martin Bakstan, 567; Nadine Malcolm, 547.

In the afternoon, our craft class was busy putting on the final touches to costumes for the show, while upstairs we had 16 players for our bridge games and the lucky prize winners were Tom Regan, 5,200; Marge Kayser, 4,200; Rene Maire, 4,200; Marjorie McLain, 4,150.

About town

Westhill Fellowship will meet Monday at 1:30 p.m. at Herrmann Hall, Bluefield Drive. Joseph Moriconi will lead a devotional program, and Milton Nelson of Trinity Covenant Church will speak. Refreshments will be served. All residents of Westhill Gardens are invited.

Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Ramizi will serve as host and hostess Sunday from 2 to 5 p.m. at Lutz Junior Museum, which is open to the public free of charge.

Emanuel Hill Chapter of Alcoholics Anonymous will meet tonight at 8 in Luther Hall of Emanuel Lutheran Church, 60 Church St.

St. Maraget's Circle, Daughters of Isabella, will meet Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. at the KofC Home. Refreshments will be taken for the annual banquet. Mrs. Agnes Buccino and her committee are in charge of refreshments.

Parish council. The St. Maurice Church parish council will meet Sunday at 7:30 p.m. at the Parish Center. The meeting agenda includes the parish profile assessment, annual pledge campaign progress, parish council nominating committee report, progress of the new youth group and committee reports.

Refreshments set. The Bolton Congregational Church will serve refreshments at the Honor Court (alcoholic anonymous) Monday. Sandwiches and desserts are needed for about 50 people. Anyone able to donate either item is asked to call Jeanne Titcomb at 649-7077 or 643-2388.

Banquet will thank lifesaver. East Hartford. On Oct. 18 an 18-month-old girl in a special class at the Willowbrook School in East Hartford stopped breathing. Her teacher, Kelly Rockwell Witham applied CPR (cardio-pulmonary resuscitation) while firefighters rushed to the school. They saved her life and the child is doing well today.

The parents of the girl and all the children in the North Central Regional Center programs for retarded children wanted to thank Mrs. Witham. They will give her a banquet Monday at 7 p.m. at the Tobacco Shed Restaurant in Windsor to honor her.

Anyone interested in attending the banquet can call Judy Schab at 688-0421. Mrs. Witham, a teacher of CPR after learning it in 1976, was much praise from local firefighters at the time.

(Continued from Page One-B) Sauté cut-up sausage in a frying pan until brown. Set aside. In a bowl, mix cut-up hard-boiled eggs, grated cheese, parsley flakes, minced garlic, salt and pepper. Add sausage. Spread filling in the middle of the whole length of the flank steak. Roll up and tie with string. In a frying pan, brown braciola on all sides. Braciola can be added to spaghetti sauce while sauce is cooking or placed in a covered baking dish, covered with spaghetti sauce, sprinkled with grated cheese and baked at 350 degrees for about 40 minutes. When sliced it will look like a pinwheel and can be served with spaghetti or rice.

Perhaps the best summation of the contents of "Buono Appetito" appears on the cookbook's first page: "The recipes in this book may not have been laboratory tested, but their merit has been established by civic and women's groups everywhere and by the most critical group of all—husbands! Amen." For information concerning cost of the cookbook call Mrs. Angela Norton at 528-0273 or Mrs. Jean Fourrier, 643-8550.

Braciola. 4 to 5 flank steaks or braciola steaks, thinly sliced. 4 sausage links, cut up. 4 hard-boiled eggs, cut up into tiny pieces. 1/2 cup Italian grated cheese. 1 tablespoon parsley flakes. 1 teaspoon minced garlic. Salt and pepper to taste.

St. Maraget's Circle, Daughters of Isabella, will meet Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. at the KofC Home. Refreshments will be taken for the annual banquet. Mrs. Agnes Buccino and her committee are in charge of refreshments.

Rham board trimming budget

Four hours of budget review this week by the Rham District 8 Board of Education resulted in reductions totaling $17,073 in the proposed budget for 1978-79. The total is down to $2,387,542, an increase of 7.5 percent over the current year's budget of $2,221,681.

The figures compiled after board action by Dr. Robert Collier, assistant superintendent of schools, leave $10,740 to be cut to bring the budget down to the board's goal of $2,376,804 or 6.9 percent more than the current year.

Reductions approved by the board included textbooks, band uniforms, instructional supplies, and a proposed support service teacher.

Also, extra work days for school psychologists, extra guidance counselors' work days, maintenance, equipment and miscellaneous items. Items suggested by the board for reductions but not approved by the board included summer instructional music program, summer drama program, and painting the senior wing.

Also untouched were field trips, repair of auditorium seats, board clerk, a further reduction in instructional supplies; special education tuition for Talcott Mountain Science Center, and purchase of a piano.

In other action, the board voted to hold a public hearing on the junior high building proposal on May 4 in the Rham auditorium. Gov. Ella Grasso will be the guest speaker and members of the community are also invited to attend.

Mini restaurant. The Vocational Food Services Class of Rham High School is having a mini-restaurant for six weeks in April and May. The restaurant will run on Wednesdays from 5 to 7 p.m. in the home economics room.

The dinner schedule is as follows: April 12, Italian dinner; April 19, pot-roast dinner; May 3, beef Stroganoff; May 10, veal cordon bleu, and May 17, an "all you can eat" buffet.

Coventry GOP favors purchase of SA land

The Coventry Republican Town Committee has voted to endorse town purchase of 76 acres of Salvation Army property on the south side of Lake Wampanoag. The Town Council is preparing for a referendum on the issue.

David Rappe said he thinks it is in the town's interest to acquire the land for recreation and open space but isn't sure the asking price of $375,000 is fair.

Clara Hudky feared that the land might be commercially exploited if the town did not buy it, and Everett Frost warned that the town would be remiss if it did not buy the land. Patricia Dwyer, who abstained from the vote, noted that the town could not afford to fence in Laidlaw Park, which it already owns.

Town Councilman Roberto Kontz said structures on the property could be used as a teen center.

Dance tonight. The Coventry Democratic Town Committee will sponsor a Fabulous Fifties Dance tonight at St. Mary's Church Hall.

Tickets are available from town committee members or at the door.

Members of the community are invited to the formal induction ceremony April 12 at 8 p.m. in the Rham auditorium. Gov. Ella Grasso will be the guest speaker and members of the community are also invited to attend.

Study unit organizes in Bolton

The Human Services Study Unit, recently appointed by the Bolton Board of Selectmen, held its first meeting recently.

The Rev. John Holliger of St. George's Episcopal Church was elected chairman. Ivi Cannon was elected secretary.

The committee will meet the second Tuesday of each month at 8 p.m. at the Community Hall.

It would like input from the community as to what services should be provided in town and what the needs of the town are.

Residents having comments, ideas, suggestions or questions are asked to call any committee officer or member. The members are David Mitchell, Paul Brown, Polly Connolly, Esther Halowhard, Daleyne Swick, Aldea Savva, Ronald Morra, Robert Peterson and Joann Neath.

At its next meeting the committee plans to cite the needs of different groups in town, such as teen-agers and senior citizens.

Parish council. The St. Maurice Church parish council will meet Sunday at 7:30 p.m. at the Parish Center. The meeting agenda includes the parish profile assessment, annual pledge campaign progress, parish council nominating committee report, progress of the new youth group and committee reports.

Salute overdue

Salute to be given Tom Conran by the Manchester Chamber of Commerce for his contributions to the community is long overdue. No one, man or woman, has contributed as many hours to the youth of Manchester in the past quarter century as Tom Conran. He'll be spotlighted April 19 at the chamber's annual banquet at the Colony. Town senior tennis champ Ernie Carter will carry the No. 1 seed ranking into the Senior April 19 at the chamber's annual banquet at the Colony. Black book jottings

Recreation Department slow pitch softball leagues will get off the mark Monday night, May 8, two days after the Little League baseball program starts in Manchester. Jeff Kieran and Tom Thompson were recipients of varsity letters in basketball at Worcester Academy for the 1977-78 season. Kieran is now at Manchester High and Thompson started at East Catholic. Five members of the Boston Red Sox reside in Massachusetts. Bill Lee is from Belmont. Bob Montgomery is from Dedham. Jerry Remy from Westport. George Scott resides on the cape in Falmouth and Dewey Evans lives in Lynnfield. Manchester Country Club opened for the golfing season today. The local course will be the site of the Connecticut Pro-Am Championship July 10 as well as a Connecticut Section PGA Pro-Am May 1. Ernie Turek of the Park Department reports work is progressing well preparing softball and baseball fields for spring games. Ken Irish and his crew rates a salute for the work. No damage was reported at the Manchester Country Club around the greens this spring from cross country skiers as the case a year ago. All greens were ripped off after play ended last fall. Have a nice weekend.

Notes here 'n there

Manchester Community College will host an open tennis tournament for men and women with no restrictions on age or residency on May 6-7. Only singles competition will be played. Pat Mistretta of the college reports Joe Whelton from UConn and Mark Plefka of Fairfield will head up an all-star team of college seniors in an exhibition basketball game against the East Hartford Explorers Sunday night at 8 at East Hartford High. Bruce Ballard, club manager, reports the Explorers squared his record at 1-1 in burling the University of Pennsylvania to a 4-3 win over Navy. The New England Patriots are listed on five national

Bloop hit off Campbell ruins Bosox opener, 6-5

CHICAGO (UPI) — Ron Blomberg, Bill Vecek's latest "bargain basement" free agent pickup, tied the game with a one-out solo homer in the ninth inning Friday and Wayne Nordhagen won it with bloop single off reliever Bill Campbell in a 6-5 victory by the Chicago White Sox over the Boston Red Sox before a record Comiskey Park day game crowd of 50,754.

Tigers' Fidrych stops Blue Jays

DETROIT (UPI) — Mark "The Bird" Fidrych, the 1976 Rookie of the Year who missed most of last year with injuries, opened Detroit's season with a five-hit Friday and Phil Mankowski hit a three-run homer to power the Tigers to a 6-2 victory over the Toronto Blue Jays.

A sellout crowd of 52,528 also saw Detroit home runs by Mill May and Jason Thompson put the Sox on the roof in right center about 30 feet from where Reggie Jackson hit a light tower in the 1971 All-Star game. Fidrych, who was only 6-4 in 11 games last year, had only two shaky innings and struck out five batters and walked only one. He walked Rico Carty to start the second and yielded the first Toronto run when John Mayberry and Tommy Hutton followed with singles. The second run came home when Dave McKay hit into a double play.

Koosman superb in Mets' victory

NEW YORK (UPI) — Jerry Koosman, starting a season opener for the first time in his 11-year career, scattered eight hits and won his first game since last July 29 Friday in pitching the New York Mets to a 3-1 victory over the Montreal Expos.

Koosman, a 20-game loser last season, was tagged for six hits in the first three innings but struck out four during that stretch to get out of trouble. He then settled down and surrendered only two hits the rest of the way to outpitch Steve Rogers. Koosman, who has always had to take a "back seat" to Tom Seaver in previous Mets' openers, struck out seven, did not walk a batter and retired the last 12 batters. Montreal's only run of the 34-year-old left-hander came in the sixth inning when Gary Carter homered. The Mets, with seven different starters in the lineup from last year's opener, used two of their newcomers from the blockbuster four-city trade last winter — Willie Montanez and Ken Henderson — to build a 2-0 lead in the second inning. Montanez, acquired from Atlanta,

Grand slam homer aids Brewer romp

MILWAUKEE (UPI) — Sixto Lezcano belted a grand slam homer and Larry Hulse contributed a two-run blast Friday to spark an 11-3 romp by Milwaukee over the Baltimore Orioles which marked the successful debut of Brewers' Manager George Bamberger.

Bamberger had served as Baltimore's pitching coach the past 10 seasons before taking over as Brewers' manager this winter. Southpaw Jerry Augustine, 0-3 against Baltimore last year, went 1-3 in his first start, but had his shutout ruined in the ninth when Eddie Murray hit a one-out solo homer and Gery Roenicke later singled home Lee May. Mike Flanagan took the loss after allowing six hits and four runs in 2 1/3 innings. Lezcano's first career grand slam came in the seventh inning after Milwaukee had already built a 6-0 lead. With one out, Don Money reached on an error, Sal Bando walked and Hulse was hit by a pitch from reliever Tim Stoddard, who then served up Lezcano's homer. He then served up Lezcano's homer. He then served up Lezcano's homer. He then served up Lezcano's homer.

enthusiasm by his audience of reporters. Trevino added, "No one in Georgia will either. We would have the damndest party over on the par-3 course." At one stage of his career, Trevino used to pass up the Masters because the course didn't suit his game. However, three years ago Nicklaus told him he should be able to play it. And then after undergoing back surgery two years ago, Trevino had to adjust his game.

Base on balls sinks Giants

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Dave Winfield's leadoff homer in the eighth tied the score Friday and Mike Sweeney's bases-loaded walk later in the inning forced across the deciding run, lifting the San Diego Padres to a 3-2 victory over the San Francisco Giants in the season opener for both teams.

Parting of the parts

"We're not television's Siamese twins," says elder Hardy Boy, Parker Stevenson, of his relationship with co-star Shaun Cassidy. "We're not Tom and Jerry or Batman and Robin. It annoys us both when we're lumped together. We're two actors who play well together, but we're very different."

Parker Stevenson

Unlike Cassidy, who grew up amid the hoopla of Hollywood, Stevenson's roots trace back to early New England. He's a product of prep school and Princeton, where he was graduated with a degree in art and architectural history. Through it all, he commuted to his acting chores. Even with a few movies under his belt, the call from California which asked him to test for the part of Frank Hardy found him working on a master's program in business at New York University.

All that Ivy has obviously rubbed off. "Parker doesn't come on like an actor at all," says Chris Nyby, a director for the Hardy Boys Mysteries, in US magazine. "He walks on the set and looks like what he is - Ivy League, sports coat, serious, intelligent. He thinks a lot. You can almost see the wheels turning."

Unwedded bliss goes bust

You don't have to be married to get a divorce, complete with all the material trimmings, according to well-known California divorce lawyer, Marvin Mitchelson.

"I can't think of one proper reason for discrimination between people who live together without a license versus those who live together with a license," says Mitchelson, in a Viva magazine article entitled "Divorce for the Unmarried." Mitchelson is the man who won the landmark decision which gave Lee Marvin's live-in mate six years the right to sue for half their property.

Now he's on the move again. He has taken up the cause of Beach Boy Dennis Wilson's ex-wife, who moved back in with Wilson after their divorce - and again moved out. Among Mitchelson's former divorce clients

Star Trek set to soar

Trekkies across the galaxy rejoice! The long-awaited Star Trek movie is back on the launching pad at Paramount Pictures, where they've reunited all the original cast members - William Shatner as Capt. Kirk, DeForest Kelly as Dr. McCoy and Leonard Nimoy as Spock.

SPOCK IS SET to take off with the rest of the Enterprise crew now that Leonard Nimoy has agreed to do the film sequel to Star Trek.

Nimoy was the one cast member who got most of the blame for holding out on the project. Supposedly, he had some financial difficulties with the studio. But now that the film's budget has been set at $15 million, they shouldn't have any more problems there.

Denying he was the hold-out, Nimoy said the explanation was perfectly logical, that there had been "a complicated relationship with Paramount for the last several years. The main reason was that the mail service between here and Vulcan is slow."

Good news for hearing aid wearers.

Activair™ lasts twice as long as the battery you're using.

New Activair hearing aid batteries operate on a new principle. The air around us activates the battery and starts it producing electric current.

But the air doesn't get into the battery until you peel it off the protective seal in the battery pack. That's when it starts working. So it starts fresh, and lasts longer. Twice as long as the conventional batteries you're using now. Buy Activair next time you need batteries.

Now is the time to trot out the MANPEX medal that is so cherished by philatelists in this area. It is to be presented in bronze, silver plate and gold plate to the winners at the show.

This year the big event will take place on Saturday and Sunday, April 22 and 23, at the Manchester High School on East Middle Turnpike.

The theme of MANPEX '78 will be "The 75th Anniversary of Powered Flight." The historic date was December 17, 1903, and the place was Kill David Hill, Kitty Hawk, N.C.

A snapshot taken that day shows the plane just getting into the air with the soles of Orville Wright's feet in sight as he was lying face down to tussle with the "elevators." Wilbur is standing on the ground off to one side. He had just been steadying the right wing as the plane got under way.

There is a remarkably good depiction of the plane on the airmail stamp, Scott No. C45, that was issued on Dec. 17, 1949, to commemorate the 46th anniversary of the flight. It shows the two wings, the elevators like snowshovels hanging out in front, the whirling push-propellers, a motor and the head of somebody lying beside it. Even the "kneel" can be made out.

The plane, which was named "Kittyhawk," had no wheels — the take-off was made by sliding along a metal rail. At the upper right-hand corner of the stamp are the brothers. The one with the mustache is Orville. He lived until 1948.

"Orv, hand me that wire and we'll try giving her more of a cant to the wings."

"Okay, Will, and suppose we put two flappers out front for control."

And then, by Cracky, it flew!

This was definitely not the way Wilbur and Orville Wright constructed the Kittyhawk. Whatever "cant" there was to the wings and also the effect of the elevators, was carefully figured out beforehand and after some 200 tests in a miniature wind tunnel back at their bicycle shop in Ohio.

It all began with their interest in kite-flying gliding. In 1900 they built a big biplane glider disenchanted with the aerodynamic tables available then and set to work with the wind tunnel to compute new ones. The result was a record-breaking glider in 1902. In the fall of that year began the construction of the muslin-wood-and-wire plane with a four-cylinder, 12-horse, gasoline motor. The whole thing with pilot came to 750 pounds.

The Kittyhawk is now in Washington at the Smithsonian, after spending a while in England. Full-sized copies exist with dummy engines, and A.H. Bailey, past-president of SCAMA (Southern Connecticut Aero-modelers Association) assures us that many scaled-down complete models have been made that actually fly.

A MANPEX prospectus may be obtained from the chairman, Gerard A. Caron, P.O. Box 31, South Windsor 06074. Non-member exhibits are welcome. The frames are in 16-page units.

Coming events
Tomorrow, April 9, the Swedish Office will be a feature of the Second Sunday Stamp Show at the Meriden Holiday Inn.

Tuesday evening, April 11 — the last meeting of the Manchester Philatelic Society before the MANPEX. Members are asked to bring some pretty-good expendable stamps for envelope-stuffing.

New regulations
Before you do up a package for mailing check the new regulations at the Post Office that went into effect March 9. They sound just terrible. Haven't they lost enough business to the UPS already?

CB Convac

We recently wrote a column on TVI (television-interference) because it is considered the most pressing problem citizens band radio faces. And it brought a lot of mail. The Federal Communications Commission has done several things to meet the problem. Their mail bags are loaded too.

Of course, the problem goes further than just television sets. It also affects stereos and a lot of other sound systems, as well as electronic devices that are subject to RFI (radio frequency interference).

We all know that linears, the little black box that too many CBers can't resist, have to be a major source of the trouble. No one knows, or will even estimate, how many are in operation.

Then, too, there are millions of 23-channel CB units, both base and mobile, in service that were built before the FCC required manufacturers to submit sets for approval.

Additionally there are millions of television sets in homes throughout the country that are not engineered to reject reception of interfering signals. Television and stereo manufacturers have always been reluctant to add the necessary components which would make their products immune to RFI. They say it would add too much to the cost.

PURAC (Personal Use Radio Advisory Committee) was set up by the FCC to isolate the areas in which programs might be established to combat these problems. TVI is a prime target. The sub-committee task force charged with preparing a comprehensive recommendation to the commission has not yet filed its report. Meantime, TVI is still with us.

The 40-channel units now being sold go a long way in cutting down the problem. As we suggested in our earlier column, it's the older ones that need help. We suggested filters as an answer right now until the propagation of the present generation reaches an important mass.

A lot of letters came in stating we hadn't expressed, as clearly as we might have, the use of filters. Tom Ryan, of Scotch Plains, N.J., a veteran of 38 years in amateur radio, put it best: "The CBER should install a LOW PASS filter on his transmitter, and the television set owner should install a HIGH PASS filter on his receiver." That says it about as simply as possible.

The FCC has listened to three hours of oral arguments from CB enthusiasts about a law to ban manufacture and sale of linear amplifiers. There were two dockets: 2116 and 2117. Next week we'll give you a report on their action.

The Vanik-Goldwater RFI bills, both pending in Congress, would be a great help, too. These would require that manufacturers of television sets design future generations to assure immunity from spurious radio signals. Actually the bills authorize the FCC to place these requirements on manufacturers, as it has done in the instance of CB units. This is a step that must be taken.

So, to the many readers who wrote about their TVI problems, help is on the way. It's going to take time. But a lot of people are trying and it will get done.

Ask Kleiner

By Dick Kleiner

DEAR DICK: Could you please tell me why the women have head starts on the Celebrity Challenge of the Sexes. It doesn't make it much of a challenge. R. WIGGINS, Tucson, Ariz.

I wager that R. stands for Ruth or Rachel, rather than Robert or Raymond. Obviously, only a lady would ask that question. As a man, and a man who believes in the equality of the sexes, I have to state an obvious fact — men are by nature superior athletes. If there was no head start given to the women on those games, the men would win easily. Even top gal athletes agree to that. It would then become Celebrity Massacre of the Sexes.

DEAR DICK: I think I'm in love with the comedian, Steve Martin. Would you please tell me how old he is along with any other vital information about him, so that I can be sure? ELLEN CHRISTIAN, Gladewater, Tex.

You mean you couldn't possibly love a man who was, say, 30 years old? Actually, Steve is 31. He's a native Southern Californian who now lives in Aspen, Colo. As a boy, he worked at Disneyland as a guide. He now does other things for a living, such as a coming series of specials for NBC.

DEAR DICK: Will you please settle an argument between me and my wife. When the Ellery Queen TV series was first made, about 20 years ago, with Hugh Marlowe in the role of Queen, who played the role of Inspector Queen, his father? I think it was James Gleason. JOE MCGRATH, Carson City, Nev.

No, it wasn't Gleason. In that series, which ran in the early '50s, the part of Inspector Queen was played by an actor named Florenz Ames.

DEAR DICK: Could you please tell me how much it cost to make the movie, "Star Wars." BARRY CHAVKO, Surrey, B.C., Can.

The official figure is $9.5 million — and worth every penny.

DEAR DICK: Toward the beginning of the fantastic movie, "Star Wars," Luke Skywalker steps out of his uncle's home and, according to me, sees a double sunset. My friend says he saw two moons rising. The book backs me up. My friend says the movie is different from the book. Who's right? BENNIE J., Tucson, Ariz.

Your friend. Definitely two moons.

Summer season

• The schedules for the summer theater circuit are being announced and the second summer-stage season at Trinity College is among them.

Three comedies performed by a professional resident company will highlight the season beginning June 21 and continuing through Aug. 12. Shown will be

"Scapino!," "A Shot in the Dark," and "The Importance of Being Earnest."

Revolving around the Summerstage theater series are several special events. Plans have been made to engage four professional dance companies and to book two special theater productions. Sunday afternoons of music are planned as part of the Gallery Recital Series and children's theater events are slated for Monday morning and afternoon performances.

There will also be free chamber music concerts in the college chapel, carillon concerts on the quadrangle and a series of vintage films.

Community workshops in acting, directing, technical theater and costume design are also scheduled.

For information, call 525-1471.

• Three musicals and a contemporary Edward Albee play will highlight this summer's 22nd season of the Nutmeg Summer Playhouse at the University of Connecticut in Storrs.

This season's plans will also include special children's matinees and special children's programming, plus three-day mini-workshops for persons interested in theater.

The season will open June 13 with "Sound of Music" and play through June 17. Others on the summer schedule include "Annie Get Your Gun," "Seascape," and "Hit the Deck."

There will also be a series of theater, puppetry, dance, mime, and music productions. (486-4025)

• For music lovers, the Boston Symphony has announced a major expansion of its Tanglewood season this summer that will include an extra week of performances and a new Thursday evening series of recitals by well known concert artists.

Tanglewood will begin June 30 with a concert by the Boston Symphony Chamber Players, and end Aug. 27 with Seiji Ozawa conducting the orchestra in a performance of Haydn's "The Seasons." The first orchestra concert of the season will be a performance of Brahms' "German Requiem" July 7.

Boston Symphony rehearsals on Saturday morning at 10:30 are open to the public.

The annual Tanglewood-on-Parade celebration will be Aug. 25 and the special Pops-at-Tanglewood concert with Arthur Fiedler is scheduled for Aug. 1.
